ATTEND THE 3rd ANNUAL MERKEL VOLUNTEER FIRE DEPARTMENT'S PANCAKE SUPPER FRIDAY --6 p.m. at HERITAGE HALL

Looking back to 1909

Editor's Note: The following stories appeared in 1908 editions of The Merkel Mail.

Merkel now has two Missionary Baptist churches, duly organized and constituted according to the law and practices of the denomination, the organization of about forty into a new church called the Central Baptist Church of Merkel, having been formally perfected Wednesday evening by the adoption of the articles of faith and electing officers.

Rev. J.M. Joiner of Baird was present and assisted in the work of organizing. Officers were elected as follows: J.M. Williams, clerk; W.A. Scott, J.M. Williams and J.M. Rister, deacons. W.A. Scott was designated as Sunday School Superintendent and Miss Willie Wheeler organist.

Merkel experienced her first upheaval in 1898. The erection of the First National Bank building was the signal to get busy, and there has been something doing ever since. Not even the disastrous fire of a year later put a restraining hand upon the upward and onward stride. Few towns can boast of such a substantial growth.

Six Flags, football, coach

by Cloy A. Richards

There's not much time left before the kids are back in school. Maybe that's why you see a lot of parents smiling more and more these days.

If you are thinking about taking the kids to Six Flags this season, drop by The Merkel Mail first.

We have discount tickets available that will save $3 off of each admission or you can buy a two day ticket for the same price as a one day ticket.

The offer is good through November.

Richard Beaver and Greg Beasley, both Trent High graduates turned in good efforts at the recent Texas Six Man's Coaches Association All-Star game.

Beaver scored two touchdowns for the winning West squad and Beasley tossed a TD pass. The West won that game 68-32.

We had a very unique and interesting letter from Harlan Burneal Merritt of San Francisco this week about Pat Montandon, a former Merkel resident and now a prominent socialite and columnist for the San Francisco Examiner.

She was born here in 1929 and both her father and mother were ministers. She moved away from Merkel at an early age and grew up in Waurika, Okla.

Ms. Montandon was recently in the national news when she and her husband went through divorce proceedings last year and a district court ruled she was not in favor of a majority of the property she and her husband held because she had signed a prenuptial agreement.

Her column in the Examiner appears three times per week.

The Merkel Volunteer Fire Department will be for 1908-1090 was opened last Saturday when J.W. Teaff of the Salt Branch community brought to town the first bale of the fleecy staple. A close second was that of J.L. Alexander of Tye who hauled another into the city Monday. The first bale weighed 496 pounds and was bought by the Anchor Hardware Company at 11 cents. This netted the grower $54.56 and he received 65 per cent of the Commercial Club premium making a total of $144. The second weighed 537 pounds and with 25 percent of the premium money amounted to $88.45.

These premiums and price make the best money given by any town in the great big state of Texas, according to newspaper reports.

Our sister city to the west has added another valuable institution to her growing list of enterprises and one which will be an important factor in her future growth and the development of the rich agricultural land surrounding her on all sides.

The organization of the Farmers State Bank was completed this week and the institution will open for business upon receipt of the charter from Austin, probably the first of December.

holding their annual pancake supper at Heritage Hall Friday night starting at 6 p.m.

For some good laughs and some good grub, you should be there.

The following comments are from Merkel athletic director Eddie Lang.

"Due to some criticism I am getting from some town people I would like to express: Our school board has voted to begin baseball. I was not asked by any town people before it was brought up in the meeting and I have been approached by very few since the decision was approved, on my feelings toward the sport.

Some people have taken it upon themselves to inform the town I am against baseball. I would like to inform these people that I am NOT against baseball. Three out of the seven schools I have coached at had baseball in their athletic program. We won district two out of three years in both baseball and track using the same athletes. I was head track coach and assistant baseball coach all three years.

I have never been against baseball in Merkel as long as the board understands the cost in equipment, travel and officials. I want to have a good program in all areas in Merkel and to do this costs money and lot of positive feelings from the students and supporting fans.

I don't understand why some people want to keep things stirred up instead of getting behind our youngsters and impress on them the success they can have with their hard work. I hope if I can accomplish nothing else in Merkel, I can get the people that have controversial questions to come to the coaches, not the coffee shop.

My office door is always open, we will gladly talk about anything that might improve our program if you just let us hear from you."

Thank you
Coach Lang

Merkel police county deputies clear 26 rural, city burglaries Monday

The Merkel Police Department and the Taylor County Sheriff's Department cleared 26 city and rural burglaries with the arrest of three persons July 29th.

Charges against the three were being prepared Tuesday by the district attorney's office.

The burglaries, sprung out over a two year period include break ins at Trent, and Jim Ned Schols as well as many residential burglaries. Most of the items missing in those crimes were recovered according to Merkel Police Chief Ray Pack.

Also, the Merkel Police Department made five arrests July 28th and filed three counts of criminal mischief, one burglary and one theft charge against five local juveniles.

They are now in the custody-care of the Taylor County juvenile department.

WTU raising Taylor Electric's rates

Taylor Electric customers might be paying an additional three per cent for electrical service if the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission approves a increase from West Texas Utilities.

WTU filed that request Monday and the proposed rate will effect 17 WTU customers.

The increase will provide WTU with an additional $2.1 million in income and will go into effect Jan. 1, 1983, if approved by the energy commission.

The last increase WTU filed for similar to the new one went into effect in February of this year.

In a news release, WTU officials said the new rate was necessary to bring the Company's revenues from wholesale customers to a level equal to the cost of providing the service.

Cloyd, King, Craft at school

Three members of the Merkel Volunteer Fire Department attended the 53rd annual Fireman's Training school at Texas A&M University in College Station last week.

Donnie Cloyd, Merkel's assistant fire chief and Ray King and Jimmy Craft attended the week long school. More than 2,900 firemen from more than 20 states attended. It was A&M's largest class to date and the school is the largest of its kind in the United States.

Cloyd took classroom instructions in state inspections, state laws and fire prevention techniques while King and Craft attended sessions at the 60 acre fire fighting training facility in fire fighting techniques. Included in that instruction was six hours of actual fire fighting including apartments, warehouses, & home fires.

The city will receive points towards a lower key rate, the rate used to figure cost on homeowners fire insurance because of the attendance from Merkel.

4 Merkelites finish Paramedic training

Four members of Merkel's Emergency Medical Association have recently completed Paramedic Training at TSTI in Sweetwater.

Mitch Atkinson, John Davis, Vernon Wade and Cynthia Cassidy completed the training by taking their state test Thursday. The results from that testing won't be back for two weeks.

The group will start another EMT course in September and TSTI will start another Paramedic Course in September. Scheduled to take the course from Merkel are Donnie Cloyd, Ann Wade and Connie Harris.

For more information on either course, contact Vernon Wade or TSTI.

Farmers warned of 'knock-out' claims

Farmers being solicited by telephone to buy Knock-Out pesticide are warned to be aware that the product may be grossly misrepresented, Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown said today.

"We have received several calls from scattered locations in the state from farmers who have purchased the pesticide after telephone solicitations and have found that it does not live up to the sales pitch," Brown said.

The telephone salesman have stated that it is as good as or superior to another well-known, commonly used herbicide (Roundup). The most recent telephone solicitation have been from Alpine Farm Products in Long Island, New York.

Knock-Out is registered for sale with the Texas Department of Agriculture with a label specifying a 1.8 percent active ingredient. "There is nothing illegal about selling this product, but its performance is being misrepresented. The pesticide being compared contains 41 percent active ingredient."

Brown urged farmers before ordering such pesticides from out-of-state firms to compare the active ingredient percentage on products formulated for the same purpose. "There is still no assurance that the contents meet label specifications on purchases resulting from such telephone solicitations."

They should also check the local prices. "The cost of the product is often the same or more than they would pay locally."

Pesticides sold by such out-of-state dealers could lack the proper precautions for use on the lael. There is no assurance that the pesticides are not contaminated or that they have not been diluted.

Brown advised farmers to buy from dealers they know, "ones that they can complain to if the product does not work as it should."

If farmers have purchased pesticides from this company and still have the containers, they are requested to notify the Texas Department of Agriculture.

Texas Farmers Union-national group blasts 1983 wheat program

Texas Farmers Union President Mike Moeller joined with the National Farmers Union in support of legislation introduced by Congressman Tom Foley (D.Wash.) as the only feasible plan currently before Congress to aid the depressed farm economy and provide relief for hard pressed grain farmers. "The only way we will be able to reduce grain inventories and increase prices is to provide our farmers with a realistic incentive rather than the empty shell offered by the Reagan Administration," Moeller said.

The TFU was critical of the proposed 1983 wheat program announced by Agriculture Secretary John Block calling for voluntary set-asides in wheat. "For the fourth year in a row, producers are being told they will lose money and the Administration provided no feasible proposal to change that situation," Moeller noted. Latest USDA estimates show the 1982 wheat crop of 2.71 billion bushels will be nearly the same as 1981, 2.79 billion bushels, demonstrating the failure of a voluntary set-aside.

Under the Foley plan, the bill will combine an acreage set-aside with a paid diversion. Also, price support loan rates will be increased slightly for both wheat and feed grains in 1983.

Wheat provisions call for a 25 percent set-aside with a 10 percent paid diversion. The diversion payment would be $3.50 per bushel on lost production, half of which would be paid at the time the producer signed up for the program. The wheat loan rate would be increased from $3.55 to $3.80 per bushel.

For corn and other feed grains, a 20 percent acreage reduction program, including a 10 percent paid diversion, would be established in the event 1982 corn production exceeds 7.6 billion bushels. The corn loan rate would be increased to $2.71 per bushel.

The TFU, and the NFU are supporting the Foley plan as the best alternative to the previously endorsed Farm Crisis Bill which failed in the House Agriculture Committee. "The longer we delay on taking action on providing a decent price for producers while reducing the surplus, the more costly it will be for both farmers and the government," Moeller stated. "Though not as comprehensive as the Farm Crisis Bill, we hope the Congress and the Reagan Administration will get behind Congressman Foley's bill which will help raise commodity prices, reduce inventories and lessen the cost to the government," the TFU President concluded.

Beware of 'easy money' ads

As the economy of tight money, high unemployment and other financial pressures cause many people to seek alternative incomes—or even "instant wealth," some will fall prey to con artists, warns Bonnie Piernot, a family resource management specialist.

"In numerous cases, the persons offering 'get rich-quick' schemes, are, in fact, con artists operating for personal gain rather than to assist others," she says.

Piernot is on the home economics staff of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

How do you spot a fraudulent scheme—and how can you be sure?

"Being informed" is the most important protection against gyps and frauds, Piernot stresses.

"Don't confuse 'being informed' with being educated," she cautions. "Even a well-educated person can be deceived by the con artist."

'DE-CODE' ADS

An informed person is one who can read and interpret or "de-code" advertisements and promotional literature. Reading the copy, asking questions and reading between the lines are all important here.

For example, if something is "free," there should be no cost at all to the consumer—postage, handling fee should not cost the consumer anything, either.

CHECK UP ON AD CLAIMS

Advertisements should prove—or justify—claims of instant wealth, success, so-called "big customer demand" for the product and product value. Or you should be able to check out the claims yourself locally — by contacting local retailers, the Better Business Bureau or the relationship and the appointment of a conservator with authority to consent to the child's adoption.

Texas Employment Commission.

In addition, remember that if a product or service is worthwhile and valuable, it still will be available after you have conducted an investigation of the product and the seller—so don't rush into the scheme before you have taken those precautions, Piernot says.

ASK QUESTIONS

Ask questions. This is important when considering many of the "get-rich-quick" schemes.

Everyone should ask about the following points:

- 1) any restrictions of a "satisfaction guaranteed or your money back" procedure,
- 2) service provisions for a faulty product in cases of starting your own business to sell another company's product.

Hammonds celebrate 50th anniversary here

John W. and Ruby Sessions Hammond celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary Sunday, August 1, 1982 hosted by their children and grandchildren in the fellowship hall of the First United Methodist Church of Merkel, Texas.

The Hammonds were married July 29, 1932 in Wells, Texas at the home of her parents, Mr. & Mrs. Rube Sessions. They lived the first year in El Paso, Texas. In 1933, they moved to Arp, Texas where Mr. Hammond became the Sales Manager for Sessions Lumber Company. In 1941, the Hammonds purchased the Ben Franklin Store of Merkel, Texas on Edwards Street from Doyle Nutt. He served in the United States Army from 1943 to 1945.

The Hammonds have four sons, Johnny Wayne, Sessions M., David and Robert. Johnny Wayne lives in Merkel and works with his father and brother at the Ben Franklin Store.

All three sons are attending ACU in Abilene, Texas. Sessions is Sales Manager for the Faulks Pump-Jack Company of Hawley. Betty Raye is employed in the Accounts Payable Dep. of ACU.

David is married to the former Barbara Hendrick. They have three children Dava Lynne, Jason and Lori. David is a Radiation Physicist for Baylor Medical Center in Dallas. Barbara is a substitute teacher for Richardson ISD. They live in Richardson, Texas.

Bob is married to the former Mychele Reed of Floydada, Texas. They have two daughters, Dana and Shera. Bob is manager of the Ben Franklin Store in Merkel. Mychele owns & operates the Hammond Ins. Agency of Merkel, Texas.

The Hammonds were honored with a garden dinner party on Saturday July 31st at the home of Sessions Hammond at Hawley, Texas. Those attending were the immediate family, and also Mr. & Mrs. Woodrow Hammond of El Paso, Texas, Mr. & Mrs. David Murray & Jessica, Garland, Texas, Mr. Frank Hammond, San Diego, Ca., Miss Roanna Hammond of Anthony, New Mexico, Mrs. Waldo Cavendar, El Paso, Texas, Mr. & Mrs. L.M. Anderson, Pollock, Texas, Mr. & Mrs. Aubry Gresham, Pollock, Texas, Mrs. Albert Arnold, Wells, Texas, Mrs. Billy Arnold, Tyler, Texas, Mrs. Jerry White, Columbus, Texas and Mr. & Mrs. Dan Hammond of El Paso, Texas.

In reminiscing, the Honorees kept going through the cards and letters from friends and relatives they had not heard from in so many years, some friends they had before they were married! Since this was a surprise event (with only a few days notice) they marvel with thanks and gratitude to their children.

Brooks reunion held here

The Brooks reunion was held July 24-25 at the Senior Citizens building here. Saturday afternoon was spent visiting and playing 42. The evening meal was enjoyed by about 30 relatives.

Sunday, the attendance increased to about 50. Everyone visited, took pictures and looked at different photo albums. The highlight of the reunion was the beautiful oil painting of the Brooks Family tree, painted by Laverne Brooks.

It will be reproduced so each person can have a copy.

Relatives attended from Waco, McLean, Spearman, Dallas, Abilene, Trent and Merkel. Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Brooks of Abilene was this year's hosts.

Next year, everyone will travel to McLean to be with the Earl Brooks family.

A cemetery donation was made by the Brooks' children in memory of loved ones.

Blended cotton sales increasing

Score one for David. But Goliath is not out by a long shot.

In the Biblical story, David delivered the knockout punch to Goliath, a formidable foe.

In cotton country, David is the cotton producer and Goliath, the synthetic fiber industry, a much larger, better financed competitor who wants cotton's business.

However, the cotton producer is finally making gains against the synthetic industry, helped by his Cotton Incorporated Research and Promotion program.

It's coming at a time though when some producers who fund America's largest self help program are struggling to survive financially.

"We recognize that the primary concern to cotton producers is restoring profitability," said Edwin Gerik of Whitney, Texas. "I know because I am a producer myself," he added. He is a member of the Cotton Board which administers the Cotton Incorporated Research and Promotion Program.

"But the fact is that producers need to know they are getting a return on investment through larger markets for cotton," he added. "That's why I personally feel that support of this program is essential to the long-term profitability of cotton."

Cotton's making gains in the form of cotton-rich blends that are increasingly appearing on retail shelves at the expense of mostly synthetic apparel items.

For example, cotton used at retail since the mid-1970s has had a 56 per cent gain overall by weight in women's apparel, and a 43 per cent gain for cotton in men's dress shirts, a doubling of cotton's share in men's slacks and a 35 per cent increase for cotton in men's sports shirts.

Cotton Incorporated has helped change consumer attitudes about cotton by researching, developing and promoting higher cotton blends which have helped increase consumer purchases and improving markets for cotton.
