LATEST WAR NEWS.

Italian Army Headquarters in Northern Italy, Monday, Nov. 26.—(Delayed)—Five determined attacks by Austro-German forces on the left wing of the Italian fourth army, near Monte Pertica, between the Brenta and the Piave, were delivered Monday. The enemy rushes were broken by the defensive troops with heavy losses to the attackers.

London, Nov. 27.—British casualties officially reported for the week ending Tuesday aggregated 30,314. They were divided as follows:

Killed or died of wounds: Officers, 269; men 5,947.

Wounded or missing:

Officers, 896; men, 23,202.

Notwithstanding the heavy fighting during the last week in the Cambrai district, the British casualties are less than in the preceding week when they totaled 32,227. Two weeks back they were 25,065.

Washington, Nov. 27.—The British drive on Cambrai will be followed relentlessly with what is in prospect in France. Authoritative announcement already has been made abroad that this winter would see no halt in operations, and with the return of American divisional commanders from observation tours in France, it has become certain that the French and British armies will prosecute midwinter campaigns such as were never before attempted.

GERMAN SHELLS CAUSE SEVEN U. S. CASUALTIES

Washington, Nov. 27.—Two American soldiers were killed and five were severely wounded in an artillery combat with the Germans on November 20, General Pershing reported today.

Those killed were:

Private Harry L. Miller, field artillery, address Mrs. L. Copeland, 10002 Center street, Baker, Ore.

Private Charles Rissmiller, field artillery, mother, Mrs. Clara Rissmiller, 1321 Moss Street, Reading, Penn.

Severely wounded:

Sergeant Julian M. Peck, field artillery, emergency address, Z. B. Peck, Hartwell, Ga.

Sergeant Andrew Engstrom, field artillery, Mrs. O. Engstrom, wife, Fort Sill, Okla.

Private Harry C. Watkins, field artillery, Fannie B. Watkins, mother, North Bend Ore.

Private Oscar F. Jones, field artillery, Mrs. Maria Jones, mother, Lucas, Ohio.

Private Joseph Lewitt, field artillery, Roy Woodside, friend, Mount Holly, N. J.

THREE SOLDIERS DIE

Fort Worth, Texas, Nov. 27.—Four additional deaths from pneumonia have occurred at Camp Bowie as follows: Private Walter E. Nitschmann, aged 18, of Company I, 143d Infantry, home, Victoria; Private Leon H. Walton, aged 20, of wagon company, Eleventh Ammunition Train, home South McAlester, Okla.; Private Harry Barak, aged 21 of Company D, 143rd Infantry, home Huntington.

This make a total of nine deaths within three days from pneumonia at the camp.

There has been a total of about fifteen deaths at the camp since its erection three months

RURAL CARRIER EXAMINATION.

The United States Civil Service Commission has announced an examination of the County of Nacogdoches, Texas, to be held at Nacogdoches, to fill the position of rural carrier at Garrison, Texas, and vacancies that may later occur on rural routes from other post offices in the above-named county. The examination will be open only to male citizens who are actually domiciled in the territory of a postoffice in the county and who meet the other requirements set forth in Form No. 1977. This form and application blanks may be obtained from the offices mentioned above or from the United States Civil Service Commission at Washington, D. C. Applications should be forwarded to the Commission at Washington, D. C., at the earliest practicable date.

Our big friend—as big in heart and soul as he is in size—Frank Garrison of Garrison was a pleasant caller at the office this afternoon, and was as optimistic as usual. If the country was filled with such boosters it would soon come into its own.

MORE SYRUP TO THE SOLDIER BOYS

Mr. Chas. Perkins is billing out another shipment of good old ribbon cane syrup to the soldier boys of the Coast Artillery Co. There will be about seventy-five gallons sent to the boys in this shipment, making a total of some 125 or 130 gallons sent to the boys since the enterprise was launched, and for which the boys are very grateful.

In this connection Mr. Perkins requests The Sentinel to return his tanks individually to the fathers and friends of the boys who have co-operated with him in furnishing syrup for the shipments, and to give notice that this will be the last shipment so that those wishing to co-operate further will not bring any more in.

Rev. C. A. Westbrook and others from the county who went to Dallas to attend the Baptist State Convention, have returned home, and concur in the statement that it was a grand meeting. The Baptist people are very energetic in the cause of their Master, and are doing a great work all over the world—up and doing and shirking nothing.

REPEATED ATTEMPTS BURN LUFKIN BRIDGE

Lufkin, Texas, Nov. 25.—For some time past the eastern part of the Cotton Belt railroad has had trouble with bridge burners. Three bridges have burned in the last few days. The long bridge across the Angelina river was set on fire in two places near both ends of the bridge. At one place the bridge was destroyed or damaged for 100 feet.

Saturday Sheriff Evans of Lufkin and a state ranger arrested a suspected party near the bridge and landed him in the Lufkin jail. At first this party gave his name as J. Hanks of Memphis, Tenn., but later he claimed his name was Hoffman, and that he hailed from Louisiana.

The bridge burning had reached such a stage that traffic was seriously interfered with, and it is hoped the firebug has at last been caged.

TWO SHIPS LOST.

London, Nov. 27.—The American steamship Actaeon was torpedoed on Sunday, a dispatch from Corunna, Spain, reports. Twenty-one survivors have arrived at Port Camarinas. Three boats with the remainder of the crew are missing.

Baltimore, Nov. 27.—Word was received here Tuesday of the destruction by a German submarine of the American schooner Margaret Roberts, commanded and partly owned by Capt. Wm. Roberts of Chance, Md. The schooner was bound on a voyage to the Canary Islands with a cargo of grain from an Atlantic port. As far as could be learned her captain and crew are safe on one of the Canary Islands.

The dispatches announce that with the receipt of news of the big British success, cotton prices took a big jump upward. Let us hope that the big tanks will hold out.

A German writer disposed to belittle the importance of America's entry into the war says that the Yankees are afflicted with a "richness of vocabulary and poverty of thought."

A "women" editorial going the rounds says that the negro who raised the one-dollar bill to a ten-dollar bill was probably seeking to restore its lost power. It would take something like this to accomplish the result, alright.

The Sentinel had hoped that with the increased postage "bureaus" maintained for the purpose of working the newspapers for free advertising would be discontinued, but there seems to be no let up.

The Lufkin News of yesterday greets its readers with eight pages, the extra pages being necessary to accommodate the extra advertising. Bully for old Lufkin and congratulations to our neighbor.

A prospector in the city yesterday said that this must be a good community since he could not find any one who wanted to sell his farm. This is the best evidence, but it is a condition that should not be carried too far, for there is much idle land in the county which is doing no one any good, and should either be put into cultivation by the owner or sold to some one who will.

As many people in this section were once on the mailing list of liquor houses of Monroe, La.—not all of their own choosing, however—it will be of general interest to learn that this flourishing North Louisiana city has voted prohibition by an overwhelming majority. The reports say that there was not so much as an eleventh-hour interest aroused among those opposed to prohibition. On a line of this making, Monroe was the only "wet" spot between Houston and the District of Columbia.

The battlefields of Europe seem to be practicing some of the "conservation" the United States has been preaching, the Italians running Germans into the river, while the British are rolling big tanks over those with whom they have been in mortal combat, and both enterprises are proving very successful. And the big tank is from an American idea, having been constructed similar to the big tractors the American army has been using on the border of Mexico.

It would be well to remember in planning for next year's crop, both field and garden, that high-priced cotton will avail you nothing when you go to buy government-controlled products. It is beyond question that practically all food and feed products will be under government supervision and consumers limited as to the amount of their purchase. Therefore it will be the part of prudence and patriotism to plant an abundance of food and feed, and this should apply to the farmer. Let no ground go to waste or be untilled.—Honty Grove Signal.

The Athens Review recently offered a mighty good plan to do away with unworthy politicians whose chief asset is notoriety, by an application of negative treatment. It is a splendid idea which has long been employed by this paper, and The Sentinel hopes the larger papers of the country will adopt it. No politician or man of any other calling can get very far, accomplish very much or do much damage, if the press of the country would ignore him.

Northern cities are insisting upon the public schools keeping open forty-eight weeks in the year. There never has been any reason for the four, six or eight months school term. It is clearly a loss of time, a loss of money, and a loss of the use of the public's investment in school property. The Port Arthur Record discusses intelligently the benefits of the forty-eight-week school year in Mason City, Iowa, where it has been in use two years. It has proved a success there. It will prove a success in Texas; and the sooner it is installed in Texas schools, both rural and city, the better off Texas shall be.—Houston Post.

Beginning with today's issue, The Sentinel will carry a "Buy-at-Home" section, supported by the different enterprises of the city. The article will appear once a month in the daily and three times a month in the weekly. The reading matter, giving reasons why people should trade at home, will be changed weekly, and is prepared by specialists in the line, insuring that it will be interesting and worthy of the close study of all who read the paper, both from the standpoint of the business man and the consumer. Don't fail to read it.

The writer overheard a little story about the handsome returns to be derived from farming in East Texas with present prices that is worth repeating. A business man purchased a small farm for $800. Not caring to take the money out of his business, he borrowed it from the bank, together with enough to hire labor with which to cultivate it. From the returns of the crop, all cotton, he received enough to settle with the bank in full, interest and all and has two bales of cotton left. The story is authentic, the good results having been obtained by a man of a neighboring town, and similar returns can be obtained by others who will employ intelligent methods.

Much of the inflation of prices on the different commodities and articles of merchandise is a fad, pure and simple, and should be regulated in some intelligent way. There is no getting away from the law of supply and demand, and this much will be admitted in the argument, but are we patriotic when we seize upon every opportunity to run the price of something we have to sell up when the extra demand has been created solely by the war? Statistics show that the United States has grown a great crop, and but for the fact that we are finding a market in the nations which are bleeding under the yoke of military oppression, we would have an over-production and the price we are enjoying for all kinds of produce would be reduced many times. We all rejoice that we have the good demand for our produce, but the sober thought herein contained cannot be denied, and should make us more generous with our prosperity in every laudible enterprise.

If it be right, do it boldly.—Gilpin.

HENRY FORD'S TRACTOR.

Henry Ford informed friends at the Detroit Athletic Club in Detroit the other day that he had just notified France that that country could have 12,000 Ford tractors. He is now working on from 6,000 to 7,000 for England, and all these will have to be delivered before America's demand is met. Mr. Ford said that he was taking advantage of the present fine weather in making the tests, and that in a short time, several of these tractors could be moved to the South for test work there. He laughingly said that he was fifty-four years old, but believed that in his present condition he was capable of running further and faster than any 34-year-old man in Detroit. As indicating the work he is doing, he told of rising at 6:00 o'clock, Wednesday morning, and of following eleven tractors over the field. He rode on many of these, and at the close of the morning's test, knew everything that was to be known regarding the work of each.

Mr. Ford said that all his tractors were being fitted to create their own light for work. The other night a test was made with one of them, and it plowed an acre in 65 minutes. Mr. Ford said that it was evident that the government action with regard to the manufacturing of automobiles was in line with a saving policy and that it was probable that that government did not care to have the manufacturers make too many cars, as too many cars meant the consumption of too much gasoline.

WHY SWEAR?

Do you swear? Most people do. But what good does it do? You may say that it relieves your feelings, but we don't think it does anything of the kind. Rather, swearing heightens your feelings. If, instead of swearing you should try to be cheerful when something goes wrong, your feelings of anger or resentment would pass much sooner than it would if you uttered a string of ugly oaths.

Try smiling. Your smile may be a bit hypocritical, but it will be better than cursing.

"Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord thy God in vain."

Character is what you are. Reputation is what folks think you are. Sometimes they are so well balanced that you can't tell one from the other, says Grit. But more often the one is a lie on the other. Folks exalt virtues that do not exist and condemn follies that are purely subjective and personal. Much depends on who reports you. Friends are always charitable and interpret our lives to best advantage. Enemies can see no good in us and report as they see. So reputation may flatter or condemn. Not so with character. This is something beyond external observation. It is the lift itself as lived amidst its motives and obstacles. Few people can know its real value, for even you do not always know just what you are capable of being until the emergency demands display your worth. What you are in the face of service testing is character.—Ex.

A drummer traveling out of St. Louis visiting the city yesterday was so charmed with the story of a man selling a sow and two "litters" of pigs for $797.25, that he came to the office for an extra paper containing the report, and it is needless to say that he will show it to people in many sections of the country. And we can back up the report with the proof if any doubting Thomases get in the way.

OFFERS CO-OPERATION.

Just now while there is a world-wide food shortage every agency of the country is offering co-operation in conservation and intelligent marketing. Among these agencies is the Department of Agriculture which is anxious to get in touch with the supply and offers its good offices in helping find the best market for any surplus the country may have. Along this line the Department has issued the following bulletin addressed to "The Farmers of Texas":

In our efforts to help those who have to buy feed and food supplies for next year's rations, and to assist those who have products for sale, the Commissioner of Agriculture has collected and is yet collecting, first-hand information as to the available supply of, and actual demand for, both feed and food products, a list of which may be had by any citizen of Texas, from the Bureau of Markets, State Department of Agriculture, free, upon request.

The harvest season for corn is well on and the bulk of the crop will likely be gathered within the next 30 days; and with the presence and continual coming of maturing and drying Northerns, corn should be in good dry condition from this time to the end of the harvest.

To those who will have to buy corn, our advice would be to buy dry, well-matured corn as it is gathered from the fields and save the expense of extra handling incident to storage, which expense, in many cases, includes extra labor, wagon hauls, railroad freight, storage rent and insurance.

At the present prevailing prices being paid at loading points throughout the producing section of the country, corn should be delivered at Texas destination points at prices around $1.40 to $1.50 per bushel for nice, dry, sound corn, depending on the freight rates with respect to the points of origin and destination in traffic group zones.

Parties ordering or buying corn, hay or any other commodity from distant shipping points should be certain to always find out from their local freight agent what the freight rate will be on the commodity wanted, from the points of origin to the point of destination. By knowing the freight rates from a given point where the goods may be had, to the station where they are to be delivered, and the price at which the products wanted may be bought, one can always tell where and how to buy.

It sometimes happens that delivered prices and sales are more satisfactory than f. o. b. (on track) sales. When inquiring for, or offering goods on the market, the buyer or seller should always be careful to mention the kind, quantity and quality of the goods wanted or offered, and the f. o. b. and delivered price, offered by the buyer and asked by the seller. Most of the differences that arise between shippers and receivers are due to a misunderstanding or rather the lack of a thorough understanding before shipment is ordered by the one and accepted by the other.

When asking information from the Department of Agriculture, be sure to state definitely, just what is wanted. Don't expect the Department of Agriculture to give definite information as to the f. o. b. or delivered value of corn or hay or any other commercial commodity, unless the kind, quantity and quality of the products, and full information as to how and when the goods must be handled from the shipper to the receiver, are given. Don't ask us to say what hogs are worth and where

Too Many Operations

The Right Medicine in Many Cases Does Better than the Surgeon's Knife. Tribute to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Doctor Said Operation or Death—But Medicine Cured.

Des Moines, Iowa.—"My husband says I would have been in my grave today had it not been for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I suffered from a serious female trouble and the doctors said I could not live one year without an operation. My husband objected to the operation and had me try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I soon commenced to get better and am now well and able to do my own housework. I can recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to any woman as a wonderful health restorer."—Mrs. M. O. JOHNSON, Route D, Box 190, Richmond, Ind.

Another Operation Avoided.

Richmond, Ind.—"For two years I was so sick and weak from female troubles that when going up stairs I had to go very slowly with my hands on the steps, then sit down at the top to rest. The doctor said he thought I should have an operation, and my friends thought I would not live to move into our new house. My daughter asked me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as she had taken it with good results. I did so, my weakness disappeared, I gained in strength, moved into our new home, do all kinds of garden work, and raised hundreds of chickens and ducks. I cannot say enough in praise of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. M. O. JOHNSON, Route D, Box 190, Richmond, Ind.

Of course there are many serious cases that only a surgical operation will relieve. We freely acknowledge this, but the above letters, and many others like them, amply prove that many operations are recommended when medicine in many cases is all that is needed.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

they can be sold, unless we have full particulars as to the particular breed, the age, the weight, the number, and physical condition of the herd.

By being careful and definite in making inquiries, much valuable time and labor will be saved and more satisfactory results may be expected.

The public is respectfully requested to co-operate with us in this work by observing the above suggestions. Those who would avail themselves of the agency through which this department can render them the greatest good, should be affiliated with a live farmers co-operative organization. This is an age of co-operation, and farmers should help themselves by helping one-another.

Very respectfully,
E. W. COLE,
Director of Markets.

PRIVATE ANDERSON HAD $10,000.000 INSURANCE

Lufkin News.
The way the United States is taking care of her soldier boys is brought most forcibly home to the people of Angelina County by the recent death of Private Robert J. Anderson, who had a $10,000 policy provided by the government and which will be paid his mother at the rate of $58 per month for twenty years. Of course no amount of money is adequate compensation for the young man's death, but the fact that the government makes it possible for all to carry insurance in the event of death. So far as known Private Anderson is the first to die at Camp Bowie who had availed himself of the insurance.

A special from Fort Worth relating to the matter is as follows:

Fort Worth, Texas, Nov. 20.—Robert J. Anderson of Lufkin, private in the 143rd Infantry at Camp Bowie, took out a $10,000 life insurance policy under the recently enacted soldiers' act and died the next day of pneumonia. The $10,000 will be paid to his mother at the rate of $58 per month for 20 years.

SHUTS OFF SUPPLY OF WAR MUNITIONS

Washington, Nov. 21.—Russia is cut off today from American supplies until there is a government at Petrograd which the Washington government can properly recognize.

American officials have been instructed to stop all Russian bound exports already on the docks until there is a clear, convincing indication of whose hands they will fall in.

POWER OF DOLLAR IS EASILY SHOWN

Keep One Moving and See What
It Will Do for Your Community.

PAYS MULTITUDE OF DEBTS

When It Is Sent Out of Town, However, to Pay for What Can Be Bought at Home It Is Gone Forever.

(Copyright.)
It is a rather wonderful thing, when you stop to think about it, what one dollar will do, if it is kept at work. This has been illustrated in a striking manner on several occasions
by means of a very simple experiment.
If you want to see just how important a role a silver dollar or a dollar bill plays in the life of a community here is the way to do it. Just attach a tag to the dollar and turn it loose, with the request that every person who receives the dollar make a note on the tag as to how he received it. The result will be an eye-opener.

Here is the way it works: Smith,
the lumber dealer, who first possesses the dollar, buys some groceries from Brown and pays for them with the dollar. About that time Jones, the plumber, who had done some work for Brown, sends his collector around and Brown pays the bill with this dollar.
Jones owes Green, the printer, a small advertising bill, so he sends this dollar with possibly some others, to Green to pay his bill. Green had just put the dollar in his cash drawer when in comes Black, the milkman, to whom Green owes a dollar for milk delivered at his house. Green takes the dollar out of his cash drawer and pays Black. For some time Black has owed White, the carpenter, for some work done on his dairy house, so now he takes the dollar that Green has paid him and pays up what he owes White.
White still owes for some lumber that he bought from Smith, the lumber dealer, so he takes the dollar and squares up his account with Smith.
Smith now has his dollar back. Brown has been able to pay his plumbing bill, Jones has squared up with the printer, and so on, all around the circle.

What Might Have Happened.
Now suppose that Smith, instead of buying his groceries from Brown, had purchased them from a mail order house in a far distant city and sent his dollar to pay for them. Brown would not have had that dollar to pay Jones, the plumber; Jones could not have paid his printing bill; the printer would have had to stand off the milk man; White, the carpenter, would not have got the money for the work he had done for the milkman and Smith would not have got the money which White owed him for lumber.

This is all so simple that it requires no student of economics or professor of mathematics to figure it out. Anyone can see that when Smith sends that dollar to Chicago or some other city where the mail order houses flourish, that dollar is gone so far as Smith and Jones and Green and the rest of the people in Smith's town are concerned. That dollar will never come back to pay any bill in Smith's town.
Now just multiply this one dollar by a hundred or a thousand or ten thousand. One dollar may not seem to make much difference in the average town, but a thousand dollars or even a hundred dollars does make a difference. Just as one dollar will pay a dozen or a hundred small bills, a hundred or a thousand dollars will pay a dozen or a hundred big bills. When Brown, the grocery man, owes a thousand dollars and can't pay it, he is headed for the bankruptcy courts.
When Jones, the plumber, can't collect the money which is due him from Brown or maybe a dozen Browns, he is headed in the same direction as Brown.
And so it goes all around the circle
until it hits Smith or a dozen Smiths who have sent their money out of town to add to the fortunes of the mail order men.

Buyer One Who Is Hurt.
Thus, it will be seen that this buy-
at-home proposition is really a selfish
one with the man who buys the goods.
He is not hurting the home merchant
when he sends his money out of town,
any more than he is hurting himself.
Every sensible man knows that his livelihood depends upon whether business in his town is good or not. If business is not good, he cannot make a good living for himself and his family, no matter how hard he may work, and business cannot be good if the business men in the town are not making money. This is a plain business proposition for every man and woman in the

MR. TUBBE WILL BE RELEASED ON BOND

News has been received in the city that Mr. A. Tubbe, a well-known citizen of this county who has been confined in the federal jail at Tyler as an alien enemy, will be released on five thousand dollar bond pending good conduct.

The conditions of the release require that Mr. Tubbe make weekly report to Mr. C. A.
Hodges, who has been chosen as supervisor, for the duration of the war, and any failure to make prompt report, or any further violation of the stipulations of the government in its relation to the war, would cause his surrender or forfeiture on the bond
as the case might be.

The bond is expected by each mail. As soon as it is received Nacogdoches friends will sign it promptly and Mr. Tubbe will return home.

Many friends of the gentleman, British and French reinforcements arrive, but up to the present their efforts have been without avail. Comparative quiet prevails along the Piv-er to the Adriatic.

INCREASE IN SALARY GRANTED TO MANY

Austin, Texas, Nov. 23.—Approximately 4000 Texas National Guardsmen are affected by the announcement today by Adjutant General Harley that the officers of the Texas National Guard now merged into the national army and encamped at Camp Bowie are to receive from the federal government what is termed as longevity pay, that is 10 per cent increase on their pay extending back for a period of five years, while the enlisted men are to receive $3 for each enlistment for the past five years. This percentage of increase for the officers is based on the salary now received, according to rank.

A mass of records from the adjutant general's department showing those who are to receive this pay has just been sent to Camp Bowie so that the amount of each officer and enlisted man is to receive may be accurately determined.

A FIRE ESCAPE FOR COUNTY COURT HOUSE

The Sentinel has overlooked to note sooner that the commisescape for the upper stories of the county court house.

The contract for the work was let to the Southern Structua bid of $565, and provides for the installation by February 1st, and must comply with the state laws which provide that fire escapes must be erected in public buildings which have upper stories.

Los Angeles, Calif., Nov. 21.— Practically complete returns today on yesterday's election showed that the city voted for the elimination of saloons and severe restrictions on the liquor traffic by a majority of nearly 20,000. Effective after March 31, 1918, the initiative ordinance will make Los Angeles the largest city in the United States without saloons according to present records.

NACOGDOCHES TRADITIONS

The Sentinel deserves praise for advocating improvement of Hospital street, the chief way of approach to the beautiful and historic Oak Grove Cemetery, and R. C. Gramling, who is always on the right side, should be backed up in this matter by the Cemetery Association, the Civic Club, the Normal School,
the City Dads, the Good Roads leaders, the colored Baptist church, and everybody else that has any civic pride. This street is a crying shame like it is. That old fence on the south side of the street should be set back and the sidewalk leveled up in its proper place, in a neat, cheap style of cost.

One hundred and fifty years ago there was no cemetery in or near the town, nor even a country graveyard. In fact, there was no town. There was an old camp site here, and a few shacks where people had spent short periods. The five old pre-historic mounds were here
upon and around the present beautiful college campus, and the big hole in the ground where the mounds then stood and where the cemetery is now located. When they were built, why and by whom, is as much a mystery as is the case of the pyramids and the sphinx of Egypt.
But this was such a charming site for camping or habitation that it is no wonder that the traditional Nacogdoches Indians used it, and afterward the white man, or whoever saw it.

About one hundred and thirty years ago, in 1778, this site was settled by Captain Gil Y Barbo and a small band of wandering colonists, who built houses to live in, and who found a few shabby old vacant houses already here. When a person died a grave was made wherever people pleased. There was no adopted graveyard, no land owners, but there were groups of graves in various places near the new village in the tall timbers and dense shades of beautiful wood. One of these graveyards was on the ground where the present county court house now stands; another was on the spot where the E. & M. State Bank is now operating. Temporary Catholic churches occupied these sites, the latter being located in front of the old Stone Fort, and upon the site of an extinct Catholic mission. Another graveyard of the early days was located near the big mound on what is now Church street, at the south-east corner of the college campus. Another was on top of the big hill in the western part of the Col. Wm. Clark homestead, and there were lone graves
at other places.

Finally, about one hundred years ago, Nacogdoches became a townsite in fact, and adopted a graveyard which is now honored with the name of Oak Grove Cemetery. It was situated in the beautiful, dense woods north of the old Pollitt home, which was afterward the Edwards home premises. There was never even a big road near it until the famous "King's Highway" came along a little later.
The tortuous old Indian trace meandered eastward down to a crossing on the LaNana creek

just below the then used graveyard on its southern edge.

What a picturesque scene this locality presented! Wild birds and animals of the forest were here unmolested and in their natural glory. The ever babbling brooks and springs of pure sparkling water, one of these being the Holy Spring or noted Ojo Sanctissimo dripping from the smitten stone on the bank of the creek in the south-east corner of this sacred old cemetery. All this is no new story, but it is not fatiguing, even by repetition.

The destruction of the great trees that were God's setting in the garden is regrettable.

The famous Elegy on a Country Churchyard, by Thos. Gray, is brought to mind by meditation
on these topics and tombstones.
But the individuals and their environments were quite different from those pictured by Gray—
they were all eventful and fruitful. They made Texas. Read the poem and note the contrast.
Here rest their heads upon the lap of earth, men who to fortune and fame are known from deeds of merit.

THE BANK STATEMENTS.

With the statements of the three banks of the city, published in this city this week, deposits are shown in the aggregate to the amount of $1,736,430.52, and total resources to the amount of $2,066,729.60.

This is a statement in which the entire community, as well as the banks, may well feel proud reflecting as it does, the splendid financial condition of this immediate section. We now have plenty of money with which to exploit every worthy enterprise and commercial pursuit, and as much of it as possible should be used in the development of the town and country along lines which would be profitable. We should have a much greater farming interest, and stock raising in this section, which would necessitate the opening of new land, and providing stock cattle to those who are not supplied. There is an opportunity for the development of many little industrial enterprises, which would cut out the middle man in making up the finished product at home. Particularly is this true with the peanut industry. There is a fuel famine in many places, and the wood taken from much of the land that should be cleared could be marketed profitably, provided the interruption to railroad traffic does not become too serious. Many other opportunities could be mentioned, and the Nacogdoches bankers would be glad to assist and co-operate with any legitimate enterprise.

Let's bring old Nacogdoches, town and county, into her own while we have the opportunity of financial backing, and an assured market for everything we can produce.

An exchange makes the observation that "the man who practices what he preaches usually preaches short and carefully prepared sermons."

"I didn't begin with askings. I took the job and stuck; And I took the joy they wouldn't. And now they're calling it luck."

—Kipling.

The Nacogdoches Sentinel says: "In the good time coming everybody will be struck by the sun of prosperity." Here's hoping we'll get a black eye.—Timpson Times.

Speaking of the big tanks turned loose on the Germans by the British reminds us that this might be a place in which to work off the Lufkin standpipe in the further process of the fight if a ship large enough can be found on which to transport it.

The Sentinel is pleased to announce to the world that the Nacogdoches country was visited by a good rain today, and that the scientist who was not going to allow us to have any more precipitation until next March is a false prophet.

In passing a farm a few days ago the writer noticed a cultivator and numerous other plow tools stacked up in the lot, exposed to the weather. We hope this is the exception in Nacogdoches county, for it is not good "conservation" to allow these things to rot when a few minutes labor would house them.

And this is the week in which the blessed Thanksgiving Day comes. May the people of the nation observe it as it should be this time. We have much to be thankful for, individually, but we are closely related to the greatest tragedy and combination of horrors the world has ever known, and gradually we will be brought into more serious contact with it. Let's keep the conscience clear and the powder dry for any emergency that may come to us in freeing the world from the yoke of military oppression, and blessings will continue to be our portion.

It has been several months since Editor Gibbs of Nacogdoches set the pace by pulling off a round of chills and was called "tacky" by his brethren of the press. It now transpires that the junior editor of The News has taken to the same "tacky" step and is laid up today on account of a "shaker" he encountered yesterday. Just how long he expects to remain in the same class with that "tacky" editor at Nacogdoches remains to be seen. It is hoped, however, and especially by the writer, who is doing double stunts today, that he may emerge from the attack without delay and resume his work of assisting to keep The News in the front ranks of East Texas newspaperdom.—Lufkin News.

Your "junior" is too slow, Brother Watford. "Tacky" chills were the "fashion" last summer, followed with a merry round of "grip" with the approach of winter, and all is well with the "goose hanging high" now. Put him in the standpipe.

The Nacogdoches Sentinel mentions the fact that the "Choctaw Trail" route which is designed to run from Chicago to the Gulf of Mexico will go through that county. It will enter Texas at Paris and is supposed to cover the most direct route from Paris to Galveston, but, according to the Sentinel, only such counties that put up a fee of ten dollars for inspection will be permitted to enter application for the route, which leads to the conclusion that no matter if a county is on the direct route, unless it does not see fit to put up a fee, the directors will go to some other country that does put up a fee, no matter how far it may be out of the most direct route. This ten dollar fee is to be paid to the secretary-treasurer J. Debenport of Mt. Pleasant, according to the Sentinel. Tyler people have long ago come to the conclusion that there is a bug under somebody's chip concerning this proposed route. Maybe the ten dollar fee is the bug.—Tyler Courier-Times.

Ordinarily the suggestion of a "bug under the chip" would be odious, and would be resented, but in this instance we must admit the charge. Nacogdoches, with its bunch of livewires, was the "bug under the chip" and beat the "Tyler gang" to it, just as she did in the Normal campaign and other matters which have offered a contest lately. Nacogdoches sent a delegation to the Oklahoma meeting, the only county in this section exhibiting this enterprise. She followed up with a strong delegation to the Texas meeting; she put up her pro rata part of the expense of inspection, and she captured the prize. As to the "air line" argument there is nothing but the "air" in the complaint. The intention of this line is to produce a "scenic highway" from the Great Lakes to the Gulf. Picturesque Nacogdoches with its rich historical lore is a feature of consideration enjoyed by but few places along the route. Come to Nacogdoches, where they have the "bug."

THOSE TEXAS PEANUTS.

(From the Fort Worth Record)

Cotton is a dry weather crop; the peanut appears to be a dry weather crop; millions of bushels of peanuts were produced by Texas farmers this year. Peanut meal makes excellent bread. Peanut oil is said to be superior to the olive oil of Italy or Greece. Peanut food products are in high favor.

Phil Armour of Chicago sent a message to the farmers of Texas. He wired them to stop feeding peanuts to hogs. He wired them that peanuts fatten the hogs and make the meat soft and nearly all fat instead of part fat and part lean, as desired by every packer.

He wired them that the packers will not pay for the peanut-fed hogs on the same basis as other hogs.

James D. Dawson of Houston declares that it is criminal to feed peanuts to hogs; that the farmers should sell the raw peanuts for cash and buy other kinds of feed or they should exchange the peanuts for peanut cake or meal. "Raw peanuts are too delightful an article to waste," is the verdict of Mr. Dawson, and because of the very excellent oil that is secured by oil meal operation, he is prepared to make an exchange of the peanut cake or meal on a basis of more per pound of finished article than the farmers bring for sale.

In other words, his basis of exchange is 4000 pounds of cake or meal for 2000 pounds of peanuts in the shell. If it was a sin to feed whole cotton seed to livestock or use the seed as a fertilizer it is doubly an economic crime at this juncture to feed the whole peanuts to hogs in view of the facts as they exist.

This is the view point of the editor of the National Provisioner and the Texas State agricultural experts are in accord with him.

Texas has an enormous peanut crop this year but very little grain. Texas is a great hog-growing State. Corn scarcity may result in a big crop of peanut-fed hogs and consequent soft pork.

Farmers should remember the Armour warning. Packers are docking peanut-fed hogs 2 cents a pound, and one of the Fred Davis experts predicts that the dockage will go to even 3 or 4 cents a pound.

Then why not sell the raw peanuts to the oil mill men and feed the cake or meal to the hogs? Why not make instead of lose money?

HOG POISONING IN TEXAS SPREADING

Austin, Texas, Nov. 22.—Reports received by R. H. Hoffman, Jr., state pure food commissioner, indicate that the poisoning of hogs while in shipment from points in Texas is becoming a serious menace. His department has just received for analysis the stomachs of a number of hogs that were poisoned in a shipment from Fort Worth to Hearne and McDade over the Houston and Texas Central Railway. A large number of the hogs were dead, when unloaded, from the effects of some kind of corrosive poison.

These reports also are to the effect that hogs have been poisoned in shipments over the International and Great Northern Railway. A thorough investigation is to be made.

Tyler thinks there is a "bug under the chip" somewhere in the vicinity of Nacogdoches. We have the "bug," alright, the first of its specie that has been able to do anything with the "Tyler Gang," and this is an admission that it is some "bug."

CUT COTTON CROP

URGES F. W. DAVIS

Austin, Texas, Nov. 25.—That the raising of food and feed crops and increased production of live stock for 1918 is more certain of profitable returns than is the raising of cotton is the opinion of Fred W. Davis, commissioner of agriculture. In speaking of farming, stock raising and the condition of world markets, Mr. Davis said:

"Farming in Texas is a business that is continuous all the year around. Preparing, sowing and reaping goes on for the full twelve months of the year, and must like the brook, 'go on forever.' Farming this fall and early winter will determine the crops for next spring and summer, both in the kind and the yield; but the kind of crops rather than the methods to be used, is the purpose of this article.

Cut the Cotton Crop.
"There is but one crop which southern economists feel the necessity of discouraging, lest it occupy too large a place in our general plan of production, namely, cotton. Now that cotton is bringing nearly 30 cents a pound, and will probably bring this figure before planting time again, and cotton seed are bringing almost undreamed of prices, the temptation will be great for farmers to follow their usual course in such cases and plant too heavily to that crop. Most farmers had rather grow cotton than any other southern crop. Most landlords, especially the nonresident ones, prefer cotton because it is ready cash rent, and the bankers and credit merchants usually prefer that their advances be based on cotton because it is a liquidating commodity.

Diversified Farming.
"Against all these influences the plans for diversified farming must contend. We realize that our armies in the field, as well as the civil population of this and allied nations, must have sufficient clothing, and the south must raise cotton to meet the major part of the necessity, but when the world is on the 'hog and hominy' basis, and necessities, not luxuries, are reduced to a minimum, there is much economy that can be practiced in the question of clothing, which would release both means and energy to be applied to the question of food. The constant shifting of styles, causing much discarding of garments but little worn, can and should be discontinued, at least during the war and until the world's production again gets normal. Garments can be made over, and many shifts which would be a great saving in the question of clothes may be resorted to. This may please us, but would go a long way toward meeting requirements. We should remember that a lean wardrobe is not to be compared to a lean pantry. The human body must have a certain amount of food in order that health may be preserved and life sustained, and when it is not available, famine, disease and death is the result, accompanied by theft, robbery riots and general anarchy. Therefore, the production of food is our foremost patriotic duty. Things necessary to sustain our nation in arms should be the first desire of our citizens and surely our producers will realize that food must come first, but of course both food and clothing are absolutely necessary.

Sow Falls Grains.
"The drouth has been broken recently in many places and we wish to admonish the grower to sow fall grains where possible, and prepare for a large planting of corn, oats, the grain sorghums and other food and feed crops, making cotton a surplus and secondary consideration.

This should be the general plan of the growers, and this is our appeal to them, backed by the following reasons: 1. It is the best way to meet the most urgent demands of the nation and its allies during the war. 2. It is the safer plan from a business standpoint.

"If too much cotton is raised, with restricted commerce, the price can and probably will fall below the cost of production and the growers will be left without money and with insufficient food and feed. This statement is no guess. The history of the cotton market, without exception, proves that smaller crops bring the more aggregate money, and the extreme in price can be reached with wonderful rapidity. The highest price paid for cotton in 1903, on middling basis, was more than three times the lowest price paid in 1904. According to good authority, cotton brought $1.80 per pound in the American markets in 1865, and sold as low as 8 cents in the American markets in the year 1868. So a very large cotton crop next year will undoubtedly be discounted by a decrease in the price. All surplus feed and food is almost sure to command good prices. The government has placed a minimum of $2 per bushel on wheat and $15.50 per hundred pounds on hogs. We should produce a large amount of food and feed for it will be needed to fill our empty cribs, warehouses and pantries, and where there is a surplus it can be profitably fed to live stock which will undoubtedly bring good prices.

Need of Live Stock.
"While cotton can slump from a handsome profit to a great loss from one season to the next it is not possible under present conditions for live stock to be so affected. It is estimated that it would take from five to seven years to get back to the normal supply of live stock, and especially horses, mules and cattle. So the growing of food and feed will be safer than the production of a large cotton crop, besides, it would be meeting our greatest patriotic duty.

"The question of labor will be a very important one and producers should minimize their help by growing more oats and other crops that will take the least amount of labor for production and harvesting.
"Let your efforts as producers be stimulated by patriotism and guided by good business judgment."

TO BUILD PRISON FOR SPIES AND SLACKERS

Leavenworth, Kan., Nov. 24.—Work is to be started immediately upon a prison cantonment here, in which will be lodged slackers, spies, alien enemies and other war offenders, it was announced today by officials at the disciplinary barracks.
The cantonment, which will provide accommodations for 3,000 prisoners, will consist of twelve buildings and will be constructed as an addition to the present disciplinary barracks. It will be surrounded by a barbed wire fence sixteen feet high. The building will cost $236,000. The inmates will be placed at hard labor.

Construction of the cantonment, ordered by the Quartermaster General Department, was made necessary by the influx of war offenders, it was stated.

CANAN CHURCH.
There will be services at the Canan church, four miles East of Nacogdoches on the upper Melrose road, Sunday, at 11:00 o'clock.

AN OIL WELL IN PANOLA COUNTY

Carthage Register.

A well drilled by the Producers' Oil Company near the river, about 8 miles from Carthage, has been brought in and is flowing oil in considerable quantities. This well is down a little more than 2,000 feet and about two weeks ago it struck a vein of gas and was capped over. Monday this cap was forced open and a very fine grade of oil began to flow. The well was sunk on the Watterman Lumber Company's holdings, and Mr. Watterman is very optimistic about the prospects.

Oil men claim that the oil from the well is of very fine grade. Mr. Crocker of Carthage, who has been in the oil business for a long time, declares that the samples from this well and those from the old well located just east of Carthage are among the best he has seen from any field. He is of the opinion that the new well, if cleared of mud and allowed to flow would yield 100 to 500 barrels daily.

Mr. Crocker, Lloyd Thompson and some others from Carthage have visited the new well, bringing in samples of the oil.

Another well that was brought in about six miles east of Elysian Fields last week has developed into a 30-barrel pumper. More than a half dozen wells are now being drilled in the territory around Horton and Elysian Fields.

BURNED TO DEATH IN STOVE EXPLOSION

A telegram was received by a friend in the city Saturday night announcing that Miss Jennie Low Burns, the sixteen-year-old daughter of Mr. Jno. B. Burns, had been burned to death in the explosion of an oil stove at her home in San Angelo Saturday afternoon.

The remains of the unfortunate young lady will be carried to Center today and laid to rest by the side of her mother, who died some months ago, tomorrow morning.

Previous to his removal to San Angelo, Mr. Burns was a prominent citizen of Shelby county, where he served his people two have been coming to him thick and fast the past several years, first losing his health, next a pretty nice fortune through some investments that proved bad, later losing his wife, and now his eldest daughter, but like the strong character he is, he will bear up under it all like a man. He has been recouping his financial losses in his new home, and notwithstanding the double grief that has been visited upon him in the loss of those nearest and dearest to him, he will bear up under it and submit to it as a visitation beyond his means to forestall or recover.

The Sentinel joins the many friends of the gentleman in a feeling of profound sympathy.

STATE EMPLOYEE HELD AS AN ENEMY ALIEN

Waco, Texas, Nov. 21.—William F. Wehe, cotton expert in the state department of agriculture at Austin, was taken into custody here today by the United States federal act and will be interned probably at El Paso as soon as an order to that effect is received from Attorney General Gregory at Washington. Wehe was in charge of the state agricultural exhibit at the Cotton Palace and was detained last week but released under surveillance. Developments since that time were such as to warrant his internment, according to officials here.

PRETTY PLAY HOUSE IN NEW LOCATION

The reporter was shown through the new home being fitted up for a home and consolidation of the Crown and Ideal Theatres this morning, and we begin with the statement that it is in all things equal to the occasion, combining an arrangement that will meet every demand and make it a credit to the city.

The building is located down West Main street, next door to the Stone Fort Bakery and is being overhauled and remodeled to especially fit this enterprise. With the approach we find a large lobby in the rear which will accommodate a large crowd who may be waiting for any purpose, and fitted in the walls will be several large mirrors where the men can adjust their hats and straighten their ties while the ladies are procuring the tickets.

Upon entering we find a most beautiful arrangement inviting in all its appointments. The floor is inclined, being raised from the rear, which removes the obstruction of the party seated in front. There are four hundred seats, arranged in three tiers, which gives two aisles and relieves the congestion when the crowd is ready to depart. A stage ample for any ordinary purpose has been provided, and this will be enclosed with a pretty curtain and panel sidewalls and doors.

The walls have been nicely plastered and painted with beautiful scenic effects, this artistic arrangement being executed by Mr. P. E. DeLamar, a well known painter and paper hanger of the city.

In the ceiling four ventilators have been installed, which will quickly take up any foul air that may accumulate in the building, and Mr. Brantley informs us that he will install a cooling system, which is the most modern method, by the time the weather demands it.

Thus the whole arrangement is all that could be desired in the way of providing for the comfort and convenience of the patrons, making it a most pleasant retreat where one can go for a happy hour, and the house will doubtless become very popular.

The new house will be thrown open to the public on Thursday, December 6th, at which time some big features will be shown, and it is needless to say that a large crowd will be present.

Mr. Brantley, the owner, engaged in the picture show business about five years ago, and with the experience gained in this time, is familiar with every branch of the service and the wants of the people. He is a gentleman of courteous bearing and pleasing personality, and in the new quarters where he will have plenty of room, The Sentinel predicts that his most optimistic expectations will be realized.

VILLA STRIKES AT FEDERAL RAILROAD

Jaurez, Mexico, Nov. 27.—Fighting was reported to have occurred last night and early today at Laguna Station, 170 miles south of here, according to information received here today.

The engagement was between a cavalry command of Villa's and a detachment of federal cavalry on a troop train running south. Reinforcements were being entrained here this morning and being rushed south.

Editor Walthall was a pleasant caller at the office this afternoon.

PROGRAM FOR THE FIFTH SUNDAY MEETING

To be held at Mahl, Texas, beginning Friday, December 28, 1917:

Introductory by Bro. F. M. Richards at 11:00 o'clock Friday. Subjects: "Is the Regeneration the Fruits of the Spirit, or is the Spirit the Fruits of Regeneration?" Rev. F. M. Richards, Rev. Nix.

RE-INFORCEMENTS TO THE RESCUE OF ITALY

Apparently the anxiety of the Italians guarding the Piave line and hill country in northern Italy against the Teutonic allies is at an end. Large numbers of British and French reinforcements—infantry and artillery—at last have arrived upon the scene after days of anxious waiting in which the Italians have borne the brunt of terrific fighting on both fronts solely on their own shoulders and kept back the enemy from a further invasion of the Venetian plains.

Although faced every where by superior numbers of men and guns, the Italians have valiantly defended every foot of ground in the hills and along the Piave, and in the former region, in recent days actually have taken the offensive against the invaders and pushed them back from strategic points of vantage they had gained under terrific sacrifice of lives.

For eight days the allied reinforcements marched to the rescue, bringing along with them large numbers of guns and huge supply trains.

Just where the British and French forces will be thrown into the affray, has not been made known, but doubtless large numbers of them will be used to strengthen the Italian front on the north, from Lake Garda eastward to the Piave, where the Austro-Germans have been making their strongest efforts to pierce the Italian line.

Byng Holds Gains.
At last accounts—General Byng's British troops before Cambrai were holding in their entirety the Bourlon positions west of Cambrai. Since the repulse of Sunday the Germans had failed to renew their counter-attacks. Only minor operations have taken place on any sector of the front where Byng's men last week carried out their swift and spectacular operation, which resulted in the smashing of the famous Hindenburg line.

Along the Chemin-des-Dames and in the Verdun valley violent artillery duels are in progress between the French and the Germans. In the latter sector the Germans several times essayed attacks with the purpose of recapturing ground taken from them Sunday, but met with repulse. This ground, which is situated north of the famous "Hill 304" for the possession of which so many sanguinary battles have been fought, is in the process of consolidation by General Petain's men.

SOLDIER GUARDS FOR N. Y. HARBOR

Washington, Nov. 25.—The port of New York will be put under military control at midnight tonight, the justice department announced last night. Docks and water fronts involving trans-Atlantic shipping will be guarded by the regular army, in dress uniforms, to distinguish them from enlisted men on other duties.

As rapidly as possible the military control will be established at other American ports.

The government announced that extension of this military guard is contemplated to include munition factories and other establishments making war supplies.

The dispatches of Saturday to the state papers announce that American destroyers have sunk a German submarine with a depth bomb. Let us hope that the bomb supply will hold out in its effectiveness until it clears the high seas of the infernal machines called submarines.

FROM COLORED SOLDIER.

Camp Travis, Texas.

Dear Editor:

I wish you would publish this for me. We are well out here, have a good time. We are going to a track meet this evening. We sure were royally entertained last Saturday, by the good white and colored people of San Antonio. They gave us some stirring addresses, then we were marched off to a grand picnic, which we enjoyed to the fullest. We have some fine officers out here. They take so much pains with us. We have a Y. M. C. A. where we can enjoy our leisure hours. We have numerous games, such as baseball, basket ball, football, dominoes, checkers. We also have a victrola, piano, and believe me we sure have some good piano players. Some of our home boys have been given good positions, such as mess sergeant, etc. All the boys are jolly and are proud of being a soldier for Uncle Sam. We have balloons, airships and numerous other things of curiosity. We are off today for holiday. I am going to try my best to help train the second increment of colored boys that is about to be called out. Soldier life is simply fine. It makes a man strong, healthy, and best of all, a soldier, who is looked upon as somebody. I thought I was sick a few weeks ago, but I was only home-sick. You talk about the home-sickness blues, I sure have had them. But now I am all o. k. We will be paid off next Saturday. I wish we colored boys out here had a half chance at the Kaiser. I bet we would lick him. I am compelled to quit writing on account of the bugle calling us to dinner. Frank Sibley is a bugler. I will close.

Life Was a Misery

Mrs. F. M. Jones, of Palmer, Okla., writes: "From the time I entered into womanhood . . . I looked with dread from one month to the next. # CARDUI

The Woman's Tonic

"I took four bottles," Mrs. Jones goes on to say, "and was not only greatly relieved, but can truthfully say that I have not a pain."

"It has now been two years since I took Cardui, and I am still in good health. . . I would advise any woman or girl to use Cardui who is a sufferer from any female trouble."

If you suffer pain caused from womanly trouble, or if you feel the need of a good strengthening tonic to build up your run-down system, take the advice of Mrs. Jones. Try Cardui. It helped her. We believe it will help you.

SUPERINTENDENT CAUGHT IN A BIG SAND STORM

Points in West Texas and New Mexico have long been noted for sand storms which would come in a great fog and cover up everything over which they passed, but anything so vicious is an innovation for any point in East Texas. Prof. G. B. Layton, however, will now testify that our own good country is not immune, and he would not want to pass through anything worse than he encountered in a recent experience.

While passing through the Brileytown community Thursday Prof. Layton was caught in a most violent storm of this kind, and he has been almost blind in consequence since. The farmers along the line had been "digging" their peanuts lately, and the road and the whole country in this particular vicinity is very sandy. A high wind was blowing which caught the sand right, and it was so thick that the superintendent says that at times he could not see his horse ahead of him. He would drive a short distance and take a rest until he finally got out of the zone, but he has not got all of it out of his eyes yet.

An Old Man's Stomach.

As we grow older and less active, less and less food is required to meet the demands of our bodies. If too much is habitually taken, the stomach will rebel. When a man reaches the advanced age of 85 or 90, you will find that he is a light eater. Be as careful as you will, however, you will occasionally eat more than you should and will feel the need of Chamberlain's Tablets to correct the disorder. These tablets do not contain pepsin, but strengthen the stomach and enable it to perform its functions naturally. They also cause a gentle movement of the bowels.

NATION'S LIST OF DEAD IS INCREASED

Washington, Nov. 21.—Lieutenant Commander Walter E. Rend, the commanding officer; his two junior officers, Lieut. Charles F. Wedderburn and Ensign Harry G. Skinner, Jr., and 18 enlisted men were lost in the sinking of the American torpedo destroyer Caucney in a collision in the war zone Monday morning, the navy department was advised today by Vice Admiral Sims.

The enlisted men lost were: Stanley T. Anthony, electrician, first class radio; mother Florence Johnson, Bedford, Mass. Honore M. Claggett, Jr., electrician, first class; father, H. M. Claggett, Laurel, Md.

Daniel B. Crane, machinist mate, second class; mother, Mary H. Crane, Los Angeles.

Joseph S. Ewart, machinist mate, first class; father, W. L. Ewart, Newport, R. I.

Charles A. Goodrich, chief machinist mate; brother, J. Goodrich, Oakwood, Ill.

A. H. Guttridge, machinist mate, second class; father, W. H. Guttridge, Cullison, Kan.

Henry G. Haman, seaman; father, B. W. Haman, Buffalo, N. Y.

Joseph E. Herroux, fireman, third class; mother, Mrs. Emma J. Bacherleri, Los Angeles.

W. H. Hampel, oiler, father, Chas. Hampel, Rankville, Mich.

Ira F. Kopp, gunner's mate, first class; father, Jesse F. Kopp, Davenport, Iowa.

Charles A. O'Connor, chief yeoman; sister, Margaret Tessier, South Boston, Mass.

Francisco Pagatakhan, mess attendant, third class; mother, Marta Dunicio, Obongapo, L. I.

John Rhinehart, chief water-tender; Mary Sprague, Block Island, R. I.

John A. Smith, gunner's mate, first class; father, William Smith, New York.

John Stribling, oiler; father, John Stribling, Waring, Texas.

Oswald J. Terildsen, yeoman, second class; uncle, Conrad Terildsen, Brooklyn.

Nicholas H. Wagner, ship fitter, first class; father, Jacob Wagner, Fullerton, Md.

George Wornell, boilermaker; friend, Harry C. Smith, San Francisco.

Lieutenant Commander Reno's next of kin was his wife Beatrice Reno, Philadelphia; that of Lieutenant Wedderburn was his mother, Gertrude F. Wedderburn, Chevy Chase, Md., and of Ensign Skinner was his mother, Mrs. Harry G. Skinner, of Mount Washington, Md.

HEAVY DAMAGES FOR HUSBAND'S DEATH

Orange, Texas, Nov. 22.—The jury in the case of Mrs. Claud Harrington vs. the Texas and New Orleans Railroad company suit for $40,000 damages, because of the killing of her husband, rendered a verdict late Tuesday night, allowing her damages for $35,000.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and for years it was supposed to be incurable. Doctors prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Catarrh is a local disease, greatly influenced by constitutional conditions and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Medicine, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is a constitutional remedy, is taken internally and acts thru the Blood on the Mucous Surfaces of the System. One Hundred Dollars reward is offered for any case that Hall's Catarrh Medicine fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

CAUGHT THIEF AND SOME BOOTLEGGERS

Sheriff Prince and Constable Isom McGuire made some good raids on violators of the law in the northern part of the county Saturday. They first caught a man giving his name as Wm. Everett Mount Joy, traveling with a carnival company which has been showing at Appleby and Garrison, who had stolen many articles including automobile casings, etc. He plead guilty in the county court and was given thirty days on the road in two cases and sixty days in another, making four months altogether in which to mend his ways and pursue a more legitimate occupation.

Saturday afternoon the officers captured two negroes by the name of Jams Garhea and T. Perryman bearing four gallons of whiskey from Garrison to Maytown. Investigation developed that they had secured the booze under fictitious name which was doubtless intended to be peddled out at Maytown Saturday night. They brought the negroes and the whiskey on to town, locking up both. The negroes plead guilty to a charge of vagrancy, were fined $50 each, and sent out to the county road gang, and the whiskey is locked up pending proof of rightful owner and legitimate disposition.

Certain Cure for Croup.

Mrs. Rose Middleton, of Brownville, Ill., has had experience in the treatment of this disease. She says, "When my children were small my son had croup frequently. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy always broke up these attacks immediately, and I was never without it in the house. I have taken it myself for coughs and colds with good results."

Mr. J. L. Banks, a well known citizen of the Needmore community, was a caller at this office this morning, and from him we learned that his little boy was in the sanitarium here where he recently underwent an operation. The little fellow has been suffering with pneumonia the past seven weeks, and an abscess formed which necessitated an operation. Mr. Banks and another son have also recently recovered from an attack of the same trouble, and withal the family has had a very trying time.

Stop coughing! you rack the lungs and worry the body. BALLARD'S HOREHOUND SYRUP checks irritation, heals the lungs and restores comfortable breathing. Price 25c, 50c, and $1.00 per bottle. Sold by Stripling, Haselwood & Co. codw

ADVISORY BOARD HAS BEEN APPOINTED

Judge S. W. Blount, Hon. June C. Harris and Judge G. F. Ingraham have been appointed an advisory board to work in conjunction with the selective draft board of the county in the forthcoming registration.

The duty of these gentlemen will be to give legal advice and assist registrants in making out their papers where their assistance is needed, and advise with the board in any matter in which their services may be needed. They work without compensation, contributing this bit to the patriotic service of the country.

2,000,000 CATTLE STARVING TO DEATH IN TEXAS

There are enough cattle starving to death in a strip of land the size of Germany in Texas to feed all the United States soldiers in France for two years.

That is the way the livestock problem in Texas was characterized by Charles McCarthy, special representative of Herbert Hoover who returned recently from an investigation of the cattle conditions in Texas. There are 2,000,000 head of cattle starving to death in Texas, and our cattle raisers are asking help from our Government. What if these same cattlemen had planted one hundred acres of peanuts to every section of grass land in Texas, the story would have read like this: There are 2,000,000 head of sleek fat cattle in Texas ready for market, which will net the Texas cattle raisers many millions of dollars. Some may argue that it has been too dry to raise peanuts, or anything else where these cattle are starving. Well, let's see, in Mineral Wells, Dublin, Comanche, DeLeon, Cisco, Rising Star, Cleburne, Brownwood and Stephenville in the drought belt? Yes, well, they are making from ten to twenty-five bushels of peanuts, and from one-half to a ton of hay to the acre, and taking the minimum of this yield, which is ten bushels of nuts, and one thousand pounds of hay per acre, and on a hundred acres this would be thirty thousand pounds of nuts and one hundred thousand pounds of hay. That amount would have kept two hundred head of cattle from starving, and two hundred head of cattle is about all a section of grass land will carry.

The Texas Peanut Works is being organized to build one hundred warehouses scattered over the State at different concentrating places where railroad facilities are ample for the purpose of locating seed nuts to the surrounding country. In order to make Texas a peanut growing State, and a centrally located factory to manufacture all the by-products of the peanut, and one of these by-products will be peanut meal and cake; also ground peanut hay, and will be kept in these one hundred warehouses for distribution for the convenience of the stockmen of Texas.

We invite your closest investigation.

Mrs. P. O. Stuehll Tells How She Cured Her Son of a Cold

"When my son Ellis was sick with a cold last winter, I gave him Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It helped him once and quickly broke up his cold," writes Mrs. P. O. Stuehll, Homer City, Pa. This remedy has been in use for many years. Its good qualities have been fully proven by many thousands of people. It is pleasant and safe to take.

Mr. J. H. Chase and sons, A. E. and P. T., of the Pleasant Hill community, spent Wednesday night in the city. They brought up a load of cotton, and remained over until Thursday to do some trading and look after some business interests. The elder Mr. Chase is one of the old "stand-bys" of The Sentinel, having been a continuous subscriber to it throughout its entire existence and we greatly appreciate his loyal friendship.

DELCO-LIGHT The Complete Electric Light and Power Plant.

San Augustine, Texas, July 20, 1917

Mr. J. R. Dickerson, Delco Light Dealer, San Augustine, Texas.

Dear Sir:— You ask me how I was pleased with my Delco Light Plant. Will say that I am highly pleased with it. It makes as fine light—the very best. Simple in operation and the cost of running expenses gives. I have run my lights, fans and iron for 5 days and nights on one charge of the batteries without running the engine, with good lights and I could have run a week. Anyone will make no mistake when they buy the Delco Light. I would not take twice what my plant cost me if I couldn't get another like it. You can use my name for reference.

Yours very truly, I. E. ROBERTS, Tax Assessor.

TO PUT BILLIONS IN CIRCULATION

Washington, Nov. 23.—Secretary McAdoo Friday night announced a new plan to place in circulation the huge sum of nearly $2,000,000,000 accumulated in the treasury as a result of big over-payments received this week from the Liberty loan. Three hundred million dollars of certificates of indebtedness due December 15 were called in for redemption on December 6, and another issue of $4,000,000 of certificates, also due December 15, will be redeemed December 11, both issues at par with accrued interest.

This arrangement will leave only the $685,000,000 issue to be paid December 15.

The secretary decided to call in the two issues before their maturity when it became evident that the aggregate amount of the payments November 15 on Liberty loan subscriptions, in cash, credit and treasury certificates, was about $2,400,000,000, three and a half times more than was due on the 18-per cent installment. In other words, it is now disclosed by belated reports trickling into the treasury that nearly two-thirds of the aggregate returns to the second Liberty loan have been paid in full.

Tabulations Saturday are expected to show that about $1,750,000,000 in cash was received this week. Subscriptions to the latest issue of certificates of indebtedness, to be dated November 30 and due June 25, 1917, to counteract the flood of income and excess profits taxes on the latter date, have been generous since the issue was announced two days ago. The exact amount of subscriptions has not been announced by Secretary McAdoo, however.

WHEN IS A CRIPPLE ENTIRELY HELPLESS

How much of his body does a man need to earn a living in this year of wheels and wires—1917? For instance: Legs are not requisite at the cigar bench; expert typewriters never look at the keys; the watchful eye of a supervisor is not hampered by the absence of arm. What with telephones, elevators, motor cars and like couriers and carriers a respectable remnant of the human frame can overcome most of the handicaps of mutilation.

If the head stays intact, a missing feature or so isn't necessarily a sentence to dependence. Common sense is a general servant and with a little coaching can learn to substitute for any of the missing five.

THE BRITISH DRIVE ACHIEVING VICTORY

Germans are Demoralized and Are Fleeing in Many Places 9000 are Captured.

The British are carrying forward successfully their maneuver which apparently has as its objective the encirclement and capture of the important railroad junction of Cambrai, in Northern France.

For three days the forces of General Byng have been strictly keeping to their task of smashing the German positions in this region, and now, having driven the enemy from all his fortifications and strongholds, are battling with him in the open, with the monstrous tanks and the dashing cavalry everywhere opening the way for onslaughts by the infantry.

Already the British line describes an arc from the west to the southwest of Cambrai, with the lower point resting near Ftaine Notre Dame, two and three-quarter miles southwest of the much sought for town. Although the stroke of General Byng was delivered over a front of 32 miles, from the Scarpe river to St. Quentin, it was in the center in the direction of Cambrai that it reached its greatest strength.

Here the wedge has been driven more than six and a half miles and in the driving of it numerous towns and villages have fallen into the hands of the British, many of them having been deserted by the surprised Germans, who fled in apparent disorder, leaving equipment and stores behind them.

The operations of the cavalry are described as most brilliant, the horsemen making gallant charges into villages and even against machine gun positions, the entire gun crews of which were shot or subdued. At last reports they were engaged in surrounding the Bourlon wood, directly west of Cambrai, which dominates the entire region, including Cambrai itself, and clearing out the enemy from the district near Fontaine Notre Dame.

This village was captured in a brilliant attack on Wednesday night, but the Germans in a counter-attack on Thursday, regained it. Throughout the entire area taken in the British drive, the work of consolidating the new positions is rapidly being carried forward.

In addition to heavy losses in men killed or wounded, more than 9,000 Germans had been made prisoners taken by General Byng's men.

PERSHING'S MEN TO USE TANKS

Washington, Nov. 28.—Tanks for the American army are expected to be as effective in every way as those used by the British in their great drive. It was learned today, although no details of construction or as to the number of machines being built were available. Secretary Baker refused to discuss the subject, either in general or specific terms. There is every reason to believe, however, that substantial progress has been made in producing fighting machines that embody all that the British and French authorities have learned of this type of war engine.

It is an open secret that some American officers have not, up to this time, at least, regarded the tanks as highly desirable for the American forces, in view of difficulties of transportation and the ponderous character of the tank equipment.

There also has been some question heretofore as to their actual military value. British experience, past and present, is believed to have made it certain, however, that tanks will do their share on the American lines when a sector in France is taken over by General Pershing.

The tanks developed numerous weaknesses when first tried out by the British. They were very slow, sometimes holding up the advance of the infantry to a dangerous degree, and also showed a fondness for plowing their noses into mud banks and sticking there until hauled out by other machines. There are indications, however, that new British tanks, and also the French, are a great improvement over the first models, in both speed and general mobility.

REGULATIONS FOR CHRISTMAS PACKAGES

It would be well for those expecting to mail packages to the soldier boys in France to observe the following rules:

All parcels must be fully prepaid by stamps affixed, at the 8th zone rate of postage, or 12 cents for each pound or fraction. Patrons are cautioned against placing Red Cross stamps or stickers, other than postage stamps, on the address side of the mail matter, as such matter is thereby rendered unmailable. In the use of Christmas stickers care should be taken not to seal the parcels therewith, as sealed parcels are unmailable at the fourth-class rate of postage, which necessitates their being returned or held for postage, thus causing delay and possible disappointment. Pastors or stickers which resemble postage stamps are not permissible on the outside of any mail matter.

STATE CONTROL OF INTERURBANS

Austin, Texas, Nov. 13.—The railroad commission today issued an order assuming jurisdiction over all of the interurban railway companies operating in Texas, this rather unusual action being the result of notice received by the commission of an advance in freight and express rates by the interurbans.

The order also requires the interurbans to file with the commission all passenger, freight and express tariffs covering a period from October 1, 1917, to the present time. The interurbans are required to file these tariffs and rates within 10 days from the issuance of this order. The commission proposes to regulate in the future, all freight and express rates in operation by the interurbans.

In the event that the commission finds that the advance in rates by the interurbans is not justifiable, the commission proposes to restore the old tariffs and place the rates where they were before the advance was ordered.

BRITISH SUCCESS IS HOLDING OUT

British Army Headquarters in France, Nov. 23.—The British early today drove back the enemy at the elevation called Tadpole Copse, which dominates a large section of the canal Du Nord and a large part of Moreuvres in the Cambrai area.

Berlin, via London, Nov. 23.—A new battle is in progress in the Cambrai area, army headquarters announced today. The fighting broke out anew this morning in the direction of Moeuvres. Yesterday, the statement adds, the Germans forced the British from the village of Fontaine and from La-folie Wood. English attacks against Rumilly, Banteaux and Vendhuile, the war office reports collapsed with heavy losses.

While standing off German counter attacks, British forces have consolidated their gains, and are prepared for another plunge toward Cambrai. General Byng's men are just west of Fontaine Notre Dame, less than three miles west of Cambrai, and have nearly completed the occupation of Burlon Wood, just north of Fontaine, and which dominates the entire region.

Fontaine Notre Dame was the scene of the heaviest fighting yesterday. Wednesday night the village was captured by the British, but a strong German counter attack Thursday drove the British to the western outskirts. The village is the apex of the wedge which the British have driven toward Cambrai and which includes approximately 50 square miles of territory formerly within the German lines. The Germans are reported to be rushing up reserves for counter attacks.

Guns Dominate Cambrai

Cambrai probably has lost its usefulness as the German supply base in the immediate region, as the city and the three railroads entering it from the northeast and south are dominated by the British artillery. The new wedges also is a direct menace to Quenent, the southern end of the Queant-Drocourt switch line which held up the British advance east of Arras last spring. Queant now is within a sharp salient which has been heightened by the British advances from Bullecourt in the present drive.

General Byng's stroke was a masterpiece of organization according to reports from the front. The transportation service kept pace with the advance, the construction of roads and railroads, Field Marshal Haig, announces, having contributed largely to the success of the operation.

That the surprise was complete is shown by the fact that the British casualties were considerably less than the number of Germans captured—more than 9000. The British also were able to free the French population of some of the towns and villages. These people the Germans had been unable to remove. The reserve German troops encountered included cripples and convalescents.

EXTERMINATE RATS.

How states, communities and individuals can help eliminate rats and mice—measures suggested by biologists of U. S. Department of Agriculture.

By requiring that all new buildings, wharves, and other structures be rat proof; that existing buildings of rat-proof construction be further protected by having basement windows and drains covered with screens, gratings, etc., and that existing buildings that are not rat proof be made so by remodeling.

By constructing sewers and drains so that they will not provide entrance and retreat for rats.

By insisting on greater cleanliness about markets, stores, and generally throughout cities, villages, and the country districts.

By threshing and marketing grain early so that stacks will not furnish harboring places and food for rats.

By removing piles of straw, trash, and lumber which harbor rats in fields and vacant lots.

By protecting the hawks, owls and other natural enemies of rats which are no so destructive to poultry as rats themselves.

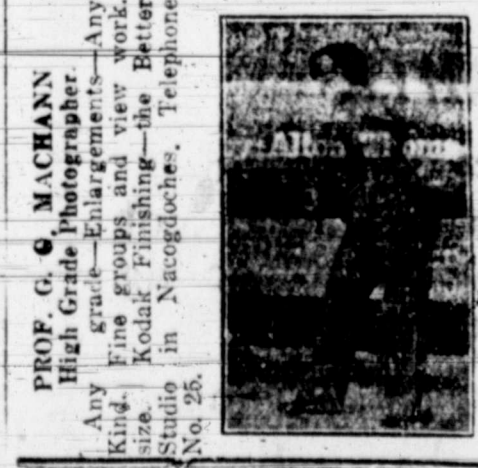

By keeping well-trained dogs on farms and about city warehouses.

By keeping provisions which rats and mice will attack in rat-proof containers.

By destroying rats and mice systematically by poisoning, trapping, and by organized systematic hunts.

By arousing public opinion to the realization of the importance of exterminating rats and mice.

A RESIDENCE BURNED EARLY LAST NIGHT

About 8:30 last night fire broke out in the residence occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Currie, up North Street, and the flames had gained such headway before being discovered that the house and all contents were destroyed before the fire department could get to the scene.

Mr. and Mrs. Currie were away from home down town when the fire broke out, hence the headway of the fire before being discovered. Those arriving early on the scene think the blaze originated around a flue in the partition wall between the kitchen and dining room, but practically the whole interior of the house was in flames.

The Sentinel learns that $1500 insurance was carried on the building, which was owned by Hon. Eugene H. Blount, and $1000 on the furniture, and that a considerable loss was sustained by each, as the building was worth some $2500 and Mrs. Currie lost some valuable jewelry and silverware in addition to the furniture.

Nothing was saved except two or three chairs which were picked up in the hall by early arrivals. The fire department made a quick response, but it was a long run, and the big headway of the fire before being discovered made it impossible for this splendid organization to do more than confine the flames to the building in which it originated.

Dr. J. M. Rogers of Attoyac has been attending county court in the city the past day or two.

Mr. W. E. Legg, one of The Sentinel's staunch friends from Douglas, was a pleasant caller at the office Monday.

Messrs. J. P. Davis, J. S. Watson and H. T. Parker, all well known citizens of Garrison, were visitors to the city yesterday afternoon.

A bulletin to The Sentinel announces that Fred E. Thrash has been appointed temporary mechanic in Battery E, 344th Field Artillery.

Mrs. M. A. Spencer arrived home Monday night, from San Augustine where she visited her friend, Mrs. Arthur Jenns. She returned in an automobile.

Mr. A. Tubbe, who has been detained at Tyler for the past several weeks, report of which has previously been made in this paper, arrived home yesterday, and is being extended a cordial greeting by his old friends.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF A FRIEND AND BROTHER

Bro. T. A. Burrows was suddenly plucked from our midst at the Tucker Sanitarium, November 8, after a serious operation, which proved fatal.

Bro. Burrows' death was a heart breaking shock to his many friends and loved ones. His place as secretary of church will be hard to fill, and we doubt any filling it as he did. He considered it a business proposition and was as careful as a bookkeeper could be.

He was also treasurer of our missionary society. Every penny was put in the missionary sack and kept separate from any other.

Again, no better neighbor is found anywhere. It was always his style to do kindnesses and let no one know who did it. Several times he has gone to the home of his pastor in their absence and left the bloom of christian unselfishness, which still sheds the fragrance through the home, while his soul is safe on the golden shores of sweet deliverance; where the fields are smiling with living green; the trees are majestic in their wealth of verdant flowers, dazzling in their rainbow hues, and on neither field nor tree, nor flower is the hand of death, nor the sign of decay.

Right Now!

Bro. Burrows did not have to die for us to realize his goodness. He has gladdened the hearts of many who needed a friend and we deeply feel the loss of a neighbor and church worker. Our carpeted rostrum and chairs for choir in church stands as a memorial of Bro. Burrows' efforts, as well as many other things.

Bro. Burrows was not as loud lip professor as some, but nobody's life in our community soared above that of our friend. He leaves a lonely heart-broken wife, three girls and three boys, viz. Ed, Virgil and Walter, Mesdames, Buels, Allen, Belvs, Muckleroy, Eva Fowler.

The remains were laid to rest in Fairview cemetery, Sunday, Nov. 11th, Rev. W. R. Smith officiating. A very large crowd was present. We meekly offer our heart-felt sympathy to the sorrowing family and urge them to press hard the battle and win the victory, and some day lay down their dusty pilgrimage with tired bleeding feet and receive a crown of gold that fadeth not away, and an entrance to the "Pearly White City."

Bro. Burrows was born in Grundy county, Tennessee, Nov. 2, 1849, moved to Texas when one year old and lived in four miles of Nacogdoches since. He was married to Laura Lee, Dec. 14, 1871. Professed religion in the cottonfield, Oct. 4th, 1883. United with M. E. church and remained member of same until June 3rd, 1897. United with C. M. church at New Hope and has most faithfully served as secretary since. Also served as district secretary for years.

GAINED 25 POUNDS TAKING TANLAC

Suffered For Years and Had Rheumatism So Bad Could Not Get Shoes on.

"When I tell you I have been relieved of three years awful suffering and have actually gained twenty-five pounds in weight, besides, you can readily understand why I'm so strong for Tanlac," was the remarkable statement made by Tom McClennoh of 1313 Grama Street, El Paso, Texas, recently.

"I had a number of troubles," he continued, "and it's the first time in several years I have been rid of rheumatism. Before I began taking this Tanlac my legs and feet were swollen all the time and sometimes I couldn't get my shoes on. The pain was something awful and I was so nervous and miserable I didn't know what it was to get a good night's sleep. I had no appetite and nearly everything I would eat disagreed with me. My food would sour and the gas would press on my heart so I could hardly breathe. Besides my terrible suffering I had an awful tired feeling and would wake up in the mornings feeling so no account I could hardly get out of bed.

"I tried every kind of treatment and medicine I heard of but got no relief until I began taking Tanlac, but three bottles of the medicine have made me feel like a brand new man through and through. I have never in all my life had such a ravenous appetite and you may know everything agrees with me or I could never have gained so much in weight. I sleep all night long without waking and my nerves are as steady as a clock. All the swelling and pain has left my feet and legs entirely and I'm never bothered any more with gas on my stomach, shortness of breath or other signs of indigestion. You may count on me among the many Tanlac boosters and you are welcome to this statement, which I hope will be the cause of others finding relief."

Tanlac is sold in Nacogdoches by Stripling, Haselwood & Co., and Swift Bros. & Smith, in Woden by M. J. King, in Garrison by Garrison Drug Co., in Appleby by Weatherly Bros., in Sacul by Arkan Cranford, in Cushing by A. J. Beck, in Douglas by Campbell & Watkins and in Chireno.
