

Stevenson Charges GOP Is Ignoring The Issues

By United Press
Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson said Tuesday Republicans have flopped on the "two fundamental issues" of peace and prosperity, while Dwight D. Eisenhower accused his rival of a "shake-down" on the question of tidelands oil fields ownership.

Stevenson, in a speech prepared for delivery in Casper, Wyo., said the GOP would rather have "slogans, emotion and confetti" than discuss issues. The Democratic presidential nominee said that as a result of "Republican isolationism in foreign affairs and inaction in domestic affairs," there is no question that the Democrats are the party which can "keep this nation prosperous and lead the way to an enduring peace." Eisenhower celebrated his 62nd birthday in Houston where he made one of his strongest stands on states' rights. The GOP standard bearer said in an address prepared for delivery that the oil-rich off-shore territories belong to the states, but Stevenson "wants to take over the tidelands and dole out to the states whatever Washington wants you to have." Eisenhower said "that isn't what I call a fair shake. I call it a shake-down." Nixon Criticizes Adlai Eisenhower's running mate, Sen. Richard M. Nixon, charged that Stevenson gave a deposition for Alger Hiss after all the facts were known in the Hiss case. Nixon on, in his first nation-wide radio-television broadcast since defending his $18,235 personal expense fund Sept. 23, said the Illinois governor is unfit for the presidency because "he has failed to recognize the Communist threat—his actions, his statements, his record disqualify him from leading the United States and the free nations in the fight against Communism." The Stevenson camp appeared confident that Nixon's speech would not harm the Illinois governor. Wilson W. Wyatt, Stevenson's campaign manager, said in a statement that "a group of leaders of the American bar, many of them prominent Republicans, have reviewed the matter of Gov. Stevenson's deposition in the Hiss case." Wyatt said the attorney would "make their views known" in a statement.

Around The Square With Mack

We have just discovered that we have always been too self-centered, and almost without knowing it. We didn't mean to be. And we have been rather dogmatic in some of our personal views, and actually thought that we just couldn't be wrong. Well, such is not the case, and we have an idea that we have a lot of individuals who have similar views.

Also there are many of us who do not have enough respect for the other fellow's views. He may be right, though we disagree with

This is unfair, and in the future we are going to put in some time considering the other fellow's point of view.

Maybe at times we go off half-cocked—pull the trigger before we know what we are shooting at. In our childhood we didn't see how anybody would ever hope to get to heaven without joining the Baptist Church. We know better now, for we have learned that the one thing Blood of Christ makes salvation sure—not a worldly body.

We can remember when we thought all Catholics had horns, and the reason for this was that we grew up in a little town that didn't have Catholic within its bounds. We are no more Catholic now than we were then, but when we get to heaven it won't shock us when we see a Catholic. They have some good ones in this world—people who have followed the teachings of the Master.

Our county was strictly a "Democrat Hot Bed"—that is the few people we had were all Democrats. In our childish mind we

Funeral Rites For Clark Set Today In Cisco

Gerald Clark, 23, died in Graham hospital in Cisco, at 4:30 a.m. Monday, as the result of injuries sustained in an automobile accident which occurred Sunday night at a point about 3 1/4 miles east of that city. Two other men from Cisco, are still under treatment in a hospital, but are reported to be doing nicely. They are Herbert Neal Clark, brother of the deceased, and James Weldon Burson, who is suffering from head injuries. He resides 9 miles South of Cisco.

Funeral services for Clark were held at 2 o'clock this afternoon at the Thomas Funeral Chapel in Cisco, with Rev. Lee Fields of Carbon, in charge of the services. His survivors include his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Clark of Cisco; three brothers, Alton of Cisco, Burlison of Dallas, and Herbert Neal of Cisco. Two sisters Mrs. W. A. Morgan of Monahans, and Mrs. Howard Pryon of Farmington, N. M.

AMA—STOP! Academy Award winner Anne Baxter, left below, may have Hollywood all agog over her liking for small cigars, but the girls back in Boston aren't too impressed. Anne learned to relish the ladylike stogies on location in Quebec, where she was introduced to the delights of the wood by film director Alfred Hitchcock. However, Mrs. Evelyn Frye, below at right, of Medford, Mass., has been smoking a pipe for some time. Local males are hoping the fad doesn't invade Eastland County.

Phone Company's Open House Was Well Attended

More than 450 patrons of the Eastland Telephone Exchange visited the office and plant during open house on Friday and Saturday, and those in charge were exceedingly well pleased with the turn-out. Of course there were others who had planned to go who never did, as is always the case, but those who made the visit learned something about the "inside" of a telephone exchange.

They learned that Eastland has 1,652 telephones in operation, and that about 10,000 local calls are handled each day. They also learned that the annual payroll here is about $80,000.00.

They also learned that there are quite a number of people employed here, and that most of them are well known in the city. They are as follows: Elsie Nickous, Betty J. Carroll, Mrs. Mary Dell Jordan, Mrs. Erma Yeager, Mrs. Wanda Tackett, Edwina Martin, Mrs. Barbara Dunlap, W. H. McAnally, Mrs. Ernestine Pierce, A. A. Tuggle, Lovell E. Coggins, Bill Walters, Jr., Raymond Jenkins, Mrs. Donna Mae Anderson, Mrs. May Woods, and Rita Joyce Fox.

Bertha Freeman, Marjorie Lou, Fox, Pat Simmons, Mary Jo Johnson, Doris Roberts, Juanita Langlitz, Mrs. Louise Warren, Mrs. Laura Lou Trammell and Pat Brown.

All of these and more are the telephone company in Eastland—26 employees who furnish you two services, local and long distance.

Sister County Resident Dies; Buried Monday

Funeral services were held at the Lunn Funeral Chapel in Olney Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock for Mrs. C. W. Langston, 74-year-old sister of J. W. A. Cox, Rt. 1, Ranger.

Mrs. Langston died suddenly Sunday at her home near Loving, east of Olney. She and her husband had resided on their farm there for 44 years.

Officiating at her last rites Monday were Rev. Roy Langston, Weatherford Methodist minister, and Rev. W. J. Shelton, pastor of the First Methodist Church, Olney. Burial was at Jean.

Survivors in addition to Mrs. Langston include two sons, three daughters, 10 grandchildren and 13 great grandchildren.

Twenty-Seven Cash Awards Given Pupils In Eastland Schools; Fire Prevention Week Is Observed Here

While themes and posters were still on display at the High School Library Monday, all judging and awarding of prizes were completed last week.

These Fire Prevention contests are staged each year, but it seems that the display this year was just a little better than usual.

There were nine divisions, and each division offered a first, second and third cash prize, of $2, $1.50 and $1.00. One grand prize of $3 was also awarded. The Eastland Chamber of Commerce contributed the cash prizes.

They are as follows: Themes: Junior-Senior Division High School: 1st Mary Franklin, 2nd Jana Weaver, 3rd Joy Lynne Robinson, Honorable Mention: Mable Grimes.

Themes: Freshman and Sophomore Division High School: 1st Derrell Gene Basham, 2nd Alice Joyce Cushman, 3rd Jeanne Pittman, Honorable Mention: Hazle Spindie and Leo Stambough.

Junior High School Posters: Theme: Douglas School, Bobby Collins, 8th grade. 1st Benny Cozburn, 2nd Robin Peacock and Daryna Brown, 3rd Juan Jay Smith, Honorable Mention: Betty Walker and Sandra Taylor, Gaila Walters and Laura Harris, Dema Lou Quarles, Jo Ann Hollis, Julia Lynn Inzer and Sue Stoker, Kenneth Leach, Nancy Lou Owen and Linda Linkenhoger, Ola Jean and Maxine Yancy.

Bill Hunter Is Best Salesman

Maybe the super-salesman lives in Eastland. Who knows? Bill Hunter, King Motor Co. salesman, pegged up a sales record in July, that made him National Champion. Bill says he was not expecting anything like this, but that it just happened.

Seems that the Ford Motor Co. has instituted a contest which has grown popular, in that salesmen are given a certain number of points for each sale. Sales include both new and used cars, trucks, etc., and it makes no difference what you sell—whether it was a Ford or some other type car found on the Ford Dealer's used car lot.

A salesman who pegs 500 points during the course of a year is considered good, but when Bill came along and "peddled" 516 cars during the month of July, he had really set some kind of a new record. Yet this is exactly what he did.

Before you begin saying it can't be done, let us explain. You may sell cars collectively or individually, at wholesale or retail. When the King used car lot would began getting crowded, Mr. Hunter would go to some large city dealer and "lump off" a few dozen. This was repeated on more than one occasion with the result that during July he sold no less than 516 cars.

These figures were obtained from the "Ford Dealer" magazine, and are authentic.

UN Forces In Year's Biggest Allied Attack

SEOUL, Korea, Oct. 14 (UP)—United Nations forces battled to the top of one Communist-held mountain on the central Korean front Tuesday and reared the crest of a second in the biggest Allied attack in a year.

With Sniper ridge safely in their hands, the Allies fought desperately to dislodge grenade-tossing Chinese from Triangle Hill under a hail of Communist artillery and mortar shells.

Soft shale and sand on the slopes hampered the UN troops.

"It's a big, tough fight and very bloody," one UN officer reported. "It hasn't slackened off a bit. The assault people have been under terrific fire since they jumped off."

UN soldiers, tanks, artillery and air force fighter-bombers teamed up in the huge dawn assault on Triangle hill north of Kumhwa, eastern base of the old Iron Triangle, and on Sniper ridge across the valley to the east. Massed UN guns were firing at the rate of one shell a second.

' Inch Toward Peak
The triumphant UN troops reached the crest of Sniper ridge about noon (9 p.m. Monday CST) and reported the height now belongs to the Allies.

Across the valley, UN troops gained the crest of "Jane Russell" knob on the northeast corner of Triangle hill and at 1 p.m. (10 p.m. Monday CST) were inching toward the top of the main peak.

Eight Army headquarters did not disclose the size of the attacking force or the number of Chinese believed to be on the two mountains. It was the biggest Allied attack since October 1951, when UN soldiers hit main Communist positions in the "line of demarcation" battles. On Oct. 13, 1951, the U. S. Second division with an attached French battalion captured the last peak on Heartbreak ridge—a bayonet, grenade and flame-thrower attack.

A&M Club Will Have Meeting At H. S. Auditorium

The Eastland County A&M Club will have a meeting Wednesday night, Oct. 15, at the Eastland high school auditorium, at 8 p.m. Bring your family as an interesting program is being planned.

Rotarians Enjoy Splendid Meeting

Dr. Jas. C. Whittington displayed a new blue print of the proposed Eastland-Ranger Lake at the Rotary luncheon Monday noon. He also announced that with the exception of buying a little more land, that everything is ready to go, and that the directors would be advertising for bids early in December, it is thought.

The program was under the direction of Norris Wilson, who brought Fire Chief Kilborn and Rev. Otto Marshall along to present a Fire Prevention program. As spokesman, Rev. Marshall, pastor and fireman, told us about our low key rate, our volunteer fire department, equipment, etc.

The fire department is composed of three paid men and 22 volunteers. This group is one of the most efficient in West Texas, and recently won in a contest, over a number of teams from West Texas. They have their trophy on display at the Wilson store.

We have three trucks here, capable of handling 2,100 gallons of water each minute, and well as one used for smaller blazes, grass fires, etc. Fire loss during the past year has been less than $10,000. The city has ample fire protection in that it keeps in reserve considerably more than million gallons of water to be used for fire only.

Rev. Marshall also told of the Fireman's Fund, pensions, and insurance carried for firemen.

Analysis of Key Rate. We are penalized for not having duplicate pumping systems, small mains in some sections of the city, not enough hydrants in business district, a building code or law, narrow alleys and 75 per cent shingle roofs.

Though we gain back some of the lost points by having two 750 gallon pumps and one 600 gallon pumper. Fire prevention taught in public schools and an Arson Reward maintained. This means that Eastland has a larger credit than any other town in this area.

The fire department here is very efficient, it was claimed.

The speaker stated that "on-lookers" sometimes prevented firemen getting to a fire by driving ahead of them, and otherwise blocking traffic. People are asked to wait five minutes after the fire alarm is given, before starting for the scene.

UPSET OF RAMS IS 'GREATEST THRILL' IN 21-YEAR CAREER AS COACH, SAYS YARBROUGH

By Grover Lee

"I'm tellin' you—I still can't believe it. It was the greatest thrill of my life—believe me—and what a thrill!"

Coach Boone Yarbrough, mentor of Ranger Junior College's now-famous Rams who upset the nation's No. 1 junior college team at San Angelo Saturday night 12-7, exhaled billowing cigarette smoke, yawned.

"Golly," he told a reporter early Monday morning in the office of Grover C. Boswell, president of the smallest school in the Pioneer Conference, "I haven't had any sleep."

He took a long drag off his cigarette, then slowly mashed it out in the nearby ash tray.

President Boswell, seated behind his desk, was listening to the a.m. conference. He must have been a little highly-keyed, too, because he didn't say much.

Praise From Ram Coach

Boone hung up dreamily, almost wearily perhaps, and—like he was floating on a cloud—made his way back to his chair. "You remember Max?" he said to the reporter. "He was All-American end at Texas U. in 1947. Played some pro ball, too. A good coach and a good guy." Still breaking training the weary Ranger pilot lit another cigarette. "Max said it again," he told his listeners. "Same thing he told me after the game Saturday night. He said we fully deserved to win—said our bunch had his Rams out-hustled, out-fought, out-coached, out-played."

The IJC mentor was lavish in his praise of the handful of 30 fans and the small group of Ranger bandsters who accompanied

"I didn't get back to town from San Angelo until 5 a.m. Sunday," Boone explained. "Didn't go to bed. Sat around and waited for the papers. Then dozed only a few minutes—sorta catnapped. The phone started ringing. Kept ringing. Never got so many calls. Folks all seemed excited, happy, about the victory."

He yawned as he paused. Then he grinned. "When I did finally go to bed Sunday night, I couldn't sleep. I'd just lay down—try to sleep—but couldn't make it. I'd get up and fool around the house. Then go to bed—get up. Go to bed—get up. Over and over."

The telephone rang.

It was for Boone, Coach Max Baumgartner, the San Angelo Junior College mentor, was calling from San Angelo about some prints of the movie films of the big game. They talked about five minutes. His confab was lost in the buzz of conversation in President Boswell's office.

6,000 Stunned As Rangers Upset San Angeloans

Last week San Angelo's grid-hoop populace was stirred to frenzied joy with the announcement that their San Angelo Junior College Rams had been rated as the No. 1 junior college football team in the nation.

And during those same days in Ranger, home of the Ranger Junior College Rangers, a cloud of gloom and impending doom had settled over the city's likewise grid-crazed folks. The Purple & Whiten of Coach Boone Yarbrough had been blasted by Navarro Junior College 12-0, a few nights before and slapped from the ranks of the land's glamorous unbeaten, the injury jinx was stalking the

But that Saturday night did come. And at kickoff time, 8 p.m., the nation's No. 1 rated junior college team kicked off to Ranger Junior College's doped-to-lose Rams, while a mob of 6,000 rabid fans looked on anticipating the slaughter to come.

First play after the kick-off, Quarterback Freddy Sanders faked a handoff to Rusty Talbot, another Ranger backfield mate, churned 58 fast and beautiful yards down to the Ram 22-yard line. These 6,000 leaped to their feet, mouths open.

Democrats For Eisenhower To Offer Programs

The "Texas Democrats for Eisenhower" local organization has just announced through its county chairman, Ray B. McCorkle, that speakers have been made available to go to any community in this county to discuss Mr. Eisenhower's platform.

These speakers are ready to give first hand information, and to show Democrats how to support Eisenhower and still remain a "Jeffersonian Democrat. If you care for a program of this type, either see or write Ray B. McCorkle, Box 29 Eastland, naming date desired and place for meeting.

Men Injured In Clyde Car Crash

Three men were injured and one car was burned as a result of a two-car collision on Highway 80, near Clyde Monday night.

Jim Huston, Clyde cafe owner, was seriously injured. He was removed to a hospital in Baird. Roy Camfield of Cisco, Humble Oil employee, was injured but remained at the scene of the wreck. Camfield was riding with Huston.

The two passengers in the other car were injured and were taken to an Abilene hospital. Officers say that it appears that both cars were driving west on the Abilene highway.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom L. Cox and family attended the funeral held Saturday in Mexico for Mrs. Cox's father, Alverh J. Willis.

Rusty Talbot for another first in midfield. From there Baker shot one to Bobby Skipworth, who juggled the oval madly for a few seconds, then steamed down the right sideline to reach the 3 on a breath-taking play. There Baker threw back to Talbot for the first tally of the night.

Ranger Passes Play

Ranger kicked off to San Angelo, and ace Ram Quarterback Henderson, scooped up the boot on his own goal line, raced back to midfield—nearly loose for a touch-down-jant. But he was nabbed at that spot by Charles Blanton, Ranger halfback. A Ram pass connection moved the oval down to the 17. And there the Ranger defense tightened and the San Angelo attack fizzled with two thwarted ground stabs and a pair of batted-down passes.

Taking over on their own 20, the Baker passing and Blanton running moved the leather down to the Ram 20. Baker hit Left End Charles Brazil in the left flat and the flankman scampered down to the 5. Baker faded. Another pass. Blanton gathered it in the flat. Another touchdown.

The clock was running out—three minutes to go.

Ranger kicked off to San Angelo, Henderson pulled in the end-over-end boot on his 10, started down the middle, cut to the right behind beautiful interference, and scored on a 90-yard paydirt gallop. Talley kicked the point for the San Angeloans.

Final Threat By Rams

A few minutes later the Rams began to roll again as the clock ticked away. They roared down to the 10. There two attempts to break through the Ranger line were stopped at the line of scrimmage. Then the S. A. quarterback tried an aerial to Leon Jones.

Ranger's Blanton pulled the oval down. Ranger—1st and 10. The Rangers held on to the ball but tight. And the final gun exploded.

And then it was over. A wild nightmare. But true. The Rangers had won one of the upsets in the nation to bring to an end a football-mad Saturday with a sensational 12-7 triumph over the San Angelo Junior College Rams. Even this reporter is stunned. He'll believe it when he sees it in print.

figured a Republican was a man who thought a Negro was better than he was. We have long since learned better, but 40 years ago we might have been abusive had someone made an effort to correct our line of thinking.

This proves that not only the writer, but others as well, have lots to learn and a short time in which to do it. It was our egotism, we hope, and not the heart, and it may be that some of the youngsters up in Maine have had similar views concerning Democrats.

It is said that ye are all born equal, and in a sense that is true, yet we know some are good, some are bad, and others worse. If we were equal at birth, it can truthfully be said that some people have outgrown their birth status, while others never change.

But the main thing is this: Let us all do the very best we can with whatever tools that may be at our disposal. Let us give the other fellow a little credit for something now and then. He will feel more kindly toward us, whether his views are accepted or not.

Henry Ford once said "life begins at 40" and he should have added "positive thinking begins at 50."

When we were 20 years old we thought our dad was a kind of old fogey. In our mind, he had a lot to learn, though he was a University man and was quite successful in his profession. We would give him pointers, and he would listen—though we can't say we every greatly influenced him. At 30 years of age we had just about given up educating him, and at 40 we would ask an occasional question, realizing that two heads were possibly better than one. At 50 we had come to the conclusion that he knew as much—maybe more, than we did, and we sought his advice quite often. The Lord called him shortly afterward, and since then we have been on our own.

But we have learned one lesson, and that is, that we may be right, but can be wrong. Let us respect the other fellow's views, even though he may be a "crack pot." You do not have to accept them, and he will feel more kindly toward you simply because you listened. Maybe at a later date he will listen to you—even accept your opinion. Nobody cares for a self-centered, egotistical person, even though they may be right. We can respect the other person, even if we can't follow him.

At that time Legionnaires in more than 800 Texas posts will open their fiscal year with a membership campaign.

HOME-BUILDING BOOM IS FORECAST TO CONTINUE; 1,000,000 MORE IN '53-'54

WASHINGTON, (UP)—Home builders expect their booming business to go right on booming for years to come.

They see a demand for at least one million new homes a year next year and in 1954. After that they think business may even get better.

Only the unexpected could upset their plans—an all-out war or an economic depression.

Other problems they expect to take in stride. Building materials are no longer scarce and all-important copper is now plentiful again.

One serious problem that looms for the builders' 1953 plans is a reluctance by banks to finance mortgages at the low rates of interest on home loans backed by the Veterans Administration and the Federal Housing Agency.

But the builders are hopeful that problem will take care of itself.

Another problem worrying the builders is the threat of a scarcity of improved building lots. Some experts feared a shortage in improved lots might prove a "significant factor" in cutting the volume of home building.

This fear was recently expressed by Norman Strunk, executive vice president of the U. S. Savings and Loan League, and Dr. Arthur M. Weimer, dean of Indiana University's School of Business, in the league's quarterly letter.

Peak Reached In 1950
Haeger discounted pessimistic predictions that the home builders are in for a slump because of record-breaking production in the past four years. The peak was reached in 1950 with 1.4 million new homes.

"In spite of the greatest boom in the house building history from 1948 through 1951," he told the closed conference, "there is still a tremendous potential for new homes—a demand that is sufficient to make possible the production of one million houses a year for an almost indefinite period."

But Haeger said his forecast was based on the assumption that the present good general business conditions would continue. He emphasized that a recession or a depression traditionally cuts marriage and birth rates and forces many new families to "double up" with their relatives instead of buying their own homes.

But barring an economic crisis, Haeger said, such factors as new families, replacing homes lost through fire and other natural disasters and replacing obsolete homes add up to a long-term demand for one million or more homes a year.

One reason for some pessimism about the industry's immediate future is that now the "depression babies" are coming of age. They were fewer than babies of the boom prosperity of the 1920's or the war prosperity of the 1940's.

The Census Bureau calculates that in the next five years there will be about 775,000 less women in the marriageable 20-24 year-old age group than in 1950. This is the result of the sharp fall in the birth rate in the depression days of the early 1930's.

Figures 730,000 Homes
Haeger insisted, however, that despite fewer marriageable women the rock-bottom demand for new houses will be 730,000 new homes a year. He figures it this way:

From 1946 to 1950 there was an "average" demand for one million new houses a year. In the 1950's the demand will suffer a loss of 480,000 because of the decreasing marriage rate, deaths, divorces and fewer young people needing homes.

This loss will be compensated in part however, Haeger said, by new demands for housing because of a continuing move from farm to city, "undoubling"—families moving out of their relatives' houses into their own homes—and urban migration. These should make up about 220,000 of the 490,000 loss in demand—a total loss of 270,000 in the 1940-50 demand for one million new homes a year.

In addition to this rock-bottom demand, Haeger said, there will

It'll Be Cooler, But Still Dry

Partly cloudy and cooler weather Tuesday made parched Eastland Countians hopeful that badly needed rain might be in the offing in the coming hours.

But the weatherman this morning offered little encouragement. His forecast—"Partly cloudy and cooler Tuesday and Tuesday night. Cooler Wednesday."

A biting cold air mass, the most severe this fall, sent temperatures hurtling down 30 degrees Tuesday as it moved through the Southwest, reports United Press.

Snow started falling Monday night in southeast Wyoming and was still coming down at daybreak. The snow was due to spread to Colorado later Tuesday.

Forecasts said it was too early to tell if this frigid mass would follow the front south into Oklahoma and Texas or would veer east.

Prosts and below-freezing temperatures were due as far south as Oklahoma Tuesday night. The front brought a hope of rain to Oklahoma, which has been nearly bone dry all month.

Forecasters said it was too early to tell if this frigid mass would follow the front south into Oklahoma and Texas or would veer east.

the Purple & White to San Angelo Saturday night. "They really whooped it up," he said proudly. "They really gave us backing—every minute." His boys? He was proud of every one of 'em, even the reserves who didn't get to play in the fracas. "I've got the sweetest bunch of kids in the country."

he received his degree in 1932. During his high school and college pigskin combat, the RJC mentor played all positions—every line slot and the backfield posts.

Another Thrill In 1945

He started his coaching career at Throckmorton, moved to Albany and two district titles, then to Harold and two undefeated high school grid aggregations, from there to Weatherford, then to Mineral Wells, then Graham.

At Graham came another big game that will always remain etched in Yarbrough's memory. It wasn't a victory. But it was another upset.

His Graham Steers, out-weighted, out-classed, out-rated, played a heavy, experienced, rugged Wichita Falls High eleven—held their favored foes to a meager 19 to 14 win. Graham folks still talk about that one. That's the one that put Graham in the football business.

Wichita Falls, of course, went on to miss winning the 1945 state title by a whisker.

Yarbrough is happily married to the former Miss Gussie Carroll of Weatherford, and they have a son Boone Carroll, 12.

Is young Boone a football enthusiast? "Nope. Baseball's his favorite sport," said Boone. "But that's okay."

The reporter was kicking a query around in his mind. He fired up a cigarette, took a drag, finally blurted: "I reckon you're kin to old Daniel," and accompanied it with a smile.

Descendant Of Daniel "As a matter of fact, sure am," the RJC mentor said. "I really am a direct descendant of the most famous Boone of all. In fact," he went on, "I can even trace off the Boone clan back to Scotland and England—they even had a family coat of arms."

He was honest, wasn't kidding. But the reporter understood when Boone added that lots of folks didn't believe the oft-told tale of his ancestry.

"But" he wound up, grinning broadly, "maybe that's why I like to hunt and fish so doggone well!" About that time the little party broke up, and everybody took off, leaving President Boswell alone at his desk.

Yep. Saturday night was history now. But what history!

And we understand that Boone slept like a log Monday night. So, maybe like old Daniel used to do after he'd finished a tough job.

This item is one of the many boons to mankind on display at the seventh annual national hardware show. The show is a foot-killer that rambles over more than four acres at Grand Central Palace in New York City, offering the wares 40,000 items of 700 manufacturers.

The displays run a gadget gamut from paint brushes with handles angled 45 degrees at brush-head for painting around pipes and back of radiators, to pocket knives with saws, scissors, rulers, files, punches, corkscrews, borers, scalars, can-and-bottle openers, screw drivers, wrenches, cigar cutters, tweezers, and bone toothpicks guaranteed to last a gourmet's lifetime.

For people with big lawns and pocketbooks, there is a fascinating lazy-man's assortment of gasoline-powered mowers, leaf-sweepers, and little rotary snow plows. There are lawn mowers with seats for the drivers. The prize one has a leatherette-upholstered, hair-cushion spring seat with an upholstered back. The model cuts a swath of 30 inches. It has a transmission like

Plans Made For Halloween Carnival, Oct. 31

The annual Halloween Carnival will be sponsored jointly by West Ward and South Ward Schools has been set for 5 till 7 p.m. Friday, Oct. 31st, in the High School Gym.

Mmes. Morris Jones and H. B. McMay of South Ward School and Mrs. D. Webb of West Ward are chairmen of arrangements.

Other chairmen working on the various projects include Mmes. E. I. Graham, Johnson Smith, Clyde Horner, Sid Arther, Jr., O. B. Shirley, L. W. Dalton, Neil Dav, B. Howard Green, James Wright, D. E. Frazer.

Mmes. Green and Roland Koch are the publicity chairmen.

Plans were made at separate business meetings held in members homes last week.

PERSONALS

Mrs. J. T. Anderson, mother of W. A. Anderson has returned home after visiting with relatives in Talihima, Okla., and Amarillo.

Doug King, student at A&M College spent the week end here in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hood King.

J. C. Burk, student at A&M College, spent the week end here in the home of his mother, Mrs. Grace Burk.

Don Anderson, student at A&M College, spent the week end here in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Anderson, bringing as his guest his room mate Bill Word of Houston.

Mrs. N. L. Smitham has returned to her home here following a visit with her daughter, Mrs. Oliver Goldsmith and family of Waco and with Mrs. V. R. Smitham heard of her.

Nargis, the No. 1 film queen of India, is in movietown with a goodwill delegation of Indian stars and producers.

At 23 she's starred in 50 movies in the 10 years she's been an actress. India boasts 60 movie studios—six times as many as Hollywood—and six million fans see pictures there daily, compared to 1.5 million popcorn eaters a day in this country.

Unknown In Movietown

But when Nargis walked down the streets of movietown she was unknown.

"In Bombay I can't go out shopping, I collect too many crowds," said Nargis in her clipped British accent.

Her life isn't much different from that of Joan Crawford or Marilyn Monroe, she shrugged.

Her real name was Fatima. This was changed because "it sounded too holy and not sexy," she explained, and that complaint sounds familiar, too.

"Four years ago we got censorship," she went on. "Now I must always keep my low neckbones covered."

"We have movie critics, also. I have an oval-shaped face, so one always writes I have a face like a papaya! This upsets me."

"However, in the studios we are one happy family. Stars are so loved," she said, "we can do anything. If the director is rude to us, we walk off the set. If we don't like the script we ask them to rewrite it."

No Petty Jealousies

"We are very polite, though," she added. "We do not have petty jealousies."

Nargis and the 13 other members of the Indian delegation will be given the "grade-A" tour of the studios here and parties at the homes of local big-wigs. One night they will show Hollywood the first Indian picture to be given a general release in this country, "Aan."

"I like this country," decided the movie star. "I thought it would be all bare legs and girls and divoices, but the people are very friendly and I met someone who's been married 27 years."

OCT-12-18 THIS IS OIL PROGRESS WEEK

Progress 1952

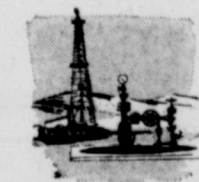

Texans have a natural interest in the oil industry, which is so important in their State, and in the progress made since. Oil Progress Week was last observed.

Here are a few quick facts:

NEW WELLS

During the twelve months ending August 31, 1952, the Texas oil industry drilled 17,000 new wells, at a cost of over $700 million. Most of the heavy expense of drilling these new wells was paid from earnings plowed back into the development of the State's oil resources.

PRODUCTION

Production has reached a record level. Texas currently is producing about 46 per cent of all the crude oil produced in the U. S. In the year ending August 31, Texas production totaled about 1,015 million barrels. There are now 133,800 producing oil wells in Texas.

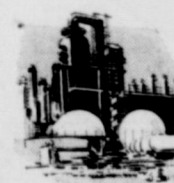

RESERVES

Proved oil reserves in Texas of 18 billion barrels represented 57 per cent of the U. S. total at the beginning of 1952. During 1951, the last year for which figures are available, proved reserves increased two billion barrels. These are developed oil reserves and the figure is important; developed reserves supply our needs currently and provide reserve capacity that is immediately available when we need it.

TAXES

The Texas oil industry continues to be the largest tax-payer in the State. Through the year ending August 31, gross production taxes alone on Texas oil and natural gas amounted to more than $137 million; in addition, the industry pays large amounts in other taxes.

REFINING

The Texas refineries will have a big year. They now employ, in round numbers, 46,000 Texans, and process about 28% of all the oil refined in the U. S. The daily refining capacity of all Texas refineries exceeds 2,000,000 barrels. A program to expand and improve these facilities has been general throughout the industry.

TRANSPORTATION

The total mileage of Texas' trunk pipe lines for oil and finished products is over 29,000. This low-cost transportation system is a major factor in the maintenance of the low prices you pay for petroleum products.

Humble Pipe Line Co. operates 5,895 miles of trunk lines for oil and finished products, which had transported a daily average of 722,600 barrels in the year ending August 31.

In brief, the Texas oil industry during the past year continued to do its part in meeting the demand for oil. It has expanded pipelines to provide low-cost transportation. It has improved facilities for making more and better petroleum products for your use. Today, two gallons of gasoline do work that required three gallons in 1925; and the gasoline costs no more than it did then.

Pioneer Couple Honored On 60th Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. John McCune of Dublin, Pioneers of Texas, were honored on their 60th wedding anniversary, Sunday, Oct. 5, with an open house in the home of their daughter, Mrs. DeAlva Edwards of Olden.

Mr. McCune, 87, and Mrs. McCune, 83, were married Oct. 5, 1892 in Dublin by the Rev. Harris, Baptist minister. She is the former Miss Lelia Burch, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joe Burch of Dublin.

They have made their home in Dublin and Thurber. They lived for six years, following their marriage, in Dublin, before they moved to Thurber, where they resided for about 40 years and moved back to Dublin some 14 years ago.

Other children, all of whom assisted Mrs. Edwards in honoring their parents are Roy McCune of Dublin, Miss Thelma McCune and Mrs. Artie Long of Fort Worth, A. W. Burch, only brother of Mrs. McCune and Mrs. Burch of Hamilton were also members of the house party.

The couple have eight grandchildren and four great grandchildren.

The refreshment table was laid with a white Maderia linen cloth and decorated with an arrangement of red roses, flanked by white candles in green candelabras. The large white wedding cake, decorated with a miniature bridal couple was placed at one end of the table with the crystal punch bowl gracing the other end.

Mrs. E. H. Fisher of Fort Worth and Miss Thelma Ann Edwards of Olden, granddaughters of the honored couple presided.

Registering during the hours 2 till 5 p.m. were Mr. and Mrs. Charles McCoy, Mr. and Mrs. Jones E. Edwards, Mrs. James Z. Patter, Mrs. Milton Day and children, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Brown and Cheryl, of Eastland, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Robinson, Pat Alderson, Mrs. H. G. Burch, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Brown, of Ranger, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Burch, Hamilton.
