HIGH SCHOOL TEAM WINS COUNTY CHAMPIONSHIP

In a hard-fought, well-played game Tuesday afternoon on the Garrison High School field, the Nacogdoches High school team took the long end of a 22-to-13 score from the Garrison High School team. This game settled the championship of Nacogdoches county, and now the winner will contest for the district championship and then, if winner, will enter the state contest.

The entire Nacogdoches team played a splendid game, but the bright star of the contest was Captain Patterson, who, although playing guard, was the high point man of the game. Hargis, playing forward, was the star for Garrison, and even though guarded by Patterson, managed to throw two field goals. "Cotton" Olds, one of Nacogdoches' best men, was forced to leave the game early in the first half when he slipped and wrenched his knee, and his absence was keenly felt, even though Baker, substituting for him, did play a fine game and threw a field goal. Bailey, sub-forward, played the last few minutes and showed that with a little more experience he will make a good man. Seale and Blackburn at forwards and Thomason at center played their usual steady game and can always be depended upon to fight every minute of the game.

There was only one thing lacking, and that was the absence of support from the town people here. The boys deserve the support of everyone, and if given the proper encouragement, will make a name for our town. Reporter.

SUPREME COURT MAJORITIES.

From the Shreveport Journal. There is a good deal of public support for Senator Borah's proposal that no law shall be declared unconstitutional by the supreme court unless seven judges concur.

It is well known that in recent years several decisions in vital matters, some of them involving humanitarian legislation, have been vetoed by a mere majority of five judges to four. In certain instances, it has been four to three, in the absence of judges whose presence might have changed the result.

Any such decision, as matters stand, is perfectly legal; but it is not convincing, and it gives radicals an opportunity for denouncing the court.

The United States seems to be the only important country that gives the courts the power to annul legislative acts. On the whole, the plan has worked admirably. The supreme court, after nearly a century and a half of trial, is held in high esteem and considered a guarantor of American liberty rather than a menace to liberty. It must be recognized, however, that the particular practice referred to is growing unpopular, and any increase in the proportion of judges required for a veto decision would tend to strengthen the authority of the tribunal.

The seven-to-two requirement may not be necessary, but sure six-to-three would be better than by the present standard, which makes a mere plurality as decisive as unanimous agreement. The practice seems especially illogical when compared with the jury system, which requires agreement of 12 jurors. There is no obvious reason for this difference.

The change suggested is evidently within the power of congress, without any change in the constitution.

BOTH IMPORTANT AND TRUE

Under the Versailles treaty the Kiel Canal was declared open to all nations. In March, 1921, the German authorities refused passage to a British vessel, the Wimbledon. Here was a matter, touching Britain on the most sensitive spot, having all the earmarks of a flagrant treaty violation.

Remove the present abnormal surroundings of such an event and place it a decade ago, and a pretty ominous situation would be created. If France wanted cash as a result of the treaty, so did Britain want supremacy in European waters. France balked, administrators her demands with a stick. Britain, obviously, had an opportunity to push her personal advantage a bit farther.

In fact Britain did no such thing. Last summer an international court of tribunal was formed under the stipulations of the League of Nations Covenant. To that tribunal Britain has put her case, and to the bar of that tribunal Germany is summoned in proper form with every opportunity to state her reasons, and with apparent assurance that an impartial and well-founded decision will be handed down. No threats appear to have been made—no humiliations staged. The League of Nations, which some say does not exist, acting through a court, which many people declared could not function, is to decide in cool sense and reasoned judgment a very important matter between two of the bitterest antagonists of the great war.

Important; and not only important, but true.

If the diggers in the tomb of King Tut-an-come-in keep on they may yet discover the Harding administration's missing foreign policy.

PROSPERITY FOLLOWS TICK ERADICATION IN OKLAHOMA

At the annual meeting of the Southern Agricultural Workers at Memphis, Tenn., February 6 to 8, some of the good results that have followed the eradication of the cattle tick in the state of Oklahoma, were told by Dr. L. J. Allen, inspector in charge of the tick eradication work of the Bureau of animal industry, United States Department of Agriculture, in that state. Dr. Allen stated that some of the finest purebred herds in the world are now to be found in Oklahoma in the area where but a few years ago there were only scrubs shingled over with ticks.

In the freed area of Oklahoma there have been established 8 creameries, 7 pasteurization plants, 16 combination plants, 4 ice cream factories and 374 cream stations. In this same area there are 155 beef and dairy herds on the accredited tuberculosis-free list, and 278 more herds are in the process of accreditation. In the more than 5,000 square miles in the state still under federal quarantine there is but one cream station and a total of only 6 herds under the process of accreditation, and they are as a result of the tick eradication work in progress.

Dr. Allen also pointed out that the fever tick is one of America's insect pests against which substantial eradication progress has been made.

TO THE JURORS OF DISTRICT COURT

In case you are summoned on the regular jury and are excused, this excuse will not prevent you from attending court in special venire cases, should you be summoned on one.

If a juror is on the regular jury or special venire and is exempted for any reason, if such juror should go before a notary public and make an affidavit stating that he is on the regular jury or a special venire, giving the case that he is on and send such affidavit to the district clerk so that it will reach the clerk before or at the time such case is set, the juror will not have to attend court, but having an excuse other than a legal excuse, such juror will have to attend court in person if it be a special venire case.

The following persons are exempted from jury service among others: Men over 60 years of age, managers of grist or saw mills, undertakers, druggists, lawyers, ministers of the gospel, members of fire department, publishers of newspapers, railroad conductors, station agents and managers of railroad.

But if a party has an exemption and sends the affidavit to get off of the regular jury and afterwards is summoned on the special venire, he must make an affidavit to get off of the special venire. L. D. GUINN, Judge, Second Judicial District of Texas.

ROAD LAW UNCONSTITUTIONAL

OFFICER WILL ASSIST IN MAKING TAX RETURNS

On Monday and Tuesday of next week, the 19th and 20th insts., Deputy Collector T. M. Reavley will be at the postoffice in Nacogdoches for the purpose of assisting taxpayers in filing their income tax returns. The Treasury Department earnestly desires to aid in the proper filing of these returns, and our people can secure expert assistance by calling upon Mr. Reavley at the place and on the dates named. There will be no charge for this service.

NACOGDOCHES NORMAL OPENS IN SEPTEMBER

In answer to numerous inquiries from every section of East Texas, President A. W. Birdwell authorizes the announcement that the Stephen F. Austin Normal College will open in September, 1923, Dr. Birdwell said: "The college building, one of the very best in the state, will be ready for occupancy early in September. The necessary furniture will be installed; laboratories of the latest design will be equipped with the most modern appliances; the library will be supplied with a large number of reference books; many new and commodious boarding houses, in easy reach of the college, are assured; these will be all new and will be constructed for the specific purpose of housing students. A faculty of highly trained and experienced teachers will be assembled.

"The prospects are flattering for a good attendance. Scores of inquiries are coming to me every week. The Chamber of Commerce also is receiving a large number of letters from every section of the state, asking for information about the college and community. Families are already moving to Nacogdoches to be ready for the opening of the college.

"The city also is 'looking up.' The council has on hand $226,000 to pave six or eight miles of streets and a six-inch main has recently been laid to the normal building. Pledges made to the state incident to the location of the college are being rapidly redeemed.

"The way in which the city is preparing to care for the college, the hundreds of inquiries coming from ambitious young men and women who want to secure adequate teacher training, together with the quickened demand everywhere for better rural schools, all point to a big opening attendance and a most successful career for the new college."

HIGH COURT DECREES

Austin, Texas, Feb. 14.—The life sentence of Bennie Young of McLennan county was affirmed by the Court of Criminal Appeals. The case of Scotty Ferguson, convicted for murder in Limestone county and sentenced to five years in the penitentiary, was reversed and remanded.

SANTA FE WANTS ROAD

NATIONAL CITIZENSHIP DAY IN SCHOOLS OF AMERICA

Everywhere there is a clamant cry that the schools of the land must give more attention to citizenship questions and to training for real citizenship. A Dallas business man came into our office not long since and said: "Why is there not a National Citizenship Day in our schools and why should not the birthday of the Father of our Country be made such a day?" We think the suggestion in this question is a happy one indeed. Most certainly a National Citizenship Day would be a fine thing for our schools to celebrate. There is no more sacred day for such a celebration than George Washington's Birthday unless it be the Fourth of July and the fact that that day comes in the summer makes it impossible to observe save in those few schools which run all the year. Come to think of it it is a little strange that Washington's Birthday should have been so neglected. Save for some social festivity here and there and an occasional patriotic program in some club or school one hardly knows when the day comes and goes. Why not revitalize this great day in our country's life for citizenship ends? Nothing would do this more than to establish it as a National Citizenship Day. As a nation we need such a day not only for the schools but for our whole civic life. Of course it is fitting that the schools should lead in its establishment because they are the institutions which are set to lay the foundations and erect most of the structure of citizenship.

When this citizenship suggestion came to us we turned the "suggestion" to the Interscholastic Citizenship League of America as the organization which should lead in getting the birthday of Washington "set up" in our schools as National Citizenship Day. Unless we mistake it the ideals back of this organization when built into realities will render to the nation a citizenship service great and splendid. We are therefore in full sympathy with them in seeking to put George Washington's Birthday on the map as National Citizenship Day in the schools of America, and we bid them God-speed in this noble piece of work. It will revitalize the day in our national life and be a great blessing both to the schools and to the nation. —Editorial in January Texas School Journal.

The Sentinel feels that here is something that should be made use of not only in the schools of the land. Every Woman's Club and Luncheon Club and all other "clubs" which stand for high citizenship would find in a good celebration of Washington's Birthday as National Citizenship Day a way to spread wide the gospel of our civilization. The press is constantly proclaiming the ideals of our institutions and the more those ideals are talked about in club and fireside the better for our country.

LIVING EXPENSES AT C. I. A.

Denton, Texas, Feb. 13.—Living expenses for Texas girls are being met at a lower cost at the College of Industrial Arts than if each of its 1,433 students were in her own home, according to a statement issued this week by the director of the household arts department, Miss Margaret Gleason.

The average allowance of girls in attendance at the institution is estimated to be in the neighborhood of $500 for an entire year, and with this expenditure the student is enabled to provide herself with practically all her wants. Actual college expenses for nine months are $375.

Twenty-five dollars a month is the charge for board and room in the dormitories, and thirty dollars a month are paid by students rooming out in town. All uniform requirements are met by an initial expense of $90 which covers the cost of clothing for two years.

Students in attendance at the college take their meals in two huge dining rooms, Lowery and Brackenridge. Quantity buying, therefore, permits of a comparatively low cost in providing the food, and is reflected in a correspondingly low charge for board made to the students. Meals at the College are planned by trained dietitians.

It's about time for the bootlegging industry to hire a cabinet member to spray cologne.

AN ISSUE THAT WILL NOT DOWN.

From the Houston Chronicle.
Mob or government, class rule or mass rule, soviet or democracy, cliques or constituted authority—call it what you will, but we have come to a parting of the ways.

In Herrin, in Harrison, in Goose Creek and in hundreds of other places we have seen the law set aside, not by ordinary criminals, not by those mental defectives who in all ages have defied the rules of society, but by groups of people that justify themselves in the name of our most sacred traditions.

Let us not attribute it all to the Ku Klux Klan, though that organization has, perhaps, played the most conspicuous part. Let us see in it something deeper, something of more insidious import than the appeal to religious prejudice, though that were tragic enough.

The basic idea of taking the law into one's own hands has found root in most every section and faction in this country, and has become so prevalent as to infect the public mind with regard to almost every issue.

It were a waste of time to inquire too closely into the causes of such a disease, but they must be understood in a general way, at least, before any practical remedy can be found.

What have we been doing that we ought not to have done during the last half century? What has caused the lack of confidence in our laws and lawmakers? What has scourged us to resort to other means of obtaining justice than the regularly established courts?

In the first place we have been muckraking our officials, not only during campaigns, but all the time, and while this muckraking has found a large place in the daylight, the major part of it has been whispered in the dark.

In the second place, we allowed our politics to degenerate from the realm of intelligent debate to a slough of cheap, undignified, slanderous personalities.

In the third place, we have succumbed to the fancy that by some caprice of inscrutable fate an election can convert an ordinary, mediocre citizen into a capable officeholder.

In the fourth place, we have multiplied issues, laws, duties and reforms until the average citizen doesn't know where he is, much less what he ought to do.

Some of the laws we have passed we are actually ashamed to enforce, others we have forgotten, and still others are so contradictory or conflicting that nobody knows how to interpret them.

We expect too much of the average magistrate and peace officer; too much of the average voter; too much of the average legislator. We have come to look on the government as too much of a cure-all. We expect it to save the child where parents can not, to purify personal conduct where the individual can not, to revise human nature, to improve on the work of God himself.

We expect to grind out angels by an act entitled an act, to perfect humanity with a state seal, to relieve everybody from work, to have pleasure without pain, to make life one unceasing, jazzy day.

It can't be done, and we are disappointed, whence we turn to scolding, fault-finding, doubting, suspecting and flying into passion.

The law is ours to do what we please with. If it is wrong, who is at fault? The law-makers are of our own choosing; if they fail we have a remedy at hand. This is a government of the people, by the people and for the people. It can not go far wrong so long as the people are right.

But government is law, and no people can establish government, maintain government, or enjoy the benefits of government, without respecting it and obeying it as such. Who questions government, without respecting it and obeying it in its broad sense, questions government. Who takes the law into his own hands, seeks to usurp the government. Who looks to some other power than the law for justice, looks to a new and different sovereignty than the government. Who does these things, while pretending to be loyal and patriotic, is a hypocrite.

THE RUM WAR

Smuggling booze is a form of warfare against the American government, say certain incensed prohibitionists, and the navy should be enlisted for its suppression. Not so simple as it sounds, and yet so simple. These advocates of naval intervention make it plain that they hold smuggling to be warfare, because it is directed against the law. The same logic with which they urge the propriety of naval aid in suppressing smuggling could be extended to include all other violations of law on the waters and coasts.

If crime on the water of coasts is warfare, so is crime in the interior. Therefore it follows, as the night the day, that if the navy could be properly used to deal with offenses on the water, the army could be used to deal with crime on land. Thus the incensed prohibitionists would convert the navy and army into mere police forces. But then the police could be depended upon to defend the nation in case of war.

EXIT THE PINK BOLL WORM

From the Houston Post.
The governor's official pronouncement that the pink boll worm is no more in Texas brings a sense of relief to the great cotton interests of the state. They can now concentrate their ingenuity and energy on finding means for destroying the boll weevil, their veteran enemy.

The wide publicity given to the alleged presence of the pink boll worm in Texas some two or three years ago aroused considerable alarm. Farmers were fearful that another enemy even more destructive than the boll weevil was marshaling his forces for an attack on their cotton fields, until a hearing at Austin brought out the fact that only a few boll worms had been found in the state.

Nevertheless, the legislature promptly enacted legislation providing for non-cotton zones as a means of preventing the pest from spreading. Apparently the plan has worked with entire success. If it has succeeded in eradicating the pink worm in three years, nothing less may be said of it.

The abolition of the non-cotton zones is especially to be welcomed for the reason that it removes a source of friction. The great majority of the farmers, it may be said virtually all of them, even in the districts alleged to have been infested, never saw a pink boll worm. In the absence of a belief that the worm was actually present they opposed the establishment of the zones, with the consequent loss and inconvenience. This is now happily passed. Texas is to be congratulated on getting rid of at least one pest.

PAY NOT ONLY REWARD

Consciousness of work well done does not go far with any of us, notwithstanding moralists to the effect that it is reward enough. The pay envelope is indispensable, grossly material though it be, and it has to satisfy the vast majority of toilers. The wise employer does not, however, overlook the spiritual value of a bit of appreciation otherwise expressed. Yet modern conditions are unfavorable, in large business organizations at any rate.

Not all workers can define the lack though sensible that some form of gratification is wanting. They will recognize it in the explanation given by Mme. Alla Nazimova of her decision to leave the picture stage and return to the spoken drama. She has been getting "big money" and her pictures have thrilled thousands of admirers. But Mme. Nazimova craves applause.

At the end of a big scene in the studio she limps away to the clatter of mechanical devices and the orders of the director as to when next to report for work. On the vocal stage the death agonies that she makes real to her audiences are sweetened by the thunders of hand-clapping as the curtain descends. That's the only real reward for the actor appropriately temperamental. Some, to be sure, find their satisfaction in the size of the pay check they receive each week or month. It roars louder than any audience, refined or unrefined. It should be assurance enough of work well done, and it is for most. Still, the satisfaction of the spirit is a prize.

Mme. Nazimova is to be congratulated on being able to work where she will get both kinds of reward.

FIELD DAY IN THE SENATE

The United States senate appears to be passing through an epidemic of ill temper. No sooner had Lenroot of Wisconsin upbraided Brookhart of Iowa with advocating soviet policies, than Heflin of Alabama having a statement challenged by Wadsworth of New York, retorted that he represented the people of Alabama "and not the bond sharks of Wall Street," a remark which Vice President Coolidge, on a protest by Lodge, ruled was an improper reflection. An appeal led to the ruling being upheld by nearly two to one and a new scrap between Heflin and Couzens of Michigan, whose progressiveness the Alabamian insinuated was in keeping with his wealth.

Couzens accused Heflin of changing his speech in the Record over night and writing in "laughter" with his own hand. As if this had not been the custom for years in both senate and house, although, as Wadsworth charged, it destroys the pretense of the Congressional Record as being a real record of what is said on the floor. Then to make it less a record, the remarks of both Heflin and Couzens were expunged. Norris of Nebraska summed up the situation by declaring there must be some control of utterances, otherwise the senate would become "a howling mob". The most effective control would be by the voters in several states sending state men instead of politicians to the senate.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN—
FEBRUARY 12, 1809

The following beautiful tribute to one of America's greatest sons is by George M. Bailey of the Houston Post and was published in the issue of that paper of Monday morning. Though the head of the army which fought the South, Abraham Lincoln was never for one moment our enemy, and the most terrific blow that was ever struck at the people of the seceding states was when this great, good man fell at the hands of a maniacal murderer:

"One hundred and fourteen years ago, according to the vague records of the even, Abraham Lincoln was born. A child of the Southern wilderness, his character was molded and wrought in an environment of loneliness, sorrow and privation. His heart bled from early youth until under the weeping skies of a sad April morning in '65 it was drained of its last crimson drop. The joys of the world never knew him, to happiness he was a stranger, life's burdens hung to him with ever-increasing weight until death struck them from his tired shoulders. The great duties that came to him were duties of pain and sorrow, the triumphs he won were triumphs that crushed his soul with grief. Looking back upon his strange career, it almost seems as if the man stalked across the stage of life with a crown of thorns upon his brow, bearing a cross to his Calvary, beholding the world through a mist of tears. He loved his country unselfishly and he served it nobly and with unflinching faith. His spirit knew neither malice nor hatred, no impulse of vengeance ever sought refuge in his bosom. He was gentle in speech, sympathetic, charitable, compassionate, patient, tender, brave. Destiny made him the broken-hearted commander-in-chief of an embattled nation turned against his native South, duty drove him through the tragic ordeal, at the end fate struck him down and left even his estranged kinsmen bowed and dumb above his prostrate form. History reveals no counterpart of Abraham Lincoln. In body, heart, soul and mind, as well as in the fateful career that God marked out for him, the world has had no other like him among all its sons who have led mankind, from Eden to Versailles. The pyramids in time may sink beneath the desert sands, the temples of the earth crumble in the dust of ages, the fame of the Caesars vanish in the darkness of oblivion, but surely so long as the race endures, it will behold in the familiar figure of this martyred son—strange, gaunt, silent, colossal, with agony written in the lines of his kindly face and love glowing in his wistful eyes—the saddest, gentlest, and most pathetic figure in all human history."

INCOME TAX FACTS NO. 4.

In making out his income tax return for the year 1922, the taxpayer is required to include all items of gross income. In the case of a storekeeper the gross income consists usually of the gross profits on sales, together with income from other sources. The returns must show the gross sales, purchases and cost of goods sold. To reflect net income correctly, and to ascertain gross income, inventories are ordinarily required as of the beginning and ending of each taxable year. The professional man, doctor, lawyer, dentist, must include all fees and other compensation for professional services. The farmer is required to report as gross income all profits derived

Fake Ad Schemes Give Nothing

Ever and anon, some fake advertising promoter hits town. The second thing he hits is the pocketbook of the business men, if they accept his plan. Almost always, the business men have the good judgment not to bite. The fake advertiser is unwelcome in Lufkin because her representative citizens have learned that fly-by-night advertising schemes bring naught of good save to the promoter. He reaps a harvest sown for him by those who patronize, if they patronize. They usually do not.

The man who hits town with a menu card proposition or a blotter, mirror-reflectors or some other so-called "novelty" in advertising, does not pay taxes in the city. This transient type does not support of the city's churches, schools, lodges or any other civic or religious institution. Money spent with him is given away, for the advertising he handles has been proven to be practically of no benefit. These fakers are too thick. The only reason they exist at all is because their plan is called "different" and not because it brings results at all. Good business men, who realize that advertising must be had, use the home newspaper which carries their messages to the firesides of men where they can sit and read and deliberate on the offerings of local stores. The faker has no place in this scheme because, not owning a newspaper, he can not possibly reach the home buyer in his own home, office or shop.—Lufkin News.

PITY THE EDITOR
Pity the editorial writer. His job is to interpret and anticipate news.

Radio? The most miraculous invention of all time. Only a few months old, but no longer news. Nothing left for it but to conquer space between earth and celestial regions, and that would be news for only a day.

War? Last one's toll 25,000,000 lives, but it's already forgotten. Bigger one expected momentarily.

Peace? Peace is never news. Too monotonous.

Work? Now regarded as necessary evil. No one wants to be reminded of it.

Speed? Airplane meteorizing through heavens at four miles a minute is news for 12 hours.

Nothing left for editorial writer to comment on, it seems, but Arthur Brisbane's plan to tunnel through earth and extract enough heat from nether regions to solve fuel problem for all time.

Health hint: Jails are too confining. Try to keep out of them.

"Your Dollars"

Your dollars perhaps come slowly to you and depart almost as quickly as the morning dew. Where are those dollars you paid for Industrial Transportation Stock and where are those guys who sold it to you? And where are the dollars you paid for a three percent Loan Contract and where are the "slick guys" who sold it to you? And where are your dollars you paid for a Policy in the Hundred and One Club and where are those "whangdoodles" who sold it to you? Haven't they all gone where the Peckerwood twineth and all the Jay Birds Jays? And those "whangdoodles," they mourneth not. A hint to the wise should be sufficient.

Your dollars will not be lost dollars if you take out Life Insurance in Orders that have passed the experimental stage. The "Dorsey Plan" and "Dorsey Management," for more than a decade, have proved a marked success. All County Life Insurance is not the same. It is management that assures success in every business enterprise. Beware of imitators, who try to deceive you by telling you it is the same thing as the Dorsey County Insurance. That is what those "whangdoodles" told you about the Hundred and One Club.

See or write us—we have a place for you in Orders that are worth $1,000.00 the day you get it should you die.

Now, if you get stung, blame yourself.

WACO NEGRO CONFESSES TO MURDERS AND ASSAULTS

Waco, Texas, Feb. 9.—Roy Mitchell, negro, is closely guarded today following his alleged confession to county officers of eight murders and several holdups in and about Waco within the past year. Three women were victims of assault when their escorts were murdered. The crimes named in the confession include the killing of W. H. Barker and wife and Homer Turk at Concord, nine miles east of here, on February 12, 1922; W. P. Driskill, May 7; Harrel Bolton, May 25; Grady Skipworth, November 20; and W. E. Holt and Mrs. Ethel Dene-camp, January 19, 1923. The confession gave the details of the killings.

Mitchell's Other Crimes

Waco, Texas, Feb. 9.—Other crimes confessed by Mitchell included the shooting of a man and woman in Cameron Park, both recovering; holding up a negro couple and assaulting a negro woman; attempting to hold up a white couple, but frustrated by the man.

Cooper Johnson and Bennie Young, negroes, were convicted of the Barker murders, receiving death and life imprisonment sentences, respectively, whose cases are pending on appeal.

Mitchell will be kept in jail here, according to the sheriff, who said he feared no violence. He said precautions had been taken to protect the negro.

IF SICK TODAY! TAKE NO CALOMEL

"Dodson's Liver Tone" Straightens You Up Better Than Salivating, Dangerous Calomel and Doesn't Upset You—Don't Lose a Day's Work—Read Guarantee

I discovered a vegetable compound that does the work of dangerous, sickening calomel and I want every reader of this paper to buy a bottle for a few cents and if it doesn't straighten you up better and quicker than salivating calomel just go back to the store and get your money back. I guarantee that one spoonful of Dodson's Liver Tone will put your sluggish liver to work and clean your thirty feet of bowels of the sour bile and constipation poison which is clogging your system and making you feel miserable. I guarantee that one spoonful of this vegetable compound will straighten you up better and quicker than salivating calomel just go back to the store and get your money back.

Believe the headache, biliousness, coated tongue, ague, malaria, sour stomach, or any other distress caused by a torpid liver as quickly as a dose of vile, nauseating calomel, besides it will not make you sick or keep you from a day's work. Calomel is poison—it's mercury—it attacks the bones often causing rheumatism. Calomel is dangerous. It sickens—while my Dodson's Liver Tone is safe, pleasant and harmless. Eat anything afterwards, because it can not salivate. Give it to the children because it doesn't upset the stomach or shock the liver. Take a spoonful tonight and wake up feeling fine and ready for a full day's work. Considerable happiness in life depends on a willingness to let other people have some opinions about you.

New York, Feb. 10.—The liner Mauretania, chartered at a cost of $1,250,000, sailed Wednesday with 547 millionaires and near-millionaires on the most costly pleasure cruise ever arranged in New York.

The cruise, across the Atlantic and through the Mediterranean, will last sixty-six days. Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the United States Steel Corporation, with Mrs. Gary and a party of friends, occupied the Mauretania's two regal suites. American Express Company charts showed the cost of the two suites to have been $40,500. The cheapest accommodations on the liner were held at $1,000.

Mr. Gary declined to discuss these topics.

"I am going for a rest and pleasure trip," he said, "no business." William Allen White, noted Kansas editor and author, with Mrs. White, and Victor H. Murdock, chairman of the Federal Trade Commission, with Mrs. Murdock, were among other passengers.

QUIET AT WACO

Waco, Texas, Feb. 10.—There was no demonstration last night indicating danger of mob action in the case of Roy Mitchell, negro, confessed slayer of five victims and assailant of three white women. The sheriff notified Governor Neff that rangers and troops are not needed. He said local officers are prepared to protect the negro. Governor Neff countermanded his order for a detail of rangers to come here. The county attorney has not filed a complaint against Mitchell for the killing of W. R. Barker and wife and Homer Turk at Concord in February, 1922. Mitchell's statement that he committed the crime is not given credence because of the circumstances in the case.

The 1922 crop value was 46 percent higher than in 1913 but its purchasing in terms of other products was 10.1 less than in 1913.

INCOME TAX FACTS NO. 3

The revenue act of 1921 provides that an income tax shall be filed by every person, married or single, whose gross income for the year 1922 was $5,000 or more. Broadly speaking, gross income includes all income received by the taxpayer during the year from salary or wages, or from "business, trade, profession or vocation," dealing in property, or the transaction of any business carried on for profit. Net income upon which the tax is assessed, is gross income less certain specified deductions for business expenses, losses, bad debts, taxes, contributions, etc.

Among the most important items in the returns of many taxpayers are the deductions for business expenses. In the case of a storekeeper, they include a reasonable allowance for salaries paid employees, amounts spent for advertising, premiums for insurance against fire or other business losses, the cost of water, lights, heat, and fuel used in his place of business, drayage and freight bills.

A professional man, doctor or lawyer, may claim as deductions the cost of supplies used in the practice of his profession, expenses paid in the operation and repair of an automobile used in making professional calls, dues to professional societies, subscriptions to professional journals, office rent, and the cost of fuel, light, heat and water used in his office, and the hire of assistants.

The farmer may deduct all amounts paid in the production, harvesting and marketing of crops, including labor, cost of seed and fertilizer purchased, cost of minor repairs to farm buildings (other than the dwelling, which is personal expense) and cost of small tools used up in the course of a year or two. Rent paid for a farm is also an allowable deduction.

Deduction of personal or living expenses such as rent paid for a dwelling, hire of domestic servants, education of children, etc., is expressly disallowed by the revenue act.

APPROPRIATION FOR SCHOOLS

Austin, Texas, Feb. 12.—The senate unanimously passed the Melson bill providing for an emergency appropriation of $3,000,000 for the aid of public schools for the present school year, and adopted an amendment providing that none of this be used for increased teachers' salaries.

HOW TARIFF MEASURES UP

The few months' experience with the Fordney tariff permits a counting of its cost. Experts estimate that the annual burden imposed on American consumers will reach the stupendous total of three billion dollars.

The consumer will pay the whole bill. It is too late for any other prospect to gain a hearing.

"I COULD SHOUT FOR JOY!" DECLARES TEXAS WOMAN

Mrs. Biondolillo Was Miserable Till Friend Told Her About Stella Vitae—She's Like a New Woman Now.

"I just took Stella Vitae to please my friends who recommended it, for I never expected it to do me much good; but I was simply astonished at the way it ended my troubles and made me a well woman again," said Mrs. Carmelo Biondolillo, who lives on route 4, box 129, Houston, Texas.

"The fact is I had taken so many different kinds of medicine that I had lost confidence in everything, for no matter what I took I seemed to be getting worse all the time.

"I had been in a badly run-down condition for some time and never wanted to eat anything, and what little I did force down soured on my stomach and made me miserable for hours afterwards.

Those awful splitting headaches would almost drive me distracted and my nerves were in such a wretched state that the least little thing would upset me and I would simply go all to pieces.

plus the incidental expenses levied by manufacturer and retailer in passing the tariff on. The price-raising process whereby the benefited interests collect the tariff from the consumers is in full swing.

On a list of 84 drugs, prices have already been raised on 83. Of 13 chemicals on which tariff boosts were imposed, every one now shows an increased price to the consumer.

Years ago, the cry for a tariff was for the protection of "infant industries." The infants have long since grown up, but it seems that they need greater protection in age than in youth.

Such impositions upon the consumers, a class which includes everybody, merely to line the pockets of certain favored interests, can not indefinitely be permitted by the American people.

The Texas Public Health Association held its annual meeting of the Board of directors February 8th in the directors' room of the American National Bank at Austin.

The consumer will pay the whole bill. It is too late for any other prospect to gain a hearing.

After a miserable day I would go to bed hoping to sleep and get a little rest, but instead I would pass most of the night rolling and tossing from one side of the bed to the other and hardly getting a minute's rest.

"I reckon I would be in that awful fix yet if I hadn't listened to what one of my friends told me about Stella Vitae and got me to try it. I sure was surprised at the way I began to improve soon after I started taking it.

Note.—Stella Vitae may be obtained from any druggist and is sold upon the positive guarantee that the purchase price will be refunded if it fails to bring relief.

INCOME TAX FACTS No. 5.

Liability to file an income tax return for the year 1922 is determined by a person's status on the last day of the taxable year, December 31, if the return is made on the calendar year basis, as most are.

Similar conditions exist with respect to the head of a family. If, during the year, his support of relatives ceased, he is entitled only to the $1,000 exemption. A man who has a dependent child, not mentally or physically defective, that attains the age of 18 years just before the close of the taxable year, can not claim the $400 credit for a dependent.

DOES TRAINING PAY?

There are plenty of men and women for the ordinary job that pays an ordinary salary, but the demand for high-priced workers for big jobs is always greater than the supply.

Do you realize that you can put yourself in demand by the business man in a few months' time? By enrolling at once in the largest business training institution in America, with a faculty of over thirty specialized teachers, all modern office equipment, using the famous Byrne Systems of Business Training, and let us give you the most thorough, complete and practical training that can be had, in less time and at less cost than at any other school.

INCOME TAX FACTS NO. 6

To avoid penalty, income tax returns must be filed with the collector of internal revenue for the district in which the taxpayer lives or has principal place of business on or before midnight of March 15, 1923.

Where additional time is required because of illness or absence of the taxpayer from home, the collector may grant, upon application before the return is due, March 15, an extension of not to exceed 30 days. If an accurate return can not be made within the 30 days extension period, a request for a further extension must be made to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, Washington, D. C. Collectors have not authority to grant an extension exceeding 30 days.

Failure to make a return on time subjects the delinquent to a penalty of $1,000 and an additional penalty of 25 percent of the amount of tax due. If the failure is willful, however, or an attempt is made to evade the tax by filing a false return, the offender is liable to imprisonment and a fine of not more than $10,000 and costs, in addition to a penalty of 50 percent of the amount of tax evaded.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Honoring the 11th birthday of Miss Clara Belle Buchanan, thirty-six boys and girls—classmates and friends—gathered at the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Buchanan, on Saturday afternoon, February 10th. Among the honor guests were her teachers, Misses Lucile Shirley and Lorraine Bass, who ably assisted in the afternoon's entertainment.

The color scheme in the contest, refreshments and favors were all suggestive of the soon approaching St. Valentine Day.

After many games were placed the matching candy contest resulted in the awarding of a prize each to Martha Thomson and Thad Sitton—a nice box of chocolates.

The little misses and gents were then invited around the table that held the beautiful, artistic and unique birthday cake. Each guest drew a ribbon from the cake which told the fate of those who drew the one to which was attached the ring, the thimble, the dime or the button. Lots of fun—but the climax was reached in the artistic line, in the refreshments. Each guest's plate held an individual white frosted cake, pierced with Cupid's dart, and a receptacle of bright red sparkling punch, together with the favor which was a dainty little red basket of candy on whose lid stood Cupid carrying in his arms a letter sealed with a tiny heart.

After expressions of "a good time" from the little guests they departed. The little hostess, turning to her table of beautiful gifts with joy depicted on her face needed not her exclamations of delight to express her appreciation of her friend's token of love. Just back of the packages was a large bouquet of red and white carnations that had been ordered as an additional surprise gift by her mother. To the side of this a very beautiful Valentine presented by her grandmother. All of this, together with the arrival of her sister, Mrs. J. H. Meek Jr., of Terrell, made the day to Clara Belle the very happiest of the year.

A Guest.

Mr. and Mrs. John McLain have arrived from Huntington, where they were married Saturday, and are making their home with Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Carroll, on Walker street. Mr. McLain is one of our well-known young men, an employee of the Ford Service Station, and has many friends who wish him happiness in his new relation. The bride, who is Miss Alma Burnham of Huntington, is a young lady whose lovable disposition has won her many friends here and in her home town, and the Sentinel begs to add its good-wishes to those which are being so generously showered upon the happy couple.

ANNOUNCEMENT LUNCHEON

On Monday, February 12, Mrs. George Eason entertained with a beautiful luncheon in honor of her daughter, Miss Marian, seven of Miss Marian's most intimate friends forming the personnel of this party. These friends had heard it rumored that the honoree was soon to become a bride, but so well had she guarded this secret that even they were surprised.

The hostess chose Valentine decorations, and truly the dining table was a "thing of beauty". A mirror plaque outlined with evergreens served as a centerpiece. Over its surface were scattered a number of tiny gold hearts, and standing at the side was a Cupid dressed in red with a fishing pole in her hand, fishing for the hearts. By her side there was the cutest little gold basket to contain the captured hearts. Red hearts pierced with arrows ran from the four corners to the center-piece. The candlesticks were tied with fluffy bows of red mauline. The place cards were Cupids with arms full of hearts, altogether creating a beautiful and appropriate scene.

A six-course luncheon was served, each course accentuating a valentine. Just after the first course was served Mrs. Eason announced Mrs. Barnett had a telegram, and of course everyone thought "this was the secret." But the receiver acted so innocent and excited that no one was any the wiser, till the following was read aloud:

"Cupid is traveling by wire today, And bids me to this little group say, He's hovering over us with an armful of darts

And has already pierced two loving hearts,
For on March 3rd, Miss Marian Eason will become the bride Of Mr. William M. Jacobs and in Dallas they will reside.

Miss Eason is a charming young lady and her friends consider Mr. Jacobs fortunate in winning such a prize. Numerous entertainments have been planned for her, and everyone is wishing her everything good.

A Guest.

TRINITY NOTES

At last winter has really come and the rain and sleet are making mud-cakes out of our roads.

The attendance at the school has been very poor for the past two weeks as almost everyone has had colds or the flu.

Some of the pupils who have not been able to come to school on account of illness are the children of the Hardy family, Mr. J. L. Cook's children, and Mr. Henry Cook's children. The J. B. Thacker family are all sick with the flu also.

Miss Parrish, the principal-teacher, was unable to be at school Monday because of having some teeth extracted Saturday, which left her mouth in such a condition that she was unable to do much talking.

The balance of the window panes have been purchased for the reading room and we will soon be ready to organize a community reading circle.

Miss Exler M. Lewis donated some good literature in the form of monthly magazines for our reading room. Homer Hutson visited school Monday.

The monthly exams will be held Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week. Those who are not in regular attendance will please come for exams if you expect to be promoted.

There wasn't any Sunday-school Sunday on account of bad weather, but next Sunday Bro. Garrard will fill his regular appointment and it is planned to have Sunday-school followed by church services.

I wish to announce to my friends and patrons that I have moved my millinery shop to the building next door to Brewer & Mintz, which was formerly occupied by Greene & Muller, tailors. I have a nice roomy place, and can take care of the trade better than before. I will have a lot of crisp new spring hats to show you in the daylight store, so don't fail to come in to see me, for my prices will be right and correct styles, too.

BRITAIN STANDS PAT

Human nature is inclined to approve when the quiet, unassuming lawyer with great deliberation and infinite pains presents a reasonable argument, but when the professional politician jumps upon a table and waves the flag, human nature applauds until exhausted. Human nature is the greatest obstacle to the establishment of the rule of reason.

Thus the position Great Britain has taken in the Near East arouses admiration. The position is that of the boy who with real courage or assumed bravado places himself in the path of a mad dog. Reason is forgotten; emotional rules. The dardevil, foolish though he may be, never wants an appreciative audience.

Turkey, perhaps, was wrong to issue an ultimatum at a time when such precipitate action might set the world afire. Still, relations for the time were disrupted and the order was issued that alien warships must quit the harbor of Smyrna at once. The order, obviously, was a political thunderclap for home consumption.

Britain, instead of withdrawing and standing off until reason returned to the Kemal camp, sent more warships to the straits, to see what would happen. England does not take a dare. The spirit shown on this occasion is that which has given the tight little island its influence in the world. The move was instinctively courageous, and an impulsive cheer went up as Britain leaped into the breach.

Consider, however, the result. Turkey said "Move;" England replied "Try to make me if you like." That is the way wars start. There is not time for the rest of the world to intervene. It is too busy applauding one side or the other. Much might have happened; so far fortunately nothing has. In such a situation the wiser party backs down, or the stronger wins.

How Old Was She?

A candidate for the position of the world's meanest man has appeared in the person of the editor of a small Missouri newspaper, who published the following item in his "Social Gospel" column:

"Miss _____, a young lady of 20 summers, is now on a visit to her twin brother, aged 30."—Selected.

Some opinions are snappy enough to be expressed, but more are dull enough to be sent by freight.

THE LEGISLATIVE CRAZE

It has become the fashion to amend, or seek to amend, the United States constitution. We have had several of these amendments tacked to this venerable document in the last 10 or 15 years, and now there are three more pending. One has to do with the elimination of child labor in this country, another seeks to prevent the issuance of tax-free securities, and still another is bent on dabbling with the question of our personal liberties by providing national regulations for marriage and divorce.

Of the first two there is little that can be said in real opposition. The third may be classed in the same category as the Sheppard-Towner maternity law—more federal regulation of personal affairs. If we liberty-loving Americans have reached the stage where we meekly accept such paternalistic hodge-podge, then we wish to serve notice that we shall immediately press for favorable consideration of amendments going away with this Rodolph Valentino hair comb, for regulating the length of women's skirts and forbidding prickly heat in all but the torrid zone.

In the Garden of Eden

The president, looking longingly toward Florida, would like to get away from it all in Washington. The rest of the country, too, would like to get away from the administration.

Me-ow

"I want to tell you," said one of our little brides the other morning, "what a fright I got on my wedding day."
"You needn't," said the envious girl, "I saw him on the street yith you yesterday."—Selected.

One of the most hopeful signs is that the world seems less cluttered with the hysteria that slogans can take the place of work and sound thinking.

The dry sleuth in Washington who posed as an ash-cart driver, a colored man and a plumber seems to have infinite possibilities as a statesman.

BOOSTER MEETING

The Boosters Club held its regular weekly luncheon at the Lockey Tea Room Monday night with a 100 per cent attendance in membership. Dr. J. T. Early of Blackwell, Okla., and Clyde Coker of this city, were guests at this meeting.

Mr. Emory W. Monk was in charge of the program for this meeting. This genial young gentleman developed his oratorical ability by holding the boys spellbound for several minutes over his allotted time with a very interesting talk on the future of the club, which talk was very much appreciated and thoroughly enjoyed by the entire membership.

Among the interesting reports made was the co-operation being received from some of our good citizens on Mound and North streets who have been recently reminded that in this twentieth century age front yard fences are no longer an ornament or a necessity and are rapidly joining in with others in adding beauty to their homes and lawns by the removal of same, and we hope this good work will be continued and at an early date a detailed report can be made of those who have so readily responded.

Dr. Early made a very interesting talk, stating he was a visitor in our city and was very favorably impressed with our town and the progressive spirit that is being manifested.

THE GREATEST PATRIOT

When a man voluntarily forsakes his family and fireside, takes his gun in hand and follows the flag of his country through the horrors of war, the world calls him a patriot. But the greatest patriot of all is the wife or mother who bravely tells him to go, and spends her days in agony in training children in such a manner that they, too, will answer the patriotic calls of country when it comes. It is only through the steadfast loyalty and patriotism of such people that governments and countries are enabled to survive.—Ex.

GOVERNOR WILL SIGN TECHNOLOGY COLLEGE BILL

Austin, Texas, Feb. 9.—Three legislators who conferred with Governor
Neff relative to the West Texas Technology College bill stated the governor indicated that he will sign the measure.

A movement to repeal the state
textbook law authorizing free textbooks was started in the senate.
Clarke introduced a proposed constitutional amendment to repeal the law.

The senate passed to engrossment
the Dodd bill providing for acceptance
of the Sheppard-Towner maternity act provisions.

The house passed to engrossment
the Patterson-Carpenter bill permitting the removal of officers by quo-
warranto proceedings by the attorney general under direction of the governor.

KATY'S PLANS APPROVED

Washington, Feb. 9.—The financial operations involved in the reorganization of the Katy Lines in Texas
have been approved by the Interstate Commerce Commission, which authorized the formation of the Missouri-
Kansas-Texas Railroad Company of Texas with an issue of gold mortgage bonds of the par value of $52,260,000

DECALOGUE FOR WIVES

New York, Feb. 9.—Behavior of wives also has something to do with home happiness, the Legal Aid Society
sets forth in a recently issued decal-ogue.

Out of the wisdom acquired in being in about 4,000 conferences for domestic disarmament in a year, the society issued these 10 rules for wives:

1. Don't be extravagant. Nothing appeals more strongly to a man than economic independence.
2. Keep your home clean.
3. Do not permit your person to become unattractive. A slovenly wife makes a truant husband.
4. Do not receive attentions from other men. Husbands are often jealous and some are suspicious without cause. Do not supply the cause.
5. Do not resent reasonable discipline of children by their father.
6. Do not spend too much time with your mother. You may easily in such way spend too little time at home.
7. Do not accept advice from the neighbors, or even stress too greatly that of your own family. Have a plan of your own. In all cases consult freely with your husband.
8. Do not disparage your husband.
9. Smile. Be attentive in little things.
An indifferent wife is often supplanted.
10. Be tactful. Be feminine. Men in the last analysis are but overgrown children. They don't mind coaxing, but they resent coercion. Femininity attracts and compels them. Masculinity in the female repels.

MORE HOPEFUL OUTLOOK

London, Feb. 8.—The situation at Smyrna was considerably eased today,
according to British official quarters.
It was thought unlikely that fighting
would occur. It is believed the Turkish ultimatum will be withdrawn as soon
as the Angora authorities understand
the Allies are firm in resisting the demand that warships quit Smyrna harbor.

SENATOR PARR APOLOGIZES

Austin, Texas, Feb. 12.—Senator Archie Parr, who was in the chair of the senate Friday when the attempt was made to adopt a resolution restoring the citizenship of former Governor Ferguson, apologized to members of the senate "who may feel offended for the action taken" when the senate convened today. Senator Bailey stated he was not opposed to removing the disqualifications imposed upon Ferguson when impeached,
but opposed the tactics used in the resolution. He said he favored referring the resolution to a senate committee for investigation.

THE STORY OF EGG-NOGG BRANCH AND FALL OF FREDONIA REPUBLIC

By Henry C. Fuller
In Houston Chronicle

Two miles east of the historic town
of Nacogdoches, at the foot of two sloping sand hills, the road that leads from Nacogdoches to San Augustine
crosses a little branch, rises apparently in the pine woods a short distance away, flows across the road,
and disappears among the undergrowth on the opposite side, later
crossing another public road, and finally,
only a mile or so away, mingling
with the waters of the La Nana Creek.

This little branch has been famous
in its day and time, although the romance and interest that once belonged to it has faded with the years
until only a lingering shadow, a memory, remains. In days of auld lang
syne, when men looked upon the wine
when it was red, and when the Old Stone Fort was in flower, so to speak,
this little branch was noted far and wide as the first stopping place out of town, on the way home. It was the place where energetic hands reached into old fashioned saddlebags, brought forth a bottle, poured a small quantity of the ingredients into a cup,
mixed it with water and tossed it
down the throat at a single quaff.

Or, mayhap, if the drink was not alcohol, the travelers would take a drink
all round from a milder form of tonic,
and follow this by kneeling and drinking from the little branch, or stepping a short distance to one side
and sipping from a clear and bubbling spring, that is no doubt there until this good day and hour. If the pine trees, or the sweet gum trees,
or any of the trees now standing
at this little branch could each tell a story it would no doubt be full of interest, well mixed with romance,
pathos and perhaps a goodly sprinkling of tragedy.

But the old days and old ways have gone to return no more. Instead of the mule team, or the patient ox
team, that stopped to quaff the waters of the spring and little branch
there now comes and passes, only for an instant, occasionally, the swift automobile, while overhead innumerable telephone wires carry intelligence to all parts of the country.

How the Stream Was Named
The Fredonia rebellion, as it was called, took place in 1824. Hayden
Edwards, and his brother, Benjamin Edwards, had been given grants to a large area of unsettled lands in the Nacogdoches area by the Spanish government, and subsequently confirmed by the Mexican government,
when Mexico became independent,
for the settlement of several hundred families. In those days the American population of Nacogdoches was small. Mexicans predominated. Mexicans dominated the courts and al-caldes, equivalent to our justice of the peace, were under the influence of the Mexicans. American settlers, in locating claims came constantly in conflict with Mexican claimants, the Mexicans usually waiting until the American squatter or settler had built his house and cleared a small
field, before appearing upon the scene
and claiming that the American was on the identical piece of land upon which he had previously filed.

When the case or cases—there were scores of them—were taken to court, they were invariably decided in favor of the Mexicans. This very thing is what led to the Fredonian rebellion. Seeing he could get no redress nor protection for his settlers,
and that his contract would fail because of his inability to carry it out,
Hayden Edwards, the impresario,
made a direct appeal to Blanco, the head official at Manclova, and laid the situation before him. But a previous report had reached Blanco that Edwards and his friends had taken
an undue interest in a certain election that had been held at Nacogdo-ches, in an effort to defeat the Mexican candidate. This irritated Blanco and without waiting to investigate
the matter he peremptorily ordered Hayden Edwards and Benjamin Edwards to get out of the colony—to leave Nacogdoches at once and not come back, on pain of being dealt with in a harsher way, should they persist in annoying the Mexican authorities.

Hayden Edwards had spent quite a sum of money on his enterprise of bringing settlers to Nacogdoches
county, and so after discussing the situation with his brother, Benjamin Edwards, Martin Palmer, Richard
Fields and a few other choice spirits,
he decided to defy the Mexican government and set up a government of free Americans at Nacogdoches, being assured in advance, of course,
that all the Americans and most of the Indians in the eastern part of the province would espouse his cause.

Republic of Fredonia.

The Republic of Fredonia was organized. Foote, the historian, says it was organized at a spring a few miles west of the town of Nacogdoches, on the Bradley road. The writer has spent considerable time trying to locate the spring where the Fredonian
Republic was set up, and where, under the trees in the solitude, Hayden Edwards and his friends met the Indians in council and made a treaty
with them, by the terms of which the Indians were to have all the lands
west of a line crossing the province
of Texas from where Sulphur river runs into Red river, not so very far from the present town of Texarkana,
in Miller county, Arkansas, southwest to the Rio Grande, while the white people were to have all the lands on the opposite side of this line.
The Fredonian Declaration of Independence was written and duly signed.

All plans of Edwards and his friends were making good progress
and perhaps all might have gone well,
but for two things.

Ellis P. Bean, who was acting as agent for the Mexican government,
and who lived at Mound Prairie, not far from where the town of Alto, in Cherokee county, is situated, went to the Indians in that part of the country and persuaded them to have nothing to do with the scheme of Edwards. Even those Indians who had at first agreed to the plans of Edwards withdrew, and he found himself with only a few score Americans as his backers and confederates. About this time also, a runner reached Nacogdoches with the news
that a Mexican army was rapidly
advancing and only a few miles distant. A general retreat was ordered and when the Mexicans reached Nacogdoches most of the population had left the town. Quite a sprinkling remained, however, and through the representations and good offices of Bean, who had accompanied the Mexicans, the Americans were handled
leniently, and after spending a few months in Nacogdoches the Mexican army withdrew.

Refugees Return.

When the Mexicans had withdrawn
the refugees returned from the east side of the Sabine, and legend says
they reached the little branch on Christmas day, 1825, where in honor of the return of peace and safety
home, they made a great eggog and gave to the little stream the name
Eggnog Branch, a name that it has held nearly 100 years. The name promises to remain a monument
to the memory of the historic days of a historic period.

ULTIMATUM WITHDRAWN

London, Feb. 9.—An agreement has been reached between the Turkish authorities at Smyrna and the Allied naval commanders, says the Exchange Telegraph, under which the status quo
will be maintained pending diplomatic negotiations.

AN INTERESTING LETTER CONCERNING OLD TIMES

Galveston, Texas, Feb. 6, 1923.
Chamber of Commerce, Nacogdoches,
Texas.
Gentlemen:

Outside of Galveston, and possibly San Antonio, no other locality can offer a richer field for the historian
than Nacogdoches and its vicinity.
I am surprised that you have not
made use of the same by some comprehensive publication headquarters for the ancient Ceniz and later
Caddo confederations; site of the first
Spanish mission; then of French Louisiana activities; next of those of St.
Denis; then again Spanish missions
followed by the nursery of Mexican revolts against Spain; then the Fredonian war; then, finally, the concentration camp of Texans ready to expel the Indians. I think I have several thousand pages of manuscript,
more or less, relative to your city.
Now, I desire to add to some of my weak links in its later history and
these are of the "who is who" kind.
Of course, I have records of Adolphus Sterne, of Farmer and Hayden,
Col. Bean, Col. Zuber and the ancients of nearly a century ago. But since then you have had some "personalities" and I should appreciate some facts concerning these.

I would like to know things about the early life of Thos. P. Ochiltree and of General Alvord. The former, I believe, went to school in Nacogdo-ches. Then four girls went to school
there, all of them beauties (if I remember right) and who became noted.
I had notes of these, but lost them in the storm of 1900 when by collection
of manuscripts and curios suffered.
The records of two girls I remember. The first was probably born in the pueblo of Nacogdoches prior to 1836. She went by the name of Adelaide McCord and of Dolores Adios Fuertes or Feurtes, and I want to know about McCord and the Fuertes,
into which family McCord married.
The Fuertes were probably descended from a viceroy of Mexico a century
previously, called Casa Fuerte. Adelaide, it is claimed, went to school with Tom Ochiltree and Lucy Holcomb,
who later became the wife of Governor and General Pickens of South Carolina, and whose daughter, it is claimed, fired the first gun of the Civil war, held in the arms of General Beauregard. Adelaide married Abraham Isaac Menken and came to Galveston. Left her husband and, with a sister, became an actress in New Orleans. Finally ended as morganatic wife of the king of Wurtemberg. Let me know about the person, named,
whatsoever facts you may ascertain,
notably of McCord, the Fuertes and Holcomb families.

Thankfully,
J. O. Dyer.

I forgot to mention that Adelaide McCord became the most notorious beauty, actress and poetess in the sixties of last century known, however,
as Ada Isaacs Menken.

Possibly few men have studied the history of our state as diligently as I have; particularly our Indian tribes
have come in for much research work.
I am special writer for the Galveston News on Texas history, science
and ancient history.

I am now running a series of 100
or more lessons in early Texas history
in which I shall frequently mention Nacogdoches.

I am preparing works on the Indian tribes and early missions; also on the evolution of education in Texas. The first school in Nacogdoches was established under Mexican rule.

POTATO SURPLUS HELD BREAKS ALL RECORDS

Chicago, Feb. 10.—One hundred and sixty thousand car loads of last season's record-breaking crop are still in possession of growers, a surplus without precedent in the last nine years,
the United States Bureau of Agriculture Economics said yesterday. The condition was said to be due to difficulty in moving the unusually large crop.

TWO MINERS RESCUED

Dawson, N. M., Feb. 9.—Two miners of the 122 entombed yesterday
in Mine No. 1 here of the Phelps-Dodge Corporation came out alive today. They were Charles Candale and Filini Martinez. Their escape caused renewed hope that other miners inside are alive. Seven bodies have been recovered. The cause of the explosion which entombed the miners was not determined. The fumes in the mines
are still dense, endangering the rescuers, four of whom were overcome
but were resuscitated.

CANADIAN MINE VICTIMS

Vancouver, B. C., Feb. 9.—The bodies of 21 victims of firedamp explosion in Mine No. 3 of the Canadian Collieries Company at Cumberland last night were brought to the surface this morning, according to the Canadian Press. It is estimated that 30 bodies are still in the mine. About 30 of the victims are said to be Chinese.

A later report said 30 bodies had

NITRO PLANT BLOWN UP

Tulsa, Okla., Feb. 9.—A terrific explosion was felt here this morning, shattering windows. It was reported a nitroglycerin plant was blown up near Jenks, an oil town about ten miles from here. One man was reported kiled.

EXCHANGED PUP FOR SYRUP

Brownwood, Texas.—The products
of West Texas and those of East Texas are now being exchanged in a highly interesting way, and along lines that are large with new possibilities. A Brown county man has just exchanged a pup for twelve gallons
of sure-enough homemade East Texas
ribbon cane molasses, the deal being consummated by parcel post.

HUNGER STRIKE NO GOOD

Waco, Texas, Feb. 8.—Roy Mitchell,
negro, charged with four murders in McLennan county, has yielded to hunger. He broke his hunger strike and was given a substantial meal, which he eagerly dispatched. He said he wanted food other than milk, which had been administered forcibly. He also broke his silence and declared his innocence of the charges against him
to a newspaper man.

STILL ANOTHER OIL BOOST

Houston, Texas, Feb. 8.—The posted price of Gulf Coast heavy crude oil
was advanced 25 cents per barrel today by the Texas Company. The new price is $1.50.

CLASSIFICATION TALKS AT ROTARY MEETING

The Rotary Club enjoyed a very interesting meeting at its luncheon Wednesday. Classification talks were made by three members. Ben T. Wilson enlightened the Rotarians on the business of a Ford dealer. Wort Whited told of the operation of the Frost-Johnson lumber company and the figures which he gave showing the production and shipments of the mill here
were astonishing to most of the members of the club. Mr. Whited passed around samples of the various wood
which are worked up in the hardwood mill here. These created much interest and there was much guessing as to the name of the wood represented by the sample. Eight, or ten different varieties were shown. Dave Washburn discussed the business of the railroad man. Dave is a poet as well as a good railroad man. His paper was in verse and was humorous in its description of the public's attitude toward the railroads. Hy McKnight told of an orphan boy who was trying to work his way through school here and was finding it difficult to get necessary books and drawing equipment.
The Rotarians disposed of this in short order by passing the hat. The papers read by Messrs. Wilson, Whited and Washburn were highly complimented
and it was felt that these Rotarians
have set a high standard for other members of the club when it comes
their turn to discuss their classification.

FOR INSURANCE RATES

A group of splendid young fellows,
composed of Thos. H. Henderson, Austin; A. E. Stewart, Mineral Wells; and John A. Basford, Austin, have spent several days here getting data for a new insurance map of Nacogdoches.
As we understand the matter, these young men are working under the direction of the State Fire Rating Board of Austin. It is the business of this rating board to fix the insurance
rate to be charged by all old line fire insurance companies doing business in the state. Each particular block of buildings, or each particular building, takes a rate commensurate with the risk involved. The map which will be made up from the data secured by these young men is quite an interesting document. An effort is made to keep this map up to date by making
a new survey of conditions not less than once in five years.

The theory of the Texas Fire Rating Board is sound. Just how it works
in actual practice depends, it seems,
on the accuracy, industry and integrity of those in charge.
Messrs. Henderson, Basford and
Stewart seem to be the "right sort."
They ask the reporter to say that the people of Nacogdoches had been very courteous and helpful to them in getting all needed data, for which they are very thankful.

GETTING MONOTONOUS

Tulsa, Okla., Feb. 10.—The Prairie
Oil Company to day advanced the price of mid-continent crude oil 10 cents per barrel. The new prices range from $1.40 to $2.50. This is the fifth 10-cent increase this year.

CALLED MEETING U. C. V.

There being no quorum present at the regular meeting of Raguet Camp,
U. C. V., on Saturday, the 10th inst.,
I hereby call a meeting for Saturday,
February 24th, to arrange for the general meeting at New Orleans. This is important and every member should be present. JOHN BURROWS, Commander.

Mr. H. C. Hatch received a message
Sunday night stating that his father,
Mr. A. Hatch, was at the point of death in Dallas. He left Monday to be with his aged parent. The elder
Mr. Hatch was a gallant Confederate soldier, fighting in some of the biggest battles of the Civil War, and was one of the 1,000 Southern soldiers from Alabama to go to Mexico after Lee's surrender. We hope the old gentleman may survive for many years
yet.

GREAT BENEFACITOR DEAD

Berlin, Feb. 10.—Professor William Conrad Roentgen, discoverer of the Roentgen rays, commonly known as X-rays, is dead at Munich.

HERE IS THE EXPERIENCE OF ONE WHO HAD BRONCHIAL TROUBLE

San Antonio, Texas.—"When I was
a young man, eighteen years of age,
I had bronchitis and would cough
until I could not rest or sleep. I suffered in many ways and went down in health. Finally, I learned about Dr.
Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery,
and decided I would try it, and after taking a few bottles of this remedy I began to improve and it entirely cured
my cough. I cannot say enough for it." J. D. Scott, 222 Keller Street.

"Strong and Well"

"I WISH you could know how much I am improved since taking the Cardui," writes Mrs. Nannie Brown, of Black Rock, Ark. "You wouldn't know me for the same weak invalid I was before I took it. At my... I had to keep off my feet or I would fall. I couldn't do my housework, and just got where I'd most as lie be dead as living. Some one told my husband of Cardui. He got it for me and I took three bottles before I stopped—then off and on for the last three years just as a tonic. I saw a decided improvement after my first bottle. I used the three, and was able to do my work with ease, and now I sew for my family and for others. I am feeling fine, and strong and well."

Take Cardui! It may be just the medicine you need.

GASTON QUILTS AUTO BUSINESS TO BECOME AN OIL MAN

J. C. Gaston, who for the last two years has been the right hand man of the Cia. Automotriz del Norte, left that concern February 1 when he became interested in the drilling firm of Campbell and Byrd. The big Dodge agency certainly did not want to lose him and he went with the outfit's best wishes for his advancement. His work at the Dodge service station was of such a high class nature that both the officials of the company and patrons looked forward with surety to getting the immediate attention of his skill. His step into the firm of Campbell & Byrd means that it will not be long before "Gasty" will be headed right up the road to "oil magnate" headquarters.—Tampico (Mex.) Tribune.

A REAL HOME.

There are two words in the English language, which when thought of or spoken, grip men's hearts as do no others, viz: Mother and home.

We know a little lad who is what is known as a "Man's Boy." When everything goes right he wants his dad, but when he is ill or anything goes wrong, he calls for his mother, and at these times, nobody but mother can fill the bill.

You will find this quite frequently to be the case in real homes where there is both father and mother love, but while we are neither a pessimist nor a ranter, while we believe that the world in nearly all directions is making slow but steady advancement in the right direction, we are nevertheless obsessed with the idea that while there exists a scarcity of houses in this country, there is a still greater and more urgent demand for homes.

A man may carve out a fortune, he may be a master of finance and bore with a big auger, but with all of his wealth and all of his brains he cannot unless assisted by a woman, the right kind of a woman, too, make a home.

The boy scout organization is fine and we're for it, but what this country needs right now is a few—quite a few—more father and mother scouts.

Show us one boy who goes to the devil from a real home and we will show you 10,000 who hit the wrong trail because of the lack of the right atmosphere and home teaching.

We organize chambers of commerce to build up our cities, to bring in new industries, to make our cities bigger when we count noses and stronger when we count money, all of which is right and fine and just as it should be, but one of these days we are going to realize more fully than we do today, that without homes, real honest-to-God, old-fashioned homes, where love is the ruling power, no nation can prosper.

Give us a few more old-fashioned homes, a few more old-fashioned fathers and mothers, who without being narrow and cramped, reverence God Almighty, who know where their children are when the shades of night are drawn and who make for them a pleasant and congenial nest, and you may take most of your laws off your statute books, because more and more there will be less and still less desire to transgress the laws of God or man.

Judge L. D. Guinn arrived Sunday from Rusk and opened district court Monday morning. All court officials and attorneys were in their places ready to tackle the heavy docket confronting them. The first week will be devoted to jury civil cases.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kiley and baby of Austin had a miraculous escape from serious injury, or worse, Friday when a streetcar crested into their auto, completely demolishing the vehicle and spilling the occupants. They came through with scarcely a bruise, which was considered marvelous in view of the nature of the accident.

Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Henderson and family left Thursday for New Orleans, where they will visit with a brother of the doctor and incidentally enjoy the Mardi Gras festivities next week.

Intestinal worms destroy the health of children and weaken their vitality. The worms should be expelled before serious damage is done. White's Cream Vermifuge is a thoroughly successful remedy. Price, 35c. Sold by Swift Bros. & Smith.

Mr. Tom Summers was at Rusk Sunday to see Judge James I. Perkins, whom he reported critically ill. Judge Perkins has been in failing health for some time, and about a week ago became worse and his condition is gravely alarming to his family and many friends.

Mrs. Hoffman, mother of Mrs. W. P. Faulk, sustained a serious injury last week caused by a fall which broke her hip. She has been an invalid for quite a while and this last misfortune will probably confine her to her bed almost indefinitely.—Garrison News, 9th.

The chief function of a newspaperman, as some persons see it, is to keep disagreeable things about their friends out of print.

HOLMAN CARTWRIGHT DEAD

From the San Augustine Tribune.
Mr. Holman Cartwright passed away Monday night about 8 o'clock. He was taken sick about ten days ago with a severe cold, which terminated in pneumonia. All that science of the most prominent physicians of this part of the state could do was put into practice, but it availed nothing—death was the result.

Holman was the oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Cartwright. His father died about two years ago, leaving a widow and two sons, Holman and Baxter, surviving. Holman leaves a wife and baby boy to mourn their loss, besides his mother and brother and a large connection of relatives and friends. His funeral was held at 2 o'clock Wednesday at the city cemetery. Services were held by Rev. Mr. Nichols, pastor of the Methodist church.

Holman was one of the stewards of the Methodist church and a member of the Sunday-school, and the floral offering of the Sunday-school was very beautiful, besides many other beautiful floral offerings contributed by his many friends.

Holman was a Royal Arch Mason and a member in good standing in the local lodge.

MRS. J. A. NORRIS DEAD

Mrs. J. A. Norris, aged 77 years, died Sunday morning at 2 o'clock at the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. C. Fenn, of this city. Mrs. Norris had been ill for the past several months, during which time the loving hands of her children and friends administered to every want.

The funeral service was held this morning at 10:30 o'clock at the North Side Baptist church, and was conducted by Pastor Almand. The beautiful floral offering and large gathering of friends attested the love in which Mrs. Norris was held. Following the service at the church the body was taken to Nacogdoches for burial.

Mrs. Norris is survived by the following children: Mrs. W. C. Fenn of this city; Mrs. H. V. Dees, of Houston; Mrs. E. T. Peters, Dallas; John Stephens, Richards; George Stephens, Mt. Pleasant; Will Willmore, Haynesville, La. The good lady is also survived by 10 grandchildren and 7 great grand children.—Timpson Times, Jan. 29.

Mrs. Norris was a well-known former resident of Nacogdoches and many friends here are sincerely grieved at her death.

Another Awning Falls
The awning in front of the W. O. W. Restaurant on Cotton Square fell to the sidewalk Thursday morning. The reason for the fall of the awning was not given though it was surmised by some that the recent weight of snow served to weaken the covering. The Nacogdoches Grocery Company, wholesale grocery branch in Lufkin, sustained the loss of an awning, it being laden with a burden of snow when it fell several days ago.—Lufkin News, 9th.

Assistant Superintendent W. F. Rentzel of the H. E. & W. T. division of the Southern Pacific, came up with Mrs. Rentzel Thursday of a visit with the latter's relatives. POLICE VETERAN REGAINS HEALTH

Could Hardly Eat or Sleep Because Of Chronic Indigestion Now Praises Tanlac.

W. N. Hatcher, 110 Lucile Ave., Greenville, C. C., is still another who has realized the wonderful merits of Tanlac. Mr. Hatcher has been a member of the Greenville police department for thirty years and is one of the most efficient and popular officers on the force. In commenting on his experience with Tanlac Officer Hatcher said:

"I know many others besides myself, Tanlac has helped and I am glad to speak out for it. I had suffered from indigestion and constipation for something like fifteen years. I had about reached the point where I could neither eat nor sleep, for every time I ate it hurt me and the misery kept me awake at night. I had lost energy and strength until when my day's work was over I could feel completely played out.

"I now eat anything I want, always have a fine appetite and have gained eight pounds. I am certainly thankful to be able to enjoy a good meal once more and not suffer afterwards. I am just like a new man and Tanlac gets all the credit."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Over 35 million bottles sold.

No Orchestra Is a Good Orchestra Without a Leader.

In this day and age when the country is overrun with tented attractions of various kinds too many managers have paid too little attention to the musical end of their attraction, especially can this be said of stock companies. However this cannot be said of Messrs. Darr and Gray whose company will open a week's engagement commencing next Monday night.

When they organized their company they looked around for the orchestra leader that would make their orchestra an outstanding feature with their show. A Mr. Joseph Bittner was recommended to them and after some correspondence he was finally engaged with the understanding that he was to have full authority in engaging the musicians. Just how well Mr. Bittner has succeeded in organizing an orchestra that can play the better class of music will be demonstrated next week when the orchestra will render at different times such selections as Maritana, Bohemian Girl, Hungarian Fantasia, Red Mill, besides all the late overtures and popular music. He will also be pleased to play any selection upon request after Monday night, providing the request is made by mail and the party sign their name in full.

NEW CITY ENGINEER

At a called meeting of the City Council held Tuesday afternoon, O. L. Forsgard of Palestine was employed as city engineer.

Mr. Forsgard, a graduate of A. & M. College, class of 1905, has held some of the most responsible positions in the state in his line. After leaving school he was employed by the S. P. Railway in various capacities. Later, he was paving engineer of Houston. His connection with the city of Houston extended over several years and represented a number of different contracts. Mr. Forsgard has served as city engineer of Palestine. It was under his supervision that the splendid paving program was put through at Palestine.

Mr. Forsgard is not only a competent, experienced engineer; he is at the same time a very splendid gentleman; one that makes friends readily and easily. He seems to possess unusual poise and sound "horse" sense, a quality very much needed by one in his profession.

The city council is fortunate indeed to secure Mr. Forsgard's services.

We understand that Mr. Forsgard will move his family here at once and that he will be "right on the job" in person every day while the big paving program is going on.

What Are You Missing?

NO one can want anything until he knows of its existence. That is why ancient folks managed to live fairly contented lives without window glass, soap, automobiles, stoves, toothbrushes, telephones and so many of the things we consider the bare necessities of life.

Advertising has done more than any one thing to make this era of ours so rich in comforts and conveniences. To advertising is directly due much of the multiplication of products and services which are now at the disposal of every one.

There is no denying the fact that advertising has ironed out the mechanics of existence. It has made life easier and more pleasant by bringing to our attention countless necessities which years ago a king's ransom could not have bought.

Folks dress better, eat better, sleep better and live better because of advertising.
