We have been wondering what the State Fair at Dallas is going to use for agricultural exhibits this year. Of course Eastland is not the only county in the state where drouth has wrecked havoc, though, we may be just a little dryer here than they are in some sections.

Very few Texas counties are advertising banner crops, and the showing generally will have to be rather inferior, to say the least. A few weeks ago we could have shown some pretty fair livestock, though there is a different picture today. "Waterless" cattle never took blue ribbons at anybody's fair, and ours are "grassless" too.

Fuel should be no object next year, for there will be plenty for all. By the time we get through chopping and grubbing up our dead shade and fruit trees and hedges, there will be plenty of good wood and to spare. Our fruit trees have long since turned their toes toward the lilies, though we cared for them as long as we could, but we gave up when the "waterless agricultural" expert told us they would do just as well without water as with it. They didn't.

However, we suppose it was just as well that they died in July as in August. Our shade trees in the future are to be of the artificial type which need no water. Just a light coat of green paint each spring, and they will look like new.

Next week the Baptists are to start their Annual Fall Revival, with Pastor Rathel doing the preaching. Better plan to attend, and maybe you will get something free. They tell us that Salvation is "free", and so far as we can recall, that is the only thing on earth that is free.

This is probably why "Salvation" is a drag on the market—so cheap people figure there is nothing to it. Close investigation will reveal the truth, and next week will be the proper time to hear the truth. Admission free, singing will be good, and the Gospel messages will help to strengthen and encourage you during these trying days. Also it may make it possible for you to arrange for a passport to Heaven.

The new Grand Jury was sworn in Wednesday, and from the number of prospective witnesses on hand, we will not be surprised if that inquisitorial body doesn't vote some rather important bills of indictment.

The only trouble with grand jurors is that they never consult us about anything. They pump everybody in the county, have a splendid time, and then go home leaving us to find out what happened the best way we can. Just doesn't seem fair.

We have received several letters this week, and some of them were interesting. However, they all were minus a signature. When we get an unsigned letter we figure something is wrong, otherwise the writer would have signed his name.

We can not and will not publish unsigned letters. We do not have to publish your name, and will withhold the signature when requested to do so. But we must know who did the writing. An unsigned letter is just about as senseless as city gossip. When some fellow comes along as says "they tell me..." we figure he is either lying or doesn't know what he is talking about. You ask him "Who is they?" and he will swallow his Brown Mule and duck down the alley.

Enrollment At Carbon Is 230

H. L. Mullins, new superintendent of the Carbon schools said classes were started at the Carbon school Tuesday with an enrollment of 230 pupils.

Mrs. J. M. Cooper of Eastland accepted the place of third grad teacher, due to the resignation of Gene Young, who resigned to take a young in the Eastland schools.

Mr. Mullins says the staff is still minus a home making teacher, which is badly needed.

THE ATTACK—Dwarfed by a huge campaign poster of himself, GOP presidential candidate Dwight Eisenhower addresses an estimated crowd of 22,000 in the Band Shell at Bayfront Park in Miami. Oklahoma Cattlemen Facing Critical Period Of Drouth

By United Press

The next few days may well spell survival or disaster for thousands of Oklahoma cattlemen, faced with the worst crisis since the dust bowl days of the early thirties.

Cattlemen are caught in a two-way pinch if spiraling feed costs and dropping cattle prices.

Peef prices have slumped to an average of $22.60 per hundred the past month, the lowest since June, 1950, and a drop of 15 per cent below last year.

Feed costs have almost doubled and pastures are burnt into the earth.

Alfalfa is $40

Alfalfa is selling at $40 per ton compared with $28 last year, and prairie hay at $25 compared with $13.50 a year ago. Even wheat straw, from which the grain has been harvested, is selling for $1 a bale.

Federal crop statistician K. D. Blood says a general rain within a very few days could still save the necks of most stockmen. But the rain must come soon.

Blood says some wheat farmers have already started "justing in" seed in the southwest, and wheat throughout Oklahoma will probably be planted early this year in an effort to get early fall pasture. Normal wheat sowing period is from Oct. 1 to Oct. 15.

Stockmen are eligible for disaster loans from the federal government to buy alfalfa hay and other feeds. This hasn't solved the problem, although it helps some.

Little Hay to Buy

First, there is little hay to buy. Second, many stockmen have already borrowed heavily at banks, and are reluctant to take on additional loans. Third, some feed buyers and farmers who have hay are holding it in speculation of higher prices.

Blood says that most cattlemen have been able to hold on to their foundation stock, but continued dry weather will force their sale. The southwest is hurt the worst in this respect. Farmers in Harmon and Greer and some other southwest counties have been forced to sell heavily from their stockers in recent weeks.

This year's large number of cattle, both in Oklahoma and the nation is adding to the beef grower's woes, both from the feed and price standpoint.

More Cattle on Farm

The last federal estimate placed 88,062,000 cattle on the nation's farms, an all-time record. Oklahoma farmers held 3,965,000 cattle, a 10 per cent increase over 1952 and the highest figure since wartime 1944.

Scattered showers have aided some Oklahoma areas, but the general picture is one of dire drouth. Rains eased the nastur situation in northeastern Oklahoma last week, but grass is still stunted from heat.

There are alternate green and dry areas in northwest central and southeastern counties. The southwest is mostly one huge tract of dry, scorched brown.

Cash Available To Enlarge Our Water Supply

Farmers Home Administration County Supervisor, George I. Lane of Eastland, Texas announces that funds are now available through the Water Facilities Program to qualified applicants who wish to improve the existing water supply on their farms or to develop and install new facilities, and who are unable to obtain the necessary credit from other local established sources.

Farmers interested in obtaining this assistance should contact Mr. George I. Lane, whose office is located in the Petroleum building, Eastland, Texas, and discuss with him their needs for development or improvement of domestic, livestock, or irrigation water supplies on the farm.

Dulles Returns Truman Fire On Policy Dispute

NEW YORK, Sept. 4 (UP)—John Foster Dulles returned President Truman's fire in the foreign policy dispute Thursday, accusing the president of trying to "belittle and bismirch" Republican presidential nominee Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Dulles charged that foreign policies of the Truman administration are "a one-way ticket into World War III" while those advocated by Eisenhower are "true peace policies."

The Republican foreign affairs spokesmen issued a statement here Wednesday night in reply to a speech Monday in which Mr. Truman said Eisenhower was following "gutter policies" laid down by "masterminds" in the Republican party. These "masterminds" apparently would include Dulles in the field of foreign affairs.

"General Eisenhower speaks for himself on foreign policy," Dulles retorted.

"We can trust the man who won the peace, rather than the man who lost it," he said.

Dulles, who once served as a State Department adviser in the Truman administration, said the President's attack on the Eisenhower program was "the same" as those made by the Soviet newspaper Pravda and Russian Deputy Foreign Minister Jacob Malik.

Mr. Truman believes that because the Russians do not like the Eisenhower program the United States must not follow it, Dulles said. "That mood of weakness, timidity and appeasement is the sure road to war, as President Truman already has shown us in Korea where we withdrew our troops as the Russians wanted, only thereafter to have to go back and fight," he said.

Production Helicopters For Korea Is Crippled

NATION'S NUMBER ONE LANDOWNER

Government Owns 24 Per Cent Of All Land In United States

WASHINGTON—The feudal lords of the Middle Ages had nothing on Uncle Sam. He now owns 24 per cent of all the land in the United States, and is adding to his holdings by leaps and bounds. The recent announcement of plans by the Federal Government to build an enormous, atomic energy plant in Ohio prompted the Chamber of Commerce of the United States to look into Uncle Sam's real estate operations.

According to the latest available figures, compiled by Congressman Russell W. Mack (R-Wash.), the federal land empire totals 455,146,726 acres, or 711,336 square miles. That's more land than there is in Japan, Italy, France, Germany, Belgium, The Netherlands, Switzerland, and Portugal put together. The government's holdings represent an area equal to the combined area of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island, New York, Pennsylvania, Delaware, New Jersey, Maryland and the District of Columbia.

Most of the land owned by Uncle Sam is west of the Mississippi. Some of the states in that region an hardly call their land their own. In Nevada, for example, over 85 per cent is owned and managed by various Federal bureaus, with headquarters a couple of thousand miles away in Washington, in Utah, over 71 per cent is under government ownership. And in Arizona, over 69 per cent.

Actually, the National Chamber says, it's impossible to get accurate figures on Uncle Sam's real estate holdings. Some agencies in Washington don't even know how much land they themselves are supposed to manage.

The only sure thing is that more and more land is being taken under the government's wing all the time. Forty-five million acres have been acquired in the past three decades. Most of the new holdings are east of the Mississippi, in areas where the government is going in heavily for construction of hydrogen and atomic bomb laboratories which cover thousands upon thousands of acres.

Call Girl Ring At Houston Is Indicted By Cops

HOUSTON, Sept. 4 (UP)—A 16-year-old girl's story of being forcedly sold into a Galveston lawdy house resulted in five indictments of persons said police operated an exclusive "call girl" racket.

The indictments were handed up by a Harris county grand jury Wednesday against: Mrs. Lois L. Edwards, 32, arrested in an Aug. 5 raid at a fashionable Houston residential address from which the 16-year-old girl said she had "filled" dates.

Claude Martin, 26, a Houston taxi driver the girl said beat her and forcedly sold her into a Galveston lawdy house for $250 after Mrs. Edwards had introduced her to prostitution.

And three men, Al Blackie, Robert Cook and Joe Leslie, West, charged with sending two other 16-year-old girls to the swank Town House hotel July 30 to fill dates.

Little Items Of Local Interest

Mr. and Mrs. Terry Barrett have returned from a vacation trip spent in Pueblo and Colorado Springs, Colo.

Their children, Tim and Leanne, stayed with Mrs. Barrett's parents in Sweetwater during the Barrett's vacation trip. Enroute to Colorado Mr. and Mrs. Barrett visited in Dumas with Dr. and Mrs. Whitehead. They report that the Whiteheads are getting settled in their new home and that the doctor was opening his offices the day following their visit.

Lt. and Mrs. G. M. Daniels and children, Dwayne and Dwight have returned from a three years stay in Germany.

Mrs. Daniels, who is the former Miss Patty Hood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Hood, stated that she had enjoyed living there very much. They will be stationed at San Marcus, following their leave, during which they are visiting with the Hoods and with Lt. Daniels' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cart Daniels.

Grand Jury Is Now In Session

A new grand jury was empaneled this week, and judging from the number of visitors usually found in waiting on the second floor of the courthouse, that inquisitorial body, seems to be doing a very thorough job of investigating, it is thought. The following Eastland county citizens make up the grand jury: C. L. Bigby, Eastland; J. B. Pratt, Cisco; J. V. Brewer, Carbone; Wm. H. McAnally, Cisco; A. N. Larson, Ranger; J. C. Carter, Ranger; Ray Westfall, Cisco; Roy A. Norris, Eastland; R. L. Tucker, Carbone; E. J. Poe, Cisco; T. L. Fagg and Fred Davenport, Eastland.

Bell Plant At Ft. Worth Suffers $1 Million Damage During Blaze

"Hunter" Given Acquittal By Jury In Court

Not guilty, was the jury verdict in the case styled State of Texas vs. Bill Greenhall, charged by complaint with illegal hunting. Greenhall and a companion were arrested by a state game warden, who charged in his complaint that the two were seen on the night of Aug. 26th, in a car carrying two Winchesters, a large storage battery and spotlight. Testimony indicated that the light was seen burning at several points though no gun shots were heard. The case was tried in Judge J. R. Boggs' court.

FORT WORTH, Sept. 4 (UP)—Production of helicopters for Korea was severely crippled today after a $1 million fire destroyed a Bell Aircraft Corp. warehouse filled with valuable, hard-to-get parts.

It was the second time in three days at Fort Worth that a disaster struck a powerful blow at America's air power.

Monday night a freak, 100-mile windstorm at Carswell Air Force Base, headquarters of the Strategic Air Command, crippled a substantial part of the nation's fleet of P-36 atomic superbombers as the $3.5 million airplanes sat exposed to the elements on the flight line.

Nine persons were injured, none critically. A spokesman for Bell said the monetary loss from the fire would be at least $1 million.

Extent of the real loss—in production of Korea-bound helicopters—had not been evaluated.

But James Fuller, public relations director for Bell at Fort Worth, said the warehouse contained largely "critical" items—helicopter parts which are very difficult to procure. The vital parts which look like they might be stored in the warehouse awaiting assembly.

Mayfield Gets Priceless Gift

Ray Mayfield, head of the parts department at King Motor Co., but formerly a resident of Fort Worth, where he was employed by the Texas Motor Co., had the shock of his life, Wednesday, when H. E. (Andy) Anderson, of Fort Worth, brought in a large gift box.

Mayfield was told that it was from the "boys in Fort Worth" who wished to show their appreciation for activities in the Panther City. It was elaborate in design, and carefully packed. After wrappings and ribbons were removed, Mr. Mayfield finally dug out a gallon jar of pure water, a priceless gift in Eastland at this time.

Inspectors Look At Cotton Fields

HARLINGEN, Sept. 4 (UP)—Agricultural inspectors looked down on Lower Rio Grande Valley cotton fields from the air Thursday as the pink bollworm control program midnight Sunday deadline for destruction of cotton stalks approached.

Agriculture Commissioner John C. White, who said he would use every means possible to find and prosecute violations of the deadline, ordered his inspectors airborne.

Violators are subject to a $500 fine and 30 days imprisonment per day past midnight Sunday.

Bob Winston-Cisco Resident 50 Years, Is Called By Death

William Robert (Bob) Winston, 76, former merchant and a Cisco resident for half a century, died at 12:40 a.m. Wednesday after being in ill health for several years. He had been in the local hospital for about a week.

Funeral services for Mr. Winston will be conducted at 4 p.m. Thursday at the First Christian Church with the Rev. Sidney Spain, pastor, and the Rev. J. S. Stockard, retired Christian minister, officiating. Burial will follow in the Oakwood Cemetery here with the Thomas Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

Mr. Winston, who was widely known in this section, was born Jan. 1, 1876, at Greenfield, Tenn. He moved with his family to Breckenridge in 1886. It was in 1895 that he was married to the former Miss Mattie Dobbs, who survives him. In 1902, the Winstons moved to Cisco. With his brother, the late George Winston, he formed a partnership to open and operate

Salvage Crews Sort Debris

Crews worked in the wreckage of the warehouse sorting debris into three piles—that which was destroyed, questionable items and parts which look like they might be salvaged.

The Bell jet engine and helicopter main assembly plant was not damaged by the fire, but received some water damage.

Magnesium castings in the warehouse, many machined to high tolerances, exploded when water was played on the fire. The concrete and metal warehouse was ripped apart by four successive blasts. The last and largest explosion knocked out both ends and tore off the roof of the building. The nine workmen received burns from magnesium or cuts from flying metal, attendants at St. Joseph's hospital said.

Ministers Will Choose Officers

The Eastland Minister's Fellowship will have a meeting Friday morning at 10 a.m., at the First Methodist Church, for election of officers for the ensuing year. Rev. Otto Marshall, pastor of the First Christian Church, is president at this time.

There are some new pastors in the city who are to have a special invitation to the meeting.

IT'S THE LAW
in Texas
A public service feature of the State Bar of Texas

"RULES OF THE ROAD" Explained

With the death-laden Labor Day weekend just past and the usual series of football weekends coming up, the thoughts of many Texans are turning toward traffic safety. There can be no doubt but that a better acquaintance among drivers with the "rules of the road" and other traffic safety regulations could greatly reduce the death toll of our highways.

To obtain correct and authoritative information about driving is a simple matter. A letter or postcard to the Department of Public Safety, Driver's License Division, Austin, Texas, will bring an official publication, the "Texas Driving Handbook", to anyone who requests it.

Aside from considerations of personal safety, proper driving habits and observance of traffic laws will help prevent financial loss. This is true in spite of the fact that most people now carry liability insurance as a protection under the Texas "Drivers Responsibility Act." Jury verdicts in personal injury cases tend to go higher, and the likelihood of suffering an adverse judgment for an amount in excess of the limits of your liability policy is ever present.

Fault, or liability, is determined by applying the law to the particular facts of an accident. In Texas the law is in several forms—the statutes as enacted by the Legislature, the ordinances of each city and town, and the court decisions in cases similar to the one to be decided.

A negligent or intentional act is necessary in order to impose legal liability for damages. Where both parties to an accident are negligent, the court will very likely say that both are at fault, and that each must pay for his own damages.

Two of the most important legal rules pertaining to accidents are those having to do with "proper look-out" and "proper control." Driving in a lawful manner and complying with all ordinary traffic rules is not always sufficient. In addition, the driver is expected by law to be alert to all that is happening around him. If an accident should occur and the driver has not been alert—has failed to keep a proper look-out—he may be charged with "improper look-out" as a traffic violation and also held liable in damages to the other driver. The courts call a "proper look-out" such a look-out as a reasonably prudent driver would have kept under the same circumstances.

Of equal importance is the rule of "proper control." This rule means pretty much what those words imply—that the driver should have his car under such degree of control as to be ready for any emergencies as might arise. It may be breached even though no violation of ordinary traffic laws is involved.

For instance, a driver may be complying with the legal speed limit but still be driving at a rate of speed which is unsafe under the existing circumstances.

Even though legal speed limits are expressed in terms of a certain number of miles per hour, conditions may arise which prevent the driver from maintaining "proper control" of his automobile at that speed. On a rainy day on a slick street or highway, or in heavy traffic, the reasonably prudent driver will know that he should reduce his speed considerably below the legal maximum.

(This column, based on Texas law, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who knows the facts, because the facts may change the application of the law.)

NEWS FROM CHEANEY

Mrs. Bill Tucker

Well, here we are, back from Kingsville where we attended the annual Texas Home Demonstration Association convention at Texas A&I College, with a preconvention trip over into Old Mexico—an opportune trip which we took advantage, and crossed over with a carload of upstate friends.

Mrs. B. M. Harris of Plainview will guide the next two administrative years, as president of the organization, assisted by Mrs. John Gollightly, Hico, vice-president, Mrs. R. C. Wood, Port Lavaca, secretary and Mrs. H. C. Shiffe, Lake Jackson, as treasurer. New districts were formed by going back to 12 instead of 14, to conform to extension service districts.

Eastland County, one of 18 counties in district eight, will now be one of 21 counties by the addition of six new counties and losing three. Those lost were Stephens, Palo Pinto and Johnson. Those gained were Callahan, Bell, Milam, Lampasas, Williamson and Burnett counties.

The program will continue a study of legislation, education, 4-H, marketing and recreation, to suit the needs of each district over the state.

Correction: Mrs. Dave Weekes, who was a patient in the Ranger hospital—not Gorman—was able to be out for church services Sunday morning.

Soil Testing At A&M Continually On The Increase

COLLEGE STATION — The soil testing laboratory operated by the Agricultural Extension Service of the Texas A&M College System has been a busy place during the past year. According to M. K. Thornton, agricultural chemist and in charge of the lab, 9,550 soil samples have been analyzed.

He says the number of samples submitted has steadily increased since the lab was opened on Nov. 11, 1950. Determinations made by the laboratory include the amount of organic matter, nitrogen (computed), soil reaction, available phosphoric acid, available potash, available lime and soluble salts for each sample. Recommendations for the best land use based upon the soil analysis are returned to the sender along with the report on the sample.

Thornton reminds farmers that right now is the time to submit samples from the fields on which winter legumes and small grains will be planted this fall. Thornton points out that the samples submitted must be representative of the field if they are to be of value. He encourages farmers to contact their local county agent for detailed information on how to take a representative sample.

Farmers who have submitted soil samples report that the analysis and recommendations have been very useful to them. First, they find that often times different grades and amounts of fertilizer from that normally used are needed to improve their crop yields; that low yields are not always the result of low soil fertility and third that savings can be made on the purchase of fertilizers when only the recommended amounts are used.

Local county agents can supply details on taking, and mailing samples and can give assistance in putting the recommendations into practice, says Thornton.
