EXTRA SESSION OF CONGRESS APRIL 11

Washington, March 15.—April 11 was selected as the date for the special session of the Sixty-seventh congress, the first to be held under President Harding's administration. The announcement was read with general satisfaction by the senate leaders, most of whom said they preferred that date to April 4, because of the additional week it gave them to arrange plans for the coming session.

REPORT BOLSHEVIKI LOSING CONTROL

Stockholm, March 15.—The Russian bolshevik authorities seem to be losing control of the soviet troops, according to dispatches received here from Finland and Esthonia. Such messages had been pouring into the city yesterday and last night. Artillery fire from the fortress at Kronstadt was directed yesterday along the southern coast of the Gulf of Finland between Oranienbaum and Petrograd.

OIL WELL FIRE IN BRECKENRIDGE FIELD

Breckenridge, Texas, March 15.—Ignited from a refuse fire on the banks of a creek the No. 7 Dixie well and pipe line of the Crown company were burning here yesterday afternoon with a loss estimated already at more than $100,000. The $1,000,000 pumping plant of the Texas Company and a well of the Humble Oil Company were threatened. Dynamite and steam were being used to combat the flames but without much success.

The burning well is a producer of between 1,400 and 1,500 barrels of oil a day. This is the third disastrous blaze in Breckenridge within the last month. The other fires, both of which were in the business districts, destroyed several blocks of business houses and caused losses totaling more than $100,000 each.

Flames from the burning well were unchecked late last night. All available dynamite and steam was being used to combat the flames.

PACKINGHOUSE MEN AWAIT VOTE RESULT

Chicago, March 14.—While the outcome of mediation plans and the result of the strike vote, employees of the packing house plants in Chicago and their leading branches in the Middle West decided to work today under the reduced wage scale announced by the five leading packers. More than 100,000 men are affected by the reductions of 15 and 12 1/2 percent in the hourly rate and piecework, respectively, with time and half for overtime only after ten hours.

The county grand jury is in session now, and will probably dismiss for the week Wednesday or Thursday, according to County Attorney Audley Harris.

NEW SCHOOL TAX LAW IS NOW IN EFFECT

The following dispatch from Austin under a recent date contains information which will be of interest to all school trustees and others concerned in educational work:

"An important ruling made by the Attorney General advises the state superintendent of public instruction that taxes can be levied this year by school district under the enabling act putting into effect the amendment to the constitution raising the limit for school taxes. School districts are also advised that they have the same right to levy and collect taxes as heretofore existing except that the new law empowers them to levy taxes not exceeding $1 on the $100 valuation for maintenance of school and a tax not to exceed 50 cents in payment of school building bonds, but the maintenance tax, together with the bond tax, can not exceed $1.

The new law is now in effect, it having confined the emergency clause received the necessary two-thirds vote and was signed by the governor. School districts may proceed to hold elections to increase their school taxes by a majority vote.

Ass't Attorney Gen. W. P. Dumas wrote the opinion, and he points out how the taxes may be levied. He says that where a school district votes taxes or bonds under the enabling act and the order authorizing the issuance of the bonds or levy of the tax, is passed before the tax rolls are completed, then the tax shall be levied for the current year, but if such bond order or tax order, is passed after the final approval of the tax rolls, then the tax should be levied for the ensuing year."

Gray, the president of the Union Pacific, will take the stand later, Friday of Saturday.

Decision to request the appearance of the executives was made by the board yesterday after Frank P. Walsh, attorney for the labor unions, in the rules hearing now before the board, had refused to proceed with the case until the railwaymen had been called. These four, together with thirteen others, are expected by the unions to furnish testimony on cross-examination which will materially strengthen their case, according to union representatives.

It was through a similar request last year that one of the graduates of the university who is now making good with this bank received his appointment. ## HARDING'S REBUKE TO THE HYPHENATES

Whatever may be said of President Harding's talents as a cabinet builder he is deserving of commendation in one particular. He has succeeded in making a cabinet without including either George Sylvester Viereck or any one dictated by him.

And however complaint Mr. Harding may have seemed before assuming office, it is apparent that the new president did not hesitate to tell Mr. Viereck "where to head in," when it became necessary for him to act. Obviously, that conference the pro-German agitator imposed upon Mr. Harding several weeks ago, at which he demanded the appointment of a "German-American" was less satisfactory than Mr. Harding's caller tried to make the public believe afterwards.

The president has very wisely and commendably refrained from recognizing the racial issue Mr. Viereck raised in the matter. To those foreign groups in this country, which voted for Mr. Harding under the impression that he would show special favors to their particular group, or foster the interests of their faction or nation in Europe, the cabinet selections should prove disillusioning. For he has made it very clear that the hyphen it to be given no recognition in his administration. Whatever course he pursues toward Europe will be dictated by what he believes to be the welfare of America, and not at the behest of any racial group in America.

The president's course in this respect will detract from his popularity as he goes along. As racial agitators who pinned their hopes of dominating America for selfish purposes upon Mr. Harding, after failing to dominate Mr. Wilson, ascertain that President Harding can not be made to do their bidding, they will experience bitter disappointment, and the president will suffer detraction at their hands, in the same way that Mr. Wilson suffered.

With 100 percent Americans, however, every criticism from these quarters will be received as a tribute to the president. So the more the hyphenates abuse Mr. Harding the surer we may be of his Americanism. Let the anvil chorus resume.—Houston Post.

CENSORSHIP FOR THE MOVIES

The question of a censorship for the moving pictures is strongly in the foreground in Washington. Advocates of the rigid application of this resolution urge that the motion picture producers are not elevating the class of their attractions, and all sorts of social maladies are laid at the door of the popular entertainment houses. Opponents of the censorship idea urge that it is no more possible to regulate the character of the picture productions by this process than it would be to prescribe what newspapers should print, or what should constitute fiction in books. The Pennsylvania plan is being discussed as a probable solution. It lays down the rule that no picture shall deal with certain immoral subjects, or the drug habit, or the method of operation of criminals, such as murder, house-breaking, safe robbing, hanging, counterfeiting etc. Vulgarities that are obnoxious are also defined. The standards, rather than the censorship of Pennsylvania, are being pointed to as safe methods for guidance of picture operators. They define what is common decency in pictures to an extent that almost approaches the care and caution that is ordinarily used by that great army of responsible men and women, in the land, who write for the newspapers and periodicals.

FORGETTING ECONOMY PLEDGE

Now that the Republican party has gained control of the government, less is heard of congressional economies which formed such a substantial part of the campaign pledge. For long congress has asserted that it was saving the taxpayers oodles of money and for evidence pointed to the fact that the appropriations granted were less than the departmental estimates. Every congress, regardless of party, could point to similar evidences if it cared to do so.

Saving money in the national government is something more than mere paring down the estimates. Substantial reductions and economies mean decreasing appropriations below the level of the year before. In this, says Congressman Byrnes, the republican congress has signally failed.

Formerly, Mr. Byrnes showed, the practice of the Republicans was to actually cut down some appropriations, for the sake of making a show of economy, and then at the beginning of the next session pass deficiency bills large enough not only to equal the cuts previously made, but to actually exceed them.

The other day Chairman Mondell was claiming a saving of more than $100,000,000. But Mr. Byrnes showed that bills passed by the house had been increased by the senate so that instead of a saving of that amount, there had been an actual increase, not including the army and navy bill of $139,000,000, over the appropriations for the current year.

The taxpayer, figuring on his income tax blank, is more likely to accept the Byrnes version of the congressional saving and recall that though President Wilson, repeatedly urged relief for the taxpayer, a Republican Congress since 1918 has studiously refused or failed to lighten the burden.—Ex.

THE KITCHEN PEDESTRIAN

Statistics compiled for the conference of the Vocational Workers of the South, held in Montgomery, Ala., showed that a housewife in preparing three meals a day for an average family walks two miles. The figures were obtained by using a pedometer on students in the "model home" at one of the vocational schools. They are therefore moderate. If a student walks two miles a day along the familiar route of stove, sink, pantry, and table in the "model home," with everything arranged for the utmost convenience, it seems likely that the average housewife, without such efficient arrangement of her house and working utensils, must walk three or four miles.

Next thing somebody ought to attach a pedometer to another while she is making beds and cleaning the house and doing the washing and ironing—with or without modern machinery. Also on occasions when she is doing her fall canning or feeding a threshing crew or taking care of a crowd of Sunday visitors or celebrating Christmas holidays.

If there were one of these pedometers in every home, it might be granted soap that housekeeping is a job. And along with the pedometer there ought to be some machine to register the energy expended by another merely in keeping on her feet, quite aside from her locomotion, for several hours a day. This is an illuminating and constructive line of inquiry, in an industrial field that will stand a good deal of exploring.—Ex.

AGRICULTURAL STATISTICS

The following figures on stocks of corn and wheat and the valuation of various classes of farm land in Texas as established by the Bureau of Crop Estimates, United States Department of Agriculture and representative of conditions on March 9, 1921, are given herewith as issued through the office of E. M. Johnson, Agricultural Statistician of Texas.

CORN—The percent of the corn crop remaining on farms March 1st, is estimated to be 40 percent of the total production, the percent shipped out of the county where grown is 7 percent and the percent of the crop that was of merchantable quality is 86.

WHEAT—Ten percent of the wheat crop remains on the farms March 1st, and 50 percent is estimated as shipped out of the country where grown.

LAND VALUES—The average land values for Texas are reported as follows: Average of poor plow lands $38; average of good plow lands $76; average of all plow lands $60; average value of all farm lands per acre with improvements $71; without improvements $54.

CASH RENTS—Average cash rents as reported to this Bureau on March 1st are as follows: Average cash rent paid for a typical rented farm $473; average value of such farm $9,284; average size of such farm 141 acres; average cash rent paid for plow lands per acre $5.14; average value of such fields per acre $80. In most cases the farms rented were reported on the share rather than the cash basis.

BRAGS ABOUT WEATHER

Overcoats have been worn in the city today by many, while linen dusters would have suited the occasion yesterday. This is one of the pleasures of living in East Texas. There is not that dull monotony about the weather that obtains in many other places.—Lufkin News.

WHAT NEW PRESIDENT WILL COST FIRST YEAR

Just now the American people are interested in the cost of government and on the subject it will be interesting to consider the cost of Senator Harding's first year as president of the United States.

The figures are given out from Washington, and is an estimate based on data from an official source. As President, Senator Harding will receive a salary of $75,000, and the office carries with it $25,000 for traveling expenses and $89,000 for furnishings and upkeep of the White House and the spacious grounds that surround it. Mrs. Harding as the first lady of the land, will receive $50,000 with which to refurnish the house, pay servants, buy automobiles, gasoline, horses and feed for them.

The sum of $8,000 is allowed to heat the executive mansion and the green house; $18,000 for green house extensions and upkeep—$9,000 for the employment of a gardener and his help, and $9,000 for miscellaneous expenses.

It will be remembered that the White House grounds have been closed since 1917 on account of the war, but these are to be reopened to the public again, and it is estimated that it will cost the tidy sum of $10,000 to improve them and make them pleasing to the eye.

For lights in the mansion, green houses, and throughout the grounds $8,600 has been set aside.

The total sum is $789,000 and while this seems large at first, it does not compare with the salary and expenses of keeping an Old World monarch, the latter spending a sum ranging into the millions each year.—Exchange.

FREE TRIPS ARRANGED FOR PIG CLUB MEMBERS

An agreement has just been completed by R. W. Persons, state club leader and Armour's bureau of agricultural research and economics, which again provides for free trips to Chicago and the International Live Stock Exposition for the Champion Pig and Calf club members of the state.

The winners will be selected by the State Club Leader, and three members of the State College Staff, who will pass on the records of the various club members. The winners will be announced about three weeks before the trip is to be made. The only requirements are that the winner must take the trip and then prepare a brief story on his or her experience at the stock show.

While in Chicago the winners will have a very interesting week's tour outlined, consisting of a day and evening at the stock show, trips through the packing plant, the financial district, museums, department stores, parks, industrial works and movies, entertainments and eats and everything that goes to make a good time. That these trips are well worth working for is proven by the numerous "thank you" letters received from the 475 club members from 25 different states and Canada. This includes Royce Christopher, Arlington and Adrian B. Perkins of Burlington.

Any Texas boy or girl can enter this contest by getting in touch with their county club leaders, county agent or by writing to the state club leader direct.

The purpose of this company in offering these prizes is to stimulate the interest of the farm boys and girls in live stock production by giving them the opportunity for study at the greatest livestock center in the world.

LETTER FROM SACUL

To the Sentinel:

How can the poor, dependent hard-working farmers let banks key their backs, when they have no money to deposit and none to buy fertilizer with, but most of us can get by, by having the good eats and live at home out of our gardens, kill our own 6-months-old Poland Chinas for good eats and have the fatted bell-cow and her heifer to ship to the county seat city, to sell to the banker and he never bought a bit, but lugs home with his cheese and crackers in a paper sack and doubtful whether he goes to Sunday-school or church only on special Sundays to wear his best and look his best too, for an advertisement.

And some part their hair in the middle to imitate the women as much as possible and to see how many ladies they can keep hooks for.

We farmers want banks that will loan farmers a small amount of their deposits and pay ten percent per annum on something the banks don't own but get it for their double-entry bookkeeping.

Some had rather loan to big speculators at 4 percent than to help the farmers that need the help to make a crop on half of the land, and same work by using cotton seed meal and acid phosphate, which is sold for cash strictly.

I can call you to banks who loan to bigger banks at small interest instead of letting the farmer have it at big interest, who would have paid, but rather let the speculating banks have it, and then lose it, but may get 25 to 50 percent by waiting a year or more, now can't loan a cent to anybody, even to their own daddies and dear old mothers.

Have to say to them over the limit but an awful sorry on this special occasion of your sons going to watch next time and head off the slick speculator, and let him take his bill of lading to the home bank and get cash on it.

We want here in East Texas and especially in Nacogdoches county—more union, more pull-together, and more good-will. Need bigger Chamber of Commerce, lots bigger Farm Bureau and when Sunday comes everybody go to Sunday-school and church at noon and night too.

If we keep busy we won't have time to talk about our neighbors and say what we would do if we were so-and-so.

We have the highways, the best city (Doches) in East Texas, the Doches city people have the best businesses, banks, biggest retail and wholesale houses and the biggest boosters that ever lived. They don't do things by halves. They rolled up their sleeves, put on their best clothes and best locks too, and went to Austin and got the promise of the Stephen F. Austin Normal, the biggest thing that Doches ever has gotten and it is going to pay the boosters for their work at Austin likely 200 or 300 percent, but they deserve it and hope we will have it real soon.—Farm Bureau Man at Sacul, Texas.

SAME THING HERE

They have the same thing in Texas. Says the San Francisco Chronicle:

VICE PRESIDENT MARSHALL TO SPEAK AT LUFKIN

It is understood that arrangements are being made to run a special train from Diboll for the lecture of ex-Vice President Marshall in Lufkin on the 21st inst. It is also learned that Alto will send representation, Nacogdoches and no doubt other East Texas towns nearby. Lufkin is the only city in East Texas where the distinguished speaker will fill an engagement, the nearest other being at Tyler. Tickets are now on sale in this city for the event.—Lufkin News.

HOW

SIDEWALKS VARY IN THE CITIES OF OLD EUROPE.
—The sidewalks and pavements in different countries vary as much as the people. In many towns of Holland the sidewalks are private property, and one is not expected to step across them unless entering the house to which the walk belongs. In many cities the streets and sidewalks, end in canals, especially in The Hague and Rotterdam.

In many Swiss towns sidewalks are under arcades, the masonry houses being built to the curb. Under the arcades are paved sidewalks, which in summer are swarmed with tourists. In Chester, Eng., some streets have sheltered sidewalks similar to the Swiss sort, but they are even more curious, since they are raised to the second floor. The island of Malta has flights of stairs for sidewalks, that lead to the sea.

In certain old German towns the sidewalks seem to be regarded as incidental, sometimes narrowing to a foot or two. An Italian nobleman had the courtyard of his palace paved with slabs of stone, each piece of which had been brought from a different part of the world. The famous Rue de la Republique, in Lyons, is laid in glass blocks, eight inches square, so systematically fitted together that water cannot penetrate. Tombstones have been employed for paving in some places in England, and in Africa human skulls have been used.

FIRST TO ADOPT UNIFORMS

How the Present Regulation of Attire and Martial Music Came into General Use.

The early Lacedaemonians were the first who availed themselves of martial music for regulating the march, as well as making the will of the leaders intelligible without words to the practiced ears of the warriors. The learning of the various melodies, which, that they might remain unintelligible to the enemy, had much variety, was one of the chief occupations of the army training school. They also first adopted military uniforms, choosing red that the enemy might not perceive if he had inflicted wounds.

Lacedaemonian troops were wont to wear their hair long as a sign of freedom, a privilege which was not allowed to mechanics, as it was not permitted to slaves to bear arms. At the opening and during the continuance of war the military officers always accompanied the army and drilled it in the morning with marching, in manipulations and evolutions; they ate with the warriors, exercised them in their songs of praise to the gods and heroes, and slept like the private soldiers, on their arms. At the conclusion of a war the king gave an account of his administration of it. Men who died in battle were honored the same as other immortalized heroes. The whole country put on mourning when the king died, and business was suspended for 10 days.

How Sounds Travel.

A prevalent impression has been that explosive sounds travel much farther than ordinary sounds, with a velocity of several times the normal. The experiments of Dr. D. C. Miller at Sandy Hook proving ground have shown that the velocity at 100 feet from a ten-inch gun is about 1,240 feet per second, or 22 per cent above normal; at 200 feet from the gun, only 5 per cent above normal; and at all distances greater than 500 feet the velocity of the explosive sound from the largest gun is practically normal. The tests were made by sensitive microphones at the muzzle, and at distances of 100, 200, 300, 400, 500, 600, 1,000, 2,000, 7,500 and 21,000 feet, the records of six of these stations being taken simultaneously by a special moving film camera and a string galvanometer.

How Women Took Seals.

Newfoundland women of the little fishing village of Tilt Cove are the pride of the bay. The wife of the lightkeeper on Gull Island saw signs of a herd of seal floating on the ice, sent word ashore to the women of Tilt Cove and marshalled them into sealing crews. They went in boats, armed with clubs and gaffs, and climbing on the ice cakes, set out to round up a catch. They found the seals sprawled on all sides, and learned later that they had struck the main patch, the hope of all seal hunters. The women went about their work with vim and had captured or killed 100 seals when approaching nightfall compelled them to cease their labors and make their catch secure.

How to Waterproof Tents.

A solution of paraffin and gasoline is recommended as a simple and cheap process for waterproofing cloth for tents. Mix in the proportion of one pound of paraffin, melted, to one gallon of gasoline. Stir well and immerse the cloth. Allow to stand, away from buildings or danger of fire, until the gasoline has evaporated. The paraffin will permeate the cloth as the gasoline evaporates, rendering the cloth impermeable to moisture. Coarse unbleached muslin is recommended in preference to cloth of finer texture, as the former permits better absorption of the paraffin.

CIGARETTE

No cigarette has the same delicious flavor as Lucky Strike. Because Lucky Strike is the toasted cigarette.

ANOTHER DISASTROUS FIRE

Three buildings and all contents were destroyed by fire last Friday morning about 2 a. m. The fire originated in the store of Williamson Bros. on one of the main corners of the business section and before it could be checked it had burned the stores of S. F. Rook, dry goods store, Bolton & Liles hardware store and the Industrial Transportation grocery store. All of the above named firms carried in insurance but not enough to cover the losses they sustained.

The corner building was owned by L. W. Tuttle, formerly of Alto, but now a resident of Austin. The one next to the corner was owned by the Summers Estate and the third by Mrs. Smith. All have stated that the building burned will be replaced at once.

This is the second mystery fire to occur in the business section of Alto in the past two months, and is causing quite a bit of comment. A fire previous to this one burned three frame buildings on Main street, and the fire Friday morning occurred at the same hour and same day as the other one, and in each instance there had been no fire of any kind around during the night or day before. Considering the fire last Friday morning, Mr. Williams stated there had been no fire in the building the day before, and even had there been, it does not seem possible that the building could have burned from the stove, as it was in the center of the store, and when the fire was discovered the building was in flames at both ends. It has been rumored around town that coal oil was discovered all over the back doors by parties who were first on the scene of the fire, but this report cannot be substantiated. That this fire was of an incendiary origin there is little doubt, and the only reasonable cause that it could be attributed to is that some one broke into the Williamson Bros. store and helped themselves to what they wanted and then set the building on fire to cover the robbery. This theory is being worked on by local officers, and in a way, results are looked for, as suspicion has already been directed in a certain way, and they may probably bring results.

All the merchants who were in business in the buildings have signified their intention of going back into business just as soon as they can get buildings to move in, something that is a very scarce article in Alto.—Alto Herald, 10th.

For Torpid Liver

"Black-Draught is, in my opinion, the best liver medicine on the market," states Mrs. R. H. Whiteside, of Keota, Okla. She continues: "I had a pain in my chest after eating—light, uncomfortable feeling—and this was very disagreeable and brought on headache. I was constipated and knew it was indigestion and inactive liver. I began the use of Black-Draught, night and morning, and it sure is splendid and certainly gives relief."

SAYS REPORT MADE TO RUIN LABOR UNIONS

Chicago, March 14.—The railroad labor unions today notified the railroad labor board that they would be unable to proceed with the hearing on national agreements unless the board complied with their request to subpoena various railroad executives to appear before the board. Frank P. Walsh, attorney for railroad brotherhoods, told the board at the opening of today's session that he was greatly surprised to find his request for subpoenas not being complied with, adding that it was useless for the labor side to continue testimony. He said the testimony of the railroad heads was essential to a fair hearing. Mr. Walsh referred to the labor situation in the packing industry, charging that the packers had joined with the Morgans and Garys and the railroad heads in a concerted attempt to ruin labor unions forever.

THAT'S EASY

A schoolboy was required to write an essay of 250 words about a motor car. He submitted the following: "My uncle bought a motor car. He was riding in the county when it bust up a hill. I think this is about 20 words. The other 230 are what my uncle said when he was walking back to town, but they would not do for publication."—Ex.

NORTH DAKOTA SOLONS ARE FISTIC ARTISTS

Bismark, N. D., March 14.—Divided control of the North Dakota legislature as between the Nonpartisan league faction and the Independent group produced a staminate in the session just ended and held enactment of other than routine measures to a minimum.

The Nonpartisans controlled the senate, while the Independents reigned in the house, and all measures interpreted as especially furthering the interests of either faction, met prompt defeat in the opposition chamber with little debate.

This split control, however, did not prevent a bitter siege, in which the Independents' principal ammunition was a house committee investigation of the Bank or North Dakota and other state-owned industries. Charges of grave mismanagement made before this committee were refuted in testimony before a counter investigation by the senate.

Accusations and recrimination that attended these investigations resulted in an exciting finale in the closing hours of the session, when adherents of the respective factions engaged in fisticuffs in the capitol corridors.

Measured in the figures, the accomplishments of the session were: Of 203 bills introduced in the senate, 80 completed passage through both houses, while 79 of the 217 measures presented in the house received the governor's signature. Not a single measure was vetoed by Governor Lynn J. Frazier.

Laws enacted included one permitting the sale of farm products along the lines advocated by the National Farm Bureau Federation under cooperative arrangements, but cutting down from ten to five years the maximum periods for which a farmer may make a signed agreement to sell his products.

Blue laws passed included the anti-smoking bill, which forbids smoking in dining rooms, cafes and certain other places frequented by men and women. Another measure makes it illegal to have more cigars in one's possession than would be carried for personal use. Confiscation of automobiles and vehicles carrying liquor is permitted under another law.

Among other laws enacted are provisions for admitting to bail on recommendation of a judge any person charged with homicide; making registering at a hotel under a fictitious name a misdemeanor except for officers of the law; making $720 annually minimum pay for recognized grade of teachers, and permitting women to be jurors, but not requiring such service.

Deserving normal school students will be permitted to borrow up to $25 a month, with $500 maximum, from a fund created by the legislature, and free employment bureaus for laborers is another provision made. Persons under life sentence in a penal institution, another law provides, could not be pardoned until they had served half their life expectancy.

IMPORTANT MEETING

Tyler, Texas, March 14.—East Texas farmers are showing much interest in the second annual convention of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce, which will convene in Tyler on the 21st and 22d of March. Letters have been received from quite a number of towns in which they state they will bring a large delegation of farmers to attend the convention. Many farmers realize that the East Texas Chamber of Commerce, in its past year's activities, has been worth a great deal to them.

The program and arrangement committee have worked out a strong program and C. L. Duncan of Mt. Pleasant, and chairman of the committee, is very enthusiastic over the talent that he has secured to handle the different subjects.

Letters and wires have been received from a number of delegates requesting that hotel reservation be made for them.

PRUDENCE IN PANHANDLE

Dallas, Texas, March 14.—The biggest crop in years will be raised in the eastern portion of the Panhandle, and the cotton acreage reduction there will be greater than in any other portion of the state, in the opinion of Ben Mahoney, crew leader of an organization team of the Texas Farm Bureau Federation at work in that section. The farmers have a big wheat acreage planted and have had a good season, he said.

Farm Bureau organization has been completed in Hardeman, Foard, and Cottle counties and Mr. Mahoney's team will go into Dickey, Hall and Denny counties soon. The majority of the farmers in this part of the Panhandle are lining up with the bureau, he reported.

60 PERCENT CUT IN SALES OF PLOWS

New Orleans, March 14.—Next to the use of fertilizers, there is no better index of the acreage to be planted in cotton than the purchase of plows. While the plow is a durable implement and with care will last several years, the cotton planting industry is so vast in extent that heavy purchases of plows already indicate the extent of the increased acreage and small purchases indicate curtailment.

Chairman W. B. Thompson, of the Louisiana division, American Cotton Association, wrote to the three leading plow makers of this country, inquiring as to their business this season as compared with that of the preceding year. These are B. F. Avey & Sons, Louisville; The Moline Plow Company of Moline, Ill.; and the Deere Plow Company, St. Louis, Mo. Their prompt replies, averaged up, shows unmistakable corroborative evidence of the reduction in acreage. It would not be fair to them to indicate the losses of the firms individually, but, with their permission, an average was struck, on figures furnished by each, and shows a reduction in the plow business this season of 60 percent under that of a normal year.

FORMER SENATOR DRIVEN OUT AS NON-PARTISAN

Great Bend, Kan., March 14.—J. Ralph Burton of Salina, former United States senator from Kansas, and several associates were escorted from this county late Saturday by a party of 100 men. Former Senator Burton has been active in the non-partisan league movement in Kansas.

The former senator and members of his party came here, it is understood, in connection with the league movement. He and a Professor Wilson were scheduled to address a meeting in Ellinwood Saturday afternoon. They came here from Lewis, where they spoke Friday night.

Later J. O. Stevic, an organizer of the league, who came here in connection with the affair, together with a man said to be the state secretary of the organization, were driven from town. A large crowd witnessed the demonstration which resulted in the departure of Stevic and the other man. Fistic encounters were numerous.

At night a large demonstration was in progress.

CHAMP CLARK'S MEMORY

Bowling Green, Ky., March 14.—Uncle Joe Adams, care taker of the late Champ Clark's home "Honey Shuck" here is authority for the statement that the dead statesman was possessed of a remarkable memory.

One of Mr. Clark's prized possessions at "Honey Shuck" was an extensive library and "Uncle Joe" in talking of it said: "Champ Clark loved those papers and books and he knew exactly where everyone of them was. Why, he would write me a letter something like this: 'Dear Joe; Look on the third shelf, six papers from the end, and get me so-in-so's speech on Panama and mail it to me right away,' and sure enough it would be just where he said it was. He never made an error this way."

GLORIOUS IMAGE OF BUDDHA

An 80-foot wooden image of Buddha standing on a golden lotus flower within a sacred temple in "The Lama City," reserved for residences of Mongolian priests, is worshipped with all the insane devotion possible by the Mongolians. The great figure is heavily gilded, incrustated with precious stones, and draped with silken cloths.

When the temple is opened to the faithful of the city of Urga a priest at the entrance gives each person a few drops of holy water from a filthy jug, and the people, silent with awe, bathe their faces with the fluid and prostrate themselves before the statue, whose head is lost in the shadows of the temple roof. They kiss its silken draperies, soiled by the lips of thousands, and each one gathers a handful of sacred dirt from the temple floor.

From niches in the wall hundreds of tiny Buddhas gaze impassively on the worshipping Mongols. The scene of worship is described by Roy Chapman Andrews in Harper's Magazine as one "intoxicating in its barbaric splendor." The chorus of prayers which rise and fall in a meaningless half wild chant are broken by the clash of cymbals and the boom of snare-drum, and one is fully able to understand the religious fanaticism of the East when the people are seen at prayer in one of these temples.

MANY FORMS OF EARLY FLAGS

Various Types Were Used Before the Present Form of Old Glory was Adopted.

According to the Smithsonian Institution there were many forms of early flags, especially colonial types, used by the individual colonies and militia regiments, before the flag of the United States was established by the continental congress. June 14, 1777, the anniversary of which date is now celebrated as flag day. This act required that the flag of the United States be of 13 horizontal stripes, alternate red and white, and that the union be 13 white stars on a blue field, representing a new constellation.

One of the first occasions for public display of the Stars and Stripes is said to have been August 6, 1777, when the new flag was hoisted over the troops at Fort Schuyler, Rome, N. Y. John Paul Jones is said to have been the first to fly the Stars and Stripes over the high seas on the Ranger in November, 1777.

From the time of the Revolution the Stars and Stripes in the flag have varied. There were 13 stars during the Revolution, 15 in the war of 1812, 20 in the Mexican war, 33 to 35 in the Civil war, 45 in the Spanish war and 48 today. The stripes were changed first from 13 to 15 and then back again to 13. Our national flag is among the oldest flags of the nations, being older than the present British flag, the French tricolor and the flag of Spain.

The Painter's Dog.

Mrs. Ritchie, the daughter of William Makepeace Thackeray, the English novelist, writes of visits when she was a child to Sir Edwin Landseer, the animal painter. She says Sir Edwin was a delightful company and that he told the children many stories of animals as he stood painting at his huge canvases. "I remember," she says, "his telling us an anecdote of one of his dogs. He was in the habit of taking him out every day when his work was over. The dog used to wait patiently all day long while Sir Edwin was painting, but he used to come and lie down at his feet and look up in his face toward five o'clock, and on one occasion finding that no notice was taken of his hints he trotted into the hall and came back with the painter's hat, which he laid at his feet."

Friendship Reaches Far.

Friendship is an elastic word, rather. It may be stretched to almost any length and it can be contracted until it is unbelievably short and small, says Margaret E. Sangster, in Christian Herald. Like any rubber band, friendship can, of course, be stretched too far—stretched to the breaking point. But it's very hard to stretch the best sort of friendship so far.

Friendship may be the most elastic thing in the world. Some people do not realize the fact, but it can. It can be made to stretch past ambition, and around pride, and over personal vanities. It can be made to lighten the darkest pathway, to smooth out the roughest road. It can change almost unchangeable circumstances—it can break almost unbreakable troubles. It can be, after all, one of the most beautiful things in the world.

In the Spring.

When the society bug starts working young men are prone to lose sleep. That was my trouble one night when, after having taken a fair maiden home from a dance, I headed toward the garage. A long freight train crawling along blocked me at the first crossing, and I settled back to wait for it to snake itself by. The next thing I remember was a heavy hand pawing my shoulder. I started up in alarm, to find no trace of the train, the sun pushing up in the east, and the milkman grinning at me from the running board. I paid him a dollar hush money, but it did little good, for my engine had been running all the time, and it was too good a story to keep.—Exchange.

CITY'S GLORY LONG DEPARTED

Petra, Once Great Trade Center, is Now Place Utterly Without Human Inhabitants.

In A. D. 106 one of Trajan's generals conquered Petra, the ancient city of the Nabataeans in Arabia, and created the Roman province of Arabia Petraea, but the city continued to flourish as a trade center under the strong peace of Rome, writes Lowell Thomas in Asia magazine. In those days Petra was the focusing point on the caravan routes from the interior of Arabia, Persia and India to Egypt, Palestine and Syria. It was a great safe deposit of fabulous wealth, fortress by frowning cliffs. When Roman power waned, the Romanized Nabataeans were unable to withstand the desert hordes. The caravan trade was diverted through other channels and Petra declined in importance.

A little more than a century ago, John Lewis Burckhardt, a Swiss traveler, who had heard rumors of a great city of rock lying far out on the fringe of the Arabian desert, penetrated the gorge and found once more this wonderful old city of Petra, which had not been mentioned in any literary record since A. D. 536.

In the century or more since Burckhardt wrote of his discovery of the rock city in a letter from Cairo, only a few explorers and archeologists from the west have visited Petra. The journey is so long and arduous and the danger of violence from Bedonin nomads so great that not many have had the time or zeal to attempt it. The lion and the lizard kept the court where Jamshyd gloried and drank deep until Thomas Lawrence brought his fighting Bedonins into this city of tombs and empty palaces.

CHILD WHO CAUSED A WAR

British Girl Only Six Years of Age Was the Innocent Center of Trouble in Assam.

The discovery that Mary Winchester, who when only six years of age was the cause of the Lushais war, is still alive, has aroused the greatest interest.

She was abducted by the natives of northern Assam, and when the fighting was over it was found that the chiefs of the Lushais had almost defied her, and they pleaded with the British officers to be allowed to keep her to become the head of the tribe. Mary's father was a native of Eigin, and belonged to one of the leading county families in Morayshire. When the story of the Lushai outrage reached Eigin it caused great consternation, and the M. P. for Moray and Nairn raised the matter in the house of commons and took it further—even to Queen Victoria herself. So it came about that the punitive force was sent against the Lushais. On receipt of the news that Mary Winchester had been rescued and was alive and well, Eigin gave itself up to a riot of rejoicing, and later still, on her arrival at her grandparents' home, the whole town made holiday to welcome her.

Prior to traveling north Mary had the honor of being received by Queen Victoria. The little maid, despite the fact that she had changed her native dress for European attire, was then and for some considerable time afterward of a dark almond color wherever her skin had been exposed to the tropical sun of Assam.

Constituents of Manna.

The belief that it has discovered one of the constituents of the manna of the Bible is agitating the United States federal bureau of chemistry. It has found and secured several pounds of melizitose, a form of sugar extremely valuable in scientific experimentation, and hardly more plentiful than radium. Melizitose is the original honey dew. It gets its name from the French word melez, which means larch tree. It seems that bees and peculiar summer weather in central Pennsylvania recently conspired to lay up a lot of this unusual saccharine substance in numerous hives, where it crystallized and dealt death and destruction to many bees when they tried to live on it. It was found to have been too rich for their digestion and that they literally starved to death.

Man Leads in Endurance.

Man is a truly wonderful animal. Although the majority of the human race ruin their strength and constitutions by unwise eating and drinking, by lack of fresh air, and by unnecessary exposure to all sorts of infection, yet, even so, man can more than hold his own with the brute creation. Not, of course, in muscular strength. A tiger with one pat of his paw can reduce a human skull to pulp; a hare can run two yards to a man's one. It is in endurance that man beats the lower races. For a short distance a racehorse can gallop nearly 35 miles an hour, but in a 500-mile race a trained man will easily beat any horse that ever lived.

Remarkable Animal.

One of the strangest animals known is the platypus, a creature inhabiting the river banks of Australia and Tasmania. It resembles both an animal and a bird in that its body and tail are like those of a beaver, while its web feet and bill remind one of a duck. It has teeth for chewing its food, but it has no external ear, although its hearing is acute. It lays eggs like a turtle, but suckles its young. A specimen of the animal has been placed on exhibition in the National museum, Washington.

RACE RIOT IN OHIO

Springfield, O., March 12.—Patrolman Jos. Ryan was shot and seriously injured shortly before midnight by an unidentified negro whom he attempted to search for firearms. Immediately two machine gun companies held in readiness here since early in the evening in anticipation of trouble following an attack by a negro last Monday upon a 11-year-old white girl, were called out.

After the shooting, which occurred in the negro quarter, the policeman's assailant escaped. A 17-year-old negro was later arrested as a suspect.

VARIETY MEANS SUCCESS IN RAT POISONING

A starved rat will eat anything from a lead pipe to an old boot, but a well-fed rodent, such as we have in the United States, is often finicky in the matter of food. Rat poisoning campaigns often fail because the house owner does not give his intended victims a sufficient variety of edibles. Specialists of the Biological Survey of the Department of Agriculture of the United States urge a rat-control campaign in America and they stress the importance of catering to the rodents' taste.

Rat baits may be divided into three classes: meat foods, vegetable foods and cereals. In mixing his baits the successful poisoner selects a food from each of the three classes, and combine it with barium carbonate in the proportion of one part poison to four of food. Then he places a teaspoonful of each variety on a strip of paper or a bit of board so that the rat, traveling along his runway, finds a three-course meal all laid for him. Usually one of the three baits appeals to him, and the rat population is reduced by one. Poisoned baits should be watched carefully, and uneaten baits replaced by others of the same class on the following evening. In this way a large selection of foods may be used without departing from the basic combination. All baits must be kept fresh and tempting if the process of extermination is carried to completion. The common practice of smearing a dab of poison on a bit of stale bread which is then placed in some out of the way place and neglected will not produce satisfactory results.

Barium carbonate is the poisoning agent recommended by the specialist. It is tasteless, odorless, and can be purchased at any drug store. Full directions for its use, and a complete list of the food combinations suitable for a poisoning campaign can be obtained upon request to the United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

APPETITE AND LONGEVITY

"Aunt Julia" Walter, oldest woman in Pennsylvania, celebrated her 106th birthday with a dinner of corned beef and cabbage, and topped it off with a big hunk of mince pie and two cups of coffee. When asked for her "secret of longevity" she said it was her "glorious appetite." She has always eaten pastry, fried meats, rich sauces and other things that are supposed to drive people to dyspepsia, and still eats them, and seems to thrive on them.

This is more entertaining than the usual birthday revelations of old people. Nevertheless Aunt Julia falls easily into the same error as all the rest of them imagining that from her own experience she can lay down a universal rule.

Most people, if they enjoyed Aunt Julia's "glorious appetite" and indulged in it as she seems to have done, would have probably gone the way of all flesh at half her age.

With all the light that medical science has shed on digestive processes, a great deal of mystery still attaches to digestion and assimilation. Some people live to a patriarchal age after systematically defying the recognized laws of eating and drinking. Every little while there appears some venerable sage who has long abused his digestive system with impunity. People are thus driven to the question whether there really is any science of dietetics.

It is safest to assume that there is. Such cases as these referred to are properly regarded as exceptional. They suggest that the man or woman who has survived long abuse of health laws has done so by virtue of an exceptional natural endowment of vital force. That vital force is one of the mysteries of nature. It sometimes seems almost fool-proof, leading its possessor through all sorts of toil, peril and indulgence to an incredible old age. But the only sensible view to take of such people is that they probably would have been still more vigorous, and kept their vigor still longer if they had not abused it.

As for "glorious appetites" we may still accept Chauncey Depew's dictum that "most people dig their graves with their teeth."—Ex.

HOW WE LOVE EACH OTHER

How we Americans do love each other! You get in ordinary conversation. All of us are being convinced that we are being robbed by somebody else. Our next door neighbor is a good fellow personally. But as a business man we know he is a pirate.

The salaried man is suspicious of his employer. He knows his grocer is a conspirator. As for the store downtown where his wife trades, he calls it the daylight robbery. So, too, the dealer in notions looks darkly on the clothier. Both the clothier and the notion man blame the jobber and the farmer. The farmer is convinced that he is the victim of the board of trade. The Wall Street broker is certain the country is being held up in the price of eggs and meat.

With all this brotherly love so wide spread, isn't it a good deal of a miracle that the country is able to look along and not fly to pieces.—Kansas City Star.

ANGELINA IN LINE

The call for the meeting of the farmers at the courthouse tomorrow at 2 o'clock, for the purpose of organizing a County Farm Bureau, should be responded to by every farmer in this territory. The call is issued by twenty-four of the most prominent farmers of this county, who realize the importance of a different system of marketing products grown on the farm, so that the producers may get fair prices for their supplies. If you are a farmer, be in attendance and reap the benefit sure to be derived.—Lufkin News.

THE TANTALIZER!

It is conceded by student fishermen in these parts that as soon as the rainy season is over and the waters become clear, there will be better fishing in this vicinity than for a long time. It is the "high" water which permits the fish to come up stream, and many of them never find their way back. See that your tackle is in perfect order, and be ready to try your luck when the day looks inviting. Dog wood is already in full bloom, and that is one of the fisherman's most alluring signs.—Lufkin News.

Alarm Sounds if Auto Moves

An automobile theft alarm devised by a Nebraskan inventor utilizes the drive shaft to operate its own bell or horn signal when the car is moved improperly. A friction gear, thrown into or out of engagement with the shaft by a cam, is enclosed with the alarm in a riveted steel case, fixed to the shaft housing and radius rods. The cam also short-circuits the magneto, so that turning the key in the lock stops the engine and sets the alarm. The lock is located in the floor of the driving compartment.—Southern Motor Manufacturing Association, Ltd.

"The Nacogdoches Concert Band is now a thing of the past," were the words of Holloway Muller Tuesday, when asked about the band. "We disbanded some time ago; and so far, no attempt has been made to get another organization. Just now Holland Smith's Novelty Four is taking the day, I think."

The mucilage on the back of a postage stamp is made from the syrup of sweet potatoes. The liquid is forced through pipes leading to a series of machines consisting of rollers between which sheets of stamps are fed at a time. The liquid falls in a spray upon the rollers. The sheet with the wet coating of mucilage passes from the rollers into a flue filled with hot air. When it comes out at the other end of the flue the mucilage is dry.

BIRDS HAVE VARIOUS NAMES

Get Cognomens From Habits or Plumage Though Not Infrequently From Song or Call.

Birds are given various names in various parts of the country; some get these names from their habits, others from their plumage, while the song, or call, in other cases is responsible for the nickname of the bird, according to London Answers.

The cuckoo has two mates. The meadow pipit is known as the cuckoo's mate in some parts of the country, because of its habit of always accompanying the cuckoo from place to place throughout its stay in this country. The wren gets the same name for a different reason. It arrives in the country about the same time, or a few days earlier than the cuckoo, and therefore the name has been given it.

Little "Bread-and-no-cheese" is perhaps rather a mouthful, but the name is given to the yellow bunting on account of the fact that its simple song resembles these words more than anything else in the world.

"Fattie" is the name given to that laughing bird of the woods, the green woodpecker, also known by the less cheerful cognomen of rain bird, because whenever it laughs the glass goes back and the rain comes down. In other words, the laugh of the green woodpecker, like the "hee-haw" of the donkey, is considered by many to be a sure sign of wet weather.

The whitethroat has a habit of creeping along the lower parts of the hedges, where the nettles grow, and therefore it has acquired for itself the name of "nettle creeper."

TIRE KNOWN BY MANY NAMES

Not Including What It Is Called by Impatient Autoist When It Punctures.

A thing which ties a tire—say makers of the dictionary. The first purpose of the tire was to tie or band the wheel together. As time passed, the original meaning of the word has been lost sight of and now the tire is the part of the wheel which touches the road and stands the wear and tear of travel.

England and her possessions, except Canada, spells the word "tyre." No less an authority than England's own Encyclopaedia Britannica is on record with the opinion that "this spelling is not now accepted by the best English authorities," yet "tyre" persists.

In some of the Spanish-speaking countries, such as Chile and the Argentine, tires are known as "pneumaticos." In Mexico they are "llantas." In other places where Spanish is the language, notably Cuba, the correct word is "gomas." In Brazil, where Portuguese is spoken, the name is "pneumaticos."

The French have the short name "pneus" for tires. This is a contraction of pneumatic. In practically all the Scandinavian countries the Danish word "gummiring" is used.

Making a Citizen.

You make the citizen by giving him intelligence. He must learn to see things as they are. He must also learn to see the possibilities and rise in power to put them to the test. There is no place for the coward in the march of progress. We need men, "brave men, who dare while others fly." And this means they must have brains and brains with which to fight life's battles and hold their own in the world. And to intelligence we must add constancy. It avails little to be brilliant if you haven't the power to stick to your job until you make a success of it. Persistence will help you win, when you put your head to work. These are the first things in the making of citizens. The home and the school must work together to produce it.—Grit.

July.

July was originally the fifth month of the Roman year. In the Alban calendar it had a complement of 36 days, which was reduced to 31 and then to 30, and it stood thus for many centuries.

At length Julius Caesar restored it to 31. He felt a personal interest in July, as it was his natal month. After the death of this great law-giver and reformer Marc Antony changed the name from Quintilis to July, in honor of Caesar's family name. In order to note that as the sun was most potent at this time so was Caesar the most powerful potentate who had ever lived. Our Saxon ancestors called July "Hey Month" because they usually moved their hay at that period of the year.—Chicago Journal.

Black Hole of Calcutta.

This name was given to an apartment in Calcutta in which a party of English were confined on the night of June 20, 1756. The garrison of the fort connected with the English factory at Calcutta was captured by the Nawab Siraj-ud-Daula, who caused all the prisoners taken to be confined in a room 18 by 14 feet 10 inches. This cell had only two windows, obstructed by a veranda. Of the 150 people who spent the night in a horror of thirst, heat and agony from pressure, only 23 survived the experience.

Natural Explanation.

"Why is it that the dark horses in a political convention always keep so quiet?" "Because under the circumstances, the word with none of them can be said."

HAD TO HAVE AN ARGUMENT

Old Yankee Was Sick to Death of Atmosphere of Peacefulness Which Surrounded Him.

An old Yankee was station master, telegraph operator, ticket agent and baggage man at a small town in Maine. A passenger bought a ticket to New York. Then he walked round to the baggage room to have his trunk checked. The whiskered little ticket agent met him in his new character as baggage man. "Wun't check it?" he said.

"Why not? That's a perfectly good ticket. You just sold it to me. The ticket permits me to check baggage on it."

"Said I wouldn't check it an' I wun't check it."

"But you have to check it. I—"

"Don't talk big to me, young man. I'm boss here. Said I wouldn't check it, an' I wun't."

Then followed 15 minutes of heated dispute. Then the distant whistle of the approaching train was heard. The old man peered down the track and then returned to the passenger.

"Changed my mind," said he. "I'll check it."

"But why all this row? Why wouldn't you check it in the first place and save all this argument?"

"Young feller," responded the railroad functionary, "with even a twinkle in his eye. 'Til tell you how 'tis. For a spell, nobuddy's been a-comin' down here like they used to. Hang 'round th' pasture drivin' 'bout peace an' politics 'n sich. Been lonesum. 'Hain't had enny argymint with nobuddy in three months, an' b'gum! I wuz go'n to hev one or bust!"—New York correspondent in Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

FORCED REMOVAL OF EDICT

Londoners in Riotous Mood When Monarch Threatened to Close City's Coffee Houses.

All England was up in riotous defense of the right to pursue happiness and coffee when, in 1675, Charles tried to close the coffee-houses as "the great resort of idle and dissipated persons," hot beds of political intrigue. So loud were the protests against the prohibition that the king was forced to revoke his proclamation. To save his dignity, he said that "out of his princely consideration and royal compassion all and every retailer of the liquor aforesaid shall be allowed to keep open until the four and twentieth day of June next." The arid date came and went—and the lid didn't go on. The London coffee houses still flourished, champions of free speech when the press was controlled and parliament unreliable.

Of all the literary and political meeting places, the most influential was one popularized by the patronage of the poet Dryden. Literary aspirants of the day paid dearly merely for the privilege of entering the room the great man usually occupied. There it was that Pepps saw him, center of an admiring throng, having "very witty and pleasant discourse." Dryden's chair always was placed by the fire in the winter and on the balcony in summer.

Lucky Even to Get That

"The president of the stone bank was kidnaped by a robber," relates the landlord of Petunia tavern. "He was in his own yard, in his shirt sleeves, mowing the lawn, when the villain driv' up in a snorting car and compelled him, at the point of a pistol to get in, and then went roaring off with him in a southerly direction. The supposition was that the scoundrel expected to hold him for ransom. Just at dusk last night the bank president came back in the car. He was wearing a vest and a pensive smile, and also pants and coat. In a pocket of the coat was a pistol, and there was a bundle of clothes in the bottom of the car. When asked about the fate of the bandit he sorter yawned and said he presumed likely the villain found a barrel somewhere."—Kansas City Star.

Tying the Knot.

The performance of the marriage ceremony is often spoken of as "tying the knot." The expression may be of comparatively recent origin, a figurative phrase referring to the fact that the contracting parties are united or bound together in wedlock. Quite as reasonable a supposition is that it has come down from the ancient Babylonians. At any rate it was the custom in old Babylon for the priest who officiated at the wedding to take a thread from the garment of the bride and one from a garment of the groom. He would then knot the two together and present them to the bride, a symbol of the matrimonial tie joining her and her husband.

Weighing a Perfume.

It was the Italian physicist Salvioni who devised a microbalance of such extreme delicacy that it clearly demonstrates the loss of weight of musk by volatilization. Thus the invisible perfume floating off in the air is indirectly weighed. The essential part of the apparatus is a very thin thread of glass fixed at one end and extended horizontally. The microscopic objects to be weighed are placed upon the glass thread near its free end and the amount of flexure produced is observed with a microscope magnifying 100 diameters. A mote weighing one-thousandth of a milligram perceptibly bends the thread.

SHOW LOCATION OF WATER

Signs on Painted Desert in the Southwest Guide Travelers to the Precious Liquid.

Travel off the beaten path in the famous Painted Desert of the Southwest would be a dangerous matter were it not for the stone sentinels set up by the Navajo Indians to direct the stranger traveling through that country, where once there was water in plenty, but where now are only the dry beds of rivers.

These sentinels are piles of rocks, as high as a man, located on rises of ground where they may be readily seen. In the body of the monument is placed a projecting rock which is arranged to point the direction to the nearest spring or waterhole. If one follows the direction indicated, although he may have to proceed a considerable distance, the precious water will always be found.

Frequently it is only a very weak seep supplying no more than a few cups in an hour. Or it may be a pool located deep in the recesses of a rocky ledge and collected from the snows of the past winter. Sometimes it is situated in an out-of-the-way place, and then there may be two, or even three smaller monuments erected along the route designated.

Also along the way there may be arrows cut in the rocks or crooked grooves symbolizing the windings of a brook or signs of various kinds which will attract attention. These directions all help to make the way plain and reduce the chance of the traveler becoming confused.

JOIN A "THANK YOU" CLUB

No Initiation Fee and No Dues, and Membership Is Open to Every Person.

It's great, the "Thank You" club. No initiation, no dues, no long-drawn-out meetings, and no reports. Anyone can make a quorum to do business. No stated meetings nor any stipulated place of meeting. Anybody can start a "Thank You" club. Beats Overall clubs all to pieces! Lasts longer, does more good, and spreads sunshine.

One carries the by-laws around in his head. The password is "Thank You." And that's all there is in the whole book of rules. That's all it means, the "Thank You" club—just a thank you for the little services performed daily as well as the big ones. A thank you is more appreciated by many people than a tip, which, by some, might be considered an insult.

Start a club some morning. Watch your club grow. Good ideas spread. Try the club for one day. It may make you a life member. And the "thank you" exchanges will increase and radiate like ripples from a stone thrown into the millpond.

There's a big field in this world for "Thank You" clubs. Their members take the edge off rough places. If "Thank You" is the password, the genuine smile of service is the open reward for its application.—Haverhill Gazette.

Fake "Josses" for Travelers.

Canton and Amoy supply travelers and curio dealers with quantities of hideous idols known in the trade as "josses." They are fakes pure and simple, having no relation to any oriental religion. Ingenious designers have produced a great variety of hobgoblins—such, for example, as the "hunger god," with the face of a tiger and ferocious fangs.

Most of them are of clay, turned out from wooden or metal molds, dipped in molten glass and allowed to cool. A fairly expert Chinese workman can make 100 in a day at a cost of 3 cents apiece. The European or American tourist pays $5.

Real josses may be worth a lot of money, especially if carved out of jade. This is a material greatly prized in the orient, and a jade idol 15 inches high, and as many centuries old, has been known to sell for $10,000 in Canton.

White and Red Roses Blended.

The most interesting combination of roses is that of the union of the white rose of York with the red rose of Lancaster after the long struggle between those two factions when the red rose might have represented the blood that was shed and the other one the condition of the people bled white by the wars. To cement the peace Henry of Lancaster wedded pretty Elizabeth of York and a clever gardener of old England blended the two roses and made a new one, striped red and white. We have it in this country where it is still called the York and Lancaster, though not every beholder realizes the story held in its fragrant petals.

The Cockade.

The cockade, an ornament or knot of ribbon or rosette of leather, was originally worn as a military or naval decoration or as the badge of a political party. Cockades made of ribbons of the national colors were worn by soldiers of the national wars of the eighteenth century. In England after the expulsion of the Stuart dynasty the white cockade became the badge of the adherents of the exiled house in opposition to the orange of Nassau and the black of Hanover. From the hats of the military it passed to those of the civil servants of the crown. Then as headgear changed the use of the distinction was confined to servants. The black cockade on the hats of officers' servants was introduced by George I.

LONG DISTANCE VAUDEVILLE HEARD HUNDREDS MILES

Ossining, N.Y., March 15.—A "wireless vaudeville performance" was given in the home of Robert F. Gowen here Sunday evening and transmitted by radio telephone to audiences hundreds of miles away. Gowen is chief engineer of the De Forest Radio Telephone and Telegraph company, which has a station at High Bridge, in New York city. There Dr. Lee De Forest, the inventor, and a party of guests overheard the musical numbers, singing and dialect of the professional and amateur entertainers.

Audiences in Connecticut, Ohio, Illinois, Arkansas and Colorado seated about horns attached to receiving sets heard the entertainment. According to Gowen, this is the first time a vaudeville program was ever given by radio telephone.

DISARMAMENT BILL PASSED IN GERMANY

Berlin, March 14.—Representatives of the various federal states outvoted objections of Bavaria in the imperial council Saturday, and passed the disarmament bill, which, drafted to meet the demands of the allied note of January 29th, places the ban on military organizations. The minister of interior explained the object was to bring legislation in line with terms of the treaty, thus the government was doing its "bitter duty."

VANISHING "TIPS"

St. Louis, March 14.—The traveling public has been struck by the wave of economy oversweeping the country according to ushers at Union Station here, whose only wages are "tips" received for carrying baggage.

The daily income of the ushers has been reduced from $5 to $2 per day as the result of the "carry your own baggage" policy of travelers, it was said.

NO FOG HORN NEEDED

Brisbane, Australia, March 15.—Noisest ship on the seven seas is the steamer Mataram, bound for America with 18,000 parrots. Sailors have taught them to swear. Cussing kept the waterfront awake when the Mataram ported here to take on coal.

FIGHT WITH A DEVIL FISH

Palm Beach, Fla., March 15.—Florenz Zeigfeld, Jr., and J. Leonard Replogle battled for eight hours yesterday with a giant ray or devil fish that towed two boats forty miles from Palm Beach and 17 miles out to sea and then escaped when the cable broke, although its body bore four harpoons, eight rifle bullets and fifteen wounds from lances.

Phil E. Baer of Paris was given a recess appointment today by the president as United States Marshal for the Eastern district of Texas.

Former Governor William Spry of Utah is understood to have been selected as commissioner general of the general land office.

FINANCING COTTON

Washington, March 16.—The War Finance Corporation today announced its approval of the application of two American banking concerns for an advance to assist in financing the exportation of about 15,000 bales of cotton to Germany and Czechoslovakia. The approval was a complete reversal of Treasurer Houston's policy.

L. A. GOODRIDGE GIVES OUT FACTS Spent Hundreds of Dollars in Search For Health—Feels Fine Since Taking Tanlac

"Tanlac has straightened me out in fine shape and I have actually gained fifteen pounds in weight," said L. A. Goodridge, 1106 Corby street, St. Joseph, Mo.

"For five years I had suffered from stomach trouble and nervous indigestion. Gas began to form on my stomach almost immediately after eating and I had sharp, shooting pains in the region of my heart. There was always a terrible pain in my right side, and I was told several times I had appendicitis. I had severe headaches just about all the time and often became so dizzy I could hardly keep from falling. My liver was sluggish and I became so badly run down and weak I had to lay off from work a great deal of the time. Although I took about every sort of medicine I could hear of, and spent hundreds of dollars trying to get relief, I kept getting worse.

"When I had taken only one bottle of Tanlac I noticed an improvement in my condition and I kept getting better until now that pain has left my side entirely. My appetite is splendid, I can eat anything I want, the pains are gone from around my heart and I am bothered so little with gas I hardly notice it. I never have a headache or become dizzy any more, and I feel so good all the time that I never lose a day from my work on account of sickness. My improvement since I began taking Tanlac is simply remarkable, and I will never be able to say enough for it."

Tanlac is sold in Nacogdoches by Stripling, Haselwood & Company and Swift Bros. & Smith and in Garrison by the Dale Drug Company and all leading druggists.

IMPORTANCE OF GRADING

Nacogdoches, March 16, 1921. To Our Farmers:

Do you know how to grade and staple cotton? Do you know the difference between middling and strict middling? Or between staples one inch and one and one-eighth inch? If not how do you know when your cotton sells for its true value?

The A. & M. College of Texas, in co-operation with the U. S. Bureau of Markets, is prepared to offer you the services of an experienced cotton classifier, to grade and staple every bale you grow. Do you want this service?

Every bale of cotton shipped out of Texas is graded and stapled by the final shipper. Why not have this done for the farmer?

Come to one of the meetings dated below and hear this service explained. It means a long step in the solution of a better cotton marketing system:

- Douglass, Friday, March 18, 2 p. m.; Nat, Friday, March 18, 7:30 p. m.; Appleby, Saturday, March 19, 2 p. m.; Shady Grove, Saturday, March 19, 7:30 p. m.; Martinsville, Tuesday, March 22, 2 p. m.; Swift, Tuesday, March 22, 7:30 p. m.; Attoyac, Wednesday, March 23, 2 p. m.; Melrose, Wednesday, March 23, 7:30 p. m.; Harmony, Thursday, March 24, 2 p. m.; Alazan, Thursday, March 24, 7:30 p. m.; Needmore, Friday, March 25, 2 p. m.; Mahl, Friday, March 25, 7:30 p. m.

WHEN LAWS WERE CRUEL

Barbarous Death or Life Imprisonment the Portion of Thinkers in the Sixteenth Century.

They had a rough and ready way of dealing with spiritualists in the sixteenth century. An act was placed on the statute book in the reign of Queen Mary which made it a capital offense for many persons "to propose to hold communications with the dead," and later the penalty for such an offense was made burning at the stake.

In 1520 a man named Edward Barber, who lived at Ongar in Essex, was ordered by a local magistrate to be put in the stocks for three days, and subsequently to stand for trial for pretending that he had received messages from a dead person, and "for telling divers persons that he had done so."

This luckless spiritualist, however, was never sent for trial, as on the last night of his confinement in the stocks he was burned to death by some of the villagers.

In the reign of Queen Anne a man named Prothero was sentenced to imprisonment for life for writing a pamphlet proving that communication with the dead was possible; and even so late as the reign of George I there are records of severe punishments being inflicted on people who professed that they had received messages from the dead.

In the reign of James I a Dutch merchant named Kolep, living in London, was sent to the Tower for alleging that during a bad illness he had actually died and that his soul had passed for two hours in the world beyond, when it returned to his body.

Kolep was deprived of his property and was sentenced to imprisonment for life. He escaped from prison, however, and managed to make his way back to his native country, where he afterwards published a book giving the experiences of his visit to the world beyond the grave.—Stray Stories.

RULED BY TREATY POWERS

Shanghai Only Great City in the World That is Under That Form of Control.

Shanghai is an international city—the only international city in the world. It is controlled and governed by the treaty powers, which include all the principal powers that have established treaty relations with China, except France, which has its own territory or concession adjoining the international settlement. In such a community unique solutions have to be found for unique problems, and no problem has been more difficult than that of the administration of justice.

For the foreign resident it is a simple matter, writes Nathaniel Peffer in Asia magazine. He is subject only to the laws of his own country, because of the privilege of extra-territoriality which China conceded to foreign powers some 70 years ago, when she was forced to concede so much else, including parts of her territory. Thus, for the American, there is an American district attorney to administer American law, just as in New York, Chicago, San Francisco or Joplin. As for the British, Russian, Japanese or Italian, even if no special court has been established for him, there is at least a consular court. The result is, of course, that your neighbor can do things with impunity that would net you $25 and costs, or vice versa.

Bats Find Some Mischievous Still

The mischief of water is not that it does not run, but that, not running, it corrupts, and, corrupting, breeds poisonous miasma, so that they who live in the neighborhood inhale disease at every breath. The mischief of indolence is not that it neglects the use of powers and the improvement of the opportunities of life, but that it breeds morbid conditions in every part of the soul. An indolent man is like an unoccupied dwelling. Scoundrels sometimes burrow in it. Thieves and evil characters make it their haunt; or, if they do not, it is full of vermin. A house that is used does not breed moths half so fast as a house that, having the beginnings of them, stands empty. We be to them, who take an old house, and carry their goods into it! A lazy man is an old house full of moths in every part.

Origin of "Dutch."

The word "Dutch" is derived from the German "deutsch," meaning German and the original meaning in English was German, Teutonic, except in local, careless or slang usage. The German language is classified into high and low German, the low being spoken by the people of the Netherlands, formerly designated as the low Dutch language. Gradually the usage has changed until in modern times it has reference only to the inhabitants of the Netherlands, their language, etc. Thus Dutch furniture signifies a style developed in Holland in the seventeenth century.

Wonders of a New York Church.

All Saints' church, New York city, built in 1824, contains a wealth of interesting antiquities which may be seen, however, only at the regular services. Among its wonders are a museum of Dutch antiquities, the only one of unchanged slave galleries in the United States, the only colonial window left in New York, the only three-decker chancel arrangement left in the East.—Automobile Blue Book.

STAND IN WAY OF BUSINESS

Historic London Churches May Have to Give Way to the Demands of Modern Progress.

Nineteen historic city churches in the heart of London, 13 of them the work of Sir Christopher Wren, have been marked for destruction by a commission appointed by the bishop of London to consider the whole question of the city churches. In seven cases it is proposed to preserve, for their architectural and historic value, the towers of the churches. In the other cases these old monuments, dating back to the seventeenth century and the great fire of London, would disappear.

This is the recommendation of the bishop's commission, but already strong protests have arisen and the Society for the Protection of Ancient Buildings has announced that it will take every possible step in making the strongest protest.

The value of the sites of these churches is placed at nearly $8,500,000, situated as they are in the great business center of London, between St. Paul's and the Tower and a little to the north of that line. In addition to this enormous return from the church property the commission expects to realize an income of $120,000 a year from the benefices after setting aside $81,000 a year for the salaries of certain of the clergy concerned. For the site of a single church, that of All Hallows, Lombard street, Barclay's bank has offered $2,500,000, and the value of the site of St. Dunstan-in-the-East has been estimated at $1,250,000.

NO HELP FROM THE DOCTOR

Abundant Reason for the Depression That Was Manifested in the Golf Bug's Attitude.

The golf bug has a sad face. He is plainly out of sorts. Something is the matter with him. He has just come from the doctor's office where he has undergone a thorough physical examination. He is sore and depressed, but not from what the doctor found, but from what he refused to find.

"You are all right," said the learned physician. "You are as sound as a nut."

That was a little joke the golf bug did not enjoy.

"Are you sure that I am in first-class condition?" he asked.

"Absolutely."

"Is my blood pressure normal?"

"Perfect."

"Heart regular?"

"Heart O. K."

"Lungs clear?"

"As a bell."

"Liver in good working order?"

"Splendid."

"No trace of neuritis?"

"Not a bit."

"Am I not bordering on a nervous breakdown?"

"See no indication of it."

"I'm sorry."

"Sorry, man; what for?"

"I thought surely you'd dig up some good excuse for me to go away. Now I'll have to be honest and say I'm going South simply because I want to play golf."—Detroit Free Press.

Ancient Cornerstone Laying.

The custom of laying the cornerstone of a public building with ceremonies was practiced by the ancients. At the laying of the cornerstone when the capitol of Rome was rebuilt a procession of vestal virgins, robed in white, surrounded the stone and consecrated it with libations of living water. A prayer to the gods followed, and then the magistrates, priests, senators and knights laid hold of the ropes and moved the mighty stone to its proper position. In a hollow cut in the stone were placed ingots of gold, silver and other metals which had not been melted in any furnace.

With the Jews the cornerstone was considered an emblem of power, and they also performed ceremonies at its laying. In medieval times the rite was taken up by the order of Freemasons and has by them been brought down to modern days, the Masonic ceremony of laying a cornerstone being symbolical.

Out of Place.

Aunt Hannah came home from church the other Sunday morning distinctly out of sorts. When asked what was wrong she answered that she thought there was not the proper reverence in that church. Pressed to give further explanation she finally did so. "I didn't like any of the choir," she complained. "They were too fickle looking to sing hymns and I thought it perfectly sacrilegious when that soprano got up in those slippers with that high, thin heels and sang, 'How Firm a Foundation, Ye Saints of the Lord.'" The lady who was visiting smiled but it was indeed incongruous although not exactly sacrilegious.

Work Poor.

Charles M. Schwab at one of his Loretto dinner parties was talking about a man who was vainly beseeching the banks for a loan.

"He's a rich man, too," said Mr. Schwab; "but he's work poor."

"Work poor?" said a guest.

"Yes, work poor," Mr. Schwab repeated. "You see, he's always got so many operations in hand that he's always short of money to finance them. Work poor, I call it."

Then he smiled and added:

"He's one of those fellows who dig so much that they're always in a hole."

KHIVA BECOMES A REPUBLIC

Famous Khanate of Central Asia Has Definitely Rejected the Chains of Despotism.

So Khiva, the khanate in Central Asia through which Col. Fred Burnaby once rode on horseback to the capital, has declared itself an independent republic! That prodigious English soldier and traveler who won military glory fighting outside the endangered square at Abu Klea, in the Sudan, would smile hugely, no doubt, were he able to read the news. For the semi-barbaric city of Khiva he found it on that famous ride in the seventies, or rather as the Russians found it just two or three years before, to be exact, was filled with slaves captured from the Persians by Turkoman raiders. Its whitewashed houses, scattered amid the elms and poplars, produced a welcome effect, however, after the countless miles of arid steppes which had to be negotiated before it could be reached. Its citizens were those wearily named "cousins" of the Turks, the Uzbeks, Kirghis, Sarts, Tajiks and the Kara-Kalpaks, or Black Bonnets of the Turki tribe whom the caliph would fain gather into the family fold. The khanate is but the relic of the once great kingdom of Chorasnia, over which King Darius ruled by means of his satraps.—Christian Science Monitor.

PLAN SCHOOL ON SHIPBOARD

Socialistic Council of Bradford, England, is Considering the Adoption of Remarkable Scheme.

When it became necessary to erect a new secondary school in Bradford, the rich wool textile center of England, the usual estimates were asked for, and reported, in the total sum of $500,000.

Socialists, who have a considerable majority on the Bradford education committee, at once decided to break free from tradition, and adopted the idea of buying a suitable seagoing ship for that amount, one big enough for a couple of hundred children. These children will be sent to sea for a six-months or 12-months period, if a subsequent suggestion is adopted.

It is still to be settled whether the ship schoolhouse will remain moored in Bradford canal docks, only going to sea as a freighter during vacation periods, or whether it would not be in the interests of a general education to let the scholars see glimpses of foreign ports, learning their languages among natives, the ship at the same time being loaded with cargoes that would pay full maintenance expenses, probably even of the boarding of the children.

Auto Worked Change.

He used to be a pretty easy-going fellow before he bought his machine. Some days his name would decorate the spare board at the car barn and some days it wouldn't, for he and work were not firm friends.

But now how different. He contracted the automobile fever. The machine was the result. Now, buying an auto is easy. But keeping it running and taking your girl out is another thing. That requires coin of the realm.

He has developed into a ferocious shark. His face is now a familiar figure on the North Easton line and if there are any spare trips laying around loose he is right up to the window leaning on both elbows.

We should have made an exception as to Sunday. Ah, that is the day he shines. The little machine rolls merrily along.

"It's worth it at that, to be a millionaire one day a week," he remarked as he unlimbered his portly form after 11 hours' labor the other night on a North Easton hack.—Brockton Enterprise.

Nut Butter Is Wholesome.

Cocoa butter, as nut butter is called in England, was not accepted with enthusiasm by the British public when natural butter became scarce during the war, so the food committee of the Royal society made some elaborate tests of its effects on human beings. The New York Medical Journal summarizes the results, which show that slightly less of the fat of cocoa butter than that of real butter is utilized by the body; it causes no digestive troubles; when consumed in large quantities it has a slightly laxative effect, and in general it is a safe and wholesome food.

Bugs That Birds Eat.

According to a paper on behalf of bird protection published by the State Horticultural society of Kansas the bird population of that state is 258,000,000, which every year eat enough insects to fill 480 trains of 50 box cars each—24,000 cars of a minimum weight of 24,000 pounds to the car. These insect trains would be long enough to reach from Oklahoma to Nebraska. Reduced to pounds, Blair figures that the birds of Kansas every year eat 578,000,000 pounds of insects. It is hard to conceive the dollars and cents value of the insect-eating birds to the Kansas farmer.

Things We Forget.

Folks here seem to have developed an awkward habit of leaving their legs behind in street cars. According to the last annual report of lost property, the general manager of the street railways says three artificial limbs found their way into the list, which also includes six gas masks, sixty Bibles and prayer books and cash to the value of $11,465.—Liverpool (Eng.) Times.

College, has accepted a position with the Texas Farm Bureau Federation in the Commodity Organization Department to work with Walton Petzet in the co-operative marketing projects with the Farm Bureau undertaking.

NO FEAR OF LEOPARD

El Paso, Texas, March 14.—The story of a leopard, fidgety train crew and a brave colored man came to light here the other night when a train from Los Angeles bearing the leopard arrived.

When the train crews were changed at Tucson, Ariz., it was discovered that a leopard had escaped from his cage in the baggage car and was in full possession there. He had broken from his cage while the baggage man slept, and when the latter awoke he broke from the car, riding the remaining distance into Tucson in an adjoining car.

The new crew at Tucson when apprised of the beast at large in the baggage car, refused to enter it. Then Jim, a negro roustabout, came shuffling along the platform, and someone told him to climb into the car and unload the trunks and mail sacks destined for Tucson.

Jim obligingly complied, while the onlookers expectantly awaited for Jim's sudden emergence. All they heard was a "Get back in dah, you," and were amazed when the trunks and mail were removed from the car without further ado.

Jim recognized the leopard as one he had seen in the movies, and on that acquaintance they got along harmoniously.

RUSSIAN REVOLUTION IS GAINING GROUND

Warsaw, March 12.—A wireless message received here today states that Petrograd is in the hands of revolutionists and the bolsheviks are ousted. It is believed the message was sent from Petrograd.

It was declared the food sent by Col. Ryan, American Red Cross Commissioner, to the Baltic states has arrived.

A Vilna dispatch states the anti-bolshevik forces fought their way into Minsk, holding the city five hours and killing many communists. When the bolsheviks re-entered they executed more than 200 persons, many of whom were Poles accused of sympathizing with the insurgents.

MUST HAVE WARRANT TO SEARCH MAN'S HOUSE

Evidence obtained by revenue agents in raids conducted without a search warrant can not be admitted in court proceedings. This is the ruling of the supreme court of the United States in setting aside the conviction in South Carolina of Lawrence Amos. In other words revenue agents must have search warrants to invade private homes in hunting for liquor. Lawrence Amos was convicted of having moonshine liquor in his possession. Amos' appeal was based on the claim that the liquor was taken from his home without a warrant of search and the court ordered the liquor returned to him after setting aside his conviction. A man's home is his castle. This is the ruling of the court of last resort. To invade that home an officer must be armed with a search warrant.—Ex.

MUCH BOOZE MISSING

New York, March 12.—Government agents have discovered a shortage of 167,000 gallons of liquor, valued at more than $5,000,000, at the present wholesale bootleg prices, in the government bonded warehouses operated by Edmond J. La Brecque, at 110 Front street, Newark, N. J. This became known Thursday when it was announced in Trenton, N. J., that the federal grand jury had returned an indictment against LaBrecque on a charge of conspiracy to violate the Volstead act by the illegal removal of liquor from government storage. La Brecque was arrested some weeks ago.

ISSUES APPEAL FOR RELIEF OF CHINA

FOREST OF STATES

Los Angeles, Cal., March 11.—A "forest of states" is planned for Exposition park, here, by the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce.

It is hoped to obtain from every state in the Union, as well as from Hawaii, Porto Rico, Guam, Philippines and Alaska, a tree representative of the district from which it comes.

They will be planted and cared for by the Los Angeles municipal park commission.

The governor of each state is to be asked to send a tree typical of his state. In some cases, the requests have been forwarded and, in the cases of Idaho and Louisiana, favorable responses have been received. Idaho will be represented by a white pine and Louisiana by a magnolia.

Every state in the union is represented here by a society of its former residents, who, because of the plan for a "forest of states", look forward to the time when they may hold their annual outings in Los Angeles in the shade of a tree "from their own home state."

LOST WAR-TIME GAINS

The Department of Agriculture established by a recent annual investigation that the average price per head all ages, of cattle, other than milk cows was $35.92 in 1917, $44.22 in 1919 and $31.41 in 1921. On January 1 last year, the farm price was $4.51 below that of 1917, some months before this country declared war. Swine on farms declined in the two years 1919 and 1920, 88 percent of the gain in 1917 and 1918, and two-thirds of the decline was in 1920.

A consignment of ostrich skins for shoe leather recently arrived in Boston. It is claimed they will outwear leather footwear and costs less.

WOULD REGULATE MOVIES AND HOTELS

Maton Rouge, La., March 11.—Moving picture barons and hotel profiteers have come under the notice of the constitutional convention and if they are not careful they are in for a siege of legislation.

A move was started to place these industries under the control of the state Thursday morning when Delegate C. B. De Bellvue of Acadia offered an ordinance classifying them as public utilities and directing the legislature to either place them under the control of a state board or to regulate them by state enactment.

The cause of the De Bellvue move is not hard to trace. There is a general feeling of resentment against hotels in the big cities of Louisiana on the ground that they have been asking outrageous prices for accommodations. Delegates to the convention have been feeling this first hand in Baton Rouge and New Orleans, and there is a general feeling that something should be done to curb these hotels.

BELGIAN GUARD IS SHOT IN GERMANY

Brussels, March 11.—A Belgian guard was wounded by a bullet fired by some unidentified person in the streets of Duisburg, according to a dispatch received here. The cause of the shooting was not learned, but an investigation is under way. This is the first casualty in the newly-occupied area.

A MISSISSIPPI WONDER

Ripley, Miss., March 11.—Tippah county boasts a double native curiosity—a public official who doesn't think his salary should be increased and actually has asked that it be reduced.

He is W. M. Meeks, county tax assessor. When elected his office paid $1,800 a year but the legislature recently increased it to $2,000. Meeks has sent the following letter to the county board of supervisors.

"When I was elected tax assessor of Tippah county I did not expect to receive compensation greater than $1,800, but when the legislature met my salary was fixed at $2,000. Now, in view of the fact that things I have to buy have come down somewhat and the fact that taxes are so high and times so tight I want to ask the board in making allowance for my salary during this year, and allow me only $150 per month, or a total of $1,800 for the year instead of $2,000 as the law provides, the other $200 to revert to the common county fund as a present from me to the taxpayers of this county, and as an expression of gratitude and sympathy."

DELAYED SLACKER LIST

Washington, March 11.—A long delayed slacker list is soon to be published. It will come out in sections as rapidly as draft boards in the various districts complete their final check up of the names of the long list.

As finally submitted to the boards for checking the list of draft evaders and deserters contained more than 150,000 names.

"I find," said Secretary of War Weeks, "that when my predecessor was planning to publish the slacker list, he discovered that many men whose names appeared on the list had either served in the British or French armies or the American navy. The final checkup was ordered for that reason in order that names of persons who actually served in the war should not appear on the slacker list. I think that this was entirely proper."

"As rapidly as the list can be cleared up now in the various districts they will be given out for publication."

U. S. TROOPS HOLD POST

Washington, March 11.—American troops on the Rhine are "standing pat." Secretary Weeks said Thursday, and a similar attitude as to the Rhine situation growing out of the occupation of additional German cities by the allies was expressed at the state department.

No additional instructions have been sent to Major General Allen, commanding the American forces, and no inquiries have been made of the Allied government regarding the penalties to be imposed upon Germany, which includes collection of customs duties at the new line established on the Rhine and their payment to the reparations commission.

American troops, it was pointed out, occupy their position in Germany under the terms of the armistice and not for the fulfillment of the treaty of Versailles. Consequently it was considered unlikely that the state department would approve any plan by which they would assist in making the proposed tariff barrier around Germany effective.

BIG MURDER CASE CALLED AT ARDMORE

Ardmore, Okla., March 10.—at 9:13 today Judge Thomas Chapman dropped the gravel opening the trial of Clara Hamon, the alleged murderer of Jake Hamon—the greatest murder trial here in the 14 years of statehood. All the principal figures are ready. One hundred and eighty-two veniremen were summoned. Both sides are said to be content to handle the case on its merits as a murder case, and that "no resorting to grandstanding" would be done. The court room was jammed with people shortly before the trial began.

SUGAR PRICES GO UP IN SOUTH

New Orleans, March 10.—The price of sugar will advance in New Orleans and the South.

Already the Henderson Sugar Refinery has raised the price to 8 cents a pound.

The American Sugar Refining Company was still selling at 7.75c a pound Wednesday, but is expected to follow the other refineries and raise to 8 cents.

The increase here and in other parts of the United States is blamed to the Cuban selling commission, which has closed a deal for 20,000 tons of raw sugars in the United States at 6.02c, duty paid, delivered in New York. As a result, buyers have had to increase their selling price to 8 cents a pound.

GERMAN OCCUPATION ABOUT COMPLETED

Allied Military Headquarters, Neuss, March 10.—The Allied forces have virtually completed the occupation of the Rhine ports and the Ruhr region, the seizure of a few villages and crossroads only remaining to be accomplished. Commanders have not yet arranged for the divisions of the occupied zones by the British, Belgian and French.

ULTIMATUM SENT TO SOVIET GOVERNMENT

Wholesale arrests and executions of workmen are reported from Orienbaum, Systerbak and Petrograd.

RUSS SOVIET TROOPS JOIN REVOLUTIONISTS

FARM BOYS DIVISION ADDED TO SUMMER SCHOOL

College Station, March 11.—The authorities of the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas have added to the work of the Summer Session a division especially planned to meet the needs of the Texas farm boys. This is known as the Farm Boys' Division, and the work will cover a period of four weeks beginning July 5th and ending July 30. The last week of this period will be spent in attendance upon the Farmers' Short Course, which will be held during the last week of July.

The object of this new division is to offer to boys, not under fourteen nor over eighteen years of age, elementary courses in agriculture. Courses will be given in animal husbandry, agronomy, dairy husbandry, poultry husbandry, horticulture and agricultural engineering.

Special forms of entertainment and recreation, such as free motion pictures, swimming and out of doors sports will be provided. Men engaged in the actual operation of trains, telegraphers and station agents are not included.

ARKANSAS JUDGE FACES IMPEACHMENT

Little Rock, Ark., March 10.—The house of representatives Wednesday afternoon voted 63 to 8 to impeach Circuit Judge John W. Wade of the criminal division of the Pulaski circuit court, because of his alleged charges against the morality of members of the legislature in an address to the Pulaski county grand jury last Monday.

The articles of impeachment adopted call upon the senate to summon Judge Wade before it for trial, the house to act as prosecutor.

The vote was taken within 30 minutes after Governor T. C. McRae sent a formal communication to the house in which he announced his refusal to remove Judge Wade.

Governor McRae refused to remove Judge Wade from the bench on request of the Arkansas legislature continued in a joint address to him on the ground that cause advanced for removal was not sufficient to warrant this action.

FOR CLEAN PICTURES

Kansas City, Mo., March 10.—Club women of Kansas City have begun a fight on lax censorship of motion pictures, which some officials of women's organizations declare is responsible for an increase in juvenile crimes and women's organizations.

A bill creating a state board of censorship is before the Missouri legislature and it has received the indorsement of a number of religious and women's organizations.

The movement here, which is fostered by the Susan B. Anthony Club of Kansas City, will seek to strengthen censorship regulations in Kansas City. A meeting of representatives of all women's clubs in the city will be held soon to evolve a plan for obtaining stricter censorship.

MAY BE ALIVE

Boonsboro, Md., March 10.—Hope that springs eternal in human breasts sent its thrilling message to the mother heart of Mrs. Lettie V. Michael here when the mailman handed her an official photograph of the grave in France where her blue-eyed, giant soldier son lay, sleeping with the heroes of the great war.

Across the card ran the legend: "Alvin A. Michael, killed in action, October 17, 1918." But her son's name was Austin G. Michael. And in that moment was born to the brave-hearted woman a hope time alone can kill that she would see again the six-foot, curly headed youngster who marched so gallantly to battle when his country called.

Perhaps you who read may help her vision to fulfillment. For there may be wandering some where in the country a lad from whose mind the impact of a German bullet swept the fancies of memory, yet who writes always to a mother he knows not how to address.

EXPANSION FUND IS CUT BY HOUSE

Austin, Texas, March 10.—The Senate today refused to concur in the house amendments to the university expansion bill, and Senator Wood of Williamson requested that a free conference committee be named to adjust the differences of the two houses. The request was granted and the committee named. As the bill passed the senate a few days ago it provided for the appropriation of $1,500,000 to buy 176 acres of land adjacent to the university campus. The house amended the bill by reducing the appropriation to $1,000,000, and authorizing the purchase of 100 acres of land.

The total in sight was 320,000,000 as compared with 338,000,000 a year ago.

SEARCHING RUINS FOR PROBABLE VICTIMS

Clinton, Okla., March 12.—Volunteer firemen today are dynamiting the walls of a local hotel in an effort to check a fire which broke out early today and to determine whether any of the 75 guests failed to escape. Two men are known to have been injured, one perhaps fatally. A complete check is impossible now.

TO THE OLD CLAN

Let's stop and think, my dear old lads
Of the days now passed and gone
Of the time when you and I were boys
And gorged ourselves on nature's joys
On Sundays when we chased the cotton hare
We brought the raccoon from his lair
We made the gray squirrel hunt his hole
We fooled the brook trout with our troll.

Like warriors gathering for their jubilee parade,
We followed each other to the swimmin' hole shade,
And no highlanders ever assembled with spirits so proud
As did that happy boyish crowd.

But when those dear old swims wear over,
We put to work our keenest wit
To frame a story for none other
Than our dear old Christian mother
Who taught us by word and song
That to break the Sabbath was mighty wrong,
But what did we transgressors know
Of laws and codes and morals just so?

Bold fearless warriors were we then
Down at the clan's old meeting place,
But with timid boyish blushes we hid our face
At the highland lassies frolic place.

Where is all that happy boyish clan
Since each has become a man?
Some have settled down in the hunting grounds of that old clan,
And till the soil of the valley land,
They see our youngsters come and go
They tutor their sons the same old route to go,
While others have heard ambition's call
And have rushed into the tumult of life, there to surge and perhaps to fall.

Bright gem, sweet memories of my youth spent
Live on, live on with my soul
And keep me 'er within those simple ways,
That I learned to go in my boyish days.
Dear old highland hill still bristle high and free
For as soon as I am dubbed my degree
I'm coming back and spend my life with thee.

C. Culbertson Denman,
Law School of the U. of T.

A PUZZLED JUDGE

Dubuque, Ia., March 12.—C. J. Masters had a horse and a good carriage but no hay. He traded his carriage for one not so good, getting $3 to boot. Three days later a man claiming to be the rightful owner of the vehicle came and took it away.

The horse, he says, has about consumed the hay he bought with the $3. Masters has no money nor no buggy and soon will have no hay. He wants his old buggy back. The man he traded with refuses to give it up until he gets his $3 back. Justice Green has taken the case under advisement until he can consult horse-swapping laws for a precedent.

AN HISTORIC EVENT

Rev. Isaac Reed, who came to Nacogdoches in 1834 and organized the North Church in 1838, moved to Panola county on a league of land purchased from one M. A. Romero, near where the town of Clayton is now situated. Here in his home in 1843 was organized Bethel church. In this organization was Lemuel Herrin, another pioneer Baptist preacher of note, who settled 6 miles west of Carthage, with his brother, Abner Herrin and other Tennesseans. On Saturday before the first Sunday in April, 1845, while Texas was yet a republic, Herrin, aided by Isaac Reed, organized old Macedonia church with 18 charter members. That was 76 years ago. Reed died in 1848 and was buried at old Bethel; Herrin passed away in August, 1852, and rests in an unmarked grave at Old Macedonia. The Panola County Baptist Association is to dedicate a memorial monument to the memory of the two early leaders on Sunday, April 3, at Macedonia. Beginning Thursday night, March 31 and to run Friday night, all day Saturday and Sunday, April 1, 2 and 3, sermons and addresses with special music, are to be had. It is a homecoming event, and all former pastors and old members yet living, with their descendants and connections, are urged to attend. Dr. J. M. Carroll, who is writing the history of Texas Baptists is to speak; also Dr. O. H. Cooper, one-time president of Baylor University and State Superintendent, who was baptised into Old Macedonia church; Dr. J. Frank Norris of the First Baptist Church of Fort Worth, whose wife was once a member of the church; and others. The church is four miles west of Carthage, on the Henderson road.

Rev. Merit Melton was pastor several years ago. He moved to Nacogdoches county and died there.

We urge all interested parties to attend this homecoming.

The monument is to cost $300, and is gray granite.

STORM DAMAGE AT NAT

Mr. J. M. Bates of this city, who owns a farm near Nat, a small village in the northwestern part of the county, returned Sunday night from a visit to that place and brought the first authentic news of the damage wrought by the storm which struck the hamlet about noon Friday.

On Mr. Bates' place a tenant house was blown from its foundations and seems so badly damaged that restoration seems difficult if not impossible. At Nat the store building occupied by Mr. Whitaker was moved off its blocks and otherwise damaged. Two vacant store buildings were demolished.

The barn and garage of Mr. Will McClain were demolished, the former crushing a wagon and the latter ruining an automobile.

Walter Whitaker's barn was razed and the dining room at his house was demolished.

Clarence Goldsberry's barber shop was entirely destroyed, nothing being left but the flooring. The roof of this building was hurled against the roof of the church, which was badly damaged.

The schoolhouse was considerably damaged, two doors being blown out, and the building moved on its foundation and stands teetering at an acute angle.

There were many other cases of damage, but the names of the sufferers could not be learned.

It seems miraculous that no fatalities occurred, the only personal injuries reported being slight bruises.

A QUILTING PARTY

Mrs. B. E. Emmons invited eight lady friends to spend Friday evening with her and join in an old-fashioned "quilting bee", and knowing what a good time was in store for them, all accepted.

After the work was completed, a delicious turkey dinner was served and heartily enjoyed.

The remainder of the evening was spent in playing 42.

The guests were Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Fouts, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Mullins, Dr. and Mrs. C. C. Pierce, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Hodges, Mr. and Mrs. D. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. George B. Englewood, and Mesdames Sam Stripling, G. T. McNeess and H. C. Rudisell.

Rev. F. B. Harrell went to Dallas Monday afternoon to visit his family. He will return the latter part of the week.

Mr. C. R. Walters brought to the Sentinel office Monday morning a shingle from the roof of the old Whitaker place 3-4 miles from town, on the Spanish Bluff road, which bore the marks of pencil markings by the carpenters who built the house more than 40 years ago. The shingle was somewhat decayed, but the marks referred to, under the "lap", were plain as when made. Probably the superiority of the old-time pencils accounts for the preservation of the markings.

ALLEGED UXORICIDE AT JACKSONVILLE

Yesterday evening near the six o'clock hour, Mrs. W. R. Sutcliff, was probably fatally shot at her home in North Jacksonville. A .38 calibre pistol was the weapon employed, one shot being fired, which passed through the stomach and one of her kidneys, lodging under the skin in the back. The shot seemed to have been fired at close range. First aid medical attention was provided, after which she was transferred to a local sanitarium, where an operation was performed. At last reports she was said to be in a very precarious condition, with slight hopes for her recovery.

W. R. Sutcliff, her husband, was placed under arrest in connection with the offense and sent to the county boarding house at Rusk last night for safe keeping.—Jacksonville Progress, 9th.

Power of Advertising

John Wannamaker says: "If there is one business on earth that a 'quitter' should leave severely alone, it is advertising."

Advertising is the power that creates sales and builds business. The natural time to increase advertising is during what is termed "dull" business times.

In this way wise merchants, by using a little extra advertising effort, keep their sales volume up to normal.

Frank Tucker is in Fort Worth this week.

Notwithstanding the "hard times" men are still coming to Nacogdoches to buy acreage on which to put down shallow wells. The oil in this county is said to be the very finest oil in the world, one man saying yesterday that he had been informed that a prominent refinery expert in Shreveport has said that Nacogdoches county oil will soon command $8.50 per barrel as soon as the oil gets better known.

Monday was a busy day for Nacogdoches, many people being here, on account of court. The two hundred witnesses who were to come here in the Henderson case did not come on account of the continuation of the case. Then, too, there are lots of oil men in the city, and the local hotels are filled brimming.

THE BIGGEST INDUSTRY IN THE SOUTH

Cotton is the biggest and most important product of the South—the staple crop, the thing that brings more money into the Cotton producing states than any other. The average crop in Texas is estimated at about two and one half million bales worth approximately four hundred and five million dollars.

The handling and financing of this tremendous business involves a great deal of specialized work, classifying and stapling every bale. Samples from each bale must be graded several times during the journey of the cotton from the farmer's field to the factory. This work requires trained men. The demand for such men is always urgent. The ability to grade cotton is essential to the local buyer, employees of bonded warehouses and compresses, representatives of northern factories, cotton brokers, and in many other branches of the industry. The farmer himself ought, in protection of his own interests, to be able to grade cotton. He is completely at the mercy of the buyer. It is self-evident that a man, in order to get full value for what he has to sell ought to know what he is selling.

We can make you a competent cotton classifier in a few weeks' time qualifying you for a position as buyer, or wherever the services of a capable cotton man are needed. Our course includes classing, stapling, averaging, buying, selling, shipping, exporting, keeping of Munger's Gin Record, Merchants' Cotton Record, warehouse record, cotton office stock books and other blanks necessary to the business. It opens the way for you to earn a good salary in a good position, and makes you familiar with the most important industry in the South. If you want to get into a good business with unlimited possibilities before you, take our course of Cotton Classing and Handling.

We also have thorough practical courses in Bookkeeping, shorthand, business finance, telegraphy, any one of which will enable you to take a position in the business world at a good salary. We secure positions for all graduates.

Mr. R. W. McKinney of this city has just closed a deal with a large Oklahoma syndicate, whereby he has sold them a lease of about 350 acres. He thinks they will drill this stuff in the next three months.

This lease lies along the Carriso creek and will open up a new field. Mr. McKinney has large holdings in this section of the county and has always been a booster for it and believes it to be the pay spot of the field.

SCHOOL NOTES

Tuesday morning in the high school chapel services, the talks were of unusual interest. The usual songs were sung, and after their conclusion, Rev. M. C. Johnson arose to the occasion and delivered a talk which was listened to with more than usual interest by the students present. Mr. Johnson called attention to the fact that the town needed a cleaning up, and that the people here were going to get busy and clean it. He pointed out that Nacogdoches could be one of the prettiest towns in Texas if the proper things were done to make it so. Mr. Johnson said that the Boy Scouts were organizing to clean up the city, and he selected the captains of the organization during his talk. They were Wilbur Fouts, Edgar McKinney, Eugene Middlebrook, Bronson Spears and Marvin Langford. Mr. Johnson added that a permanent Boy Scout home would, he thought, be located here for the benefit of the Nacogdoches Boy Scouts. It is fitting to mention here that Superintendent R. F. Davis was greatly missed from his accustomed place, he being absent to attend the funeral of his sister at Center, who passed away a few days ago at New Orleans.

Athletic Director T. H. Hunt, when called upon to make a few remarks about his athletics, declined to have anything to say. The entire school is interested in the wonderful record made by the home boys while they were in Austin a few days ago.

According to Herman Seale, one of the owners of the grocery firm of Seale Bros., the firm which carried their name will pass into the hands of Mr. O. G. Bright the first of the months. The trade has been pending for some time, but it was only Tuesday that it was made. Mr. Bright was formerly located in front of the Queen theater, and ran a lively lunch stand, which he later sold to his brother, J. D. Bright. Mr. Bright has been taking a vacation, he says, and now feels like he is ready for business. The Seale brothers have not decided as to what they will do definitely, although it is understood Jess Seale will perhaps buy and sell cattle.

Irregular bowel movements should be corrected, as they lead to chronic constipation. Take a dose of Prickly Ash Bitters at bedtime and you will get its beneficial effects after breakfast next morning. It empties the stomach and bowels and makes a man feel fit for a day's work. Price $1.25 per bottle. Stripling, Haselwood & Co. pa

It is too bad that Nacogdoches county did not get the $40,000 worth of dipping vats in which to dip their cattle for another year. On account of the tightness of money, the county commissioners could not see where this county could invest so much money, notwithstanding the state laws require the dipping vats. Rusk county has dipping vats, it is understood and it is only a question of time when Nacogdoches county must have them.

Mr. K. P. Branch gave out the information Monday that he is going to sell his grocery business here and go to Houston. It is not known whether he intends to go into business there. Mr. Branch is planning to reduce his stock, and then sell as cheaply as possible. He has been in the grocery business in this city for a number of years, and as a business man and a good citizen he will be missed.

Mart M. Thomas of Alto was in the city Tuesday on business. He was accompanied by Messrs. John Grimes and Joe Shockler, also of that town. The gentlemen were here selecting stock for their new store at Alto, which was burned down a few days ago.

Mrs. C. D. Atwell, Misses Gertrude and Mildred Atwell, with their guest, Mr. Mather Seymour of Chicago, and Gordon Atwell and Frank Bradford, returned Tuesday evening from an outing on Blount's Lake, where they went the day before.

Keep the bowels active and the health. A dose of pschrrfidwuyup gestion good if you would enjoy health. A dose of Prickly Ash Bitters whenever disorders appear will keep a man on the active list. Price $1.25 per bottle. Stripling, Haselwood & Co. pa

She States it Mildly

While suffering with a severe attack of the grip and threatened with pneumonia, Mrs. Annie H. Cooley, of Middlefield, Conn., began using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and was very much benefited by its use. The pains in the chest soon disappeared and the cough became loose, expectation easy and in a short time she was as well as ever. Mrs. Cooley says she cannot speak too highly of this remedy in praise. Stripling, Haselwood & Co. c

Arthur Wilkinson, a graduate of the Nacogdoches high school, and a debater of some renown in the local high school, but who is now attending the Rusk Junior College, was the participant in a very interesting debate held at Rusk a few days ago between the Erisophians and the Philos, the subject being, "Resolved, That the League of Nations Should be Adopted Without Reservations." Arthur was on the side of the Erisophians, the winning side. The Rusk College News, in speaking of the debate, said that the Erisophians won the debate by reason of Mr. Wilkinson's eloquence. This debate between the two fraternities is a yearly occurrence, and is much looked forward to by the Rusk Juniorites. It is complimentary to the Nacogdoches High School to send out pupils to make admirable records in college like Arthur.

An Ideal Remedy for Constipation
It would be hard to find a better remedy for constipation than Chamberlain's Tablets. For the best effect they should be taken after supper. They are easy to take and mild and gentle in effect. Stripling, Haselwood & Co. c

DEWITT PETERSON BUYS CITY MEAT MARKET

A trade was consummated Tuesday morning by which Mr. DeWitt Peterson, who conducts the Star Market, acquired the business, good-will and location of the City Meat Market, heretofore owned by Mr. E. C. Avey. The Star and City Markets will be combined at the present stand of the City Market. Mr. Peterson took charge of his new purchase Tuesday morning and will conduct both places until April 1st, when the consolidation will become effective.

Mr. Avey will devote all his time in future to his duties as manager of the Western Union Telegraph office in this city.

Seale Bros. on Saturday abandoned the meat market feature of their business, which leaves Messrs. McClain and Peterson a clear field in the sale of fresh meats here.

Why Colds are Dangerous

It is the serious disease that colds lead to that makes them dangerous. They prepare the system for the reception and development of the germs of influenza, pneumonia, tuberculosis, diphtheria, scarlet fever, whooping cough and measles. You are much more likely to contract these diseases when you have a cold. For that reason you should get rid of every cold as quickly as possible. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will help you. It is widely known as a cure for bad colds. Stripling, Haselwood & So. c

Mr. T. E. Burgess, one of the Nacogdoches business men attending the Federal Farm Loan meeting at Houston last week, is highly enthusiastic over the prospects brought about by the meeting. Mr. Burgess called attention to the fact Tuesday that $70,000 worth of loans had been approved to Nacogdoches county, and just as soon as the farm loan bonds could be sold, Nacogdoches county could get the money. This will put new life into the farmers of the county and greatly stimulate trade. Mr. Burgess also called attention to the fact that Nacogdoches county would get her loan probably before any of the other neighboring counties, because the government is planning to loan the counties first whose loans have been approved.

COUNTY MEET OF INTERSCHOLASTIC LEAGUE

The following letter contains the results of the literary contests at the meeting of the Nacogdoches Interscholastic League in this city on March 5:

"The spelling papers for Nacogdoches have been graded with the following results:

Austin, Texas, March 11, 1921.

"Mr. F. A. Beall, Nacogdoches: "Senior Spelling—Pearson Chandler, Nacogdoches High School, having misspelled only eight words is winner. His nearest competitor is Ruth Langston, Garrison High School, who misspelled fourteen words. Third is Julia Rawlinson, Cushing high school, who misspelled twenty-six words.

Junior Spelling—Laura Beall wins first place, having misspelled no words. Her school, the Central Grammar school, is entitled to a certificate for having produced a 100 percent speller, which will be sent later when they are issued. Alyce Helpinstill, Cushing grammar school, and Lois Patterson of the Thomas J. Rusk grammar school, tied for second place, each having missed one word. Leon Mize, West End grammar school, missed four words and is next in order.

County Superintendent Miss Exier Lewis Tuesday gave out the information that April 2, this year, the school trustees elections will be held. In these elections a county trustee will be elected to take Superintendent R. F. Davis' place, or he will be re-elected. And in the school precincts, Messrs. W. B. McKnight and R. W. Tillery will be superseded by another party or be re-elected. Miss Lewis will leave Thursday for Rusk to attend to some school matters. She will return Saturday night. During her absence, her office will be taken care of by Miss Ollie Baker.
