COURT UPHOLDS THE FARM LOAN ACT

Washington, Feb. 28.—The federal farm loan act was upheld today by the supreme court. The act was attacked as unconstitutional because it gave the government authority to establish farm loan banks and exempt their bonds from taxation.

COSTA RICO PEOPLE ARE READY TO FIGHT

San Jose, Costa Rica, March 2.—Hundreds of the citizens of Costa Rica are volunteering for military service against Panama. A patriotic spirit is shown in all parts of the country. The national assembly has a vote of confidence in the president.

ALLIED TROOPS MAY INVADE GERMANY

Paris, March 2.—Everything is in readiness along that part of the Rhine held by the French for a jump forward at a few hours' notice should the occasion arise, the Associated Press was informed in official circles last night.

Plans have been going on for several days in anticipation of any action which might make a forward movement necessary, and in the words of a high official of the war office, "Marshal Foch has had to say the word."

The German counter proposals created nothing short of amazement in French capital, diplomatic and parliamentary circles. Advance information regarding the proposals is attributed to Dr. Ciano, the Italian foreign minister, as to what in Paris was to be the effect of the proposals were in the hands of the press. The contents of the proposals, however, were not made public.

The German proposals, however, have been the subject of a discussion in the House of Commons. The British government has expressed its opinion that Germany will not accept the proposals. The British government has also expressed its opinion that Germany will not accept the proposals.

GERMANY MAKES COUNTER OFFER

Washington, March 2.—Germany has made a counter offer to the proposals of the allied powers. The offer is a surprise and is expected to be discussed in the near future.

LEGISLATURE ADJOURNS ON MARCH 12TH

Austin, Texas, March 1.—Without any preliminaries the senate yesterday by a vote of 20 to 8 concurred in the house resolution providing for sine die adjournment on Saturday, March 12. It is now only by unanimous consent that the question of adjournment can be changed.

A bill carrying an appropriation of $1,500,000 for the establishment and maintenance of a tubercular sanitarium at Kerrville passed by almost unanimous vote by both branches of the legislature and was signed by the governor Monday afternoon. He wired Guy O. Shurg, For Worth, commander of the American Legion, of the approval of the measure.

By a vote of 22 to 1 the Durwin senate bill providing for the repeal of the 50 percent prohibition law was passed by the senate Monday evening. The bill was introduced by Senator E. C. Burdick and passed by a vote of 22 to 1.

The House of Representatives passed yesterday a bill providing for the repeal of the 50 percent prohibition law. The bill was introduced by Representative J. C. Burdick and passed by a vote of 22 to 1.

SAY SEASON FOR DISASTERS HERE

St. Louis, Mo., March 2.—Warning that disasters strike the Southwest more frequently between March and October is contained in a communication sent the 700 chapters of the Southwestern Division of the American Red Cross by Edward K. Orr, division director of civilian relief.

Mr. Orr asserted statistics show that the disasters were especially severe from March until October.

The communication advised the chapters to be prepared to furnish shelter, clothing and medical treatment in cases of emergency.

More than 1,000 persons are registered as disaster relief volunteers in the division, which comprises the state of Arkansas, Kansas, Colorado, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Texas.

DECISION FARM LOAN ACT IS CONFIRMED

Capt. J. Thos. Hall, secretary-treasurer of the Nacogdoches County Farm Loan Association, Tuesday received a telegram from Congressman Box confirming the Associated Press report of the upholding by the supreme court of the federal farm loan act, the constitutionality of which had been attacked.

Captain Hall informed the Sentinel that loans to the amount of $150,000 had already been granted for applicants in Nacogdoches county when the suit was brought and the activities of the bureau suspended. He also stated there was on file in his office a waiting list of applications for $300,000 additional, and the prospects are that by the first of January next the applications will increase to at least $1,000,000. This sum will cut quite a figure in the financial affairs of the county.

U. S. MAIL ROBBERS CONTINUE ACTIVITIES

Jefferson City, Mo., March 1.—Four armed men held up a government mail messenger near the post-office here today. Seizing the mail truck they drove 13 miles from town, tied the messenger to a tree and escaped with three sacks of registered mail and 8 pouches of first-class mail.

WILSON SAYS GOODBYE TO CABINET MEMBERS

Washington, March 2.—President Wilson met with his cabinet yesterday for the last time and said farewell to the ten men who have been his official advisers, four of whom he entered the White House in 1913.

The final meeting was held in the executive offices, the president walking over from the White House attended by an attaché and aided by his aide.

The president autographed for each of his advisers a photograph taken at last week's meeting. Then Mr. Wilson said goodbye to each member. He greeted each in turn and chatted for a few moments before shaking hands. At times the president's voice trembled as he extended his thanks for past services and good wishes for the future.

FORMAL FAREWELL BY HARDING'S TOWN

Washington, March 2.—The president's last day in office was marked by a formal farewell given by the town of Washington. The citizens of the town gathered in the town square and presented the president with a silver plaque inscribed "God's Blessings to You." The Hardings depart for Washington late today.

FORMER SPEAKER CHAMP CLARK DEAD

Washington, March 2.—Francis Clark of Massachusetts, former speaker of the house, died today at his home in Washington. He was 77 years of age.

REPEAL WAR LAWS

Washington, March 2.—A resolution to repeal war laws was passed Tuesday night by the house. The resolution is expected to be passed by the senate in the near future.

The vote was unanimous, 225 members favoring the measure. As the resolution is expected to be passed by the senate in the near future, it is expected that the war laws will be repealed.

The resolution provides for the repeal of the original espionage act of 1917 and the repeal of the more drastic mandatory laws of 1918.

GROWING COTTON FOR PROFIT

To the Farmers of Nacogdoches County:

Last week we published in this space a report made by eight Kaufman County Farmers who made a special trip to Italy, Texas, to investigate the advantages of the famous Acala cotton.

Read that report again, and then read the following comment from the same committee:

"Mr. N. C. White, a prominent cotton buyer of Italy, Texas, told members of the committee that he paid from 10 to 10 1/2 cents more per pound for Acala cotton all this season than he had given for any other kind of cotton, due to the fact that it had longer, stronger and more uniform staple. He permitted his books to be examined to show that his statements were correct, and also showed the returns from the sale of this cotton showing that he in turn had gotten a premium on Acala."

Funston Bros. Cotton Buyers, of Italy, Texas, have stated under oath that they paid a premium of 8 to 12 cents per pound for Acala early in the season and that they were paying from 4 to 6 cents premium as late as December 10.

The Farm Bureau is pledged to help find a market for all the Acala cotton grown in the county this season. We do not propose to grow a better staple cotton and then sell it on the streets for the price of the inferior grades. We propose to sell Acala cotton on its merits, and not on the demerits of the sorry varieties.

Grow fewer bales and longer staple. Then sell the longer staple for its market value.

We can do it! We are going to do it!

Any bank in the county will take your order for Acala cotton seed. They are put up in 3-bushel sacks and sell for $3.50 per bushel.

Don't wait too long to place your order.

LANDIS' IMPEACHMENT GOES TO COMMITTEE

Washington, March 1.—The house judiciary committee today ordered to a subcommittee the impeachment charges against Federal Judge Landis with instructions to report tomorrow.

CLEAN-UP WEEK TO BEGIN MARCH 13TH

Austin, Texas, March 1.—A statewide clean-up campaign is to be conducted, according to Dr. Manton M. Carrick, State Health Officer, upon the conclusion of this campaign the cities and towns of the state will be inspected and rated according to their sanitary condition. This rating will be filed with the state board of health. "Texas must be the cleanest state in the union," declared Dr. Carrick in an interview today. "We shall be content with no halfway measures of sanitation in this campaign, but expect to give Texas a thorough spring cleaning."

By special proclamation, Governor Naff has set aside the week beginning March 13th as Health Week, and programs from towns over the state, providing cooperation, are being requested by Dr. Carrick. The campaign for better sanitation conditions will be conducted on a volunteer basis, but along the same lines as the "Clean-up Campaign" of several years ago. "Each town and city of the state will realize the importance of such a campaign I am sure," said Dr. Carrick, "for it will give them a definite status with the State Board of Health. We are constantly receiving from persons interested in locating in a new community inquiries as to the sanitary and health conditions of that place. Attention to the sanitary condition has been made, we should be able to answer them by pointing the sanitary rating of the particular town or city in question. It is the only way to effect a low rating will have upon the increase in population of a community."

Literature on how to conduct a campaign is to be sent to the citizens of the state by the State Board of Health, prior to the official opening of the campaign. Dr. Carrick suggests that every community perfect a strong committee organization before the beginning of the actual work of cleaning up, and that the aid of the children of the town be enlisted. A separate committee should be formed to handle each sanitary problem, and it is expected that the Women's Civic Clubs will take the initiative.

Gordon Ratcliff, a former Nacogdoches boy, now in the grain business at Fort Worth, arrived in the city Wednesday for a short visit.

EVER BILIOUS?

Charleston, Miss.—Mrs. R. V. Heins, of this place, says: "I have never had to use very much medicine, because if I felt headache, dizziness, or colds, bad taste in the mouth, which comes from torpid liver, I would take a dose or more of Black-Draught, and it would straighten me out and make me feel as good as new. We have used in our family for years and it certainly is the best liver medicine I ever saw. It has not only saved me money, it has helped keep my system in shape, and has never weakened me as so many physics do. I recommend it to my friends and am glad to do so." Black-Draught is the old, reliable liver medicine which you have doubtless heard much about. When you feel badly all over, stomach not right, bad taste in your mouth, bilious, or have a headache, try Theford's Black-Draught. At all Druggists.

THEDFORD'S

CONFIDENCE MAN LANDS IN JAIL

G. W. Taylor, cleaning Louisiana as his native hatching, is in the Nacogdoches jail facing charges of swindling and forgery.

Taylor appeared in the city a few days ago and secured accommodations at one of the hotels, but spent perhaps the major portion of his time at the City Bakery and Cafe, where his geniality won attention. Having laid his lines, he went to work to catch his victim. He appeared at one of the local banks with a bill of lading issued by the railroad agent at Logansport, La., and on the strength of this collateral began negotiations for the loan of $850. To clinch matters, he produced a telegram purporting to be from the First National Bank of Beaumont, and with these as security succeeded in landing the loan. He went to his hotel in the afternoon and took his gripbags to the Depot Restaurant, but apparently became uneasy, as he soon claimed his baggage and started off on the Douglass road. It was ascertained that the telegram from the Beaumont bank was a forgery and the sheriff's office was notified. Sheriff Woodlan went to Douglass in the hope of heading off the man, but it seems Taylor circled around to the H. E. & W. T. railroad tracks and headed for Lufkin. Deputy Sheriff Boothe and Roy Nelson took the night train for Lufkin, and at Climax, seven miles south of town, Taylor entered the train and was promptly put under arrest. He was brought back to Nacogdoches and charges of swindling and forgery were placed against him. Sheriff Woodlan, in the meantime, had lost a night's sleep in the neighborhood of Douglass but became reconciled when he reached the city and found his man had been captured.

The bill of lading purporting to have been issued at Logansport called for iron pipe to the value of $1,525, and it is said Agent Washburn of this city, to which place the shipment was consigned, took up the original bill and issued another from Nacogdoches to Beaumont, where the confidence artist asserted he had a purchaser.

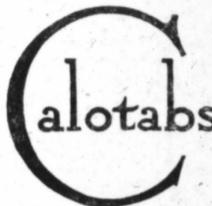

Taylor was photographed at the jail Thursday morning and his picture will be distributed over the country in an effort to learn of probable activities elsewhere. Sheriff Woodlan is in receipt of a request of the sheriff of Bexar county to arrest a swindler answering very closely to the appearance of Taylor, and expressed confidence that he had the man wanted.

Of the $850 secured from the bank, the sum of $375 was recovered from Taylor, together with an outfit of clothing he had bought at one of the men's furnishing stores of this city.

RAILROAD, NOT BANK, IS TAYLOR'S VICTIM

Taylor, the confidence expert, and

To abort a cold and prevent complications take

The purified and refined calomel tablets that are nausealess, safe and sure. Medicinal virtues retained and improved. Sold only in sealed packages. Price 35c.

his car of iron pipe, seem to have several people guessing.

It is learned that several days before his stunt here, he was at Logansport, and ordered a car "spotted" on a blind siding for which the station did the billing. Agent Price of the E. & W. T. Logansport provided the car as desired, and after a delay of a few days, Taylor appeared and asserted the car had been loaded with iron pipe valued at $1,525. The "blind" siding is somewhat remote from the depot, and Mr. Price accepted Taylor's word for the loading. Then Taylor came to Nacogdoches, and exhibiting the bill of lading issued to him by the Logansport agent, requested that the bill be changed to read "shipper's order," as he wanted to be sure of his pay when the pipe was delivered. Mr. Washburn, agent at this place, had no reason to suspect crooked work, so he complied with the request, having, under rules, authority to change the "straight" bill of lading to a "shipper's order" bill.

Being now ready to shoot, Taylor began getting in his fine work. Forging a telegram from the First National Bank of Beaumont, he had little difficulty, being armed with a "shipper's order" bill of lading, in getting money from the bank. This he successfully accomplished, as previously told, and he would have been all right if he had not been caught before he had time to disappear.

The bills of lading were not forgeries. Both had been issued in good faith by agents of the railroad, and it is learned that the road and not the bank will be the loser by the fraudulent transaction. The bank holds the railroad's genuine bill of lading as collateral for its loan, and the road will have to pay this amount secured by Taylor. Mr. Washburn is "in the clear," as he acted on a bill issued by the Logansport agent, which relieves him of responsibility.

NEW STORY ABOUT PILGRIMS

Writers Claim Early Settlers in America Were Kidnaped From the London Virginia Company.

Some historians, notably Azel Ames, who has compiled "The Mayflower and Her Log" from original sources, assert that the skipper of the Mayflower was Capt. Thomas Jones, a rough seadog who had led a more or less practical career on the high seas between Capt. Jones and Sir Ferdinando Gorges and doubtless Weston, they allege that a plot existed whereby the Pilgrims were deliberately stolen from the London Virginia company and planted on territory outside of the Virginia grant. The maneuvering about Cape Cod, according to this interpretation, was simply a part of the plot to discourage the Pilgrims from settling near the Hudson, as evidently they intended when they left Holland.

The exact identity of "Master Jones" is not clear. Historians of the Massachusetts Historical society say that the skipper was one Christopher Jones, a trustworthy man, entirely different from Capt. Thomas Jones, who was known to have a checkered career during his voyages to Virginia and other colonies. The course of American colonial history may have been greatly changed when the Pilgrims encountered the shoals and unfavorable winds off Cape Cod, but this bit of destiny can be easily exaggerated. It is sufficient here to relate that the Pilgrim colony was founded outside the jurisdiction of the London Virginia company.

PRODUCES COTTON IN COLORS

Southerner Has Succeeded in Growing Green and Brown and is Experimenting on Black.

A. W. Brabham has submitted to the Cotton exchange of Savannah four samples of colored cotton—light brown, dark brown, light green and dark green. They are the results of years of experimentation. Mr. Brabham says that other colors will appear when a number of cotton plants in his garden that are not yet fully grown begin to bear.

The botanist has not yet been able to produce black cotton, but he says he will do so in time. It would have appeared this year, he contends, if a package of the seeds of a blue-tinted cotton, mailed to him by a botanist in Delhi, India, had not gone astray. Mr. Brabham has sent for another package of these seeds, and he is convinced that if he crosses them with certain of the cottons he has already grown the result will be black.

Luther Burbank once told Mr. Brabham that he would produce black cotton for a million dollars. Mr. Brabham replied that he thought he could do it more cheaply, and thereupon started his experiments.

Process of Becoming Convinced.

Every day he called her over the telephone. Every day she refused to see him. But his experience with women had taught him to understand their coquetry, and he knew that her refusal was not sincere.

One morning when he telephoned she said that she would be glad to see him, but she was engaged for the day.

The next morning she was sorry to have to miss him again, but she did not have a minute free.

And the next day she wished that he had telephoned sooner, for she had just made an engagement. Would he please call again?

His experience with women taught him that her refusal was sincere.—From Life.

Canada to Allot Land to Eskimos.

It is announced from Ottawa that the Canadian government has decided to reserve for the benefit of the Eskimos a small part of the territory over which they formerly ranged at will in the varying pursuits of fishing and hunting, says the New York Evening Mail. The reservation is to consist of Banks and Victoria islands, north of the vast region, wide as the continent, known as Northwest territory, and far north of the Arctic circle.

From this reservation, and apparently the waters immediately adjacent to it, white hunters are to be excluded; and those who have begun operations on Banks island will be ousted. Thus the resources needed to sustain Eskimo life will be preserved.

Welsh Belief in Witchcraft.

Witchcraft in Wales is still in existence, as was shown recently by a case which was tried at the Glamorgan assizes. A Welsh farmer and his family, who were suffering from a skin disease, sent for a local wise woman, believing they were all cursed. The woman pronounced the family bewitched, and prescribed for a fee of $610 a small charm made of wood and cinders. Other instances of the same woman's exploits were mentioned, when for amounts varying from $500 to $1,500 she demonstrated her powers among credulous folk.

Wife Took Up Husband's Duties.

When the forest lookout on Tahquitz peak in the San Jacinto district, California, was incapacitated this fall Mrs. Reinhold, wife of the district ranger, donned khaki, loaded blankets and grub on a horse, and took over his duties, holding the lookout post for more than a week. This is one of the incidents reported to the United States Department of Agriculture through the forest service.

SUNDAY HALF A CENTURY AGO

Spirit and Letter of Commandment Both Thoroughly Obeyed in Western New York.

My mother was born and reared in a little country village in western New York. On the farm where my grand-mother lived it was the custom to begin Sunday on Saturday night at sundown. The "hired man" came in from the chores, grandmother put away all her work in the kitchen, and then the entire family gathered in the "best room" and studied the Sunday-school lesson, or had a reading from the Bible, led by grandfather, and all the family retired not later than 9 o'clock.

In the morning, after doing none but the absolutely necessary chores on the farm, the team that had not been used the day before was hitched up to the big four-seated wagon and the entire family including the "hired" help, went to church. There was preaching service in the forenoon, and then we adjourned to a lunch for ourselves and the team. Then we went in to a Sunday-school service, and after an interval there was another preaching service, after which we hitched up and drove slowly back to the farm.

That was the way Sunday was kept in western New York a little more than 50 years ago. I can remember hearing my mother say that when she was a girl in this same New York state village, she was not allowed to walk except to the cemetery and back on Sunday, and was not allowed to read any books except the Bible and "Fox's Book of Martyrs."—Christian Herald.

ROYAL PERSON WELL GARBED

Augustus of Poland Had Clothes Sufficient for Regiment—Also Had Other Idiosyncrasies.

Gentlemen of fashion today are mere paupers when it comes to attire, as compared to what King Augustus III of Poland deemed necessary to his comfort. He filled two great halls with clothes and had a special wagon, snuff box, sword and cane for every one of his hundreds of suits. To go with them he also had 1,500 wigs. Five artists were kept busy painting miniatures of the clothing and keeping these paintings in a catalog that the king might select from each day as he rose.

He took the lovely countess of Coselle as his wife, and the mere fact that she had a husband already mattered little. He appeared at her door one day with a horseshoe in one hand and a bag of 100,000 crowns in the other. The gold he tossed at her feet to demonstrate his wealth and generous instincts, and the horseshoe he broke with his bare hands to demonstrate his strength and determination. The lady, impressed, got rid of her husband at once, obtaining a divorce of the sort that allowed of remarriage. Suspicious historians have hinted that the horseshoe might have been filed a bit before the kingly hand tore it apart.

Garbage's Hardest Bargain.

A New Hampshire, in his autobiography, which Houghton Mifflin company is publishing, tells of his first financial bargain. One of his chief employments was the keeping of rabbits, and the pets naturally attracted the small boys of the neighborhood. "My first business venture was securing my companions services for a season as an employer, the compensation being that the young rabbits, when such came, should be named after them. The Saturday holiday was generally spent by my flock in gathering food for the rabbits. My conscience reproves me today, looking back, when I think of the hard bargain I drove with my young playmates, many of whom were content to gather dandelions and clover for a whole season with me, conditioned upon this unique reward—the poorest return ever made to labor."

Old American Glass.

The Pennsylvania museum announces a find of old American glass. One thousand specimens have been dug up near Alloway, N. J. The field where the specimens were found was once the site of the old Wistar Glass works, founded nearly two hundred years ago by Caspar Wistar, who was of Austrian extraction and titled.

The specimens found were for the most part fragments of bottle and window glass, of which there have not been many specimens until now. The museum is now making a study of the types of glass that were produced in the early days of Pennsylvania and New Jersey. The first glass to be manufactured in this country was that of a Virginia company located at James-town, but the first produced successfully was that of Alloway, then known as Wistarburg.

Girls Traveled Far in Wilderness.

Down the wild and rugged east shoreline of Lake Winnipeg, Manitoba, where not a farm nor a settlement breaks the desolation, two young women of eastern Canada recently rowed 200 miles in an open boat, taking a month for the trip and making their own camp every night. The collection of fossils, in which the region is rich, was the object of the remarkable journey. A lone Indian was the only human being sighted in the entire distance. The daring voyagers were deposited by a steamer at the mouth of the Berens river, about midway of the lake, and from that point were wholly dependent upon their own resources.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

TOWN LIVES WITHIN ITSELF

Seibo, on the Island of Santo Domingo, Entirely Without Accommodation for Travelers.

The town of Seibo, on the island of Santo Domingo, notorious for its bandit tribes, is one of the few communities on the island that has no hotel accommodations, the unfortunates stranger finding nothing but miserable thatched huts with nests on three legs for beds, and a ragged old negro crone for a servant. Seibo is the most out-of-the-way, astonished-at-strangers, unacquainted-with-the-world town of any size that can be found in the West Indies. Though a large detachment of United States marines camp at its bandit-threatened door, the people show unbounded surprise to see American civilians. Groups of almost foppishly dressed men lounge in the streets, yet the town itself is little short of filthy.

A curious old church, a part of it built 400 years ago, on the top of which is the marine wireless station, is the only building of importance. From the top of this church Seibo is seen to be surrounded by low hills, everywhere wooded, without a hut outside its compact mass, described by Harry A. Franck in the Century Magazine, as having "its skirts drawn up like those of a nervous old maid in constant dread of mire." The town also has the proverbial garrison house that seems like a fort of the medieval ages.

BEYOND THE POWER OF MAN

Vainly Does He Attempt to Still a Woman's Tongue or Stop Her Garrulous Fingers.

A woman's talent—amounting almost to a genius—for letting her husband know that he is not much of a fellow in her estimation, would seem to be seriously impaired when she happens to be a deaf mute. But, according to the testimony submitted in a divorce case tried in court recently, feminine ingenuity refuses to admit any handicap in this oldest of all games. She annoyed him in the sign language.

The husband, being merely a man, did not adopt the simple expedient of tying her hands together when he wanted a little soul quiet. He failed to have recourse to the obvious expedient of shutting his eyes when she fingered to him that she thought he was the biggest donkey in creation.

Thus he proved once more that man truly is a creature of a lower order. He can build ships and fight wars, till the soil and manage big industries, but when it comes to stopping a woman's tongue or her garrulous fingers, he is not there!—Detroit News.

Up-to-Date Lone Jack.

Confining himself to an actual list of community calamities, Mayor King of Lone Jack, Mo., reasons convincingly that the blowing up of the local electric light plant, the quitting of his job by the jitney bus driver, the departure from the midst of them of the sole barber and the robbery of the local bank—all in a short space of time—indicate the secret arrival of a flinx in town and a high-pressure distribution of his malign influence. But it is to be observed that 25 per cent of Lone Jack's ills are due to preventable accident and 25 per cent to crime of unusual magnitude and daring, while 50 per cent is due to labor troubles.

Life within Lone Jack is only typical of the larger life outside of Lone Jack. It is a cross section of a status prevailing in the entire country; indeed, throughout the world Lone Jack is just up to date.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Rudyard Kipling's Autograph.

They say that a bank check bearing the signature of Rudyard Kipling fetches a bigger price for its autograph than for the amount of money named in the check. Probably much depends on the size of the check. A distinguished poet of Boston once sent a poetic contribution to a well-known periodical. It was promptly accepted and published and in due course he received a check for $5 for it. Instead of cashing the check he had it mounted, framed and hung up in his library for the edification and amusement of his friends. Possibly Mr. Kipling may have had similar experience to verify the current item about the autographic and cost value of checks sent to him.—Boston Globe.

Overeducated.

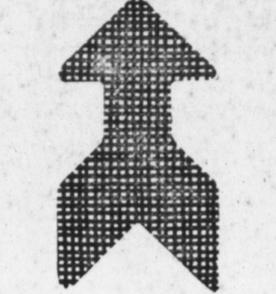

"It was too much education that landed me here, mum," said the burglar to the visitor at the penitentiary. "I had an assistant who was born in Boston. One night we had a good second-story job, but he queered the whole thing at the last minute."

"How do you mean?" asked the visitor.

"When I told him to climb up the down spout to get the swag out of the second-story he said: 'I refuse to do anything so paradoxical,' and just then the copper woke up and collared us."—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

Acidity of the Stomach.

The commonly received belief that too acid gastric juice is the cause of ulcer of the stomach has been absolutely disproved. Dr. Frank Smithies in his address as chairman of the section on gastro-enterology, American Medical association, summed up this proof. Such ulcers have been found when the gastric juice was either absent or lacking in acidity, others have healed in the face of great hyperacidity.

HARDING ON WAY TO TAKE HIS JOB

Aboard President-elect Harding's Special Train, Feb. 28.—The president elect is en route today to Marion to receive the formal farewell of his home town before entering the White House. Preparations for launching the new administration are about complete. The train will reach Marion tomorrow. Mr. Harding, tanned by five weeks' exposure to the Florida sun, is in good physical trim. He had two weeks of complete rest during his vacation.

Mr. W. T. Orton calls attention to the fact that the 2,000,000 ties, or rather 2,800,000 ties spoken of in Friday's paper are scattered along the Southern Pacific system from Houston to Shreveport and from Dallas to Beaumont, and that of these 2,800,000 ties, only 20,000 are in Nacogdoches county. The print of the 2,000,000 ties being in Nacogdoches county was a mistake of the reporter, who misunderstood Mr. Orton. "The main thing," Mr. Orton said, "however, is that I want the people to know that the ties will probably be inspected some time in April and May—none will be inspected in March."

THE SUSPENDED SENTENCE

Perhaps, the most significant support that has come to Governor Neff in his advocacy of the repeal of the suspended sentence law is that offered by former Governor O. B. Colquitt, under whose administration the law was enacted. According to a letter Governor Neff has received from Mr. Colquitt, the former governor now believes the act should unconditionally be repealed.

It will be recalled that during his administration Governor Colquitt interested himself in improving methods in the prison system and in efforts to have justice dispensed in this state along humane and enlightened lines. The suspended sentence law is in the nature of an experiment, but it appeared to be in harmony with the general ideal, and if it could be always judiciously and practically applied, it doubtless is a step in the direction of a higher order in the administration of justice.

Whether it is possible to apply the suspended sentence provision wisely enough to make it a public benefit is not a settled question. But there can be no doubt that it has not been so employed in Texas. Governor Colquitt, who approved the measure when it was enacted, is frank to say as much, and because of the flagrant abuse of the act, does not hesitate to demand its "unconditional repeal."

It is apparent to Governor Colquitt, of course, as it is to others who have observed the results of the law, that as it has been applied in this state, it has been a prolific breeder of crime, instead of a deterrent. That it has been helpful in individual cases, is to be granted. But against these few, can be set scores of others where it has amounted practically to a license to commit crime. Between the abuse of the suspended sentence act and the abuse of the pardoning power, a veritable army of criminals has been turned loose on the people of this state.

Glance over the list of criminals apprehended in recent important crimes and note the number who were paroled or pardoned convicts, or men out under suspended sentences, and the dangerous character of these abuses will be readily recognized.

When the failure of an act becomes so apparent that its original sponsors repudiate it and branded it as an impractical measure, there is little argument left for retaining it on the statute books.—Houston Post.

THE BETTER HALF OF MAN

Every human being, anatomists say, is built in two halves, lengthwise. And the halves are not alike. Often they are so different that they might appropriately belong to two different people.

Your right hand is larger than your left. This may be attributed to its greater use. But how about your left foot, which is larger than your right?

Your right arm is heavier and of greater circumference above and below than your left arm. Due to more exercise, of course. But also it is longer. Why?

The chances are that your left leg is longer than your right—just a bit at all events.

You have a favorite side to lay upon in sleeping. This, it is more than suspected, affects the shape of the ears during childhood, and may account to some extent for the fact that no person has ears that are alike.

But they would not be exactly alike anyway, for nature does not construct any human being symmetrically in any detail. Your eyes ought to be just alike, but they are not. Are your eyebrows alike? Take a look in the glass and see.

Even the two sides of your mouth are not alike. And how about your nose? There is only one of that feature, but if it is perfectly straight on your face you are an exception to the almost universal rule. Take note of the noses you see on the streets, and you will see that nearly all of them turn markedly east.

Are you interested in your good looks? If so, you adjust your mirror at an angle that shows you at your best. Thus adjusted, it throws the light upon the better half of your face.

No matter how handsome you may be, one side of your face is bound to be better looking than the other. There is no exception to this rule. It is a matter fully understood by portrait photographers, who, with this idea in mind, study the face of each patron and pose her or him accordingly.—Louisville Courier Journal.

MORE STILLS CAPTURED

Just a few days ago Sheriff Watts employed a Ford car and paid the Ora community a visit, east of Huntsville. His story of the outing in that settlement, is worth relating in part. Among other things he succeeded in locating one "wild-cat still," and when this was found, and the parties connected with it, those in charge of the illicit business made the remark that inasmuch as the sheriff was in the neighborhood, he should complete the job. As a result four more stills were captured, and two more were located over in an adjoining county, where the Angelina county authorities had no legal right to interfere.

Three white men from the Ora community were brought to town and placed in jail, being charged with complicity in operating an illicit distillery.

While in that neighborhood, the sheriff also found 200 pounds of dynamite at a certain place, and as the News understands it, the storage of explosives is strictly against the law. This 200 pounds of dynamite was destroyed, and it is said that the detonation caused every chicken in the settlement to leave the place, and that the concussion wrought consternation among all the inhabitants for several miles around, women and children not knowing what had happened, and some of the suspecting that the world was coming to an end.

The finding of these stills in the Ora community no doubt came as a great surprise to the law abiding element, and it is quite certain that many of them never had an intimation that such a thing was going on. If the truth were known, the products of these stills were marketed away from Ora, and possibly Lufkin was one of the best markets.—Lufkin News.

COMBINE ART WITH "MOVIES"

How City of Toledo, O., Attracts Children to Its Museum, for Educational Purposes.

In order to attract the children of Toledo to that city's museum of art the museum management offers its little visitors "story hours," gallery talks, music hours, classes in pure and applied design, and the educational motion picture. Interest in visits to the museum was first stimulated through the medium of an organized bird club. Thousands of children have also been brought to the museum during the last four years by means of the annual vegetable and flower shows in which the children have participated.

"The Toledo museum was the first to include motion pictures in its educational plan when, in the autumn of 1917, the necessary equipment was installed through the efforts of H. Y. Barnes, then assistant to the director," writes Mrs. Lee Anderson of Toledo. "This proved to be only a further magnet to attract boys and girls to the museum but a further means of teaching art. During the first few years films dealing with travel, crafts and art were difficult to secure, yet by diligent search many fine things were made available, including the life of Palissy, the famous potter, and a beautiful hand-colored film showing the making of silk.

"The policy of the museum is not to amuse by means of the film, but to educate the child along artistic lines, using only such productions as are of a distinctly cultural quality."

PLAGUE OF OLD EGYPT BACK

Crops of Argentine Province Destroyed by Locusts That Swarm in Uncounted Millions.

Shades of the plagues of ancient Egypt!

Santa Fe province of the Argentine now has complete faith in the biblical account of the scourge of locusts, for at times millions of these insects "cover the face of the earth." They come suddenly and without warning, in great clouds, and settle down on the country. Then the ground resembles a great moving carpet. Little damage is done at first, though the Argentinians find it inconvenient to have locusts throughout their houses, but as the insects move through the country, they dig small holes and lay their eggs. Soon the larvae are hatched, and at that time, before they can fly, they are destructive. By the time they are ready to leave, every living thing in their path is destroyed. Eventually they fly away to parts unknown, and the farmers have to start their crops over again. Squads of locust destroyers, like fire-fighting units, are maintained by the government to combat the pest, and ranchers are also responsible for fighting them. Their efforts are almost unavailing, however, because of the myriads of the insects.

WHERE AARON BURR COURTED

Hermitage, Famous Colonial Mansion, Is Now Made Use of by Producers of Films.

The Hermitage, a famous mansion of colonial days, in which Aaron Burr courted and married Theodosia Prevost in 1782, has been drawn into the irresistible current of the picture stage. It stands on the Paramus road, south of Tuxedo, and is the home of the granddaughter of the physician who years ago purchased it from the Prevost estate. As it stood in 1782 it stands today, filled with rare relics of colonial times.

A passerby on the highway recently was halted suddenly because of the commotion going on in the doorway of the old stone house. Men and women actors were in abundance everywhere. A huge rug had been hung on a rope leading from the mansion to an ice house, to shut off the too-brilliant sun.

Over the top of a wall there came a realistic shower from a hidden garden hose. A dainty maiden, sheltered by an umbrella, dashed through the pelting rain with urgent haste and found refuge in an open doorway of the Hermitage. The film people were busy enacting an old colonial picture.

HERMIT HAS STRANGE HOBBY

Has Devoted Many Years to Carving Figures Out of the Rocks on an Island Home.

The little island of Rotheneuf, off the coast of France, has for its sole inhabitant an eccentric hermit who for many years has devoted much of his time to carving humanlike figures out of the rocks which slope down to the sea.

There are hundreds of them—mostly lying on their backs, as if staring up at the sky, but some in a seated posture and a few standing erect.

The effect is described by the Popular Science Monthly as weird and unearthly. The figures looking like petrified men. They are understood to represent biblical characters. Along the top of the wall in front of the hermit's dwelling are a number of heads, likewise carved out of stone.

The hermitage is on the summit of the rocks, overlooking the carven shore and the sea. People who live on the nearby mainland call the place the "island of ghosts."

The hermit keeps his sculptures swept clear of sand. They seem to have for him a religious significance.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Independence.

True independence is one of the best assets of character. It raises life to higher standards. It makes a man conscious of his intension and increases his self-respect. There is no need of making a man overbearing or snobbish. In fact, the opposite is necessary to be true. True independence helps a fellow to recognize and respect the worth of others. Instead of being a leaver it helps a man to become a prop for some fellow who can be made firm by the right influence. True independence teaches a man to be one of the group whose greatest joy is to make others better. The petty man is afraid someone will get more praise than he does and so he quietly suggests something to injure the other fellow. Big fellows are above such smallness. They stand out in rich contrast because they live for what they can put into life rather than for what they can get out of it. They are independent of petty schemes and find their joy in contributing to the world's uplift.—Exchange.

Touching, But Timely.

As this Column was walking down Calvert street the other morning, feeling this earth is all rattle when life's but a snuff, and effort is only to sneeze, sneeze, sneeze, its eagle eye filled with the sole kind of moisture allowed by law, and its classic countenance smiling it could secure an absolute divorce without publicity from its Roman nose, it met a man well known in local business and in federal circles. He glanced sympathetically at this Column's dilapidated frontpiece and hoarsely whispered in passing, "Have you heard the latest title for a popular song? It is 'Will You Meet Me in Hay Fever Time, My Dainty Ada Noids?'"—Baltimore American.

The Voice of Ignorance.

Senator Sheppard of Texas, author of the eighteenth amendment, said in Dallas the other day: "Only the old world, which knows nothing about it, attacks prohibition. The old world is like the woman who wrote to the school teacher: 'I don't want that Maule should ingaze in grammar, as I prefer her ingaze in yucful studies, and can learn her how to speak and write proper myself. I have went through two good grammars, and I can't say as they done me no good. I prefer her ingaze in French and hand painting and vocal music on the piano.'"

To Revive Frozen House Plants.

If a house plant happens to get frozen during the winter, it should be removed immediately to a cool, dark room and drenched with cold water. The supposition that a plant should be revived with warm water and heated air is wrong, as the treatment must be gradual.

Profit and Loss.

"Is there any real economy of time in so-called daylight saving?" "I dunno," answered the man who was setting his watch. "Sometimes I think you lose a lot of time guessing what time it is."

LONG LACE-MAKING CENTER

Since 1665 Ypres Has Been Celebrated for the Excellence of Its Manufactures.

It was in 1665 that the manufacture of lace, now known as Valenciennes, was begun at Ypres, and with other cities and towns and hamlets in Flanders the clack of the bobbins and the chatter of the lacemakers may once more be heard. Many a little village is re-establishing its industry and is finding as ready a market as it did before the war. Flemish laces have always been favorites in England from the time when Henry VIII in 1540 made a present of "kerchiefs fringed with Flemish work" to "his verrie deare wife," Catherine Parr. Lace making was part of the education of women in the Low Countries in the latter part of the fifteenth century, and Charles V ordered it to be taught in the schools, but in 1600 it was not only a flourishing industry in Belgium but, with the approval of Louis XIV, a Manufacture Royal de Dentelles was founded, and lacemakers from Flanders were brought to France, as Flemish lace was even more sought after than Italian lace. It was at this time that some of the most famous "points" first appeared and were developed. The "point de Bruxelles," which is made with the needle, and "Binche" lace, the queen of all pillow lace, as well as "point d'Angleterre," in which pillow and needlework are mingled, all enhanced the reputation of the Flemish designers.

RABBIT PELTS IN DEMAND

Country Boys Have Opportunity to Make Some Money During the Coming Winter Months.

In recent years several kinds of fur, formerly of so little value as to offer no inducement to the trapper, have increased in price, and consequently collecting them has been made profitable.

Rabbit pelts, which are extensively used by hat makers, are among these products. Formerly rabbit skins were of virtually no value; country boys who eagerly sought the lair of the skunk and the raccoon and who were even able to sell squirrel skins, thought so little of the rabbit and made so little effort to dispose of the skins that they were seldom used except to form a pad on which they "knuckled down" in the marble game.

Now, however, rabbit skins are worth something, and the country boy who will devote this winter to saving and marketing the skins of the rabbits he kills should make a comfortable sum of money.

One big eastern firm has announced that it will need 10,000,000 rabbit skins. The skins are usually sold by the pound, which will contain seven or eight skins.

Bret Harte Slapped Him.

The man who knew Bret Harte was discovered in the lobby the other morning.

"I was a devil in the shop where the Overland Monthly was printed," he began, after being identified as James H. Barry, editor of the Star, San Francisco's only Democratic paper. "Bret Harte was employed in the mint. He sent over the manuscript of 'The Luck of Roaring Camp,' and they finally decided to print it despite the objection of a sensitive lady proofreader. Somehow the proofs had to be pulled in a hurry, and the only ink available at the moment was blue. I carried the blue proofs over to Harte. He said: 'What the hell is this blue ink for? I can't read it. Haven't they got any black?'"

"I was too scared to make any explanation, and I got the usual reprinting administered to printers' devils in those days. Harte reached over and slapped my face. I always hated him after that."—Sun and New York Herald.

Find a 12-Pound Nugget.

A nugget of almost pure gold, weighing 12 pounds, was recently discovered near the Charters Tower mine in Queensland, Australia. For years the Towers of Queensland, which up to the seventies was a desolate tract, too poor and weedy for sheep, has boasted a premier position among Australian gold fields. Levels are worked at a depth of nearly half a mile. This particular find is worth $4,000. A 12-pound nugget is no record; but in most nuggets all is not gold that glitters; a 12-pounder of "almost pure gold" is rare. The world's record nugget came from Ballarat in 1858—2,217 ounces, worth $5,000.

Rail-Creep on Railroad Bridges.

The chief engineer of the Madras railway has something to say regarding rail-creep on railway bridges in India. In a recent issue of Indian Engineering. In the case of the Godaverri bridge, where the creep amounted to as much as three to four feet a year, a special cast-iron sleeper was designed to suit the 75-pound flat-footed rail, with a jaw large enough to receive a lock-fast steel key. This reduced the creep to insignificance, and generally the author is confirmed in the conclusion reached by him in 1887 that "creep" can only be remedied by effective anchorage.—Scientific American.

Japan's Shipbuilding Future.

"Japan will take the greatest place in ship construction of the future," says Lord Pirrie, world-famed shipbuilder; "her labor is cheap, she can obtain plenty of steel and her coal reserves are almost inexhaustible."

SIMPLE INAUGURATION

Washington, March 2.—Inauguration of President-elect Harding will mark the first swing of ceremonies toward simplicity since Thomas Jefferson toiled up Capital Hill afoot one hundred and twenty-one years ago.

The ceremony of administering the oath, will be as it was prescribed by George Washington. There will be no change in its utter simplicity, but Mr. Harding by his own decision will enter upon his great task without pomp and parade that have increasingly surrounded that solemn moment as the years went by. Not even the "salvos of artillery" that heralded the dawn of Jefferson's inauguration day will wake the sleeping echoes along the Potomac next Friday.

Gene too, will be the Inaugural Parade, time honored since the regular and militia troops blazed the historic route up Pennsylvania Avenue to "The President's House" when President Madison rode in state to take up the duties laid down by Jefferson. Weather alone has permitted or hindered this national spectacle in the years that followed.

AVIATORS KILLED

Montgomery, Ala., March 2.—Lieutenant Everett L. Kirkpatrick, of Miami, and Private Clyde W. Pratt, of St. Andrews, Fla., were instantly killed, when a plane, in which they were flying fell at the intermediate air depot Tuesday afternoon, just before 3 o'clock.

After the crash the machine caught fire and the bodies of the two men were burned.

It is not known what caused the accident. The men had reached a good height when the machine began to fall.

IN BUSINESS SINCE THE CIVIL WAR.

SHREVEPORT, LA.

CIVIC LEAGUE

Wednesday afternoon in the office of the Naegodoches chamber of commerce a number of members of the Naegodoches Civic League met to discuss some of the problems confronting the city.

The first thing discussed was a general clean-up and sprinkling program for the city; the second thing was the rest-room proposition, in which a great deal of interest has been manifested for a number of years; and the third thing the body considered was the boarding problem confronting the city relative to the taking care of students coming here to attend the Stephen F. Austin Normal.

On the first proposition the league decided to wait until their next meeting, on the second of March, so that the matter could be carried before the city council; the second proposition was also postponed for further discussion on March 2d; on the third proposition relative to the boarding of the normal students it was decided by the league to appoint a committee to canvass the city in an effort to determine just who would take the boarders.

Those present at the meeting were Mrs. C. D. Atwell, chairman of the rest-room committee; Mrs. S. M. Adams, chairman of the sprinkling committee; Mrs. Ed Gaston, secretary of the league; Mrs. D. A. Washburn, vice president of the league; and Mrs. Arch Millard, president of the league.

The members of the league are preparing a statement of what was done by the Civic League last year for the city. The statement contains facts and figures.

She States It Mildly

While suffering with a severe attack of the grip and threatened with pneumonia, Mrs. Annie H. Cooley, of Middlefield, Conn., began using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and was very much benefited by its use. The pains in the chest soon disappeared and the cough became loose, expectation easy and in a short time she was as well as ever. Mrs. Cooley says she cannot speak too highly of this remedy in praise. Stripling, Haselwood & Co.

Why Colds are Dangerous

It is the serious disease that colds lead to that makes them dangerous. They prepare the system for the reception and development of the germs of influenza, pneumonia, tuberculosis, diphtheria, scarlet fever, whooping cough and measles. You are much more likely to contract these diseases when you have a cold. For that reason you should get rid of every cold as quickly as possible. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will help you. It is widely known as a cure for bad colds. Stripling, Haselwood & Co.

TEXAS PHYSICIAN SAYS CANCER IS CURABLE

Dr. J. M. Gilbert of Randolph Declares Dr. O. A. Johnson Has Proved His Mastery of Dread Disease

Physicians know that cancer will not yield to ordinary treatment. Therefore, when a bad cancer appeared on his face, Dr. J. M. Gilbert of Randolph, Texas, lost no time in consulting Dr. O. A. Johnson, eminent cancer specialist, of Kansas City, Mo. Declaring he is entirely cured, Dr. Gilbert writes:

"I recommend that every cancer sufferer consult immediately with the man, that I, as a doctor, regard foremost in his line."

Dr. Johnson has proved to the world that cancer can be cured."

Dr. Johnson has published a remarkable little book called "Cancer Truths," a statement of his theories and experiences in treating cancer without the use of the knife. Purely medicinal measures only are employed; that is, external applications to destroy the cancer and internal medication to purify the blood. This book will be sent free to any cancer sufferer. Or, if you have a friend suffering from cancer, write Dr. O. A. Johnson, Suite 560, 1324 Main St., Kansas City, Mo.

THE COMING LECTURE

The National Cash Register Company is to be commended for its progressiveness in carrying to the people under attractive conditions, the message contained in the lecture delivered by Mr. Brennan in the local high school auditorium last evening, as well as the message conveyed by the pictures; and the local Chamber of Commerce is to be commended for having sponsored the event.

It is a good thing to be brought face to face with community problems and the ways by which community progress may be secured. It is a good thing to be brought into intimate contact with what has been accomplished by others, and it is a good thing to take stock once in a while. It is a good thing to get an urging from and an optimist.

Latrobe is a wide-awake town, and a progressive town. Mr. Brennan said so. He needed only to look around a little to discover that Latrobe was on the job. But he could see, also, that there was still much to be done—and there is.

It's a good thing to be given encouragement and suggestion and a friendly hint to be up and doing for still larger achievements, once in a while; not only in business but in community activities.

What is good for business is good for community. The town is a big business—and it's everybody's business.—Latrobe, (Pa.) Bulletin.

The above mentioned film and lecture will be presented at the Naegodoches High School auditorium on the night of March 8. Every business man and clerk in town, and everyone interested in the adoption of better business methods should be present on this occasion.

"LEGISLADIES" HAVE COME

Topeka, Kan., March 2.—"Legisladies." It remained for the Kansas with its four women members of the legislature to coin the new word. The four Kansas women are members of the Kansas House of Representatives and during the first few days of the present session of the House, the newspapers were hard put to find some way to designate the oratorical efforts of the female from the male members in enlightening the public as to who said this or who said that on the floor of the house during its sessions. The word legisladies crept into the columns in quotation marks at first but it proved such a happy thought that the quotations have been dropped and the word is considered good American in Kansas.

An Ideal Remedy for Constipation

It would be hard to find a better remedy for constipation than Chamberlain's Tablets. For the best effect they should be taken after supper. They are easy to take and mild and gentle in effect. Stripling, Haselwood & Co.

LORD'S PRAYER WRITTEN ON HEAD OF PIN

Newburn, N. C., March 1.—J. O. Lowder has on display at his shooting gallery in this city an ordinary steel pin on the head of which is engraved the Lord's prayer.

The engraving is the work of C. H. Baker, of Spokane, Washington, and the job required three years to complete. There are sixty-five words, two hundred and fifty-four letters and nineteen punctuations on the pin head, and each is so perfectly formed that beneath a magnifying glass they stand out clearly and can be read with ease.

HAPPINESS FOUND IN WORK

Testimony of Chauncey Depew is Indorsed by Another Prominent American Veteran.

What is the secret of usefulness above sixty? Let me quote my friend Chauncey Depew, who says: "I look back over sixty years of continuous effort and when I try to differentiate the causes of my health and happiness I always come back to work. I never yet knew an idle man who was a happy man." It is his reply to those who think the millennium will come when nobody will have to work more than two hours in twenty-four. On his seventy-ninth birthday he said: "With each recurrence of these anniversaries I am more impressed with the permanence of friendship." That is the profession of all who have moved into the later years. We may not see our friends daily but the knowledge that they are in the flesh and in the spirit is a wonderful help and satisfaction. In the currency of friendship giving is getting. Here is a young man of eighty-six who voted for John C. Fremont, who dined with Gladstone, who took part in every Republican presidential convention and campaign since the party began, who believes every year that comes is the best, who has worked all his life, and who has found his happiness in work. The man's creed is this: "The Christian faith of my mother is good enough for me." What could be better?—Gen. Felix Agnus.

REPORTS GAME IN PROFUSION

According to Englishman, East Africa is a Paradise for the Hunters of Wild Animals.

That part of East Africa which is traversed by the Uganda railway has long been noted as a big-game country, but few stay-at-home Britons realize how plentiful the wild animals are there. A government official, whose work has taken him into one of the game preserves, writes as follows in the London Post from a camp pitched only four miles from the railway and within twenty miles of Nairobi:

"As I sit writing in my tent I can see through the door at least four thousand head of game feeding on the plains. There is one group not four hundred yards away. They consist of wildebeest, hartebeest, Grant's gazelle, Thomson's gazelle, impas, ostriches, waterbuck, eland and hundreds of zebra. I have never seen anything like it in any other part of Africa, and, as you know, I know something of the game districts of southern Rhodesia, the Belgian Congo, the Tanganyika territory and the Portuguese territory near the Rovuma."

Effective Trespass Sign

There is one thing the week-end outers from a city are afraid of. That is poison ivy and poison oak. They may figure out a way to circumvent the bulldog which the sign tells one to "beware of" and they do not always heed signs of legal action mentioned in signs. But they have wholesome respect for poison vegetation. It means pain and loss of time from work or pleasures. When a rancher of California came to the point of despair in regard to keeping trespassers from his thickets, and tired of removing fitter and repairing fences and trees he resorted to a plan that proved to be effective in almost a hundred per cent of cases. He placed at the several points of entrance to his property signs that read: "Danger! Poison Oak! Keep Out!" This did the work better than threats or watch dogs; for the vacationers could not know just when they might stumble on to the source of irritating trouble.

Y. W. C. A. Abroad

Fifteen more young women sailed for Europe during September and October under the direction of the Y. W. C. A. to carry on in several countries work that has grown out of the war activities of the association. Social work for girls and women is enlarging constantly in many countries, and new leaders are being recruited to meet the demands. They fill positions as executives, cafeteria directors, physical training teachers, industrial girls' workers, club leaders and recreation leaders. The fifteen who have sailed most recently are going to the near East, Roumania, Italy, Belgium, France and Russia. Others have left for China, Japan and India.

Monument Guards Dangerous Road.

As Los Angeles boulevard comes to an end at the edge of a high embankment over a park lake, incautious motorists have gone over several times, but with fortunate results. To guard against a repetition of such accidents a monument to the memory of Gen. Harrison G. Otis, distinguished as a soldier and journalist, which will completely block the end of the road, has been erected, says Popular Mechanics Magazine. The group is composed of a life-sized figure of Gen. Otis; at his left is the figure of a soldier, while at the right of the central figure is a newsboy crying his wares.

An After-War Bride

A returned soldier and his sweetheart called on a judge to marry them, and, apparently satisfied with his work, he said to Vic: "Salute the bride." For an instant the groom was flustered. Then he took two steps to the rear, came to a distinct halt, clicked his heels together, and gave Mrs. Vic one of the "doughboys' finest." "Oh, well, I guess that will have to do," sighed the judge as he signed the license.—Argonaut.

CENTENARY OF THE AMPERE

Effect of Wire Carrying a Current on a Magnet Was Discovered 100 Years Ago.

From the observance of this year, the centenary of the discovery and issuance of the fundamental electromagnetic laws, the derivation of the often-heard volt and ampere wherever people speak in terms of electricity, are brought to mind.

To Ampere, after whom we have named a unit of measurement of electrical energy, "the ampere," is credited the announcement on Sept. 18, 1820, of the laws governing the effect of a wire carrying a current, upon a magnet, and also on Sept. 25 of the same year, the force action of one wire carrying a current upon another was announced. The paper by Ampere was frankly based upon the earlier work of Oersted, who discovered the effect of an electric current upon a compass needle and who explained the concentric nature of the magnetic field set up about a conductor carrying an electric current, but Ampere, nevertheless, is credited with the discovery.

Volta, in Italy, had already produced the voltaic pile, made of layers of copper and zinc separated by a wet cloth, in 1790. To him is also credited valuable research in electrical science, and from his name the unit "volt" is derived.

CHEWING GUM 50 YEARS OLD

John Adams, Photographer of Staten Island in 1870 Discovered the Possibilities of Chiclé.

Chewing gum began its history in 1870. Up to this time the chiclé or sap from the chiclezapote tree of Mexico was known only to the Indians. A photographer on Staten Island secured a lump of it and sought to turn it to some account. For two years he attempted to make it a substitute for gutta serena or soft rubber. This having failed, he was about to throw it away when he happened to break off a bit and chewed it, according to the Detroit News.

In his photograph gallery back room the photographer, John Adams by name, continued to experiment with it, and in time evolved something resembling the gum of today. He began to peddle it about in small lots to near-by candy and drug stores, and by 1890 he was employing 250 hands in a six-story building. He died, leaving a fortune to his four sons of many millions. The "white gum," or "chewing wax," as it was known, was almost driven from the market by the new offering, and today is seldom seen. It is made from the gum of the New England spruce and from a paraffin that is the residue of crude petroleum in process of refining.

Mental Culture.

Mayor Lunn of Schenectady pointed to a large advertisement extolling the marvellous efficiency of a mental gymnastics correspondence school.

"I don't see why a correspondence school in mental gymnastics?" he asked the reporter.

"No; I don't take much stock in such things," the reporter answered.

"Well, I know a man," answered Mayor Lunn, "who took a three months' mental gymnastics correspondence course and he's a millionaire today."

"To be sure," Mr. Lunn added, "the man was a millionaire before taking the course, but the extraordinary fact I want to bring out is that since taking it he hasn't lost his money."

Pharmacy for Females.

Pharmacy as an occupation for women is gaining favor rapidly. A very large number of women took the course at Columbia last year and a still greater number have applied for the course about to begin. "Until recently," said Dean Rusby, "we had a few women in this field. Pharmacists did not wish to employ them. In the first place it was a novelty, and there was the usual hesitation to accept a novelty."

Now, according to Dean Rusby, many women are making good in pharmacy, and some of those who have taken advanced courses and become analysts are doing very good work in chemical laboratories and for manufacturing houses.

Use of Electricity Increases.

Sweden proposes to electrify the Gothenburg and Stockholm railway. Chile, following the example of other European countries and Japan, is preparing to operate a section of the state railways with electricity. The government proposes to float a loan of 32 million dollars, partly abroad and partly in the country, for this purpose. It is expected that this movement will reduce railway operating expenses by three million or four million dollars annually.

German Women Students.

There are 7,724 women students at the various German universities. Of these 2,680 are studying medicine, bringing the total of medical students up to 22,000. Before the war Germany had one physician for every 2,000 inhabitants. She now has one for every 1,500 inhabitants, and fears that in a short while there will be one for every 1,000.

Alcohol Supply.

Around sawmills alone, it is said, 27,000,000 tons of sawdust is available, from which 800,000,000 gallons of alcohol can be made.

IN MEMORIAM

To the Chancellor Commander and Brother Knights of Lanana Lodge, No. 106, Knights of Pythias.

A good man is the noblest work of God. Fraternity and fraternal relationship are natural attributes of men. In passing the threshold of Knighthood none but good men should be permitted to enter. The Sir Knight is selected from the walks of men because the initiates believe him to possess those rare instincts and qualities which fit a man for association with the best of his fellow-men. None but the true and the brave are supposed to be knighted. He who wears the spurs must win them. The man endowed with truth, virtue, justice and charity may safely knock at the portals of Knighthood; none other should apply.

When P. M. Sanders presented himself to the fraternity for Knighthood the brethren had before them a neophyte who possessed those noble traits of manhood, and the fraternity was made better by his having come among us. A man who lived largely for humanity and loved his fellow-man. Peace to his ashes.

Resolved, First: That in his departure from us, at the call of his God who gave him existence, Knighthood has lost a true and valued brother. His big-hearted jovial spirit animates us in actuality no more, but the days and hours of counsel, pleasure and comradeship stand out in our memories as bright, loving and unending benefits to us which shall not end until, we, too, have joined the innumerable caravan. What God did for him, he was pleased to do for his fellow-man. His place in our lodge hall is vacant, but his unbounding love and devotion to his brethren still remain, and his reward must be great.

Resolved, Second: His wife has lost a great and loving husband, whose every heart-beat was for her continued happiness, to which end he continuously labored, and whose efforts brought fruition, and was largely, at least, for his full part, the making and maintaining a happy home. His children have been granted the inestimable blessing of the oversight and indulgence of a provident, kind and loving father, who was also blessed in having his life prolonged to the expectancy of mortal beings, and to witness the development of his children into useful manhood and womanhood, and by his fidelity and faithful fatherhood so trained them up that mankind must be the beneficiaries.

Resolved, Third: His government has lost a true and upright citizen, a man who performed his duty to his country because he loved it. He was honored in official capacity by his fellow-countryman numerous times, and in different capacity. He served well and honorably and always handed back the commission given to him as clean and unsoiled as he received it.

Resolved, Fourth: His Brother Knights extend to his bereaved wife and children their heartfelt sympathy, and commend them to the God of their dear one's salvation. What giveth and who taketh away, and to whom we look up through the eyes of faith and exclaim, "Blessed be the name of the Lord." And your committee recommends that a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of the lodge, and a copy furnished to the family, and a copy to the press for publication.

Give Sick, Bilious Child "California Fig Syrup"

"California Syrup of Figs" is the best "laxative physic" to give to a sick, feverish child who is bilious or constipated. Directions for babies and children on bottles. They love its fruity taste. Beware! Say "California" or you may not get the genuine recommended by physicians for over thirty years. Don't risk injuring your child's tender stomach and bowels by accepting an imitation fig syrup. Insist upon "California."

DIDN'T THINK HE COULD PLANT CROP

After Taking Tanlac Sampson Says He Can Do As Big a Day's Work as Ever

"My health was so poor that it looked like I wouldn't be able to plant a crop, but since taking Tanlac I can do as big a day's work as I ever could," said A. D. Sampson, a well-known farmer of Moray, Kan.

"I was just about laid out altogether, and I had tried all sorts of medicines, but nothing helped me. My stomach was in an awful fix, I never wanted to eat much of anything and what I did force down seemed to do me more harm than good. Malaria was all through my system and at times I had pains all over my body. I was badly constipated, felt bilious and had a mean taste in my mouth nearly all the time. I was subject to terrible headaches and at times was so dizzy that I would almost fall down right in my tracks. I was too nervous to sleep well and felt so weak and listless all day long that I was just able to get around the house.

"A little more than two months ago I started taking Tanlac and it has put me right back in fine shape feeling like my old self again. I have a corking good appetite and can eat anything I ever could without a sign of indigestion. I am not constipated now, and am never troubled with headaches or dizzy spells. The malaria has all been driven out of my system and I never feel bilious or have that mean taste in my mouth now. I feel well, strong and healthy like a man ought to feel. This is what Tanlac has done for me and I don't mind telling people about it."

Tanlac is sold in Naegodoches by Stripling, Haselwood & Company and Swift Bros. & Smith and in Garrison by the Dale Drug Company and all leading druggists.

LOOK FORWARD;

NOT BACKWARD

Will you sit and worry about the price of cotton and the High Cost of Living while other young people are taking action to prepare themselves to meet the demands of Business that is coming? Training is one of the things that makes the difference between the executive and the man in overalls. We are entering a period in which a thorough business education is more necessary than ever. Competition is coming back to its own. The man that has the best value to offer, be it goods or service, is the man that will get the order or the position. What special ability can you offer the employer, that will make him give you the job instead of the other fellow?

The next few years will mean much or little to you in accordance with the extent to which you are prepared. With modern methods of business there is no time to train the unskilled in the business office. You must be trained in a modern college, with practical teachers, modern office equipment, when you enter the business world.

In the setting down and adjusting of commercial industries, as they get back on a pre-war efficiency basis, the trained men stay on the payroll, while the unskilled worker is the first to go and finds the least demand for his services. As we do not look for a return of war-time conditions in American business, this relative demand for the trained and untrained worker can be expected to come. Which class do you want to be in? Which means the greater future to you?

Look ahead! Remain what you are and you will occupy practically the same station in life ten years from now. Uncle Sam did not send untrained soldiers to France; neither is the business man going to hire unskilled help to fight the battles of business competition for him.

We will give you the most thorough business training possible in the shortest possible time and at the least cost and secure you a good position at the completion of your course. Largest business training institution in America. Only school in the South giving five complete important business courses. Fill in and mail for large free catalogue.

BILL TO AMEND PROHIBITION LAW

Austin, Texas, Feb. 25.—Burrket of Eastland today introduced in the house a bill amending the Dean prohibition law so that the purchase and possession of liquor would not be a crime, thus leaving such purchaser free to testify in the case of a violator of the Dean law. Under the present law a man buying liquor is as guilty as the man selling it, Mr. Burrket pointed out.

Texas Will Appeal

Austin, Texas, Feb. 25.—The Texas Railroad Commission today announced that it would appeal from the decision of the Interstate Commerce Commission, granting the increases urged by Texas common carriers in passenger and freight rates and also in Pullman fares in interstate traffic, to the United States Supreme Court.

EMIGRATION BILL PASSED BY CONGRESS

Washington, Feb. 26.—The house today passed the senate bill limiting immigration for fifteen months, beginning April 1st, next, to 3 percent of the persons born in that country who were in the United States in 1910.

ALIENS ENTERING ON FORGED PASSPORTS

Washington, Feb. 26.—Forged passports, enabling undesirable and dangerous aliens to enter the United States, are being issued in almost every European country, the State Department today announced.

PANAMA-COSTA RICO NOW AT WAR

Panama, Feb. 26.—Hostilities between Panama and Costa Rican forces have begun in the vicinity of Coto, at the Pacific end of the frontier of the two countries, it was reported here, but official confirmation is lacking. While the president of Panama has been proceeding under his constitutional powers in mobilizing troops, the authority to declare war rests with the national assembly, which has not acted.

ORIGIN OF "FARMER"

Chicago, Feb. 25.—In this day of unprecedented farm organization and development, it is noted here that the very words farm and farmer grew out of the first "rural revolution."

As told in a history of the English people is shown that it came about in the fourteenth century. In describing the Peasant's Revolt, 1381 to 1382, the history states:

"The Lord of the Manor instead of cultivating the demense through his own hall, often found it more profitable and convenient to let the manor to a tenant at a given rate payable either in money or in kind."

"It is this system of leasing, or rather to the usual term for the tenant it entailed (feorm, from the Latin, firma), that we owe the words farm and farmer, the growing use of which make the first step in the rural revolution which we are examining."

TELEGRAPHER MURDERED

Lubbock, Texas, Feb. 25.—J. Edgar Craft, 22, telegraph operator at the local Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe station, was shot and instantly killed at 4 o'clock this morning by two bandits, in the presence of Express Agent Pinkerton and Deputy Sheriff Murph, after repeatedly telling the bandits he was unable to work the combination of the safe. Scouting parties are scouring the country and the feeling is high. The two witnesses were forced to hold up their hands.

TURKS WILL ARBITRATE

London, Feb. 25.—The Turkish delegation to the Near East peace conference here today accepted the proffered arbitration of the Supreme Council as between Turkey and Greece in determining the states of Smyrna and Thrace.

SHRINKING EXPORTS

Washington, Feb. 25.—The Department of Commerce today reported a shrinkage of $66,000,000 in our export trade for January. Imports during the month were $5,000,000 lower than in December.

POLICE AMBUSHED

Macrom, Ireland, Feb. 25.—Fifty auxiliary police, traveling in lorries, were ambushed near here today by 300 armed men. The ambushing party opened fire from a cover of rocks along the road, killing one policeman and wounding six. The fighting continues.

MOTHER AND CHILDREN BURNED TO DEATH

Waco, Texas, Feb. 28.—Mrs. Ike Markum and two children, aged 4 and 6, are dead from burns received when their house was destroyed by the explosion of an oil lamp at 2 o'clock this morning. Ike Markum, the father, rescued their 2-months-old baby and received burns which may prove fatal. The mother and two children were cremated in the building.

RED FLAG RAISED BY PARIS WORKMEN

Paris, Feb. 25.—The red flag was raised over the big electrical works under construction at Gennevilliers, just north of Paris, by workmen, who refused to leave the place in spite of the lockout declared by the company. A large force of troops and police was called.

4,000 BALES BURNED AT WICHITA FALLS

Wichita Falls, Texas, Feb. 26.—Fire which started at 3 o'clock this morning destroyed 4,000 bales of cotton, the office and west sheds of the Neil-Anderson Compress here. Several freight cars were also damaged. The loss is estimated at near $80,000. The origin is unknown.

INCOME TAX PAYERS

The following statement is issued by Scott Reed, collector of internal revenue for the 2d district of Texas, with headquarters at Dallas:

With the approach of March 15th, the taxpayers are advised not to delay in the preparation and filing of their income tax returns for the year 1920. To avoid penalties, the returns must be in the hands of a collector or a deputy collector of internal revenue on or before midnight of that date.

Revenue officers have been assigned to assist taxpayers in correctly making out the forms, and are located at the following offices:

Nacogdoches, March 1, 2 and 3, 1921.
Nacogdoches, March 11 to 15, 1921.
Lufkin, March 8, 9, and 10.

This service is offered without cost to the public.

On page 1 of the income tax forms is the following: "If you need assistance go to a deputy collector or the collector's office, but first read the instructions and fill out this sheet (face and back) in pencil as well as you can." Much time can be saved both the government officers and the taxpayer if, before seeking aid, the taxpayer will follow this injunction. For example, blank spaces are provided for answers to the following questions: "Are you a citizen of the United States?" "If not, are you a resident of the United States?" "Did you file a return for 1919?" "If so, what address was given on that return?" "Were you married and living with wife or husband on the last day of your taxable period?" "How many dependent persons under 18 (or over 18, incapable of self-support because mentally or physically defective) were receiving their chief support from you on the last day of your taxable period?"

Questions such as these should not await inquiry from revenue officers assisting in making out the forms.

Returns are required of every married couple whose net income and that of dependent children for the year was $2,000 or more from every single person—or married person not living with wife or husband—whose net income was $1,000 or more.

The exemptions are $2,000 for married persons and heads of families and $1,000 for single persons—or married persons not living with husband or wife—and are determined by the taxpayer's status on the last day of the taxable year, December 31, 1919. Husband and wife may make a combined return of their joint net income if less than $5,000. If the income of either exceeds $5,000, separate returns should be filed for the purpose of computing correctly the surtax which applies only to income in excess of that amount.

The tax may be paid in full at the time of filing the return, or in four equal installments due on or before March 15th, September 15th and December 15th. Taxpayers are advised not to send cash through the mail.

Checks and money orders should be drawn to the order of "Collector of Internal Revenue." The remittance and return should be mailed to "Scott Reed, Collector of Internal Revenue, Dallas, Texas."

APPLAUD NEFF'S CRITIC

Austin, Texas, Feb. 25.—Without mentioning the governor's name, Sid Crumpton of Bowie today answered Mr. Neff's criticism of the house's action in killing the Morris bill. He was greeted with a storm of applause when he concluded.

WILL FINLEY, FRED WISNER AND JOHN MCKNIGHT OF DOUGLASS WERE IN THE CITY SATURDAY

Lincoln, Neb., Feb. 25.—If a movement being favored by the Federation of Nebraska Retailers becomes general throughout the country as is being urged in circular letters, the well-known ultimate consumer will eat corn pone from April 1 until April 7. The retailers organizations recently went on record favoring a movement declaring the first week in April to be "National Corn Meal Week."

RURAL SCHOOLS PAY EACH OTHER VISIT

County Superintendent Miss Exier Lewis motored over to the Trinity school Tuesday to be present at a friendly meeting between the two schools of Fairview and Trinity. The occasion was a most enjoyable one, and everyone spent a most enjoyable time. Various amusements were indulged in with the following results: In basketball against the Trinity school, the Fairview boys won the game; the Fairview girls in a basketball game against Trinity also won the game. In the 75-yard dash the Fairview boys won; in the junior declamations the Fairview girls won; in the 50 yard junior dash the Fairview girls won; in the broad jump the Fairview boys won. In the senior declamation the Trinity school won; in the senior spelling the Trinity school also won; the Trinity seniors also won a 50 yard dash; they won a 75 yard dash; and the wheel-barrow race was also successful for the Trinity school.

It is understood that both of these schools are well prepared for the county athletic meet soon to be held here.

Will Finley, Fred Wisner and John McKnight of Douglass were in the city Saturday.

PROPOSED "STRIKE" AGAINST HOTELS

Omaha, Neb., Feb. 25.—Letters have been sent to the 600,000 commercial travelers urging them to institute a 30-day strike against hotels that charge what the organization terms exorbitant prices for rooms and food.

"Jessie James was a piker in his palmist days when compared with the prices some hotels are asking," says the letter.

The letters have been sent out by the Hotel Committee of the International Federation of Commercial Travelers organizations and says in part:

"Traveling men all over the country have reached the conclusion that the prices charged by hotels for rooms and meals have reached the peak. The traveling fraternity has the same weapons with which to wage warfare upon the proprietors of the hotels and hotel corporations that the general public used in refusing to purchase wearing apparel and shoes at prices which they thought out of reason and proportion. Therefore, the Hotel Committee of the International Federation of Commercial Travelers Organizations urges the recipient of this letter to refuse to patronize such hotels as are charging or asking exorbitant prices for rooms and food. This letter is being sent to six hundred thousand (600,000) traveling men and each and every man must do his part for only in unison is there strength, and only by the concentrated efforts of the army of six hundred thousand of your craft can it be expected to get results."

"A thirty day 'strike' along the line herein suggested will cause the hotels to soon offer more favorable terms and inducements. When you step up to the hotel register and you are told the price of a room, and if you believe it is exorbitant after taking into consideration the service offered and the investment of the hotel, do not hesitate to say so and walk out. This must be done in restaurants."

"Traveling men from different parts of the country have sent the Hotel Committee copies of menu cards of leading hotels and by scanning the prices published thereon it makes one think that Jesse James was a piker in his palmist days when compared with the prices some hotels are asking for accommodations. You cannot bring down these prices by submitting to them and then go out and kick. Your complaint must be made to the hotel proprietor and he must be given to understand that you and the members of your craft intend to refuse to pay them."

Also in the concluding part of this letter to Texas editors, Mr. Blanton says: "Congressman Langley and his committee are also trying to pass a bill to spend millions furnishing each senator and congressman with a luxurious apartment to live in." The only bill by Mr. Langley and his committee dealing with that subject is a joint resolution authorizing the public buildings commission to inquire into the matter and report to congress. This resolution, limited as it is only to an inquiry on the subject, has been neither considered nor adopted by the house and there is no probability that it will be.

As to the entire statement sent to the Texas papers, we desire to say, individually and collectively, that any insinuation, innuendo or statement therein contained intimating or suggesting that we have either in the past or now favor a bill to raise our own salaries, or that we are either a party to or acquiesce in any effort or plan to make a raid upon the public treasury for our own benefit, either as to salary or as to building an apartment building, is absolutely without any foundation whatever. It such a bill is taken up in the house for legislative consideration (a contingency which appears to have no prospect of happening), we would oppose it unconditionally.

If you published Mr. Blanton's appeal in your paper, will you be kind enough to publish this reply, so that your readers will understand our position.

CONGRESSMEN FLOUT BLANTON'S CLAIMS

Editor Sentinel:
A number of Texas newspapers have published a letter sent out by Congressman Thomas L. Blanton, from Washington, under date of February 7th, in which he writes, among other things, as follows:

"I need your prompt help to prevent a wrong proposed against the public. There is a determined effort now, both in the house and senate to pass before adjournment, a measure to increase the salary of congressmen and senators to $10,000 and to $12,000, if possible. Won't you help to prevent this wrong? For three years I have been forced to remain on the floor of the house to prevent this proposal from being attached as a rider to appropriation bills," etc.

Ordinarily we would not feel called upon to reply to statements sent to Texas newspapers by Mr. Blanton, but in this particular instance it seems plain to us that he means to leave the impression with Texas editors and their readers that the other members of congress from our state are in favor of this increase; that we are part of the so-called determined effort to pass the bill, and that he alone is standing in the breach and is preventing it from being passed. If such is not his purpose, then we mistake the meaning of his words. It seems clear that such is the plain implication.

Therefore, lest it be thought by some, who are not familiar with Mr. Blanton and his methods, that we are in favor of a salary increase, we take this opportunity of saying that we are and have been opposed to any salary increase, and will oppose it if such a proposal should come up for legislative consideration. We feel, however, that candor compels us to say that there has not been the slightest probability of such a measure being passed, either during the present session of congress, or in during the three years in which he says he has been "forced to remain on the floor of the house to prevent this proposal being attached as a rider on appropriation bills." No such bill has been reported favorably by any committee of the house of representatives, and there is no prospect that any will be.

Also in the concluding part of this letter to Texas editors, Mr. Blanton says: "Congressman Langley and his committee are also trying to pass a bill to spend millions furnishing each senator and congressman with a luxurious apartment to live in." The only bill by Mr. Langley and his committee dealing with that subject is a joint resolution authorizing the public buildings commission to inquire into the matter and report to congress. SIX IRISH REBELS ARE SHOT IN PAIRS
Cork, Feb. 28.—Six Irishmen in jail here charged with levying a war tax against the forces of the crown were duly executed today. The men were shot by the military in batches of two at intervals of fifteen minutes.

The district court early Wednesday morning granted to Mrs. D. M. Kelley a divorce from her husband, D. M. Kelley, on the grounds she charged him on.

MANY ARE KILLED IN RAILROAD WRECK

Porter, Ind., Feb. 28.—Relief crews today have taken 33 bodies and scores of injured from the wreckage of the Michigan Central and New York Central passenger trains which crashed last night at a crossing here. Six bodies are visible far under the debris.

The forward coaches of the New York Central, west-bound, lay upon two splintered coaches of the Michigan Central, east-bound, through which the train had plowed traveling at a speed of nearly 50 miles an hour. The darkness and tangled wreckage made rescue work slow, and officials are waiting for daylight to make an accurate check of the dead and injured. Towerman Cook, on duty at the crossing, declared the block two miles away was set against the Michigan Central, while the track was left clear for the New York Central train. Railroad officials at the scene of the wreck said Engineer Long of Jackson, Mich., who escaped unhurt, declared he received the clear signal, checking it with his fireman. A heavy death toll, it is believed, is made doubtful if more than a score were seriously hurt, as only the passengers in two coaches received the shock of the flying New York Central train. The speed of the train is believed to have saved the lives of passengers in the other coaches.

Forty-two bodies have been recovered.

Railroad Employees Killed
Fort Smith, Ark., Feb. 28.—Four employees of the Missouri Pacific Railroad shops at Van Buren, Ark., were instantly killed by an explosion early today.

POLISH RAILROADS UNDER MARTIAL LAW
Warsaw, Feb. 25.—The railroads of the Warsaw district are now operated under martial law, following a strike of mechanics for higher wages. Russian soviet prisoners are used as strikebreakers. Notices threatening the death penalty to persons interfering have been posted.

Messrs. George H. and L. G. King of Houston, accompanied by the latter's two daughters, Misses Marcelle and Floy, arrived in the city Friday night. The gentlemen are engaged in court business, while the tots are visiting their grandmother, Mrs. W. H. Duncan.

ARKANSAS MOB ATTACKS MEXICANS

Pine Bluff, Ark., Feb. 24.—Forty Mexican laborers brought here for section work recently by the Cotton Belt Railroad were routed from their camp six miles from here last night by unknown parties, who "shot up" the camp. No one was hurt. The white and negro employees of the maintenance of way department quit their jobs recently following a wage cut. The Mexicans were brought here from Texas to work under the new wage arrangement.

HOOVER'S JOB IS UP TO HARDING
New York, Feb. 24.—Herbert Hoover declared today that he had left it to the president-elect to decide whether he could be of more service as secretary of commerce or as director of European Relief.

Hoover today announced he has proposed to Mr. Harding a general reconstruction plan for the Department of Commerce and the enlargement of its field.

MONUMENT FOR WAR WORKERS AND FIGHTERS
Austin, Texas, Feb. 24.—By refusing to print the minority report the house killed the bill proposing the repeal of the Robertson insurance law.

The house finally passed the bill by Teer of Williamson and others appropriating $30,000 to erect a monument on the capitol grounds in memory of the soldiers, sailors, marines and nurses who lost their lives in the World War.

Takes Whack at House
Austin, Texas, Feb. 24.—The governor gave out a statement today regarding the action of the house in killing the bill proposing to amend the Dean prohibition law, saying "the defeat of this bill is the greatest victory for bootleggers and the lawless element that has been won in the state in many years."

It is a powerful and scientific combination of sulphur and other healing agents for the relief and cure of diseases of the skin. It is especially effective in the ITCHING VARIETIES; giving instant relief from the itching and smarting sensations and by its germ-destroying properties it exterminates the microbe which is the cause of the eruption, thus curing the disease completely.

Littell's Liquid Sulphur Compound is used in all cases of Eczema, Tetter, Barber's Itch, Psoriasis, Herpes, Rash, Oak and Ivy Poisoning, also for relieving the annoyance caused by chiggers and mosquito bites.

In the treatment of ECZEMA—the most painful and obstinate of all skin diseases—it is one of the most successful remedies known.

MALARIA AND AGUE BROKEN UP IN THREE DAYS

Swamp Chill and Fever Tonic Brings Relief to Thousands

Don't keep on suffering from those awful chills—that horrible shivering and shaking—that burning fever. Go to your drugist or a neval store this very day and get a bottle of Swamp Chill and Fever Tonic—the famous, never-failing remedy that's been relieving the suffering for years and years.

For the small sum of 60 cents you get a sure-shot remedy that quickly drives out all the malaria—and drives it away to stay! That's why so many leading physicians prescribe Swamp Chill Tonic as the best malaria remedy there is.

RAILROAD COMPANY ACCEPTS LOCAL TIES

Mr. W. T. Orton has returned from Houston, where he has been again in conference with the officials of the Southern Pacific Railway regarding the tie situation in Nacogdoches county, the number of ties in this county being approximately 2,000,000. For a time it looked as though the S. P. would cancel all their tie contracts here, and throw the makers of these ties into hard financial condition. But Mr. Orton says he now has assurances that all the ties of this county will be accepted.

MRS. WAYMON LORD

Mrs. Waymon Lord died at 4 o'clock Friday morning at her home in San Augustine, according to a telephone message to Mrs. James Thrash of this city.

It will be recalled that Mr. and Mrs. Lord came to Nacogdoches several months ago and secured rooms with Mrs. Frank Huston, on West Main Street. Mr. Lord was employed in one of the barbershops of the city, and the young couple made a good impression upon all with whom they came in contact. Shortly after her arrival Mrs. Lord was stricken with illness and continued to grow worse. In the hope of benefiting her, she was taken back to her old home, San Augustine. The change was unavailing, however, and she passed away Friday morning, as stated. The good Christian women of Nacogdoches did all in their power to alleviate the sufferings of the invalid while she was here, and all join in sympathy for the stricken family.

STORM AT CLAWSON

It was learned from parties in town this morning from Clawson, six miles north on the Cotton Belt, that there was considerable wind and a terrific hail in that locality about 8 o'clock last night. Some barns and outhouses were blown down, one or two residences were moved from their foundation and many rail fences laid low. The hail was not of the large variety, and it did but little damage, it is thought.—Lufkin News, 23rd.

MRS. JOHN LEWIS

Thursday morning at 9:30 Mrs. John Lewis, aged 66, of Decoy passed away after a prolonged illness.

The deceased was buried in the Decoy cemetery Friday, Rev. A. T. Gerard officiating. She leaves five children, two of whom are girls, Mrs. John Greer and Mrs. Marshall Boozler, and three boys, Messrs. Lang Lewis, Lee Lewis and Jake Lewis. She is also survived by her husband.

KINNEY-BENISON

In his office at the court house at 5 o'clock Thursday afternoon, Judge Frank Huston joined in wedlock Mr. Cleveland Kinney and Miss Minnie Benison of Cushing.

The seniors of the high school are subscribing to a fund which will be disbursed in fixing up the high school campus. As before stated in this paper, the seniors are planning to leave as a "monument to the school" the campus carefully cindered and leveled for the seniors of 1922. The idea is a good one; if all the senior classes will unite in doing one thing for the school each year, the campus can be made to look much better in time.

Dr. W. I. M. Smith announced to a Sentinel man Thursday that he had bought the interest of his partner, Dr. F. R. Tucker, in the Tucker-Smith Sanitarium and becomes the sole owner of that institution. Dr. Smith will make his home in the sanitarium.

J. J. WALKER APPOINTED JUSTICE OF THE PEACE

We note from the report of the meeting of the Commissioners Court last week that D. E. Paine has tendered his resignation as justice of the peace and J. J. Walker was appointed to fill the unexpired term.

We are sure that Mr. Walker will make us a good official in this capacity, having served as justice of the peace in another county for four years.—Cushing Journal.

SACUL TASTES OIL EXCITEMENT

R. C. Davis and a crew of men went up to Sacul the first of the week to build an oil well derrick for the Palmetto Oil Company, which is preparing to drill on a large lease near Sacul. The first well will be put down about three-quarters of a mile north west of the town on the Reeves land. The driller for the company is superintending the work, which is expected to be under way in a short time.

The location of the well is near the famous sulphur springs where the Nacogdoches Boy Scouts camp each year. Mr. John T. Lucas has reserved camping grounds for the Boy Scouts of Nacogdoches and is taking care of their camping equipment until next summer's hike.

In reserving a camp ground for the Scouts from that turned over in the lease to the oil company, Mr. Lucas has a feeling that the scouts are going to bring good luck to the company. The scouts have been camping at Sacul for a number of years.—Cushing Journal.

Among other things that can be raised successfully in Nacogdoches county is rabbits—not the regular old variety, but the registered kind. There is one boy here who insists that his name not be mentioned in this article. He has an exceptional record for raising rabbits. The meat of a rabbit is said to be the most delicious to be had, rivaling the most tender, juicy steak. It will pay the housewife to consider letting her children raise the wonderful little animals. They furnish a good supply of food and they can be raised for profit.

Lots of the farmers are bringing produce to town now and selling it at a fair margin of profit. If this practice is adhered to, better conditions will exist both in the town and country. Wednesday one man talking to the newspaper man declared that he was selling all his perishable products and keeping his non-perishable produce. "I am still going to keep working despite the turn-up market. The idea of producing nothing because there is no market is not sense. There will be a market sometime, and then the man who has worked can cash out. I am even going to plant some cotton," the man said.

It seems that there are other counties that have muddy roads as well as Nacogdoches. The first of the week J. A. Landrum and A. G. Edens were traveling in Angelina county when plump they went into a mudhole clean up to their car doors. After vainly trying to get themselves out of the mudhole, Teams were used. It took just only six mules and a lever to get the car out of the hole.

Postmaster A. Y. Donegan is back on the job now at the postoffice after his vacation. He says that he feels a great deal better, and that he is prepared for better work during the few months of his term. He will, it is understood, vacate his office to another man July 1.

In the case of A. C. Ford vs. S. H. Studdard was settled Friday, the jury deciding that the plaintiff should receive $70 for damages. It seems that Ford owned an automobile in which another vehicle owned by Studdard ran, causing complete, or almost complete destruction to the car owned by Ford.

Men engaged in the real estate business in Nacogdoches declare the business is dull just now, but they think it will pick up soon. With the coming of the Stephen F. Austin Normal, homes will have to be built to accommodate the people. When this occurs, business of buying, selling and building will come at a high pace—all to the profit of the real estate man.

Some of the local lumber men are enjoying a good trade with Mexican firms, it is said, and considerable correspondence is carried on between lumber dealers and Mexican retailers. If a Mexican business can be built up, the little closed-down sawmills of East Texas can once more get busy.

"W. C. WILSON" IS BROUGHT BACK TO CITY

Monday afternoon Sheriff Woodlan arrived in the city with "W. C. Wilson" to face the charges of swindling against him here. Wilson was brought here from San Antonio, where he had been in prison since his apprehension in Beaumont some few weeks ago.

He was carried into the office of the county attorney Monday and quizzed by Attorneys W. B. Bates and Audley Harris. The information they obtained from him is not made public. However, it was learned that the man's activity here was only the beginning of the end of a lot of his disreputable performances in other places. He has operated under a number of aliases, according to his own statement. In Nacogdoches he was W. C. Wilson; in Beaumont he was H. Burham; in Louisiana he was H. C. Clutchson, and he says now that his real name is J. E. Connally, and that he is a native of Ireland. "When I get out of this trouble, I am going back to Ireland, where the people are not so susceptible to fraudulency," Wilson told the officers Monday, according to District Attorney W. B. Bates.

He was placed in jail after being thoroughly questioned by local authorities.

When the bowels are costive the waste matter ferments, produces a gaseous condition that is disagreeable. To remove the impurities quickly, a dose of Herbine is needed. It does the work thoroughly and pleasantly. Price 60c. Sold by Stripling, Haselwood & Co.

CAUGHT IN FLYWHEEL, NEGRO IS KILLED

Gains Robertson, 35 years old, engine room helper at the plant of the Southern Ice & Utilities Company, found by Jim Rhodes, colored, day tank man, in the engine room between 7 and 8 o'clock last night with the top of his skull torn off. Rhodes called Night Engineer Mayo Wells, and they lifted the body from the proximity of the engine where it lay. The presumption is that Robertson stumbled and fell into the whirling flywheel and was struck by one of the spokes. Death was instantaneous.

Justice of the Peace Frank Huston was notified and held an inquest over the body, the verdict being that deceased came to his death from accidental causes.

Robertson had been in the employ of the ice company for several years, and was accounted a good man. He leaves a wife, but no children.
