GIVES LAST DOLLAR TO HELP RED CROSS WORK

Where principle is concerned, it is the sacrifice that counts. In these days when it seems that the entire world is wrapped in a fog of materialism obscuring, it some times seems, the finer things of life, one is almost led to believe that beautiful things and sacrifices about which we read in books exist only in books. But such an impression is far from being true, even now there are daily sacrifices which make the world bow its head in reverence.

The case in point is one connected with the Red Cross drive which is being pushed with all possible energy. Everyone is contributing to the fund—old, young, rich and poor. Monday, Miss Irene Clevenger was called to the old ladies' home of this city by an inmate of that institution who had only one dollar, which she desired to give to the Red Cross. It was the old lady's only dollar, she said so, but she wanted it to go to charity. She handed the dollar to Miss Clevenger with the following verse which she had composed, the words as no one will dispute, coming from her very heart:

"Go now, my only dollar, go
Relieve some one from pain and woe;

The poor sick child in lowly cot
The God of Love hath not forgot."
The above verse should be an inspiration to everyone who reads it and thinks over the situation under which it was composed.

THANKSGIVING SPECIAL

A special train will arrive in Lufkin Thursday afternoon about 2:30 o'clock from Nacogdoches, bringing the high school football team of that place and several hundred boosters. Among other things one of the boosters says:

"Lufkin sent about 500 people to Nacogdoches last year to see the game between the two teams and it is hoped that Nacogdoches will go a little stronger. Let us take a day off and visit our neighbors, for they are good neighbors and will show us all of the hospitality possible to be shown any people." Softening the blow, however, that is inevitable when the game is played, the same booster says: "Did you know that Princeton, Harvard, Yale, Rice and other football teams lose once in a while. All cannot win."

The News hopes that a large crowd will come from our sister city, and be sure every visitor will be accorded every hospitality possible, with the exception of letting them win the game. Being in a good, live town for a few hours and noting the wonderful progress we are making will largely offset the sting of defeat. Come on, folks, and we'll meet you at the train.—Lufkin News.

Mr. L. G. King returned Tuesday from Houston, where he attended the Methodist conference. Mr. King reported a fine time, and said that the conference was a great success. He was elected one of the trustees of a Houston Methodist school.

FORD EMPLOYEES GET BONUS SEVEN MILLION DOLLARS

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 24.—Bonus checks aggregating more than $7,000,000 for the employees of the Ford Motor Company are being written. The distribution will start January 1, next, according to an announcement by Edsel Ford, president of the Ford Motor Company.

MELROSE BAPTIST CHURCH

There will be special services at the Melrose Baptist church on Saturday night before the first Sunday in December and on the first Sunday. Rev. Mr. Eaves, the pastor, will fill the pulpit at all services.

The subject for Saturday night's sermon will be, "Church Members and Their Duty."

On Sunday morning the subject of the discourses will be "Deacons and Their Duty."

Sunday night the theme will be "Pastors and Their Duty." A cordial invitation is extended the public generally to attend these services.

THE WONDERS OF WIRELESS

Philadelphia, Nov. 24.—Admiral W. H. Bullard, director of naval communication service, in a paper read before the Franklin Institute here, said wireless telegraphy is making navigation simple and safe.

"There will be a time when ships will be without chronometers and be in constant wireless touch with New York until they reach the British Channel," said Admiral Bullard. "This is not a dream; it is near at hand."

"By means of the radio compass ship can get her bearings when she calls for it, anywhere along the coast of the United States. This instrument has already saved ships which were headed straight for shore."

"The depth of water under the ship can now be accurately determined by the hydro-phone, which works on the reflection of the ocean bottom of the sound of the ship's propeller. By this device shallow water can be avoided and even the proximity of icebergs detected. Ships can also communicate with each other by underwater waves, sent out by oscillators."

"By means of a cable laid along the bottom of New York channel and energized with current, a pilot, blindfolded, guided a destroyer safely to port, never getting more than fifty yards from the cable. The waves sent out by the cable were detected in telephone receivers, one on each ear, telling him whether he was to right or left of the guiding cable."

"Hurricanes can be detected by sensitive radio telephones, and even the general direction of storms, are felt on wireless receiving apparatus. The time is now sent broadcast by coastal stations and by the time given for certain longitudes, the ship can tell its location. Weather warnings and locations of wrecks, derelicts and icebergs are given out."

Mrs. D. Holston of Timpon was in the city Tuesday shopping.

QUATER MILLION FIRE IN ARKANSAS TOWN

Little Rock, Ark., Nov. 24.—Fire of unknown origin early today destroyed the Columbia Cotton Compress Company's plant and 2,500 bales of cotton at Magnolia, Ark., according to advices received by the Arkansas Actuarial Bureau. Most of the cotton belonged to buyers and was fully insured. The building and machinery were also insured. The loss is estimated at $200,000 on cotton and $75,000 on the building, plant and equipment. A cotton warehouse nearby housing 4,000 bales of cotton was saved.

Inciendarism Suspected

Pine Bluff, Ark., Nov. 24.—Inciendarism is suspected of the fire this morning which destroyed the plant of the Columbia Cotton Compress and 2,000 bales of cotton at Magnolia, Ark. Officers of the town and insurance officials have begun an investigation, according to telephone reports. Eighty percent of the burned cotton was insured and $4,500 insurance was carried on the plant, which was valued at $60,000.

INAUGURAL ESCORT

Cleveland, Nov. 24.—The Cleveland Grays, Cleveland's crack military organization, has been selected to act as escort to Warren G. Harding at the presidential inaugural ceremonies in Washington March 4. It will start soon a special series of drills for the occasion.

The Grays have acted as escorts to Presidents Garfield, McKinley and Roosevelt at their inaugurations.

TO VISIT SOUTH AMERICA

Washington, Nov. 24.—Secretary of State Colby, accompanied by Rear Admiral Frank Bassett and Major Adelbert Cronkwhite, will sail for Hampton Road Sunday on the Battleship Florida for South America to pay an official visit to the governments of Brazil and Uruguay. He will also make an unofficial visit to Argentina.

BASEBALLIST STABBED

Kenosha, Wis., Nov. 23.—Jim Vaughn, pitcher for the Chicago Cubs, was stabbed by his father-in-law at midnight during an argument at the Vaughn home. The stabbing followed an argument over recent divorce proceedings of the Vaughns. The case of Mrs. Vaughn was scheduled for hearing yesterday. Mrs. Vaughn's father said he had been angered over the charge Vaughn made that his wife was friendly with other men. The Vaughns affected a reconciliation before the case came up.

AFTER BANK ROBBERS

Fort Worth, Texas, Nov. 24.—The hunt for two robbers who held up the First State Bank of Polytechnic, a suburb of Fort Worth, at noon yesterday and escaped with $4,900 in currency and silver, has spread into adjoining counties. Constable Burleson reported firing on a suspicious automobile passing.

ANTI-POOL HALL LAW

Austin, Texas, Nov. 24.—The Texas anti-pool hall law, which prohibits the operation of pool and billiard halls in the state for profit, was upheld when the Court of Criminal Appeals affirmed a lower court verdict under which J. A. Davis of Bell county was fined $25 for violating the law. The contentions of the defendant that the passage of the law was irregular and that it was unconstitutional were not allowed. The court said, "we do not think the legislature exceeded its power."

BLACK EYE FOR TERPSICHORE

Austin, Texas, Nov. 24.—There will be no dancing and no inaugural ball in connection with the inauguration of Pat Neff as governor of Texas, according to a decision of the committee appointed to arrange the ceremonies welcoming the new governor.

FOR SALE—Mrs. R. W. Halton's home place on South Fredonia street. Cash or terms. See Giles M. Haltom at the Sentinel office. 6-6

RURAL CARRIERS SELL GOVERNMENT SECURITIES

Dallas, Texas, Nov. 23.—Patrons of rural mail carriers will hereafter be given opportunity to purchase government securities, War Savings Stamps and Registered Treasury Certificates, from their carriers as residents of cities have done heretofore. Postmaster R. J. Kennedy of Whitesboro reports the sale of $600 worth of securities in one week by the rural carriers from the Whitesboro postoffice.

MURDER IN IRELAND

London, Nov. 22.—Murder stalked through the streets of Dublin yesterday. Meager reports at nightfall received here indicated at least 25 persons were killed and upwards of 100 more or less seriously wounded. The day's disorders, which added an appalling chapter to the tragedy which has been enacted in Ireland for the past several months, began with the apparently deliberate shooting of 14 men who for the most part were military officers. During the afternoon the Irish constabulary (the Black and Tans) raided a Croke Park football game, and the melee resulted in at least 10 persons killed.

More Troops to Ireland

London, Nov. 2.—Sending additional troops to Ireland is seriously considered, the War Office stated today.

Orgy of Assassinations

Dublin, Nov. 22.—Twenty-six persons are dead and 70 others are dying in hospitals as the result of Sunday's orgy of assassinations and the wholesale shooting in Croke Park, where soldiers fired on a crowd at a football game between the Dublin and Tipperary teams.

FUN AT FORT WORTH

Fort Worth, Texas, Nov. 23.—With Tris Speaker, Leslie Numamaker and Roger Hornsby, the big baseball league stars sharing the honors with broncho busters and trick ropers from all over the United States, Fort Worth's fall rodeo will be opened tomorrow.

WILL SEND REPRESENTATIVES

Little Rock, Ark., Nov. 23.—Governor Brough telegraphed Elias Torres, special representative of the secretary of foreign relations, at Brownsville, Texas, that although unable to attend the inaugural ceremonies of President-elect Oregon, he had appointed three men to represent Arkansas at the inauguration.

HARDING INSPECTS CANAL

Cristobal, Nov. 24.—Senator Harding gave up golf and motoring this morning to make a personal tour of the practical working of the Panama Canal. He planned to leave at 8:30 on a government mine-sweeper and leisurely journey through the waterway. His trip is more than a sight-seeing expedition. Stops have been arranged to permit a close inspection of the problems of canal maintenance and management. This inspection is one of the big reasons for Mr. Harding's trip to the Canal Zone. He has taken a keen interest in the future of the canal and is known to believe it one of the national assets regarding foreign commerce. During the debate in congress relative to the canal, the problem of tolls for American ships received his particular attention.

SQUARING WITH KAISER

Amerongen, Nov. 24.—The "Made in Germany" sign is still fetid to the former German Emperor. Though he is reported to feel that his country treated him shamefully, nevertheless he continues to buy for himself and his little court at Doorn German goods sent direct from Berlin when possible, notwithstanding the fact that he has been in Holland nearly two years. This was most recently demonstrated when, in furnishing the little hospital William has had built as a memorial of his stay in Amerongen, he had practically every stick of furniture and other equipment sent from Berlin.

In revenge, it is stated here, Dutch tradesmen with whom the exile has to deal at Doorn, and also the workmen who he has to engage from time to time, charge him all the traffic will bear.

STRONG MILITARY PATROLS GUARD RIOTING DUBLIN

Dublin, Nov. 23.—Strong military patrols guarded every bridge and road running out of Dublin last night. All avenues of egress and ingress were closed, and even persons holding permits were not allowed to pass the lines drawn through the outskirts of the city. Reports reaching the center of Dublin during the evening indicated that virtually the whole military establishment of this district in Ireland was employed in maintaining the cordon.

SCHOOL THRIFT BOOKS

Dallas, Texas, Nov. 23.—Government school thrift banks are being organized in many cities of the Eleventh Federal Reserve District, following a demonstration here last week of the Brown School's bank before the Mother's Congress of Texas. Superintendent Summerhill of Celina has asked a member of the Saving Division staff be assigned to visit the Celina school and assist in organizing and installing the thrift work in the school. Superintendent H. B. Fillers of Bonham advises the Saving Division that the Thrift Bank plan will be used in the Baily English School of Bonham. Superintendent George W. Page is inaugurating such a bank in the Brownwood city schools for the purpose of encouraging pupils to earn to save and to invest their savings in Thrift and War Savings Stamps, or other approved securities.

BOARD CANVASSING VOTE

Austin, Texas, Nov. 23.—The canvass of the returns for presidential electors will be started by the State Election Board today, according to C. D. Mims, secretary of state, who said the canvass should have been started yesterday, but the law pertaining to presidential electors was confused with another statute, which provides that returns for state officers shall be canvassed 40 days after an election (December 14 this year). Presidential returns for some counties are not yet in, but the board will canvass those received.

WESTERN UNION "KICKS"

Washington, Nov. 22.—The Western Union Telegraph Company has applied to the District of Columbia Supreme Court for an injunction to restrain Secretary of the Navy Daniels from interfering with the construction of a telegraph and cable between Miami and Miami Beach, Florida. The Western Union also asked the court to require the naval secretary to instruct his subordinates and naval officials to cease threatening to destroy the cable. The company's petition pointed out that the requested injunction was to cover a different cable than the Barbadoes cable, the laying of which was prevented by the sending of warships to Miami.

HARDING REACHES PANAMA

President-elect Harding of the United States arrived at Cristobal at 9 o'clock this morning aboard the steamer Parismina. The craft in the harbor gave him a noisy welcome.

Receives Many Invitations

On Board Steamer Parismina, Nov. 23.—As Senator Harding approached Panama on his vacation voyage he was flooded with wireless messages inviting him to be the guest of honor at a long list of public functions during his five-days' visit at the Canal Zone. Vacation plans will compel him to decline most of the invitations.

METHODIST CONFERENCE

Houston, Texas, Nov. 22.—The Texas Conference of the Southern Methodist church went into final session of a five-day convention for the assignment of pastors of the conference to the 700 churches represented, as the closing order of business.

GIN FIRE AT LUFKIN

Lufkin, Texas, Nov. 22.—Fire of undetermined origin last night destroyed the Stroud & Harrell cotton gin, with a loss of about $7,000. No insurance. The gin was closed temporarily, but was scheduled to resume operations today.

BEAUMONT WINS OVER NACOGDOCHES 17-6

Beaumont continued her phenomenal list of victories Saturday afternoon on the local gridiron by taking the home lads in tow before the immense crowd which had gathered to witness the game. The game was one of the most exciting contests seen on the local field in many a season. The teams were evenly matched in weight; both had been trained for a grueling contest, and the fans were treated to a wonderful exhibition of the great American sport. Captain Muckelroy won the toss, and Doches received at the north goal. Summers received the kick, and made a spectacular return for thirty-five yards. Three line plays failed to annex the 10 yards for the first down, and Langford punted 45 yards. Beaumont put the ball in play on their 30-yard line. Three line plays gained 4 yards, and they punted, Eiland making a 15 yard return.

For the remainder of the first half the ball "see-sawed," neither side being able to develop an advantage over the other, and the half ended with the ball in Doches' possession on Beaumont's 30-yard line.

Beaumont received the kick at the north goal. Langford kicking and Beaumont was down on the 98-yard line. Beaumont punted, and Eiland returned the ball to Beaumont's 28-yard line. A neatly executed forward pass Eiland to Bernice Shofner, scored the first touchdown of the game, Sullivan failing to kick goal. Score 6-0. Beaumont received and on first play a long forward pass caught the Doches boys napping, and resulted in a touchdown. Beaumont kicking goal, making the score 6-7, and there was no more scoring until the fourth quarter, when Beaumont again scored a touchdown and field goal. Score: Beaumont 17; Nacogdoches 6.

The stars of the game for Beaumont were the quarterback and left end, while it may be said that the entire team played faultlessly. This makes Beaumont's tenth game and tenth victory, only three touchdowns having been scored against them this season.

The Doches line played a high brand of football. Sherrill Sullivan played his usual good game. Eiland played his first game, and it being his first chance to act in the capacity of quarterback, showed good field generalship, and his offensive and defensive work caused the fans to wonder why he had not been used in this position before. Bernice and Frank Shofner and Thompson were the luminaries of the line. The game was void of squabbling and was characterized by clean sportsmanlike conduct.

The game was refereed by Collis Davis, who handled every situation to the satisfaction of the players and spectators.

The Beaumont coach expressed his admiration for the local team, saying that it was "by far the toughest proposition Beaumont had tackled this year."

WILL VISE PASSPORTS

Mexico City, Nov. 23.—The Foreign Office has instructed Mexican border consuls to vise the passports of United States Senator Fall of New Mexico, who announced a few days ago that he intended to come to this city to attend the inauguration of General Obregon as president of the Mexican republic. This order from the Foreign Office disregards the action Saturday of Roberto Pasqueira, Mexican confidential agent at Washington, who instructed Mexican consuls along the frontier not to vise any passport Senator Fall presented.

Hasn't Applied for Passport

Washington, Nov. 23.—The records of the State Department show that Senator Fall has not yet applied for a passport to go to Mexico.

NEW YORK'S TELEPHONES

New York, Nov. 23.—Based upon present demands for telephones, New York city will reach the million mark by the end of 1921, G. W. Whittemore, valuation engineer of the New York Telephone Company, stated in testifying at a hearing here before the Public Service Commission. At the present time, he said, there are 870,000 telephones.

WHAT DO RATS COST TEXAS

The damage caused by rats and their role as disease carriers are well known. They are active agents in the distribution of bubonic plague. The presence of this disease in cities of Mexico and its occurrence in Texas seaports last summer prompted the health authorities in these seaports to institute in August measures for the destruction of rats. Occasional new cases in these ports still show the menace is present and in danger of being carried to inland towns. Rats perpetuate and transmit the disease trichinosis, so much dreaded by humans. They gnaw into boxes of dry goods and cut furs, silks, carpets and leather goods. The gnaw matches and cut the insulation from electric wires, and so start many costly fires. They flood kitchens by gnawing through lead pipes and cause disastrous floods by burrowing through embankments and levees. They consume grain fruit and vegetables in the fields and orchards and continue their depredations in the shock, cellar and bin. They cut containers of flour and breakfast foods and by poultice render unfit for human food far more than they consume. The U. S. Public Health Service declares that in cities the rat population is at least equal to the human population, and that in agricultural sections it is from four to ten times as great. The annual upkeep per rat, estimated an pre-war values, was $2, so that at present prices the annual cost of keeping a rat is at least $4. Using these figures as a basis, R. R. Reppert, Entomologist, Extension Service, Texas A. & College, estimates that this means that the Texas rat population is at least 18,000,000 and that their annual cost is $72,000,000. This is exclusive of fire loss and other damage due to them.

With such facts staring us in the face, the Extension Service of the A. & M. College of Texas feels that strenuous efforts should be made to encourage rat extermination campaigns and is prepared to render some valuable co-operative effort and assistance.

BOON TO COTTON GROWERS

The most recent contribution to the nation's welfare along the line of insecticides has been Dr. Haywood's work in connection with calcium arsenate, the only effective agency in combating the cotton boll weevil, an insect that destroys millions of dollars' worth of cotton annually. The Bureau of Entomology had developed this insecticide in an experimental way. Dr. Haywood carried out the work on a commercial scale. He perfected a commercial process for manufacturing calcium arsenate and contributed it to public use. Now manufacturers of calcium arsenate are using Dr. Haywood's process. In the past two years 13,000,000 pounds of calcium arsenate of a value of $2,600,000 has been manufactured and it is estimated that the manufacturers will put out twice that much next year. The fact of greatest importance, however, is that an effective control of the cotton boll weevil has been developed. Just how much of the cotton crop is saved cannot be estimated but 10,000,000 pounds of calcium arsenate, enough to treat 2,000,000 acres of cotton, was shipped into the cotton belt during the past season.

BUILDING AND BOLSHEVISM

After making an investigation of the housing situation in this country, Senator Kenyon of Iowa expresses grave fears lest the unwholesome conditions in which the millions of the poorer class of workers are forced to live because of the lack of sufficient housing, may increase the ranks of the bolsheviks in America. The senator declares that he found 500,000 people in Chicago without decent living conditions. In one congressional district each house averaged 17 persons. Large numbers of those living under these unwholesome conditions are aliens. Similar conditions prevail in many other centers. He estimates there are 18,000,000 people in this country improperly housed, and that the country is 1,000,000 homes short.

Bolshevism has been defined as the flowering of discontent, and there is nothing more conducive to that state of mind than uncomfortable homes and indecent surroundings. Those dissatisfied with their homes are the more easily induced to fall in with movements against the government, and to oppose orderly government.

One of the surest safeguards for the preservation of the democratic institutions in this country is the maintenance of good homes, and a home in the full sense of the term can not be had by millions of people under the present crowded conditions. If there are to be more homes there must be more houses, and if the country is to have the sustaining influence of better home life that flourishes under proper housing conditions, a nationwide building movement is imperative, to relieve the shortage that has accumulated since the war began.

A home building movement is needed urgently not only for the temporary purpose of affording proper shelter for all the people, but for the bearing the improved living conditions will have on the nation's future. —Houston Post.

DRILLING OPERATIONS

Preparations to drilling in Nacogdoches and San Augustine counties are being made by the Southern Drilling Company, composed of C. E. Long of Dallas, president; A. B. Martin, Jr., formerly of Waco, vice president and general manager; and H. M. Mason of Waco, Texas, secretary and treasurer. They have bought some acreage and are negotiating for several thousand acres in various parts of the two counties. A light rotary rig is being shipped in for a one-thousand foot test and a heavy rig is to follow for a three-thousand-foot test southeast of town.

Messrs. Long, Martin and Mason have been operating in Texas and Louisiana, having come here from Shreveport, their former office headquarters. They have drilled wells in Wichita Falls, Homer, Caddo, and Bull Bayou, but have been devoting most of their time to wildcats in Northern Louisiana, from Shreveport to Delhi, for the last year.

Mr. Long has charge of all field operations. He has had ten years' experience in the fields and has an enviable record as a driller, having never lost a well. Mr. Martin is the general manager and has had several years experience in the fields of Texas and Louisiana. Mr. Mason, secretary and treasurer, has made a study of practical geology and acts in that capacity.

These men have met with substantial success everywhere and are now going to make an effort to locate a deep pool in this county, which everyone believes to be here. They will also drill several shallow wells in the proven territory.

OILMEN FLOCK HERE

The local hotels are now full of oilmen, having come here from other places to investigate the prospects of the local fields. It is said by most of the men coming here that Nacogdoches oil is heard talked all over the state in a fashion that particularly no other fields excepting those of Wichita Falls is heard talked. Some disgruntled fellows have been heard to say critical things about the fields here, but invariably these fellows were the kind who thought they could get acreage in Nacogdoches for 25 cents an acre. Of course there is no such land here anymore, and the man who comes to Nacogdoches must expect to pay for real oil land and not for cattle pasture.

NACOGDOCHES OIL NEWS

The Dean Oil Company spudded on Monday on the Curry lease about two miles southeast of Woden. The Millard Oil & Drilling Company will bring in their second well near Oil Springs this week. This company will name its first well "Richard McKinney" after a well-known surveyor of this county, and its second well "Bill Bates" after a prominent attorney also of this county.

TYPHOID EPIDEMIC

Salem, Ohio, Nov. 19.—Seven hundred and eighty persons are suffering with typhoid fever in this little city of less than 10,000 people. Four emergency hospitals established within the last few weeks are filled with patients. The situation, according to the chairman of the citizen's relief committee, is desperate.

It is reported that Mr. Cameron, of the Cameron Lumber Company of Waco was in the city the first part of the week looking over some of the holdings of the company with the view of locating a mill here. It is understood that this company has some 30,000 acres of pine land in East Texas, and that they desire to reduce it to lumber, according to Mr. Moss Adams, from whom this information was obtained.

Prof. W. C. Ware, teacher of physics in the high school, has been on the sick list for the past few days, being forced to be absent from school. He will probably be able to attend to his duties this week.

When Run-Down

HOUSTON TEXAS.—"I was in a terribly run-down condition of health after a siege of ptomain poisoning, and then the influenza. I could not seem to regain my strength and was really not able to do my housework. I knew I needed a good tonic and builder and remembered how my folks used to regard Dr. Pierce's remedies in my girlhood days, and then I decided to take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. After taking the second bottle my strength returned rapidly and I felt better in every way.

"I am glad indeed to recommend the medicine that has done me so much good and do not hesitate to give this statement."—Mrs. GERTRUDE SELL, 2117 Common Street.

Few families have not at some time or other used the "Golden Medical Discovery" for the stomach, liver or blood. Over twenty-four million bottles of this tonic and blood remedy have been sold. All druggists. Liquid or tablets.

TEXAS RICH IN BIRD LIFE

Has More Kinds of Birds than Any Other State in the Union

New York, Nov. 19.—There is no state in the union and no province in Canada that has so many kinds of wild birds as are to be found in Texas, according to a statement made by T. Gilbert Pearson, president of the National Association of Audubon Societies, in a lecture at the American Museum of Natural History today. In exploring the theory that New York led in the matter of bird life, Mr. Pearson stated that while New York is credited with 412 species of wild birds, the records of the state of Texas amounted to 608, or nearly one-half of all the birds found in North America, between the Rio Grande River and the North Pole.

"Not only does Texas have more kinds of birds than are to be found in any other state," said Mr. Pearson, "but it has within its boundaries not less than 30 species that never have been recorded elsewhere in the union. From the standpoint of a bird student the most interesting section is the three southeastern counties where are to be found several sub-tropical species that reach our boundaries only in that region. Chief among these are the white-tailed hawk, the red-billed pigeon and the chachalaca or guan."

Mr. Pearson who has recently returned from an extended ornithological expedition into little known sections of Texas, illustrated his address with slides and moving pictures made of the interesting birds of that section. One of the most startling discoveries was that of a colony of white pelicans with eggs and young on an island in Laguna Madre. He said that while these birds come regularly to the Texas coast in winter they were supposed to retire to the western United States and Canada to breed, and that the finding of this colony extends their range 1,250 miles to the eastward. The most easterly breeding place heretofore known was Chase Lake, North Dakota, and the Salton Sea, California. His pictures will be widely shown through the eastern states this winter. Mr. Pearson is planning to return to Texas to continue his studies of the birds in that state.

PLAN REDUCING ACREAGE

Memphis, Tenn., Nov. 19.—It was announced today that a convention of representatives of the agricultural and banking interests of the cotton producing states will be held early in December to map out plans for the reduction of cotton acreage in 1921. The conference was called by the Memphis cotton exchange. Former Governor Manning of South Carolina was tentatively selected as chairman of the proposed meeting. It was stated that district meetings would probably be held in several cities, including Dallas, Texas, and Little Rock, Ark., after the Memphis convention.

"Cold in the Head"

is an acute attack of Nasal Catarrh. Those subject to frequent "colds in the head" will find that the use of HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE will build up the System, cleanse the Blood and render them less liable to colds. Repeated attacks of Acute Catarrh may lead to Chronic Catarrh. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE is taken internally and acts through the Blood on the Mucous Surfaces of the System, thus reducing the inflammation and restoring normal conditions. All Druggists. Circulars free. F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio.

NOTICE U. C. V.

To the Members of Camp Henry Raguet, No. 620:

On account of some little misunderstanding among the members of the camp and some dissatisfaction expressed concerning the rules and regulations of the camp as to the payment of dues and sharing in the distribution of money donated by the citizens of Nacogdoches to help them attend the annual reunions of the organization, the camp at its regular meeting on the 13th of November, 1920, instructed me to have the rules of the camp controlling the matter published, that all misunderstanding concerning the same may be removed. In order to make the matter plain to all I insert the motions adopted by the camp controlling the matter.

On the 5th of October, 1918, the following motion was adopted:

"That hereafter, after the dues of this camp have been paid to the adjutant general of the United Confederate Veterans and to adjutant general of the Texas Division, that no money be accepted for dues for the year, and that no benefits will be granted to anyone not belonging to the camp of the United Confederate Veterans for that year."

On March 2d, 1920, the camp adopted the following motion:

"That no member of this camp shall hereafter receive his portion of the benefits extended to the camp by the public and furnished by the camp out of its own funds and not attend Confederate Reunion unless on account of some unavoidable occurrence while en route. Any member violating this provision shall be required to pay the amount back to the treasurer of this camp."

The adjutant of the camp makes his report to headquarters in April of each year and sends the dues of the camp for the year. A roll of members is made for that year. This roll, which has to be forwarded in his report in April, necessarily constitutes the membership of the camp for the year. The dues of the camps are for the purpose of bearing the annual expenses of the organization.

Keeping view the first motion mentioned above preventing the reception of dues for the year after the report to the adjutant, it seems that there is no room for misunderstanding or dissatisfaction. The rule itself was adopted without a dissenting vote. When this roll is made up before the report of the adjutant is forwarded to headquarters of the Texas Division, then the members of the camp who desire to attend the reunions is ascertained by the camp and that number is furnished to the soliciting committee for contributions, and that committee makes its collections based upon the numbers furnished. This avoids all confusion as to the amount to be collected and distribution of same.

E. B. Lewis, Commander, Camp No. 620.

MAIL CAR ROBBERS CAUGHT

Council Bluffs, Iowa, Nov. 19.—Seven more arrests, one confession, the recovery of a large amount of the stolen money and the discovery of the automobile used by the bandits last night, this morning resulted in clearing up the mystery of the $3,500,000 mail-car robbery in the local railroad yards Saturday night. Two of the men arrested are white, and the others are negroes. The money was recovered in the chicken house of T. A. Daly following the confession of H. A. Reed. Reed lives at the Daly home. Both were arrested. The negroes arrested are held in connection of a mail sack not yet discovered. The money investigators recovered all the ten-dollar bills, but the total amount was not made public. Federal officials announced that the case had been completed. The ten persons under arrest will be given a hearing before United States Commissioner Byers.

TWO MILLION DOLLAR FIRE

New Orleans, La., Nov. 20.—Fire believed to have started from a switch engine spark developed on the river front early today, and before it could be extinguished had caused property damage estimated in excess of $2,000,000.

The blaze leveled the new fruit wharf and swept the water front for a distance of 2,000 feet in the downtown section of the river front. Considerable damage was done to the steamship Oneclot towing a barge loaded with oil, and six freight cars loaded with lumber were destroyed. The United States government crane, valued at $10,000, was burned.

Fort Worth, Texas, Nov. 18.—The annual convention of the American Executives Association opened here today, with publicity men from several states and secretaries from hundreds of Texas towns in attendance.

PROTECT FARMERS AGAINST UNJUST TAXATION

Dallas, Texas, Nov. 18.—The American Farm Bureau Federation has won its first skirmish in the battle to keep special interests from shifting the burden of taxation to the farm, according to C. O. Moser, secretary of the Texas Farm Bureau Federation. J. R. Howard, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation and expert in the employ of the organization, appeared before the taxation committee of the National Industrial Conference Board recently and convinced the members that the "Ralston-Nolan" bill providing for a one-percent tax on land valuation above $10,000 would do untold harm to the farming interests in the United States and would in many instances force the farmers to sell their farms. The farmers also opposed the proposed tax of one percent on sales of all commodities and they presented their side of the matter so clearly that they convinced Otto Kahn, New York banker, that his advocacy in the sales tax was wrong. The Farm Bureau intends to continue its fight to protect the farmers from the burden of unjust taxation.

PRODUCERS THREATEN STRIKE

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 18.—A nationwide producers' strike to combat the falling prices of farm products urged in a call sent out today by the National Farmers Union to local unions throughout the country. The organization represents the producers of grain, cotton, wool and livestock and is said to number 800,000 members.

PRICES TUMBLING

Washington, Nov. 18.—Price studies given out by the Department of Labor show marked declines during October in practically all items entering into the cost of living except house-furnishings. Clothing is said to have dropped 18 percent below the figures compiled to represent 1919 costs, and farm products 21 percent. In some lines October prices were still above those of a year ago, but all are quoted below the September, 1920, prices.

A GEORGIA LYNCHING

Douglas, Ga., Nov. 18.—Two negro men and one negro woman, alleged to have been implicated in the killing yesterday of Pearly Harper, a planter of this county, were shot to death early today by a mob of more than 150 men, who overpowered the sheriff and his two deputies.

PRETTY WIDOW WILL BE TRIED IN COURT

The News announced several days ago the list of criminal cases scheduled for trial in the present term of the Angelina county district court. Among those cases was the one of the State of Texas vs. Mrs. Samantha Roebuck, the pretty 36-year-old widow of J. D. Roebuck. This case comes to Angelina county upon a change of venue from Nacogdoches county, where the defendant has undergone a former trial.

The death of Mr. Roebuck occurred in San Augustine county, and readers of this paper are no doubt familiar with the circumstances surrounding the demise, together with the charge that his wife stands accused murdered through means of poisoning. Already the case has attracted considerable interest in East Texas, and the trial at Lufkin will not only draw a large crowd from our neighboring county, but many in this city will be present at the hearing.—Lufkin News.

"THEY SAID I HAD T. B. AND WOULD NOT LIVE THREE MONTHS"

Mr. Harold W. Schmidt, Box 98, Breese, Clinton Co., Ill., believes he has reason to praise Dr. Hartman's Remedy for Catarrhal conditions.

"I used Peruna eight months for Chronic Bronchial Catarrh. I do not get tired, feel like a giant, am six pounds over normal weight and able to work every day. In March, 1918, I contracted a severe cold with spitting and took to my bed. They said I had T. B. and would not live three months. After taking a couple bottles of Peruna and a box of Man-Elin Tablets, I could walk around and in seven months went back to work. My trouble was due to Chronic Catarrh of the nose and throat, which I had ten years, extending down into the bronchial tubes. Peruna was my life saver."

BURIED 30 YEARS IN A TREE

Telegraph Bracket Completely Enclosed in Wood Is Found in California.

Thirty-six years ago a telegraph bracket and insulator was nailed to a Douglas fir tree near Arcata, Cal. A few years later a falling branch badly damaged it and the wire which it had been supporting was removed. The tree was growing thriftily, adding every summer to its diameter a new layer of woody material, and this growth gradually pushed out around the bracket on all sides, leaving it buried in the tree trunk.

At the end of 26 years the tip of the glass insulator finally disappeared from sight and the only trace of it that could still be seen was a scarcely noticeable lump which looked like nothing more than a healed-over branch stub. A few weeks ago the tree was felled and the wood manufactured into barrel staves. The screech of the saw which happened to graze the edge of the glass called attention to this unusual "fossil."

On splitting open the stave bolt the whole story became clear in all its details. The clearly defined annual rings of the rapidly growing trees form an unimpeachable historical record.

The wood of the insulator bracket is still in good condition and the oak of which it was made has received an unintentional preservative treatment, being thoroughly impregnated with the resin of the surrounding fir. The interesting specimen can now be seen in the wood collection of the forestry division at the University of California.—American Forestry Magazine.

TURKS TURN DOWN BUTTONS

Refuse to Use Them Because They Are Made From Bones of Dogs That Formerly Roamed Streets.

When I was in Constantinople I made friends with several of the pariah dogs that roved the streets, and though they had their drawbacks it always seemed to me that they were likable beasts, and not so great a nuisance as one would suppose they must be. I was therefore genuinely sorry when I learned that the remorseless march of progress had led to the determination to get rid of them. You will remember that the poor dogs were shipped off to various islands and there left to die, because the Turk would not trespass against his religion by killing them outright. That was five or six years ago and apparently the unhappy dogs all met their inevitable fate. Today numbers of Russian refugees are housed on the islands which were formerly the dogs' prison, and the American Red Cross authorities, who are caring for these particular refugees, have set their proteges to work at making buttons from the dogs' bones. I am not altogether surprised to learn that the Turks will not buy the buttons.—Near East.

Swelled Head.
"I'm delighted to see wages going up and up. It's a splendid thing as long as swollen pocketbooks don't make swollen heads."
The speaker was Lady Duff Gordon. She went on:

"I heard a story the other day about a man who brought a couple of friends home from the club and sent down word to the cook that he'd like a few cheese sandwiches.

"The maid who carried the message returned in a few minutes and said: "The cook wishes me to tell you, sir, that she can't be disturbed, as she is giving a small after-theater supper party and is very busy cutting up the lobsters and opening the wine."

Raisin Imports Show Increase.
Nearly 8,000,000 pounds of raisins were exported from Malaga, Spain, to the United States during the first six months of 1920, a quantity that exceeds the total raisin export from that port for the seven-year period, 1913 to 1919, inclusive, according to the bureau of markets, United States department of agriculture. Practically the entire 1919 Malaga raisin stocks have been exhausted and there are no stocks on hand. The American consul reports that there is prospect of increased production. The raisin growers are looking for a continuation of the great demand for raisins in the United States.

French Forests Badly Hurt.
The forests of France, so carefully protected and cultivated for centuries, saved the cause for the allies, according to reliable information in government quarters. More than 40,000 trees a day were cut during the four years of the war to meet the demands of military leaders. Not only because of these demands, but from neglect and the ravages of war, the forests of France have been depleted, the war having destroyed more than 2,000,000,000 board feet of lumber and caused the neglect of about 750,000 acres of valuable wood land.

Black Bear Put Up Fight.
As residents of Maine know, the black bear is usually a shy, inoffensive animal, but a farmer who lives in Brownville ran across one not long ago that proved to be a very lively exception to the rule. The bear attacked him in the woods about a mile from his house so fiercely and persistently that it defeated his every effort to escape until he managed to pick up two heavy clubs. By flailing with one club and hitting the bear with the other, he fought it off until he worked his way to an open field.—Youth's Companion.

"BILL SIKES' HOUSE" MUST GO

Located in District Made Famous by Dickens, and Stands in Way of Improvements.

The house from whose roof Bill Sikes tried to lower himself by a rope to escape the mob that had tracked him to Jacob's Island is to be torn down. Bill, you remember, made a misstep as he tried to swing clear of the roof, and the noose at the end of the rope caught him and hanged him, whereas his dog, trying to leap from the roof to his shoulders, missed his aim and fell into the ditch at the base of the house, dashing out his brains on a stone.

Jacob's island is in Bedmondsey, near St. Saviour's docks. The ditches or canals which separated it from the mainland and which carried water from the Thames to the mills and tanneries in the district, long since disappeared. Bill Sikes' house was identified some time ago by the discovery of an old map of the district, on which its location was plainly indicated. It is in the rear of a house in Eckett street, and is used as a stable. The London county council plans to improve the entire district, so the region made notorious by "Oliver Twist" must go. The name of the sixteenth century Jacob, who had a large house and garden on the island, before it became an industrial district, is still preserved in the nearby Jacob street.—Detroit News.

BUILT FOR HIGH ALTITUDES

Frenchman Has Designed Airbus That Can Carry Passengers—Compartment to Be Airlight.

Why not use "aerial submarines" for flight in the upper air—that is, enclosed cars in which air at atmospheric pressure can be maintained? asks the Scientific American Monthly. Only by some such means will any but a very few highly trained pilots ever be able to attain to great altitudes, according to Dr. Guglielminetti, president of the section of physiology of the International Aeronautic exposition, and Dr. Garsault, of the technical section of aeronautics at the St. Cyr Military academy, France.

Louis Breguet, the builder of airplanes, has designed an airbus for use at high altitudes. It has a wing spread of 85 feet and a metal fuselage enclosing pilot, motor and passengers in an airtight cigar-shaped case. It is capable of carrying twenty-seven passengers, each with 88 pounds of baggage, a distance of 620 miles, or a pilot, two mechanics, 1,100 pounds of provisions and 10,300 pounds of gasoline a distance of 4,000 miles at 100 miles an hour. No oxygen tanks are needed.

Old Coach Travel Expensive.
In England, too, railway fares are about to be raised, at even a higher percentage than in this country, remarks a writer in the New York Times. Whether the consequent grumbling is higher there than here it is impossible to decide. As an intended help in stilling it, the newspapers are publishing the prices for transportation that travelers had to pay in pre-railway days.

Thus, for the journey from London to Glasgow the "inside" passenger of 1812 had to pay about $32. Going no farther than Newcastle from London cost the man inside the coach something like $28. In addition there was the outlay for meals on the road and for the long list of expected tips to guards, coachmen, etc.

"Tommy's" Talk French.
One detects the influence of the war in the village inns of England today, says a correspondent who has just returned from a walking tour.

The "lads of the village" are home again, and gather, as of yore, in the bar parlors to discuss the events of the day; but there is a marked difference in their vocabulary.

For they remember the estaminets of France and the language talked therein. "Encore de biere" has become the formula for repeating an order, and "fin" has taken its place among the recognized methods of infirmating refusal to drink again.—London Chronicle.

BUTTONS FROM OUR RIVERS

Pearl Mussel Fisheries Are a Flourishing and Very Interesting Industry.

It should be remembered that in addition to their food value fishes are necessary in our rivers if we are to perpetuate the pearl button industry of the country, which employs some twenty thousand people and yields a product valued at more than $5,000,000.

When the young mussels, which are of microscopic size, are thrown off from the brood pouches of their parents at the proper season, the larval mussels slowly drift to the bottom and perish in a few days' time unless they come in contact with a passing fish of suitable kind and succeed in making attachment. Once this attachment is made, the tissue of the fish grows over the little mussel, until it has undergone a remarkable change of form and structure; then it drops from the fish to commence its independent life at the bottom of the stream or lake.

It is a further fact that the young of particular kinds of mussels require the gills of particular kinds of fishes as nurseries. The black bass is host for several sorts of mussels, while the kelpack, a kind of herring, is the only known host for the best of all mussels. As this last mentioned fish is far from being abundant in American rivers, it is plain that much care should be exercised in its maintenance.

The mussel fishery that supplies the fresh water pearl button industry is actively conducted in at least twenty states in the Mississippi river basin, the raw production of shells now has a value of about $1,000,000. The fresh water pearl button is now recognized as among the cheapest durable buttons that can be procured. The mussel beds have been rapidly depleted, chiefly because the fishermen in past years would retain only the very best shells and discard as culls all shells that were of an inferior grade.

Necessary action in the way of government legislation to protect the mussel fisheries has been so long delayed that this unique and rather important industry is now sure to experience considerable difficulty in perpetuating itself.—Floyd W. Parsons, in the Saturday Evening Post.

WHERE BOARD IS NOW CHEAP

Girls in the Mission Schools in China Pay Only $18 Year for Their Meals.

It is refreshing in these days of high prices to learn that somewhere it is possible to get one's daily bread and its accompaniments at a low figure. The place is China—Tengchow, in the province of Shantung. There, in the mission school, a girl may have three meals a day for $18 a year.

The menu sounds strange to the school girl of the western world, but to the Chinese student it is highly satisfactory. Steamed corn bread and raw turnips that have been kept in brine and then chopped quite fine compose the regulation breakfast almost all the year. For dinner there is usually millet cooked dry like rice, and some hot vegetable. Twice a week the vegetable is cooked with fat pork instead of in bean oil as usual. Supper is the same as breakfast. Perhaps half a dozen times a year, however, they celebrate with more luxurious fare.—Christian Science Monitor.

Make Four Speeches for One.
William Lyon Phelps, professor of English literature at Yale, declares he gets credit for only 25 per cent of the after-dinner speeches he actually makes. "Every time I accept an invitation to speak I really make four addresses. First, is the speech I prepare in advance. That is pretty good. Second, is the speech I really make. Third, is the speech I make on the way home, which is the best of all; and fourth, is the speech the newspapers next morning say I made, which bears no relation to any of the others."—Boston Globe.

Taking After Mother.
Bert just came home from college and he had a "shadow" on his upper lip. He stopped to say "Hello" to his grandfather.
His grandfather looked him over and said: "Why, son, you look more like your mother every day."
"What makes you think so?" asked Bert.
"Why, because your father had a mustache that came down to his chin. Just look at that one of yours; you must take after your mother."—Indianapolis News.

Not Like a Lawyer.
Mirandy, of dusky hue, made a poor witness. In answer to every question put to her by the attorney she invariably replied, "I think so." The attorney finally became disgusted.
"Now look here," he warned. "I want you to cut out that thinking and answer questions. Now talk!"
"Yes, sah," quavered Mirandy.
"But, mistab, you see it's like dis. Ah ain't like you lawyers; ah can't talk without thinkin'."

A Long Time to Wait.
"Well, professor," inquired the young musician, "how do my compositions please you?"
"Why, I think," responded the older man, "that they may perhaps be played when Mozart, Haydn, Mendelssohn and Meyerbeer have been forgotten."
"Really?" exclaimed the young musician in ecstasy.
"Certainly, but not till then," remarked the other.—Houston Post.

JOHN PERRITTE

John Perritte, affectionately known to his associates as "Uncle Jack," died at 9:30 Saturday night at his home at Attoyac, aged a little more than 81 years.

He is survived by his wife, five sons and two daughters, namely, W. S., John F., James T., W. V. and H. T. Perritte, and Mrs. Alice James and Mrs. Thad Fuller, all of whom were present at the funeral. W. V. Perritte's home is in Port Arthur and Rev. H. T. Perritte is pastor of the First Presbyterian church at Texas-kana.

Mr. Perritte was born in Butler county, Alabama, came to Nacogdoches county when a young man and resided for 52 years at the place where he died.

On November 21, 1860, he was married to Miss Sarah Jennings of this county, an dhe was laid to rest on the 60th anniversary of his wedding. Mr. Perritte had been a member of the Methodist church for 63 years, and for more than 50 years served as a steward of his church, rendering invaluable service to his congregation and by precept and example urged others to a Christian life.

Interment was made at 3:30 Sunday afternoon in the Attoyac cemetery, the services being conducted by Rev. A. Clements of the Free Methodist church in the presence of a large concourse of friends and neighbors, and the genuine grief shown was an evidence of the high esteem in which he was held.

May he rest in peace.

FOUND DEAD IN BED

Meechie Royal, a negro woman residing on the Henry Millard place, two miles north of the city, was found dead in bed early Sunday morning by a small negro boy who occupied the bed with her. The woman was 22 years old and had long been a sufferer from heart disease. She attended the tent show Saturday night and retired in seemingly good health. Judge Frank Huston was notified and at 7:30 Sunday morning held an inquest, finding that deceased came to her death from natural causes.

RAILROADS' DIFFICULTIES

Washington, Nov. 22.—Counsel for New England railroads told the Interstate Commerce Commission today that unless immediate financial assistance was afforded the lines, all or most of them, would very shortly be driven into receiverships. The commission was told that the actual returns from the roads for September and the estimated returns for October under the increased rates confirmed the prediction that the roads' incomes were not sufficient to meet requirements.

BY GILES M. HALTOM

TWO PRESIDENTS

On the day that George Washington completed his eight years of service in the White House, gave way to his successor, The Aurora, then one of the leading papers of Philadelphia, said:

"The man who is the source of all the misfortunes of our country is this day reduced to the level with his fellow citizens, is no longer possessed of power to multiply evils upon the United States. If ever there was a period of rejoicing, this is the moment. Every heart in union with freedom and happiness of the people ought to beat high with exultation that the name of Washington from this day ceases to give currency to political iniquity and to legalize corruption. A new era is now opening upon us, an era that promises much to the people; for public measures must now stand upon their merits, and no nefarious projects can no longer be supported by a name.

"When a retrospect is taken of the Washington administration for eight years, it is a subject of great astonishment that a single individual could have enkindled the principles of republicanism on an enlightened people, and should have carried on designs against the public liberty so far as to have put in jeopardy its very existence."

If you but change the name of Washington to Wilson this is a perfect replica of the utterances of many of the newspapers of the present day, some of them, we regret to say, falsely representing themselves as democratic.

The criticism of Wilson is not less unjust and unwarranted than that of Washington, though utterly broken in health by the strain of his public service, he may, like Washington, not live long enough to receive justice at the hands of those who now join the clamor of denunciation of him.

But he will live in history long after those who assail him are forgotten. His administration has not been without faults, but these will count nothing against his ultimate rank as one of the country's greatest presidents. —New Orleans States.

SEVENTEEN-CENT DINNERS

New York, Nov. 24.—Delegates to the convention of the National Hotel Association here couldn't believe that only 15 minutes from the tip of Manhattan tempting meals are served for exactly 17 cents each. So Frederick A. Wallace, immigration commissioner on Ellis Island, invited doubters on a tour of culinary inspection, just to show how they do it on Uncle Sam's doorstep.

A number of the hotel men, who say they are intent on bringing down the cost of tavern fare, accepted the commissioner's invitation, with the idea of infusing some of the Ellis Island methods into the conduct of their own kitchens.

"For particulars," said the commissioner, "see MacGowan."

The secret of reducing the costliness of provender as it appears, steaming and succulent, on the dinner table, is a mystery, but MacGowan, D. T. MacGowan, caterer on the island, is on the inside. His explanation runs: "Purchases on a lowest bid basis, quantity production and profits never more than 1.95 percent on the monthly investment. Result: 17 cent dinners."

And when someone interposed that MacGowan "couldn't serve a regular meal for 17 cents," he exhibited, as a sample menu, the following:

Breakfast: Rice with milk, stewed prunes, bread and butter and coffee with two lumps of sugar to the cup.

Dinner: English beef soup with barley, Irish stew with vegetables, tapioca pudding and coffee.

Supper: Lamb hash, green peppers, bread and butter, blackberry jelly, coffee and tea.

The Fourth Red Cross Call ends Thursday night and Nacogdoches is still far behind her quota.

The Red Cross workers earnestly request all who have the 1921 Red Cross buttons to wear them through Thanksgiving Day, and all who have not paid their annual dues to do so at once. State Director Briggs called up Nacogdoches County Headquarters Sunday and stated that he is expecting us to make good, and we must not fall down.

NACOGDOCHES TRADITIONS.

The item in the Sentinel about the old negro resident, aged one hundred years, calls up reflections upon kindred lines. It would have been more interesting if it had stated his origin, his family relations, white and colored, and his places of residence, so that aged men and old residents might locate and identify him.

What does the venerable W. A. Skillern say about it? He came to Texas in 1834 with his parents from Tennessee and settled right where Melrose now stands in 1834. August Teutsch was an arrival there soon after. There is no other person living that was near there in 1833. Aunt Martha Patton Burrows (colored) lived among the General Rusk relatives, when she was a girl, and knew Helena Rusk, then staying in the W. W. Barrett family, where she died. The Barrett home was on ground next door north of the W. U. Perkins home.

Uncle Ned Simpson, (colored) claimed to be about 100 years old when he died about 1890. In this he was probably mistaken, but he was not mistaken as to the John L. Simpson family bringing him from Kentucky, in the vicinity where General Grant Simpson lived; and he was with the Texas army under General Zachary Taylor, in the Mexican war, where he saw the leaders. He always claimed that he deserved a pension. He returned to Nacogdoches when the war ended, and lived on the old Simpson ranch with his owner.

Some way, this suggests a thought herein before stated that a remarkable number of settlers, in the olden days of Nacogdoches county, came from Tennessee, the gallant and game old "volunteer state" of Old Hickory, and his pet, Sam Houston; for instance, the Whitakers, Lees, Lucases, Brutons, Ortons, Haltoms, Simpsons, Watkinses, Hales, Halls, Flournoys, Barhams, Casons and others of equal note. All honor be to Tennessee.

But presto change! The big-hearted democrat, Bob Taylor, is gone from Tennessee, and his antagonistic brother, Alf Taylor, has become the successful republican leader in the governor's election, thus putting the Solid South to shame and reversing its patriotic and proud traditions.

There is a newspaper at Honey

Grove, Texas, called the "Signal." It must be akin to the Sentinel from the name of its ancestry. The editor gave a pathetic editorial expression of his chagrin over the recent tumble of Tennessee into the republican ranks, using the headline, "Goodbye Tennessee." He said he was born and raised there, and had always made a proud boast of the fact, having a sacred veneration for all its traditions. —But alas! Tennessee had deserted and broken the Solid South, and thereby had caused him to hank his head in shame and clothe himself in sackcloth and ashes.

In Tennessee's early career, when a man got mad with his situation or got in bad otherwise, he fled to Texas. That doesn't go now, because Texas has become famously good, and all he can do is to turn his coat and stand in the republican line-up. "All roads lead to Rome." Do as Romans do and forget that they destroyed Saint Paul. The republicans did.

Radio-Active Lead.

At least two kinds of lead exist writes Prof. Theodore W. Richards in Science. One, the ordinary metal disseminated throughout the world; another, a form of lead apparently produced by the decomposition of uranium, radium being one of the intermediate products. If we leave out of consideration the probable inessential difference in radio activity, the two kinds are very closely if not exactly alike in every respect, excepting atomic weight, density and immediately related properties involving weight, such as solubility. Thorium lead appears to be a third variety, with similar relations. Shall we call these substances different elements, or the same?

European Jiu-Jitsu.

Jiu-Jitsu is supposed to come from Japan, but an art of self-defense virtually identical with it was taught in Europe during the seventeenth century. Its principles are expounded in a book by one Nicholas Peters, published at Amsterdam in 1674, which bears the long explanatory title: "The art of wrestling, and how one can protect oneself in all kinds of quarrels that may occur; how one can with agility and rapidity repel all unfair attacks, and meet one's adversary with science."

W. G. Reid left Tuesday night for Houston, where he will attend to important business matters.

NO SPORT IN HUNTING SEAL

Gathering in of the Helpless Creatures Simply Evolves Itself Into a Merciless Slaughter.

Hunting the seal from the icy, storm-swept coast of Newfoundland is not sport; it is toil, whereby in part the Newfoundlander wins his scanty measure of bread, says Spare Moments. The hunt is a dull and hideous slaughter, scurrying pack and the swinging and thrusting of an iron-shod gaff, a merciless raining of blows, with a silent waste of ice all splashed with red at the end of it. There is no sport in this, nor is there any fear of hurt, for the seal pleads and whines like a child, even while the gaff is falling; but the chase is beset with multitudinous and unfore-shadowed perils. The wind gathers the ice into floes and jams it up against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundlander takes his food and his goggles, and sets out from his little harbor, starting at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice in inevitably sweeps it out again without warning in an hour, or a day or a week; nor does it pause to consider the situation of the men who are 20 miles off shore. It veers and freshens and drives the whole mass, grinding and heaving, far out to sea, where it disperses it into its separate fragments.

The lives of the hunters depend upon the watchfulness of the attenuated line of lookouts, from the women on the headland to the first sentinel within signaling distance.

Why "Actors Hate Cats."

Speaking at the International Women's Franchise club in London, Miss Horniman, the English theatrical manager, told some entertaining stories of theatrical experiences. Actors can stand a good deal, she said, but they hate a cat, for they know that as long as it is on the stage the audience can look at nothing else. Miss Horniman had some amusing stories of the Gayety cats. Trixie, who was killed on the scene of her public triumphs by the fall of the safety curtain, once spoiled the last act of "Hindle Wakes" by getting under a table where the actors could not see her, but the audience could, and cheerfully pretending to chase a mouse. Then strolling across to the stage fire, she turned from it with disdain and settled herself for warmth among the footlights. Another cat intruded into a quiet scene of tragic farewell and led the short-sighted lover on a futile chase among the overturning furniture.

FOOTBALL BOYS RECEIVE SUBSTANTIAL APPRECIATION

Wednesday morning at the high school the football boys were the recipients of a wonderful token of appreciation from some of the good Nacogdoches women who have confidence in the home team's playing qualities. The token was brought to the school at the noon hour and deposited in the auditorium by Mmes. Ellis Gaston, Ed Gaston and Giles Parmley, and it consisted of toothsome sandwiches, hamburgers and various kinds of delicious fruits.

Superintendent R. F. Davis called the house to order, or rather the football boys, and told them that the good women of Nacogdoches were using this opportunity to show the Nacogdoches football boys their confidence before entering into the big fight at Lufkin tomorrow.

Mrs. Ed Gaston then made a few remarks, saying that she wanted the boys to eat all they could, and be strong for the game with Lufkin—and her advice was followed.

After Mrs. Gaston's talk, Coach T. H. Hunt replied in behalf of the boys, saying that the football boys appreciated such token "of the purest confidence" from the Nacogdoches women. Mr. Hunt then called for some of the "rahs" in honor of the occasion, and this was properly done.

The food was then passed through the crowd of boys, and all "fell to", helping themselves liberally. The token was deeply appreciated, and greatly enjoyed by the boys for whom it was intended.

WARNING AS TO FIRES

We are having an unusually dry, windy spell of weather. Many residents have the gutters and valleys on their roofs full of dry leaves, which are good and ready to "start something," only awaiting the opportunity afforded by a falling spark or cinder, and should a fire get started under such favorable conditions for spreading, all human effort would be of little avail. So every good citizen owes it to himself and the whole town to immediately remove this great fire hazard.

East Main Street

S. MINTZ & SON

Nacogdoches Texas

"NACOGDOCHES WILL CHANGE," SAYS REA NYE

"Nacogdoches is an old town, is a wealthy town and is one of the best little towns, no doubt, in East Texas, but there is going to be a change in it before long. The people of Nacogdoches are going to awaken, new enterprises are going to come, and Nacogdoches will be different from what it is now." These were substantially the words used Thursday afternoon by Miss Nye, the famous "Mystery Woman" who has been during the past week attracting so much interest in the city by reason of her wonderful power to forecast the future, and tell the secrets of the past and present.

The newspaper man, because of so much interest being manifested over town in Miss Nye and her wonderful exhibitions at the Manville Bros. Tent Show showing here, arranged to have an interview with her Thursday afternoon for the purpose of learning for the benefit of the public some of the interesting things connected with her profession. Miss Nye does not grant interviews except in cases of extreme interest and to newspapers.

Miss Nye, "the Mystery Woman," is a woman with a very strong and warm personality, and has the power to make friends with anyone whom she chooses, is medium in size and height, has brown eyes and a very pleasant nature. She is a great lover of animals, having a number of pets in her room which she showed to the newspaper man Thursday afternoon while being interviewed at the home of Mrs. Earle on North Fredonia street. She also has the ability to converse well, having traveled extensively over the globe, carrying to a college education, and she can relate some interesting experiences she has had while traveling over the world.

Miss Nye is exceedingly interesting in her work, and says that every day she comes to take greater pleasure in it. "Ever since I was a small child I have had the faculty to forecast things. When I was a child I used to tell my mother that we were going to have guests for dinner, and almost every time my prophecy would come true. I just felt things, and they would come true. During the last election, I forecasted a Republican landslide, and my premonitions came true.

I also remember that some few years ago I was in Akron, Ohio, and I prophesied that there would be a destructive fire in Huntington, West Virginia. In a few days the papers carried the story of the fire as I had told it. I have prophesied other fires which came true."

Miss Nye is of the Episcopal faith, although she leans more to science than anything else in her religion. Her husband is a member of the Methodist church. "I am no spiritualist; have no faith in it; but I do believe in God, and I believe he gave me the power to look into the future and see things. I trust God, believe in him, look to him for strength and he is my Master," Miss Nye said.

Miss Nye has traveled all over the world, having visited almost all of the European countries, a number of the Asiatic, traveled extensively in South America, Mexico, and countries of the Pacific. She has gone to school in London, her father was a state senator in Florida, congressman for fourteen years, and one of her uncles was prosecuting attorney in New York for a number of years.

She Wanted to Know.
 A traveling man the other day was telling of one of his customers, a hardware merchant in one of the smaller places in the state, who enjoys the game of pool as a diversion after business hours. Frequently after closing his store he drops in a poolroom next door and enjoys a game or two before going home. His little daughter, who often waits on him while indulging in his pastime, one evening after going home said to her mother, "What kind of a game is that daddy plays when he takes a stick and hits a ball, then says, 'Oh h—!'"—San Francisco Argonaut.

Invention Due to Poverty.
 Poverty is responsible for the invention of the blanket. Years ago a man in England lost all his wealth and became very poor. One cold winter night in 1340 he used a piece of rough, unfinished cloth for a bed covering to keep himself warm, and from this makeshift bed covering he invented the blanket. The name of this man was Thomas Blanket, and the new kind of bedding has been known under the name of Blanket ever since.

ALL DELIGHT TO HONOR FOCH

Whole World Paid Homage to the Genius of the Great French Master of War.

Marshal Foch's home in the Avenue de Saxe, Paris, has become one of the wonderful dwelling places of the world. Far more than a dwelling place, it is now a museum of glory. The rooms of that modest first floor which all civilization has offered in homage to the man who led the allies to victory. Such profusion of beautiful things and notable works of art is rare, and amidst it the unassuming figure of the marshal moves almost griefed, as it seems, by the possession of these precious tributes, which only his kindly courtesy induced him to accept.

They come from every part of the world. That large, solid silver statuette of a French general of the Napoleonic wars is signed by Los Amigos de Francia a Francophile league in Spain. Next to it is an alabaster figure by a French master. Over the hearth stands a great gilt empire clock inscribed "To Marshal Foch, from the grateful town of Cassel."

Gold caskets, jeweled swords of honor, antique and valuable miniatures and ivories, the splendid enameled collar of the Grand Cross of the Bath, are crowded together in the glass cabinets that line the walls. Here is all the respect, all the enthusiasm, all the gratitude and joy of victory of a whole world, expressed in the finest and loveliest forms that the ingenuity of great artists, sculptors, goldsmiths, can contrive. And it is proof and touchstone of the merit of the man to whom they have been offered that he lives in this illustrious treasury of glory without seeming to be conscious either of it or his fame.—G. Ward Price, in the Continental Edition of the London Mail.

BEFORE WHITE MAN'S COMING

Eight Groups of Indians Divided the Land Which We Now Know as North America.

The North American Indians were divided into seven or eight great groups, according to their various languages. The Algonquins made up the largest family, comprising the eastern tribes of Canada and the United States south of Hudson bay, east of the Mississippi river and south to Virginia and Tennessee, including the Ojibwas, Ottawas, Crees, Algonquins and Blackfeet. The Iroquois or Five Nations of Cooper's stirring tales inhabited the east central states, including New York. West of them lived the Dakotas or Sioux, from Canada to Arkansas and from the Mississippi to the Rocky mountains. The Muskogis or Appalachians occupied the southeastern states as far west as the Mississippi; while the Shoshonis were at home in the region from Texas to Montana and from California to Idaho. The Athabascas, the Yumas, and the Pueblos occupied Alaska and Canada, Oregon and New Mexico respectively.

Strange Hotel.

What is probably the queerest hotel and restaurant in the world is that recently erected at Atlantic City, N. J. It takes the form of a monster elephant. Seen from a distance the resemblance of the structure to a live elephant is remarkable. As you approach it its huge size becomes apparent, but you quickly observe that it is only a thing of wood and iron, but most cleverly contrived. It boasts of many beds, and a dining pavilion on the animal's back capable of accommodating two hundred people. One reaches this novel restaurant by means of a staircase which runs up through the animal's legs and body. Here and there windows give the necessary light. Needless to say the elephant hotel is causing quite an attraction, and its owner bids fair to reap a good harvest as a result of his ingenuity.

Virginia Still Holds Record.

Even with the inauguration of an Ohioan as president next March assured, as nearly as human events can be, Virginia will still hold the record for native sons in the White House. The record then will stand: Virginia, Washington, Jefferson, Madison, Monroe, William Henry Harrison, Tyler, Taylor, Wilson, S; Ohio, Grant, Hayes, Garfield, Benjamin Harrison, McKinley, Taft, Harding or Cox, 7. Of Virginia's sons five were of English paternal ancestry, two Scotch, one Welsh. Of Ohio's sons three were of English paternal ancestry, two Scotch, one Scotch-Irish. We have seen no authorized statement of the paternal ancestry of Harding or Cox.

Experiments in Road Building.

In order accurately to determine the durability of the various kinds of roadway, the government bureau has a stretch of roadway at Arlington representing all the different methods of road building, and over this a heavy machine is drawn back and forth by cable. This is supposed to reproduce the action of vehicles passing over it and the results are carefully noted and compared. The result of the operations will be used as a guide to the expenditure of nearly $300,000,000 which will be made under government auspices during the next three years.

HIS BLINDNESS NO HANDICAP

English Botanist Rose to Heights of Fame, Though Sight Failed Him in Early Life.

Mr. J. G. Wilkinson, the famous blind botanist, lost his sight in his early life. "During all my painting," he said, "I had always been much attracted by trees and plants, so I got Percy Grimshaw to take me to the Temple Newsam woods, outside Leeds, to a favorite beech tree there, and I asked him to pluck for me a leaf of it. He did so, and with my tongue I began to touch every part of this leaf, and so got its various details and characteristics thoroughly into my head, till I was sure I could recognize a beech leaf anywhere. From that I began studying leaves from other trees in a similar manner, until I could pick out any of them at once from the mixed lot you gave me. . . . Now (I hope I may say it with all modesty), there is not a leaf, stem, fruit or flower of any plant or tree in the British islands which I do not know, and should not be able to recognize immediately I had touched it with my tongue, even if not with my hands."

True Chivalry.

One evening, coming home from the theater on a car with a lady friend, Jones stepped from the car and noticed a motorcar coming up behind the car.

So Jones kept his eye on the car and took the elbow of the next person alighting after him, expecting it to be his friend.

Still watching the motor, he led the elbow safely to the walk and then turned to her.

But to his embarrassment who should he find himself escorting but a great tall man, who said, in the sweetest voice:

"Thank you, I was never escorted by a young man across the street before; you are the kindest fellow I ever met!"

The lady was following them, and she giggled over the joke all the rest of the way home.

DOCTOR ADVISED HIM TO TAKE IT

A. F. Roberts, Successful Cattle Dealer, Gains 16 Pounds in 60 Days Taking Tanlac

"One of the best physicians in Colorado advised me to take Tanlac, and it has not only overcome my troubles but I have gained sixteen pounds since taking it sixty days ago," said A. F. Roberts, of Rocky Ford, Alberta, Canada. Mr. Roberts is one of the largest cattle dealers in his section of the country and before moving to Canada a short time ago he had spent most of his life in Colorado.

"I now understand why Tanlac enjoys such wide popularity," said Mr. Roberts, "and it deserves all the praise given it."

"For two years I had suffered acutely from stomach trouble which became so bad that I could hardly retain anything at all. I was too nervous to get a good night's rest, and was badly constipated and suffered a lot from dizzy spells. Finally I became so weak and run down that I could hardly get about."

"My physician certainly knew what he was doing when he advised me to take Tanlac, for it has done its work wonderfully and I am as healthy and strong as I ever was in my life. I haven't a trace of stomach trouble, nervousness or constipation left and I simply feel fine all the time. Tanlac certainly deserves the strongest recommendation I can give it."

Tanlac is sold in Nacogdoches by Swift Bros. & Smith, Stripling, Haselwood & Co., and in Garrison by the Dale Drug Co.

NACOGDOCHES OIL NEWS

The Welsh Drilling Company of Arcadia, Fla., have finished their first shallow well on the T. J. Williams lease, south of the Carolina holdings, and are moving their drilling machinery about 200 feet to a new location.

The Mack Oil Corporation closed Monday a deal with Patton & Van to drill on the Melrose fields in the near future.

The entire first floor of the Redland Hotel is occupied by oil men who have their offices located there.

For Torpid Liver

"Black-Draught is, in my opinion, the best liver medicine on the market," states Mrs. R. H. Whiteside, of Keota, Okla. She continues: "I had a pain in my chest after eating—tight, uncomfortable feeling—and this was very disagreeable and brought on headache. I was constipated and knew it was indigestion and inactive liver. I began the use of Black-Draught, night and morning, and it sure is splendid, and certainly gives relief."

Theford's BLACK-DRAUGHT

For over seventy years this purely vegetable preparation has been found beneficial by thousands of persons suffering from effects of a torpid, or slow-acting liver. Indigestion, biliousness, colic, coated tongue, dizziness, constipation, bitter taste, sleeplessness, lack of energy, pain in back, puffiness under the eyes—any or all of these symptoms often indicate that there is something the matter with your liver. You can't be too careful about the medicine you take. Be sure that the name, "Theford's Black-Draught," is on the package. At all druggists.

FARM HOUSE DYNAMITED SEVERAL INMATES KILLED

Germantown, Tenn., Nov. 19.—James Bolton, a farmer whose home near here, was dynamited yesterday, died last night, bringing the death list to three. Mrs. Hattie Shubert Bolton's housekeeper whose two small children were killed instantly, is believed to be mortally injured. Vernon Thompson is held in connection with the explosion. The Montgomery county authorities said investigation showed that Bolton and Thompson had been enemies of long standing. Their enmity culminated in an encounter on election day, when Bolton shot Thompson in the neck.

JEFF DAVIS MEMORIAL

Austin, Texas, Nov. 19.—Almost coincident with the recent death of Major George W. Littlefield of Austin, former member of the Board of Regents of the University of Texas, came the news that the work of completing the memorial obelisk to Jefferson Davis at Fairview, Ky., will be resumed. It is recalled in this connection that the late Major Littlefield was one of the prime movers in the project to bring about the erection of this memorial shaft. He donated $100,000 to the fund that was raised for the purpose and was at the head of the organization or committee that had the work in charge.

TEXAS MAY PASS JAPANESE LAND OWNERSHIP LAW

Austin, Texas, Nov. 20.—Legislation designed to prevent Japanese from acquiring ownership of land in Texas will be introduced in the next session of the Texas legislature in January, State Senator W. H. Bledsoe of Lubbock announced here Thursday. The bill, he said, would be patterned after the California legislation on the subject. Senator Bledsoe said negotiations for the establishment of a Japanese colony in the Rio Grande valley are under way and that he would make every legal effort to prevent its creation.

THE NEWEST MARVEL PHOTOGRAPHY BY WIRE

The successful demonstration yesterday of the transmission of a photograph by wire more than 1,000 miles between the editorial offices of the World and the St. Louis Post-Dispatch marks the addition of another marvel to the lengthening list of electrical hysteresis.

For mysterious, the new process is as mysterious as the wireless and the telephone. It can be described. It cannot be explained. Even while doing man's bidding meekly, electricity baffles final analysis. Comparison is not explanation; yet telestereography may be likened to the telephone. As the human voice recorded on one instrument in St. Louis may echo from a like record in New York, so the new marvel reproduces at one end of the 1,000-mile wire the lineaments of a form or object traced at the other end.

Those who saw the demonstration felt that they were looking on at the making of history; some of them could recall a similar Sunday afternoon—can it be only ten crowded years ago?—When Glenn H. Curtiss came to the offices of the World after completing for its $10,000 prize, the famous Albany-New York airplane flight that brought travel in the air a long step nearer fruition.

First an impossibility; then a toy, then a daily, accustomed and unregarded servant of man—the familiar cycle of invention—upon this course Mr. Bell's new marvel seems fairly aunched in yesterday's demonstration. The scientists of the world will watch that development, and the promised next step toward photography by wireless, with the keenest interest.—New York World.

COMMERCIAL SECRETARIES

CALIFORNIA CONGRESSMAN KILLED IN AUTO SMASH

Pomona, Cal., Nov. 20.—Congressman-elect Charles F. Vandewater, republican, of Long Beach, Cal., and his secretary, Miss Jammess Leavin, also of Long Beach, were killed at Walnut, twelve miles from here, early this morning when the auto in which they were riding was struck by a motor truck.

TO REVISE COVENANT

Geneva, Switzerland, Nov. 20.—The first formal step looking to a revision of the Covenant of the League of Nations was taken in the assembly of the league at today's session, when the Dutch minister of foreign affairs, H. A. Van Karanbeek, introduced a resolution to reconsider Article 18, having to do with the registration of treaties.

HOW DOCTORS TREAT COLDS AND THE FLU

First Step in Treatment Is a Brisk Purgative With Calotabs, the Purified and Refined Calomel Tablets that are Nausealess, Safe and Sure.

Doctors have found by experience that no medicine for colds and influenza can be depended upon for full effectiveness until the liver is made thoroughly active. That is why the first step in the treatment is the new, nausealess calomel tablets called Calotabs, which are free from the sickening and weakening effects of the old style calomel. Doctors also point out the fact that an active liver may go a long way towards preventing influenza and is one of the most important factors in enabling the patient to successfully withstand an attack and ward off pneumonia.

One Calotab on the tongue at bed time with a swallow of water—that's all. No salts, no nausea nor the slightest interference with your eating, pleasure or work. Next morning your cold has vanished, your liver is active, your system is purified, and you are feeling fine, with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Druggists sell Calotabs only in original sealed packages, price thirty-five cents. Your money will be cheerfully refunded if you do not find them delightful.—(Adv.)

Arabian Potentate's Comments on European Men and Measures Interesting in the Extreme.

The oriental tact and personal charm of Emir Feisal did much to win friends for the Arabian cause in Paris. No one ever came away from him in an angry mood. The Emir was very witty and many stories are told of his clever retorts to acquaintances in Paris. On one occasion a correspondent asked him to give his opinion of modern statesmen as a result of his acquaintance. He replied: "They are like modern paintings. They should be hung in a gallery and be viewed from a distance." Another time at a meeting of the council of ten, M. Pichon referred to the claims of France in Syria, which he said were based on the Crusades. Emir Feisal turned toward him and inquired mildly: "I am not a great student of history, but would you kindly tell me which one of us won the Crusades?"

Mr. Balfour once tried to find out what Emir Feisal thought of the British government. He succeeded. "It reminds me of a caravan in the desert. You see an impressive string of dromedaries in the distance trekking single file across the shifting sands. When you first overtake them, you observe that the last camel is tied to the tail of the next in line. When you reach the head of the column, you find that a little donkey is leading the whole string."—Asia Magazine.

Youth's Many and Varied Reasons for Getting Out of Task of Polishing His Shoes.

"No, mother, it isn't that I'm lazy that I don't want to polish my shoes," said Young Nick, the boy Machiavelli. "I'm just tryin' to be economical and help you an' dad save money. If I wuz to polish my shoes it 'ud show up my ole stockings so's I'd hafta put on clean ones an' if I did that I'd hafta brush my clothes."

"An' you know, mother, I gotter lot of bad spots in my pants an' on my coat, and if I brushed 'em the spots would stand out so's you'd just hafta buy me a new suit."

"I been studyin' camouflage, mother, nice neutral tint that nobody scarcely notices—except you, mother, and you get too close. But just as I am, mother, I'm not hardly visible to the naked eye at all, and it's awful convenient."

"Besides, it saves money, you see, as I been tellin' you. No'm, I don't daast wash my face and hands too hard, because they'd be so bright an' shiny they'd call attention to my grease spots."

"Yes'm, I'll clean all up, if you say so, of course, but I don't think you oughter discourage me when I'm trying to help you save money. Besides, there's Bill callin' me now, an' if I wuz to clean up I'd go right out and get dirty again. Yes'm, I promise. When I come in I'll. Awri, Bill, I'm comin'!"—Chicago News.

Rats Overrun English Town.

Millions of rats are overrunning Abertillery (Monmouth), England, and neighborhood. While the congregation was leaving a Baptist church in Tillery street on a recent Sunday an army of rats ran among them. One woman collapsed. All means have been used, but the rats have not only survived, but also thrived. The medical officer of health, Dr. Baillie Smith, says the rats are of two kinds—brown and black. The black rats, as a rule, keep to the sewers, but the brown rats climb anything—telegraph poles and rain and gas pipes. They swarm everywhere. It was suggested to the Abertillery district council that expert rat destroyers should be employed, but local staff having stated that they could do better than the experts, the matter has been left to them with discretionary power to call in help if necessary.

Play Ground in Tiers.

The first municipal play ground of Csecho-Slovakia, in Prague, occupies a high hill which is terraced off, supplying space at the top for tennis courts and ball grounds; on a lower terrace a pavilion, band stand and open-air theater, on a still lower tier a running track, and further down the children's grounds, with sand pile, wading pool and swings. In this latter section there are pavilions where mothers can sit and rest or sew as they watch the children. This first play ground for children is a co-operative effort of the Czech government and the American "Y" which will eventually be entirely under government management. At present the city has supplied the place, the Y. M. C. A. is paying for the equipment and the Y. W. C. A. has given the leadership. Charts for smaller play places for other parts of the city are being prepared.

Artificial Silk Improved.

A new process has been developed whereby the same raw material (wood cellulose) is converted into an imitation silk which, when woven into cloth, has remarkable brilliancy and durability, with a "feel" like that of real silk. It is waterproof and no more inflammable than natural silk. The new process silk can be drawn into much finer threads than those of ordinary artificial silk, and is said to be particularly remarkable for the quality of the weaves made from it.

Its Nature.

"Isn't it too bad, this dispute they're having with Germany over coal?" "Yes; it is a burning shame."

A Reliable Remedy for Colds and Croup

It would surprise you to know the number of people who use and recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Mrs. J. N. Rose, Verona, Pa., writes: "Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has been used by myself and husband for a number of years for coughs and colds. I also gave it to my little granddaughter, three and a half years of age when she had croup last winter. It broke up the attack at once. I have recommended this remedy to a number of my friends and neighbors who have used it with good results." Sold by Stripling, Haselwood & Co.

Serious Results from Colds

Colds not only cause a tremendous financial loss but also serious injury to every one who contracts them because they lower the vitality and prepare the system for the more serious diseases. It is not at all unusual for people who have serious lung trouble to say "I had a hard cold last winter." Why not take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and cure your cold why you can. Calomel loses you a day! You know what calomel is. It's mercury; quicksilver. Calomel is dangerous. It crashes into your bile like dynamite, cramping and sickening you. Calomel attacks the bones and should never be put into your system.

Take "Dodson's Liver Tone" Instead!

When you feel bilious, sluggish, constipated and all knocked out and believe you need a dose of dangerous calomel, just remember that your druggist sells for a few cents a large bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone, which is entirely vegetable and pleasant to take and is a perfect substitute for calomel. It is guaranteed to start your liver without stirring you up inside, and can not salivate. Don't take calomel! It makes you sick the next day; it loses you a day's work. Dodson's Liver Tone straightens you right up and you feel great. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and doesn't harm

MRS. MCMILLIN DEAD

Mrs. Azalie McMillin, widow of the late Silas McMillin, died at 6 o'clock Thursday evening, November 18, 1920, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Sam Hardin, in the Shady Grove community, aged 68 years, 5 months and 2 days.

Deceased was born and reared in Nacogdoches county and was greatly esteemed by all who came within the radius of her benign influence. A member of the Methodist church, her life was one of consecration and service. Generous and kindly, she ministered freely to those who came to her for counsel or for aid. The close of a long and useful life found her ready to "come up higher."

She was the mother of Mrs. Nutt of Oklahoma, Mrs. Sam Hardin of Shady Grove, Mr. T. S. McMillin of Shady Grove and W. E. McMillin of Rayburn. She is also survived by three brothers, Mr. Tom Lloyd of Nacogdoches, Mr. John Lloyd of Nat and B. Y. Lloyd of Appleby.

Interment was made at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon in the Swift cemetery in the presence of a large concourse of grieving relatives and friends, Rev. A. T. Gerrard conducting the funeral rites.

Fordson TRADE MARK Farm Tractor

The Fordson cuts the cost of preparing land to almost half of what it costs with horses. But even more important is the fact that the Fordson saves from thirty to fifty percent of the farmer's time. And time saved—getting fields in shape to plant in the proper season; getting things done when they should be done—means money to the farmer. Besides it helps greatly in solving the labor problem.

As ever, the machine way is proving more efficient, faster and easier than the old hand way. In the factory, the machine increases production, saves labor—produces more at less cost. And that is what the Fordson does on the farm. The Fordson way is the machine way of farming. Besides it helps the labor problem.

The Fordson's first cost is low; and the after operating cost is low. It is a compact, easily handled tractor, backed by the greatest tractor service organization in the world.

We are Fordson dealers. Not only do we sell Fordson tractors, but we carry a stock of Fordson parts and employ Fordson mechanics to help the farmers get the best results from the Fordson. Let us demonstrate the Fordson on your farm.

WILLIAMS-MONK

The friends of the family were surprised when it became known that Miss Ida Monk, the lovely and accomplished daughter of Mr. R. C. Monk of this city, was married Monday night at the Baptist Church to Mr. Tom Williams of Alto, Rev. S. D. Dolahite performing the ceremony in the presence of a few relatives and close friends.

All our people know "Miss Ida," one of the most lovable and popular girls of the city, and all will join with the Sentinel in extending heartfelt wishes that the best gifts of life may be hers always.

The groom is a rising young business man of Alto, and enjoys the esteem and confidence of his townspeople and is worthy of the gracious woman he has been so fortunate as to win.

The young couple will make their home in Alto.

CHILD SEVERELY BURNED

About 6 o'clock Thursday morning Bette Lew, 2-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Shippen, was severely burned about the body and limbs. The child has just arisen and was standing in front of an open blaze when her night dress caught fire and before the burning garment could be stripped from her she was painfully injured, though it is not thought the hurts will prove serious.

The family recently moved here from Memphis, Tenn., and occupy rooms in the home of Mrs. Tom Spencer, on West Main street. Mr. Shippen is engaged in the lumber business.

John Mayfield, son of N. Q. Mayfield, returned Thursday night from Houston. Mr. Mayfield, it will be remembered, was severely wounded during the late war at St. Mihiel. Both muscles on his legs between his knees and thighs were removed by surgeons in order to save his life. Mr. Mayfield can walk, however, although he cannot walk upstairs.

PINE STUMPS WORTH MONEY

Those Left in Cut-Over Lands Are in Demand—Yield Many Valuable Products.

Increased demand for naval stores and a slight falling off in the supply have together called attention to the value of the stumps left in the fields in cut-over lands of the south. A Washington letter of July 6 told of the result of investigation by Clement S. Ucker, vice president of the southern settlement and development organization, in the South Atlantic states, from which he learned that the stumps left in the fields do not die with the cutting down of the tree, but, on the contrary, continue to draw from the soil sap rich with the elements of naval stores.

From these old stumps may be distilled some twenty or twenty-five different by-products, including rosin, turpentine, pine and other oils, acetate, tar, pitch, alcohol and others. By one process rosin and paper pulp may be procured. Other processes leave a residue of valuable charcoal. It seems that the destruction by fire of these stumps in the clearing up of the land is uneconomical. They can be sold for enough to pay for the clearing and leave a surplus, so that we may yet see manufacturers of naval stores bargaining with the owners of cut-over land for the stumps upon it and extracting them themselves.

GIVE COLOR TO LANDSCAPE

Though the Daisies Grow Like Weeds, They Have a Beauty Too Little Appreciated.

They lift their heads to heaven, seeking to mingle with the stars—millions of them, scattered in wild profusion over meadow and pasture land. Men walk on them, tramp them down—but they rise again, serene, confident, searching the light which gives them life.

Daisies! Our fields are full of them. From afar their white heads give color to the landscape. Their yellow centers, blossoms, blown by the wind, wave obedience to the day and, by their graceful beckoning, invite us to take them home.

Daisies! Our empty vases call for them; our umbrella stands, our jardinières, yearn for their beautiful blooms. And they are so near to us, so easy to get, that it seems a pity to waste their beauty in an unfrequented field.

Get them for the house, for the office, to wear. Even though like weeds they grow, God's love shines from their faces and blesses the corner they fill. —Toledo Blade.

Huns Polluted Interned Ships.

The condition of the interned ships, after their German custodians had left, was something indescribable; they reflected great discredit upon German seamanship, for it would have been impossible for any people which really loved ships to permit them to deteriorate as had these vessels and to become such cesspools of filth, says Rear-Admiral William S. Sims in the World's Work for July.

For three years the Germans had evidently made no attempt to clean them; the sanitary conditions were so bad that our workmen could not sleep on board, but had to have sleeping quarters near the docks; they spent weeks scrubbing—scrubbing and disinfecting, in a finally successful effort to make the ships suitable habitations for human beings.

Has Never Seen His Country.

The only United States marine in the world who has never seen the United States is on duty at the American legation in Peking, China. He is Private C. W. F. Childress, who was born of American parents in China. When he became of age a few weeks ago he decided to join the marines and enlisted at the legation.

Childress is a tall, good-looking young man who can speak the Chinese language like a native. His services as an interpreter are especially valuable to the marines. Through association with his parents and other American residents of China he is thoroughly familiar with the traditions and customs of the United States. He is looking forward to the day when he will see the country whose flag he serves.

White Mule.

Dixon H. Bynum, assistant city attorney, comes forward with an explanation as to how "white mule" got its name. Mr. Bynum, who did government legal work in the southwest, says that the term came into use in connection with the efforts of the government officials to stop the traffic of liquor among the Indians.

Whenever an Indian was caught with liquor, he invariably told the same story as to how he got it.

Every Indian, he seemed, got his liquor from "a one-eyed negro on a white mule riding west."—Indianapolis Star.

Women Now Eligible to V. C.

A royal warrant consolidating and extending provisional royal warrants regarding the Victoria Cross was published recently in the London Gazette. The principal feature is that women are now made eligible for decoration, it being ordained that matrons, sisters, nurses and the staff of the nursing services and other services pertaining to hospitals and nursing, and civilians of either sex serving regularly or temporarily under the orders, direction or supervision of any of the armed forces of the crown, shall be eligible to the cross.

RURAL CARRIER EXAMINATION

A civil service examination will be held in Nacogdoches on Saturday, December 11, to supply a vacancy as rural mail carrier at Etoile. The salary of a rural mail carrier on a standard daily route of 24 miles is $1,800 per annum, with an additional $30 a mile per annum for each additional mile in excess of 24 miles or major fraction thereof. The examination will be open only to citizens who are actually domiciled in the territory of a post-office in the county. Women will not be considered for rural carrier appointment unless they are widows of U. S. soldiers, sailors or marines, or wives of U. S. soldiers, sailors or marines who are physically disqualified for examination by reason of injuries received in the line of military duty.

A HANDSOME BOOKLET

The Sentinel is in receipt of a copy of "The World's War Battlefields of Belgium and France," a handsome little booklet issued by the Great Eastern Railway of England, whose American headquarters may be reached at 261 Broadway, New York City. This booklet contains a number of beautiful engravings of noted battlefields in the territory named, the wrecked towns near or in which the engagements were fought also being depicted. It is an attractively written and printed souvenir of the war, and may be had free of charge by writing to the address given and requesting copies. As a work of art, the book is superb.

Prof. James Hill of Chireno was in the city Monday on business matters. Mr. Hale is one of the oldest instructors in Nacogdoches county, having taught 41 years at various places in the county. He is planning to go to Arkansas, where he will teach. Mr. Hale, while gaining in years, is full of life, energy and vim that have made him a success as a school teacher during the many years he has taught.

G. W. Briggs, state Red Cross Roll Call Director, says if Nacogdoches county fails to go over the top by Thursday night will extend the time and call upon every business man in the county for a membership, asking them for good-sized checks to assist in reaching our quota.

REBELLION IN STOMACH

"Pape's Diapepsin" at once ends Indigestion and Sour, Acid Stomach

Lumps of undigested food cause pain. If your stomach is in a revolt; if sick, gassy and upset, and what you just ate has fermented and turned sour; head dizzy and aches; belch gasses and acids and eructate undigested food—just take a tablet or two of Pape's Diapepsin to help neutralize acidity and in five minutes you wonder what became of the pain and distress.

If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal amount without rebellion; if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember the surest and quickest, most harmless stomach antiacid is Pape's Diapepsin, which costs so little at drug stores.

DR. MAYFIELD ILL

Dr. A. A. Nelson, returning Sunday night from San Antonio, brings back discouraging reports of the condition of D. J. E. Mayfield, who was seized with a sudden illness. The patient's state was so serious that Dr. Nelson was not permitted to see him, and grave fears were entertained for the stricken man's life. Perhaps no man who ever lived in Nacogdoches had more friends than Dr. Mayfield, and anxiety concerning him is widespread. All will join the Sentinel in the sincere hope that this good man may be spared for us many years to come.

TAKEN UP

Young bay mare. Owner can get her by paying expenses. Mrs. T. J. Martin, Rt. 1, Nacogdoches, Texas. 25-2wp.

The actors for the Manville Tent Show, which has been in the city during the past week, departed Sunday morning for Humble, where they will show all this week. The show created quite a deal of interest in Nacogdoches and had a large attendance. It will, it is understood, return to Nacogdoches next spring.

REPORT OF STREET SPRINKLING

Following is a report of the chairman of the Sprinkling Fund of money collected and spent for the street sprinkling for the past six months:

I have this day turned over to Mr. C. A. Hodges, chairman of the county Provident Association, $20.25, thus closing the account at the bank.
Respectfully,
Mrs. W. S. Davis.

At 3:30 Monday afternoon fire of undetermined origin destroyed the home at A. T. Russell, on South Fredonia street. The department responded promptly, but the flames had gained such headway that upon the arrival of the engine and crew nothing could be done to save the building. Part of the household effects were salvaged. Mr. Russell had but a few days ago purchased and occupied the dwelling, upon which he was lucky enough to have taken out an insurance policy of $1,000 Saturday. No protection was carried upon the household equipment.

REV. J. L. MASSEY RETURNED

The Sentinel joins the other residents of Nacogdoches in felicitating the public and Rev. J. L. Massey upon the popular pastor's return to the Nacogdoches charge for another year. The Methodist church has been strengthened and our people at large have been benefited by the ministrations of this faithful worker in the vineyard, and the disappointment would have been great had he not been continued in the pastorate.
