Around The Square

With Mack

We are going to allow some of our readers to help edit this column today, and this is being done for the sole purpose of proving that we do have a few readers, and not because we have run out of "soap."

From far away California, Math A.F.B., comes this letter:

"As I receive my copy of the Telegram, a little late, I hasten to write this letter. It was my observation, in your column, 'It is Reported' that it is the opinion of the editor that Dwight Eisenhower will win in November. Likewise it is nation-wide news that Governor Shivers will attempt to put Eisenhower's name on the Democratic ticket.

"It is quite evident that the people of Texas should not be afraid to vote the Republican ticket at the proper time, in order to make its influence felt as strongly as its electoral votes, but the good people who have so long and so proudly voted Democratic, should not allow a Republican, who has so weak a platform, head the strong Democratic ticket.

"Being a member of the armed forces... I offer as an opinion of a few people out here an expression 'I sadly go Adlai.' (Name on request).

To which we add: "Why sadly go Adlai? Why not 'Gladly go Ike?' The rich young ruler who went to the Master must have been a 'vote her straight guy. He had good traits and admitted it. But he lacked one thing, and he would not change. That may be one reason that he turned from the Master (Whom he believed good), and likely went on to hell. Just wouldn't change. Voted 'er straight, though he knew that he was wrong. That is why he 'sadly went his way' as you 'sadly go with Adlai. 'What's in a name—Democrat or Republican?' It's the man that counts. 'A rose by any other name would be just as sweet'."

R. W. Kleiner, who resides in the Norwood addition, in northeast Eastland, has just completed a good water well, he says. The well is 146 feet deep, and before the well was 5 minutes old it was standing 105 feet in water. He is now pumping 12,000 gallons of water daily. Water was standing in 8 feet of the top when it was put on the pump, and with a larger pump the flow could be increased. He feels that if he had drilled another five feet into the sand he would have had a flowing artesian well.

Now this isn't so bad, and we would like very much to fill this column for a week with similar stories.

Even James Reed's well is producing water, we suppose. Last week we reported it as a "duster" by right now water is standing within a quarter of an inch of the top. Wonder if yesterday's rain had anything to do with this? James should know. Ask him.

Eastland won first place in Group 2 in a West Texas Chamber of Commerce contest. The contest involved the number of people who voted in the county in recent primaries. Eastland showed that 30 per cent of citizens here took part in the election. Brown county took second place, when she showed that 24.96 per cent of her people voted.

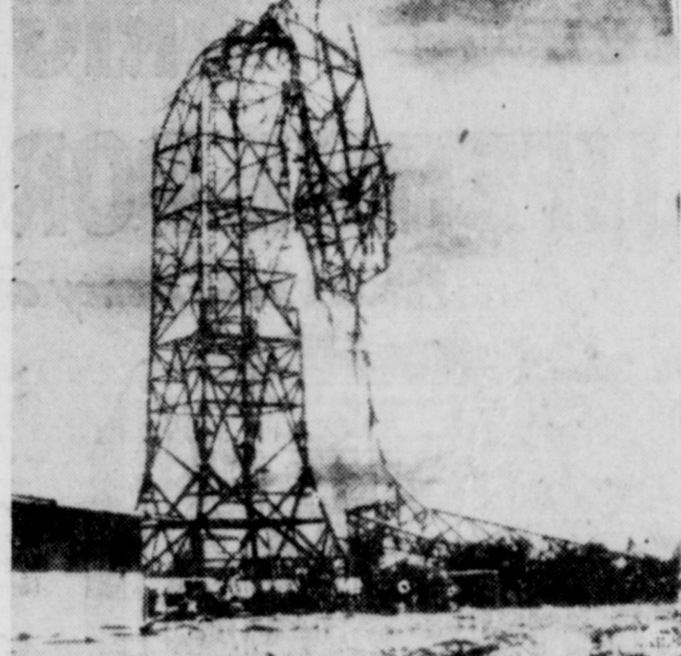

The "Fundamentals of Citizenship" contests are proving educational.

Truce Talks Are Resumed
PANMUNJOM, Sept. 19 (UP)—Truce negotiators met again at 11 a.m. Saturday (8 p.m. CST Friday) for what was expected to be another short session ending in agreement to recess another week.

Peiping radio was silent Friday on the truce talks, until late Friday, there was no protest from the Reds on new incidents at Allied prisoner of war camps.

The latest incident involved 23 Communist civilian internees at Pangam Island off South Korea. They were injured Wednesday when UN military police broke up a demonstration.

LEVELS ISLAND—Twisted and bent to the ground this 300-foot steel beacon tower is mute evidence of the force of the 136-mile-an-hour typhoon which battered tiny Wake Island. Typhoon "Olive" destroyed 90-per-cent of the island's buildings, inflicting an estimated 10 million dollar damage. Few of the 750 persons on the island were injured. (NEA Telephoto).

ROTARIANS ARE TAMED BY LIONS IN FAST GAME HERE

The roaring Lions are happy today, and all because they put skids under the Rotary Club team, in a fast, soft-ball game at Firemen's Field last night. The final score (given for publication) was 9 and 3 in their favor.

For this clash men from all walks of life had been chosen. Age brackets (if any) included all males between 18 and 80, crippled not excepted. Those of the "moon fixing" type included Dr. Treadwell and Frank Crowell, while "shorties" had them bested in number. Slick faced boys did their part, though "gray cocs" a n d bald pates, kept popping up all evening.

The most powerful batter was Buck Pickens—he always gave the bat a 2-pound swing, and if he had contacted the ball (which he didn't) it would have knocked the bat out of his hands. Roland Phillips demonstrated his prowess as a batter, only to learn that he was batting a white washed grapefruit—not a ball. It exploded in mid-air, and sounded like a TNT bomb. Many people got a shower bath.

Preacher Marshall was score keeper (likely self appointed) but he was fair. If one team got behind, he forced the other team to sit down and allow them to catch up. Yes, he was very fair, and so was the umpire who couldn't tell a strike from a ball. Quite after he called a strike when the ball actually passed 10 feet over the batter's head. He only called balls when it appeared that the batter

Former County Deputy Sheriff Dies Thursday

Funeral services will be conducted Sunday afternoon in the Ranger First Baptist church for H. G. Johnson, 413 First Street, Ranger, a resident of Eastland County for the past 34 years. Mr. Johnson served as a deputy sheriff at Rising Star and Ranger prior to his retirement.

The deceased passed away Thursday evening in a Ranger hospital after a long illness. He was born April 5, 1869 in Georgia and married the former Medora Yaws in Bastrop County July 19, 1891.

To this union survive in addition to his wife, four sons, J. A. and Virge of Ranger, J. T. of Lubbock, and Buster of Toledo, Ohio; two daughters, Mrs. Carl Eakin of Lubbock and Mrs. Boyd LaQuey of Breckenridge. Two brothers, C. A. of Rising Star and Buck of Sweetwater, 10 grandchildren and five great-grandchildren also survive.

Rev. Ralph Perkins and Rev. A. Lynn Robbins will officiate at the services at 3 p.m. Interment will be in the Evergreen Cemetery in Ranger.

Pallbearers will be H. O. Woods, Jr., A. H. Powell, Joe Faircloth, Jack Mace, T. I. (Ike) Lee, and Leo Mosta, all of Ranger. Killingsworth Funeral Home will be in charge of arrangements.

UN Troops On Kelly Ridge Are Virtually Annihilated

Reds, Wearing U. S. Uniforms, Take Ridge In Suicide Attack

By Warren Franklin

WESTERN FRONT, Korea, Sept. 19 (UP)—Chinese infantrymen virtually annihilated the United Nations forces in capturing "Kelly hill" west of the Imjin river on the western front Thursday night, a high-ranking Allied officer said Friday.

The officer saw the Chinese, who attacked in estimated battalion strength under the "deadly hell of their own marching artillery fire," wounded or captured a considerable portion of the UN force on the strategic outpost west of Yonchon.

Only a handful of Allied soldiers survived the "suicide" attack which began at 9 a.m. (6 a.m. CST Thursday) and ended at about 1 a.m. Friday (10 a.m. CST Thursday) when the last man on the surrounded hill were cut down in their bunkers.

The officer said that communications with the UN force on Kelly hill were lost almost immediately after the beginning of the attack.

"The Chinese apparently knew exactly where our command post was," he said.

He said Chinese artillery and mortars had been firing constantly in the Kelly hill area for nearly a week and that more than 1,000 rounds crashed into the position on both Allied and Communist infantrymen during the hand-to-hand fighting for the position.

Relays of UN fighter-bombers flashed in on the Communist-held hill Friday, pounding Red infantrymen who were feverishly digging in.

"It was the first night I have been in," said Pvt. Efrain Yotay Ferrer of Penedulo, Puerto Rico, who was one of the few who escaped.

Ferrer, who passed the order to his platoon to hold to the last man, was wounded in the hand by mortar fragments and was cut in the arm by barbed wire during his escape through a mine field.

"Some of the Chinese were wearing American fatigue uniforms," Ferrer said. "I can't tell how many, though, because of the darkness and confusion."

Pfc. Jaime Cortez Sanchez of Manati, Puerto Rico, said, "I believe most of the men were killed."

Sanchez said the fighting was "very close," with Communists and Allies using bayonets, grenades, knives and fists.

"The Chinese bayonets were filed down to razor-sharp, three-inch daggers," he said. "I remember mostly a lot of noise—whistles and bugles blowing and lots of yelling."

Sanchez escaped in the darkness after crashing his rifle butt into the chest of a Chinese soldier who had grabbed him by the shirt collar during the "eyeball to eyeball" fighting.

Scout Leaders Plan Session; To Meet Mon.

A special program, of more or less informal nature, is being arranged for the North District Pow Wow of Boy Scouts.

The meeting will be held at the Connelley Hotel in Eastland, Monday, September 22, at 7:15 p.m. All registered Scouters and any other interested men not registered, may attend. Arthur Murrell, of Eastland, has indicated that half a barbecued chicken will be on hand for all.

A report on the Phimont Trek taken by many Scouts and Scouters to New Mexico this Summer, will come in for a general report, and you will have an opportunity to hear of their experiences during the discussion.

Program note books will be given out, and plans for the program of Cub Packs, Scout Troops and Explorer units will be made. Then there will be information on the National Jamboree for 1953.

It will be fun, and you might as well enjoy it.

Joseph H. Short, Truman's Press Secretary Dies

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19 (UP)—President Truman lost his second press secretary in less than two years Thursday night with the death of veteran newspaperman Joseph H. Short.

Short, 48, collapsed and died almost instantly Thursday night in the dining room of his Alexandria, Va., home where he was recuperating from a virus infection which struck him last week.

He had just finished dinner with his wife and two of his three young children.

The cause of Short's death was not determined immediately. Assistant White House press secretary Irving Perlmeter said an autopsy might be performed.

Mr. Truman mourned the loss of "my loyal friend—a public servant to inspire others, a rare model which cannot be replaced."

Short was "more than trusted and valued assistant," Mr. Truman said in a statement.

"I know how unsparing of his health he was in his service to me and to his country," President Truman said.

A native of Vicksburg, Miss., and a graduate of Virginia Military Institute, Short had been a Washington newspaperman for nearly 20 years before becoming Mr. Truman's press secretary in December, 1950.

He succeeded Charles G. Ross who collapsed and died at the White House deck on Dec. 5, 1950.

Rangers Tounce Wichita Falls Midwesterners Friday Nite 21-0

A Ranger Junior College team, full of spirit and hustling their hearts out, defeated the Midwestern Indians "B" team last night at Ranger, 21-0 before a large crowd of fans, scoring their first TD the first jack-out-of-the-box when they got the ball.

Taking the ball on their own end of the field they set up a first on Midwestern's 42, Buddy Hamrick, QB, passed to end Charlie Brazill for another first and the Halfback Freddie Sanders pulled a sneaker and caught another Hamrick pitch behind the goal for the TD. Jeff Smith kicked the point.

Both teams went scoreless into the fourth quarter when Ranger erupted for 14 more points. The first seven coming after the Rangers took a Midwestern punt out to the RJC 38 and moved the ball across for the score. The winning play was a pass to Brazill from Hamrick, Smith again converted.

Fleet-footed safety man Floyd Gibbs made the third Ranger marker by taking a punt on his own thirty yard line and going the full distance behind good blocking. Smith made it a perfect night on the conversion.

GUIDED MISSILES IN USE—A "remote control" pilot (above) shown test flying one of the pilotless Navy Hellcat fighters during tests for use as guided missiles at San Diego, Calif. The Navy has revealed that obsolete Gruman fighters, guided by a mother plane (below) are now being directed toward their targets via a television transmitter. The "kamikazees" have been flown from carrier bases packing a 2000 pound bomb, against such Korean objectives as a power plant and a bridge tunnel entrance.

STALIN SAYS HE IS ANXIOUS TO AVOID OUTRIGHT BATTLE

LONDON, Sept. 19 (UP)—The British than the Americans, Soviet Premier Josef Stalin was quoted Friday as saying he was anxious to avoid a shooting war but was fully prepared for a 10 to 15-year cold war.

The Soviet leaders' views were contained in a revised version of an interview he granted Italian pro-Communist Socialist leader Pietro Nenni last July at the Kremlin.

The latest and "more correct" version of the interview was reported by Richard H. S. Crossman, a journalist and lieutenant of left-wing British Laborite Aneurin Bevan.

Crossman detailed in the current issue of the left-wing New Statesman and Nation a recent discussion he had on the Stalin interview with Nenni in Italy.

Nenni gained the impression in the interview Stalin had a much higher regard for Europeans and the British than the Americans, Crossman said. The Russian premier "found it difficult to take Americans seriously and seemed to derive a jocular pleasure from his teasing diplomacy," Nenni was quoted as saying.

The Crossman-Nenni account said Stalin was confident Russia could hold its own in a competitive armaments race because the Soviet bloc could stand the economic strain better than the West.

However, it added, Stalin said he "would do everything possible to avoid any provocative action."

Other major points in the Crossman version of what Stalin said were:

1. The Kremlin did not believe the world situation has deteriorated in the last two years.

2. Strategic airpower is not a "decisive weapon." Stalin acknowledges it could wipe out both Moscow and New York but holds the U. S. lacks the land forces necessary to occupy territory on any considerable scale.

3. He has written off prospects of a successful four-power conference to unify Germany.

4. He is pleased with the U. S. action in Korea because he thinks it has swung Asian opinion against America and has tied up half the U. S. Army on the Korean peninsula.

RJC Quarterback Jimmy Cole Hurt, Car-Train Mishap

After fighting Midwestern Indians in Ranger last night and coming out in pretty good shape, Ranger Junior College Quarterback Jimmy Cole came out second best with an east bound Texas and Pacific freight train.

The car which Cole was driving and the train collided about 12:30 last night at the Main Street intersection, in Ranger. Cole was thrown from the automobile by the impact, receiving multiple cuts and bruises. The 1946 Ford owned by teammate, Kenneth Burton, was a total loss according to the Ford motor company.

Cole was headed west and the train east at the time of the collision.

The Ranger General Hospital said Cole had four bad cuts, three on the head and one on a knee, all of which took 20 stitches to close.

In addition to the cuts other bruises and scratches were received all over his body.

National Group Ask Ascheson To Aid Church Fight

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19 (UP)—The National Association of Evangelicals has appealed to Secretary of State Dean Acheson to take steps to see that the Italian government reopens 22 Church of Christ chapels in Italy.

Italy closed the chapels last week on the grounds that the Church of Christ—an Evangelical American sect—has failed to obtain the clearance required by law.

A group of seven churchmen representing the association and the Church of Christ conferred Thursday with Acheson over the issue.

Get Ready Now To Plant Winter Pasture Is Said

COLLEGE STATION—Secure now the seeds and prepare the land for planting an increased acreage of winter grazing crops. That advice to farmers and livestock producers comes from E. A. Miller, agronomist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Winter grazing crops, he continues, will provide nutritious feed that are so badly needed now to take the place of drouth rained pastures and meadows.

For grazing, winter crops may be planted as soon as moisture is available after the middle of September. Many farmers plant these crops in dry soil, when the soil has been prepared, in order to save time and get a crop up in a hurry after a rain. In order to get fall grazing, Miller says the crops should be planted, if possible, during the last half of September or the first part of October.

Oats, wheat, barley, rye and rye grass are good winter grazing crops. A mixture of barley and oats, barley and wheat or all three make good combinations for grazing. Barley, in these mixtures, will usually provide more fall and early winter grazing and the oats and wheat reach their maximum later in the season. Abruzzi and Balbo rye are good crops for the sandy soils of East Texas and the West Cross Timbers area.

He points out that vetch or other winter legumes may be planted with these grain crops to improve the grazing. Hairy vetch or other grain crops not only for grazing but for seed production and soil improvement. The legumes furnish some fall and winter grazing but make their heaviest growth in the spring.

In the southern half of Texas, fall planted humam, madrid and the annual yellow blossom sweetclovers are all well-adapted for grazing, seed production and soil improvement. On the heavy blacklands, sweetclover and winter grain makes a good combination grazing crop. In extreme South Texas where frost comes late, Miller says cowpeas will supply good fall grazing or may be used for hay.

To get the maximum feed tonnage from these crops, Miller says they should be fertilized. He suggests that local county agents be contacted for the latest information on the grades and amount of fertilizers that should be used. He strongly urges chemical treatment of all small grain planting seed—for smut control and to reduce seedling diseases.

General rains over the state would certainly be worth millions of dollars to farmers and livestock producers but would not, says Miller, nullify the need for increased acreages of fall and winter grazing crops. Feed is needed by all types of livestock and the quickest way to get it after the rains come, is from the fast growing crops.

VISION PROBLEM Highway Planners

AUSTIN—How much clear vision should you have to pass another automobile when it is going 55 miles an hour and you are going 60?

This is one of the problems facing Texas highway planners in their efforts to modernize Texas highways and make them safer. They must make it possible for you to see a half-mile ahead, or you are taking a chance at passing another vehicle traveling at a mile a minute.

With highways built for only two-lane or three-lane traffic, the

Social Security Checks Be Larger After This Month

Social security checks mailed September 3 to some 5000 people in the 16 county area served by the Abilene office were the last under the old rates of payment, according to Ralph T. Fisher, manager of the Abilene social security office. Payments due to the same people early in October will amount to about $160,000.00; this is an increase of about $20,000.00. As a result of changes made in the social security law in July, nearly everyone receiving old-age and survivors' benefits will get higher payments. Most retired workers will receive increases ranging from $5 to $8.60, although a few will get smaller increases. Increases for dependents and survivors will be less than those for retired workers. In most cases these increases will be between $2 and $5.

"For example," Fisher says, "a retired insured worker whose August payment mailed this week is $40, based on earnings received since 1936, will get a September payment of $45; a worker who got $68.50 in the current check will get $77.10 the first week in October. If the payment is based upon earnings after 1950 only, the $40 amount will be raised to $45, and the $68.50 amount will be raised to $73.50."

It will not be necessary for persons now getting old-age and survivors insurance payments to call or come to the social security office to get the increases. The checks they will receive early in October will automatically carry the increased amounts.

Texas Attorneys To Meet At UT For Conference

AUSTIN—Attorneys, law enforcement officers and municipal officials will gather October 17-18 at the University of Texas to discuss two of the state's growing legal problems — traffic law enforcement and insanity pleas in criminal cases.

Arthur T. Vanderbilt, chief justice of the New Jersey Supreme Court, a past president of the American Bar Association, and former dean of the New York University Law School, will open the conference with an address on "Traffic Law Enforcement From the Standpoint of the Courts." Other speakers Friday, Oct. 17, will include Robert A. Hall, judge of Criminal Court No. 1, Dallas, "Survey of Texas Law on Effect of Insanity at Various Times and Procedures for Ascertaining It"; C. G. Conner, Texas Highway Patrol inspector, Austin, "Handling Traffic Violations in Texas"; Henry Wade, Dallas district attorney, "Texas Law on Insanity from the Standpoint of the Pro-

July's month-long heat wave brought a drought causing $300,000,000 crop loss to a large area of the northeast and south. Corn, cotton, vegetables, tobacco and cattle all suffered in areas shown on the above newschart. Farmers Home Administration offices advanced quick credit to growers in official disaster sections. Freight-rates were lowered on live-stock feed sent into states lacking enough hay because of the worst drought in 20 years. New England, suffering from grain losses and lowered milk production, tried seeding clouds with dry-ice to make rain.

Sportsmen Up Over World War II Count

AUSTIN—The executive secretary of the Texas Game & Fish Commission said the number of hunters and fishermen in the state has more than doubled since World War II.

He made the announcement in a speech before the International Association of Game Commissioners in Dallas.

The executive secretary added: "It cannot be said that the wildlife population has improved to meet this demand. So far it has been met by lower bag limits and shorter harvest periods. There is an end to how far such curtailment can go and yet be satisfactory.

"The problem of the ever-increasing number of sportsmen who go afield and cause an additional pressure on the wildlife resources has as yet no answer. Everyone is encouraged to go hunting and fishing who will. It is the job of the professional conservationists to find ways and means and furnish leadership for maintaining the highest possible harvest so as to accommodate the maximum number of sportsmen."

The executive secretary noted that "it would not be well to say that wildlife work in Texas is poorly financed, but never has it

Daniel Seeks Sparkman's Vote On Tidelands

AUSTIN, Sept. 19 (UP)—Texas Attorney General Price Daniel Friday asked Sen. John Sparkman, Democratic vice presidential nominee, whether Sparkman would support legislation in the next Congress to restore the Texas tidelands to state ownership.

Daniel said he had written to Sparkman asking whether the Alabama senator would vote for the Texas measure. "He has here- before voted against quit claim all the states, including his own state of Alabama," Daniel said.

Daniel, Republican and Democratic candidate for U. S. senator, said he would introduce a measure to "confirm the Texas annexation agreement and restore all submerged lands within Texas original boundaries."

Daniel said his bill would "give an opportunity for performance to those who now say they might vote differently on the Texas claim."

"This will include Sen. Sparkman," Daniel said.

"Red hot" and "white heat" are not so hot for discussions nowadays, Dr. Robert L. Stone, ceramics engineering faculty member, says. He and other University researchers are performing experiments involving temperatures around 3,300 degrees Fahrenheit—which cause a blue glow. He describes "red hot" as a mere 1,050 degrees F and "white heat" as about 2,200 degrees F.

B-29s Splatter Hamhung In First Recent Day Raid

By Robert Udick
SEOUL, Korea, Sept. 19 (UP)—Thirty-three B-29s dropped 297 tons of incendiary bombs on targets near Hamhung late Friday in the first Superfortress daylight raid in 11 months.

Brig. Gen. Wiley D. Ganey, commander of the Far East Air Forces bomber command, flew in one of the Superforts which hit the target, an important port city in northeast Korea, about 5 p. m. (2 a. m. CST).

The Superforts aimed their bombs by electronic means because of a solid undercast covering the target. Ganey flew in the lead bomber.

One of the targets was Chig-yong, a supply area five miles southwest of Hamhung and a vital supply distribution center.

The second target was the Yonpo military barracks, which contains about 140 supply buildings.

Earlier, screaming Chinese Reds captured "Old Baldy" and another western front hill from Allied troops and fanatically resisted Allied attempts to dislodge them.

The Chinese swarmed up the slopes of shell-marked "Old Baldy," and plunged into bunkers and trenches with guns blazing.

Most of the Allied defenders fell back, but some stayed to fight back through the night with fists, rifle butts and bayonets.

At mid-morning, UN troops launched a two-pronged drive up the hill to help the small band of men who would not give up. Tanks shelled Red bunkers, but the Chinese doggedly held firm.

An Allied position near Yonchon collapsed when a battalion of screaming Chinese engulfed UN troops on a hillcrest.

The Allied defenders, as a last resort, dove into their holes and called in UN artillery on the attackers. The big guns fired but the Communists stayed.

UN planes also poured napalm and bombs on the Reds in an attempt to soften them up for an Allied counter-attack but United Press war correspondent Warren Franklin reported the Chinese held despite a heavy pounding.

Attacks on "Porkchop hill" and "Finger ridge" were less successful. The assault on "Porkchop" apparently was an attempt to divert attention from the assault on "Old Baldy." It was repulsed.

Antonio; Coast Guard Chief Petty Officer Maynard Joseph Fontaine, Wilmington, Calif., and Flying Tiger airline employee Blair Johnson and Robert Moore.

The four injured men were the first to leave devastated Wako Island after Monday's typhoon. They were flown to Kwajalein by a Navy patrol bomber and treated for injuries, none of which was serious.

Guided Missiles Used In Korea 'Model T' Version

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19 (UP)—The guided missiles launched by the Navy against North Korean targets are Model-T versions compared with the sleek, powerful new models which soon will be ready, reliable sources said Friday.

The new missiles, nearing the production stage, would be "truly guided" aerial weapons, these experts said, and some of them would be capable of carrying atomic warheads.

Scientists who have been working on development of push-button weapons tended to belittle the significance of the Navy's use of remotely controlled fighter planes.

First Try At Primitive Method
Rear Adm. John H. Sides, director of the Navy's guided missiles division, called the attacks by a World War II Gruman Hellcat, equipped with radio controls and television eyes, "one of the very first tries at a primitive method of operation."

Sides indirectly cast some cold water on speculation that the unmanned planes plunging into Communist targets ushered in a new era of push button warfare.

As he pointed out at a news conference Wednesday, the Navy has been using the obsolete Hellcats as pilotless, radio-controlled "drome" planes for several years as gunnery targets. About the only thing new was installation of a television camera so the control pilot, miles away in a guide plane, could see where the "kamikaze" was going and direct it smack onto the target.

As was that against South Koreans on Finger ridge.

TV Guidance A Step Ahead

Sides indicated, however, that television guidance of planes was a step ahead in clearing up the troublesome problem of pin-pointing guided missiles on targets.

But if the pilotless Hellcat is "primitive," Sides left no doubt that all the Armed Services are readying more up to date missiles to be used against ground or air targets.

Sides said the U. S. guided missile program is "coming along nicely... showing promising results."

While the Navy's missiles, at least, are not yet in full production, he said "many advance types" are under development.
