PRICE FIVE CENTS

AROUND THE SQUARE

At the present moment it appears that an armistice may be just around the corner. We trust such a thing will materialize, though so long as Russia is directly or indirectly concerned we shall not allow ourselves to be too jubilant.

President Eisenhower seems to sound an encouraging note, while Korea's president isn't so sure. We trust everything works out for the best America is growing rapidly, so far as seeding cannon fire to Europe is concerned. And with due respect to President Rhee of Korea, if America stays over there to iron out all differences, we shall be there when time shall be no more.

Over there somebody is ready to fight somebody else any day. That's about all they have to do. Korea has taken the blunt in this war, but America can't hope to get things so quiet over there, that it might be mistaken for a well regulated Sunday School. It just can't be done.

As we are in this mess it probably is our duty to continue aiding South Koreans, in a way, but not to the extent of sacrificing hundreds and thousands of American boys.

Volunteer firemen in Gorman are to sponsor a big barbecue on the 18th of this month, and are anxious that their friends over the county be present. The celebration will begin at 3 o'clock in the afternoon on that date, and will continue until 11. It will cost you one buck, but who is it that would kick at the price when barbecue is being offered. Plan to be present—go to the Frank A. Gray Memorial Park in Gorman, and meet your friends.

In connection with this announcement it may be stated that the basic schedule now in effect has not been changed since 1907. Rental rates at all offices, increase in rentals since 1907 has been due to increase in gross receipts at each office and not due to a change in the basic schedule.

Appointment Is Kept Through Mishap on Road

NORTH WINDHAM, Me. — Bill Bolton, was in a hurry but he couldn't in conscience pass a motorist mired in a ditch. He stuck his head out the window of his car and yelled:

"I've got an appointment in 10 minutes to show a fellow my summer camp, but I'll dash back and pull you out."

The bogged-down motorist asked for a lift "because I have an appointment to see a camp in 10 minutes, too." They found their appointments were with each other.

Tragedy Strikes Gerhardt Family—

Two Sisters Drown In Tank Near Cisco

The girls drowned as their two smaller brothers and a schoolmate watched in horror. News of the tragedy saddened the community.

Dead are Gwendolyn, 9, and Jeanette Gerhardt, 11, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Gerhardt, a prominent Eastland County farm couple.

The drownings occurred about 11 a.m. in a tank, less than 75 yards from the Gerhardt home. The girls were swimming in the Cisco-Brownwood Highway (U. S. 183).

Cisco firemen worked for almost three hours with a resuscitator to revive them after the parents and neighbors took the girls to Graham hospital at Cisco. A faint heart beat detected in Gwendolyn by a physician had boosted hopes she might be revived.

Jeanette was pronounced dead at 1:30 p.m. and her sister 40 minutes later.

Neighbors told how Gwendolyn, seeing her sister sink beneath the surface, plunged in in a frantic effort to reach her, only to go under herself.

The sisters, together with their two brothers, James, about 2 1/2 and Johnnie Jr., 6, and Alice Ruth Stroebel, a friend, had gone to the tank to play at the water's edge. The boys stayed on the bank with Alice Ruth, who did not venture into the water because of a sore throat, neighbors said.

Jeanette entered the water first. As she was wading, she suddenly slipped into a deeper portion of the tank and became strangled. Gwendolyn, who could swim only a little, went in as their playmate went for help.

It was not known if Gwendolyn reached her sister before both went under. There were no cries from the sisters, only the sound

Mrs. Graves, 37, Killed In Hunting Accident Sunday

A squirrel-hunting trip south of Ranger Sunday afternoon ended in tragedy.

Mrs. Alta Louise (Bible Arnett) Graves, 37-year-old Ranger woman, was shot to death on the banks of the Leon River 15 miles south of Ranger at Lone Cedar about 4:30 p.m. Sunday when she was struck by a bullet which accidentally discharged from a single-shot 22-caliber rifle.

Funeral services for Mrs. Graves were held this morning at 10 o'clock at the First Methodist Church in Ranger. Rev. D. D. Brian, pastor of the Second Baptist Church, officiated and interment was in Evergreen Cemetery. Morris Funeral Home, Ranger, was in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Graves, born May 29, 1916 at Miami, Okla., had been a resident of Ranger since 1918.

Survivors include her son, Johnny Hayden Graves, 17-year-old Ranger High School student; her mother, Mrs. D. M. Carr of Ranger; two sisters, Mrs. L. W. Panckake of Pioneer, Tex., and Mrs. Lewis Warren of Austin.

The accident occurred Sunday afternoon while Mrs. Graves was out squirrel hunting with Mrs. Annbell Boyett of Olden and Mrs. Boyett's two nephews, Elmo Boyett, 9, and Bobby Gene Boyett, 7.

According to statements to Charles Bobo, justice of the peace, the 9-year-old lad, carrying a single-shot 22-caliber rifle, was walking along the river bank behind Mrs. Graves when he attempted to put the gun on safety and the weapon discharged.

The bullet entered Mrs. Graves' back and pierced her heart. She died almost instantly.

Palbearers at the funeral this morning were Roscoe Hopper, Ralph Panckake, George Rogers, Jack Mace, Chick Brown, and Garland Panckake.

VERNER ROTARIANS HEAR W. Q. AT MONDAY SESSION; SCOUTS TO BE SENT TO SUMMER CAMP

It was Ronald Phillips program at the Rotary Club Monday though he brought his competitor, W. Q. Verner, along to do the talking.

Mr. Verner at the beginning announced that he would try and tell about Taxes and Highways, but would shy away from figures when it was possible. Among other things he mentioned that our gas tax doesn't all go for building and repairing highways, but that it is actually cut 27 ways, and what is left goes to the road fund.

The state and Uncle Sam both collect gas taxes in Texas, though the federal tax is supposed to come back to us in one way or another. Fact is the government collected some 60 millions of dollars last year, but less than one half that amount found its way back home.

Texas has three times as many miles of highways as any other state in the union, he said.

Mr. Verner favors a gas tax collected at the well which would have the state millions, and at the same time enable us to reduce taxes. He is opposed to refunds, insisting that if all paid a small tax there would be a more equitable division. City dwellers, who consume only about 20 per cent of all gas used, pay practically all the taxes, he declared.

Following the address the board of directors were called together to make final plans for the Boy Scout movement. It now appears that the Rotarians, Lions and American Legion will combine efforts and send the group to summer camp next week. John Goode will likely be sent with the boys as leader.

Deer Herd Test Ready To Begin

First steps already have been taken to comply with the new state law authorizing possible experimental harvest of a limited number of female deer as a means of balancing deer herds in three Hill County countries. The Executive Secretary of the Game and Fish Commission said Eugene Walker, Wildlife Biologist who has been specializing in big game management, has been assigned to the new project. He will shortly move with his family from Austin to establish headquarters in Kerrville. Under the law, passed by the 1953 Legislature, closely supervised harvesting of surplus deer is permitted in Gillespie, Mason and Kerr counties. The experiment is authorized for four years beginning this year.

The Executive Secretary said it was uncertain as to whether the program could be advanced in time to permit actual starting of the supervised harvest during the 1953 big game season, opening Nov. 16. The plan was sponsored by ranchers and wildlife technicians as a means of stabilizing the deer population. The Executive Secretary explained that there is only so much food available and that excess population of big game works to the general detriment of the herds. He pointed out that many states have found regulated taking of female deer, where the sex ratio is out of balance, to be sound conservation practice.

Under the program authorized by the Legislature, final decision on whether the limited harvest shall be permitted is left up to the County Commissioners' Court. Meanwhile, herd surveys will be made, meetings arranged with interested land owners and the ground generally laid for the new undertaking.

Coastal Fish Coming Back

ROCKPORT — The Chief Marine Biologist of the Game and Fish Commission reported new indications that Gulf Coast sports fishing is recovering from the devastating 1951 freeze.

He said the principal late evidence is the improved trout fishing particularly in the Laguna Madre which stretches from the lower end of Corpus Bay to Port Isabel. However, fish seems to have been better all along the Gulf Coast.

Field returns from Marine Biologist Ernest Simmons to the Commission's Marine Laboratory state that fishermen are using hook and line as well as trot line successfully. He reported that the luck has been especially good around Flour

Bluff, 23 miles south of Corpus. Game Warden Herman Schliesing of Port Lavaca, who has been working out of the Corpus Christi office, observed that trout fishing results have been the best since the unseasonal freeze in February 1951 killed millions of pounds of fish. Trout and redfish were extremely hard hit there.

Schliesing reported that many big trout were being caught in Laguna Madre, indicating that for some reason the fighting sport fish were moving in from other areas. He pointed out that the smaller trout would be those produced since the historic freeze.

Biologist Simmons reported that a series of northers had whipped fresh water into the more or less land-locked Laguna thus reducing the salinity of the farflung lagoon. Simmons reported that recurring northers or heavy rains would be necessary to prevent a possible late summer kill in the Laguna where the salt content of the water often

Texas Helping World Study Of Wildlife

AUSTIN — The surge of public attention toward conservation education in Texas has had an indirect bearing on the international swing in this field of endeavor. This was reported by the Director of Conservation Education and Departmental Publications of the Game and Fish Commission.

He attended a Washington meeting of the Program Committee of the Wildlife Management Institute to help shape the program for the Nineteenth North American Wildlife Conference in Chicago, times creates a July and August hazard.

Another report on better coastal fishing came from Game Warden M. B. (Pug) Mullinax who patrols a large coastal area while working out of the local Commission headquarters. He said that when the weather conditions permitted, trout are hitting "like the old days."

March 8-10, 1954. The Director said his reports on recent Texas conservation education progress was an important factor in planning the program for the spring sessions. One of the major points made was that the Texas education authorities recently have channeled conservation education to every classroom in the state and that thousands of teachers are teaching conservation.

The Chicago meeting will be attended by authorities on wildlife throughout North America and from many foreign countries. The Director said the keynote of his presentation at the Washington Committee meeting was that "we are in the business of conservation education and therefore must push forward to show everyone that future progress depends on the wise use of the soil, the trees, the waters and wildlife."

Meanwhile in Texas the summer workshops for school teachers are about to begin. The various allied agencies contribute to these schools for the direct benefit of schoolroom teachers. It is considered noteworthy that twenty-four Texas senior colleges and universities will carry on teacher training programs in Conservation Education this summer.

Chevrolet Launches 1953 Drive

Maryanne Carney gamely faces the herculean task of filling out 8,000 newspaper advertising orders which will be used in the announcement of Chevrolet's widely discussed 1953 passenger cars. Actually, Maryanne will get plenty of help on the assignment, but her position among the stacks of insertion orders emphasizes the promotional power behind the event.

Science Aids Fish Habitat

Nature's effort to restore fish life along the Texas coast may get a lift from the Men of Science.

Recent interest along the Gulf areas has been focused on the comeback of trout and other species which were hard hit by a severe freeze two years ago last January. Now, the Chief Marine Biologist of the Texas Game and Fish Commission and his staff are beginning work designed to improve the habitat of favorite sports fish.

In a statement, he said: "We are starting a program of planting marine types of vegetation in order to attempt the establishment of nursery grounds for redfish and trout.

"Severe causes might be attributed to the diminishing areas of nursery grounds for these species. It is felt that this one factor may be the cause, but the combined factors such as drought conditions and increased industrial activities in the bays could be responsible.

"We plan to plant Ruppia, commonly known as widgeon grass, and Acetabularia, known as mermaid's wine glass in areas where nursery grounds were known to have occurred in the past.

Why Don't Texans Join the Union? Answer Is Given

Texas-born George Sessions Perry reports he now has time to answer a New Yorker's ten-year-old question, "Why Doesn't Texas Join the Union?"

His reply is an article of that title in the current issue of The Saturday Evening Post, where he says he doesn't feel bad about talking so long because it's been a good question since 1890. What has brought the question back into focus, he advises, is Edna Ferber's recent novel, "Giant," which has laid a red, smoking iron a little deeper than a "hair brand" on Texas' Millionaires, but "we less-effulgent Texans have long considered the high jinks of our millionaires and the stories growing therefrom as part of the free entertainment due every man, woman and child in the state." Pointing out that there are two schools of Texas millionaires, the author says there is, of course, the lunatic fringe of a few goons whom no self-respecting Texan would let into the house, "but most of us have long since come to know that there's about as much of them by volume in the Texas millionaire herd as there is alcohol in beer." The others, in general, are found to have stood up pretty well when compared with new millionaires from other quarters. In this connection, Perry recalls the conduct of the Florida real-estate operators, the California gold rush participants and the Hollywood movie people. Perry examines Texas history, the circumstances under which it joined the United States and the tremendous expansion in all directions in recent years. "Now show me a set of normal human beings who can do all that, do it so quickly and keep from crowing just the least little bit every once in a while, and I'll furnish the astonished look," he promises. As to the question, "Why doesn't Texas join the Union?" Perry thinks perhaps the answer lies in the casual remark of an Oklahoman who said, "Looks like to me the question no longer is 'Why doesn't Texas join the Union?' The real news is: 'Isn't it nice that the United States finally joined Texas?'"

Whales Partial To Coast Inlet

KITTY HAWK, N. C. — Old-time residents in the area of Caffey's Inlet maintain that their section of the Outer Banks attracts more large whales than any other area along the Atlantic coast.

Several of the large mammals have been washed ashore this year, but so far none has been as large as the 75-footer that was washed up near Paul Gamiels Hill Coast Guard Station in World War II. That one apparently had been mistaken for a submarine because its carcass showed evidence of having been hit by a bomb.

A. W. Drinkwater, veteran weather observer, said the reason so many whales come ashore in the Caffey's Inlet area is because the ocean currents there have a tendency to sweep inland from offshore.

"There's seldom a year that passes that one or more whales don't come ashore in the area," Drinkwater said.

Lockjaw Danger Cited By State Health Officer

Increasing numbers of lockjaw will develop between now and fall, State Health Officer Geo. W. Cox warned today, despite known measures of prevention.

Lockjaw, or tetanus, cases jump in summertime because exposures in the form of cuts, scratches, or puncture wounds are more frequent in warm weather when people are out-of-doors.

The germs of lockjaw are commonly found in soil — especially manured soil. They enter through a skin break and emit a deadly toxin in which causes jaw and neck muscles to constrict so severely that jaws involuntarily close, vice-like.

Slowly, the muscle constriction spreads to other body muscles, until the victim is bent like a bow. A fatal case of the disease has been traced to a scratch from a rose thorn.

Lockjaw germs are spore-formers, which means they can live for years outside an animal body. Its life processes lie dormant in a tiny seed-like pod, sifting about on the ground until finally, perhaps through a sliver or nail scratch, it gets back into live tissue. The wound may heal, but inside, protected as it is from the air, the spore will begin "revegetating" and emitting deadly toxin.

Farmers are especially vulnerable to lockjaw, Dr. Cox cautioned, because the primary source of lockjaw germs is the intestinal tract of farm animals. They're passed onto the ground in animal excreta, easily available for re-entry into a human body when that body is cut or scratched or otherwise wounded.

Exposures to lockjaw are so common that it is mere common sense for everyone to maintain a high level of protection via immunization. Dr. Cox called this method of gaining immunity "simple and convenient." He said immunizing shots should be given children early in life, at the discretion of the family physician. "You can't go to a doctor with every little scratch," he emphasized, "so the best way to handle it is to take an immunizing series of shots, and keep the immunity level high with periodic 'booster' shots."

Wesley Goodell and Ross Herick, electronic experts, have devised a listening system which they feel may make faster detection of oncoming aircraft easier. Four microphones are arranged pointing in four directions above the spotter's headquarters. Sound is picked up and relayed to amplifiers inside the post.

The inventors claim the chief advantage is that the microphones permit constant listening even in high winds and bad weather.

WOMEN'S AUXILIARY SPONSORS SILVER TEA AT EASTLAND'S MEMORIAL HOPITAL SUNDAY

Members of the Women's Auxiliary of the Eastland Memorial hospital sponsored the annual tea for the Eastland Memorial Hospital, Sunday, during the hours 3 till 5 p.m. at the hospital.

Mrs. James Horton, received the guests and presented each to other officers of the auxiliary, including: Mmes. Earl Conner Jr., Milton Fullen, Billy Walters, Jr., H. B. MacMoy, and Parks Poe.

Stationed in the hallways to direct the visitors were heads of standing committees including: Mmes. Frank Castleberry, Samuel Butler, John Turner, Virgil Seaberry and Clyde Grissom.

Mrs. Sam Gamble and her committee had decorated the hospital with beautiful arrangements of cut flowers, several sent by friends for the occasion.

Mmes. L. E. McGraw and Theo Lamb presided over the register. The refreshment table, arranged by Mrs. Victor Cornelius, was decorated with a money tree, prepared by Mrs. W. E. Chaney. The silver offering of $38.50 made by guests was placed under the tree.

Mrs. W. E. Brasher ladeled the orange iced punch, prepared by Mmes. Castleberry and Fred Davenport. Homemade cookies, made by auxiliary members were also served. Assisting were Mmes. Carl Timmons, W. C. Vickers, Pearson Grimes, Horace Horton, and Migs Norma Vickers.

Mrs. Grace Reed, hospital superintendent, was a most hospitable hostess, throughout the afternoon.

Hospital Accomplishments
Visitors at the Eastland Memorial Hospital were amazed at the way the new Eastland Memorial Hospital has advanced with a year's time.

Since its opening one year ago, Sunday, much machinery necessary to first class hospitals has been purchased and installed, including: Diathermy; Metabolism; Electro - cardiograph; Gomo Section; Electro Surgical Unit; an eight cylinder gas machine for anesthesia.

The building has been air-conditioned throughout, both the operating and obstetric rooms having refrigeration units. A beautiful stainless steel wall rack has been installed in the operating room, and for patients weight records modern clinical scales.

The hospital now has a fully equipped laboratory with a registered technician and a medical librarian.

One year ago the staff consisted of eight employees. At present thirteen are employed. The hospital has a daily average of ten patients.

(The above material was compiled by Mrs. James Horton, president of the auxiliary).

Mrs. J. L. Dick of Olden and the late Mr. Dick are the parents of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Curtis Young, organist, presented the wedding music and accompanied Miss Mary Ann Henderson, soloist, who sang "I Love You Truly" and "Because." The altar was decorated with tall baskets of white gladiolus, tall candelabra held white cathedral tapers. A large arrangement of Marconi daisies decorated the chancel rail.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a waltz-length dress of white nylon, fashioned with a fitted bodice, and a full cut skirt. She wore white lace gloves, which matched the julliett cap, holding in place her shoulder length veil. She carried a white prayer book bouquet of white Stephanotis centered with white gardenias with satin shower.

Mrs. P. J. Sturm, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a pink organza dress, waltz-length, fashioned similar to that of the bride. She wore a matching corone, and carried a basket bouquet of blue carnations.

Miss Brenda Sue Tankersley, sister of the bride, and bridesmaid, wore an identical costume made of blue organza and carried pink carnations.

Onous Dick served his brother as best man. Larry Tankersley, brother of the bride and Le Jeune Horton served as ushers and also as candle lighters.

A reception followed the wedding and was held in the church annex. The parents of the couple joined the wedding party in receiving the guests. Miss Mary Ann Henderson presided at the bride's book.

The refreshment table was laid with Italian cutwork cloth. The centerpiece was of Marconi Daisies. Tall baskets of white gladiolus were used as a background. Frosted punch and white cake squares were served by Mmes. Onous Dick, and Joe Tow. They were assisted by Mmes. E. K. Henderson and Kenneth Williamson.

When the newlyweds left for their wedding trip, Mrs. Dick was wearing a pink and white suit of cotton pique, with white accessories and the corsage from her wedding bouquet. The couple will make their home in Odessa.

Mrs. Dick is a mid-term graduate of Eastland high school. Her husband, who has just completed two years service in the Air Corps is a graduate of Olden high school.

Mmes. Green and Bumpass were in charge of the gift display, attractively arranged on game tables. The clubroom was beautifully decorated with cutflowers carrying out the pink and turquoise color theme.

Mmes. W. B. White and Green alternated in saying goodbyes at the exit door.

The guest list included one hundred and forty friends, who called during the hours, 8 to 9 p.m. or sent gifts.

Miss Womack and Mr. Lee will be married here at 8 p.m. June 13th in the First Baptist Church.

Eighty-five persons, including twenty-five young people attended. Punch and white cake squares was served from a table laid with a lace cloth and decorated with an arrangement of gladiolus.

Rev. and Mrs. Bailey with their two children, Evelyn and Robert, are leaving after having been with the church for the past four years.

A gift of four place setting of sterling silver was presented to them at the close of the Sunday morning service.

Where the Bailey family will move will be decided this week at the annual Methodist Conference.

Misfortune struck another blow at the Gerhards. The car in which they were driving to Cisco with the girls broke down en route. A passing motorist, Mrs. Ray Royall, stopped and then drove the parents and the girls to the hospital.

Neighbors said they had left the scene only a few minutes before a doctor and a nurse arrived with oxygen from Rising Star.

The sisters will be buried in a Lutheran cemetery near their home. Higginbotham Funeral Home, Rising Star, will direct arrangements.

Jeannette was born Dec. 5, 1941. Gwendolyn was born Dec. 1, 1943. They were reared on the Gerhardt farm which was homesteaded by their grandfather, a German immigrant, during the early 1900s.

Other survivors include their paternal grandmother, Mrs. John Gerhardt Sr., who lives with the family. She was not home when the tragedy occurred.

Preliminary clinical studies by Ciba Pharmaceutical scientists indicate that apresoline, the new anti-hypertensive drug, not only reduces blood pressure while increasing the flow of blood through the kidneys, but also is decidedly effective against toxemias of pregnancy.

John Conrad Otto (1786-1845) note that though this blood condition can be transmitted by women first to describe hemophilia and to it does not occur in them.

LADY COW BOSS—Mrs. Phyllis Long, 32½ left, is the first "yardwoman" to be employed by the Chicago stockyards in their 57 years of existence. She herds cattle into pens after they leave the weighing scales, presided over by Virginia Rush, weighmaster, who leans from the window of the scale house. Mrs. Long thinks the work is easy, compared to the truck-driving job she held for 14 years.

Joy Lynn Robinson, EHS Student Representative To Girls State

Miss Joy Lynn Robinson daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Robinson, 413 Pershing, will represent the Eastland American Legion and Auxiliary at Bluebonnet Girls State in Austin, June 15-21 at the Texas State School for the Deaf.

Miss Robinson will be a senior in Eastland high school next fall. She is a member of the A Cappella Choir, and was winner of the American History award for 1953. She is a member of the First Baptist Church.

The purpose of Girls State is to educate young women in the duties, privileges, rights and responsibilities of American Citizenship.

Girls State is a mythical 49th state where, for one week, the citizens organize their own county, city and state governments. They elect their officials in accordance with regular election procedures.

They learn the duties of city, county and state officers. They introduce and argue bills in a legislature. Justice is administered by their own law enforcement agencies and courts.

Girls State is sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary of the Department of Texas.

missioner, will be guest speaker, and plenty of good music will be provided.

We can't do too much bragging about Free Mail Service. Most of it is free in a way, after you buy stamps, envelopes, etc., but you still have to rent a box if you wish to get your mail at the postoffice, at the time you want it.

Recent announcement was made that "box rent" is going up. If you have a small box that has been costing you 75c per quarter, you will be asked to pay $1.10 in the future. If you have a giant size box or drawer that usually rents for $2 per quarter, you will pay $3 in the future.

This is o. k. so far as we are concerned, though we hope Uncle does not boost the price for postage again.

Right now the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company is asking for a rate increase for Eastland, and will, in all probability, get an increase of some kind. Living conditions are soaring all the time, and John Public must pay off or else. Yet, so far as salaries are concerned, most of them have not been increased. This will work a hardship on the great middle class, and those in the extreme lower pay brackets are sure to suffer.

They will eat in some fashion, but maybe very poorly, and they will purchase a few rags to cover them, yet if prices continue to rise while pay checks remain the same, it will be only a matter of time until this middle class will not be able to have telephones, newspapers and other "every-day luxuries."

We should guard against killing the goose that lays the golden egg.

Small businesses are going to suffer for too many of their regular customers will not be in position to buy.

We are not arguing that some of these price boosts are not necessary, for we have made no special investigation. But we do know when the middle class has suffered enough, there just won't be any business at all. And millionaires are going to learn that they can't eat their money. A farmer with a dozen hens will live in a fashion—he will have a few eggs, but when Mr. Millionaire gets hungry and the farmer asks him $500 for an egg, he will catch the point. Let's live and let live.

Termites are observed only at the time they swarm, in March and April. At that time they may appear by the thousands in the basement, or occasionally in the first floor of a house. They then have wings, which they bite off each other. Then they crawl into the ground—maybe where they may start additional colonies.

Half of those who die of cancer, the American Cancer Society says, are under 65 years of age, the American Cancer Society states.
