PRETTY HOME WEDDING.

Saturday afternoon at 1:00 o'clock, in the presence of immediate relatives and a few friends, occurred the marriage of Miss Alma Cavin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Cavin, to Mr. Jas. Arthur Scofield, a ranchman of Weinert, Texas, Rev. C. A. Westbrook officiating with the beautiful double-ring ceremony.

For this occasion the home was beautifully decorated in a profusion of ferns. The reception room was exceptionally pretty, with a feature of an artificial altar made entirely of ferns, in one corner, with a wedding buff suspended from the ceiling over the altar. The parlor was decorated in pink and white.

The bridal solo was beautifully sung by Mr. Urie Wilson who chose "I Love Thee Truly." With Mrs. Robert Lindsey at the piano the Lutheran music announced the entrance of the bride and groom. The bride entered on the arm of her fiance, and carried a beautiful bouquet wearing her going-away gown of taffeta in navy blue, George ette crepe blouse of pearl gray with hat and other accessories, and carrying a colonial bouquet of bride's roses and valley lillies.

Mrs. Lindsey played Mendelssohn's wedding march very softly during the ceremony.

Following the ceremony Misses Jean, Ruby and Ruth Josephine King served delicious punch from a cosy nook in the hall.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mrs. George King of Houston; Mrs. Marvin King of Houston; Mrs. Steve King of Beaumont; Mr. John Scofield, a brother of the groom, of Gainesville; Mrs. Reggie Wilson of Chireno; Mr. Carl Morris of Goss, La.

Mr. and Mrs. Scofield left on the afternoon T. & N. O. train for Dallas, Fort Worth and Gainesville, and will be at home at Weinert after July 1st.

The bride is one of Nacogdoches' most gracious and deserving young women, coming from one of our best families. By close application to her studies she prepared herself for the teaching profession and ranks with the best teachers of the country. Added to her usefulness she is a young lady of gracious, charming personality, possessing all the sweet traits of character and womanly ways that go to make up the most gracious type of womanhood.

The groom is a ranchman of West Texas, and comes to us highly recommended to be in every way worthy the fair bride he has won.

The Sentinel joins the many friends of the happy couple in congratulations and good wishes.

Mr. W. A. Yates of Douglas called at The Sentinel office Tuesday. Mr. Yates was with the party of Douglas citizens who were caught in an automobile wreck near Arlington several days ago, which was reported in this paper yesterday. Mr. Yates says that his report was correct except as to the car turning turtle. In attempting to cross the interurban track the car turned over in some manner that they have not been able to understand. Upon inquiry about the condition of the members of the party he said that a telephone message from Dallas brought the unpleasant news that Mr. D. M. Kelley was still unconscious, and considerable uneasiness is felt about his condition. Benton Kelley of this city, his son, is with the old gentleman, and everything possible is being done to relieve him.

MORE THAN HALF A MILLION VOLUNTEER

American Citizens are Rallying to Every Department of the Service of the Country

Washington, June 24.—More than a half million men have volunteered in the American army and navy during the period less than three months that have just elapsed since war was declared to exist. The army, navy and national guard represented an aggregate strength of little more than 300,000 men when the war resolution was adopted. Today between 700,000 and 800,000 men are enrolled in the various branches of the fighting service, and the great majority of them are armed, equipped and under training. They will be joined at the end of the summer by nearly a million men selected for the new national army from the millions registered for war duty on June 5.

The regular army totaled a little more than 100,000 men three months ago. It is nearing the 250,000 mark today, while every energy is being made to bring it up to 300,000 during the present week.

The national guard, 150,000 strong when war came, numbers 260,000 today, according to the best estimates available. Of that estimate nearly 75,000 are actually under arms.

The marine corps, whose slogan of "first to fight," has been repeated by the government in attaching a seasoned regiment of sea soldiers to General Pershing's expeditionary force to France, has been raised from 10,000 to 30,000 men. The regular blue-jacket force of the navy has been raised from less than 60,000 to 120,000, while probably 12,000 men already have joined the forces of engineers created for service in France. Fifty thousand picked men are under strenuous training at the officer's training camp, insuring good junior officers for the army. Other thousands are doing their share at the medical corps and engineer corps training camps, and still others are with the naval coast defense reserve along the Atlantic coast.

The immediate need, administration officials believe, is to bring the regular army up to its full strength without delay. They will be the bone and sinew of General Pershing's army, and there must be no delay in getting them ready to go.

Week of Recruiting. President Wilson has designated the present week as recruiting week for the regulars. Secretary Baker has sought the aid of all newspapers to the end that 70,000 men shall be enrolled before June 30.

Brigadier General McCain adjutant general of army, pointed out again Sunday that under the selective army bill, every man who volunteers in the regulars now from any state means one man less that state will be required to furnish in the national army.

General McCain also directed attention to the fact that after the second series of officers' training camps has closed, the only road to promotion will be from the existing forces. Men in the regular regiments will have equal, if not better chances for securing commissions than

THE RED CROSS FUND WAS OVERSUBSCRIBED

Washington, June 25.—Over-subscription of the Red Cross fund, $100,000,000 mercy fund, secured assured Monday night, when awaiting.

The eight-day nationwide campaign closed with final rallies in hundreds of American cities.

The country's total outside of New York City, tabulated by Red Cross headquarters late Monday night, was $30,650,000; and pledges still were pouring in at the rate of a million an hour. New York city's total was believed to be near $40,000,000 the city's quota.

Definite figures will not be available until Tuesday, when cities report the results of their last minute efforts, but Red Cross officials tonight said totals will show American generosity has responded in the same spirit as for the Liberty Loan.

Ten million dollars of apparent oversubscription may be necessary to make the actual collections equal $100,000,000, owing to the possibility of duplicate recording of some corporation Red Cross dividends at their source, and also in the locality where stockholders live.

Red Cross officials will formulate plans for the most efficient expenditure of the millions, large portions of which are sought in France, Russia and Roumania.

Aerial Messenger Brings Money. The first actual money reached the Red Cross treasury by aerial messenger, Miss Katherine Stinson, a young air-woman, descending upon the capital at the end of a two-day flying trip from Buffalo, Albany, N. Y., and Philadelphia, carried to Secretary McAdoo, treasurer of the Red Cross money and pledges gathered from cities she visited.

Alighting near the Washington monument at dusk, Miss Stinson was taken to the treasury, where Secretary McAdoo and a throng of sightseers were

"You have made a remarkable trip," said the secretary, as he took the envelope containing checks and pledges you have typified by your act the spirit of the Red Cross body.

Funds were sought Monday in the name of Major General Pershing and American forces in France, for it was designated "Pershing Day."

Good taste consists first upon firmness.—George William Curtis.

The Shreveport Times makes a very timely observation that "the question is, did Russian vodka leak into China, or Chinese opium into Russia? They are both on a spree."

The Lufkin News man hasn't sufficiently recovered from his malaria for the peaceful discussion of an issue, and still can't see that Nacogdoches' patriotism is too far in the distance ahead for his limited vision. "S. F. A. N."

In a fit of jealous rage the Texas Democrat, which is published at Dallas, says that "it must have been the 'Fort' end of it, instead of the 'Worth' that enabled her neighbor city to capture the Federal military camp from Dallas."

More than half of the one hundred million dollar donation for the Red Cross relief fund has been raised, with "Sociable, Fit, Accessible Nacogdoches" yet to hear from.—Lufkin
Our "Sociability" is at work in the town and rural districts today where they will "Fit" with the "Accessible" coin and old "Nacogdoches" will show up with a contribution equalling two to one that subscribed by Angelina county. Get your list ready for comparison, if you are "game," old sport.

While the memories of youth should be precious we must not allow our minds to revert continually to the days and friends of long ago. If we allow ourselves to live entirely in the past we are losing much of the joy of today. Even if we could recall those youthful pleasures, they would be to us pleasures no longer, for the things we enjoyed at sixteen have no attraction for us when we reach the age of thirty-two. Live today and hope for the future, and remember "life flames anew, and days to come are as sweet as the days that are gone."—Henderson Times.

Now that Lufkin has set the example for all East Texas, a couple of patriots have developed at Nacogdoches who want to organize a company for the Texas National Guard. But Lufkin will likely have two companies before Nacogdoches gets started on one. Nothing like having a live town, backed by a live bunch.—Lufkin News.

How many liberty bonds did you take, and how much are you doing for the Red Cross? We are giving you two "examples" for one, and we will want only about three days to organize our company of Texas National Guards when the permit arrives. "S. F. A. N."

Disclaiming any desire to provoke the Sentinel to "Some Fuss About Nothing" again, the News would inquire of its esteemed contemporary what has become of the movement to organize a military company in the Old Stone Fort city? Is it possible that the coveted seven hundred plunks for expense money failed to materialize, or was the movement just a passing fit of patriotism?—Lufkin News.

The "plunks" were subscribed in a few minutes, my dear Alphonse, and the names of volunteers will be enrolled with equal rapidity when the permit is granted. And it is all being done with a "Sociability" that "Fits" "Adorable" "Nacogdoches."

A dispatch from Dallas announces that good showers of rain have visited the greater portion of North-east Texas, breaking a long drought that had become very serious. In some of the counties south of that section the rain came too late, as much of the corn had already been cut very short by this prolonged dry spell, and the crop is cut short in even our own county, and that farmer who is wise enough to plant a few more peanuts and peas will find a most valuable crop.

Lufkin and Nacogdoches are having a big quarrel as to which is the most patriotic in organizing a company. Lufkin has already organized one and is trying to secure another. Nacogdoches is working hard on the proposition and will soon have a splendid company for Uncle Sam. Timpson beat both Lufkin and Nacogdoches and has a well-trained and large company, "somewhere in the U. S. A." doing service. The Timpson company is old enough to be the grand-daddy of the Lufkin and Nacogdoches companies.—Timpson Times.

All right, "grand-daddy," the honor is "yourn."

"Hark from the tomb, a dolorful sound." The writer once heard a story of an old negro looking for work and at the same time praying that he would never find the coveted job. This may not apply to the efforts to organize a military company at Nacogdoches, but the late date at which the old town made application for the privilege leaves room for suspicion.—Lufkin News.

A torpid liver and malaria in the blood always makes a fellow feel suspicious and melancholy. When the Cotton Belt railroad gets through with its malarial treatment and disinfection in the Lufkin country we have hopes that our morose neighbor will get sweeter.

At their own expense the merchants and bankers of Nacogdoches county are having printed and will mail out to the farmers of Nacogdoches county a letter urging them to fight the boll weevils with all possible diligence. They are not doing it to tell the farmer what he should do, but to counsel with him in a spirit of community interest, and offer them all help within their power. It will be remembered that these same business men spent a neat little sum of money last year in offering prizes for the punctured squares, and this plan was discussed again, but not considered the best for the reason but few respond. With a bale of cotton worth as much as a good one-man crop formerly brought, the farmers and business men can afford to adopt heroic measures for the destruction of the pest, and should leave nothing undone that will be of benefit. It is estimated that from the first crop of weevils enough will hatch out to destroy one pound of cotton. With present prices this makes them worth upward of twenty-five cents apiece. As means of destroying the pest the government experts recommend shallow plowing with a brush tied to the plow which will knock off the weevils and the plow cover them in the hot sands. They also recommend that all diligence should be used in picking up the punctured squares, which is a tedious job but well worth the price. If a good crop of cotton can be grown in Nacogdoches county this year, the farmers will be so rich they will not know what to do with all their money. And with their prosperity the balance of the country will be prosperous.

A DOLLAR TO THE RED CROSS.

Houston Chronicle.
Would you give a dollar to get a glass of water for a man dying of thirst?

Would you give a dollar to have a wounded soldier carried from the battlefield in a comfortable stretcher?

Would you give a dollar for a tourniquet to stop the ebb of lifeblood?

Would you give a dollar to procure clean sheets for a boy who had been shot to pieces that you might enjoy some of those "inalienable rights?"

Would you give a dollar for an anesthetic to assuage the pain of some grueling operation?

Would you give a dollar for a crutch to help some man along who had lost his leg while fighting your battle?

Would you give a dollar that fifty mothers might receive word from their sick sons?

Would you give a dollar for antiseptics which might save a dozen lives?

Would you give a dollar that some crippled invalid might have a nice, fresh bath robe while convalescing?

Would you give a dollar that some poor chap's pillow might be smoothed out and shaken up once or twice a day?

Would you give a dollar that some half dead fellow might be dragged out of the fire zone, provided someone else took the risk?

Would you give a dollar to dress a score of ghastly wounds, provided another did all the disagreeable work?

Would you give a dollar to help pay some girl's fare across the ocean to do things that make you faint?

Would you give a dollar that a skilled surgeon might have catgut when catgut was the difference between sunshine and eternity for some unfortunate comrade?

Think it over and if any of these services appeal to you, donate your dollar to the Red Cross.

AMERICA MUST PAY AN ENORMOUS PRICE

Atlanta, Ga., June 20.—The "Apathetic Spirit of the American People in Regard to the War," was the keynote of an address here Wednesday by Maj. Gen. Leonard A. Wood, commander of the southeastern department, U. S. A., before the eighth annual meeting of the International Association of Rotary Clubs. The nation, he said, has not yet awakened to the fact that "we are fighting a powerful foe, and the quicker we realize that sacrifices must be made in order to win the war, the quicker the war will end." With a soldier's bluntness, General Wood told the delegates America would win in the end, but "not until a terrific price has been paid in blood."

General Wood's address late Wednesday closed the regular business session, and the delegates journey Wednesday night to East Lake, one of Atlanta's country clubs, where they were given a supper.

Rotarians Wednesday devoted their general discussions chiefly to the war and the part the international association will be called upon to play. The nomination of officers was made Wednesday and the election will take place Thursday. Kansas City, it was said Wednesday night, would probably be selected Friday as the 1918 convention city.

More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of.—Tennyson.

NACOGDOCHES TRADITIONS

Explanations of the peculiar names of towns, creeks and places of interest are interesting.

The name Nacogdoches has repeatedly been discussed and yet its origin is mysterious. It has been explained that there was a tribe of Indians here called by this name, but why so? There are other similar or kindred names in this section, of Texas, and in the adjoining section of Louisiana east of here, and when written or spoken by the frequent French pioneers, or by the predominating Mexicans who spoke Spanish, or by the English speaking peoples from the states, this name was probably built up into its present jawbreaking shape, from syllables of pure jargon.

The name Douglass, a town of early day importance, fifteen miles west of Nacogdoches, was taken from the first settler, Kelly H. Douglass, who put up a store there in 1837. He was a business man from Nacogdoches. His store was about three hundred yards south of the old San Antonio road, and the road was turned to the store. This made it cross some high hills just west of Douglass.

Melrose was named by Dr. T. Jeff Johnson, who settled there and lived there many years, in the forties and fifties. He may have named it from Walter Scott's Melrose, or after a village in Virginia, where he came from. It should have been named Skillern, after the first settler there, the father of our venerable citizen, W. A. Skillern of LaNana, where he has lived half a century.

Chirino was the name of a Mexican colonist, who owned the large Spanish grant of land on which this ancient and important little town is located. The town took this name but spelled it incorrectly.

Linn Flat was named for James S. Linn, a business man in Nacogdoches in the fifties. It has no feature that suggests the name of flat. It stands upon high dry land, and is one of the has-beens.

Linnwood, the name of the crossing on the Angelina river, five miles west of Douglass, was probably so named from the linn trees. A store stood on the west bank of the river at that point. Wolf's bridge and Wolf's adjacent plantation were its supporters.

Buckshot crossing, and Durst crossing, both several miles below on the Angelina river, might be mentioned as names of auld lang syne. These were there.

Durst brothers, Jim, Joe, and John, who were residents of this vicinity along the river. The name of Durst is from these men, who were quite important settlers and land owners.

Briley town is now a mere memory, but it once claimed a place on the list—named for its first settler, Felix Briley. It is now a farm owned by Mr. L. D. Smith, four miles this side of Garrison.

Pattonia was once a seaport on the Angelina, operated by Capt. Bob Patton. It stood at the head of navigation, and did quite a shipping business. But now its site is vacant and like that of Spanish Bluff, only a name.

Spanish town was the name of an old Mexican settlement on the Carrizo creek one mile east of the David Rusk old homestead. There was quite a lively group of Mexican dwellings there. But no sign of them is there now.

The names of the modern towns of Garrison, Trawick, Cushing, Mahi, Appleby and Sacul need no special explanation. Indian Creek was the name once used for a broad section near Sacul and Cushing. One of the prehistoric Indian villages was in that locality. Pocketbook branch runs near Cushing, in wet weather. This name is probably derived from a dream that a farmer near there pulled off. When he waked up he found it like the old man's famous dream—not a darned thing in it.

Ponte Suelos, the name of the creek running from Melrose via Woden, is Spanish. Ponte means bridge. Suelos means shoe soles. Together the two words signify and refer to a foot bridge built by Mexican colonists. It was probably a "foot log" flattened on top and bannistered by a long pole on one side. This was in the vicinity of the famous old by-gone Simpson's camp ground near the present village of Woden. The station called Woden and Etoile were named from fancy by Judge H. B. Short of Shelby, when he lived here and edited the Nacogdoches News. Woden ought to be called Jacobs, and Etoile ought to be called Morton, after these primitive and venerated ancestral settlers, as Swift is worthily called after Senator W. H. Swift.

Atascosa, mis-called Tass Cose means boggy, and Carrizo (carrisee) means caney. LaNana means eve or nanny sheep. Banita, not Bonita, is pronounced properly Ban-yeeta, and means little bath. Bana means bath. Moral means mulberry. There was a big ranch and Mexican settlement by that name located four miles west of town on the Moral creek, and once owned and occupied by the noted John R. Clute, of New York. He was the father of Mrs. F. L. McKnight, who was born in this city about 1837, near where the present dwelling of L. Zeve now stands. J. E. M.

THE WORK BEGINS ON THE HENDERSON ROAD

It will be remembered that one afternoon a few weeks ago a party of Nacogdoches people were met by a party of Rusk county people on the county dividing line of the Henderson Nacogdoches road for the purpose of discussing the rebuilding and repair of this thoroughfare, and that it was agreed by the commissioners courts of the two counties that the work would be done this summer.

With this preliminary statement the following report, which we take from the Mt. Enterprise Herald, will be better understood and appreciated:

"Commissioner W. E. Harris spent Wednesday in town and stated that work would begin on the Henderson Nacogdoches road Thursday. He had just returned from a trip over the country where he has been taking up wheel scrapes and other things necessary for the building of the road. Six of these scrapes will be used in addition to the slips and wagon in hauling clay for the sandy places.

"Three lists have been circulated for the purpose of securing donations in the way of money, teams, and labor and to this time about half the necessary amount has been subscribed. Those interested in this road should make special effort to report to commissioner Harris, D. W. March or Charley Langford and subscribe the amount of money or labor that they will give, as it is hoped that there will be no delay.

"The work is now going on in Nacogdoches county and if there is no delay on our part the road will soon be completed, having a good grade and the sand clay dug between this place and Nacogdoches, giving a good road between Nacogdoches and Henderson."

COULDN'T TAKE OFF COAT WITHOUT HELP

Had Rheumatism So Bad Could Not Raise Arms—Tanlac Overcomes His Troubles.

"I simply suffered torture with rheumatism for years and when I found out about this Tanlac I was so crippled up that I just could manage to hobble around a little by using a walking-stick," said Will V. Jernigan, while in Kiesling's Drug Store at Houston, Texas, a few days ago. Mr. Jernigan has been an employee of the state government for several years. He is now located at the Ramsey State Farm at Otley, Texas, and is a well known citizen of that place.

"My troubles began in 1908," continued Mr. Jernigan, "and ever since then I simply suffered agony nearly all the time until Tanlac relieved me. The rheumatism was all through my entire system and my arms and legs, shoulders and back, were all so badly affected that I could hardly move. I spent a whole year at the Hot Wells of Marlin, taking treatment, but got no relief. I left there and came home and for forty days I could not walk, and was just barely able to hobble around a little by using a stick. I couldn't undress myself—couldn't even raise my arms to take off my coat—and was completely down and out and absolutely helpless.

"I was all run-down and bilious and had no appetite. I was terribly nervous and felt so bad all over I could hardly sleep at all. I used liniments of all kinds, took every medicine I could hear of and spent, I don't know how much money, but I just kept on suffering. It seemed that my case was a hopeless one and I had just about despaired of ever getting anything to help me.

"When I read in the papers about the good Tanlac was doing other poor sufferers, I just wondered if it would help me too. I decided to take a chance and try it any way, and believe me, I'm mighty glad I did for it has made a well man out of me and I would take time day or night to tell anybody what it is that has gotten me out of my terrible suffering. I have taken three bottles and you can see for yourself how well I look and how easy I can walk. I haven't an ache or a pain about me now and I sleep like a rock. I can use my shoulders and arms just as well as I could when I was a boy and I'm entirely free from all nervousness. My appetite couldn't be better and I can eat anything and have gained seven pounds in weight, too. After Tanlac has done all this for me I would be ungrateful not to tell others about it."

Tanlac is sold in Nacogdoches by Stripling, Haselwood & Co., and Swift Bros. & Smith, in Garrison by Garrison Drug Co., in Sacul by Arkan Cranford, and in Cushing by A. J. Beck, and in Douglas by Campbell & Watkins.

FOUR TEXAS CITIES GET ARMY BASE HOSPITALS

Sour Stomach.

This is a mild form of indigestion. It is usually brought on by eating too rapidly or too much, or of food not suited to your digestive organs. If you will eat slowly, masticate your food thoroughly, eat but little meat and none at all for supper, you will more than likely avoid the sour stomach without taking any medicine whatever. When you have sour stomach take one of Chamberlain's Tablets to aid digestion.

ES GET HOSPITALS

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address: F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio. Sold by Druggists, 75c. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

THE RURAL SCHOOLS WILL TAKE NOTICE

To the Patrons and Trustees of the Schools of Nacogdoches county:

We, the committee appointed to confer with you in the matter, have written the teachers and patrons of the various schools of the county asking them to participate in the school rally to be held in this city on our Trades Day.

We are counting on a full attendance from each school, and are disappointed if every school does not enter this contest.

Some inquiry has been made as to how we will arrive at the percentage and in answer to this question we will advise that we have decided to use this year's enrollment.

We want the children to be on the college campus of this city, where they will register by 11:30 on Trades Day, and where they will be met by Superintendent R. E. Davis of our school and others who will give them every assistance needed.

For us to be able to handle the matter systematically it is very necessary that we should know in advance how many schools will enter, and who is coming. We therefore request that the teacher or trustees of each school notify us so that the report will reach us by Saturday and not later than Monday.

Hoping to see all schools of the county enter this friendly contest, for which we offer some nice prizes, and assuring you of our pleasure in entertaining you for this day, we are

Yours truly, J. N. THOMAS, W. W. LEE, N. D. NAMAN, HENRY SCHMIDT Committee.

Cholera Morbus.

This is a very painful and dangerous disease. In almost every neighborhood someone has died from it before medicine could be obtained or a physician summoned. FIRST BALE IS SOLD FOR $925

The first bale of cotton of the 1917-18 season which reached Houston Sunday morning was auctioned on the floor of the Houston Cotton Exchange Monday morning at 11 o'clock by Secretary Burwell. It netted the grower $925, or just $2.23 per pound. Hubbel, Slack & Co., were the buyers.

The bale was classed middling and weighed 414 pounds. It was raised on the farm of Dr. W. P. Webb, near Lyford, Texas. This town has the distinction of bringing the first bale for five consecutive seasons. The bale was grown on one farm and was not assembled from a number of different farms.

Whooping Cough.

In this disease it is important that the cough be kept loose and expectoration easy, which can be done by giving Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Mrs. P. H. Martin, Peru, Ind., writes: "My two daughters had whooping cough. I gave them Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and it worked like a charm."

NACOGDOCHES TRADITIONS

General Thos. J. Rusk, whose home in active manhood was Nacogdoches, was by far the most idolized man of his home town, and possibly of the entire state of Texas. Everything that points to his memory is always dear to the inquiring Texan, and sacred to his old home town, Nacogdoches.

The life of General Rusk has never been written for the reason that there were no suitable historians here at the proper time. Judge Peyton F. Edwards of El Paso, who was born here and resided here as a boy during Rusk's last years, has delivered eulogies on Rusk that are of the highest merit. As a climax to these eulogies it was thoroughly shown that Rusk could have been the next president of the United States if he had lived. And the circumstances of his death have never been written because publication of the details of suicide are generally evaded from modesty. Should this be so? The cause, whether dementia, melancholy or what not, is seldom one for which any blame can be placed upon the victim. The reasons for Rusk's suicide were supposed to be, first, gloom over the death of his beloved wife which occurred a few months previous. The last act of his life was to order a slab for her grave. It arrived and was put in place after his own death, and he was buried by her side in the solemn old cemetery of Nacogdoches now called "Oak Grove Cemetery." Another contributory cause is supposed to have been the fact that his family home was broken up by the absence of the mother of his four sons who were unsettled and disappointing, while his one angelic daughter had to be placed in a motherless home. All these causes created despondency that amounted to an unbalanced mind.

How he executed the deed was, that he procured gun caps and gun powder ostensibly for a squirrel rifle to shoot the unusually large number of squirrels that had invaded the land that year, 1857. Next afternoon while alone at his permanent home of many years, one mile north of the county court house, he prepared his loaded rifle, tying a string to the fly trigger and passing it back to the ground, and then forward to his feet. He stood upon the ground on the north side of his dwelling, at the back porch, and placed the breech of his rifle upon the edge of his porch or gallery, and placed his forehead against the string that fired the gun. He fell backwards, stretched full length upon the ground, and his rifle dropped beside him. His forehead was blown open and his brains spattered out on the ground. His son, Cicero, and a cousin, Jim Smith, were at a servant house nearby. The word came quickly to town. It was a great shock to everybody, and there was a great rush to the scene. Friends and relatives gathered with great excitement, agitation, agony. Grief was unceasing, and strong-hearted men shed tears like weeping women, and embraced each other in sympathy. When Capt. David Rusk arrived he was almost smothered with the approaches of sorrowing friends. When his son, Ben Rusk, came in he was frantic and sought to kill himself. In later years Ben did lose his mind and suicided. When John C. Rusk arrived he had been out deer hunting and he ran his horse up to the front gate, pitched his gun to the ground and fell prostrate. Tom Rusk, the youngest son, was off at school in Murfreesborough, Tennessee, and the daughter, Miss Helena, then hardly grown, was also off at school. The town and country all went into mourning. Black, gloomy crepe was placed lavishly upon the court house and upon every dwelling in the town. The attendance at the funeral was much greater than had ever been witnessed here. The solemn funeral procession and ceremonies were in full accord with the general sentiment. Every church bell in the town was mournfully tolled. People came from every possible point or locality. A notable feature was the large attendance of negro slaves. Even the negroes loved him, and the old family negroes drew near.

These old Rusk negroes were honored for their name. Old Wiley Rusk, the old fiddler famed for cotillions, was honored as long as he lived for the name of Rusk.

It was often said that Rusk came out from the Texas revolution after the battle of San Jacinto a more popular man than General Houston with the soldiers. Rusk and Houston were the very closest of friends to the last. They knew each other before the revolution, were associated in the army, in battle and off duty. Rusk was secretary of war while Houston was commander in chief, and succeeded when Houston was out. The two served together as United States senators. They occasionally differed on political issues, but were always friends. They were both very talkative, important looking men, and fine orators. Indeed, they were giants of a peculiar type.

A TIMELY SUGGESTION

Mr. Lee Hardeman, a well known citizen of this city, suggests that we might interest the new highway commission in the old San Antonio road by reason of the historical interest in that highway, and the fact that the state has already recognized it by having it marked.

The Sentinel is of the opinion that the Federal money which has been appropriated for this work must be expended on highways that have an interstate connection and preferably north to south, but since this highway originates at Natchitoches, La., this would possibly overcome the local interest if the Louisiana points will join Texas points in application for the improvement.

It would be an ideal road for this section of the state, and would be worth the trouble for us to make investigation, and go after it if there are no barriers to make it impossible.

From an exhaustive report of the matter, we call the information from the Tyler Courier-Times that Smith county is claiming the location of two of these highways, one of which is called the Dallas-Louisiana highway, extending from Dallas through Tyler and Longview and connecting with the Jefferson highway. The second highway extends from Paris to Houston, passing through Willis Point, Tyler and on through Cherokee county.

If we can't get interest aroused in the San Antonio road, we should go after recognition and help on the Nacogdoches-Henderson road, and get a connection with this outlet either Longview or Tyler, which would place us on one of the recognized public highways and give us connection with them.

The merchants and bankers at Nacogdoches have organized and are making an appeal to the farmers to fight the boll weevil. And they are right. Cotton is selling at 25 cents a pound. Seed are worth $1 a bushel. It pays at this price for cotton and cotton seed to fight the boll weevil.—Tyler Morning Tribune.

Editor Watford of the Lufkin News is not receiving benefit from the malaria treatment being given his town by the Cotton Belt railroad as rapidly as we had wished for him, and we will have to continue to draw about the mantle of charity yet a few more days. In his latest ravings he says, speaking of Nacogdoches and the contribution to the Red Cross: "We always did have a hankering for something to turn up that would cause the 'tight wads' of that town to loosen up." If we ever had any "tight wads," they must have "loosened up," for they have not been in evidence.

An editor who can write an article in no way related to prohibition, the Texas University squabble, or the war in Europe can make money selling his photograph.—Tyler Morning Tribune.

This writer can do it—and he needs the money. "Sociable" in all our relations with each other and the visitor within our gates; "Fit" for any good service; "Accessible" with two through lines of railroad, and a short line, to any who may wish to investigate at close range; "Nacogdoches," first in history, and first in the hearts of the countrymen hereabouts. Remit in any old way that will deliver the real "plunks."

FROM HENRY FULLER.

Editor Sentinel:
I regretted very much to hear that Jack Lock was dead. Back in the years that are gone—the palmy days in old Nacogdoches as I still like to call that period of time, I counted Jack Lock as one of my good friends. Jack came from the Etoile country before there was a railroad in that section. I knew him long before he left Etoile, when Etoile was indeed in the solitudes of the wilderness there being no railroad nearer than Nacogdoches. He came to Nacogdoches about the time that Bill Cole came when Cole was appointed first deputy sheriff under John Spradley. Another good friend of those days was George Sowell. The good Lord never made any better man than George Sowell of Etoile, and every time he came to Nacogdoches, as he frequently did with cotton for the market, he would come around to the Sentinel office and leave quite a budget of interesting local news.

One morning as this writer was going his daily rounds in the capacity of a reporter he met Bill Cole on the street and Bill was crying like a little child. Naturally I thought a member of his family was dead and asked him the trouble.

"George Sowell is dead," he said, handing me a letter which he had just received, there being no long distance telephone lines in those days. "And I had started around to the office to ask you to write his obituary."

Together we went to the Sentinel office and Bill gave me the necessary data, with the request that I do my best. I did the best I could and when the proof had been taken I carried it to Bill Cole for correction or revision. When Bill had finished reading it he said:

"Henry, keep this and if you are in reach of me when I die, please use this for me, also, changing my name for that of George. Will you do it?"

I assured him that I would and went about my business.

The next week, or perhaps two weeks later, Bill Cole was stricken with pneumonia, and almost exactly one month to a day from the time that I wrote the obituary for George Sowell, I carried out Bill's request and used it for him.

I may be excused for mentioning two other incidents of like character that I have experienced during my newspaper career.

One of the best friends I ever had on this earth, or ever expect to have, was Tom Barkman of Texarkana. Tom was really and truly one of Nature's noblemen. Good does not convey the quality that made of him my ideal of what a man should be. To me he was more than good in many ways, and as long as memory delights to call up the past and dwell upon pleasant incidents, Tom Barkman will occupy a prominent place in my affections. On one occasion I was called to Denison to do some special work on the Denison Herald. One day on picking up the Texarkana Four-States Press, the paper for which I worked, I noted with sorrow that Tom Barkman was dead—had taken sick and died very suddenly. I wrote his obituary and as I was going to Texarkana within the next few days, I put it in my pocket intending to have it published in one of the Texarkana papers. When I reached Texarkana, almost the first man I met was Tom Barkman, laughing and happy as ever, and glad to see me.

"My God, Tom," I said, "I heard you were dead and I wrote your obituary." I pulled it out of my pocket and showed it to him.

"No," he said, "it was my brother and not me, that died, but this is a good joke on me all right. Let me have this I want to take it home and show it to my wife." I gave the obituary to him, and on the following day returned to Denison. Two weeks later Tom Barkman took very ill and lived only a few days. Before death he requested that the obituary which I had written be published and his request was carried out.

Another instance was that of Foster McMullen of Lufkin. Mr. McMullen, in very bad health, was taken to the John Sealy hospital at Galveston, where an operation was performed. I was working on a newspaper at Lufkin, and every hour we received reports that he could not possibly live. All his relatives were by his bedside. Day of publication was at hand and I was requested by the owner of the Lufkin newspaper to write the obituary of Foster McMullen. I did so, collecting the necessary data from his son-in-law Dave Singleton. The obituary was set up and made ready for use, but Mr. McMullen did not die. He gradually got better and finally got back to good health. He and the writer had many a good laugh over the incident, but no proof was taken of his obituary and he never saw it.

Going back to George Sowell: He was a man who delighted in a good joke. In his neighborhood near Etoile was a vacant house which stood near the big road, and under which every hog in that locality had slept during the winter. That meant billions of fleas in the summer time, and in due time the fleas arrived by the sextillion. To go near that house meant to be covered from head to foot the pesky and hungry vermin. One day at home George Sowell took a piece of white paper and wrote some kind of fool notice on it—long enough to take about ten minutes to read it over. Right at the bottom he said in large letters: "Look Out For the Fleas, Yours truly, George Sowell."

This notice he took and tacked up on the side of the house and concealed himself to watch the results. Pretty soon a neighbor woman came along, on foot, going to George's house, as it turned out, to visit Mrs. Sowell and seeing the notice, walked out to the house to read it. The good woman stood in the midst of billions of fleas slowly reading the notice until she came to the conclusion, where it said "Look Out For the Fleas," when she suddenly looked down and beat a hasty and informal retreat to the immense delight of Sowell who was concealed in the bushes.

The dear old days are gone and the shadows of evening draw on with slow and steady step. When we get to the point where life really gets to be worth living we must give it all up and prepare to go hence and be forgotten.

Very truly,
H. C. FULLER.
Houston, Texas.

Bennie Faulkner, son of G. W. Faulkner, a well known citizen of the county living out a few miles from town, had an operation for an old fracture of the skull at the Nacogdoches Surgical Hospital Tuesday, and is reported to be doing nicely. The young man sustained the injury while playing baseball some years ago, and while it has not disabled him, it was a constant source of annoyance, causing him to suffer much with headache and forcing him to shun the heat of the sun.

GOVERNMENT GRATEFUL FOR LIBERAL RESPONSE

June 22, 1917.

To All Who Have Participated in Making the Liberty Loan a Success:

The first issue of Liberty Loan bonds offered to the American people has been largely oversubscribed, in this district the oversubscription amounting to nearly nine million dollars.

The notable success attained in the Eleventh Federal Reserve District is attributable to the patriotic service rendered by the press, the banks and trust companies, county organizations various committees, business associations, public speakers, boy scouts and others, and was accomplished in a section of the country where bonds have been heretofore practically unknown except by bankers, and at a season when a majority of our people are borrowers.

The hearty and generous cooperation and assistance in our publicity campaign was so effective that there are today very few people in the district who have failed to receive the story of "The Liberty Loan," and we know that the next issue, coming as it probably will at a time when our farmers are collecting the proceeds of their crops of corn and cotton will meet with even greater success in this district than did the first.

The Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas, as fiscal agent of the United States, desires to extend to all who have participated its cordial thanks and expressions of appreciation.

You will also probably be interested in reading the two following telegrams, the first from Hon. W. G. McAdoo, Secretary of the Treasury, and the second from Hon. W. P. G. Harding, Governor of the Federal Reserve Board:

"I desire to express my deep appreciation of the efficient and patriotic service you have rendered in connection with the Liberty Loan, the success of which has been so striking and pleasing to the country. Will you now convey to the Liberty Loan Committees of your Districts, Banks, and to all other organizations which have cooperated with you in this great Liberty Loan enterprise the assurance of my warm appreciation as well as my cordial thanks. Will you not also urge these committees to preserve their organizations in order that they may be prepared to render signal service of like character to their Government when it is called upon again to seek an additional credit. It is of the utmost importance that the splendid machinery now perfected shall be available when needed."

"The Federal Reserve Board wishes to express its appreciation of the excellent work that has been done by the Federal Reserve Bank in connection with subscriptions to the Liberty Loan and extends its warmest thanks to all officers of the Federal Reserve Bank and to all auxiliary committees and to the member and non-member banks which have cooperated with such patriotism and disinterestedness to make the flotation of this loan a magnificent success. Congratulations."

Respectfully,
R. L. VANZANDT, Governor.

A. I. Simpson, son of W. C. Simpson, a former well known newspaper man of Garrison who is now engaged in the drug business at Sweetwater, Texas, has been in the city today visiting with relatives and friends. He arrived at Garrison yesterday and came down to Nacogdoches with a party of relatives this morning.

LET US CELEBRATE

Nacogdoches should not lag behind progressive and patriotic cities. The whole world is now struggling for that liberty which our fathers secured 142 years ago. Almighty God has blessed us above all nations, and we have been a blessing to the whole world. And now, as the nations are warring unto death, when democracy is engaged in the titanic effort to overthrow autoeracy, when we are giving our money, our resources and our young men to the sacred cause of humanity, let the citizenship of Nacogdoches come out en masse on the fourth of July and have the biggest celebration in the history of the town: Let the central thought of this celebration be for "Old Glory" to symbolize the religious and civil freedom of all people throughout the world.

The Boy Scouts are erecting a municipal flag pole on the Masonic lot, corner of Main and North streets, and will have a flag raising at 10 o'clock. There will be a program of music by the Scout Band, a patriotic address by Mr. Eugene Blount, and we are hoping to have the pleasure of a reading by Mrs. Tom Baker. For this occasion we have the promise of a keg of powder by our good friend and patriotic citizen Mr. Guy Blount. Come and cheer for "Old Glory."

Why not make this celebration unanimous? Let men and women, the merchants and clerks, the orders and Red Cross preachers and lawyers, mill men and farmers, children and aged, Jew and Gentile, white and black, forget everything on that day except that we are fellow citizens of this "Land of the Free and Home of the Brave," and come to Scout Hall on 9:30 a. m., on the fourth of July and fall in line for the march to the flag pole and exercises of the day?

The entire News force is "out of sorts" this morning. The Nacogdoches Sentinel failed to arrive on time, and Editor Gibbs is hereby warned if that thing occurs again the war editor of The News will be sent out in an airplane with explicit instructions to drop a bomb on top of the Sentinel office. It may be a heartless thing to do, but when a fellow becomes desperate something out of the ordinary usually happens.—Lufkin News.

For one time The Sentinel is "stumped." Is this an admission that the whole Lufkin-News "force" is in conspiracy against The Sentinel, or to be more optimistic, must the aforesaid "force" have The Sentinel for its morning inspiration to give it a start for the day's work? In either event, we plead that you leave your "dog-gone" airship at home, and in lieu of anything so "desperate" as your threat, call us up over the telephone collect and we will send the "entire force" a copy of the paper.

FIRST BALE OF COTTON

Corpus Christi, Texas, June 23.—The first bale of cotton of the season was shipped Saturday night from Lyford, Texas, to Houston, where it will be sold at auction on the Houston cotton exchange. This was the fifth consecutive year that Lyford, which is situated 110 miles south of Corpus Christi, has shipped the first bale of cotton. Saturday's bale weighed 427 pounds and was grown by W. P. Webb.

COUNTY CONTRIBUTION TO RED CROSS FUND

Up to six o'clock Tuesday afternoon the Red Cross campaign which has been in progress the past week, showed a gross return of $2,587.90 and 253 new members, added to the chapter. The Chapter now has a membership of 400.

In order to obtain our charter and become a national unit in the Red Cross Society of America, we are required to have a membership of 500. There are hundreds of patriotic, humane, christian men and women in Nacogdoches who have not enrolled, and the required number ought to be secured easily within another week by proper effort.

I will furnish the press a list of the membership within the next few days as well as a revised list of the contributors to the emergency campaign fund.

Heart-rending accounts of suffering and distress among soldiers, women and children, are coming to us daily with urgent appeals for help.

DAGMA KELLEY,
Secretary Nacogdoches Red Cross Branch.

LIVER DIDN'T ACT DIGESTION WAS BAD

Says 65 year Old Kentucky Lady, Who Tells How She Was Relieved After a Few Doses of Black-Draught.

Meadorsville, Ky.—Mrs. Cynthia Mugginbotham, of this town, says: "At my age, which is 65, the liver does not act so well as when young. A few years ago, my stomach was all out of fix. I was constipated, my liver didn't act. My digestion was bad, and it took so little to upset me. My appetite was gone. I was very weak. I decided I would give Black-Draught a thorough trial as I knew it was highly recommended for this trouble. I began taking it. I felt better after a few doses. My appetite improved and I became stronger. My trouble was soon relieved with a few doses of Black-Draught." Seventy years of successful use has made Theodor's Black-Draught a standard household remedy. Every member of every family, at times, need the help that Black-Draught can give in cleansing the system and relieving the troubles that come from constipation, indigestion, lazy liver, etc. You cannot keep well unless your stomach, liver and bowels are in good working order. Keep them that way. Try Black-Draught. It acts promptly, gently and in a natural way. If you feel sluggish, take a dose tonight. You will feel fresh tomorrow. Price 25c. One cent a dose. All druggists. J. 69

NACOGDOCHES OIL MILL IS ON THE HONOR ROLL

From a bulletin sent out by the Department of Agriculture the information is obtained that out of a list of seven hundred and fifty oil mills in the United States, the Nacogdoches oil mill is one of the fifty which grade peanuts.

This is the best evidence of the progressiveness of the owners of the oil mill at this place who are ever alert to do anything in their power for the best interests of the community, and in this enterprise they are backed up by progressive farmers who will grow a large acreage of peanuts this year with which to keep it running.

And we might add in this connection that the first year's trial in grinding peanuts has proven profitable so far as material was available, and the mill will go after all the peanuts it can get this fall.

A NEW FAMILY TO TAKE CITIZENSHIP

Mr. W. T. Palmer and family arrived some two or three days ago from Marlin, coming through the country in their automobile, and have been very busy today unloading and moving their household effects out to the J. H. Haltom farm, which they have purchased and will make their future home.

Mr. Palmer was reared in this county, moving to the west some sixteen years ago, and he is glad to get back to the East Texas country. With his new home he will have one of the best and most substantial plantations in East Texas, where he has every reason to expect peace and prosperity to attend him, and his old friends, as well as the people generally, will extend to him a cordial welcome in his return to permanent citizenship.

And it will not be out of place to state in this connection that Mr. Palmer was attracted to this place, and the sale made, by a little advertisement in this paper.

LOCAL CITIZENS HAVE GREAT TRIP

Messrs. Jim Stallings, Moss Adams, Taylor Hudgens, Dr. Lockety, Prof. R. F. Davis, A. H. Smith, Dr. Hall, Leander Liles Greer Orton, V. E. Simpson, C. E. Patton and Al Stallings spent last week down in the forks of the river fishing, and from all reports that are coming back with them, they must have had a great trip, interesting and exciting in many respects as well as enjoyable.

The visitors all agree that they had more trouble with Prof. R. F. Davis than any one else on the trip—the professor insisting on having all the grundle he caught served, and having better "luck" in the capture of this particular variety of the funny tribe. There being two doctors and a druggist with the party, fatalities were avoided, but the risk is said to have been most narrow.

Mr. Leander Liles, who is achieving distinction as an inventor, sat quietly about, and the party would not be surprised if he didn't have some kind of a machine ready for the next trip with which the grundles can be separated from the domestic fish, a utility for which there is great need if Prof. Davis is allowed to go with the crowd again.

The visitors say that Moss Adams "behaved" himself beautifully on this trip, but a close watch was kept on him.

Good For the Little Ones.

Suggestions that may save Much Suffering

Marysville, Pa.—"For twelve years I suffered with terrible cramps. I would have to stay in bed several days every month. SUBMARINE DESTRUCTION ALARMING PROPORTIONS

The British weekly report of losses to their shipping sunk by submarines or mines has again reached alarming proportions. It shows an increase over the reports of the past six weeks as to tonnage destroyed. The latest figures, twenty-seven vessels of over 1,600 tons and five under 1,600 tons, place the losses in the first category higher, except during the weeks ending April 28, than during any similar periods since Germany's intensified submarine campaign began. During the latter weeks forty and thirty-eight merchant men, respectively, were sent to the bottom.

On the fighting fronts in France the British forces of Marshal Haig have recaptured important positions from the Germans east of Arras, while the Germans in the Champagne region have gained a foothold in French first line trenches. The British gain was made east of Monchy Le Preux, where on Monday the Germans under cover of a violent bombardment drove back the British and occupied their trenches. Between the Ilette river and Moulin De Laffaux, the Germans in a strong attack in which huge effectives were used, captured the section of a trench held by the French. The attack was delivered over a front of about two-thirds of a mile and followed a violent bombardment of the French line.

CALOMEL DYNAMITES A SLUGGISH LIVER

Crashes into sour bile, making you sick and you lose a day's work.

Calomel salivates! It's mercury. Calomel acts like dynamite on a sluggish liver. When calomel comes into contact with sour bile it crashes into it, causing cramping and nausea.

If you feel bilious, headachy, constipated and all knocked out, just go to your druggist and get a 50-cent bottle of Dodson's Liver Tonic, which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your money.

If you take calomel today you'll be sick and nauseated tomorrow; besides, it may salivate you, while if you take Dodson's Liver Tonic you will wake up feeling great, full of ambition and ready for work or play. It's harmless, pleasant and safe to give to children; they like it.

GENERAL JOHN A. HULEN CALLS FOR RECRUITS

In an interview, given out from his headquarters in Houston, General John A. Hulen, commanding the National Guard Brigade of Texas, speaking of the necessity of arousing people of Texas in order to meet the present war crisis, and to comply with the requirements of the War Department, said:

"While the State is engaged in an effort to organize, to full authorized strength, its National Guard, the important duty of furnishing its quota of recruits to bring the Regular Army to War Strength must not be lost sight of.

"Texas is lagging behind in the number of recruits going into the Regular Army and it is the duty of good citizens to give this matter serious attention.

"It will be remembered that when the selective draft was first suggested, the President announced that approximately one million five hundred thousand men would be needed, one million to be composed of the Regular Army and National Guard, both recruited to full strength. The remaining five hundred thousand were to be obtained by the selective draft.

"It will, necessarily, be many days before this draft is completed. In the meantime men are needed to go, immediately, into training for use, as soon as possible, at the front.

"It must not be forgotten that altho men between the ages of 21 and 30 years are subject to the selective draft, all men between the ages of 18 and 45 years, including those registered under the draft, are subject to military duty, and will be accepted in the National Guard and Regular Army.

"It seems to me to be the urgent patriotic duty of all men between the ages of 18 and 45 years to, immediately, volunteer their services.

"The men required from Texas to fill up to full war strength the ranks of the Regular Army, of those regiments of National Guard now in Federal Service, and of the additional units of the National Guard now being organized must be procured within a very short time and in addition to the 500,000 men to be secured through the selective draft, if the Government is to prosecute the present war to a successful termination. Sacrifice must be made to accomplish this object, and it is confidently believed that it is only necessary to bring to the people of Texas a realization of the necessity to obtain all of the recruits needed.

"It would be a sad commentary upon the patriotism of the young men of Texas if our efforts to recruit the National Guard to full strength by voluntary enlistment should fail; and an reflection would be cast upon the State if it does not supply its full quota to the Regular Army.

"The dignity of the Nation has been affronted and its liberties are jeopardized. The spirit that made the Alamo immortal and which won a Republic on the field of San Jacinto is not dead. Texas will not fail to uphold the hands of the President"

U. S. DESTROYERS RESCUE CREWS

"When the American ships arrived on the scene they found the ships were gone, and for many hours they groped about in the dark in search of the survivors. The crew of one of the sunk ships, 31 in number were found in one lifeboat, while 49 survivors from the second ship were picked up from two small boats. Four sailors from the latter ship were killed by the explosion of the torpedo.

Admiral Sims and other naval officers met the destroyers on their return and complimented the commanders on their work.

The juice of two fresh lemons strained into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white make a whole quarter pint of the most remarkable lemon skin beautifier at about the cost one must pay for a small jar of the ordinary cold creams. Care should be taken to strain the lemon juice through a fine cloth so no lemon pulp gets in, then this lotion will keep fresh for months. Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to bleach and remove such blemishes as freckles, sallowness and tan and is the ideal skin softener, whitener and beautifier.

Just try it! Get three ounces of orchard white at any drug store and two lemons from the grocer and make up a quarter pint of this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion and massage it daily into the face, neck, arms and hands.

Californian Had Kidney Trouble

Jack Maitos, Copperopolis, Calif., says: "I had such a severe case of kidney trouble I thought I would have to sell out my business. I took three bottles of Foley Kidney Pills which entirely relieved me and I have had no recurrence of kidney trouble since then."

"Some days it seems as if you can no longer bear the pain and misery you suffer from kidney and bladder troubles. The ache across your back grows worse with every move you make and every step you take. It just seems to rob you of all strength and energy. Your head aches, you are nervous and worn out, sleep poorly and have no appetite, stomach is upset and bowels irregular."

Foley Kidney Pills lessen the pain, until it is finally gone entirely. They give strength and tone to the kidneys—make them strong, active, their action becomes regular and normal again, and your health grows better each day you take this great healing medicine.

OUSLEY TO HELP FOOD PROBLEMS

Washington, June 23.—Texas talent has again been called to the aid of the nation in wartime. Announcement was made tonight that Clarence Ousley, director of the Texas A. and M. extension department, had been summoned to Washington to aid the department of agriculture in augmenting and conserving the country's crop production.

Mr. Ousley's title will be assistant to the secretary of agriculture. Inasmuch as the department of agriculture has not asked him to give up his extension work in Texas, he will divide his time between that state and Washington. He will promote his plan of having cattlemen send their heifers East for breeding purposes instead of selling them for slaughter. He will take up with various colleges the campaign for food conservation in cities, and will help conduct the fight against the pink boll worm, now menacing the Texas-Mexican lower border.

Mr. Ousley's first task will be in reorganizing the bulletin and departmental publication service with a view of cutting out duplication. He is assured of the warmest co-operation of Secretary Houston, who is a former president of both the Texas A. and M. College and Texas University.

CLIP THIS AND PIN ON WIFE'S DRESSER

Cincinnati man tells how to shrivel up corns or calluses so they lift off with fingers.

Ouch ! ? ! ? ! This kind of rough talk will be heard less here in town if people troubled with corns will follow the simple advice of this Cincinnati authority, who claims that a few drops of a drug called freezone when applied to a tender, aching corn or hardened callus stops soreness at once, and soon the corn or callus dries up and lifts right off without pain.

He says freezone dries immediately and never inflames or even irritates the surrounding skin. A small bottle of freezone will cost very little at any drug store, but will positively remove every hard or soft corn or callus from one's feet. Millions of American women will welcome this announcement since the inauguration of the high heels. If your druggist doesn't have freezone tell him to order a bottle for you.

DONALD B. ATWELL RECEIVES PROMOTION

Rev. and Mrs. C. D. Atwell of this city are in receipt of a letter from their son, Donald B. Atwell, advising that he has been promoted to a corporal in the regular army and is now stationed at Fort Benjamin Harrison.

Mr. Atwell hasn't been in the army but six or seven weeks, and his promotion in the service is coming quick. It will be remembered by many readers of this paper that the young man finished school in Chicago a few weeks ago and joined the National Guards, coming to Nacogdoches for a little visit to the homefolks while his application was pending. He is a sturdy, patriotic young man, giving the same studious attention to his duties as a soldier that characterized his work in school, and The Sentinel predicts a bright career for him in his unselfish service to his country.

Mr. L. D. Pitts, one of the Sentinel's long-time valued friends, was a pleasant caller at the office Saturday afternoon, dropping in to make annual settlement for his paper.

DOUGLASS MEN IN AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT

Mr. C. B. Watkins, a well-known business man of the place The Sentinel gets the information of a serious automobile accident which happened to three Douglass men last Friday evening about six o'clock.

The party was composed of Messrs. D. M. Kelley, W. O. Watkins and Will Yates, who left some days ago for a business visit to Fort Worth, making the trip in an automobile. At a point near Arlington the car skidded and turned completely over, and finally landing on the ground upright with the engine still running.

In the accident the occupants of the car were all thrown out, and all more or less injured. Mr. Kelley sustained a fractured skull, three broken ribs and severe bruises. He was conveyed to a sanitarium in Dallas where he has since been under the care of physicians and nurses. The other gentlemen were not disabled, and their injuries were only slight, but they feel that they had a narrow escape with their lives.

GIVE "SYRUP OF FIGS" TO CONSTIPATED CHILD

Delicious "Fruit Laxative" can't harm tender little stomach, liver and bowels.

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, your little one's stomach, liver and bowels need cleansing at once. When peevish, cross, listless, doesn't sleep, eat or act naturally, or is feverish, stomach sour, breath bad, has sore throat, diarrhoea, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without griping, and you have a well-playful child again. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which contains full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups.

COUNTY CO-OPERATING IN RED CROSS WORK

Quite a number of Nacogdoches citizens met with the citizens of Cushing Sunday afternoon for the purpose of assisting in the organization of an auxiliary to the Red Cross Chapter in that little city. A large number of people entered into the spirit of the work and Cushing promises to give us a strong organization.

Appleby is also organizing, and under the leadership of Rev. C. D. Atwell, auxiliaries are being organized throughout the county.

An interesting feature of this work is the fact that a number of the colored population of this city is lending its hearty support to this humane work, and it is hoped that sufficient interest will develop among the colored people for the organization of an auxiliary.

THE BRITISH DRIVE IS OCCUPYING LENS

The slow, but sure encirclement of Lens, the important coal center held by the Germans in the department of Pas de Calais, is in process of consummation by the Canadians. Having already during the past week captured important vantage points west and southwest of the town, a fresh smash at the German lines has been rewarded by the occupation of the village of La Coulotte, situated a mile to the south.

With the British forces virtually enveloping the town, except on the east, the Germans already are ceasing the mining of coal in the immediate vicinity of Lens thereby seemingly indicating that they realize that their tenure of the positions is short lived. Although the British war office, aside from the operations around Lens, reports no activity by Field Marshal Haig's men arising in importance above minor patrol sorties, the Berlin war office asserts that heavy artillery duels are in progress at various points, where enormous quantities of ammunition are being used.

D. 1917, the same being the 3rd day of September, A. D. 1917, then and there to answer a petition filed in said court No. 448, wherein Gus Treanna is Plaintiff and Francis Treanna is defendant, and said petition alleging that plaintiff and defendant were legally married in Nacogdoches county, Texas, on or about the 22nd day of August, A. D. 1908, and continued to live together as husband and wife until on or about the day of Sept. A. D. 1914; at which time defendant left the bed and board of plaintiff to live in adultery with one Paul Hernandez, since which time plaintiff and defendant have not lived nor cohabitated together as husband and wife. To the Sheriff or any Constable of Nacogdoches County—Greeting:
You are hereby commanded to summon Luther Warren by making publication of this Citation once in each week for four successive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your county, to appear at the next regular term of the District Court of Nacogdoches County, to be held at the Court House thereof, in Nacogdoches, on the 1st Monday in September, A. D. 1917, the same being the 3rd day of September, A. D. 1917, then and there to answer a petition filed in said court on the 23rd day of June, A. D. 1917, in a suit, numbered on the docket of said court No. 447, wherein Alice Warren is Plaintiff, and Luther Warren is Defendant, and said petition alleging that on or about March 31st, 1907, Plaintiff and Defendant were lawfully married to each other in Nacogdoches County, Texas, and thereafter lived and cohabitated as husband and wife, until on or about the day of A. D. 1914, when Defendant, without cause or objection on the part of this Plaintiff, abandoned the bed and board of this Plaintiff since which time they have not lived or cohabitated together as husband and wife. That during the time they lived and cohabitated together as husband and wife Plaintiff made defendant a kind, dutiful and obedient wife, but defendant notwithstanding his marital vows was cruel to plaintiff, would stay out nights from she and their children, when they were without protection, and finally when plaintiff came at defendant's request to her father's on a visit, defendant refused to let her return and has since refused to provide for and support plaintiff and her children by said marriage.
That as a result of said marriage there was born unto plaintiff and defendant the following children, L. D. Warren, a boy about nine years of age; Nora Warren, a girl about 7 years of age; and Lance Warren, a boy about 5 years of age, all of said children now living with Plaintiff. Plaintiff says Defendant refuses and has refused since he abandoned her to support said children and she has had the care and custody of them since the separation. That defendant is not a proper person to have the care and custody of said children, he being a man of violent temper, but that she is the proper person to care for and educate said children and that she is willing and able to so care for and educate said children.
Wherefore premises considered, Plaintiff prays the court that Defendant be cited to appear and answer this petition and that upon a final hearing hereof she have judgment dissolving said bonds of matrimony now existing between plaintiff and defendant for cost of suit, and for such other relief that she may be entitled, in law and equity as she will ever pray.
Herein fail not, but have before said Court at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.
Given under my hand and the seal of said court, at office in Nacogdoches, this the 23rd day of June, A. D. 1917.
