DEAN LAW FALLS HEAVY ON VIOLATORS

Dallas, Tex., May 11.—Hundreds of persons jammed the Security National Bank and filled the streets about the building today when rumors spread that the bank's finances were endangered, but the crowds began to disperse when the banks composing the Dallas Clearing House and the Eleventh Federal Reserve Bank issued statements of confidence in the solvency of the institution.

SAPIRO TALKS

Waco, Texas, May 11.—"How many of you will join me in signing the cotton contract of the Texas Farm Bureau Co-operative Marketing Association," said a young farmer in a meeting assembled to hear Aaron Sapiro explain California marketing plans to McLennan County farmers. Hands were raised all over the house in response to the question and numbers of farmers stated that they had already signed the contract.

Sapiro told the farmers that it was necessary to organize by commodity and that any organization by locality to sell cotton was doomed to failure. In introducing himself to the crowd he said that he had noticed in the local paper a statement saying that he (Sapiro) had not been invited to address the farmers of McLennan County, but had been sent here by someone else. He presumed that they wanted to hear him talk or they would not have come and he was taking it for granted that he was welcome. This announcement was greeted by a storm of enthusiastic applause by those present, and then Sapiro said that he did not doubt that he was welcome after a demonstration of that sort.

His talk was punctuated by applause and earnest questioning. He told again the story of how raisin growers of the San Joaquin Valley in California had come out of a situation even worse than that which faces cotton farmers today and how they had come to be the most prosperous growers in the world. He said Fresno was a dead town before the farmers learned to cooperate, then he drew a striking parallel between the prosperity of California towns and the misery and poverty which he had seen in the cotton sections of the south.

MAY ESCAPE TRIAL

Chicago, May 11.—The manslaughter indictment against Frank Piano, who confessed to killing his 18-year-old son, Frank, Jr., "to save the boy's soul," was qualified yesterday, when it was found the "Jr." had been left off the boy's name and Piano actually had been indicted for killing himself.

Piano told the police that his son repeatedly ran away from home and associated with a gang of crooks. The state has the right to re-indict, but officials said no steps had yet been taken to that end.

DEPOSITORS OF BANK SEIZED WITH PANIC.

Austin, Texas, May 11.—Of 28 opinions handed down by the Court of Criminal Appeals today, 15 were from Kaufman county and were convictions against John and Clyde Chandler for violation of the Dean prohibition law ranging from the possession of equipment for the manufacture of liquor to selling intoxicating liquors. Two cases were affirmed against each man, with a total punishment each of two years in the penitentiary. Six cases against Clyde Chandler were reversed and remanded with five cases against John Chandler.

REALIZING A DREAM

Dallas, Texas, May 11.—"Are we dreaming or is it really coming true?" a farmer's wife wrote the Women's Committee of the Texas Farm Bureau Federation concerning its program of work among rural women recently. "Are we really about to go after the things I have dreamed of through all these years? I have never been able to see why we couldn't have them."

The very biggest thing for the rural family is better marketing, it was voted by Texas women in a questionnaire conducted by the Women's Committee of the Farm Bureau in working out its program. But the letters that the committee received said more than that usually. The ultimate end of all the money farmers can hope to obtain from better marketing, from the sale of bumper crops, and premium livestock is to build better homes which "means the partnership of both men and women," the letters told almost universally, though in many different ways.

The opinion expressed by these letters in additional proof that the Farm Bureau is working along the right lines in its program. Farm Bureau leaders here declare. The women's work in the state and national Farm Bureau is headed by real farm women, such as Mrs. Charles R. Sewell who paid the following tribute to the farm woman, at the national Farm Bureau convention.

"She leads a narrow, lonely, isolated life, someone has said. I contend it is not true. I say to you that the woman who has gone across a plowed field some stormy, wintry night to help her sister in the hour of trial, who has stood by and taken into her arms and washed and dressed the helpless new-born babe, or softly composed the lines of the silent dead—in the eyes of the city woman perhaps she has so far forgotten her dignity that she knows how to harness horses or milk cows, or carry the baby lambs or the pigs into the clean, warm kitchen in the winter time to keep them from freezing to death, but is she not the woman who is worth while and has really seen life?"

How France Takes it.

Paris, May 11.—A newspaper here professed today to see in Germany's acceptance of Allied reparations demands the proof that Germany complies only to the argument of force, as at the same time they expressed doubts with regard to the fulfillment of her undertaking.

STRIKE SYMPATHIZERS STORM CUSTOM HOUSE

Baltimore, Md., May 10.—Three hundred or more alleged strikers and sympathizers stormed the doors of the custom house here today in an effort to get a party of negro strike breakers who had fled into the federal building for protection. Several negroes were severely beaten before the arrival of the police, who drove off the rioters with drawn pistols.

GRUBBS COLLEGE WINS

Fort Worth, Texas, May 11.—Grubbs Vocational College, of Austin, won the state junior college track and field meet here yesterday, defeating the Deatur Baptists, 84 to 37. The two schools had previously eliminated all other championship contenders and met to decide state honors at Texas Christian University yesterday.

WALKER PAYS PENALTY

Houston, Texas, May 11.—H. L. Walker, first white man to be hanged in Harris County in 28 years, was executed at 2:19 Tuesday afternoon at the county jail.

Walker went to his death without a whimper, retaining that calm stoicism which he had maintained ever since he was incarcerated two years ago.

DO NOT CUT DOWN YOUR ORCHARD TREES

The East Texas Chamber of Commerce has received letters from several communities in East Texas in which they state that the farmers in their section are contemplating cutting down their fruit trees, assigning for the reason that the railroad companies granted an emergency rate to the cattle men for the shipping of their cattle, and refused so far to give relief to the fruit and truck growers, who are raising perishable commodities, and that the money that would be derived above the freight would be so small that it would not justify them to raise fruit.

The East Texas Chamber of Commerce is urging the fruit and truck growers to refrain from such an act, pointing out that even though the rates be higher this year, that a readjustment in freight rates would surely be brought about by another season if not in time for the present season. Reports indicate that a good peach crop throughout East Texas is assured, however, some sections report that the cold weather has caused the fruit to fall from the trees, and in some of the counties, the storm and hail have done considerable damage to the fruit.

COL. HOUSE IN FRANCE

OVERCOME JAILER PRISONERS ESCAPE.

Longview, Tex., May 11.—In an old fashioned game of hide and seek staged by three prisoners in the county's new jail, Jailer King was "it" and the other players haven't been found yet. When King appeared with supper for the prisoners, one of the trio hid behind the door while the other two retired to their cells, grabbed King as he came in with their food and locked him inside. It was an hour later before an alarm was sounded and King released. By that time the trio was far, far away.

The prisoners, Ernest Griffin, of Longview, Hardy Kincannon and F. O. Graves, of Dallas, were arrested in Shreveport some time ago for the robbery of Perkins' store here. None of the other prisoners in the jail attempted to escape.

DYNAMITER COMPLETES LONG PRISON TERM.

San Quentin, Cal., May 10.—John J. McNamara was released from the state penitentiary here today after serving nine years and five months for dynamiting the Llewellyn Iron Works at Los Angeles in 1910. He was sentenced to serve fifteen years, but earned the maximum reduction by good conduct.

GERMANY'S NEW CABINET

Berlin, May 11.—Germany's new cabinet began today the preparation of the government's formal note to the Entente accepting the terms of the Supreme Allied Council at London. Dr. Julius Wirth, the new chancellor, received what amounted to a vote of confidence in the reichstag last night.

COST OF LIVING AND WAGE REDUCTIONS

From December 15, 1920, to January 15, 1921, food prices dropped but 1 per cent in Birmingham, Dallas and Omaha, reports the United States Bureau of Labor Statistics. A 2 per cent decrease is noted in Baltimore, Chicago, Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Minneapolis, New Orleans, Norfolk, St. Louis, Scranton and Springfield, Ill. A 3 per cent decrease is reported in Buffalo, Butte, Charleston, Cleveland, Denver, Detroit, Jacksonville, Kansas City, Louisville, Memphis, Newark, New York, Philadelphia, Richmond, St. Paul and Washington. In a few other places the drop was 4 and 5 per cent.

With this enormous cut in the high cost of living Atterbury and other railroad executives only want to cut wages a mere 25 or 50 per cent. "Thank you Boss, Why ya so good to us?"—From the Bulletin of Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks.

INSURANCE FIGURES

Cincinnati, O., May 11.—Figures compiled for the Unique Manual Digest for 1921 from special reports by 288 insurance companies doing business in the United States, show total insurance in force at the close of the year December 31, 1920 of $43,319,972,742, a gain of $6,924,184,460, for the year 1920. Total admitted assets were $7,632,845,449. Payments to policy holders for the year of 1920 were $682,472,013. A half dozen or so small companies had not sent in a report, but if all the companies reports were included, these totals would not be affected over one per cent.

Fraternal and assessments companies are not included, nor is the business of the War Risk Bureau. The Unique Manual Digest believes the above figures are the first accurate totals to be announced on the business of 1920.

FINLAND WANTS 'EM

EXECUTIVE CLEMENCY IS DENIED WALKER

Houston, Texas, May 10.—Governor Neff today refused the eleventh-hour plea for a stay of execution for H. L. Walker, confessed slayer of Henry Ottersky. The time for him to be hanged was fixed at 2 p. m. today. Numerous appeals were made to the state executive without avail, the latest being the plea of Mayor Holcomb of Houston, telephoned Monday. Walker was convicted almost two years ago of the murder of Ottersky, traveling salesman for a San Antonio scales house. Ottersky's body was found near Camp Logan on October 27, the day after the killing. A two-year fight then began in the higher courts. The Court of Criminal Appeals finally affirmed his conviction two months ago.

GERMANY WILL ACCEPT ALL ALLIED CONDITIONS

Paris, May 10.—News received from Berlin today led French official circles to expect that Germany would accept all the ultimatum conditions.

LABORERS GET RAISE

Chicago, May 10.—The Railroad Labor Board today ruled that employees of the El Paso & Southwestern railroad handling rail, lumber and scrap and doing other common labor around storehouses were granted an 8 1-2c increase by the July, 1920, wage award.

KANSAS BANK LOOTED

Wichita, Kan., May 11.—A bandit entered the Stockyards State Bank Tuesday morning, forced the cashier to open the safe, and made his escape with $12,000 in cash and Liberty bonds.

As the robber was on foot and could not carry any more, he left $8,000 in currency untouched. The method of his gaining entrance to the building is a mystery. It is believed that the bandit either had a pass key or sneaked in while the porter was cleaning the building earlier. No trace has been found of the robber.

As far as can be learned, this is the first bank robbery ever staged in Wichita.

"DRY" OFFICERS ARRESTED

Milwaukee, Wis., May 11.—Bart P. Herzog, in charge of the enforcement of prohibition in Milwaukee and the eastern district of Wisconsin, was arrested yesterday on a federal warrant charging conspiracy to violate the prohibition act. Herzog waived preliminary examination and was bound over to the federal grand jury with bail of $15,000.

The entire proceedings occupied about five minutes. Federal officials refused to give details regarding the alleged offense.

WIRTH THE MAN

Berlin, May 10.—Dr. Wirth, former minister of finance in the cabinet of Chancellor Fehrenbach, today agreed to attempt to form a new cabinet.

WILLING TO WAIT.

Washington, May 10.—President Harding is not asking for delay in the adoption of the peace resolution, but because of the situation in Europe he is not insisting on haste in the passage of the measure today.

NO WAGE SETTLEMENT

Washington, May 10.—Representatives of the marine workers organizations left Washington today as the result of the announcement by Secretary Davis that his efforts to arrange a settlement of the wage dispute between the workers and ship owners had been "unavailing" and that no further conferences would be held now.

EDUCATIONAL BOARDS TO HAVE WOMEN MEMBERS.

Austin, Texas, May 9.—Every executive board of every state educational institution will have a woman member during the administration of Governor Neff, according to the governor. The Governor said today that he was going to appoint a woman as member of the board of regents of the University of Texas, and that he was "about ready to announce the woman." This will be the first time in the history of the university that there will be a woman member of this board. The governor said he was going to appoint a woman on the board of directors of the Texas A. & M. College. He already has appointed Miss Margie Neel of Carthage on the Normal board. The law provides that a woman shall be a member of the College of Industrial Arts board. The smaller state educational institutions also are to have women directors.

Mrs. Evelyn Ford and son, Hamilton, Mr. Walter Bennen, Mr. Clarence Redmond, all of Beaumont; Mr. Cates Ford and Misses Gertrude and Mildred Atwell returned today from a week's outing at the Ford Cottage, Fern Lake. The party from Beaumont will visit for several days at the home of Dr. Ford before returning to that city.

HOSTILITIES SUSPENDED IN UPPER SILESIA.

London, May 11.—Negotiations between the Interallied Commission for Upper Silesia and Adalbert Korfanty, leader of the Polish insurgents, resulted last evening in suspension of hostilities, says a dispatch to the Central News from Warsaw today.

WEALTHY OIL OPERATOR SHOT AT FORT WORTH

Fort Worth, Texas, May 9.—Warren Wagner, wealthy oil operator, and director of a number of oil banks in Texas, was shot and seriously wounded shortly after 4 o'clock Monday afternoon as he was sitting in his automobile on a downtown street. The shooting was done by a man who was in another car, who drove rapidly away after the shooting and escaped.

Fred Holmes, oil contractor, shortly after 5 o'clock Monday afternoon, surrendered to Sheriff Smith, admitting he had done the shooting. Business disagreements led to the shooting, he said. Wagner was shot four times and is not expected to live.

The unfortunate man who lost his life as noted above was well known in Nacogdoches. He came here a number of years ago and became interested in the local field, and married Miss Norma Swift, daughter of Mrs. Ella Swift and sister of Mr. Luther Swift of the drug firm of Swift Bros. & Smith. Mr. and Mrs. Wagner went to Fort Worth several years ago and have made this city their home, he being engaged in the oil business. Mr. Swift received a telegram Tuesday morning conveying the intelligence of the deplorable tragedy, and Mrs. Swift left on the T. & N. O. train in the afternoon to be with her daughter. Friends of the family extend sincere sympathy and condolence.

MORE LATITUDE IN SELECTING POSTMASTERS

Washington, May 10.—President Wilson's order for the election of first and second class postmasters under civil service requirements was modified today by President Harding giving a wider field from which a postmaster may be chosen. Instead of being required to select candidates standing the highest examinations, the administration may under the new order give the place to any one of the three at the head of the list.

ASK TO FORM CABINET

Berlin, May 10.—The latest development in the German ministerial crisis is that President Ebert will today ask Paul Losbe, majority socialist and president of the Reichstag, to form a new ministry, according to the almost unanimous trend of newspaper reports.

BY GILES M. HALTOM

WASTING OUR NATURAL RESOURCES

At the present moment, perhaps very little concern is felt in the United States about the oil supply. The independent producers are complaining of low prices for crude that are out of proportion to the cost of production and the risks of the game. Reports from proven and prospective oil fields are that there is a lull in the industry due to high cost of production and low prices.

Therefore, in the protest of Secretary Hughes to the government of the Netherlands against the apparent discrimination against the United States in the Sumatran oil monopoly granted a foreign company in which no American capital is interested, the American people manifest little interest.

Chief Geologist White of the United States Geological survey, however, regards the oil situation as serious.

"For the first time in her history," he says, "the United States is witnessing the day when one of her greatest stores or mineral wealth—her most dazzling and spectacular endowment, on which her prosperity, industries and standards of living are so largely dependent, and which imparts a characteristic and essential quality to her civilization—is approaching exhaustion and so is no longer able to meet her growing necessities. After 60 years of prodigal generosity and prefigurate waste she discovers that her oil heritage is far spent and that henceforth she must become more and more dependent on the store of other countries."

He declares we are producing 66 per cent of the world's supply and using 80 per cent of the world's output.

Of course, no one knows just how much oil there is in the earth, but that there is waste and extravagant use of it, one does not have to be told, and the waste and extravagant use of the commodity is confined to the United States.

We mention the matter of oil for the purpose of pointing out again the fault of prodigality, easily the nations' besetting sin. How splendidly Nature endowed the United States.

When the white man set foot upon the western hemisphere, he beheld complete provision for all his wants, almost in perpetuity, so incomputable were the natural resources of the continent, and then he went to his work of devastation and destruction. He has ravaged the forests until our foresters see in the near future a comparatively treeless America, and now we are told that the oil outlook is growing steadily darker and that the time may not be far distant when we must depend upon foreign countries for our oil.

The land has been almost as badly treated, since a vast area of once fertile land is now impoverished and but meagerly productive. One man who poses as a competent farmer says he has worn out three farms in his time, and yet farmers in other countries are tilling land that has been in continuous cultivation for 20 or 30 centuries and it is more productive today than ever before.

We have wasted fuel and permitted incomputable potential resources of water power to go to waste. We have neglected waterways and utilized more expensive rail transportation paralleling them that would have saved human and artificial energy and concerned fuels for which literally billions have been spent.

Looking backward 50 years and beholding the results of the destructiveness and extravagance which have marked our progress, how long will America's once splendid endowment of natural resources last? What will be the situation by the end of the present century?

What will be the status of our agriculture when our great watersheds shall have been swept clean of timber? What will be the status of our industry when the earth beneath us no longer yields an abundance of coal and petroleum? When shall our inordinate prodigality stop and give way to a sane concern for the future of the nation?

Much has been heard about conservation in recent years, but save where the Federal government itself has acquired property there has been little conservation, and such efforts as are made now and then in the States meet with stern resistance from those who are profiting out of their prodigal use of what are called natural resources.

In the matter of oil, there would seem to be such thing as conservation. Considering the wastefulness of the American people in the matter of oil, is it strange that foreign governments prefer not to share with us their oil resources?—Houston Post.

WAR PREVENTION

Reading lots of writers ideas and theories of peace and how to avoid having wars in the future, such as a league of nations, peace councils, international treaties, there is only one way to prevent wars. They have been having wars in Europe ever since men and apes were first discovered and they will still have wars over there as long as the world lasts unless my plan is adopted, and I am positive that it will never be, because war is only caused and declared by people who are seeking political, personal and financial greed. We had just about as much business getting into the German war as I have trying to get into "society," but those who profited by it don't hear little people's voices like mine; furthermore they didn't go "over there" with a rifle. They went with a big leather trunk to bring their gains home in. The only way to stop wars is to pass an international law requiring all government officials, such as presidents, war ministers, war secretaries, czars, kings, secretaries of navies, emperors and all national leaders who vote these wars on the people, be made shoulder rifles, go in the trenches and help the boys win. Then you will see how quick the wars will stop. Make it compulsory, an international law, including all cabinets and everybody who votes war go to the front; then the wars are over. The last war not only made thousands of millionaires, but it broke just as many and wrecked thousands and thousands of homes. It also made tramps out of thousands of boys and men who otherwise would today probably have been good, substantial citizens and a whole lot of this present crime wave can be traced to the war and I only wish I could say more of things I know, but it don't pay to talk too much with your mouth. George Partin.

MAN ONLY IS LAWLESS
(Communicated.)

There is a trite saying, "The more I see of some people the more I love my dog." The actions of the human or supposed to be human race gives a person a sense of humility. In fact there are certain brands of humanity that should feel complimented to have the lowly cur as an associate, for he is ever true to his master, and obeys very religiously the laws of the realm of dogdom. We never hear of his being "lit up" and landing in the "cooler." No sheriff has to wade the marshes at midnight to raid a rendezvous of canine bootleggers. The grand jury of dogdom never works overtime attempting to check the depredations of canine robbers, confidence men or cutthroats.

As it is with Sir Canine, so it is with all our lowly quadrupeds. All animals obey the laws of their realm. It is only the superintelligence of man that breeds vice, irreverence, atheism, libertines, gamblers, drunkards and their ilk. It is high time for parents, politicians, preachers and all public servants to start a crusade against the period of lax thinking and acting. Observer.

In accordance with the proclamation of Mayor Middlebrook all the stores of the city closed at 10 a. m. Friday. It is a matter of gratification how the Nacogdoches merchants responded to the appeal made to them to close their doors that Nacogdoches might be able to make a better and cleaner city in which to live. A large number of them assisted in some of the hardest work that was to be done, as the saying goes, "in the right place." "Nacogdoches beautiful and progressive," seemed to be their slogan.

THE TWO SMALLEST MEN IN AMERICA

About the two smallest, little men we have heard of in a long time are members of the New York legislature. A resolution was before that body to allow ex-President Wilson the right to practice law in that state without having to undergo the tediousness of a law board examination. And two pinheaded legislators voted against it. Woodrow Wilson is as truly a martyr to the world war as any soldier who bled on Flanders' field, he is old and broken in health and yet these two men voted against extending that small little courtesy to the man who guided this country when it saved civilization and hurled the high apostle of militarism into exile.—Marshall Morning News.

SECURITIES THAT SECURE

The government experts and bankers told us to invest in government securities—bonds, War Savings Stamps, etc., but there was so much to be made bucking the oil or automobile game that the advice didn't appeal to us. We wanted to get quick action on our money and jump at once into wealth and affluence. Many of us took the leap but did not land where we expected to land. The jolt when we hit the ground awoke us to the fact that instead of taking down about 300 percent on the principal invested, we could not even locate the principal, while the slick tongued guy with the beautifully engraved stock certificates knew right where to find it and was regularly drawing checks upon it. The advice of these government experts and our banker friends may not tickle the ear like the line put out by the oil stock salesman, but the fellow who takes it will not need to lie awake nights wondering why he was such an easy mark.—Celina (Texas) Record.

The Sacul schoolhouse Friday night was the scene of a lively meeting, the Sacul school closing, and giving its last entertainment for the year. A number of prominent Nacogdoches people were there, among them being Miss Exier Lewis, county superintendent; H. L. McKnight, secretary of the chamber of commerce; W. E. Thomason, member of the state legislature; and Judge F. P. Marshall.

FLOOD SUBSIDING

Reports are that the Angelina river has subsided now, and is rapidly receding into its own natural channel. Old-timers declare that the river has carried a greater volume of water this season that it has carried in many years, and that the damage done has been greater that for many years. Particularly distressing is the loss of the big iron bridge at Linwood which was caused to collapse by the strong current undermining the concrete foundation. It is said, however, that the Cherokee end of the bridge is the one that collapsed; and if this is true, Nacogdoches county, it is pointed out, has escaped the expense of repairing—which, in the words of Mr. Wm. G. Reid, "is truly remarkable!" Charlie Watkins of Douglass says, too, that the newly built road through the bottom has suffered dreadfully, the road having immense gaps in it caused by the swift current breaking through. It is not known when repair work can be commenced. Of course the farms in the bottom have suffered.

GROWING TOGETHER

The editor of the esteemed Lufkin Valley News is now in a great glory, inasmuch as he is now able to boast in a true prideful fashion of the enterprise of his fellow townmen, who are to erect "in the near future" a modern six story hotel in Lufkin for the purpose of making Lufkin a "hotel town". The editor points out the fact that Lufkin has a wonderful future, a fact that we are only too glad to concede him, and states that in future years, the new hotel that its citizens are planning to put up will be pointed to by all Texas with admiration. This reminds us that Nacogdoches has a great building campaign on. The coming of the Stephen F. Austin Normal to Nacogdoches means there will be much more building here, in fact the building has already commenced, and it also reminds us that Nacogdoches is soon to have a new five story building to be put up by the Woodmen of the World. Lufkin and Nacogdoches should join hands and grow to each other, not away from each other.—Nacogdoches Sentinel.

"Growing to each other" is right. Lufkin and Nacogdoches are the two best towns in East Texas, and they are improving by the hour. Here's hoping that both places will exceed the "speed limit" in the building line.—Lufkin News.

House Joint Resolution No. 11, proposes that the legislature may grant pensions to Confederate soldiers, sailors and their widows, who have been citizens of Texas prior to January 1, 1910, and levying a tax of 7 cents on the one hundred dollars valuation of property in this state for the payment of such pensions.

For Torpid Liver

"Black-Draught is, in my opinion, the best liver medicine on the market," states Mrs. R. H. Whiteside, of Keota, Okla. She continues: "I had a pain in my chest after eating—light, uncomfortable feeling—and this was very disagreeable and brought on headache. I was constipated and knew it was indigestion and inactive liver. I began the use of Black-Draught, night and morning, and it sure is splendid and certainly gives relief."

Theford's BLACK-DRAUGHT

For over seventy years this purely vegetable preparation has been found beneficial by thousands of persons suffering from effects of a torpid, or slow-acting liver. Indigestion, biliousness, colic, coated tongue, dizziness, constipation, bitter taste, sleeplessness, lack of energy, pain in back, puffiness under the eyes—any or all of these symptoms often indicate that there is something the matter with your liver. You can't be too careful about the medicine you take. Be sure that the name, "Theford's Black-Draught," is on the package. At all druggists.

A NARROW ESCAPE

Dr. R. W. Zilar, Joseph Hickey and Bluford Minifee, all of this city, were one night last week, while making a trip to Chireno, the near victims of a serious accident. It seems from the information obtained that the trio had "made it" to the top of the Teutsch Hill near Chireno, and once on top of the hill, owing to the heat of the motor, they decided to stop and let it cool, and get some water. Accordingly, all got out of the car and went to hunt some water. But the first thing the party knew their car took a start back, presumably caused by a poor brake, and went racing down the hill. In due time the car left the road and proceeded to take a course of its own. It leaped one of two gullies, tore into a wire fence, and finally stopped in a nearby field. The car, strange to say, was not very much injured, except for a few scratches. The doctor was brought back to the city by a friendly party, while Minifee and Hickey stayed to attend to the sorely tried Ford.

TEXAS WILL OPPOSE FEDERAL QUARANTINE

Austin, Texas, May 9.—Representative of a number of cotton associations and chambers of Commerce of Texas are conferring with the governor today with regard to the threatened quarantine of Texas because of the alleged failure of Texas to properly combat the spread of the pink boll worm in this state.

NACOGDOCHES TRADITIONS

Don't you like to dig up recollections of persons whom you knew long ago, and who have been gone ever since then? And when recalled to your memory, you'll rise up and say, "Well, I declare, I had almost forgotten him." I haven't thought of him in years! In line with this thought, there are several old-timer's organizations in San Antonio pointing to the past. The old Spanish trail hunters are on this track. But the traces are dim. The trail is presumed to lead from Florida to California. In their rambles and explorations these trail hunters have stirred up snakes, wolves and hornets.

Henry C. Fuller has been stirred up. Do you remember that he lived in Nacogdoches county many years ago? Yes, he did, and a flash of the time in the county seat. And he was in early life a country school teacher, teaching all over the county, wherever he could find an empty pine log school house that had no school master.

In this capacity and in his other peregrinations he learned many things outside of his school books, as well as inside of such classics as Webster's Blue Back Spelling Book and McGuffey's second reader, not to speak of Smiley's arithmetic, with its "single rule of three." He can give the modern high school president points.

Well, Henry C. Fuller is at home on the windy old Spanish Trail and he has written it up in toto. He calls it largely a myth. But he has dug up tracks and traces of a true trail, a great stage line from San Antonio, Texas, to San Diego, Cal., began in 1857. He tells who got it up, when and where it led to, a sit passed over nearly two thousand miles of wild, rugged, dry and dangerous land. He recites the stage stands, distances, schedules and fares, all the way. A through trip fare was over $200 from San Antonio to San Diego. He did not emphasize the Nacogdoches connection on the noted old San Antonio Road, whereupon there was a big stage line operated from Alexandria, La., via Nacogdoches to anywhere out west, and also a branch line from Nacogdoches, La.

This adjunct line along the old trail from the east was operated by the noted Richard Parmalee, whose previous New York name was Richard Parmalee Robinson.

No railroads were here then, and steamboats on the rivers were few and rude. But folks got there all the same. Yes, Henry C. Fuller is the boy for that kind of stuff. He has also even written three books for publication, based upon his investigations. He now lives at Brownwood, and is associate editor of the Bulletin.

He has recently discovered that Los Angeles, California, had a distinguished citizen named Condy Raguet and tried to connect this Condy Raguet with the old time Condy Raguet of Nacogdoches. The Raguet of Nacogdoches were descendants of a French family of nobility. The original head of the family here was Col. Henry Raguet, who came here back before the thirties. Mrs. R. R. Wilson's present home was the old family home of the Raguet.

A most interesting biographical sketch of this family is given in volume IV, Texas and Texans. The Names of Irion, and Taylor also appear in this work.

Ought not school teachers to teach school children local history, and a few other common sense facts not taught as essentials to the goal of graduation.

Col. Henry Raguet was a man of similar appearance to Governor O. M. Roberts. His oldest daughter, Anna, married Dr. R. A. Irion, who was secretary or state under General Sam Houston, and she was a favorite of Houston and the first son was named Sam Houston.

AMERICA HAS PLACE ON SUPREME COUNCIL

Paris, May 9.—American representation in the Allied conference was resumed today when Hugh C. Wallace, American ambassador, took his seat at the session of the Council of Ambassadors here. He received instructions last night from Secretary Hughes to represent the United States at the ambassadorial conferences. The American ambassador's appearance at the Foreign Office, where the council met today, was the occasion of warm expressions of appreciation on the part of Jules Cambon of France, president of the council, and other members of the body. Wallace was given a seat at Cambon's right. The problem of Silesia was the subject of the council's deliberations today. Roland W. Boyden, who formerly sat with the Allied Reparations Commission, has been instructed to resume his seat with that body.

THE OIL SITUATION

Frank Tucker of the Mann Oil Company reports that company is now drilling near Climax. The company put up not long ago a 112 foot derrick, and it is on this well that Mr. Tucker is now drilling. Reports from Attoyac say that the Flo-Tex Oil Company, which is putting down a deep test in that section, is still drilling, but at what depth no one knows. Drilling in the Appleby community will commence soon, according to Mr. Ramsey, who is planning the drilling campaign there. The Sacl oil well continues to command the attention of all the oil men. Drilling for shallow oil continues.

YATES-WAGGONER

Mr. W. H. Yates and Miss Lena Waggoner of the Douglas community were married in the office of the county clerk at 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon; May 8, 1921, Judge Frank Huston officiating in his usual impressive manner.

The groom is a son of Mr. Orb Yates and the bride a daughter of Mr. Joe Waggoner, both numbered among the best citizens of the Dallas section.

Scribner & Armstead who are developing on the J. O. Burnaman lease on Moss Creek brought in a good well Tuesday. The report is that the well produced 1 1/4 barrels in 40 minutes. This is one of the best, if not the best, wells brought in up to this time in the shallow field.

THREE ARE KILLED IN AIRPLANE CRASH.

Stamford, Texas, May 9.—Three persons were reported killed Sunday afternoon when an airplane piloted by Mechanic Carlson fell about five miles north of Abilene, while making a trip from Abilene to Stamford. Lieutenant Erick Locking and a young woman, whose name could not be learned, were the other fatalities. The party had just started to Stamford to give some flights. Locking and Carlson were well known here. They had made flights here each Sunday for several weeks. Details of the accident are lacking.

A BRIGHT OUTLOOK

On January 28th, Messrs. Scribner & Olmstead began developing their lease on the Burnaman tract on Moss Creek, and on Thursday of this week brought in their fifth producer. And this last well promises to be some producer. During the absence of the crew at dinner on the first day the flow was one and one half barrels. Mr. Olmstead, who was in the Sentinel office Saturday morning, stated that the production would be from 15 to 20 barrels per day, under actual test promising nearer the latter than the former figures. The output from the well, which may reasonably be called the prize producer of its kind in the state, is of the very highest quality of lubricating oil, not being excelled by any shallow well in the state. The promoters are, naturally, very jubilant at the success which has attended their efforts, and are firm in their conviction that the Nacogdoches territory offers greater opportunities than any other shallow field in the country. The oil in this well was found at a depth of 400 feet, and a 20-barrel producer at this depth is phenomenal. Messrs. Scribner & Olmstead have no stock for sale, but will retain every dollar's worth and work for their own profit. Mr. Olmstead, who is in charge of operations here, is a gentleman of unquestioned integrity, and any statement he may make as to the performance of his wells may be taken as reliable. He leaves Saturday night for San Francisco, but will return within a short time and resume direction of the work. He says the oil is here; it is only a question of drilling at the right spot. His discovery means much in the oil industry of the county.

KU KLUX KLAN STAGES PARADE IN RICHMOND

Richmond, Texas, May 9.—Richmond was found placarded Saturday with an announcement that there would be a parade of the Ku Klux Klan at night. With the coming of darkness the streets of the town began to fill with whites and to be noticeably deserted of negroes.

Shortly before 8 o'clock the parade began. As the head of the procession, the forming place of which was not disclosed, reached the business portion of town, the electric lights went out and remained out during the remainder of the procession.

At the head of the procession was a mounted leader, both horse and man draped in the white robes of the order. Behind him came some 500 shrouded and hooded men afoot, many of them carrying banners setting forth the tenets of the order and bearing warnings against wrongdoing.

"We were here in '61 and again in '21," one of the banners read. "We stand for white supremacy," declared another. "One Hundred Per Cent Americanism" and "Booze Must and Shall Go" were two others. From Richmond the paraders went to Rosenberg, where a similar demonstration was held.

INVESTIGATING PROHIBITION

Washington, May 9.—Arthur Toombes, State superintendent of the prohibition forces of Queensland, Australia, arrived in Washington Saturday to confer with Wayne B. Wheeler of the Antisaloona league and other prohibition leaders. He is spending three months in the United States making a survey of the prohibition conditions in this country, which he states, is having an important influence on the movement in Australia. During the past three years remarkable progress has been noticeable in the prohibition sentiment, and also in the dry organization, which Mr. Toombes attributes to two things—the war and America's example.

Mr. Toombes believes that Australia will be entirely under prohibition inside of 10 years, and that New Zealand will carry it next year. "Much depends," says the Anzac dry leader, "on the results in America, as the issue in Australia now is whether prohibition can be enforced and sustained, and the United States is the experimental plot."

TENNESSEE BAD MAN IS HANGED BY MOB.

Knoxville, Tenn., May 9.—Barry Boling, white, alleged mountain "bad man" was lynched Saturday night at Huntsville, Tenn., when fifty armed men gained entrance to the Scott county jail, secured Boling and hanged him to an oak tree a quarter of a mile from the jail.

Boling was charged with the murder of Mrs. Mary Jane Harness, who was shot and killed at her home on May 3. Her husband, William Harness, aged 80, was killed by Boling six months ago.

The victim of the mob stood trial at the March term of circuit court for this murder, but a mistrial resulted. He is believed to have been infuriated at the testimony of the woman during this trial. Boling was captured on May 4, given a preliminary hearing before Squire Terry for the second murder and bound over for the next term of circuit court without bond.

About midnight Saturday, Jailer Mark Chambers was awakened and called to the door on the pretext that an officer was waiting outside with a prisoner, whom he wished to place in the jail for safe keeping.

As soon as Chambers unlocked the door he was confronted by a band who drew pistols, took the keys from him and marched to Boling's cell. While some of the men kept the jailer and his wife, the only persons on guard, under cover, Boling was marched to an oak tree and hanged.

The rope broke and the mob had to hoist him up a second time. After he was apparently dead, the body was riddled with bullets and left hanging until Sunday when officers cut it down.

NEFF SIGNS CARDS FOR SCHOOL CHILDREN

What is Fresh Air?

Everyone knows that fresh air is one of the best medicines and incidentally one of the cheapest, says Prof. C. E. A. Winslow of Yale University. More and more doctors are prescribing "the fresh air cure" for all sorts of diseases. Yet not all people know fresh air when they see it, or realize to what it owes its tonic qualities. Here are the principal signs by which you may know "fresh air."

(1) Fresh air is cool air. Air that is above 68 degrees F is always harmful except for very old people. When ever the indoor temperature rises above this point the circulation is upset, one tends to become dull, languid and inefficient, and the delicate membranes of the nose and throat are injured so as to cause a great liability to colds and other respiratory diseases.

(2) Fresh air is moving air. Still air blankets the body and produces a deadening, numbing effect. Air in gentle motion stimulates the skin.

(3) Fresh air is moderately moist air. Either very dry or very humid air is harmful.

(4) Fresh air is variable air. Slight changes in temperature and humidity are stimulating and wholesome for the body.

These four qualities are always found to the best advantage out of doors and it is for this reason that sleeping, working and living in the open is one of the best ways of keeping the body fit, vigorous and efficient.

When you must be indoors, don't forget you good friend, the thermometer, and turn off heat, or open windows, as soon as the temperature rises above 68 degrees. This would cut in half the number of colds and other nose and throat diseases from which Americans suffer as a result of overheating.

Memphis, Tenn., May 9.—Two men are held on the secret docket by police here and other arrests are promised by Missouri Pacific agents in connection with the wrecking Saturday at midnight of the Sunshine Special passenger train, westbound on the Missouri Pacific at Almont, Ark., 20 miles from Memphis.

The two men were arrested at Bridge Junction, near the scene of the wreck, by special agents of the Missouri Pacific railroad. They claim to be farmers living at Blanton, Ark., and deny all connection with the wreck. No charges have been preferred against them.

WHERE THEY SPENT MONEY

Mr. Blanton of Texas took vigorous exception to the boast of Mr. Focht of Pennsylvania that he (Mr. Focht) came from a State where it was a custom to spend money freely, and where it was different from "the jackrabbit sections of the South and West," where the people "have not so much money yet." The Pennsylvania member was called down on the floor of the house in characteristic Blanton style.

The gallant defense of Texas put up by Mr. Blanton against the slurs of the Pennsylvania was scarcely necessary, however. Surely, Texas with her democratic administration of government, needs no defense against a slur from Pennsylvania, which under a republican administration, is indulging in the extravagant and corrupt use of money to such an extent as to shock the staunchest republican papers in that State.

Mr. Focht spoke truly when he boasted of the heavy expenditures of money in Pennsylvania. For the expenses of the State have risen from some $17,000,000 per year before the war to about $78,000,000 now, and in the words of the Philadelphia Inquirer, dyed-in-the-wool republican journal, the steam roller of the republican machine has "crushed out every spark of independence and the State of Pennsylvania has been saddled with enormous expenses and added burdens of taxation."

Mr. Blanton might have done the people of Pennsylvania a service by using Mr. Focht's statement to show them how they are being mulcted by a machine which, again quoting the words of the republican Inquirer, has "gone mad with the excitement of extravagance and tax-levying," contrasting for them the more economical governments of the States in "the jackrabbit section," under democratic administration.

As for the people in "the jackrabbit section" of Texas they thank their stars that they do not live in Pennsylvania, "where we are accustomed to spend money"—other people's money. The swaggering Mr. Focht has done this section no harm by his contemptuous references. He has merely emphasized the disgraceful state of affairs in his own State and drawn an additional indictment against republican gang rule in Pennsylvania. Mr. Blanton should let him talk.—Houston Post.

TILL DEATH DO US PART

If every tenant farmer in the cotton belt in 1920 had fed and milked one cow, bred and fed one sow, and fattened, killed and cured the meat of her litter, and had taken care of and used what two dozen hens would have produced, no farm family in the South would be wondering where the food is to come from.

This is true, altho it was said by the paper whose owner, Senator Capper, of Kansas, was berating the South a year ago for proposing to decrease the cotton acreage. As it turned out, and as Senator Capper might have known had he been very wise, the South last year had no idea of decreasing the cotton acreage. Cotton was going at 40c a pound at planting time last year. This year it is going at 7c to 10c or not going at all, and still there is not much chance of a greatly reduced acreage. We of the South are wedded to the cotton devil, and adtho he is guilty of non-support and cruel treatment, we do not know how to get a divorce from him. We always give him another chance, hoping that he will be good. We are even going to give him another chance after the way he treated us last year. It is true that he has not our full confidence just now, but we love him so utterly that we are disposed to make almost any sacrifice of self-respect in order to live with him.—Capper Farmer.

HOW THE ARAB DOES IT

An Arab laughs at the idea of walking in the street with his wife or of ever vacating his seat for a woman, and his wife walks behind him. He has no use for chairs, tables, knives, forks, or even spoons, unless they are wooden ones. Bedsteads, bureaus and fireplaces are also considered worthless by him. On entering a house an Arab removes his shoes, but not his hat. He mounts his horse on the right side, while his wife milk the cow on the left side. He puts nearly all his compliments on the outside of a letter he writes. He sees to it that his head is always wrapped warmly, even in summer, and disregards his feet entirely, often going barefooted in the winter. He reads and writes from right to left. He eats little for breakfast, little for dinner, but at evening time, when the work of the day is done, he sits down to a hot meal, swimming in oil or boiled butter. His sons eat with him but the woman waits until his lordship is done.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

STATISTICS AND ARGUMENTS

Figures just issued by the department of agriculture show that the farmers of the United States in 1919 raised about 167,000,000 bushels less corn than in 1909, but received $1,130,000 more money for their crop. They raised 49,344,000 bushels less of barley and received $70,000,000 more. They produced about 96,000,000 fewer bushels of potatoes, but their returns were $477,000,000 more. The apples grown in 1919 were 6,412,000 bushels the yield of 1919, yet the value of the production was $132,000,000 more. This is the kind of statistics that keep farm people steadfast to the idea that it pays them to raise small crops and not big. It is only a master of argument who succeeds in convincing them of error.—Telado (O.) Blade.

KEEP HIM MOVING

A rumor was current on the streets this morning that certain party had been kidnaped last night, taken to the outskirts of the city and given a thorough and genteel horsewhipping with instructions to leave Lufkin out of his places of visitation in the future, which instructions will no doubt be rigidly and painstakingly adhered to. The case recited might serve as a warning to those whose standard of morals is on the par with that of the party leaving the city last night, and should have effect at once wholesome and far reaching.—Lufkin News, 9th.

"BLIND" DRIVING

Over in a Texas city the other day, during a rainstorm, a woman alighted from a street car on a busy thoroughfare, and had every reason to feel that she was safe, but an automobile driver, taking too much of a chance by failing to stop until the car had let off its passenger, drove his machine against her and inflicted fatal injuries. As usual, he didn't mean to hit her, of course, but his failure to take the necessary precautions resulted in the loss of a human life.

This accident may have had something to do with prompting the following editorial in the Dallas Journal cautioning autoists against driving "blindly," which they do when they drive by street cars that are at a standstill to let off and take on passengers and when they operate their machines on busy thoroughfares during real stormy weather:

Traffic casualties have been numerous during the stormy period in Dallas. At least two have resulted fatally. Motorists in each case, whether directly responsible or not, have asserted that they were blinded by wind and rain.

The practice of going it blind on a city street is folly. If a motorist is caught by storm when half way up a block, his safest course may be to keep driving cautiously until the end of the block is reached. But if he proceeds further, he imperils his own life and the lives of pedestrians who may be somewhere in the path his car is taking.

By turning into a side street and halting there until the storm has passed disaster may be prevented. To stop on a main thoroughfare would be hazardous. To continue at even a moderate rate of speed would be equally hazardous.

The driving of cars through Dallas by blind men would be protested and prevented. But the stormblinded driver is more dangerous, in that the elements which render him blind operate to prevent his restraint by traffic officers. In their own protection and that of the public, drivers should use their heads when their eyes fail them.

The advice contained in the Dallas newspaper's comment is good for automobile drivers in all cities. We don't recall any recent accidents in Shreveport due to "blind" driving, but if they can happen in Dallas they can happen here and any where else. Precaution is the only way to prevent them.

Precaution should be exercised at all times, and doubly so when the risks are unusually great, as they are during heavy rains and other stormy weather.—Shreveport Journal

REGENTS ACCORDED WARM RECEPTION

Monday was a live day in Nacogdoches. Everyone was on the alert to show that Nacogdoches is a real progressive town and a town worthy to have the best that the state of Texas can endow.

As the program had been arranged it was unfolded as the day passed. There was nothing to mar the pleasure of the day, according to all reports. At about 10 o'clock, the board of regents, with a group of the prominent Nacogdoches citizens, met in the director's room of the Commercial State Bank, and there a friendly consultation was held, outlining briefly the good wishes all of the party bore toward each other, and the things to be done throughout the day. Those speaking in this meeting were:

In the meantime, R. L. Lindsey, June C. Harris, High School Principal R. E. Price, T. H. Hunt and W. C. Ware were on the high school campus busy arranging the students so that they could acclaim the board of regents as they were brought by in high powered cars to see the Nacogdoches High School. This piece of work, under the supervision of Mr. Lindsey, was art itself; and at the chosen time, when the regents were carried over the school grounds, they could not have failed to be impressed with the hundreds of school children saluting them, throwing flowers and showing every courtesy possible. It took about one hour to get the school children arranged, and every one of them was a Nacogdoches child.

At about 11 o'clock, the cars bearing the board of regents came to the school grounds to view the wonderful arrangements that had been prepared for them. They were very much impressed, remarking on the splendid students they saw.

From the school grounds, the board of regents were carried to the site for the Stephen F. Austin Normal. It would be difficult to picture the interest attached to this part of the program. The regents were under the charge of a special committee, and it cannot be doubted for a moment, but that they were thoroughly acquainted with the splendid features of the normal site before they left it. Superintendent R. F. Davis, in his inimitable manner, drove home several points to the regents, showing them the superiority of the Nacogdoches site for the normal; Secretary H. L. McKnight was on the job also when it became necessary to explain "just what the water in the vicinity of the site is good for." The entire stay on the site grounds was admirably mixed with seriousness and humor, which caused every one to be in the best of spirits. Every courtesy was shown Miss Neel, one of the regents, while she was on the normal grounds.

From the normal grounds the party motored up North street, returning in time for the Rotary luncheon at Mrs. Leckey's home.

The luncheon was perhaps the climax of the day. The food served was of the most delicious and toothsome kind. Everyone present thoroughly enjoyed the dinner, and speeches delivered after its conclusion were evidence of the fact that every one was well pleased. The speakers were: R. F. Davis, Rev. C. D. Atwell, Miss Margie Neel, Senator I. D. Fairchild, Lufkin; Representative John Rogers, Center; Representative J. R. Crawford, Carthage; James I. Perkins, Rusk; Hal Tucker and Moss Adams. The talks delivered by these people were short, but fully expressive of the points and ideas of the day, and were thoroughly enjoyed by all present. The guests at the luncheon were: Capt. I. L. Sturdevant, R. E. Lindsey, F. S. Aikman, Hon. R. E. Thomson, Hal Tucker, T. Tilford and Moss Adams. Of course all the visitors were guests. There were about 30 plates.

After the conclusion of the luncheon, the party retired to meet at the high school Monday night, but the program arranged for the occasion was abandoned on account of the storm.

The regents were carried to the train Monday night to go to Kingsville, where it is understood a similar ovation awaits them. Everything possible was done to make the visitors' stay in Nacogdoches pleasant, and it is believed that they will long remember Nacogdoches as one of the most pleasant places in all the world. In the meantime, the average Nacogdoches citizen awaits with great interest the coming of Friday.

A concert sung by members of the Chicago Grand Opera Company into a wireless telephone at San Francisco was heard as far east as Salt Lake, as far north as Southern Alaska, as far west as Honolulu and as far south as Point Loma, close to the Mexican border. Ships on the Pacific within a radius of fifteen hundred miles also heard the concert.

COUNTERACTING EVIL INFLUENCES.

So much has been heard about crimes waves and moral deterioration during the past year that it may seem paradoxical that at the same time the churches should show a marked revival of interest in their work, and a heavy increase both in attendance and in membership.

The statistics on church membership for 1920 show that the churches recovered largely from the slump that struck them during the last year of the war and year following, and most of the leading denominations experienced substantial gains. The reaction from the indifference bred by the war was already in evidence last year.

The feature of the growth in church activities this year seems to be in the Sunday-school and the young peoples' societies. Sunday-school attendance at the Houston churches during the first quarter of the present year has exceeded all records by far. Several of the larger schools have recorded increases of 100 per cent or more, and it has been necessary to secure additional quarters for the new classes. Houston is no exception to the rule. Similar conditions prevail in many other cities of the country.

All this goes to show that other forces besides evil have been at work during the period of readjustment. The growth of crime and the call for public sentiment has doubtless had something to do with stimulating a great many people to keener realization of their responsibilities as citizens and as members of churches, and this revival religious interest may be the instinctive reaction of the menace of lowered morale in a considerable part of the population.

Little is said of the development of religious sentiment, while crime is widely advertised to the world. But the quiet work in religious circles will profoundly affect public sentiment, and will be instrumental in rescuing the country from moral chaos.

The reports the churches and Sunday-schools have been making recently may truly be said to be among the most encouraging signs of the times.—Houston Post.

A STORMY TIME

So much storm news has been coming in today from various sources that it has been difficult to assemble all of it. The disturbance, for that is what it was, struck Lufkin last night about 6:30 o'clock and lasted forty minutes, causing many of the inhabitants to become alarmed for their safety. Possible so much rain, accompanied by so much wind, never fell in this locality in such a length of time before.

Some of the after effects as gleaned by a News reporter, are as follows:

On the place of J. F. Berry, situated west of town, a number of tenant houses were blown down and also barns, while several cattle were killed. At the home of his son, Jim Eddie Berry, who resides just west of town, one of his silos was razed to the ground, entailing quite a financial loss.

The front of the Lufkin Land and Lumber Company store was considerably wrecked by the wind, and some goods were damaged by the rain, while the old boarding house nearby was handled pretty roughly, it also being reported that a number of small buildings, occupied by colored people, were blown down.

The swaying of the K. of P. hall on Lufkin avenue was demolished and there were more trees uprooted in the city than was ever known before, besides more windows were shattered than the oldest inhabitant recalls.

Conductor Sims, on the Cotton Belt between Lufkin and Tyler, says: he never saw as much water on the ground before as his train was coming to this city last night, that the track was submerged for quite a way in the vicinity of Davisville. On the H. E. & W. T., a freight crew had to spend several hours in removing a large tree which had been blown on the track, the tree having to be cut into pieces and pulled away by a chain.

Mr. A. S. Croom, who resides between Lufkin and Keltys, says the storm last night left his home standing, after picking it up at intervals and setting it down, but all other buildings on the place were wrecked. Not only so, but several acres of growing feed crops were literally washed away by the rain. He reports that the saw mill at Keltys will be out of commission for several days as a result of the wind, and that among other small buildings demolished, a barn on the Keltys road, said to have been erected about fifty years ago, has served its last purpose as a barn.—Lufkin News, 10th.

MARSHALL'S WISE DECISION

We applaud Thomas Riley Marshall for his decision not to write a book about his impressions of Washington. Tom Marshall is honest, and if he recorded his real impressions in a book, it would be barred from the mails.—Columbia Record.

FARMING BY WIRELESS

If you live on a farm set up your own wireless and get all the agricultural information you need—from weather forecasts to crop reports.

Such a daily radio-marketgram service will soon be available to every farmer or grange that will install, simple wireless set, which costs $50 to $75.

The Department of Agriculture will furnish the information.

The Postoffice Department will send the information broadcast through the air-mail radio stations scattered over the country.

This service will make it easy for the farmer to decide, for instance, when to cut hay. Also, when to sell his grain, etc.

Whether you are a farmer or not, this is news that reaches into your everyday life—because it suggests some of the startling changes that may soon be brought about by wireless.

The time may not be far off when a business man will have a wireless receiving apparatus in his office, keeping him posted on trade events almost the very instant they occur, whether he is in a city or 1,000 miles from a town.

The time may come, within your lifetime, when many housewives will receive daily, through wireless telephone, such things as food prices, weather forecasts and even fashion tips.—Ex.

FRANK PENTALLION

On Friday morning, April 22, 1921, Frank H. Pentallion, who had been suffering for the past two years with tuberculosis passed from this life to that home above the skies. At 9:30 o'clock the death angel came for him and took away the pains and agonies, and Frank now is at rest.

He was born September 4, 1894, near Swift of this county in the town of Swift, and has been a citizen of this county ever since.

He was buried in Elm Grove Cemetery, Saturday. He leaves a wife, one child, a mother, four brothers and a host of friends to mourn their loss.

THE PROPAGANDA OF HATE

War has gassed the world with hate.

All people are in more or less of an angry, suspicious mood.

This furnishes a favorable background for those who would deal in discord, whether as applied to nations, classes, communities, families or even individuals.

The rake who stands on the street corner and wins as some woman passes by finds a more fertile atmosphere for his mean suggestion.

The whispered slander has every advantage of wind direction.

The agitator who pictures business as a nest of crooks is helped by the leaven of unsatisfied grouch.

We worked ourselves into white hot temper in order to become efficient man-killers.

We must all cool down before we can hope to live and let live.

War is more dreadful in its aftermost effect than in any other respect.

We can repile the brick and stone pay off the debt and raise a new generation of children to take the places of the dead.

But this anger, this hate, this determination to distrust, this deliberate suspicion of human character are very hard to overcome.

And they work toward many tragic ends in many unsuspected ways.

Suicide, crime, divorce, unhappiness have all been with us to an increased extent during the last two years.

There have been horrible deeds done without the shadow of an excuse, there have been social and economic ruptures without apparent cause, there have been monstrous movements which were totally uncalled for except as they furnished an outlet for violent emotions, there has been a reign of selfishness and greed such as none of us ever beheld and such as would not exist but for the setting.

Well, what is the remedy?

To quit pointing our fingers at each other, of course, and hunting for a mote in the next man's eye; to quit shrugging our shoulders and sneering; to quit regarding each other as natural enemies, and accept the idea of co-operation, even along the broadest lines and with respect to the toughest problems, as not only possible, but practical.

We are pretty much alike, after all, no matter what we do for a living or where we live. The sooner we get that idea replanted in our minds the sooner we shall get back to a sane basis of living together.—Houston Chronicle.

PRESBYTERIAN ASSEMBLY

The 133rd General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, U. S. A., meets at Winona Lake, Ind., next week, and will in many respects be the most important meeting of the Reformed Churches in modern times.

While many national and international questions of a religious nature will be before this great body, the outstanding question will be Evangelism, especially as related to the reconstruction of Europe and South America.

The Presbyterians have been assisting all the Reformed Churches of the stricken nations during the past year, and the results have been marvelous. The question of Federal Union between the Presbyterians and Reformed Churches of all types will again be up for consideration, but it is certain to be voted down, as this denomination has stood for the organic Union of Protestant denominations, and especially those with the same standards of faith.

From our East Texas counties, embraced in the Presbytery of Jefferson, Rev. M. C. Johnson, D. D., goes as a member of the Home Missions Council of the denomination, and the commissioners are Rev. J. N. Coker, pastor, of the Country Denomination Church of the Tennessee community, and ruling elder Arch Whitfield of Beckville, who is the grandson of the first minister ordained on Texas soil—Rev. R. O. Watkins. These gentlemen left for the Assembly Wednesday at 12:25 on the T. & N. O. via Jacksonville.

SUMMER SCHOOL IN RUSK COLLEGE

A short time ago Prof. M. W. Robinson, president of Rusk College, announced that there would be a summer school opening June 14th and closing August 20th.

The people of East Texas are glad to have this college, and especially are they proud to know that it will continue during the summer. It will do full credit work from the sixth grade through the two years' Junior College. Besides this, the special feature of the summer will be teacher training.

The college has selected some of the best educators in the various schools of East Texas for summer instruction. Among them is Prof. W. C. Ware, who is now a member of the faculty of Nacogdoches High School. Other most excellent men and women have been selected, and Rusk College can boast of the strongest faculty of any other college in the land.

It is to be hoped that many from Nacogdoches and Nacogdoches county will enter the college for the summer term, which has in prospect more pupils than it has ever had before.

A daily newspaper is to be printed on the airplanes traveling between Paris and London. They will be distributed by means of parachutes.

SALVATION ARMY'S RECORD

During the year ending May 5, the Shreveport branch of the Salvation Army, as shown by the annual report of Capt. W. T. Gregory, gave relief to 2,722 persons. The service was rendered in various ways.

For instance, 308 hungry persons were provided with meals; 619 unfortunate families were furnished with medical aid; transportation was contributed to 27 unfortunates unable to buy tickets to places where circumstances called them, and employment was found for 171 who appealed for assistance in getting work.

The statistics also show that the Salvation Army distributed 560 quarts of milk to persons in need of this article of food; 2,446 garments were furnished those without sufficient clothes; 79 orphans were given attention, and a number of unfortunate girls were rescued and placed in protective institutions.

In addition to the material assistance referred to in the report, there were regular religious services, including those conducted on the streets and in prisons and other institutions.—Shreveport Journal.

Last Day of Grace

London, May 5.—The Allied ultimatum issued to Germany summons her to reply categorically by May 12th, at latest, whether she will perform her unfulfilled obligations under the treaty of Versailles, primarily with regard to the payment of reparations.

FUTILE EFFORT TO SETTLE BIG STRIKE

Washington, May 5.—Representatives of the Marine Workers failed to meet today with Secretary Davis to continue the conferences looking to a settlement of the shipping wage controversy, which resulted in the crews of some American merchant marine craft striking. Mr. Davis said the conference would not be held, and he did not know whether the meetings would be resumed.

SUGGESTS PLAN TO ABATE UNEMPLOYMENT

Cincinnati, May 5.—Development of public works throughout the United States as a remedy for the present unemployment situation was urged here today by Frank Morrison, secretary of the American Federation of Labor, in a statement at the opening of a ten-day session of the federation's executive council. Morrison said there are at least 4,000,000 workers out of employment in this country.

Rock Springs, Wyo., May 5.—Walter Bunting, mail service aviator, was burned to death today when his airplane overturned and crashed to the ground while he was taking off for a flight to Cheyenne with mail.

AMERICAN INDIAN CENTENARY

Muskogee, Okla., May 5.—Indians and officials of the five civilized tribes which includes nearly a third of the Indians in the United States, will play a leading part in the American Indian centenary to be held this summer at Prairie du Chien, Wisconsin.

An emissary from the Wisconsin town and an agent of the Indian tribes of the north, preparing tentative plans for the centenary, has been in consultation with officers and chiefs of the tribes in Oklahoma, regarding the exhibition to be played by Oklahoma Indians that will resemble a world's fair.

A pageant, several Indian operas with native performers, an exhibition of Indian art and industry and similar exhibits and entertainment features have been arranged under preliminary plans announced by J. L. Hinrod, business manager of the Tribes. Every tribe in North America will be represented among the 1,000 Indians planning to take part in the centenary, Mr. Hinrod said.

Mr. Hinrod will visit Mexico and consult with President Obregon relative to Mexican Indians partaking in the festivities.

The centenary will cover a month's time, according to plans. August 10 to September 10 are the dates that have been tentatively agreed upon.

NEW YORK CITY'S FOREIGN POPULATION

WASHINGTON, May 6.—The Census Bureau announced today the foreign-born white population of New York City at 1,989,216, or 35.4 per cent, as compared with 40.4 per cent in 1910. Natives of Russia led with 479,481. Italians numbered 388,427; Irish, 208,803; Germans, 193,558; Poles, 145,257; Austrians, 126,447; Thirty nations were represented in New York's polygot people, exclusive of those from Canada and South America.

PLAIN TALK BY BRITISH NEWSPAPER

London, May 6.—British overseas dominions would not tolerate an Anglo-Japanese alliance having for its object opposition to the United States declared the Weekly Spectator today. The newspaper devoted considerable space to a discussion of Anglo-American relations and Japan, citing facts to show that the alliance between England and Japan never was meant and never could be used against America. "We all knew well what would result if we went to war against America in order to help the Japanese. The moment such a war was declared the bonds uniting us with the dominions would be severed."

AMERICA INVITED TO JOIN COUNCIL

London, May 5.—A formal invitation to appoint representatives to the Supreme Allied Council, the Council of Ambassadors and the Allied Reparations Commission was cabled to the American State Department at Washington last night by the Supreme Allied Council.

JAPAN ENTERS ANOTHER GAME WITH AMERICA

Tokio, May 5.—Japan has challenged for the Davis tennis cup which is now held by the United States and will send a team to America to compete with leading tennis champions of this country and other countries. This will be Japan's first entry in the Davis tournaments.

The decision to enter was made by the Tokio Lawn Tennis Club which includes both Japanese and foreigners but the challenge is made in the name of Japan and not in the name of the club.

The Japanese team is not yet selected, but it is believed that it will include Japan's three leading players, namely, Kumagai and Kashio, who are now in the United States and Shimizu who was the runner up to Tilden at the Wimbledon tournament last year.

INEXPLICABLE FREAK

Papeete, Tahiti (Society Islands), May 5.—About twenty-seven kilometers from Papeete, at the beginning of the District of Papara on Tahiti, is a cave called the Cave of Maraa. It is a large opening in the side of a mountain; its floor a pool of clear icy cold water. There is nothing remarkable about its appearance.

Its interest lies in its being the reputed burial place of a powerful wizard of old the spell of whose enchantments still broods over the cavern. The particular manifestation which interests passers-by is the impossibility of striking the opposite wall of the cave with a stone although to the eye the feat seems the easiest of undertakings. Most newcomers laugh at the legend and start out with an easy throw only to see the missile drop in the water apparently but a few feet away.

Then they warm to the work and exert all the force that is in them, and at last making slings, strive with all their might to overcome the power of the old warlock; but to no avail. The stones drop ignominiously in the water as if some unseen hand had caught them in mid air and cast them down in the center of the cavern. The reason has never been explained satisfactorily.

BRITISH AMBASSADOR TO SPEAK AT STATE UNIVERSITY

The lecture will be free to all, it is announced.

IRISH FACTIONS SEEM UNABLE TO AGREE.

Belfast, May 6.—The Ulster Unionist party, in a meeting called by Sir James Craig, premier designate of Ulster, to hear his report of the conversation yesterday with Eamonn d'Valeria, the republican leader, decided today that Ulster, having accepted the Government of Ireland Act, could make no further concessions.

Reached an Impasse.

DUBLIN, May 6.—The conversation between Sir James Craig and Eamonn d'Valeria, it is said in well-informed quarters, have reached an impasse over the question of a republic for Ireland. It is stated d'Valeria tried to win over Craig to the idea of a republic for the whole of Ireland. Sir James replied that no negotiations on such a basis could occur, it is asserted.

LEADERS DISCUSSING AFFAIRS OF IRISH

Belfast, Ireland, May 5.—The Belfast Telegraph says today that Sir James Craig, Ulster unionist leader, and Eamonn d'Valeria, Irish republican leader, had an interview today in Dublin, discussing Irish affairs. Sir James has called a special meeting of the Ulster party at Belfast tomorrow to discuss the situation, the newspaper adds.

HEED THIS WARNING

Austin, Texas, May 7.—The Texas Public Health Association has issued a warning to the citizens of Texas against the menace of the housefly and the mosquito.

The common fly is sometimes called the typhoid fly, as it causes much typhoid. It also helps spread cholera, infantum, tuberculosis and many other diseases. To eliminate this menace we must destroy the breeding places of the fly, among which the most important are cess pools and filthy stables.

It takes the eggs a week to hatch, so the rubbish and other breeding places of the common fly should be removed or disinfected at least every five or six days.

The ordinary mosquito is called the malarial mosquito, because by its bite the larger part of malaria is transmitted. The mosquito is also capable of carrying a number of other diseases. The breeding places of the dirty troughs, outhouses, spittoons, etc.

To combat this evil no water should be allowed to become stagnant. If it is necessary to have a standing body of water, it should be covered with oil. Other breeding places should be kept in a sanitary condition. When throwing away old tin cans, a hole punched in the bottom will prevent water from collecting.

It has been definitely shown that a mosquito can fly only 1 1/2 miles. After all precautions have been taken the home should be securely screened so that no fly or mosquito can gain entrance, and thus expose the family to disease.

THE SLACKER LIST

Washington, May 5.—The War Department slacker list, as issued from time to time, will be published in the Congressional Record. Request for such publication was made in the house today by Representative Johnson, republican, South Dakota, a former service man, and there were no objections.

The seniors of the high school had their day Friday, and went to the country, enjoying the beautiful trees, sunshine and song birds. Quite a number carried along their kodaks in order to get a collection of pictures. The seniors have been doing some hard work this year, and they are deserving of some recreation. Miss Mayo Provence had charge of the party.

POLISH INSURGENTS SHOOT UP TOWN.

Oppelin, Silesia, May 6.—Two hundred Italian soldiers, commanded by British Colonel Bond, evacuated Gross Strehlitz, southeast of here, last night when the town was under artillery fire by Polish insurgents. Colonel Bond reported to the Allied Commission here the necessity for reinforcements and arms.

SETTLING THE NOTED SOUTHERN PACIFIC CASE

Washington, May 7.—The Southern Pacific case is the last of the big railroad suits to be cleared from the Supreme Court docket. It was instituted in the federal courts of Utah February 11, 1914, and dismissed by a decree March 9, 1917, adverse to the government's contention that the merger of the Southern Pacific Company with the Central Railroad Lines was a violation of the anti-trust law of 1890.

The government appealed to the Supreme Court, where the case was argued April 20, 1921.

Although dating actually from 1885 when the Southern Pacific secured a 99-year lease of all the Central Pacific lines, the principal basis of the government's suit was made by acquisition in 1899 by the Southern Pacific of all the stock of the latter company. Counsel for the railroad declared "the system now sought to be destroyed has existed in its present form since the construction of both roads", and that the alleged illegal merger "antedated the law it is alleged to have violated by five years."

The history of the system, it was insisted, showed that it was built liberately to constitute one system and that it was so operated from the first.

Named as co-defendants in the case were the Union Trust Company of New York, William Sproule, Julius Kruttschnitt, Robert Goelt, Cornelius N. Bliss, Henry W. DeForest, J. Horace Harding, Charles W. Harkness, Henry E. Huntington, Odgen Mills and others prominent in the railroad and banking world.

WHERE BLAME LIES

WASHINGTON, May 6.—Fluctuations in the livestock market are largely due to the unscientific and inefficient system employed by the producers in marketing, and the real trouble at the base of the whole question is not so much a packer's problem as it is a producer's problem, Thomas Wilson of Chicago, president of the Institute of American Meat Packers, told the house committee on agriculture, today, appearing in opposition to the Norris-McLaughlin bill to control the packing industry.

LEADER OF REVOLT AND STAFF ARRESTED

Warsaw, May 6.—Unconfirmed reports from Soanowice today say that Albert Korfanty, who proclaimed himself leader of the Polish insurgents in that territory, has been arrested by the Interallied Plebiscite Commission, together with his entire staff.

IRRIGATION PROJECT

El Paso, Texas, May 6.—Recommendation that the United States and Mexican governments reach an agreement for the construction of a dam on the lower Rio Grande wherein water may be stored for the irrigation of 600,000 acres of land near Brownsville will be made to congress by Arthur R. Davis, director of the United States Reclamation Service, he announced here today. Engineers are making estimates for such a dam.

Mr. J. F. Wright, late of Livingston, has located in the city and has opened an up-to-date shoe shop in the building next to the Lone Star Bakery, occupied by Seale's Market. Personal letters from responsible Livingston parties to the editor of the Sentinel speak flatteringly of Mr. Wright as a workman and citizen, describing him as honest and reliable in every particular. We bespeak for him a fair share of the business of the town.

EXPECTED REVOLTS DID NOT APPEAR.

Mexico City, May 6.—The observance of Mexico's national holiday passed off tranquilly, according to reports to the war office last night. Fears aroused by rumors of a revolution fixed for yesterday proved unfounded.

POLAND IN THROES OF ANOTHER WAR

Oppelin, May 7.—German requests that the frontier between Germany and Silesia be opened and that all political prisoners held by the Allies be released has been granted by the Interallied Commission here. A decision as to whether the use of the German government troops will be permitted in Silesia and whether the Polish frontier shall be closed is expected early today. An armored train was run from Breslau to Kreuseburg, about 30 miles northeast of here, by the Germans last night and turned over to the Allied authorities there. The Allies accepted the train in view of reports that the Poles planned to attack Kreuseburg today. The situation at Oppelin, which had been growing more tense, is aggravated by the arrival of hundreds of refugees.

WHEN SLEEP COMES BACK

(Thursday's Health Talk No. 3) -
By R. W. Zilar, D. C.

Health turns the Clock Backward

When sleep deserts you, then, strength, departs. It is a great day when sleep comes back.

Loss of sleep is due to pressure on spinal nerves affecting the brain. Seemingly the victim of this ailment cannot stop the train of thought. Lack of ability to rest brings on extreme nervousness, often times the victim fears that he is going to pieces and may even fear for his sanity.

When the chiropractor by his skillful adjustments restores the joints of the spine to alignment and removes the pressures on spinal nerves which is causing this trouble, the patient experiences a relaxation that is all the more profound because of the need of the exhausted body. Strength is rapidly regained once the ability to sleep is regained.

UNABLE TO RELAX OR SLEEP, BUT CAN NOW

"I had not slept more than three hours out of every twenty-four. After my husband died I could not discuss my business affairs with my attorneys without 'going to pieces.' When I tried Chiropractic I was desperate. After the first adjustment I slept fourteen hours. In forty more, I was a new woman, able to sleep all night, and eating what I wanted. Chiropractic should be welcomed as the greatest panacea of human ills."—Mary Miles Baker, Chiropractic Research Bureau Statement No. 1256L.

The reporter dropped around to the room of Uncle Frank Robbins located over O. A. Bright's Grocery Store Wednesday, and passed a few minutes very pleasantly with Uncle Frank, who told him of some of the interesting experiences he has enjoyed in Nacogdoches in his early days, and he knows a lot about her history. He has been, however, for the past four years absent from Nacogdoches, spending this time at Hot Springs, S. D., where he took treatment for rheumatism. Uncle Frank is now getting better, is able to write—which he does a great deal of, and he says that he is real happy.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured
by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. Catarrhal Deafness requires constitutional treatment. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE is a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced, your hearing may be destroyed forever. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE acts through the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system, thus reducing the inflammation and restoring normal conditions. Circulars free. All Druggists. Dr. J. Mr. H. L. McKnight, Nacogdoches, Texas.

Dear Mr. McKnight:—

I've just been in consultation with Mr. Walker, the cotton classifier of Jefferson. I asked him about the best cotton grown in Texas as to length of staple. He replied that the Acala was the best he had ever seen.

I'm writing this for the benefit of the Nacogdoches County farmers who are hesitating about planting the cotton.

I might state further that I went to Italy, Texas, and asked the merchants about this cotton and they informed me that it sold there last year for 12 cents per pound above any other cotton.

If you think this letter worth while you have my permission to publish it.

Respectfully yours,
W. B. Walton.

Referring to the above, will say that we still have a supply of the Acala seed on hand, ready for immediate delivery.

We are placing these seed in the hands of reliable farmers on an absolute, bona fide guarantee plan that involves no money unless the grower is satisfied after harvesting the cotton that the seed are worth the price.

Act quick, if you want a trial sack.

HE COULDN'T DO FULL DAY'S WORK

Oklahoma Man is on the Job Every Day and Feels Just Fine Since Taking Tanlac.

"At the time I got Tanlac three years ago I hadn't been able to put in a full day's work for two years; but the medicine fixed me up where I felt fine and I've not lost a day's work on account of ill-health since," said Charles Hamblen, well-known farmer residing on R. F. D. No. 1, Keefeton, Okla.

"About five years ago my system got out of order and went down in health until I was so weak I could hardly stand up. As for work, I was scarcely able to do anything. I had no appetite and what little I did eat seemed to do me no good, and I had headaches constantly. I was also troubled with a persistent cough, and it seemed that my old-time strength and energy were gone for good.

"But it didn't take Tanlac but a little while to straighten me out and I was soon full of new life and energy. Ever since then I've been praising Tanlac, and I'm glad to give this statement for what it may be worth to others. Tanlac is the best medicine I ever heard of. Pickup as usual.

Tanlac is sold in Nacogdoches by Stripling, Haselwood & Company and Swift Bros. & Smith and in Garrison by the Dale Drug Company and all leading druggists.

A SURPRISE WEDDING

Mr. Richard E. Haltom and Miss Annie L. Mast were married at 11:15 a. m. on Tuesday, May 10, 1921, at the Methodist parsonage in Nacogdoches, Rev. J. L. Massey officiating. Misses Lella and Rosalee Mast, sisters of the bride, and Miss Annie Patton and Mr. Floyd Woodlan were the only witnesses of the ceremony.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Mast, was born and reared in this city and has a wide circle of friends who have been won by her many lovable attributes of mind and whose graciousness and beauty have charmed all who have fallen under the charm of her winsome influence.

The groom is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Giles M. Haltom of this city, and also was reared in this community, where his friends are numbered only by the limits of his acquaintanceship. He holds an important position in the Sentinel office, and his co-workers admire and esteem him for his many manly qualities.

The happy couple left on the noon train for Houston and Galveston, where they will spend a brief honeymoon, returning to the city Saturday or Sunday and may be found at home with the groom's parents on East Main Street.

It was not ours to witness the ceremonies which bestowed upon our worthy young friend and associate the priceless crown of woman's holy love, but had we been there we would have been the very first of all their friends to lay our hands, heavy with blessings, upon their heads and invoke for them that bliss which knows no bounds when mutual love and confidence combine to make life strong, calm and peaceful. If deserts appear in life's long journey, may she be to him the beautiful oasis, and he to her the overshadowing rock of defense when the sands are hot and weary feet need rest. May the future to them be a long, inclined plane, widening and growing more beautiful until it opens out upon these broad fields we call heaven, where the fruits of well-spent days shall ripen into perfect peace.

"God bless you!" sweetest song to sing,
"God bless you!" fondest prayer to pray;

And so, with loving heart, I crave
God's blessings on my friends to-day.

About Digestion

It is claimed that only half as much food is required when it is thoroughly masticated. Digestion begins at the mouth and thorough mastication of the food is of the greatest importance. When needed take Chamberlain's Tablets to strengthen the digestion and insure a regular movement of the bowels. Stripling, Haselwood & Co.

Parties coming in from Woden Tuesday morning report considerable damage by the storm of early Monday night. Two garages were demolished between Nacogdoches and Woden and two cars and one buggy smashed. A quantity of timber was prostrated, and it was necessary to remove fallen trees from the road before vehicles could pass. There were no reports of personal injuries.

A nice pleasant purgative that also has a general stimulating effect in the liver and stomach is one reason why Prickly Ash Bitters is so well liked by men who have used it. They find it a good medicine for the whole family. Price $1.25 per bottle. Stripling, Haselwood & Co. pa

A lot of merchants are stopping their advertising because business is bad. They should also stop their life insurance because their health is bad.—Baudette (Minn.) Region.

Periodic Bilious Attacks

Persons subject to bilious attacks at regular intervals know about when to expect an attack. They find that they have no desire for food when the attack is due but usually eat because it is meal time. Skip one meal and take three of Chamberlain's Tablets and you may be able to avoid the attack. Persons subject to periodic bilious attacks should not drink tea or coffee at any time. Stripling, Haselwood & Co.

DOUGLAS CROW KILLED

Mr. Douglas Crow, formerly a resident of Nacogdoches, was shot and killed Monday afternoon in Houston by a man named R. C. Russell. The trouble leading to the tragedy arose over family matters, it is said. Mr. Crow established the first automobile agency in Nacogdoches, his place of business adjoining the Sentinel office on the north, where he represented the Franklin car. He was well known to many of our citizens, with whom he was very popular. His tragic death is sincerely regretted by all.

Treatment of Common Colds

"If all who catch cold could be persuaded to remain in bed for the first twenty-four hours of such an attack," says a well known physician, "there would be fewer cases dragging on for weeks and often ending in more serious diseases." To make sure of a prompt recovery you should take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Whether sick or well the bowels should move each day. Stripling, Haselwood & Co.

According to the county superintendent most of the rural schools over the county have closed, and those which have not yet closed, will soon do so. It is said that this year has been an unusually successful year in rural schools in Nacogdoches county.

Pimples and blotches on the skin are caused by bilious impurities in the blood. The right remedy is Prickly Ash Bitters. It removes the cause by purifying the blood, liver and bowels. Price $1.25 per bottle. Stripling, Haselwood & Co. va

Mr. J. E. Gould, proprietor of the big marble works at Jacksonville, was a visitor in the city Tuesday and called at the Sentinel office. He's looking fine and appears prosperous.

The Facts About Rheumatism
More than nine out of ten cases of rheumatism are either chronic or muscular rheumatism, neither of which require any internal treatment. All that is required is to massage the affected parts freely with Chamberlain's Liniment. You will be surprised at the relief it affords. Stripling, Haselwood & Co.

W. P. REED.

Mr. W. P. Reed, 62, an old-time resident of the Shady Grove community, died at 7:40 Monday morning after a lingering illness.

He is survived by his wife and several children, by his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Reed, of Shady Grove; a brother, Mr. George W. Reed, merchant of this city; and a sister, Mrs. John Strahan of Pollok.

Interment will be made at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning in the Shady Grove cemetery, Rev. A. T. Gerrard conducting the service.
