WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 21, 1955

BOVINA, TEXAS

VOLUME 1, NUMBER 13

Whittlin'

By Dolph Moten

The 13th issue of The Blade is out. A quarter of a year of newspapers. If you read that quarter of a year's business real fast it might sound like a quarter of a century.

To old time publishers that seems like very few I feel certain, but to me it seems like several more than the actual 13 that it is.

Was the 13th unlucky? I've been asking myself that question, but I can't really make any decision as yet, but right now I'd say that from an advertising standpoint, it was lucky and from an editorial standpoint I'd say that it was a lot less fortunate than some of its predecessors.

But be it good, bad, indifferent, lucky or unlucky it's out and that's more than I thought I was going to be able to say about last week's publication.

If a man had been worrying about whether or not Bovina's bank charter is going to be passed, he would be a raving maniac by now. I haven't heard of that happening to anyone around lately; so apparently no individual is worrying about it to an extreme and seems like everybody is almost afraid to talk about it.

Understand that 11 individuals in Washington have to put their John Henry to it before it changes from a dream into a reality. Also understand, and all this is very unofficial, that 10 of the 11 have already signed it and all that is needed now is the signature of the 11th. But he has been on vacation, had a death in his family and a few other things to keep him from being interested in Bovina's proposed bank.

If that is all the trouble, I guess that sooner or later the charter will be approved, but I'm of the opinion that if they are waiting on the people of Bovina to want a bank, they're losing time by the minute.

Football fever has a good hold on Bovina despite the fact that the local high school has turned up without a game after two games. Most people with whom I've talked feel that the locals have been outclassed so far this season and that it'll be a different story when they get through with these "warmup" games and get into district play.

I was surprised by the way people in this area stand behind the team even in defeat. I didn't know that any people other than Aggies stood behind their team so well.

I'm jealous of my wife's job. No deadlines, no Tuesday morning blues, (and since she's left the newspaper, those bad feelings that occur between me and the world have extended into the afternoon), no visible pressure at all.

She even gets to eat lunch on Tuesday!

Some week, and all the people who didn't believe me when I said The Blade was some day going eight pages, don't have to believe this either, but some Tuesday in the not too distant future I'm going to wind up the week's work so I'll get to eat lunch on Tuesday. Sure do envy people who have time to tend to minor details like that.

I've been seriously considering getting the school board to fire Jeanie. It's not near as much fun down at the Blade office on Tuesday mornings when there is nobody to scream at. Don't misunderstand me, there are plenty of people to scream at, but I've tried that a few times and they just look puzzled and walk away. What I'm talking about is somebody that will scream back at you. Kinda' brings you back down to earth.

I'm still waiting for that letter to the editor that says somebody doesn't like some part or all of The Blade.

Know in my own mind that somebody, somewhere is dissatisfied. I'm ready to hear from them.

Played in another baseball game this week, fared well considering two weeks ago, the Charlie horse that was about to get well came back and my left foot got clefted but aside from that everything was all right.

A. C. Teter umpired the ball game and did as good a job of umpiring a sandlot game as I've seen anywhere. Most people feel that almost anybody can tell the difference between a ball and strike. They feel that the hardest part is being able to take the gripes of the players and the fans.

This could possibly be true, but I think the hard part and the part that takes natural ability as well as practice is being able to make the fans and players believe that you are right and have complete command of the situation.

A Little Work - A Little Fun - And Bovina Has Markers!

Water Committee Meets with Farmers

Members of the Parmer County Water Committee discussed irrigation problems with some 12 Parmer County irrigation farmers who are having trouble with their tail water and with other irrigation problems Thursday night in Bovina at the office of Wilson-Brook Insurance Agency.

All members of the water committee were present and talked to the farmers about solutions to the problems.

The committee recently made a plea to the farmers through ads in the county newspapers to "exercise care to see that your irrigation water is not wasted."

The water committee believes that the water problems can be worked out democratically and through education. They plan to call a mass meeting of county farmers some time within the next month to further discuss the problems. Members of the district water committee will meet with the local committee and the farmers at that meeting to offer their advice and assistance to the matter.

The meeting will be held either in Bovina or Friona.

Another New Business For Booming Bovina

Troy Fuller, well known farmer and a resident of Bovina, announced earlier this week that the Bovina Farm Chemicals will be ready to go to work in "about 10 days."

The business will handle all kinds of fertilizer, mixed, straight, and anhydrous ammonia. Fuller said that the business would have the best equipment available for fertilizer work and that they would be equipped to make single or dual applications.

The business building will be built of steel and located just north of the state highway barn on Third Street some time in the near future. The building will be 40 by 60 feet in size. Construction on it will start some time soon.

Fuller will manage the business. More information about the business can be found in an ad in this issue.

STAFF ELECTED

The staff for the school paper named "The Yucca" was elected last week. The editor is French Crook and assistant editor is Billy Johnson. Sue Hoffer is art editor, Helen Hartzog is the society editor, Donna Jean Hobby is the sports editor and Billy Richards is the senior class reporter.

ASSEMBLY GIVEN

The first Southern Assembly sponsored by the student council of the Bovina High School was given last Friday, September 16, in Willisford Gym. The Assembly featured an aerial artist act starring the Aerial Downies with Eve and Dee Downie. W. H. Willoughby, superintendent, reported that the largest group ever to attend a Southern Assembly at Bovina was present.

Bovina has street markers. The Lions Club finished the erection of the street markers Friday afternoon after two days of work.

The money for the markers was collected earlier in the year by the Bovina Women's Study Club from the town people. The Study Club also made arrangements for the purchasing of the markers. The steel posts that were set in concrete, and that the markers were put on, were given by the city of Bovina and Arlin Hartzog. The city also furnished the concrete that the posts were set in.

Some 66 poles were set with a marker for every street in Bovina.

The letters on the signs are white on a royal blue background. "They are made of the highest grade of Vitreous Enamel," the catalog from which they were ordered says. "They are fused on to an 18-gauge sheet of specially prepared metal with high temperature under scientific controls. Single face made for installation back to back." They are guaranteed not to fade, crack, creep, nor tarnish.

"The holes are fitted with rust-proof eyelets which protect the enamel at these points and allow for expansion or contraction."

Mustangs Journey To Friona Friday

The Bovina Mustangs journey to Friona Friday night to do battle with the Class A Chiefs. Friona has won one game and lost one so far this season while Bovina has come out on the short end of two scores. However, both the Bovina losses were against Class A schools.

The Mustangs will be handicapped by the loss of starting back Billy Richards who suffered a fractured ankle in last week's encounter with the Happy Cowboys. Coach Bob Wills said that Richards will probably be out for the remainder of the season.

Freshman Billy Burnam will replace Richards in the Mustang backfield. Quarterback Neil Smith, who missed last week's game because of sickness, will be ready to go against Friona.

Tailback Darrell Read got a bruise on his arm last week but he will probably be able to play come Friday. Wills' squad was hampered by the lack of practice Monday. No physical practice was held but the team did have skull practice.

Probable starting lineup for Bo-vinia is Read, Smith, Burnam, and Larry Ezell in the backfield. In the line, Erith Hawkins and Kenneth Estes, ends, Sonny Brito and Lynn Isham, tackles, Dickie Steelman and Terry Adams, guards, and Jerry Loflin, center.

GO TO FAIR

The Bovina High School band left early Monday morning to attend the fair in Amarillo, and to march in the parade. The band had all of its forty members to go and they marched as the 31st of 50 bands in the parade.

After the parade the bands were escorted to the fair grounds by the police and each member was given a dollar for his lunch. Wayne Stevens, band director, said that the band did a good job and looked very good. Stevens, who marched with the band said they played the "Trio to High School Cadets" several times during the 16 blocks marching.

For safe "returns" invest in good driving.

NO INJURIES—

Traffic Accidents Involve Residents

Bovina was the scene of three traffic accidents Sunday, September 18. Two happened early in the morning and the third in the early afternoon.

At 4:30 a. m., at the intersection of Farm Road 1731 (Third Street) and Highway 86, a 1950 Mercury coach with New Mexico license and driven by Galdino H. Garcia, 17, of Bovina failed to stop, went across the highway and crashed into the front of the recently-erected Wonder building owned by Gene Snell.

The car went through the front of the building, through a petition inside the building and finally came to stop against the side of the building some 60 feet from where it had entered.

Property damage to the building was estimated at $400 and damage to the car was about $150 according to James R. Kirkwood, highway patrolman, who investigated the accident.

Garcia was not injured. He was charged with driving with no brakes and driving without driver's license.

Troy Fuller, driving a 1950 Chevrolet pickup collided with a 1955 Mercury coach driven by Sgt. Joseph C. Rountree of Amarillo Air Force Base at the same intersection at 7:45 a. m. Rountree

Happy Cowboys Ride Mustangs to 28-0 Win

WHOA, THERE—Happy's Wayne Cole (No. 11) is hauled in by Bovina's Jerry Loflin at the Friday night game. Behind the two is Billy Richards of Bovina. Cole was sweeping the right end in this play, which occurred in the third quarter.

The Class A Happy Cowboys scored once in each of the four quarters Friday night at Mustang Field as they defeated the Bovina Mustangs 28-0.

Happy kicked off to Bovina, who moved the ball to their own 37 in three plays and were forced to punt from that point. Darrell Read kicked out of bounds on the Happy 35.

Happy moved the ball back to the Bovina 11 on four plays and the ball was carried by four different backs. Larry Black started the drive off by moving the ball from the 35 to the 40, Wayne Cole carried to the 21 in Bovina's end of the field, Billy Conway carried it to the 18, and Quarterback Gary Poage carried to the 11 where it was first and 10. On the first play from the 11 Poage carried over to give the Cowboys a lead that Bovina could never recover. The running attempt for the extra point was good.

Larry Ezell took the following kickoff on his own 20 and carried it out to the 39. On the second down, after Ezell failed to gain, the handoff was fumbled in the Bovina backfield and Happy recovered.

Wayne Cole carried to the 32, Poage made a first down on the Bovina 26. Then after another first down, Bovina took over on downs on its own 10. Read carried to the 15. Richard recovered his own fumble to the 16, an offside penalty against Happy netted a first down on the 21. Read, in three consecutive carries, had picked up a first down on the 32. He then carried to the 38. Ezell couldn't gain, Read failed to gain and Read kicked to the Happy 32.

Conway made a first down to the 42 on the first play, Cole lost five back to the 35, Poage was stopped for no gain by Read, Conway made one to the 36 and then with fourth down and 14 to go for a first, Happy punted to Billy Richards who was stopped on his own 31.

On the first play from this point, Read carried through the middle for a 69 yard run and a touchdown. However, the play was called back because of an illegal substitution.

Bovina was penalized five yards to the 26. Ezell carried to the 32 and the first quarter ended at that point.

Read threw an incomplete pass to begin the second quarter and then Bovina drew a five yard penalty of offside, Read punted on the next play to Conway who returned to the Bovina 49.

After two 15 yard penalties, one for holding and one for clipping, Happy was still on the Bovina 49. They kicked to Richards who caught the ball and was tackled on his own one yard line. On the first play from the one, Bovina fumbled, the Cowboys recovered, and Poage carried over on first down for the touchdown. The extra point running attempt was good and the score—14-0.

Read carried the kickoff back to the 40, an incomplete pass, an offside penalty against Happy, three yards by Read, six by Ezell and Bovina had a first down on the Happy 46. With time running out in the half, Read threw three passes that all fell incomplete, then kicked, and the ball rolled dead on the Happy 17.

The teams exchanged punts, neither being able to pick up a first down and when the half ended Happy was in possession of the ball on its own 36 yard line.

Bovina kicked off to begin the second half and Happy had added another touchdown, plus the point after, before they lost the ball. Score 21-0.

After taking the kickoff and drawing a 15 yard penalty, Bovina was forced to punt from its own 26. Four plays later Conway carried over from Bovina's 40. The try point was good, making the score 28-0 and that ended the scoring for the night.

The teams battled evenly until late in the fourth quarter when Happy advanced to Bovina's eight where Ben Elliott picked up the remaining yardage needed for a touchdown, however, it was called back due to a holding penalty.

The Mustangs took over on downs on the 12, didn't gain the needed yardage in three plays, and with fourth down, Read was back to kick, but a bad pass from center went over his head and into the end zone where it was covered by Happy. The touchdown was nullified, however, by offsetting penalties.

Read and Richards shared quarterbacking duties in the absence of the regular Neil Smith. Mike Barraza, a newcomer to the squad was outstanding on defense for the Mustangs.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

STOP!

Reports have been coming from school bus drivers and school officials, that motorists of Bovina School District area have been disobeying one of Texas traffic laws. And that law states that all vehicles must stop when school busses are loading or unloading children.

This, to say the least, endangers the lives of the school children. To the average motorist, to slowly and carefully keep driving past school buses which are picking up or letting off children, is not a dangerous thing. But a life, or lives, could be lost just because a motorist failed to observe this seemingly unimportant law.

This subject probably gets closer to home with us than with the average citizen. We had a good friend whose little brother was killed by a college student that was driving on a Texas highway and breaking only one law.

He wasn't speeding, he wasn't drinking, his car was in tip-top shape, but he didn't see any point in stopping for school busses that were loading or unloading passengers.

He didn't stop for stopped school busses and a life was lost as a result.

Even when the busses are stopped in front of the school, and it looks like there is no possible danger in going on by the bus, you can never tell when a child may have some desire to hurriedly cross the street.

Let's don't have a fatal accident before we start obeying this law.

Quail Comeback Hits High Gear

Nature and man are teaming up to sustain momentum behind the quail comeback movement, reports the Assistant Executive Secretary of the Texas Game and Fish Commission.

Noting near perfect hatching conditions in many Texas areas, he announced that the manpower factor is being spearheaded by a force just organized by the Commission.

Four trained wildlife biologists have been assigned to help shape the far flung Commission field force into a compact unit for education and demonstration about creating proper quail habitat.

Key men will be state game wardens who will attend organizations meetings in four regions, to be handled by the biologists. This quartet includes Daniel W. Lay of Buna, recognized nationally as an outstanding authority on quail restoration.

The Assistant Executive Secretary said the wardens will work directly with farmers, ranchers, sportsmen's groups and other organizations joining the quail habitat program.

The Commission authorized the movement in conjunction with the experimental quail hatchery being constructed near Tyler.

It was decided that the biggest factor in any quail comeback would be providing the habitat for the fleet game birds which apparently slumped in population for lack of cover and food caused by the record drought and poor land uses.

The Commission has decided that only persons and groups meeting rigid habitat requirements will be allotted quail from the state hatchery.

Reports from statewide sources, motivated by recent general rains, reflected good nesting conditions and, in many cases, noted adequate native seed populations of the highly prolific quail.

Meanwhile, interest in Commission literature designed to inform Texans interested in the quail restoration programs maintains a high pitch. One county agent, A. B. Emmons of Hopkins County in northeast Texas, requested thirty copies of Biologist Lay's special bulletin for distribution in his area.

CHEAPER COFFEE (MAYBE)

Coffee prices are all tied up with the coffee bean crop in Brazil, and current indications are that coming crops will be good. So you will perhaps pay less for a pound of java. Cocoa and chocolate too may be better buys this fall due to an extra-large crop of cocoa beans expected this month and next.

THE PARING KNIFE

By JEANIE MOTEN

Said something in last week's column about the ironies of life. Can't help but think of this observation as another such irony.

Sunday morning while viewing the damage done to Gene Snell's building by a wayfaring automobile, happened to see a boy trying the doors.

There it was. Great big hole gaping in the building. The doors were locked.

Guess childhood diseases aren't limited to childhood. Pauline Caldwell was telling us about her brother, a doctor, who had come down with whooping cough.

That wouldn't have been too bad by itself, but to put the flourishing finish on the situation, the malady occurred just when his daughter was about to be married.

Don't believe it if you don't want to, but—I saw Frank Truitt BUYING a cup of coffee.

Dolph played another baseball game Sunday. (Against my better wishes.) He really loves the game, but seems as how he just can't keep from getting hurt.

But he came through pretty good this week. Besides the return of his charlie horse incurred during a preceding game, he only got cleated on the left foot.

A black eye though can be pretty effective as well as embarrassing. The other day at school during the lunch hour a student was jokingly refusing to let me punch his cafeteria ticket.

Then the boy behind him said, "Have you seen her husband's eye?"

I got to punch the ticket with no further trouble.

Last week Darrell Read came into the office to purchase a meal ticket. Mistaking the amount of money he gave me, I shortchanged him 50c. After much haggling, I finally gave him the rest of his money.

Later he told Dolph that he ought to teach his wife a few of the fine arts of making change. Dolph replying with his usual grotesque humor said, "Oh, she does that on purpose!" It's surprising how profitable it is when she does it on the little kids that won't talk back.

There should have been something in those marriage vows about up-holding each other's integrity or something.

Read another of Frank Yerby's books last week. Don't know if you all like him or not, but like him pretty well myself.

Don't exactly know why because if you've read one, you've read them all. His men are all so virile; his women either voluptuous or so plain they're "interesting."

His books always leave me with a depressed feeling. That's why Dolph can't understand why I read them in the first place.

No, his books are pretty entertaining. And they certainly are good accounts of history.

Read somewhere that teenagers don't really hate their parents. Their regard is, a feeling of absolute contempt.

Not having teenage children, can't give firsthand verification of that statement, but it does seem that in my teens I did look down upon my parents from my lofty heights of knowledge.

Guess the only comfort that can be offered to you teenage parents is that they do outgrow it. After a few years you'll be back on your respected thrones.

Why does the sand blow right before a rain? There must be some logical answer.

We had left overs for dinner Monday night.

Dolph sat down and said, "Some men kick about getting a warmed over meal. But not me. I appreciate even that." Believe he was sincere.

The other day Superintendent Willoughby looked out his window just in time to see two men wearing ties approaching. (You know salesmen always wear ties.)

Thinking they were salesmen, he rushed out, told me that he was very busy, and shut his door. It was left to me to talk to the salesmen.

But they weren't salesmen. As a matter of fact they were giving something away. Sure was too bad he was too busy to see them.

Guess Willoughby still can't figure out why they had on those ties.

Best Reason For Fire Prevention

Fire can't start if it hasn't got a place to start. That's the reasoning behind the poster and slogan for Fire Prevention Week, proclaimed by President Eisenhower for Oct. 9-15. Children under five are fire's main victims. Their best protection is constant observance of fire safety by everybody, says the National Fire Protection Association.

Check Title Before Purchasing Home

Thinking of buying a new home and settling down before school starts? How will you know whether you are receiving a good title to the property you purchase? The safest method is to have a title examination made—that is, a careful study of the abstract and other title evidence.

Here are a few of the common sources of trouble in real estate transactions to show why the minor expense of a title examination is justified.

Many persons sign "earnest money contracts" believing that

Few Fires Funny Firemen Find

The demon Fire knows no laws, and he has a diabolical sense of humor besides. Here are some examples of fiery whimsy that happened during the past year:

Dennis Lowe of Nottingham, England, was traveling on a bus when he saw a smartly dressed woman in flames in a store entrance. He quickly jumped off to rescue her, only to discover he was about to save a tailor's dummy.

For 12 years a seminary near Poughkeepsie, N. Y., kept its own fire engine in a barn, waiting for a possible fire. One night last winter the barn burned, and the fire engine inside was destroyed.

In Bridgeport, Conn., firemen doused a blaze at a fire hydrant. They found that fumes from an underground gas line had seeped up about the hydrant base and ignited.

When their water supplies gave out in Comstock, Minn., firemen finally stopped a grocery store fire from spreading to an adjacent tavern by breaking beer bottles and dashing the contents on the saloon wall.

Probably the most expensive pizza pie in history belongs to Mrs. John A. Jacifco, Elizabeth, N. J. Baked along with it were $500 in cash, four $25 savings bonds, and a bank book—all hidden in a strong box in, naturally, the pizza oven.

A fire wrecked the Philadelphia Fire Marshal's office last summer. His office in fire headquarters was ruined by an explosion of highly flammable paper and fire crackers that had been seized for safekeeping.

they are mere receipts with no serious implications. In reality they may specify, among other things, the kind of title you must accept.

A "warranty deed" from a responsible seller is comforting to have but it is a poor substitute for a careful title examination. A warranty deed does not guarantee a marketable title.

Moreover, serious title defects may not come to light until long after the seller on a warranty deed is dead, has moved to an unknown address, or is bankrupt. Even if he is available a good title is much better than a law suit.

The fact that the seller has possession of an "abstract" does not mean that he owns the property. An abstract is only a history of a title. Possession of an abstract no more indicates ownership of land than possession of the history of Texas means that you own the state.

Some purchasers of land feel safe because the title is being examined at the time of purchase by an attorney for the mortgage lenders. This seems logical but is a dangerous theory. Mortgage lenders are sometimes willing to accept less than good record title as security. This is sound business for them because, among other reasons, the chances are that the mortgage will be paid off so that no expense in perfecting the title would ever need be incurred. It is risky business for you when you are putting your life savings into the purchase.

These are a few of the reasons why a title examination is an important safeguard to you. When it is completed, the attorney gives you a written opinion stating his conclusions as to who owns the land, the defects in or charges against such ownership, and the requirements to be met if any, to make good record title.

Off-hand this may seem a simple operation. In fact it is not. It requires the interpretation of numerous deeds, mortgages, wills, court decrees and other instruments; the consideration of the and the application of statutes and events affecting the title occurred; and the application of statutes and court decisions to the various situations disclosed in the abstract.

A free pamphlet containing useful information on legal problems involved in buying a home has been prepared by Texas lawyers. To obtain a copy, print your name and address on a postcard and mail to State Bar of Texas, Colorado at Fifteenth, Austin 1, Texas.

(This column, based on Texas law, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who knows the facts.)

Most women are affectionate only when they want money. But I guess that is often enough.

There are other things in this world besides money. But the trouble is you can't them without it.

Bars are things you go into, come out singing a few of, and get tossed behind.

It may be straight bourbon put it sure makes you see crooked.

BOVINA BUTANE SERVICE PRESENTS KNOW YOUR NEIGHBORS

Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Bingham and children, Darla, 12 and "Bing," 7, who live about three-fourths of a mile west of the Hub are the neighbors for this week.

Mrs. Bingham, nee Gennie Aldridge, was born in Kingston, Mo., and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Aldridge reside in Spade. Gennie has two brothers, Eddie, stationed with the Navy at San Diego, Calif.; and G. D. who is a manager of an ice plant in San Diego. She also has a sister, Mrs. Olevia Locke, who lives in Littlefield and is employed by the telephone company in that city.

Gennie received her grade school education in Kingston and then the Aldridge family moved to Barstow, Calif., where Gennie was graduated from high school.

After graduation, Gennie moved to San Diego, Calif., where she was employed at an aircraft plant. It was while she was working at this job that she met O. D.

O. D. was born at Goree, close to Seymour, in Knox County and has one brother and four sisters who are still living. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Bingham, and two brothers are deceased.

Bingham attended school at Munday, near Goree, and served in the Navy during World War II. He was based on different Pacific Islands during his service as a parachute rigger. He was discharged in 1945.

The Bingham family were introduced by mutual friends and their courtship lasted about six months. They were married August 30, 1941 in Yuma, Ariz.

The Bingham family continued living in San Diego until 1946 when they moved to Spade. It was while they resided in California that their daughter, Darla, was born.

O. D. began his farming career in Spade but soon sold his land and moved to Lubbock where he was in the real estate and loan business. From there, the Bingham family moved to Dimmitt where O. D. once again took up farming. The Bingham family moved to Parmer County to their present location three years ago. O. D. not only farms, but he also works in the real estate business at the Hub, in partnership with A. L. Glasscock of Bovina.

The Bingham's son, "Bing," was born while the family resided in Lubbock.

The family attends the First Baptist Church in Friona where Gennie assists in teaching the beginners' class. Gennie is also a member of the Hub HD Club and the Order of Eastern Star in Friona.

O. D. is a member of the Parmer County Farm Bureau, Bovina Lions, Masons and Shriners (Kheva Temple in Amarillo).

O. D. farms 660 acres all together, 320 of which is his own land. The rest is divided up in one-half and one-quarter sections in the Hub Community. He has four wells, three on natural gas and one on butane, furnished by Bovina Butane Service.

Bingham's crops consist of feed, cotton and wheat. Other equipment on butane supplied by Bovina Butane Service includes two tractors, a pick-up and the home appliances.

When asked her opinion of Parmer County, Mrs. Bingham had nothing but praise. She said, "Both O. D. and I like Parmer County better than any place we have ever lived."

BEAUTY TIPS.....by June Norton

Owner and Operator
JUNE'S BEAUTY SHOP

To create the impression of longer and heavier lashes use eyebrow pencil across upper lid at roots of lash line. Avoid a too thick or too heavy line because of its artificial look. Dip the pencil sparingly in vasoline so it will move smoothly over the lash line and extend the line beyond the outer corner. Rub any excess pencil into the lash itself.

Eye shadow should in all cases be used very lightly because heavy applications make the eyes appear sunken.

Start the application from the center of the lid and blend out. Work with a light touch so there is no line of demarcation, just a faint tinge of color to heighten the color of the eyes. Particular attention should be paid to the eye makeup where glasses are worn because the glasses magnify each detail. The important point is, use makeup lightly and do not use excessive makeup anywhere to try to draw attention away from the glasses except the lips and do try to emphasize the lips. This holds especially true where the darker plastic frames are worn.

the things that go together to make a good umpire. I know but little about his past but that wasn't his initial visit to a ball park. On the other extreme, did you see the fourth quarter of the Bovina-Happy football game?

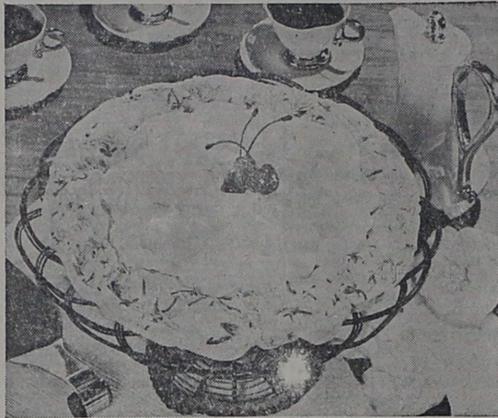

Texas Tech football fans (and Bovina is full of them, I've found out) really have something to be proud of after last week's defeat of Texas by Tech.

Who knows? Tech is liable to be the champion of the Southwest Conference in the minds of many West Texas people without even being a member of the conference.

I had always in the past been against Tech's becoming a member of the conference, but looking at the situation selfishly, Southwest Conference football would be a lot closer to home if Tech was a member.

Pineapple Teams With Coconut in Tropical Angel Pie

Make it in advance for leisurely serving as desired.

Make Mine Pie, especially when it's a light, fluffy Pineapple Angel Pie in a delicate meringue shell. While it looks glamorous, it is thrifty and not at all difficult to make. You'll like the delicate flavor and the eye appealing garnish of pineapple tidbits and cherries.

This is a most attractive dessert that can be made at any time of the year—ideal for a party luncheon or dinner.

PINEAPPLE ANGEL PIE

2 egg whites
1/2 teaspoon cream of tartar
Few grains of salt
1/2 cup sifted sugar
3 tablespoons shredded coconut

1 cup whipping cream
1 tablespoon Rum or 1 teaspoon vanilla
1 No. 2 can (1 1/2 cups) pineapple tidbits, drained

Whip egg whites until foamy with rotary beater or electric mixer. Add cream of tartar and salt and whip until eggs stand in stiff, but not dry, peaks. Add sugar, 2 tablespoons at a time, beating well after each addition. Spread the glossy mixture over bottom and up sides to rim, but not out on rim, of greased 9-inch pie pan. Make it in soft fluffy swirls. Sprinkle with coconut.

Bake in slow oven (275 degrees) about 45 minutes, until pale blonde color and dry. Cool, overnight if possible.

Whip cream until very thick and fluffy, flavor with Rum or vanilla extract. Spoon drained pineapple into meringue shell. Cover with whipped cream. Decorate with pineapple and cherries as shown. Refrigerate for easier cutting. Serves 8.
