

Fiddlers Festival Entertains - As Usual

Jam-Packed With Food,
Fun and Frivolity

The Goldthwaite Eagle

Thursday, May 31, 1979 ★ Goldthwaite, Mills County, Texas 76844 ★ Vol. 86 No. 8

The 5th Annual Mills County Festival, held last Saturday, drew a large crowd again this year with many things to see and participate in. We will try to give a blow-by-blow description of the day's activities, hoping to leave anyone out. The action began Friday night with the Jam-Packed With Food, Fun and Frivolity. The Fiddlers' Contest and cooking of the barbecue by the Volunteer Fire Department. The Old Settlers Reunion, sponsored by the Mills County Historical Museum, attracted approximately 90 people. Several awards were given in connection with the event. The winners of the contest this year went to: Mr. and Mrs. Ed Phillips-Most child; Mr. and Mrs. Ed Phillips-Oldest couple; Mr. and Mrs. John Soules - longest; and Ed Phillips - farthest. If you did not receive an award, you may pick it up at the Museum. Also, a quilt, donated by Tom McArthur, was given away at a drawing during the day. Opal Reynolds was the lucky ticket holder for the quilt. The highlights each year, available to play this year to the death of Mr. Black. We hope we will be back next year for the Festival. The fiddling contest began before noon on Saturday and there was music in the air continuously until final judging in the late afternoon. Over $850 in money, plus trophies for the grand champions, were distributed to the winning list of entrants:

category of the Festival. These merchants displaying their wares are a big part of the Festival each year.

Many local organizations, too numerous to list, had booths with food, fun things and practical items to sell.

The Ex-Students Homecoming, held at the pavilion at 7:00 p.m., was the closing event of the day.

Approximately 200 people were in attendance. The program began with Marj Head leading the group in singing the school song. Two poems were read by Anita Jernigan. One in memory of Miss Laura Nelson, which Miss Nelson wrote for her three nieces; the other "Crossing the Bar", by Alfred Tennyson, was read in memory of Mrs. Helen Saylor. Marj Head sang a solo "The Way We Were", accompanied by Bill Laughlin at the piano.

Jackie Williams, former coach, was the main speaker. He shared with the group his memories of the years he spent at Goldthwaite schools.

A short business meeting was conducted at the close of the program. Jamie and Pam Ledbetter were elected to serve as President of the Ex-Students Association for the coming year; Mae Featherston will continue as Secretary; Max Shepherd is Treasurer; and Odell C. Yarbrough was elected as Reporter.

One of the sidelights of the Festival, although not officially a part of it, was the opening of the City Swimming Pool. It was filled with youngsters enjoying their first swim of the season.

1-12. Classes will include filly colts under 2 yrs. of age, horse colts under 2 yrs. of age, mares, geldings, barrels, poles, western pleasure, reining, and showmanship. We encourage our county youth to attend and participate.

Mullin Center To Drill Water Well

A meeting was held last Thursday night at the Community Center to discuss plans for obtaining a water well for the Center. All persons attending voted unanimously to drill a well, and a committee was elected to proceed with plans as soon as possible.

Money for the well will be donated by interested persons. Anyone wishing to help with this worthy cause may contact any of the following finance committee:

Grady Hancock-Chairman, Mozelle Harper, Grace May, Oreta Sanders, Dudley Alldredge, or William Crawford.

Entrants For Queen Needed

The Mills County Farm Bureau is looking for entrants in the queen contest and the Talent Find to be held in July. Entrants in the Queen Contest must be between the ages of 16-22 by September 1 and must be a daughter or sister of a will advance to the district competition in August with a chance to go on to state competition in November at McAllen. Winners at state receive trips to the American Farm Bureau Federation Convention in Phoenix, Arizona and to Washington, D.C.

Anyone wanting to enter Mills County Farm Bureau member. Deadline for entry is July 1st. Participants are judged on personality, beauty and poise. Talent Find members should also be between the ages of 16-22 and a member of a Mills County Farm Bureau family.

Winners of both contests the contest or wanting more information should contact the Farm Bureau office or one of the committee members. The members are: Frances Carlisle, Anita Hopper, Donna Sublett, Jerole Daniel, Wynona Head, and Patty McCasland.

Pickin' 'n Grinin' Saturday, June 2

The program will begin at 7:00 p.m., and Glenn Miller extends a special invitation to everyone.

Tennis Tourney June 9

Due to a great many conflicts, the Double's Tennis Tournament is postponed until June 9th.

There will be Junior High, Youth and Adult divisions.

Play for the Junior High and Youth divisions will begin at 9:00 a.m. on Saturday morning, and the Adult division will begin play at 1:00 p.m. Entry fee will be charged, and Tennis Association membership will also be required.

For more information, please call Mary Banks, 648-3272, or Jane Ann Johnson, 648-3467, by June 8th.

Chamber Has Meeting; Elects 15 Directors

The group organizing the chamber of commerce for Mills County met Tuesday night at the Goldthwaite School Auditorium.

Fifteen directors were elected at the meeting.

Elected by ballot at the session were: Layton Black, Rodney Carlisle, Clydie Cockrum, Mark Geeslin, Tommy Head, Gary Holcomb, Truman Marwitz, Mike McMahan, Steve Patrick, Ronnie Schuster, Janell Sherwood, Dan Tyson, Elmo Watson, Owen Yarbrough, and Wilora Tucker.

The directors will have a meeting in the next few days to elect officers for the coming year.

1978 Sales Tax Analysis

State Comptroller Bob Bullock said a sales tax analysis for Texas last year showed that gross sales in the state exceeded $186 billion.

Bullock said gross sales in Texas during the fourth quarter of 1978 reached $54.2 billion, a $9 billion increase in sales recorded during the year's third quarter.

"In spite of glimpses of economic uncertainty around the country, the Texas economy continues to be strong and is growing," Bullock said.

Mills County and area counties showed gross sales for 4th quarter of 1978: Mills Co. - $7,462,108; Brown - $93,740,737; Comanche - $32,873,801; Hamilton - $17,999,046; Lampasas - $12,778,388; Mason - $5,709,736; San Saba - $8,384,414

REMEMBER, OUR SALE STARTS AT 12:00 NOON ON FRIDAY

★ Star News

Monday the Star Elementary students went on a bus trip to the Long Horn Caverns below Burnet. They were scheduled to visit the fish hatchery at Inks Lake but the bad weather caused them to change their plans. They had a good trip anyway.

Friday, Star gained a new boy in town, as the Charles Parkers became the proud parents of a bouncing baby boy. He will be welcomed home by his big sister, Kandice, his grandmother, Margie Alexander and his uncle, Troy Alexander. The rest of the community extends its best wishes to the whole family.

Friday night the Star School held its graduation exercises at the Star Methodist Church. The little Church was filled to near capacity by friends, parents and family of the graduates. Weldon Newton, a 1945 Star graduate, was the speaker for the evening. There were six students who finished the eighth grade. They were Gina Britton, Kristi Boyd, Loraine Stark, Willie Stills, Tilden Norwood, and Nicole Vincent. J. D. Hunt was presented a plaque by the Senior Class in appreciation for the 21 years of service above and beyond the call of duty. J. D. is retiring from the staff of Star School and he will be greatly missed.

Ex-Mills Countian Interviewed

Our Own Pete Hester

The following article, published in the Fort Worth paper, is in part an interview with Pete Hester by Bob Gould, who just recently ended a career with WBAP television station, Fort Worth.

For some 20 years Pete Hester was the resident celebrity on our street, the reporter began. She earned a reputation as one of the city's best book reviewers, and she was in demand for all sorts of clubs and organizations.

Pete Hester is a feisty little woman with an oft-times delirious sense of humor that ranges from the intellectual to the impish. The only times she is at a loss for words is when she has laryngitis. She and her late husband moved out of the neighborhood several years ago, but the oldtimers in our block still keep up with the woman with the unlikely name of Pete.

I had often wondered if that was really her name, but somehow I could never bring myself around to asking until the interview that was to be the basis for this column. Mrs. Hester said she was the seventh of eight children in her family, and by the time they got down to her, most of the names her parents could think of had already been taken. "They named me Lois. . .Lois, period. I didn't even rate a middle name. I must have been a saucy child and my penchant for talking must have irritated my older sisters. One of the sisters started calling me Simon Peter because I was always talking out of turn. Others picked up the name, and in due time, it was shortened down to just Pete. I have carried the name ever since, and frankly, I like it better than being called Lois."

Mrs. Hester's husband, Richard W. Hester, who died just a year ago as a result of the muscular malady commonly called the Lou Gehrig disease, was known by the nickname of Bobo. This name was created by his younger sister, whose word for brother was Bobo.

People meeting the Hesters for the first time were apt to be confused when they were introduced as Pete and Bobo. They were fun people, and when they moved out of the neighborhood, things were never the same. Bobo retired from Community Public Service in 1973 after 42 years with the company. He held many offices with the company, but his major duty there was superintendent of the gas service division.

In the year since she became a widow Pete has filled her time with many projects. She has written a book for her grandchildren, John, 12, and Ann, 10. The book hasn't been published, but that doesn't matter to Pete. "I had fun writing it," she said. The title is "Oooh, Grandmother, What a Big Mouth You've Got."

Currently, she is working on another manuscript. This book will be based on the experiences that come from living alone. It will be entitled, "If I Have to Live Alone, I'd Rather Do It By Myself."

Another outlet for her energy and talent is the television show called "Fifty Plus" which is shown every other Saturday at 9:30 a.m. on Channel 11. Pete is one of three hosts. She says she feels very comfortable in television, and at the suggestion of Max Anderson, she has engaged an agent to find her jobs in national television commercials. "Why not?" she asked.

"Oh, yes, I forgot to tell you that I have played in a new movie called 'The Rag Picker', which was produced by Anderson, Harris and Margaret Davis. I played the part of a madam in a scene shot at the county jail." "You played a what?" asked. "A madam that looked like Miss Kitty in Gunsmoke," she replied. It was a new experience being a film actress, even if it meant playing the kind of character that would be out of place in the singles church school Pete teaches at Sagamore Hill Baptist Church.

It's good to see our former neighborhood celebrity doing the things she enjoys. This reporter says the Hesters will always be remembered for the joy they brought to a whole generation of neighborhood kids.

Both Pete and Bobo grew up in Goldthwaite. She taught school for seven years before they married. "Since Bobo was making $120 a month, I decided to give up my teaching. . . I thought with that fantastic salary coming in there was no reason for me to work," she laughed.

The couple has one son, Dr. Richard L. Hester, a teacher in the graduate seminary at Wake Forest, N. C.

black with mud. The guest dismounted and raced down to assist him. Said Sir Roger, "I say, old thing, had you traveled far to come here and do this to me?" The tall guest answered with his head down in an attitude of apology. "Shucks. Just Texas." Sir Roger mounted, waved his arm in a forward direction and the hunt went on. It turned out to be a fine and successful day. That night around the fireplace all attention was turned to the Texan. He told them about hunting in Texas, and about his good buddy one Pat Carswell, who lives in the Snake River Valley country, (where there are Indians of course) near Moline. It was the story of how Pat was sleeping at the "lodge," and in the early morning his fellow hunters climbed on the roof and stretched a garden hose over it. The water came down in front of his window. When he got up his good buddies wanted to hit the trail. Poor Pat was jumping up and down on the bed like a brush monkey screaming that he wasn't going out in a cloudburst. The Englishmen laughed and vowed they would certainly like to come down to jolly old Texas and join the fun. If they do, they'll all go back tobacco chewers, won't they? (Among other things).

THE HUNTING PARTY. The fox hunt is strictly veddy veddy English. Us poor folks might have trouble affording one. You must have a splendid horse, (a good jumper) a costume, a saddle, gun, and be associated with others that have huge estates. On the hunt the men and dogs just don't dash out. There is considerable formality. The Keeper of the Stable has been up since three in the morning shining saddles, grooming horses and polishing stirrups. At dawn the men in their red coats and bicycle pants emerge after a hearty breakfast of "bangers and mash," (potatoes and sausages).

Young Robert is excited about his new steed, given to him on his birthday by his uncle Sir Roger Orkney. He talks on and on to the others about it, boasting somewhat. Sir Walter Clamshell replies, "I am sure your steed is INDEED a most EXCELLENT horse." The men then mount and the Games Keeper blows his wrinkled old bugle. The dogs have been turned loose and are racing ahead across an open field, looking in all directions for the scent. They all bark with excitement for it is a Big Day for the pupdogs. The men canter behind in a party of nine. The scent has been found and the dogs forge ahead. Sir Roger is Master of the Hunt. This is a strict formality. No rider may pass Sir Roger until the open field or deep woods are reached. But one of the party, a guest, sees Sir Roger enter a narrow bridge. He races his horse and tries to pass Sir Roger. In the middle of the bridge he crowds Sir Roger unmercifully. Sir Roger falls off his horse, bounces off the stone railing and lands in the deep mud on the far bank below. He struggles to get up, his back totally

Farm Bureau Newsletter

State Senate and the House do not agree on the finance and tax on agricultural land legislation. The conference committee is attempting to work out differences between the House version and the Senate version of SB 350. The conferees are: Senators: Dallas, Brooks, Snelson-Midland, Valdez, and Representatives: Atkinson-New Boston, Orange, Blanton, and Coleman-El Paso.

intangibles, automobiles, homes, personal property, etc. but makes agricultural land and timber wait another year, until 1980. There is no reason to discriminate against agriculture as tax assessors do not have the ability to take care of the administrative paper work in time for 1979 taxes. II. Reimburse school districts with state surplus funds. The Senate version does not reimburse school districts for the tax relief provisions. Four hundred and fifty million of surplus state tax revenue was set aside and is available to reimburse school districts. III. Not have additional valuations of structures, improvements. The House version of HB 1060, Article I, Sec. 1 (1) includes all structures (except residences or structures used for processing crops) in the tax value set on agricultural land, the method presently used by most tax assessors. The Senate version calls for all structures (fences, sheds, barns, windmills, etc.) to be valued separately in addition to the agricultural value of the land. Since the structures are necessary for agricultural production, the production valuation method already includes their value.

THE MAN OF GOD

As Americans, we have become a people used to surpluses. We have learned to say with pride—"We are a people on the grow." But within churches, educational institutions, and on the job, one rarely hears of a surplus of active Christians. The man of God is in short supply!

But what is the man of God? The Old Testament tells us that it is a person who follows in the tradition of Abraham, Moses, David, and the prophets. This is the great tradition of laymen called and active for God. A man of God is a person with great moral stature—in other words, he or she knows right from wrong because of their study of the Scripture, and their doing it in life. In the New Testament, we have St. Paul writing to Timothy: "that the man of God may be complete, and equipped

Kirby Decendants Gather For Reunion At Lometa

Descendants of Robert Goodwin Kirby, born in 1813, will gather in Lometa, Texas for their third reunion since World War II. The reunion will be held on the Old Jack Carrol Ranch located on the San Saba highway 190.

The first family of Kirbys reached Texas 127 years ago and have been a close-knit family. At the 1975 and 1976 reunions, over 300 relatives met to renew acquaintances and to reminisce good times. There are presently 350 families in the active file of the Kirby Reunion. Many newsletters and registration forms have been returned due to moves since the last reunion. Families are requested to assist Martha and Glenn Kirby in locating these relatives by forwarding the current address of relatives who have moved in the last three years.

It was voted at the last reunion that the first day will be catered with a Bar-B-Q dinner, with families bringing a dessert. On Sunday families are asked to bring a large covered dish and dessert that will be shared.

Many Sinclair and Hooten clan members are expected to join their relations for this weekend gathering.

Mr. and Mrs. Troy Duncan have arranged for Laughlin Studio of Goldthwaite to display the photographs Mr. Laughlin took at the 1976 reunion, denoting the descendants of each of the seven children of Robert Goodwin Kirby. Orders may be placed for copies of the 1976 reunion, pictures will also be taken this year of the seven different groups, as well as smaller family gatherings upon request.

Families who have not sent in a list of members attending the reunion, are requested to do so immediately, so the committee will know how many to plan for. Name tags will be made in advance in the appropriate colors for those making their reservations. Information and reservations should be mailed to Glenn Kirby, P. O. Box 1435, Cedar Park, Texas 78613 as soon as possible.

Going to BB Camp

Jeannie Smith and Amy Sanders of Mullin have been accepted in the South-west Basketball Camp at Ranger Jr. College. This camp is directed by Ron Butler, Basketball Coach at Ranger Junior College.

This is the eleventh annual camp and the fastest growing camp in the South-west. The camp is for girls of high school, junior varsity, junior high, and younger. Over 7,000 campers have attended these camps.

The primary purpose of the camp is to teach new skills, fundamentals, and improve the individual abilities of each girl. Along with these ideas, the camp will also stress the ideals of good sportsmanship, leadership, and good citizenship.

Again, this camp will feature some of the state's top high school and college coaches.

Volunteers

Set Meeting

June 5th

There will be an informative meeting for volunteers, June 5, 1979, at 1:00 p.m., at the Mills County Youth Center. All interested persons, regardless of age, are encouraged to attend. Connie Barnes; Volunteer Coordinator from the State Health Department in Temple, Texas, will conduct the meeting.

Mills County has the greatest people in the world. We have seen this from past experience. You are always there to help in any way you can. This meeting is to make our volunteer work more effective and include more of you who have talents that you would like to share with others.

Mrs. Ruth Dumas, with the Retired Senior Volunteer Program, RSVP, encourages everyone who can to attend this meeting. When we continue to give of ourselves, we are a happier people. Sharing our time, talent, and love with others is like a boomerang. It has a way of coming back to make us happy also.

Young people, we would appreciate your presence at this meeting.

Refreshments will be served. For further information, you may contact Ruth Dumas at 648-3122 or Daughety Yeager at 648-2258.

100% Diesel Allocation To Farmers and Ranchers

Secretary of Agriculture Bob Bergland announced today that the Department of Energy (DOE) is immediately implementing a federal mandatory diesel allocation program that will entitle farmers and others in the food and agriculture sector to 100% of their diesel fuel requirements.

"Planting of corn, spring wheat and other crops is already several weeks behind schedule because of wet weather," Bergland said, "and serious problems have developed. Any shortages of diesel fuel could significantly reduce the size of harvests, create a tight supply situation, and result in serious market disruptions."

"Last Friday in Des Moines, Iowa, President Carter said he would not allow agricultural production to be disrupted by a shortage of petroleum. Today we are moving to fulfill the President's commitment," Bergland said.

The DOE action means wholesale suppliers of diesel fuel will be required to provide local distributors and retailers with supplies sufficient to meet farmers' needs. If necessary, major oil company refineries can be instructed to move fuel supplies to wholesale suppliers in agricultural areas.

"The Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) county offices will report farmers' planted acreages and provide other information that will help implement the agricultural priority and provide this information, upon request, to fuel dealers, state energy offices and the Department of Energy," Bergland said.
