WANT LEAGUE MEDIATION

London, Sept. 7.—The Polish government has appealed to the League of Nations to mediate the Polish-Lithuanian dispute. Unless the situation improves, Poland will be compelled to declare war on Lithuania, the appeal states. It is declared that an unprovoked attack was made on the Polish troops by the Lithuanian forces. The League of Nations is considering the appeal.

OFFICER COURTMARTIALED

Galveston, Texas, Sept. 7.—The trial of Colonel Billie Mayfield of the Texas National Guard before a general courtmartial on the charge of having violated the 96th Article of War was scheduled to begin here at 2 o'clock this afternoon. The charges grew out of an order issued Colonel Mayfield on August 30 while he was provost marshal of Galveston for the arrest of a Houston editor.

ANTI-SUFFRAGISTS PLAN FOR QUICK DECISION

Washington, Sept. 6.—Four methods to be used by anti-suffragists to bring a decision of the Supreme Court before the November election were outlined today by the American Constitution League. The anti-suffragists, according to their statement, propose, first, to appeal pending litigation as to Tennessee's ratification to the Tennessee Supreme Court, which meets September 20. An attempt will be made to have the case certified from the Tennessee court to the Supreme Court.

The second method outlined is to bring injunction proceedings against election officials to keep women from voting and thereby cause suffragists themselves to expedite the case speedily to the highest court.

The third proposal is to have an attorney general of one of the twelve states, which have not ratified, refuse to allow women to vote and carry the case into the Supreme Court at once on an original jurisdiction in the name of a sovereign state.

Should these methods fail, anti-suffragists, according to the league, hope to carry to the Supreme Court the appeal from the District of Columbia Supreme Court's dismissal of the injunction to restrain Secretary of State Colby from proclaiming the ratification of the suffrage amendment.

TWO AVIATORS KILLED

Forest Hill, N. Y., Sept. 7.—Two aviators were killed Monday afternoon when a navy seaplane in which they were flying crashed into the ground a short distance from the Forest Hill tennis courts and within view of the crowd watching the finals in the national all-comers' title tournament.

SAYS STOP MURDER WILL SAVE STARVING

London, Sept. 7.—At 9 o'clock last night Lord Mayor MacSwiney was still living but his weakness was increasing and the prison doctor suggested to his relatives that he not be allowed to converse because of the waste of his strength.

London, Sept. 7.—A dispatch to the London Times from Lige, Belgium quotes David Lloyd George, the British prime minister, as saying that if guarantees are given that the murder of policemen in Ireland will cease, the premier is convinced that Lord Mayor MacSwiney and the other hunger strikers will be released from prison.

According to the Times the premier said not a single of the deluge of appeals for clemency offered the slightest assurance that such killings would be stopped. He added the unconditional release of the imprisoned men would be disastrous to the moral of the Irish police and make government in Ireland impossible.

HUNGER STRIKER STILL ALIVE

London, Sept. 8.—MacSwiney has entered upon the twenty-seventh day of his hunger strike in Brixton prison. He is reported a little brighter this morning, but weaker and more exhausted.

DEMOCRATS IN SESSION

Fort Worth, Sept. 8.—Following all-day caucuses by various delegations, Clyde A. Sweeton, of Greenville, Texas, was unanimously elected permanent chairman of the Democratic state convention Tuesday. There was some opposition to the selection of Mr. Sweeton, but when his name was reported to the convention by the committee on permanent organization he was received with acclamation.

Other officers elected were: Mrs. B. F. Armstrong, vice chairman; Mrs. J. W. Mahan, Jr., Dallas, secretary; Mrs. Julia W. Jones, Dallas; Mrs. E. P. Turner, Dallas; Mrs. John Davis, Dallas, and Miss Florence Sterling, Houston, assistant secretaries.

A telegram from democrats in South Texas, in which they endorsed the candidacy of Frank Davis, of San Antonio, as chairman of the executive committee, was read at the convention.

The convention adjourned to Wednesday morning when it was found late Tuesday afternoon the platform and resolutions committees would be delayed in their reports.

The subcommittee said that it would make a full report to the full committee Wednesday morning.

In many respects the platform will correspond with that adopted at the Democratic National Convention at San Francisco, it was said. It was thought that a strong labor plank will be one of the features in the platform.

According to unofficial reports, the land plank was inserted in the platform. It is expected a fight will be waged on the convention floor for it.

AIR RACES AT DALLAS

Dallas, Texas, Sept. 6.—A feature of Labor Day here was a 60-mile airplane race, starting at Love Field, in which five army planes, including a German Fokker used during the war, were to participate. The racers are scheduled to fly to Fort Worth, circle the tower at Taliaferro Field and return to Dallas.

PROSECUTIONS DROPPED

Fort Worth, Texas, Sept. 8.—United States Attorney Taylor announces that ice-prices investigations and prosecutions in North Texas had been abandoned upon advices from the attorney general's office at Washington that ice prices are not covered in the Lever act. All cases against dealers have been dropped.

POISONED ALCOHOL

Baltimore, Md., Sept. 8.—The list of fatalities among the civilian employees of the Edgewood arsenal resulting from drinking some form of poisoned alcohol was increased to seven today. The condition of one other known victim was said to be improved.

MISKE KNOCKED OUT BY DEMPSEY IN THIRD

Ringside, September 6.—Jack Dempsey, world's heavyweight champion, defending his title for the first time, knocked out Billy Miske of St. Paul, in the third round of a scheduled 10-round championship fight here Monday afternoon.

The finish came after they had fought 1 minute and 13 seconds of the third round, after the challenger had been floored with a right hand punch to the chin and Miske took the count of nine. As he staggered to his feet Dempsey whipped over another right hander and Miske fell in his own corner, Referee Dougherty counting him out.

The fight was witnessed by a crowd of approximately 17,000. The gate receipts were estimated at between $150,000 and $200,000.

OREGON HOLOCAUST

Kalmath Falls, Ore., Sept. 7.—Nine charred bodies had been recovered at noon Monday from the ruins of a fire which destroyed the Houston Hotel and opera house and burned two blocks of dwellings and business houses. Five bodies have been identified.

Origin of the fire, which broke out early Monday, is undetermined. Many persons were burned or injured in escaping from the burning hotel. All the dead are believed to be from Oregon points.

Mrs. Mary Campora, to whom a baby girl was born last Friday, threw the infant from a third story window into the arms of spectators, then jumped. The infant was uninjured, but Mrs. Campora was hurt seriously.

Firemen said many bodies could not be extricated for some time. Some estimates placed the number of bodies still in the ruins at over a score.

10 KILLED, 70 INJURED

Denver, Colo., Sept. 7.—Ten persons were killed and seventy injured when two interurban cars collided head-on on a curve just outside of Globeville, a suburb of Denver, yesterday afternoon.

Last night all but one of the dead had been identified.

A special car on a train carrying a load of holiday pleasure seekers to Eldorado Springs, a well known resort, collided with a regular car returning from Boulder to Denver in the Denver and Interurban railway.

According to officials in charge of the Globeville Station, the conductor of the outbound car failed to obtain orders to wait at Globeville for the incoming car. The incoming car was two minutes behind schedule time and was running at high speed to make up the time. When the cars struck they ploughed into each other for a distance of fifteen feet.

NIAGARA FALLS FATALITY

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 7.—Three persons were killed and two injured on Monday afternoon by a fall of rock in the cave of winds, under Niagara Falls. The dead are Hartman of Brooklyn, his wife, Louise Hartman, and Clara M. Faust of Pittsburgh and Frank E. Hachling of Detroit.

The party was on one of the bridges when a slide of shale rock fell on them. The bodies of the dead have not been recovered, and it may take days to dig them out of the debris. The identification was made at the office at the entrance to the cave of winds, where visitors registered.

The roar of the falls in the cave is so great that no warning of the slide of stone could be heard by any of the party.

EARTHQUAKE IN ITALY

Rome, Sept. 8.—Several hundred persons lost their lives and many more were injured in an earthquake at Fivizzano, according to a dispatch to a newspaper here.

A CHECK ON DISTILLERS

Washington, Sept. 8.—In an effort to end the illicit distilling of intoxicating liquors, the Treasury Department has decided to tighten the regulations around the sale of stills and add another check to its means of tracing down the users.

OPONENTS HAMMERING AT WOMAN SUFFRAGE

Nashville, Tenn., Sept. 2.—Opponents of suffrage ratification declared today they had assurances that Governor Roberts would act as requested by the Tennessee house of representatives, which this morning adopted a motion to furnish the governor with a sworn transcript of the action taken by the house Tuesday in non-concurring in ratification and asking the governor to certify the transcript to Secretary of State Colby at Washington.

HOLD UP CRAP GAME

Dallas, Texas, Sept. 7.—City detectives here Monday night were seeking three gamblers, well known police characters, who Sunday night held up a crap game in the Waldorf Hotel here, and escaped with about $30,000 in cash and diamonds, which they took from ten dice players who were in the game.

The police, a few minutes prior to the hold-up had raided the crap game, and seven of the players had gone to the station, entered pleas of guilty and paid $15 fines. They returned to the hotel and resumed the game. Shortly afterwards, three gamblers highwaymen entered, knocked one player who resisted unconscious with a revolver, and stripped the players. One man lost nearly $20,000 in cash, the police declared. Diamond studs were taken by the robbers, who slashed shirt fronts and neckties with knives, in their haste.

RAISE IN WAGES

Fort Worth, Texas, Sept. 6.—A new scale by which plasterers will receive $12 a day and cement finishers $11, effective December 1, has been announced here. This was a raise of $1 each.

OPINION ON SUFFRAGE

Austin, Texas, Sept. 7.—An opinion on the effect that ratification of the federal suffrage amendment will have on Texas poll tax laws is expected from the attorney general's office as soon as Acting Attorney General Keeling returns from Fort Worth.

COTTON, $1 PER ACRE

Gainesville, Texas, Sept. 7.—Heavy rains caused the northern branch of the Trinity river to overflow, and one lowland farmer sold 35 acres of growing cotton for one dollar per acre.

DIVED TO DEATH

Port Arthur, Sept. 7.—Sam Carpenter, 16 years old, was instantly killed here yesterday afternoon when he broke his neck diving from a bathing pier. Although scores of bathers were in the surf at the time, it was twenty minutes before Carpenter was missed.

ESCAPED FROM BANDITS

Mexico City, September 7.—W. A. Gardiner, the United States citizen captured by the bandit Zamora on August 20, has escaped, according to official advices. Nothing is known of Bertie Johnson, the British subject and fellow-captive of Gardiner.

TRANSCONTINENTAL AIR MAIL

Minneapolis, N. Y., Sept. 8.—The transcontinental air mail service to San Francisco was officially inaugurated today when R. C. Page, piloting an air plane specially equipped to carry 400 pounds of mail started his westward flight at 6:30. He carried letters to the mayors of six cities along the route.

GINNER'S REPORT

Washington, Sept. 8.—Cotton ginned prior to September 1 amounted to 367,241 running bales, including 21,143 round bales, the Census Bureau announced today in its first report of the season. Ginning to September 1 of last year amounted to 142,625 running bales, including 1,113 round bales and 28 bales of Sea Island cotton. Ginning by states this year to September 1 included Texas, with 344,019 bales.

FINE HIPPODROME PROGRAM WILL BE PRESENTED

High Class Outdoors Entertainment, With Free Acts, Booked for State Fair.

In the matter of free acts and outdoor amusement the management of the State Fair of Louisiana has overlooked nothing, judging by the large field of attractions that have been contracted for. An abundance of high-class vaudeville and other exhibitions are assured.

The Hippodrome performances will be staged in front of the grandstand, and while they are under way, afternoon and evening, there will be special concerts by Al Sweet's Singing Band, every member of which is a good soloist.

The Hippodrome program that has been booked is of a class that would make a big hit on any vaudeville stage. There are ten acts already contracted for, and before the Fair opens the management expects to have others engaged.

Those already booked include: Royal Takito Japs, a fascinating and entrancing marvel from the far Orient, a team of extraordinary gymnastic performers; Haas Brothers, comic bar performers and knockabout artists in wonderful gymnastics and daring feats of strength and beautiful posing; Pless Rector Trio, a high ladder novelty, introducing a series of aerial gymnastics in defiance of danger; Eight Lunatic Chicks, Oriental laugh producers in exhibition of "The Chinese Laundry" and other Oriental acrobatic tricks; Robinson's Famous Elephants, a quartet of colossal comedians with an astonishing display of pachydermic talent; Better Brothers, the Antipodes' latest offering in wonderful Oriental novelties, introducing a man who wrestles with himself; San-Yee Troupe, grotesque burlesque comedians and wonderful ground acrobats, in juggling, contortions and knife throwing; Thaler's Circus, the most singular, captivating and unique exhibition ever credited to a trained animal act, affording particular pleasure for the kids; and the Flying Wards, the greatest sextette of double and triple somersaulters ever put on the stage, fearless performers who defy the law of gravitation.

Besides the Hippodrome acts, other entertainments include Al Sweet's Singing Band, each member of this military band being a soloist of renown, whose chorus, under direction of an international director, will sing during each performance at the Hippodrome; seven days of horse racing, professional automobile contests October 31 and November 7; auto polo afternoon and evening, with games between the English and American championship teams; the carnival shows by Wortham's aggregation on the Gladway, and fireworks each evening, featuring the reproduction of "The Siege of the Dardanelles."
For further information, write to W. R. Hirsch, secretary, Shreveport, La.

POULTRY AUCTION SALE NEW FEATURE FOR FAIR

In line with its record of being the pioneer in the inauguration of new exhibition features, the Louisiana State Fair Association has decided to include in the program of the State Fair poultry department, October 28 to November 7, a series of poultry auction sales.

It has not been decided exactly how many of the sales there will be, but they will be conducted on at least two days, and possibly three or four days, according to the number of chickens and other birds listed for the sales. Owing to the increasing interest manifested in the poultry industry in this section of the country, numerous fanciers are confidently expected to be present to bid for the offerings.

Auction sales have each year been features of the cattle and swine departments, and they have proved such distinct successes, that the management feels that similar sales in the poultry department will prove popular. It is believed that this is the only State Fair on record to include such a feature in its poultry program.

The poultry department, in which the competition will be open to the world, will be in charge of Harley L. Williams, of Baton Rouge, as superintendent. Mr. Williams is the leader in poultry husbandry for the State of Louisiana. The judges in this department have been selected as follows: Poultry, C. P. Van Winkle of Dallas, Texas; pigeons, A. T. Modlin of Topeka, Kan.; and pet stock, C. S. Gibson of Detroit.

It is believed that the poultry display this year will be the largest ever seen at the State Fair, including large collections of pigeons and pet stock. General cash premiums total around $3,000, and, in addition, a large number of special prizes have been awarded by merchants and others who realize the value of poultry raising and wish to stimulate greater interest in it.

Besides the general exhibits, representing many of the leading farms of the United States, the boys' and girls' clubs of Louisiana will have many specimens on display.

For catalog and further information write to W. R. Hirsch, secretary, Shreveport, La.

Chicago, Sept. 3.—Subpoenas for a dozen or more witnesses were sent out by the senate committee investigating campaign finances while the committee is taking a recess until next Tuesday.

SLUGGER IS SATISFIED

Benton Harbor, Mich., Sept. 2.—Jack Dempsey declared that he was thoroughly satisfied with his condition and that he felt better than he did at Toledo a year ago when he reached the same stage in his training for the bout with Jess Willard.

PREPARE FOR REUNION

Houston, Texas, Sept. 3.—Preparations for the Confederate reunion in Houston October 5 to 8, are in full swing.

The collection of a $50,000 fund for the entertainment of the city's guests got under way September 1.

Decorations more elaborate than any ever put up for a Confederate reunion are planned. C. D. G. Johnson, the man who decked out Tulsa in the 1918 reunion, memorable for the beauty of the decorations, is in complete charge of the work in Houston. Sixty city blocks will blaze with fluttering color. Avenues of approach from the three railroad terminals will lead the incoming visitors into a maze of flags and bunting in the center of the city, the "Court of Honor."

Housing solicitors are working over the city, house by house, getting pledges signed to furnish rooms and board at reasonable rates to reunion visitors.

Fourteen railroads have so far granted a rate of one cent a mile to and from the reunion. Only veterans, and the sons and grandsons who belong to camps of the S. C. V., their families, and members of the Confederate Memorial Association can get the one cent rate, on presentation of certificates of identification.

Steward E. A. Pickens, who has fed the veterans at seven reunions, is already in Houston preparing for his "boys." Every veteran knows that with "Pick" on hand he will be well fed in camp.

Including 8,000 to 10,000 veterans, Houston expects 75,000 to attend the reunion.

JUNE OIL HANDLING BY TEXAS PIPELINES

Austin, Texas, Sept. 3.—During June, 1920, 7,325,780.71 barrels of oil were gathered by pipelines in Texas, according to reports made to the Texas Railroad Commission and recently compiled. Stephens county led with 1,665,485 barrels, while Wichita county was a close second with 1,599,917 barrels. Brazoria county was third with 877,306.

GUARANTEE WAS COSTLY

Washington, Sept. 2.—Federal guarantee of railroad earnings resulted in an increase of the public debt of $101,745,000 during August, according to treasury figures showing the nation's gross debt of $4,324,172,000. Figures made public show the redemption of approximately $2,500,000 of liberty bonds during the last thirty days.

GERMANY REFUSED TO COLLABORATE WITH REDS

Berlin, Sept. 2.—Dr. Walter Simons, foreign minister, addressing the reichstag foreign relations committee, declared that he had been urged to collaborate with the Russian bolsheviks against the Western powers to break the bands imposed by the treaty of Versailles, but after mature reflection had rejected that course.

Dr. Simons said proposals also were made to Germany to co-operate with the Western Powers against Russia, which he considered an equally impossible course. He said: "No power at war with Russia need count on our support."

INTELLECTUAL TOMTITS

In looking around for cause or reason why hundreds of young gentlemen in government clerkships at good salaries have stooped so low in the scale of honor, honesty and humanity as to rob the returned soldier boys of a hundred thousand dollars or more of the stipends coming them, we laid it to their bad bringing up by their parents, and the more we think it over the more that reason appear to be the real one.

Too many of us are trying to ape the rich and aristocratic and live beyond our means and this puts fool notions into the heads of our young. In this apeing business and high society the women must take their full share of the blame, and thousands of them need a good calling down, especially those in the cities.

Of all the pitiful humbugs beneath the high heaven, commend us to those intellectual doodlebugs who have become Dame Fashion's devotees and devote most of their intellectuality to the science of dress—to the art of being miserable a la mode. Thousands are today sailing around in fifty dollar fall hats who are guiltless of under-shirts, bedecked with diamonds while in debt to the butcher for the meat on their bones. Families that can scarce afford coffee flaunt Parisian finery, keep costly automobiles while there is a chronic hiatus in their cupboards, and go stunted to bed six nights a week that on the seventh they may spread a brave feast for fashionable fools. Lord have mercy on all such muttonheads. They are the natural breeders for good-for-naughts like the department clerks who have just robbed the soldiers in order to fly high and keep up a front. In such an atmosphere children must grow up mentally dwarfed and morally debased.

Fashionable mothers commit their children to the care of serving maids while they sail out to soirees and receptions—put their babies on a bottle while they swing round the social circle. No wonder their sons grow up to be spherulic and worse, as destitute of backbone as a banana, as deficient in moral force as a firkin of fish. Think of an infant Napoleon nursing a rubber nozzle, or of rearing a Brutus on a patent baby food, or bringing up a Hannibal by hand. It can't be done.

If we had a woman of that kind for a wife—a fashionable butterfly whose heart was in her finery and her feathers, who neglected her home to train with a lot of intellectual tomtits whose glory is small talk; who saved her sweetest smiles for society and her ill temper for the family altar—if we were tied to that kind of a female, do you know what we would do? Eh? You don't? Well—neither do we.

MARRIAGE AND DIVORCE

The true solution of the marriage and divorce question lies with the home more than with the legislatures. It is more a matter of education and training than of legislation. The girl whose early education has been gained on the street, whose selfishness has been gratified at the expense of her parents, and whose preparation for marriage has lacked an acquaintance with the common duties of the housekeeper is a standing candidate for the divorce court. The young man who has grown up without responsibility, who has wasted his youth and pawned his manhood to idle and dissolute habits is another. The ministers who are asking the state to prevent divorce and press marriage have their responsibility in these cases, many of whom have been of their flock and under their spiritual supervision. The parents are mostly responsible for the negligence and mistaken kindness that unfits children for the duties of life. Good fathers usually train up good husbands and good mothers usually produce good wives. The question of marriage and divorce seems to rest more upon the early training of the individual than with the law. Educate, not legislate, should be the motto of the reformer.

COWLESS MILK

Many a man who in early life was driven from the farm because he had to milk a platoon of brindle cows, or to teach their enthusiastic offspring to drink from a pail, or apply perpetual motion to an old-fashioned churn, may go back again if the scientists come up to their advance notices. The particular advance notice under consideration is cowless milk; not goat's milk, nor mare's milk, nor camel's milk, as are used by some nomadic peoples, but synthetic stuff to be manufactured in a comfortable laboratory which won't kick the bucket over, or switch one in the eye with a rapid-fire tail loaded with cockleburrs. The basic property of the handmade milk will be casein secured from the soy bean, which can be grown on waste places, and other ingredients can be added and sweetened to taste, until a milk as good as the journeyman Jerseys have to offer can be produced at small cost, and without assuming a perilous position on a three legged stool by the starboard side of an uncertain cow. This is a large promise, but nothing we can think that would add more to the joys of rural life. The only milkmaids who have any fun are those seen on the stage.

AT IT AGAIN!

The sport editor of the Lufkin News says that the way he sees it the "would be Nacogdoches ball players who wish to defeat the Lufkin team in a good game of ball better purchase themselves some cotton sacks and go to helping the farmers of the county gather their cotton; that they would get more out of such, any way; that it simply would not be worth Nacogdoches ball team's while to tackle Lufkin!" Right here the sport editor of the Sentinel is reminded of the fact that it is easy to talk at a distance. Lions sometimes suddenly change to lambs at close range. The Sentinel sport editor is also reminded of Thanksgiving. He would further inquire if the News sport editor is practicing what he preaches with reference to buying a cotton sack and going to the relief of the brother farmer? Practice what you preach, brother; and don't talk so big. Remember another Thanksgiving is coming!

Shady Grove, Saturday, September 11th, 8 p. m.

This organization is making wonderful progress all over the United States. It is being set up now in seven Texas communities, and will be set up over the entire state as fast as assistance can be secured.

A good attendance at each of the above places is earnestly required. Come out and help your fellow-farmers organize to secure stable prices for farm products.

Respectfully,

Signed:

The recent advance in passenger rates did not affect the railroads in Texas, the old rate remaining in force.

HIS WANTS EASILY SUPPLIED

Eskimos Have No Hanking After Things Which Other Peoples Look Upon as Necessaries.

Without tea, coffee, sugar or tobacco, and with but few vegetables, the Eskimo of Greenland finds life pleasant and thinks his homeland one of the most desirable in the world. The few who have visited Denmark think the Danes are to be pitied, says Roger Pocock, in the Wide World Magazine. The Eskimo's needs are few, and these his arctic home supply in abundance. In filling these the Greenland seal is the most important factor. Its internal organs are almost identical with those of a sheep, and its meat is a fat, streaky mutton. The skin makes heavy breeches for men, women and children, and with the hair removed and properly oiled, makes soft-soled, waterproof footwear. From it also is made the hunter's shirt, the summer tent, the woman's boat, the hunter's canoe and the harness for the dog team.

Winter clothes are made from the fur of the fox, dog and bear. Driftwood, always plentiful on these rocky shores, furnishes roof beams, tent poles, canoe frames, harpoons for sealing, and lance shafts for hunting walrus, bear and reindeer. Lamps are made from hollowed rocks and knives from sharp stones. Other things are considered luxuries.

HEN AND KITTEN CHUMMY

Really Remarkable Case of Friendship That Is Vouched for by Woman Writer.

The strangest friendship that the writer has ever seen was that of a young Plymouth Rockhen and a white kitten.

When the kitten was about two months old she was very fond of being around in the chicken park, or wherever the chickens were. She was the friendliest kitten alive and showed a disposition to chum with every living thing. But the chickens paid no attention to her except to get out of her way. The hen in question, however, met her advances kindly and they soon became boon companions.

Many times a day they were to be seen walking together around the place. The hen would frequently stand still while the kitten would rub back and forth against her breast. And while Biddy scratched for bugs and worms, the little white kitten was never far away. We do not know what was their means of communication, but they evidently had a satisfying one, for they never seemed to tire of each other. They associated together to the exclusion of the other fowls and cats on the place. One seldom saw Biddy with the other chickens, and little white kitten absolutely deserted her little white twin. We sometimes wondered if the kitten thought she was a chicken or the hen believed herself to be a cat. At all events, they were most congenial.

This state of affairs continued until the sale of the farm necessitated their being parted.—Mabel J. McIlwaine, in Our Dumb Animals.

GREAT MAN NEVER HESITATES

Self-Reliance One of the Most Important Possessions That Can Be Acquired.

Insist on yourself; never imitate. Your own gift you can present every moment with the cumulative force of a whole life's cultivation; but of the adopted talent of another you have only an extemporaneous half possession. That which each can do best none but his Maker can teach him. No man yet knows what it is, nor can till that person has exhibited it. Where is the master who could have taught Shakespeare? Where is the master who could have instructed Franklin or Washington or Newton or Bacon? Every great man is unique. The Scipionism of Scipio is precisely that part he could not borrow. If anyone will tell me whom the great man imitates in the original crisis when he performs a great act, I will tell him who else can teach him. Do that which is assigned thee and thou canst not hope too much nor dare too much. Dwell up there in the simple and noble regions of thy life, obey thy heart and thou shalt reproduce the Foreworld again.—Ralph Waldo Emerson.

How to Treat Stammering.

Before the kindergarten section meeting of the National Society for the Study and Correction of Speech Disorders, Dr. Walter B. Swift of Boston, read a paper on the treatment of stammering in its very early beginnings. Stammering in young children often results from nervous stress and strain, great fright, the imitation of others and sometimes from accidents. Almost all of these things can be prevented. The imitation of another case can easily be stopped by the parents. Nervous stress and strain can be eliminated by proper home hygiene, which when put into practice has been known to stop stammering in two weeks. Great strain from fright can be avoided by having the companions of the children refrain from purposely frightening them, and after any unavoidable fright it can be minimized by proper conversation and advice after that fright has occurred. Doctor Swift described one case in which a cure was effected in two weeks.

FIRST USED IN CIVIL WAR

Idea of Divisional Insignia is Credited to General Joseph Hooker—Wore Worn as Cap Ornaments.

"The divisional insignia, which was hailed as something of a novelty when it was introduced in the A. E. F., did not stand for an entirely new idea in uniform decorations for an American army," says the Home Sector, the ex-soldiers' weekly.

"Gen. Joseph Hooker—Fighting Joe"—whose record in another American war fought sixty years ago has not been entirely submerged in the vast history that grew out of that war, had conceived the same insignia idea, and the men of the regiments fighting under him in the Civil War put on a distinctive emblem and thereby established a fashion that was adopted by all the Union forces. The idea did not die with the Civil war, for in the Spanish-American war also American soldiers wore distinctive emblems to show what organization they belonged to.

"The divisional insignia as worn by the A. E. F. was new, however, in the details of its wearing, for the soldiers of the Civil war and of the Spanish-American war did not wear cloth patches on the left shoulder. The fighting men of the Civil war wore their emblems—made of metal, with cloth centers—as cap ornaments. The soldiers of the Spanish-American war displayed their own organization marks—of enameled metal with a clasp backing—pinned to their left breast just above the pocket flap."

ITS "CULTURE" A TRADITION

"Highbrow" City of Bogota, in Colombia, Does Not Really Live Up to Its Reputation.

Bogota, the capital of the Republic of Colombia, is a sort of South American Boston. Ever since the days when it was a colony of Spain it has been accounted a "highbrow" town and its name has been associated with literature, art, science and education. It is filled with sculpture, which ranges in subject from local heroes to great figures in Spanish history. There are many schools and colleges, a museum and an astronomical observatory.

Despite all this, the intellectual atmosphere of Bogota is more of a tradition than a reality. No great works of art have been produced there. The city is full of poets, but that is true of every city in Latin America, where young men and women compose and recite poetry as a social diversion. Just as they play the piano and sing songs in this country. The scientists of Bogota have made some real progress, especially in archeology and natural history.

Many of the people of Bogota are Spaniards of the purest descent. When the country was colonized by the Spaniards centuries ago the colonists retired to the high Andean region and have lived there ever since in an isolation which has kept them true to type. These Spaniards form the ruling class, the rest of the people being "mestizos" of mixed Spanish and Indian blood.

Bogota is situated at an elevation of almost 9000 feet and enjoys a splendid climate.

FIRST USED BY FRENCH KING

Expression Now So Common, "Let George Do It," Said to Have Originated With Louis XII.

"Many people go no further back than to the well-known play to account for the fascinating little ejaculation, 'Let George Do It.' Its sentiment appeals to all of us strongly, when we wish to shift a disagreeable task from our own shoulders to those of some other available person, whom we make ourselves believe is more efficient—perhaps we are lazy. Incidentally, we may succeed also in making him believe that he is the only person for the job.

It may chance that we have the legal and ethical right to request George to do it and that it is tolerably certain that George will patiently receive and discharge the responsibility; or it may be that we merely wash our hands of the matter and with a shrug of the shoulders proceed on our way, remarking, 'I can't. Let George do it.'

However that may be, remarks the Kansas City Star, the origin of the sentence is this: Louis XII of France, himself a strong ruler, was fortunate to have a prime minister who was a clever executive and possessed of good sense, George d'Amboise. To him Louis referred many of the most delicate and onerous affairs of the kingdom. Things turned out so satisfactorily under George's manipulation that Louis' slogan came to be "Que Georges le fasse" (Let George do it.)

FIGHTING RATS WITH VARNISH

New Form of Trap Used on London Docks Said to Have Had Gratifying Success.

It is computed that the London docks contain about 1,000,000 rats, which attack grain, food, and other cargoes, causing about $2,000,000 loss per annum. A society was established to exterminate this destructive enemy, but the congested state of the wharves made their schemes inoperative. Now a new benefactor has come forward with a "trap" that opens up a possibility of putting armies of rodents out of business. The process employed is simple. Traps are placed along or near rat holes. The trap is made of cardboard covered with lithographic varnish. The varnish is warmed by heating its container in boiling water till the varnish becomes sufficiently liquid, when it is spread 1-16 to 1-8 of an inch thick on pieces of strawboard or thickish cardboard, measuring about 15 in. by 12 in. A margin of about 1 in. is left clear of varnish, and bait placed in the center of the board, where it adheres to the varnish. Bags of 60 at a time have been secured. The medical officer of health for the port of London reports favorably of the antidote to the rat thief, and gives it as his opinion that once their tails stick on the board they are doomed, and that the majority die of fright. Another feature is that if two rats get on to the varnish together one of them kills the other, evidently thinking the other is holding him.

Sand Long Retained Properties.

Prof. H. L. Fairchild of the University of Rochester and Dr. H. Carrington Bolton of New York found the sands at Rockaway beach emitting a high musical note one summer day in 1884. They collected some of the sand and took it home, where Prof. Fairchild put in a large glass bottle a sample, but except for that one instance the sand has been undisturbed for more than thirty-five years.

Professor Fairchild writes now to Science, saying that on December 2, 1919, he poured the contents of the bottle into a stocking and found that when quickly compressed it still gave out its characteristic high note, audible at a considerable distance. But since he spread it out in a dry room and handled it considerably it has lost its sonorous quality.

NACOGDOCHES COUNTY FARM BUREAU

To the Farmers of Nacogdoches County:

The work of setting up the Nacogdoches County Farm Bureau is well under way. Good meetings have been held at Oak Ridge, Melrose, Chireno, Attoyac, Martinsville, Douglass, Appleby and Linn Flat. The meeting called for Swift was postponed on account of a funeral. The meeting advertised for Nat was rained out. The meetings for Shady Grove and for Needmore were not properly advertised.

When completed the County Farm Bureau will be under the direction of a full set of county officers assisted by a board of twenty-four directors, one selected from each of the twenty-four voting boxes in the county. Seven members of this board have been selected. They are: Melrose and Oak Ridge, E. W. Matthews; Chireno, T. J. Curl; Attoyac, L. T. Buckner; Martinsville, James Hanna; Appleby, John Weatherly; Douglass, J. T. Anderson; Linn Flat, J. W. Mitchell.

The remaining seventeen members of the county board will be selected as promptly as meetings can be held in the remaining seventeen voting boxes. We plan to hold these meetings as rapidly as possible with the help at our command.

When the county has been covered with community meetings, a meeting of all members of the organization will be called at Nacogdoches. This meeting will elect a president, vice president, secretary and treasurer. Also the board of directors will elect from their members the executive committee of seven. This executive committee of seven sitting with the officers of the county organization will have direct charge of the county bureau.

Every farmer in Nacogdoches county will be given an opportunity to join the county farm bureau. Solicitors will canvass the entire county for this purpose. The following have volunteered to give one day to the membership drive:

Oak Ridge—J. C. Welch, J. N. Grimes, J. H. Scott, J. L. Maroney, C. W. Gaston.

Melrose—C. H. Barrett, E. N. Seale, J. D. Matthews, C. B. Patton, J. R. Morton, E. W. Matthews, E. L. Matthews.

Chireno—H. W. Birdwell, W. H. Gray, Cecil Gray, T. B. Force, W. E. Menefer, W. R. Wilson, J. W. Wilkerson, Tom Curl.

Attoyac—M. L. Williamson, L. T. Buckner, J. H. Gibson, J. C. King, N. G. Hargis, V. B. Mays, G. W. Peoples, J. A. Hargis.

Martinsville—Jim Hanna, W. L. Harrell, J. A. Ennis, Ansel Fuller.

Douglass—B. K. King, Abe Furlough, J. T. Anderson.

We invite your careful consideration of the claims of this organization. Its objects and purposes are to better the condition of those who produce the food and clothing for the country. To do this, the producer must be paid a profit above the cost of production. This cannot be done unless and until the market for farm produce has been at least partly stabilized. And this cannot be done without collective bargaining. "Collective Bargaining" is impossible without organization. We are therefore driven, as it were, to some feasible plan of farm organization. The farm bureau meets our requirements. It is not a secret society; it is a business organization. Its first business is to secure a fair price for farm produce. After that, it aims to secure a favorable hearing for those who live in the open country. We have reached the time when the public good demands this hearing.

Fort Worth, Texas, Sept. 6.—The executive committee of the Texas Democrats began its pre-convention session here today, presided over by Chairman M. H. Wolfe of Dallas. It took up first the canvass of the recent run-off primary.

ANIMAL LIFE AND CLIMATE

Abundant Proof That Extremes of Temperature Do Not Preclude Possibility of Existence.

The contention of Dr. Abbott of the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory that because of the cold climate of Mars life could not exist upon that planet is not convincing.

Polar bears rejoice in temperatures so low that little vegetation at any time of the year exists in the latitudes in which they are found. The existence of tigers in Korea, which has a New England climate, supposedly changed by sea currents when the country's fauna was tropical, shows how animals common to the hottest parts of the earth adapt themselves to climate as cold by comparison with the tropics as the climate of Mars is by comparison with the regions in which the Eskimos live.

If life as we know it, human, animal or vegetable, could not withstand the climate of Mars, might not life adapted to the climate flourish? The fabulous salamander lived in fire. An Eskimo, newly arrived in Moscow or Bagdad, could believe that since men could live in such places reptiles easily might bask upon live coals and frolic in flames. Why might not life, adapted thereto, exist in a temperature of 300 degrees above, or below, zero if a man from the polar regions can become acclimated in the tropics, or vice versa?—Louisville Courier-Journal.

NO "ROUGHING IT" FOR JAPS

Oriental on Pacific Coast Not to Be Lured From the Conveniences of City Life.

J. F. Brown, sage and philosopher of Noite's board of strategy table, has some sad experiences with Japanese laborers, particularly when wanted for his ranch on Molokai. He says he has made the rounds of Japanese auto stands where orientals in spick and span clothes wait and loaf all day long for a passenger, content to do that rather than take a real honest-to-goodness job. He makes his offer of wages, good wages, with house and fuel and water and so on.

Sucking his breath through his teeth, and after some reflection, the Japanese inquires:

"You got barber shop there?" Brown was taken off his feet when this question was first propounded. No, he didn't know of a barber shop around. His ranch is well up in the mountains, one of the most beautiful places in the islands.

"You got store?" Brown confesses to a store three miles away. More reflection. "You got picture house?" Brown blinks at this question even now.

Finally, the Japanese says one thing more. "No can go. Me got brother very seek. Too bad. I sorry."—Pacific Commercial Advertiser.

WILL SIFT ANCIENT MOUNDS

Archaeologists Plan Most Thorough Examination of Structures at Camp Sherman, in Ohio.

Excavations of seven prehistoric mounds at Camp Sherman will be started by Dr. William C. Mills, curator of the Ohio State Archeological and Historical Society. The farm on which the mounds are situated was one of those condemned and purchased by the government for Camp Sherman. The only examination ever made of the mounds was by Squier and Davis in 1846. Relics they uncovered were purchased by the Blackmore museum, Salisbury, England, for $10,000.

Squier and Davis were responsible for the conclusion that the mounds were built by a distinct race, known as "Mound Builders." This theory is vigorously contested by Doctor Mills and other noted archeologists. They say there is conclusive evidence that the mounds were built by American Indians of the Algonquin family, Squier and Davis, in their examination of the mounds, merely tunneled several of the mounds. Doctor Mills will completely tear them down sifting a great part of the dirt through screens. There are 23 mounds in the group. Some already have been excavated by Doctor Mills. One was found to contain 133 skeletons and 12,000 specimens of flint, copper and pottery implements and vessels.

"Little Zion" Becomes Park.

Three hundred miles south of Salt Lake City and reached by automobile from Lund, Utah, is Little Zion canyon, the newest of American national playgrounds.

The canyon derives its name from Salt Lake City, which about 50 years ago was known as Zion. Brigham Young and other Mormons visited the district and the inhabitants decided that they would call the canyon "Little Zion," evidently considering Salt Lake City a big place.

Within the last few years, Little Zion canyon has been visited by a large number of tourists and some of them have termed it "The Rainbow of the Desert."

There are deep canyons with cliffs of blood red and cliffs of cream white rising to a height of 2,500 feet. Huge natural bridges and level-topped plateaus, with precipitous cliffs and picturesque amphitheatres, provide a picture that strikes one with awe.—Christian Science Monitor.

LEARN MUCH IN QUIET HOUR

Cultivation of Habit and Attitude of Listening is Matter of First Importance.

Cultivate the habit of listening, as you would the lungs, muscles or memory. See to it that you listen with every sense alert to all that is going on in this vast panorama about us. Cultivate, too, the habit of listening when you are alone. If it is in the aisles of a vast forest, listen to the myriad voices all around you, the song of the streams, the murmur of the pines, the swish of leaves and epic of oak and elm. If it is alone in your room, take a few moments for quiet meditation, and listen to the still "small voice," God's messenger, speaking to you of the inner thoughts and life which only he and you can understand. It is only by thus "lowly listening" that we can hear the right word for our guidance.

There is always time to listen, for by listening I mean an attitude of mind and heart rather than a particular time or place in which to exercise the art. The time and place for its cultivation is here, there, now and always, wherever we are, whatever we may be doing. It is surprising how much more the listeners of the world accomplish than they who are blind, deaf and unresponsive to the great possibilities in this life that is ours.—Elsye Tash Sater in Christian Herald.

EARLIEST OF ENGLISH COINS

Golden Solidus, Still in Existence, is Believed to Belong to Year 421 A. D.

The golden solidus of Sean Omodhu is the earliest English coin in existence, estimated to belong to the year 421 A. D. by Alfred Anson, F. R. H. S., at a meeting of the British Numismatic Society. He expressed the opinion that the coin had been struck to commemorate the victory that the Alemannic Prince Sean, duke of Car Benet, or Winchester, won over the Saxon invaders of Britain in the sixteenth year after that in which the comet of A. D. 443 was seen—namely, in A. D. 459. Sean was the official chief of ten provincial kings in southern Britain. In the "Merlin" he was called "Duke Escann." In the "Morte d'Arthur" he was called "Duke Eustance." Wolfram von Eschenbach, circa 1210, said he was slain by Orilus, lord of Cumberland.

The folk name Omodh, genitive plural Omodhu, Mr. Anson identified with the Amothingas of "Widsith." Their homeland lay near Shrewsbury, and to this day that town is known by the Welsh as "Caer Amwythig."

TO REVIVE HOME INDUSTRY

Good Work Done by Knitters During the War Has Given Impetus to New Movement.

What was accomplished by the vast volunteer army of knitters during the war is one of the creditable facts in the history of the world upheaval through which civilization has been passing, says the St. Louis Globe Democrat. But for the millions of devoted women who kept the needles flying the horrors of the trenches would have been still more frightful and deadly. The achievements of the knitters have suggested the organization in New York of a society for the revival of home industry and domestic art. Its first move is to gather all the spinning wheels within reach and look up practical instructors in the use of a household implement that had become but an antique piece of furniture. Mankind needs weavers as well as plowmen, and spinning at home is one of the oldest forms of industry. In the cabins of American pioneers the spinning wheel was a necessity, and kept busy in what, by a stretch of imagination, were called spare hours. Those were the days of homespun textiles because often no others were to be seen.

When Mankind Was Young.

Not being as well informed as Dr. W. D. Matthews, curator of the American Museum of Natural History, is about the matter, you have to take his word for it. "It" happens to be the "Tetodon," or "Terrible Tooth," a prehistoric animal that must have resembled some equally prehistoric detritum tremens animal.

What really interests us is the following statement from Doctor Matthews: "At that time our ancestors were little, opossumlike, furry creatures, living in trees and quite too small and inconspicuous to be troubled by the huge reptiles who in those days held the earth in fee."

The opossum, like a lot of men, is fond of snoozing.

Squirrels Big as Cats.

There is no country that can rival North America for the great number of squirrels, both species and subspecies, represented in her fauna. In so far as brilliancy of color and size are concerned, however, says the American Forestry Magazine of Washington, the handsomest and largest squirrels in the world are found in the Orient and the East Indies. Along the coast of Malabar is found a squirrel as big as an ordinary cat; this animal is bright red on the upper part of its body, offset by the most intense black, while all the lower parts are of a clear yellow.

DIFFUSING LIGHT IN ASIA

Christian Missionaries Firmly Behind Independence Move, Though Not Directly Responsible for It.

No picture of the independence movement or of Korean life in any aspect is adequate that does not include the church as one of its high lights, observes Nathaniel Peffer in Scribner's. Now, even the Japanese have withdrawn the charge that the movement is exclusively Christian and that it was instigated by American missionaries for American political purposes. But it is true that the Korean Christians are a unit in its support, that the majority of its leaders are Christian, and that the originating impulse is largely Christian.

And that is only natural: First, because the Christians are the most influential class in Korea, and, second, because conversion to the church necessarily means contact with Western ideas and Western thought. And those necessarily means the development of a spirit that cannot and will not endure subjection to the iron military rule of an alien conqueror.

In that sense Christianity is responsible for the unrest in Korea and in that sense the Christian church is the enemy the Japanese have to fight. And that will be increasingly true as time goes on, for Christianity is making rapid strides in Korea, the more rapid for the part the Christians have played in the rebellion.

FALL IN EUROPE'S POPULATION

Estimated Loss Through Years of War Will Reach Total of Thirty-Five Million People.

According to a report made by the Society for the Study of the Social Consequences of the War, which has its headquarters at Copenhagen, between the outbreak of that conflict and the middle of 1919 Europe lost about 35,000,000 people. Of this deficit in what would have been the normal population of the continent at the latter date 20,000,000 are accounted for by the decline in the birth rate and 15,000,000 by increased mortality including nearly 10,000,000 killed in battle.

The surplus of the female sex in Europe has nearly tripled, rising from slightly more than 5,000,000 to 15,000,000. Russia and Poland suffered total losses of 13,000,000; Germany and Austria together slightly less than that number; France comes next with an estimated loss of 3,340,000; Italy follows with 2,280,000; Great Britain and Ireland lost about 1,185,000, and little Serbia, including war casualties, approaching those of the United Kingdom, lost 1,650,000.—Living Age.

Her Collection of Bargains.

There had been a war wedding and now Mr. Juggins was busy earning something to foot the bills with. So he handed all his savings over to his wife with the remark:

"Look here, Hilda, my dear, you go shopping and get a home together. New stuff is very dear, but you'll manage all right if you go to sales and things. You're a good bargain hunter."

She was. But he had forgotten that to the real mistress of bargains loveliness of price appeals rather than utility. Otherwise he wouldn't have been so surprised at the results.

In the kitchen they have a filing cabinet, three chairs, more or less whole, and an old desk. The dining room isn't had, only the chairs don't match, and the dining table is one leg short. In the bedroom there are beds, of course, and in addition a collapsible boat, a patent plow, several assorted German helmets and other souvenirs, two stepladders, a zinc bath and only one hole in it, and a folding settee which won't unfold.

Chinese Silk in America.

The American demand for silk in China has greatly increased in the last few years until at the present time about 25 per cent of the Chinese silk is sent to the United States. This is the result of American enterprise more than that of the Chinese. The Japanese silks had been in favor for a long time with the manufacturers of this country but it was well understood that the quality of the Chinese was superior, but it was not adapted for use in this country because of the manner in which it was woven. An American manufacturer secured a moving picture reel showing the Japanese methods of manufacture, and as a result the Chinese were induced to change theirs to a system to conform with the demands of the occidental customers, and the industry has accordingly taken a great jump.

Built to Withstand Arctic Rigor.

In a New England shipyard work has been begun on the Bowdoin, an auxiliary schooner which in 1921 is to carry a small expedition to the frozen North, says Popular Mechanics Magazine. The party, numbering only six, will be led by Donald B. McMillan, remembered as Peary's lieutenant on the expedition that reached the North pole, and will have as its object the charting of the 1,000 miles of unexplored coast line along the western shore of Baffin land. The little Bowdoin is to be a modification of the Gloucester fishing type, and will be only 87 feet long. Obviously it will be small for such perilous work. It is being built and equipped, however, with unusual care. The oak planking will be sheathed with ironwood to resist the abrasion of the ice, and will be lined with thick insulating material.

ACCEPTANCES URGED TO AID COTTON LOANS

Would Make Country's Credit Resources Available to Growers and Lighten Burden on Southern Banks.

UNIFORM WAREHOUSING LAWS ARE NECESSARY

National Bank of Commerce in New York Says Discount Market Requires Standard Receipt Which Will Protect Loans.

The use of bank acceptances for financing cotton growers is advocated by the National Bank of Commerce in New York as a remedy for the hand-to-mouth crop-lien system now in general use. In its magazine, Commerce Monthly, the bank points out that cotton marketing requirements heretofore have not shared in the country's credit resources because the obligations of the generality of borrowers in this field have not been suitable for negotiation in the open market. The burden of financing has been concentrated on a limited number of Southern banks. Such a system has been responsible in a large degree for compelling the dumping of cotton on the market almost as rapidly as it could be picked and ginned.

The bank points out that a means of securing a broader distribution of the burden has been provided by the Federal reserve system, which enables member banks both to rediscount loans and to execute acceptances, which are particularly suitable for general negotiation. The success of this remedy, however, depends largely on the ability of borrowers to provide certain simple requirements of the discount market. One of the chief requirements, the bank declares, is a uniform standard of quality of warehouse receipts, which will enable banks throughout the country safely to undertake the execution of acceptances on cotton in storage.

Requisite Conditions. "There has been a diversity and often a laxity in business practices, as well as an absence of uniformity in the obligations and responsibilities assumed by warehousemen, under varying state warehousing laws, which has caused banking institutions not directly acquainted with the individual warehousing concerns to hesitate to extend credit on the strength of their receipts," the bank declares. "On receiving a request for a loan against cotton the banker's first concern is that there actually is cotton behind the warehouse receipt. One of the most serious difficulties which banks, particularly those which are not in close local touch with the situation, have found in the way of loaning more freely against cotton receipts is that they have never been able to ascertain exactly what title to the cotton they had. In general it is true that the holder of a receipt is subject to prior liens, and uncertainty as to their nature and extent increases the banker's hesitancy in accepting receipts as collateral, even though in practice the actual losses from defective title by reason of such liens have been comparatively small. The cotton, furthermore, should be in the hands of a reliable warehouseman, who should be independent of the borrower, so that the latter cannot, while the receipt is outstanding in the hands of a third party, obtain control over the cotton covered by it.

Uniform Warehouse Laws Needed.

"A reasonable method of improving this situation would seem to be the application of fairly uniform laws concerning cotton warehousing wherever cotton is stored. Two laws have already been formulated which, were their provisions uniformly and jointly applicable to cotton warehouses, would go far toward establishing warehouse receipts on the high level of the bill of lading. These are the Uniform Warehouse Receipts Law and the Federal Warehouse Act adopted in 1916. The latter provides for Federal supervision and examination of licensed warehouses which take advantage of its provisions. The Uniform Warehouse Receipts Act, on the other hand, is concerned with putting the receipt itself into proper form, making standard the terms which it incorporates and the obligations assumed by the warehouseman, and making standard also the conditions attending its transfer or negotiation.

"As regards the Uniform Warehouse Receipts Act, there would seem to be no valid reason why its provisions should not be incorporated in their entirety in the statutes of every state. The Federal Warehouse Act is not compulsory, and warehouses have been, and probably will continue to be, slow to avail themselves of its provisions because of the public supervision for which it provides. A remedy might be found either in the establishment of a similar system of public supervision by the respective states, or in a provision in state laws that all public warehouses be required to obtain federal licenses, the latter method being decidedly preferable because of the greater uniformity it would insure."

SHIPPING INCREASES

Galveston, Texas, Sept. 6.—Nearly twice as many vessels cleared this port during July as in the corresponding month of 1919, according to a customs house report. The figures were 106 compared with 58 in July, 1919.

ASK WILSON'S HELP

London, Sept. 4.—Mrs. Terrence MacSwiney has sent a cablegram to President Wilson in behalf of her husband, the lord mayor of Cork, who is in serious shape as the result of the hunger strike in Brixton prison since August 12. She asks the president to use his influence with the English government to prevent the "perpetration of an outrage on civilization."

JAILBREAKER CAPTURED

Fort Worth, Texas, Sept. 2.—Monroe Bass, negro, one of the eight prisoners in the jail delivery at Eastland Tuesday night, was recaptured here when he jumped from a freight train.

PROPOSE AN ARMISTICE

Constantinople, Sept. 2.—The Turkish nationalists have proposed an armistice with the Armenians until President Wilson shall have defined the Armenian boundaries, it was announced here. The Supreme Council of the Allies, on recognizing the independence of the new state, left to President Wilson the settlement of the boundaries of Armenia.

GOT COLD SHOULDER

London, Sept. 2.—A dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph from Rome says Gabrielle d'Annunzio has decided to abandon Fiume because of his disappointment at the "cold reception" the inhabitants of Fiume gave his proclamation of a constitution for the new state comprising the city of Fiume.

ARMY ANNIHILATED

Warsaw, Sept. 2.—General Budney's bolshevik army was annihilated during the operations in the Lemberg sector, which began August 29 and ended September 1, says a Polish official statement.

DAMAGE TO CATTLE RANGES

Fort Worth, Texas, Sept. 8.—Rain is beginning to damage the cattle ranges, according to the weekly reports of inspectors to the Cattle Raisers' Association.

COX-ROOSEVELT FUND

Fort Worth, Texas, Sept. 8.—A committee of democrats, presided over by J. A. Kemp of Wichita Falls, conferred here relative to raising a $20,000 Cox-Roosevelt fund in Texas. District and county chairmen will be named.

Was Very Weak

"After the birth of my baby I had a back-set," writes Mrs. Mattie Crosswhite, of Glade Spring, Va. "I was very ill; thought I was going to die. I was so weak I couldn't raise my head to get a drink of water. I took . . . medicine, yet I didn't get any better. I was constipated and very weak, getting worse and worse. I sent for Cardui."

TAKE

The Woman's Tonic

"I found after one bottle of Cardui I was improving," adds Mrs. Crosswhite. "Six bottles of Cardui and . . . I was cured, yes, I can say they were a God-send to me. I believe I would have died, had it not been for Cardui." Cardui has been found beneficial in many thousands of other cases of womanly troubles. If you feel the need of a good, strengthening tonic, why not try Cardui? It may be just what you need.

URGES GENTLER POLICY

London, Sept. 2.—The Marquis of Aberdeen and Tenuir, former viceroy of Ireland, has strongly advocated a reversal of the government's policy of coercion in Ireland and the release of Lord Mayor MacSwiney.

Plea From America.

Chicago, Sept. 2.—Parley Christensen, the Farmer-Labor party candidate for president, sent a cable to Lloyd George requesting him to order the release of Lord Mayor MacSwiney of Cork.

SUBMARINE CREW SAFE

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 3.—The submarine S-5, which was partially flooded while making a dive 55 miles southeast of Cape Henlopen, is being towed into the Delaware Breakwater by the steamer Elanthus. The crew and officers are safe aboard the steamer. The captain was the last man taken out. A radio message said the crew was in bad shape, but all are recovering. No one was injured.

"SWAMP CHILL TONIC DOES THE WORK!"

Arkansas Merchant Highly Praises Famous Old Remedy

J. W. Mustain, Dealer in General Merchandise, Old Grand Glaze, Ark., sells a lot of Swamp Chill and Fever Tonic. The reason he sells a lot is expressed in a letter he recently wrote us, which says: "Swamp Chill Tonic sure does the work. I certainly want to thank you for your fair dealings."

John C. Rogers, Center, Tex., says: "I have sold your Swamp Chill Tonic for years and it is my favorite tonic. I always recommend it, because of its fine laxative properties."

Dealer C. E. Miller, Bernice, La., says: "I handle all the standard chill tonics on the market, but sell ten bottles of Swamp Chill Tonic to one of any other kind. After a customer has used it once he or she will use no other kind."

Thousands of other dealers in many different towns and cities strongly recommend Swamp Chill Tonic to their customers as the very best malarial remedy on the market. 60 cents a bottle—get one today.

PLAN TO INCREASE LIVESTOCK PRODUCTION

Chicago, Sept. 3.—Representatives of Chicago packers today sent letters to stock raisers, railroad officials and bankers of the Middle West, asking them to attend a conference here September 19 to discuss plans for financing and increasing the production of livestock. The letter urges that confidence and normal food production be restored and the abnormal shipments of young and breeding livestock be stopped. It says the summer of 1920 produced one of the greatest crops of hay, corn, pasture and other feeds known in history, but the farmers and feeders are having difficulty in securing funds for their usual operations.

END NOT FAR AWAY

London, Sept. 3.—Terrence MacSwiney, lord mayor of Cork, one of the hunger strikers in Brixton prison since August 12, was reported this morning as showing signs of sinking rapidly and was very much weaker. Members of his family visited the lord mayor at his request. They expressed the fear that the end is not far away.

JUMPED TO HIS DEATH

Denison, Texas, Sept. 4.—E. G. Evans, a Katy passenger engineer, was instantly killed when he leaped from his engine near Durant while going at a high rate of speed. A defective block signal falsely indicated a blocked track and the engineer anticipated a wreck. The fireman remained on the engine and brought the train to Denison.

DROP POLITICAL FEELINGS

"Since we have had our little flings at each other in a political way, we should now forget them, get together, and bring about some concerted action and try to get the Stephen F. Austin Normal here by all means. Nacogdoches is building and if we don't fully awaken to the civic development of the city, we are not going to maintain the reputation we have now." These were the words of a prominent Nacogdoches citizen Monday while conversing with some of his friends on the political situation, and Nacogdoches in general. The man struck a keynote. Nacogdoches does need to forget politics now and pull for the normal. Let the cornerstone for the great institution be laid in 1921. "Throw away your hammer and get a horn."

POPULATION OF NACOGDOCHES

All day Monday the census enumerators under the management of Mr. I. D. Parmley were busy retaking the census of Nacogdoches. After the work was ended and the figures totaled, it was found that the population of Nacogdoches was 4,006, a gain of something more than 500 people over the first government census.—Nacogdoches Sentinel.

The last count was quite an improvement over the first one, and our sister city is to be congratulated upon its splendid showing. If 500 people were overlooked in the first tabulation, which no doubt they were, how many, pray tell, were overlooked in the city of Lufkin? Still, there will be no effort made to reopen the matter, as Lufkin's population stands officially at 4,878, leading all other towns in this section of the country in point of inhabitants.—Lufkin News.

The Nacogdoches-Alto road, about which so much has been said, is now beginning to display its real worth. The road is as good as any to be found in East Texas, and affords a great drive for the motorists. A large number of people who once used the Garrison road for their Sunday afternoon drives are now using the Nacogdoches-Alto road. The road most of the way is as smooth as a floor.

NACOGDOCHES TRADITIONS

A letter from D. K. Cason, dated August 6, at Santa Fe, N. M., says "Keep up the Nacogdoches Traditions. Everybody likes them." Other such letters and expressions have encouraged it, and are very gratifying.

Mr. Cason writes that he is spending the summer there, that he feels well and the climate is ideal. Santa Fe is the oldest city in the United States, except St. Augustine, Fla. It was first visited by white people about 1540, and there were prehistoric residents there then and long before. It is the capital of New Mexico since 1580 and is quaint and queer, 7,000 feet above sea level, 7,000 population, and over half of them are Mexicans.

When the Confederate war began, 1861, a military company of cavalry, and a battery of artillery from Nacogdoches joined Sibley's brigade and marched all the way to Santa Fe and other points in that far-away land. They went via San Antonio and El Paso, and on over a rough and rugged route. At Val Verde they won a battle and at Gloria they held their ground in a hot contest against superior numbers under General Canby. Mr. Henry W. Raguet was killed in this encounter, and there were many other casualties. He was originally captain of the Nacogdoches company designated as Company 4, 4th Tex. Cav. (Reilly's Regiment), and Raguet was promoted to Major.

When the war was over Dick Orton and Tom Hill were sent back after Raguet's remains, which are buried in the cemetery at Nacogdoches. Probably the only men living now who went to Santa Fe in Sibley's brigade are Nat Whitaker, John White, Marion Rainbolt and John Norvell. Nat says that while the men were fighting at the front, the enemy scouts slipped in their rear and burned their baggage wagons, and that he lost all his clothing and suffered intensely from the cold. Captain A. A. Nelson was wounded at the battle of Gloria, and left behind in Santa Fe. The Confederates entered on March 2, 1862, and evacuated in April. They were ordered back to Texas. Company H became a part of General Tom Green's cavalry. They were in Hardeman's brigade when the war ended in 1865. They were disbanded in April, 1865 on the west side of the Brazos, not far from where the town of Bryan now is. They did a big lot of fighting and scouting in Louisiana and Arkansas.

The Santa Fe expedition was a great event to Nacogdoches. Major Henry W. Raguet was a very popular hero. Tom Ochiltree went part of this way and was in the Val Vedres battle.

A few years ago Marion Burrows went from a Nacogdoches drug store to Santa Fe and managed a big drug store there. He afterwards bought it and probably runs it now. Santa Fe, N. M., is quite an interesting memory for Nacogdoches people.

The famous Indian fighter, Kit Carson, was an officer in the Federal army under General Canby, opposing Sibley's Confederate Brigade.

WHOLESALE HANGINGS

Chicago, Sept. 3.—All records for legal executions in Cook county and possibly in the state of Illinois, will be broken here October 14 and 15, county officials believe, when 22 men are sentenced to be hanged for murder.

Eight of the men are under sentence to die October 14 and four on the following day. In addition two other slayers have been convicted and are awaiting sentence and it is possible that they also may hang on one or the other of the two days.

Chicago has had several wholesale executions in the past—the most notable on November 11, 1837, when four of the Haymarket anarchists were hanged—but nothing in the memory of jail officials approaches a death list of 12 in two days.

Hangings in the Cook county jail take place in the corridor of one of the main cell blocks. There is just room for a double gallows, so it is probable, according to George E. Lee, the jailer, that the men will be executed in pairs. The hangings will cost the state approximately $3,000, including a $100 fee for the sheriff for each man hung.

Those to be hanged October 14 are Sam Cardinella, leader of a black-hand gang whose members confessed several murders, Nick Yini, Thomas Errico, Frank Champagne, Sam Lopez, Joe Castanzo, Sam Ferrara and Henry Reese, the latter a negro.

The October 15 list includes Arthur Heensel, Richard Wilson, Harry Andre and Frank Zeger, Heensel, who killed his wife, was to have been executed last spring, but was granted a reprieve five minutes before he was to have marched to the gallows. Andre was convicted of killing a watchman while robbing a factory safe. Wilson was found guilty in the same case, although he was on another floor of the building when Andre, his partner, killed the man. The jury decided that he was an accomplice and was equally guilty.

GREAT ROAD WORK

Austin, Texas, Sept. 3.—Progress of construction of Highway No. 1, known as the Bankhead Highway, the longest state highway in the United States, in its stretch of 1,080 miles from Texarkana to El Paso, was outlined by R. M. Hubbard, chairman of the State Highway Commission, in a speech before the military convoy which is touring the Bankhead Highway proper.

"We have completed 115 miles of the Bankhead in Texas," he said. "We have under construction 193 miles; construction work on 337 additional miles will soon begin, and we have every reason to believe that it will be only a short time before all the Bankhead in Texas will be entirely constructed."

Texas counties traversed by the Bankhead Transcontinental Highway have voted $27,405,000 in road bonds since the first of the year, the commissioner said. Dallas county voted $6,500,000 of this amount, while Rockwall, the smallest county of the state, voted $800,000, or $800 per voter, to construct a concrete pavement on the Bankhead from county line to county line.

TEACHERS WILL PROFIT

Fort Worth, Texas, Sept. 3.—Tarrant county has tackled its school teacher problem from a new angle and plans a thorough trial of it this winter.

If salaries are too low for the expense, at least two of the districts of the county will reduce the expenses of their teachers. This is being accomplished through the erection of free homes. In the Diamond Hill district, where so many of the children of the packing house workers are educated, a sixteen thousand dollar apartment house has just been completed and will be ready for the teachers September 5. Apartments will be rented for $5 a month. Eight families can be accommodated in the building. Superintendent Whitner announced a similar building will be constructed during the winter and will be ready for use next spring.

The Diamond Hill district has reached its limit of taxation and therefore could not add to the teachers' pay. But the expenses of living will be cut down.

In Sycamore Heights district a similar course is being pursued and two families are living free of rent in an elegant new "teachorage."

The same system will be extended to many of the other suburban and rural districts, where it has been difficult to keep teachers because of the low pay.

Neither the Sphinx nor President Wilson are doing much talking, though Colonel House has limbered up a little since he became a newspaper correspondent.

FIREWORKS AT LOUISIANA FAIR TO BE BEST EVER

"The Siege of The Dardenelles" Will Feature Spectacular Pyrotechnic Program.

Among the many costly attractions booked for the 1920 State Fair of Louisiana, to be held at Shreveport, October 28 to November 7, inclusive, is the most gigantic fireworks exhibition ever booked by the management. It will be staged each evening in front of the grandstand, with new features included in each program.

The big feature of the fireworks display will be the gorgeous spectacle, "The Siege of The Dardenelles," calling to mind vividly one of the most terrific military undertakings of the world war. Through this elaborate exhibition some of the bloodiest and most memorable fighting of the great international conflict will be reproduced. The representation will give the spectators an idea of the magnitude of the Dardenelles campaign, in which was sought the destruction of the Germanized Turkish obstruction.

A mammoth stage is required for the presentation of this spectacle, and numerous men and women participate, including skilled performers. It represents a large historical event and cannot be reproduced except on a large scale. But the management feels that the State Fair visitors are entitled to the very best of everything, and has gone to unusual effort to book this entertainment, which will be given under direction of the Theatre-Duffield Fireworks Company, one of the foremost concerns of the kind in the world.

There will be many other pyrotechnic exhibitions on the program in addition to "The Siege of The Dardenelles," and the spectators, who are expected to fill the grandstand each evening, are assured of exceptionally fine amusement.

DAIRY EXHIBITS WILL BE STATE FAIR FEATURE

What promises to prove one of the most interesting collections of Junior Extension exhibits at the 1920 State Fair of Louisiana, October 28 to November 7, inclusive, will be those entered by the Boys' and Girls' Dairy Clubs. These clubs form a new branch of the Junior Extension service in Louisiana, and, judging by the interest manifested in different sections of the State, the work is going to enjoy wonderful expansion within the next year or two.

Among the exhibits on which premiums have been offered are butter, sweet milk, cottage cheese, dairy work records, and home-made conveniences for handling milk on the farm. Some of the exhibits will be shown especially to stress the importance of milk in diet and the necessity for it for growing children. There is a great deal of waste, but by using the methods taught in the Dairy Clubs the farms can utilize milk and milk products that are now considered of no value.

SWINE SHOW AT FAIR TO DRAW MANY HOGS

With E. L. Jordan, professor of animal husbandry at the Louisiana State University, in charge as superintendent, the general Swine Show at the 1920 State Fair of Louisiana, October 28 to November 7, will give the visitors an excellent idea of the advancement this section of the country is making in raising fine hogs. The judging will be done by J. J. McLain of Anna, Texas.

Competition in this department is open to the world, and many herds from other states as well as many from Louisiana are expected to be represented in the exhibits. Ground for this expectation is given by the reports and inquiries reaching the Fair Association. The premiums are the most abundant ever offered at the State Fair, and this is proving especially interesting to the prospective exhibitors.

In addition to competing for tempting premiums, exhibitors will have the privilege of offering some of their stock for sale and receiving good prices therefor. Each Fair attracts livestock breeders who are anxious to improve their herds and to take advantage of the opportunity offered both at private and auction sales. In other words, buyer and purchaser are brought together, and, as a result, the herds of this part of the country are improved and those making the sales are rewarded by the financial returns they receive.

That Louisiana is well adapted for the raising of fine hogs has been thoroughly demonstrated. Many have gone into the business during the past few years, due especially to lessons obtained at the State Fair, but there is still room for extension of the industry, and the exhibits and sales at this year's Fair will no doubt help in bringing on some of this improvement.

For catalog and further information, write to W. R. Hirsch, secretary, Shreveport, La.

SALVATION ARMY ADVISORY BOARD

Houston, Sept. 2.—Every county in Southeast Texas will be represented by three or more delegates at the state convention of the Salvation Army advisory boards which will be held in the Rice Hotel, Houston, on Thursday, September 9. Already more than 150 acceptances have been received by Judge James A. Elkins, president of the state advisory board.

Details of the Salvation Army's work among women and children will be described by Ensign Ida Anderson, Commandant of the Salvation Army Rescue and Maternity Home in San Antonio.

Lieutenant Colonel George Wood, chief divisional officer of the Salvation Army in the Southwest, will tell of the work of the army in western Louisiana, Oklahoma, Texas and Southwestern Arkansas, all of which is under his jurisdiction. Other prominent Salvation Army officers will be present at the meeting, which will last throughout the day.

The report of each county as shown in the confidential studies now being compiled by the advisory board will be presented at the convention and program of service outlined that will be carried out faithfully by the various boards in co-operation with the Salvation Army.

The county advisory boards in Texas will represent a constituency of more than 1,000 of the leading men and women in this state who are devoting a considerable portion of their time in an effort to alleviate social distress in the community in which they reside.

Already all of these boards are functioning in perfect order and it is believed by Col. Wood that as a result of the experience gained at the convention, the advisory boards will be able to render even better service than at present.

Discussion of the needs of the state as applicable to the Salvation Army will also form an important feature of the convention, and the business and professional experience of the men comprising the state and county advisory boards will be at the service of the Salvation Army in this respect.

A Grateful Letter.

It is in trying conditions like that related below by Mrs. George L. North, of Naples, N. Y., that proves the worth of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy. "Two years ago, last summer," she says "our little boy had dysentery. At that time we were living in the country eight miles from a doctor. Our son was taken ill suddenly and he was about the sickest child I ever saw. He was in terrible pain all the time and passed from one convulsion to another. I sent my husband after a doctor and after he was gone I thought of a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy in the cupboard. I gave him some of it and he began to improve at once. By the time the doctor arrived he was out of danger." Sold by Stripling, Haselwood & Co.

CAMPAIGN FUND A MENACE

Chicago, Sept. 2.—Senator Reed of the senate investigating committee agreed with Senator Poindexter in testifying that there had been some moral improvement in politics in the last eight years. Senator Reed said the reason was that the courts had been in action in some cases. Mr. Reed asked if Mr. Poindexter would regard a campaign fund of $15,000,000 as a menace. The witness replied that he would, and added that he would regard a fund of $5,000,000 as an abuse.

The committee adjourned shortly after noon without having heard Edmund Moore of Ohio as Governor Cox's personal representative. Chairman Kenyon announced that the committee would meet in Chicago next Tuesday, September 7, to hear Mr. Moore and other witnesses.

HORSE KILLED BY CAR

About six o'clock Wednesday afternoon a car driven by Miss Barham struck a horse and the animal died shortly afterward. The accident occurred on West Main street at the entrance to the city lot, and was witnessed by several people who chanced to be in the vicinity. The auto was going down the hill at a rapid rate of speed, when the horse, which was blind in its right eye, trotted in front of the car, going north, and spectators said the collision was unavoidable under the circumstances. The body of the animal was removed by the city Thursday afternoon. The extent of the damage to the car was not learned. It was a miracle that it was not wrecked.

WAGON CAUSES CAR TO WRECK THURSDAY

Charles B. Davis and sister, Miss Avlyn, children of Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Davis, were the victims of an unpleasant accident Thursday afternoon about 6 o'clock when the car they were driving out on the Highway for the purpose of bringing home their brother, Roy Davis, who is an employee of Smith Bros., contractors, turned turtle, rolled over in a ditch, wrenched one of the wheels off, severely bruised Miss Avlyn, and badly frightened Charles B. The cause of the accident, it seems, was a wagon which was ahead of the car, and the car in attempting to go around the wagon, probably at a fair rate of speed, and in sand, too, skidded, hurling itself and occupants into a nearby ditch. Miss Avlyn was forced to stay in bed Friday from injuries received. She is getting along fairly well Saturday, according to reports.

ANOTHER OIL-STORY

Mr. E. S. Martin, one of the Shreveport oilmen operating in the Nacogdoches oil fields, while carrying a crowd to the scene of operations in the oil fields Saturday afternoon, was the victim of a queer accident—or rather the automobile he was driving was.

Having made everything in high from Nacogdoches to Woden, Mr. Martin was a bit astonished when his car rolled up into Woden, stopped, and despite his frantic efforts to get it to go further, refused to go just one more inch of the way. Investigation revealed the fact that one of the drive axles had been completely wrenched off, and nothing more remained to be done but order one out of Shreveport. The car had pulled all of the steep hills between here and Woden without a hitch, and chose an entirely smooth spot for its "bad conduct." The car had to be abandoned, and Mr. Luther Prince motored out to the relief of the party, all arriving in the city about 8 o'clock Saturday night, tired, dusty and mighty hungry.

BIG CAMP MEETING AT DOUGLASS THIS WEEK

The Baptist people of Douglass are having one of the biggest camp meetings that has been held in the county, so reports say, in many years. A large tent has been erected, and the sermons are delivered under it. Three ministers are employed to assist in the meeting. A large musical band consisting of several pieces is also being made use of. Those attending the meeting say the experience is delightful, and they think much good will be accomplished by it. The Douglass people are anxious for people from all parts of the county to come and take part in it.

Safety First

You often hear that slogan. It's as true with banking as with railroading or any other public enterprise

It is safety first for our depositors. We keep this constantly in mind. That's why we are so careful about our loans and our reserves. That's why we carry fire and burglar insurance. We want every depositor to feel sure that the money entrusted to us will be ready any time it is requested. That's why our depositors have confidence in this bank. They know their funds are safe.

BODY OF TED C. PIERCE TO BE BURIED HERE

Dr. Charles C. Pierce received a telegram Wednesday afternoon from New York that the body of his son, Ted C. Pierce, who died overseas in the service of his country, would reach that city about September 15. Dr. Pierce will go to New York to meet and accompany home the body of the soldier boy. The date of arrival of the funeral party will be announced definitely as soon as possible.

The dead soldier will be buried with military honors under the auspices of the local branch of the American Legion.

No honor that we can render is too great to commemorate the deeds of those boys who made the supreme sacrifice—or the survivors who offered it.

THE KEY TO SUCCESS

The demand for telegraph operators was never so great as at the present time. The largest telegraph school in America—equipped with over a hundred sets of instruments, miniature train service, a train wire of a main line railroad, all telegraph and freight blanks and books of record, tickets, and in fact everything just as complete as found in the best equipped railroad offices, the best practical teachers to be obtained, thoroughly experienced in commercial and railroad telegraphy, station and freight work—The Tyler Commercial College, Tyler, Texas, is unable to supply the demands of the railroads, Western Union and Postal Telegraph companies for operators.

Read the following letter from the superintendent of telegraphy of one of the largest railroad systems:

Tyler Commercial College, Gentlemen: If you will send us the high class students you have been sending, we can use all that you can send. Could use a large number at the present time if we had them. In this connection will say that what students you have sent us have been very satisfactory and have developed into some of the best operators and agents we have ever had. Trust that you will be able to send us more of your students at once and keep them coming as fast as they are capable. I had the pleasure on August 2d to visit your great school and made a personal investigation of your methods used in preparing student telegraphers, and I find they meet with all requirements of my road, and I wish further to say that you have the largest and most complete and thorough business college that I have ever seen.

R. F. Frenzer, Superintendent Telegraph, Union Pacific Railroad.

Our telegraph students are on all the leading Southwestern railroads, and in Western Union and Postal Telegraph offices. With our help you can be a bigger success. Write for our free catalogue. We place our graduates promptly free of charge. Tyler Commercial College, Tyler, Texas.

The Mildred Oil & Drilling Company brought in a ten barrel well last Saturday just north of the Carolina's holdings near Oil City. Messrs. Cobelli and Skinner feel much elated over this well, in-as-much as they have proven beyond a shadow of doubt cable tools may be used successfully in this field. When their new well has been put on the pump it may produce more than ten barrels. In view of the fact that cable tools are a success with this formation, two new strings have been put in at Chireno.

TRAGEDY AT DIBOLL

Henry McCann, a young man living near the Neches river, below Diboll, is confined in the county jail with a charge of murder against him, the particulars of which date back many months and are about as follows, so far as the News reporter is able to ascertain.

It will be remembered that in the early part of last year Claud Clarke of Burke was arrested and confined in the county jail on the charge of having shot and killed an old gentleman by the name of McCann near the Neches river below Diboll. Later a charge of insanity was lodged against Clark, but two trials on that charge failed of conviction. He was then placed on trial in the district on a charge of murder, which resulted in conviction with a sentence of five years in the penitentiary. On account of serious sickness of the family of Clark, he was recently given a furlough by Governor Hobby and was spending the time at home. Saturday afternoon he drove to Diboll in a buggy for some ice for the sick ones at home, and as he was approaching the ice house was shot twice by Henry McCann, a son of the old man killed by Clark. Clark fell from the buggy after the second shot, and according to reports, was shot several times by McCann after falling to the ground.

McCann immediately surrendered to the constable at Diboll, was brought to Lufkin and landed in jail. So far no attempt has been made to obtain his release on bond and the date for the examining trial has not been set.

The remains of Claud Clark were prepared for burial and were laid to rest in Glendale cemetery yesterday afternoon.—Lufkin News, 6th.

DISTRICT COURT

District Court convened Monday morning, Judge Guinn presiding and Prosecuting Attorney O'Quinn looking after the state's interests.

The grand jury was impaneled and J. M. Adams of Martinsville was appointed foreman together with the following attendant officers: John Burrows, door bailiff; H. L. Hargiss, R. H. Hargrove and Bill Christian, riding bailiffs. After an impressive charge by the court, the jury entered upon the discharge of its duties.

Up to noon Tuesday the time of the court had been taken up in setting trial days for the various cases, several of which will be heard the latter part of the week.

In the absence of Clerk R. B. Walthall, who is attending the Democratic State Convention at Fort Worth, the nominee, Ivan Prince, is looking after the business of the office, and goes after it like an old-timer.

There are ten prisoners in jail awaiting investigation by the grand jury.

Mr. E. H. Blount, who went to San Francisco as a delegate to the Democratic National Convention, returned home Monday afternoon. Mrs. Blount and two elder daughters stopped at Dalhart for a visit with the former's father, the younger members of the family accompanying their father home. They spent the time following the convention in Los Angeles and vicinity and report a most enjoyable visit.

Mrs. Ben Tucker, accompanied by the children, left Monday for a visit with her mother, Mrs. Garrett, at San Augustine. She will remain about a week.

SENTINEL READER GIVES OPINION ON CITY PROBLEMS

Editor of Sentinel:

First, I am going to take up what Nacogdoches has. Nacogdoches has a splendid fire department. It has a progressive and capable mayor, a good city light and water department, a bunch of aldermen with ability, a street commissioner without energy, plenty of equipment for city improvement, and a splendid opportunity to do something toward improving its natural beauty. We people who live in Nacogdoches are getting used to the old town, and the majority of us think that Nacogdoches is truly a beautiful town. What our city officials need to do is to wake themselves up and then wake up the citizenship. The city officials have energy, but it is apparently dormant. There are a thousand and one sore spots around here, and the city officials have the authority to have the spots removed or improved. If there is an official that says it cannot be done, then that official should get out, and make room for some one who can do it. Let's have action.

Second, I am going to take up what Nacogdoches has not. Nacogdoches has not yet had a man to improve such places as the one in front of James' restaurant, Pat Jenkins' store, Tucker-Sitton Hardware Company's establishment, west of the Stone Fort National Bank, front of Spradley and Huston property. It has not yet developed a man to remove hog pens from Main Street, cut the weeds everywhere, remove delapidated signs in prominent places in the city. Further, it has not shown up a man who cares to repair ugly and broken fences, fix awnings that are in an "up-and-down condition," sprinkle the streets in the city between the hours of 12 and 5 a. m., or a man who can and will keep the streets of the city in a good condition.

Third, we need something. Let us find out what it is and then see that we will get it. Well, that being the case, do we need better city officials, do we need more city officials, do we need better people for our city, do we need more people for our city? Yes.

Do we need any of the above to accomplish what we really need for the good of the town. The answer comes freely, No.

Yes, "No," is the correct answer. Our city officials know what we need, and know it exactly. The answer to our city is: "Energy and It Properly Directed."

Yours very truly,
A Sentinel Subscriber.

VALUES IT MORE THAN A FORTUNE

Power Gains Eighteen Pounds—Rheumatism Disappears After Taking Tanlac.

"What Tanlac has done for me is worth more than a fortune," said George Power, of 20½ Rottenberg st., a life-long resident of Halifax, Nova Scotia, and a well known employee of the Nova Scotia Team & Power Co. "I have gained eighteen pounds and feel better than for twenty-eight long years," he continued.

"I don't believe anybody in the world has suffered more with rheumatism than I have. It was a sharp shooting pain that would go through my knees, down my legs, into my ankles just like somebody was sticking a knife through me. I couldn't work at all in damp weather and suffered so intensely that I would turn as white as a sheet. When the attacks came on I wouldn't be able to sleep a wink, my joints would swell and my knees would get as stiff as boards and I wouldn't be able to walk for two or three days at a time—just lay up in bed flat of my back.

"Tanlac was so highly recommended by people right here in Halifax that I tried it and right now I would not take anything in the world for the good that it has done me. My rheumatism is entirely gone, my appetite has picked up, too, and I sleep fine every night and feel like a different man altogether. Tanlac is the greatest thing I have ever seen and I want to let every body know what this wonderful medicine will do."

Tanlac is sold in Nacogdoches by Stripling, Haselwood & Co., Swift Bros. & Smith and in Garrison by the Dale Drug Co.

THE TRI-COUNTY INSTITUTE OPENS NEXT MONDAY, 13th

Some confusion has arisen over what shall be charged the teachers for room and board for each separately.

The teachers are coming (about 450 of them) expecting to pay for their accommodations. Some of our people wish to entertain them free, others cannot. This is to be left to each individual who takes one or more teachers to decide what he or she can and will do about the matter of charging for this entertainment, and how much.

We suggest that in no case the rates be more than two dollars per day for room and three meals. These rates should be less than this if possible, for we know the teachers are not paid large salaries.

These teachers are coming to Nacogdoches at the invitation of Nacogdoches. Nacogdoches is to profit more by their presence than any other person or place and this profit will not be and should not be the money we collect for room and board.

Let's take hold of this matter and handle it in a way that will help Nacogdoches and cause each teacher who comes here to wish to return. No visitor should be overcharged for anything, either in our homes or by any business concern. We wish each of them to leave here our friend and ready to help Nacogdoches in any way possible.

This is a fine opportunity to advertise our town favorably.

Respectfully,
Mrs. A. H. Smith,
R. F. Davis,
H. L. McKnight.

A LEOPARD CANNOT CHANGE ITS SPOTS

Mr. Dodson, the "Liver Tone Man", tells the Treachery of Calomel.

Calomel loses you a day. You know what calomel is. It's mercury, quicksilver. Calomel is dangerous. It crashes into your bile like dynamite, cramping and sickening you. Calomel attacks the bones and should never be put into your system.

When you feel bilious, sluggish, constipated and all knocked out and believe you need a dose of calomel just remember that your druggist sells for a few cents a large bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone, which is entirely vegetable and pleasant to take and is a perfect substitute for calomel. It is guaranteed to start your liver without stirring you up inside, and cannot salivate.

Don't take calomel! It cannot be trusted any more than a leopard or a wild-cat. Take Dodson's Liver Tone which straightens you right up and makes you feel fine. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and doesn't gripe.
