TO THE PUBLIC

I want to thank the people of Nacogdoches for their good business and co-operation they have given me this summer in my little business. I realize that we haven't been prepared to give the service and quality of cream at all times that I would like to owing to our equipment and quantity of business we had. I am glad to say that we are getting better prepared all the time to give the people what they want, and by another year I hope to be prepared to take care of any kind of business in the right way. If you have at any time gotten any cream here that wasn't up to the standard I would be glad for you to tell me so that I may endeavor to correct it for another time. I am here for the public and want to give them what they want. If you want any kind of a special order such as ices, sherbets and brick ice cream, we take pleasure in doing it for you. Give us a trial. Phone 582.

I thank you,
Marigold Creamery,
By R. G. Muckleroy.

Some Inflation!

Speaking of the days of the inflated dollar, old Si Chestnut said: "By gum, it's a fact that for a time, a nickle's worth of oat straw and four cents worth of turkey feathers rigged up as a woman's hat, would fetch more than the price of a yearling calf."

In fact we all get the effects of the inflated dollar. Getting the inflation out of the dollar is something like getting over the effects of a "jag" in the days before homebrew became popular. Dollars are valuable now, because their purchasing power has increased, which is all the more reason why you should save them. May we help you.

APPROPRIATION APPROVED, THE NORMAL IS OURS

About 6 o'clock Tuesday afternoon the following telegram was received here:

Austin, Texas, Sept. 7.
Eugene Blount,
Nacogdoches, Texas:
This is to advise you, and through you the friends of the Normal, that I have approved the appropriation of $175,000 for the purpose of erecting your normal. I have vetoed all items except the $175,000 for the building.

Pat M. Neff.

The contents of this telegram soon became widely known throughout the city, ending years of suspense, which had been acute for several months and more particularly for the past few weeks, and then the jubilation began. Men shook hands and shouted their satisfaction, women smiled happily and children capered and laughed. It was a time of general rejoicing. The long fight was ended. Hope and aspiration had found fruition. The Stephen F. Austin Normal was ours.

About 8:30 a large crowd assembled at the postoffice and a brass band made music. A party of children on the postoffice lawn raised their voices in song. A group of high school boys gave a rousing college yell.

Attorney Arthur Seale opened the meeting by introducing Secretary H. L. McKnight of the chamber of commerce, who spoke briefly and enthusiastically. He was followed by Mr. Eugene Blount in similar vein. Then came Prof. R. F. Davis and Judge S. W. Blount, who told of the work of obtaining the normal and the accomplishment of the desired end. Their remarks were interrupted by vigorous applause, and everybody seemed happy.

It is understood the appropriation was signed by Governor Neff with the stipulation that work on the buildings would not begin until the latter part of next year.

There will be no change in the personnel of the clerical or house-keeping staffs.

BROTHERHOODS MEET

Dallas, Texas, Sept. 6.—More than 200 members of the railroad brotherhoods of Dallas left today to attend a general meeting at Fort Worth tonight of various brotherhood members to discuss "questions for the good of the orders."

FARM BUREAU

A few months ago no little interest was manifested in this county in the farm bureau organization. The secretary of the chamber of commerce was out upon the highways and byways, telling the farmers and others of its great possibilities. Checks were drawn in many communities in payment of membership fees. Organization was effected. A board of directors was elected. In due time the board of directors elected a manager of said bureau. Later on an effort was made to effect a pooling of cotton interests in line of the declared purpose of this organization. If anything was accomplished it has not been announced. It was expected that the bureau would be a means of securing better prices for the farmer's needs and thus secure a saving in needed supplies for making crops and in getting prices for farm products. What has become of all of this? Was the infant still-born? or was it permitted to die a natural death in its cradle? or has it been put to sleep to be awakened when the mother's lactical flow ceases? Who is responsible for these conditions, whatever they may be? Possibly it is the fault of the farmers. Possibly the sponsors are to blame. If a burial has taken place, its parents should be called on for a doctor's certificate. Possibly this has been filed with the secretary. The officers should investigate and report accordingly.

Be the above as it may, the writer learned from County Agent L. G. Smith of Shelby county that that county has gone steadily along without so much fuss and borne fruit. Through their county farm bureau Mr. Smith is authority for the following data, verified by Secretary D. O. Price:

Shelby County Farm Bureau has, since its organization last spring, ordered for its members three car loads of alfalfa hay at a saving of from $10 to $19 a ton, or $125 a car; two cars of cotton seed meal at $1.50 a sack, while the local market was $2.25, making a saving of from $60 to $300 a car; two cars of acid phosphate at $25, or $7 below local market per ton, and a saving of $175 per car of 25 tons; two cars of 575 bushels of velvet beans for $2.25 a bushel, against $4.85 in local market, a saving of $1,495; two cars of milo-maize at a saving of $5.50 a ton; saved in cotton sacking (8 oz. duck) the difference between 17c and 10c per yard; saved the difference between 15c and 9½c on 21,600 syrup cans for this fall, a saving of over $1,250 on this item; saved the difference between 30c and 16c each on potato hampers; saved 2 cents per pound, gross weight, on five cars of hogs over the local market.

This is the work in part of 250 paid-up members of Shelby County Farm Bureau and shows in a small way the strength there is in union. In addition to this, considerable cotton has been pooled, thus contributing to the completion of the national organization destined to help the entire South.

What is the matter with us, Mr. President and Secretary or Purchasing Agent for Nacogdoches county? Has the chamber of commerce swallowed the farm bureau?

J. THOS. HALL.

WORK RESUMED IN MEXICAN OIL FIELDS

Mexico City, Sept. 6.—Wholesale resumption of work in the Tampico oil district is reported in dispatches from that city. Hundreds of workers are returning to the petroleum fields, where operations have been resumed as the result of negotiations between large American oil companies and the Mexican government last week.

PRESIDENTIAL PARTY IS CAUGHT IN SEA STORM

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 5.—Definite information was received here this afternoon that President Harding and party, aboard the Mayflower, would not put in at Atlantic City because of heavy seas. The party is proceeding to Washington. They had planned to spend the day at Atlantic City.

CITY COUNCIL

The city council met in regular monthly session, with Mayor Middlebrook and Aldermen Greve, Mast, Simpson and Stripling present.

City Clerk Monk was unavoidably absent and Alderman Greve was appointed clerk pro tem.

Owing to the absence of the regular clerk, the reading the minutes of the previous meeting was passed.

Monthly reports of the officers and departments were read and approved.

Bills for the month were passed, the clerk having them with the books and other papers and being unable to get them to the meeting.

Discussions of street improvement and the adjustment of electric service under a new schedule occupied the attention of the council, beyond which no matters of importance were presented.

Mr. Joe Clayton of Cushing was in the city Tuesday for the first time in a dozen years. In the days of horse-back mail transportation Mr. Clayton carried Uncle Sam's mail from Henderson via Sulphur Springs and other parts to Nacogdoches. The changes in the city have made Nacogdoches an entirely new town to him. The courthouse and the postoffice have been built and the Old Stone Fort removed since his last visit and he bemoans the removal of the historic old building from its original site, where he thinks it would have become a mecca for true lovers of liberty.

A GREAT MEETING

The meeting at Cold Springs church, near Garrison, closed Sunday evening, September 4, with 39 additions, 29 baptisms, a Sunday-school and B. Y. P. U. were organized, and the church greatly strengthened. The greatest meeting with that church for more than 20 years, say the people.

T. B. Harrell.

A Few Exceptions

President Harding is of the opinion that pellagra exists in Texas to an alarming degree on account of the scarcity of things to eat. Over here in East Texas, except for string beans, beets, cabbage, butter beans, onions, tomatoes, okra, sweet potatoes, Irish potatoes, roasting ears, peas, honey, milk and butter, peanuts, syrup, cantaloupes, watermelons, strawberries, figs, peaches, poultry, eggs, fish, the usual variety of meat and a few other things of the sort, there is a more or less shortage of food.—Carthage Register.

WANTED

NO TIME FOR OVER-CONFIDENCE

Genuine enthusiasm for a cause is one of the elements essential for its success. But when the enthusiasm swells into a fervid and rapturous devotion, every hope of triumph grows into a certainty. Then if success should not come, the bitterness of defeat is without limit. These are observations, trite of course, particularly applicable in any consideration of the work of the disarmament conference called by President Harding. Published utterances indicate that there are people in perfect ecstasy over the great project, believing without any doubt that the world is to be relieved of the heavy and dangerous burden of big navies. On the other hand, there are significant indications that much of this show of certainty is a show of fervor made purely for political effect.

The honest and earnest demand for disarmament of both navies and armies is universal, and all peace-loving people want to see the coming conference at Washington bring, as near as possible, an end to the crushing burdens of war preparations. But who can say for a certainty that this tremendously important congress will achieve the right purpose for which it is called?

Recent events have furnished a grand lesson in this respect. Not since the days when Peter the Hermit aroused all Europe into a passionate crusade centuries ago has there been so world-wide and as intensely ardent a cry for the reformation as the nations sent up in behalf of the great project of the League of Nations. Yet for reasons that had not even a decent excuse it was and remains rejected by the greatest free nation on the face of the earth.

There will be when that congress shall assemble a thousand complex situations and conflicting interests to adjust. No two nations in the world are yet agreed on the question of disarmament, except as to the bare agreement that present navies and armies are a monstrous and perilous burden to the world. But every nation has its own ideas as to how that burden may be removed, without negatively affecting such nation.

As between the battleship and the blimp, the choice is obvious.

A DISADVANTAGED PEOPLE

While as a nation we believe it is a duty to give aid to backward peoples, giving a government to the Philippines and sending missionaries to all parts of the earth, we have disadvantaged peoples right at home. Among them are the inhabitants of the Blue Ridge mountains and Cumberland ranges in Kentucky and Tennessee. The condition of these people, of the purest blood in America, has excited sympathy and much has been done to lift them out of their century-old environments, but much remains to be done.

President Hutchins of Berea College, an institution which has carried much light to the mountains, says there are 3,000,000 of these backward people on the slopes and in the valleys of the Southern Highlands. The ancestors of these people went into the mountains through poverty or exploration and the hills have held them ever since at about the same level. There are no roads worthy of the name, the soil is not capable of producing enough to give proper support to a family and markets cannot be reached. The result is poor people, poor schools and poor churches. However, many of the industries of other days survive there. Spinning and weaving are carried on generally and the thought and habits are those of the long ago. By many of deeply religious nature moonshining is thought to be an honorable occupation. The fact that moonshine brings from $16 to $30 a quart and is the main means of commanding money doubtless contributes to the belief in its defensibility.

This situation is of concern not alone to the states that claim these people as citizens. It is a problem for the whole country. People who do not progress go backward. No doubt our bad exhibit as a nation in illiteracy is augmented by these people. They are of good stock but have succumbed to environment and it is among such that blood feuds exist, though possibly they do not prevail with the intensity of other days. An infection on one member is of influence on the whole body. It might be well for us to give a bit less attention to the backward peoples on the far side of the earth and take a little more interest in lifting out of ignorance and the seclusion of the hills some of our own people who need help to reach the average of American intelligence.

TO THE CITIZENS OF NACOGDOCHES COUNTY

Not wishing to engage in any newspaper controversy, I hesitate to reply to the communication of the Hon. S. M. Adams, published in the Daily Sentinel yesterday. However, in view of the criticism by Mr. Adams of the commissioners court, I feel that it is my duty to briefly refer to some of his statements.

As he said, the commissioners court engaged the services of a civil engineer to make plans, specifications and furnish estimates for the building of the roads then under contemplation, but he should remember that they were mere estimates and did not mean the exact cost of the road. For instance, on four miles of road near town the road costs about $20,000 more than the estimated cost, due to two causes: (a) Solid rock excavation found under the surface. (b) Change in the kind of surfacing used on the road, neither of which was in the original estimates furnished by the engineer.

He says he understands the Douglass road has been accepted as completed. It is just a misunderstanding on his part. The court did pay Smith Brothers in full for the work they did on the Douglass road, because the unfinished work on this road was not in their contract, and it will have to be finished at the expense of the county, which is being done in order to get the balance due from the state.

Mr. Adams said the Bland contracts (including the Garrison, Chireno and Lufkin roads) "was let right at the top of high prices—against the advice of the financial judges of Nacogdoches county." This contract was let November 15th, 1920, to H. F. Bland very much against my wishes, as the court and the contractors bidding well knew, for I was in favor of the county bidding in the work and subcontracting it to its own citizens at what I believed profit to both the county and its citizens. But the majority of the court was afraid of this venture and let the contract as stated, not against the "financial judges of Nacogdoches county," for there was not a man who opposed the letting of this contract before the court except myself. Mr. Adams is probably mixed up in this matter, because two leading bankers of Nacogdoches county came before the commissioners court December 13th, 1920, when the contract was let to Austin Bros. for the bridges on the King's Highway from Douglass to Chireno. They asked the court not to let the bridge contracts at that time for the reason that bridge material was declining; and further, because the road bond money was loaned to the bank and in turn had been loaned to the farmer, who would be pressed if the court demanded its money. The court believed the public would be better served by getting permanent bridges built on these roads and let the contract.

Mr. Adams said the court promised the people to maintain the roads out of the $800,000, that has all been spent, intimating that it has been squandered, and calls on the citizens generally to see what has become of the money. There is no foundation, so far as I know, for the intimation that the money has been squandered, and I trust that you will investigate the matter that you may know how it has been spent. The court made no promise, to my knowledge, to maintain the roads out of the $800,000, but expected to maintain them out of the road and bridge fund, together with the automobile tax. This, I believe, could be done if the roads were finished.

My friend Adams seems a little incensed at the court for agreeing to pay $1,000 for a Dallas lawyer to prepare for the issuance of warrants to finish up the road work, but he does not know that this fee includes his help for tick eradication warrants, which will have to be issued if tick eradication is continued in this county. It also includes his opinion, which in this particular case is almost indispensable for the reason that W. M. Harris is one of the leading warranter attorneys in the South, and is the attorney for the people who are expected to take the warrants. While I prepared, with a little assistance, all of the orders for the road bonds and finally got them approved by the attorney general of Texas; and it cost us $850 to get the attorney's approving opinion after all the orders had been prepared and approved by the attorney general. I am inclined to believe that if I or any other home attorney were to prepare the orders in these matters, it would cause much delay, and at a time which might affect the coming in of the state money on the roads as the work progresses.

I am sorry that anyone may think the road bond money has not been properly spent, but upon investigation you will find that our county has gotten as much for the amount of money it had to spend on the roads as any county in this section of the state. Angelina county last week voted more than a million dollars for road improvements. If our roads require only another one hundred thousand dollars for completion, we will have a better system of roads than any of the counties near us, and at a tax rate less than any of them.

ROAD CONTRACT SIGNED FOR KING'S HIGHWAY

The contract for the building of the King's Highway was signed Monday by the members of the Commissioner's Court and the McClung Construction Company. County Engineer W. A. French, left Tuesday morning for Austin, where the contracts will be delivered to the state highway commission, and accepted, no doubt, by them together with the federal government representatives, as federal aid to the extent of 50-50 is to be allowed on this road.

People generally throughout the county are rejoicing over the hope of this much-needed road being built.

An injunction has been applied for, so general report has it, and District Judge Stark has set Monday, Sept. 5, to hear the matter. No injunction has yet been granted and general opinion seems to be that the grounds for one in this particular case will not justify.—San Augustine Tribune.

Big Sum For Good Roads

According to the American Automobile Associations 25 states have authorized the insurance of state bonds to supplement other funds for road construction. It is estimated that the total amount made available from state and county bond issues for road construction during 1919, 1920 and 1921 in excess of $900,000,000. This is in addition to funds derived from direct taxation, the motor vehicle tax and federal aid.—Ex.

For a New Church

Parties from the community were in town last week soliciting funds with which to build a new church in the Pine Hill community.

The News was informed that religious services were formerly held in the Pine Hill school building, which was recently burned down with lightning, and which will not be rebuilt on the same site for the reason that the district is being divided.—Garrison News.

APPROVES RURAL AID, SLASHES OTHER FUNDS

Austin, Texas, Sept. 2.—Governor Neff has signed the eleemosynary bill after cutting the total allowed for the two years by $623,760, thus making the total now $5,689,515. He also signed the rural school aid bill carrying $1,500,000, for the first year and $1,000,000 for the second year and the school building at the Corsicana State Orphan's Home. The governor announced that he would sign the departmental bill and the educational appropriation bill later.

The rural aid bill was signed in the presence of Miss Annie Webb Blanton, state superintendent of public instruction; S. M. N. Marrs of the department of education; Lee Borden, head of the rural school division of the department of education, and Dr. S. P. Brooks, president of Baylor University at Waco.

Governor Neff also signed the emergency appropriations bill carrying $575,375, after cutting it down $4,350 by eliminating an item for traveling expenses amounting to $750 and another for furniture amounting to $3,600.

The largest single cut made by the executive pencil in the eleemosynary bill was accomplished through striking out entirely the contingent funds for the various institutions amounting to a total of $227,500 each year.

The next largest single cut was accomplished through the elimination of the entire appropriation for the Home for Neglected and Dependent Children at Waco for the first year. This amounted to $45,380 and thus postpones opening of the home from Sept. 1, 1921, to Sept. 1922.

Other items stricken out were for improvements, repairs and other minor expenses. No jobs were eliminated. As the bill went to the governor from the first called session of the Thirty-seventh Legislature it carried $6,313,275 for the two years of $3,248,220 for the first year and $3,665,055 for the second. This represented a reduction from the amount called for in the measure as it came from the committee.

The reductions made by the governor affected every eleemosynary institution in the state. The institutions for which the bill provides are Confederate Woman's Home, State Confederate Home, State Lunatic Asylum, State Pasteur Institute, western Insane Asylum, North Texas Hospital for the Insane, East Texas Hospital for the Insane, State Epileptic Colony, State Orphan's Home, State Juvenile Training School, State Colony of Feeble Minded, State Tuberculosis Sanatorium, Hospital for Crippled Children, Deaf, Dumb and Blind Institute for Colored Youth, Northwest Texas State Insane Asylum, Home for Dependent and Neglected children.

COTTON REPORT

The government's cotton report of the condition and estimated yield of cotton to date was received in the city early Thursday morning. According to figures given the condition of the crop this year is 49.3; last year it was 64.7. The reduction per acre from last year's yield is placed at 127 pounds. The yield indicated this year is 7,037,000 bales; last year's yield was 13,440,000 bales. Immediately following the publication of this report the price of cotton advanced 71 points. The New Orleans quotation was 16.87 cents for December delivery.

The price of cotton in Nacogdoches Thursday morning was 16.25 cents.

Mrs. Jesse Bates of Nacogdoches spent Sunday at the home of Mrs. Hattie Arrant's.—Alto Herald.

J. A. STARNS

J. A. Starns, aged 52 years, died suddenly Wednesday morning, August 31, at his home near the Methodist church. He had been ill but a day or two, and was sitting on the side of his bed when the end came.

The remains were taken to the Casson, Monk & Company undertaking parlors, from which place the funeral occurred at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, the service being conducted by Rev. J. L. Massey of the Methodist church.

Deceased is survived by his wife, several children and a brother, the latter residing at Trinity, but neither he nor any of the children could be located and hence were not notified of the death of their kinsman.

Mr. Starns came to Nacogdoches about a year ago from Trinity. He was a quiet man of gentlemanly demeanor, and won the good-will of all with whom he came in contact.

PERSONAL MENTION

The San Antonio Express of August 30 contained the following personal notices which will be of interest to Nacogdochesans:

Mr. and Mrs. Richard C. Rusche and two children, Lamonte and Velma Louise of Houston, who have been camping at Medina Lake for the past week, spent a week with their aunt, Mrs. D. E. Clifton, 609 Crosby street. Mrs. Clifton entertained her guests with a swimming party at Terrell Wells Saturday evening, followed by a picnic supper, the personnel of the party, including the honor guests, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Clifton and children and the host and hostess.

J. P. Jinkins of Nacogdoches, who has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Clifton, returned to his home Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Clifton will leave in the next few days for an extended trip through Texas, including Houston, Galveston, Waco and Nacogdoches.

Mrs. Sam L. Edwards and little granddaughter, Thelma Edmundson, have returned from an extended trip to Bella Vista, Ark., the Ozark mountains, Kansas City, Mo., and Des Moines, Iowa.

SURPRISE SHOWER.

A party of friends gathered at the home of Mrs. Edgar Eddings Monday morning, honoring Miss G. Gaflin, a bride-to-be, with a surprise shower of pretty things that are dear to the heart of every girl. The basket was brought in and presented by little Dot Marie and Leta Bell Beck, dressed in pretty, fluffy dresses of green and gold, these colors being carried out in all the decorations. The party dispersed after an hour of pleasant chatting, wishing the honoree many happy remembrances of the day.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Hatchel have returned from a three-weeks' trip in their car through West Texas and New Mexico, visiting a brother of the former at Dallas and another at El Paso. They made the trip west on the Bankhead highway, and returning came by way of San Antonio. They report a fine time.

Miss Charlie Stinson, who had been visiting relatives and friends in the city and delighting musical circles with her splendid renditions, left Saturday afternoon for her home in Stockton, Cal. Miss Stinson has met with flattering success in her new surroundings and our people are much gratified to know that she has forged to the front in her chosen career.

Rev. Jesse R. Wilson occupied the pulpit at the Baptist church Sunday night and was greeted by a full house, it being the occasion of his farewell sermon before he started to take his work in Japan, for which country he and Mrs. Wilson and the children left Monday.

Mr. R. O. Hale, accompanied by his family, left by auto Sunday for Dodge to attend the funeral of his son, Rolf Hale, who was killed in France. The body of the soldier left New York Sunday in charge of a military escort, and will reach Dodge Tuesday night or Wednesday. Other members of the family will leave Wednesday to attend the funeral.

Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Peterson, who some time ago moved to Timpson, have returned and have rooms with Mrs. W. S. Buchanan. On Monday next Mr. Peterson will take the place of baker at the Lone Star Bakery.

Lem Dove and Buster Johnson, colored, had a preliminary trial before Justice Huston Friday night on a charge of robbery of a Mexican a few nights ago, and were placed under $200 bonds each for their appearance before the grand jury.

DISTRICT COURT.

Circuit court convened at 10 o'clock Monday morning, with Judge L. D. Guinn on the bench and Prosecuting Attorney W. B. Bates representing the interests of the state.

The following grand jury was impaneled:

Charles R. Langston, Garrison; Bob King, Douglass; W. H. Rudd, Swift; W. D. Lambert, Chireno; H. R. Hamblin, Caro; Charles Perkins, Nacogdoches; R. S. Spear, Sacul; J. L. Covington, Martinsville; Joel P. Blanton, Woden; R. Frank Johnson, Harmony; Roland Jones, Nacogdoches; Geo. W. Hogan, Mahl.

Bob King was appointed foreman, Chas. R. Langston clerk and H. Holbrook door bailiff. The riding bailiffs are J. L. Hargis, Wade Walters, J. A. Red, Doc Watson, T. G. Vaught, J. W. Battle, J. T. King and J. T. Perritte.

Judge Guinn delivered the following charge to the jury: Gentlemen:

The Court will give you in charge the investigation of any and all criminal laws contained in the statutes of the state. I understand that there is no law that the grand jury can indict a person under unless the states make it an offense within itself—the penal code. You will find the law in the penal code or in the acts of the legislature—that is, those that have not been placed in the penal code.

It is the duty of the grand jury to indict all people who violate the law, without regard to what the law may be or what offense. The district and county attorneys will be with you to advise and point out the law whenever you find the facts authorize the violation of any law. From time to time they will advise you about those matters. Of course all of the laws are not in the statutes, and you will find some of them in the acts of the legislature.

There is a great deal of dissatisfaction in the county about the violation of laws generally, and, especially, the liquor law. Without telling you what the liquor law is—the Dean Prohibition Law—it is made a penalty to either buy, sell or possess liquor or to have any equipment for the manufacture of liquor. The only way I know of for the citizenship to teach obedience of law is to indict all people who violate it without regard to what we may think of the law—that is, we have to take it as we find it, and unless you do that we will have anarchy in this country. Really, the only protection people have for their life and property is the enforcement of the law. People all over this country—if it wasn't for the enforcement of the law—would either kill or rob people promiscuously, and if you don't see to the enforcement of it, one law or another, it will bring about that condition.

Now, the town of Nacogdoches will soon have a state school and unless the law is enforced around here it is going to hurt your town, as the people are not going to send their children here to school when bootleggers and other violators of the law are running at large.

I wish you would also especially look into the investigation of the officers who are in charge of enforcing the law. If any officer is not doing his duty he ought to be indicted, whether he be the district judge or any constable—or anybody between them—no matter who it is; if they are winking at it in any way the grand jury should indict them. It is worth more to the country to indict one officer than 100 bootleggers, if they are violating the law. Everybody is under obligation to obey the law, and the officers especially. I don't know of anybody violating it, but it is a matter here of organizing the grand jury and one that ought to be investigated. It is the duty of the grand jury to look into and investigate the appropriation of money by the county or any misappropriation of any funds of any kind and ought to be investigated.

It requires nine members of the grand jury to constitute a quorum. If you have present nine members it requires a unanimous vote before you can find a bill, nine members have got to vote before for an indictment; if you have twelve members present nine votes are sufficient to find and return an indictment. When discussing the probability or advisability of finding an indictment there is nobody that can be present except the grand jury itself. The county and district attorneys can be with you when investigating crime, but not when discussing as to whether you will find a bill or not.

Under the law, the grand jury can adjourn to suit their convenience; that is, meet and adjourn at such

NACOGDOCHES TRADITIONS

As you see proper, provided you don't adjourn over three days; however, if you want to adjourn over three days, you may do so by permission of the Court, which will be granted.

You will select such bailiffs, that is, door and riding bailiffs, as you may think you will need, send them in and the court will swear them. They are not to be paid exceeding $3 per day, and you can fix the fee. You may pay them at the end of the week or such other time as the grand jury may see proper, by giving the clerk the number of days and the amount to pay the respective bailiffs, the clerk not knowing as to who they are or what you are to pay them.

Mr. King will act as foreman for you and you can select a secretary or clerk and such bailiffs as you see proper. You can retire. The sheriff will show you your room.

After the grand jury retired the court adjourned to 1 p. m., when the appearance docket was taken up.

GENERAL WOOD ACCEPTS

Manila, Sept. 3.—Major General Leonard Wood today announced his acceptance of the post of governor general of the Philippines. General Wood said he probably would not ask for retirement until his appointment is confirmed by the senate. He said he believed it to be his duty to accept, due to the seriousness of the Philippine situation.

ASPIRIN

Name "Bayer" on Genuine

Beware! Unless you see the name "Bayer" on package or on tablets you are not getting genuine Aspirin prescribed by physicians for twenty-one years and proved safe by millions. Take Aspirin only as told in the Bayer package for Colds, Headache, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Earache, Toothache, Lumbago, and Pain. Handy tin boxes of twelve Bayer Tablets of Aspirin cost few cents. Druggists also sell larger packages. Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacture of Monoaceticacidester of Salicylicacid.

A close observer, who would make a trip to the old cemetery, called Oak Grove, though the oaks are not there now, would find grave marks and monuments of peculiar interest.

It is not intended to enumerate them in this writing, but it is not out of place to again call attention to the marble slab over the grave of Oscar Lemna Holmes. Read the words inscribed thereon.

Holmes was from the North, and like many others of his type, he was an enthusiastic supporter of the South in the days of secession. The South did not seek the destruction of the Union, as it generally charged by the North. But they claimed the right to withdraw from the union, or rather they felt like they were not fairly and lawfully treated by the North, and were forced to get out.

Another monument in the old cemetery is that of Major Henry W. Raguet. He was one of the family line which his grand old father, Col. Henry Raguet, headed. And this patriot was also a Northerner who gave his whole heart to the Southern confederacy. Major Henry W. Raguet gave his life for the South. He was a true hero, and was killed in the battle of Glorietta, N. M. There are others in this class, men from the North who were wholly devoted to the South. Nelson, Edwards, Clark, Taylor, Blake, Voigt and more. Each name is worthy of a special biographic detail. Some of these tombstones are now a century old.

There are not many witnesses living now who can tell it. Among them are several ladies, living in town—Mrs. F. L. McKnight, Mrs. W. D. Peavy, Mrs. J. C. Council, Mrs. George W. Partin, are nearly all. Among the men living yet who were active in it are John Rusk, Lawrence Taylor, John B. Nelson, Jesse Summers, Holloway Power and John G. Orton. There are a number of prominent old-timers living here and there, that were contemporary, Wm. A. Skillern, John W. Murph, A. J. Murphey, James W. Curl, Sam W. Reid, James H. Halton, and James W. Stephens, and these are not all. It may seem like "twice told tales" but such tales deserve to be repeated and elaborated.

Colds & Headache

"For years we have used Black-Draught in our family, and I have never found any medicine that could take its place," writes Mr. H. A. Stacy, of Bradyville, Tenn. Mr. Stacy, who is a Rutherford County farmer, recommends Black-Draught as a medicine that should be kept in every household for use in the prompt treatment of many little ills to prevent them from developing into serious troubles.

THEDFORD'S BLACK-DRAUGHT

"It touches the liver and does the work," Mr. Stacy declared. "It is one of the best medicines I ever saw for a cold and headache. I don't know what we would do in our family if it wasn't for Black-Draught. It has saved us many dollars. . . I don't see how any family can hardly go without it. I know it is a reliable and splendid medicine to keep in the house. I recommend Black-Draught highly and am never without it."

SENATOR LODGE'S

"UPPER" HOUSE

The supreme egotism of Senator Lodge, of Massachusetts, has been displayed on many occasions and in a variety of form, but never more completely than in his repeated allusions to the United States senate as the "upper house" of congress.

If Senator Lodge and those who join with him in repeating this fallacy have no greater respect for the provisions of the constitution of the United States than is thus indicated, they are far from being entitled to the favorable consideration of the people of this republic. For there is nowhere in the constitution any word, phrase or expression which could be tortured into any other meaning than that the two branches of congress shall be co-ordinate.

And if co-ordinate in this connection means anything it means absolute equality in position and power. Indeed the constitution is meticulous in its care to make equal division of responsibility. In most matters it demands concurrence of the two bodies, and where that is not possible it makes a division clearly intended to prevent one branch from assuming a superior authority.

Thus, while the house is given charge of the national pocketbook, the senate has exclusive jurisdiction in regard to the nations foreign relations. While the house has the sole power of impeachment, the senate has sole power to try the official impeached, with its verdicts properly circumscribed to preserve the authority of the judiciary.

But perhaps the senate is the "upper house" because Senator Lodge is a member of it.

THE ACADEMIC PROLETARIAT

At the risk of appearing to be academic, the executive council of the American Federation of Labor has presented objections to text books in use in the public schools. The basis of the complaint is the report of the Federation's committee on education, which declares that "there appears to be evidence of a precon-certed and well-organized effort to shape the thoughts of the young thru the preparation of text books used and that there is a total absence of labor's viewpoint." This is a characteristic Federation presentation.

There has always been a presumption in the minds of the American people that the public school system was intended to do the very thing the Federation seems to demand shall be ended—to shape the thoughts of the young through text books used. There have been critical times when the public had some doubt whether the system was doing all that was expected, but never was there a question that shaping the thoughts of the young—or trying to do so—was the main feature of the labor. And certainly were the results all that were expected or only partially so, there could be no doubt that text books constituted a substantial factor in the methods.

As to the second point—failure to present labor's viewpoint. What is labor's viewpoint. On what does Mr. Gompers hang his objection to the public school teaching? On what subjects do the text books fail to touch upon labor's viewpoint? Mr. Gompers himself has forbidden politics in his organization, so it cannot be politics. And on the various divisions of the labor problem itself the Federation of Labor is divided in its viewpoint.

Why doesn't Mr. Gompers come right out squarely and say what the Federation demands shall be taught, to the children in the public schools?

Let's move that the bugler open the disarmament conference with "cease firing."

This affair between Panama and Costa Rica is probably for the bantamweight championship.

With Ireland rejecting England's proposal of colonial government, take your partners for the next crisis with Lloyd George.

The success of gangs of swindlers indicates that there are many people eager to part with their money.

Another press-agent dream about a movie star getting $15,000 a week is noticed lying around, waiting for someone to come along and believe it.

CHARACTER SHOWN BY YOUR DRIVING

A long time has passed since the ownership of a motor car was an evidence of wealth.

Not merely bankers, head waiters and master plumbers now own cars, but the lower classes also. Even editors of magazines.

The number of automobiles is being added to at the rate of more than a million a year; a million new cars means a million new drivers.

If driving is to continue to be safe and enjoyable for us all, it must be made so by a tremendous exercise of courtesy on the part of everyone. Let me set down here some observations founded not on police law, but on common sense plus courtesy.

First—However unflattering it may be to the rest of humanity, I know of no better rule than always to assume that the other fellow is a bigger fool than you are.

Assume that he is going to turn the next corner without giving you any signal.

Assume that his wife, who is with him, may at any moment take a fancy to a wild rose at the edge of the road and have the car brought to an abrupt stop.

Assume, when you turn a corner that he will be coming around from the other way, too fast and on the wrong side of the road.

In a word, keep a sufficient distance between his car and yours, so that nothing he can possibly do can involve you in trouble.

Second—A horn can be either the voice of salvation or an instrument of torture, according to the way in which it is used.

The courteous driver can make his horn say either "Please be careful," or "Curse you, Charles Montague, get off the road." His horn never says one when it should say the other.

Incidentally, the best drivers blow the horns least.

Third—The courteous driver stays just as close to the edge of his side of the road as it is possible for him to get. He never feels called upon to assert his dignity or to maintain his rights by edging as far out as he can. He knows that the middle of the road belongs to no man.

Fourth—The courteous driver never uses his blinding headlights only upon a road entirely unlighted; and he turns them down at the first sight of an approaching car.

Fifth—The courteous driver recognizes that pedestrians and horse vehicles have right as well as he. He remembers—however irritating they may occasionally be—that, after all, the road belonged to them for years before it belonged to the motor car.

It is the law of the sea that the sail boat must give way to the row boat. The power boat must look out for the sail boat. Always the stronger must give way to the weak.

What is law for the sea ought to be self-imposed and cheerfully accepted etiquette of the road.

Finally. The courteous driver—and his wife—make up their minds at what rate they like to travel best, and they jog along happily at that rate, enjoying the view, untroubled and untroubling.

If the occupants of another car desire to travel faster, they let them pass. They never race; never put up on full speed when they hear a horn sounded behind them.

Never, never, under any circumstances, do they push ahead of a car in front, by invoking a burst of speed, and then, having passed, slow up so that their dust spreads all over the car behind.

In all the category of meanness there is no meaner trick than passing a car and then slowing down.

Let me see you drive and I will tell you what you are.

I can stand by the side of the road and pick out the wife-beaters, and the fellows who are cheating the government out of their income tax, the fellows that talk loud in theaters—

—and, thank God, the great overwhelming majority of good husbands and fathers, decent citizens and courteous gentlemen—the wholesome folk who observe the etiquette of the road. —Bruce Barton in Red Book Magazine.

THAT RANGER AUTOMOBILE

YES, it IS a pretty car. The RANGER is a motor car that at once fills one with a remarkable sense of security and ease. Swung low on extra long and tempered springs, it hugs the road in greater comfort and safety, and Oh! it rides so easy.

Impressive in its beauty, and original in its design, the RANGER will draw even the casual glance of the passerby when it flanks the curb.

Aside from its exterior appearance, this car is classified on a basis of admirable performance.

Ruggedness, endurance, easy riding, easy driving and dependability have all been built into each RANGER model. The RANGER will idle along under its throttle power down to TWO miles an hour in high gear, yet a touch on the accelerator and the car leaps forward at a burst of speed that seems marvelous. In hill climbing and heavy going, but few of the six cylinder cars of its class will equal the pulling performance of a motor.

The RANGER is the motor car that you have long been seeking, a car that is entirely dependable in every respect. Its service meets the most exacting of social and business requirements. The motor's fuel economy is astonishing, think of 25 miles to the gallon of gasoline on any ordinary road. Don't fail to see it, try it out and be convinced. Thank you.

TO THE GROWERS OF ACALA COTTON

The first bale of Acala brought to town measured full 1 and 1-8 inch careful examination of this sample, urge you to assemble this cotton in lots to 25 to 50 bales, with the assurances that it will command a substantial premium, if sold in lots. I suggest, therefore, that you send or bring samples of each bale to my office as soon as ginned, and that you hold the cotton in the yard or at the compress until we can offer it in 25 to 50 bale lots.

Cotton buyers believe that this staple will bring 2 cents per pound premium if sold in lots. This premium is worth your careful consideration.

I suggest that you require your ginner to keep Acala seed free from other varieties. He can do this if he will. If he refuses, haul your cotton elsewhere.

Yours truly,
H. L. McKnight, County Agent.

Defeating Swimmer's Champ

There is an odd and commonly accepted theory that the swimmer who cannot swim must either be rescued immediately by someone else or drown. A young girl competing in a five-mile swim in rough water recently proved that the contrary is true.

The course set for this particular contest was from a lake bathing beach to a point five miles out from shore. A high wind made the lake so rough that of seven contestants only two completed the course. One was the nineteen-year-old girl and the other a man, a professional swimmer and lifeguard.

Twice during the swim the girl was seized with cramp. Instead of signaling the following boat for aid or going down in despair, she turned on her back and floated until the muscular contraction had eased. Once the process took half an hour. She then turned, resumed her stroke, and in spite of the heavy seas, beat her more muscular and experienced opponent to the goal.

The attack of cramp is sudden and acutely painful, but it is interesting to note that it need not be fatal if the swimmer can keep his nerve and his head.—Shreveport Journal.

Two pints make a quart unless they are moonshine, and then they make a fight.

THE KEY TO SUCCESS

There is no class of employment that finds a more regular, constant demanded than telegraphy operators. The capable operator can always command a good salary, and the opportunities for promotion are unlimited as witness the number of operators who have risen to railroad heads.

The largest telegraph school in America, equipped with over a hundred sets of instruments, a train wire of a main line railroad, all telegraph and freight blanks and books of record, tickets, and in fact everything just as complete as found in the best equipped railroad offices, the best practical teachers to be obtained, thoroughly experienced in commercial and railroad telegraphy, station and freight work—The Tyler Commercial College, of Tyler, Texas, is unable to supply the demands of the railroads, Western Union and Postal Telegraph companies for operators.

Read the following letter from the superintendent of telegraphy of one of the large railroad companies:

Tyler Commercial College, Tyler, Texas, Gentlemen—If you will send us the high class students that you have been sending, we can use all that you can send. Could use a large number at the present time if you have them. In this connection will say what students you have sent us have been very satisfactory and have developed into some of the best telegraphers and agents that we have. Trust that you will be able to send us more of your students at once and keep them coming as fast as they are capable. I had the pleasure to visit your great school and made a personal investigation of the methods used by you in preparing student telegraphers, and I find they meet with all the requirements of my road, and I wish further to say that you have the largest and most complete and thorough business college that I have ever seen. R. F. Frenzer, superintendent of telegraph, Union Pacific Railroad.

Our telegraph students are on all the leading Southwestern roads and in Western Union and Postal Telegraph offices. With our help you can be a bigger success. Write for free catalogue. We place graduates promptly free of charge. Tyler Commercial College, Tyler, Texas.

Like every man who does his own thinking, you want fine tobacco in your cigarettes. You'll find it in Camels.

And, mind you, no flashy package just for show. No extra wrappers! No costly frills! These things don't improve the smoke any more than premiums or coupons.

But QUALITY! Listen! That's CAMELS!

Pure Blood is Foe of Rheumatism

(Thursday Health Talk No. 20).
(By R. W. Zilar, D. C.)

Where the blood is pure there is no rheumatism. Rheumatism is due to faulty elimination of the poisons from the body. It is principally due to weakness of the kidneys.

In acute inflammatory rheumatism the joints, usually the wrists, ankles, elbows and knees, are the seat of inflammation. Movement of the joints affected cause great pains. To minimize the pain the muscles will remain contracted. The bones may become deformed and the joints stiff.

When the spinal nerves to the kidneys and bowels and lungs are free, every eliminative process of the body is active, and the blood is pure. Chiropractic Spinal Adjustments freeing the spinal nerves to these organs will remove the cause of rheumatism.

BEGAN SUFFERING AT 13.

DEN OF KU KLUX KLAN PARADES IN NACOGDOCHES

The Ku Klux Klan have at last appeared in Nacogdoches.

About 9 o'clock Saturday night a special train of four coaches, all unlighted, rolled into the station here and a party of approximately 300 men, garbed in the regalia of the Ku Klux Klan, alighted and formed in line. Led by a hooded figure bearing a United States flag and the fiery cross of the order, the visitors paraded Main street, which was lined with a curious crowd of spectators, and marched silently through several streets in the northern and eastern part of town, returning by way of the settlement in the neighborhood of the lumber mills and Clevenger's gin in the nearby western section.

At various points placards were posted bearing such legends as "Loafers, Go to Work or Leave Town," "Law Abiding Citizens, White or Black, Need Not Fear," and also a premonitory warning to immoral men and women, of whatever color, to mend their evil ways.

As the rear end of the parade passed Church street, City Marshal Buchanan, in an automobile, dropped into line and accompanied the visitors in their peregrinations over the city, not with any idea of interference, of course, but merely to see the wheels go round.

When the march was finished the klansmen returned in formation to the station, where they entered the waiting coaches and the train returned northward.

Who the men were or where they came from is not known. No word was spoken during their stay in the city. Mysteriously and silently they came, carried out their evidently prearranged plans and as silently left.

It seems to have been given out that the question of color will not be considered in the treatment of loafers and undesirable characters; that corrective measures will be applied to white and black equally impartially—promptly and effectively.

The visit of the klansmen has been the chief topic of conversation on the streets and in the homes of our people.

The warning to loafers has already had some effect in certain quarters.

TO THE GROWERS OF ACALA COTTON

The first bale of Acala cotton ginned this season showed a full one and 1-8 inch staple. The second bale brought to town showed considerable damage to the staple from gin cutting. There is absolutely no excuse for any ginmer to ruin a good staple cotton by too rapid ginning. With only about one-fourth the normal cotton to be ginned the man who grows an extra good staple has a perfect right to demand that the saws be run at a speed that will not cut the fibre.

We certainly have very few ginners who are not willing to do the right thing by their customers who are making an honest-to-goodness effort to grow a better staple. Do not expect the ginmer to slow down his machinery for your particular bale of cotton unless you make it perfectly clear to him why you are making the request.

Yours very truly,
H. L. McKnight,
County Agent.

IT NEVER FAILS TO PUT HER RIGHT

Muskogee Woman Relieved of 15 Years Troubles by Taking Tanlac
"Tanlac has relieved me of a case of stomach trouble that made my life miserable for fifteen or twenty years," said Mrs. Margaret C. Grider, 905 Elgin Ave., Muskogee, Okla.

"Nothing agreed with me and the gas which formed on my stomach bloated me up so that I suffered agony for hours. There was a pressure around my heart that almost took my breath away. I was so nervous and restless any unusual noise almost drove me distracted and I scarcely ever got a good night's sleep. I was so weak and run down that I could not do anything hardly, but would just move about the house like I was half dead. I used every medicine I ever heard tell of, but nothing did me any good and I had almost given up hope of ever getting well.

"But after I got Tanlac I began to mend from the very start. My appetite soon became ravenous and I began to eat things I hadn't dared touch in a long time. I have just finished my sixth bottle and haven't felt better in years, I sleep like a child, wake up refreshed and have strength to do my housework with ease. I always keep a bottle of Tanlac on hand to take when I get to feeling a little bad, and it never fails to put me on the right road again. Tanlac is just grand."

Tanlac is sold in Nacogdoches by Stripling, Haselwood & Co., and in Garrison by the Dale Drug Co.

Be sure to see "A Virginian Romance" at the White House Friday night.

GOODS ADVANCING

We bought early, before the price went up, got our goods cheap and are not going to put the price up until we sell what we have on hand.

We realize that crops are short and that times are hard and that people can't afford to pay fancy profits and we can't afford to carry our stock over and to keep from doing this we are going to make our prices attractive to the fellow who wants to save money and make it go as far as possible.

We have no trouble in selling a customer if he has priced goods before he comes to us.

Try the town and then come to us and we can prove to you that we are selling for less. See us before you close a trade. C. W. Butt.

WONDERFUL FREE ACTS OBTAINED FOR STATE FAIR

Ten Feature Offerings Booked For Entertainment at 1921 Exposition.

In the matter of free attractions, the program mapped out for the 1921 State Fair of Louisiana, October 27 to November 6, will be fully up to the standard. A large sum has been budgeted for the free entertainment, and the management has booked the attractions so as to offer something that will please every visitor. All the free acts on the schedule are regarded as high class, and real entertainment is assured.

All told, there are ten acts on the program of free amusements. The list includes the following:

The Alaska Duo, who present thrilling stunts as ice skaters, their feats being performed with as much ease as if dancing in a ball room.

Howard's Animal Spectacle, an exhibition of human patience and animal intelligence. This is a picturesque act featuring trained ponies and dogs in comedy.

The Fisher Sisters, two daring and graceful girls, presenting a wonderful aerial exhibition, with many startling acts on their program.

The Flying Valentines, in a dash display of aerial acrobatics.

The Flying Millers, a trio presenting high flying, casting and return acts, with double and triple somersaults in mid-air.

Le Fleur and Portia, described as "the latest furore in Europe."

Smith's Comedy Bear Circus, in which mirth-provoking tricks are performed by trained bears, dogs, and monkeys.

Covene Troupe, four girls and two men, inventors of new exploits on double tight wire, who put on a marvelous dancing wire act as well as other startling performances on tight wires.

The Les Wharton Troupe, four men and a woman, considered Europe's greatest springboard flyers, presenting double and triple somersaults in mid-air and ground acrobatics, including balancing of rare variety.

Auto polo, in which Ray Lampkin and Ray Claypool, holders of international honors, will be among the competitors in this sensational game.

These various acts, with the bills changed at intervals, will be presented in the Hippodrome fronting the grand stand, afternoon and evening.

For further information write to W. R. Hirsch, secretary-manager, Shreveport, La.

JUVENILES TO SHOW PIGS AT STATE FAIR

If the number of inquiries received by those in charge of arrangements for the exhibition is to be considered an index to the interest juvenile live stock breeders are taking, the Boys' and Girls' Pig Clubs will have a record breaking display at the 1921 Louisiana State Fair, October 27 to November 6, inclusive. Every former exhibit by these clubs has been unusually creditable, and there is every reason to predict that the one to be made

This year will enjoy its full share of credit and praise, with special attention in the various contests.

Substantial increase has been authorized in the premium money in the Pig Club section this year. There will be approximately $2,000 awarded number of useful special awards will in cash premiums, and, in addition, a be made. Picking houses are among the interests showing special appreciation of the work of the juvenile pig breeders, whose progress in Louisiana during the past several years has been a wonderful demonstration of the lessons learned by the boys and girls of the University Extension Department.

The Pig Clubs' exhibit will undoubtedly be among the most attractive in the live stock division. The club members have learned the best methods of breeding and raising fine stock, and the entries at the State Fair will give the visitors a good impression of the progress the youngsters are making. Some of the boys' and girls' pigs will compete for general awards against those entered by adults. J. B. Francioni, state agent in charge of pig club work, will have charge of the clubs' exhibit.

A Grateful Letter

It is in trying conditions like that related below by Mrs. Geo. L. North of Naples, N. Y., that proves the worth of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy. "Two years ago last summer" she says, "our little boy had dysentery. At that time we were living in the country about miles from a doctor. Our son was taken ill suddenly and was about the sickest child I ever saw. He was in terrible pain all the time and passed from one convulsion into another. I sent my husband for the doctor and after he was gone thought of a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy in the cupboard. I gave him some of it and he began to improve at once. By the time the doctor arrived he was out of danger." Stripling, Haselwood & Co.

If you feel bad; if you are "blue", tired and discouraged, without apparent reason, you need prickly Ash Bitters, the system purifier. It restores action in the torpid liver, cleanses the stomach, helps digestion, drives out gas and fermented matter in the bowels and brings back that fine feeling of strength, vim and cheerfulness which only men in perfect health enjoy.
