DISHEARTENED—Arthur F. Collieran, 27-year-old Navy veteran, second from right, struggles with police as he is taken from the roof of a 12-story office building in Boston after the despondent veteran threatened for 45 minutes to jump. The would-be suicide told officers he was disheartened over not being able to find a job. The promise of help in finding work distracted him enough for rescuers to grab and remove him from his 150-foot perch. (NEA Telephoto).

S. S. Supper At Baptist Church Well Attended

The Sunday School Supper of the First Baptist Church was attended by 101 people with representatives from every department present to answer the roll call by Supt. C. C. Collings.

Ben Green led the general singing and then he and Miss Shirley Freeman gave testimonies as to the need of visiting right here at home.

Some of the outstanding events were reviewed and plans made for the future. This was followed by a concert duet by Ben Greene and Chas. McFatter.

Bill Bumpas, educational director of the First Baptist Church, Waco, then gave a wonderful message on "Visitation." Stating that visiting must be definite, planned, promoted.

746 Pupils Are Enrolled Here; Others To Come

To date 746 pupils have been enrolled in the Eastland City Schools, according to Supt. W. G. Womack. This is slightly lower than for the same date last year, it was pointed out, though there are quite a few children who are to register later.

Class work is progressing very nicely, with a complete faculty on hand.

Little Items Of Local Interest

Greyhound Hits Truck Injuring 26 Passengers

BORDENTOWN, N. J., Sept. 6 (UP)—A southbound Greyhound bus traveling on the high-speed New Jersey Turnpike with 41 persons aboard rammed the rear of a slowmoving truck Saturday, injuring at least 26.

Turnpike trooper Glenn Sowash, 28, said both vehicles careened into a ditch about four miles south of the Bordentown exchange on the turnpike, the nation's newest superhighway.

Sowash said all of the persons involved in the accident were shaken up but only 26 were hospitalized. Two of them were injured seriously, he said.

"The whole front of the bus was ripped wide open," Sowash said. "People were moaning. A lot of them were hysterical. Some were getting out of emergency doors under their own power but we had to help most of them out ourselves."

The bus was headed for Washington from New York.

The trooper said William James, whose driver's license had expired, told him he had halted his truck under an overpass a few minutes before the crash "to rest a few minutes."

Sowash said James then resumed his journey at a 25 mile speed. "All I saw was a pair of headlights, bearing down from the rear, before my truck was hit," Sowash quoted James.

Oklahoma Cops May Accompany Slaying Suspect

LONG BEACH, Calif., Sept. 6 (UP)—Oklahoma police authorities were expected to accompany 21-year-old Air Force Pvt. Gordon Sales to Oklahoma City as a suspect in the butcher murder of a young waitress last July 30.

Officers questioned the suspect here Friday but would not disclose the results of their interrogation.

Sales was arrested here Thursday when patrolmen recognized him from a nationwide FBI circular which quoted him as saying, "They'll never take me alive."

Oklahoma Crime Bureau Chief O. K. Bivins said Sales was suspected of killing Jackie Stevens of Dallas. The girl's headless and nude body was found near Yukon, Okla. Her head and hands were found in a nearby pool of water several days later.

Police said the letters "Rat" had been carved on her abdomen. "We know the soldier left Oklahoma City shortly after the waitress was slain," Bivins said. "We can't divulge what information we have. We just want to question him about the slaying."

Sales, who told police he had been in Long Beach two weeks, was booked on charges of desertion and suspicion of murder, detectives said.

C. of C. Heads To Meet In Abilene

H. J. Tanner, manager of the Eastland Chamber of Commerce, has accepted an invitation to appear on the program during the Short Course sponsored by executives of various Chamber of Commerce in Central and West Texas. The meeting will be held in Abilene on September 19 and 20. Mr. Tanner will deliver an address on Saturday the 20th at 10 o'clock in the morning. His subject will be "Civic Activities."

Drouth Reaches Critical Stage; No Relief Seen

The water situation in Eastland is not only serious, but critical, and the quicker we all begin to realize this, the better off we are going to be. Today we visited the Chamber of Commerce, and with Manager Tanner, we perused some of our old weather reports. Facts revealed here were startling, and though we don't like to take figures at times, we had to admit that we are now in the midst of one of the most depressing drouths recorded in 50 years.

During the 50 year period, 1948 was the driest year on record, and Eastland County had only 14.1 inches of rain for the year. In 1944 it was about the same, for we had only 14.2 inches.

Another dry year, we well remember was 1918, at which time the total precipitation was 14.41. The average rainfall for this county is 27 inches plus.

But back to the present drouth. In 1951 we had 18.25 inches, which bordered on drouth itself. We entered 1952 with low water and a parched surface. Up until June 1st of this year we have had only 8.40 inches, and we all know that July and August gave us almost no rain at all. Last year on June 1st our rain gauge showed 11.74 or about 3 1/2 inches more than we have had during the same period this year.

It might be well to state that September has never been noted for its rainfall in this area. During the 50 year period one or two Septembers passed by without a trace of rain, and many of them with one tenth to half an inch rain for the month. May is Eastland's rain month.

The wettest September on record was in 1936 when the county had a rainfall of 13 inches.

Your guess is just as good as that of any other person, when it comes to selecting a day for rain to end our drouth. The past three might be described as bad, worse and worst. Today, as usual, skies do not suggest rain.

New Orleans Cops Hunt Jewel Thief

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 6 (UP)—Police searched Saturday for the knife-wielding "trained thief" who snatched two valuable diamond rings from the owner of famous Arnaud's restaurant early Friday.

Leon R. Bellis, an official of the New Orleans diamond exchange, said one ring bore a 51-carat stone believed to be "about the sixth largest cut diamond in America."

Mrs. Germaine Cazeneuve Wells, owner of the French Quarter restaurant and daughter of its founder, the late Count Bertrand Arnaud Cazeneuve, said the rings were taken from her at knife point.

Bellis said the big stone was one he had measured and knew well.

He said it came from a royal collection in Europe. The other ring was said to have been set with a cluster of diamonds worth $16,000.

"The big rock was known all over the world," said detective Arthur Regan, heading an investigation in the theft. "A trained thief did the job. He could never get rid of it in New Orleans."

Bellis said the big stone was not one of the most costly, because of its yellowish hue but had been flawlessly cut in Belgium.

Air-Sea Search Fails To Find Mysterious Sub

TOMS RIVER, N. J., Sept. 6 (UP)—Authorities reported Saturday that an air and sea search had failed to turn up any sign of an unidentified submarine which a Coast Guardsman said he sighted five miles off the New Jersey coast.

Seaman Adrian Salter of the Seaside Heights Coast Guard Station said he saw the surfaced submarine through binoculars Friday morning about five miles out in the Atlantic. His report was flashed to the Navy, which sent planes and surface craft to search the area.

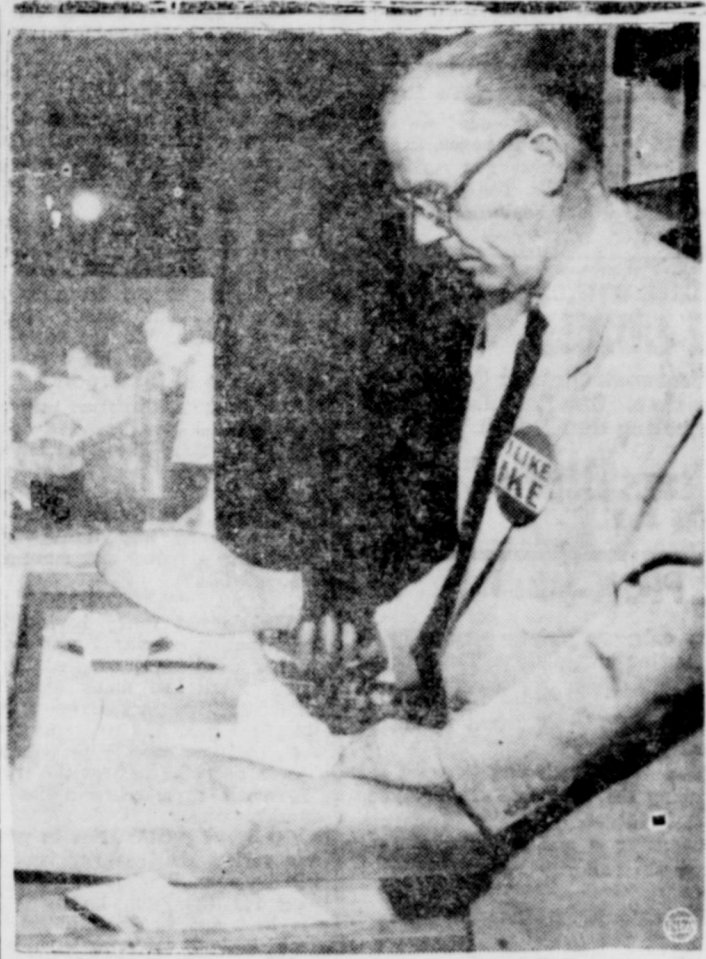

The Navy refused to give any details of the search except to indicate that it had found nothing to substantiate Salter's report.

Salter spotted the underwater craft heading north, Friday while on duty at the Seaside Heights station located on a 20-mile strip of sand jutting parallel to the mainland about three miles off this coastal town, some 50 miles south of New York City.

Headquarters of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization naval command at Norfolk, Va., said no submarines attached to that command were in the area.

Some 12 hours after Salter made his report, a spokesman in the headquarters of the command, Eastern Sea Frontier in New York reported:

"No evidence was obtained which would indicate that the subject sighted insofar as I know

House Calls Caudle For Session On Recent Ousters As Tax Chief

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6 (UP)—House investigators delving into Justice Department operations Saturday summoned T. Lamar Caudle to two week-end sessions for the "full story" of his ouster as the government's chief tax prosecutor.

Chairman Frank L. Chelf D-Ky. of a House Judiciary subcommittee said Caudle gave the group "several documents" regarding his dismissal during Friday's four and a half hour closed door meeting.

Rep. Kenneth B. Keating R-N.Y. said the "documentary evidence" had not turned up at previous congressional hearings.

The subcommittee scheduled unusual sessions Saturday night and Sunday. Both will be secret hearings. The investigators did not meet Saturday because Caudle had to leave town for a previously scheduled business appointment. Caudle refused to say where he was going.

Caudle, now practicing law in Weddeshor, S. C., was fired by President Truman last November for outside activities "incompatible" with his office as head of the Justice Department's tax division.

Chelf and Keating declined to tell newsmen whether Caudle's documents mentioned any other present or former department officials. They said only that "the circumstances of Mr. Caudle's dismissal has a great deal to do with what we're after."

The subcommittee is investigating the Justice Department in an effort to learn whether there has been corruption in federal law enforcement or other undue influence on the agency.

Asked whether Caudle's testimony has put him in "a better light," Keating replied:

"That is something for the public to decide after we make his story public."

Chelf said another secret session may be held Monday to "wind up his story." He said the subcommittee will hold public sessions, perhaps within the next 10 days, so "the whole Caudle episode can be laid face up on top of the table."

Some kind of assurance that men whose views are anathema to Taft will not be brought into Eisenhower's cabinet of the Republican candidate is elected. This provision, it is reported, is aimed particularly at blocking possible appointment of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey as Secretary of State.

Chelf said another secret session may be held Monday to "wind up his story." He said the subcommittee will hold public sessions, perhaps within the next 10 days, so "the whole Caudle episode can be laid face up on top of the table."

Both Garrett and Jordan were former residents of Eastland county, and Mr. Garrett is a brother of Clyde L. Garrett, who now resides in Waco.

Friction Still Evident After Chicago Battle

By John L. Steele
WASHINGTON, Sept. 6 (UP)—Sen. Robert A. Taft and Dwight D. Eisenhower will meet in a busy but hazy atmosphere next week to may Taft's role in the Republican residential campaign.

All is not yet sweetness and light between Eisenhower and Taft, who lost the GOP nomination to the retired general just when he was sure he at last had it nailed down.

But Taft said in Murray Bay, Quebec, that "no doubt" he will meet Eisenhower next week for the first time since their battle at the Chicago nominating convention. Chances are the meeting will be in New York City. The date is not set, but Taft said it may be Monday.

No Commitments
In a telephone interview with the United Press, Taft declined to make any commitment to campaign for Eisenhower. He disclosed he has scheduled four speaking engagements, but all are in Ohio and the emphasis undoubtedly will be on re-electing his old friend, Sen. John W. Bricker.

There appeared to be little possibility that the Taft-Eisenhower conference would be shelved, as was their scheduled meeting in New York last week. Fracture publicity from the Eisenhower camp caused the delay, but this time Taft has said he is ready to confer with the GOP candidate.

Eisenhower said in Chicago Friday that he plans to meet the Senate GOP policy chair in "an early date." He said he expects Taft to lead a "very important section" of the Republican campaign.

Taft declined to confirm or deny news stories from responsible sources that he seeks a minimum "bill of rights" before pitching into the Eisenhower campaign. It was reported that he would seek these assurances from Eisenhower.

1. A promise that Eisenhower will wage an all-out campaign for the presidency — naming names and punching at the administration's policies.

2. Assurances that there will be no suggestion from Eisenhower or that the Taft-Hartley Labor Act should be repealed.

3. Some kind of assurance that men whose views are anathema to Taft will not be brought into Eisenhower's cabinet of the Republican candidate is elected. This provision, it is reported, is aimed particularly at blocking possible appointment of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey as Secretary of State.

Two Students From Ranger Enter Stephens

The opening of the 120th fall term at Stephens College for women in Columbia, Mo., Sept. 19th, will find on the campus more than 1800 students from every state in the nation as well as from 21 foreign countries and possessions including Thailand, Indonesia, Korea, Japan, India, Brazil and Argentina. For each of these students there will be an individualized course of study tailored to fit her special needs and interests—as many different courses of study as there are students. The program of general education at Stephens is designed to prepare the individual for effective living and for her future role as a cultured woman, intelligent citizen, a specialist in her chosen field, and as a homemaker.

Accepted for admission as new students at Stephens are Betty Lou Hagaman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Hagaman, and Rita Beth Perlstein, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Saul Perlstein. All students will be on campus Sept. 14 for an orientation period preceding the start of classes.

"This just cannot be," said Mrs. Snee, 34, who wept when she was told about the charges. "I came here on a mission of mercy. My baby needed medical help and my poor little girl died on the way here."

The women, carrying the dead child in arms and swathed in quilts as if she were an infant, arrived last Tuesday in nearby Hammond, La., after a train ride from Chicago, and turned the body of little Teresa Arz over a funeral home.

The child had never fully recovered from an attack of double pneumonia two years ago and had become worse during the past few months, Mrs. Snee said, but she herself could not afford the medical treatment she needed.

POTPOURRI AND WORSE

(By Major Hoopie McCorkle) Telegram Philosopher

It appears to us that very few things are normal any more. The modernistic trend has changed almost everything, and while we do not wish to revert back to the dark ages, we have never been sold on the idea that being modern is everything.
 A short time ago we read an article written by a Methodist preacher in New York City which appealed to us. The message he put over was that possibly America is too "cock sure" about everything. We are a nation of optimists, but not the first nation of optimists, and as we remember of these nations didn't survive very long.

Could America fall, as did ancient Rome? Why not? This question doesn't seem so important just at this time. Now it is Russia, taxes and Korea that are worrying us. Maybe wages and war and our spiritual life are all tied together, and may have a lot to do with whether we sink or swim, live or die.

We say that we can weather any storm as we have always done, and progress is assured, for—just look at our bathtubs and automobiles, our atomic bombs and television. We are really important in a very big way. We even admit it, but are we?
 "A realistic, Christian answer," the preacher says, "might be something like this: There is a chance that our nation may fall, just as Rome did—but we haven't yet. And there is still a hope that we may win our way through this crisis into a better and more permanent life."

We do not fancy having our great nation compared with Rome in her declining years, while we know there are many signs of similarity. We just throw reason into high gear and get away from real facts as quickly as possible. We do not wish to hear the truth. We evade it, and herein lies the trouble.

Once you get America to pause and reflect, half of her troubles will be over. We have been planning for the best, boasting for the best and boasting about the best, so long that we have neglected to stop and check our stock. This check up might reveal that we have a lot of things here that we didn't know anything about, and some of the things we have, have been bragging about, no longer exist.

It may be that we have reached the point where we no longer feel the need of divine guidance. We are a self-confident group, so wise that we can care for all our ills without the aid of God. And when this point is attained we are treading on dangerous ground. Back when our forefathers were trying to take this country from the Indians they were not so self-reliant. They willingly in-

What's the MOST SURPRISING THING about this BUICK?

WE'LL tell you the answer to that one—it's the figures on the price tag. For some reason, lots of people just can't believe they can buy a Buick at a price so close to "the low-priced three."
 Maybe it's because a Buick seems so much better and bigger.
 Maybe it's because they think Buick has so much more power and room—which is true.
 Maybe it is because so many distinguished people own Buicks—which is also a fact.
 But the fact remains—if you can afford a new car, you can own a Buick—so let's see what you get.
 You get the thrilling power of a Fireball 8 Engine, that's a gas-saving high-compression valve-in-head—as much power as you can get in cars costing $300 to $400 more.
 You get as much room as you'll get in cars costing hundreds of dollars more.

You get a ride that cost an honest-to-goodness million dollars to develop.
 You get the silken smoothness of Dynaflo Drive.
 You get big-car comfort, styling, durability.
 Don't take our word for it. Come in and see for yourself why so many folks are stepping up to this great car this year.
 Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. *Standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.
