Shivers Scorches Stevenson

BOLTS PARTY—Wayne Morse (R-Ore.), right, said Republican campaign strategists told him that Dwight D. Eisenhower, left, once wanted to give Indiana Senator William E. Jenner "a punch in the nose" instead of a political endorsement. Morse cited the reported Eisenhower sentiment as an example of the "political hypocrisy" which, he said, drove him to bolt the GOP ticket and support Adlai Stevenson, the Democratic presidential nominee.

Around The Square With Mack

There are times when we feel like Danny McShane, the cordially despised wrestler. Danny says you will have to know him to like him, and that if you could know him as he knows himself, you would actually love him. In the case of Danny this may be true, but with us it is different. Nobody loves a fat man—especially Trumanites who know that we are boosting Ike.

They have a perfect right to vote as they please, but this does not denote they are always right. Fact is they are wrong this time, and we fear we shall never reach them this side of eternity. They are protected by the Constitution today, but may not be tomorrow if we allow Joe Stalin to take over. Many Stevenson Democrats feel that they are right. They are good men and true, and have never been able to find enough flaw in the Democratic platform to cause them to bolt. Actually they feel that they are right at this time, and wonder why so many Democrats have gone crazy and are supporting Eisenhower. But the whole truth is something they lack. They are good as far as they go, but they don't go far enough to do any good.

It might be said that most of them are satisfied, but they wouldn't be if they would take time to learn the truth—the whole truth. This writer is not supporting Mr. Eisenhower just to be contrary, but because we have no other choice, unless we want to vote for a fellow who promises to steal from us, every time he gets an opportunity. And we can't do this. We have some opponents who try to minimize the value of the tidelands. Stevenson, himself, did this. Harry Truman says they may be worth two bits an acre, but we notice he took them the first opportunity he had. Maybe they are only worth two-bits an acre to Harry, but our Land Department finds a ready sale for oil leases at $20.00 or more per acre. And as all this money goes to our schools, we shall not give up without a struggle.

Eisenhower favors giving these lands back to Texas, while Stevenson says he will follow Harry's pattern and keep them. A man is not a murderer until he kills someone. I am not a thief until he steals something. However, we can't think much of people who say they will kill or steal—they might do it.

This alleged prosperity we are having is not prosperity at all. It is just a matter of "charging it" until our credit plays out. Then we will be called upon to pay at a time when it will be impossible. Joe Stalin is very agreeable to this plan. He figures that when the dark day comes he can buy America for about two cents on the dollar, and then make us pay this while working in his Siberian mines. Not a very pretty picture, we admit, but one worthy of closest study.

Harry Truman is grasping at straws, for he is sacred. A new president at this time might prove quite embarrassing to him. He might discover that some of his Red Heralds are really whales, and whales might bite.

He has embarrassed this country more than once, and he may do so (Continued On Page 3)

BANQUET WILL OPEN TWO-DAY EXES' AFFAIR

Hundreds of visitors are expected to swarm into Ranger today and tonight for the annual Homecoming of Ranger Junior College, leaders of the Ex-Students' Association, sponsors of the gala 1952 event, predicted this morning.

By parade time tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock, throngs totaling as many as 5,000 persons may be jammed on downtown streets to witness the big 1952 Homecoming parade which promises to be the longest and most colorful in local history.

Officers of the Ex-Students' Association of Ranger Junior College headed by Pete Brashier, president, announced early today that everything was in readiness for what exes have planned as "the greatest and most enjoyable homecoming event in Ranger's history."

'B' Squad Plays Here Saturday

The Eastland High School "B" team dropped a game to De Leon last Friday with a score of 7-6 in their favor, but the boys are looking for a different story when they play the Cisco "B" team in Eastland Saturday night.

Harmful Pranks On Hallowe'en Now On Decline

Hallowe'en is just around the corner, with plenty of foolishness and maybe fun. Yes, Friday, Oct. 31, is Hallowe'en.

This is one celebration that has made a complete change. When Hallowe'en came into notice many, many years ago, it was known as Holy Evening. People would gather and sing songs of praise. Today they gather and see how much noise and disturbance they may make. Quite a change.

Anyway it gets so rough, at times, that officers are taxed to the limit, therefore this story. Have fun but make it clean fun. Do not damage or destroy property. Treat others as you would want them to treat you, and everything will be about right.

Gift Boxes Will Close Nov. 15

Some people have been wondering why gift collection boxes had been placed down town so early. It will be remembered that the Legion Auxiliary is sponsoring this movement, but as the collected gifts must be collected prior to November 15th, it was necessary to begin at the early date.

Ike Forces Plan Business Session

Democrats for Eisenhower are to hold a business session at the Woman's Club at 7:30 this evening, and all Eisenhower supporters are urged to be present.

Little Items Of Local Interest

Mr. and Mrs. James Stephens and daughter, Barbara, of 409 W. Moss, were injured in a car wreck near Brownwood Sunday. They were taken to a Brownwood hospital. Mrs. Stephens was seriously injured, and is yet in a precarious condition. Miss Barbara was also very painfully injured, while Mr. Stephens received only minor injuries, it is thought. All are still in the hospital.

Thief Light-minded
HOUSTON, Tex. (UP)—Stealing accessories from automobiles took a new twist here, Naval Lt. M. L. Mooney reported to police someone broke into his car and stole the dome light.

Egg Inside Egg
MT. CARMEL, Pa. (UP)—Mrs. Alex Rawn found inside a normal size egg, the usual yolk, the usual white—plus a second egg just one inch in diameter.

OVER 4,500 MAY WITNESS BIG PLOWBOY-RANGERS GRID DUEL SATURDAY; GAME IS TOSS-UP Center—(55) Norman Lowrie, 235, Denton.

Right guard—(65) Laudie Bitner, 175, Waco.
Right tackle—(77) Jim Bomar, 195, Paragould, Ark.
Right end—(86) Bill Lutz, 176, Fort Worth.
Quarter—(22) Joe Bill Fox, 160, Fort Worth.
Left half—(50) Guy Hill, 165, Grandview.
Right half—(29) Walter Bryan, 170, Olney.
Fullback—(19) Franklin Earey, 170, Breckenridge.
Coach Boone Yarborough's starters won't be known until kickoff time.

Coach Yarborough will field a weighty, hard-fighting Purple & White eleven which is rated—on paper, at least—as the best defensive outfit in the fast Pioneer Conference circuit. His offense, too, is sizzling, springing off the successfully-executed spread with plenty of classy backfield talent carrying out ball-handling, running and blocking assignments. The Rangers' aerial attack, however, isn't dazzling.

On the other hand enemy Mentor H. A. (Sandy) Sandford's Plowboys boast a potent passing game with Fort Worth's Joe Bill Fox and Tommy Hudspeth of Weatherford sparkling as leading fingers in the PC loop. The Plowboys' slashing ground attack is not to be underestimated, either, in pre-game doping. Their terra-firma yardage-gainers are led by a trio of ace ball-carriers—Guy Hill, Dick Castleberry and Willis Grayson.

Last week the Plowboys hammered out a 13 to 7 win over Kilgore, while the Rangers managed a 12 to 7 victory over a "B" team from North Texas State College at Denton. Ranger has an edge in victories, boasting a record of 5 wins to one lone loss. The Plowboys have won four, lost one.

Here's the Plowboys' starting lineup:

Police Benefit Dance, Nov. 11th

Police Chief Ray Laney, visited our sanctum Wednesday while on his annual tour around the square announcing the Fourth Policeman's Benefit Dance. The dance this year will be held on November 11th, at the American Legion Hall, with Zeke Williams' 6-piece orchestra furnishing the music.

Last year the dance was quite successful, and it is thought the program this year will be equally as good. No use for us to give advice—just wait until a cop nabs you, and you'll be glad to buy a couple of tickets.

Mother of Mrs. Pickens Dies In Hot Springs, Ark.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Pickens and Betty left late Thursday for Hot Springs, Ark., where they go to attend the funeral of Mrs. Pickens' mother, Mrs. E. W. Hutchinson, of that city.

She passed away shortly before noon Friday, and the message reached Eastland a few minutes before 12. In conversation with Mr. Pickens it was learned that no funeral arrangements have been made, so far as they know.

Broiler Growers Plan 5 Meetings

Five poultry meetings on commercial broiler production have been scheduled in Eastland County next week according to word at the County Agents' office.

The first meeting will be held at the Chamber of Commerce office in Ranger next Monday night, October 27 at 7:30 o'clock.

Bright, Sunny, Dry—Shucks!

Mister Weatherman, please have a heart—
Tell us when that big rain will start!

In some parts of this nation today, weather forecasters labeled the climate "wonderful" and said the current warm and sunny spell would continue for an indefinite period of days.

But it really wasn't so to hundreds of Eastland Countians who still need rain to replenish fields parched by a long and widespread drought.

However, as usual, no encouragement from forecasters Friday at noon.

The weather experts took a gander out Eastland County way, surveyed clear skies, and said: "Fair through Saturday, no important temperature changes."

State Chief Lashes Adlai In Air Blast

Seven "Loyal Democrats" Friday prepared for a series of speeches throughout Texas Saturday. The barrage of talks was scheduled to reply to the latest attack on the Truman administration from Gov. Allan Shivers.

Shivers told a state-wide radio audience Thursday night that if Adlai Stevenson, the Democratic presidential nominee, succeeds Mr. Truman "probably the only change would be the Harvard accent—with wisecracks instead of cuss words."

"Adlai Stevenson is not going to disagree with Harry Truman on the tidelands, or on the Taft-Hartley act, or on the FEPC, or on Dean Acheson's foreign policy, or even the market quotations on mink coats and red herrings," the governor said.

"It looks to me as if Mr. Truman has already taken Brother Stevenson to the woodshed a couple of times, and Brother Stevenson apparently has learned his lesson well," he declared.

Shivers said, "The real danger is that another four years of this administration would so weaken the free institutions of this country that the only alternatives would be state socialism or totalitarianism."

He said he was "more than ever convinced that Stevensonism would be a continuation of Trumanism."

Saturday the "Loyalists" planned this schedule of speeches:
House Speaker—Sam Rayburn, Sulphur Springs.
State Agriculture Commissioner—John C. White, Terrell.
William McCraw, Dallas attorney, Harlingen.
District Judge Sarah Hughes of Dallas, Vernon.
Joe Bailey Humphreys, Dallas attorney, Wortham, Teague, Fairfield and Mexia.
G. Ray Lee of Dallas, Granbury.
Ralph Yarborough, unsuccessful candidate for governor, Franklin, Bremond, Calvert and Hearne.

3 High School Grid Stadiums Dark Tonight

It's very quiet on the Eastland County football front today.

And there'll be no glowing arcs and rah-rahing in any of the area's three large pigskin centers.

All three major high school stadiums, enclosing cleat-scarred turfs at Cisco, Ranger and Eastland will be dark during the early nocturnal hours of a usually active football Friday.

Eastland's Mavericks trek over to Santa Anna eleven in a crucial conference skirmish scheduled to blast open at 8 p.m. A large number of Eastland Red & Black fan followers are expected to trail along with Coach Ed Hooker and his spirited Maverick gridmen who'll be gunning for their third straight triumph.

At Ranger and at Cisco the Bulldogs and Lobos are idle for the week, enjoying a welcome respite from their hectic 1952 gridiron wars.

Coach Stubby Warden's Maroon & White Bulldogs are relaxing and taking it easy today while they RHS mentor and his able assistant, Sam Aills, plan to be in Ballinger tonight to scout the Ballinger-Comanche contest there.

Next foe on the grid calendar of the Rangermen is Diamond Hill of Fort Worth, one of the toughest schoolboy grid aggregations in this section of the state. The Diamond Hillers are undefeated this season, but were tied by Garland, The Diamond Hill battle, to be waged in Ranger at Bulldog Stadium a week hence, will be a non-conference duel, followed then by the Maroon & White's three conference encounters with Cisco, Stephenville and Comanche.

"Our scouts," says J. W. (Jerry) Sitton Cisco Daily Press editor and publisher and Lobodom's Granny Rice, "report that the Cisco Lobos are growing whiskers and don't plan to shave until they win another football game. The boys are getting a much-needed rest this week. After they take on Albany on Oct. 31, they meet their three conference foes—Ranger, Comanche and Stephenville—in a row."

More Than 400 Attend Barbecue And Meeting Of Stock Growers; Officers And Directors Chosen During Session

More than 400 stockmen, their families and friends attended the annual barbecue and executive meeting Thursday evening at the City Park in Eastland.

D. S. Buchanan of Stephenville, livestock specialist, who spent 12 months in Europe and Africa was the speaker. He told of the practices in the countries of the use made of funds made available by the Marshall plan. He said that African cattle could be developed and made to stop gap the meat shortage in the world, but is now inferior to cattle in Scotland, Holland and England.

He advised all stockmen to hold their cattle just as long as they possibly could and pray for rain.

Buchanan was introduced by J. M. Cooper, County agent and former pupil of the speaker when in A&M College.

Preceding the speaker a barbecue dinner of beef, goat, ranch style beans and potato salad was served chuck wagon style. Rev. Otto Marshall gave the invocation.

Among the out of town visitors introduced were Bob Cook of the Abilene Reporter, Bill Durham of the Fort Worth Star Telegram, Doc Williams of WBAP, Fort Worth, Sam Kimmel and Mr. Monk.

Announcement was made of the semi-annual Stockmen's meeting, November 6th, at the Sig Faircloth Farm at which time Murray Cox will show a tour made by him accompanied by about 200 Texas ranchers and farmers.

An invitation was extended by Doc Williams to attend the Nov. 20th Livestock Round Up in Fort Worth.

S. P. Crofts, president, presented the slate of officers, which included the present officers for re-election as follows: S. P. Crofts, president, Cisco; Johnny Aaron, vice-president, Eastland; C. M. McCain, treasurer, Eastland; T. D. Wheat, secretary, Eastland.

Several new names appear in the list of board of directors which include: M. S. Long, Eastland; A. V. Clark, Cisco; P. T. Smith, Ranger; Boyd Hilley, Gorman; Mack Crow, Eastland; B. S. Dudley, Jr., Ranger; Ed Huestis, Cisco; Morris Newnham, Ranger; Dr. J. H. Denton, Cisco; Leslie Hagaman, Ranger; J. M. Cooper, Eastland; Pete Tindall, Eastland; H. C. Wilkinson, Ranger; James Starr, Cisco; Bernal Hickman, Rising Star; Vernon Humphreys, Eastland.

H. H. Durham, Eastland; D. D. Franklin, Eastland; R. E. Harrell, Ranger; Jack Baker, Eastland; George I. Lane, Eastland; Dr. Dick Hodges, Ranger; Sig Faircloth, Eastland; Archie Campbell, Olden; C. B. Pruet, Ranger; Waverly Massengale, Eastland; Frank Stoker, Eastland; H. L. Guye, Rising Star; Clyde Grissom, Eastland; M. E. Fry, Cisco.

President Crofts extended thanks on behalf of the group to the City of Eastland, Texas Electric Service Company, Earl J. Chamber of Commerce, Parks Post, First Methodist Church, Eastland, Judge Milburn S. Long, and his committees, and Miss Mildred Daniel and her committee and any others who contributed in any way to the success of the meeting.

REPORTED EJECTED—Ava Gardner was reported ejected from hubby Frank Sinatra's Palm Springs home, showed up smiling in Hollywood to have her hands, feet and signature imbedded in concrete in the forecourt of Grauman's Chinese Theatre. A press agent, left, and the cement man did Miss Gardner as she places her foot in the soft mixture.

Patrol are among those to be represented in the procession. In addition to exes, their friends and relatives, many visitors from Gorman, Rising Star, Strawn, Gordon, Breckenridge, Stephenville, Eastland, Cisco and other neighboring cities are expected to flock to Ranger Saturday.

Ranger Junior College Rangers and the Tarleton State Plowboys, both top-rated junior collegiate elevens of the highly touted Pioneer Conference loop. The stadium seats 4,500, but RJC officials anticipate a crowd which may even overflow the stands. Advance tickets for reserved seats are on sale at Swaney's Pharmacy and Crawford Drug Store in downtown Ranger. The kickoff of the big homecoming contest will be prefaced with two brief ceremonies. First will come the invocation rite to be offered by the Rev. F.

(Pd. Pol. Adv.)

M. Talbot, pastor of the First Methodist Church, Electra, a father of Rusty Talbot, RJC backfield star. At 8:10—about five minutes prior to the opening kickoff whistle—Miss Gaylia Carter, 18-year-old Ranger Junior College coed, will be crowned 1952 Homecoming Queen. Her attendants will be Miss Jeannette "Cookie" Kirkpatrick, also of Ranger, and Miss Ella Sandefur, of Strawn. The attendants were runners-up in the Homecoming Queen contest balloting at the college Wednesday.

Dance After Tilt
Grand finale of the two-day homecoming will be a gala dance to be held at the Elks Club, 312 1/2 Main Street, following the football game. The event is scheduled to begin at 10:30 and will continue until 1 a.m. The dance is sponsored by the Rope & Spur Club, and tickets, priced at $1.00 per couple, now are on sale at Swaney's Pharmacy in downtown Ranger. Ranger Junior College, now in its 27th year of operation, has approximately 2,600 ex-students in all parts of the United States, says Dr. Grover C. Boswell, president of the institution. The college, first founded in

Prominent Painter Says Greta Garbo Was Most Beautiful Woman

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—Portrait painter Peter Fairchild, who has put filmland's most prominent faces on canvas, said that Marilyn Monroe "isn't a beauty in any sense of the word."
He doesn't think much of Zsa Zsa Gabor either.
"Everyone is talking about her," he said, "but to me her beauty is negative—no animation—nothing."
As a matter of fact Fairchild doesn't have many compliments for any of today's crop of film-land beauties.
"They just don't compare with the oldsters," he said.
But he grants there are exceptions to this rule—including Lana Turner, Susan Hayward, Ava Gardner and Elizabeth Taylor. He also thinks that Katharine Hepburn and Joan Crawford "have the rare kind of beauty that hits the painter where he lives."
Greta Garbo Was Tops
But the "most beautiful woman who ever graced the screen was Greta Garbo" according to Fairchild.
"There was a woman who could take a man away from any of the supposed beauties of today," he painting was finished.

You Don't Need Much Advice—

... but it is valuable at least twice in your insurance experience. First is, when you get ready to buy insurance, don't select just any kind of an agent or any kind of policy. There's a big difference. Second is, when you have a loss would you rather have your friend at home with year's of insurance experience or some one living in Dallas, St. Louis or elsewhere, to handle your claim? There's another big difference.

Labor Asks Protection Against The So-Called 'Fair Trade Law'

A warning to be on constant guard against the danger of a so-called "Fair Trade Law" which is nothing but a "consumer-exaggeration" law, was issued today by the Texas State Federation of Labor.

The Federation's weekly newsletter pointed out that Texas is one of the three states which presently do not allow price-fixing by national distributors under a Fair Trade law.

"But there is always the danger that the legislature will adopt one—maybe even in the next session—unless the people are on guard," the publication declared.

The article branded Fair Trade Laws as "un-American as any legislation ever burdened on the consumer."

"The fight upon the part of big business to make so-called fair trade legislation the law of the land is an outstanding example of the monopolistic control which industry seeks to establish over our American economy," the article said.

"Under Fair Trade Laws a manufacturer can determine the price at which all retailers must sell his product. If anyone attempts to sell for less, the federal or state government will take harsh action and lay a stiff penalty against the retailer," the article continued.

"In other words, the fellow who buys the stuff can never get a break. He must pay and pay through the nose to the exact tune of what the maker arbitrarily decides to ask for his product. The price is immovably fixed with high profits guaranteed by law. Contrast this to the loud howls of indignation on the part of business when labor has dared to suggest that it should be allowed to set the price for its services. On the side of the inadequate wage and hour law, the average worker is guaranteed absolutely nothing. He will and shall receive as little as his employer can beat him down to accept. Meanwhile, however, that same employer wants to, by law, peg the price of his product at the highest possible level, and then require the federal and state governments to police his price system for him.

"The average family buyer finds himself confronted with high prices set artificially and bearing no relationship to the law of supply and demand or without giving any credit to any extra effort on his part to save money through wise and careful buying."

FARM NEWS

The question of price controls finds two of Oklahoma's leading farm organizations on opposite sides of the fence.

The Oklahoma Farm Bureau wants to junk all controls. The Oklahoma Farmers Union favors an absolute freeze of all wholesale and retail prices.

The two organizations are about the same size. Farm Bureau has a membership of about 35,000 Oklahoma farm families and farmers union claims some 37,000 members.

A Wide Price Spread Farm Bureau President John L. Taylor of Mountain View blames OPS price ceilings for holding up retail meat prices despite a 15 per cent decrease in the price of cattle on the hoof.

He issued a statement on controls this week in reply to radio forum Sunday night in which Leon Keyserling, administration economic advisor, said controls should be on the hoof.

Trichter advised householders to have a thorough check of their gas-using appliances made when any of the following are noticed: 1. A peculiar odor emanates from the appliance.

Trichter noted that household gas deaths in the city dropped from 222 in 1950 to 157 last year but he warned the hazard "is still there."

Says Danger Lurks In Gas Equipment

NEW YORK (UP)—With the use of household gas on the upswing now that colder weather is at hand, a New York City health expert comes up with some timely advice to combat the hazard of faulty equipment.

It is the prediction of Jerome Trichter, assistant commissioner of health, that some 50 persons will be gas death victims in New York in the next six months. Most such deaths could be prevented, he said, if people took proper precautions.

Trichter advises householders to have a thorough check of their gas-using appliances made when any of the following are noticed: 1. A peculiar odor emanates from the appliance. 2. The gas flame burns lower or higher than normal. 3. Members of the family suffer unusual headaches, nausea, etc. Gas may be the cause.

Trichter advises the immediate turn-off of gas-using equipment at the least suspicion of a gas leak and the prompt summoning of a service man to check.

"Don't try to fix a gas refrigerator," the health expert said. "A bad job of repair might cost a life."

tighter to halt inflation. Keyserling blamed inflation, in part, on premature dropping of controls after World War II.

Four Other Requirements Taylor listed four other requirements for curbing inflation: A balanced federal budget, restrictions on credit, adequate production and increased individual saving.

He claimed that controls are keeping food prices high because cafe and grocery store owners are reluctant to reduce their margins for fear of affecting their base prices.

Neither the Farm Bureau nor the Farmers Union has endorsed a presidential candidate. Policy of both organizations is to take a stand on issues but steer away from endorsing parties or candidates.

Fertilizer Helps Farmer The Kiamichi field station at Idabel, Okla., has demonstrated what proper fertilizers and cultivation methods can do in the way of increasing watermelon yields.

The Agricultural station harvested 1,313 black diamond melons weighing 42,646 pounds from a 1.5 acre tract this year.

Average melon yield for Oklahoma the past season was 190 melons. Here are a few facts and figures on how the station's farm experts did it.

Controlled Fertilizing They applied 200 pounds per acre of 6-12-6 fertilizer before planting. After the vines began to run, they applied a sidedressing of the same fertilizer at 400 pounds per acre.

Rows were set 12 feet apart and hills 10 feet apart in the row. There were 363 hills to the acre with a one-way disc, throwing the soil to the right.

When the vines were a few feet long, they went over the patch with a one-way disc, throwing the soil to the row and hilling it slightly. The vines were then pulled up on the row.

All other cultivation was done with a disc harrow.

again, though after January we hope and pray that he will be shelved.

In the meantime we ask only one thing—that people learn the facts involved, before they go to the polls. America will take care of herself, once she knows what to do.

CAMPAIGNERS ARE VICTIMS OF 'FLUFFS', VERBAL MISCUES

Call them fluffs, boners, blooper, or whatever. But they crop up in every campaign—those slips of the tongue and memory lapses.

They may be momentarily embarrassing to the candidate involved, but usually they result in more humor than damage.

Many remember the incident in 1940 when the late Wendell Willkie referred to St. Paul as its arch-neighbor, Minneapolis. And how he once warmly endorsed a local candidate but used the wrong first name.

Something like that has happened to almost every national candidate. This year is no exception.

During the early days of Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson's campaign, a western crowd that had never seen him and wasn't sure what he looked like cheered the wrong man, campaign manager Wilson Wyatt, who stepped off the plane ahead of the Democratic presidential nominee.

'Senator Pat Nixon' One introductory speaker at a Republican rally recently referred to GOP presidential nominee Dwight D. Eisenhower, who was sent Mrs. Nixon to a big crowd and a state-wide radio and TV audience as "the next wife of the vice-president."

Sen. Arthur V. Watkins R-Utah, followed Mrs. Nixon and observed that "everybody seems to be a little excited." He proved it promptly, presenting Nixon as "Sen. Richard M. Dixon."

Stevenson drew snickers from baseball fans when he reportedly told strong-armed Allie Reynolds, star World Series pitcher of the New York Yankees, "I wish I could hit like you do."

Forgot Candidate's Name On his recent swing through New Jersey, local Republicans set one town gave Nixon a new dog, house for his Cocker Spaniel, "Checkers."

The GOP vice presidential nominee thanked the crowd profusely, and said: "We've been given just about everything for the dog except a bone, and I guess we'll get that at the next stop up the road—at Somerville."

That would have been alright, except he was already in Somerville. The next stop was Morristown.

Perhaps the most embarrassed of all was the Midwest Democrat who nervously presided over a nationally televised party rally. He introduced the speaker as "the next president of the United States..."

There was a long, agonizing pause where he groped for the name. Then he finally blurted "Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson."

Eastland Clubs Cooperating In TFWC's "Aid To Austria" Project

WORTHAM, Oct. 22—SPL.—Emphasis on the big "Aid to Austria" project of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs will highlight the November 10-13 55th annual convention in Austin. Mrs. Van Hook Stubbs of Wortham, TFWC president, names Tuesday night's address by the Austrian ambassador an outstanding feature of the four-day session.

Most of Tuesday's program will center on how the 1,200 Texas clubs are focusing their international affairs work on Austria to strengthen its stand against Communism. District presidents present a panel at 3 o'clock Tuesday on each district's responsibility in the statewide Austrian project. An over-all report by the International Affairs department is set for the dinner Tuesday night at the Student Union building on the University of Texas campus.

Dr. Max Lowenthal, ambassador from Austria to the United States, followed by a formal reception for the ambassador and his wife.

Earlier Tuesday, Bryan Blalock of Marshall, public relations director of the Borden company, makes a citizenship address at 2:20. The well-known civic speaker's appearance climaxes the afternoon session of the federation's new Americanism department.

Wednesday is Junior Club Day, beginning with an 8 o'clock breakfast at which Mrs. Stubbs will be guest speaker. The Music Room at the clubhouse will be the site of the junior's morning session. A prominent officer of the General Federation speaks at 11, preceding the Junior Luncheon.

The general convention Wednesday morning hears panels by the American Home, Conservation, and Education departments.

Wednesday's luncheon is a free period during which each department head will get together with her state division chairmen for an informal powwow. This is something new being tried for the first time at this convention.

Preceding Wednesday morning's session will be workshops on parliamentary procedure, public speaking, national defense, and safety. Experts will lead these workshops devoted to improving the mechanics of clubwork.

Mrs. Lucy Gristy Praises Highly Eastland Memorial Hospital After Two Months Sojourn There

Mrs. Lucy Gristy has returned to her home at the Lamar Apartments after a two months sojourn in the Eastland Memorial hospital.

Mrs. Gristy said that she wants the people to know how wonderful the hospital is, without their having to go there as she did to learn about it.

She says that the "personal kindness of the nurses and the doctors helped to heal nearly as much as their professional services," and that the Eastland Memorial hospital is second only to Eastland's churches in the service they are doing.

Mrs. Gristy also said that it took a trip to the hospital for her to learn that she had so many lovely friends in Eastland. She said that she visited her and looked after her daily, and that she would never be through appreciating them for their visits, cards and thoughtfulness.

Her praise was high for Mrs. Grace Reed, superintendent, and the personnel of the hospital. She said the co-operation in getting things done was of the highest and they made you feel that it was a pleasure to do any big or little thing for your comfort or pleasure.

In other words Mrs. Gristy wants Eastland to remember to be proud of the hospital as you would be if it had done for you as it has for her and for the many others she has seen come and go in the two months she was a patient.

Mrs. Gristy, who has been a resident of Eastland since 1928 fell at her home and fractured her hip and was in the hospital with-in twenty minutes thereafter because of the Eastland Telegram carrier boy, Jack Hilliard, who called to collect his weekly account and secured help.
