The second primary has come and gone, and while no fatalities have been reported, at least 50 per cent of the candidates wish they had their money back. The other 50 per cent hope to get theirs during coming months and years.

Bud May of the Mangrum community, big game hunter, tells us this one: He has eight hound dogs in a pen near his home, and one fine pup running at large. The pup feeling sorry for the hounds, got out and rounded up a large fox that he followed directly up to the pen. The fox figured he was in a tight place went up into the first tree he saw. So happened the tree was in the pen with the 8 hounds, but the fox managed to grab a limb of the tree that happened to be hanging outside the enclosure. He climbed to safety, so far as the pup was concerned, but when he spotted the 8 fox hounds below, he knew the jig was up. And sure enough it was, for Will may give it a personal execution.

Seems like there are lot of Taft followers who just won't forgive and forget. Actually some of them prefer Harry and the New and Fair Deals to anything Ike may have. Well, that's their business, but they are using school-boy judgment, and we are apologizing to the school boys. Ike is not to be thought of in the light of "Deity", but he is recognized as an honest and truthful gentleman, fully capable of filling the office to which his aspired, with honor to himself and voters as well.

Just a bunch of bad losers. However, Ike will win despite their narrowness. Fact is we have nearly enough Democrats in Texas to elect Eisenhower. They have, in a way, named their state officials from Governor down, and in November are going to the polls and put Ike in. They have had enough of Harry and Fairdealism.

Adlai has been shunning and snubbing Harry ever since he got the nomination. He doesn't want his assistance, for his defeat will be bad enough, without Harry adding insult to injury by insisting on running the show. When Adlai told our governor that he would continue his efforts to steal our tidelands, he was talking when he should have been listening. He simply told Texas where to go, and for this reason Texas will see to it that he does not get any nearer Washington than he is right now.

We have known all along that Taft had a few supporters who tried stealing, but they didn't get by with it. Their "stunts" were so revolting that fair minded Republicans "cleaned house" during the National Convention. Adlai should like warning, America is tired of crooked politics and political skulduggery, and more and more are they voting for the "man" and not the "party."

Pastor Bailey of First Methodist Church, Eastland, has informed us that their Youth Revival has been successful from every point of view. They have had conversions, "special service." The Church has been elevated spiritually, and the younger group has realized their duties.

Game Warden Is Rotary Speaker

Dr. J. H. Caton gave a "pep" talk to Rotarians Monday, with reference to new subjects very clear, and this will no doubt, be responsible to adding some new names.

Dr. Jas. Whittington introduced the speaker for the day, M. S. Dry, State Game Warden, who gave a number of timely suggestions to hunters and fishers.

Dove season opens September, 1st at 12 o'clock noon and will close October 10. Bag limit is 10 birds on any day.

He spoke at length on "conservation" of game, and pointed out share of "poachers." Especially is this true of many of our deer hunters, who kill deer unlawfully. Some of them hunt at night, and use bright lights, which are unlawful. Also we have some individuals here who know no season, but hunt and kill deer every month in the year, he said.

If all our people were law abiding there would be a deer in this county for every legal hunter, every year, he pointed out.

Drouth and a shortage of water and protection, has reduced the number of game birds here.

The question of seining the Eastland lake was brought up. Water is very low and it will be only a few days until fish will begin dying. Under proper supervision the lake will be seined, with the large breeders likely going to the Possum Kingdom Hatchery, and most of the smaller ones to Leon Lake where they will be held in reserve to stock the new Eastland-Ranger lake.

The program was appreciated.

Youth Saves Ex-President From Burning

BISHOP, Calif., Aug. 26 (UP)—A vacationing youth was praised Tuesday for saving Herbert Hoover's life by smashing his way into a burning cabin and waking the former president minutes before flames destroyed the building.

Witnesses reported that only the quick work of Bill Jenney, 21, of Los Angeles, Calif., saved the 78-year-old ex-President and four friends from being trapped in their Silver Lake Mountain Lodge, about 90 miles north of this high Sierras community.

Mr. Hoover, the only living ex-President, was spending a brief fishing vacation as a guest of Nate Milnor, wealthy Los Angeles importer, when flames enveloped the lodge Sunday night.

Mr. Hoover and the others already had retired for the night when the fire broke out. Jenney, however, saw the flames from his cabin, a few hundred yards away.

The youth rushed to the Milnor cabin, broke a screen door to get in and awaken Mr. Hoover, Milnor, Mrs. Milnor, Albert C. Mattei, president of the Honolulu Oil Corp. of San Francisco, and a houseboy.

Flames temporarily blocked escape through the cabin's roadside exit. But they were able to leave through a lake side entrance and climbed into outboard motorboats. Motors on the boats had been dismounted for the night so the group paddled out onto the lake.

The cabin was destroyed by the fire within 10 minutes.

"I am very grateful to be out alive," Mr. Hoover said later while boarding a plane for San Francisco.

Youth Revival At Methodist Church Closes

The youth revival at the First Methodist Church was a wonderful success according to Rev. J. Morris Bailey, pastor.

John Whately surrendered his life to the call of God to preach the gospel. He will enter college next month to begin his studies for the ministry. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Whately.

Rev. James R. Holdridge, pastor of Saint Paul's Methodist Church of Breckenridge, who was visiting song leader for the revival, volunteered to offer his services to the Methodist Board of Missions for short term service in India.

Alice Joyce Cushman re-affirmed her desire to serve for three years in Methodist missionary work in Latin America after she completes her college degree. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Cushman.

There were four to unite with the church and many who came for rededication or to profess faith in Jesus Christ as personal Saviors. Rev. Raymond M. Burton was the youth revival preacher. Rev. W. J. Wilner, and Rev. Joe Stamey were others who assisted in the youth revival.

Seven Die In B-29 Mishap

SHREVEPORT, Aug. 26 (UP)—Seven airmen died in the fiery crash of a B-29 in an attempt to make an emergency landing at Barksdale Air Force base late Monday.

One "severely burned" man survived the ill-fated routine training flight, base officials reported. Investigators found one propeller had been "feathered," indicating engine trouble.

Witnesses said the big plane swooped over the sprawling base in what appeared to be a normal landing route, crashed in a field just short of the runway, and burst into flames immediately. Fire-fighting crews and ambulances dashed to the spot at once but only one crewman could be saved, officials reported. Identities of the airmen involved were withheld until next of kin could be notified.

Creamery Under New Operators

Eastland Creamery, known by many in the past as Kilgore's, has changed hands, and while Mr. Kilgore retains a share in the new firm, J. T. Gregory is co-owner and manager.

In the past Borden products have been sold—milk and ice cream, and for the time being Borden Milk and cream will still be sold, however, the company will not distribute ice cream in the future, but limit themselves to other dairy products, according to a statement by Mr. Gregory.

New owners today began packing milk in their new containers, known as "Pure-Pak". These containers are sanitary and very convenient to handle and store. Of course some bottles will also be used.

Eastland Creamery has nine employees, and operates five large refrigerator trucks, and they are busy all the time. Each day hundreds and thousands of quarts of milk go out from the Eastland plant to dealers in Eastland, Ranger, Cisco, Breckenridge, Carbon, Rising Star, Gorman and Brownwood.

The plant is located at 304 S. Green Street, and you are invited to pay them a visit.

No Relief Seen For 100 Million Dollar Drouth

By United Press

The $100 million Texas drouth and heat wave has killed two more persons, raising the toll to 21, and no relief was in sight for the stricken state.

Other parts of the Southwest found some respite, however.

Temperatures were from 5 to 15 degrees above normal in the Colorado-Wyoming area, but Monday's highs were only 98 at both La Junta, Colo., and Sheridan, Wyo. There was no precipitation except for traces in Wyoming.

General light rain fell throughout Kansas, however, and over western Missouri and showers were predicted through noon Tuesday.

Missouri had a comfortable maximum temperature reading of 87 degrees at West Plains, which also recorded the state low minimum of 51. It was 101 at Garden City, Kansas' hottest spot.

Oklahoma heated up after a cool weekend with a sizzling 106 degrees temperature recorded at Hobart. The forecast was for fair and hot with a few thin, scattered showers in the western portion of Oklahoma.

Texas, the mercury was expected to soar over the 100-degree mark Tuesday for the 40th consecutive day. About the only remaining heat record still unbroken fell Monday at Dallas, the 35th consecutive day of 100-or-worse temperatures for the city this year.

A. M. Hamrick, for 12 years meteorologist in charge of the Dallas Weather Bureau, taunted his successor, Carl Harrison, by mail from Hamrick's new home in Eagle Nest, N. M.

Hamrick said Eagle Nest had a high of 82 and a low of 30 for the period between Aug. 1 and 17, inclusive. For the same period of time, Dallas chalked up a 107 maximum and a 74 minimum, Harrison admitted.

Both heat deaths reported in Texas Monday, the 20th and 21st, were in Gonzales. They were Arnezia Inez Ollison Gray, about 50, who collapsed and died while picking cotton; Carmen Ornelas, about 60, stricken at the Gonzales cotton oil mill.

Monday's high temperature in Texas was 106 degrees at Fort Worth, Mineral Wells, Wichita Falls and Childress.

He and Mrs. Robertson are to move to Breckenridge this week, where both have accepted positions as teachers in the Breckenridge high school.

The Carbon school, according to announcements, will open on Tuesday, Sept. 3, though members of the school board will have to fill several teaching posts, if this is done.

First Tropical Storm Is Found

MIAMI, Fla., Aug. 26 (UP)—The first tropical storm of the season to show hurricane-like indications whipped the Atlantic with 45-mile per hour winds in the Caribbean area Tuesday.

A Navy hurricane-hunter plane found signs of the circular movement of hurricanes in the vast, squally area moving west, northward at about 14 miles per hour.

The U. S. weather bureau here in an advisory estimated the center to be 330 miles northeast of San Juan, Puerto Rico, and predicted it would continue to move in its present path during the next 12 hours.

The weather bureau said previous observations indicated the storm is "slowly intensifying."

Texas Aggie Track Stars Receive Medals

COLLEGE STATION, Aug.—One of Col. Frank Anderson's top thrills was watching his two Texas Aggie track stars receive their Olympic medals in Helsinki, Finland this summer.

Col. Andy, veteran track coach at A. and M., can remember no greater moment in his career than when Walt "Budy" Davis and Darrow Hooper stood on the platform after their great Olympic performances.

Davis who threatened the world high jump record in the Southwest Conference meet this past spring with a leap of six feet, 10 1/2 inches, won the Olympics and set a new record with a jump of six feet, 8.22 inches.

Hooper, who'll be a senior and the offensive left end for the Aggie gridlers this year, was nosed out by inches in the shot put. His effort of 57 feet, .65 inches, good for second place, was barely shy of the winning toss by Parry O'Brien, Southern California. Anderson believes the terrific rivalry between O'Brien and Hooper is one of the greatest in modern track. He says their competition is always the featured one at track meets since both will be back for another year, the rivalry will be much more interesting next spring.

The veteran track and field mentor returned to the campus this week after spending the past two and a half months on tour with a group sponsored by the Track and Field News. After attending the national meets in California in June, Col. Andy joined the 40-man tour in New York where the group flew to London.

After visiting in London, Copenhagen, Hamburg and Stockholm, Anderson and his colleagues arrived at the Olympics in Helsinki where they were quartered in private homes.

In addition to seeing what he termed "the greatest and best organized of any of the three Games I have seen," Col. Andy enjoyed a visit with his wife and son, Frank, Jr., in Paris. His son, a medical student at Galveston, toured Europe with a veteran. Anderson this summer. Col. Andy also visited his other son, Wilter, at Annapolis before leaving for the Games.

The coach was impressed with the efficient manner in which the Finns operated the Olympics and also in their manner of entertaining the visitors at the Games.

"We were treated very warm. We found no fault with the Finns. They're the greatest hosts I've ever seen in my travels. They think more of the Americans than does any other nation and they're with us to the last man."

The coach, who has had a split tenure as track head here, said the food was plentiful and reasonable, "much cheaper than our prices here in the U. S."

Anderson was coach here from 1922 to 1935 when he became commandant of the A. and M. ROTC. He also served in World War II and returned as Aggie track coach in 1946.

His greatest thrills, before the 1952 Olympics, were his winning the Southwest conference title in 1922, his first year as coach, and all the SW titles his Aggies wrapped up. Andy also mentioned other high points of his life—his marriage and his first new car after driving several used Model-Ts.

But all these must be shoved aside when he's thinking of watching Davis and Hooper climb those steps to world fame at Helsinki.

Hollywood Film Shop

By BEN COOK

United Press Staff Correspondent HOLLYWOOD, UP—The usual movie Cinderella story is about a pretty, hard-working girl who is standing behind a department store ribbon counter when a producer spots her and, taken with her beauty, converts her overnight into a screen glamour queen.

Today we have another kind of Cinderella story. This one is about Anthony Numkena. A year ago he was an average American boy, attending grade school nearby in Culver City, playing baseball after school with his pals and going to the matinee on Saturday afternoons.

Now, at the age of nine, wearing only a pair of moccasins, a breech cloth and a turkey-feathered headband, he is playing the part of Tyrone Power's adopted Indian son in "Pony Soldier" at 20th Century-Fox.

The picture is his screen debut but the other day he carried off his first scene like a veteran. A group of Cree warriors was bent upon dispatching Power to the Happy Hunting Grounds and Tony snaked through the undergrowth towards the hand of bloodthirsty Indians, powwowing around a campfire. He whipped out his bow and arrows and in quick succession knocked off three of the braves. Then he leaped on his horse and galloped off through the forest.

Trained For It

Tony's conversion was not really an overnight matter—any more than the conversion of a working girl to a glamour queen. For most

A serious boy of Hopi and Yaki-Indian descent, Tony is considered by Joseph Newman, director, as the acting find of the semester. He won his coveted role after the most intense talent searches of recent years, during which Newman and Samuel G. Engel, producer, interviewed more than 500 other youthful screen hopefuls.

The day he was tabbed for the job, Tony also engineered an acting assignment for his father, Anthony Sr.

"You need good Indian actors in this picture, don't you?" he asked Engel.

"That's right," Engel admitted. "Well, sir," said Master Numkena, "my father is a fine actor."

"This summer, I have put in a great many extra hours of work for my customers every day.
"Air conditioners, attic fans, evaporative coolers, and portable fans have been going full blast around the clock — 24 hours a day practically every day. High temperatures and lack of rainfall have combined to make it an exceptionally hot summer. Electric refrigerators have had to call on their reserve power to keep food fresh and wholesome at constant temperatures under 40 degrees and to maintain ready supplies of ice cubes and cooling beverages.
"Some electric bills may be higher during such extreme hot weather because of this extra work, but now — when you're able to stay cool and comfortable in spite of the heat — is when your electric service really proves to be the biggest bargain in your home."

Eight Boys Get Awards In Model Contest

DETROIT, Mich., August 19—Eight boys who showed unusual skill in the design and construction of model cars were awarded grand national awards of university scholarships in the annual competition of the Fisher Body Craftsman's Guild. They now join 107 other members of the body by Fisher Hall of Fame who won scholarships in previous competitions.

Before a group of distinguished scientists, educators and industrialists, the 1952 winners in the 22-year-old model competition were announced by Dr. George J. Fisher, National Boy Scout Commissioner and Honorary President of the Craftsman's Guild.

The winners were: JUNIOR DIVISION: 1st Award—$4,000 Gerald Grabchski, Elizabeth, New Jersey; 2nd Award—$3,000 William A. Keyser, Jr., Perrysville, Pa.; 3rd Award—$2,000 William Anderson, Hood River, Oreg.; 4th Award—$1,000 Robert C. Relyea, Delmar, New York. SENIOR DIVISION: 1st Award—$4,000 William D. Morgan, New Albany, Ind.; 2nd Award—$3,000 Clare N. Mahannah, St. Paul, Minn.; 3rd Award—$2,000 Charles J. Burton, Arkansas City, Kan.; 4th Award—$1,000 James R. Powers, Lubbock, Texas.

Almost every section of the country was represented among the scholarship winners, who had to come up through state and regional competitions to reach the topmost achievement for model builders. Several of them were regional winners in the 1951 competition. Announcement of the award winners with the highlight of the first day of the Guild's four-day convention and was made amid all the pomp and ceremony that the nation's motor capital bestow upon the youthful craftsmen. University presidents, scientists, and superintendents of public schools from some of the larger cities who comprise the Guild's Honorary Board of Judges and Advisory Board mingled with executives of the automobile industry to pay honor to the group in the grand ballroom of Detroit's swank Sheraton-Cadillac Hotel.

L. G. Goad, executive vice president of General Motors, interviewed the winners over a national radio and television network, carrying to thousands of Guild members throughout the country the news and inspiration of the event.

Each boy had spent an average of 500 hours of his spare time in the design and construction of his model car. Each proudly carried his car into the banquet room to display it as the festivities began. They were all original designs, each boys idea of what the motorcar of tomorrow should look like, and were various colors. Some were carved from wood. All had the excellent craftsmanship necessary to produce a winner.

The judges, of the competition, who were members of the Central Motors Styling Section, industrial arts instructors from Detroit schools, and the Guild Technical Department, were unanimous in stating that the quality of the models entered his year was very high.

On the first day of the convention, the boys visited GM Styling Section to see how the professionals went about their work. After having luncheon at the Detroit Athletic Club they took a short trip through Canada before preparing for the award banquet.

The remainder of the week will be spent at Detroit's Old Club on Harsen's Island in Lake St. Clair.

Texas Boy Designers Win

WINNERS in the annual model car competition of the Fisher Body Craftsman's Guild are Charles R. Foreman (upper right), of San Angelo, who took first state honors in the Junior Division (ages 12 through 15), and James R. Powers of Lubbock, whose beautiful model car won first in the Senior Division (ages 16 through 19). Each received a cash award of $150. Both boys' models went on to take regional honors and a chance to win a university scholarship.

Dr. Cox has already made known his intention to wage a vigorous campaign for a $50 per capita legislative appropriation when the legislature convenes. The department is now operating on about $20 per capita, far beneath the national average of $62 per capita.

He said that is the reason he has been obliged to accept federal funds to keep the state's public health standards up to par. But it is a situation which can be corrected, he believes.

"If the legislature agrees to appropriate $50 per capita to operate on, then we'll be in a better position to use federal funds for supplementing the state's program."
