THOUSAND-DOLLAR FINE TWO YEARS IN JAIL

Possibly the largest penalty ever assessed by the county court of this county was assessed against a negro by name of Nat Pleasant yesterday when he was given a thousand-dollar fine and two years in jail.

Some time Saturday night the negro entered the home of Mrs. Oliver, a white woman who lives alone with her daughter about sixteen years of age, and a son about twelve years of age, and abused them with very indecent language, in the meantime threatening violence. The trouble occurred at the lady's home out a few miles from Garrison and the negro was arrested by Deputy Sheriff T. G. Vaught who obtained a full confession from him and brought him to jail here.

The negro is about eighteen or twenty years of age, and is of the impudent, vicious type who will be made much better with the penalty that he will have to pay for his intrusion upon a defenseless home.

Feeling ran pretty high in the community of the disturbance, and it was only through respect for the law the good people had, and respect for the officer making the arrest that more serious consequences to the offending party were averted, it is reported.

ORDER TO THE BORDER HAS BEEN CANCELLED

Washington, Aug. 15.—Orders for the remaining mobilized units of the national guard to proceed to the border have been suspended by the war department. An official explanation has been made, but it is known that the delicacy of the railroad strike has been the moving consideration.

The suspension of the orders to the troops, which would have moved some 25,000 men to the border, should not go is taken as an indication that the president's negotiations with the railroad managers have taken an unfavorable turn, but is a measure of caution. It was considered highly undesirable that all the remaining guardsmen should be moved to the border while they might be called upon to preserve order throughout some of the states. There is even the possibility that some of the troops in the event of a strike might be called upon to guard or operate mail trains supplying the troops already on the border.

The suspension of the orders prevents the immediate movement of the troops from Kentucky, Ohio and Vermont and the movement of all other mobilized units which were to have gone forward as soon as they were equipped. Some of the Kentucky, Ohio and Vermont troops were about ready to go to the border.

It is clear that the suspension is not a revocation of the orders and that if the railroad situation clears up the troops will be moved to the border line.

The official explanation of the change at the war department is that difficulties of transportation and equipment suddenly developed have made a delay necessary. It is known, however, that the railway situation is the real cause.

A telegram from Maj. Gen. Funston made public by the war department, disclosed that the general recommendation the suspension of the orders. His telegram follows:

"In view of possibility of a general railroad strike, I desire to call attention of the war department to difficulties that will follow in maintaining food supplies not only of troops in this department, but of the civilian population as well. These border states produce but little foodstuff except cattle."

"In view of the foregoing, I recommend that the national guard organizations which are about to start for border stations be retained in their mobilization camps until such time as the question of a general strike shall have been determined."

CARD OF THANKS.

I desire to thank the voters of Nacogdoches County for the large vote given to me in the second primary. Especially I wish to thank those who were so kind to me in their homes while I was making my canvass of the county, without their assistance it would have been hard for me to have made the canvass.

To show my appreciation of the many kindnesses shown me, I am going to make the very best officer that I am capable of making.

Respectfully,
JIM C. MELTON.

B. C. Castleberry returned Tuesday afternoon from Chicago, where he has been spending his vacation attending the National Rural Carriers Association. He reports a great time, but says he went the wrong direction to find cooler weather as he found it exceedingly warm there a part of the time.

The young man who volunteered the statement that he would die for his sweetheart came near doing so when she sweetly and coyly inquired what he was waiting for.

Save your poll tax receipt as you will need it again August 26th for the Senatorial run-off primary. This is a year of elections as well as some other things and there is nothing like keeping in practice.

A citizen inquires why we did not "dress up the English a little better" on a certain contribution appearing in the paper. If we had, the editor might have been accused of its authorship. The "ear marks" unconsciously follow all writers and speakers.

That man who looks upon his home town as a pleasant place in which to pass his years, and does not contribute his part to making it so, will soon meet disappointment. It is an inviolable law of nature that we receive in proportion to what we put into anything.

Now when we finish up the job of putting a standard bearer in the field for United States Senator, in the third primary to be held Saturday, August 26th, we will take rest from politics until November, when an imperishable democracy will again rally and make good the job.

Fred W. Davis, State Commissioner of Agriculture, has announced the appointment of Harry Hamilton Williams to the position of statistician. Mr. Williams is a popular newspaper man, well known among the country weekly publishers, and is considered a vigorous and brilliant writer. Commissioner Davis feels indebted to the newspaper men of Texas for many courtesies. The appointment of Mr. Williams may be considered a well-deserved recognition of the Texas newspaper fraternity.

An Oakland car of this city bids fair to rival with the Fords in notoriety when one of its recent achievements becomes generally known. Yesterday when out a half mile from town the gasoline tank was lost, but the driver of the car did not notice it until he reached town. Discovering his loss he beat a hasty retreat, finding the receptacle at the distance noted. The story is given as it was told in the presence of a group of men this morning, and doubting Thomases will be furnished the proof upon suitable application.

A bank president of the state is quoted with having said: "If I had twenty tongues, I would preach politeness with them all, for a long experience has taught me that the results are tangible and inevitable. Politeness is the Alladin's lamp of success." All great business and industrial enterprises of today demand politeness of their employees with the public, and that man, young or old, who does not employ this great virtue in his dealings with his fellow-man is passing with the "has-beens." He is shunned by the public, and soon his trade or patronage passes away from him. He may have many other virtues, and not in reality intend to be discourteous, but if he is, he must pay the penalty. Be polite to every one, and you will receive politeness in return. The business public hasn't time to stop and quarrel with you, and neither is it inclined to bear your seeming coarseness; there are others more pleasant, and they are thereby more "lucky."

PLATFORM IN BRIEF.

Ring in indorsement of the Wilson administration, including a specific approval of the Mexican policy.

Hearty approval of the administration of Governor James E. Ferguson.

Silent on Robertson insurance law and the submission of a prohibition amendment to a vote of the people.

A demand that all appropriations for the support and maintenance of all departments of the state government be specifically itemized.

The enactment of laws extending the powers of the warehouse commission.

Pledges the democracy of the state to a just and liberal policy toward organized labor.

Eight-hour day whenever practicable is recommended.

Protection of foreign capital invested in Texas guaranteed.

Legislation is urged to enact laws to more adequately care for the insane of the state.

A two-million dollar appropriation for the extension of the educational system of the state is recommended.

The establishment of a state highway commission to be supported on a tax on automobiles is favored.

Improvement in the penitentiary law is urged.

Attention is called to the pressing necessity for judicial reform legislation without making specific recommendation.

Platform favors exempting cotton factories from taxation for a period of ten years.

Urging a law defining the purpose for which candidates for public office may spend money and requiring greatest possible publicity of all campaign expenses.

More liberal appropriations for the support of the quarantine service is urged.

Present fee system is condemned.

Liberal and adequate support of the live stock sanitary commission is favored.

Home owning and home building is encouraged.

Demand is made that signers to petitions to the state executive committee to have constitutional amendments placed on primary ballots make affidavits that they have signed but one petition and that all such petitions be filed with the committee at least thirty days before the meeting of the executive committee.

HAMILTON AND JEFFERSON IN 1916.

San Francisco Bulletin.

From the time of Alexander Hamilton to this day there have been two strains in American political thought, one typified by Hamilton and the other by Jefferson. The relative strength of these two tendencies will determine the coming election, just as it has determined most national elections in the United States. If our great parties stood for anything it might be said that the Republicans were the party of Hamilton and the Democrats the party of Jefferson. Since neither party now has much excuse for existence, except as an office-holding machine, the comparison has to be narrowed to personalities. It might plausibly be said that Hughes is an intellectual descendant of Hamilton, as Wilson is of Jefferson.

Hamilton was a nationalist when most people were still thinking in the jealous terms of statehood. He desired to extend the power of the Federal government and to win it a first place in the loyalties of the people. He was somewhat hypnotized by the glamour of territorial greatness, and wanted to make the United States as much of a unit; as possible, a weapon with which to strike, a solid phalanx with which to resist. If this could be done, he seemed to think, it was worth while to sacrifice some of the ideals of democracy. An unrestricted democracy could not realize what he desired for his country. Hamilton found his ideas popular with the merchants and moneyed men in the cities and large towns. The country people did not like them so well.

At the same time Jefferson was clinging to the revolutionary theories set out in the Declaration of Independence, saw a menace to liberty in the growth of the Federal power, and was popular with the farmers and landholders. But there was a greater difference than one of economic theory between the two men. Hamilton was a rather hard materialist, and put his trust in the outward signs of prosperity and greatness. He had a vision of America as a great power, not as a magnificent experiment in democracy. His dreams are fully realized in the America of today—rich, populous and powerful. If he were alive today he would find only one flaw in his United States, and for the repairing of that flaw he would be willing to take the advice of Colonel Roosevelt and General Leonard Wood.

But Jefferson, though he was a slave-holder and though he distrusted the city workingmen who dominate modern democracies, really believed in the rule of the people, and found his ideals in the spread of peace, justice and well-being, not within a limited class, but among the classes which most lacked the benefits of them. Jefferson dreamed of an America inhabited with free, independent people; he cared very little what Europe thought of her. He was provincial, but it was an Arcadian provincialism.

The contrast still holds. Mr. Hughes represents the glittering Hamiltonian ideal, careless of the individual ambitions for the nation. Mr. Wilson stands at the other extreme. If he could restore the manly pioneer simplicity of the early nineteenth century he probably would do so. With the industrial tendencies of modern America he is not fully in sympathy. He is inclined to oppose some economic currents which can't be successfully resisted. But he does put more emphasis on the dignity of the average man than does Mr. Hughes or Mr. Hughes' prominent supporters. He is closer to the ideals of the Declaration, if that means anything.

Let us not forget, and let us teach it to all that there would not be no dignity in life, that it would not be worth while to live if annihilation were to be our lot. What is it which alleviates and which sacrifices toil, which renders men strong, wise, patient, just, as once humble and aspiring, but the perpetual vision of a better world, whose light shines through the darkness of the present life. For myself, I believe profoundly in that better world; and after many struggles, much study and numberless trials, this is the supreme conviction of my reason as it is the supreme consolation of my soul.—Victor Hugo.

Senator S. M. King of this city, like many great men before him, has lately become a great student of the Bible, and is finding many things that interest him in its sacred pages, in the list of which there are some with which he can make material comparisons as well as find repose for the soul. One of his latest is that Elijah of old must have been the owner of a Ford car when he "ascended on high."

POOR SPELLERS.

Beaumont Enterprise.
Recently The Enterprise received a letter from a graduate of the Beaumont high school asking for a job as a reporter. The letter had six misspelled words in it. The graduate did not obtain the position.

One Beaumont teacher accounted recently, in a way for the lack of knowledge in spelling on the part of the high school graduates. She said the course of study didn't give time enough to pupils in the lower grades to lay the foundation to become good spellers—and that, therefore, when the pupils go into the higher grades they had so much other work that they couldn't make headway in spelling. But this excuse is a poor one.

There is no regular time for learning to spell—it is all the time, every waking hour. But the pupil must be impressed with the importance of correct spelling at an early age and given the ground work to build on. If the teacher thoroughly understands the importance of correct spelling she will soon imbue more of her pupils with a desire to know how to spell. True, there is a pupil now and then who will ever and always be a failure in spelling, but such a pupil comes only once in a long while. A letter with a misspelled word in it is like a girl in her best clothes with dirty ears. A child must be taught cleanliness early in the game; if not she will grow to be a slouchy woman. And if the child is a boy and permitted to grow up in ignorance of the importance of bodily cleanliness he is sure to be a dirty man, even though he stumbles onto riches or inherits them. So it is about spelling. The boy and the girl must be taught at the very beginning that correct spelling is the foundation upon which to build an education.

This is not intended to convey the idea that Beaumont turns out more poor spellers than schools of other cities. Reference is made to Beaumont schools because of familiarity with several poor spellers who have graduated here.

MR. WOODLAND ANSWERS.

Editor Sentinel:
In these days of fast and reckless auto running, the other fellow blames the "City Dads," and under the heat of passion some resort to newspapers for help and nine chances to one this same fellow, who writes this article and who is ordinarily ashamed to sign his name to it, but signs "Owner of a Car," will not report a single violation to the City Authorities of any over-speeding, and you can ask him for this information and he will squirm and dodge and finally say that "it is not my business," or "I don't know any particular person," and if you insist on his going into court to testify at a witness he will want you to get the other fellow and crawl-fish again by saying he can't say for sure. The chances are this same fellow will violate the City Ordinance by fast speeding, and here and now I venture the assertion that the writer of the unsigned article in the Daily Sentinel, either himself or some of his family, have recently been indicted for fast speeding or reckless driving and that he got "hot in the collar" and beg and plead with the City Attorney and Mayor for the case to be dismissed, and this self-same "Owner of a Car," will then go out and cuss the "City Dads" and say they won't enforce the law, and if you put him on a jury to try another car owner for fast speeding, he will acquit and say "well, you didn't make a case," and then go out on the streets and say the City Authorities won't enforce the law. He wants it enforced, but he thinks he and his boys are immune from prosecution.

The City Authorities are anxious to enforce this ordinance, but cannot do more than file the complaints, offer the testimony and let the jury say, as they usually do, "WE, THE JURY, FIND THE DEFENDANT NOT GUILTY."

I am sure that we are all agreed that this fast speeding and careless driving should be stopped, but without the help of the good citizenship of this town, it is going to be mighty hard to do.

If the aforesaid "Owner of a Car" will furnish me the testimony of the fast driving today, right now, I will see that the party is prosecuted at once. If he is half as anxious to enforce the law as he intimates in his article, I am sure the fast driving will stop immediately; but another prediction, right here and now, he will not report a single case if he has to go upon the stand and testify.

I ask the assistance of all, including the car owners, to check this fast and reckless driving before someone is killed.

Yours very truly,
G. W. L. WOODLAND,
City Marshal.

ABOUT MR. STRANGE.

The Tyler Courier-Times makes the following notice of the removal of Mr. J. C. Strange, our new express agent, from Tyler to this city:

"Mr. J. C. Strange, who has been employed as express messenger on the Lufkin branch of the Cotton Belt for some time, has been appointed agent of the Fargo Company at Nacogdoches, and has accepted the new position. Prior to being messenger, Mr. Strange was employed in the express office in this city. He is an efficient, capable young man and has numerous friends here who are glad to learn of his promotion. He is a son of Mr. W. A. Strange, superintendent of the Smith County Farm."

American orators have invariably been well versed in the language of the Bible. While the sun of American Independence was rising to set no more there appeared on the scene some of the greatest orators that ever lived, men, the power of whose eloquence it was impossible to resist. The most striking evidence of this power was demonstrated in Patrick Henry's famous speech in favor of his war resolutions in the convention at Richmond, March 23, 1775. In that great speech he sentence: "Gentlemen may cry peace, peace—but there is no peace," spread throughout the colonies and stirred the soul of every patriot in the land. But over twenty centuries before Patrick Henry was born the old prophet Jeremiah, in the land of the Benjamin, said: "For they have healed the hurt of the daughter of my people, slightly, saying, peace, peace; when there is no peace." Henry Grady's speeches abounded in Biblical allusions. So did Lincoln's and so does Bryan's. Why persons who desire to become acquainted with the sublimest thoughts known to human literature, clothed in the most beautiful and forcible language ever uttered, will neglect to read the Bible is something we cannot understand. In the early days of this Republic, and until the legal profession became commercialized, the Bible was a text book in nearly every law office in the country.—Col. Milner in Rusk County News.

ITS THE "HIT KILDEE THAT HOLLERS."

Well, when I threw I knew that I would hit some one, but the yelping came from a patch of weeds that I was not looking for it to come exactly; anyway, here comes another clod.

Yes, it's true that one of my family was tried to be "stuck," as they call it, for the simple fact that he was turning a corner and someone was about to run into him, and he made a quick turn and the car skidded and one wheel left the street slightly, the street being very slick, as it was raining. That is what the boy said, and his witness, and I just about as well believe him as those making the complaint. At the same time the car would just get about and could not have made a high rate of speed; all of which statement was made to the City Marshal, and he was fair and honest enough to see it and would not execute the papers. While I will acknowledge that my boy would have the "simlin head" if I were to turn him loose, but do you ever see my boys out with the car without someone, and if they do it is with the strongest caution, and if you do and have stop watch or speedometer evidence, backed up by witnesses whose word would be taken anywhere, then have me on the jury and I will stick them, or tie the court up until they do, or are turned loose; I mean the jury.

Now, I was talking to your City Marshal only yesterday, and told him that if they would do this they would get convictions, and he said yes, he knew it. You see, he knows the thing is not done right, so what is the use of jumping on me just because I had the nerve to come out and say something about it, when it is town talk that you hear on every corner, about this business, and why did I come through the papers? For the fact that if a fellow wants action on his goods he advertises; so this is my idea to get something done. It's true that I am not an officer, and as you say, guess it is my place to make complaints, but at the same time, if we have elected officers it is my place to see that they have proper means to get this evidence, and you can rest assured that if I am called on as a witness or jurymen, the other fellow will do the squirming. If you have the right way of coming at him, of which you will have to have before you can make a case—then make conviction in the city, why? You know.

A Car Owner.

THE PARSONS CASE

The News is informed that the notorious Frank Parsons case will come to trial in Center, Texas, Shelby County, on the 28th day of this month. The writer will not have to go very much out of his way to explain to the reading public just what this case consists of. It will be readily recalled that Mr. Frank Parsons was one of the valued employees of the H. E. & W. T. railway company up until the night that the depot of this company was destroyed by an explosion. After this momentous event Mr. Parsons was not seen in this locality until he arrived on the noon train here in this city some months ago, in company with Judge E. J. Mantooth, who had come in contact with the young man at some point in California. He was placed in jail here on certain charges, and his case was transferred to Shelby County. Mr. Parsons now being confined in the Center jail awaiting trial. The public will naturally await the outcome of the trial with much interest.—Lufkin News.

SENATOR S. M. KING FORMS NEW LAW PARTNERSHIP

Will be Associated with Messrs. Sonfield & Son at Beaumont and Move to That City.

Senator S. M. King, of this city, and one of the best known lawyers of East Texas, has formed a partnership for the practice of his profession with Mr. Leon Sonfield & Son at Beaumont, and the new firm will open an office in Beaumont the first of September.

Senator King will move to Beaumont some time this fall. Of the new firm, the Beaumont Enterprise of yesterday (Aug. 12) has the following to say:

"That a new law firm, including some of the best legal talent in Beaumont and in East Texas will enter the field at Beaumont was announced yesterday, when it became known that Leon Sonfield, for the past ten years a member of the firm of Smith, Crawford & Sonfield, Leon Sonfield Jr. and State Senator Steve M. King will open offices here, either on September 1 or September 15.

"The firm name will be known as Sonfield, King & Sonfield. Offices will be established on the third floor of the Gulf building, formerly occupied by the Gulf Pipe Line company, now being remodeled for office purposes.

"Mr. Sonfield has been one of Beaumont's leading lawyers since he came here from Galveston in 1901, following the storm at that place. Except for two years in Houston, he has remained in Beaumont continuously since that time. The two years he spent in Houston as a member of the firm of Campbell, Sonfield, Sewall & Myer.

"The senior Mr. Sonfield is known not only for his ability as an attorney, but for his public spiritedness. He has been in the front ranks in fighting for the rights of Beaumont as long as he has been here. It was he who wrote the state law, which was enacted, enabling the citizens of navigation districts to tax themselves for harbor and river improvements, and under this act, the Beaumont navigation district voted $490,000 bonds, to put up for an equal amount from the United States government, for the digging of the Neches channel.

"Mr. Sonfield's partnership with Stuart R. Smith and Walter J. Crawford will, of course, be dissolved upon his going into the new firm.

"State Senator King is now a member of King & Seale of Nacogdoches. He is credited with being one of the leading lawyers of East Texas. While he is yet a young man, the people of his district recognized his achievements and merits two years ago and elected him to the state senate. He has been in Beaumont frequently within the past few years and is already known to many citizens here. He will move to Beaumont within the course of a few weeks.

"The junior member of the firm, Leon Sonfield, is the youngest United States commissioner in this country. He was graduated from the law department of Columbia university, New York City, last June, and a few weeks later was appointed commissioner by United States Judge Gordon Russell. Before attending Columbia he received a degree from the University of Texas."

CONE JOHNSON IS TO QUIT HIS POST

Washington, Aug. 10.—Cone Johnson, solicitor of the state department, today announced his intention to resign before the end of the year. He said he intended to return to his home in

WITHIN THE REACH OF EVERY WOMAN—health and strength. They're brought to you by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Take this medicine, and there's a safe and certain cure for all your ailments, no matter how long they've been with you. It will build up your system, and invigorate your blood, and regulate and assist all the natural functions. At some period in her life, every woman needs a special tonic and nerve.

YELLOW FEVER CASES DISCOVERED ON SHIP

New Orleans, Aug. 10.—The two cases of yellow fever discovered among the crew of the Ward line steamer Berglum from Progreso, Yucatan, were not increased tonight and officers of the federal quarantine station, 90 miles below New Orleans, announced that the condition of the patients was not critical. Twenty-three other members of the crew and two passengers were placed where they will be held until the period of incubation, which is five days, has passed.

VACCINE WILL BE SENT FROM FORT WORTH

Stock owners generally, in Texas, will be interested in the decision of the Bureau of Animal Industry of the United States Department of Agriculture to make its local office at Fort Worth a distributing station for blackleg vaccine. The loss of young cattle from this disease in the State of Texas is considerable. It is being reduced to a minimum by those progressive stock owners who regularly vaccinate.

To secure the Government vaccine stock owners should make request for application blanks to Dr. L. J. Allen, 217 Live Stock Exchange Building, Fort Worth, Texas. Vaccine will be sent on request made on blanks prepared for the purpose, but only to actual stock owners for their cattle alone.

The Bureau of Animal Industry, through its Fort Worth office, is cooperating with the Live Stock Sanitary Commission of Texas, County Commissioner's Courts, and stock owners in the eradication of the cattle tick which transmits Texas or Splenic Fever. About 40 per cent of the original area quarantined in the United States for these ticks has been cleaned up under such cooperative efforts, and released from quarantine. Systematic dipping is the only method used. A great volume of this work is being done in Texas. Three quarters of a million head of cattle, in some twenty counties in Texas, are being dipped at regular intervals for tick eradication, in approximately 900 vats, most of which have been built since January 1st.

J. F. Vondersmith has sold his home place up North street to Douglass Patton, but retains possession for a few months.

Old Folks Saved From Suffering

Mrs. Mary A. Dean, Taunton, Mass., in her 87th year, says: "I thought I was beyond the reach of medicine, but Foley Kidney Pills have proven most beneficial in my case."
Mr. Sam A. Hoover, High Point, N. C., writes: "My kidney trouble was worse at night and I had to get up from five to seven times. Now I do not have to get up at night, and consider myself in a truly normal condition, which I attribute to Foley Kidney Pills, as I have taken nothing else."
Mrs. M. A. Bridges, Robinson, Mass., says: "I suffered from kidney ailments for two years. I commenced taking Foley Kidney Pills ten months ago, and though I am 61 years of age, I feel like a 18-year-old girl."
Foley Kidney Pills are tonic strengthening and blood-purifying and restore normal action to the kidneys and to a disordered and painful bladder. They act quickly and contain no dangerous or harmful drugs.

NACOGDOCHES RECEIVES HER FIRST NEW BALE

W. M. Corley of the Needmore Community Gets $141.48 For His First Bale.

Mr. W. M. Corley, a good farmer of the Needmore community, brought the first bale of new cotton for this season to town Friday afternoon, and received for it, together with the seed and a premium made up among the business men, $141.48.

Capt. Jno. S. Doughtie, who has officiated in this capacity thirty times in the past thirty-two years, sold the bale at auction to the highest bidder, who proved to be the well known mercantile firm of Mayer & Schmidt in a bid of 18-1-8c. The bale weighed 441 pounds, making the cotton bring $79.98. The oil mill bought the seed at the rate of $30 per ton, making them bring $12.30. A premium of $49.25 was made up among the business men, making a grand total of $141.48 the progressive farmer received.

The cotton was ginned by Mr. Bill Clevenger and put up in good shape which characterizes the work of his gin.

Mayer & Schmidt have the new bale on display in front of their store today where it has been viewed by many people.

The "first bale" is one day later in arriving this year than last, but as the crop is more backward this year than usual, it was not expected even at this time.

Those contributing to the premium were as follows:

- Commercial Guar'ty Bank $2.50
- Thomas & Richardson 2.50
- Oil Mill 2.50
- Stone Fort Nat. Bank 2.50
- F. & M. State Bank 2.50
- Mayer & Schmidt 2.50

Cotton is said to be opening very fast in the red land belt now, and within the next few days we may expect the crop to be coming in very rapidly, the fine price that is in prospect for both cotton and seed, and all classes are ready for the prosperity that seems to be dawning.

CAPTURED A FORGER.

Deputy Sheriff T. G. Vaught of Garrison captured a man named J. B. Hunter at Garrison Saturday night who is wanted on a charge of forgery in Sedalia county, and brought him to this city and delivered him to Sheriff Geo. M. Edwards of that county. The party was a man of good appearance and very few people would have taken him to be a man accused of crime.

THE NEW OFFICERS.

Contrary to the expectations of many, a large vote was polled in the primary Saturday.

Due to the fact that there are two or three boxes which did not make report in all the races, it is impossible for The Sentinel to give the total vote cast until the committee meets and canvasses the returns, which will be next Saturday. Enough is known, however, to make sure that the following have been elected:

For Sheriff—Luther Prince.
For Tax Collector—J. C. Melton.

For County Treasurer—W. Y. Hall.

For District Clerk—Normal B. Hall.

For County Superintendent—Public Instruction—G. B. Layton.

For Commissioner, Precinct No. 1—Jno. W. Byrd.

For Constable Precinct No. 1—J. L. Burrows.

For Commissioner Precinct No. 2—Mr. Bates.

For Commissioner Precinct No. 3—A. B. Stoddard.

For Commissioner Precinct No. 4—J. P. Mangham.

SOME NEW BULLETINS.

Concrete is ordinarily prepared by mixing gravel, sand and cement in certain definite proportions. A series of experiments now in progress at the University of Texas under the direction of Professor F. E. Giesecke seem to show that a different method produces better results. Preliminary information regarding the results of these experiments may be obtained free of charge by making application to Professor Giesecke, and a complete illustrated bulletin will be available at the end of the experiment, which will be three or four months.

A number of free bulletins on the mineral resources of Texas may be obtained by addressing Director J. A. Udden, University of Texas, Austin, Texas. A partial list of these bulletins is as follows: "A Report on the Geology of the Oil and Gas Fields of Wichita and Clay Counties," "The Fuels Used in Texas," "Potash in the Texas Permian," "Road Materials of Texas," "Origin of Texas Red Beds," "The Geology and Underground Waters of the Northern Llano Estacado." Other bulletins which are now in course of preparation, and which also will be sent free upon application when issued are: "A Report and General Map Covering the Geology of Texas," "A Report on the Thrall Oil Field," "A Report on Some Deep Borings in the State," "A Report on the Geology of Glass Mountains," "A Report on the Geology of Certain Parts of West Texas," "A Description of Some Permian Fossils," "A Geological Report on Hay and Coal Counties," "A Report on Lime and Cement."

The Bureau of Economic Geology and Technology is supported by the state, and all of its reports are available to any citizen wishing accurate information on the mineral resources of Texas.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured.

by local applications, they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by Catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, Ohio. ACCIDENTAL SHOOTING UP AT CARTHAGE

Carthage Register. Ellis Fite was accidentally shot Friday morning of last week by his cousin Horace Allison while the two were fishing on Sabine river near the Basin. The gun, a 22-calibre rifle, was discharged by accident at the moment young Allison shouldered it after shooting a crane. Ellis Fite was rushed to Carthage for surgical treatment, the shot having penetrated his right cheek and passed out just below the left eye. The wound is not serious and is healing rapidly. Both boys are about sixteen years old.

SENATOR S. M. KING IS MEMBER OF COMMITTEE

Prominent democrats of Texas have undertaken the task of raising $100,000 contribution for the campaign fund of the democratic administration, and have systematized the work by subdividing the state into districts, with a chairman in each district. State Senator S. M. King is the chairman of his senatorial district, and will get busy in the task of making a good show for his district.

Rev. O. T. Hotchkiss has been granted a two weeks vacation by his congregation, and left today for the coast country. He will go to Brazoria, and then out four miles to his friend, Captain McNeil on the Bernard river. There they will take Captain McNeil's boat, and go down the river thirty miles to the gulf and fish for game fish in the gulf, bayous and lakes. Mr. Hotchkiss has made this trip several times, and has had some exciting experiences that he delights to talk about. He will be gone ten or twelve days, and expects to be back with as marvelous fish stories as most fishermen have.

DEATH AT LINN FLAT.

A message was received in the city late Saturday afternoon bearing the sad news of the death of little Miss Ewel Weatherly, the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Weatherly, at Linn Flat.

The little girl was about nine years of age and died from the effects of a congestive chill. Her remains were laid to rest in the Linn Flat Cemetery Sunday afternoon in the presence of a large concourse of sorrowing relatives and friends, Rev. G. W. C. Self officiating.

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Murphey, uncle and aunt, Mr. D. K. Cason and family Messrs. K. P. Branch, Albert Brewer, C. C. Rhein and J. W. Christian of this city attended the funeral.

Mr. and Mrs. Weatherly belong to the good families of that section and have a host of friends in this city and elsewhere who deeply sympathize with them in the loss of their little daughter.

SHREVEPORT RATE CASE DECISION WAS MADE

Washington, Aug. 12.—Class rates and commodity rates between Shreveport, La., and points in Eastern Texas were today pronounced by the Interstate Commerce commission unreasonable and prejudicial to Shreveport and ordered readjusted. The decision is the culmination of the celebrated Shreveport rate case.

The commission also ruled that the railroads must not apply to transportation within Texas rules or minimum carload weights different from or lower than those applicable to freight between Shreveport and Texas points where they were prejudicial to Shreveport.

Readjustments and rates which will remove the discrimination where the Louisiana Railroad commission complained were ordered to become effective not later than Nov. 1.

Reasonable maximums were prescribed for all class rates and new rates were prescribed for many commodities. Principal among them are cattle, stone, machinery, fruits and vegetable, cotton seed and products, oil, print paper and some metals.

The case which practically affected the principal structure of rates in the so-called Shreveport territory has long been in litigation and once has been before the supreme court. The commission made an order which was expected to remove discriminations, but the railroads filed new rates, which the commission characterized as "alleged compliance" with its order, and immediately complaints were made upon which investigation was made, culminating in today's decision.

The case centered around whether the rates between Texas cities discriminated against Shreveport, which competes with them for business in Texas.

The commission's order cancels that made about a year ago, defining "Eastern Texas" to be points within which the rates from Shreveport were prescribed, and the new rates will, therefore, apply to all points in the state.

The order makes a new basis for rates, graded from 10 to "over, 400" miles, a scale to be applied on a single line with additional charges where more than a single road figures in the transportation.

The order requires the carriers to desist from maintaining after Nov. 1 their present classification provisions "between points in Texas," and they are directed to establish by that date between such points "the current western classification in effect at the time such traffic moves."

OLDER BUT STRONGER

To be healthy at seventy, prepare at forty, is sound advice, because in the strength of middle life we too often forget that neglected colds, or careless treatment of slight aches and pains, simply undermine strength and bring chronic weakness for later years. To be stronger when older, keep your blood pure and rich and active with the strength-building and blood-nourishing properties of Scott's Emulsion which is a food, a tonic and a medicine to keep your blood rich, alleviate rheumatism and avoid sickness. No alcohol in Scott's. Scott & Bowne, Bloomfield, N. J.

Returns from the boll weevil primaries in Smith and Nacogdoches counties show just what a five weeks' campaign of education can accomplish in the way of turning a poor crop outlook into a landslide for prosperity.—Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

The Jacksonville Progress says that politics "is" about a thing of the past in the "digging" of that vicinity. We have no controversy to make of the affair of a local condition, assuming that the contemporary knows what it is talking about.

Some are born to be dead timber in the forest; others must be driftwood on the streams; while others must resist wind and weather until a kind fate turns them to some useful purpose.—Temple Telegram.

Whither are we drifting, or are we bound for the tall timbers? Please let the worm turn.

The editor of the Sentinel, who is also the reporter, is very grateful to Hon. W. E. Thomason for assistance in gathering locals, and helping edit the paper today. Mr. Thomason possesses the elements of a good newspaper man, and is one of those generous hearted fellows who is ever ready to help in anything his hands find to do.

An exchange urges the old philosophy: "When the worst comes to the worst, it is up to us to make the best of it." Good if we knew, but by what diagram or process of reasoning may we know when these two undesirable and unknown quantities have met in the road of the rocky career from which one would do the heroic?

The joke may be old, but the local citizen, upon whom it was sprung did not furnish the information. Desiring to be pleasant with his land lady he said the butter was good what there was of it. Fearing that he had made a break in matters of good etiquette he hastened with the supplemental compliment that there was plenty of it such as it was.

Lufkin received her first bale of new cotton for the season this morning. What do you know about that?—Lufkin News.

The only thing we "know about that" is that it is several days behind the "first bale" received in Nacogdoches, and one day behind the second and third the Stone Fort City has received this season, giving us a "three-to-one" start.

There is no telling just where a linotype machine will make its next mistake, but it is safe to always count on them making one or more every now and then. This fact was brought forcefully to our attention after the paper was printed Saturday by an editorial reference to our splendid potato curing plant. The linotype made it "cursing" plant, and got it by the proofreader.—Longview Times-Clarion.

The dispatches in today's papers announce that the railroad strike is now to be put up to the president, the employers and employees failing to come to any agreement in their arbitration. If by some wise diplomacy, President Wilson can bring these factions to an agreement, it will be one of the greatest material achievements of recent years, and contribute another brilliant chapter to his record of good works.

THE CHEAPNESS OF HUMAN LIFE

Houston Post.

The costliest thing the world is a human life. Tears and suffering and midnight vigil, pain beyond man's knowledge, years of prayerful training, privations suffered in silence, disappointment and it may be death—these are some of the costs of human life.

The cheapest thing in the world is human life.

In the factories it is snuffed out when a few dollars would save it. On the battle fields in Europe it has only the value of an inch of barren soil. All the time the country lets it go to waste when millions on millions are spent that cows may be protected from charbon and that horses may not die of blind staggers.

Lives are cheap.

Sixteen hundred of them went down on the Titanic. The sinking of that ship was clearly a case of criminal negligence. The lack of life boats to save passengers and crew was clearly a case of criminal negligence.

The White Star line admitted its liability. Its owners and its officials were glad to settle the claims of the people who lost loved ones in the catastrophe. They did settle.

For $650,000 they were absolved of any further liability for the deaths of 1600 men, women and children. This is a trifle over $415.62 for each human life.

These were not common lives, either.

Those men and women were the cream of the earth's best. Their value to humanity was inestimable. They were singers and writers and thinkers—the world's greatest. Yet they were worth only $415.62 per head. That was what the White Star line paid for them.

Human life is cheap.

JUDGE G. F. INGRAHAM FINDS INCONSISTENCY

Editor of The Sentinel: Sitting in my office, without much to do, looking over the Democratic Platform lately adopted, my attention was attracted to Section 19, as published in the Dallas News:

"19. Home owning and home building being one of the essentials of a prosperous and patriotic citizenship, we demand that all notes representing and hereafter given for the purchase of a homestead in the town or country, and drawing not more than 6 per cent interest per annum, shall be exempt from taxation."

How does this help the man that is trying to buy a home? He buys the land and has to pay a tax on it. And the seller gets the notes, not the buyer, and they, the notes, are exempt from taxation. Won't the seller say, "If the notes don't bear more than 6 per cent interest, they are exempt from tax, so I will draw them that way and ask a little more for my land and thus make ten per cent, and not be burdened with paying tax on my notes, none of them draw more than 6 per cent." How will this help the purchaser? Respectfully,
GEO. F. INGRAHAM.

We are a firm believer in education. We believe in the erection of buildings that will not only afford the necessary opportunities for instruction, but that will be strictly modern in sanitary measures. We believe in employing the best of instruction for our children in their schooldays, and we believe in the election of trustees and other public school officials who will give their best thought, energy and action to this end. The right kind of a school board will employ the right kind of teachers, and they in their turn will produce from our unlettered youth the keenest intellectual minds of the future. Let us conserve the interests of our public schools of today for the instruction and control of our children in their young days will bespeak their standing of efficiency and success in the later years of life. If there is one single thing that can be done to improve educational conditions locally, that thing should be done promptly, cheerfully, and without quibble. Half measures of today will not make whole men and women of tomorrow.—Panola Watchman.

HAVE PURCHASED SITE FOR EX-SLAVE HOME

It will be remembered by readers of The Sentinel that the announcement was made a few days ago that a charter had been granted to A. C. Churchill and others for the establishment and operation of a home for the ex-Confederate slaves, to be located somewhere in this community.

The officers of the incorporation, composed of A. C. Churchill, president, Charley Blakey, secretary, and L. H. Nathan, treasurer, have purchased of the Commercial Guaranty Bank of this city, forty-nine acres of land located on the Nacogdoches and Shady Grove road, out some two miles from town, upon which they will establish the home.

The president of the institution informs The Sentinel that they will begin at once clearing the land, and will erect a sixteen room house to begin with. They hope to open the home by the coming October. He also says that money is being freely subscribed by the business men of Nacogdoches for the endowment of the institution, for which he is very grateful.

This is a most worthy enterprise, worthy the good wishes and financial support of all generous-hearted, right-thinking people, and The Sentinel wishes for it prosperity and full development of the noble purposes for which it is being promoted.

EDITOR IN ACCIDENT.

While attempting to open a window with a broken pane of glass at the office this morning, O. M. Gibbs' hand slipped and an artery in his left arm was punctured on the broken glass, causing much loss of blood before help could be had.

While Metcalf, a colored barber, with a shop below The Sentinel office, was rushing for a doctor, Willie Walters came to the rescue with boy scout first aid, and bandaged the member, checking the flow of blood until medical aid could be administered.

Willie was as deliberate and efficient as a trained surgeon, and the writer will ever remember him, as he will also Metcalf, for the quick and splendid work they did to relieve an alarming emergency.

DISTINGUISHED VISITORS COMING.

Hon. Geo. W. Terrell, H. D. Power and Agricultural Agent Phillips of Alto, 'phoned James D. Greer last night that they would be in Nacogdoches next Tuesday to be present at a seed breeding demonstration by him.

Mr. Greer has gained an enviable reputation as a seed breeder and is attracting statewide attention along this line.

O. P. Jopling, a native son of county, belonging to the well known Jopling family of Garrison, and who has been engaged in business at Trinity the past several years, was in the city yesterday.

BRILLIANT JOAQUIN LADY WRITES OF NACOGDOCHES

Mrs. Clara S. Ramsey, the brilliant and talented wife of Dr. W. A. Ramsey of Joaquin, visited Nacogdoches friends recently, and of her sojourn with us she has the following to say in the Timpson Times, of which she is a correspondent:

We stopped over in Nacogdoches recently on our return from a business trip to Houston. Our home there is always with the Easons. G. W. Eason, claim agent of H. E. & W. T. R. R., whose ability as a detective is without par. Long years of faithful service has caused complete breakdown, causing stroke of paralysis, but the malady was responding to medical aid and good nursing and we trust our old friend will soon be well. In this home we received hospital care of ye old fashioned kind, by old fashioned folks.—Mrs. Eason the Psalmist, "She looketh well after the ways of her own household," and the accomplished daughter Marian, is just as practical as she is intelligent and accomplished. Father and mother Onderdonk of the coast country, parents of Mrs. Eason, who were visiting, also contributed their share toward our pleasure. Mrs. Howland, sister of our Mr. Doolittle, came for us in her car, carrying us out to her home at the Frost-Johnson Mill, where Mr. Howland has a splendid position; the Company valuing his services so highly that they have built them a nice home, which is furnished most handsomely. Together with Mr. and Mrs. Howland we attended services at the Christian church conducted by the evangelist Dr. Brooks, and his singer. We were impressed with the unity which prevailed in christian circles, four of the ministers of the town singing a quartet. After services a ride over the city was another feature which endeared the "newly weds" to us, their happiness not being of the exclusive style, but of the inclusive as was demonstrated in various forms of cordiality during our stay in their lovely and happy home. Mrs. Ernest Simpson, who has been introduced to you previously through the columns of the Times as a woman "worth while"—the friend of my own sainted mother, in the days of long ago, when she boarded in the home before I could remember, down in historic old Shelbyville, when Prof. and Mrs. Huntington established a college or rather a seat of learning, the like of which existed no where else in the whole country. Among the pupils who came from far and near was Miss Fannie L. Robinson of Melrose, Nacogdoches county, a lovely and gifted lady, whose brilliancy gave to her the highest honors in her class, and whose valedictory brought tears to every eye and is talked of among the few remaining students of their alma mater. In her delightful company, we sped over fine roads through a beautiful strip of country, a distance of six miles until we reached the most splendid country home my eyes have ever beheld, but before reaching our destination, several tenant houses were passed, occupied by neat, cleanly looking colored folks, and our companion remarked, "It's just live slavery times with us, these are our negroes and they all have buggies and horses and are perfectly contented and happy." On approaching the big white house, set upon a hill, the terraced acres of green lawn enclosed with massive iron fence, we knew that in reality, history was repeating itself, as Col Branch of San Antonio had told us how in the long ago the country was full of such homes when cotton was 15c. All the affluence, culture and wealth was found in the country and the folks who lived in towns were called "poor white trash." To return to my story, notwithstanding the stories of Mrs. Simpson's home, of which I had heard much, was certainly not prepared for what actual observation taught me and we knew instinctively that there was a "man behind the gun" and so there was in the person of her husband whom we found, aside from being a successful farmer and business man, delightfully social and co-operating with the wife in making such a heavenly place of the home. Every nook and corner of this well ordered place was as clean as a floor. Not a weed to be seen; the grass as green as springtime and nicely mowed. A gasoline engine was installed in a house, a portion of which was used for tools. There was water throughout the house, a well equipped bathroom. The negroes could turn on water for the weekly wash and said to me "Yes Miss, we've got a lovely home and we would not leave it to go nowhere." Because of her education, years of experience as a teacher, her continued interest in humanity, Mrs. Simpson does not grow old, and is still a handsome, well-preserved woman. Her life has been a blessing to others. She is prominent in club work and is a member of the Woman's Suffrage club of Nacogdoches—yet is a capable housewife and true homemaker. This story is written to stimulate better rural condition. The country home could be made attractive—then the boys and girls would not crave to move to town. This is an age when culture is essential, on the farm or in the country life. Let the slogan be, not only better country homes but beautiful ones.

In Austin I had the privilege of attending a reception and tea at the suburban home of E-Governor Pease, the grandeur of which paled in comparison with "Rose Wild" the name so appropriately bestowed by the girls who frequent this home, in house parties—on account of the roses runing riot in profusion here and there. There were melons, peaches and figs on the outside, gigantic shade trees. Spacious rooms with hard oiled floors and oriental rugs. In the parlor a Steinway piano, mandolin and violin, for two noble sons have blessed this union, one a graduate of Galveston Medical college, the other of Electrical Engineering, University of the other violin. The walls were adorned with paintings, the work of the mother. A library with a nice selection of books and numberless magazines and periodicals of first class literature, which were read as evinced by the conversation of the famgave to her the highest honors. The dining room was perhaps the most attractive room of all, with meals served in most appetizing and artistic manner. Other Nacogdoches people who extended appreciated courtesies were Mr. and Mrs. Allan Seale, Mr. and Mrs. June C. Harris, who took us car riding over the city, also met former friend and schoolmate Mrs. W. F. Price, Mrs. M. J. Harvey with whom we used to board in our teaching days, Mrs. Millard, who was Miss Pauline Powell, the O. M. Gibbs family who are doing splendidly, and others. We left Nacogdoches reluctantly, much impressed with her civic pride and progressive spirit and in people.

LINOTYPE MACHINE THIRTY YEARS HENCE

Just what the linotype will be like in 1946 and what it will be doing the way of speed and adaptability, is a business secret. The editor of the Mergenthaler Lines o' Type News says that he is not prepared to deny that it will be trotting around collecting its own news and advertisement copy.

Reporters and advertising solicitors should not hasten to commit suicide or murder because of this prophecy. By that time advertising will, no doubt, be so plentiful and advertisers so enthusiastic that the advertising solicitor will be needed more than ever to placate those whose announcements the newspaper is obliged to leave out.

As to the reporters, the world will be ever so much bigger and there will be ever so much more news to write. In 1886 there was no news from Alaska, because there was nobody up there to make any. The Philippines were so newsless that even Manila did not appear in a date line very often in a year. A Guam date line would have been queried by the proofreader.

It seems hardly a daring assumption that the newspapers of 1946 will contain daily items by wireless from new metropolitan areas in the valley of the Euphrates and Tigris, and from brand new towns in deserts now nameless along the branching mileage of a European-Asiatic railroad.

This does not seem to be a very fantastic prediction; the only really fantastic and apparently incredible prophecy that the Line o' Type News can offer is that by 1946 the tariff question will have disappeared from the news. That does sound like a whopper.

FROM G. B. LAYTON.

To the People of Nacogdoches County:

It is with gratitude that I acknowledge the loyal support of the voters in the primaries. Such a decisive majority is an expression of confidence which I shall always remember with pleasure. I hope to have the cooperation of the teachers, trustees and people in making a progressive administration for better schools. It shall be my ambition to give my best efforts to the work.

G. B. LAYTON.

SELLS SILVER BARS FOR $821.80.

Nocona, Montague Co., Texas, Aug. 13.—Mr. Palmer, the farmer living near Nocona, who was reported to have played up a large quantity of silver bars in his field, said to be worth between $100,000 and $200,000, has returned from Denver, Colo., where he took the bars of silver. In all, Mr. Palmer found 187 bars of metal, containing silver and zinc, and these, when assayed, brought him 55c an ounce, or a total of $821.80. The bars contained much less silver than at first thought.

MR. BURROWS IS GRATEFUL

I take this method of giving expression to my thanks and assurances of my appreciation for the splendid vote I received in Saturday's primary, through which I was elected constable to serve the good people of this precinct again.

As a more substantial evidence of my appreciation you will always find me at my post of duty, ready to discharge every obligation incumbent upon me in a fair and impartial manner, and nothing will be left undone which I can do toward making you a good officer.

Gratefully,
J. L. BURROWS.

A Summer Laxative and Liver Regulator.

Po-Do-Lax is a liquid laxative—mild and effective. It arouses the liver, increases the bile, does not gripe and acts as a general tonic to the whole system. Aids nature to clear and purify the blood—as a laxative tonic for summer Po-Do-Lax has no equal. What was "good enough for my father is good enough for me" never applied with more force than that of Po-Do-Lax for the liver. An old tried remedy. Get a bottle, take a dose to night and see how much better you feel. At all druggists. dw

FOUR PEOPLE DROWNED NEAR HUNTSVILLE

Huntsville, Texas, August 13.—In a fruitless effort to save from drowning his own two daughters and one of a neighbor, Ed Berry, manager of the waterworks here for a number of years, lost his life in Harmon's creek twelve miles north of here Sunday afternoon. Seeing the three little girls in danger Mr. Berry dived into the deep hole, his head struck a rock and he was not seen again until after the bodies of the girls had been recovered.

The dead are Gladys Berry, 10 years old; Jewel Berry, 14 years old; Woody Francis, 12 years old, daughter of Dr. W. F. Francis, also of Huntsville, and Mr. Berry about 54 years old.

Mr. and Mrs. Berry, accompanied by their daughters, the little Francis girl and an older sister, Miss Lois Francis, drove to the creek for an outing. The little girls, watched from the bank by the older persons, were wading, and apparently stepped off a ledge into water at least fifteen feet deep. The screams of Mrs. Berry and Lois Francis attracted the attention of Mr. Berry, who immediately jumped to the rescue of the girls.

A large crowd from Sunday recreation parties nearby gathered at the scene of the tragedy, but it was an hour before divers recovered the bodies of the little girls. With the rapid spread of the news, many good swimmers were soon on hand volunteering their services, but the water was deep and the task was difficult. After the three little girls' bodies were recovered, the body of Mr. Berry was found near the spot into which he dived.

All of the bodies were taken to Huntsville, where they were prepared for burial Monday afternoon in special caskets of similar design.

W. H. Sloan's Liniment Relieve Pain.

Try it and see—one application will prove more than a column of claims. James S. Ferguson, Phila., Pa., writes: "I have had wonderful relief since I used Sloan's Liniment on my knees. To think after all these years of pain one application gave relief. Many thanks for what your remedy has done for me." Don't keep on suffering, apply Sloan's Liniment where your pain is and notice how quick you get relief. Penetrates without rubbing. Buy it at any Drug Store. 25c. dw

THE STRIKE CONFERENCE.

Washington, Aug. 14.—President Wilson conferred today with both parties to the threatened countrywide railway strike and tonight it appeared that sufficient foundation had been laid to furnish a working basis for a settlement of the differences of the employers and employees.

The president will meet both sides again tomorrow.

At the conclusion of the day's conferences the president issued this statement: "I have met both sides and have gone over the case with utmost frankness. I shall not be able to judge until tomorrow whether we have found a feasible basis for settlement."

The foremost questions are what shall be arbitrated, if arbitration is to be resorted to, and what form of arbitration shall be adopted. Representatives of the employers maintain that their demand for an 8-hour day and time and a half for overtime is the only concrete proposition under discussion. They insisted to the president, in their conferences today that the railroads make some definite counter proposals. If the railroads submitted some proposed form of settlement, they said, they would be ready to discuss negotiations further.

The employees are understood to be ready to consent to the principles of arbitration if the contingent proposals of the managers, which the men claim involve the rights they have won in 30 years' effort, are eliminated from consideration and if arbitration is conducted by a board on which all the four brotherhoods are represented.

Cure For Cholera Morbus.

"When our little boy, now seven years old, was a baby he was cured of cholera morbus by Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy," writes Mrs. Sydney Simmons, Fair Haven, N. Y. "Since then other members of my family have used this valuable medicine for colic and bowel troubles with good satisfaction and I gladly endorse it as a remedy of exceptional merit." Obtainable everywhere. dw

MR. PRINCE GRATEFUL.

I take this method of extending my thanks and assurances of my appreciation to the good people of Nacogdoches county who elected me sheriff in the primary Saturday.

As a more substantial evidence of my appreciation it will be my ambition, and I will leave nothing undone to make you a good public servant in the capacity in which I have been elected.

Gratefully,
LUTHER PRINCE.

Liver Trouble.

"I am bothered with liver trouble about twice a year," writes Joe Dingman, Webster City, Io—and back and an awful soreness in my stomach. I heard of Chamberlain's Tablets and tried them. By the time I had used half a bottle of them I was feeling fine and had no signs of pain." dw

CARD OF THANKS.

I am deeply grateful for the splendid vote I received in Saturday's primary which gives me the democratic nomination for district clerk of Nacogdoches county for the ensuing two years, and take this method of expressing my appreciation.

In return for your splendid consideration of me, I will work faithfully to serve you efficiently and truly in the trust you have committed into my hands.

Gratefully,
NORMAL B. HALL.

COTTON FUTURES ACT.

Washington, D. C., August 14.—The annual appropriation bill for the Department of Agriculture just passed by Congress contains a reenactment, effective September 1, 1916, of the United States cotton futures act, with a few changes. Section 11 of the present law, which taxes orders sent abroad for the making of future contracts on foreign cotton exchanges unless certain condition were complied with, will be omitted.

A new section known as 6a is inserted in the bill, which provides an optional contract under which parties may, by agreement, without being subject to tax, contract that under certain specified conditions the buyer may demand delivery of the basis grade named in the contract.

Another modification which will be of interest and assistance to the trade is the authority conferred on the Secretary of Agriculture, in case of disputes, to include in his findings, even though only one question be referred, a complete classification of the cotton for the purpose of delivery on future contracts. Under the old law, the authority of the Secretary was confined to a determination of the specific question of grade, quality, or length of staple referred to him by the parties. In other words, if the dispute involved grade only, and the cotton was found to be gin-cut, which is a question of quality, the Secretary had no authority to include a statement as to gin-cut in his findings.

Government officials in charge of the matter call special attention to the facts that the new act will not become effective until September 1, 1916, and that the old act of August 18, 1914, will remain in full force until the beginning of next month.

The rules and regulations of both the Treasury and the Agricultural Departments, with slight modifications and additions necessitated by the changes made in the law, will be reissued shortly after approval of the bill by the president, so that there will be no disturbance whatsoever to the trade. The official cotton standards of the United States, heretofore established, will be readopted and promptly promulgated, so as to be in force when the new act becomes operative.

A Doctor's Remedy For Coughs.

As a cure for coughs and colds Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey combines these remedies in just the right proportion to do the most good for summer coughs or colds. A trial will prove the value of this splendid cough medicine. Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey soothes the irritation, stops your cough, kills the cold germs and does you a world of good. A 25c bottle will more than convince you—it will stop your cough. At druggists. dw

NEIGHBORLY ADVICE.

Freely Given by a Nacogdoches Citizen.

When one has suffered tortures from a bad back and found relief from the aches and pains, that person's advice is of untold value to friends and neighbors. The following neighborly advice comes from a Nacogdoches woman.

Mrs. John H. Cox, N. Fredonia St., Nacogdoches, says: "La Grippe left my kidneys in a bad fix. I had a dull ache in my back until I was almost exhausted. I used Doan's Kidney Pills only a short time before I got fine results. I steadily became better and haven't had to use them since." 50c. at all dealers. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgs. Buffalo, N. Y.

AN ENJOYABLE RECEPTION

From Tuesday's Daily. A most enjoyable reception was had at the Airdome of the Christian church last evening when friends gathered with greetings of welcome to the new members, and words of appreciation to the evangelists who had labored so faithfully in the community.

Many interesting talks were made by different people, good music was discoursed, and at the conclusion of the program punch was served, all combining to make the enjoyment of the evening replete.

In acknowledging the tributes paid to him and his co-workers, Dr. Brooks paid many pretty compliments to Nacogdoches and her people, saying, among other things, that he had enjoyed the best co-operation from the people of other churches in this town that he had ever enjoyed at any other place, and foresees the day when great results in a spiritual way will be accomplished as a result of this splendid unity of purpose in fighting the common evils of sin.

Mrs. O. T. Hotchkiss and son, O. T., left today for Palestine for a visit to the family of Rev. D. H. Hotchkiss, who is pastor of the Centenary Methodist church in that city. They will be away some two weeks.

D. 1916, the same being the 4th day of September, A. D. 1916, then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 10th day of July, A. D. 1916, in a suit, numbered on the docket of the said Court as No. 409, wherein Lellie Anderson is Plaintiff, and said petition alleging that on or about the day of A. D. 1915 Plaintiff and Defendant were lawfully married to each other in Nacogdoches County, Texas, and thereafter lived together as husband and wife until on or about the 15th day of February A. D. 1916, when Plaintiff was compelled to abandon Defendant with the intention of remaining away from him.

D. 1916, the same being the 4th day of September, A. D. 1916, then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 6th day of December, A. D. 1915 in a suit, numbered on the docket of said Court No. 384, wherein Hattie March, is Plaintiff and Seymour March is Defendant, and said petition alleging that she is an actual bona fide inhabitant of the State of Texas, and has resided in Nacogdoches County, Texas, for more than six months next preceding the filing of this suit.

That on or about the day of January, A. D. 1896, Plaintiff and Deendant were lawfully married to each other and lived and co-habited together as man and wife until on or about the day of September 1911, when Defendant abandoned this Plaintiff without cause on her part, and with the intention of permanently abandoning her and not living with her again as his wife, and they have not so lived together as man and wife since the date of their separation.

Plaintiff alleges that she at all times made the Defendant a kind and affectionate wife; that more than three years have elapsed since the date of their separation, therefore, she pleads the statute of three years abandonment for the dissolution of said marital contract.

Premises considered Plaintiff prays the Court that the defendant Seymour March be cited to appear and answer this petition; that upon a hearing hereof she have judgment dissolving said marriage contract, for costs of suit and such other and further relief both special and general as she will ever pray.

Herein fail not, but have before said Court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and the seal of said Court, at office in Nacogdoches, this the 25th day of July, A. D. 1916.

CALOMEL DYNAMITES A SLUGGISH LIVER

Crashes into sour bile, making you sick and you lose a day's work.

Calomel salivates! It's mercury. Calomel acts like dynamite on a sluggish liver. When calomel comes into contact with sour bile it crashes into it, causing cramping and nausea.

If you feel bilious, headachy, constipated and all knocked out, just go to your druggist and get a 50 cent bottle of Dodson's Liver Tonic, which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your money.

If you take calomel today you'll be sick and nauseated tomorrow; besides, it may salivate you, while if you take Dodson's Liver Tonic you will wake up feeling great, full of ambition and ready for work or play. It's harmless, pleasant and safe to give to children; they like it.

R. R. STRIKE AVERTED

New York, Aug. 9.—The threatened strike of the 400,000 railway employes of the United States was averted today when the railroad brotherhoods accepted a proffer of the United States Board of Mediation and Conciliation to mediate their differences with the railroads.

The national conference managers today rejected the men's demands and proposed that they be mediated by the federal tribunal. The brotherhoods refusing to join in an appeal to the tribunal, the railroads made an individual appeal. The federal board, which is in session here, then offered its services to the brotherhoods.

O. L. McKnight of this city has been offered and has accepted the traveling position for the Wichita Mill & Elevator Co., of Wichita Falls, to succeed the late J. A. Bennett, who was killed in a railway accident a week ago. Mr. McKnight was a special friend of Mr. Bennett and has been an extensive patron of the company who now offers him a place with their sales department. The offer of the position came unsolicited and is quite a compliment to him, since Mr. Bennett enjoyed the reputation of being the best salesman for this line in the state. Mr. McKnight announces he will make Center his headquarters and will not move his family away from here, neither will he close his business office. It will continue in the hands of Zed Bridges, who will have charge of the office and conduct the business in the absence of Mr. McKnight. While the traveling position will keep Mr. McKnight on the road a great deal of the time, yet he will be in here often and will maintain his home here and continue, as has always, to boost Center and East Texas. The people of Center will congratulate the mill company in securing this splendid business man to take the place of their head-man on the road, and will advise them in advance that he will make good with them—Center Champion.

ARCHIE REESE DROWNS NEAR LONGVIEW, TEXAS

Longview, Texas, Aug. 9.—Archie Reese, aged 16 years, was drowned in Sabine river last night and the body recovered two hours later. He was in swimming and no one saw him at the exact moment of drowning. He was a son of Dave Reese, a farmer living five miles from here in Harrison county, and was related to several families living in Longview.

UNITED STATES ACCEPTS THE MEXICAN PROPOSAL

Washington, D. C., Aug. 9.—Formal announcement was made today by Acting Secretary Polk of the acceptance of General Carranza's proposal for a joint international commission to seek a solution of border disputes and to discuss other matters which may help clarify relations between the United States and Mexico. Only the time and place for the conference remain to be decided.

Secretary Lane, of the interior department, will head the American commission, supported by Associate Justice Brandeis of the supreme court, and a third commissioner whose name will be announced later. A telegram asking the third man to serve was sent today by President Wilson.

The Mexican commissioners were named some days ago. Luis Cabrera, minister of finance in the Carranza government, is heading the delegation. This made necessary the appointment of a member of President Wilson's cabinet in the American membership.

Today announcement followed a brief conference between Mr. Polk and Eliseo Arredondo, Carranza's ambassador-designate. Assurances were given by Mr. Arredondo that General Carranza was in complete accord with suggestions of the Washington government that the discussion of the commissioners be given the broadest possible scope. The ambassador said that his government regarded its recent note as a full answer of acceptance of Secretary Polk's suggestions that the scope be broadened.

As it begins its task the commission will be required first to reach some conclusion on the specific points outlined by General Carranza in his original proposal. The first subject treated under this view would be the withdrawal of American troops from Mexico, to be followed by negotiation of a protocol covering future military operations along the border.

The immediate military situation on the border disposed of the commission will be ready to proceed with its remaining specific task, investigation to determine whether interests desiring intervention had inspired border raids.

EDITOR WORTHAM WILL BE CANDIDATE FOR GOVERNOR

Houston Post.

Louis J. Wortham of Fort Worth admitted Thursday night that he had given assurances to a number of friends that he will be a candidate for governor in 1918.

"I do not wish to be understood as making definite announcement of my candidacy," said Colonel Wortham, "but it is a fact that a number of my friends who were present at the State democratic convention discussed the matter and requested me to become a candidate.

"No native son of Texas can be unmindful of the great honor it is even to have his name mentioned in connection with the governorship of this State, and such a request is not to be passed upon lightly. I am giving the matter the careful consideration it deserves, and in the meantime have assured my friends that I shall announce my candidacy at the proper time."

Colonel Wortham is a native of Texas and has been closely identified with many movements looking toward the development of the resources of the State. He is editor in chief of the Fort Worth Star Telegram and president of the Wortham-Carter Publishing company which owns

Farm Telephone Saved Child's Life

One of the Children fell into a water tank and was rescued unconscious and apparently lifeless.

Dr. and Mrs. E. E. Leak of San Augustine are in the city visiting with relatives and friends and will spend several days in the county. Dr. Leak is a native of this county, moving to Center some years ago where he reared his family, and moved to San Augustine about a year ago. He has been in bad health for the past two or three years but is slowly improving now and has many friends over the county who trust that he will be fully restored and again enjoy his former vigor. Previous to his breakdown, he was one of the most prominent and active physicians of East Texas, and for many years enjoyed a very large practice. Mrs. Leak is also a native of the county, belonging to the well known Pleasant family, and she, too, has many relatives and friends in the county who will be pleased to see her again.

CAROLINA SOLDIERS PAY VISIT TO LONGVIEW

Six hundred National Guardsmen from North and South Carolina stopped over in Longview for a short time yesterday evening and were permitted to get out and take a look at the city. They marched from the Junction up town and after spending a short time in the city they were permitted to break ranks and race back to their cars at the Junction. They seemed to enjoy the brief exercise and were as frisky as a lot of boys could be.—Longview Times-Clarion.

C. E. Whitson, who is stationed with the Timpson military company at Harlingen came in yesterday, having been called here on account of District court now in session at Center. Mr. Whitson assisted in apprehending the robbers that attempted to blow the safe in the Cotton Delt State Bank here some time ago, and he is here for the purpose of telling the grand jury what he knows about the case. He says the boys are getting along fine on the border; they are getting plenty to eat; everybody seems satisfied and well pleased with the treatment accorded to them.—Timpson Times.

HOLD INSTITUTES BEFORE OPENING

Austin, Tex., Aug. 10.—Holding of county teachers' institutes early in September, before the opening of the schools for the fall term, is urgently recommended by Prof. W. F. Doughty, state superintendent of public instruction, to all superintendents in Texas. The reasons assigned by State Superintendent Doughty for holding these institutes early are: It will prove a real time-saver for the children who must at that time be working in the fields gathering the crops; it will give the county superintendent an opportunity at the right time to get better acquainted with the teachers and to explain his plans for the year before the school begins, and by holding these institutes early in September the teachers will carry with them to their schools the benefits of the institute to give impetus to the work of the year.

The primary purpose of the county teachers' institute is the professional improvement of the teacher in order that the schools of the county may have better qualified teachers; also to instill into teachers higher educational ideals, to develop a better understanding among teachers of the science and the art of teaching; to discuss vital and difficult problems and devise ways and means for their solution, and to organize all the educational factors of the county into an aggressive and effective force for educational advancement.

"The state department of education," says Superintendent Doughty, "desires to lend its assistance in every possible way to make the work of the county teachers' institutes productive of the greatest possible amount of good to the school interests in the state."

Mr. Doughty, in this connection, also recommends an outline of the program for holding such institutes.

STRIKE NEGOTIATION IS NOW IN DEADLOCK

New York, Aug. 10.—President Wilson will be called upon to take a hand in the settlement of the differences between the four railroad brotherhoods and their employers, unless an apparent deadlock in the negotiations which developed today can be broken, it was declared here tonight by representatives of both factions.

After it heard the contentions of the workers and later those of the railroad managers, the United States board of mediation and conciliation was undecided tonight as to when it would meet again with representatives of either side. Martin A. Knapp, one of the federal mediators, when asked whether there had been any change in the situation since the change in board began its work replied:

"There is a deadlock on the face of it. Whether we can change it lies in the bosom of the future.

"We are going to consider tonight what the next step will be. What concessions if any the railroad managers offered to make to the men could not be ascertained. The mediators and the managers met secretly this afternoon, remaining in conference with them more than three hours. Two guards were stationed outside the rooms in a hotel where the meeting was held.

The mediators earlier in the day heard the side of the brotherhoods, whose chief demand is for an eight-hour working day and time and a half for overtime. It was said the brotherhoods would remain firm in this position.

It Always Helps

says Mrs. Sylvania Woods, of Clifton Mills, Ky., in writing of her experience with Cardui, the woman's tonic. She says further: "Before I began to use Cardui, my back and head would hurt so bad, I thought the pain would kill me. I was hardly able to do any of my housework. After taking three bottles of Cardui, I began to feel like a new woman. I soon gained 35 pounds, and now, I do all my housework, as well as run a big water mill.

I wish every suffering woman would give a trial. I still use Cardui when I feel a little bad, and it always does me good."

Headache, backache, side ache, nervousness, tired, worn-out feelings, etc., are sure signs of womanly trouble. Signs that you need Cardui, the woman's tonic. You cannot make a mistake in trying Cardui for your trouble. It has been helping weak, ailing women for more than fifty years.

WAS HERE WITH THE LITTLE RESCUED BOY

Deputy Sheriff M. D. Needham of Henderson was an arrival to the city yesterday, and remained over until today, having in custody a little white boy some three or four years old who was taken away from a negro woman at Henderson some days ago.

The negro woman had been in the vicinity of Henderson several weeks with the little fellow, and thinking something wrong, the officers took charge of the boy until an investigation could be made.

The little fellow is of very fair skin, light hair and blue eyes, and is a very bright, active boy, bearing all the lines of a white child, and a look at him would convince anyone that there is no negro blood in him. The woman claims that he was given to her by a negro woman of Pineland, in Sabine county. The officers of Sabine county made some investigation, and advise the Rusk county authorities that the child must belong to the Pineland woman, but Mr. Needham is not satisfied, and is taking the child back to Sabine county where he will make a further investigation on his own account before turning the child loose.

People of Nacogdoches who viewed the little boy are universal in the verdict that it is a perfect white child, and concur with Mr. Needham that there is something wrong somewhere that smacks of kidnap or a veiled disposal which should be very thoroughly investigated back to the actual birth of the child before turning him over to the negro again.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee G. Carter are rejoicing over the arrival of an eight-pound girl, who put in an appearance at their home last night. Lee was at his office today, but unable to attend to any legal business owing to the fact that he occupied all his time telling about the baby—Jacksonville Progress.

John Thrash, a former citizen of the Nacogdoches country who has been making his home at Garrison the past several years, has been spending the day in the city.

J. M. Youngblood and Miss Anna Neel were united in marriage last Saturday afternoon at Center. Both were visiting relatives in Timpson, and made the trip to Center where they were made husband and wife. Mr. Youngblood is a resident of Haskell and Mrs. Youngblood resided with her parents at Trawick before her marriage. She lived in this city a number of years, and has a host of friends here. They left on the 10:37 train this morning for Haskell, where they will make their future home, and they carry with them the best wishes of their many friends in this city.—Timpson Times.

Rev. E. D. Hamner of Athens is in the city today.

AN AGED CITIZEN DIES VERY SUDDENLY.

From Wednesday's Daily.

The people of Nacogdoches were greatly shocked this morning when the news spread that Uncle Dave Lee was dead.

The old gentleman was sitting on his front porch, to all appearances as hale and hearty as usual, when he suddenly collapsed and died instantly.

Mr. Lee came to Nacogdoches from Alabama in the fall of 1854, and has made his home here continuously since, residing the greater portion of the time at the place at which he died. He was eighty-eight years of age, and has been a man of wonderful vitality, going where he pleased, and getting about with the ease of the average man many years younger, up to the very minute death stilling—and in the hour of death he was spared affliction and suffering. During the war between the states he responded to the call of his country, and was a valiant soldier in General Green's brigade. Of this service and many other good traits and historical reminiscences of his life we reserve comment for Dr. J. E. Mayfield, his friend of many years, who is out of the city today.

Mr. Lee is survived by his widow and three children, with whom a great host of friends enter into profound sympathy.

Henry P. Schmidt of the store of Mayer & Schmidt has returned from a visit to the markets of New York where he went to purchase fall and winter goods for his house. In speaking of conditions as he knows them, Mr. Schmidt is very optimistic with the outlook for a prosperous fall and winter business in this country, and in contemplation of this condition purchased a large and varied assortment of new goods for his house, which will soon begin to arrive.

G. E. Seale of White City has recently moved his family to the city to take citizenship with us. Mr. Seale has purchased the restaurant on West Main street from Fezell and Brantley and will continue the business. He expects to arrange his restaurant for the patronage of the ladies as well as men, and make it an attractive place for the hungry public. Mr. Brantley will remain with the enterprise, in charge of the kitchen.

The Primary Department of the Baptist Church of this city Sunday, raised an offering of $19.85 for Buckner's Orphan Home. This is a nice offering for one class to raise, and the members composing it are to be congratulated. There has been an epidemic of typhoid fever in the orphan home lately, which has made the expenses heavier than usual, and the Baptist people over the state are making an extra effort to give relief. There is no more worthy institution in the state than Buckner's Orphan Home, and the good people of all denominations feel an interest in its welfare and the great work it is doing.

MORE OIL AT CHIRENO.

News has reached the city that Mrs. Hardee has struck oil on land belonging to J. M. Weeks. We have no particulars as to the amount of oil found, etc., but the news is encouraging and we give this limited report for what it is worth.

Leonard Lyles of McAlester Ok. who is visiting his parents of near Cushing, is in the city today. Leonard is a former Nacogdoches county boy having left Cushing four years ago and we are glad to find that he is getting along nice and well pleased with his new home.

THE MEETING CLOSSES.

From Monday's Daily.

The protracted meeting of the Christian church, which has been in progress the past six weeks, was brought to a close Sunday night.

During the progress of the meeting Dr. Brooks and his singer, Prof. Simonds, have endeared themselves to the people of Nacogdoches who regret the arrival of the time for them to go away. Dr. Brooks is a scholarly, consecrated minister, who is greatly in earnest in the noble work upon which he is engaged, and during his sojourn with us made a great effort to save all the lost souls of the community. He both reasoned and pleaded with them, and if any failed to heed his good counsel it was no fault of his. He also made many warm personal friends in the community who hope that a good fate will bring him this way again some time in the future. Prof. Simonds, leader of the music, is also very much in earnest in the work in which he is engaged, and is a talented musician who kept up the interest and efficiency in his part of the work.

From Nacogdoches Dr. Brooks and Prof. Simonds go to Henderson where they will engage in another campaign. These gentlemen held a great meeting at Henderson last summer, bringing many souls to repentance and establishing a good, live church which has since flourished. They will remain over tonight to attend the reception to the new members, departing tomorrow, and in taking their leave they will carry with them the good wishes of all Nacogdoches people.

C. BLANKENSHIP.

VERY ENCOURAGING AND TEN REASONS

From present indications, our fall attendance will be the heaviest in the history of the institution. We are now getting from sixty to seventy-five requests for catalogues from those interested in attending. There are several reasons why those desiring to thoroughly prepare themselves for a successful business career should select our institution. FIRST, we meet the demands of the business office or we would not be enrolling two thousand students annually from over half the states in the union. SECOND, we have our own specially prepared and copyrighted text books and methods of teaching. This enables us to give a better training in less time and at less expense. THIRD, our work is practically all arranged on the individual plan of instruction, enabling each student to advance as rapidly as his ability will permit. The dull student is not crowded by the fast one. The fast student held back on account of the dull one and discouraged. Each works to his full capacity and is delighted with his work. This method also enables a student to enter any day in the year and take up his work to the very best advantage. FOURTH, you will associate with a splendid class of ambitious, industrious young men and women. FIFTH, our free Employment Department is of great value to many of our graduates in securing positions. SIXTH, our Service Department is of exceptional value to the graduates in after life. It is free to all and very thorough. SEVENTH, we have one of the most most competent corps of teachers to be found anywhere. They know how to make a student's stay pleasant as well as profitable. EIGHTH, we give thorough courses in Bookkeeping, Shorthand, Steno-Typewriting, Telegraphy, Cotton Classification and Business Administration and Finance. This gives you a wide range of subjects from which to select, something to fit you for the line of work you most prefer. NINTH, we have shown the superiority of our training by placing our students in the very best positions to be had in commercial, state and national affairs. Also by repeatedly winning first honors on our exhibit of students' work at three different state fairs. TENTH, Tyler is a beautiful, moral, healthful city of fifteen thousand high-class citizens, the metropolis and educational center of East Texas.

Write today for catalogue and begin making your arrangements at the earliest possible date to enter America's largest, most thorough and complete business training school. Fill in your name _____ Address _____ Course interested in _____ and mail to the Tyler Commercial College, Tyler, Texas.

MR. STODDARD GRATEFUL.

I take this method of expressing my appreciation to the voters of my precinct for my election as commissioner, and in return will strive to serve you to the very best of my ability. Gratefully,
A. B. STODDARD.
