Now that Ike is back on American soil we are going to let him do a lot of his own fighting. We are for him and plan to see that he is elected president, still he is able to do his own fighting. We are getting a little too plump to be a first class fighter, whereas army life has kept Ike's tummy down to a normal and comfortable size. We are near the same age, but while growing up Ike majored in brains while we went in for "big belt" measurement.

Ike, it seems, has made quite a success, but that's alright—we still growing.

But we want one thing understood right now—we don't want the hanging around with Harry too much. It may all be perfectly innocent, but we'll sleep better when those boys are grazing in different pastures. Harry might make a Fair Dealer out of him, and then we would have to vote for Taft or Joe Louis, makes no difference which.

The best thing about the whole affair is this: We have learned how to get out of the army, and be within the law. We are not looking for Sam to draft us again, but if he ever does we will be out by half time the boys get their "legging" laced up. Instead of going A.W.O.L., we will hand in a formal resignation and announce our candidacy for President. Ike got by with that plan, and it sure beats the A.O.W.L. system. Don't be a fool and just walk off, but announce to the public that you are coming and will see them soon. It will work, in Ike's case probably make him president.

We are wondering if Harry will go back home and re-organize the "Pendergast machine". The machine is alright, we suppose, only the boys put too much bitters in their bourbon, and the reaction was awful. Some of them went to the pen, others got high office and appointed other members to various commissions, boards, etc.

If Harry's activities start in this direction, all the fame of Tammany Hall will be reduced to nothing, and we will consider them as a kind of boy scout organization.

We hope somebody buys the Potomac river, gives it to Harry and then sends him on a never ending fishing trip. If this fails appoint him as keeper of a light house off the Cannibal Islands. The first time he starts a Fair Deal address over there, they may make a pot-roast out of him. We like Harry, but we want him to stay in his place, and the White House is not his home.

Just at the time we decide to make stove wood out of our television, along comes a good program. For the week next television reception here has been almost perfect. We are not getting enough snow at this time to keep us cool. We prefer ice cubes to television snow anyway.

Dawson Solicits Representative Seat, 76th District

Charles H. Dawson, of Cross Plains, is announcing his candidacy this week for state representative of the 76th district, which comprises Callahan, Eastland, and Shackelford counties. This makes the third time Mr. Dawson has offered himself as a candidate for this office. Last election year found him gaining considerably over the first race he ran. He believes not only that the third time is the charm, but that he will win this year mainly because the people of this district have become better acquainted with him and will vote for a man of his character. In presenting himself as a candidate, Mr. Dawson states:

"I want the people of Callahan, Eastland and Shackelford counties to know that their vote for me in the Democratic primary election, and their influence in my behalf until election day will be very much appreciated. I have talked to many of you during the past few weeks, and from your expressions of the type of man you want to represent you in the legislature, I believe you will elect me to this

LOOKING TO THE FUTURE?—Gen. Ike Eisenhower, left, shades his eyes from lights glare as he tries to see his questioners at his final press conference in the Pentagon before retiring from the Army. The general when asked about air power and his record on it, answered: "I came out of the war convinced that Gen. Billy Mitchell was right in his concept of air power—I'm number one in trying to relieve our young men of the necessity of carrying weapons—and that means air power." Methodist Bible School Started Monday Morning

The Vacation Church-Bible School of the First Methodist Church opened Monday with great enthusiasm among the children and youth as well as the staff of adult and older youth workers, according to announcement made by Mrs. Ed F. Willman, director.

Five departments are being presented in the program of Bible Study, worship, songs, games, and activities. Age groupings begin with the department for children who have attained the age of three years. A graduated program is presented for the kindergarten, primary, junior children, and for the youth of the Junior High School.

The school meets each week-day morning 9:00 to 11:00 at the First Methodist Church. "We had an increase in pupils today, and we expect other new children, and youth right along," Mrs. Willman said in reporting on the Bible school. It will meet this week and next week.

Double A Champs To Be Decided In Austin Tonight

AUSTIN, June 4 (UP)—Two schoolboy powerhouse teams, Dallas Crozier Tech and Houston Reagan, clash tonight for the state AA baseball title.

Two of the state's top high school pitching stars will face each other in the fourth annual championship game. Jack Schultes, with a record of 14 wins and no defeats, will be on the mound for Reagan. Crozier will have Doyle Stuetz who Monday night tied the Texas schoolboy strike out mark by setting down 21 batters.

Reagan socked Waco 6 to 3 last night to win a berth in the title game, and Crozier defeated Laredo Martin 5 to 2.

Waco and Laredo will tangle in a consolation game at 7 p.m. tonight.

Check, Cow, and Calaboose, All In Day's Work

A cattle buyer approached Ray Burns of Gorman, and purchased a cow late last week. In return the buyer gave Mr. Burns a check for $300. Suspicion caused Mr. Burns to investigate, so he came to Eastland. Monday the deal was turned over to Porter Wood, and when Mr. Wood attended the Auction Sale Tuesday, he located the cow. She sold for $168, and the man who bought her pocketed the money.

Later it was learned he had purchased two tickets to California, and this story comes to a close. Porter notified the Abilene Sheriff, who took the man from the bus and lodged him in the Taylor county jail. Local officers will bring him to Eastland today. Sure, the check he gave was "hot."

Methodists Are Having Meeting Official Board

The official board of the First Methodist church will meet this evening at 7:30 in the church parlor for a brief meeting to elect officers for the new church year and such other business as there may be.

Two years ago a plan for rotation in the office of steward was started. By this plan approximately one-third of the stewards rotate out of office each year, not being eligible for the office of steward until after one year.

Newly included in the group of stewards for the new year are W. M. Brown, Jr., Frank T. Crowell, W. F. Davenport, Don Doyle, Pearson Grimes, Charles B. Harris, Milburn S. Long, N. P. McCarney, M. H. Perry, W. B. Pickens, Bruce Pipkin, Grady Pipkin, J. T. Trotman, Bruce White, Ed F. Willman, Clyde H. Young.

Future Farmers Will Convene In Dallas, July 16

A Committee of Dallas and Fort Worth businessmen met Friday in the office of Cal Johnson, co-chairman of the Future Farmer Committee and made final plans for the 24th Annual Texas Future Farmer convention, which is to be held in Dallas at the Baker hotel on July 16, 17 and 18, according to Franklin Brandt, president of the Texas Future Farmers Association of LaGrange.

The convention will be opened Wednesday afternoon, July 16th at 2 p.m., with a 2 mile long parade up Commerce Street in which will over 20,000 Texas Future Farmers will show off to the city people of Dallas the latest in farm machinery that will be furnished by the farm machinery companies of the city.

Another highlight of the convention will be a Gold Key Banquet, attended by well over 3,000 Texas Future Farmers, honoring the 600 Future Farmers who have been awarded the Lone Star Farmer Key for outstanding achievements in the state association. Gov. Allan Shivers along with Dallas notables, have been invited to attend the dinner.

1950 Census For Texas Off Press

A little red book that will mean a lot to Texans is hot off the government printing press and on order at the U. S. Department of Commerce office, 1114 Commerce St.

It's the long awaited 1950 Census totals for the number of inhabitants in Texas.

According to Compex Director Ernest Tutt, the report presents the official nose count on the number of inhabitants of the state, its counties, and minor civil divisions (townships to you). In addition, separate figures are also presented for urban places, wards or cities of 5,000 or more, and other areas of the state.

Oh yes, the Texas census book sells for 30 cents. It will be a "best seller" until 1960. That's when the next census will appear.

Abilene Parade Will Depict Son Ike's 'Birth To The White House'

ABILENE, Kan., June 4 (UP)—The sovereign state of Texas, long the claimant of being first in virtually everything, naturally comes up with a first even in the Abilene parade today depicting Dwight David Eisenhower's life from "birth to the White House."

Denison, Texas, has a float depicting Eisenhower's birthplace. However with a generous gesture toward the Future Farmers of America, the Abilene implement dealers and five other floats, the Denison Chamber of Commerce accepted eighth position in the parade.

The Texas float features a replica of the white frame house in Denison where the recent five-star general was born.

Texas even gave away sixth position in the hour-long parade, which Eisenhower will review from a mezzanine balcony at the Sunflower Hotel, to the tiny town of Hope, 20 miles south of Abilene.

It was at Hope that the Eisenhowers first settled when they moved to Kansas from Texas. It was where Dwight Eisenhower's father extended so much credit in a partnership general merchandise store that he went broke.

Hope's float is a yellow and bronze railroad station.

One of the more realistic rolling replica efforts dramatizes the Smoky Hill River swimming hole where Eisenhower, according to oldtime friends, spent many summer hours.

The swimming hole float will be followed by the Mud Creek fishing float showing a boy hoisting a whopper from the water.

Both the Smoky Hill and Mud Creek, incidentally, dealt Abilene a remarkably large portion of misery and destruction in the 1951 floods.

The procession of floats will take Eisenhower on a memory tour through his high school days, the creamery which gave him his first job, West Point, World War I, the Philippines, Fort Leavenworth

School, World War II as supreme Allied Commander, Columbia University, and his days as North Atlantic Treaty Organization commander.

The parade will end with a "Sought by the People" float surbursting with sunflowers and "I Like Ike" slogans, followed by a lumbering elephant wearing an "I Like Ike" banner.

Through it all spotted high school bands from surrounding communities and a dozen or more saddle horse riding clubs will be spotted. Perhaps the most elaborate effort in the float department is the one portraying the wedding of Dwight and Mamie Eisenhower in Mrs. Eisenhower's hometown of Denver on July 1st, 1916.

Standing as bride and groom in the tableaux, with an immense bank of red roses behind them, will be Miss Jane Todd and Dale Anderson, both of Abilene.

Dale and Jane themselves will be married next Sunday.

Price Controls Hailed As Aid To Inflation

WASHINGTON — In putting forward its contention that wage and price controls are not needed as a hedge against inflation, the Chamber of Commerce of the United States refutes arguments that huge purchasing power makes controls necessary.

The Chamber concedes the fact that tremendous purchasing power lies in the hands of American people, but does not get excited about it.

"It is pointed out," says the chamber, "that individuals own about $65 billion worth of government securities which can be cashed in on short notice. Furthermore, time deposits total about $62 billion, and demand deposits stand at nearly $100 billion.

"Some hold that this tremendous potential purchasing power is capable of exerting enormous pressure on prices. Yet, we have had such liquidity all through the post-war period and we will continue to have it. In fact, with increased savings, encouraged by government itself as an anti-inflationary measure, such liquidity will likely increase.

"If that is an argument for wage and price controls, it must mean that we should have these controls on a permanent basis. And, no one is arguing for that."

The chamber is for indirect controls to checkmate inflation. "Inflation was halted in the spring of 1951," it says, "and it remained under control largely due to tax increases, credit controls, increased savings and to the fact that defense production has as yet brought little actual deficit financing.

"Price control has had relatively little to do with economic stability, as demonstrated in the way prices have behaved since January of 1951. Some prices have remained stable, some have risen and still others have fallen slightly. These price movements demonstrate that our free market economy is still functioning.

"Since March a year ago, although retail prices have risen less than 2 per cent, wholesale prices have dropped 4 per cent. Many prices, both retail and wholesale, are below ceilings.

"As to wage movements, it is doubtful whether controls have had much effect. Between January, 1951, and January this year average weekly earnings were up 4.8 per cent, while prices in the same period rose 3.5 per cent.

"It thus becomes obvious that both wage and price controls should be dropped. Existing controls over production and materials, if extended, should not be continued longer than next March, when the national economy should be in position to provide amply for both defense and civilian needs."

SAVED BY AFRICAN NATIVES—Dr. Gustaf Hoen, an American medical missionary who was stricken with polio in a primitive African village, arrives in Boston, Mass., enroute to Boston Childrens Hospital for treatment. Working under the doctors direction, the African natives saved his life by fashioning a respirator out of wood and bicycle pumps. With Dr. Hoen are Dr. Lowell of the Childrens Hospital and Capt. Sick Trees Have Odor That Draws Pests

STAMFORD, Conn. (UP)—Trees can emit volatile chemical odors, imperceptible to the human nose, that either attract or repel certain insects, a scientist reports. Dr. William W. Cantelo, assistant entomologist of the Bartlett tree research laboratories, said most weakened trees give off a chemical odor that attracts bark beetles and borers. The substance is, no one knows. Studies have shown it is pronounced in weakened elms and that when elm bark beetles whiff the odor in the air, they wheel and promptly attack the sick-smelling trees.

Occasionally the chemical make up of a healthy tree may be so individually peculiar that it repels an invading insect. One third of the spruce trees in southern New England, for example, are immune to attack by the spruce gall aphid because their odors are abhorrent to the insects.

Pope Cancels Audiences

Pope Pius the 12th has been stricken with an "influenza attack with fever" and has cancelled all audiences for the day. Vatican sources say the 74-year-old Pontiff contracted a slight cold several days ago but continued his arduous schedule.

Reds Thwarted in Seizure Attempt Of Paris Factory

PARIS, June 4 (UP)—Communist workers have tried to seize a French auto factory near Paris.

A Communist deputy led the Reds into the Renault Factory, where some 40,000 persons are employed. The Reds cut electric cables, and tried to rouse the workers to strike. Eight broke out. Several foremen were injured and work was disrupted in most workshops. But loyal workers and plant guards finally beat off the Red assault.

The communists also have attacked railroad stations in three cities in southern France in an effort to disrupt rail traffic.

All the Reds moves are part of a general program of strikes and demonstrations to protest the jailing of the top Communist leader, Jacques Duclos.

So far, the general strike called by the Red's isn't very effective. The French government says less than two per cent of the nation's workers have walked off their jobs.

Warren, Kefauver Ahead in Calif. Primary

Sen. Robert Taft and Gen. Eisenhower are battling down to the wire in the South Dakota Republican presidential primary. With only 231 precincts yet to be heard from, Sen. Taft leads Eisenhower by 674 votes. And the 231 unreported precincts are in areas reported to favor the general.

The race has been a see-saw one throughout, and counting will begin shortly on the final ballots to determine the winner. However, it may be two days before a complete result is tabulated.

It wasn't even close in the Democratic primary in South Dakota. Sen. Estes Kefauver has 19,781 votes to 10,301 votes given an unplugged slate.

In California, Gov. Earl Warren has walked off with the Republican primary he leads congressman Fred Wendel 598,382 votes to 260,080. On the Democratic side, Sen. Kefauver leads with 669,397 votes. His opponent, California attorney-general Edmund Brown, has 276,554 votes. Sen. William Knowland and strong administration critic, has won both the Republican primaries to gain another six-year term in the Senate.

Gen. Eisenhower, who retired from the Army yesterday, spent the night in Kansas City prior to leaving this morning for his hometown of Abilene, Kansas, and his first speech in civilian clothes. Eisenhower's homecoming is expected to lure 75,000 persons to hear his first address as a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination.

Union and Steel Representatives In Washington

WASHINGTON, June 4 (UP)—Representatives of six major steel companies and the CIO Steel Washington for further attempts to settle their price-wage dispute.

Identical telegrams from presidential assistant John Steelman went to the companies and Steelworkers president Philip Murray requesting a resumption of talks tomorrow at 11 a.m. EDT.

Steelman noted that when previous talks broke down last month "it was with the understanding that both parties were subject to recall."

Little Items Of Local Interest

Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Lasater of 110 East Plumber, are doing well with their garden this year. We know, because we have a sack of "sample" onions and beets, and we are not saving them for the County Fair, but on the otherhand are going to enjoy them right now. They will kindly accept our thanks. We have a garden, but to date it has been a "vegetableless" garden. Marvin Hutto will please take notice.

Mr. and Mrs. Solon C. Bourland have returned to their home in Lubbock after a short visit with friends and relatives here. Their visit was cut short owing to the illness of Mr. Bourland. Leon Bourland, a nephew, returned them to their home, where the uncle entered a hospital.

P. E. Robertson and family of Lubbock, spent the weekend in Eastland with Mr. Robertson's grandmother, Mrs. Arnold, and a cousin, Ray B. McCorkle, and family.

J. M. Cooper and family left Sunday for Center, Tex., where Mr. Cooper was called to the bedside of his mother, who is very ill.

high office. I base my campaign upon the fact that I am an average man, like the average working man, the average mechanic, the average clerk, the average farmer, the average man that makes up the majority of the population of the 76th representative district. It is chief to this responsible office, my chief desire will be to represent the people of this district fairly and impartially to the very best of my ability. I do not claim that I have floated level with the heights of thought, or that I have descended to the depths of things. I do not claim to be a genius in literature, or have the intellect of a scholar, the accomplishments of a parliamentarian, or the gift of a statesman. I only profess to be an average man with the desire to represent you as you would like to be represented in the affairs of state; to attend to your legislative matters like you want them attended to.

"I present myself to you as a Democrat, standing before you stripped of all influences, and free from all political bosses. I am in this race on my own free will, and I owe allegiance to no one except my country and my God. I am the slave of no man and no organization, and I realize that the responsibility upon my shoulders will be tremendous.

"While I work in the church, and in civic clubs and veterans organizations, I do not think of the voters of the 76th representative district of Texas as men and women of different lodges, or of different churches, or of different commercial organizations, or of different races. I think of you as one great brotherhood of average people, striving for the best interests of this district and of this state and this nation. I am running in this race the way I believe any candidate ought to run. If I am entitled to this office, give it to me. I do not want it through any trick of politics. I do not seek office through any medium other than the individual voter. The only true way to attain office is through the individual voter, not by special groups to whom favors must be returned after election. That is the right way to attain office, and not through highly organized institutions.

"My experiences in life have been varied. I have made my living from farming, storekeeper, peace officer, business man, the oil business, and otherwise by hard work. I have been right here in this representative district of Texas for 28 years, farming near Hamper and Pioneer. At present my home is at Cross Plains. I was a combat infantry soldier in World War I.

"If you see fit to elect me as your state representative, I shall work for (1) free lunches for all public school children, (2) adequate assistance for elderly citizens with no strings attached, and (3) rural fire and police protection. I propose a tax on fines and criminal bonds to help pay for this legislation. I am definitely against higher taxes. I favor freedom of the press. I believe that all chiefs of police should be elected by the people. In fact, I believe every law enforcement officer from city marshal to the head of the Department of Public Safety should be elected by the citizens. I would like to see the enforcement of all our laws, especially those found in Section 71, 97 and 105 of the new Texas election code. These require metal boxes with locks, to be used at the election polls, and make it unlawful for any member of an election board to reveal information regarding the election before the hour of closing the polls.

"Your support of my campaign and your vote in the Democratic Primary will be greatly appreciated."

Betty Jo Price Becomes Bride Of Harold Joe Smith Sunday

Betty Jo Price, 608 W. Commerce, became the bride of Harold Joe Smith, Route two, at 3 p.m. Sunday in the First Baptist church.

The Rev. C. M. Rathiel performed the ceremony before the altar banked by baskets of white gladioli, fern and palm. Mrs. Juanita Langhitz, sang "Because and 'The Lord's Prayer.'" Mrs. Donald Kinnaird furnished organ music through the ceremony.

Billy Kenneth Price gave his sister in marriage. The bride was dressed in a ballerina-length skirt of pleated white nylon net and fitted bodice of white lace. Her white lace mittens matched her finger-tip veil of Bridal illusion. She carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations.

Miss Rita Joyce Fox, maid of honor, was dressed as the bride, only her dress was in baby blue. Her hat and mitts were of nylon net, and she carried a basket of white daisies. Robert Smith Jr., of Breckenridge was best man. Other attendants were the bride's niece, Carrol Wallander, of Wichita Falls as flower girl and G. W. McBee of Eastland and Jerrell Wallander of Wichita Falls as ushers.

Mrs. W. O. Wilson of Oklahoma City and W. S. Price of Electra are parents of the bride. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Smith of Route two, Eastland.

The couple planned a wedding trip to Abilene. From there they will go to Odessa where both are employed with Southwestern Bell Telephone Company. For traveling

Mrs. Hazel Campbell Installed In O.E.S. Ceremony Saturday

Mrs. Hazel Campbell of Olden was installed as Worthy Matron of Eastland Chapter 280, Order of the Eastern Star, in a public ceremony Saturday evening at the Masonic hall.

Other officers installed were Archie Campbell, worthy patron; Jean Cox, associate matron; Tom Amis, associate patron; Pebble Boles, secretary; Elsie Fiensy, treasurer; Corrine Weathersby, conductress; Christiene Garrard, associate conductress; Frances Zornial, champion; Jessie McBeem, marshal; Christine Desow, organist; Mildred Bryan, Adah; Geneva Howell, Ruth; Norene Nelson, Ester; Neil Carney, Martha Bertha Webb, Electa; Gladys Barron, Warder; Lily Sibley, sentinel.

Preceding the installation, a program was presented, consisting of an invocation by the Rev. Alfred Nelson; farewell speech, Mrs. Fannie Carpenter, retiring worthy matron; piano solo, Helen Taylor; two voice numbers, John Whately, accompanied by Alice Joyce Cushman; two numbers on the musical saw, Dr. M. A. Treadwell, accompanied by Mrs. Treadwell on the piano.

Mrs. Carpenter received the worthy matron's jewel, which is presented each year to the retiring worthy matron. Mrs. Hazel Campbell made the presentation. Mrs. Carl Timmons pinned a corsage of blue carnations on Mrs. Carpenter on behalf of the Past Matron's association of Eastland and extended to her an invitation to join. The association now has twenty members.

The officers gift to Mrs. Carpenter, presented by Jean Cox, was an ice blue, nylon blouse. Committee's gifts was several pieces of pottery, matching Mrs. Carpenter's set. Officers and committee members then received woven straw baskets from their retiring worthy matron.

Preceding the installation services were Mrs. Carl Timmons, installing officer; Mrs. Gerald Wingate, installing marshal; Mrs. A. F. Taylor, installing organist; Mrs. Cyrus Miller, installing chaplain.

The hall was decorated as a garden scene, complete with trellises and spring flowers. Mrs. A. F. Taylor played appropriate background music for the ceremony. The refreshment table was laid in colors of gold and green, the chosen colors of the new worthy matron. Frosted green punch and yellow-iced cake squares were served in a large crowd in the banquet hall following the ceremony.

Music Pupils Present Spring Recital

Mrs. A. F. Taylor presented about two-thirds of the pupils of the Taylor Studio in recital the evening of June 2 at the Eastland High School. The program was well attended by an appreciative audience.

Marleece Elliot Kendrick substituted for Sally Cooper, who was called out of town by the death of a relative, in the quartet using two pianos and presenting Listz's Hungarian Rhapsody Number 2.

The program was smoothly rendered and all numbers were played from memory with the exception of the substitutions, Mrs. Taylor said and stated that she was well pleased with the way her pupils were received.

Decorations were of beautiful arrangements of white and pink gladioli in tall floor baskets, gift of Mrs. O. M. White. A harp and large golden notes placed over the piano completed the decorative theme.

Jana Weaver, Eileen Vaughan and Herby Weaver served as ushers.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Parker left Saturday for Red Stone, Colo., for the summer after having spent a few days here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wood.
