Bulletins

THERE'S AN OLD SAYING something to the effect that if March comes in like a lamb, it will go out like a lion. Some of us were recalling that March of 1980 came in like a lion, and went out more like a hurricane.

We're not sure what that indicates, probably only that the wind was blowing in the local area on March 1, and that on March 31, it was blowing a "gale."

We are really needing some good moisture in our area, and we may have come to that season of the year when it's not going to rain until the wind stops blowing, and the wind isn't going to stop until it rains.

THE PAST COUPLE OF WEEKS, our favorite sports team, the Dallas Cowboys, have suffered back-to-back losses, and it's not even football season.

What's even worse, the losses the team suffered this week and last are worse than their playoff loss to the Los Angeles Rams, maybe even worse than the Super Bowl losses to the Pittsburgh Steelers.

In losing Roger Staubach and Cliff Harris, the Cowboys lost a lot of leadership—the kind that will be hard to replace.

There will be reams of copy written by the sportswriters giving accolades to Staubach, but we want to add our two cents' worth, in at least a short tribute to the Cowboys' "Mr. Quarterback."

Staubach was the type of all-American hero that this country's sports fans could really like. Clean-cut, "Mr. Nice Guy," you never heard Staubach running someone down.

In this day of astronomical salaries for sports celebrities, Staubach was not one of those salary holdouts. Although, for our money he was the best in the business with the two-minute drill, Roger was one of the lower paid quarterbacks in the NFL.

Of course, he had some fringe benefits that some of the other QBs don't have. That included five trips to the Super Bowl, with the NFL's top organization, the Cowboys.

In this day of the Reggie Jacksons and the Muhammed Alis of the sports world, it was refreshing to have a Roger Staubach come along. Our young people needed this type of pattern.

THIS PAST SUNDAY we spent most of the afternoon working on our annual income tax return. "Black Sunday" is the title we usually give this day.

Then, we topped it off by filling in our 1980 census report. Between the two of them, that's about as much government forms as we could take for one day.

Having done considerable research in the census area, we were somewhat disappointed that the 1980 forms, for all of their inclusions, left off a couple of questions we felt were important.

One was in not asking for the occupation of the head of the house (maybe it's because of the fact that due to the ERA-inspired form, there's no designation of a "head of the house.")

The other item the census left off was in asking where the husband and wife were born. We thought this was worth having on the form.

If you haven't mailed in your census form, be sure and do it today. Remember, it's important that you be counted.

Vandals Cost REC $70,000 In Repairs

Thursday, March 14, a substation transformer was the most recent victim of vandalism. The transformer, located on Deaf Smith Electric lines, on Farm-to-Market Road 1731, ten miles north of Bovina, was shot with a high powered rifle causing the oil to leak out and a short caused the transformer to burn up. The transformer is valued at $70,000.00 and serves approximately 584 homes, farms and businesses in the Rhea and other communities in Parmer County.

Vandalism of electric utility property is dangerous and according to Texas law, is punishable with up to a $10,000 fine and imprisonment for ten years.

James Hull, Manager of Deaf Smith Electric stated, "individuals do not realize that these costs are paid for out of revenue that otherwise would be returned to our consumers as Capital Credits. In essence, these vandals are taking from all members of the REC."

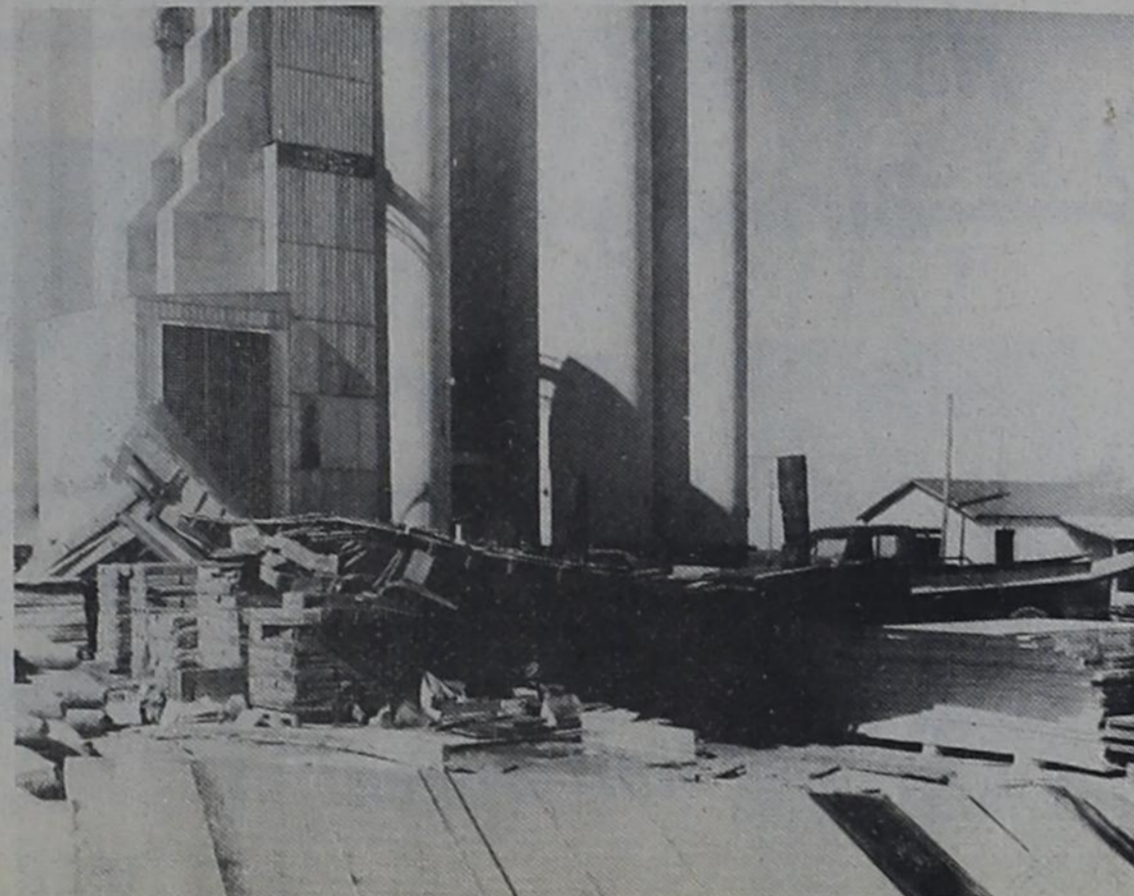

A few months ago, gunmen shot three insulators south of Friona and the expense of labor, materials and outage time was in excess of $500.00 to replace them. Not only should the cost be a consideration, but also the inconvenience of homes, businesses and farms being out of service. Sometimes if service is not immediately discontinued, the damage is not noticed until it rains, then the lights go out. This is often the case when you hear it said that "everytime we have a rain, the lights go out."

Deaf Smith Electric Cooperative would like to encourage you to report to the Cooperative office any peculiarities near substations or Cooperative electric lines involving vandalism of any kind. Remember this damage is paid for by you, via reduced Capital Credits.

"We're proud of our son. He's never done one thing that could be proved in court!"

God Is Light

Read I John 1:5-10.
"For this is the message we have heard from him and proclaim to you, that God is light and in him is no darkness at all."

Now, here's a surprising message: God is light. For much of my life I believed He was largely in the dark. That, at best, we could only vaguely know Him. That we could never expect to know anything about Him with certainty.

The God most people envision is one shrouded in mystery (if not myth). He is distant, aloof and inaccessible. He is obscured by human images we attach to Him--an old man with long white whiskers sitting yonder on a cloud. An angry, raging, sneering creature who finds great sport in dangling human beings over hot flames. A cold austere Being of whose love one could never be sure.

The God John knows and presents to us is not like that at all. To the contrary, He is light. He is open, knowable, approachable. He is not in hiding. There is no attempt to trick us or deceive us.

In fact, in His presence the darkness vanishes. Mysteries are made clear. Age-old questions are answered. Perplexities are unraveled. John says: "I write this to you about those who deceive you; but the announcing which you received from him abides in you, and you have no need that anyone should teach you; as his announcing teaches you about everything, and is true, and is no lie, just as it has taught you, abide in him" (I John 2:26, 27).

Have we failed to grasp the "light" God has given us? Do we as Christians, say "God" with our lips while continuing to walk as if our paths were dark?

Church of Christ

Scooter's Scoops

By Scooter Russell

We can certainly say that March went out like a lion! There were several reports of damage caused by Monday's 70-mile an hour winds. Our neighbor, Mike Ware, had a healthy 20 foot pine tree uprooted in his front yard. The tree fell on the side of his house but Mike said there was no damage to his house... Seems newcomers to this part of the country always ask, "Does the wind blow this way here all the time?" and we say,

"No, sometimes it blows the other way!"

1980 Farm Bill Signed

President Carter has signed a 1980 Farm Bill which calls for an increase in target prices and an extension in the disaster payments program through the 1980 crop year. This action raises the target prices for wheat, corn, barley and sorghum to producers who plant within their farm's Normal Crop Acreage (NCA).

Target prices for producers who plant within their NCA are: $3.63 per bu. for wheat; $2.35 per bu. for corn; $2.50 for sorghum; and $2.25 for barley.

Targets for farmers exceeding their normal crop acreages are: $3.08 per bu. for wheat; $2.05 for corn; $2.45 for sorghum and $2.29 for barley.

The cotton target price is 58.4¢ per lb.

This new act extends the disaster payments program through the 1980 crop year for producers of wheat, feed grains, upland cotton and rice. Because of the fact that disaster payments are based on target prices, the producer who stays within his farm's NCA will have a higher disaster payment rate than does the farmer whose plantings exceed his NCA. The maximum amount that any one person may receive in disaster payment is $100,000.00.

plant 'em both

3184

This hybrid's record for consistency has made it one of the most popular hybrids on the High Plains. In 77 comparisons over the last four years against competitive hybrids, 3184 has shown an average yield of 183.7 bu./A. with a yield advantage of 14.3 bu./A. over competitors. Bred with outstanding drought tolerance, 3184 can adjust ear size and kernel depth to match growing conditions. And strong stalks keep 3184 standing straight for speedy harvest. It's just what High Plains farmers need in a dependable, high-yielding corn hybrid. And its maturity makes it a good companion for 3183.

Push this one for highest yields! In 43 comparisons on the High Plains in 1979, this hybrid averaged 192.1 bu./A. A sampling of yields from 1979 includes 216 bu./A. for Sheldon Rapp at Hooker, Oklahoma . . . 210.4 bu./A. for Larry Kemp of Muleshoe . . . and 196.7 bu./A. for Doyle Underwood at Dimmitt, Texas. 3183 has demonstrated very good standability and ear retention in this area. Excellent drought tolerance helps 3183 maintain outstanding consistency year after year. And it has been especially impressive on gray soils. Plant 3183 along with 3184. Spread genetic risks and get top performance, too.
