LEE CUNNINGHAM DEAD

Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon at the Methodist church over the remains of Mrs. Lee Cunningham, who died in Dallas Saturday. Mrs. Cunningham had been in poor health for the past several years and recently her health was much faster and she was carried to a Sanitarium in Dallas, where she hanged herself, using a sheet for a rope. The nurse left the room for a few moments, so the sanitarium officials state, and when she returned, Mrs. Cunningham was choked to death, but lived a few minutes after being taken down. The relatives were dissatisfied with the available information and had the body examined before burial yesterday.

Mrs. Cunningham was 47 years of age and leaves four children, father and mother and a number of brothers and sisters. Her husband died eight years ago. Mrs. Cunningham also has many friends in our town and surrounding country, having lived in Miami for many years. After the funeral conducted by Rev. Stewart, the remains were placed in the Miami cemetery.

DUNN OF MOBEETIE DIED SATURDAY

Earl A. Dunn, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. Dunn of Mobeetie died Saturday last week, following a severe attack of influenza-pneumonia. Mr. Dunn was a prosperous young stock raiser, living on the Gageby Valley, a friend in every neighbor about

Earl was reared in Mobeetie, save the time he was away at school where he was married to Miss Edith Sitton in 1912, and leaves the wife, small children and other relatives a large number of very warm friends.

The sad indeed is the departure of this splendid young character, for he had always been a kind and true friend to those about him; an affectionate husband and loving father, and a member of the I. O. O. F. and P. Lodes, and was buried Saturday afternoon in the Mobeetie cemetery in full honors of the Odd Fellows lodge.

The call of death has visited the Dunn family twice in the past weeks, in the death of their son, which occurred February 11th, following just ten days later by the death of Earl, Feb. 21. The two widows who have been left husbandless, the fatherless children, sorrowful parents and relatives have the deepest sympathy of their hosts here. Mrs. Earl Dunn is reportedly sick with influenza, and has not been here since before the death of her son.

McCLASKEY FUNERAL

William McClaskey, born in Milan, Mo., Sept. 3, 1889, died Friday morning 19th at his home in Miami, following a severe attack of influenza-pneumonia.

Mr. McClaskey moved from Miami to Oklahoma when but 13 years of age, and came to Miami 13 years ago. He was married to Miss Agnes Bell in 1910, and to the union was born one child, a son who is now 12 years old. He is survived by the mother, father and mother, two brothers and a sister.

He professed the christian religion in 1909 and became a member of the Baptist Church. Funeral services were conducted Saturday by Rev. Stewart at the Baptist church and the remains laid to rest in the Miami cemetery.

GOOD WOMAN PASSES AWAY

Our community was called upon last week to let go from its ranks a good woman who leaves besides relatives, a large number of warm friends, Mrs. Will Brown, who died Friday, following an attack of influenza-pneumonia.

Myrtle May Patton was born in Kauffman County, March 10 1886, and married in 1905 to Mr. Will Brown of Miami, and they came here to live. She has been a true and faithful member of the Baptist church since 15 years of age. The departure of this woman leaves five motherless children, a brokenhearted husband and many relatives and friends. Funeral services were conducted Saturday afternoon at the church and her remains laid to rest in the Miami cemetery to await the call of the Great Master.

CENSUS COMPLETE

Census Taker M. E. Wells last week completed the Census of district No. 1 and No. 4 in this county, being the Miami and Green Lake census districts, and has made his final report to the department. Information as to the number in these districts cannot now be made public.

No census of the balance of the county has been made, and so far as we can learn, no effort is being made to get it, as the pay for such service is insufficient to meet expenses, so the government will either have to pay more or we will not be reported in full.

ENTERS ROOM IN SEARCH OF WIFE

Denver, Colo., Feb. 23.—Nursed by the wife of the man he killed Charles L. Brown is under guard in his room at a local hotel tonight seriously ill of influenza.

The killing came today when Edward Bell Rodgers of Green River, Wyo., entered the room where Brown and Mrs. Rodgers admit they have been living several months as man and wife. Rodgers reached for his pistol. It caught in his pocket and Brown drew a gun from beneath his pillow and shot.

"I am not sorry," Brown said tonight, "I shot to defend myself and the little woman who has nursed and cared for me."

After shooting Rodgers three times in the heart Brown calmly lay back on his bed and awaited the coming of officers. He was too ill to be removed to jail or to a hospital and a guard was placed over him by the police department. An inquest over Rodgers' body will be held tomorrow. Both Brown and Rodgers are former service men and both railroad brakemen. Rodgers formerly lived in Amarillo, Texas, and Albuquerque, N. M.—Amarillo News.

That the above Albert Rodgers, was a son of J. A. Rodgers, former cattleman and citizen of this county. Edward Bell Rodgers has been in our city many times, visiting his father.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our friends for the many acts of kindness, the loving sympathy, and the beautiful flowers showered upon us in our recent bereavements.

Your thoughtfulness did much toward scattering the clouds of sorrow which settled so suddenly upon us, and we will always cherish loving memories of you all.

Yours gratefully,
Mrs. Will Dunn

Mr. and Mrs. George B. Dunn, and family.

J. K. McKENZIE FOR COUNTY JUDGE

Judge J. K. McKenzie authorizes us this week to announce him as a candidate for re-election to the office of County Judge of this county, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary in July.

The county Judges office might also be named the County Managers office, while his authority in some respects may be very limited, the Judges recommendations count for a great deal before the Commissioners court, and before the School Trustees of the various districts, and this is just the reason that Judge McKenzie is especially qualified for the office of County Judge and School Superintendent. He is one of the most faithful and loyal citizens of our county to school work, and is ever assisting in every movement for the improvement of educational work for the boys and girls.

Judge McKenzie is but asking for the customary second term of office, and we feel confident that the voters of this county will gladly grant his request.

CRAIG ASKS FOR RE-ELECTION

Our popular and efficient County Clerk, M. M. Craig, Jr., this week authorizes us to place his name in the announcement column, asking the voters of this county for election to the office he now holds, that of County and District Clerk.

Mr. Craig has made a careful and efficient clerk every way, and he is entitled to re-election to this place on the county official list. He returned last spring from a trip to France with the millions of our boys, and our County Commissioners re-appointed him to the place he occupied before leaving.

We ask the voters of this county to duly consider Mr. Craigs candidacy in the Democratic Primary which will be held in July of this year.

CAMPAIGN FOR TEXAS SOLDIERS MEMORIAL

Austin, Texas, December 16, 1920 To Local Post American Legion: Miami, Texas

I am writing you in regard to the Benevolent War Risk Society and its campaign to raise $500,000 for the purpose of erecting a memorial hospital for the accommodation of Texas ex-soldiers who are suffering from tuberculosis.

You will be shocked to learn that your county has not yet raised its quota $186.00.

The welfare, and in fact the lives of a considerable number of our Texas ex-soldiers depend largely upon the quickness with which we can raise this $500,000.00 and we are calling upon your Post to see that Roberts County does its full part in this much needed work.

Surely you must realize the urgent nature of this work. The fact that the Surgeon General of the United States has recently called upon the American Legion to co-operate with the United States Public Health Service in finding hospital accommodations for tuberculous ex-soldiers, proves that the situation is indeed serious, not only in this state, but in others. This should be an added stimulus to the Texas Posts of the American Legion to cooperate in every way possible with the Benevolent War Risk Society in raising funds to make possible the proper treatment of Texas soldiers who have come back from the war with their health shattered and no means of taking care of themselves.

Every private or public hospital in Texas which is able to accommodate any tuberculous soldier patients is already under contract with the Federal Government, and yet the number of beds available in this way is very small compared with the number of soldier boys who are suffering from this dreaded disease. Moreover, you will certainly agree that it is more desirable for our tuberculous ex-soldiers to be treated in a single large sanatorium, located where the climate is most favorable for the treatment of tuberculosis, than for them to be scattered about, here and there in private hospitals where, in many cases, no provisions are made for the prompt treatment of tuberculous patients.

We are not being asked to give our money in order to relieve the Feder-

Government of its responsibility proposes to build? The United States Public Health Service has fully endorsed this matter and is willing to go more than half way in the care of tuberculous ex-soldiers. We are asking the members of your Post, as former comrades of these boys who need help so badly and as patriotic citizens of Texas, to exert every effort to the end that your county's quota may be raised. Bear in mind that this money must be raised just as soon as possible. A half million dollars now will take care of every tuberculous ex-soldier in Texas who needs treatment, but all the wealth in Texas will not save the lives of these boys if we wait too long. John C. If You Need a Medicine You Should Have the Best

Have you ever stopped to reason why it is that so many products that are extensively advertised, all at once drop out of sight and are soon forgotten? The reason is plain—the article did not fulfill the promises of the manufacturer. This applies more particularly to a medicine. A medicinal preparation that has real curative value almost sells itself, as like an endless chain system the remedy is recommended by those who have been benefited, to those who are in need of it. A prominent druggist says: "Take for example Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, a preparation I have sold for many years and never hesitate to recommend, for in almost every case it shows excellent results, as many of my customers testify. No other kidney remedy has so large a sale." According to sworn statements and verified testimony of thousands who have used the preparation, the success of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is due to the fact, so many people claim, that it fulfills almost every wish in overcoming kidney, liver and bladder ailments; corrects urinary troubles and neutralizes the uric acid which causes rheumatism. You may receive a sample bottle of Swamp-Root by Parcel Post. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., and enclose ten cents; also mention this paper. Home Town Helps

FOR CENTRAL HEATING PLANT

Canadian Newspaper Warmly Advocates Such a Scheme, on Economic and Other Grounds.

The town of Renfrew has carried a by-law to spend $25,000 on a central heating plant for the business section. It is erecting a new fire hall and takes advantage of the opportunity. Owen Sound is said to have a similar scheme under consideration. This is an avenue of small-town development that will be much more extensively traveled in the future, remarks the Toronto (Can.) Mail and Empire. Ontario towns are usually compact, the streets used for business intersect each other, and with the advent of modern heating systems in the stores and factories, the economic possibilities of a central heating plant are exceptionally good. Many cities and towns in the United States have adopted the system, and results have been very satisfactory. Instead of two dozen furnaces, two dozen firemen, one big plant handled by about three men, does the whole business. Modern insulating methods prevent loss of steam and heat underground and the service is usually better than any home system. The obtaining of coal is such a problem nowadays for the ordinary merchant and factory operator that the putting of responsibility on a civic plant would be a great relief. The ultimate saving, once the heating equipment is installed, ought to be thousands of dollars a year. In many of the small Ontario towns stores are still heated by stoves, or hot-air furnaces, using anthracite coal. The statistics of the relative cost of steam heat cannot be made up without consideration of local conditions, because pipe-laying, radiator installation and plant costs vary with the size of the project, and the location of the premises to be heated. But the innovation is one that should commend itself to the notice of all town councils.

WRONG KIND OF ADVERTISING

Signboard Display May Catch the Eye for a Moment, but it Does Not Make Friends.

An important function of advertising is in creating good will. The permanent, lasting value of an advertising campaign is in the good will it creates. Signboards can do little toward creating good will and may stir up a lot of ill will. There are certain classes of advertising that must be handled in a dignified manner, otherwise the advertising may do more harm than good. If the information received is correct, various garden clubs have already protested against the use of signboards by florists, which shows "the way the wind blows" regarding public sentiment.

It has been proposed that motorists organize to rid our highways of the grotesque obstructive signs. Each member is to agree not to purchase any goods advertised on signboards. That will be an effective way to clear up the situation.

This gives the florists good advice and gets their slogan before our readers, both of which it is hoped will be profitable.—New York Times.

Trees on Roadside.

Believing that the problem of roadside planting should not be entirely set aside during the movement for a greater mileage of improved highways, active steps are now being taken by the New York state motor federation and the state college of forestry at Syracuse for the development of a planting scheme for the section of the highway running from Syracuse to Utica, a distance of about sixty miles.

It has been demonstrated by those in charge of the work that aside from the purely ornamental value of trees along the highway, many practical benefits would result from their proper use. It is not generally realized that trees, by means of their shade during hot summer months, prolong the life of the roadway for many years, and road experts in general are heartily in favor of this means of road protection.

Have an Eye to the Future.

It is common in a good many cities to find a street originally laid out to come to an abrupt end for a block, after which the street is continued. No doubt the founders never dreamed that more and wider streets would be necessary, and thought that in laying them out they were anticipating all possible road expansion for hundreds of years to come. Where such streets, by continuing them through the block, would create an outlet for additional traffic, thereby eliminating congestion and confusion, the property owners, as well as city and government officials, should take additional steps to rectify it.

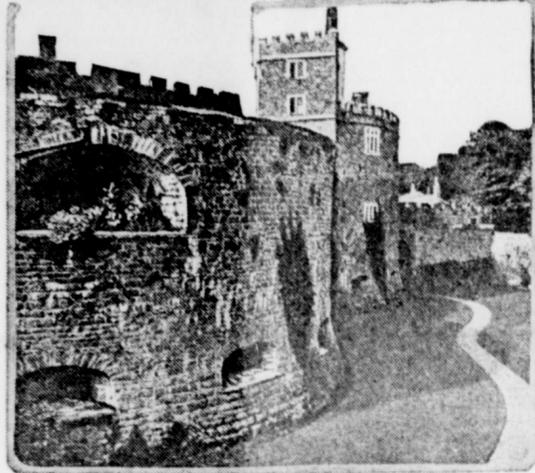

Keep Eye on Shade Trees.

Don't forget your shade trees. Relieve them of all dead wood and tangled growth.

Never Forget the Shrubs.

Shrubs beautify and protect the premises.

Walmer Castle

Walmer Castle.

AMONG the numerous historical structures which the British cherish because in them, they feel, is visibly incorporated the prestige of England, not the least picturesque and interesting is Walmer castle, on the coast of Kent, the official home of the lord warden of the Cinque ports.

The lord wardenship is an older and more picturesque monument than Walmer castle. The office of lord warden is far more ancient than his dwelling. About that office are gathered the earliest activities out of which the British navy grew, writes Martin Conway in Country Life. The present functions of the lord warden may not be of any executive value as contributing to national defense, but as long as there is a lord warden living at Walmer, the small beginnings of the navy in a remote past remain visibly memorialized. Such a memorial is more efficient than any pile of stone that the ingenuity of man could raise. Nothing more vividly brings the past into the present or enforces on living men the amount of their indebtedness to those from whom they descend than a living ceremonial recurrently performed in accordance with an ancient and unbroken tradition.

No one knows when the lord wardenship was founded or by what earliest stages it came into being. Necessity enforced the defense of the southeastern coast of England, and to that end the small maritime forces of the little ports along it had to be coordinated. The original five ports were Hastings, Romney, Hythe, Dover and Sandwich; to these others were added, as well as inland localities which had to contribute financial aid. Ultimately the jurisdiction extended round the coast from Seaford in Sussex to near Margate in Kent.

Importance of the Cinque Ports.

Throughout the Middle Ages down to the time of Henry VII the Cinque ports thus enlarged and organized had to furnish the crown with nearly all the ships and men needed for naval purposes. The oldest existing charter dates from Edward I, but it refers to older documents as far back as the time of Edward the Confessor. Duties and corresponding privileges went on accumulating. Such an organization could not exist without a head, but his office was of correspondingly gradual growth. At one time it was an office of great power and importance. It was generally coupled with the governorship of Dover castle. The lord warden was admiral of the ports. He had his court of chancery at Dover. He still retains the duty of appointing the judge of the admiralty court of the Cinque ports as well as the justices of the peace in the same area; but his most important functions have become decorative, not, however, unimportant.

The maritime activity which led to the discovery of America and the beginnings of a world commerce necessarily made a great change in British naval affairs. Local levies of ships and sailors were bound to be replaced sooner or later by something in the nature of a national navy. The change is already apparent in the days of Henry VIII, and from that time the importance of the Cinque ports as the nation's naval base declined and with it the power of the lord warden. It is noteworthy that the erection of Walmer castle dates from this period. It was built in the reign of Henry VIII along with other castles round the coast, such as the neighboring Deal and Sandown and the remote Lindisfarne on Holy Island in Northumberland. Previously the coast had been protected by a succession of earthworks, the Great and Little Bulwarks, for instance, within the parish of Walmer. They had embrasures for guns, and were connected by communication trenches.

Built by Henry VIII.

The Kentish castles built by Henry VIII were completed about 1540 and placed under the control of the lord warden. The following description of them is compressed from Elgin: In the center is the keep—a circular tower containing a bomb-proof magazine for ammunition. It is surrounded by bastions with fifty-two port-holes below, commanding the encompassing moat. Tunnels or chimneys were contrived to carry off the smoke of the guns. There were larger embrasures for cannon near the upper part of the bastions. The entrance from the landward side was by a drawbridge and strong machicolated gateway. Within each castle was a well. The bastion walls were 20 feet thick below and 11 feet above. Their architect was probably one Steven von Haschenperz. The garrison of Walmer consisted of a captain, lieutenant, two porters, ten gunners and four soldiers.

Less than a century later we read of Walmer castle as much decayed and threatened by the sea at high tides; moreover, rain drives into the rooms and powder houses, the gate is decayed "with loose stones hanging over," and so forth. It was presumably patched up. During the Civil war the castles changed hands more than once. Walmer was besieged by Parliament troops in 1648, and held out for a month before surrendering. It was "much spoiled with the grenades," but the repairs were only estimated to cost £300. The castles continued to be of military importance throughout the seventeenth century.

Additions by Lord Wardens.

The first lord warden to make Walmer castle his residence was the duke of Dorset, appointed in 1708 and again in 1727. About 1730 he made various alterations and additions to the old structure to provide the necessary accommodation for a household; further considerable additions were made by Mr. Pitt, the earl of Liverpool, and Earl Granville. Apart from certain chambers belonging to the original military work and since merely adapted to the uses of domestic service, the oldest parts of the existing mansion are the chambers built by the duke of Dorset. Buck's view, dated 1735, shows the general aspect of this building. It is raised over the central mass of the castle and follows the outlines of its walls. There is nothing remarkable about the architecture or the decoration of the rooms. A small central hall, a long passage leading through it, with others branching off as convenience dictated—these are the elements of the plan. The plain stone wall is pierced by oblong sash-windows and the crest of the wall is battlemented.

The duke of Dorset's additions were mainly on the sea front, which remains much as he left it. I believe the drawing-room was his—a pleasant, sunny chamber—but Lord Granville added to it. Mr. Pitt built the rooms over the southern rampart. Finally, in 1863, Lord Granville added a story containing thirteen rooms over the gate-house bastion. He also built the tower. The stone employed came from the demolition of Sandown castle. He added to the drawing-room, as an alcove, the little room in which it is asserted that Nelson and Pitt used to confer.

There is nothing stately or impressive about the aspect of the interior, but the irregularity of the plan adds to the effect of domestic comfort and privacy which pervades the house. One can easily understand how successive families have become attached to it. Externally there are several quite impressive points of view, chiefly those which command the massive and precipitous walls rising from the moat. One of the walls, pulled down on the occasion of Queen Victoria's visit to make a new dining-room, was soon afterward rebuilt. Talleyrand when he visited Walmer insisted on sleeping in Pitt's room.

DADDY'S EVENING FAIRY TALE

By Mary Graham Donner

THE WHIPPOORWILLS.

"I never believe in hurrying," said Mrs. Whippoorwill. "Now, there are so many mother birds who hatch out in the spring. But I wait until it is summer. Yes, it has to be June before I so much as lay the eggs. Then there are some birds who do too much; they fuss over too many eggs.

"I only lay two, but they are beautiful! Ah, such lovely, creamy-looking eggs, with little spots of brown and gray and lavender. And I just lay the eggs on the ground, in the weeds, where it is good and lonely.

"There are some creatures who are so fussy about the sort of home they have. Now, I am only fussy about the neighborhood."

"That is where we agree so perfectly," said Mr. Whippoorwill. "It is the neighborhood that I am fussy about. All the whippoorwills have been the same way. The family has always cared for the neighborhood.

"You remember our old relative, who was taken to the zoo, don't you?"

"I don't believe I do," said Mrs. Whippoorwill; "and I am not quite sure that I know what a zoo is."

"I will tell you," said Mr. Whippoorwill. "A zoo is a place where there are animals and birds and snakes and peacocks, and all sorts of creatures. They're by themselves—that is, families are together."

"I am glad to hear that," said Mrs. Whippoorwill. "I couldn't quite imagine how a lion and giraffe would sit down together and have a chat, any more than a bird would chirp to a snake, who would answer in hisses!" "They're separated," said Mr. Whippoorwill. "Then children and grown-ups come to see the animals and study them and their ways, and it's really a most interesting place.

"But it wouldn't suit our family. We, as I said, and as you said, are fussy about the neighborhood. We do not like the neighborhood of the zoo. We don't care to be where there are lots and lots of animals all around and where we have to stay in just a certain little place where anyone can come and look at us.

"So that when they took our old relative to the zoo he let them know that he didn't like it.

"And he let them know in such a clever way. Most people and most creatures would have stormed and raised a great fuss and talked at the top of their lungs and would have not made any one pay any attention to them even then.

"But our old relative was different. He said not a word. He made not a sound. He wouldn't give the call they wanted to hear. He wouldn't say: "Whippoor-will, whippoor-will!"

"And so they knew he wouldn't do for the zoo because he wouldn't do natural and at home and happy. So they let him go and he found his voice in the dark, lonely, lovely woods where he had led it!

"So they do not keep us in zoos, for we do not like the neighborhood. We like it where it is lonely. Now we are different from our friends the nightbirds. They are not quite so fond of the nights as we are, even though their name would make you think so. They are night birds, of course, but we are fonder of the nights, we are!

"And they will fly over cities and will build their nests on roofs which we would never, never do. We won't go to the cities. We care for the neighborhood of the woods where it is lovely and lonely!

"Folks often get us mixed up with the nightbirds family because we do look alike, but we have bristles from our beaks and black chins and rounded tails so we look quite different, really."

"When the spring comes," said Mrs. Whippoorwill, "we will move north to some woods, but we will always love the woods and the nights and the loneliness and the loveliness of a quiet, quiet neighborhood where there is no bustle and no noise, and where we can be heard from afar as we sing: "Whippoor-will, whippoor-will, whippoor-will, whippoor-will."

Happiness is never sold below cost. In order to have it you must pay the full price—a pure life, a conscience at peace, the knowledge of help bestowed. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for Women's Weakness and Nervousness. I feel run-down and nervous, and I have been for some time. I have tried many remedies, but nothing has helped me. I have heard of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and I have bought it. I have taken it, and I feel better. I have more energy, and I am able to do my work. I am glad to recommend it to all women who are run-down and nervous. —GEO. JACOBS, R. Route 4.

MOTHERS

Bushong, Kans.—"I am the mother of four children and from my experience I appreciate its value and can highly recommend it to prospective mothers as a means to alleviate one's suffering. During the second time I was determined to have a baby, and I can say without any reservation that the 'Favorite Prescription' would have saved me from a great deal of suffering. I made a grievous mistake in believing that I could dispense with 'Favorite Prescription' during my pregnancy and I did so to my sorrow. It will be my stand-by hereafter. I hope that through this statement some other woman may be relieved of the dread of motherhood. —Miss G. ROWLEY, Route 1.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a non-alcoholic remedy that any woman can safely take because it is prepared from roots and herbs containing properties of the most pronounced character. Send 10c to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., for trial package of his medicines.

OUR SCHOOL FAILURE AND THE CATALOG HOUSE

McLean News—McLean public school, so far as the 1919-1920 term is concerned, is done for. Different people have advanced a number of reasons, some of them undoubtedly true enough. The main reason, something that has been handicapping the school for several years past, is lack of sufficient funds to maintain it. There is no way to raise money for the school except by taxation, and there is not enough property in the district to yield the necessary amount.

If for the past five years the money mail order houses have been getting from patrons of McLean public school had been spent at home, there would now be more stores in town, perhaps some industries we don't have, and the population would be considerably more. Land values would have increased so much owners of large bodies of ranch lands near town would have been forced to sell in small tracts to farmers, for the soil would yield too little return for its grazing value when used for grazing purposes. This would have helped to build the town still more, increasing the amount of taxable property, enabling the independent school district to raise all the money it needs. As it is, the people have patronized the catalog houses and stunted the growth of home institutions, one of the chief of which is the school.

CARD OF THANKS We wish to most earnestly and heartily thank the many good Miami friends for their kind assistance, consoling words and fraternal offerings during the sickness and death of our beloved wife and mother. May God's richest blessings be upon you all.

FILES OF COUNTY NEWSPAPERS DESIRED FOR TEXAS WAR RECORD COLLECTION

An effort is being made to collect files of county newspapers for preservation as historical reference, according to Dr. Gutsch, director of the Texas War Records Collection. In view of the fact that the county newspapers published practically all the news relating to the war activities engaged in, files of these papers will be very valuable for historical source material, especially in the future when such information may be obtained only from written documents.

Co-operation Urged.
Because of the importance of the happenings of 1917 and 1918, quite a few citizens preserved complete or partial files of their newspapers for these two years. In any of the readers of The Chief preserved complete or partial files of this publication for this period, it is hoped that they will communicate with the publisher at once with reference to contributing or selling them to the Texas War Records Collection, Austin, Texas, as a part of this state collection.

SIXTEEN YEARS EXPERIENCE

For sixteen years, a corps of metallurgists have been studying and constantly perfecting the steel that goes into every part of the Ford car and the Ford One Ton Truck. Each separate part has been studied to learn the type of steel best fitted for it. Parts receiving constant surface-wear are made of hard, flint-like metal; parts subjected to great vibration or resilience are made of softer, springy steel. Every part is made according to its use—that is, every Genuine Ford part is.

But there are also counterfeit "Ford" parts. These imitations are made by concerns in no way connected with the Ford Motor Company and retailed as sidelines by mail-order houses, down-town stores, and many garages. The unsuspecting customer accepts them because they are called "Ford" parts. To make sure of getting the genuine Ford-made parts buy them only from Authorized Ford dealers. Likewise bring or take your Ford car to our garage for repairs, replacements, and general "tuning up."

We are Authorized Ford Dealers. We can supply you with all Ford parts for either passenger car or truck. And our shop is equipped to give real Ford service in all repair work.

The Father of His Country not only was a soldier and a statesman. He was an athlete and a sportsman and when he entered contests either in sports or in national affairs he believed in being in condition to win. He was a broad jumper of wide repute and he had a whip which any big league outfielders might envy.

It is well authenticated that George once covered over 23 feet in the running broad jump and he did not have to climb into the track regalia and the spiked shoes to do it either. He simply doffed the blue coat and the flowered waistcoat, loosened his stock and hit the take-off. After which he collected the prizes.

It also is recorded that he once won a wager from some of his sporting friends by throwing a silver dollar across the Potomac River at a point where the distance between banks is about the same as that required to relay one of Babe Ruth's clouts from the right field fence to the plate.

OLD MAN HEARE'S REPORT

Austin, Texas, 1905 Wichita St.
February 23, 1920.

Dear Chief:

Desiring to contribute to the peace of mind and happiness of my comrades of the Club, and the people of Miami and suburbs generally, and knowing how intense their mental anguish has been because of my failure to write often to the Chief, I rise to a question of personal privilege and apologize. My excuse is that my chum, Mr. Lewis McCuiston, has required by attention closely since January 1st, and I am happy to announce that he has had his tonsils and adenoids cut out and is now putting on two pounds of fat each week. So he and I are happy as Big Sun Flowers.

We are gardening, and you ought to see and taste our garden sass. We have radishes as big as matches, turnips up, onions coming strong, lettuce okra, peas, beans and potatoes planted, and we sure expect an enormous yield. Hired help will be cheap this year. The candidates will work all of our crops free gratis for nothing. I need the counsel and advice of the vigilant members of my Club in formulating my "polly ticks." Shall I Hooverize, Marshallize or Specialize, nationally? Answer at once. On State issues I am all split up. Bailey is beckoning me to go back to my boyhood ways, when I lived in Old Virginia, before the rupture between the North and South. When I went to mill with corn in one end of the bag and a big rock in the other end; when white mule whiskey was cheaper than grape juice is now; and when women were not allowed to speak out in Meetin'; when Tom Jefferson "writ" the constitution and made it impervious to sudden changes; when niggers were property and we bought, sold, and traded 'em like mules. Pat M. Neff is pleading with me to let those old dead issues alone and cast my political faith in the living present and hlp build up, instead of trying to knock and kick and roar at everybody and everything decent. If Pat has Bailiysm down right, "Hell's Half Acre" in the dirty part of every city in Texas should rush in and help elect Joseph Governor. "Oh! My Fool Countrymen!" What should I do? Embrace Pat and live? Or bow down to Bailiysm and the idols of the dead past? Answer soon and relieve my mental anguish!

Love to you all.
Old Man Heare and Chum.

P. S. The bunch of Miami boys that Mrs. Cunningham left here, are wondering around like orphan calves, and I must hurry out on the streets and corral them.

O. M. H. and Chum.

NOTICE. The fencing material, post, wire, etc., which has been torn down from around the school building will be sold by the school Trustees, Saturday afternoon at 3 p. m., Feb. 28, to the Highest bidder for same, for cash.

The Secret of a Superlative Tire

The whole question of a super-tire is a matter of principles. For there is nothing exclusive in the industry. No patents, no secret formulas prevent a conscientious maker from building the best.

But cost and competition modify ideals. The Brunswick idea is to pay perfection's price and get it.

That has been the Brunswick policy since 1845. And it accounts for the growing preference for Brunswick Tires. Motorists expect the utmost from a tire bearing the name of Brunswick—and get it.

You, too, will be convinced by your first Brunswick, that here is an extraordinary tire, and that more money cannot buy a better.

Better tires of their type are impossible—or better tubes. That we guarantee.

GOOD ROADS

ROAD WORK IS FACILITATED

Effect of Amendments Passed Last February Is Shown in Report of Secretary Houston.

Amendments to the federal aid road act passed last February have greatly facilitated the work of putting the country on a good roads basis, in the opinion of David F. Houston, secretary of agriculture. These amendments, in brief, increase from $10,000 to $20,000 per mile the amount of federal funds that may be expended by one road and considerably broaden the definition of what constitutes a rural post road. The act as it now stands, says Secretary Houston in his annual report, places only three limitations on the type of road which may be built, as follows:

"That the roads shall be 'substantial in character.' This means that the road must be so constructed that it will carry the prospective traffic with such maintenance expenses that the total annual charges will represent a reasonable expenditure for the public service rendered by the highway. It is to the interest of the states that the roads on which federal funds are used be substantially constructed, because the law requires them, or their civil subdivisions, as a prerequisite to receiving further funds, to maintain properly all roads built with federal aid. There is nothing in the law which restricts types of construction between narrower limits than those established by sound finance and good engineering practice.

"That the amount contributed from the federal treasury is connected with any road shall not exceed 50 per cent of its cost or $20,000 a mile. The main thing is to build a road that will stand the traffic in the particular section of the country where it is constructed. The conditions in certain regions may require a heavy, comparatively high-cost type of road, while in others a lower cost type may meet all the requirements. Sentiment is growing throughout the country, even in the newer sections, in favor of more substantial roads.

"That the road must be a 'rural post road' as defined in the act as amended; that is, 'any public road a major portion of which is now used, or can be used, or forms a connecting link not to exceed ten miles in length of any road or roads now or hereafter used for the transportation of the United States mails." Under the original wording of the law federal funds could be expended only on roads upon which the United States mails "now are or may hereafter be transported."

A Scene Typical of Nation-Wide Activity in Good Road Building—Good Roads, Secretary Houston Declares in His Recent Annual Report, Are a Prerequisite to the Orderly and Systematic Marketing of Farm Products, for the Establishment of Satisfactory Rural Schools and for the Development of a Richer and More Attractive Rural Life.

"Following the amendments to the act the regulations governing its administration and the standards for plans, specifications and estimates were modified, and one of the most successful former state highway engineers in the country was placed in charge of the federal aid road work. He has at his disposal a large staff of local and district engineer aids, and no pains will be spared to provide any further federal assistance that may be needed. An advisory committee, composed of representatives of the state highway department, selected at the request of the department, by the American Association of State Highway Officials, with due regard to geographic considerations, also has been appointed to work in intimate touch with the federal bureau, meeting with its officers at stated periods and at such other times as may seem desirable."

CONSTRUCTION COST VARIES

Mostly Due to Availability of Proper Materials Where Concrete Roads Are Built.

The cost of concrete roads vary considerably, due mostly to the availability of proper materials. If good clean and hard durable pebbles or crushed stone can be readily obtained close to the road to be improved, the first cost is materially decreased. On the whole, however, the cost is slightly below the costs of other modern types.

SPORT SKIRTS FORETELL SPRING

THE new separate skirts which make their appearance early in the latter part of December and by the middle of January we were quite familiar with them. They are more indispensable than ever to the southern tourist, whose time is supposed to be spent out of doors in the pursuit of some sort of sport. Judging from the color and rich appearance of some of these new skirts the most popular resort sport is the wearing of good looking clothes.

The woolen skirts are mostly in large plaids in which very soft and quiet colors are skillfully combined. There are some smart black and white combinations among them and some in which black and white plaid stripes alternate with soft colors in stripes. These are made up with inverted plaits, like the skirt shown at the left of the two pictured above. No colors but the black and white appear, except as the plaits are spread apart by walking. The model pictured is the most popular for wool skirts. Girdles are plain and narrower than those of last year. Such a skirt, with the new handmade and simple blouse of voile or batiste and a sweater that looks well with it, is as dependable as a tailored suit.

The skirt at the right is one of those irresistible silks in the heavy weaves that make innumerable sport skirts de luxe. They are quite plainly made, as may be gathered from the picture, and they have girdles to match. In the matter of pockets designers have been endlessly ingenious and one may have them set in or set on in any number of ways. It is on the wonderful new colors that they rely for novelty and they are more often two-toned than plain. Very fine voile, batiste or georgette waists daintily made bear these skirts company and together they are the aristocrat of sports costumes.

Blouses Grow in Importance

BLouses rank with hats now in diversity of design and beauty. They have grown in importance with the passing of each season, and many shops devoted entirely to them find business brisk all the year around. Styles cover a range all the way from the simplest tailored models to rich and brilliant things for evening wear.

Every time the subject of blouses is up for discussion women congratulate one another that sheer and dainty hand-made blouses in simple styles have returned to high favor. Once again we have with us the painstaking and beautiful needlework that we have learned to associate with France. Whether the new blouses are the work of French women or not, they come up to the standard of daintiness and elegance that those patient needlewomen have taught us to love.

Fine voile, batiste and net are the mediums chosen for interpreting the new wash blouses. Net with eyelet embroidery is a favorite, and voile makes opportunity for drawn work and hemstitching. The introduction of flit and fine cluny laces. Fine tucks find a place on all materials, and with batiste very fine net is used in frills and insertions. A pretty net blouse shown at the left of the two pictured is a lovely model. The collar and cuffs are edged with narrow frills and further adorned with small sprays of embroidery with eyelets cunningly in-

FARM STOCK

BASIS FOR PORK PRODUCTION

One Source of Failure Is That Many Follow It as Speculation Rather Than Business.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)
Recent heavy slumps in the hog market, as well as the high prices of corn, have caused hog raisers in various parts of the country to reduce the number of sows in their herds, according to reports received. But hog raising on the farm should be made a stable, regular business, department specialists believe. The man beginning to raise hogs should resolve to follow it year in and year out, regardless of the price he may obtain for his hogs or the cost of the feed which he converts into pork. Like every other farming activity, pork production has its ups and downs, but, according to long-time averages, the farmer who sticks realizes a fair and dependable profit, the specialists declare.

One source of failure is that too many follow it as a speculation rather than as a business. They plunge on hog just as they would gamble on grain futures or on the stock market. Operations of this character are never beneficial for any business. Because of the recent decline in the hog market it does not necessarily follow that the selling price of the pigs that will be raised from the sows bred this fall will not be satisfactory. The pigs of this fall will not be ready for a year and untold changes may come about.

Every farmer who is conservative, careful, and painstaking in his hog-raising operations is able after a few years of experimentation to determine approximately the maximum and minimum number of sows that he can maintain on his farm at the greatest net profit. When he has accurately ascertained this number he should breed that many sows every year, other conditions being equal. In adhering to this plan the farmer is, in no sense, a speculator, but is in reality a business man practicing common-sense management. Hog raising throughout the localities where pork is made as a regular and dependable cash crop has proved one of the most reliable farm activities in which the farmer engages, and despite market fluctuations and the spasmodic irregularities in prices the prospects are that pork production will be as profitable in the future as it has been in the past.

PREVENT CROWDING OF PIGS

Properly Constructed Feed Trough Assures Each Individual Porker of His Share.

Young pigs should be given their feed in such a manner that each individual pig gets its share. The simplest way to accomplish this is to allow the pigs to eat from a properly constructed feed trough, one that will keep the pigs out of the feed and will lessen the possibilities of crowding.

LIVE STOCK NOTES

Every colt raised will be one more work animal to help till farms.

Better a nose ring for the young bull than an accident after it is too late.

Pasture is by no means a luxury for live stock. It is now recognized as a necessity.

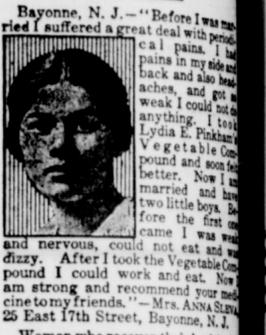

Silage is a good feed for most all classes of stock, but is more popular as a feed for cattle and sheep.

No other farm animals put on flesh as economically as pigs with a given amount of feed. Every farmer should have a few pigs.

Teach the calf to eat grain early. Calves are imitators. If an older calf, knowing how to eat grain, is in the pen with the smaller ones these will soon learn to eat grain.

SEASONABLE DISHES.

At this season of the year a salad is just as acceptable as at any other time of the year. The following will be found a little out of the ordinary:

Italian Salad.—Cut one carrot and one turnip into slices and let cook in boiling broth or soup until done. When cold, add two cold, boiled potatoes and one cooked beet, cut in strips. Add a tablespoonful of chopped or scraped onion pulp, and mix. Pour over the following sauce and garnish with water cress:

Lombarda Sauce.—Cook one-fourth cupful of flour in one-fourth cupful of hot butter; add half a teaspoonful of salt, one-fourth teaspoonful of paprika and one cupful of jellied chicken broth; stir until boiling hot. Set over boiling water, and beat in one-fourth of a cupful of butter, beaten to a cream with two egg yolks and the juice of half a lemon. As soon as the egg is cooked, beat in three-fourths of a cupful of thick tomato sauce. When cold and ready to use, add one teaspoonful of parsley, chopped very fine.

Hot Apple Dessert.—Pare, quarter, core and slice five or six apples. Put these in a serving dish suitable for the oven, in layers, with seeded raisins and one cupful of sugar; cover and bake until the apple is tender. Remove the cover and set marshmallows over the top of the apples; return the dish to the oven for the browning of the marshmallows. Serve hot, with or without cream.

Fresh Fish Salad.—Flake baked or boiled fish while hot. For a pint of fish, cut six olives very thin lengthwise; to them add a tablespoonful of capers, a teaspoonful of onion pulp, half a teaspoonful of salt, a tablespoonful of lemon juice and two tablespoonfuls of olive oil. Mix, then pour over the fish; mix with two forks, to avoid crushing; let stand in a cool place until ready to serve. Serve on lettuce leaves with mayonnaise in a bowl. Garnish with pickled beets.

The common things of life are all so dear; The moon's soft rays that through the leaves do shine, The morning's sun on glistening waves so clear, The clouds of gorgeous hue are mine and thine. —Edith Louise Farrell.

ECONOMIES IN THE HOME.

It hardly seems necessary to mention that flour sacks of the large size may be bleached and used for various things. Open the seams and hem and you have fine dish towels. The small-sized sugar sacks may be used to hold lettuce after it has been washed and is ready for the table. Put into the sack, it may lay on the ice. Small salt sacks are fine for holding herbs and dried seeds, for use in various ways.

Tea grounds make a fine brightener of carpets. Use them dampened with water, and sweep lightly with a broom.

Old underwear makes fine wash cloths, and stockings of any kind or color, cut in strips and fitted into a mop, will answer, when treated with a good oil, as a dust mop.

When nuts are dry and tasteless, breaking into bits when cracked, soak them for an hour or two in hot water before cracking. They will be like fresh nuts.

When a broom is worn on one side, dip it in hot suds on wash day, and while soft and wet cut with a sharp hatchet or scissors.

Always mix such dry mixtures as cornstarch with sugar when making a sauce, as the sugar keeps it from lumping when the water is added.

Add a dash of salt to most fruits; it saves sugar and brings out the flavor. This is true of fresh or dried fruits.

When making a custard, cook it as usual if it is a boiled custard, and take out a portion, to which may be added various seasonings liked in a salad dressing; the remainder may be sweetened and flavored, and two dishes are ready with one cooking.

Stretching the meat flavor is a great economy. When preparing hamburger, add a cupful of cooked oatmeal, seasonings, and either cook it in a flat cake or small cakes. The cereal will not be noticed, and the dish will be fully as satisfying. Any cereal, such as rice or other cooked breakfast foods, may be used equally as well.

Take the strips from the ends and sides of table linen which is badly worn, and make into napkins. One may have six or eight good-looking napkins which are well worth the trouble of hemming. The best of the cloth left may be hemmed for various uses, and even the ragged portions may be quilted, by a few stitches on the machine, for dishcloths.

IF BACK HURTS USE SALTS FOR KIDNEYS

Eat less meat if Kidneys feel like lead or Bladder bothers.

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean, and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is harmless to flush clogged kidneys and stimulates them to normal activity. It also neutralizes the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is harmless; inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everybody should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean, thus avoiding serious complications.

A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.—Adv.

Appended to this were the equally funny lines: "Any person not able to read the above will have it read for them if they call on the blacksmith who lives around the corner." DOING THE BEST HE COULD

Question as to What Joe Was Crying "About" Was Settled in Short Order.

I have a small brother, writes a Youth's Companion subscriber who is three years old. On one occasion he came walking slowly and quietly up to his mother and turned a very wan, pinched little face up to her. She asked him in a sympathetic voice: "What is the matter, Joe? You aren't sick, are you?" "No, ma'am." "Well, what is the matter?" "Nothin', only I just feel so pitiful!" "By now his feelings were so "worked up" that he began to cry. "Well, is that what makes you cry so easily?" "No, ma'am, that's what makes me cry so hard!" "Now, Joseph, what is mamma's boy crying so hard about?" "I'm cryin' 'bout as hard as I can." And he proceeded to do so.

When the talk turns from politics to railroads, and the traveler with the cocksure air breaks in with, "There's an awful lot of 'water' in the railroads," here are some hard-pan facts to give him:

American railroads have cost $80,900 a mile—roadbed, structures, stations, yards, terminals, freight and passenger trains—everything from the great city terminals to the last spike.

A good concrete-and-asphalt highway costs $36,000 a mile—just a bare road, not counting the cost of culverts, bridges, etc.

Our railroads couldn't be duplicated today for $150,000 a mile.

They are capitalized for only $71,000 a mile—much less than their actual value. Seventy-one thousand dollars today will buy one locomotive.

English railways are capitalized at $274,000 a mile; the French at $155,000; German $132,000; even in Canada (still in pioneer development) they are capitalized at $67,000 a mile. The average for all foreign countries is $100,000.

Low capitalization and high operating efficiency have enabled American Railroads to pay the highest wages while charging the lowest rates.

INCOME TAX RETURNS DUE

Business Men, Farmers and Wage Workers Must File Schedules of Income for 1919.

MARCH 15 LAST FILING DATE.

Net incomes of $1,000 or Over, if Single; or $2,000 or Over if Married, Must Be Reported.

The Income Tax imposed by Act of Congress on earnings of the year 1919 is now being collected.

Returns under oath must be made on or before March 15 by every citizen and resident who had a net income for 1919 amounting to:

$1,000 or over, if single; or if married and living apart from wife (or husband); or if widowed or divorced, $2,000 or over, if married and living with wife (or husband).

The status of the person on the last day of the year fixes the status for the year with respect to the above requirements.

Under any of these circumstances a return must be made, even though no tax is due.

Husband and wife must consider the income of both, plus that of dependent minor children, in meeting this requirement; and, if sufficient to require a return, all items must be shown in a joint return or in separate returns of husband and wife.

A single person with minor dependents must include the income of such dependents.

A minor who has a net income of $1,000 or more is not considered a dependent, and must file a separate return.

Personal returns should be made on Form 1040A, unless the net income exceeded $5,000, in which case Form 1040 should be used.

Residents of Texas should file their returns with, and make payments of Income Tax to, Alexander S. Walker, Collector of Internal Revenue, Austin, Tex.

How to Figure Income.

The best way to find out whether one must file a return is to get a Form 1040A and follow the instructions printed on it. That form will serve as a reminder of every item of income, and if a return is due it tells how to prepare and file it.

If in doubt on any point as to income or deductions, a person may secure free advice and aid from the nearest Internal Revenue office.

Guesswork, estimates and other hit-or-miss methods are barred when a person is making out his Income Tax return. Accuracy and completeness must be insisted upon. The return is a sworn statement. As such it must be thorough and accurate.

Salaries and wage earners must ascertain the actual compensation received. Overtime, bonuses, shares in the profits of a business, value of quarters and board furnished by the employer and other items which are compensations for services must be included.

It must be borne in mind that compensation may be paid in other forms than in cash. A bonus paid in Liberty Bonds is taxable at the market value of the bonds. A note received in payment for services is taxable income at its face value, and the interest upon it is also taxable.

Other Returns Due.

Every partnership doing business in the United States must file a return on Form 1065; and every personal service corporation must file a similar return.

Corporations must file annual returns on Form 1120.

Trustees, executors, administrators and others acting in a fiduciary capacity are required to file returns. In some cases, Form 1041 is used; in others, Form 1040; and still others, returns on both forms are required.

Information returns, on Forms 1099 and 1098, must be filed by every organization, firm or person who paid, during 1919, an amount of $1,000 in salary, wages, interest, rent, or other fixed or determinable income to another person, partnership, personal service corporation or fiduciary. These information returns should be forwarded directly to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue (sorting division), Washington, D. C.

INCOME TAX IN NUTSHELL

WHO—Single persons who had net income of $1,000 or more for the year 1919.

Chronic Constipation

There are people who never have a movement of the bowels without it is produced by a cathartic. Most of them have brought that condition on themselves by the use of mineral waters and strong cathartics that take too much water out of the system and aggravate the disease they are meant to relieve. A mild laxative tonic like Chamberlain's Tablets afford a remedy of the bowels that you hardly realize has been produced by a medicine, and their use is not so likely to be followed by constipation.

Dollars and Cents

Counting it only in dollars and cents, how much did that last cold cost you? A man may not always think of it would better if he did. It takes about ten days to get completely rid of a cold under the usual treatment. That time can be much shortened by taking Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and proper care of yourself. In fact, a bottle of this remedy in your house is a mighty good investment during the winter and spring months.
