We've been wanting to say something about school teachers for a long time, but have been reluctant to do so. First thing is, they are educated and we are not, and being of a kind of West Texas Irish persuasion we might mix a few of our verbs and nouns and we don't worry them with grading our papers. And the second reason is, we have never quite forgiven a teacher that beat the ticks out of us back in 1901 or '02. She used a well built 14-inch ruler that had a brass straight-edge attached. After the ruler broke (it was just plain hickory or black-jack) she kept on whipping us with that brass liner. Everytime it hit our more or less innocent legs it cut in for about a quarter of an inch. She was mad and we were sad. And to think all we had done was just have a little friendly fight with some other kid, and as we remember we lost out there too. When we got home we were bleeding profusely at both ends. Our nose and our legs. The nose didn't amount to anything and the boy was forgiven, but those legs got poisoned from the brass and we suffered for 10 days.

The teacher heard about it and came over that night, and we were sure feeling sorry for ourselves. Actually the woman cried, she was really sorry for the whole affair. Fifty years later, we think of the occasion we wonder why she didn't kill us. She had a right to, for we had dealt her a lot of misery. We needed the punishment, but in those days teachers didn't have time to select implements of torture. They used anything that happened to be handy.

We remember the tough guy in the same school. He had been giving a lot of trouble, and so the teacher sent him to the superintendent for a "strapping." The superintendent was a small man, and not in the very picture of health, so the big bully pulled out a knife and slashed him. Poor superintendent. He left the room looking like a stuck hog only to run into the principal who had heard the commotion. The principal was a full grown West Texan, about 6 feet 2 inches, and weighed about 210. He grasped the situation and entered the superintendent's office, and what he did with about half a dozen good willow limbs won't do to go in print.

Smaller children were scared to death and some of them made a run for the tough's brother — three blocks away. In he came, pistol and all. The principal met him at the door and told him he wanted the gun, and right then or he would make the fellow eat it. He slipped the gun in his desk, invited the man in and said: "I have given your brother what he deserved and I am going to give him some more," and so he proceeded. We smaller kids knew a murder was being staged. He had the tough guy down and begging before he let him up. The principal smiled and let it be known that if anybody didn't like it he still had switches.

No the teacher was not bothered. Toughy and his brother were in facing serious charge — one attempted murder with a gun, the other with a gun. The latter was dropped very quickly, and the principal continued to use switches for many years. Mighty glad he never attacked us. Somebody had to be boss at that school, so he elected himself. There were no "No" votes.

Tomorrow we are going to tell some good traits about teachers. They have it coming. Why in civilized country we have kept on starvation wages until a so ago, and even now they are at the Waldorf-Astoria.

Wayne Jackson, Richard May, Wayne Caton, Carroll Noble, D. Samuels, M. H. Perry.

Orchids go to little Linda Huckaby for helping a group of her friends dust the furniture last week.

Those working Monday night in the kitchen and removing the old landmark shack that was the headquarters for the refreshment committee and the crew during the building of the foundation for the Eastland Memorial hospital included Milton Fullen, Doc Alford, Willie Speaker, Ocie Hunt, Parks Poe, Wayne Jackson, Dr. James C. Whittington, and D. Samuels.

New Justice Of Peace Is Named

Roy C. Jones has been named by the Commissioners Court to serve as Justice of the peace, precinct 1, for the unexpired term of E. E. Wood, deceased. Mr. Jones took over the duties of the office Monday.

Roy is well and favorably known in Eastland, and will no doubt make a good peace justice. He will serve until January 1953, when a new justice elected by the voters, will be sworn in.

Robert Vaughn Family Moving To Robert Lee

With the departure of Robert D. Vaughn, former owner of the Western Auto Store in Eastland, together with his family, the city is to lose a most excellent family. Eleven years ago the Vaughn's moved to Eastland, and since that time met and made many new friends who are reluctant to see them go.

At their new home in Robert Lee, some 18 miles North of San Angelo, Mr. Vaughn will be Chevrolet dealer for that county and his friends here wish him well.

Mr. and Mrs. Vaughn and Eileen have been active in Methodist Church activities. He was a member of the Board of Stewards, while Mrs. Vaughn was active in many departments. Eileen is the Rotary Sweetheart, and has given special attention to music.

Mr. Vaughn was chairman of the building committee for the hospital. Served as a Chamber of Commerce director, and is a past-president of the Lions Club. Mrs. Vaughn was at one time very active in club work, though because of her work, has not been too active during the past two years. The Vaughns have three daughters, Eileen, Mary and Vernay.

Mr. Vaughn is scheduled to leave today, while Mrs. Vaughn and the daughters will remain here until the completion of their new home in Robert Lee.

Pilots Wanted For Air Force

Effective immediately the Eastland Army and Air Force Recruiting Station is accepting applications for appointment to Aviation Cadet training from qualified civilians.

General qualifications are: Age 19-26 1-2; 60 semester hours of college; vision 20-20 for pilots, 20-50 for observers; height 64 to 74 inches; single and never been washed out of flight training or officer candidate school.

Qualified men will be sent from the local recruiting station to Goodfellow AFB, San Angelo for further processing. All at government expense, and indications are that they may be assigned to an early class of training in either the pilot or observer training.

While only those men with 2 years of college are eligible for appointment from civilian life, this road to silver wings and a commission in the USAF is also open to men with a high school diploma, who apply for training after initial enlistment in the Air Force. These men will have to pass the required mental examination to qualify.

Interested individuals are urged to contact the Eastland Recruiting Station as soon as possible for full details on the program, which is the largest since World War II.

Shivers Road Plan Blasted By Opponent

Gubernatorial candidate Ralph Yarborough has charged that the roadbuilding plans of Governor Shivers would "mean an increase in property taxes on house, farm and ranch, to keep the schools open."

Yarborough made his charges in a statewide radio address. And he says Shivers' record "does not justify our asking him to be a third time Governor of Texas."

He says this is the year to change governors.

Gainesville Man Gets Thirty Years For Murder

A 23-year-old Gainesville man is to be transported to Huntsville prison today to serve two concurrent 30-year terms for murdering his wife and uncle.

Pittman Mauldin, Jr., was sentenced yesterday by District Judge Ben Boyd after pleading guilty to both charges. He was charged with murdering his wife, 22-year-old Gloria Iris Mauldin, and 23-year-old Billy Ray Hickman, who was Mauldin's uncle by marriage.

Mauldin said he shot his wife and Hickman on a lonely country road one mile from Gainesville.

Two Conventions Likely For Both GOP, Democrats

GOP Executive Committee Seat Taft Minority

MINERAL WELLS, May 27 (UP) — The Texas Republican executive committee has apparently presented Senator Robert A. Taft with 38 contested delegates to the National Convention.

At Mineral Wells yesterday, supporters of General Eisenhower were voted down every time they put a contested delegation before the committee. They promised to hold a rump convention today and elect 38 delegates to oppose the Taft group. If that happens, it will be up to the credentials committee at the Republican National Convention to determine whether the Taft or Eisenhower delegation is seated.

The executive committee met yesterday and through the night to rule on the contested delegations from 31 counties. And nearly all the contests were raised by Taft supporters at the county conventions and who bolted and elected minority delegations.

These minority delegations were — with one exception — seated by the Taft-dominated executive committee. The exception was the Galveston County Delegation where the committee gave Taft four votes and Eisenhower four.

Today, the convention itself gets underway. And the Eisenhower delegation says if Taft's group persists in carrying through their slate of delegates, they will carry the fight all the way to Chicago.

Herbert Ekrot New Owner Of Western Auto

Herbert Ekrot has purchased the Western Auto Supply store in Eastland, and took over the business yesterday. Mr. Ekrot comes from Rosebud, Texas, where he has operated a Western Auto Store in that city, for the past five years. So he comes to Eastland an experienced dealer. Robert Vaughn, former dealer, is moving to Robert Lee, Texas, near San Angelo, where he becomes a Chevrolet dealer.

The Ekrot family is composed of Mr. and Mrs. Akrot, as they have no children. She will assist at the store. The Ekrots are both Baptists, and active in church affairs. They will be at home at 702 Halbray within a very short time.

A. M. McBee, formerly employed by Mr. Vaughn, will remain with the store in the same capacity, as will R. H. Latham, who has charge of the store's radio department. Business in all departments will be continued as usual.

5 Liquor Cases Disposed Of In District Court

Five liquor law violation cases have been disposed of in District Court in Eastland this week. Three pleas of guilty resulted in three fines; two for $150.00 and costs and a third for $100.00. One defendant is to serve out his fine in jail.

As we go to press the fifth case is being tried. It is not known at this time whether there will be additional cases called for trial this week.

Rotarians Have Splendid Meet

The Rotary Club enjoyed a splendid meeting Monday, when Dr. W. E. "Bert" Barrow, delivered an education address on Obstetrics. He gave a number of statistical tables which showed that death rate of expectant mothers has been gradually decreased to less than one per thousand.

Fears seems to be the greatest cause or pain and suffering, as well as death, he said. His remarks were technical, but those present gathered considerable information.

Reds Threaten Retaliation For Koje "Slaughter" Of Prisoners

KOREA, May 27, (UP)—The Reds in North Korea have threatened vaguely to unleash their million-man army to get back at the U-N for what they called the "massacre" of prisoners on Koje Island. The Reds struck in six attacks today and one red jet was shot down in air battle.

North Korean General Nam Il dropped the hint at the truce talks during the day when he said the communists could not "sit by" while POWs are being "slaughtered," as he put it, in the U-N camps.

The Nam speech brought varied reactions from different U-N officials. The top Allied spokesman, Brigadier General William Nuckolls, told reporters it could be taken as a threat. Major General William Harrison, the top U-N truce man, brushed it off as "propaganda."

As for the "slaughter" claim made by Red General Nam Il, The Allies have revealed that on Koje island, the Communist prisoners have killed 115 of their own number, many of them by being beaten to death. Another 122 prisoners were killed by Allied troops in clashes with the prisoners.

On the Korean battlefield the Reds have stepped up their fighting.

They sent 300 infantrymen against a single hill North of Seoul at the head of the traditional invasion route into South Korea. And Eight Army troops alerted all across the 155-mile front.

Deckhand Strike Halts Shipping On West Coast

A strike has been voted by deckhands in the AFL Sailors Union of the Pacific, and the crippling walk-out is expected to tie up shipping in nearly all ports on the West Coast.

Union President Harry Lundberg ordered the strike into effect last night after the union voted heavily in favor of strike action to back up their wage demands, demands that include a straight five per cent pay boost, and overtime for deckhands who work on Saturday at sea. Lundberg says that the strike will not affect ships carrying essential military cargoes.

The Pacific Maritime Association, representing the ship owners in the dispute, has voted both against the union wage demands and against calling in the Wage Stabilization Board to help settle the dispute. A PMA spokesman has said the group will not accept mediation by the WSB unless the union agrees to a long term contract.

All in all, the strike may affect about 350 ships in ports from Los Angeles, Calif., to Seattle, Wash.

One Armed Man Drowns Saving Two Youngsters

Two Fort Arthur children are alive today thanks to the efforts of a one-armed man who drowned in Alligator Bayou after rescuing

Melton Ross, the victim, leaped into the water to aid Ronald and Gary Waldrip, two and four year olds, who had been thrown from an outboard motorboat he was piloting. He held the boys above water until their father, Bill Waldrip, and a companion reached them from shore.

House Foreign, Military Cuts Irks Mr. Truman

WASHINGTON, May 27 (UP)—The Senate goes to work today on the foreign aid bill with a plea and a warning from President Truman.

Originally, the administration asked for seven-billion-900-million dollars in foreign aid. A Senate committee proposed a one-billion dollar cut across the board. The House voted to trim still another 600-million, cutting the original request by 20 per cent.

In a speech before the Jewish National Fund Dinner in Washington last night, Mr. Truman let go both barrels, at those congressmen who want to slash the foreign aid funds, and those who support the limit of 46-billion dollars the House voted for American military spending.

On that last measure, the military budget, President Truman blasted the house for doing a "foolish and reckless thing" in setting the 46-billion ceiling. He said this might mean cutting down the nation's armed forces in what he called "this hour of peril."

Mr. Truman emphasized his hope that the Senate would eliminate the cuts.

However, indications are that this question will be the subject of a stiff fight. How it will come out is uncertain.

Ridgway Arrives In Paris; Will Take Command

PARIS, May 27 (UP)—The new commander of the Western Europe Military Defense Forces has arrived here.

Gen. Matthew Ridgway landed by plane from the United States, to take over from Gen. Eisenhower, who is returning home next week.

Some 200 helmeted French Gendarmes lined the runways of Orly Field, just outside Paris, as Ridgway's Constellation landed and taxied to the main terminal building.

In Paris more than 15,000 police and troops are guarding the city against the possibility of any demonstrations by Communists. They'll stay on the alert today and tomorrow. The police are equipped with helmets, gas masks and tear gas bombs and many are armed with carbines, ready to quell any uprising.

Shivers Backers Control Meeting At San Antonio

SAN ANTONIO, May 27 (UP)—The Democrats, meeting in San Antonio, are almost certain to produce two opposing delegations to the National Convention just like the Republicans.

Anti-National Administration Democrats, led by Governor Allan Shivers, dominate 80 per cent of the 12 hundred and 27 votes in the convention proper. They will elect a 52-man unopposed delegation to the national convention.

But pro-national administration Democrats will bolt the regular convention, hold a rump convention of their own today, and elect 52 instructed delegates to the national convention.

The course of today's convention was laid yesterday by the Democratic State Executive Committee, which met and heard the Loyalists' arguments in the cases of 27 contested county delegations. But the contests, which unlike the Republicans were over candidates, were over the pledged or unpledged delegation.

The Democratic executive committee yesterday ruled in favor of 27 anti-administration delegations and the opposing Loyalists plan to bolt today and march through the streets of San Antonio to another meeting place.

Violence Marks Florida Primary

Violence has broken out in the Florida primary. Police say an explosion, probably caused by dynamite, occurred in Jacksonville at the Walker Vocational College a few hours before a polling place for negroes opened. No injuries are reported. Democratic Senators Richard Russell of Georgia and Estes Kefauver of Tennessee are meeting for the second time in the Florida Primary. The first time, Russell defeated Kefauver in the preferential primary. Today they will be contending for the 24 Florida delegates.

The republican state convention in Connecticut and the Democratic convention in Kentucky are expected to wind up without conflict. General Eisenhower is expected to get most of the 22 Connecticut GOP delegates, and thus overtake Senator Robert Taft in the National presidential sweepstakes.

Kentucky Democrats are expected to give their 26 delegates to vice-president Alben Barkley.

Ride The "ROCKET" And Save Osborne Motor Company, Eastland

Alias Basil Willing

By Helen McCloy

THE WHOLEY. A small, unheroic man with a friendly smile, Basil Willing was smiling. His blue eyes were alert and amused. "I've been looking forward to this meeting for a long time," he said cordially. "You know me?"

"You don't remember me? No matter!" Soft laughter underlined her words. "We are all supposed to know each other."

BASIL WILLING turned. A man stood nearby, tall, muscular and hard. His rather full lips were smiling. His blue eyes were alert and amused. "I've been looking forward to this meeting for a long time," he said cordially. "You know me?"

"By a simple process of elimination all the others are here. The man was still smiling. "Of course, I know you by reputation and name. Will you excuse me a moment? I see my sister is growing impatient."

"But," Basil was left alone. A woman's voice spoke at his elbow imperiously. "I've been expecting you for the last half hour."

She sat in a wing chair close to the smouldering fire. Her hair was white, her eyes, deep-set in discolored sockets, her mouth, drawn. Only the eyes themselves—large, dark, lustrous—hinted at what she might have been in her youth. One hand held an ebony stick with an ivory handle.

"I think you've made a mistake, Basil."

"Mistake?" She was displeased. Years of violet and red lips showed out like earthworms under the skin of the hand that clutched the stick. "Your voice is different tonight. Not at all the way it usually sounds."

"And I'm sure I look different, too," said Basil.

Again she interrupted. "Are you laughing at me, sir? You know I am blind."

BASIL looked at her eyes. For the first time he saw that the pupils were gray with cataract, "I beg your pardon, I didn't realize."

"That I'm totally blind? It doesn't matter." Her voice sank almost to a whisper. "I hear someone coming. They're always watching. Leave me at once please."

It was impossible to resist the desperate urgency in her voice. Basil moved toward the other end of the room and lit a cigarette, looking about for the little man with the air of someone searching an ash tray.

"Why Basil Willing? To think of meeting you here?"

He turned. The face was pure eighteenth century—arching brows, provoking eyes, flaring nostrils and demure mouth, all fashioned on such a fine scale and with such a flawless texture that it was porcelain to the earthenware of the other faces. Her hair was the rich, dark gold of autumnal wheat. She wore it brushed away from brow and ear, free and floating. Her shoulders were dazzling white above the dense black of a sleeve.

aged and rather plump, with an anxious manner. "I can't tell you his name because I don't know, it may be. Has he been here?"

"No." It was Rosamund's turn to be puzzled. "Only the people you see here now."

"Then I'll have to ask you to excuse me while I explain to my host."

"Dr. Zimmer? Better not interrupt him while he's talking to Miss Shaw."

Basil looked down the long room. The man who had welcomed him was approaching the blind woman still beside the fire. "Miss Shaw?"

"What fence, Rosamund?" "She was serious now. "So you do remember me?"

"Who could forget Rosamund Finlay?"

"Yet we met only a few times before the war went on? So much has happened since. For one thing, I'm no longer Rosamund Finlay."

"You're married?" He was surprised. At 18 Rosamund Finlay had taken the small world of fashion by storm. Newspapers and magazines carried her fame outside that world until she became a popular symbol of beauty, gaiety and elegance.

"Yes, I'm married," Rosamund hesitated. "There's my husband. You know him? Theron Yorke?"

She looked toward the other end of the room. At a stout gray-haired man twice her age who stood before the fire with one hand on the white marble mantelpiece.

"I've heard of him," said Basil. Theron Yorke belonged to another world. During the twenties he had owned the most discreet speakeasy in Manhattan. No trouble with police. No hint of the leading or brutal. His artless patrons had never believed the stories about his relations with the underworld. He kept those patrons after repeal. The speakeasy became a night club—the sort where there is no floor show and the food is as good as the wine. But why had Rosamund Finlay married Theron Yorke?

BASIL smiled. "I'm looking for someone I expected to find here this evening and I don't see him. He's a little man, middle-

Don't Worry About IQ, Psychologist Advises
BERKELEY, Calif. (UP)—Most parents and teachers take a child's IQ test too seriously, in the opinion of Dr. J. W. MacFarlane, who has just completed a 24-year study of such things. The University of California psychologist, whose survey tested each year the IQ's of 250 selected families, said a person's score might be as much as 20 points between the ages of 6 and 18. It depends to a large extent on "health, worries, moods and other factors," MacFarlane said. It's easier to tell how tall your child is going to be by measuring him when he's young than it is to tell how smart he'll be according to MacFarlane's findings. At the age of 20 months the average girl is half as tall as she'll ever be. For boys the average half-way mark in height is reached at the age of 26 months, the survey showed. At junior high level, girls are two years ahead of boys in maturity, MacFarlane reported, but then boys start catching up.

CURRENT CHAMPIONS AT COLONIAL—The Colonial National Invitation Golf Tournament, which opens Wednesday and runs through Sunday at Fort Worth, is often appropriately called a "tournament of champions." This week, for example, the winners of 28 of the 39 PGA tour events since last year's Colonial affair are playing at Fort Worth. Thirteen men, all pictured above, hold these 28 current titles. At the top are, left to right: Ben Hogan, the current national Open champion and the only two-time winner at Colonial (1946-47); Cary Middlecoff, Colonial's own defending champion and winner of the most 1951 tour titles (six); and Jack Burke, Jr., winner of the most 1952 tour titles to date (four). Around the Colonial clubhouse are the other current champions at Colonial this week, who, starting at the upper left corner and on around, are: Tommy Bolt, Jerry Clark, Jimmy Demaret, Roberto De Vicenzo, Doug Ford, Marty Furgol, Joe Kirkwood, Jr., Lloyd Mangrum, Henry Ransom and O'Neal (Buck) White.

President Young Speaks To Full House At RJC Commencement Sun.

The First Methodist Church of Ranger was filled to capacity Sunday evening, May 25, at 8:00 p.m., when Mr. J. B. Young, president of Jones County College, Ellisville, Miss., delivered the commencement address to the graduates of Ranger Junior College.

The speech of the evening was "This Occasion a Reminder of Our Individual Responsibility." Mr. Young paid tribute to the great contribution of Junior Colleges, and specifically Ranger Junior College, to the total education program over the nation, the state of Texas, and the community. Then he reminded the graduates of the duties and responsibilities that related to them as individuals:

1. It becomes your individual responsibility to keep upward and onward.
2. I call upon you to assume individual responsibility for right decisions.
3. I call upon you to let this occasion remind you that it is your individual responsibility to take an inventory of yourself, to take your measure, at this moment when you are about to move out from this graduation.

4. This occasion places upon you the duty and responsibility to gain greater knowledge of the world about us and to live in this world in an attitude of heart and mind that will enable each of us to contribute something. It is our individual responsibility to present some saving ideas to our present world.
5. We have come to this point in order to live our lives in the future. Education assumes a future.

His closing words were in the form of a prayer: "Lord, make me an instrument of thy peace.

Where there is hatred, let me sow love.
Where there is injury, let me sow pardon.

Where there is doubt, let me sow faith.
Where there is despair, let me sow hope.

Where there is darkness, let me sow light.
Where there is sadness, let me sow joy."

The following was the program for the evening:
The Processional — "March" from "Tannhauser" Wagner, Charles Kiker.

The Introit, "Now Let Heaven and Earth Adore Thee" Bach, The Mixed Chorus.

The Invocation, Lloyd L. Bruce, Member of Board of Regents.

The Response, "The Sevenfold Amen", Stainer.

The Hymn, "Holy, Holy, Holy" (Nicaea) Dykes, The Congregation Standing.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Meredith of Mineola, Texas, pose with the portrait of Mrs. Meredith painted by Dmitri Vail of Dallas, Texas. The life-like painting will hang in the main hall of the "Daisy Meredith" cottage for girls on the Methodist Home campus in Waco, Texas.

Pioneer Banker, Civic Leader Builds Home for Orphan Girls

"Uncle Harry" as Mr. Meredith is affectionately known to his boys and girls in Waco, is a pioneer in Texas banking history, having opened his Mineola State Bank in 1906. In 1933 he retired from active banking business and became Chairman of the Board of the First National Bank which position he continues to hold. Besides their active interest in civic and church affairs, the Merediths are enthusiastic and active members of the well known Little Sandy Fishing and Hunting Club.

Three years ago they donated $95,000 for construction of the Meredith Home for Boys on the Methodist Home Campus in Waco, and commissioned Dmitri Vail to paint the portrait of Mr. Meredith which now hangs in the living room. Cost of the newly completed "Daisy Meredith" cottage is running close to $120,000.

Mr. Meredith wanted a Texas artist to paint the two portraits and selected the nationally known portrait painter Dmitri Vail, of Dallas, Texas. He says he had the portraits painted to hang in the cottage so that in twenty-five or fifty years from now the children might say: Those are the folks who gave us our home.

Thee, and Keep Thee", Lutkin, the Mixed Chorus.

Ex Communist For The FBI Be Ft. Worth

Matt Cvetic, who posed as a communist for the Federal Bureau of Investigation for nine years, will relate his experiences at Will Rogers Auditorium in Fort Worth Thursday, June 5, at 8:00 p.m. The public is invited and admission is free. Cvetic is being brought to Fort Worth by the Star-Telegram and Radio Station WKAP.

The experiences of Cvetic have been made into a radio program titled, "I Was A Communist For The F.B.I." The program will be broadcast by WKAP with Dana Andrews playing the real-life role of Cvetic.

During the nine agonizing years that Cvetic was playing his secret role for the F.B.I. his mother died thinking he was a communist, his wife labeled him a spy, his son rejected and shunned him and his friends labeled him a traitor. No one knew of his dual role.

Cvetic dressed in the plainest of clothes at all times, never had a bodyguard or a badge and was constantly attending all kinds of communist meetings and keeping the F. B. I. informed of each move made.

Cvetic will address the Fort Worth Junior Bar at a luncheon of the group of June 5 and will appear before press, radio and television representatives at 5:00 p.m. June 5. He will also be heard on Radio Station WBAP and seen on WBAP-TV.

The radio series, "I Was A Communist For The F. B. I.," will be broadcast for 52 weeks and was especially written and produced for radio by the Frederic W. Ziv Production Company.

Vitamin "A" For The Quail

AUSTIN, May—How the King Ranch determined that a Vitamin deficiency was responsible for the sale losses of bobwhite quail is described in the May issue of Texas Game & Fish magazine.

An article by V. W. Lehmann, wildlife manager for the big South Texas ranch, states that tests leading up to the disclosure were made after quail died off mysteriously in the late winter of 1950-51 with the heaviest mortality from mid-February through early March. He writes that it was determined that lack of native food containing the indispensable vitamin plus severe cold weather which restricted the bird's feeding routine caused the heavy toll in adult birds.

Carrier Boys Taken On Tour By Daily Press

Otis Green, Fort Worth Press Dealer, and two of his paper boys enjoyed another Educational Tour this week. This time they were taken on an all expense paid trip to San Antonio.

Their Supervisor, Mr. A. Anable, took all the boys that earned the trip in his district, to Fort Worth, where they left by train from the T&P Railroad Station at 9:30 Sat. night. Each boy had a ribbon and number pinned on his shirt. There were 47 boys on the tour with a supervisor for every 6 boys. They were fed a mid-nite snack, then the boys settled down for some shut eye.

Upon arrival they ate breakfast at San Antonio's new fashionable hotels. They could have anything they wished. Our Eastland boys seemed to think waffles and sausage hit the spot very good.

They were then loaded into two chartered buses and went on a five hour sight seeing tour. They reported seeing many interesting places, next to The Alamo, and San Jose Mission, the boys reported the boat ride took second place in the line of excitement. At the Majestic Theatre where they saw "Lead Line U.S.A." the boys marveled at the open air effect of the ceiling in the theatre, the ceiling being like a blue sky and twinkling stars, and lighted castles. They were feasted with lot of good foods, however, Our Boys don't go too heavy for Mexican Foods we are told.

The Press paid all expenses of this trip, the boys only lowered their personal bank accounts when they bought souvenirs for their family and girl friends.

Eastland Boys going were Gary Lusk son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Lusk, Park Hill Street; Donald Ward son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Ward 213 S. Madera St. and Otis Green, son of Mrs. B. Howard Green 902 W. Plummer Street. Bobby Lane son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lane 216 S. Madera Street, also earned the trip; however, he was unable to go, as he was entertaining a case of measles. Bobby will be given his choice of many prizes. Truman Lane was given a wrist watch as his reward, Mickey Horner was awarded a first basemen's baseball glove for his 14 new customers. Several other local boys worked on the recent drive for new Customers were given their choice of many prizes. The boys all had an enjoyable time working on the new customer drive and found Eastland People very cooperative with their Young Citizens. Mr. Anable treated them several nights with hamburgers and cold drinks. They still are promised a fishing trip or a date at the movies, Wonder which they will choose?

Handbag Harmony
Interesting Textures Add Beauty

Summer handbags in new fabrics and straws stress the light and airy look in keeping with other fashions. Black linen box bag by DeLill (upper left) with soft contours is given frosting of snowy white chalk beads in graceful flower design. Lucite bag (upper right) is cool, has illusion of sheerness, is easy to keep clean. This one, by Tyrolean, is banded in gold plate filigree. Shrimp-colored denim (lower left) by Deauville takes on dressy air in this pouch with embroidered white flower design. Natural Madagascar straw cloth, the straw fabric appearing this year in separates, makes suit satchel (lower center) by Kadin that can be wiped clean with damp cloth. Just for fun and conversation, there's a white woven wood market basket (lower right). It has a navy blue linen lid with phrases embroidered in silk. This is a Lou Ash design.

NEW YORK—(NEA)—The fabric that's used in the making of your summer handbag may be a surprise to you.

This year, fashion news for summer is largely centered on the new and adroit uses of old fabric favorites. Handbags since they must team up with ready-to-wear, are in the same trend.

Denim, of course, is the big story. The start of the story was told last summer and the rest is coming along now. Denim is dressy, sheer and even expensive in some ready-to-wear fashions.

In handbags, it appears in glowing colors; shrimp, lime, tan, shocking pink, charcoal gray and the classic faded blue. It's shown in slim pouches or small clutch bags. It may be embroidered, or striped, or polka-dotted. Whatever, it makes fashion news.

The new straw separates have their current companions in handbags of real straw or plastic straw. There's variation here: toyo straw, cellophane boucle straw, madagascar and wicker straw. And they're made into pouches, boxes, shoulder bags, baskets and hampers.

Other new additions to the chamred circle of straw are plastic bamboo and madagascar straw cloth. The latter also appears in play clothes, is often used for oversize or slim suit satchels. It's in navy and stark white as well as the natural color.

Keeping pace with summer's sheer fashions are handbags that maintain the sheer theme. These are in lucite or cellophane straw, the latter in delicate pastel shades.

Lucite bags, in box, barrel or clutch shapes, are now being done in mother-of-pearl, iridescent blue, jet, rosy pink, emerald green or royal as well as tortoise and the clear.

LONG STORY—Although Ram Nath was born in 1940, as evidenced by the 26-foot-long Sanskrit birth certificate above, he recently retired from Ford Motor Co., Detroit, Mich., after 23 years of service. Nath cleared things up by explaining the East Indian year of 1940 corresponds to the English year 1884.

THE CHRYSLER NEW YORKER NEWPORT

WHAT ARE YOU DOING TOMORROW?

This invitation could result in the most important day of your motoring life. We'd like you to take the wheel and really drive a Chrysler New Yorker car. Everything good you've heard about this great car is true... and then some. Its new V-8 engine... its power steering... its power brakes... its astonishing comfort... each is an experience you will thrill to, and remember.

So... tomorrow... or any time that is convenient... come discover real power steering! Hydraulic power does 4/5 the work as you turn the wheel... and also gives you 5 times the usual control on bad roads. Turn the wheels with one finger when standing still... or drive all day with no shoulder strain at all! You get the same wonderful "wheel feel" every mile!

Drive America's finest engine! Feel the acceleration, response, reserve power of 180 V-8 horsepower. Learn why owners praise the matchless performance they get... without even having to use premium fuel!

Feel what power brakes are like! Power from the engine boosts the power of your toe. With up to two-thirds less than normal pressure, you will "gentle" this solid, powerful car to the surest, easiest stops in your life!

Test the comfort that's unequaled! On body-pleasing chair-height seats... with sweeping vision all around... you take good roads and bad on shock absorbers with over twice the shock-absorbing power of those on cars you've had before! Come in tomorrow!
