MINNESOTA MOB LYNCHES THREE NEGRO RAPISTS

Duluth, Minn., June 16.—Virtually normal conditions prevail today in Duluth, where a mob of 5,000 last night swept the police from power, lynching three negroes held in connection with an attack upon a white girl at the circus grounds last night. The negroes lynched were circus roustabouts.

MRS. BETTY MORA

Died, at her home near Melrose. Mrs. Betty Mora was born January 31, 1863, died June 13, 1920, at the age of 57 years, 4 months and 13 days. She was buried at the family burying ground about fifty yards from their old home where she was born and reared.

Aunt Betty, as she was called by all, leaves a husband and four children, four brothers and one sister, and a host of relatives and friends to mourn her death.

Weep not, dear ones; our loss is Heaven's gain.

She was married to J. M. Mora January 9, 1882. She was a daughter of Lucian Y'Barbo, one among the oldest families known in this country. She was a devoted wife, a kind and loving mother, a good neighbor. She was ever ready to lend a helping hand.

Dear ones, you know she cannot come to you, but you can go to her in that beautiful home where parting is no more. Remember the Master says: "Take up thy cross and follow me. Come unto me and I will give you rest."

FOURTH-CLASS POST-MASTER EXAMINATION

The United States Civil Service Commission has announced an examination to be held at Lufkin, Texas, on July 10, 1920, as a result of which it is expected to make certification to fill a contemplated vacancy in the position of fourth-class postmaster at Etoile, Texas, and other vacancies as they may occur at that office unless it shall be decided in the interests of the service to fill any vacancy by reinstatement. The compensation at this office was $263 for the last fiscal year.

Applicants must have reached their twenty-first birthday on the date of the examination, with the exception that in a state where women are declared by statute to be at full age for all purposes at eighteen years, women eighteen years of age on the date of the examination will be admitted.

Applicants must reside in the territory supplied by the post office for which the examination is announced.

The examination is open to all citizens of the United States who can comply with the requirements.

Application blanks, form 1753, and full information concerning the requirements of the examination can be secured from the postmaster at the place of vacancy or from the United States Civil Service Commission, Washington, D. C.

Applications should be properly executed and filed with the Commission at Washington, D. C., at the earliest practical date.

TO LIVESTOCK GROWERS

The Nacogdoches Purebred Livestock Association will hold its second quarterly meeting at the farm home of President W. B. Wortham, four miles south of Garrison, on the Nacogdoches and Garrison road on Tuesday, June 22.

Mr. A. L. Ward, secretary of the Texas Swine Breeders Association, and Prof. C. M. Evans, Animal Husbandman for the Extension Service of the A. & M. College of Texas, will be present, and will deliver a series of lectures on breeding feeding and judging livestock, with special application of hogs. President Wortham's herd of Duroc Jerseys will be available for demonstrations in judging. Other members of the association will have high class individuals of the other breeds on exhibition and comparisons in judging.

The day will be spent in a very practical, helpful way to all.

Col. Louis J. Wortham of Fort Worth will be present, and will make an address on some topic of the day. Colonel Wortham is one of the ablest speakers in Texas, and a firm believer in the possibilities of East Texas. He will delight everyone who has the good fortune to hear him.

On Wednesday, June 23, Messrs. Ward and Evans will hold a special "Hog School" at Nacogdoches. This "school" will be free to all. It will consist of lectures on feeding, breeding and judging livestock. Actual demonstrations will be given by the use of the live animal.

In addition to the lectures on these several live topics, there will be an exhibition at Nacogdoches on Wednesday, the famous Jersey bull, Pogis, the 99th of Hood Farm the 49th. This bull is conceded to be the best bred animal of his breed in Texas. Also Mr. Eugene Blount's fifteen hundred dollar Shorthorn bull will be seen in connection with his herd of high-class Shorthorn cows and calves.

Every livestock man in the county, and every farmer who believes in good stock is urged to attend the second day's meeting in Nacogdoches. The meeting on the Wortham Farm on Tuesday will be open to invited guests only. This is made necessary because of the limited accommodations of the individual farm-house.

We are expecting a large number of out-of-county livestock men to be with us on the 23rd.

Your earnest co-operation is necessary to the end that we may make Nacogdoches county a center of high-class livestock breeders.

H. L. McKnight,
Secretary Nacogdoches County Purebred Livestock Association.

Mexico's Only Drawback.

A railroad man who had been stationed in Torreon for a number of years was relating some of the experiences in the peppery republic to a few companions in the hotel lounge. Finally one of the listeners asked, "Well, tell me what is the matter with Mexico, anyway?" "Oh, Mexico is all right," replied the other; "the only trouble with it is that it is over-run with Mexicans."

TEXAS FARM BOYS WILL BE LAVISHLY ENTERTAINED

Dallas, Texas, June 16.—"Nothing will be left undone to insure to the boys of Texas a most profitable and pleasant stay during the time they are in Nebraska," writes Governor Samuel R. McKelvie with reference to the Texas Farm Boy Special which will tour the North and East, including a visit to Canada, during the last three weeks of August.

Governor McKelvie urges that the farm boy special visit Nebraska's stock and grain farms, and promises them an interesting study of wheat, alfalfa, and corn growing in that state. Letters have been received from state officials, commercial secretaries, and business men and farmers from nearly every state in the Middle West, North, East and South, inviting the Texas Farm Boys to pay them a visit.

LEGISLATIVE ACTIVITIES

Austin, Texas, June 16.—The senate today adopted the Tillotson resolution providing for the appointment of a committee to report by January 1 upon the advisability of removing the medical department of the University of Texas from Galveston.

A resolution providing for an investigation of the cement manufacturing industry in Texas was adopted.

The house passed its own bill proposing an increase of salaries of county school superintendents from $1,000 to from $1,600 to $2,800 per annum.

COWPUNCHERS FOR CHINA

Helena, Mont., June 9.—"Powder River" "let'er go back"—the battle cry that carried the Montana fighting men through the late war, soon will be heard in the land of pigtail and pagodas.

Fred Barton, in the old days a cowpuncher on the Montana plains, who more recently took over the business of raising cattle in China, was here organizing a party of old-time punchers who are to ride in the Celestial Empire, where Barton has large cattle interests.

According to Barton, the methods of herding and cattle-raising in China are not up to the general standard of the West, and a few modern methods in that country will put the cattle-raising business on the plane it should occupy.

A number of old riders have signed with Barton and will leave soon.

STUDENTS AS HARVESTERS

Norman, Okla., June 12.—Six-dollar-a-day jobs in the harvest fields of Oklahoma will be sought by 300 students from the University of Oklahoma, according to university authorities. Oklahoma farmers have asked for 1,400 college men to help handle the wheat harvest.

RHODES SCHOLARSHIPS

Austin, Texas, June 16.—University of Texas candidates for the Rhodes Scholarships will be selected on August 1. The number of candidates from the University is limited to four. Requests to be considered as candidates should be addressed to H. Y. Benedict, chairman of the committee of selection. Final applications of candidates for these scholarships must be in the hands of Prof. H. Trantham of Baylor University, Waco, not later than August 14. Awards will be made on September 28.

DEMPSEY ACHING FOR SCRAP

San Francisco, Cal., June 16.—Jack Kearns, manager for Jack Dempsey, announced that Dempsey would be ready in two weeks to meet Carpenter, the French heavyweight, or "he will fight anyone else in the world if Carpenter is unwilling to talk fight." Kearns issued a statement saying Dempsey's acquittal yesterday from the draft evasion charge left his war record clear, and that "there would be no more whispering campaigns carried on about him."

Roscoe Houser, a San Antonio man, is spending a few days with his wife's father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Summers. He was accompanied by Mrs. Houser and sister.

LONGSHOREMEN PROMISED FEDERATION'S SUPPORT

Montreal, June 15.—The American Federation of Labor at today's session pledged their support to the striking longshoremen on the Atlantic and Gulf coasts "in their fight for recognition" and their opposition to the policy of the open shop. A. O. Anderson of New York, representing the coastwise longshoremen in asking the support of the federation, declared the steamship companies are "refusing to arbitrate and compromise the issue" and are employing strikebreakers. Texas is a "corporation representative," declared the speaker. Describing conditions at Galveston, he said the martial law edict was unnecessary and was an attempt to break the strike.

WIRELESS OPERATORS STRIKE

London, June 15.—A strike of marine wireless operators that will affect all ports and all shipping was declared today by the Associated Wireless Telegraphers. The men are demanding a wage increase of approximately 180 percent over prewar rates, with better conditions of employment. Operators on ships were instructed to cease work when the voyage ends and not to sign for further trips. This is the first general strike of its kind, and union men say that it may take an international scope.

WILL STAY IN SENATE

Washington, June 15.—Warren G. Harding, the republican presidential nominee, does not intend to retire from the United States senate until his term of office expires March 4. "There is no possibility of that," Mr. Harding declared today. "Why should I? I do intend, however, to do without my petition filed in Columbus last week giving notice that I would not be a candidate for re-election to the senate. That will be done this week."

3 KILLED, 20 INJURED

La Junta, Colo., June 15.—The Santa Fe passenger train "The California Limited," was wrecked here today. Reports are that 3 were killed and 20 injured.

Another Account.

La Junta, June 15.—At least two were killed when the California Limited, east-bound, on the Santa Fe was wrecked at Rene, Colo. The hospital announced that 40 were treated, most of whom will recover. A broken crank on the engine is said to have caused the wreck.

DEMPSEY ACQUITTED

San Francisco, Cal., June 15.—Jack Dempsey, the world's heavy-weight champion, was found not guilty on the selective draft evasion indictment by a jury in the United States District Court here today.

TROOPS WILL REMAIN

Galveston, Texas, June 15.—Ralph Soape, the governor's secretary, who arrived in Galveston today to investigate the strike situation, had nothing to say.

General Wolters said he would not recommend the removal of troops at present.

N. Y. POLICE OFFICER CONVICTED OF PERJURY

New York, June 15.—Police Inspector Dominick Henry of the Tenth District was convicted of perjury today and sentenced to from two to five years in the state prison. He was found guilty Friday in connection with the vice crusade.

INCREASE NOT NECESSARY

Washington, June 15.—While urging substantial freight rate increases, R. C. Fulbright of Houston, representing the Southwest Industrial Traffic League, told the Interstate Commerce Commission today that rate increases alone would not solve the nation's transportation problems, and that the full 31 percent increase asked for by the Western railroads was not necessary.

LEGISLATURE IN FINAL WEEK OF EXTRA SESSION

Austin, Texas, June 14.—The legislature began the final week of the present session today with the house scheduled to take up the $4,000,000 school appropriation.

The pink boll worm is also on the calendar.

A mass of bills is undisposed of, and some are predicting night sessions this week.

LABOR FEDERATION DEMANDS

Montreal, June 14.—The central labor bodies which aided the unauthorized strikes of unions during the recent railroad walkout were condemned in a resolution presented at the convention of the American Federation of Labor today in behalf of the Switchmen's Union. As the constitution provides no punishment, the resolution urged that these labor bodies be condemned and warned.

The International Ladies' Garment Workers Union is today pressing the fight to have the federation urge the release of political prisoners and the repeal of the espionage act. The resolution would have organized labor protest against "the further useless and inhuman incarceration of social idealists and demand their immediate release, as well as the complete restoration of the freedom of the press, of assemblage and association without any restrictions." The Central New York labor body declared that there were 15,000 men imprisoned as political prisoners, conscientious objectors and military offenders.

An international organization of the world's union workers to further aims and prevent another world war was advocated by J. W. Odgen, fraternal delegate from the British Trades Unions Congress. He warned the federation that it must ignore any international society similar to that formed in Russia or other countries.

EXCURSION TRAIN WRECK

Chicago, June 14.—One was killed and a score were injured today when a Pere Marquette resort special, bringing week-end parties from Michigan summer resorts, crashed into a freight train in the South Chicago yards. Railroad officials said an open switch allowed the freight train to run in ahead of the special. Both engine crews jumped to safety.

HARDING IN WASHINGTON

Washington, June 14.—Senator Warren G. Harding, the republican presidential nominee, is back at his desk at Washington today. He expects to remain here for a week and will confer with his political managers with the view of getting the campaign under way at once.

On his way home he drove by the White House, and was guarded by policemen and followed by an automobile full of secret service men.

POLES LOSING GROUND

Warsaw, June 14.—The bolsheviks are pouring into the Kiev region backed by the greatest number of divisions the poles have ever faced, according to reports received here tonight. The poles are withdrawing their main forces.

LOUISIANA DEFEATS WOMAN SUFFRAGE

Baton Rouge, La., June 15.—The lower house of the Louisiana legislature today by a vote of 67 to 44 rejected the resolution calling for the ratification of the federal woman suffrage amendment. The senate last week defeated the ratification resolution.

HOUSE TOO ECONOMICAL

Austin, Texas, June 15.—The house today refused to concur in the senate amendment appropriating $5,000,000 instead of the $4,000,000 fixed in the house bill for emergency school use. The house asked for a free conference, but instructed its members of the conference committee not to recede. The senate refused to accept the house bill.

THE REPUBLICAN PLATFORM

The republican platform constitutes the most humiliating confession of moral cowardice, ineptitude and duplicity ever promulgated by a great party in the history of American politics. In the general confusion of ideas existing in the upset of the post-war period, the opportunity was afforded for at least an exhibition of audacity, patriotism and an eager spirit of service, but in the lengthy list of topics treated, not one clear note is sounded, not one definite pledge is made.

There is revealed only the sordid and vulgar eagerness to win merely for the offices that are at stake. There is a sop for every distinctive group, there is an avoidance of positive expression, there is a willful evasion where pending issues draw lines of demarcation and summon men of conviction to action. From first to last, the platform is a conglomeration of dodging, straddling, platitudes and negation.

It is a prolonged snarl of vituperative criticism of the Wilson administration, reeking with commonplace personalities, and hopelessly silent upon every matter of paramount consequence. It bids for votes not upon a basis of constructive statesmanship, but upon the low basis of class prejudice and discontent. It is an appeal to the mercenary, not to the nation's idealism. It stamps the republican party as an inharmonious, hesitating, incompetent group of factions with no aim in view, but the loaves and fishes, ready to shirk every great obligation which a new era has imposed upon the nation, because in that way it hopes to avoid giving offense to any group.

Silent upon the prohibition question, it plays for the dries and coddles the wets; kisses labor upon one cheek and smites it upon the other; it evades the league of nations, and offers the suggestion of some nebulous international tribunal that even the author of the plank would not dare to interpret in specific terms; it plays for the pro-German, it soft pedals the Irish question, it coddles the alien, and in the same breath boasts allegiance to the doctrines of virile Americanism.

Whatever policy or doctrine it upholds, it sets forth in terms so vague that one is in doubt whether the party is sincere and really to be depended upon if from any quarter there should be a voice of protest.

The entire document seems to have been prepared to fit the fruitless record of the republican congress which has just adjourned. It offers no hope of constructive endeavor in the event that a sufficient number of class groups and malcontents unite to give it control.

It is inconceivable, however, that the preponderance of real Americans could enlist in the republican cause, when so little hope is held out for an intelligent and permanent solution of pending problems. That a decisive majority could turn its back upon the great outstanding achievements of the democratic party and remembering only the minor failures and insignificant irritations which are inevitable consequences of the haste and confusion of war, shift the responsibility and problems of reconstruction's stupendous crisis from hands of a positive and virile democracy to the evasive cunning and shallow expediency of the party which offers the Chicago platform, is not to be believed.—Houston Post.

IT HEALS THE SCARS

Let us switch our thoughts from the carnage of war and shame to profiteering, once in a while, and think of something that is true and good and beautiful. The flowers are beautiful but the grass is more than that. Here is what John J. Ingalls said about it.

"Lying in the sunshine among the buttercups and dandelions of May, scarcely higher in intellect than the minute tenants of that mimic wilderness our earliest recollections are of grass; and when the fitful fever is ended, and the foolish wrangle of the market and forum is closed, grass heals the scar which our descent into the earth has made and the carpet of the infant becomes the blanket for the dead.

"Grass is the forgiveness of Nature—her constant benediction. Fields trampled in battle, saturated with blood, torn with the ruts of cannon, grow green again with the grass, and carnage is forgotten. Streets abandoned by traffic become grass-grown like rural lanes and are obliterated.

"Forests decay, harvests vanish, flowers perish, but the grass is immortal. Besieged by the sudden hosts of winter, it withdraws into the impregnable forces of its subterranean and vitality and emerges upon the first solicitation of spring.

"Sown by the winds, by the wandering birds, propagate by the subtle agriculture of the elements which are its ministers and its servants, it softens the rude outline of the world. It bears no blazonary of bloom to charm the sense with fragrance and with splendor, but its homely hue is rose. It yields no fruits in earth nor air, and yet should its harvest fall for a single year, famine would depopulate the earth."

WHO KNOWS,

When Charlie Crawford, a white man, aged 32, whose home is in Center, left Lufkin Saturday night, he stopped off at Nacogdoches and put up at one of the local hotels. There was nothing remarkable about his stopping off at Nacogdoches, only of course exercising poor judgment, but it is related that he straightaway took seven or eight bichloride of mercury tablets, and followed this action with a few ounces of chloroform.—Lufkin News.

Right you are, brother! Any man who comes to Nacogdoches to kill himself is most certainly using the the poorest of judgment; for Nacogdoches is the paradise of all East Texas. We would not be surprised at any man following out the action of Mr. Crawford were he in Lufkin, and we cannot help but reflect on the fact that Mr. Crawford had been living in Lufkin a few days previous to his rash act in Nacogdoches. Of course it is a surmise, but who knows but what Mr. Crawford got such a dismal conception of life while in Lufkin that he came up to Nacogdoches to spend his last hours among the right sort of folks?

Judging by the styles, there is little going on.

Bailey was to return to Texas Saturday to renew his campaign, and Martin Dies has withdrawn from the race for congress. Politics is sure what Sherman said war was.

The bolshevik should consult Germany's master spies before trying to overturn the American government. The latter, with considerably more intelligence, tried it and failed.

An exchange says that owing to the overcrowded condition of its columns a number of births and deaths were unavoidably postponed until its next issue. Accommodating neighborhood, that.

R. B. Walthall, chairman of the county democratic committee says that he wishes to impress all persons running for any office to be sure and file applications for their names to be placed on the ticket before the 19th of this month, which falls on Saturday. Mr. Walthall calls attention to the fact that all the names are not printed in the papers. Hence, in order to prevent any misunderstanding, to insure against possible disaster in getting the candidate's name omitted from the ticket, all candidates are urged to see Mr. Walthall and file their applications. Mr. Walthall calls attention to the fact that two years ago a man running for a very important office, through neglect, did not get his name on the ticket, and as a consequence lost all his labors in the way of canvassing, time and money. In this line, Mr. Walthall says that the 22nd of this month the democratic committee will meet in the district court room and draw the names as they are to be placed on the ticket.

The laws of the chamber of commerce presents a spick and span appearance now that the grass which covered it so thickly a few days ago has been entirely removed by the endeavors of two or three husky negroes who, worked industrially several days getting the lawn in shape to suit the taste of Secretary McKnight. The lawn from now on will be kept entirely free from anything except desirable vegetation, and every effort will be made to keep the headquarters of the Nacogdoches Chamber of Commerce presenting the best front.

OH, DEAR! MY BACK!

Merciful Heavens, how my back hurts in the morning! It's all due to an over-abundance of that poison called uric acid.

The kidneys are not able to get rid of it. Such conditions you can readily overcome, and prolong life by taking "Anuric" (anti-uric acid). This can be obtained at almost any drug store, in tablet form.

When your kidneys get sluggish and clog, you suffer from backache, sick-headache, dizzy spells, or twinges and pains of lumbago, rheumatism or gout; or sleep is disturbed two or three times a night, get Dr. Pierce's Anuric, it will put new life into your kidneys and your entire system. Send Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., ten cents for trial package.

STROUD, OKLA.—"I suffered for a year with kidney trouble. I saw Dr. Pierce's advertisement and wrote for a trial package of 'Anuric.' It helped me so I went to the drug store and bought a supply of Dr. Pierce's medicines. The 'Golden Medical Discovery' and the 'Pleasant Pellets' cured me of bowel trouble, and the 'Anuric' of my kidney trouble and rheumatism. I am cured—can do my work and it does not hurt me at all."—MRS. MARY JANE FISHER, Route 5.

ANOTHER FORM OF PROFITEERING

Walter Horn, negro, janitor in one of the local hotels a few days ago, but now an occupant of the county jail, thinks that it is cheaper to buy clothing than it is to steal clothing—cheaper any time in the year, no matter where one might be, what one's name might sound like, or how much money one might have. Walter, while working at the hotel a few days ago invaded the room of Mr. Max W. Hart, and while in it espied a beautiful silk shirt belonging to Mr. Hart. Needing a good shirt, Walter did not hesitate to avail himself to the beautiful piece of clothing, after which action he quit work. This action caused his being suspected, and after a severe grilling from Sheriff Woodlan the negro admitted the theft. A special term of county court was called, and Judge Marshall assessed a fine of $25 and eight hours in jail. The original cost of the shirt was only $12.50, and Walter thinks there has been a rank case of profiteering played upon him.

Quite a number of oil men arrived in the city Thursday to look over the oil situation in Nacogdoches county. Mr. J. L. Prince took them out into the rural districts today to look over the situation, and while it is not known just what the men think of the prospects, it is thought that the territory is proving attractive to them. Names of the party visiting here could not be obtained.

Now is the time for vacations and the people of Nacogdoches are not failing to take advantage of it. Many people are leaving the city every day for resorts and other places where they plan to visit and rest. Every man, woman and child should at some time in the year enjoy a good rest. The Creator intended it so.

It is a powerful and scientific combination of sulphur and other healing agents for the relief and cure of diseases of the skin. It is especially effective in the ITCHING VARIETIES; giving instant relief from the itching and smarting sensations and by its germ-destroying properties it exterminates the microbe which is the cause of the eruption, thus curing the disease completely.

Littell's Liquid Sulphur Compound is used in all cases of Eczema, Yellows, Barber's Itch, Psoriasis, Herpes, Rash, Oak and Ivy Poisoning, also for relieving the annoyances caused by chiggers and mosquito bites.

In the treatment of ECZEMA—the most painful and obstinate of all skin diseases—it is one of the most successful remedies known.

NACOGDOCHES TRADITIONS

The question of the origin of Nacogdoches has been thoroughly investigated and written by Prof. Herbert Eugene Bolton, of the University of Texas, as may be seen by reference to the Quarterly of the Texas Historical Association for July, 1907. Prof. Bolton has been laboriously and extensively studying the original Indian tribes of Texas for many years. He has searched the earliest records and data in Texas, in Spain, in France, in many archives and libraries, in different languages and connections, and has even searched localities upon the grounds, for information and for traces along these lines, sparing no pains or expenses, and has carefully detailed and recited his discoveries and conclusions, in a most scholarly and methodical manner. This work includes Nacogdoches as one of the most important subjects, in every respect.

Prof. Bolton visited Nacogdoches in July, 1907, coming across the country via Crockett, and inspecting the sites of the leading Indian villages of East Texas, more numerous here than anywhere in the state. He had no difficulty in locating the sites of these tribes, located along the original verified route of the famous old San Antonio road called the Camino Real. He names them one by one, and tells their respective identical sites, distributed from the Trinity river eastward via Williams crossing on the Neches and Alto, Linwood, Douglass, Nacogdoches and San Augustine, even to the Sabine river and beyond. There were two or three of these tribes or villages on the Neches, one of these being called the Neches Indians, and being located at the noted Indian mounds near the Neches river, five miles westward from Alto on the original old San Antonio road. There were two villages on the west side of the Angelina river, near the Linwood crossing of this road, and one or more a few miles westward from these, and on the eastern side of the Angelina river, probably near Douglass and west of this place. At one of these last named villages, lived the chief of nine neighboring villages known as Texas, signifying an understood association or confederacy, and so named from the fact that they had covered dwellings. They cultivated gardens and truck patches, and were inclined to peaceful domestic life.

The most easterly of the Texas tribes was the Nacogdoches village, numbering in population less than five hundred, and located upon the site of the present old city of Nacogdoches. Here there had been located two successive Catholic missions, one about the year or decade of 1690, the other about the year 1716. There two missions were short lived, and were removed to San Antonio. There are two old missions there now, one called Concepcion, and the other called San Jose. Such were the names of missions in East Texas. The first Nacogdoches mission was called Nuestra Señora de Guadalupe.

But Nacogdoches was not permanently settled finally till 1779, when Gil Ybarbo landed his colony there a few years after he had removed from San Augustine.

The Indian mounds at Nacogdoches indicate prehistoric residents. They have been destroyed by modern residents.

It is probable that one or more of La Salle's stranded adventurers from Matagorda Bay reached Nacogdoches in 1685 or soon thereafter on their way to Canada. If La Salle had not been assassinated he himself might have reached there.

Prof. Bolton has recently located the site of La Salle's unfortunate camp, called Fort Saint Louis, which is on Matagorda bay—probably in Victoria county.

So Nacogdoches city was one of the "has beens" more than once again. Long may she wave; and gloriously.

J.E.M.

Mr. Parker, head refinery man man for the Carolina Oil Company of this city, reported Thursday morning that his company had about completed their railroad switch connecting the refinery with the T. & N. O. railroad. He said that the company had the T. & N. O. connected with the N. & S. E. over which oil would be transported from Oil Springs once the refining process was begun. Mr. Parker said that the work on the refinery was going on unabated, and that he was very optimistic over the outlook.

Cecil Maxey, a former high school student of this city, arrived here Thursday from Jacksonville, where he has been employed at a mill which is being supervised by his father. Cecil reports everything in good condition in the vicinity of Jacksonville, and says everywhere he has been he finds evidence of good prosperity.

INTERESTING WEDDING

It is a mighty good thing to have a mother, even in these days of new-fangled ideas and modern improvements. They are always handy, even when a fellow wants to get married. Or at least that is what Mr. Harvey Brandon found out Saturday morning when he managed to get his mother to buy his marriage license for him at the courthouse, immediately after which he married the sweetest girl in all Nacogdoches county—so Harvey says. This is the way it happened: Harvey Brandon was only twenty years of age; Miss Linnie Pruett, his betrothed is, and before Harvey could marry he had to get his parents' consent. Being a little modest, he just naturally asked his mother, Mrs. Carl Brandon, to buy his license for him, which she did in an obliging way. Judge Huston performed the ceremony in fitting style, congratulated the young couple on their good fortune and sent them on their way rejoicing. The young couple are residents of the Nat community. Judge Huston in matrimonial efficiency is getting a great reputation, a thing which he does not seem to mind in the least, judging by the broad smile he wears when congratulated for it by his friends.

MANY ROADS TO KNOWLEDGE

For instance, Impudent Fake Resulted in Opening Up the Field of Electro-Therapy.

Along the road that leads to knowledge are scattered many fake-shops, which as a rule do a flourishing and profitable business. For the chief weakness of the human mind is credulity.

But by curious paradox, the foolishness factories every now and then produce something that proves of substantial usefulness to science.

For example, in New England many years ago a man named Perkins invented what he called a "magnetic tractor," for drawing diseases out of folk. It was shaped like a pair of compasses, with one leg of silver and the other of copper. When the two points were passed over the afflicted part of the body the instrument was supposed by some electrical means to alleviate or cure the trouble.

The "tractors" undoubtedly did benefit many people; also Perkins, who sold them for $5 apiece. They made such a sensation that scientists took the matter up, investigating it thoroughly and proving that imagination did the work. Blindfolded persons were relieved of pain by the contact of a couple of pointed sticks of wood, which they mistook for the instrument in question.

The whole business was plain foolishness. Nevertheless, the interest it awakened led to the first opening up of the field of electro-therapy, discoveries of which have proved of such immense importance to medical science.

WAS AHEAD OF HIS TIME

Peter Heulein, Who Made the First Watch, Accused of Witchcraft and Thrown into Prison.

There is in existence today a letter dated April 22, 1527, from Martin Luther to Father Frederick Pistorius, the last abbot of St. Aegidius in Nuremberg, in which he thanks the abbot for the gift of a watch, and adds: "I feel compelled to become a pupil of our mathematicians in order to understand this unique timekeeper." Never before had he seen such an object.

As he was familiar with clocks, what he meant, evidently, was that the time indicators on the clock were different from those on the watch which had been given to him. It is quite probable he had in his possession the first watch made by Peter Heulein, or at least one of his first ones. This Peter Heulein was a blacksmith and locksmith and devoted his time to mathematics and watchmaking, for which he was thrown into prison charged with witchcraft, which was then one of the easy ways of disposing of a rival or of a person who did things out of the ordinary.

But Peter persevered; and the name of Heulein and Nuremberg is preserved by a monument in his native town.

New Bells Made Like Old.

We have often heard of the beautiful silver tone of very old church bells in Europe and some have even been bought at a great price and brought to America. It was supposed that after a bell had rung regularly for one or two centuries some mysterious quality was developed, and the beautiful tone could be acquired in no other way. An ingenious American studied the problem, however, and decided that the silver tone was simply due to the fact that the clapper of the bell had worn itself and the bell by continued striking, until the two fit closely together and that the shape of the metal and nothing else determined the tone. He began to make bells by casting them so that the clapper and the bell fit each other properly, and the mellow silver tone was obtained at once. Today we are manufacturing such bells and selling them abroad.—Boys' Life.

Worry Really Wicked.

Worry is really an evidence of lack of self-confidence and of faith in the power that runs the universe. It is a lack of faith in the power that, provided you do your part, will always bring things out better than you possibly could by yourself alone. Why should you worry, why should you fear, why should you be anxious, when God's vision and omnipotence are always ready to guide and serve you? There never has been an instant in your life, my friend, which you could have safeguarded or provided for with a thousandth part of the wisdom with which God has guarded and provided for it. It is really a reflection upon him to be anxious about the future, to dread poverty and sickness, to worry about your business, to fear failure in your undertaking.—Orison Sweet Marden in Chicago News.

Fierce Apparitions.

In the West Indies a sight of the "rolling call" presages death or terrible misfortune. The negroes are dreadfully afraid of possible encounter with it at night. It is white, of enormous size and with eyes that blaze like hot coals.

William Thorpe, a learned student of such manifestations, writes of a phantom shark that haunts the waters about Nassau, in the Bahamas, where it is known as the "harbor master." It shines with a weird phosphorescent glow even in the daytime, and though hooked on many occasions and pulled in, it invariably vanishes from view at the last moment—simply melting into nothingness.

GAIT VARIES WITH SPECIES

It May Truthfully Be Said That No Two Animals or Birds Walk Exactly Alike.

The horse strikes his gait with a cheerful, stately and strong step; the cow is uncertain in its moving, lolling and lagging in its gait. "The lowing herd winds slowly o'er the lea." The ass trudges, and keeps a dull eye on the earth as it journeys along. The sheep trots, and bleats as it passes, while the goat springs aloft almost heedless of its footing. The gait of birds on the level varies a great deal. There is a sort of majestic carriage in the rook, stepping over a crumbling furrow. The red-footed pigeon trips it daintily; the heron stands, as if to think, and moves with stateliness within its narrow bounds. The dog casts a careless foot, scattering dust or mud without thought; while the cat advances a dainty paw, as if distrustful of the ground. The hen scratches, and pauses to look round, as if bewildered; while the peacock lifts its foot with seeming pride, and as if the earth were honored by its moving upon it at all. The pig takes ground anyhow, and without heeding, turning about, careless whether right or wrong. The little mouse scurries across the common path with something of the passivity of a blown leaf; while the rat assumes the ground to be its own possession, and prowls about with confidence and unconcern. Of all animals the hare bounds upon the earth as upon its heritage, and breathes it the whole day long. As Wordsworth noted, the hare "runs races in its mirth."

LAMB THAT GREW ON TREE

According to the Talmud, Remarkable Plant Furnished Food for Our Very Remote Ancestors.

How often is the wish expressed that money grew on trees? Why not wish for lamb to grow that way, for according to the Latin translation of the Talmud of Jerusalem, that ancient book of law and customs, wonderfully tender and eatable lambs did grow on trees.

This work, remarks a writer in the New York Evening Sun, tells of a plant called the jeduah, which was formed like a lamb. From a bunch of rather coarse, thick leaves there issued steam on which the zoophyte grew, so the story goes. In every respect it was formed like an animal suspended on a stalk within the radius of which it grazed. It devoured all the herbage which it was able to reach within the circle of its tether, and then unless some overventurous animal came near enough for it to snatch the lamb would die of starvation.

Our remote ancestors hunted the lamb at great risk, for historians tell us that the lamb had not earned its reputation for gentleness then. It was extremely ferocious, especially if it had exhausted its provender. The only way to overcome it was to cut the stem by well-aimed darts or arrows sent from a safe distance. Once the stem was severed the animal fell to the earth soon to die, and the successful hunter could safely coo forth to carry his game back to his cave home.

Slaves in 1756.

Slavery existed in nearly all of the English colonies from an early period until shortly before or soon after the Revolutionary war, and the African trade was openly tolerated by the British government. In 1756 there were 292,000 slaves in the colonies, scattered from New England to Georgia. Slavery was not prohibited in Massachusetts until 1780, nor in Vermont until 1777. The United States census of 1810 showed 810 slaves in Connecticut, 10,851 in New Jersey, 15,017 in New York, 795 in Pennsylvania, and 108 in Rhode Island. Slavery was gradually abolished in the northern states, but in 1820 there were still 87 slaves in Connecticut, 7,557 in New Jersey, 10,808 in New York, 211 in Pennsylvania and 48 in Rhode Island. The census of 1850 showed the disappearance of slavery in all the northern states except in New Jersey, which still had 236.—Indianapolis News.

Immense Rubies.

An immense ruby, weighing 400 carats, is reported to have been found in Burma, but it was broken into three pieces, and the report is that one of them was sold uncut in Calcutta for $233,333. A fine ruby, known as "Grega Bok," or the Dragon Lough, weighed 45 carats in the rough, 22 carats after the cutting process, and was said to be the finest of its size ever seen. In 1887 a stone of 49 carats was found and in 1890 one of 304 carats, according to Bauer, who treats the discovery of the 400-carat stone previously mentioned as simply an unverified report.—Philadelphia Ledger.

"The Father of Jests."

"The Father of Jests" is Joseph Miller, an English comedian, who was born in 1684 and died at London in 1738. The collection of jests known as "Joe Miller's Jests" appeared originally in 1739 as "Joe Miller's Jest Book, or the Wit's Vade Mecum, etc." It was made by John Mottley and received its name unwarrantably from Joseph Miller. It was popularly said that Joe Miller never made up a joke in his life and could neither read nor write. Most stale jests are now known as a "Joe Miller" from the fact that it is supposed to have at some time emanated from this source.

ARMENIA ONCE WAS MIGHTY

Almost Crushed by the Religion of Islam, Its People "Learned How to Bend."

Armenia, now regarded as a country full of starving, oppressed people, was once a great state—one of the few ancient people never Hellenized, according to history. Emerging from tradition, a distinct Armenian people appeared 1,000 B. C., dwelling on the tablelands near Mt. Ararat. Having no boundaries, the state was seldom independent, but was subjugated in turn by Babylonians, the Medes and Persians, the Seleucidae and the Romans.

However, conquest meant little more than tribute in those days. In the early middle ages, called in the west the dark ages, Armenia attained its highest position through Christianity. In 310 A. D. Gregory the Illuminator, arose and attached himself to Tiridates, who soon became king. After much persecution, Gregory christianized the whole state. Then, in the seventh century, Armenia met its worst enemy, the religion of Islam.

In the old days the state stretched from the Caspian sea to the Mediterranean, and the other boundaries ebb and flowed according to those left by conquering hordes that swept over them, at one time reaching from Persia to Syria. Like a Jew in appearance, the Armenian was persecuted like a Jew. He has strong business instinct and talent for languages like the Jew, and has also learned how to bend, instead of break, before his persecutors.

SAVAGES USED POISON GAS

Natives of Brazil Successfully Employed That Weapon Against the Spanish Invaders.

The Guarani and other native tribes along the Rio Parana, in Brazil, used poison gas centuries ago for military purposes. How they did it was described time and again by early Spanish chroniclers, an exchange observes.

When attacking a fortified village they would prepare pans of glowing coals, which they sprinkled with a kind of pepper called "agi." This gave off suffocating fumes, which a favoring breeze would carry over the besieged town.

The fumes did not kill, but were sufficiently noxious to deprive the besieged of all power of resistance—a fact which beleaguered outpost garrisons of Spaniards discovered to their cost on more than one occasion.

In that part of the world, as elsewhere, the policy of the Spanish invaders, when dealing with the aborigines, was one of wholesale and systematic cruelty. They specialized in ruthless massacre. But they did not always win, and there survives in the Amazon basin today a tribe called the Lorenzos who are nearly white—a phenomenon alleged to result from their capture, centuries ago, of a number of white women as spoil of the successful siege of a Spanish town.

Homes of Birds Don't Change.

Styles with the creatures out of doors do not change. The nests of the birds this spring will be exactly like those they built last year. They make no advances and no improvements, declares George F. Burba in the Columbus Dispatch.

A robin wouldn't learn to build a nest like the oriole in a million years. The oriole's nest seems to be the best of all the birds' homes. It is woven and knitted and suspended from a swinging limb high up in a tree—away out where nothing can get to it. Even a squirrel would have a hard time getting to an oriole's nest and a cat couldn't do so at all. A boy can't get out to where it is, for it is always upon the end of a small branch that would break with the boy's weight. So it would seem that the other birds might take lessons from the oriole and duplicate the nest for themselves, but they do nothing of the kind.

World's Oldest Drawings.

The oldest drawings in the world are believed to have been made about 25,000 years ago by prehistoric man in the caves of the Pyrenees mountains, says Boys' Life. Some of these pictures show remarkable skill in drawing, suggesting that civilization was comparatively well advanced at this period. From the relics of this period it is believed that these men had a religion of some kind, that they buried their dead, were governed by chiefs and made instruments of flint. Examples of their painting and sculpture have been found. As man goes about the earth analyzing and dissecting every object a great amount of scientific information is being gathered which will some day enable him to solve the great mystery of his early history.

Untruss Courage.

There is a sort of courage, which, I frankly confess it, I do not possess, a boldness to which I dare not aspire, a valor which I cannot covet. I cannot lay myself down in the way of the welfare and happiness of my country. That, I cannot—I have not the courage to do. I cannot interpose the power with which I may be invested—a power conferred, not for my personal benefit, nor for my aggrandizement, but for my country's good—to check her onward march to greatness and glory. I have not courage enough, I am too cowardly for that.—Henry Clay.

FORCED TO BECOME PIRATE

Great-Grandfather of President F.H.I. more Coerced into Sailing Under the Black Flag.

John Fillmore, great-grandfather of Millard Fillmore, the thirteenth president of the United States, was a pirate, though he was a pirate in spite of himself. The story begins with the first quarter of the eighteenth century, when the freebooters, Bluebeard, Low and Phillips, swept the Atlantic coast from Jamaica to Newfoundland. Phillips captured the Dolphin of Cape Ann, a vessel commanded by Andrew Harriden.

Harriden discovered among the pirates' crew two young men, John Fillmore and Edward Cheesman, whom Phillips had captured and made pirates against their will. They had determined either to escape from the pirate's clutches or to capture his vessel and bring him and his crew to justice. They fixed an appointed hour for making the attempt at escape, after reaching an agreement with Harriden.

The signal was given when only three were on deck, one of whom was Phillips. One of the men was thrown overboard, and the other two were killed. This was done while the crew was below in the hold of the ship. The captors then sprang into the hold and placed the rest of the crew in chains, steered the vessel for Boston, and arrived there May 3, 1724. Two of the pirates were hanged, while Fillmore, the Cheesman and his confederates were acquitted.

FORESEE APPROACH OF DEATH

Writer Tells of Instances Where Animals Evidently Sensed Dissolution and Feared It.

I am perplexed at the way in which the lower animals sometimes have a premonition of death and fear it, while at other times they appear to be perfectly indifferent to death.

I have known a dog to beg not to be taken on a railway journey, when usually he used to dance about with delight when he saw these preparations being made. On the occasion on which he exhibited distress he slipped off the platform, was run over and killed.

I have known a horse who was a very free jumper refuse obstinately a small fence and, when his rider forced him over it the horse broke his back. A bullfinch—not a pet, but merely one of a careful of birds—dropped down screaming; I took him out and so long as he lay in my hand he was quite quiet, but he screamed if I attempted to put him back on some cotton wool. He lay in my hand for a quarter of an hour and died quite quietly.

I have had a horse refuse to pass under a tree under which he had passed every day for years. It was a perfectly calm day. I drove him round the tree, and as I did so a big branch fell upon exactly the spot on which we would have been if I had not let the horse go round.—From the Continental Edition of the London Mail.

Muet Earn Nature's Favors.

Nature will not reveal her beauty, her joy, her splendor, her magnificence or her sublimity to the selfish or the hurried soul. She thinks too much of her great treasures of marvelous mystery to bring them out to the penurious, greedy, hurried human being, to the casual eye, to those who are rushing along at railroad speed. No one can successfully woo and win her who is not willing to study her, take time to observe her, and listen to her voice. She tells her secrets, reveals her mysteries and beauties only to those who know how to wait, who take time to think, to ponder; to those who can appreciate and love these things well enough to spend time with her.—Orison Sweet Marden in Chicago News.

No High Cost of Clothing Here.

When a hole is worn in tapa cloth it is only necessary to moisten the edges and beat them together. Tapa cloth was once woven or pounded into shape in many parts of the South Sea Islands. It is made of the barks of the banana, breadfruit or mulberry. The rough outer bark is first scraped off and the inner fibers are beaten together and allowed to ferment. So fine is the texture of the cloth that one would never imagine it had been prepared in this crude manner. It is bleached to a dazzling white color in the sun, and when made into garments is practically indestructible.—Boys' Life.

Manhattan in the Indian Tongue.

We had a sad shock the other day when we learned from one of our learned clients that Manhattan, in the Indian tongue, is said to mean "The place where they all get drunk." According to William Loring Andrews' book, "The Bradford Map" (1893), shown by James F. Drake, the native name was coined in happy memory of the greatly regrettable revel that transpired when Peter Minuit (we think it was) put over his deal with the Indians with the aid of a flagon of schnapps. We trust Mr. Anderson will take immediate steps to have the name of the island changed.—Christopher Morley in New York Evening Post.

Sure Thing.

"I told Jiggers that if he kept on indulging in that absurd fad of his he would be stung."

"That was only to be expected with a bee in his bonnet."

COUNTRY OF MIXED RACES

Best Qualities of Three Great Peoples Declared Mingled in the Dwellers in Alsace.

As we came out of the square (at St. Amarin) little boys were bringing in armfuls of wood for their school-room stoves; others were already noisily scampering home for dinner in the crisp, sawdusty air; straight columns of smoke from many chimneys evoked women standing about noody fires; there was a homely human feeling about it all.

As I went through the school it seemed to me that the types of the children were modified in two ways. Inclining now toward the elongated head, with pointed chin, dark hair, dark eyes and mantling color; now toward the round-headed, square-jawed, blond type, with full, creamy, blue eyes. But under these modifications one felt that there was a persistent something, that was their own, neither German nor French nor anything else, for all the mingling; the Alsatian root and stem, with an inalienable, peculiar life mounting in it, its very own, its race gift.

And this essential gift, this rich, diverse inheritance, had been received from each point of the compass. From the south, through the defiles of the Alps, the Great Latin traditions had infiltrated. From the north and east had come Germanic thought, with its mystical reactions, its metaphysical inclinations, its marvelous legends, and its romantic chronicles of gods and half gods. From the west, from Gaul, came grace and courtesy and the deathless wish for liberty. Was ever a people more richly endowed?—From "Alsace in Rust and Gold," by Edith O'Shaughnessy.

WITCHES FEARED IN OHIO

Early Settlers Had Strong Belief in Their Power to Work Harm in the Community.

Belief in witchcraft was not uncommon among the early white settlers in Ohio, and domestic animals which were claimed to have been taken possession of by witches were sometimes burned alive in order to bring an end to the evil practice of witches. It was held that witches could not be exterminated in any other way.

Howe's Ohio history records a story of this kind, said to be on the records of the common pleas court of Lawrence county. The story was brought out in the trial of a claim for imposition in a horse sale in 1828. The purchaser claimed that he had been cheated, that the horse, instead of being sound, was sick when sold to him, and died soon afterward. The defendant who had sold the horse claimed that the animal was not sick, but was bewitched, and in support of his contention told of a cow in the same neighborhood that had been bewitched. The owner of the cow was convinced of the fact, and to make sure that the witch would not take possession of other animals in the neighborhood, had tied the cow to a tree and with the assistance of neighbors, burned her there alive, much to the relief of settlers in the vicinity, who seem generally to have been believers in witchcraft.

Vishnu in Mythology.

Vishnu is the second god in the Hindu triad. When he first appears in Vedic times, he is simply the god of the shining firmament, the younger brother of Indra, and inferior to him in dignity. The higher rank was accorded to him by later writers. The Brahmanic myths relating to Vishnu are characterized by the idea that whenever great physical or moral disorder affected the world, Vishnu descended in a small portion of his essence to set it right. He is generally represented as having four arms, each hand holding some particular object, and as riding on a being half man and half beast. His most enthusiastic followers are generally drawn from the middle classes of Hindu society. His mark on their foreheads is a trident, with a yellow prong in the center and a white one on each side.

Sweetie's Last Call.

I had an appointment with my best beau on a rainy evening, and as I knew that because of the weather our evening would be spent in the movies I put up my hair in curlers, thinking that my tam would be enough camouflage when sweetie arrived, and off we went. It was warm in the show and without thinking, I slipped the tam off. Can you imagine my embarrassment when the light went on and my sweetie turned to gaze on my natural curly hair and was confronted with a head full of curlers sticking up at different angles? He never came again.—Exchange.

The Art of Pleasing.

The desire of pleasing makes a man agreeable or unwelcome to those with whom he converses, according to the motive from which that inclination appears to flow. If your concern for pleasing others arises from an innate benevolence, it never fails of success; if from a vanity to excel, its disappointment is no less certain. What we call an agreeable man, is he who is endowed with that natural bent to do acceptable things from a delight he takes in them merely as such; and the affection of that character is what constitutes a foop.—Richard Steele.

Harding and Coolidge Republican Ticket

At a late hour Saturday evening the Republican National Convention at Chicago nominated Senator Warren G. Harding of Ohio for president on the tenth ballot. Governor Calvin Coolidge of Massachusetts was nominated on the first ballot for vice president.

The Republican president nominee was born on November 2, 1865, at Bloomington Grove, Morrow county, Ohio, nineteen miles east of Marion. When a boy his family moved to Calendon, nine miles nearer Marion, where young Harding taught school two years. He played a cornet in the Calendon brass band and later received a college education at a little Baptist school in Oberlin, Ohio.

Law Not His Fancy

When 19 Harding moved to Marion to study law, but law did not hold his fancy. In college he had been editor of a college newspaper and newspaper work thrilled him. It was then that he began work on the Mirror.

His political life began in 1899 when he was elected to the State Senate from the Thirteenth Ohio District. In 1908 he was elected Lieutenant Governor of Ohio and was elected to the United States Senate in 1914.

He was married in 1891 to Miss Florence Kling of Marion.

Senator Harding is a successful newspaper publisher. Since 1884 he has owned and published the Marion Star. He has been in newspaper work since he was 19. When in Marion, he spends his time in active management of the paper. He is a practical printer and delights in spending hours in the composing room handling type.

He began his newspaper work on the Marion Mirror, a Democratic newspaper, at $9 a week salary and was discharged from the staff during the Blaine campaign because his sympathies with Blaine and because he paid and because he insisted on wearing the high hats of the Blaine partisans.

Calvin Coolidge, the nominee for vice president, was born in a little farm village, Plymouth, Vt., on July 4, 1872. His father, in addition to carrying on the farm was the village store keeper. Coolidge's ancestors from the time John Coolidge settled in Watertown, Mass., in 1630, were all farmers.

Young Calvin worked on the farm and in the store and attended the village school. Then he progressed in academics in the Vermont towns of Ludlow and St. Johnsbury and his father sent him to Amherst College. At the commencement exercises he was one of the class orators.

Coolidge next studied law in the office of the Northampton to such good effect that after twenty months he was admitted to the bar. He opened in a law office in the same city and continued to practice there until his public duties occupied his time.

His first public office was as a member of the Northampton City Council in 1899. Successfully, he was City Solicitor, County Clerk, State Representative for two years, Mayor for two years, State Senator for four years, the last two serving as president of the senate, and Lieutenant Governor for three years. In 1918 he was nominated by the Republicans without opposition for Governor and was elected by a plurality of about 17,000. He was renominated in 1919 and, aided by the prestige gained through his relation to the Boston police strike was re-elected by a plurality of over 125,000 and received the largest total vote ever cast for a governor in Massachusetts.

Governor Coolidge was married in 1905 to Miss Grace A. Goodhue of Burlington, Vt. Their two children are boys.

He was awarded the honorary degree of doctor of laws by Amherst, Tufts and Williams Colleges in 1919.

PROTEST SENDING TROOPS

Austin, Texas, June 14.—The immediate withdrawal of troops from Galveston was urged upon Governor Hobby by a resolution introduced by Representatives Malone, Beason, Brady and others in the house today and referred to the committee on state affairs. A telegram from the Marshall Trades Council protesting the sending of troops to Galveston was read in the house.

A telegram was received from the directors of the Open Shop Association of Galveston in which they asserted that the protest of the city commissioners "does not voice the sentiment of the entire community," and which invited "impartial legislative investigation that troops are not here to restore order, but to prevent disorder."

The pink boll/worm bill passed the house and senate to conference committee.

The $100,000 higher educational appropriation bill passed the house.

WEEKLY SENTINEL

PRICE $1.50 PER YEAR.

BY GILES M. HALTOM

A TICKET AS WEAK AS THE PLATFORM

The republican ticket is one that fits the colorless platform of the convention adopted. Senator Harding is a mild-mannered, mediocre man of that type of diluted statesmanship and personality of which William McKinley was so conspicuous an example, and which has, with a single exception, characterized Ohio's republican leadership since the civil war.

He was not until his nomination, even a national figure, being a first-termer in the United States senate and not a leader of his party in that body. His public career has been devoid of achievement or offense, and throws no light upon republican purposes, if there are any, as might have been the case had Governor Coolidge been nominated, since Coolidge at least would have identified the Republican party with the outstanding issue of law and order, if nothing else.

Though it be true the ticket will not have to defend itself against the charge of corrupt politics as either Wood or Lowden would have been compelled to do, the republican party's long record for presidency-buying leaves no room to doubt that this year as formerly the corrupt and lavish use of money will be depended upon to win.

A year ago, probably not a hundred well-informed persons in the country would have expressed a belief that there was a chance for the democrats to win this year, but the republican congress has materially changed the situation since then, until at this time only egregiously and inexcusably blundering at San Francisco can make the prospect less than a good even chance, whereas sane action may place the Chicago ticket at a disadvantage all along the line.

Not since the nomination of Governor Hayes forty-four years ago has the Republican party chosen so weak a ticket, judged by standards of intellectual strength or demonstrated capacity for constructive statesmanship, in neither ticket nor platform is anything concrete promised to a nation that is sensing the thrill of new influences, new opportunities and new obligations in a time of tremendous events.

If the democrats can meet the challenge of the day with courage, vision and wisdom two weeks hence, they will win.—Houston Post.

HUNT-KELLY

Following announcement here several weeks ago, Mr. Lawrence Hunt and Miss La Merle Kelly, the former the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Hunt, and a prominent young business man of this city, and Miss Kelly, a Garrison lady and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Kelly, were married Wednesday morning at the home of the bride after elaborate preparations had been made for the ceremony. The ceremony was a ring one, and was performed by Rev. Mr. Easterling of Garrison.

The groom's brother, Mr. Lacey Hunt, was the best man at the wedding, and Miss Lucile Fears bridesmaid accompanying him. Mr. Clay Perkins was the groomsman and Miss Fay Y'Barbo was the maid accompanying him. The bride's brother, Alton, gave her away. The maid of honor was Miss Lucile Fears. The flower girls were little Misses Lucile Langston and Beatrice Beck. The junior bridesmaids were Aveline Kelly and Gean Langston. The two young ladies were accompanied by Garrison Walthall and Audrey Hunt, respectively. Dr. Fears, one of the wedding party, was accompanied by Lillian Vaught. The ring-bearer was young Douglass Eugene Carter. Miss Lillian Hallman sang "I Love You Truly," and Mrs. Frank Garrison played the wedding march.

The wedding was a beautiful one, and all say that the bride never looked more lovely. She was dressed in a wonderful gown of georgette, white, and carried for her flowers a bouquet of sweet peas and lilies. She wore a veil of silk net.

Immediately after the wedding, the happy couple caught the train at Appleby to avoid the shower of rice in store for the from admiring friends in Garrison, or Galveston, where they will spend a few days before their return to Nacogdoches. Mr. and Mrs. Hunt plan, it is understood, to live at the home of Mrs. W. F. Nelson of this city upon their return. The Sentinel joins with their many other friends in wishing them a long, happy and prosperous life.

BUSINESS MEN SPEAK

DISCUSS IN FRANK WAY WHAT NACOGDOCHES MAY EXPECT IN ANOTHER YEAR

Interesting Suggestions.

In these days, when all Texas is stimulated to a strange sort of prosperity which some are prone to look upon with mixed feeling of favor and misgivings, it should be interesting to look over the conditions of our own county and city in comparison with the conditions being enjoyed and experienced by other counties and cities of the state. To all appearances Nacogdoches county is certainly enjoying the highest prosperity just now. But the point is, will this prosperity be enduring? Is it like a mushroom or a brick wall? The writer has been giving this phase of our economic life considerable thought during the past few days, but being no authority on such matters himself, he decided to ascertain the opinions of some of Nacogdoches' most prominent business men. These opinions he has reproduced below. They should interest every thinking man and woman in the county and city. They concern the problems which every reader must have surely brought before him at some time or another, and if studied with the right spirit they cannot fail but do good, because they bring the masses closer together in a true and mutual understanding.

The Sentinel prints this afternoon a list of interviews from leading business men of the city. Most of them seem to think that the cotton crop of the county will decide for another year the extent of the prosperity Nacogdoches county will enjoy. However, there are others who seem to think that other things will contribute just as much to the prosperity of the county. The following is self explanatory.

Eugene H. Blount—"Our prosperity next year depends upon the cotton crop this fall. The cotton crop depends upon the boll weevil. The boll weevil depends to a great extent on the weather but to a very considerable extent also on steps taken to fight him.

"The state and federal departments of agriculture and county agents everywhere recommend poison and burning of squares and constant plowing. It is worth trying."

The next man whose opinion is reproduced below is equally certain that if we enjoy a stable prosperity another year, every effort must be made to preserve the cotton crop against disaster. This is what he says.

Henry Schmidt—"To solve our problems for the immediate present, and by all means our future, it is essential to call attention that we are in the re-construction period which is daily brought to our minds by all the daily, weekly and monthly periodicals of our country. Price reductions are in order in everything. But in our immediate and East Texas section Cotton is King, and as the world's visible supply is getting shorter, the price of the raw cotton for the approaching fall depends entirely upon production. Judging from the planted acreage and unfavorable weather conditions as well as the destructive boll weevils, only a short crop can be produced, which means higher prices for the 1920 cotton crop. Fight the boll weevils with actual and systematic and continuous work, for if we get the good fleecy staple we East Texans can and will continue to have prosperity."

Many are interested in what might possibly confront the average man and woman another year, and what one should do in order to best meet any situation. The following from one of the young lawyers of the city will interest one of that mind:

J. J. Greve—"Speaking generally on conditions, it is my sincere impression that all of the people are enjoying a great prosperity, but we should not expect this condition to be permanent. Hence, it should behoove all of us to live as economically as possible, and encourage the young man to take a greater interest in the production and farming interest of the country. All law-avoiding and conservative citizens of the county, I think, should work to accomplish this end."

Property value of the county is one of the interesting things to be considered. During the past year, never did values ascend to such height, making it seem to the average man that it would be impossible for him to own a home. But here a helpful suggestion from one of the live real estate men of the city may be of interest to many. The man is well acquainted with such problems and this is what he says covering the situation in a nut shell:

Max W. Hart—"The peak of high prices have been reached, I think. From now on there will be a tendency for everything to take a gradual deflation, with the possible exception of land; and most certainly for a period of time at least, land is not going to advance in price. But on the whole, I think that the people of Nacogdoches county are still going to be fortunate enough to enjoy an unlimited amount of prosperity. The future looks real bright."

Here is another opinion from one who thinks that we must make a cotton crop this year:

Sam Stripling—"Nacogdoches county I know, for I have been traveling recently in other places, has the best cotton prospects of any other county in Texas. But we must guard against the weevils by poison if we expect to come out on top. We must co-operate together, and if we do, there need be no fear. If we don't I hate to think about the possibilities."

A man dealing in hardware is all of the time in very close touch to the farming element of the country. This is what one of our prominent hardware men says:

R. C. Monk—"We are optimistic in our forward look. The prospects for all crops in this section are good. Rain within the next ten days will insure a corn crop. Cotton needs the hot, dry days in July and August. They are coming. If we may be permitted to say so, what Nacogdoches needs most of all is a greater diversification. Most of the towns in East Texas just now are receiving immense sums of money from the tomato crop, coming at a time when there is no other money crop. Why don't we grow this crop which brings prosperity to other sections? We can and should do so."

One of the oldest financiers in Nacogdoches county says save, if we wish to be assured of prosperity another year. This is what he says:

I. L. Sturdevant—"The general conditions can easily be adjusted if everybody will buckle down to business and cut out extravagance and waste. There never was a time in the history of our country when real economy should bring such desirable results. A man who can save money now while its purchasing power is low will realize an immense increase when conditions return to normal."

It is befitting to conclude this article with the following:

R. F. Davis, Superintendent of Nacogdoches Public Schools—"Nacogdoches county is on the threshold of one of the most brilliant educational advances ever recorded or enjoyed in any county in East Texas. Our schools are permanent, and I find that from all parts of the state interest is being manifested in the schools at Nacogdoches. We are prosperous, have a good town, and let us not forget that we must have the Stephen F. Austin Normal here."

SOUTH IS TURNING AGAINST CALOMEL

Mr. Dodson, The "Liver Tone" Man Responsible for Change for the Better.

Every druggist in town has noticed a great falling off in the sale of calomel. They all give the same reason. Dodson's Liver Tone is taking its place.

Calomel is dangerous and people know it. Dodson's Liver Tone is personally guaranteed by every druggist who sells it. A large bottle doesn't cost very much but if it fails to give easy relief in every case of liver sluggishness and constipation, just ask for your money back.

Dodson's Liver Tone is a pleasant tasting, purely vegetable remedy, harmless to both children and adults. Take a spoonful at night and wake up feeling fine; no biliousness, sick headache, acid stomach or constipated bowels. It doesn't gripe or cause inconvenience all next day like violent calomel. Take a dose of calomel today and tomorrow you will feel weak, sick and nauseated. Don't lose a day.

SPEAKING LATES

Congressman John C. Box announces the following speaking dates for Nacogdoches county:

Douglass, Tuesday, June 22, 1:30 p. m.
Cushing, Tuesday, June 22, 4:30 p. m.
Appleby, Tuesday, June 22, 8 p. m.
Garrison, Wednesday, June 23, 1:30 p. m.
Martinsville, Wednesday, June 23, 4:30 p. m.
Chireno, Wednesday, June 23, 8 p. m.
Etoile, Thursday, June 24, 1:30 p. m.
Nacogdoches, Thursday, June 24, 5 p. m.

Congressman Box has no opponent in his candidacy for re-election, but will be glad to meet the people at the above named places, and speak to them if circumstances permit.

FOREMAN SAYS IT SAVED HIS LIFE

Mahoney Never Expected to Get Out of Bed Again—Now Back at Work.

"It was talked among my friends that I was going to die and I don't believe anyone ever had a much closer call," said James Mahoney, a well-known foreman of the Richard-Naustadt Construction Co., living at 22 East 15th St., Los Angeles, Cal.

"Closely following an injury to my back, my whole system seemed to give way," he continued. "There seemed to be a lump in my stomach and I could not eat a thing without intense pain afterwards. My appetite left me completely and I got so weak that I could not even lift my feet to go up the steps. I was in misery all the time and could not straighten up for the pain in my stomach. Then I became constipated and my kidneys began troubling me so that I could not sleep sound at night. Before these troubles started I weighed a hundred and forty-five pounds but dropped off until I actually did not weigh but sixty-five, and if there was ever a living skeleton I was, I could hear my friends who came to see me say: 'Poor Jim! He can't last much longer,' and I had no hope of ever getting up. Finally I was told that nothing was left to be done except operate and I was too weak to stand that."

"A friend urged me to try Tanlac and agreed to slip me a bottle, as my wife objected to everything but prescribed medicines. Well, to make a long story short, I soon improved so much that I stopped taking anything but Tanlac and I am now back at work feeling as fine and strong and fit as I ever did in my life. I weigh one hundred and thirty pounds and haven't an ailment of any kind. My wife now thinks as I do that Tanlac is the greatest medicine in the world."

Tanlac is sold in Nacogdoches by Swift Bros. & Smith and Stripling, Haselwood & Co., and in Garrison by the Dale Drug Co.

ARE YOU PROGRESSING IN THE WORLD OR MOVING BACKWARD

Are you chained to a small job and a small salary? Are you in a rut where you are just holding your own, where you are not improving yourself and have no future? Don't think you are standing still. You can't; you are either moving forward or backward. If you are not progressing you are losing ground. You have ambition, you want a good position and prospects for success in the future. Don't allow yourself to stay on a small job with a small income without making any progress in life. Get your feet on the ladder of success. How are you going to do it?

There are several ways from here to there. You can travel the twenty-five thousand miles around the earth and arrive in the next street, or you can take a straight line across the block and reach your destination at once. The world is full of people trying to cross the block by going around the world. The ones who get somewhere are the ones who know how to select a direct route.

THE DIRECT ROUTE TO A GOOD POSITION IS THRU THE TYLER COMMERCIAL COLLEGE

If you don't believe this, go out some day and make a dozen applications for positions. Approach the employer and say, "I would like to have some kind of a position," and when you are asked what you can do, tell him you haven't any particular kind of training, but that you can do most anything. Ninety-nine times out of a hundred he will tell you he wants a Bookkeeper, stenographer, typist, somebody who can do some one thing in a superior way.

There is a short cut to business success and there is a long route, and when you are young you have the opportunity to select the one or the other. Doubtless you can get sore kind of a job in a business and work up. But don't underestimate the difficulty is the task of working up. Successful business men are too busy to teach school in their office. Select the shorter, direct route, through the T. C. C., and you will reach your destination early enough to enjoy the fruits of the journey.

You do not have to be a sage to understand that these things are true but you will be a wise young man or woman if you realize their significance, realize that they apply to you and not to someone else, and take advantage of the opportunities that the right sort of action will open up. Take a course with us and we will place you in a good paying position as soon as you finish. Fill in coupon below and mail to us for free catalogue, descriptive of our courses of Bookkeeping, Shorthand, Business Administration and Finance, Telegraphy, Cotton Classing, etc., and of the largest commercial

FEDERATION AT WORK

Montreal, June 16.—Profiteering, the League of Nations, non-partisan politics and industrial courts were given the right of way in the American Federation of Labor convention today. Emphatic action against high living cost was promised before the day ended. It was learned today that the Plumb plan for the nationalization of the railroad had been rejected by the resolutions committee. The railroad unions combined in an effort to override the committee report. The mine workers' president announced support of the Plumb plan with the largest vote in the convention, and Plumb supporters say it will carry.

The convention instructed affiliated organizations to "refrain from giving moral or financial support or assistance of any kind to any secessionist movement." Any organization violating is threatened with having its charter revoked. A resolution declared "the secessionist movement was encouraged by the Illinois Manufacturers Association and other unfriendly employers of labor for the purpose of discrediting the recognized organizations of the railroad service."

A DANGEROUS PRACTICE

Of course, he is willing to admit readily that it is none of his business, but the writer hopes that there may be some who have not thought much on the subject, and were their attention called to the matter maybe they would desist from the practice. The writer refers to the practice some have of leaping from speeding cars.

This is extremely dangerous, and if persisted in will surely cause injury in some form at some time or another. It never costs anything for the driver of a car to stop his machine for one to get out, and it may cost something for him not to do so. We have seen some very serious accidents occur from this practice, and we feel sure that a second thought on the matter will make even the most careless a bit careful about springing from moving vehicles. It is certainly a dangerous practice.

Valuable Horse Saved

Expected Horse Would Die—Now Sleek and Healthy.

In reporting this experience, Mr. J. C. Huste, of Rock Bridge, Bath, Va., stated: "My horse is the best advertisement you could want for Dr. LeGear's Stock Powders. He was in a run down fix and poor and I thought he would soon die. I got some of Dr. LeGear's Stock Powders—and today he is as fine a looking horse as you can see in this section. I used only a few boxes of Dr. LeGear's Stock Powders."

Mr. Huste benefitted by the advice of Dr. LeGear. By following the doctor's advice you can also keep your stock sleek and healthy. Get Dr. LeGear's Stock Powders from your dealer; feed it to your horses, milk cows, steers, hogs, and sheep as per directions. Satisfactory or money back.—Dr. L. D. LeGear Med. Co., St. Louis, Mo.

BOUR-DAVIS

You will like the Bour-Davis at first glance, because few cars have ever approached it in beautiful lines, finish, upholstery and equipment. The Bour-Davis is built in the South by men who were pioneers in the automobile business and who have made a most careful study of Southern road conditions and designed the Bour-Davis to meet them.

MAYER & SCHMIDT, INC.

There's a Special Ingersoll for Each of These Folks

DID YOU ever "get fitted" to a watch? We mean, did you ever figure out exactly your watch needs and then see if you were properly equipped?

There are a dozen or more different Ingersolls—varying in price, varying in purpose—small watches, jeweled watches, radium dial watches for night use, and so on. For instance, if you have an expensive watch, you probably would choose a Radiolite for $3.50. If you haven't a good serviceable watch, you'd be likely to buy a 7-jewel Reliance. The dealer will help you to select just the one for you.

"Ingersoll" has always meant the lowest-priced good timekeeper. Today, with present day costs and the 1920 purchasing value of a dollar, $2.50 is the lowest price at which we can make a watch while keeping up the Ingersoll standard of quality. "Ingersoll" means "money's worth" whether it's for the $2.50 Yankee or one of the Radiolites that tell time in the dark, or for one of the jeweled watches.

ANTI-MALARIA CAMPAIGN

Austin, Texas, June 11.—Control of malarial mosquitoes by the use of small fish which eat the larvae is proving successful in the vicinity of Jacksonville, according to E. G. Egger, assistant sanitary engineer of the United States Health Department, who reported results of the anti-malarial campaign in that vicinity. He said that reports show a reduction of approximately seventy percent in the number of malarial cases since last year.

Other measures are being employed in the campaign, he said, one of them being the purification of water supplies by the installation of a chlorination plant.

Capt. Robert Wilson, identified with the Texas Company, made a trip to Garrison Wednesday.

PECULIAR FATALITY

Temple, Texas, June 10.—A planter who lived near here met his death from a peculiar combination of circumstances. While plowing in his field his mule balked, and he prodded the mule with a hoe held blade forward. The mule kicked the hoe with both feet and drove it into the planter's stomach with such force that the handle was broken into three pieces, and the man's intestines ruptured, although his skin was not broken.

The planter, not realizing the extent of his injuries, attempted to continue his plowing, but fell before he could mount his cultivator and died at a local hospital the next day.

Miss Jessie Lee Mims of Melrose is spending the week in the city with Miss Eddie Tartt and Georgia Turner.

CALLED HER FAMILY TO HER BEDSIDE

Six Years Ago, Thinking She Might Die, Says Texas Lady, But Now She Is a Well, Strong Woman and Praises Cardui For Her Recovery.

Royse City, Tex.—Mrs. Mary Kilman, of this place, says: "After the birth of my little girl... my side commenced to hurt me. I had to go back to bed. We called the doctor. He treated me... but I got no better. I got worse and worse until the misery was unbearable... I was in bed for three months and suffered such agony that I was just drawn up in a knot... I told my husband if he would get me a bottle of Cardui I would try it... I commenced taking it, however, that evening I called my family about me... for I knew I could not last many days unless I had a change for the better. That was six years ago and I am still here and am a well, strong woman, and I owe my life to Cardui. I had only taken half the bottle when I began to feel better. The misery in my side got less... I continued right on taking the Cardui until I had taken three bottles and I did not need any more for I was well and never felt better in my life... I have never had any trouble from that day to this."

Do you suffer from headache, backache, pains in sides, or other discomforts, each month? Or do you feel weak, nervous and fagged-out? If so, give Cardui, the woman's tonic, a trial.

GRASSHOPPERS SWEEPING SOME WESTERN COUNTIES

Fort Worth, Texas, June 11.—Acre upon acres in some west Texas counties are being eaten bare by a new plague of grasshoppers that flocked down in May from the Middle West like clouds, according to reports reaching Fort Worth.

The invasion has become so serious that concerted action is being taken by agricultural agents. Fields of wheat, they said, have been devastated in many parts of the Panhandle. Cattle ranges, according to official reports to headquarters of the Texas Cattle Raisers Association at Fort Worth, have been denuded. At the offices of the Texas Farmers' Union here, it was stated that the plague may result in total destruction of may result in total destruction of plant life in some localities.

Reports indicate the most serious menace to be in Cottle, Hall and Childress counties.

Remedies are being sent by state authorities into the infected regions and are being distributed by county agents. R. E. McDonald, state entomologist, has recommended the following method of combating the grasshoppers:

"Mix twenty-five pounds of wheat bran with one pound of Paris Green or arsenic. Add three parts of sorghum molasses to three and a half gallons of water and squeeze half a dozen lemons into this. We use the poisoned bran with this solution, adding more water if necessary. Then the mixture should be scattered in the path of the grasshopper, preferably early in the morning or late in the afternoon. The effect of the poison is cumulative; since the grasshoppers feed upon the dead ones and die quickly."

WANTS AMENDMENT ON JULY PRIMARY BALLOTS

Austin, Texas, June 10.—The governor today recommended to the legislature today that the State Democratic Executive Committee be requested to place on the official ballot for the July primaries the home-ownership amendment to the Texas constitution defeated at the last general election.

The legislature is considering educational bills, one proposing a $3,000,000 appropriation for schools.

The senate is working on the pink boll worm bill.

ACCIDENTS AT CROSSINGS

Austin, Texas, June 12.—Death came to eleven persons in Texas as the result of railroad crossing accidents during March, according to statistics compiled by the Texas Railroad Commission and recently made public. Fifteen other persons were injured, and there were only two crossing accidents during the month without injuries or death resulting.

Automobiles figured in seven of the sixteen accidents for the month, wagons in two, a street car in one, and a motorcycle in one. In three other accidents persons involved were pedestrians, while one was a railroad employe.

The worst accident reported was at the crossing of the San Antonio-Sequin road and the Missouri, Kansas & Texas railroad a mile north of Comal, where seven members of a family from San Antonio were killed when a train struck the automobile in which they were riding on Sunday, March 28.

BUSINESS MEN TO DALLAS

Tyler, Texas, June 11.—If the plans of the executive board of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce are carried out, a large delegation of East Texas business men will join in a trade excursion and sociability trip to Dallas on June 22. The purpose of the trip is to promote a better understanding between the business interests of the North Texas metropolis and the great fruit and truck region, as well as call to the attention of Dallas people the wonderful resources of East Texas. Every prominent town in East Texas will be represented in the party and each town will inaugurate some special advertising feature to distinguish it from the rest. It is to be a day devoted to visiting.

OPEN SHOP ASSOCIATION

Austin, Texas, June 11.—An open shop association, one hundred strong, was organized here last night, and telegraphed the lieutenant governor and the speaker of the house approving the action of Governor Hobby in sending troops to Galveston.

Advices from Galveston indicate that the ship-loading situation is quiet.

Miss Lois Arnold left Saturday for Houston and Galveston to spend ten days visiting with relatives and friends.

TO INQUIRE INTO GALVESTON CONDITIONS

Austin, Texas, June 11.—A resolution proposing the appointment of a committee of three "to inquire into the condition of affairs in Galveston" was to be offered in the house by Representative Malone of Tarrant and Brady and Beason of Galveston, they said today. Similar resolutions have been defeated in the senate.

The federal horticultural board has renewed its threat to withdraw federal aid and to enforce a quarantine if a satisfactory boll worm bill is not passed.

WAR ON THE WEEVIL

Tyler, Texas, June 12.—The early appearance of the boll weevil in many of the cotton fields has aroused East Texas business men to the importance of saving the 1920 cotton crop. The East Texas Chamber of Commerce has urged local chambers over the district to launch a drive against the boll weevil at the earliest possible moment by offering premiums for the greatest number of punctured bolls brought to town and burned. The government method of picking up punctured squares and frequent cultivation are the methods to be employed in the fight against the weevil. In Smith county an intensive campaign is being waged, with teams of business men visiting every community in the county.

WANT TROOPS WITHDRAWN

Austin, Texas, June 12.—A resolution calling upon the governor to withdraw the troops from Galveston was introduced in the senate today by Senator McNeal. It was referred to the committee on commerce and manufactures.

ATTENDANCE AT THE TEXAS SUMMER SCHOOL

Austin, Texas, June 11.—Registration figures at the University of Texas summer school showed about 1050 students at noon Wednesday, with registration still incomplete. This is an increase of 305 over last summer's registration on the first day, and of 418 over the registration of 1918. The departments of physics, business administration and English report an unusually large registration.

SECTIONS TO COMPETE

Tyler, Texas, June 12.—A proposition to have East Texas to compete with West Texas in placing exhibits at the State Fair and Cotton Palace has been submitted to secretaries of local chambers of commerce by the East Texas chamber. It is proposed to have the agricultural exhibits from East Texas grouped in a large section of the exhibit hall with a showing of East Texas resources other than agricultural. The East Texas Chamber of Commerce is planning to exhibit a model of a "family farm" along with the varied products that may be grown in the fruit and trucking region.

INTERCOLLEGIATE DEBATES

Austin, Texas, June 12.—The University of Texas won all four intercollegiate debates held this year with the University of Oklahoma, the University of Arizona, the University of Utah and the University of Colorado, making a record of eight straight victories during the past two years.

U. OF T. MEN MAKE GOOD

Austin, Texas, June 12.—Twenty members of the Capitol Club held a reunion at the University of Texas during the thirty-seventh commencement, after a separation of about twenty years.

Secretary John A. Lomax of the ex-students' Association said that this club was formed among students with slender means who rented a house and prepared their own meals at a cost of about $10 a month to each member.

During the reunion it was brought out that one member of the old organization is now a millionaire, another is president of one of the strongest banks in the state, and practically all of them have become financially independent.

A breakfast together in B Hall, the boys' dormitory, was a feature of the reunion.

TO WITHHOLD DECISION

Austin, Texas, June 10.—The internal revenue department in a telegram today to the governor agreed to withhold the decision regarding the taxability of incomes from community property in Texas until a time pending receipt of a brief from the Texas attorney general.

BATTERY solution and passage of current always succeed in wearing out ordinary insulation long before the plates reach the end of their usefulness, but it is different with Threaded Rubber. That's the insulation which frees the car owner from re-insulation worries during the life of the battery.

Facts Worth Knowing

90 per cent of the business men reach old age without an adequate income.

19 out of 20 people fail to provide for old age or their families.

90 per cent of the children in the United States leave school and go to work before reaching the eighth grade.

80 per cent of the adult population leave no estate at death.

A man's life is only lived once.

Why squander all your income now and spend your old age in want?

You will never have a home until you start saving. Our Savings Department will pay you interest.

To Keep American Ships on the Seas

For the first time since the Civil War we have a real merchant marine. It cost us $3,000,000,000 to get it.

The farmer, manufacturer, laborer—every American is interested in holding our position on the seas.

As a first step in this direction it is necessary to modify those articles of existing commercial treaties which have operated to thwart the upbuilding of our merchant marine—

By giving the notice of termination for which the several treaties provide.

This action is directed in the constructive Shipping Bill now before Congress;

Which declares it to be the policy of the United States "to do whatever may be necessary to develop and encourage" a merchant marine.

This policy deserves the support of every American. Lacking this support the present effort to maintain our merchant marine may suffer the fate of many ineffective attempts of the past.

Send for a copy of "For an American Merchant Marine."

INTERESTING ADDRESS

To a full house Wednesday night at the Queen Theatre, Mrs. Anna Waller of Houston made a spirited and forceful address to her listeners concerning some of the conditions in the Near East. Mrs. Waller spoke fully twenty minutes, and there is no doubt that she touched the hearts of her audience.

Mrs. Waller paid our country a fitting compliment when she at the beginning of her talk said "in the world today the United States stands as the one unchallenged exponent of altruism of the spirit of the regeneration which has followed the war." She said all of the nations of the world, even our former enemies were now trusting us with a child-like faith, and that faith must not be betrayed. Then she described in striking terms the pitiful condition of the suffering and starving children of the Near East, and told in a convincing way why we should extend help to them to prevent the innocent children from perishing.

She then went into details of the plan of organization of the Near East, declaring that at present the organization had 511 people working in the field, and that up to December 31, 1919, the organization had paid out $30,666,247 for relief. She declared that she had the figures to show that during last year the organization she was representing saved the lives of 30,000 babies, and lives of adults to the total of 500,000. Mrs. Waller insisted that as many of the Armenian orphans as possible be adopted by Americans. She said that $5 will feed a child one month; $10 will feed and clothe him; and $15 will feed, clothe and educate him. Mrs. Waller was loudly cheered at the conclusion of her speech.

On being interviewed this morning, Mrs. Waller said: "The sum of $20 will rescue one of those poor girls from a life of shame and misery in the Turkish harems. Each state is asked to save a certain number of lives. Your quota means warm flesh and not cold cash! Since Nacogdoches county helped build these institutions, will it not help to maintain them until these boys and girls are started on the road to useful lives? No amount is too small to give, neither is any amount too great. And please rest assured that every cent contributed to the great cause will reach the actual sufferer. One hundred percent relief is our aim and motto. We should not shut our eyes to the fact that little, helpless children are starving within a few days' travel of us by the thousands, because we can prevent it to a great extent, for we are earning more money and spending more money for luxuries each day. Tell the people to please help those poor, starving, helpless children who are in the grasp of the most pitiful conditions imaginable."

Mrs. Waller left Wednesday afternoon for her home in Houston.

JACKSON-KELLY

Mr. Clifford Jackson of Shreveport, La., and Miss Dagma Kelly of this city, were quietly married at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Ida Kelly, at eleven o'clock Monday morning.

Mr. Jackson is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Jackson, formerly citizens of Nacogdoches, where the bride and groom were childhood friends and schoolmates. Miss Kelly was born at Douglass, in Nacogdoches county, but came to Nacogdoches in her infancy and has grown to womanhood here, where she is well known and very much admired by a wide circle of friends.

Mr. Jackson is a young business man of acknowledged ability. He is traveling salesman in Louisiana and East Texas for the Menzie Shoe Company of Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Lyles of Dallas, brother and sister of the bride, and Bob Jackson of Shreveport, brother of the groom, were out-of-town guests at the wedding.

Reverend C. D. Atwell officiated with the beautiful ceremony of the Episcopal church.

They left on the 11:59 train for New Orleans and other Louisiana points, where they will spend a few weeks visiting relatives.

BOYS DOING FINE

Willie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wade Walters of this city, writes an interesting letter to his mother, he at present being one of the boys stationed at Galveston by order of the governor to maintain order, and that all of the boys he is associated with are doing fine, and are not having much work to do. The following is part of the letter: "We are right down on the sea shore and get to see the gulf all of the time. We are having a fine time, and have not had to go to the docks yet. All we have to do is to set tents and eat; but of course that will not keep a good man at work! All of us are as happy as can be."

LETTER FROM MR. WOOD

Brownwood, Texas,
June 11, 1920.
To the Editor of the Sentinel:
I left Nacogdoches in my Dort car at 10:30 Monday morning, accompanied by John Mettaur of Rockland, Wilson McKnight driving.

We saw many dozens of men and teams working the roads, which forced us to make a number of detours and travel slowly over the new-made roads.

Came by Rusk, Tyler, Terrell, Dallas, Fort Worth, Grandberry, Stephenville and Comanche. Arrived at Brownwood at 8 p. m. Wednesday. Had some tire trouble, but aside from that we had a very pleasant trip. But I am lonesome for the Sentinel. Please send it at once, care of W. F. Wood, P. O. Box 406, Brownwood, Texas.

ANOTHER INTERESTING ONE

The Nacogdoches county courthouse has gotten to be a center of interest these days. There's something a doin' all the time down there, even to the extent of three or four or five weddings taking place in one day. Yesterday furnished an example of the fact that a man or rather a couple, can always get married—at the courthouse.

The bride and groom-to-be, two splendid looking young people, appeared at the county clerk's office and conferred with the clerk, after which conference, the clerk was handed a specified sum of money for a piece of paper saying something about "certificate." Nothing then apparently remained to be done except see Judge Huston. Strangely he was absent. A keen look of disappointment overspread the features of all interested in the affair. But this was quickly dispelled. For some reason not exactly determined, Rev Gerard of Cushing had dropped into the courthouse, maybe to see Judge Huston—that is only a guess—but as soon as the good man heard of the calamity, he offered his services. In a few minutes Mr. Ben Powers and Miss Gertrude Scoggins of the Appleby community were pronounced man and wife and were receiving congratulations from their many friends. The happy young couple will make their future home in the Appleby community.

For the benefit of those interested: Two or more can always get married at the courthouse.

Now Is The Time To Get Rid of Your Rheumatism

If you are troubled with chronic or muscular rheumatism buy a bottle of Chamberlain's Liniment and massage the affected parts twice a day with it. You are certain to be very much benefited if not actually cured. Try it. Stripling, Haselwood & Co.

John A. Mitchell, a prominent farmer of the Etoile community, was in the city the first of the week buying a supply of poison which he intends using on his cotton as a protective agent against the boll weevil this season. Mr. Mitchell is a progressive farmer, a reader of the latest discoveries and improvements on farming, and his experiment will be watched with the greatest interest by all who know him and those interested in the scheme.

Why That Headache.

When you know the cause of a disease a cure may often be effected. This is particularly true of headache. Headache often results from constipation or a disordered condition of the stomach which may be corrected by taking a dose of Chamberlain's Tablets. Try it. These tablets are easy to take and mild and gentle in action. Stripling, Haselwood & Co.

NOTICE.

There will be a moonlight picnic at Nat on the night of Friday, June 25. All the candidates will be given an opportunity to express themselves. Everybody come and help make it a success.

Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy.

Every family should keep this preparation at hand ready for instant use when needed. Severe attacks of colic and cholera morbus often prove fatal before medicine can be procured or a physician summoned. The uniform success that has attended this medicine and the prompt cures which it has effected have made it a staple article of trade. Stripling, Haselwood & Co.
