ISD Trustees Hold Oct. Meeting

The Board of Trustees of the Goldthwaite Independent School District met Monday night in its regular monthly session. The board approved the financial statement as presented by Superintendent Bert Davis. The sheet showed all the funds of the school and the balances of each. Clayton Black and Gary Gumb were nominated to be on the Tax Board for Mills County, representing the ISD. This board will be the team of appraisers to revalue the land and property in the county. Superintendent Davis presented the bills in the Gifted and Talented program, as funded by the State of Texas. At 3 percent of our assets who qualify under various categories may be eligible for additional training through this program. Testing will be administered to find the students who can participate. In other board matters, Jack Clark of Lampasas was unanimously selected as the auditor for the 1978-1979 school year. He is experienced in school audits. The board approved the complaint forms used with the Title I program in the schools. This form must be used if any form of complaint arises in the realm of the Title I program. The school has received a new school bus, and will sell one of the used ones that have been replaced. Sealed bids will be taken on the bus, a 1968 48-passenger Chevrolet. The bids will be opened at the November 5th meeting of the board.

City Council Deals With Rate Hikes, Varied Agenda At Session Thursday

Recent rulings by the Public Utilities Commission of Texas probably will mean big increases in the cost of electric service to the citizens of the City of Goldthwaite. City Councilmen heard of the prospective increase at the regular city meeting last Thursday night. The rate hike comes from the Lower Colorado River Authority, the wholesale supplier of electricity to the city. Most of the raise will be allowed because it will take the place of the "fuel cost adjustment" being charged by LCRA for several years. Under the new proposal, this procedure would be scrapped. The final results of the hearings are not fully implemented by LCRA, and the exact amount of the increase is forthcoming.

The City Council participates in the "30 Mayors Group" which was organized to fight LCRA rate increases. The group was instrumental in keeping the increase on a minimum basis. Their attorneys testified many times at PUC hearings. Lone Star Gas' proposed rate increase was passed over again by the council in favor of further study and rework. The council requested the company to furnish data concerning the placement of a full-time serviceman in Goldthwaite to cover work here. The method of "customer service charges" are not generally accepted by the council as for the benefit of the community. The company will present another proposal at the November 1 meeting. In other rate-setting action, the council passed on second reading an ordinance granting Goldthwaite Cable Vision an increase from $5.50 per month to $7.00 for basic service. The ordinance will have to be passed once again in order to become effective to the citizens of Goldthwaite.

growth of the area. The City will pay $100 annually as dues to the organization. In other business, the group opened sealed bids on the 2.3 acres of land located near the old dump ground just East of Goldthwaite. The only bid submitted, by W. A. Cline, was accepted. His bid was $451.13 per acre for the parcel of property. The council opened sealed bids on a new pickup for the water department. Bids from Geeslin Motors and Landrum Ford of Goldthwaite were opened. Landrum Ford was the low bidder on the vehicle, bidding $5,225.00 for the pickup. Geeslin submitted a bid of $5,263.45. It was a unanimous vote to accept the low bid. City Manager Dale Allen presented the annual report on the swimming pool. Finances at the facility showed that another year of loss had been incurred. The higher cost of labor to man the front and life guard stations were the chief cause of the increased cost of maintaining the pool. The Council voiced its support for the pool, however, as being a fine recreation spot and of much worth to the community. Mayor J. D. Harper appointed T. J. Blackburn to a post as Housing Authority Commissioner for the City. The nomination was unanimously approved by the council. This appointment had become necessary due to the resignation of Harold Yarborough from the post of commissioner.

All the property of the county will be appraised and re-valued for ad valorem tax purposes. Information was given the council on the increase in the city's insurance program for employees. Blue Cross and Blue Shield has announced approximately 20% hike in premiums. The hike will cost the city $72.10 per month overall. The street lights damaged by vandalism recently will be repaired and costs split by the three youths who were charged with the misdemeanor. They were also fined in county court. The city will cooperate with the Goldthwaite Garden Club during the week of October 22-26 in the annual Clean-Up Week campaign. The city will furnish the means to haul off extra garbage and tree trimmings at this time. The council reviewed the budget for the current year. Overall, the city budget expenses are running slightly ahead of the income after the first quarter of operation. Collections are at 25.52 percent and expenditures are at a 27.68 percent level. The regular quarterly treasurer's report was presented and unanimously approved by the council. Figures from the monthly operations report showed that collections were $84,713.51 and disbursements were $83,128.90 for the month of September.

NEW PICKUP PURCHASED

The council opened sealed bids on a new pickup for the water department. Bids from Geeslin Motors and Landrum Ford of Goldthwaite were opened. Landrum Ford was the low bidder on the vehicle, bidding $5,225.00 for the pickup. Geeslin submitted a bid of $5,263.45. It was a unanimous vote to accept the low bid.

The motor grader and backhoe have been under repair by Treanor Equipment Co. of Abilene. All are on the job at the present.

The city water use permits from the Colorado River were changed to come more in line with previous records. The new figures will be 646 acre feet for residential and 200 for industrial use. The city can take a maximum of 1400 gallons per minute from the flow of the Colorado.

The new Motorola radio system is now operative for the city. It replaces the old citizen's band system that

Game This Week — Eagles Lose To Armadillos 42-20

By MIKE LEE, Eagle Sports Writer. Goldthwaite Eagles had a good effort last night. However, the defense was a stiff and big play offense. San Saba lifted the Dillos to a 42-20 win in a district 10-A opener for teams. The game was played as well as we could. Said Eagle head coach Joe Winchell of his effort. "We weren't counted." Eagles' season record is now 0-4 after the grudge match against these two old and run by Corona, who weaved in and out of defenders and out ran another to the end zone. Bart McFarland's extra point kick was wide to the right and the Eagles led 6-0 with just less than three minutes gone in the game. The early score by the Dillos didn't seem to bother the Dillos as they took the kickoff and promptly drove 63 yards for their first touchdown. Fullback Tracy Smith scored the six-pointer on a 3-yard run. Troy Hibler, who converted on all six of his PAT tries in the game, gave the Armadillos at 7-6 lead they never lost. One minute later, the Dillos were on the scoreboard again. The 62-yard drive only took two plays. San Saba starting tailback Moses Cisneroz began the drive with a 39-yard scamper. After a 5-yard motion penalty against the Dillos, Cisneroz's replacement Ollido Cantu scored on a 28-yard run with 4:33 remaining in the opening period. San Saba led 14-6. Then the defenses took over the action for a while. The Eagle defense held off two San Saba scoring threats. The Armadillos partially blocked a punt and got the ball at the Eagle 20-yard line. The Eagle defense rose to the occasion and held. However, when the Eagles got the ball, Tucker's pass intended for split end Kenny Saathoff was intercepted. The Dillos tried to strike in a hurry but it backfired. An Armadillo pass was intercepted by Coy Hammond at the Eagle 8-yard line. The San Saba Defense was tough all night long although they allowed 3 touchdowns. An amazing statistic of the first half was that the Eagles had 14 points, one first down, 27 yards rushing and 50 yards total offense. The armadillos put two more touchdowns on the board within a minute span midway through the second quarter. Quarterback Roland Gonzales threw a 24-yard touchdown pass to John Gonzales to up their lead to 21-6 with 5:13 left in the first half. Another interception set the Dillos up at the Eagle 5-yard line. Smith scored his second TD on a 3-yard run with 4:11 remaining in the half to give the Dillos a 28-6 lead. The Eagles capitalized on a San Saba miscue later in the quarter when Chris Boykin recovered a fumble at the San Saba nine. Coy Hammond scored on the first play on a reverse. Tucker passed to Saathoff for two points to trim the deficit to 28-14. The touchdown seemed to give the Eagles an emotional lift but the Dillos quickly regained the momentum on the kickoff. Cantu fielded the kick, ran into a pack of Eagles, but then suddenly escaped to the sidelines and kicked both PATs. Mozelle made one TD the third quarter and one the fourth. Their third quarter touchdown came on a 2-yard run by Jerry Don Stephenson. Skelton kicked the extra point. In the fourth quarter Star's Jamie Tidwell ran 77 yards for a TD, and Whitlock kicked the extra point. Mozelle's last touchdown came on a Star fumble in the end zone, when Jerry Don Stephenson fell on the ball for an easy six points. Skelton kicked the PAT. Computers help take guesswork out of ranching COLLEGE STATION — Ranching, in the past, usually depended on a sharp eye, experience or luck.

Computer technology is now taking some of the guesswork out of raising cattle, says Dr. Lowell Schake, professor of animal science at Texas A&M University and a researcher who develops computer applications.

Where once a rancher with a sharp eye for beef flesh could get by, a computer does the job comparing variables to determine which feed rations are best, what cows to keep and how the hands are working out.

With the advent of inexpensive, programmable calculators, the speed of the computer is now available to every cattleman from feedlot manager to small rancher.

If the cattleman doesn't want to write his own program, there are plenty of private consultants, extension specialists, breed associations and feed companies who will help, Schake said.

This is the time of year when a little hard work on your lawn will repay you with a lot of hard work later on.

All those in favor of saving gasoline raise your right foot!

A frustrated young teacher was complaining to her older neighbor about her students. "It just seems this year that I have a lot of little nuts in my class." "Well," consoled the neighbor, "just remember that the nuts keep all bolts in place."

Upland Cotton Harvest To Top 5 Million

AUSTIN—A whopping 5,200,000-bale Upland cotton harvest is expected this year in Texas, making the 1979 growing season only the second time in 30 years when Texas farmers have topped the 5 million bale mark.

August 1 estimates from the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service show that the 1979 Upland cotton crop is up some 37 percent above the 3,792,000 bales produced a year earlier.

The 1977 crop reached 5,465,000 bales with a per acre yield of 407 pounds. Some 7,100,000 acres are expected for harvest, a 15 percent increase over a year ago. Yield will be around 352 pounds, up significantly from the 294 pounds last year.

American-Pima cotton, raised only in the Trans-Pecos, is estimated at 33,000 bales, an increase of 24 percent over last year's crop. Yield should average around 480 pounds per acre from 33,000 acres.

Domestic cotton mill use has been estimated at 6.3 million bales for the 1978-79 cotton marketing year, which ended July 31, and 6 million bales in 1979-80. The decline is expected because of the slowdown in the economy. Exports for this season are estimated at 6.2 million bales, up 700,000 bales from 1977-78 totals.

CANCER ANSWER LINE

Woman to her neighbor: "I have the most marvelous recipe for meat loaf—all I have to do is mention it to my husband and he says 'Let's eat out.'"

American Cancer Society M. D. Anderson Hospital and Tumor Institute

A woman in her 40's writes:

"When I was a teenager I had some X-ray treatments to clear up acne. I have heard that this can cause cancer. Is it true?"

ANSWERline: At one time it was considered good medical practice to use radiation treatment for various problems of the head and neck. This is no longer done because of the discovery that such radiation may be a possible cause of tumors of the thyroid gland which is located in the neck. Most of these tumors are benign (harmless). Others are a form of cancer that can usually be treated successfully. You should have a medical examination of your neck and set up a schedule of periodic checkups for the future with your physician. If you ever develop a lump in your neck, you should see your physician right away. Most likely it will be a harmless condition but it is important to have a diagnosis. Please remember that thyroid cancer is a rare disease. You are being advised to have medical attention now and in the years ahead because it is a wise health strategy not because you will actually develop cancer.

A reader explains: "I am black and teach high school students. I would like some facts about cancer and black Americans for a class program."

ANSWERline: Cancer is a serious problem for black Americans because both the incidence of cancer and the cancer death rate have been increasing for them. Unfortunately, black people may be more likely to die of cancer because they sometimes find access to medical care difficult. Another reason is that not enough black Americans have been made aware of the importance of early detection of cancer and prompt treatment. This lack of information can be corrected through public education. There is an alarming number of lung cancer deaths among black men. This is tragic because most lung cancer could be prevented if cigarette smoking were eliminated. You can help bring the facts about cancer to your students and your community. Your local American Cancer Society Unit will be glad to provide free educational materials and help plan film programs or exhibits to assist you in this task.

Point of View — Texas Sheep & Goat Raisers Weekly Report

Never take what a federal agency says or does at face value. As obvious as that statement might seem, it's sometimes a bit difficult to pin down a solid example. Try these on for size.

For months, no, actually years, the U. S. Environmental Protection Agency has been doing its level best to get herbicide 2, 4, 5-T off the market. EPA has invested countless millions of our tax dollars in heaven knows how many studies which have produced thousands upon thousands of pages of supposedly scientific evidence demonstrating the inherent dangers of the stuff. Just recently EPA decided, based upon all this "evidence," to drag the last three non-suspended uses of T through a cancellation hearing.

As stated in a letter we'll be mentioning again shortly, EPA "has determined on the basis of information available to it" that 2, 4, 5-T poses "risks of fetotoxic and teratogenic effects on unborn children, and the risks of cancer among exposed populations." Consider again the pronouncement that EPA "has determined" these risks. Sounds pretty positive and scary, right?

Well, it should -- it's written precisely to sound that way, and to give the impression that the top scientific-minded super-agencies have come to that frightening conclusion.

That ain't the way it really is. The truth is that EPA's own top-level, blue ribbon Scientific Advisory Panel has just issued a unanimous decision opposing a cancellation hearing for range, rice and some other assorted uses of 2, 4, 5-T. The panel's statement says in part that there is "no evidence" of immediate or substantial hazard to the environment or human health! We won't speculate as to what they might have said about the uses that are already suspended -- EPA's ban-crazy bureaucrats took advantage of a loosely-written legal loophole to rush those into a cancellation hearing without having submit to the scientific review.

In essence then, EPA pencil-pushers and politically-motivated power-seekers have rammed something through by trading the agency's supposed scientific reputation, while the scientists who've given the outfit that reputation actually know better and have now said so.

The advisory panel assessment might look like good news for those who depend on 2, 4, 5-T herbicide again, things are always as they appear. EPA's regulators, you see, are not bound by the wisdom of their scientists by law they can charge ahead with their cancellation plans despite the fact their claims are groundless.

Our third example is false-fronting may seem like nit-picking, but it's gross evidence of how totally ingrained the habit is with EPA. About a month ago TS&GRA executive secretary Bill Sims wrote questioning EPA's plans to ban 2, 4, 5-T. Copies of his letter went to the Texas congressional delegation, the members of which he passed the concerns of EPA.

Back have come the replies -- to Sims and to members of Congress. Neatly typed on EPA letterhead paper, the answers appear to be pasted replies from high-level EPA official Edwin L. Johnson. So much for appearances, close look at both the letters to Sims and the one to Phil Gramm reveals that the vast bulk of the wording identical -- right down to the location of each word in a given line. Sims' letter occasionally refers to "your" or "your", of course, while the corresponding word in Gramm's letter reads "the Sims." In short, it's beautiful example of the wonders of the new generation "thinking" -- "writer" -- the criterion automatically types the same identical messages and over, electronic plucking and inserting names where necessary give the impression that the final product is a one-of-a-kind, personal letter from a real human being.

Various mass-mailing sales-type organizations have been using this technique to give potential customers the impression that their business is important it deserves personal letter from a big level company official. EPA is using it to give tax-payers the impression their views are being considered.

Of course, as we know, things are not what they seem.

Priddy American Legion Receives Attendance Award

On October 3, 1979, the Priddy American Legion Auxiliary held their monthly meeting. A covered dish supper was served prior to the meeting, which was called to order at 8:30 by Louise Tatum, the president of the unit.

Mrs. Tatum introduced District President, Mrs. Rose Hubbard, from Roseville, who commended our auxiliary secretary, Darlene Hays, for getting the 1980 auxiliary dues in before the deadline. Mrs. Hubbard presented an award to Priddy Auxiliary for being the very first unit in the district to reach their membership goal.

The meeting was then turned back to the local president, Louise Tatum.

Louise asked if anyone brought any recipes for cookbooks we plan to publish in the future. Other things were discussed about the committee chairmen for the town for the cookbooks. Comanche - Joe Stapp and Joan Moore; Goldthwaite - Marie Hamilton and Louise Long; Hamilton - Bernice Wendland and Georgia Robinson; Mullin - Winnie Lindsey, Allene Brewer and Josephine Johnson.

We would like to welcome Mrs. Jo Stapp as a new member of the Auxiliary.

Motion was made and seconded that the Auxiliary members and their husbands would get in free to our Auxiliary Donation Dance to be held October 20 and everyone else, over the age of 14, would give a donation. Cleanup will be directly following the dance.

Other items were discussed, and Mrs. Hubbard reminded us of the District meeting October 13 & 14, at Kingsland and the fee is $10 and she hoped that some of us could attend.

After the meeting adjourned at 10:00 p.m., a picture was taken of Mrs. Hubbard presenting the award to Louise Tatum, with all the members present in the picture also.

United Fund Allocates Money For Little League

The Mills County United Fund has allocated $700 to the Mills County Little League. The money will be used for lighting water and the purchase of equipment needed, such as bats, caps and catching equipment.

Through the activity of the Mills County Little League 120 children formed 10 teams. And this year four of those teams were girls. Boys and girls from Mullin, Goldthwaite, Star, Lometa and Evant gathered to play ball at the park located on the Old Priddy Road. The age of these children range from 7 through 13.

Thirty-five adults, parents and other interested adults worked with these young people.

The Mills County United Fund has allocated $150 to the Girl Scouts of the Goldthwaite troops, which were reorganized in September of this year.

With the monies from United Fund the purchase of a Girl Scout flag and material for troop use are among the top priority items.

Interest in Girl Scouting was evidenced by the 55 girls, ranging in age from the 1st grade to the 6th, who immediately applied for membership.

Brownie troops, composed of girls 1st through 3rd grades, have been formed for 31 girls. The Junior Girl Scouts, 4th through 6th grades, have 24 members.

Nine local women are serving as troop leaders with three persons serving on a local association level.

United Fund Aids Diabetic Foundation

The Mills County United Fund allocated $85.00 for the Southwestern Diabetic Foundation.

Science has conquered many bacterial disorders, but diabetes, a metabolic disorder, has thus far resisted cure. Persons with diabetes can lead a normal life by following a planned routine of self-treatment and diet.

The Southwestern Diabetic Foundation has established Camp Sweeney, a summer camp for diabetic children. This camp is located near Gainesville, Texas. Situated on 338 acres of rolling timbered hills are three dormitories each for boys and girls, a non-denominational chapel, hospital and recreation facilities.

Under the supervision of a specialized staff the children attending the camp are taught proper diet, exercise, and medical techniques, such as taking their own urine tests and giving insulin injections. Approximately 300 children in three sessions of three weeks each attend Camp Sweeney each summer.

Mr. Alvin Dobbins enjoyed a visit from his son and family, Ronnie, Pattie and Ty Baynes of Santa Anna. Mr. Dobbins lived in Coleman before coming to the Heritage Nursing Home.

Heritage Happenings

The feel of autumn is definitely here. The beauty of mother nature can be seen on every hand. It just makes one feel good to be a part of God's creation.

Football is back, and if you want one of the male residents you know exactly where to look for him. You guessed it, IN FRONT OF THE T.V. SET.

We look back over the summer with mixed emotions. It is so good to have family and friends dropping in often, yet it's good to get back to our schedules. We are now looking forward to holidays that we enjoy so much.

WE ARE LOOKING FORWARD TO: The Klitter Kombo the 9th at 2:30 p.m.; The downtown Bible Class Singing the 11th at 7 p.m.; The birthday Party, sponsored by the Baptist Adult II Class the 16th at 2:30 p.m. Those celebrating birthdays in October are: Jack Burns, Liza Mankin, Lawson Parmar, Jessie Geeslin, Nora Mitchell, James Brown, Lee Long, Julia Atnip, Ruth Tullis, Bettie Martin and Clyde Clary. We cordially invite family and friends to come and help celebrate this occasion. Also Gospel Singing with the East Side Church of Christ of Mullin the 18th at 7:30 p.m. Our famous string band will play Saturday, the 20th, 7:30 p.m.

We are also looking forward to a 'Front Yard' Sale on the 19th, from 8:30 until 6 p.m. All proceeds go to the Activity Fund for our residents. There are donations coming in from many different individuals, so selections should be great. Come by, won't ya?

The Moline Menace

by Bob Altenloh

THE KNOW IT OWLS . . . The universe was once a ball hanging in the middle of endless nothing! If all this nothing is endless where is its middle? Then one day the ball blew up. The universe spread out into all the stars in space. This, the "big bang" theory was written up by two very imaginative scientists. They got the Nobel Prize for their presumptions. They enforced (they think) the theory that the whole universe is expanding at a great rate.

The stars are running away from each other. This was first assumed some years back because light from distant stars bouncing through a prism (triangle of glass) when spread out on a screen showed a shift to the lower reds of the spectrum. (When you ride a train and pass a ringing crossing signal, as you ride away from it the bell sounds lower and lower. This is similar, but we are dealing with light waves.) It never occurred to the cone heads that light after traveling for billions of years might just get "tired," losing some of its boop ah doop.

Hoyle came up with a dandy years ago. His idea was that space was nothing tied together with holes. Once it gets to vibrating, ZIP — a hydrogen atom comes out of nowhere, then GEEP! There's another one, and TFFT! still another.

In a few years two more scientists will come up with a different idea of how it all began. In the meantime we have not run out of greater distances. Each new step, peering further out into the universe just shows more stars. Yet, the whole thing is supposed to be shaped like a yoyo. It hasn't been proven to be a closed one. Once I asked, "What the universe IN?" You ask what the original ball the "big bang," theory is IN. If they tell me "nothing," in all directions I find this too terrifying to envision. Some day scientists will manage to peer out into the real reaches beyond the universe as we know it and will find particles of the late cake. For what they us now it makes about much sense. I propose we are just too small to know what's out there. are smaller than bacteria a billiard ball and are trying to find out who runs pool room.

Chamber Comments

compiled by the Mills County Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture

Q. I'm confused about Chamber meetings. Are the board meetings every month open for anybody to come or is just the one general yearly meeting open for all to come?

A. All the meetings are "open" meetings. The board of directors meet every month, but anyone can come. The one general meeting per year is primarily for election of officers. Only chamber members may vote, but anyone can attend.

Q. When and where is the next meeting?

A. Monday, October 15, at 7:30 p.m. in the conference room of the bank. Do Come!!

Q. What happened about the housing project for senior citizens?

A. We received 51 signatures which means that now the wheels are turning to see if we can qualify for the government funds. We're excited about the possibilities this project offers and we'll keep you posted. Right now we just wait for the red tape to unravel.

TELEPHONE POLL

Q. Should the Chamber look into the possibility of a county airport especially if government funds are available?

Response so far: We've received several calls and response thus far is 100% in favor of an airport. We're continuing the poll one more week to gauge your wishes. To vote call 648-3619.

BRAVOS & BOOS

Bravos: To the Mullin people who turned out in such good numbers when the blood bank was held in their community center.

Boos: (in good fun) To a certain county judge, a highway patrolman, and a former deputy who fired three shotgun blasts and three pistol shots on the courthouse lawn--and still missed the skunk.

FOY GIBBARD SERVICES HELD IN MARYLAND

The first U.S. coin had its beginning about 1785.

Mrs. Neely described the different types of coins that were made from 1785 to the present time.

Hostesses for the meeting were Mr. and Mrs. C.A. Skipping, Mrs. Lillian Stokes and Mrs. Etta Jordan.

Danny Long
OCTOBER 9, 1979

Some tree leaves will be tumbling down, signaling the advent of fall. These leaves should be raked from the lawn to prevent damage to grass. They should be put to good use.

By composting them so that they can provide a ready source of organic soil for gardens, flower beds, potted plants and for top-dressing the lawn.

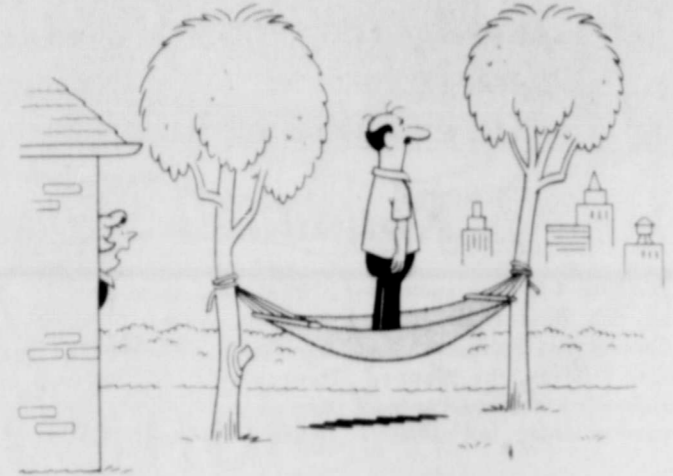

The simplest method of composting leaves or other organic matter is to build alternate 4-6 inch layers of vegetable matter with 2 inches of good garden soil. Sprinkle a commercial fertilizer on each layer of vegetable matter to hasten decomposition. One-half cupful of 10-10-10 or 10-20-0 or equivalent per 10 square feet is sufficient. Manure, if available and free of weeds, may also be added to good advantage to soil layer.

Build the compost pile 4 to 6 feet wide and any desired length. The top layer should consist of soil, and the surface of the pile should slope toward the center, forming a basin to hold water. Water the layers of leaves thoroughly as they are spread out and again when the pile is completed. Also water periodically to keep the material moist but not soggy.

Turn or mix the compost with a garden fork or shovel every three or four months. It should be ready for use within six months to a year.

The bride chose a floor-length gown of organza and raschel lace. Beaded raschel lace covered the high waisted bodice, accenting the Queen Anne neckline. Matching lace complimented shepherdess sleeves. The skirt of the gown featured a redingote effect formed by a center panel of organza knife pleates and raschel lace Chapel train. She wore a fingertip veil edged in Chantilly lace attached to a lace covered bandeau headpiece. Her bouquet was a cascade of burgandy and pink roses, which she carried on a prayer book.

There are many ways in which the game of football can be compared to the game of life. Having been a high school and college athlete, I appreciate the principles of athletics that can be applied to life in general.

In any athletic contest, there are always specific rules that have to be followed. The same is true of football and life. The Bible, God's Word, sets out the guidelines and rules of life. Follow the rules, obey the standards and you are certain to come out on top.

Every team has a coach. Jesus Christ, God's own Son, is Coach for the Christian Team. He has a terrific game plan: abundant life, life with a real plus, life with a special sense of meaning for all the folks who join up on His team. He has already assured His team of victory because He has won out over His arch rivals, sin and death.

During the game of life, the pep talk from the Coach could go something like this: "Be strong, for I have overcome the world! Keep plugging away. Greater is He that is in you (the Coach) than he (the devil, our arch rival) who is on the opposing team."

At a ball game, it's rather obvious that there are more people in the stands than on the playing field. How true of life—more spectators than participants. One of the remarkable aspects about playing on Christ's team is that you don't have to try-out. You don't have to be in shape to get on the team (don't be misled though; once on the team, discipline and service are parts of the workout). You don't have to be big and fast, have good hands, or be able to throw the ball 50 yards. Only one requirement: the condition of the human heart. As Christ indicated, a willingness by faith to become as a little child.

By faith in Him as the Son of God, the Savior of men, we can climb down out of the stands and get out on the field of play.

When we do, we'll find ourselves on a team with other Christians, come to know the game plan, be able to execute the plays of the Kingdom, and best of all, know the Coach. Then, after the big game is over, the team will meet for its Homecoming. It's worth asking: Which team are you on and who's your coach?

5.2 Million Youth To Observe National 4-H Week Oct. 7-13

From RFD 1 to 77th Street, more than 5.2 million young people nationwide are observing National 4-H Week Oct. 7-13.

Whatever their address, 4-H members in the United States, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands and Guam are taking part in special activities that focus attention on the values of 4-H, the nation's largest youth-serving program. The National 4-H Week theme, "Expanding Horizons," challenges 4-H'ers everywhere to "seek new knowledge, acquire life skills and build on personal strengths." It calls on members to strengthen their citizenship and leadership abilities and to "assume positive roles in a free democratic society."

Boys and girls 9-19 particpate in 4-H through organized clubs, special interest groups, short-term projects, camping, television series, and programs planned to meet their specific needs in the communities where they live.

Twenty-three percent of 4-H members now reside in suburbs of cities, or in central cities, of more than 50,000 population. 21 percent live on farms, 40 percent in small towns or open country, and 16 percent in towns and cities of 10,000-50,000.

4-H is the youth education program of the Cooperative Extension Service, and is conducted jointly by the U.S. Department of Agriculture, the land-grant universities, and state and local governments.

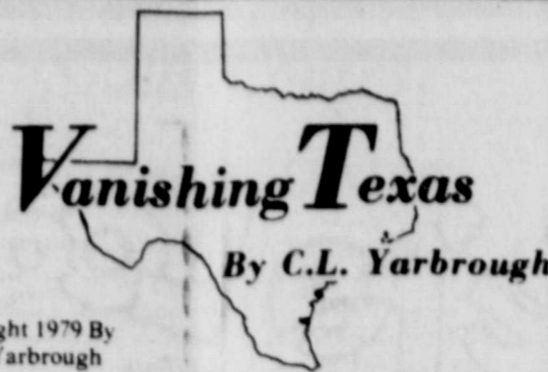

580,000 adults and teens serve as volunteer 4-H leaders at the local level.

4-H projects and activities encourage young people to learn and apply real-life skills and to become competent, productive citizens.

Around the world, 82 countries have youth education programs similar to 4-H.

The teacher, after correcting class papers, remarked to the student, "I don't see how one person can make so many mistakes on his homework."

The student considered for a moment, then replied, "It wasn't just one person—my dad helped."

LEGEND OF MONEY FLAT

For perhaps a hundred years now they have searched for the treasure of Money Flat. The Flat is a small place, not more than five acres of bottomland, and the searchers have turned and combed every inch of its rich soil.

They came in secrecy, sometimes from far away, armed with maps and way-bills and deathbed directions from old men who said they had seen the glitter of gold.

The Money Flat treasure legend had its origin in a line of strangely-marked trees that led from Dark Hollow down the Leon River to symbols cut deep into the tip of a sandstone bluff overlooking Money Flat.

The marked trees are gone now, rotted away at the bottom of Lake Leon, all except one; every tale of lost treasure must have its lone survivor.

Ranger's Buddy Vinson grew up in the Leon Bottoms, and he remembers that the trees were marked, with a design he could not comprehend, at a uniform height that indicated the work had been done by someone on horseback.

That one remaining tree laughs down at you, thrilling at its undecipherable message of something precious hidden forever.

The symbols cut into rock? The dam took them, and some say a hidden chamber with three human skeletons went with the rock.

The greatest number of searchers came during the years of the great depression. They had nothing else to do, and nothing else within reason of foreseeable future to hope for except the grace of God and El Dorado.

Whole families camped the Flat, left alone by an indulgent owner. They lived on catfish and hope and carved out intricate systems of trenches, holes and tunnels, directed by secret information gained from mysterious sources. Sometimes families pooled their knowledge and their resources, but the Flat always had its loners, men who lived in fear of others stealing the treasure they were never more than just a stroke of the pick away from. Buddy Vinson remembers peering into a hole in progress, and straight into the barrel of a Navy Colt.

Only one searcher of the many who came set himself apart from the others. His name was never known. They called him The Moneyhunter, and he left behind a legend as alluring as that of the treasure he hunted - and may have found.

Afterward, no one could agree just when or how he had come to Money Flat. But it was before the depression, and before any of the others came.

He would be seen occasionally among the trees or briefly skylighted along a ridge with an ever-present towsack slung over his shoulder, a towsack that always had something in it.

The people were a little afraid of The Moneyhunter. Mothers told unruly children that The Moneyhunter would come and get them unless they behaved, and fathers, thinking of him, would quietly fasten doors that had gone unfastened since Indian days.

In time, it was noticed that The Moneyhunter, who had always been prone to wander about over the country surrounding Money Flat, had ceased wandering. He built a spacious treehouse high in a big elm in Money Flat and started work on a tremendous hole at the base of his tree.

No one knows when or how he left, but suddenly they realized that he was gone. They went down into the Flat to see what he had been digging up. They found nothing.

But there was talk, and this talk soon became a part of the story, and very few knew how much of it was true and how much of it was false, but they repeated it anyway.

They told of skeletons and Spanish pistols and swords and helmets that had come from The Moneyhunter's big hole.

Then The Moneyhunter came back.

He came quietly, wearing a fine suit of clothes that matched his long, black Cadillac. He paid a debt that he had made at the little grocery store in Staff. Then he left.

These things happened a long time ago. People have forgotten. The did not know what to think when, just a few years ago, a rancher drained a small natural lake not far from Money Flat and found in its shallow bottom an ancient sword and pistol. They were rammed blade and barrel down into the mud, as though someone had fallen there with them, one in either hand. An expert said they were of the type used by Spanish soldiers 200 years ago.

raced 75 yards to score. That gave the visitors a 35-24 lead and ended a wild first half.

San Saba scored in their first possession of the second half as they drove 85 in 9 plays. Smith again scored the six-pointer on a 5-yard run and the Dillos' lead was 42-14.

The Eagles put together a nice drive in the fourth quarter to conclude the scoring. Jeff Stephen's 5-yard run capped the 67-yard drive. The score remained 42-20 after the try for two points failed. After the touchdown, the Eagles received a big hand from the partisan crowd for not giving up and fighting till the end of the contest.

"Our defense played well", stated Coach Winchell. "The blocked punt, interception at the 5-yard line and the kickoff return really hurt us."

Leading the defensive effort were Stephen Schwartz, David Livingston, Chris Boykin, Carson Padgett, Coy Hammond and Tony and Ricky Corona. Boykin and Hammond both suffered ankle injuries but Winchell hopes they'll be ready for this week's game.

Goldthwaite travels to Early Friday for a 7:30 p.m. game with the Longhorns. Early is 2-1-1 for the season. They crushed Ranger 64-7 last Friday in the district opener.

"Small and quick" are the words Winchell uses to describe the Longhorns. "We will have to run a lot of draws and screens to offset their stunting," he added.
