DR. GASTON FOOTE TO SPEAK AT METHODIST DINNER PRIOR TO KICK OFF IN FUND DRIVE

By Mrs. Jas. Horton

The Methodist Church has for the past several weeks been planning and preparing for a "Better Church" campaign. The educational phase of this campaign will be climaxed with a special service Sunday morning at 10:50 a.m. Judge Milburn S. Long, general chairman, will preside.

After a worship service conducted by the pastor, a series of five-minute talks will be presented, instead of the usual sermon. Speakers and their subjects will be as follows:

"Our Plans," W. L. White; "Our Needs," Mrs. D. E. Frazer; "Our Responsibilities," Virgil Strawberry Sr.; "How the Housewife Can Help," Mrs. R. C. Ferguson; "Youth's Part," George Harris; "How Much Shall I Pledge?" Grady Pipkin.

The solicitation phase of the campaign will begin Monday evening with a kick-off dinner promptly at seven o'clock. This dinner will be attended by all solicitation workers and their wives. The featured speaker of this dinner will be Dr. Gaston Foote, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Fort Worth. Other features of the program are being arranged by the program committee of which Mrs. D. E. Frazer is chairman. Mrs. R. E. Sikes is chairman of the food committee.

All solicitation workers will make their pledges at the dinner and will select from the church roster names of members of the church to be contacted. Every member of the church will be asked to subscribe to the budget of the church for the current year. A goal of $400 per week is to be subscribed.

Report dinners will follow on Thursday evening, Oct. 8, and Monday evening, Oct. 12 at 7 o'clock, all solicitation workers and their wives will check upon their accomplishments. Then on October 15, the entire membership and all friends of the church will come together for a victory dinner. Plans and program for this victory dinner will be announced later.

WF&S RAIL HEARING SET FOR NOV. 2

The Commerce Commission will hold a public hearing in Breckenridge Nov. 2 on the petition Wichita Falls & Southern Railroad to abandon its 176-mile freight line.

At the same time, the ICC will consider the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific's request for permission to buy the 103-mile segment of the road from Wichita Falls to Breckenridge.

According to prior announced plans, the line from Breckenridge to Ranger and on to Dublin will be abandoned. The railroad has been serving Eastland County for over a third of a century. M. J. Wininger is Ranger agent for the WF&S.

The Wichita Falls & Southern was bought May 8 for $825,000 from the Frank Kell Estate by the Texas Investment Corp. of Austin. The corporation applied May 22 for permission to abandon the line.

The Rock Island filed its petition to buy the 103-mile strip of the road for $575,000 last Tuesday in Washington.

John D. Farrington, Rock Island president, said the company wants to operate the Wichita Falls & Southern section from Wichita Falls to the Warren Petroleum Corp. plant two miles south of Breckenridge for three years on a trial basis. The line would become a permanent part of Rock Island's system if the test were successful.

Road Work Is Scheduled Near Breckenridge

Ned B. Hoffman, Fort Worth contractor, is expected to begin work within 20 days on the reconstruction of U. S. Highway 180 from the east Breckenridge city limits to the intersection with State Highway 67.

Persons having objections on the right-of-way are asked to move them, as the contractor will not be responsible for damage to fences, buildings and right-of-way.

Work is now in progress on East Walker St., with the state highway forces and the City of Breckenridge co-operating in widening the street to 68-foot width to provide for four lanes of traffic with parking on each side.

FILIAL AFFECTION

WICHITA, Kansas — Selection of his father from Kansas highway patrolmen to attend the National Police Academy didn't impress Michael Kesh, 7, when Mrs. Allen C. Kesh began packing her husband's clothes for his three-month stay in Washington. D. C. She could find no underwear. Finally young Mike admitted he had hidden the garments. He didn't want his dad to go away.

COUNTY FARM BUREAU MEET ON OCTOBER 8

A big membership drive for the Eastland County Farm Bureau Federation will be launched with a "kick-off" supper to be held in Eastland Thursday, Oct. 8, at 8 p.m. in the annex of the First Christian Church, county leaders said today.

Plans for the annual membership drive were formulated during a called meeting of the bureau last week.

Jack Cozart of Nimrod acted as chairman in the absence of A. Z. Myrick, president, of Cisco. Eleven directors and six Farm Bureau members were present for the session.

The coming membership campaign will be launched with an old-fashioned barbecue with all the trimmings.

Guest speaker for the evening will be Riley Arnold, organization specialist of the American Farm Bureau Federation, who is a native of Alabama.

"We hope that each new member will go out and bring in one new member," President Myrick said this morning. "In that way we can easily double our membership."

Committees for the Oct. 8 event: Mrs. M. W. Grieger, beans and salad; Mmes. Freeman, Jones and Love, tables; Myrick and helpers, barbecue; and O. C. Stewart, George Bennett and Mrs. Tucker, program committee.

"The prospects for favorable crops are good," Myrick pointed out, "and we hope that farmers and ranchmen will see the need of belonging to a farmer's organization. It is the only way they can voice their rights in things pertaining to agriculture. Farmers," he added, "must wake up."

A CANINE ASSIST

RUFFALO, New York — When a dog alerted in front of Wilfred H. Kemp's auto several years ago, he planned the brake pedal to be "floor and nearly snapped his steering wheel when he automatically pushed it toward the floorboards. It was this experience that gave him the idea of a steering wheel that would double as a brake. Recently Kemp, 29, was given a patent for a steering column which, when pressed down, engages an emergency brake.

Cattle Buyer Is Indicted

Joe Boatright, prominent Colorado City cattleman, was indicted in Eastland by a 91st District Court grand jury for "conspiracy to commit theft by false pretext." Joe Nuesse, Eastland County district attorney, announced late Wednesday.

Bill Wallis, a San Angelo cattle buyer, also was named in the same indictment.

Nuesse said the indictment arose out of a purchase by Wallis of 77 head of cattle from the Six Faircloth Sales Barn on July 28. Wallis purchased the cattle with a check exceeding $5,000 which was signed "Joe Boatright by Bill Wallis," Nuesse said.

Boatright, manager of the Colorado City Cattle Auction, was released from the Eastland County jail about 6 p.m. Wednesday on

OPENING KICKOFF COUNTY'S ANNUAL GRID CLASSIS IS SET FRIDAY AT 8 ON MAV TURF

In an advance-billed thriller which may decide the 1953 District 7-A schoolboy grid championship, the Ranger High Bulldogs and the Eastland High Mavericks clash at Maverick Stadium in Eastland Friday night.

The opening kickoff of the annual Eastland County grid classic—always one of the top pigskin tilts of the year—has been set for 8 p.m. sharp and an over-capacity crowd of fans from both cities is expected to pack the stands and spill out along the sidelines of the battle site.

Coach Ed Hooker, Eastland mentor, and Ranger's Stubby Warden were sending their Maverick and Bulldog charges through final brush-up drills this afternoon, winding up a week of long, rough and rugged workouts in preparation for the all-important test for their hepped-up schoolboy eleven.

Both coaches reported their charges in fine fettle and eager to go in the Friday night clash.

"This is going to be the game of the season," Eastland's Hooker said this morning. "My boys are really ready and I believe they'll play heads-up ball against Ranger Friday night."

Rangers Warden had little comment to offer. "The Bulldogs are ready," he said. "The Ranger squad, like Eastland, is in tip-top shape physically and mentally."

On the basis of comparisons of squad weight, records, etc., the Maroon & Whites of Ranger are deemed as slight favorites to win the Friday night contest. However, the annual Ranger-Eastland duel is one that usually defies all standards of pre-game judging.

The nationally-famous Williamson Grid Rating System, however, Wednesday picked the Mavericks to come out on top in the 7-A skirmish.

The Rangerites have a two won, one lost record. They clipped the Colorado City Wolves of 4-AA in their opener, 28-27, loss to 9-AA's Mineral Wells Mountaineers, 14-13, and opened their 7-A campaign last Friday night at Abilene with a 53-13 triumph over the Wylie High Bulldogs.

The Eastlanders knocked off the 9-AA Cisco High Lobos, 7-0, in their opener three weeks ago, dropped a 14-7 decision to the Double A Coleman Bluecats, and last week opened their District 7-A grid war with a 7-7 deadlock with the De Leon Bearkats.

The Bearkats and the Dublin Lions are rated of top-caliber this fall, but most sportswriters and grid observers believe that the Eastland High Mavericks or the Ranger High Bulldogs are the teams in foremost running for the 1953 district title. Thus, the Friday night set-to may easily decide the 7-A championship.

The probable starting lineups:

That's the offensive string.

Defensively, there'll be three or four slight changes. Jim Nail, 160, Johnny Graves, 200, Dan Mitchell, 180, and Benny Robinson, 140, are the defensive plugs who'll be involved in the switches.

Other RBS squadmen on deck for action are:

Achie Robinson, 180, and Pete Jameson, 170, tackles; Jerry Canfield, 165, end; Tommy Young, 170, Tommy Sutton, 165, Cruz Vasquez, 140, and Dan Cruse, 115, guards; Johnny Swiner, 120, and Jim Littlefield, 185, backs.

Quote and unquote—

Four wheelhorses of the 1953 Eastland High Mavericks had these comments to offer on the Eastland-Ranger game Friday night:

Stan Harris, center: "We'll have to play heads-up ball to win. We know Ranger's has a good team."

Right halfback Jamie Jessop declared, "If we win, we'll have to go all the way. In order to win district—well, this game is it!"

"Ranger will be the best team we've played this year," was the opinion expressed by Charles Collins, May right guard.

And enthusiastically stated Clyde Moore, left wingman: "We are out to win. We'll give it our best!"

FARM FIRES CUT INCOME BY MILLIONS

Eastland County and Texas farmers and ranchmen got some news today on how to add $5,000,000 to their yearly gross income by reducing fire losses.

Fires in 1952 destroyed at least $5,000,000 worth of farm buildings and crops, said Norm W. Parker, manager of the Texas Insurance Advisory Association, a trade group that compiles statistics on fire losses. Parker said the 1953 loss would be higher unless something is done to reduce farm fires.

Rangers Battle Navarro Eleven Saturday

The Ranger Junior College Rangers, badly crippled by injuries, meet the Navarro Junior College Bulldogs in a non-conference clash at Corsicana Saturday night.

The inter-sectional contest will be unreeled at Tiger Stadium beginning at 8 p.m. Many Ranger fans are expected to follow Coach Dick (Chub) Henderson's Purple & Whites to their fourth battle of the season.

The Bulldogs, members of the Texas Junior College Conference, are rated heavy favorites over the visiting Rangers.

The Navarro juggernaut has an impressive two won, one lost record.

They opened their '53 campaign packing up Kilgore Junior College, 20-12, downed the Midwestern University Rs, 21-6, but dropped their tilt with Del Marr last Saturday.

The RJC squad is due to depart from Ranger for Corsicana at 9:30 a.m. Saturday.

Four first-stringers, out for a while, are expected to return Saturday night. Coach Henderson said early today, "I'm going to let them get mented and in top shape for our Pioneer Conference campaign."

The RJC mentor said, "Win or lose, I won't use 'em Saturday night."

Center Otis Clayton is out with an ankle injury. Halfback Floyd Gibbs has a separated shoulder. Sonny Blanton, halfback, is also plagued with an ankle hurt, and Fullback Bobby Pharris, the Breck flash, has a broken rib.

All four are expected to be back in shape in a week or 10 days and will probably star in the all-important Pioneer Conference game against the powerful San Angelo Rams at San Angelo on Saturday, Oct. 10.

Here's the starting eleven which will face Navarro at Corsicana Saturday night:

Center—Jim Bob Roberts, 180, Woodson.
Right Guard—Allen Gibbs, 185, Newcastle.
Right Tackle—Dalton Bleeker, 207, Breckenridge.
Right End—Ray Gilstrap, 185, Big Spring.
Quarterback—Tommy Wood, 180, Amarillo.

Left Half—Fred Sanders, 165, Fort Worth.
Right Half—Raymond Hallock, 140, Crowell.
Fullback—Thomas Hudson, 205, Throckmorton.

'The Ranger', New Dream Home To Be Unveiled At State Fair

A new dream home designed for the Southwest and aptly dubbed "The Ranger" will be unveiled at the 1953 State Fair of Texas, Oct. 10-25.

The new type of factory-engineered home will stand in the heart of the mammoth General Exhibits Building. It will be completely furnished and landscaped.

Charles M. Goodman, one of the Nation's foremost architects, designed the house for National Homes Corporation, Lafayette, Ind.

The State Fair was chosen for "The Ranger's" debut because the exposition is the nation's biggest and because the house is extremely well suited to Texas and the Southwest, said Clifford A. Smith, vice president of National Homes.

Architect Goodman used two clever devices, one . . . plenty of all-glass walls and two . . . wood screen enclosures for patio, play yard and porches, to capture the air of spaciousness and informality.

The Ranger has an extremely low-pitched overhang roof of white chips. Finishes include a new, grooved wood siding, board and batten or cedar shake shingles.

The three-bedroom home includes an unusual family room and kitchen combination, living room, bath and wood screen enclosed children's play area outside the kitchen-family room.

Goodman's floor plans were carefully devised to make separate sections of the home. For example: bedrooms and bath are accessible from both the family room and the living room.

Central heating and a new method of attic ventilation add to the comfort of the moderately priced home.

FARM--

Three safeguards were suggested by Parker to help reduce farm fires:

1. Use care and forethought in the construction, maintenance and use of all farm property with a view to eliminating all needless fire danger.

2. Equip farm homes and buildings with simple-fire-extinguishing equipment to enable individuals to stop fires before they reach the serious stage.

3. Organize farm community fire-fighting brigades equipped with more effective equipment than an individual farmer can afford to combat larger fires.

Farmers are being urged to check their fire defense as a part of the national observance of fire prevention week Oct. 4 to 10.

livestock seemed to have the edge on the stripe-clad convict cowboys. Nearly all the aspirants and a number of the older, more experienced riders took some nasty spills from the wild bucking horses and untamed Brahma bulls scheduled to be used in the show. Inmate top-hands predict a lot of thrills for the spectators at this years show — a lot of spills for themselves if the sample they've had here is any criterion.

Buffy Bracy, World Champion trick rider and roper who last year played Europe, assisted by Don Wilcox, another trick and fancy roper with a big following wherever rodeos are held, will show their bag of lariat tricks.

Trick riders will be the Lamb Sisters of Dallas, Ted and Betty. The Harris County Sheriff's posse, a trained bull act by the Head Sisters, of Campbell, Texas, a trained dog act by Jay Siler, of Emmet, Idaho and those zaniest of bull fighting clowns, John Lindsey and Hoyt Hefner make up the list of rodeo specialty acts booked for the entire series of prison shows. In addition there will be convict clowns with their own acts and music by prison bands.

Main attractions planned for each of the four Prison Rodeo performances will be a parachute jump, into the arena from a plane 1,500 feet above, by an inmate former paratrooper.

Boys Ranch At Abilene, Plans Debt Free Home

Ben Richey, superintendent of the Abilene Boys Ranch, is making an effort at this time to wind up all debts by Oct. 15, and to put the ranch on a more solid footing. At least two Eastland boys have been sent to this ranch.

The Abilene Reporter-News had this to say concerning Richey's activities:

After a year of operating on his own, without organizational support, the superintendent of Abilene Boys Ranch this week announced the ranch's indebtedness had been reduced to $6,508.

Ben Richey, who has headed the ranch just south of Abilene, for five years, said he hoped to secure donations enough to clear off the debts by Oct. 15.

The Oct. 15 date represents 12 months from the time Boys Ranch was turned back to Richey by the Abilene Jaycees.

At that time the indebtedness was $10,500.

Richey said he had depended on independent donors to help take care of the ranch operating expenses and said the Jaycees had dug up a little more money to help reduce the figure.

Richey has been operating as close to a cash basis as possible this year.

This week he will mail out around 8,000 letters to Abilene area people explaining the work being done at the ranch and asking for regular monthly contributions or lump sum donations.

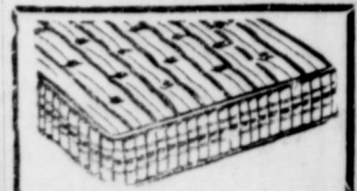

Since the Community Chest drive is approaching, Richey said he would make no organized drive for funds—no canvass.

A number of improvements have been made at the ranch during the year, especially in the agricultural side of the shop.

Richey invited the public to the ranch at any time and said contributions might be mailed to Box 893, Abilene.

500 Attend Barbecue; Park Is Dedicated To Colored Citizens

With more than 400 white people present, as well as all of Eastland's colored population, the new City Park was dedicated to colored citizens of the city, following the big barbecue which was staged at the park Wednesday evening.

Early Wednesday it appeared that a chosen few — workers and those who contributed money and materials—would make up the party, but this idea didn't materialize. Colored people were to finance and sponsor the barbecue—all for free, when they learned that many of their good friends might not be present. They took their troubles seriously, and accepted substantial gifts of meat from Leon Bourland and B. E. Mathews, along with others. Then they went out and invited, the public.

It was feared by some that they would not have enough food for the crowd that gathered—some 500 individuals, but figures proved they did. There may have been a few colored women who didn't get in on the barbecue, but they were happy, for there was plenty of beans, salad, pie and cake.

All it was a splendid barbecue and most people in attendance, both white and colored were thrilled.

In wandering over the park it was discovered that equipment is just as good—maybe better, because it is new, than will be found at the park on the hill. There are slides, swings and see-saws for the children, with seats and tables for the elders. They have a modern barbecue pit, and incinerator for burning trash, and enough concrete dining tables to care for a goodly number of individuals.

Following the feed, and after most visitors had consumed a second cup of good coffee, the group was called to order and an enthusiastic meeting was staged.

Larry McGraw served as master of ceremonies, and after a few well chosen words, describing the fellowship that was being enjoyed, he called Sam Gamble to the microphone.

Sam explained that while he had been rather active for the past few months, that the project originated in the Fellowship Bible Class at First Christian church. They put the proposition up to the citizens of this city, and donations began coming in. Many men gave generously of time, money and materials.

Among these were Judge Clyde Garrett of Waco, but formerly of Eastland, who provided the land. Guy Robertson who spent many hours with his truck and other equipment. Sam Gamble not only worked but gave as well and many days the working crew was Mr. Gamble and Preacher Roberts. Scores of other names might be added if space would permit.

Dr. Caton was called upon for a talk, and for ten minutes he mentioned many of the good things that had happened and were happening in Eastland. He pointed out that Eastland colored citizens are in a class all their own—they have the only park for colored people west of Fort Worth and on to Abilene.

Judge Davenport, mayor of Eastland, in an eloquent manner, dedicated the Park to the Colored Citizens of Eastland. Of course the property, according to a deed, remains in the name of the City of Eastland, but intent is that it be used by our colored friends.

A committee has been appointed by the City Council, to have direct charge of the park, and the committee is composed of Rev. W. M. Roberts, Elmo Webster and Willie Speaker. Each member of this group was called to the "micro" and gave thanks for the park and made acceptance speeches. Willie Speaker admitted that he had been a citizen of Eastland for 31 years, and that he had been on the same job for 28 of these years.

Just before closing Sam Gamble who leaves for South Texas today, went to the "micro" and told colored people that other improvements were in store. Rest rooms will be provided for both men and women, a large swimming pool will be ready for service before hot weather comes again, and the Quarterback Club is arranging for basketball in the very near future.

But why further comment? It was splendid from beginning to end, and everybody is happy. God lives and all is well.

H. L. Clearman, Former Resident of Eastland, Wins Highest Award As Leader Agricultural Activities

H. L. Clearman, Deaf Smith county agricultural agent since February 1946, is one of six Texans named to receive the National County Agricultural Agents Association's Distinguished Service Award. Clearman was selected by the Texas Association, and the announcement was made by Refugio County Agent D. F. Bredthauer, secretary of the state group.

The awards are made annually to those county agents who have made outstanding contributions to agriculture over a period of years. Formal presentation of the awards will be made during the national association's annual meeting which will be held from October 11-15 in Philadelphia.

His first Extension Service appointment came in February 1940 when he was named assistant county agent in Deaf Smith County. One year later he was transferred to Lipscomb County as county agent and a year later he entered the U. S. Navy. After his discharge from the Navy, he returned to Deaf Smith County and his present position.

Clearman helped put 4-H club work on a sound footing in Deaf Smith County in 1940 with a doubling of the membership. He helped organize the Hereford Potato Growers Association and gave proper assistance in developing proper irrigation and cultural methods for crop production in the county under irrigation.

After his return from military service and appointment as county agent for Deaf Smith County, he again commenced work on problems related to irrigation farming. A county certified seed growers' association was organized and these growers annually produced enough certified seed to plant several hundred thousands of acres. He was instrumental in the organization of the Hereford Junior Livestock and Poultry Show which is open to junior exhibitors from Deaf Smith and three adjoining counties.

Through demonstrations, new crops have been introduced into the county and lettuce and castor beans are now of major importance. He is vice president of the Hereford Foundation, an organization set up to do research on products produced in the county.

Clearman is associated with just about every organization in Hereford and the county which has been formed to aid agriculture. They include the Hereford Breeders Association; the three previously mentioned and the Hereford Riders Club.

He has served twice on the Board of Stewards of the Methodist Church; as a district director on the board of the Texas County Agricultural Agents Association; superintendent of the junior livestock show at the Tri State Fair; superintendent of the swine division, Amarillo Fat Stock Show and assistant superintendent of the Guernsey division of the Fiverview Dairy Show.

Clearman is a native of Eastland County and graduated from Texas A&M College in 1940.

He was a distinguished student; a member of the Kream and Kow Club and president of the Texas Aggie Entomology Society while a student at A&M.

Plans Made To Care For All Disaster Victims; Public Being Urged To Cooperate

In 1953, a year of tornadoes in the United States, the need for disaster planning has been emphasized. Among others, hospital workers from administrators or 'brought' the rank have been impressed with this need.

From the reports of several hospitals in tornado-hit areas (one in Waco and two in Worcester, Mass.) it is evident that certain problems were common to all: these dealt with providing first-class medical care for all emergency cases through such measures as the sorting and routing of patients, keeping simple but accurate records on all patients, maintaining uninterrupted communications, and setting up information and press bureaus.

Directing the over-all program in each hospital were physicians and other key personnel who were familiar with the many things that needed to be done. In no instance was it necessary to ask for volunteers, either trained or untrained. As soon as hospital workers and other persons (such as doctors' wives and secretaries) learned of the disaster, they reported to the hospital or stood by "on call."

One hospital, hearing of the news an hour or so in advance of the first patient, was prepared. Another was aware a major disaster had occurred only when patients continued to arrive at an alarming rate. Within a matter of several hours, however, patients in every hospital had been given emergency treatment, many of them sent home or to the homes of friends, and the rest admitted to the hospital. One institution had a division just finished that had not yet been opened for patients, and it was pressed into service. Another set up army cots in all available space. Still another, not knowing how many casualties it might receive, prepared if it became necessary to discharge patients who were up and about and who could leave the hospital so their beds would be available for the tornado victims.

The conclusion reached by all hospitals was of the need for a complete disaster plan, which they thought should be reviewed periodically and brought up to date.

Yes, the annual rainfall for this area proves that there is sufficient moisture to grow crops most months of the year. But the rains may stop when you need them most and level off the average with a gully-washer too late to do any good. Farmers around Jacksonville suffered a sixty percent loss in tomatoes by an extended dry spell. Now they are building farm ponds and buying irrigation systems to provide water when they need it.

Not only will they irrigate tomatoes, but they will run water on their feed crops and pastures to maintain high level of production for their livestock.

Business in our system of free enterprise takes a risk, but this risk can be reduced by maintaining adequate banking credit when it is needed.

Christian Science

"Unreality" is the subject for this week's Christian Science Lesson-Sermon. The point will be stressed that Christ Jesus illustrated the unreality of evil every time he destroyed sin, disease and death, leaving with those healed a glimpse of reality—a taste of God-given health, holiness and harmony.

The Golden Text is from I Timothy (6:17): "Charge them that are rich in this world, that they be not high-minded, nor trust in uncertain riches, but in the living God, who giveth us richly all things to enjoy."

The necessity for making a choice between the worship of God instead of matter is pointed out in the book of Matthew (6:24): "No man can serve two masters: for either he will hate the one, and love the other; or else he will hold to the one, and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and mammon. Mary Baker Eddy refers to this subject in this selection from the Christian Science textbook: "You are bringing out your own ideal. This ideal is either temporal or eternal. Either Spirit or matter is your model. If you try to have two models, then you practically have none. Like a pendulum in a clock, you will be thrown back and forth, striking the ribs of matter and swinging between the real and the unreal." (Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures, p. 360).
