7th annual meeting

Students from Merkel Middle and Merkel High schools took top honors at the district essay competition of the Middle Clear Fork Soil and Water Conservation Essay Contest. Merkel opened against other schools that are included in the Conservation District. Results of the essay contest are as follows: 7th Grade 1st Place Walter Best, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alton Best; 8th Grade 1st Place April Duncan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Duncan; 9th

Grade 1st Place Billy Riley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Riley; 10th Grade 1st Place Tim Brandon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Brandon; 11th Grade 1st place Parker Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Wilson; and 12th Grade 1st Place Jay Gibson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Gibson. The over-all sweepstakes winner was April Duncan. April's essay will be entered at the regional competition in San Angelo later this month. All the winners, their parents, teachers, principals and the superintendent are invited to attend the Middle Clear Fork Soil and Water Conservation District Banquet sponsored by Taylor Electric Cooperative Thursday at the McGlothlin Center at Abilene Christian at 7 p.m. The students will receive their awards and be honored. Congratulations are in order to these students who accepted and excelled at challenges above their normal school requirements.

Merkel students sweep essay contest; Duncan named winner

The seventh annual meeting of the SUN Water Supply Corporation will be Feb. 21 at Taylor Electric. The meeting is open to the membership of the corporation and special guests.

Terms of three directors; Jack Boone, Ray Mashburn and Truett Jeffrey expired Dec. 31. Three directors will be named during the business session of the meeting. In keeping with the by-laws of the organization, only one vote may be cast by each member. However, if an executive employee or representative of a business which holds a membership in the corporation is present and that person also has a personal membership, he may cast two votes. If a member is unable to attend or if a membership is held by a property owner, he may send written authorization for a renter, leasee, or another member to cast a vote in his behalf.

The door prizes will be awarded to persons whose names are drawn. The prize will be $20 off on the March water bill. Improvements to the system are to be identified by Ken Martin, engineer with Jacobs and Martin Engineering firm. Leslie Hammond and Roger Beard with Beard Certified Public Accounting Firm will review the finances of the water system. A Farmers Home Administration representative will be present to answer any questions concerning the role of this agency in the rural water picture.

SUN Water Supply directors and employee welcome this opportunity to present to the membership some information concerning the magnitude of the operation of the system.

Look forward to an evening of entertainment, friendship and insight. We are excited about the "country fiddling" to be furnished by Matthew Cravens. The meeting will end with time to visit and refreshments.

A brief business session of the board will follow the general meeting with the election of the 1984 officers and any other business to be considered.

Heartfelt thanks, Journal of Jim

by Cloy A. Richards

The local effort for the American Heart Association collected $1,200 this year and they wanted to thank those that contributed.

Local Chamber of Commerce co-managers Chris Young and Melanie Richards seemed to have learned a thing or two at a recent chamber workshop they attended in Big Spring. They also recently sent out a Chamber newsletter and are planning a banquet in the near future.

The Merkel Lions Club hopes you will not eat any pancakes between now and March 5th so you can bring a hearty appetite to Heritage Hall for the pancake supper.

Most of you remember Tommy Jones. He has worked at most of the positions available at The Mail in the past. He has started his own journalistic enterprise, The Jim Ned Journal. Their first issue was to hit the streets this week and we wish him all the best.

The Badger Booster Club could use your help. The field the high school uses for its baseball games was damaged, mostly the lights, by the storm last September and they are trying to come up with some money for repairs. If you'd like to help, contact any Booster Club member, or Peggy Gibson at the school business office.

The Middle School and Beginning Bands were forced to cancel their Christmas concerts due to bad weather so they will be presenting a "Mid-Winter" Concert Feb. 21 at 7 p.m. in the school auditorium. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Council hears police ask for help in handling local dog problems

The Merkel City Council held a routine meeting Monday night at the Merkel Emergency Medical Service building, with most of the discussion during the meeting taken up by the local dog ordinance and enforcement.

During the police report, Merkel Police Chief Ray Pack asked council for some help with enforcing the dog ordinance. He said, his opinion was "that police officers shouldn't have to go running down alleys chasing dogs, but we do." Pack asked for a pick up to be used for dog calls, or a dog catcher.

Pack said his department handled over 200 dog calls last year and said a couple of recent cases have included an officer feeling threatened enough by a dog to shoot the animals.

Council expressed total support for the officers to enforce the dog ordinance to the limit. The ordinance says that a dog, not in a fence or on a leash, within the city limits of Merkel is a stray and can be taken to the veterinarian's office.

An agreement was made to construct cages that can be lifted easily in and out of the current city pick-ups and to use those vehicles on dog calls.

Council tabled accepting a bid from Riggan Construction on the demolition of eight homes and clearing the lot they sit on. The Riggan bid was the only bid received and city manager J. A. Sadler said he wanted to check with officials from Hamlin and Colorado City to see if the bid is in line for similar work paid for under Housing and Urban Development Block Grant work.

Sadler said he was not questioning the bid but added "it's a government program and I'll have to be able to tell them (the government) that this is a fair price, so I want to check it out."

Council members also formally called the April 7 election.

Horton will be promoted to Eagle Scout ementary School.

His paternal grandfather, Clarence Horton, and his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George West, both live here.

Religious training is the responsibility of the home

by Russell McAnally

It is rather common for a person to have a strong conviction about some small thing and to have a weak conviction about some important matter. Misguided convictions can produce radical movements and destructive results. Strong convictions are not always good. I once knew a man who had a strong conviction that he could raise his children better out of the church than could his neighbors in the church.

I was driving the school bus in the area that picked up his children. I will have to say this - his children were the best behaved children on the bus. In that same year I conducted the funeral service for that father with the strong convictions after he took his own life. People with strong convictions can at the same time be absolutely right.

There are some questions concerning the matter of Prayer in the public schools from people with strong convictions on both sides. Our president says that Prayer ought to be restored to the public schools. Personally, I have just as strong conviction that we are better off like it is. Here are some reasons for this conviction.

In the beginning of this issue there were schools - especially in the north, with written prayers that were read before the class or general assembly. The ruling against Prayers in the public schools was against the forced prayers, or the forced listening to such prayers. The whole idea of banned prayer in school is very misleading and harmful. Prayer has not been BANNED in any SCHOOL in the United States. There was no intention to ban prayers in the public school, and besides that - it is impossible to do so. Any student or teacher can pray in school any time they choose. This truth should be taught to all the children by all the parents.

Many parents protesting the ban on prayer in schools never have prayer in the home. The tragedy is - prayer has been banned in too many homes by the hurry of present day living and the indifference of so many parents. What we need more than anything else is the RESTORATION of prayer and devotions within the home. People who pray at home will find a time and a way to pray wherever they are, and no person or power can keep them from this privilege. The silent prayer of a sincere heart is much better than the kind that call attention to self and makes a show of religion.

Since we have freedom of religion in America - that means all religions have equal time and chance to present their own brand of prayers. Devil worship is a form of religion and could claim their equal time and place in school if prayers were restored in school. Do we want that. This is a new day in which we live. Have prayer with your child before they leave for school, and teach them that religious training is a responsibility of the HOME.

1984 cotton crop should be similar to the 83 crop

The 1984 cotton crop could be headed for the "same song, second verse" scenario - over-production followed by lower prices.

"Because the 1983 PIK program reduced supplies and thus caused some strengthening in prices, many farmers will be inclined to plant more cotton in 1984," believes Dr. Carl Anderson, economist with the Texas Agriculture Extension Service, Texas A & M University System. "That will bring prices down again by harvest time."

Anderson views the government's '84 cotton program as not sufficiently attractive to cotton producers to keep them from planting substantially more acres than in 1983. Such increased production in the U.S., coupled with an expected increase in foreign production, would cause the world crop to exceed consumption levels. This would also put pressure on the export market for U. S. cotton.

"Because the '84 cotton program allows for a large deficiency payment - the maximum is 26 cents a pound for eligible producers, many large scale operators will probably reach the $50,000 payment limitation," points out Anderson. "This drastically reduces the program's effectiveness to cut production."

With a base cotton acreage around 15.5 million with no paid diversion or other incentives to producers, Anderson speculates that planted acres will reach 12 to 13 million. This could mean a 13 to 14 million bale crop. The economist pegs domestic use and exports at 11.5 to 12 million bales, so an average production year in 1984 could add 1 to 2 million bales to an already adequate carryover from the '83 crop.

"All this points to a weak cotton market in the second half of 1984," says Anderson. "So growers may want to take a hard look at pricing part of their expected crop fairly early in the year."

Perkins- Parks wed

Veima Ann Perkins and Ricky Dixon Parks exchanged vows in a double ring ceremony Saturday, Feb. 11 at 6 p.m. at the Merkel Church of Christ with Larry Bristol of Big Spring officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Dorothy Perkins of Merkel and the late Borden E. (Perk) Perkins. Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Ray Parks of Hico.

Marla Sutton of Granbury sang selected music and guests were being seated.

The bride was given in marriage by her grandfather, Claude Brown of Hawley. For something old, she wore her father's senior ring. The something new was the veil, made by the bride, for something borrowed and a penny given her for good luck and something blue and something white.

Donna Tate of Dublin was the maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Tjuna Parks of Hico, sister of the groom, and Leanna West of Trent.

Tracy Bunch of Granbury served as best man. John E. Perkins, brother of the bride, and Marvin Walters Jr. of Hico, served as groomsmen.

The ushers were Eddie Wheeler of Albany, cousin of the bride, Mike Mitchell of Bryson and Paul Brown of Stephenville.

Following a wedding trip to Brownwood, the couple will live in Hico.

BUILDING YOUR RETIREMENT IS AS SIMPLE AS A.B.C.

OPEN A TAX DEFERRED MONEY-MAKING INDIVIDUAL RETIREMENT ACCOUNT AT HOME STATE BANK.

Retirement used to be a taxing situation. But not any longer. Because now, you can open an Individual Retirement Account (IRA) at Home State Bank the simplest-to-understand retirement account that will save you money today so that you can enjoy a better tomorrow. Just add up the benefits for yourself:

All contributions are tax-deferred and 100 percent deductible. You pay no taxes on the money you invest in your IRA or on the interest it earns until you begin taking distribution as early as age 59 and a half. Save as little or as much as you want each month. Up to $2,000 a year if you are single and employed. Up to $2,250 a year for a couple where one spouse is employed and the other is not. And up to $4,000 a year for a working couple. Save as little as $10 a month. Even skip a whole year's contribution if you prefer. Pay much less tax on your retirement income. By retirement age, you'll probably be in a lower tax bracket, so the taxes you pay on your IRA retirement income could be much less than you pay now. Almost everybody can qualify. If you are under age 70 and a half and are earning an income, you can qualify for a Home State IRA, even if you are already participating in another retirement program. Best of all, the money you put into your IRA earns a guaranteed high compound interest rate. Save $2,000 a year for 20 years and your IRA investment could amount to well over $100,000!

Treat poison victims quickly

by Vernon Wade
President, Merkel EMS Paramedic-EMT

Poison

§ Poisoning is mostly a problem associated with children. Of the 1 million poisonings reported in the U. S. each year, 75 per cent of them are reported in small children under five years old. Most of these poisonings are from household products.

There are more than 350,000 toxic substances which you can be exposed to. Therefore, we will not attempt to tell you what to do for each one.

If you or your family are exposed to any substance which you are not sure about, contact your doctor or call your ambulance immediately. Don't wait to see what it will do. Time can be a major factor in the treatment of poison.

Even if there are no warnings on the bottle and the patient or victim acts different in any way, make the call. In your home, if the label says for external use only, the contents should not be swallowed, inhaled, and possibly not even put on tender skin of a little child. Don't pour the contents from one container into another. If it should become necessary to treat for poison, the wrong treatment could be given because of the different label.

You should suspect poisoning in anyone who has a sudden onset of unexplained illness, especially if stomach pain, nausea, vomiting, headache or strange acting behaviour.

While you are waiting for the ambulance, read the label of the container if you are sure where the poison came from. It could have instructions on how to begin treatment. If you are unsure about what was taken, a few guidelines could help you save a life.

1. Vomiting is not always best for the patient. If the poison caused redness, itching, burning or numbness when it came in contact with the skin, mouth or hands, don't make the victim vomit.

If the substance smells like oil, gasoline, furniture polish or lighter fluid, don't make the victim vomit.

If the patient is sleepy, unconscious or in a stupor, don't make the victim vomit.

Induced vomiting is best done by professional people with proper equipment. Remember to go by the above guidelines if vomiting is to be induced.

If the victim should vomit on their own, don't attempt to stop them. Try to keep their own head down or turned to the side. This will help keep the vomit out of their air way and they can breathe.

In any case in which you can suspect that someone has taken something they should not have taken, contact your doctor or call us immediately. Sometimes it takes several minutes to hours for the effects to take place. If you are unsure, call us.

If the poison is on the surface of the skin or on the clothing, remove clothing quickly and flush the skin with a large amount of water. A shower would be ideal or a hose if the victim is outside. Continue with water for at least 20 to 30 minutes.

If the poison comes in contact with the eyes, flush with water for 20 to 30 minutes. You will probably need to hold the eye lids open. Don't use a stream of water with a lot of water pressure. Let the water trickle in to the eye. Water from a glass or picture will work real well.

Remember, if you use water to flush skin or eyes, have a large amount and continue for 20 to 30 minutes.

In any case where you think someone could have come in contact with poison or you think a person is acting strange, contact your ambulance service or call your doctor. It is better to be sure rather than sorry.

There are poison control centers that your doctor or Emergency Room can contact for the treatment of poison. Whatever information you may have about the poison, you tell the doctor immediately so the proper treatment can begin.

Next week: Alcoholism The Need for medical personnel to know for your safety.
