FLOOD WATERS ARE RECEDING TODAY

Flood waters throughout the stricken districts of North Carolina and South Carolina and Tennessee were receding today and latest reports increased the death list to 19. The property loss, however, continues to grow and when towns and counties now cut off from communication are heard from the first estimates of from $10,000,000 to $15,000,000 damage probably will be increased.

Railroads apparently have suffered far more than was at first realized. Reports from Western North Carolina are that some lines there will have to be almost entirely rebuilt, while bridges were carried away at many points in all four states and serious washouts and landslides occurred along the roads.

Rescue Passengers.
Measures for the relief of passengers on trains marooned near Asheville were taken today, automobiles being employed to carry the passengers to the nearest cities where they can be properly fed and housed. Fifty automobiles are being used to move the 250 passengers from the Florida Special of the Southern railway to Asheville.

Cotton mills in North Carolina and South Carolina have been heavy sufferers in the floods and thousands of the workers have been thrown out of employment. In many instances mills will have to be entirely rebuilt and it will be months before these are put into operation.

Reports of damage along the Catawba river in North Carolina continue to come in and several cities along that stream, including Hickory and Lenoir, still are cut off from communication. Great damage has been done along the waterway and the same is true along the Yadkin.

In Central South Carolina the flood

JAIL DELIVERY AT LUFKIN.

Lufkin News.

Two negro boys made their escape from the Angelina County jail yesterday afternoon near the hour of 4 o'clock. They had been arrested by Officer W. F. Seale, one of them Willie Parker, being charged with carrying a pistol; the other negro, Willie Garrett, being in jail on a charge of "flinging" a bottle of soda water at his wife, or with simple assault, to be exact. They succeeded in passing through a small window at the top of the jail and are still at large.

OIL PRODUCTION IN TEXAS GOES UP 65 PER CENT

WASHINGTON, July 18.—Discovery of new wells last year increased the production of crude oil in the Gulf field 57 per cent over 1914, the geological survey announced today. A total of 20,277,103 barrels was marketed, a gain of 7,459,000 barrels.

The Texas field increased 65 per cent and that of the Louisiana division 24 per cent. About 900 wells were drilled in the coastal pools during the year.

dicted and today all fear of further waters did not reach the crest pre-damage has passed. That and the Piedmont section of the state suffered heavily, however, in damage to mills, railroads and crops.

Clear Away Debris.
Asheville was getting today to something like normal with gangs of workmen busy rebuilding plants and clearing debris. There was limited electric power and health authorities were taking stringent measures to prevent any disease epidemic. Latest reports there made it certain that Lake Toxaway dam has held against the flood waters.

In Tennessee the flood waters were about stationary and were expected to begin falling later in the day. Great damage was done to crops, railroads, mills and warehouses throughout the flooded area in the eastern part of the state. Many towns and villages there were yet to report.

Conditions in Southwest Virginia were rapidly approaching normal today, and work of repairing railway bridges and tracks was proceeding rapidly. Considerable damage to industrial plants and crops in that section was reported in latest dispatches.

GREAT STORM RAGING IN SOUTHERN STATES

Fifteen persons, at least ten missing, and property damage estimated at a round $15,000,000, is the known toll of the floods which have raged in five Southern states for the past 48 hours.

Although the waters are receding in nearly all districts, railroad and telegraphic communication still are demoralized and reports from towns and villages now isolated may increase both the number of deaths and the property loss.

North Carolina, South Carolina, Virginia, Tennessee and West Virginia all suffered heavy damage from the overflowing streams, swollen by torrential rains, which followed last week's hurricane as it swept inland from the coast, but the heaviest loss was in North Carolina, where 14 of the 15 deaths are reported and where two-thirds of the material damage was done.

Eugene Mast of Parsons, Kansas, is in the city visiting with his parents Mr. and Mrs. T. Mast, and other relatives and friends.

U. S. TO RESTRICT GUARD MOVEMENT

WASHINGTON, July 17.—Additional National Guard organizations will be dispatched to the Mexican border only after they have been organized and equipped thoroughly. Department commanders were delaying transportation of incomplete units today on instructions from the war department.

About 25,000 men now in mobilization camps are affected by the new orders, which revoke a ruling that waived certain requirements made when the Mexican situation appeared acute. Some 100,000 Guardsmen are on the border now. These, with 50,000 regulars and 5000 reserves, comprise a force sufficient, officials believe, to make unnecessary the sending of more inadequately equipped state troops.

FERGUSON WIRES WILSON.

AUSTIN, Texas, July 17.—Governor Pames E. Ferguson has wired President Wilson requesting him to release on furlough members of the Texas militia who are now doing service on the Mexican border who have others dependent upon them.

It is expected that the president will accede to this request.

CAVALRY HORSES SENT TO EL PASO

EL PASO, Texas, July 17.—Approximately 1000 horses purchased in several Middle Western states have been concentrated here within the last few days for the purpose of providing mounts and draft animals for the National Guard cavalry and artillery stationed here. The first of the animals were issued today to the troops of the First Massachusetts Cavalry, and it was announced the remainder will be distributed before the end of the week.

Contracts have been let, it was announced today, for the construction of 18 new pavilions at the army base hospitals at Fort Bliss.

LIGHTNING KILLS LITTLE GIRL.

GILMER, Texas, July 17.—The seven-year-old daughter of Charles Orr was killed by lightning late yesterday and Mrs. Orr was rendered unconscious by the same bolt. She will suffer no permanent ill effects, it was said.

BASEBALL PLAYER KILLED.

Fred Beakes, who will be remembered as having played short-stop with the Jacksonville team here some days ago, was killed at Eagle Lake Monday night. The following dispatch from Eagle Lake to the state papers gives a full report of the tragedy:

EAGLE LAKE, Texas, July 18.—Fred Beakes, 23 years of age, was shot to death on the sidewalk here directly in front of the Eagle Lake State Bank at 9 o'clock last night, and James Barnett was arrested. Three shots were fired in rapid succession. One bullet entered the right side and lodged under the skin on the opposite side of the body. The third struck the front of the bank building. Beakes lived only about 15 minutes after being shot.

Beakes was born and raised here and was well known throughout this section in baseball circles. He had returned to this city Sunday from Jacksonville where he had been playing on the team at that place. He leaves three sisters and three brothers. The funeral will be held Wednesday afternoon.

TWO CHILDREN WERE KIDNAPED BY NEGRO

LONGVIEW, Texas, July 17.—Intense excitement was created here this morning when a report was received from a farm 10 miles south of here that a negro had attacked little Dimple Wilson, daughter of S. L. Wilson, of this place, and Willis Gunn, little son of F. E. Gunn, an engineer on the Texas and Pacific Railway Company residing here, and had carried the little boy off with him. Both children are about 13 years of age. The little girl fainted when the negro appeared. A large posse left here for the scene in automobiles and confidently expect the boy, though fears are freely expressed of harm to the boy while in the possession of the negro. Dimple Williams is the little girl who was bound and gagged at her home here last week by a negro, who made his escape. At the time the little pair were attacked by the negro they were in an orchard gathering peaches and no one else was near. The negro did not attempt to harm the little girl, who fainted at the sight of him, and thinks he was the same negro who attacked her last week.

Don't kick about the hot weather; it has been sent for the extermination of the boll weevils.

Lest you forget, we say it again: The candidate who hopes to win on the demerits of his opponent is no better than the estimate upon which he predicates his claim. Beware of him.

People of the city who have visited different sections of the state lately say that East Texas and particularly Nacogdoches county, has the best crops they have found. The good Lord is smiling upon us.

Center, the county capital of Shelby county, is spending fifteen thousand dollars on street improvement which will contribute much to the convenience and civic attractiveness of that good old town.

A mighty good idea to keep in mind, and one that most people are already posted in, is that the candidate who lambasts his opponent is doing so because he wants the office himself. In the absence of this selfish desire he would not be so much concerned in the country's welfare.

The showers of the past few days, visiting the different sections, is making the corn "hump" on the home stretch, while the hot sun between showers is killing out the boll weevils, all combining with a promising smile of prosperity for good old Nacogdoches county this year.

Nacogdoches county is certainly having a "whirlwind" of pienes these days, coming in consecutive order with one in some community every day. And through this opportunity some of the candidates are learning the art of public speaking, addressing the dear people with a "feast of reason and flow of soul."

We make the reference as modestly as possible that The Sentinel is endeavoring to be helpful in every matter of community interest, and invite comparison with any other paper in East Texas as to the service rendered. If this is what you want in a paper, it is entitled to the share of your business in the measure in which it gives service. The law of the golden rule, and the law of reciprocity must be lived up to if we enjoy mutual profit in any undertaking.

Were airships sailing over Beaumont last night? Many Beaumont citizens got star-gazing about 9:00 o'clock are positive of the fact. No less than a dozen calls from different parts of the city came to the office of the Enterprise last night asking for information regarding what was termed an "airship exhibition." According to a man living in the south end of the city, three "ships" were sighted. They were traveling in a southwesterly direction and were nearly a mile high. All he could make out were the lights, and he watched these, he said, until they disappeared.—Beaumont Enterprise.

To appoint a commission for the settlement of the trouble in Mexico just at this time smacks too much of a compromise and a peace-at-any-price arbitration. Mexican banditry has been a nuisance to the American border for several years; the Mexican government has been given every opportunity to suppress it, including help, and it now seems that we must treat with the mad republic on its own terms because we don't like it. The administration is in position to know what to do in the premises, and we have full confidence in the integrity and patriotism of the gentlemen into whose hands we are committed, but the condition is nevertheless embarrassing to the layman who would volunteer his services to his country for much less offense.

A pall of sorrow hangs heavy as the blackness of a stormy night over New York City since the awful reaper, Death, has his scythe set for mowing down little babies. The people of that greatest city in the world have experienced the sorrowful realization of the terrible tragedy which came to Egypt when the first born in every household was stilled in death. When baby voices are hushed; when little waxen hands are folded on baby breasts, the world grows dark, the bird's song falls on grief-deafened ears, and nature has no beauty, no soothing balm for those who have surrendered a little baby. Fearless and skillful physicians are bravely battling with the terrible disease, infantile paralysis, which is working such havoc with babies of New York City, and have conquered to some extent the fatalities. Hamilton Record.

THE HOME RUN.

This week will be the "home run," as best expressed in baseball parlance, for many of the candidates. The two leaders in some few of the races will go to the second primary two weeks hence, but with the majority of them this week will settle the matter.

So far the campaign has been unusually free from all mud-slinging and unfair methods in this county. The majority of the candidates have made the race in a clean, dignified way, relying upon their own merits and the good graces of the voters to win, and this condition is very complimentary to the gentlemen who are making the races for the different places, as well as the people who usually take considerable interest in political matters. Let us hope that this condition will obtain throughout the remainder of the campaign.

Men who are content with a square deal, and want nothing to which they are not entitled, make good officers. And men elected under the same conditions can be depended upon for the discharge of every obligation. It is a happy condition, born of the growing intelligence and patriotism of the county, and if any vary from the straight and narrow path during the remainder of the campaign he will die of his own hand.

Clean politics are followed with clean government. Both must be born and nurtured of clean people, and we rejoice that good old Nacogdoches county is on the way, better proof of which will be exhibited when the votes are counted.

HOMELESS TEXAS TEACHERS.

Texas has provided a most liberal educational system. The founders of our state realized the need of book learning if the republic is to achieve the success they marked out for it. They laid a splendid foundation for the public schools of today.

Governor Ferguson, with the aid of a legislature which was broad enough to see the wisdom of his plan, has placed at the disposal of the rural schools a fund which will, wisely administered, more than double their efficiency.

The law compelling the attendance of children in the schools of the state for a reasonable time every year is a step toward the perfect system.

Texas is coming along very nicely in the matter of educating her boys and girls for the duties of citizenship and of life.

There is, however, a pressing need in this state for more permanency in the employment of teachers.

We all realize that a bookkeeper can not do his best in the first year of his employment. No merchant expects a clerk to excel until he has been with the firm at least a few months. No banker would hire a new cashier and expect him to attain his greatest value as an asset to the business immediately. It takes time in any position for a man to do his best work.

This is as true in educational affairs as it is in business. No teacher, be he ever so competent, can do as efficient work in the first year of his labor for a community as he will be capable of doing in the subsequent years. He must learn his school. He must know the boys and girls who are his pupils. An acquaintance with parents and with their environment is necessary. These things are not to be gained in a day.

Texas is losing 50 percent of the efficiency of her teaching force through the long time habit of hiring a teacher for one year and allowing him to hunt out a new position in a new town each succeeding year. Texas is not the only state that is making the same mistake. And the United States is not the only country where the same economic loss is sustained.

Last Sunday's Toronto Globe contained 140 advertisements of schools needing teachers and of teachers needing schools. All over the Western part of the United States the condition is the same. Teachers and trustees are during every summer in a constant condition of worry over the employment for the next school year. This should not be. The teacher is the man who has the power for good or evil in any community. The training of the children is the most important duty connected with life. The man to whom it is entrusted should be as free from worry as he can be made. His place should be fixed. He should feel that the community in which he has settled is his home.

In many Texas communities they are building school homes. In some cases bond issues are made the means of erecting them. In others private subscriptions serve the purpose. By whatever is the most convenient way these school districts are providing for the comfort of their teachers. Then they employ good men. They install them in their schools and they say to them, this is your home.

These communities are going to find that they will have better schools with more efficient teachers. The men and women employed will want to remain in those school homes and they will take more interest in their work. They will labor for the upbuilding of their communities. They will put their hearts into their duties.

Those communities will double the value of their schools and the additional cost will be inconsiderable.—Houston Post.

LUFKIN COMES TO LIFE.

The Lufkin Daily News in its issue of yesterday "comes to life" with the following bit of philosophy about the "baseball war" now being waged by Nacogdoches and Lufkin.

"And so it was. The Nacogdoches aggregation 'walloped' the champion baseball team of East Texas yesterday afternoon in a score of 2 to 1; but thank thy living stars, we have them here on the home grounds this afternoon—and not one of them will be allowed to 'go to first.'"

"But there is a larger thought. Should our adversary from over across the 'border' succeed in their bombardment and storm our very citadel, there will be but the one recourse upon the part of the generals in command, enemy from our territory back to their native soil, and proceed at once to establish a line of fortifications along the classic Angebin, consisting of trenches, barbed wire entanglements, and a patrol sufficient to handle the situation. While it has been suggested by a few citizens that those of the opposition be 'seized' while here in the event that hostilities are declared and that they be held as prisoners of war, still others incline to more diplomatic measures, and are willing that passports be issued to all those not known to be 'spies.'"

"It may be said just here that the situation is tense, and ultimatum are expected to go forward at any hour. In the meantime the home guard is taking every precaution, the sentry force has been doubled, and a type of air craft has been thoroughly tested, while munitions of war and rations have been arranged for by department officials.

"What may be safely relied upon as the deciding point as to the break in relations will come about this afternoon at 4:30 down at the local ball yard, and every loyal fan, true to the break in relations will be on hand. 'If you believe in the home contingent, show your faith by your presence.'"

THE THREE PLACES.

JASPER, Texas, July 13, 1916.—To the Democratic Voters of the Ninth Supreme Judicial District, Court of Civil Appeals:

In order to dissipate some confusion relative to the places to be filled in the Court of Civil Appeals of the New Ninth Supreme Judicial District, I wish to explain that there are three places to be filled, to-wit: Chief Justice, Associate Justice, Place No. 1, and Associate Justice, Place No. 2.

The candidates for Chief Justice are John M. Conley of Jefferson County and L. B. Hightower of Jefferson County. For Associate Justice, Place No. 1, A. E. Davis of San Augustine County and V. E. Middlebrook of Nacogdoches County. For Place No. 2, Hugh Ballard Short of Shelby County and A. G. Brook of Panola County.

This is a new district designated by the last Legislature and is composed of sixteen East Texas Counties. If the press and those familiar with this matter will assist in making this explanation to those voters who may not have had an opportunity to inform themselves in this regard will render the party a service which will be greatly appreciated.

WALTER P. SMITH,
Chairman Democratic Executive Committee, Ninth Supreme Judicial District.

It will be recalled by many readers that The Sentinel has at different times urged the importance of a better marketing system and co-operation among farmers to this end. From today's issue of the Houston Post we take the following editorial which records a move in the direction of farm co-operation:

"Victoria county has a farmers' federation for the marketing of the 1916 cotton crop and nearly every farmer in the county is joining in the co-operative plan. Texas farmers are gradually learning that to get the best results in the marketing of any crop they must work together. The citrus associations of the Pacific coast have taught as much along this line. The coast country of Texas is a liberal education in that art of marketing. There is no reason why every farm product including cotton cannot be sold successfully by the co-operative system."

Mr. E. M. Flourney of Chireno, is in town on a visit to his daughter Mrs. R. R. Wilson. He is 85 years old, and he lived at Chireno before the town was built. His father was a close friend of Gen. Sam Houston.

NOTED SPOKER INVITED TO GOOD ROADS CONGRESS.

We have invited three very prominent men of national reputation to address the Road Congress, and also a large number of well known good roads enthusiasts of State wide reputation who are interested in the great improvement to be made in Texas. Every phase of the road question will be covered by experts, and every County Judge and Commissioner in this State will have an opportunity to exchange ideas with each other who have been building roads and know from experience the advantages in the modern methods. In addition to this, part in the program Highway Engineers will be present, and take part in the program, and most all of us know they have done as much to assist in the good roads movement as any other profession in Texas, and they are always willing to lend a helping hand whenever and wherever possible. This meeting will be of great importance to every County Official and Tax payer in Texas. Ample arrangements have been provided for sleeping and eating at the Lake, as well as transportation from San Antonio to the Lake and return for those who come by railroad.

The lower house of Congress passed the Bankhead Bill a few days ago and it will become a law as soon as the President signs it, which we all know he will do, because he o.k'd his bill in advance, are all aware of the benefits that this bill will be to Texas, provided we establish a State Highway Department. With such a Department Texas will get the largest share of any State in the Union, without it, she gets nothing. The eighty-five million dollars—ten million dollars of which goes for the improvement of roads through national forests and seventy-five million dollars for national highway and post roads, is just a mere starter for the government to take over the main thoroughfares of this country. There is a number of very important matters along this line that will be definitely decided on at this Congress and every good roads enthusiast is asked to take part in the discussions.

MORE "POT SHOTS."

If the Nacogdoches baseball boys do their duty in the battle at Lufkin this afternoon, we fear that Dock Lively of the News will be seized with "infantile paralysis." We gather from his pen that he is already in a trench—read it elsewhere.—Nacogdoches Sentinel.

Our esteemed contemporary did carry an article touching on the baseball situation in the East Texas League, but to render full account of the game here yesterday on the home grounds, does away with the necessity of referring to the article mentioned. Suffice it to say that the Lufkin squad put it over the Nacogdoches aggregation in a score of 3 to 1 yesterday afternoon, and we are supposed to be doing the very same thing this afternoon. There is something wonderful about this Lufkin ball team; they "mop up" with all their adversaries, do it in a nice way, and after all, some people wonder why. If the baseball editor of the Sentinel will excuse himself from the duties spread out before him, and will come to Lufkin while the way is open, the sporting editor of this paper will go away out of his way, in that he will go to the ball game himself. If you are looking for the real thing, come down and let's go along.—Lufkin News.

The above review appeared in the Lufkin Daily News Saturday before the last game was finished. Nacogdoches won, making it a tie, and there is nothing left, it seems, but for the Sentinel man to go to Lufkin and get "the real thing" offered with such trip in the concluding remark of the contemporary's dare. So here goes.

ALLIES ARE DRIVING THE GERMAN'S BACK.

After the briefest preliminary bombardment which has any important action on the western front the British armies on the Somme have again swept forward and have captured several important German second line positions. On a front of four miles the British have advanced to a depth of a mile and have held all positions gained in spite of violent counter attacks.

The strategic importance of the British successes is marked by the straightening of their line in conformity with that of the French, who hitherto had advanced at a much greater speed than their ally. The brevity of the preliminary bombardment, coupled with the statements of press correspondents at the front that the British losses were comparatively small, lend support to unofficial statements that the German second line was much greater than their first defenses.

On the French portion of the Somme front no action of importance was recorded, but in the French official statement for Friday it was announced that the bombardment of German positions on the Belgian front had reached a point of the greatest intensity. This announcement receives additional significance, as for more than a week the Belgians have reported a persistent and destructive bombardment directed against the German line. These announcements were similar to those made by the British preceding the opening of their great offensive, and may possibly indicate that another forward movement by the entente allies may be attempted at the extreme western end of the battle line.

Another point of significance in the day's official war reports is that the only actions reported on the Verdun front were assaults made by the French. These assaults were noted in the German official statement, which made no claim of any German offensive action.

On the Russian front the great battle of the Stokhod is still raging, with the issue remaining in the balance. The most important news from the Russian side is believed to be the operations in the Caucasus. The Grand Duke Nicholas reports continuous successes against the Turks and is launching another great offensive in the region of Ezerum and Baidart, aimed at the very heart of the Turkish empire. A successful Russian advance along this line would cut off the Turkish armies in the south and again place Bagdad in jeopardy.

ABOUT THE SEWERS.

Editor Daily Sentinel:
We hear a great deal said about "cut the weeds," etc., and there is a good reason for doing it but how about our sanitary (?) sewers?

There's nothing in a name—a rose by any other name would smell as sweet, and so will our so-called sanitary sewers. There's something radically wrong. You can hardly stand the offensive odor that comes from these places as you pass near them. Whose business is it to flush them, or do something else that will stop this disease producing stench?

In raising this question in the interest of good health, will the proper authorities get busy and remedy this trouble?

CITIZEN.

WILL ASK REVISION OF INSURANCE LAWS.

AUSTIN, Texas, July 15.—A thorough revision of the Texas insurance laws is to be recommended to the next legislature by John E. Patterson, state commissioner of insurance and banking. Mr. Patterson is now at work on the changes he will recommend in these laws, and expects to have his recommendations ready within a short time. It is for submission to the state democratic convention which meets at Houston next month, and they may be incorporated as part of the platform.

The commissioner has no desire to have his proposed changes associated in any way with the fight on the Robertson law. It is understood he will recommend a change in the method of compensating local fire insurance agents, the repeal and the so-called varied policy law and other changes will be recommended. The commissioner is to submit his proposed changes to Governor Ferguson, who may incorporate them in his message to the legislature.

SAN ANTONIO TO VOTE ON EXPOSITION BOND ISSUE.

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, July 16.—An election Monday will determine whether or not San Antonio will issue $1,000,000 to provide preliminary funds for the proposed bi-centennial exposition in 1918. A big vote is expected and the result is difficult to forecast.

A number of large taxpayers are opposing the issue, as well as many of the labor union men. If the bond issue is defeated it is likely the bi-centennial proposition will be dropped, as without the bond issue an invitation to South American republics to participate contained a resolution passed by both house and senate at Washington and now in President Wilson's hands, will not be forwarded. The resolution was passed by congress with that condition attached.

BELIEVED TIME TO NAME PEACE TERMS.

LONDON, July 14, 1:15 a. m.—The departure from Petrograd of the entire Russian Council of Ministers on their way to the imperial field headquarters has been the cause of much speculation in the Russian capital, according to news dispatches from Petrograd.

Only once before since the war began has a similar council been held. At that time it was devoted to a consideration of international conditions and created a precedent in Russian history. Popular opinion ascribes the present council to the situation of Austria.

RAIDERS SAID TO BE MASSING FOR ATTACK.

COLUMBUS, N. M., July 15.—A large force of Mexican bandits is reported mobilizing across the border, south of the Arizona-New Mexico state line. Departments of cavalry from this and the Douglas bases have been rushed to that section of the border today. Intense uneasiness is felt among American residents along the line. Many ranchers are hurrying their families here for safety.

The bandit band is said to be gathering in the San Simon Valley. Its presence was discovered by American custom riders along the border. Early this morning these officials intercepted a herd of horses being driven by Mexicans south across the line. The horses had been stolen from ranchers. They were to have been used as mounts for the bandits.

The Mexicans were fired on, but escaped across the border. The customs riders made their report, and immediately scouting details were hung out. They picked up several points who were fleeing across the border line. Three told of the bandits' mobilization.

Plans are being made by the bandits to attack and loot small American settlements, the plan natives declared. Operations are being held in check by the leaders, it was said, pending only the organization of a force of effective proportions. The towns threatened are Apache, Roden, Bernardino, Animas, and Chiricahua. These are unprotected, save by small detachments of militiamen on patrol duty.

EARLY RETURNS PROMISED FROM PRIMARY ELECTION.

DALLAS, Texas, July 15.—Unusual steps have been taken this year by the state democratic executive committee to assist in securing for the public quick and comprehensive returns following the primary of July 22. It was announced today from the office of the organization, which will tabulate and compile these returns.

Every county chairman has been called upon to do all possible to induce precinct election officials to make immediate reports and to comply with the spirit of the law, which calls for a fast count and early announcement as to the standing of the candidates.

This effort on the part of the state committee originated with Secretary Charles J. Kirk, and it is stated that this is the first time the state committee has seen fit to go further in holding primary elections than to accept the ordinary slow course, determined by long custom, in securing to the public reports, thereafter.

This year, it is said, the fact appears to have been recognized that the early report of the result of an election is secondary in public importance only to the actual holding of the election. Mr. Kirk is said to have acted vigorously in the attempt to carry out this progressive policy.

WILSON TO LEAD ARMY TO BATTLE.

WASHINGTON, July 15.—Democratic war lords got together here today and formulated plans for opening President Wilson's battle for re-election. Initial shelling will begin, it is understood, on Sunday, August 5.

The scene of the first action will be Shadow Lawn, the summer White House, where the president will be officially notified of renomination. The details of the grand blast will be announced probably Monday by Field Marshal Vance McCormick, at New York.

Hughes' speech of acceptance July 31 is expected to give the president his firing range.

Besides the publicity and finance departments, respectively, there will be a full fledged "speaker's department" in Chicago and another on the Pacific coast, the place to be selected later.

Plans have been completed for each of the cabinet members to make speeches and the party's leading orators have volunteered for service.

OBREGON SAYS BORDER IS SAFE.

MEXICO CITY, July 15.—"Our army is not only in a position to protect the border against further raid and incursions on American property, but is sufficient to completely subdue all bandits and pacify the country in a short time," declared Minister of War Obregon in an interview accorded the United Press tonight.

"Our proposals made at Jaurez and El Paso have not been withdrawn," the Carranza military chief declared. "Our purpose is to give protection and full guarantee to every one. For this purpose we can count on 80 percent of the whole male population of Mexico to help restore order to the whole country. They are now in sympathy with the cause and the government. We are going to do out utmost to end the internal troubles."

Begin to hunt up that poll tax receipt now for the glorious service it will be to you next Saturday. "Now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of their party."

A negro woman at Kaufman pleaded guilty to the offense of whipping her husband, and when a fine was assessed against her, declared that it was worth the money. This is one way to bring a worthless husband to terms, and seems to have been most effective in the present instance.

A writer inquires: "Is the South a healthy place to live?" That will depend largely upon your conduct, friend. If you conform to the laws of health and good citizenship, and carry with you the blessing of a good constitution, you may have no fear—provided, further, that a tree does not fall on you.

East Texas appears to be taking the lead in a general fight against the boll weevil. Smith and Nacogdoches counties are pioneering the way. The safety of the cotton crop is the safety of farm and business prosperity. And this common fact is now being recognized in substantial ways by co-operation of business interests.—Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

Col. Louis J. Wortham, editor of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, has been spending some days at El Paso viewing the Mexican situation at close range, and is not quite so optimistic with the outlook for a permanent settlement of the trouble as many. In a series of articles to his paper, he ably reviews the conditions of the stricken republic, and expresses the opinion that the republic is incapable of self-government at this time, making any settlement temporary in its effect.

Small-town congressmen have the opportunity of rendering a great service to their constituents by getting a bill through congress providing for a heavy tax on all mail orders. The mail-order business is crippling more small towns throughout the nation than all the saloons and other alleged evils we can call to mind. Mail orders drain the community of ready cash, and work a hardship on the local business houses who help to maintain the school systems, the public roads and every other public institution.—Brenham Banner.

If there was some method by which the fine watermelons that are being brought to town these days could be carried to the doors of those who are not so fortunate as to be able to raise or get them, a much better price would be realized than it is possible to obtain from a glutted home market, and some new money would be brought into circulation. The crying need of the country, as we have so often noted, is a better system of marketing; there is a demand for everything, at a good price, somewhere in this big old world if we would bring the demand and the product together.

The East Texas Baseball League has disbanded for lack of financial support with some of the clubs, which is quite disappointing to many of the baseball fans. All teams were pretty well supplied with good players; and old East Texas was being treated to the best baseball playing it ever enjoyed in its midst—but as in all enterprises, it takes money and co-operation to sustain such teams and such work. Profiting by the mistakes of the season, the League will make sure of the money first next time, and with the taste of the splendid sport they have enjoyed it is needless to say that the League will be revived by another season.

The Nacogdoches Sentinel throws a bomb in to the last week of the campaign when it says: "Lest you forget, we say it again: The candidate who hopes to win on the demerits of his opponent is no better than the estimate upon which he predicated his claim. Beware of him."—Longview Times-Clarion.

Yes, and that "bomb" will explode if any attempt to vary from the straight and narrow way of political righteousness. The candidates of Nacogdoches county have made a clean and dignified race, becoming gentlemen fit to hold office, and the innovation is refreshing to the minds of all good people.

Someone poring over the old files in the United States patent office at Washington the other day, found a letter written in 1833 that illustrates the limitations of the human imagination. It was from an old employee of the patent office, offering his services to the head of the department.

His reason, says the Scientific American, was that as everything inventable had been invented the patent office would soon be discontinued and there would be no further need of his services or the services of any of his fellow clerks. He therefore decided to leave before the blow fell.—Beumont Enterprise.

You can destroy the punctured squares or you can leave them alone; that is your own business. But when harvest-time rolls around, that will be a different tale to tell.—Lufkin News. It is the farmer's individual business in so far as his individual interest is concerned, but a community interest obtains in this effort which, as a patriotic citizen, he should have some interest and "business." The boll weevils being a migratory pest, it takes concerted action to exterminate them, and he who lags in the service defeats the success of the movement in a measure. To successfully exterminate the pest in this section, Nacogdoches business men are paying out four hundred dollars in cash prizes to those who will pick up and destroy the punctured squares, and the farmers are co-operating with the work beautifully.

A young Texas lawyer who worked his way through the University of Texas, taking two degrees in five years tells something of how he accomplished this feat. He says: "My first job was with a newspaper, my work consisting of lighting the gas for the linotype machines at 5 o'clock in the morning, sweeping the office, running off copy of the mailing galley, and filling the coolers. A 4 o'clock in the afternoon I had to do the work of the mailing clerk, that is, wrapping and mailing the newspapers to the out-of-town subscribers. For the first three weeks I received only $3 a week for this work. Due to the indifference of the carriers, our circulation decreased to alarming figures. I proposed to my employer that I would deliver the papers on my route on a commission, and do all the soliciting and collecting on that route. It was only a month until I had tripled the number of subscribers on that route and was earning over $60 a month. I enjoyed all my work, and must frankly say that I worked far less and did easier work than I would have done on the farm during those years."

For the young man who thinks it is mainly to spend money freely and who sneers at the thrifty person as being "stingy and mean" here are a few facts that he may digest with profit: Sixty-six of every hundred dying in this country have absolutely no estate; they die penniless. Of the remaining thirty-four persons, twenty-five never accumulate more than $1300 in their lifetime and die with less than that. Only nine persons in a hundred have more than $5000 when they die. Only 2 per cent of the whole population may be classed as well to do. The other 98 per cent of the people have only their wages from day to day or are dependent upon relatives or charity. And these figures are not estimates, they are taken from the government census statistics, and are arranged and given out by the President of the American Society for Thrift, a society organized by some representative business men who saw real danger to our Nation in the American tendency to wastefulness. It will be seen from these figures that thrift is a virtue that needs to be taught to young people. The boy who squanders his youth in riotous living, expecting luck or chance to bring him a fortune later in life, should scan these figures and learn that he has just one chance out of a hundred to ever accumulate $5,000 or more, and that if he is to be one of the fortunate he must begin to save early.—McKinney Gazette.

ONLY A DREAM. The political campaign is drawing to a close, and many of the candidates are having one chill after another. That is why we never went into politics; our tender feelings could not stand the strain. But we prefer our care free life, where we can write our pieces in the paper and then go home with a sense of peace as our portion and sit down and take our choice between soft peaches, luscious figs, cantaloupes, watermelons, and so forth until we can go no further. Politics is all right, but too many fellows have a say. In this other game we are the entire party.—Palestine Herald.

NATURE'S SOFT DRINK.

Nature as a soft drink manufacturer has them all beat. Her materials are the rain, the dew, the sand and the sun.

By a mystical chemistry which puts that of the white-aproned men with test-tubes to shame, she works for months and has ready for man in the days that are driest and hottest the bright-colored drink that will quench his thirst.

We shall answer our riddle by giving you another which you may have answered as a child:

"I come to the party in my green dress, and they said I was just 'showing off.'"

"I came in my white dress and they said they didn't like it."

"I came in my black dress, and they cast me aside."

"But when I came in my red dress, they picked me up and kissed me."

In the middle of a hot afternoon when the thirst for the doped "soft" drinks comes upon you, step into a lunch room and order a slice of watermelon.

There's not as much in it as there is in an ice cream soda. It's a drink, nature's soft drink.—Shreveport Times.

GOOD EXERCISE.

Whether the boys go to war or not, the country is going to be the better off for the "setting up" which some 128,000 of its young men are in for this summer.

When Johnny comes marching home again, he will have acquired, among other inevitable results of discipline, a very handsome military carriage. He will not put it off with his uniform. And there will be no "round shoulders" permitted in his family.

All of which is worth a lot. No man, soldier or civilian, can work best unless he breathes his best, and he can not breathe in the best way unless he walks and stands right. The better the oxygenation of the blood, the greater a man's energy and power.

The most critical pacifist can not deny that a certain positive good is bound to come from all the drilling which is going on in the land.

Every sidewalk crowd which watches a company of soldiers swing by is unconsciously improved. Shoulders are thrown back, chins are raised, hands come out of pockets, slouchy coats are pulled into shape.

There's power in proper position of the human body and everybody recognizes it. The body reflects the will within.—Beumont Enterprise.

"MOONSHINE" STILL WAS FOUND IN HOUSTON SUBURB

In times past Col George Baily has had much to say about the "mountings" of Tennessee and Kentucky, but he will have something to talk about nearer home in future. A "moonshine" distillery has been found in a suburb of the city of Houston, fully reported in the following account taken from a Houston paper of yesterday:

"Picking his way along the Trail of the Lonesome Still, Constable J. A. Cain has unearthed an illicit whiskey manufacturing plant in the busy precincts of Sunset Heights. And as a result, J. C. Choice and Wesley Maxen, descendants of the tribe of Ham, are "resting easy" in the county jail. Charges of pursuing the occupation of whiskey manufacture without having a federal license—popularly known as "moonshining"—have been filed against each in the United States Court.

A preliminary hearing will be held by A. L. Jackson, United States Commissioner, Friday or Saturday. Parts of the 'still' are stored in Constable Cain's barn, awaiting the hearing. Trained detective dogs guard the valuable evidence. The men were arrested Saturday night, but the charges have just been filed.

"The negro, Wesley Maxen, also faces a charge of arson in Judge Ray's court. It is charged that he, with the assistance of four other men, set fire to and burned a saloon in Sunset Heights last Wednesday night, a week ago. The saloon belonged to J. R. Donaho, who lives on Twenty-Ninth Avenue, four blocks east of Harvard Street. Officers expect to make more arrests."

THE SENATE ADOPTS A NAVAL PROGRAM

WASHINGTON, July 18.—The Senate today adopted the enlarged building program of the naval bill by a viva voce vote. It provides for the construction within three years of 157 war vessels of all classes and four dreadnaughts and four battle cruisers to be built next year.

MORE PEACE TALK.

NEW YORK, July 18.—The Rev. Dr. Charles F. Ake of San Francisco and Miss Emily Balch of Wellesley College, American delegates to the neutral conference for continuous mediation, reached New York today aboard the liner Frederick VII on their way to consult Henry Ford regarding further work for peace.

"Peace in Europe is not possible before spring," said Dr. Ake. "The war must simply burn itself out. France can not make peace; England is too proud to; Germany offers only unacceptable terms. The recent allies success is negligible and the chance of a military decision remote. Talk of German exhaustion is absurd, for, though there is economy of bread, butter and meat, there is no starvation—merely inconvenience. The German spirit is wonderfully calm, courageous and confident."

"An Anglo-German American alliance is now being hoped for by the intellectuals in German, men such as Von Harnack and Oelgeat Bruck. For days last winter we feared a separate peace with Russia on the basis of a Russo-German attack on England through Afghanistan. Austria's collapse alone averted it."

Miss Balch brought plans to have this country join with Europe in a world-wide peace demand on August 1 with church services, mass meetings, press articles, and if possible have a few minutes cessation of fighting on all fronts.

CHICAGO NEGRO RAN AMUCK—HE IS DEAD

CHICAGO, Ill., July 18.—Henry McIntyre, a heat-crazed negro, ran amuck in this city early today, and as a result four people are dead and three others are lying in the hospital severely wounded.

For a considerable length of time he held off an army of one hundred policemen who were endeavoring to affect his capture, but finally he was killed. His wife, who joined him in the wild rampage and fought by his side, was also killed.

Feeling against the negro population has been rather strained as a result of this morning's proceedings, but no further trouble is expected.

FORMER POSTMASTER OF CROCKETT WAS KILLED

CROCKETT, Texas, July 18.—As a result of a difficulty six miles east of this city Tuesday morning J. T. Dawes is dead with three bullet wounds in his body. J. F. Bell and son, Jim Bell, tenants of Mr. Dawes, are in jail charged with the shooting.

Jim Bell, who admits the shooting, claims self defense. He is shot through the wrist and has a bullet hole in his hat.

There had been prior trouble between the parties said to have originated several weeks ago over the manner in which the farm was being managed.

Pending a full investigation the Bells have been refused bail.

Mr. Dawes was for many years postmaster of this city and was prominent in Masonic and Pythian circles.

OUTPOSTS FIRED UPON ACROSS THE BORDER

EL PASO, Texas, July 18.—A party of mounted Mexicans exchanged fire with Company L of the Ninth infantry here today. According to reports the troops were going on outpost guard-duty when the Mexicans rode up on the opposite side of the Rio Grande and opened fire. The guardsmen suffered no casualties, but believed they had killed one Mexican.

Captain Hickey of Dorchester, Mass., commanding the company, estimated the number of Mexicans at 15, but asserted that he was unable to determine whether or not they were soldiers. Approximately 50 shots were fired on each side, it was said.

Both Gen. George Bell, Jr., commanding the El Paso military district, and Capt. Leon Bucklon, acting garrison commander in Juarez, said they had received no official reports of the incident, and both said it seemed trivial.

The shooting occurred in an isolated district about three miles down the river from El Paso, known locally as the "Island" section. The Massachusetts company was doing border patrol duty in this district, one-third of the 60 men being on patrol and the remainder being held in reserve in the camp about half a mile to the rear. Captain Hickman said that small parties of Mexicans appeared from time to time on the Mexican bank of the river, which is about 300 yards wide at this point. Then he said a mounted detachment appeared, most of the horses wearing seraphs.

PIONEER DEAD.

The following report of the death of a pioneer, which occurred in San Antonio a few days ago, will be of interest to many of the older settlers of Nacogdoches who knew the gentleman, and some of whom are related to him:

SAN ANTONIO, Tex.—Robert T. Cannon was first Texan to enlist in the Confederate Army—friend of Sam Houston and James Hogg. He was 80 years old, a pioneer Texan, died at the home of his son, Z. W. Cannon, 530 Oakland St., at 1:30 a. m., June 30th.

The deceased was a native of Knoxville, Tenn., coming to Texas with his father, B. B. Cannon, seventy-two years ago.

Mr. Cannon who was a member of the Texas Rangers under Gen. John R. Baylor in 1859 was the first Texan to enlist in the Confederate Army at Rusk, Texas.

Mr. Cannon was married to Mrs. Caroline Reagan Bagby in 1867. He is survived by his son, Z. W. Cannon at San Antonio, two daughters, Mrs. W. H. Tallaferro of Brownwood, and Mrs. W. H. Claiborn of Sartartia; a brother, Ben Cannon at Weatherford, and two stepsons, J. R. Bagby of San Antonio, and N. K. Bagby of New York.

Funeral services were held in the Shelly-Loving Chapel by Rev. Arthur Jones of First Presbyterian church. Funeral was conducted by the Confederate Veterans of Albert Sydney Johnson Camp, and interment made in the Mission Burial Park beside his wife and little grandson.

WOULD MARRY TEXANS.

FORT WORTH, Texas, July 17.—Within the next few days Tom Taylor, who has been attending the meeting of the Shriners' imperial council at Buffalo, will return to Fort Worth with a list of 1000 names of Eastern girls all anxious to marry Texans and settle in the glorious West. At the close of the convention Taylor went to New York city, consequently those who returned to Fort Worth Sunday night arrived without the list.

CASTRO GRANTED FREEDOM TO ENTER UNITED STATES

WASHINGTON, July 18.—Freedom to enter the United States, once denied, was granted today to Ciprano Castro, former president of Venezuela, and his wife, by order of Secretary Wilson of the labor department, who overruled the special board of immigration officials at New York denying them admission. Under the secretary's ruling, the Castros are free to go to Port Rico, as they had planned, or to remain indefinitely in the United States. A telegram ordering immediate release of General and Mrs. Castro, who have been held on Ellis Island since their arrival Saturday from Trinidad, was dispatched tonight.

In explaining his ruling, Secretary Wilson pointed out that when Castro attempted to enter the United States in 1913 from France he refused to answer questions regarding his alleged complicity in the murder of General Paredes, a political opponent in Venezuela, and was excluded on the ground that he was implicated in a crime involving moral turpitude. At the hearing last Sunday at Ellis Island, however, he answered all questions asked, denying guilt in connection with General Paredes' death.

It is understood that Immigration Commissioner Caminetti, who was in Philadelphia today, recommended to Secretary Wilson that the Castros be admitted.

PROPOSE CHANGES FOR STATE'S GOOD

The annual convention of the Texas Commercial Executive's association opened in Houston Monday for a session of three days.

Indications are that several advanced steps will be taken looking forward to the betterment of conditions in the State for commercial and industrial institutions.

In his annual message President W. N. King, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce at Denison, recommended that the convention go on record as favoring:

A concentrated opposition to the proposed increase of 33 1-3 per cent on fire insurance risks.

The creation of a State highway commission which will place Texas in line to secure her share of the $85,000,000 recently appropriated by congress.

A close co-operation with the State and federal departments of agriculture for the purpose of developing vast and vital industries in the State.

Keep your vital organs in good condition if you would have health through the malarial season. Prickly Ash Bitters cleanses and strengthens the stomach, liver and bowels and helps the system to resist disease germs.—Stripling, Hasciwood & Co., Special Agents.

FROM J. L. BURROWS.

To the Voters of Precinct No. 1:—On account of my official duties, it has been impossible for me to see each voter in person during the present campaign, and I take this method of soliciting your support and influence, and beg to assure you that I will appreciate same.

I am making the race for re-election as Constable of Precinct No. 1, upon my record as an official, and an investigation of my record will disclose that I have made the arrest in more than one-half of the misdemeanors or cases in which pleas of guilty and convictions have been secured, during the last two years in Nacogdoches County. More than one-half of the county convicts now working out fines and sentences on the county road, were convicted on complaints and arrests made by me, and I feel that upon such a record as an official that I am entitled to the support of the people of this Precinct.

In civil matters I served the process of the courts without delay, an inquiry upon your part and investigation will disclose

I beg to assure you that I fully appreciate the confidence the people of this Precinct have placed in me in the past by electing me to this position, and I have endeavored to faithfully and fairly discharge the duties of the office, and should you elect me again I will continue to be faithful and prompt in the discharge of my official duties.

I will very much appreciate your support and influence in the coming Primary.

Very respectfully,
J. L. BURROWS.

BURROWS HAUNTED HIM.

Yesterday afternoon The Sentinel man had an interview with Dan Sims, the man who was locked up on so many charges of bootlegging—and he talked very freely and voluntarily. He said that Constable Burrows watched his premises so closely in an effort to catch him that he couldn't stay at home in any peace, and that he knew he would be caught sooner or later, hence he decided to come on back home and face the charges. He says he has been in Louisiana the past six months.

There are ten indictments pending against Sims, one of which is for felony, returned by the grand jury. The felony case will be tried in the district court and the nine other cases have been transferred to the county court. Mr. Burrows takes credit for working up all these cases, and the defendant says that he is justly entitled to it, following him so closely that he had to get away to retain his freedom.

Some time ago Mr. Burrows promised the Frost-Johnson people, at whose mill the deprecations were being made, that he would break it up and he has worked faithfully at the task, losing many night's sleep in consequence, and making trips to many places in an effort to capture the man he knew to be at the head of the notorious traffic that was being indulged. Now that he has his man safely behind the bars, he is much elated over his achievement. dw

REVIVAL AT LUFKIN GAINS MANY CONVERTS

LUFKIN, Texas, July 18.—The great revival that has been under way in the large tabernacle erected for that purpose, under the leadership of Evangelist J. E. Brown, with Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Smith as choir leaders, closed its services Monday morning. There have been between 500 and 600 additions to the church, and a great spiritual uplift throughout this community. The tabernacle was yesterday sold to Rev. Matthews, who will tear it down and use the material for other purposes. The building contained 35,000 feet of lumber and was sold to the highest bidder, bringing $126 cash, which was equally divided between the four Protestant preachers residing at Lufkin. In the Sunday morning service the sum of $1,000 was quickly subscribed and paid in as a donation for Brown and his assistants.

Mrs. P. L. Teutsch and little daughter Nell, and Moe, little Miss Fannie B. Campbell, of Houston, are in the city visiting with the lady's brother, Mr. Koscoe Hauser.

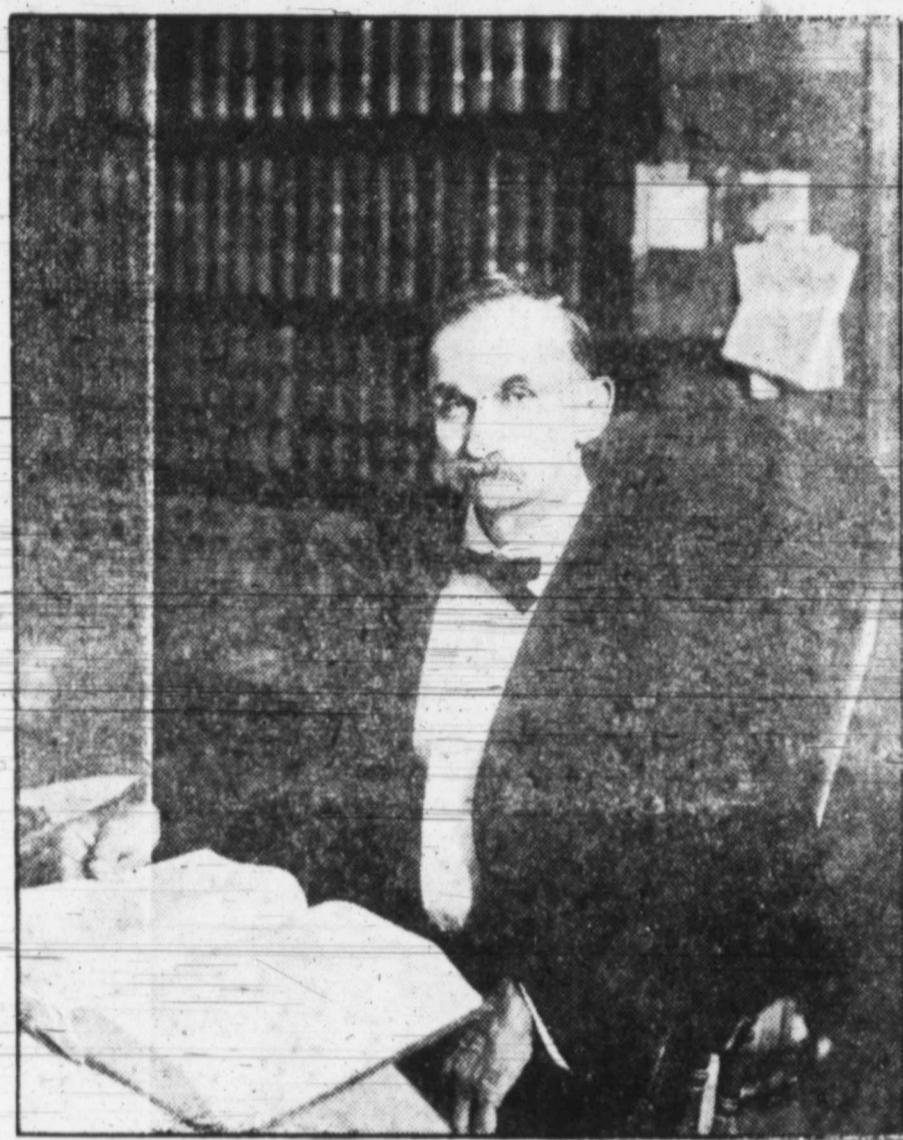

REPORT ERRONEOUS.

A report was circulated in town this morning that Miss Dimple Wilson had been attacked by a negro while gathering peaches in the orchard of her grand-father, J. M. Spinks, in the Danville community, caused great excitement and many auto loads of men including officers, rushed out there to aid in the search for the negro. It turned out to be a false report, however, and everybody is glad of it.—Longview Times-Clarion.

The above and foregoing tribute to Hugh Ballard Short is no more than a plain statement of well known facts, and it goes out from his home town with the "cordial" approval of truly representative citizens of the town of Center, a town which is noted far and wide for the high character of its citizenship. Here, in the midst of those who gave that endorsement, I make the statement that it was gladly given. Coming from such a source and with such unanimity, it is a tribute any man could well be proud of.

I have known H. B. Short since his boyhood days. For the last 38 years my association with him has been constant and close, and I know him most intimately. I know his home life, his office and court house life, and his life and activities in general. I know his studious habits, his great industry, his close attention to his professional duties, his high sense of justice and regard for the right. I am sure I am within the strict bounds of truth in saying that I know him better than any other living man know him. I know him for the man that he really is, and stands for, and it is my candid opinion and deliberate judgment that he will make a great judge should he be elected.

TEXAS BI-CENTENNIAL BOND ISSUE DECISIVELY BEATEN

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, July 10.—By a plurality of 234 votes, taxpaying property owners of San Antonio Monday refused to "loan" $1,000,000 to aid the proposed Texas Bicentennial and Pan-American exposition to be held in 1918.

The vote was a decisive one, considering that approximately only 4400 votes were cast. The returns as given are those from 48 precincts of the 49 in the city. Precinct N. 16, at West End pavilion failed to report Monday night. It is not expected that more than 100 votes were cast in the missing precinct. This vote is not expected to materially change the final result one way or the other. Officers and adherents of the bond issue conceded Monday night that the vote in this precinct would probably be divided evenly.

The vote was 2044 for the issue and 2267 against, a majority of 223.

TEXAS FARMERS MEET IN SIXTH ANNUAL SESSION

AUSTIN, Texas, July 17.—The sixth annual session of the Texas State

Farmers' Institute convened this morning in the hall of the house of representatives, with an attendance of nearly 2000 delegates, from all over the state, and when all of the delegates have arrived the attendance is expected to reach close to 8000, as nearly that number of passes were issued.

Commissioner of Agriculture Fred W. Davis, president of the institute, called the meeting to order, and after invocation had been offered Governor Ferguson delivered the address of welcome to the farmers, in a brief, but appropriate speech. The governor appeared at his best among the farmers, and his address was marked throughout with applause.

The response was delivered by John S. Kerr of Sherman, after which President Davis delivered his annual address, in which he reviewed the work that had been accomplished by the institute, and also by the department of agriculture in the interest of the farmers. An address was delivered by Prof. R. A. Moore, University of Wisconsin.

Considerable time was spent during the forenoon in the registration of the delegates, which is a requirement of the institute, in order to ascertain the names of those attending the meeting. After the announcement of the sectional meetings, places of exhibits, and the appointment of committees, the meeting adjourned for the afternoon session. The visitors are to be treated this evening to moving pictures on the campus of the university, after which Dr. R. E. Vinson, president of the University of Texas, is to deliver an address. There are several other addresses scheduled for this evening.

TO HELP CHECK CHARBON.

AUSTIN, TEXAS, July 17.—The state live stock sanitary commission is to co-operate with the state health department and state board of health in stamping out charbon or anthrax, which disease seems to be gaining a foothold in certain portions of the state, not alone among cattle, but also among human beings.

According to Dr. W. A. Davis, secretary of the state board of health, several cases of black leg and Texas fever seem to be prevailing to a limited extent among cattle. These diseases are also to receive the attention of the live stock sanitary commission and the board of health.

OIL COMPANIES ENJOINED FROM POLLUTING RIVER

Injunction restraining a number of large oil companies from permitting waste oil and minerals to flow into the San Jacinto river so as to damage the rice crops being supplied with water from the waterway, was granted by Judge Dannenbaum in the Sixty-first district court Monday morning.

The order was agreed to by the defendants against whom suit was brought by the San Jacinto Rice company.

The defendants will erect large reservoirs to hold the waste oil and minerals and otherwise divert the flow from the San Jacinto river.

The injunction fixes the dates between which the waste oil and other injurious minerals must not be allowed to flow into the river as May 1 and October 1 of each year.

HIGHER RATES TO TEXAS IS DENIED

WASHINGTON, July 18.—The interstate commerce commission today denied the Kansas City Southern Railway the right to raise rates from 10 to 12½c from Louisiana cities to Galveston.

CARRANZA'S O. K. GIVEN U. S. PLAN OF SETTLEMENT

WASHINGTON, July 18.—Eliseo Arredondo, Mexican ambassador-designate, called on Acting Secretary Polk at the state department today just before the latter went to the White House for the cabinet meeting. It was understood Mr. Arredondo had received instructions from his government approving a tentative plan for the settlement of differences with the United States by means of a joint international commission.

There are indications that Henry P. Fletcher, ambassador-designate to Mexico, will head the three American commissioners if the plan is adopted.

Mr. Fletcher was present at today's conference.

At the close of the conference Mr. Polk said there was nothing to be announced further than that the conferences were "progressing favorably" and he intimated no announcement might be expected for several days. Mr. Fletcher and Mr. Arredondo continued in conference after Mr. Polk had gone to the cabinet meeting.

RURAL CREDITS MEASURE NOW BECOMES A LAW

WASHINGTON, July 17.—President Wilson today signed the rural credits bill passed recently by congress. A group of senators, representatives and officers of farmers' organizations applauded warmly as Mr. Wilson affixed his signature.

Just before signing the measure, which creates a system of 12 land loan banks under direction of a federal board, the president made a short address, pointing out the benefits he believed both farmers and the investing community would enjoy under its operation.

"In signing this bill," said the president, "I have not only a feeling of profound satisfaction, but of real gratitude that we have completed this piece of legislation, which I hope will be immensely beneficial to the farmers of the country."

Farmers at Disadvantage.

"The farmers, it seems to me, have occupied hitherto a singular position of disadvantage. They have not had the same freedom to get credit on their real estate that others have had who were in manufacturing and commercial enterprises and while they have been denied the same share in the benefits of that life.

"Therefore, this bill along with the very liberal provisions of the federal reserve act, puts them upon an equality with all others who have genuine assets and makes the great credit of the country available to them. One can not but feel that this is delayed justice to them. I look forward to the benefits of this bill, not with extravagant expectations, but with confident expectation that it will be of very wide reaching benefits and incidentally it will be of advantage to the investing community, for I can imagine no more satisfactory and solid investments than this system will afford those who have money to use."

The president used two pens in signing the bill and gave one of them to Senator Fletcher of Florida, who asked permission to present it to the Southern Commercial congress.

GENERAL CASTRO IS TURNED BACK FOR SECOND TIME

NEW YORK, July 17.—General Cipriano Castro, former president of Venezuela, and his wife, who arrived here Saturday from the Port of Spain, Trinidad, were ordered deported from the United States by a special board of inquiry yesterday. The charge against General Castro involves moral turpitude. The order as applied to Mrs. Castro was characterized as technical.

After similar action was taken against General Castro on his former visit to this country three years ago and after an appeal to the department of labor was denied he obtained a writ of habeas corpus. General Castro was released pending an appeal by the government, but left the country before the appeal was heard.

"It is so strange, so strange, I do not understand the procedure. I feel that the precedent set upon me by my first visit here will apply and I will be released."

Later General Castro issued a statement saying he believed his case had been definitely and favorably decided on his former visit here. His statement added:

"After the long interrogatory to which I was subjected before the special board of inquiry here, the same as when here before, I was notified by the board that I was excluded and that I could appeal to the secretary of labor, something which I did immediately.

"You ask me why I have come. I would not have come to New York if there had been a direct steamship line to Port Rico from Trinidad, a trip that could be made in two days. Unluckily for me there is not such a line and it was unavoidable to come to this city to take the steamer to Port Rico, where I have my family."

The personal quarters of the commissioner of immigration at Ellis Island have been placed at the disposal of the Castros.

Patrick B. O'Sullivan of Derby, Conn., was chosen president and it was stated that the work of the organization will be centered in those states which have the largest naturalized populations with "Americans all" as the slogan.

THE NEGRO WOMAN IS NOT DEAD YET

From parties from Melrose, who were in town yesterday afternoon, it is learned that the wife of Mack Perry, who was reported to have been killed by him, was not dead yesterday afternoon, but was in a very dangerous condition.

She was unconscious for some time after receiving the great beating of which she was a victim, and out of this grew the report that she was dead. Her head was badly beaten up with a club, one ear and one side of her face being almost a pulp, and blood continues to ooze from her ear, indicating internal injury.

Perry is still being held in jail pending the outcome of the woman's injuries.

A LARGE CROWD GREETED EX-GOVERNOR CAMPBELL.

Ex-Governor Thos. M. Campbell drew the largest crowd of any candidate who has visited us during this campaign in his visit Saturday afternoon, and was received with greetings of welcome and much applause.

The speaker arrived over the T. & N. O. from Beaumont, and was escorted to the court house by a reception committee and a brass band where he spoke nearly two hours. He was introduced by Hon. Beeman Strong in a few well chosen words, after which he launched into his address with the vigor and enthusiasm that is characteristic of the gentleman.

In the course of his address Governor Campbell went on record as being in favor of military preparedness for protection; a merchant marine for our commerce; a system of rural credits; a law prohibiting corporations from contributing to election funds and expenses; and national prohibition. In discussing the latter he said that as a United States senator he would undertake to write a law that would take the liquor interests permanently out of politics.

Pressing his claims for election, the ex-governor reviewed his record as governor of Texas, taking credit for a more economical administration than we have had before or since; for a better enforcement of all laws in the state, and claimed authorship of the laws that make felony offense to sell liquor in prohibition territory, and operate gambling houses. He also claims authorship for the law that prohibits the drinking of whiskey on passenger trains, and other laws which we can not call to mind at this time.

Following a review of his own record, the speaker rather severely arraigned the administration of others. Concluding, he said that he would take the same meat axe and butcher knife with him to Washington, and would tender the same faithful service to the people of his country.

From Nacogdoches Governor Campbell went to Lufkin where he spoke Saturday night. He has lost none of the vigor and energy that characterized his campaign for governor several years ago.

Joining the visitors here in Lufkin today will be mentioned the fact that Messrs. Sam Hayter and Oscar Matthews bobbed up as serenely as a newborn rose. Ask "luck" would have it, neither of them was run down by a jitney while sojourning in the city. Think of this—it's truly remarkable. (Nacogdoches papers will please copy)—Lufkin News.

SOME PEAS.

Newspapers sometimes have to take a good big risk on their reputation for truth and veracity in the report of actual happenings and things—and that is what we are about to do right now, but we are prepared to "show" the doubting Thomases by directing them to the spot from which this report finds its foundation, soliciting your charity until you behold with your own eyes the immensity of the thing we are now about to talk about.

The subject of this unusual report is peas—a world-beater for this section, growing so profuse and prolific that land planted to them in a full crop would have to be cleared again for future cultivation, it would seem. Mr. Dan Grimes, a well-known farmer living out on the Tyler road three miles from town, brought a pea pod to this office this morning which measures thirty inches in length, and is filled with peas of a dark red color. He says they are of a South America variety, coming from some seed he ordered with which to experiment with them. He also says that the vines grow to be thirty and forty feet in length, and that they are recommended to make thirty to forty tons of hay to the acre. His principal interest in the new crop is to provide fertilizer for his land.

Now—can you beat it? Get his address and place of residence where you may see the experiment for this is all we know about it, and since a protracted meeting is in progress it is all we would dare to report.

Mr. Grimes says that he brought the exhibit to town for the reason he was jeered for his oral description of the new product by a party of friends. He has shown them, and he will show you.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION

The State of Texas,—
To the Sheriff or any Constable of Nacogdoches County—Greeting:—
You are hereby commanded to summon Della Edwards, by making publication of this Citation once each week for four successive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your County, to appear at the next regular term of the District Court of Nacogdoches County, to be held at the Court House thereof, in Nacogdoches, on the 1st Monday in September, A. D. 1916, the same being the 4th day of September, A. D. 1916, then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 22nd day of June, A. D. 1916, in a suit, numbered on the docket of said Court No. 405, wherein Ed Edwards, is the plaintiff, and Della Edwards, is the defendant, and said petition alleging:—
That Plaintiff is an actual bona fide inhabitant of Texas and has resided in Nacogdoches County, Texas, for more than one year next preceding the filing of this petition.

That Plaintiff and Defendant were lawfully married to each other on the 3rd day of January, A. D. 1900, and thereafter lived and co-habited together as husband and wife until on or about the 15th day of December, 1913, when Plaintiff was compelled to leave the Defendant with the intention of forever remaining away from her; that prior to said separation Defendant was guilty of immoral conduct, in that she committed adultery with various and sundry male persons.

That during the time they lived together as aforesaid Plaintiff made Defendant a kind and dutiful husband, but unmindful of her marriage vows, Defendant persisted in a course of adulterous conduct with other men.

That as a result of said marriage there were born unto Plaintiff and Defendant four children, Jewel Edwards, a girl 12 years of age, Lillian Edwards a girl 10 years of age, Tommy Edwards, a boy now 7 years of age, and Edna Edwards, a girl 5 years of age; that because of the conduct of Defendant, who is now a transient woman, Plaintiff alleges that she is not a proper person to raise and educate said children, that he is able and willing to provide, care for and educate said children, and prays for their custody.

Wherefore Plaintiff prays that Defendant be cited to appear and answer this petition, and that upon a final hearing hereof, he have judgment dissolving said marriage vows now existing between them, for the custody of said children, for costs of suit and general relief.

Herein fail not, but have before said Court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and seal of said Court, at office in Nacogdoches, this 23rd day of June, A. D. 1916.

Clerk, District Court, Nacogdoches County, Texas.

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas:

SECTION 1. That Section 3 or Article 7 of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended to hereafter read as follows:

I OWE MY HEALTH

To Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Washington Park, Ill. — "I am the mother of four children and have suffered with female trouble, backache, nervous spells and the blues. My children's loud talking and rumping would make me so nervous I could not sleep and I would ache all over and feel so sick that I would not want anyone to talk to me at times. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills restored me to health and I want to thank you for the good they have done for me. I have had quite a bit of trouble and worry but it does not affect my youthful looks. My friends say 'Why do you look so young and well?' I owe it all to the Lydia E. Pinkham remedies." Mrs. Robert Stroum, Moore Avenue, Washington Park, Illinois.

BARN WAS BURNED BY STROKE OF LIGHTNING

From Saturday's Daily: During a little rain and thunder storm this afternoon lightning struck the barn of Mr. W. U. Perkins, up North street, and fired the building. Neighbors turned in the alarm as soon as they noticed it, but the flames had gained so much headway it was impossible to save it when the fire department arrived upon the scene. Other barns and houses in the vicinity caught from the fire, but were saved from serious injury by the department.

CARRANZA SATISFIED.

MEXICO City, July 14.—General Carranza in an interview today said the status of negotiations was very satisfactory with the result of good will shown by Mexico and the United States. "Thanks to the feeling of good will the first chief continued, 'we will be able to avoid war. War is something I do not desire but if there were no remedy for the situation I would enter upon it.' General Carranza, however, refused to discuss the situation as it relates to the possible action of President Wilson or of the Latin-American nations which offered to mediate in the trouble between the United States and Mexico. Within a short time, the first chief said, there would be incorporated in the constitution of Mexico all the reforms which now find a place in the program of the constitutionalists. In a large measure, he declared, some of these reforms already are in operation and there remains their incorporation into the fundamental laws of the country.

WILSON WILL ACCEPT EARLY RESIGNATION

WASHINGTON, July 12.—President Wilson today agreed to accept the resignation of Major General Goethals as governor of the Panama canal at an early date to be fixed by the general. General Goethals called at the White House and again urged his desire to resign the governorship and retire from the active list of the army now that his work of building the canal has been finished. Colonel Chester Harding, who had been in charge of the Panama canal, was named as his successor.

COMMISSION TO DRAFT A PLAN

WASHINGTON, July 12.—Informal negotiations for settlement of border disputes between the United States and the de facto government of Mexico are "progressing favorably," Acting Secretary Polk said today, after his second conference with Eliseo Arredondo, Mexican ambassador designate.

Although Mr. Polk would not add to this statement, it is understood that it is now assured that the steps being taken foreshadow appointment of commissioners by each government to formulate a plan of action for the permanent relief of border conditions. Mr. Arredondo has not disclosed what his instructions are, but from other sources it has been learned the commission plan was favored by General Carranza and would not be opposed at the state department.

A formal announcement is expected soon. Whether the question submitted to the commission will follow the definition of the matters in dispute laid down in General Arredondo's note is not known, although Secretary Lansing's reply apparently accepted that definition.

The Mexican note said the reasonable anxiety of the United States on the one hand over the security of its borders and the feeling of the de facto government on the other that the continued presence of American troops in Mexico menaced friendly relations, constituted the problem to which a solution must be found.

There are no present indications that a commission would go into questions dependent upon these main issues, but not directly involved in a settlement. It is believed probable, however, that the whole subject of internal conditions in Mexico, including the financial stress there, would be relieved to some extent with the possible result of some more far-reaching plan being proposed than one embracing border conditions only.

COUNTRY'S FOREIGN TRADE PASSED PREVIOUS RECORDS

WASHINGTON, July 12.—The country's foreign trade during fiscal year ending with last month reached a total of $6,525,000,000, exceeding by many millions all previous records, according to preliminary figures announced tonight by the commerce department. Exports were valued at $5,245,000,000, and imports at $1,280,000,000. The figures are based on complete returns from the first eleven months of the year and estimates for June.

The war munitions trade was the predominating factor in establishing a record in establishing the new export records. Iron and steel exports jumped from $226,000,000 in the previous fiscal year to $618,000,000 and explosives from $41,000,000 to 473,000,000. In 1914 the explosives exports amounted to only $6,000,000.

Raw cotton exported during the fiscal year was valued at $370,000,000, compared to $376,000,000 the year previous; wheat and flour $314,900,000, compared to $428,000,000; meats $270,000,000, compared to $260,000,000; mineral oils $165,000,000, compared to $134,000,000; cotton manufactures $112,000,000, compared to $72,000,000. W. M. Jenkins of Marshall was also injured about the hip and body and badly shaken up, but not seriously injured.

Engine No. 303, one of the big engines, was a locomotive that collided with the cabooses.

BOLD AUTO THIEVES.

DALLAS, Texas, July 16.—Stopping at one of the best hotels in Dallas and moving in the best society in the city, a gang of auto thieves composed of sons of some of the best families in North Texas, has been carrying on a systematic campaign of auto thefts in Dallas and Fort Worth and within the last two months probably not less than $8000 has been realized by the gang as the net result of its work, according to Detective Irwin of the Dallas detective force, who has arrested the ringleader of the band and who now has the police of three Texas cities closely on the trail of the remaining members of the gang.

Seated in his room at a Dallas hotel, the leader, a man of wide acquaintance throughout North Texas, directed the work of the gang, according to Irwin.

"This is one of the largest and best organized gangs we have ever had to deal with," declared Irwin Sunday afternoon. They had as complete a system as any business house and I believe that not less than 30 cars stolen in Fort Worth and Dallas, as well as some smaller towns in North Texas can be traced to them. We have definitely accounted for four cars they have stolen and have evidence to lead us to believe that the four were but a small part of the cars actually stolen by them. The last four sold for $200, disassembled, and each of the four men in the gang received $50.

TROOPERS MOVE NEARER BORDER

MARATHON, Texas, July 15.—Tactical distribution of troops to meet any attempted bandit raid continued in the Big Bend country today. Reports reached here that Mexicans in the districts across the Rio Grande are near starvation, and it was believed possibly they might make a sudden dash to the American side to get supplies.

One company of the third battalion of the Tenth Pennsylvania went to Boquillas, Texas, on motor trucks to relieve Troop A, Sixth United States Cavalry, which was sent to Glenn Springs to reinforce Troop B of the same regiment. It is understood that the remainder of the Third Pennsylvania Battalion, now stationed at Fort Hancock, will be sent to other border posts as rapidly as possible.

AMERICANS MUST PRACTICE LOYALTY

WASHINGTON, July 14.—President Wilson told a citizenship convention here today that the American government expects that foreigners becoming citizens remain loyal, even if they are not in this country when a crisis is reached. Loyalty means nothing, he declared, unless it is coupled with self-sacrifice. He added that Americans can not teach loyalty unless they practice it.

The president's address at length the problem of Americanizing foreign-born citizens. His words were enthusiastically applauded by a large gathering of men and women educators interested in the instruction of new citizens, meeting here under the auspices of the naturalization bureau of the labor department.

The president praised the objects of the convention, saying it was not fair to allow multitudes of people from foreign lands to come into this nation without giving them intimate instruction which will show them the objects of American citizenship.

Natural born Americans were warned by the president to examine themselves carefully to see whether they have burning in them the spirit of America which they expect to show to these foreigners.

"My interest in this movement," the president said, "is as much an interest in ourselves as in the people whom we wish to Americanize. Unless we are true Americans we can not infect them with the spirit of Americanism. Unless we ourselves illustrate the ideas of justice and freedom we can teach nothing to those who come to us."

There are just as many cruel and heartless men here as in other lands, he continued, but the object of America should be to put such men in harmony and control them.

"We have been disturbed recently by symptoms in the body politic," he added, "which are not healthy. Certain men, not many in number, have thought more of the lands of their birth than of America. They have even gone so far to draw apart in spirit and organization to seek some special object of their own. Such a thing as that is absolutely incompatible with the idea of loyalty."

Foreign travel was suggested as the best cure for those inclined to boast too much of the superiority of Americanism.

YEGGMEN AT NOME.

Beaumont Enterprise. Yeggmens blew the safe in the Fairchild saloon at Nome early Saturday morning, obtained $900 in money and some checks and made their escape. They overlooked $100 in currency in an envelope in the safe. The money had been left in the saloon by a man named Wright. It was discovered yesterday morning by Deputy Sheriff J. T. Friar, who, with Deputy Frank Townsend, were at the scene of robbery an hour after it occurred. In examining the papers in the demolished safe Mr. Friar came across the envelope with the money intact. Its owner had given it up as lost. He had given it to one of the proprietors Friday night for safe-keeping, expecting to call for it Saturday morning. When he came down town he learned the safe had been blown and all the money taken. Some time later Mr. Friar pulled the package from among the crumpled papers and there was a shout for Wright recognized the envelope which contained his $100.

A watermelon peddler, a stranger in Nome, was an eye-witness to the robbery. He was camped less than forty feet from the saloon. He told Deputy Friar and Townsend he saw the three men approach the saloon with revolvers drawn, saw them lift the screen, break the glass and open the door. Two of them stood in front with revolvers in their hands, while the third entered the place. He said he thought the men were proprietors of the place, and being a stranger and dazed by the unexpected explosions, he did not think to give the alarm until they had escaped. He furnished a good description of the men, whom he said were white.

FROM W. E. THOMASON.

Some crafty politicians are circulating the report that I, at the picnic at Harmony, made use of certain remarks derogatory to J. S. Watson of Garrison.

I want to take this method of resenting this and branding it as a falsity of the first water. I have known Mr. Watson for twenty years and have always considered him my friend, and one of the best men in the country, and feel that the good people of Garrison used good judgment when they elected him mayor of their town by a more than two to one majority over his opponent, as shown by the records of the city council, and known by every man in Garrison.

Respectfully,
W. E. THOMASON.

HAVE HAD THE PROOF. COULD YOU DO THE WORK AND COMMAND THE PAY IF YOU WERE TO TAKE A COURSE WITH US? SURE YOU COULD.

Here are a few extracts from letters of prominent business men who have had the proof as to the ability of our graduates:

"Having employed several of your graduates, I think your institution the best of its kind in this country."

"We have had six of your graduates in the past few years; they were all good; send us another."

"There is such a scarcity of business colleges who fit their students for real business that we cannot refrain from writing and endorsing your college, since several of your students have proven competent in our office."

"I am always glad to recommend your Cotton Cladding Department. It has been of great benefit to me and my employer is highly pleased with my work."

"As you all know, I have had a number of your students in my office. I take this opportunity of saying that every student that I have had from your school shows superiority of training over students that I have had from other schools."

"I have given your graduates a thorough test, and have found them to be accurate and quick with their work. The thorough and practical training you give fits them for any kind of a position."

"We have one of your graduates as stenographer in our legal department at a handsome salary giving entire satisfaction. The work is extremely difficult, requiring the greatest skill and accuracy, reads her notes like print. We wish to commend your school for turning out such excellent graduates."

"If all of your graduates are as proficient as the three young men we have in our office you are certainly doing a great work for not only the young people but the business men as well."

A large firm of Cotton-Buyers of East Texas says:

"We predict much success for your Cotton Cladding Department. It is thorough and up to date and is in charge of capable instructors."

"It is indeed a pleasure to use one of your Steno-Typewriting operators. He takes dictation so easily and when called upon to read back, he does it with perfect ease because it was printed and not crooked marks."

Write for catalogue containing hundreds of endorsements together with name and address of business men who pay our graduates good salaries. Mr. and Mrs. George Slaughter have returned from extended visits to relatives and friends at DeRidder and other points in Louisiana, and Mr. Slaughter has resumed his work in the barber shop with which he has been connected the past several months. It is said of Mr. Slaughter that he was delayed in returning by being engaged in the work of cutting bee trees and waiting for an opossum to come back to life. Soon after arriving in the Louisiana community he was invited out upon the mission of gathering wild honey, and followed the bees from tree to tree until he was amply rewarded and was ready to return home when he came upon an opossum in a sullen condition and would not leave it until he was assured of its restoration to good humor and life. We do not vouch for the authenticity of any of these reports—neither does the gentleman deny them—hence we pass them along for what they are worth.

CANDIDATES POLITICAL RALLY WILL BE HELD FRIDAY NIGHT

The candidates of the county will wind up the campaign with a rally in this city Friday night, addressing the voters out on the public square. There may be some state and district candidates present, and a most enjoyable occasion is assured.

Hot weather saps the vital energy and makes the hardest workers feel lazy. To maintain strength and energy, use Prickly Ash Bitters. It is the soreness of industry—Stripling, get you in fine Co., Special Agents.

You should also use Sloan's Liniment. Writes one vacationist: "We use it for everything from cramps to toothache." Put a bottle in your bag, be prepared and have no regrets.

LET THE TRUTH BE KNOWN

Dies plays the same trick on me he played on Colonel Cooper eight years ago by issuing on the eve of the election, too late to get a reply to all-of-the-voters, a campaign document which contains many brazen falsehoods.

In order to attract the friends of Colonel Cooper, he falsely says I voted for him against Colonel Cooper. This is an unwarranted falsehood.

He says that I walked in the printing office and took his cut of the cartoon of the fish hatchery. He has no proof of this reckless false statement. I paid the American Printing Company at Beaumont to make the cut for me and refer all seekers after the truth to them.

He says I confidently promised Lufkin and Jacksonville a postoffice building. He judges me by himself. That's the political game he plays. I have never promised them or anyone else a postoffice or anything else and while I am in favor of giving these cities postoffices, I am not in favor of giving them each a $100,000 postoffice. One-fourth of this sum is sufficient and the balance should go into the building of good roads and helping to establish rural credit banks so that farmers may secure loans of substantial sums on long time at low rate of interest. These laws are meaningless if Dies is to spend all the Federal Revenue on postoffice buildings. Why not show the farmer his interest in their welfare in some more substantial way than the contribution of garden seed which are purchased by the government from old stock at fabulous prices.

He untruthfully says I denounced River and Harbor Improvement for the purpose of trying to divert the vote of Jefferson and Orange counties from me while he himself has shown apathy to this important matter. I am in favor of the government natural waterways like those in Jefferson and Orange counties but not impractical schemes like the navigation of the Trinity river to Dallas.

He quotes the following from one of my circulars: "In 1911 Dies voted for the bill reducing the duties on cotton manufactures, but in 1912 recorded as not voting, when a bill was up to reduce the duty on manufacture of wool." This later bill would have saved the consumer $2.60 per suit." In commenting on this he says: "The facts are, that I was present and voted against the Payne tariff bill, which carried a high tax on woolen goods, and I was present and voted for the Underwood tariff bill which reduced the tax on woolen goods. On this he again proves himself the prince of dodgers. The Payne tariff bill was passed in 1909; the Underwood bill was passed in 1913. What has his vote on either of these bills to do with his 1911-12 vote?"

My circular gave page and volume; his gave neither. Dies falsehoods have found him out; he says he paid the government $851.84 for printing his campaign documents; yet he swore to a campaign expense of $40.00.

He acknowledges his wrongful use of the mails in sending free half million pieces of printed matter in the interest of his campaign and paying the postage on the last ones.

My sworn campaign expenses $2307.73. Mr. Dies' in the campaign of 1908, $4724.00.

That he who seeks the truth may know, I gave page and volume on all circulars mailed by me and if you find that I have misquoted the Record I do not ask your vote. I gave Mr. Dies every opportunity to meet me face to face and discuss the issues of this campaign. He preferred the long distance method by which he could misquote the Record and not be called to account.

I ask a careful consideration of my candidacy and if found worthy I will appreciate your vote.

STATEMENT RESENTED FROM JUDGE HIGHTOWER.

Garrison, July 16th, 1916. To the Voters of Ninth Supreme Judicial District:

There remains only one more week until the primary election. I will not have an opportunity for further campaign outside of Jefferson County, as a candidate for Chief Justice of the Court of Civil Appeals.

I wish to take this method of thanking the people of the district for the uniform courtesy with which they have treated me, and also thank my friends for the many kindnesses done me.

at hands of the people among whom I have lived my life, but I ask my friends to continue their activity in my behalf.

I desire also to caution the voters against any eleventh hour rumors or statements which may be circulated by opponents, either by word of mouth, or by use of literature, for I cannot reply to same on account of the delay in its publication. Eleventh hour stuff should be disregarded.

Be assured that I deeply appreciate your support, and I pledge myself to perform the duties of the office with the same fidelity that has characterized my official acts in the past.

Sincerely,
L. B. HIGHTOWER, JR.
