PRESIDENTIAL PRIMARIES

St Paul Minn., March 17.—The count of Minnesota's primary, held in a rainstorm and blizzard gave General Wood a plurality of 4,000 over Senator Johnson. On the face of the available returns Herbert Hoover led Governor Lowden in the returns from 450 precincts. The vote stands: Wood, 12,600; Johnson, 8,500; Hoover, 4,400; Lowden, 3,500. This includes a majority of the Twin City precincts.

NEW RESERVATION

Washington, D. C., March 17.—Following the introduction by the republicans of a new reservation to the treaty, intended to replace the more definite international pledges of Article 10, claim is made of further gains for ratification with the republican qualification attached. The new reservation declares the United States views "with grave concern" the threat against the peace of Europe.

Civil War Looms Large in Hunland

Refuses to Negotiate
Stuttgart, March 16.—Refusal to negotiate with the reactionary faction headed by Dr. Kapp, head of the new Berlin government, was decided upon yesterday by the council of the old cabinet, at which President Ebert presided. The unconditional resignation of the heads of the new government was demanded. A general strike and civil war seems imminent.

Kapp Threatens Strike Leaders
An undated summary of the situation in Germany gives the following: Berlin is in the grip of a general strike headed by the socialist and labor leaders. Kapp has issued a decree threatening all strike leaders and interference with the vital public services.

Details of the situation throughout Germany are somewhat obscure. It is believed the Ebert government is still controlling the southern and western sections, while the Kapp regime is rather firmly entrenched in Northeastern Prussia and Silesia, where many towns and cities are reported to have declared their adherence to the new government.

COLORED EX-CONFEDERATES

Austin, Texas, March 16.—A fact not generally known is that a few old negroes are receiving the Confederate pension from the State of Texas. A number of negroes who enlisted as regular soldiers in the Southern army, are now receiving quarterly pension warrants amounting to $23 a quarter, the same amount given to white ex-confederates.

Think Not So Serious.
Washington D. C., March 16.—Restoration of the authority of the Ebert government, with Spartacist outbreaks, is expected by military officials, who think the coup de etat not so serious as it was at first supposed.

Doubt Kapp's Success
Berlin, March 16.—Heavy troop reinforcements have been received by the new government in Berlin. If Chancellor Kapp, after three days, has only been able to produce military backing for his government, and if the strike lasts only three days, observers believe it would be unreasonable to assume Kapp could establish his government firmly.

Guarding the Crown Prince
The Hague, March 16.—A Dutch torpedo boat arrived at Osterland, Weiringen Island, and is to guard the former crown prince, according to newspapers.

Bavaria Proclaims Soviet
Amsterdam, March 16.—A soviet republic has been proclaimed at Hof, Northeastern Bavaria, says a Berlin dispatch.

Casualties in Berlin.
Berlin, March 16.—Fifteen persons were reported killed and many wounded in the fighting at Stagliitz, in the Southwest outskirts of Berlin, and four killed and six wounded at Charlottenburg, the Western Berlin suburb, as a result of collisions.

Ludendorff on Hand.
London, March 16.—The new Berlin government held a cabinet council last night which was attended by Gen. Ludendorff, former quartermaster general of the German army, a Berlin dispatch says.

Many Killed at Leipzig.
London, March 16.—More than twenty persons were killed and sixty wounded at Leipzig yesterday during a demonstration, according to newspaper advices. The fighting is reported as continuing, the fusillades centering near the general postoffice.

A HIGH PRICED KISS

Des Moines, Iowa, March 16.—Three hundred and seventy-five dollars for one kiss! The kiss was offered at auction at the Drake University colonial ball recently, the funds from which went into an endowment fund. Miss Mayze Garrett offered the kiss at the highest bidder. The bidding was spirited until it reached $375. Lewis Smythe, a student in the Bible College, studying for the ministry, was the high bidder. Although Smythe was permitted to kiss Miss Garrett's hand only, he maintained even that privilege was "worth the money."

SAFETY CAMPAIGN.

Dallas, Texas, March 16.—A public safety campaign to eliminate traffic accidents is to be launched in Dallas to prevent, if possible, a repetition of the heavy death toll recorded in 1919. During last year twenty-four persons lost their lives as a result of street car, automobile and motorcycle accidents, according to the vital statistics department. For the first two months of the present year five persons have been killed in similar accidents. Plans for the safety campaign are being worked out by the city officials in co-operation with the Dallas Automobile Club.

COTTON CONSUMPTION

Washington, D. C., March 16.—Cotton consumed during February amounted to 516,594 bales equivalent to 500-pound bales of lint, and 26,320 bales of linters, the census bureau stated today.

Streets in Germany Run Red With Blood

Want Soviet Republic
London, March 17.—German independent socialists and communists have commenced a violent agitation in favor of a soviet republic and an alliance with soviet Russia, according to a Berlin dispatch.

Slaughter Continues.
Paris, March 17.—Fifty-nine persons were killed and upwards of a hundred injured at Trevas, in the American zone of occupation, according to reliable advices. Casualties at Dresden were over a hundred killed and 200 wounded.

Kapp Side-Steps Job.
Berlin, March 17.—It was officially announced that Chancellor Kapp at 1 o'clock this afternoon decided to resign.

Yields to Threats.
Paris, March 17.—Dr. Kapp and his military lieutenants decided to retire after negotiations with the independent socialists, who threatened to attack the new government with armed workmen, according to newspaper reports from Frankfurt. The strike is effective in nearly all parts of Germany and conditions are growing worse hourly, it is indicated by the dispatches.

Street Fighting in Berlin
London, March 17.—Machine-gun firing was heard in the streets of Berlin between 11 and 12 o'clock Tuesday night, a Berlin dispatch says. Sixty-nine persons were killed in Spandau. Soldiers in big trucks parade the streets, pointing the guns in the direction of the sidewalks.

Dispatches report blood shed in 24 towns. In a clash between Sparticans and troops at Dresden, 100 persons were killed and 300 wounded. Fighting in Breslau, Hamburg and Kiel also reported.

Expressions of confidence in the speedy restoration of the Ebert government to complete control comes from headquarters at Stuttgart.

WOMEN ON LONG HIKE

Fort Worth, Texas, March 17.—Undaunted by two thousand miles of rough roads ahead of them, Mrs. W. J. Eaton and Miss Emily Cromwell, left here March 2 on a "hike" to San Francisco. They had previously walked from New York to Fort Worth, they said, negotiating the trip in little less than two months. They expected to reach San Francisco in seven weeks.

Togged in mackinaws, khaki breeches and leather puttees and with their "camping out" equipment strapped on their backs, the two "hikers" planned to follow the Texas and Pacific railway line to El Paso, then proceeding along the Southern Pacific road through New Mexico, Arizona and California to the Pacific coast city.

JUDGE POSTPONES ACTION

Enid, Okla., March 17.—Federal Judge Youmans postponed action in the writ of attachment and contempt warrants asked by Oklahoma claimants to the disputed oil lands on the Texas line.

TOLL OF BLIZZARD

Bismark, N. D., March 17.—Five known dead and thousands of dollars damage was the toll of the worst blizzard in thirty years in North Dakota. The storm is gradually subsiding.

THE BOUNDARY TROUBLE

Austin, Texas, March 17.—Attorney General Keeling is en route to Washington, where he will apply to the United States Supreme Court for a writ to stay the decree restraining Texas officials from retaining possession of the lands in dispute between Texas and Oklahoma, according to reliable information.

WANT HOMES N TEXAS

Corpus Christi, Texas, March 16.—A colony of 500 to 1,000 families from Germany is anxious to emigrate to South Texas, according to a letter to a local newspaper from George C. Frisch, dated at Neiderweisa, Saxony, Germany. He requested detailed information concerning this section of the United States.

"Millions of people will have to leave here," said the letter. "Those wishing to go to Texas are all good men, who wish for a peaceable life in the states."

DAKOTA'S PRIMARY

Bismark, N. D., March 17.—Only meager returns from Tuesday's presidential preferential primaries are available. The prospects are that definite figures of the vote will not be known for a week. Senator Johnson's was the only one named on the ballot, but Lowden's and Wood's names were written on some of the ballots.

TEXAS CONVICTS

Austin, Texas, March 17.—Significant figures for persons interested in crime in Texas were contained in the annual report of the Criminal Record Department of the Texas Penitentiary System, recently filed in the governors office.

During 1919, the report showed that 4,461 prisoners were handled in the penitentiaries. Of these 3,209 were inmates when the year opened. During the twelve months 1,053 new convicts were received; 167 escaped prisoners were recaptured and 32 returned from parole. A total of 930 convicts were discharged, 407 were pardoned, 229 escaped, 43 died, 126 paroled; and, at the end of the year, 2,726 remained.

The table showing occupations of convicts prior to conviction, disclosed that 257 farmers were sent to prisons in 1919. Laborers, or those with no fixed occupation numbered 252. Cooks and waiters came next with 102; machinists and engineers, 44, and chauffeurs, 54. There were no newspaper men and but three printers. There was only one "bad" actor, and despite a locksmith's skill, none were sent to the penitentiary during the year.

Six hundred and ninety of the years convicts were born in Texas and forty in Louisiana. Of the 107 foreign-born persons convicted, 81 were Mexicans. In classification of crimes, burglary led with 300 convictions, miscellaneous, thefts, second, with 155; forgery, 135; murder, 103. Convictions for violations of prohibition laws decreased from 127 in 1918 to 39 for 1919.

During the year four convicts serving life sentences died and 29 escaped. Seventeen life men who have escaped previous to 1919, were recaptured; none were pardoned. Practically half the 1919 convicts were sentenced to terms of two years or less.

There was a large increase in the number of new convicts between the ages of 16 and 20—254 as compared with 218 in 1918. A similar increase was indicated as regards the ages of 60 to 70.

law-abiding or the whites are growing worse," said the report. In 1918 negroes to the number of 669 entered the prisons with 482 whites while last year 475 negroes were received with 455 whites. Only 219 of the 1,053 new convicts were totally illiterate compared with 376 illiterates for 1918.

During 1918 nine convicts were killed by guards and twelve died of tuberculosis and the death rate was considerably below the year 1918.

More than half, or 598, of the new convicts were not members of any church.

WEEKLY SENTINEL

BY GILES M. HALTOM

A PREMATURE KICK

It is understood that the Douglass people want, when the new highway is built through their town, their present mail route, which runs to Cushing, changed to Nacogdoches. This is something that should interest local folks, and is something that might mean a lot to both Nacogdoches and Douglass. Douglass is situated in the richest portion of the county, and some of these days it will furnish a great reservoir out of which much natural wealth can be obtained. —Nacogdoches Sentinel.

Is it Douglass or Nacogdoches that wants this change in the star route that leads from Cushing to Douglass? There is no possible way that Douglass can be benefited by this change as every thing that is carried out over the route is bought just as cheap in Cushing as can be bought in Nacogdoches, the distance is shorter and those who sell produce here get better prices than they would in Nacogdoches, as the Cushing produce buyers always pay better prices than the Nacogdoches buyers. If Cushing would get anything like a fair deal in the road matter they would have a good road from Douglass to Cushing. And by-the-way, where do the smaller towns come in on the highways, anyway? Are they so designated that the town of Nacogdoches would bleed all the smaller towns? Cushing would like to see some of the promises made before the election is fulfilled.—Cushing Journal.

Just keep your shirt on, Bro. Thorn. It is hardly fair to begin a howl and throw out insinuations about the road question until you have a reason to howl. None of the roads have been built yet, and only one section contracted for. As to the Douglass mail service, the chance was made without their solicitation and has never been satisfactory. The people of the Douglass community are entitled to a better mail service than they are getting. We are indeed glad to learn that Cushing is such a good market, but if she is beating Nacogdoches she is "some market."

THE OTHER FELLOW

Friend, we agree with you on one thing: It is too bad the other fellow won't run his business to suit us. We have lost a lot of sleep over the same thing, but we are getting over it. We found out that the game was too one-sided. The more we worried about the other fellow, the better he seemed to get along. Your other fellow would, of course, do lots better if he would let you mark his goods for him. He would make more money if he would consult you on his investments. He wouldn't have got stung on his auto if he had consulted you. He didn't even ask you how he should vote and now look at the condition of the country! Still, the neighbors can't help but think you would be better off if you would occasionally forget the other fellow and give your attention to your own business. The other fellow is a goner, anyway, and there is no use crying over spilled milk. The mill won't grind with water that has passed. The other fellow will never agree with us, and so what's the use of worrying over him?

A STRONG MAN NEEDED

He is a bold prophet who will venture a guess as to the outcome of internal affairs in Russia. That country is undergoing a strain so great that turmoil is inevitable. Changing suddenly from despotism to democracy, an ignorant people has confused liberty with license, freedom with anarchy, and chaos has followed, as was to be expected. The world does not want Russia to go back to the days of the czar, to the knout and Siberia or death for political penalties. But this much is apparent from our side: If Russia is to become a country, a strong man is needed to guide it until something like a stable government can be established and the people realize an there can be no real liberty without safety and protection. Until the strong man is found and makes his authority felt, Russia will be like Mexico has been since the passing of Diaz—a land of uncertainty and revolt, of horror and bloodshed and devastation.

A perfect husband hasn't nerve enough to be otherwise.

Oil reports continue to boost up things a bit, although it is a noticeable fact that during the past few days leasing does not seem to be going on as much as it was several days past. This is probably explained by the fact that all the leases have taken up and there are none left to be leased. Active preparations are going on to commence drilling operations within sixty days near Melrose, it is reported, and, while there have been no reports from Garrison as to the activity in that section, it is presumed from that last reports from that section that a well probably 2,000 feet deep should be realized by now. Activity in the vicinity of Oil Springs by the Carolina Company continues unabated. The year of 1921 promises to be one of spectacular oil developments in Nacogdoches county.

FOR TAX ASSESSOR

To The Voters of Nacogdoches County

Elsewhere in the announcement column of this paper, you will find my name as a candidate for tax assessor.

I am induced to offer myself as an aspirant for the office, not alone because of the many solicitations I have had from my friends, but for the further reason that I want the office and know I can and will make you a good, efficient and fair tax assessor.

I am physically able and mentally capacitated to do all the work of this office, and as far as within me lies will give it my undivided attention and endeavor to make you the best tax assessor possible.

I was born and raised in Nacogdoches county, raised on a farm, and expect to continue to be a farmer, except for the four years I hope to serve you as tax assessor.

The Baker family is a large and numerous one in this county, and for the last generation has devoted themselves to the various endeavors to make Nacogdoches county a happy and prosperous community, and during that time none of the boys have ever had any of the emoluments that come from office-holding. Now comes Charlie and asks consideration at your hands.

Thanking you for any support you may give me and assuring you of my greatest appreciation for same, and promising to serve you well, I am,

Yours very truly
C. S. Baker

FOR DISTRICT JUDGE

Judge E. B. Robb of Lufkin today announces himself a candidate for the office of district judge of this, the Second, district.

Judge Robb is well known to most of the readers of the Sentinel, having long practiced in the courts here. He is a native Texan, having been reared in Angelina county, and has been actively engaged for thirty years in the practice of law. For three terms he served as county judge of Angelina county, and his record in that capacity is a good one. He asks a favorable consideration of his candidacy by the voters in the forthcoming democratic primary.

THE OLD ARMY AND THE NEW

At Boise Barracks they had a curiosity in the shape of a soldier with a degree of Ph. D. But that was thirty years ago when every soldier who had an education had a story. The Boise Barracks freak went by the name of "Red Fox" because his hair matched the color of the "licker" he loved so well and for the love of which he had forsaken family, fortune and career. That was his story.

Red Fox, although American born, sported a crisp Heidelberg scar that added interest to the fascinating face and officers and soldiers generally liked him. He had several times rocketed up the grade of "top mash", but that seemed to be about where his fuse was set. He had also once taken an examination for a commission that he had passed so easily that he celebrated his triumph with a big drunk and returned to the post and challenged the colonel to fight a duel. For this he was given a temporary (not very temporary) grade of K. P.

Red Fox didn't seem much humiliated by his humble assignment and he peeled potatoes and entertained his fellow-scutlions with choice bits of grand opera with obscene interpolations, and the "slop sergeant" fed him on beef-steak and pie so he would not ask for a commutation of sentence. The officers, however, were sincerely disappointed, for they had hoped to take him into their fellowship; they that his mental calibre and attainments had entitled him to, and yet he had failed. He failed for the same reason that he enlisted.

There were in the old army a few such characters as Red Fox; men with brilliant minds who enlisted in the army because they were irresponsible or discouraged with themselves. They enlisted instead of committing suicide or going into a monastery. A few of these "snapped out of it" soon, to be given recognition and a helping hand and some of these few are high ranking officers in the regular army. But the average soldier of thirty years ago enlisted because he was tired of worrying about where the next meal was coming from, and he wasn't interested in any solution of the problem that made serious demands on his energy—particularly his mental energy.

These soldiers of the old army did just what was demanded of them, and very few of them did more. Those who did more were in had with the rest and were more liable to be treated with contempt than respect by fellow-soldiers and often because of their unpopularity they were not regarded favorably by their officers. These odds would be something for the best of men to buck up against and the bird who could beat the game in those days was about as rare in the army as alligators in Alaska.

It is different in the New Army—and it is indeed a new army—so different that the "old-timers" felt themselves among strangers. The "old-timer" who is a leftover can no more understand why a soldier will "ruin his eyesight studying at night" than a Senegambian could understand a plotting board. The "old-timer" is a well-drilled soldier and as brave as the best of them, but when he is off duty it is bunk fatigue or a whirl with Dame Fortune for his; or if he has a great excess of pep he is after a pass to beat it to the bright lights in search of something that "won't rust his guts".

The new army might well be called a university of practical instruction, filled with bright and ambitious students eager to take advantage of the many opportunities offered.

PAYS MURDER PENALTY

Eddyville, Ky., March 11.—Petrie Kimbrough, alias Will Lockett, convicted slayer of 10-year-old Geneva Hardeman and the confessed slayer of four other women, died in the electric chair at Eddyville prison at 4:32 this morning.

KIDNAPED AMERICANS ARE SAFE WITH VILLA

Washington, D. C., March 11.—Relatives and friends of the Americans kidnaped by Villa need feel no concern regarding their safety and may dismiss the fear that ransom will be asked if they repose full confidence in a communication the bandit leader recently issued. He said that he had adopted the only practical means he can think of to get friendly conversation with the various American representatives who cross his trail, and while they are his guests they will be treated with every consideration and returned unharmed and unrobbed to their friends.

NACOGDOCHES COUNTY SCHOOLS

W. B. Mikesell, the Rural Aid Inspector of Schools, said Thursday on completing his work, that great progress had been made in the schools of this county.

The teachers are of an exceptionally high order, and the equipment of most of the schools is growing better each year, and the results are encouraging.

G. B. Layton, county superintendent, says that he is well pleased with the reports of Mr. W. B. Mikesell and the amounts provisionally granted the schools, which follow:

Cross Roads	$500

Farmers over the county are rapidly getting their land in shape to receive the seed for this year's crop. Some of them have already planted their corn. Apprehension is felt by some over the possibility of there being some distinctive freezes this spring, which would of course, cause a great loss among the farmers. Peach trees in some sections are just now in a shape that a freeze could damage very much.

A CHANCE FOR YOUNG MEN

Thousands of men are needed to man America's new merchant fleet. The United States Shipping Board has sent a request for apprentices to Lieutenant Colonel Mathew C. Smith, in charge of getting employment for ex-soldiers and ex-sailors, and head of the office of the assistant to the secretary of war. Previous experience is not required. Applicants may choose either the deck or the steward's department, or engine room service. All must be citizens of the United States, between the ages of 18 and 35 and physically sound, and agree to stay one year.

The United States Shipping Board maintains stations in Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Chicago, St. Louis, Baltimore, Atlanta and Los Angeles. Persons not living near these cities may make application to the secretary of the local chamber of commerce. New men are sent to one of the three training schools maintained at Camp Stuart, Va., or San Francisco, Cal., or Seattle, Wash., where they receive $30 a month, besides quarters and subsistence while in training. After a short course of one or two months the apprentice takes his place in actual work at sea, and is paid $65 a month and allowances.

Men with special qualifications can earn in a short time as high as $150 a month. If a man has a high school education or equivalent, he can qualify to be an officer in one year's time. Two years is required for others. There are plenty of vacancies and promotion is rapid.

Speaking of the recruiting drive the army is staging in Nacogdoches and surrounding districts, Sergeant Foster F. Bullock said Thursday that things were looking pretty good. "There seems to be more interest in the recruiting drive in the past ten days than has been the case previously. We are expecting some great results in recruiting in the concluding days of the campaign." Parties are all over the county scouring the rural district seeking recruits.

Revolt in Germany; Ebert Government Falls

London, March 13.—A proclamation was issued in Berlin at 10 o'clock today stating that the German government had ceased to exist. A Cuttles telegram says: Revolting troops entered Berlin today and occupied the Wilhelmstrasse. No act of violence are reported.

Berlin, March 13.—The intention has been reported to proclaim Hindenberg imperial president.

Ebert Government Establishes Itself at Dresden.

Paris, March 13.—It is declared that the members of the Ebert government left Berlin without resigning their posts and have established their seat in Dresden.

THE GERMAN SITUATION

Paris, March 15.—The independent socialists and communists at Mannheim decided to take advantage of the present situation to proclaim a soviet government, according to Balise advices.

The majority and independent socialist throughout Germany appear to be uniting against the military government initiated in Berlin.

Adhere to Noske

Berlin, March 15.—An unconfirmed report is current that the new German government has reached an agreement with the Ebert government in order to avert the threatened railroad strike.

It reported the South German generals and the Saxon troops have given adherence to Minister of Defense Noske in the Ebert government.

Where the U. S. Stands

Washington, D. C., March 15.—While technically still under the direction of Marshal Foch, the American troops on the Rhine will not participate in any Allied advance into Germany without specific directions from President Wilson, it is said at the war department. The officials said the situation, as far as we concern it, is complex. The United States is the only nation with troops on the Rhine which has not become a party to the treaty of Versailles, consequently the American detachment is still governed by the terms of the armistice. The Americans number about 13,000, under Major General Henry T. Allen.

Allies Refuse Recognition

London, March 15.—One of the first acts of the new German government was to request recognition by the Allied commissions in Germany. The request was ignored, the commissioners taking the attitude to not extend recognition even to the extent of answering the communication.

France Doubling Her Forces

Paris, March 15.—France contemplates sending three more army corps to Weisbaden, Neustadt and Bonn, thus doubling her forces along the Rhine. It is reported that Marshal Foch is to call a meeting of the supreme war council after a conference today with the Allied commanders.

Civil War Seems Sure

Berlin, March 15.—The leaders of the Ebert government ousted from power Saturday apparently are gathering forces to combat the new regime here. They are aided by the forces of labor, which has declared a general strike. Prussia seems to be the nucleus around which the military leaders built their movement. Reports from various cities in other parts of Germany indicate that Noske, the Ebert defense minister has the forces at his disposal.

Monarchy Reestablished

Paris, March 15.—The re-establishment of the Bavarian monarchy was proclaimed today at Munich, according to a Temps dispatch.

MISSIONARY TRIP IS MADE TO CHIRENO

Nacogdoches Chamber of Commerce representatives journeyed to Chireno Saturday for the purpose of getting the Chireno people interested in the Nacogdoches County Chamber of Commerce. Secretary H. L. McKnight headed the delegation. A large crowd of Chireno people were present at the hearing.

Professor Eugene Thompson addressed the audience, telling them why Mr. McKnight and his delegation were going over the county organizing auxiliary divisions of the Nacogdoches County Chamber of Commerce. As a citizen of Chireno, Mr. Thompson told his Chireno friends and neighbors that they could safely trust the Nacogdoches County Chamber of Commerce in the plans it was trying to materialize; and the folks behind the chamber of commerce movement were the best and most responsible men and women in Nacogdoches county. Mr. Thompson gave the chamber of commerce his hearty endorsement.

Attorney W. B. Bates of Nacogdoches made a speech introducing M. McKnight and told the people of Chireno that the Nacogdoches County Chamber of Commerce was the result of a desire on the part of the business men of Nacogdoches county to see more prosperous conditions existing in the county. He assured the people that their support was needed and must be had in order to develop the eastern portion of Nacogdoches county.

Secretary H. L. McKnight told them that he was working to materialize a plan of the Nacogdoches County Chamber of Commerce, which would assist in improving the agricultural conditions of the county. He said that he had come from the farm and that he understood just what the people like the Chireno people had to contend with. He told of the budget the Nacogdoches business men had appropriated for the farmers of the county to use in purchasing any kind of fine blooded livestock they might wish for the improvement of their herds; about the 1,000 farm journal which were to be distributed over the county free of charge to the Nacogdoches county farmers; about plans of improvement of their roads.

This week business houses of Nacogdoches will be represented in an organization and membership meeting at Chireno, in which Nacogdoches and Chireno will meet in an effort to join hands in a commercial way.

Forgot What He Needed.

From the Republican, Mt. Gilliard, Ohio: The editor had an interesting experience some time ago, when a young gentleman came into the office and asked for a copy of the Morrow County Republican. He scrutinized it carefully when a copy was handed him and then said: "Now I know! 'What are you looking for,' we inquired. 'My wife sent me after a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and I forgot the name. I went to several stores and the clerks named over everything except 'Chamberlain's.' I'll try again and I'll never go home without Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. The Republican would suggest to the proprietors of the store, that they post their clerks, and never let them substitute. Customers lose faith in stores where substituting is permitted, to say nothing of the injustice to the makers of the good goods and the disappointment to the customers. UNDERGROUND ROBBERY SYSTEM UNEARTHED.

Quite a sensation developed in the city Sunday when the officials disclosed an elaborate and well formulated scheme of robbery that has been going on among the colored element. The executors of the affair consisted of colored delivery boys, porters, and general handy men who were employed by the merchants of the city. These negroes were plundering the stores, getting valuable articles of clothing, etc., and disposing of them to other negroes at cut-rates by means of a fence system. It is thought that a woman who lives here served as the "fence"; however, that has not been definitely proven.

A dragnet was spread Saturday night by the city and county officials, and as a result a considerable number of negroes were brought to the courthouse and severely grilled, after which some were put in jail and others released. Searches were made by the officials in some of the dens, and several dollars worth of stolen articles were recovered. But the great portion of the loot still remains to be discovered.

Sheriff Woodlan and his deputies, assisted by the constables and night watchman of the city, scoured the town until 2 o'clock Saturday night in an effort to bring as many negroes within the reach of the law as possible. The firms of Tucker, Hayter & Co. and Mayer & Schmidt were the hardest hit of any in the city, it is reported.

COLLECTOR MELTON INJURED IN RUNAWAY SMASH

Shortly after noon Monday, Tax Collector J. C. Melton was the victim of a painful accident. He was returning to his office from dinner and when near the railroad station was met by a runaway team going at top speed. He endeavored to avoid a collision, but was not quick enough, and the rear of the buggy in which he was driving was struck and smashed and Mr. Melton thrown violently to the ground, falling upon his left arm, both bones of which were broken just above the wrist joint. He was placed in an auto and taken home, where surgical aid was quickly summoned and the fractures reduced. Fortunately no other injuries were sustained and he was soon resting as well as could be expected. His many friends are gratified that his hurts were no worse and hope to see him soon at his accustomed place of business.

THE FIRE LAST NIGHT

The plant of the Willard Storage Battery Company, on the north side of Cotton Square, presents a rather pitiable spectacle today, as a result of fire in the building last night about 11 o'clock.

The News learns that the conflagration was due to a leaky generator allowing gasoline to escape on the floor, where waste gasoline was ignited. Being in close proximity to the car of Clyde Edwards, which was standing without a body, the tank of his car exploded, and from this the trouble started. As a result the new and handsome Nash car belonging to Lloyd Chancey lost all of its top and all the upholstery, together with its coat of paint, and was otherwise marred in appearance. The car of Sam R. Parker met, a similar fate, also the car of Engineer Harvey on the H. E. & W. T. A surprising feature of the episode was that one new car, sandwiched in between those described, escaped without a blemish. Also the runabout of Lenair Russel, close at hand, met with but slight damage, about the only thing that will be required will be another coat of paint to take the place of the one recently applied. Due to the use of water, Russel will not be bothered with cleaning the mud from his machine, but may proceed at once with the paint brush.

It was not learned if any of the owners carried insurance on their machines. The fire did considerable damage to stock and fixtures of the company, playing havoc with much rubber goods, but the management states that none of the batteries of their customers were disturbed.—Lufkin News, 12th.

REFINERY LIKELY TO BE LOCATED HERE

Nacogdoches is on the verge of getting a refinery located here, according to reliable information received from Mr. M. V. Miller of Greenville, South Carolina, who arrived here Sunday from Shreveport. Mr. Miller came to the city for the purpose of interviewing the Carolina company's manager at Nacogdoches and, incidentally, to investigate the city with the view of selecting a suitable site for the institution. Mr. Miller said the proposition was no stock selling scheme; that the company had the money in abundance with which to erect their refinery, but they wanted to see first whether the people would appreciate their putting it here. It is understood that Lufkin has an eye on the proposition, and if Nacogdoches gets the refinery, its citizenry must wake up.

Secretary McKnight, A. C. Smith, Dr. A. J. Queen, geologist, and Mr. Miller went over the city Monday for the purpose of determining a suitable site for the refinery, but no report has yet been made as to their plans. Mr. Miller said that a red cedar tank of 4,700 barrel capacity was on the way to Nacogdoches, and that an engine of sufficient power to pump 100 wells was also en route to the city. These things will later be transported to Moss Creek, near Oil Spring, the scene of the company's drilling operations. Drilling by the Carolina company's force continues unabated, and it is understood that it is working with almost feverish energy to get completed as quickly as possible 100 wells.

It is not known just what size refinery will be located here, but it is stooed that it will be one of considerable size.

Mr. Miller will stay in the city several days in order to get acquainted and to locate a site.

Dr. Queen, the geologist for the Carolina Company, has leased some holdings near Melrose upon which he will operate privately, it is understood. Dr. Queen will commence drilling operations upon his Melrose holdings in a few weeks.

"I like Nacogdoches—it is a pretty little town," said Mr. Miller, while discussing his mission here, "and it would please me very much for things to develop here so that it could get the refinery."

WEEKLY SENTINEL

BY GILES M. HALTOM

THERE MUST BE SOMETHING ELSE

There must be some hereafter, some solace of sorrow, else why do our thoughts and sentiments flow back and engulf us in a sweeping torrent? If it be the end, it seems like we would not care as we do.

There are moments in all our lives when there come flashing back into memory's changing track recollections of friends who have been called to that home beyond the stars not made by hands. As one contemplates the moments, or it may be years, spent with them, inexpressible sadness creeps into the heart and there is a loneliness that cannot be described—a yearning for the comrade sleeping beneath the sod, tongueless, silent, inanimate as the clouds which fell with such heart-wrenching echoes upon the coffin lid. It is a part of the great plan to love and separated, to make friends and have them move away, to form attachments and have them torn asunder by death, the great leveler who is no respecter of love and friendships. Today we rejoice, tomorrow we mourn; today we laugh, tomorrow we weep; today our friends are with us, tomorrow we are alone. Thus it has been since the beginning of time, and so it will be until there is no time and earth shall be swallowed up in the final eternal design of the Creator.

Courtesy is a valuable thing not yet increased in price.

A lot of congressional honesty is for sale reasonably cheap.

Maybe when we get that refinery, Nacogdoches will have "oil to burn."

Some women marry for love, some for money, and some from force of habit.

Sometimes when we want to love our neighbor as ourselves she won't let us.

Practically every phase of production and distribution, as we now practice them, is open to large improvement, but most particularly is the road open for a new and better correlation between production, distribution and the consumer so that the present wide gap between the cost of the article as it leaves the hand of the manufacturer and as it reaches the hand of the consumer may be minimized.

THEY SHOWED SENSE

The big tent show which played in Lufkin all last week departed yesterday for Nacogdoches for a week's stand. Just what they went to that town for has not been made public.—Lufkin News.

Guess the show folks, who are usually pretty good judges of things, and in this instance displayed unusual acumen, decided, like a great many other people, that any place was better than Lufkin. In one of the stunts last night "Bones" was asked about Lufkin. With an expression of pain he said, "The only thing that will wake up that town will be the blowing of Gabriel's horn—unless some of them steal the horn before he gets it up to his lips." Queer how accurately strangers can size up an alleged town on short notice.

TARGET PRACTICE

Reserve officers on active or inactive duty may participate in army target practice by applying to their department commanders for assignment to regular army units for the period, according to a new ruling.

The secretary of war has granted authority to all department commanders to assign reserve officers to organizations of the regular army for the target practice allowing to the regular expenditure for small arms ammunition. Special regulations are being revised so as to provide that reserve officers on active duty, or assigned to organizations for target practice, shall be entitled to the same allowance of small arm ammunition as are officers of the regular army of the same branch of the service.

Reserve officers on inactive duty may be assigned by department commanders to an organization of the regular army for target practice at their own request, but without pay.

FORTY ACCESSIONS TO M. E. CHURCH SUNDAY

From the Timpson Times. At the close of the service Sunday morning, thirty-five children and older people were added to the membership of the Methodist church as a result of the revival which has been in progress at the church fort he past two weeks. Five more members were added to the service last night, making a total of forty for the day.

Rev. Maness delivered a wonderful object lesson sermon Sunday morning, the entire Sunday school remaining for the service. The attendance at the evening service was the largest since the meeting began.

Rev. Pugsley, pastor of the church, announced that the meeting would continue this week, so long as the interest would justify, possibly until next Sunday. The service will begin this evening promptly at 7:30 and on tomorrow the regular morning service will be held at 10 o'clock.

CONFLAGRATION DESTROYS TOWN OF GRANDVIEW.

Dallas, Texas, March 16.—The little town of Grandview, in Johnson county, today lies a smoldering ruin, with its over 1,000 inhabitants homeless, the result of fire Sunday which destroyed virtually every residence and business house in the place.

The property loss including over 200 residences, some 70 business houses and several hundred bales of cotton, is variously estimated at from $1,000,000 to $1,500,000.

Only three persons were injured as the flames, strating from the explosion of an oil stove in an incubator, swept the town from the southern to the northern limits, starting at 2 in the afternoon and continuing until late at night.

BE CAREFUL OF FIRE

The following from the Timpson Times of Monday applies with full force to the people of Nacogdoches: "The disastrous fire that visited Grandview Sunday, when 1,500 people were rendered homeless and over two million dollars worth of property was destroyed, should cause our people to take warning and be careful about fires. A small blaze, fanned by the March winds, would spread rapidly and cause untold damage."

ATTACK AT "BLANC MONT" BY SECOND DIVISION.

There is one very good reason why men should desire to serve with an organization with a reputation. The Second division, then, is the very one that should get the red-blooded men with desire for adventure, educational and vocational training, travel and a vast experience that varies daily.

Here is quoted for your information just one of the great reasons why red-blooded men are wanted in the division:

The Second division participated in offensive operations against the Germans in the Champagne from October 2 to 10, 1918, in conjunction with the Fourth French Army, General Gouraud commanding. These operations had for their object a drive through the enemy lines and the capture of Blanc Mont Ridge and thereby so threaten the German line to the west so as to force him to give up his grip on Rheims and retire to the north bank of the Aisne River. Our attack was launched on the third and on the fourth the menace of Rheims was only a memory. Nine German divisions contributed a total of 62 officers and 2,234 enlisted men to our bag of prisoners, and besides 42 pieces of artillery, we captured a vast quantity of other material. The casualties in this hard fought battle totaled 209 officers and 4,766 enlisted men.

Commendation by Divisional Commander After the Battle

France, 11 October, 1918 Headquarters Second Division (Regular).

American Expeditionary Forces. Officers and Men of the Second Division:

It is beyond my power of expression to describe fitly my admiration for your heroism. You attacked magnificently and you seized Blanc Mont Ridge, the keystone of the arch constituting the enemy's position: You advanced beyond the ridge, breaching the enemy's lines, and you held the ground with a tenacity which is unsurpassed in the annals of war.

As a direct result of your victory, the German armies east and west of Rheims are in full retreat, and by drawing on yourself several German divisions from other parts of the front you greatly assisted the victorious advance of the Allied Armies between Cambrai and St. Quentin.

Your heroism and the heroism of our comrades who died on the battlefield will live in history forever, and will be emulated by the young men of our country for generations to come.

To be able to say when the war is finished: "I belonged to the Second division. I fought in the battle of Blanc Mont Ridge," will be the highest praise that can come to any man.

John I. Lejeune, Major General, U. S. M. C. For all further information that pertains to the immortal Second division, call at the United States Army Recruiting Station, 100-A West Main street, Nacogdoches, Texas, and see Lieut. Louis J. Harant, of the Second division. All particulars are available here at this office.

SCHOOL NOTES

The fight between the juniors and the seniors for their respective May Queen candidates promises to be one of the most sensational that has ever come up in the Nacogdoches High School. Both divisions of the school are working frantically but quietly to put over its candidate, but leakages will crop out. It has been rumored that the seniors have $200. to put up for their candidate. However, no one seems to be the authority for the statement, the juniors are well aware these things; are counting their money with a vicious purpose—and it is to elect their candidate or "bust."

The two young ladies for the May Queen honors are Misses Mary Ann McKinney and Jewel Norwood, the former representing the juniors' choice and the latter the seniors' choice. Both young ladies are greatly admired by their fellow-students, and will be fought for heroically.

Both divisions of the high school will canvass the town for their respective candidates, and it is understood that some extensive newspaper advertising will be done. Speeches are delivered in public by each side at every chance that is obtained for their candidates, and each day finds more and more interest taken in the matter.

Mrs. Leon Brantley and son, J. H. Jr., are spending a few days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Brantley before returning to their home in Dallas.

Work on the Douglass-Nacogdoches road commenced Monday under the supervision of Smith Brothers.

MR. NEFF SPEAKS

Five or six hundred men and women met at the courthouse Tuesday night and listened to Pat Neff, candidate for governor of Texas, deliver an address. Mr. Moss Adams called the house to order and H. L. McKnight, secretary of the Nacogdoches Chamber of Commerce, introduced Mr. Neff, in the opening of his speech, mentioned the great resources of Texas, but stated that their development has just begun. He said that if he was elected governor of Texas there would be no restrictions by which he might be bound preventing his giving every aid to the development of the natural resources of Texas.

He discussed some of the important legislation confronting the people of Texas, and told those he favored and those he opposed. In connection with the laws, Mr. Neff came out in very strong terms in favor of the public schools, and said that he was in favor of increasing the appropriations of the public schools and the salaries of the teachers. Mr. Neff discussed the rural problem of the country, and told of some of the things he would endeavor to do for the improvement of rural conditions if elected governor. He also discussed a co-operative marketing system for the benefit of the producer and the consumer.

Mr. Neff said he opposed out-of-state interests holding immense bodies of Texas lands for speculation. He also stated that he favored the state helping the farmer by the loan system. He said that he was in favor of fine stock raising, good road building, woman suffrage, was opposed to immigration from foreign countries, and that he was running on a "Texas platform."

In speaking of his adversaries, Mr. Neff praised very highly all of them except ex-Senator Joe Baily, whom he attacked vigorously from many different angles.

Mr. Neff received hearty cheers throughout his speech from the crowd present.

HOMES FOR TEACHERS

Austin, Texas, March 17.—A number of Texas schools are securing homes for use of the teachers in an effort to solve the problem of keeping competent instructors with the funds available, according to announcement by the State Department of Education.

While exact statistics are not available, it is said at least 500 school districts either own or have under lease homes for their teachers. As an example of how the plan works, the school board of Edinburg is cited. It has provided a fifteen room house in which the entire teaching force lives. The city superintendent has charge of the house and the teachers pay $35 a month for room and board.

At Wichita Falls a number of teachers are said to be living in a house under control of the school board, the maintenance expenses being provided.

Teachers at Graham, it is understood, are living on an average cost of $22 a month in a house erected from a fund raised by public subscription in that school district.

SHRINERS MEETING

Chicago, March 17.—Eighteen thousand Shriners from Illinois, Indiana, Michigan and Wisconsin, are expected to attend the annual "Arabian Nights" festivities at Medina Temple here March 18, 19 and 20.

C. Van Deventer, potentate of the Ancient Arabic Order of Nobles to the mystic shrine, has announced that Governor Frank O. Lowden is expected to attend.

FORMER COUNTY JUDGE E. W. HOOKER DEAD.

The Timpson Times of Saturday contained the following: Judge E. W. Hooker, of Center died in a hospital in Galveston Thursday following a prolonged illness. He was taken to Galveston from Center last Sunday for the purpose of undergoing an operation, but upon arrival his condition would not permit an operation and he continued to grow worse until the end came.

The funeral service was held at Center today, and a number of citizens from this community were in attendance.

Judge Hooker is well known in Shelby county. He was reared at Teneha and for the past several years has been residing at Center where he followed the practice of law. He served this county two years as county judge from 1912 to 1914 inclusive. He was a candidate for county judge this year and has already made his announcement.

SCHOOL NOTES

A very interesting chapel service was held in the high school Friday morning in which Superintendent R. F. Davis and Principal Lynn B. Davis made the chief talks. Some very beautiful old-time songs were sung and were greatly enjoyed by the student body. The high school has some new song books having the tunes of old-time songs set to new words. This is a very interesting as well as pleasing combination.

Principal Lynn B. Davis made a very earnest talk, in which he urged more zeal by the high school students in their work. He called attention to the fact that not enough interest was being taken in the fast approaching interscholastic contest, and told the students that as a matter of appreciation of what the town thought of them they should endeavor to do something that would put Nacogdoches on the map. Mr. Davis told the students that a school with the name and record of the Nacogdoches High School could not afford to let some school scarcely known out of a ten-mile radius beat it for the interscholastic contest.

He was followed by Superintendent R. F. Davis, who heartily sanctioned what Mr. Lynn B. Davis said. "We people of the Nacogdoches High School cannot afford in any way to let the other fellow beat us," said Mr. Davis. "It would be showing a lack of gratitude to the good-souled business men of the city who have liberally donated some valuable prizes to the winners of the contests." Mr. Davis waxed warm on the subject for a pretty good length of time, and was loudly cheered in some of his remarks. "You must remember," Mr. Davis advised, "that you, the Nacogdoches High School students, must be the ones to win these tests. Prof. T. H. Hunt cannot win for the school in a mile dash, because his day for such things has passed; Miss Mayo Province cannot win for the school in an essay, because her day for such has passed; I cannot win in a debate for my day for such has passed—and so you can easily see that if the Nacogdoches High School wins, her students must do the winning." Mr. Davis said that the Nacogdoches High School should take more than just ordinary interest in the contest because some of its faculty were some of the main officials in the league. He was loudly cheered at the conclusion of his speech.

Following Mr. Davis, the juniors and the seniors had a round over their respective candidates for the May Queen honors. The seniors, headed by Eldridge Gaston called the school's attention to the fact that Miss Jewel Norwood was still a candidate for May Queen. To this statement the juniors immediately came back with information that Miss Mary Ann McKinney was the girl who would be the May queen, and that the seniors might as well give up the ghost. Such remarks as these were received with sour looks and hisses by the seniors, and cheers by the juniors. Several moments were used in allowing the students in both divisions to retort to each other on their respective candidates. This was greatly enjoyed by the freshmen and the sophomores, who were spectators.

The exercises were a great success, and were hugely enjoyed by the students as well as the teachers. Considerable enthusiasm and pep was in evidence among the students at the conclusion of the program.

DISLOYALTY ACT NO GOOD

Austin, Texas, March 17.—The Texas disloyalty act was held today unconstitutional by the court of criminal appeals because it attempts to prohibit disloyal utterance while the United States is at war, and thus "impinges upon the exclusive domain of federal legislation and is in violation of Section 8 of our Bill of Rights."

Mr. H. L. McKnight, general manager of the Nacogdoches Chamber of Commerce, was a visitor in Lufkin this morning, returning from Livingston last night, where he was the principal speaker in a "get-together" meeting of the chamber of commerce of that city. Mr. McKnight is well known to a number of citizens of Lufkin, having visited here before he was connected with the Agricultural & Mechanical College of Texas and he is now doing splendid work in the new organization he has allied himself with, not only over in our neighbor county, but in this part of the state. He always finds a hearty welcome in Lufkin.—Lufkin News.

MUSIC TEACHER IS ENTHUSIASTIC

Miss Cantrill Declares Tanlac Is Best Medicine She Ever Heard of.

"I am simply delighted over my improvement since I began taking Tanlac," was the enthusiastic statement made by Miss Louise Cantrill, popular music teacher of 8405 Elm Street, Los Angeles, Cal.

"For as long as I can remember my kidneys troubled me and I rarely ever got a good night's rest," she continued. "I lost my appetite completely and what I managed to swallow by sheer force of will would ferment and cause so much gas that my heart would palpitate terribly and at times I came near fainting. I fell off from one hundred and twenty pounds to ninety-eight and was so nervous and weak that I had to give up my work."

"Medicines and treatments did not do me a bit of good and I lost faith in them. A friend of mine kept insisting that I try Tanlac and to please her I did. Now I can't thank her enough, for the way Tanlac helped me is nothing short of remarkable. My appetite came right back and now I eat anything I want without the slightest trouble. My kidneys seem to be in perfect shape and I sleep all night long like a child. I have gained so much in weight and strength and am so happy I don't hesitate to say Tanlac is the best medicine I ever heard of."

Tanlac is sold in Nacogdoches by Swift Bros. & Smith, Stripling, Haselwood & Co., and in Garrison by the Dale Drug Co.

He scrutinized it carefully when a copy was handed him and then said: "Now I know!" "What are you looking for," we inquired. The man said he had a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and I forgot the name. I went to several stores and the clerks named over everything except "Chamberlain's." I'll try again and I'll never go home without Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. The Republican would suggest to the proprietors of the store, that they post their clerks, and never let them substitute. Customers lose faith in stores where substituting is permitted, to say nothing of the injustice to the makers of the good goods and the disappointment to the customers. FEEDING AND CARE OF SMALL CHICKS.

By R. Craig, Mgr.
East Texas Poultry Farm

There is annually several million small chicks lost in the United States because of improper care and feeding the first few weeks and particularly the first few days. One of the most common mistakes made in the rearing of small chicks is that of feeding too early and too heavy. The chick needs no food and should have none the first 48 hours of its life. Just before breaking the shell, the yolk of the egg is consumed by the young chick and that is sufficient nourishment to last it for 2 or even three, and far better would it be to wait the full three days, than is often being done, feed before the chick is a day old.

After chick is 48 hours old, it is alright to give a rather sparing feed. I would give first some kind of grit to clean out their digestive organs. Coarse sand is very good, but instead of placing before chick in a saucer it is a better plan to spread on a piece of old paper and let the chicks pick at it that way, they will get all they need and are not so apt to consume too much. With grit, I would give water but not too cold and in such a way that the chicks cannot get into it and get their feet wet. A couple of hours after giving grit and water, the chicks will be ready for their first feed.

Quite a number of different foods are good to start chicks off with, such as well baked corn bread and prepared starting foods. Oatmeal, however, is in my opinion the very best that you can give the baby chick, particularly pinhead or steel-cut oats. It might, perhaps, cost just a little more, but if the chicks are worth hatching, they are certainly worth raising and the right start is almost half the battle.

As a first feed, give two parts of oatmeal and one part wheat bran and spread on paper, or board, as with grit. Be careful not to feed too much. Overfeeding will cause bowel trouble and likely result in the loss of some of the chicks. The baby chick doubles its weight in about a week, so it is easily seen that they require plenty of food to supply the growth. But instead of giving all they will eat at one time, it is better to keep them slightly hungry all through the day and give only all they will eat at the evening meal. By feeding a little five times a day you will get best results.

It is not necessary to keep feeding the oatmeal for any considerable length of time, but it should be continued a few days. By throwing a little good commercial chick feed in the litter the chicks will soon learn to scratch for that and they will soon leave the oatmeal alone and go for the small grain only. After they are a week old, the feeding of small cracked grain three times a day, morning noon and night will be sufficient, but in addition they should have a dry mash morning and afternoon. A mash made of equal parts wheat bran and wheat shorts is very good; the addition of one part corn meal improves it some, but it is not necessary. One thing, however, that is very important is animal food. About five to ten percent meat scraps (the kind put up by the packers) should be added to the dry mash and chicks should be allowed to eat all of that they want. Buttermilk, if available, may be substituted for meat scraps; sour skimmed milk is also very good and chicks should be given all of that they will drink. But do not give sour milk one day and sweet milk the next.

In addition to being a very valuable food and taking the place of meat scraps, sour milk is also a great preventative of the dreaded scourage white diarrhoea. If it will not actually kill the germ of that disease, it will, at least to a large extent, keep it from developing.

Some people prefer to feed wet mash to the chicks instead of a dry mash. While I personally believe the dry mash to be better, because there is less chance of the chicks overeating, I do not say that a wet mash is not good, but if fed wet be careful to see that it is not sloppy, just wet enough so it is slightly crumbly. Always avoid feeding sloppy feeds of any kind.

There is one other essential in the feed line that chicks must have in order to grow and develop rapidly and that is green feed. After chicks are a week old it is necessary to feed green feed unless they are running with the hen where there is plenty of green grass. A very good way to supply green feed where it is lacking is to sprout oats. Place oats in a shallow tray, after they have been soaked in water over night, spread them out about an inch thick in tray and place out of way of direct sunlight. Sprinkle oats with water morning and night until they have formed roots.

When sprouts are about an inch long place trays before chicks or clip sprouts and give to them. Do not give too much green feed at the start but increase gradually. After sprouts have been eaten or clipped off, leave stand for two or three days and you will have a fresh supply. By having several trays you can have green feed at all times. A plentiful supply of fresh water, should, of course, be before chicks at all times, but it should be so arranged so the chicks cannot get into it. If other grit than coarse sand is given chicks, it should be given very sparingly until chicks are at least two weeks old.

No matter what care you use in the feeding of chicks, you cannot rear them successfully unless you use the proper brooding method. If chicks are hatched under a hen, the brood coop should be constructed and be ready for them by the time the hatch comes off. Pains should be taken to see that the hen is free from lice by that time. A good brood coop need not necessarily be expensive, but it should be so constructed that it will protect the brood fully from wind and rain. Two doors ought to be provided in a good broodcoop. One solid and the other slatted so that the chicks can run in and out while the hen is confined. Hen should not be allowed to run at large with chicks the first two weeks. A small run should be fenced off for hen and have enough opening at bottom so chicks can get under and range at will. In this manner they will always be close in in case of bad weather and they will not be required to run too far distances and thus overtax their strength. Change brooding litter frequently and examine closely for lice and mites.

Where chicks have been hatched in an incubator, it is usually found necessary to rear them in a brooder, and here lots of people have met with disaster and quite often brooder used has been cheap and poorly constructed. A good brooder, if of the box type and heated with a lamp, should have two compartments separated with a curtain. If inner, or heating chamber gets too hot, chicks can then go under the curtain and into cooler space.

Before removing chicks from incubator to brooder, have brooder heated to about 95 degrees and rather more than less. Have floor of brooder covered with litter, short cut straw or hay. Clean dry earth, about an inch deep, is also good. Do not allow chicks out of brooder the first couple of days and see that they have plenty of heat. Ninety-five degrees should be maintained for at least the first week after which time the heat can be gradually lowered. No definite rule can be given as to what temperature to keep. By watching your chicks you can tell when they are too cold or too hot. If they huddle together they are too cold, and if they stand with their mouth open they are too hot. By keeping temperature right and keeping brooder clean and well disinfected together with right feeding method, there is no reason why a large number of chicks should not be successfully reared in a brooder.

A GREAT OPPORTUNITY FOR YOUNG WOMEN AND YOUNG MEN

The demand for telegraph operators was never so great as it is at this time. Railroads are sending men out to get more operators, and are offering special inducements to our students. Several different railway companies have offered to place every graduate Tyler Commercial College can furnish. In fact, they tried to get our promise to let them place every graduate on their lines. The largest telegraph school in America, equipped with wire of a main line railroad, all telegraph and freight blanks and books of record, tickets, railroad offices, and, the best practical teachers to be obtained, thoroughly experienced in commercial and railway telegraphy, station and freight work,—the Tyler Commercial College is unable to supply the demands of the railroads, Western Union and Postal Telegraph for operators. We received a message from a leading railroad company reading: "Can you furnish us with all the operators we need, we furnishing them with free transportation over our line from nearest points?" Just as surely as you complete our course of telegraphy and station work, just so surely will we place you in a good position. The same is true with our courses of Bookkeeping, Shorthand, Cotton Classing, or Business Finance.

Our telegraph students are all on the Southwestern roads, and in Western Union and Postal Telegraph offices. Our graduates of other departments are holding high positions in the commercial world. With our help you can be a success. Do you want to be an untrained clerk or telephone girl at $10.00 or $15.00 a week, or be a trained operator, bookkeeper or stenographer at $100.00 to $175.00 a month? The difference is a few months training in the Tyler Commercial College; two months salary after finishing pays all expenses of a course.

Health About Gone

Many thousands of women suffering from womanly trouble, have been benefited by the use of Cardui, the woman's tonic, according to letters we receive, similar to this one from Mrs. Z. V. Spell, of Hayne, N. C. "I could not stand on my feet, and just suffered terribly," she says. "As my suffering was so great, and he had tried other remedies, Dr. — had us get Cardui. . . I began improving, and it cured me. I know, and my doctor knows, what Cardui did for me, for my nerves and health were about gone."

She writes further: "I am in splendid health . . . can do my work. I feel I owe it to Cardui, for I was in dreadful condition." If you are nervous, run-down and weak, or suffer from headache, backache, etc., every month, try Cardui. Thousands of women praise this medicine for the good it has done them, and many physicians who have used Cardui successfully with their women patients, for years, endorse this medicine. PERFECT HEALTH IS EVERY WOMAN'S BIRTHRIGHT

Houston, Texas:—"I was in a terribly run-down condition of health after a sleep of ptomaine poisoning, and then the influenza. I could not seem to regain my strength and was really not able to do my housework. NAGGING THE NAVY

Washington, D. C., March 12.—Disregard by the navy department of his recommendation regarding the adoption of the convoy system was described by Admiral Sims today as "infinitely more serious" in its bearing on the war than the other cases—previous testimony before the senate investigating committee. Sims said that in 1917 the Allies were compelled by the submarines to adopt the convoy plan for protecting shipping. On May 1 he urgently recommended that the United States give its co-operation but it was not until June 20 that Secretary Daniels replied that he considered American vessels having armed guards safer when sailing independently. The British admiralty desired the Assurance of American co-operation in the convoy plan so the first convoy might sail from New York on July 8. Finally on July 22 the navy accepted the convoy plan for troop ships and later for supply vessels.

ALMANAC IN DECK OF CARDS

Three soldiers had been arrested for gambling and on one a deck of cards was found. This fellow asked permission of the judge to plead his own case, using the deck as his text. This was granted and the plea follows:

Your Honor: These two men were arrested with me are recruits and have recently joined my outfit, the Second division. The kind of outfit they have joined. When I show them the ace, it reminds them that there is but one army, the United States Army. When I show them the deuce it reminds them of the Second division, with the star and Indian head as its insignia. When I show them the trey it reminds them of the educational and vocational schools that will benefit them the three years that they serve in the division. When I show them the four it reminds them of April, the fourth month in 1918, when the division had its first battle in the Toulon and Troyon Sector.

When I show them the five it reminds them of the five Major Operations. When I show them the six it reminds them of June, the sixth month of 1918, in which it was at Bois de Belleau and Hill 142, which was captured and held by the division. When I show them the seven it reminds them of the seventh month the division was in the army of occupation in Germany. When I show them the eight, it reminds them that just eight months after the division went into the line they made the Germans admit for the first time that their line had been broken. When I show them the nine, it reminds them of the nine words, naming the Major Operations the division took part in, Chateau Thierry, Soissons, St. Mihiel Salient, Blank Mont (Champagne) and the Meuse-Argonne. When I show them the ten, it reminds them that only ten months after the division went into line in Verdun Sector it was resting in billets across the Rhine. When I show the jack, it reminds them of "jacks" which the division never failed to make when it hit the German line. When I show them the king a queen, it reminds them of King Solomon and queen of Sheba. She was as wise a woman as he was a man, but these recruits have displayed the wisdom of both by joining this outfit. When I count how many spots in a pack of cards I find 365, as many days as there are in the year. When I count the number of cards in a pack, I find 52, the number of weeks in a year, and I find four suits, the number of weeks in a month, I find 12 picture cards, the number of months in a year, and counting the tricks, I find thirteen, the number of weeks in a quarter.

So, Your Honor, a pack of cards serve as an almanac in the Second Division. The case was dismissed. For all information that may be desired previous to enlisting, see the Second Division recruiting officer at 100-A West Main Street, Nacogdoches, Texas. For information with reference to other branches of the service as well as other divisions, also go to see the recruiting officer at Nacogdoches, Texas.

Mr. Burk is the proud owner of a 10-months-old pig that measures 70 inches in length, 53 inches around the heart, 58 inches around the flank and weighs (approximately) 400 pounds. This pig is the big bone Berkshire type, measuring 9 1/2 inches around the bone of his fore-leg. Mr. Burk was one of the interested onlookers at the recent terracing demonstration given under the direction of the chamber of commerce on the H. S. Lacey farm near Sacul. He reports quite a lively interest in the work done there, by Beason and his Martin Ditcher. T. E. Burgess has been appointed superintendent of the Nacogdoches division of the Industrial Transportation Company, the appointment becoming effective Monday. The company has just completed the rearrangement of their stores of Nacogdoches, and the interior before of the most attractive and up-to-date in the city. The transformation is complete, the new shelves, showcases, and counters being arranged with an eye for both convenience and beauty. They expect to invest approximately $200,000 in stores, truck lines, canning plants, creamery, etc., in this division. There will be about twenty stores in the district, and six heavy-truck lines.

The company is divided into four divisions and there are 104 stores already in operation. The assets of the company in Nacogdoches are now over $50,000 and will be increased to $200,000. The enterprise is well worthy the endorsement of the people of the county, its "From-producer-to-consumer" plan being about the only practicable method of reducing the high cost of living.

Miss Catherine Morgan of Alazan is in the city visiting her relative, Miss Ooe Weaver.

Cannot Praise this Remedy too Highly

THE WAY ONE LADY FEELS AFTER SUFFERING TWO YEARS Judging from her letter, the misery and wretchedness endured by Mrs. Charlie Taylor, R. F. D. No. 1, Box 144, Dillon, S. C., must have been terrible. No one, after reading her letter, can continue to doubt the great healing power of PE-RU-NA for troubles due to catarrh or catarrhal conditions in any part of the body. Her letter is an inspiration to every sick and suffering man or woman anywhere. Here it is: "I suffered two years with catarrh of the head, stomach and bowels. Tried two of the best doctors, who gave me up. I then took PE-RU-NA and can truthfully say I am well. When I began to use PE-RU-NA, I weighed one hundred pounds. My weight now is one hundred and fifty. I cannot praise PE-RU-NA too highly, for it was a Godsend to me. I got relief from the first half bottle and twelve bottles cured me. I advise all sufferers to take PE-RU-NA." As an emergency remedy in the home, there is nothing quite the equal of this reliable, time-tried medicine, PE-RU-NA. Thousands place their sole dependence on it for coughs, colds, stomach and bowel trouble, constipation, rheumatism, pains in the back, side and joints and to prevent the grip and Spanish Flu. To keep the blood pure and maintain bodily strength and robustness, take PE-RU-NA. You can buy PE-RU-NA anywhere in either tablet or liquid form.

Calomel loses you a day! You know what calomel is. It's mercury; quicksilver. Calomel is dangerous. It crashes into your bile like dynamite, cramping and sickening you. Calomel attacks the bones and should never be put into your system.

Take "Dodson's Liver Tone" Instead!
When you feel bilious, sluggish, constipated and all knocked out and believe you need a dose of dangerous calomel, just remember that your druggist sells for a few cents a large bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone, which is entirely vegetable and pleasant to take and is a perfect substitute for calomel. It is guaranteed to start your liver without stirring you up inside, and can not salivate. Don't take calomel! It makes you sick the next day; it loses you a day's work. Dodson's Liver Tone straightens you right up and you feel great. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and doesn't price.

THE OLD ARMY AND THE NEW.

Days when the trooper's menu card read hardtack that required an ax to break it and salt pork with green whiskers on it, when the only recreation was the "sutler's store" where whiskey was dispensed at 50 cents a drink, and was content to lay in the open with one blanket and his saddle for a pillow, with a quart cup and tin plate that did duty as a coffee pot and frying pan, seasoned with juicy steak of deer, elk and buffalo, spitted on the ramrod of his trusty rifle, with no thought that his name would be inscribed on the roll of honor, but imbued with an esprit de corps and loyalty to his regiment, troop and officers.

The achievement of the old army from the close of the Civil War to that of the Spanish-American War is one of the brightest pages in American history, filled as it is with adventures, heroic display of courage and suffering in the subjection of the many hostile tribes of Indians, outlaws, and allround hard cases from the ragged edge of civilization whose brutal orgies of murder and rapine vied with that of his redskin brother, to be finally subdued as were the Indians by the old army in the reclamation of the Great American Desert.

But this rough school produced men some of them alive today, that scaled the walls of PEKIN, CHINA, and CRATER OF DAJO, SAN JUAN hill, and last but not least, the subjection of the HUN in the recent world war.

What a contrast is the life of the soldier in the new army. The old sutler's store and adjacent saloons and dance halls of ill repute gave way to the "canteen," the soldiers clubroom where light wines, beers and refreshments are served, as well as access to the billiard rooms, libraries, instructive schools, and spiritual welfare under the observing care of the post commander.

His commissary list today includes besides the staple articles of flour, bacon, sugar, coffee, beans, rice, candies, salt, pepper, such items as fresh meat, tomatoes, corned beef, cabbage, pork, fresh vegetables, butter, canned goods of every description served under trained cooks and bakers, a menu that vied with the Waldorf Astoria. This before the advent of prohibition as well as clothing list that cares for the body and feet in all conditions of country and climate.

Today he is housed in modern quarters, furnished with heat and light, bathroom, toilet, spring bed, mattresses, sheets, pillow-cases, trunk locker, and clothes bag, billiard rooms, libraries, schools, gymnasiums, swimming pools, movies, sitting-up exercises and calisthenics that develop body and mind and the disciplinary training that becomes the true military man and soldier, an honor to his family and his country, a loyal and patriotic citizen, a bulwark to the fireside of our homes ready to defend our rights and our nation.

Washington, D. C., March 11.—Indications that the navy department withheld sending all available American naval craft to European waters early in the war because of a desire to keep the main body of the nation's sea strength intact for possible eventualities were contained in Rear Admiral Sims' testimony today before the senate committee. He read a telegram from the navy department implying that. The telegram added: "The navy department announces its general plan of action in the following: Its willingness to send its minor fighting forces in any numbers not incompatible with the home need to any field of action deemed advisable by the Allied admiralty council; its unwillingness, as a matter of policy, to separate any division from the main fleet for service abroad, although it is willing to send the entire battleship fleet to act as a co-operating unit when emergency was deemed to warrant it."

Sims said that this was the first definite statement of policy he received upon arriving, more than three months after the United States declared war.

VESSEL IN DANGER
Tampa, Fla., March 11.—The naval wireless picked up a radio from the Ward liner "Esperanza," saying that she was aground on Madagascar reef, off Progresso, Honduras. The "Esperanza" to New York from Vera Cruz via Progresso with passengers and cargo. Naval men said that unless there was a heavy sea she probably was not in immediate danger.

TOM TILL DIES SUDDENLY

Tom Till, son of J. O. Till of Appleby, died at an early hour Wednesday morning under distressing circumstances.

With his father and a party of friends the young man had been on a fishing trip to the Angelina river. As they passed up North Street in Nacogdoches about sunup, his father, who was in a car ahead, noticed that his son had fallen forward in his seat, and stopped and hurried back to the machine in which the young man was a passenger. When he reached him the son was dead.

It is learned the young man was afflicted with sudden seizures, and it was one of these that caused his death. Up to the moment of his collapse he had been in unusually lively spirits, it is said, and seemed to greatly enjoy his outing.

The remains were taken in charge and prepared for burial by Tucker-Sitton Company and forwarded to Appleby about 10 o'clock Wednesday morning. Details of the funeral arrangements could not be learned.

Mr. M. V. Miller, secretary of the Carolina Oil Company, who has been here since Sunday, for the purpose of locating a refinery at Nacogdoches said Tuesday that everything was pointing mighty favorable toward Nacogdoches getting the refinery. He said that the site had been found which he had been told was available for the refinery. Mr. Miller seems to be very much interested in Nacogdoches, and says that he likes the town, and that he hopes that things will shape themselves so that Nacogdoches will get the refinery.

In chapel services Monday morning songs were sung, a speech made by Prof. R. F. Davis, and two declamations heard, much to the delight of all. The debaters did not deliver any talks, as some of them were unprepared to make their addresses.

According to an item in the News, one of the banks of Lufkin is to have a new and commodious home. The Sentinel is always glad to see evidence of progress in Lufkin. If there is a town on the face of the earth that needs improvement it is Lufkin.

"Twenty-three automobiles sold in Angelina county in 1920"—Lufkin News headline. Angelina county seems to be going it pretty strong on the automobiles in 1920, but this is to remind in Nacogdoches county year there are just a small matter of over 1200 automobiles registered.

Feel Old?

Overwork, worry, anxiety or sorrow undermines strength and health. These causes contribute to kidney trouble, and weak or diseased kidneys make one feel old in middle age.

Foley Kidney Pills

help weak, overworked or diseased kidneys and bladder so that the system is free from waste and poisonous matter that causes one to feel old, tired, languid. They banish backache, rheumatic pains, sore muscles, stiff joints.

Mrs. J. D. Miller, Syracuse, N. Y., writes: "For many years I suffered with kidney trouble and rheumatism. I had a severe backache and felt miserable and all pined out. I got to a place where I had to do something. After taking two bottles of Foley Kidney Pills I can say my backache is gone, and where I used to lay awake at night with rheumatic pains I can now sleep in comfort and enjoy a good night's rest." Sold by Stripling, Haselwood & Co.

CO-OPERATION

We are publishing below a letter from one of our young and prosperous farmers to the Chamber of Commerce:

Nacogdoches, Texas, 3-13,1920

Mr. Arthur Seale,
Pres. Chamber of Commerce.

Dear Sir—I wish to join the Chamber of Commerce provided you admit farmers to membership. I am prosperous in a small way, and wish to drift with the bunch.

I enclose my check for $3.00. Please notify me of any important meetings in which you think a farmer would be interested.

Yours truly,
R. P. White

Mr. W. B. Wortham of Garrison and Mr. H. W. Birdwell of Chireno are two other wide-awake and progressive farmers of the county who realize the benefits of co-operation and have joined the chamber of commerce without solicitation.

There must be co-operation from both the farmers and the business men to get the results that all interests need to bring about the betterment of the agricultural conditions. The merchants may try ever so hard to aid in this undertaking, but will never be able to accomplish much without the co-operation of the farmers. The two must meet half-way and join hands, put their shoulders to the same wheel and push with all his might. When this is done things will happen and happen fast.

NACOGDOCHES HOSPITABLE

It might be a source of gratification to know the following instance: About thirty days ago a young man, a soldier, named John Donegan, arrived in Nacogdoches from San Antonio, a perfect stranger in the city, and one who could hardly pronounce the name of Nacogdoches. The young man stayed in the city for about three weeks, and returned to San Antonio. A few days ago Private Donegan was given a thirty-day furlough, and within three days after he received the furlough he arrived in the city to spend his furlough with Nacogdoches people. "Nacogdoches has the best people of any town I have ever had the pleasure to stay in," said Private Donegan, "and as soon as I found I had a furlough the first place I thought of was Nacogdoches." He is a native of Maryland, but is enthusiastic over Nacogdoches. Well that is about what they all say.
