Porter Wood Is Candidate For Constable Pre. 1

Porter Woods has requested the Telegram to announce to the voters of Precinct 1, Eastland County that he is a candidate for the office of Constable. Porter does not have an opponent, and is running to succeed himself.

He is well and favorably known in this area, and there is little to be said concerning his qualifications. He is on the job most all the time and renders service that is appreciated by all. If you see fit to support him, he will be very thankful, and will try to give satisfaction to all. His candidacy, of course, is subject to the action of the Democratic primary.

'Stay Down' Flyer Offered Chance To Resign Army

EL PASO, May 3 (UP)—One of the 14-fliers charged with disobeying orders by refusing to go up in Air Force planes has received the chance to resign, although the resignation must be "other than honorable."

First Lieutenant Verne Goodwin says he will quit the Air Force on the offer of high officials in Washington.

Goodwin has been held in detention in barracks at Biggs Air Force Base at El Paso for more than two weeks. He was sentenced to two years at hard labor for refusing to fly.

But the announcement yesterday in Washington and at El Paso follows Air Secretary Thomas Finletter's announcement that he would "soften" official policy toward the staydown fliers.

Mrs. Goodwin in El Paso says she is so excited to "get that two year sentence off our necks" that she doesn't know what she and her flier husband will do after he resigns. They operated an auto agency in New Mexico before he was recalled to duty.

A. J. Blevins, Sr., Will Make Race For County Clerk

A. J. Blevins, Sr., has requested this paper to announce to the voters in Eastland county, that he is in the race for County Clerk, subject to the action of the democratic primaries.

Mr. Blevins is not a new comer, and is well and favorably known in the county. While he lives in Eastland at this time, he formerly lived in Ranger for six years. In offering himself as a candidate for this office, he does so with the knowledge that he is fully qualified to care for the duties of the office. While he has never been a candidate for any office, he has had years of clerical experience so necessary in an office of this kind.

He plans to see just as many voters as he can before the July primary, and asks that you give his candidacy due consideration. Just a little later Mr. Blevins will have a formal statement addressed to voters in the county.

Texas Electric Plans Program Coming Week

"What's Cooking Week" is to be observed in Eastland next week, by Texas Electric Service Co., and local dealers who sell electric ranges. All electric range dealers have extended invitation to the public to visit their stores, and to see for themselves the many wonders of electric cooking.

Reddy Kilowatt also invites you to visit the Texas Electric Service Company during "What's Cooking Week" and see actual cooking demonstrations on an electric range. While there you will receive a copy of "Carefree Cooking," as Reddy's gift to you. The demonstration will be under the supervision of Miss Dera Arrington of Fort Worth, Home Economist for Texas Electric Service Co.

The demonstration will continue throughout the week, and women of the city are urged to attend.

A CAPPELLA CHOIR in Eastland consists of 54 members, and is under the direction of W. H. (Bill) Stanley. Any student in High School may enter and may participate in this voluntary organization. The members are not auditioned and no experience is required. The desire to sing and a willingness to work are the only requirements.

Public Invited To Attend Concert Of A Cappella Choir On Tuesday, May 6, Special Treat Promised

The public is cordially invited to attend the spring concert to be presented by the Eastland High School A Cappella Choir under the direction of W. H. Stanley at 8:00 p.m. on Tuesday, May 6, in the high school auditorium. The evening will be a memorable occasion for Eastland's music lovers.

The choir, under the direction of Mr. Stanley, began its second year's work with a nucleus of some twenty-five members from last year's group, and since that time has shown remarkable progress. The boy's sections have improved greatly. Since only one-fourth of the group had previously had musical training, such time and patience have been necessary.

Every tenor is a member of the group for the first time. Because of hard work and deep interest, this section has been recognized as exceptional for a high school choir.

The bases also have improved in intonation and enunciation. Mr. Ewell Porter, Director of the Choral Department at Hardin-Simmons University, has complimented them highly.

The girls' sections started with and advantage over the basses and tenors because one-half of this group had had some musical training. However, intonation and interpretation have improved wonderfully. It is a group which understands, melody, harmony, texture, and form.

The success or popularity of any activity depends upon the attitude of the participants and the atmosphere created by them. This is a successful group and a popular one which has given some twenty public performances during his school year. Truly the choir has become aware of the pleasures of music and has improved its standards of both performance and appreciation. Selections range from the deeply religious to the folk tune. Since a great part of the repertoire is of a religious nature, spiritual feeling has been deepened. One difficult number, "Tenebrae Factae Sunt," by Palestrina, the father of church music, is sung in the original Latin text to preserve its true meaning. There is both spiritual satisfaction and intellectual stimulation in the rendition of a number like this.

Lighter numbers well within the range of understanding appeal to the imagination and enjoyment that is a part of anyone who under Mr. Stanley's direction has "opened his ear to music."

Mr. Stanley's influence has been a great inspiration. Under his guidance each member has experienced a feeling that could come only through fellowship in such an organization. Eastland is indeed proud of its "music makers."

Footo Will Be Guest Speaker Rotary, Monday

Rotarians will entertain their wives at their regular meeting and luncheon Monday. A special program has been arranged, and a representative attendance is expected.

Rev. Gaston Footo, pastor of First Methodist Church, Fort Worth, will be guest speaker. The minister is considered one of the best speakers in this section, and will no doubt entertain and instruct his hearers.

In recognition of "Music Week" Mrs. Virgil Seawerry, Jr., will sing. She will be accompanied by Mrs. Donald Kinnaird.

Hospital Workers Daily Report

The following volunteer workers reported for duty Friday evening at the Eastland Memorial hospital:

Parks Poe, M. H. Perry, J. A. Coplen, Preston Mansker, Carl True, Ocie Hunt, D. Samuels, Clifford Wilson, Dr. James C. Whittington, Wayne Jackson, James Dabney, Johnson Smith, Robert Vaughn, Raymond Soto, Foy True.

The hostess committee included Odele O'Neal, Mrs. John D. McRae and Judge George Davenport.

Little Items Of Local Interest

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Sims of Olden and their daughter, Mrs. Daisy Poyner of Cisco fished Friday at Possum Kingdom Lake and reported a catch of about 40 pounds of fish.

Members of the Women's Society of Christian Service are hosting an all church tea Monday afternoon at 2:30 p.m. in the parlor of the Methodist Church. All church women of Eastland are invited. Mrs. H. H. Durham will be presented on the program. Mrs. H. L. Hassell, president, has announced.

The Music Study Club is inviting the public to attend their annual Music Week Concert, presenting Phillips Williams, associate professor of Violin of Southern Methodist University, Ruth Rankin in Rutherford, assistant professor of piano, and Marjorie Poole, accompanist, at 3 p.m. Sunday in the sanctuary of the First Methodist Church. Mrs. A. F. Taylor is general chairman.

The study club of the South Ward PTA will meet at 9:30 Tuesday morning in the home of Mrs. Johnson Smith 1302 W. Commerce for the last study course of the "school year." Mrs. Joe Halbert will lead in the study which is entitled, "Houseroom for Hobbies."

HOSPITAL PERSONALITIES

By Mrs. Samuel Butler

WILLIE SPEAKER came to Eastland in 1922. He found very few families of his race living here at that time, but what they lacked in numbers they had in the quality of citizenship. There are only ten families living here now that were here in 1922, but they set the pattern for the type of citizens that later came to make their home here.

Willie Speaker has always been an industrious, energetic and loyal citizen. He has many admiring friends. When the call came for volunteer workers to help build the Eastland Memorial Hospital, Willie Speaker was the first to come and the last to leave—doing what was most necessary to be done at the time. Because he was capable and willing, he had many hard tasks assigned to him from the days of the foundation construction to the final completion, this week of the hospital building. Thank you, WILLIE SPEAKER.

The following loyal citizens gave many hours of service, some more and some less, during the construction of the Eastland Memorial Hospital.

World War II Veteran Has Rough Time

NEW YORK, May 3 (UP)—This is the ordeal of John Feltman.

It began in the Battle of the Bulge seven years ago when German shrapnel tore away his lower jaw and most of his tongue.

The next five years were painful. Feltman underwent 35 bone and skin grafting operations with the hope his face would be restored. The plastic surgeons did a good job.

He learned to talk again with only part of a tongue. Through a strange method of using his abdominal muscles, he learned to turn grunts into words that could be understood.

Now 28, Feltman was scheduled to report for work next Monday on his first job since the war.

But he is back in a hospital now with a broken nose and deep cut over his right eye. Two men bent on robbery beat him unmercifully in a New York subway station and threw him upon the tracks.

One CIO Local Defies Back To Work Agreement

MONESSEN, Penn., May 3 (UP)—CIO United Steelworkers employed in the Pittsburgh Steel Company plant at Monessen, Penn., have defied the union's back to work order.

Officers of the local posted a sign at headquarters saying, "no contract—no work."

Company officials say they have been notified that members of the local will not report for work until a wage agreement has been concluded.

The company employs 75-hundred workers. Employees of the company's coke plant at Monessen and its steel plant at nearby Allentown complied with CIO President Philip Murray's request that they return to work.

Bank Robber Will Confess From Pulpit

TOPEKA, Kan., May 3 (UP)—A Baptist church in Topeka, Kansas, will have an unusual speaker tomorrow, when a bank robber makes a confession from the pulpit to an $18,000 hold-up in 1948. The identity of the robber is known only to his wife and the pastor of the church, which will be jammed with an extra-large congregation, as well as with television cameras.

The robber says he wants, as he puts it, to "get right with man and God," and then surrender to police.

Coast Guard Vessels Reach Damaged Ship

Two Coast Guard vessels have reached the commercial fishing boat Ciandi which ripped a hole in its hull off Charleston, S. C. The Coast Guard said it believes it can tow the 45-foot vessel into port. The Ciandi sent out an SOS after water continued pouring in to the boat despite bailing efforts.

COURT HOLDS NEW RATES AFFORD COMPANY RELIEF

Judge George L. Davenport, of the 81st District Court, of Eastland, has denied the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company the rate increase that it sought in Ranger, through a temporary injunction that would set aside telephone rates set by the city commission in November, 1948, and also a new rate set in April of 1952.

The judge in his order stated that the new rates of April 1952 afforded a substantial increase over the old rates. And that the telephone company should wait a sufficient time to determine whether or not they will make money on the new rates. If they do not make money on the new rates, then the court ruled, that they should seek adjustment of the new rates before the Ranger City Commission before coming again to the court for relief.

The judge's opinion in the case terminates the conflict between the telephone company and the Ranger City Commission that started when the telephone company delivered an ultimatum March 18 to the commission that unless requested rates were granted they would take the case to court.

On March 20, the telephone company filed the petition before the 81st District Court requesting that they be granted a temporary injunction to allow them to raise their rates, and set aside the November 1948 ordinance making the present rate at that time. On March 23 the Ranger officials announced that the city would fight the case in court. The rates asked for in the injunction were $9 for a business phone, $4.75 for one party residence, $4 for two party residence, and $3.25 for four party residence.

On April 8 the Ranger City Commission granted the telephone company an increase in rates that brought the rate's charged in line with those in Cisco and Eastland, after the commission determined that the present rates were too low to return the company a profit. The new rates were not effective until the May billing. They were $7.75 for a one party business phone, $4.00 for two party residence, $3.25 for one party residence, and $2.75 for four party residence service. They amended their petition to include this raise in requesting the injunction.

On Friday, April 11, the hearing opened on the case before Judge George L. Davenport's 81st District Court. Testimony was concluded the next Monday.

Frost and Frost of Eastland were counsel for the city of Ranger. The law firm is the three Frost brothers, Jack, Cyrus, and Billy.

Counsel for the telephone company was Ed Gossett, former congressman, the law firm of Story, Armstrong and Stege of Dallas, and Turner and Seaberry of Eastland.

Apple pie and home made ice cream was served.

School Elects Good Citizens

Salvation Army Will Start Fund Drive Here Next Week

George Fox has been chosen as chairman of the Salvation Army's fund drive campaign, to be staged in Eastland and surrounding territory next week. Mr. Fox will announce his list of group captains early next week.

This year Eastland is being asked for $900, quite a small sum as compared with other similar drives, and it is thought the drive may be completed next week.

The history of the Salvation Army's activities is an open book, and has been since, and even during World War I.

Some small amount of the Salvation Army's activities may or may not be duplicated by other organizations, though it may be said that this organization enters many worthy fields of endeavor that is never touched by others. Transients, homeless men and women, and even hungry children are found in every town, city or hamlet. Many times they are stranded and create a burden, that can be, and usually is, relieved by the Salvation Army.

We have girls from small towns and even cities, who pack a few items and head for the bright lights. Money is soon gone, and the bright lights lose their glamour. The girls' need a friend. They need food and wise counseling. Usually the Salvation Army can and does, offer these things. Then there are the needy families to be found everywhere; prisoners and problem people. We have the unmarried mothers, the homeless and those who suffer from disaster. All of these know they can depend upon the Salvation Army. Service men appreciate them.

George Fox

The Salvation Army cares for the temporal as well as spiritual needs of mankind. You will be aiding in all these branches when you put your dollars in the coffers of the Salvation Army. Plan to give and give unstintedly.

Dr. Barrow Of Fort Worth, Is Locating Here

Dr. W. B. Barrow, obstetrician and general practitioner, of Fort Worth, has affiliated himself with what has been known as the Caton-Treadwell Clinic and will be in Eastland next week to assume the duties of obstetrician and general practitioner for the clinic.

Within a short time the name of the clinic will be changed to Eastland Medical and Surgical Clinic. Dr. M. A. Treadwell will care for all surgery and will do general practice. Dr. Caton will continue his general practice and will have charge of X-Ray work.

POTPOURRI AND WORSE

By Major Hoopie McCorkle
Telegram Philosopher

Self-preservation is one of the first laws of life, but so far as we have been able to ascertain, you must have a little agriculture to do the job in proper fashion.

Yes, you must eat to live, and it is after eating that your troubles really begin. If everybody ate and then took a protracted rest it wouldn't be long before the bean and spud crops would be depleted. There just wouldn't be any food for man or beast, and the death rate would run so high insurance companies would quit business and take the bankrupt law. During dry years, like some we have been enjoying, there wouldn't even be any mesquite beans or "algerita" berries, and neither of these are noted for food value. It will take two tons of mesquite beans to produce one vitamin, and calories simply don't originate in algerita berries.

So there is no reason for complaint. If we are going to live we are going to eat, and if we eat it is no more than right that we should work. We may take a lesson from the little "bee." Each hive has a queen and she, because of her royal blood, is fed and cared for by the workers. Then there is the "drone," and he is taken care of too by the workers, but in an entirely different fashion. When they get through with him he won't ever need any more food.

Joe Stalin learned this lesson from the bees. Over here we join labor unions and strike for higher wages. Most of us are now paid more than we are worth, but that doesn't keep us from asking for more. Joe doesn't pay in wages at all—just hands out a pick and shovel and says go to work. And in Joe's country they operate on the "no work, no eat" plan.

But back to this self-preservation business. We must have agriculture whether we like it or not. When the production of agriculture ceases, it will be time to begin pricing caskets and burial plots. Don't tell us you can do without spuds and beans, for we know you can. You could change over to a meat diet, but when old Bossie ate the last bale of hay, your meat and milk would be gone with the winds. Without agriculture we would not have grasshoppers, and without grasshoppers the fish would soon starve. Then what?

So you see we must keep something growing all the time, if we are to succeed.

George Lane's news letter under date of April, 1952, had this to say:

"We all hope the year 1952 will be a history making year for production (agriculture) for we have had two comparatively short years and one failure or "near-miss"—We must plan to work to the best of our ability to produce a big crop."

George continues by saying that the "farmers should grow as much of his living at home as possible, by planting, producing and processing as he can, garden truck, poultry, milk, meat, fruit, nuts and other field crops."

He suggests three or more sources of income in order to have a year around cash crop. He admits the plan may be old fashioned, but it has been working ever since Eve swiped that apple she didn't even need. Agriculture has preserved us so far. It will continue to do so if we will work.

Food isn't everything, but it tops the list. Without food everything would soon stop, including our heart beat. Without food a million dollar diamond would not bring a dime. The owner, however, might trade it for a plate of blackeye peas. We are strongly in favor of self-preservation, and when we planted that garden, action spoke louder than words. We like a good T-bone steak, but steaks have been out of our price range for many months. Now we'll be satisfied with agricultural products we are trying to grow.

Another way to preserve life is to quit settling the other fellow's wars. Over in Russia they don't have anything else to do, so you may expect them to continue their punitive expeditions, just as long as they can find a little food and a few guns to steal. They are not really interested in anything here or hereafter, but hates it to throw off an awful smell when they gather down there for the final fire-works.

And we say "final" in a rather subdued tone, for according to our teachings, that fire will not go out but burn forever and forever, and that's a mighty long time, especially when you have to breathe hot sulphur fumes all the time.

But our hives are not secure so long as we elect to police the world. We are not particularly mad at anybody, so why are we fighting. The fellows who are mad dragged us in, and turned it over to us. We have been there ever since. It's mighty expensive, too. Not only billions in cash, but hundreds and thousands of lives—that is what it is costing us. One good American private is worth more than all of Korea with Russia thrown in for good measure.

If they want to be "Reds", let them be. We choose to be free and happy—and what's wrong with that? If the "Reds" don't like the plan let them come over here and tell us about it, but let us get off their property. Let us preserve our happiness and our lives. If they insist on trouble we'll hit them so hard they will think a sack of wildcats has been poured on the head of every individual soldier in their nefarious army. We are not what you might term "angry", but are thoroughly disgusted. Wars wouldn't be so numerous if you will take the "profits" out. But so long as men can make millions they are going to advocate wars, just as Russia is doing. Russia is just as broke today as she was the day they shot Czar "Nick" out of office. The Bolsheviki element has improved conditions, and the present powers that be are worse than Nick. The Russian people never had anything in their lives. Nick (Continued On Page 3) did tell them the truth. They will very likely never hear anything though Uncle Joe tells them they are the world's elect, and that in a matter of time they will have the world and it's contents. Joe is lying, and they would know it if they had the sense of a road lizard.

Joe has bottled up all the good wine and food and stored it for private use. He, with a few other chosen cut-throats, are enjoying life. But the 175,000,000 Russian people continue to suffer. Few of them ever had a square meal, and most of them have been cold all their lives. They fight, when told to do so, but soldiers of this type are never winners. It makes each drop of gas say, uncle

ACCORDING to combustion experts, there's as much energy locked in a drop of gasoline as there is in a drop of nitroglycerine.

But the problem is to put that energy to work.

So Buick engineers aren't content just to mix that drop with air and touch it off. They've designed an engine that brings it catapulting into a cylinder head where it strikes a turbo-top piston—gets whipped into a churning, swirling ball of tight-packed energy.

Then it's fired. And when that happens, a drop of gasoline certainly lets loose power.

This isn't something that happens in a "car of the future."

It happens in a Buick Fireball 8 Engine today. It's a high-compression engine. It's a valve-in-head engine. But it's also a Fireball in performance as well as name.

And it puts extra power under the hood—and extra miles in the fuel back in the gas tank.

Now, power is great, but what goes with it?

Mister, that's something you ought to find out—and soon.

What goes with it is an automobile as sweet-handling, eager and willing as anything that ever made your pulse leap to a faster beat.

It's a car that seems to know what you want it to do—true and sure in its course on a straightaway—beautifully balanced on curves.

It's a car with Dynaflo Drive® to feed power with infinite smoothness—and a road-hugging levelness of ride that took a million in cold cash to perfect.

And it is, with all this, a very tidy bargain. Why not price it, drive it, know it for yourself? We'll be glad to arrange a demonstration.

One Of Every 150 People Is Missing Heir

One person out of every 150 in the United States is today being hunted—as a missing heir. That's the estimate of heir-hunting expert Theodore Roth of New York City, who thinks that there are as many as one million Americans who have money coming to them but don't know it, reveals PEOPLE TODAY in an arresting article in the current issue. The total amount of money is estimated approximately $10 billion, ranging from legacies of one cent to a $4 million dollar fortune.

Roth, who has been tracking lost heirs for 16 years, has already located about 1,000 of them who have received hundreds of thousands of dollars they weren't expecting. His fee comes from the lucky heirs and usually ranges for 25 to 50 per cent depending upon the size of the estate, time and effort involved in the search.

Locating heirs isn't easy. Roth has to do everything from digging into dusty official records to climbing family trees and haunting cemeteries in the hope of finding clues in tombstone epitaphs. One heir was found by looking him up in a telephone dictionary. Others take years to locate.

Currently Roth is looking for William E. Brice, a lean 6-footer who may be in Texas, California or Florida. He's got $4 million coming. Others, the amounts due them and possible locations are Edward Carlin, $100,000, Nova Scotia; Mrs. H. A. Campbell, $35,000, Great Lakes, N.Y.; Samuel Bramson, $30,000, N.Y.; N. J., Calif.; Julietta Gandon, $20,000, Md.; N. J., Calif.; La Vieve family (Lea Charles Mamie) $15,000, Boston; John Testa, $10,000, Baltimore; Henry Peters, $10,000 N. Y.; John Lee (son Sing Hing) $9,000, NYC; Anna Uraitis, $8,000, Brooklyn and Harriet Cotton $8,000, Hartford.

Max Lasater To Preach Sunday; Pastor Absent

The First Baptist Church will hear Max Lasater preach his first Sermon Sunday morning. He is rendered to preach recently and is spending the time in the service of the Country, so this will be his first opportunity to appear in the church here.

The Sunday School, under the direction of Superintendent Collings invites all who do not attend another Sunday School to come Sunday morning. The average attendance last month was 372 and the workers are looking toward the 400 mark for the month of May.

The Training Union, under the direction of Director T. D. Wheat, invites all who do not attend another church at 7:00 p.m. on Sunday Evening to come with us. There is a place for every member of the family. The average attendance last month was 199, with the high attendance last week of 269.

The pastor and Mrs. Rathel will be in west Texas for the morning service. Mr. Rathel is to preach the ordination sermon in a service ordaining his father as a deacon. They will be back in time for the evening worship service, and the sermon topic will be "The Fleishpots of Egypt."

The various youth groups which meet during the week have shown increasing interest, with the Royal Ambassadors leading the way this week. Counselor Warren Chapman reported 18 boys for the meeting. Other boys from the ages of 8 through 16 are invited to meet with the mat 6:30 p.m. each Wednesday.

Announcements Of Nazarenes

At eleven o'clock worship service, Sunday, the pastor, William C. Emberton, will bring a message on the theme, "Why It Rained When Elijah Prayed." The Sunday school will commence at 10 a.m. with a special invitation to all to come and be instructed in the things of the Lord.

The NYPS will conduct its service at 7:30 under the direction of the president, Miss Maxine Ward. At the evening service the pastor will speak again and using at this time the subject, "Which Is Your Master." The church and pastor extend to all an invitation to come worship in an atmosphere of freedom and friendliness.

Radio Program Of Methodists Be Heard Sun.

From San Francisco, California, and the 1952 session of the General conference of the Methodist Church will come the radio network broadcast of the Protestant Hour for Sunday Morning, May 4th. This special program will present a message to Methodism from the new president of the Council of Bishops, Bishop Fred Pierce Corson of Philadelphia, and excerpts from the Episcopal Address by Bishop Paul Bentley Kern of Nashville, Tennessee.

Music and worship for this "on the spot" presentation of Methodism's lawmaking gathering will be from the session of the Conference itself. Thus a feeling of being at the General Conference will be given to the million of listeners on the 180 station network of the Protestant Hour.

Bishop Paul B. Kern, who will be heard in the sermon of the morning wrote the Episcopal Address to the church and read this message on the "general state of the church" to the opening session of the Conference. Bishop Kern was president of the Council of Bishops in 1948 and also spoke on this network radio program from Boston's General Conference in that year.

Bishop Corson assumed the presidency of the Council of Bishops at the opening of the General Conference in San Francisco and this radio program will speak of his hopes for Methodism in the next few years.

Because of the many legal, social and spiritual problems before the Methodist Church, this San Francisco Conference will be most important in the life of the church. This network radio program will help interpret many of the plans of the church and will give an understanding of scope of responsibility now faced by the more than 9,000,000 Methodists in America.

The Methodist Series of The Protestant Hour and this special program may be heard over station WFAA 820 at 7:30 o'clock, Sunday.

Service At Full Gospel Church

The Full Gospel Church at 205 N. Dixie, will hold a fellowship meeting on Monday night of next week. Several out-of-town ministers are to be in attendance, and there will be special singing. The public is invited to attend any and all services at this church.

A&M Conducting Special Camp During Summer

COLLEGE STATION, April—(Spl.)—Going to College? Know what you want to major in—and do you know the whys and wherefores of a college education?

Texas A. and M. College is now answering those questions to high school graduates who plan to enter college this fall.

It is a new venture in education and in its two years of operation has proved successful.

Here 'tis: A. and M. College has set up a summer camp on the South Llano river near Junction. It is known as the Junction Adjunct. High school graduates planning to enter college may attend this school—which consists of two six-weeks terms of college study. Regular staff members of A. and M. conduct the school.

The first term will begin June 9 and lasts through July 19. The second session begins July 21 and ends August 30. Applications are now being received. The enrollment is 200 (maximum) for each semester.

"The camp" Dean John R. Bertrand of the basic division of A. and M. College, says, "is for filling the gap between high school and college by combining study, counsel and recreation. It will help the student who is uncertain as to what course of study he should follow in college, whether or not he is suited for the career he has chosen, as well as giving college credit in a camp atmosphere."

The summer camp offers testing to determine the adequacy of the student's preparation for college and refresher courses to strengthen any weak spots. Aptitude and ability of the student will be determined as far as possible at the summer camp.

and has all the modern equipment, including medical care, to be found anywhere.

The guidance program helps the student find the course of study for which he is best suited. Physical education is offered under the direction of a college staff member. Recreation in the form of baseball, softball, hiking, swimming and fishing are offered.

Only boys who are eligible for college entrance are accepted at the summer camp.

The camp is modern, sanitary

A Sound Cotton Program Should Make You Money

Cotton growers can look to little change in the cotton outlook for another year. The top and bottom prices are known already with present ceilings set at 45c and support prices estimated at about 33c. Just how much the prices will go up and down within this range during next harvesting season is anybody's guess.

Exports for last cotton season were up 50 per cent over the previous 12-month period, but this is not too favorable since the exports for the previous year were very low.

A sound cotton program calls for practices that best meet the needs of the farm family, the available equipment and labor supply, and conservation of the land.

Church of Christ Program For The Week Told

Sunday morning service will be of great interest to those who attend this service. A special sermon has been planned for the eleven o'clock hour, immediately following communion service.

From 2:30 to 4:30 p.m. the local congregation will be host to an afternoon singing which will feature several quartets from Abilene Christian College a quartet of splendid singers are expected to render several numbers. Singers from Breckenridge, Ranger, Cisco, Ft. Worth, and a splendid chorus of local singers will have a part on the interesting program being arranged. It is hoped the building will accommodate those expected to attend.

EVENING WORSHIP has been changed from seven to seven-thirty o'clock. The minister, R. E. Davis, Sr., will begin a series of Sunday night sermon of an interesting topic to be announced Sunday morning.

WEDNESDAY MORNING the Ladies Bible Class will meet in the main auditorium at eleven o'clock for Bible study. Several visitors have been attending these studies, and an interesting lesson has been prepared for that hour. Immediately after the study period, a noon-day luncheon will be served in the fellowship hall. These classes have been increasing in number, until now they are one of the most interesting services of the church.

The public is cordially invited to meet with this church-gathering on the dates mentioned above. The largest crowds in the long history of the local congregation are now attending all its services.

Texas Cancer Crusade Will Be Extended

KELTYS, Texas—The Texas Cancer Crusade of the American Cancer Society has been extended in some areas, Ernest L. Kurth, state chairman, announced.

The Kelty's lumberman and industrialist explained that the education, and fund-raising program usually held in April could not be organized, and completed entirely during that month.

"Some areas delayed their Crusade to allow other campaigns to conclude," he explained. "Other communities felt that local conditions called for a short delay in their Crusade, so that it could be widespread to reach the greatest number of people. To insure its success, we therefore extended the state wide Crusade."

The Texas Cancer Crusade has two aims, he said.

"One is to reach as many Texans as possible with the life-saving message about cancer. We know that many needless deaths can be prevented. From 3000 to 4000 such deaths probably could be prevented in Texas this year, if people know the truth about cancer and receive prompt, adequate treatment for it when it first appears.

"We want to use leaflets, movie films, speeches, exhibits and person-to-person contact to tell people how they may save their own lives from cancer."

British colored orioles, 10 varieties of wrens and four kinds of humming birds—among them the calliope, the smallest in North America—are found in New Mexico.
