It's all over but the celebrations. That is the way Eastland people think of their hospital, or almost a year they have been working, giving, building and planning. Everybody knew Eastland was to have a hospital, but a few of us didn't know when. That question has been answered once and for all, for the hospital is now here and ready to serve.

Saturday night the big celebration begins. First thing is to be the big FREE barbecue at City Park. Everybody has been invited, and every worker is especially urged to come and bring his family. Walter Jetton of Fort Worth, will have charge of the feed, and Walter has never failed to get the job done.

Following the barbecue State Representative Jack Cox of Breckenridge will deliver an address. Jack is a good speaker, and you will not be disappointed if you hear him.

We are a pretty fair listener, and will hear Jack. But our real hobby is "barbecue." Hope Walter has plenty gravy to go with the feed. We have no idea what our capacity is, but after the tenth helping we don't plan to count any more. Far be it from us to appear just a little "hogish." And furthermore we want some of the others to get a little barbecue, too.

We have some kind of a financial colossus around here, who wants to play Santa Claus to the entire community. All we have to say is thank you sir, but you can make a quick job of this if you plan to us this dollar and a quarter a pound beef barbecue. It is as wonderful as it is expensive. Twice a year, we try barbecue, but on these occasions the other pays for it—we enjoy it. If we had to feed a thousand or so people all the barbecue they wanted, we would take bankruptcy before we began. Only retired millionaires should entertain such ideas.

We plan to be there, work fast, eat a lot, and enjoy it before this billionaire changes his mind. He has bitten off a big chunk and we don't mean maybe. Thought once we would invite Harry down to be our special guest, but why waste good beef barbecue on a Fair Dealer like Harry? And on second thought, whose barbecue is it—our or the billionaire's? As a matter of fact we are pretty lucky to get one invite for ourselves—the billionaire may have some other friends.

After the Saturday evening celebration we are to go home, get a good night's sleep, so we may be on time for the formal opening Sunday afternoon. The doors at the hospital will be open from 3 until 9 o'clock, and you are also invited to be there. Meet the new superintendent, Mrs. Alice Reed, and her associates.

Look YOUR hospital over and see if you think it is worth what it cost. Meet your friends and tell them what a good world we live in. And while you are doing this remember there are larger hospitals in these United States, but no better ones. Remember, too, that it has been bought and paid for—no outstanding bills against it. It will start with a clean slate, and a little cash register change as well. It is the Eastland Memorial hospital we are speaking of, so celebrate boy, celebrate. Nobody will stop you if you don't get too noisy.

Youth Week to Be Observed At Baptist Church

There were 126 individuals, including many young people, in attendance at the mid-week prayer service, and a special meeting called for the purpose of arranging for Youth Week, at First Baptist Church Wednesday evening.

During Youth Week younger people will have charge of all services, other than worship hours. They are to take over the Sunday School, Training Union, Prayer Meeting and the Brotherhood.

Hospital Gifts

Gifts continue for the hospital as follows: Mrs. J. A. Haynes, three pair pillow cases, six wash clothes and one bed pan; Mrs. C. W. Boles, one bed tray; Mrs. Foy True, one bed pan; anonymous, twelve sets individual salt and peppers; anonymous, Fifty Dollars cash; Dr. Jim Whittington, baby scales; Mrs. S. E. High, nine pot lifters and four pin cushions to be sold; Ione Sikes, eight cup electric percolators; H. E. Basham, three dollars electric equipment; Carbon '38 Study Club, ten bath towels; Mrs. J. R. Gilbreath; one infrared heating lamp and one heating pad.

Felix Rosser of Abilene is donating one whole year of free service of insect eradication. Mr. Rosser services many business houses and homes in Eastland, and says his service to the hospital will consist of eradication of ants, roaches and mice or rats. This will be appreciated, Mr. Rosser.

Jim Horton, Table model Zenith Radio for the super-duper patient room. D. High, Eastland's artist sign painter, is installing all numbers and lettering on the doors of the hospital. Each patient room has a number, and other rooms are named, such as nursery, X-ray, Kitchen, therapy, O. B., emergency, surgery doctors, laboratory, central supply and utility. The lettering has been cut from thin veneer board, each done by hand and beautifully stained a bronzed oak color. Thanks to D. High.

Mrs. Mary Mitchell, has given a ten foot Norge refrigerator to be installed in the laboratory.

For thirty six green stamp books which has been turned in, the committee received twenty-four complete settings of Rogers and Sons silver, in a beautiful pattern. There are knives, forks, spoons and salad forks.

For Six Blue Stamp books, we received one lamp for the waiting room and six place settings of china. More stamp books would be acceptable as these items need to be increased.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Woody gave ten dollars.

Willy-Willys Furniture Co. presented another gift of a double goose-neck lamp for the waiting room.

Mr. and Mrs. Flensy, one woolen blanket.

MacMoy's Clover Farm Grocery will give a basket of fruit.

Will Continue Revival at North Lamar Baptist

The revival now in progress at the North Lamar Baptist Church will continue each night next week, with services beginning at 7:45 each evening.

Interest and attendance are growing and a cordial invitation is extended to all to join in these services. The Lord's Supper will be observed Saturday night.

By Mrs. James Horton
Many anxious citizens are wondering: "Who will be the first patient in our new hospital." What can be done to pay him or her the honor?

It has been announced already that the hospital will be ready for patients early Monday morning, following the reception on Sunday. That the whole town might know when the first patient arrives, the City has agreed to blow three short blasts of the fire siren.

As we listen for these three short blasts, each of us as citizens will rejoice that finally in our little town, this patient who is perhaps suffering and in need, can receive the care he or she needs.

We will rejoice with mixed emotions, a triumphant pride in a job well done; the joy of success, sadness that some one is in need, yet thankfulness that someone can be cared for.

The Poe Floral Co. will present to the first patient a large arrangement of gladiolus and Hortons Ceramics will donate the container, one of their newest in modern design.

NO PRESCRIPTION—Following his declaration of war on the national Democratic Party Wednesday, Gen. Dwight Eisenhower told a press conference at Abilene that he has "no prescription" for bringing the Korean war to a successful end. Eisenhower, answering first questions at his first political press conference since returning from the Army said, "I do not believe our forces in Korea can carry through, but the ideological situation there makes retreat from present UN lines impractical." Congressman Charges Shivers Using Aliens in His Ranches

Representative John J. Rooney of New York says Rio Grande farmers are "consistently working illegal aliens" on their property and he has named names. Including among them are Governor Allan Shivers, whose mother-in-law has farms in the lower valley. Shivers replies that it is all a part of a Washington smear campaign.

Rooney, a Democrat, made his charges yesterday in a speech in the House of Representatives. He is supporting a one-million 400 thousand dollar increase proposed by the Senate for the immigration and naturalization service.

The New York Congressman says "it is impossible to believe that Governor Shivers could be ignorant of these 'wetback' conditions."

Rooney named some 20 Rio Grande Valley farmers who he says are disregarding the "wetback" laws. He says they are violently opposed to the immigration laws and do everything in their power to hamper border patrolmen and immigration officials.

furnish magazines, suitable to the likes of this first patient.

To encourage speedy recovery, Mr. and Mrs. Worley of the Majestic Theatre will furnish show tickets for the entire family for the picture of their choosing.

Toombs and Richardson Drug Store will deliver a box of linen note paper. This drug store also has a gift wrapped package ready to deliver to the first baby born in the hospital.

The Corner Drug Co. will send this first patient, one pound of chocolate candy.

Davis Maxey-Drug Co. will send over a bottle of cologne to the first patient and they also have waiting a comb and brush set for the first infant born in the hospital.

Eastland Drug Co. will fill the first prescription free of charge for this first patient.

Bordens Ice Cream Co. will deliver all the ice cream the patient can eat while in the hospital. All of the above items will be delivered by the donors soon after the blowing of the siren. And finally, from all the citizens of Eastland: "Our Blessings on Thee, our first patient."

Local Teacher To Attend N.E.A. Meet In Detroit

Mrs. Joe Stephen will join a party from over the state which will leave Denton Monday June 9th for an educational tour of twenty states and Canada. It is the second Traveling Workshop sponsored by TSCW and will take the group through industrial America seeing industry in action. There will be conferences with representatives from the NEA and from the U. S. office of Education, as well as from industry itself.

Among the places visited will be: The National Capital, the National Museum of Atomic Energy at Oak Ridge, Edison's Home, and laboratory, and anthracite coal mine. The Franklin Institute, glass factories, paper mills, food processing factories, and attend a Broadway play in New York. Historical places visited will be: Vicksburg, Jackson, Tuscaloosa, Birmingham, Chattanooga, Knoxville, Knoxville, Kichmorri, Washington D. C., Philadelphia, New York City, Pittsburgh, Niagara Falls, Toronto, Detroit, and St. Louis.

This is the course that has received wide commendation from leaders in education business, and industry—The name of which is "The Use of Industrial and Technological Resources in Teaching." The tour lasts one month, and culminates with participation in the meeting at Detroit of the National Education Association.

New Board Has Been Chosen by 1st Methodist

Homer Smith was elected chairman of the official board of the First Methodist Church for the new year of 1952-53 at a meeting of that board last night. Other officers elected were Hubert Jones, vice chairman, and Dr. R. N. Whitehead, secretary. Mr. Smith served at one time for six years as Sunday School Superintendent.

The regular monthly meeting was set for Monday after the first Tuesday of each month beginning in July. June meetings of the official board will be upon call of the chairman. Ed F. Willman, chairman of the finance committee, reported that the finance committee would meet Friday evening in the first of several meetings to work on recommendations for the new fiscal year.

V. H. Henderson is the new treasurer of the church, succeeding Earl Bender.

Japan's Labor Unions Call Third Strike

TOKYO, June 6 (UP)—Labor Unions in Japan have scheduled their third strike tomorrow in protest against the government's anti-subversive bill, now under consideration by the upper house of the Diet.

Police are taking extra precautions against possible violence.

Softball Game Is Postponed

The D.A.V. softball scheduled to be played on Saturday night of this week, has been postponed. This was done in order not to conflict with the Hospital Barbecue and Celebration.

The game will be played Tuesday night, June, 10th.

Brownwood Lady Dies of Injuries

Mrs. Alleta Rosenberg, 59-year-old Brownwood woman, died in a Fort Worth hospital yesterday of car accident injuries she received two weeks ago.

Mrs. Rosenberg was injured while enroute to Fort Worth to consult her doctor. Her car skidded on wet pavement and she was thrown from the vehicle.

Reserves Crude Oil, Natural Gas Increased in State in 1951

ABILENE, June 6.—Despite withdrawal of 593,926,857 barrels proven reserves of crude oil and natural gas liquids in West Texas were increased 485,000,000 barrels during 1951 according to a report prepared by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

The report, published in the current issue of the organization's magazine, West Texas Today, notes that the 132 counties served by it accounted for all except 123,000,000 barrels of the 608,000,000 barrels added to Texas reserves during the year.

This estimate was based on a conservative figure for the Sprberry Trend development because, as The Oil and Gas Journal declared, "development has covered but a fraction of the area considered productive and almost eligible for the 'proven category'."

Texas provided nearly half of 1,416,000,000 (b) barrels added to the reserves of the United States.

Of 14,342 wells completed in Texas during the year, 10,859 were in West Texas. The total of completions in the United States was 44,516.

Of the 44,516 wells completed, 23,453 were completed as oil wells and 3,030 as gas wells.

West Texas had 6,827 of the 10,856 oil wells completed in Texas.

Of the 3,030 gas wells completed in the entire country, 726 were in Texas and 339 in West Texas.

The report declared that "Powerful evidence of the tremendous risks made by the oil industry to discover the new reserves that America needs more than ever before, is the fact that 18,033 dry holes were drilled in the United States, 5,843 of them in Texas and 3,763 in West Texas, where deeper and deeper drilling costs hundreds of thousands of dollars per well in a rising percentage of cases.

"This ever-harder and more costly fight to find new reserves resulted in the opening of 311 new oil fields and 24 gas fields in West Texas within the year. The North Texas area, as designated by the Texas Railroad Commission, added 138 new fields, West Texas 61, West Central Texas 75 and the Panhandle two."

The great Permian Basin reservoirs gave up a total of 330,383,599 barrels of oil during the year.

The report covers an area beginning with Cooke County at the Red River, and takes in and includes all of the state west of the counties of Denton, Tarrant, Johnson, Bosque, Coryell, Burnet, Blanco, Gillespie, Kerr, Real, Edwards and Val Verde at the Rio Grande.

Senate Keeping Hands Off Steel Problems Today

The senate is keeping hands off any steel strike legislation until Monday, afraid of "rocking the boat" while negotiations are underway.

Democratic floor leader Ernest McFarland says he hopes the five-day-old strike will be settled by the time Monday rolls around.

McFarland has nothing official to go on, just the optimistic reports coming from the White House, where steel company and C-I-O representatives are meeting.

Some sources close to the bargaining talks report the negotiators really are making headway on wages.

Today's negotiating session was postponed for several hours to allow the industry group more time to discuss progress made yesterday.

Engaged Couple Killed in Wreck

GALVESTON, June 6 (UP)—A motorcycle-car collision on Galveston's seawall boulevard has killed a 25-year-old Houston man and his 19-year-old fiancée. The couple were to have married Sunday.

The victims are Bill Greathouse, driver of the motorcycle, and Gladys Daley of Galveston, who was riding behind him.

Their motorcycle collided with a car driven by Cecil Scott of Baytown. Neither Scott, nor his wife who was riding with him, was injured.

Russians Send U. S. 14 Million Dollar Phone Bill

Russia has eased its baby blockade at one point in Germany and pulled her sentries out of another sector, but has handed the United States a new economic headache.

The Russians pulled their armed sentries out of the Lake Griebnitz area, a United States sector on the border of Berlin and East Germany, just 24 hours before the deadline set for their ouster by American Authorities.

Yesterday American officials protested a Russian move isolating an American sector community in East Berlin. Today Russian troops are removing the felled trees which cut off the area. Red officials are issuing permits to the residents to visit West Berlin. However, the Reds refuse to let West Berliners return the visits.

The Russians also presented the United States with a bill for 14-million-dollars. The Reds say we owe them that for their services in keeping telephone lines open between West Germany and West Berlin. American officials say the move may be just an excuse the Russians use to cut the cables.

Jackets Take Hot Game From Breckenridge

Eastland Yellowjackets took another hot game from the Breckenridge Legion group at Cisco last night, though it was not a walk-over by any means. Boys on both teams played real baseball during the entire nine innings. The final score was 1-0 in favor of Eastland. Larry Miller was painfully injured, though probably not seriously injured, when he was hit in the eye with a ball. He was given medical attention.

Every boy on the team played his very best, for they know they were facing real competition. Rodney Stephen, pitcher, really played a wonderful game, it is said. Seems that he is rapidly developing into a real pitcher.

Quite a few Eastland people were in attendance, and others are urged to attend these games and boost for the "Jackets."

Blinded, Maimed Veterans to Get Free Automobiles

WASHINGTON, June 6 (UP)—The Veterans Administration says it will start authorizing money for blinded and maimed veterans to buy automobiles at government expense as soon as possible.

The agency was authorized last year to pay up to $1,600.00 for cars and other vehicles, but in the adjournment rush congress failed to appropriate the necessary money.

A 285-million-dollar supplemental appropriation signed by President Truman yesterday includes the necessary funds.

Little Items of Local Interest

A group of Eastland and Cisco citizens met here Thursday afternoon in the Woman's Club, all of whom were interested in obtaining the Community Concerts for Eastland and the surrounding area.

We have been asked to announce that the Corinth Church will have full time work in the future. The program was instituted on June, 1st. Rev. M. A. Erven is pastor.

Sunday School will be at 10:00 o'clock, preaching at 11 each Sunday morning. Training Union will be at 7:30 p.m.

Two Desserts with One Making

Here's an idea you'll want to try the next time you're having guests for luncheon, dinner, or buffet supper.

What you do is make a big, round, deep 10-inch layer of old-fashioned burnt sugar cake on company day. Simply put cake on a big, pretty serving plate with ivy leaves under cake for garnish. Carefully cut a circle out of the center; remove center, leaving a 3-inch outer ring. Frost ring with Creamy Orange Frosting. At serving time, heap ice cream into center of the ring cake, bring to table with a bowl of Party Butterscotch Sauce to spoon over ice cream.

What about the remaining center piece? Spread it, too, with the same frosting, cover and put away for dessert for the family the next day. When ready to serve, decorate the little cake with halves of seeded grapes or maraschino cherries. Serve with bowls of sugared sliced peaches or other fruits in season.

If you'd like to make your own cake plate for the little cake, turn a stemmed goblet upside-down, attach a small plate to bottom of goblet with bits of molding clay. Be sure both goblet and plate are dry.

Old Fashioned Burnt Sugar Cake
1/2 cup C and H cane brown sugar
1/2 cup boiling water
1 1/2 cups C and H cane granulated sugar
2 1/2 cups all purpose flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
1 1/4 teaspoons salt
1/2 cup shortening
2 eggs
1 cup cold water
1 teaspoon vanilla flavoring

First, make this burnt sugar syrup: Melt 1/2 cup brown sugar in heavy frying pan over low heat, stirring constantly. When sugar is dark and burnt in appearance, remove from heat, and at edge of pan slowly stir in 1/2 cup boiling water. Return burnt sugar to heat and boil gently, about 5 minutes, until thickened. Cool.

Next, make the cake: Cream shortening, and gradually cream in 1 1/2 cups granulated sugar until light and fluffy. Stir in eggs, one at a time, beating well each time. Measure and

NEWS FROM CHEANEY

Mrs. Bill Tucker

We went, we saw, we came back empty handed, as most fishermen do, usually speaking.

Anyway it was our first time to see or be near Possum Kingdom dam and fish ponds.

Fish never would bite for us so we went wading with the little kids and sanded flat stones on the top of the water. They sometimes skipped 2 to 4 times before sinking, depending on the power behind them.

We also watched a colony of small brown birds building mud nests underneath an arch of the Highway 80 bridge, and a big water moccasin as he slithered to a stop and poked his head above the water while fish fed all around him on the sandy sunlit river bottom.

All this on Monday when we, the better half and I, accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Fred Joiner and family, and the kids, Billy Margaret Tucker from Jal, New Mexico, and carried a picnic lunch and spent the day together.

The cares of getting the cotton and peanuts in the ground were forgotten for a few hours. But very little fishing was done and the only fish brought back were given to us.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Blackwell were certainly rushed this closing school season with three graduates, Edward, an 8th grader, Berle Jean from Ranger Junior College and Ray from Abilene Christian.

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Finncannon and daughter of Lamesa were recent visitors in the Gene Ferrell home. Bob Finncannon, their son, was a Korean buddy of Lester (Sonny) Ferrell and the families are good friends.

Sonny and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rogers attended a rodeo Saturday night in Snyder and ran across a number of boys he knew overseas.

Guests on Saturday in the Oliver Galloway home were his parents and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Galloway and Mrs. Elwanda Robertson and family of Ranger, and another sister Mrs. Floyd Wallace and family of Hamlin.

Mrs. Electra Hattox and Edwin were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Ferrell.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Underwood Buri and Vonnice Shook of Fort Worth were visiting relatives over the week end.

Mrs. Carl Lee of Ranger visited her sister, Mrs. Cicero Rogers on Sunday and all attended church services at Cheaney.

Sunday was the 39th wedding anniversary of both girls, Mrs. Cam Lee passed away a few years ago, and this was the only shadow on an otherwise pleasant day together both for Calbe and Emma.

Visitors Sunday in the John Tucker home were Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Box, Mary Ella and William Richard, from Kentucky and Mrs. Mary Tucker, her mother. The Boxes visited Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Box in Eastland before starting their return trip to Kentucky on Monday.

A picnic and weiner roast on Wednesday evening between the hours of five and seven thirty, May 25th honoring Loresta Wallace on her birthday was hosted by her aunt, Mrs. John Love, who provided the birthday cake with candles for the occasion.

The group who had games and roasted weiners down on the branch were Gaynell Blackwell, Ronnie and Joy Love, Hulien Perrin, Kathy and Randall Rogers, Helen and Charlene Blackwell, Jerry, Rita, and Jessie Underwood, and Jack, Dale and Beth Wilson.

Our young neighbor, Ira Jake Wilson, was a patient at the Ran-

Small House with Custom Touches

This house on a typical suburban lot can be bought complete, except for fences, for $14,000 in the San Francisco area. It has 1,114 sq. ft. of enclosed space, and its features include paved terrace, fenced storage yard, private garden, storage room, double carport, and completely equipped kitchen. The price is based on quantity production by the builder. On your own lot it would cost about $16,000, and in other parts of the country an additional 10 percent for a larger heating plant and more insulation. As shown in House Beautiful magazine's special issue "Guide for the Bride," this house is completely fabricated of slab and plywood on a concrete slab floor.

GOOD HEALTH

1. IS STOMACH CANCER CURABLE?
Stomach cancer is curable if diagnosed and treated early. Improved surgical methods, aided by transfusion of blood, better anesthesia and antibiotics, have helped in curing the disease. These improvements have come about in the last twenty years, especially in the last ten. With recurring abdominal symptoms, see your doctor.

2. WHAT IS GOUT?
Gout is a disease resulting from disorders in metabolism that produce swelling and pain in any joint of the body, particularly the big toe. Your doctor can give you

3. IS SKIMMED MILK A VALUABLE FOOD?
Skimmed milk has all the properties of regular milk except milk fat and is therefore a valuable food. It is especially useful in reducing diets. Whole milk is preferable for children and adults who are underweight, but if skimmed milk is used the milk fat can be replaced in the diet by butter, oleomargarine, or other fats if desired.

Although Ram Nath was born in 1940, as evidenced by the 26-foot-long Sanskrit birth certificate above, he recently retired from Ford Motor Co., Detroit, Mich., after 23 years of service. Nath cleared 23 years of service. Nath cleared the Indian year of 1940 corresponds to the English year 1884.

Richard Tucker, recently back from Hobbs, N. M., fell and injured a knee-cap necessitating the use of crutches for a few days.

Mrs. Mary Tucker and Claude moved back this weekend from Hobbs, N. M. They will occupy the Hattie Love house while she is away visiting the Love children.

Mrs. John Love was in Abilene Tuesday for a periodical session of Farm Bureau Insurance agents, at the Wooten Hotel, under the supervision of Maurice Howell.

This writer spent the day last Friday assisting Mrs. K. Jameson in the Red Cross office at Eastland. A number of other workers have contributed one or more hours, at intervals, to this work.

Mrs. John Blackwell, near Staff, was a Cheaney Church visitor Sunday morning. John left for Massachusetts, where he will be employed as an operator for Consolidated Pipeline Co. Mrs. Blackwell is visiting in Lubbock this week.

Alias Basil Willing

By Helen McCloy

THE STORY: Dr. Basil Willing had trailed an impostor to a party at the home of another psychiatrist, Dr. Zimmer. When Basil talks to the little man who has been using his name, the faker asks for a chance to explain. Basil does not reveal his identity to the host, but accompanies the impostor to a cafe, but before the man can explain he dies talking about a place where "no bird sang."

DR. ZIMMER came into the room. A dark silk dressing gown, its belt tightly cinched at the waist, set off his broad shoulders and long flanks. Basil spoke first.

"This is Inspector Foyle, Dr. Zimmer. I am Basil Willing. Zimmer smiled with sudden amusement. "Just how many Dr. Willings are there?"

"This is the real Dr. Willing," Foyle showed his badge to Zimmer. "The other Willing was the impostor."

"And you were the one I picked as a faker?" Zimmer's smile faded. "It must be a serious matter if the police are taking it up."

"It is serious," said Foyle. "Murder."

Zimmer himself took the wing chair beside the hearth now cold and bare. "It's hard to believe that little man capable of murder."

"He wasn't the murderer," said Basil. "He was the victim. And he died half an hour after he left your house. I was with him. He showed the usual symptoms of alkaloid poisoning. False gait and physical relaxation, followed by drowsiness and mental confusion."

"Morphine!" "Or its methyl compound, codeine."

"You're a doctor of medicine?" put in Foyle.

"Yes. Like Dr. Willing, I specialize in psychiatry," Zimmer turned back to Basil. "I'm sure you will agree that in some cases morphine produces lethargy and coma, while in others it causes delirium and convulsions. You can't even rely on the time element."

"Most murderers are not medical men," responded Basil. "And in either case—morphine or codeine—one thing is fairly certain: the first symptoms of a fatal dose appear in 20 to 40 minutes."

"THIS time Zimmer's smile was rueful. "You are thinking of the cocktails he drank here."

Zimmer turned to Foyle. "As Dr. Willing will tell you, all the cocktails came out of one silver pitcher. So, if he were poisoned here, it must have been after his own glass was filled."

"Each glass was a different color," Foyle explained to Foyle. "So once he had taken his glass, it could always be identified as his."

"He was standing alone when Otto served him his first cocktail," said Zimmer. "The only people near him while he was drinking the second were Mrs. Yorke and . . ."

"Myself?" Basil smiled. "It doesn't have to be Mrs. Yorke or me. He left his cocktail on a table for several minutes while he was talking to us and then finished it. Anyone might have passed that table except Miss Shaw and you. I was watching you both at the time."

"Are you sure he wasn't poisoned before he came here?" suggested Zimmer.

Basil shook his head. "The first symptom appeared as he and I left the house and walked toward the avenue—a rather foolish euphoria. He had been here at least 30 minutes. He was poisoned here."

"But that's quite impossible!" protested Zimmer earnestly. "None of my guests is capable of such a thing. Perhaps he mistook some sleeping pills he had for vitamin capsules or some other medicine he was in the habit of taking before dinner. Who would want to kill a man like that, anyway?"

"A man like what?" demanded

Foyle. "That's the other reason we're here: we have no idea who or what he was."

"I was speaking in general terms. I meant a man who seemed so timid and inoffensive. I never had seen him before tonight."

"How did you happen to invite him to dinner?"

"He came as a guest of another guest, Miss Katherine Shaw," Zimmer said.

Basil's attention kindled. "The elderly lady who is lame and blind?"

"Yes. She spoke to you, didn't she?" Zimmer grow thoughtful. "She was sitting here by the fire when you first came in. She must have heard me say I identified you by a process of elimination. Did she mistake you for the man she had invited as Willing?"

BASIL nodded. "Probably. She told me my voice was different tonight. Afterward she looked quite ill with shock when a thirteenth guest was announced as Willing."

"I remember," said Zimmer. "She was so surprised she dropped her stick and I picked it up. She asked me who you were then. I didn't want to worry her by telling her there was a gate-crasher in the room so I told her you were a friend of my sister's."

"Did she know that I and the other Willing left the house before dinner?"

"She discovered it. At table she asked me where Dr. Willing was sitting. I told her he had been called to his hospital. Then she asked me what had become of my sister's friend. I told her that he was not at dinner—that he had just dropped in for a cocktail. She spoke as if she honestly believed the impostor was Dr. Willing—or an I imagining that!"

"But why would an impostor wish to pass himself off as Basil Willing to anyone like Miss Shaw?" Foyle was thinking aloud.

Zimmer sighed. "I suppose you will have to question her, but please spare her as much as you can. She's 86 years old, clinging to life by sheer force of will."

Wooden Lumber Schooner Gives Challenge To Davy Jones' Locker

SAN PEDRO, Calif. (UP)—The auditor for Davy Jones who checks off the names of old dead ships can revise his books.

Opposite the name Daisy Gray he now probably has the notation "dead." He can change that to read "resurrected as the Dorteia."

The Daisy Gray came into San Pedro harbor in November, 1950, on what appeared to be the last leg of her journey to the ship graveyard. She was the last of the wooden lumber schooners. She lay in port for 15 months, gathering barnacles and rotting at the seams.

The faithful old lady is ready to drag her ancient pine hull to sea again and the happiest man to hear about is Capt. Aksel Backman of San Pedro, who skippered the Daisy Gray for almost 27 years.

The Daisy Gray was built in 1923 at Portland Ore. The 225-foot schooner cost $225,000 and she made history as a 10-year-old when she became the first oceangoing cargo ship to navigate the man-made channel to Stockton, Calif.

After that she was one of the busiest lumber schooners of all time, docking here 284 times.

Capt. Backman took his ship in to just about every port on the west coast and she never met with an accident. She carried 1,350,000 board feet of lumber.

She won't be carrying lumber when she returns to sea. She will have steel and other cargo destined for Manzanilla, Mexico.

Her new owner, E. B. Loughran of Seattle, Washington plans to operate her under a Panamanian flag hauling freight between ports from South America to the Pacific northwest.

She will have the new name, Dorteia.

With her clanking engines and eight-knot speed, the ship is a throwback to the era of the steam schooner, which stretched roughly from 1890 to 1940. Steam schooners reached their zenith in the late 1920's when 167 were listed as engaged in west coast trade.

Steel hulls began replacing wooden ones after World War I, although they never became really popular among steam schooner owners.

Old-time seamen claimed the steel schooners had no resiliency when unloaded and lost their rivets to the wind and water.

Vikings Got Here First, Researcher Believes
NEWPORT, R. I. (UP)—New measurements of Newport's controversial "Old Stone Mill," using an ancient Scandinavian "foot," lend support to the theory that the stone relic was built by exploring Vikings centuries before Columbus discovered America.

Bank That Money Detective Warns

AKRON, O. (UP) — It used to be fear of bank failure but now it's fear of the tax gatherer that makes people hide their cash and valuables under the mattresses and under the dressers.

That's the conclusion of John Struzenski, detective captain, who says Akronites have about $5,000,000 hidden in and around their homes, just waiting for the wily burglar to trace it.

He said the number of burglaries were large sums of money are taken from homes is going up, with the case of the New England baby sitter who took $25,000 as an extreme example.

No very large burglary has been reported here so far, Struzenski said, "but we expect one any day."

Hybrid Corn Is Now in Demand

COLLEGE STATION, June.—Seed of Texas 15W, a new white corn hybrid developed by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, will be available for planting by Texas farmers in 1953.

Under comparative tests in experimental plots over the State the past two years, Texas 15W has produced higher yields than any white hybrid now sold.

The new hybrid was developed by Dr. John S. Rogers and his co-workers in the corn breeding program, according to Station Director R. D. Lewis, Rogers also developed Texas 14W, heretofore the most popular white hybrid for Texas growing conditions, and Texas 26, 28 and 30, high-yielding, yellow hybrids.

Since Texas 15W does not have as good shuck coverage as Texas 11W, it is better adapted to the Blackland Prairie than it is to the more humid area of East Texas and the Gulf Coast. However, it is not objectionable to either of these areas and has produced yields as high or higher than 11W in both locations. Texas 15W is not as resistant to ear worms and ear stalks as Texas 11W but the stalks will stand up slightly better in the field.

Poppies Want Fire Or Won't Grow

SAN LUIS OBISPO, Calif. (UP)—Some species of California's state flower—the poppy—have to have a fire built under them before they will grow.

Dr. Phillip Munz, director of the Rancho Santa Ana botanic garden, says some of the tree poppies of California require extremely high temperatures to crack the seed coat and allow the seeds to germinate.

Munz said at the botanic garden the seeds are planted in flats with three inches of straw. Then the straw is set afire to make the seeds pop open.

Movie Big Shots Tell Methods of Handling Women

Some celebrated Hollywood men have revealed their secrets on one way to get along with women. Here are some samples of the male stars' favorite ways to win an argument with a woman:

Hard boiled Humphrey Bogart is a bit sheepish about it. He says, "I just grab my hat and run when an argument starts."

Handsome Tyrone Power resorts to bribery with his wife, Linda Christian. Ty says, "I always keep a present hidden around the house so I can produce it in emergencies."

Young Star Rory Calhoun thinks the best way in an argument with a woman is to be menacing. Calhoun says—"I start cleaning my rifle. It gives me peace of mind and has a quieting effect on the woman."

Cary Grant is the strong silent type. He says, "I agree with them till they come to their senses."

Big, Burly William Bendix is cautious. He explains, "I wait until my wife is finished. Then I say "yes dear."
