Boy Scouts Celebrate 43rd Birthday

Official Boy Scout Week Poster

Boy Scout Week, Feb. 7 to 13, marking the 43rd anniversary of the Boy Scouts of America, will be observed throughout the nation by more than 3,250,000 boys and adult leaders. Since 1910, more than 20,000,000 boys and men have been members.

"Forward on Liberty's Team" is the birthday theme and the emphasis is on "The Scout Family" of programs meeting the interests of boys in three age groups: Cub Scouting for boys 8, 9 and 10; Boy Scouting for those 11, 12 and 13 and Exploring for boys 14 and up.

The high point of Scouting in 1953 will be the third National Jamboree. More than 50,000 Boy Scouts will camp at a 3,000-acre tract in the Irvine Ranch in the Newport Harbor area of southern California next July 17 to 23.

Survey Backs Baby-Sitter Rules

Establishing minimum standards for all baby-sitters is favored by a majority of the leading child psychologists in the United States, according to a survey.

More than 52 per cent of the 390 experts questioned by the Parents' Consultation Service of the Book House for Children at Chicago, approved the idea of such standards being formulated at city and state levels as a public health and welfare measure.

But some felt it was "not practical" because of the many difficulties to be encountered to make the plan operative. Some expressed concern over the possibilities in the plan "for further regimentation and red tape, in a way of life that is already far too complicated for comfort."

Several felt the answer could be found in more and better training courses for baby-sitters and in parent education programs, at a community level, in cooperation with the press, radio, women's clubs, schools and civic organizations.

Cotton Crashes In HATTIESBURG, Miss. — Owners of the Forrest Supply Pottery and Gift Shop had to tear down their place and build another after several bales of cotton broke loose from a laden truck and crashed into the building.

The "pine tree shilling," first New England coin, was designed by Joseph Jenks who in 1644 molded the first iron made in America.

Boy Scouts To Observe Scout Week In City

Eastland Scouts, along with others all over the United States, will celebrate next week as "Boy Scout Week."

Eastland has three groups and all are to take part. They will all go in a body to the Baptist Church Sunday morning and attend worship hour services, to start out their week. Troop 6, sponsored by the Rotary Club, will be club guests Monday at the regular weekly luncheon and meeting.

Troop No. 103, sponsored by the Lions Club, were to be entertained with a Court of Honor and hot dog party, by their leader Tuesday evening, and Bill Jessop head of Troop 48, has announced a weiner roast for that troop. Both parties are scheduled for Tuesday night.

Eastland is a scout-minded city and supports the three local organizations in a pleasing manner. During the week other entertainment may be supplemented, it is thought.

Cattle Crossing MILFORD, N. H. — Charles Hayward has solved the problem of risking the safety of his cows. He constructed an underpass at the Milford - Wilton road leading to pastures.

Texas Gets Total $182,854,000 In Government Contracts During 1952

DALLAS — Texas firms were awarded 910 unclassified Federal government contracts for materials and supplies amounting to $182,854,000 during the calendar year 1952, according to figures just compiled here by the Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions of the U. S. Department of Labor.

The Texas total included 198 prime contracts and 712 contracts on which Texas firms acted as suppliers in whole or in part, Regional Director William J. Rogers said. For the five states of Region VIII, there were 1,630 contracts of both types, valued at $348,760,000.

Such figures were compiled from weekly reports of contract awards made to the Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions which are charged by law with enforcement of both the Fair Labor Standards Act (or Wage-Hour Law) and the Walsh-Healey Public Contracts Act.

Covered by the Texas contracts was a wide variety of items, supplies, articles, and equipment needed chiefly for the defense forces of this nation and its allies. Included were such varied commodities as gasoline, rice, aircraft parts, raw cotton, helicopters, hot tamales, sugar, jet fuel, flour, and wire rope.

Totals for firms in adjacent Southwestern states during the year just passed were as follows: Arkansas — 22 prime contracts and suppliers on 67 contracts. Total: $89,949,000.

Louisiana — 50 prime contracts and suppliers on 204 contracts. Total: $89,849,000.

New Mexico — 23 prime contracts and suppliers on 94 contracts. Total: $4,499,000.

Oklahoma — 59 prime contracts and suppliers on 201 contracts. Total: $63,245,000.

Totals for five states — 352 prime contracts and suppliers on 1,278 contracts. Total: $348,760,000.

Performance on all such government contracts is governed by the Walsh-Healey Public Contracts Act which sets basic standards for work done on government contracts exceeding $10,000. It requires certain minimum wages, restricts child labor, prohibits con-

THEY DIDN'T HEAR A WORD SHE SAID—Members of the crew of the Canadian minesweeper "New Liskard," on liberty in New York, are supposedly listening to a lecture on points of interest to be found at the new United Nations General Assembly building. However, the sailors seem to find the main point of interest to be Mrs. Nina Minnes, 29, their UN guide. The pretty, French-born guide is one of 15 young women who shepherd curious crowds through the building.

Woman's Bird Carving Hobby Big Business

Mrs. Earl Gleason took up model bird carving as a hobby 10 years ago.

By Christmas this year, she expects to have her total up to 1,000. Mrs. Gleason, a grandmother, has become known as the "bird lady of Pierrepont." She carves her life-sized models from blocks of bass-wood or poplar which her husband cuts for her in the surrounding woods.

Bird lovers from all parts of northern New York come to view her collection. The hobby, she adds, has developed into a profitable gift business.

Mrs. Gleason gets her inspiration for her model birds from the real ones which stop off at the four feeding stations she maintains around her home.

Men and Women Really Agree—About Each Other

BERKELEY, Calif. — In the privacy of the home, a man and wife may frequently disagree on many questions, but University of California psychologists have found through group tests that a surprising uniformity of opinion exists among the two sexes regarding each other.

For example, both men and women agreed that women are most faithful in marriage, show the greatest moral character, are more imaginative, have more noise in awkward situations, have more understanding of the needs of children, make a greater attempt to "keep up with the Joneses", are more predisposed to insanity, are more likely to hold a grudge, and are subject to violent outbursts of temper.

Both sexes agreed that men show the greatest emotional balance in crisis, have more courage in the face of disapproval or danger, have higher general intelligence, are less likely to go dangerously in debt with family finances, and are more apt to violate sexual codes.

Saturday Showers Light— WARM, WINDY, DUSTY, RAIN (?) FOR COUNTY OVER WEEKEND

H.P.C. Alumni, Exes To Gather In Fort Worth

The first regional meeting of Howard Payne Alumni and Exes will meet in the Riverside Baptist Church of Fort Worth, on February 12. Judge Tom Renfro of the Court of Civil Appeals in Fort Worth is regional director, and has planned for all the exes of that area to meet and get the plans of Howard Payne brought to their attention.

Dr. A. A. Brian, vice-president of the college, will present the objectives of the association and C. Melvin Rathel of Eastland will bring the main address. Those planning to attend from Eastland are Mr. and Mrs. C. Melvin Rathel and Tommie Samuels.

Car Licenses Moving Slowly

While Stanley Webb, County Collector, has plenty license plates on hand, they are moving very slowly. There is still plenty time before the deadline, and people are holding on to their money until a later date.

License plates are very necessary, but a fellow who gets new plates on his car before the deadline, is in just as good shape as his neighbor, and may have an opportunity to use his money just a little longer.

British Seek Kin Of U.S. War Dead

Names and present addresses of the next of kin of the 28,000 Americans who died in Great Britain during World War II are being sought by the London Times. Such next of kin will receive a copy of a book prepared by the Times and entitled "Britain's Homage to 28,000 American Dead."

The book tells the story of the creation of a British memorial to the men and women of the U. S. Armed Forces who gave their lives from British bases. It records the circumstances in which this tribute, the American Memorial Chapel in St. Paul's Cathedral in the heart of London, was conceived and planned by the British people.

Requests by next of kin for a copy of "Britain's Homage" should be written on a postcard giving (1) the name of the relative who died, (2) the name or title of the unit in which he served and (3) the writer's name and full address and the relationship to the dead person. Address cards to: Colonel the Hon. J. J. Astor, The Times, London, Inc., 45 East 51st St., New York 22, N. Y.

NEW SCHOLARSHIPS WILL LEAD TO DRESS, TEXTILE DESIGN CAREERS

Careers in fashion design—like that of Hazel Bunch, left, draping a new creation at Forest City Mfg. Co., St. Louis—are offered two high school graduates through Forest City Fashion Scholastic Awards. Winners in national competition closing March 1 will receive full tuition awards for two years' study in dress or fabric design at leading colleges. Applications will be made through High School Principals.

Some portions of Eastland County received a "very heavy dew" Saturday morning.

The moisture—letting, more specifically tabbed, was rain. But it was very light and of negligible quantity. Scattered showers of very short duration were reported over the area before dawn Saturday.

However, by mid-morning, the weather had reverted to its usual pattern—fair, mild, sunshiny.

And for Saturday the U. S. Weather Bureau forecast partly cloudy weather with mild temperatures. The Saturday high was predicted to reach the 70-degree mark.

It was due to be cooler than usual Saturday night, however, with the mercury due to dive just a fraction or so above the freezing 32-degree level. Most likely the lowest temperature will be registered between 35 and 40 degrees, weathermen said.

Continued fair and mild was the weather outlook for Sunday, although forecasters said the Sabbath Day would be a bit cooler with the afternoon high between 60 and 65 degrees.

Strong winds—and dust flurries—also were predicted for the Eastland County area by the Weather Bureau.

The West Texas forecast: Partly cloudy Saturday and Sunday with no important temperature changes.

'Boy Scout Week' Now Being Observed

The Boy Scouts of America, including several troops in Eastland County, with its membership at an all-time high in excess of 3,250,000 Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts, Explorers and adult leaders, will observe the 43rd birthday of the organization during Boy Scout Week, Feb. 7 to 13.

The theme of the celebration which will be observed by 84,300 Cub Packs, Boy Scout Troops and Explorer Units throughout the United States, its territories and wherever American families live abroad, is "Forward on Liberty's Team." This is the name of the Scouts' Three Year Program which seeks to produce a greater functioning manpower and provide a higher quality program for its ever-increasing boy membership. Boy Scout Week celebrations this year will stress "The Scout Family" depicting how parents and others of the family often have a relationship to the Scout Program. At "Open House" evening meetings Scouts will introduce members of their family to their fellow Scouts. At these meetings tribute will be paid to the American home, and its influence on the lives of boys and its place in a free society.

The actual birthday, Feb. 8, will be observed in countless churches of all faiths as "Boy Scout Sunday." Scouts and leaders will attend services in uniform. Members of many Scout Units will have their parents and other members of their families sit with them during the services.

Since its inception in this country in 1910, the Boy Scouts of America, and its individual members have always taken a strong position in respect to the place of organized religion in the nation's life.

The 12th point of the Scout Law to which more than 20,200,000 boys and men have subscribed since 1910, reads:

"A Scout is Reverent. He is reverent toward God. He is faithful in his religious duties and respects the convictions of others in matters of custom and religion."

During Boy Scout Week, Scouts and leaders will express their appreciation to the organizations and institutions whose sponsorship makes possible their Units' existence. These include the religious bodies which account for almost half of the nation's Scouting Units, the national or state civic groups, school organizations and local civic groups.

In its latest report to Congress the Boy Scouts of America said that 58,934 institutions are sponsors for the nation's Scouting Units. Of this number 18,739 operate two or more Scout programs such as Cub Scouting for boys 8, 9 and 10 years of age, Boy Scouting for boys 11 through 13 and Exploring for boys 14 years old and upward.

The Whole Scout Family, all three programs, are sponsored by 3,446 institutions, making it possible for a boy to enjoy the three Scouting programs under the same sponsorship for a ten year span, from age eight to eighteen.

Annual Recruitment Traditionally on Feb. 8, Scouts and Leaders recommit themselves to the Scout Oath or Promise at 8:15 p.m., in the four time zones. These ceremonies will take place, in some instances, at Scout family birthday dinners, while some Cub Dens, Boy Scout Patrols and Explorer Crews will meet in homes of members. Others will meet with their parents Sunday evening in churches or synagogues.

At these Boy Scout Week celebrations many Units will review its program highlights and the successes of its first year in the Three Year Program, its camping and other outdoor activities and its planning for participation at the Third National Jamboree which is expected to attract 50,000 Scouts and Leaders for a week of camping together at Irvine Ranch in southern California next July 17 to 23.

Over the years the Boy Scouts of America have been active on a national basis in helping the government of the United States in many projects," says Brantley Hudson of the Comanche Trail Council, Brownwood.

The area Scout executive pointed out that during the first and second world wars the Boy Scouts did an outstanding job of selling war bonds, delivering posters, and planting liberty gardens. The government has called on the Boy Scouts for such services many times because Scouting is one of the only organizations that has man power and boy power available in nearly every town and hamlet of the nation.

Last November the Scouts continued their cooperation as a civic-minded organization by helping the "Get Out the Vote" campaign.

The Scout organization undertook the tremendous job of hanging a Liberty Bell doornob reminder to vote on every doornob in the United States on November 1st. The organization also placed posters reminding people to vote in nearly every town.

One of the outstanding activities of Scouting on a national basis has been the National Scout Jamboree. The most recent one was in 1950. Some 47,000 Scouts and Scouters camped together for one week at the historic spot of Valley Forge Park, Pennsylvania. Scouts from our town attended this Jamboree. In July of 1953 another National Jamboree will be held in California. Some 50,000 Scouts from nearly every town in the nation are expected to attend this great meeting.

Boxing Gets New Type Of Clock

A new type of clock that virtually replaces a timekeeper at ringside has been installed at the Laurel Garden boxing arena, at Newark, N.J., at a cost of $10,000. The clock, specially built for the specifications of boxing, has a 30-inch dial and is operated by push-button controls at ringside. During three minute rounds, the clock face automatically flashes a daylight blue color and during one-minute rest periods, it flashes a red color. A bell-siren announces the end of rounds and a buzzer sounds at the 10-second point before the beginning of each round. State Athletic Commissioner Abe J. Greene called the innovation a "great contribution to boxing" for spectators as well as for television viewers.

POTPOURRI AND WORSE

(By Major Hoople McCorkle) Telegram Columnist

We were deeply impressed with an editorial that reached our desk this week and while its length makes it impossible for us to reproduce it in full, we should like very much to give its highlights to our readers. It has to do with our schools and our teachers, and whether we realize it or not, we are going to have to do something and do it now.

This question is asked: "Who will teach your child in 1960?" Probably we do not care or may be we are willing to let nature take its course as we have done in the past, and accept most anything handed out so long as it doesn't cost anything. That's why Texas, the home of fine bulls, ranks so low in education.

By 1960 it has been estimated that Texas will have at least a 1,000,000 children attending school, and this is an increase of $25,000 over the present scholastic population.

The answer to this question should shock the citizenship of Texas into action, for the truth is the state might have even fewer teachers in 1960 than it has today, unless financial rewards of the profession are increased. This editorial goes on to say that more than 4000 teachers left the profession during the 1951-52 school year, and at a time when the state was already operating with a shortage of about 1000 teachers, raising to 5039 the total number of replacements needed.

"Texas colleges graduated only 1,000 students in 1952, who could be certified to teach. Approximately one-half of these were lured away from the profession, primarily by the much higher salaries offered by industry. The schools were able to hire only about 2000 of these new college graduates."

The beginning teacher with a bachelor's degree is assured $2304 a year. If the teacher is single $332 of this goes for federal income tax, and another 5 per cent, or $120, is deducted for teachers retirement, leaving $1951 in take-home pay.

With dollars having a purchasing power of 50 cents each, it means teachers are living on about $1000 a year. This is the reason so many teachers are leaving the profession, and why young graduates refuse to begin.

You have some facts and figures now, so begin working on the State Legislature.

If people had as much respect for the devil as they do a speed cop, there would be more Christians in the world.

You'll stay within the bounds of reason if you know a cop is looking on, for you know if you slip he will pick you up, haul you into court and see that you get immediate punishment. On the other hand you have very little respect for the devil. You may know that he is looking on, but the fact that he does not make an immediate grab, but waits until after death to say anything about your "cussedness" seems to add to your courage and neglect.

You procrastinate, for you know you are doing wrong, but just hope against hope that you will find time later on to square yourself with this fellow. It is possible that you also work with some kind of an idea that God will be too good to punish you, and that in the end you will go Scot-free, while you enjoy eternal life in heaven.

You have no foundation for this belief. The Bible says you are to perish, and that you will spend eternity in a devil's hell. You have merely been hoping and guessing, and you hoped and guessed wrong.

Finally one day death will overtake you, and in less time than it takes to tell it, you will find out that you have been forsaken. You turned God down in order to be free to enjoy a sinful life. You have rejected Jesus for the same reason—you just loved sin and unbelief more than you did the one begotten Son. Of course there will be nothing left to do, but to let the Devil take you on. He will laugh at you as he drops you in the fiery furnace with all the other devils.

Why try to kid yourself? You likely will admit that the Bible is true, and the Bible told you that it was "the way of the cross that leads home."

Why take the chance that your sin will be forgotten? It will not be, and you know it as well as we.

Play fair with yourself as you play fair with God, and then when the frost of death begins settling on your brow you will not be alarmed. You will know before you step out into eternity, that all is well.

This column would not be complete without a few words about Charles Wesley's hymns.

Wesley, like his brother John, was a Christian and a Methodist. Along with other ministerial duties he managed to write more than 5000 great religious hymns, and these hymns have blessed the world since his day, and will continue to do so until time shall be no more.

Wesley was a Bible scholar, and while he wrote more hymns than any other individual, either living or dead, there were few expressions to be found in his hymns

We Live In a Great Country—
... and one of the things that has helped to make it so is Insurance. In one particular at least the average American buys more insurance than any other nationality. This means that he don't want to carry his own risks and the attendant worries that go along with them. He just insures himself, his family, his property, everything he has—because it's his good business to do so. Yes, it's American to be insured and Insurance is typically American!

California Fashions Pleats In to Stay

Miracle pleats create the line in these washable fashions by Stephanie Koret of California. Fabric is a blend of wool-and-orlon, shown here in a pin-check weave. Scissor-sharp pleats are permanent, will retain their smoothness and good looks through many tubbings.—By GAILE DUGAS, NEA Woman's Editor.

SPORTS WRITING IS LOST ART, CLAIMS WESTBROOK PEGLER

Sport-writing is an art that went into a decline about 1950 along with the whole sport industry. That's the opinion of Westbrook Pegler. The main reason sport-writing has become a lost art, claims Pegler, is that the dramatic characters of the sport page—stars of the calibre of Babe Ruth, and Jack Dempsey—gave way to sport personalities who could only inspire copy that is tired, trite and listless.

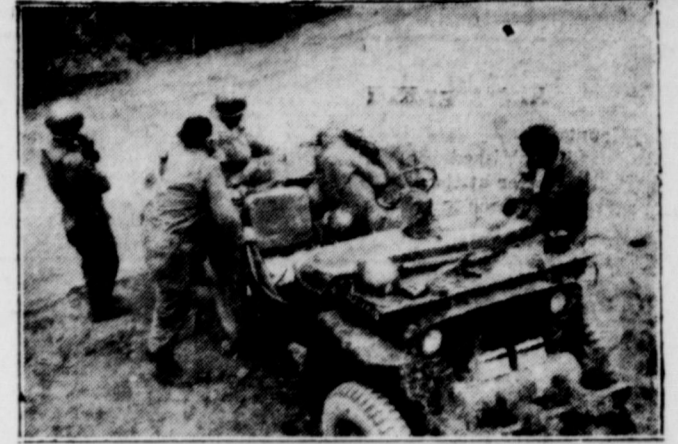

"Joe DiMaggio, for example," says Pegler, "was a dull, clock-punching employee who should have worn overalls. And then there was Joe Louis, a bum who was invincible in a field of bums. Even Tommy Gibbons, Tommy Loughran and Harry Greb, all short of Dempsey's class, would have made a fool of Louis. The Yankee ball-club became a machine, but a sausage grinder is a machine, too, and how can you write about its humdrum activity?"

Now, warns Pegler, television has come along to plague the sport writer and cast doubt upon his accuracy. "Television has pierced the veil which used to cloak our inadequacies and aberrations," he says. "We used to babble off blow-by-blow accounts of tremendous brawls and disagree on the number, duration and cause of knock-downs, as with Dempsey and Willard at Toledo and Demsey and Firpo at the Polo Grounds. If my version was imprecise in some niggling detail I made it come out even in the end."

The Golden Age of Sportwriters is exemplified by Grantland Rice who was, and remains, the dean of the corps, according to Pegler. "His beautiful arder has never waned, no interest ever deflected him from his career and the amateurs have always ranked above the pros in his fine scale. Grant was always seeing plumes on the helmets of dismal Harvards with no belly for what they were doing."

"We of the sport side were envious of all others," concludes Pegler. "Including even the shrewish wits of the drama circle. They wrote linden novels and sulked at callus illiterates up from the copyboys' bench who got $25.00 a year plus syndicate royalties for raffish inventions about a sweaty ignorati with headquarters in Bill Le Hiff's tavern where Dempsey and Jack Kearns hung out. We could write their ears off, at that, and better literature by far is preserved away in the smart mugs of our Ear of Wonderful Nonesense than most of these unretentive fictioneers tried to sell between boards."

FAST COMMUNICATIONS are the difference between ineffective firepower and killing power, and the Reds are striving desperately to copy the U.S. system. Here a radio team directs artillery fire on Communist positions in Korea.

Texas pig production in 1952 dropped to the lowest level since 1935. The drought, declining prices and the high cost of feed grains are cited as the chief causes for the drop.

ON THE LEVEL

Water seeks its own level according to the law of physics. Once it is on the level, it will remain there until it is disturbed and moved off. That is why farmers are holding water with level terraces—and with pastures. Legumes and grasses that push their roots into the soil open countless numbers of small holes that hold the rains until the moisture is needed.

Whether you use terraces or pastures, your soil conservation technicians can help you hold your water—on the level.

Safety deposit boxes provide for you a place to store your valuables until they are needed. They safeguard your possessions against prowlers who are not "on the level."

Let's Be Sweethearts Again!

THIS year's Valentines are chuckle-full of romantic notions about what to do when you're in love. Whimsical but right to the point is the coy moppet in pigtails who asks, "Will You Be My Valentine?" Wisely, she adds, "If you need some time to think, send me back this bow of pink." Two teen-agers display more obvious affection by sharing a St. Valentine's Day kiss, with Dan Cupid looking on. A survey on top is recommended for sentimental journeys. So choose your partners, everybody, and mail your Valentines in plenty of time for Saturday, February 14!

Christian Science

Because God is Spirit, man and His universe are spiritual, not material, is the conclusion reached in the Lesson - Sermon entitled "Spirit" to be read in Christian Science churches next Sunday.

"God is a Spirit; and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth" (John 4:24), is the Golden Text. Further developing the theme is this Bible verse: "Hereby know we that we dwell in him, and he in us, because he hath given us of his spirit" (1 John 4:13).

This correlative citation from the Christian Science textbook will also be read, "Everything in God's universe expresses Him. He is all-inclusive, and is reflected by all that is real and eternal and by nothing else. He fills all space, and it is impossible to conceive of such omnipresence and individuality except as infinite Spirit or Mind. Hence all is Spirit and spiritual" (Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures, by Mary Baker Eddy, page 311).

'John Deere Day' Program Next Tuesday

Owen Implement Co. of Ranger, local John Deere dealer, has announced next Tuesday, Feb. 10, as the date for this year's John Deere Day program. Free to farmers and their families, the program will be held at their showroom, corner Rusk and Pine.

The feature picture, "Paradise for Buster," is a comedy and stars Buster Keaton, popular clown of stage and screen. The story is that of a small bookkeeper in a large firm who suddenly comes to the notice of the firm's head in a most uncomplimentary manner. His rare knack for getting in trouble dogs Buster in and out of every scene and furnishes some exciting moments for him and his audience.

Other films included on the program are "Tom Gordon Goes Modern," the story of the new John Deere Models "50" and "60" Tractors; "Costly Bargains," a picture showing how the quality of John Deere parts is maintained; "Cuddies in Farming," consisting of scenes of rare farming practices; and "What's New for 1953," unveiling the complete lineup of John Deere equipment for the coming year, showing this equipment at work in the field and demonstrating briefly all outstanding features.

Owen Implement Company, in announcement, mentioned that although the program is free to farmers and their families, admission will be by ticket only. He invites farmers who have not received their tickets, or who require more, to be sure to stop at the store, and ask for them.
