DISTRICT MEET AT TIMPSON

From the Lufkin News, 20th.

Lufkin, holding the championship of Angelina county, lost to Joaquin, holding the championship of Shelby county, in basket ball Saturday at Timpson. Lufkin made only 18 points against 42 for her opponent. Nacogdoches, as the champion of Nacogdoches county, played Joaquin, losing by the score of 13 to 37. Joaquin wins the district championship and it is thought has an excellent chance for state championship honors.

THE FARMER AND THE MAN HE FEEDS

From the Houston Chronicle.

The question of food distribution is one of tremendous importance. None but those who have given the question careful and practical study are qualified to deal with it intelligently and instructively.

Mr. B. F. Yoakum, while yet interested in railroads, also farms on a large scale, and has more than once in the recent past put forth figures showing an economic waste in the distribution of food products that is alarming.

In a letter to The Chronicle under recent date he very truly says it is a national question and must be treated from that standpoint, and that the people of every state can do a great deal toward correcting the present disastrous situation.

He says the county in which he lives and farms and the two adjoining counties produced in 1922 over five million bushels of Irish potatoes. They did not receive for them on an average of over one cent a pound or 60 cents a bushel; yet the potatoes were grown within 30 to 75 miles of New York.

The department of agriculture says the average price paid the farmer is 50 cents.

The total potato crop for the United States was about 450,000,000 bushels. Mr. Yoakum wrote the secretary of agriculture to ascertain what the consumers paid for these potatoes. The secretary could not furnish these statistics, but suggested that the farm price be obtained for a certain shipment and the retail price.

Mr. Yoakum drove to town during the summer and paid 3 to 3 1/2 cents a pound for Long Island potatoes, for which the farmers had received 1 cent a pound. If any Houston consumer will make the same test he will most likely get the same result.

Mr. Yoakum contends that the farmer should get two-thirds of what potatoes sell for at retail. The farmer, the most important factor in society, gets the worst of every economic deal, and the consumer is robbed.

POSTPONEMENT OF HARDING'S REQUEST

Washington, Feb. 27.—The postponement of action until next session of congress upon Harding's request for authority to enter the Information Court set up by the League of Nations was virtually decided by the senate foreign relations committee. The senators representing all views, said that the consensus of opinion was a matter that could not be brought before the senate in the time remaining of the present session. They decided, however, to ask for further information. Lodge said that he expected to confer with Harding.

GOVERNOR AND MRS. NEFF ARE HOSTS AT DINNER

From the Austin American.
At a dinner party Friday evening complimenting former Governor and Mrs. W. P. Hobby, Governor and Mrs. Neff entertained the following guests: Mr. and Mrs. Hobby, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Sevier, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Marsh, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Nugent Fitzgerald, Speaker R. E. Seagler and Representative Eugene Blount of Nacogdoches.

RESOLUTION ATTACKED BY BOX OF TEXAS

Washington, Feb. 27.—The temporary admission otherwise of ineligible common labor into Hawaii proposed in a resolution reported by the House Immigration Committee, was attacked in the minority report by Representative Box of Texas. He said that it would introduce peonage among the Chinese coolies, who would flow into the Islands and United States. It was announced by Baker, democrat. California, that Chairman Johnson would also present minority views.

MAYFIELD LEAVES FOR WASHINGTON

Austin, Texas, Feb. 27.—Earle B. Mayfield presented a complete copy of proceedings filed in the United States senate in an attempt to unseat him today before he left for Washington. He declined to make a statement, other than he would be in Washington two weeks.

Representative Herrick would have reporters expelled from the press gallery. His attitude is easily understood. Anybody who makes a fool of himself as often as Herrick does naturally would not want reporters around.

JUDGE AWARDS I. & G. N. RECEIVER BIG JUDGMENT

Houston, Texas, Feb. 27.—Judge J. C. Hutcheson handed down a decision Monday morning in federal court in the suit of James A. Baker, receiver for the International & Great Northern Railroad against the Pierce Oil Corporation, giving judgment of $1,789,000 for the receiver.

The suit grew out of the alleged failure of the oil corporation to supply the railroad oil at a previously contracted price.

In making this decision the court disposed of the last of the civil cases pending from the last term.

VETERANS TO OBTAIN IDENTIFICATION SLIPS

Durham, N. C., Feb. 27.—The Confederate Veterans, who wish to take advantage of reduced fare offered by the railroads to those attending the reunion at New Orleans, April 11th-13th, must obtain identification slips from Carl Hinton, New Orleans, adjutant in chief. Sons of Confederate Veterans may obtain slips from Julian S. Carr, commander of veterans, was announced today.

PROTESTANT CHURCHES TO INFLUENCE GOVERNMENT

Washington, Feb. 27.—A federal council of the Churches of Christ in America addressed a message to 150,000 Protestant churches, urging them to call upon the government to adopt a policy of co-operation with the foreign nations, and to take a larger part in international problems. They expressed a fear that the world was drifting toward war, economic ruin, and moral disaster that possibly may cause an eclipse of the civilization for centuries.

GREAT GUSHER RIVALS ANY IN AMERICA

El Dorado, Ark., Feb. 27.—An oil gusher gauging 36,000 barrels of oil and capable of producing 50,000, "if properly handled," has been developed in the W. G. Burton well, near Smackover, according to oil men. It rivals any gusher developed in North American fields since the Guffey gusher at Beaumont twenty-two years ago.

SIGNS DEBT FUNDING BILL

Washington, Feb. 28.—President Harding today signed the British debt funding bill.

FORMER TEXAS MAN CHARGED WITH MURDER

Philadelphia, Feb. 27.—Wylie Moran, formerly of Maud, Texas, will be arraigned today charged with murder, kidnaping and assault. The police said that he signed a statement admitting the kidnaping, assaulting and killing of six-year-old Lillian Gilmore.

SENATOR AND UNIDENTIFIED MAN EXCHANGE BLOWS

Washington, Feb. 27.—Blows were exchanged by Senator Caraway of Arkansas and another passenger on a Washington street car today, after the man had been accused of jostling the senator and using offensive language. The altercation occurred at Fourteenth street and Northwest, after both had left the car. The unidentified passenger struck Caraway on the face, and the senator retaliated with blows using an umbrella on the man's back.

KANSAS GOVERNOR FOR ADDITIONAL BONUS

Topeka, Kas., Feb. 27.—In a special message to the legislature today, Governor J. M. Davis recommended that additional bonus laws be enacted, specifying that heirs of those who lost their lives in the world war be given the state bonus.

NEW NAVAL OIL RESERVE IN ALASKA

Washington, Feb. 27.—The withdrawal of 20,000,000 acres of land in Alaska to form a new naval oil reserve was announced by Secretary Fall of the Interior Department.

SENATE CONFIRMS APPOINTEES

Austin, Texas, Feb. 27.—The senate confirmed thirty appointees by Governor Neff. Action was deferred on Adjutant General Barton, Tax Commissioner Willacy, Labor Commissioner Myers, Livestock Sanitary Commissioner Boog-Scott, Health Officer Beasley, Mrs. Charles DeGroof, board of Regents of Texas Technology College, J. F. Rowe, State Rating Board. The senate committee questioned Barton, Myers, Game Commissioner Boyd, and Fire Marshal Tilley on the present and past affiliations with the Ku Klux Klan.

CITIZENS' COMMITTEE APPOINTED

At a recent joint meeting of the city council, the chamber of commerce and a number of interested citizens, Mayor W. I. Baker requested the chamber of commerce to appoint three citizens to serve with the city council in "working out" our street improvement program.

Messrs. I. B. Mast, Robert Lindsey and Frank Sharpe, Jr., have been appointed on this committee and the citizenship should feel themselves fortunate indeed in knowing that all three of these gentlemen have agreed to give the matter their time, attention and thought and serve on this important committee. These gentlemen have accepted this appointment with the full knowledge that it is going to take much of their time from their own businesses.

With the good, sound judgment of these three men, added to the strong city council that we now have, it should be easy for us to "get our money's worth" out of our bond money.

If that "bunch" can't do it there will not be many of us who will say that "we could have done it."

JOHN WINDSOR

Mr. John Windsor, one of the old and highly esteemed residents of the city, died at 5:30 Wednesday morning after a brief illness of pneumonia following an attack of influenza.

Mr. Windsor was born in Nacogdoches county on March 9, 1849, and practically all his life was spent here. For many years he was in the employ of Mayer & Schmidt in various capacities, and was accounted one of their best men—honest, industrious and efficient, loyal to every trust.

He was thrice married, and is survived by his widow, three daughters and one son—Mrs. W. B. Daniels of Woden, Mrs. John S. Booth of Little Rock, Ark.; Mrs. J. W. Hutson of Nacogdoches and Mr. John M. Windsor, also of this city.

THREAT TO PRIEST STIRS KLAN TO OFFER REWARD

Crowley, La., Feb. 28.—The local Ku Klux Klan yesterday offered a reward of $100 for information leading to the identity and arrest of the writer of a letter warning Rev. A. H. Gilman, pastor of St. Teresa's Catholic church here to leave the city within 48 hours or suffer the consequences. The reward was offered through an advertisement appearing in a local newspaper.

A letter received by the priest was signed "Night Hawk of the Purple Riders" and was left on the steps of the convent early Saturday. Father Gilman said yesterday that he would remain here until removed by a higher authority.

ROBBED STORE A DAY FOR LAST 78 DAYS

St. Louis, Mo., Feb. 27.—Two men arrested today in an attempt to rob a chain grocery store admitted, according to police, that they had robbed one of the stores daily for the last 78 days, and that they made their living by robbing the stores.

The company operating the stores says it lost $21,000 in robberies here in the last three and a half years.

RELATIVE TO LEASING KERRVILLE HOSPITAL

Austin, Texas, Feb. 27.—State Senator W. J. Rogers of McKinney, left for Washington to confer with officials of the Veterans Bureau relative to the leasing of the Kerrville Memorial Hospital for the care of former service men.

NEW APPOINTMENTS

Washington, Feb. 27.—Selection of Postmaster General Work to succeed Albert Fall, as secretary of the Interior, and Senator Harry S. New, of Indiana to become the postmaster general was announced at the White House today, the appointments to become effective March 4th. Brigadier General Frank T. Hines, retired, was nominated by Harding to become the director of the Veterans' Bureau.

BAPTIST WOMEN TO MEET

Dallas, Texas, Feb. 28.—The Executive Board of the Baptist Women's Missionary Union is called to meet in Fort Worth, March 6-7. Besides the thirty-one elected members and the chairmen of the standing committees, the presidents and secretaries of the districts and associations are members of this board.

It is expected that over two hundred women from all points in Texas will be present at this board meeting as it is one of the most important ones of the year.

At this time messengers to the Women's Missionary Union, Auxiliary to the Southern Baptist Convention which meets in Kansas City in May, will be elected; reports for the quarter will be read; the committee on Methods and Finance will make a very important report; appropriations for the work in the various districts and associations will be made; and plans will be discussed for the spring roundup of the 75-Million Campaign.

The entire board will be the guest of the Fort Worth Training School during the two days' stay. The Training School has an enrollment of 385 students, training for missionary and other religious work. A great many of the students are the wives of the preachers attending the Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary.

INTEREST RATES SAME

Washington, Feb. 28.—Efforts to obtain cheaper credit for farmers have thus far failed to produce an appreciable effect on the interest rates charged by banks in the small cities and towns in the agricultural sections of the West and South, according to the Federal Reserve Board's annual report, which says the rates remain practically unchanged despite the lowering of rediscount rates by the Reserve Banks during the past year. The year 1922 was a period of almost continuous recovery from disorganized markets and depressed business conditions, the report says. Attention was called to the price of cotton at the end of the year, which it was said was two and a half times that of March and April, 1921.

BUILDING AND LOAN ASSOCIATION FORMED

At the recent chamber of commerce meeting held at Mrs. Lockey's Tea Room, one of the leading topics discussed was the need of a Building & Loan Association for Nacogdoches. Largely as a result of this discussion a committee composed of D. K. Cason, L. B. Mast, J. Roy Gray, Robert Lindsey and T. E. Baker visited Lufkin last week for the special purpose of investigating two building and loan associations now operating very successfully in that thriving little city.

This committee was so favorably impressed with the operation of these associations that its members determined to call a meeting of our business men to hear the actual facts concerning these two enterprises. At the suggestion of D. K. Cason and largely through his personal efforts, a group of 21 business men met in the chamber of commerce rooms at 4 p. m. Tuesday to hear the report of the Lufkin committee. Those present were D. K. Cason, T. E. Baker, L. B. Mast, J. Roy Gray, A. W. Birdwell, Ben T. Wilson, W. S. Davis, Zeno Cox, Sam Stripling, John Schmidt, Dr. A. A. Nelson, H. W. Whited, K. P. Branch, Robert Lindsey, L. B. Mast, Sam B. Hayter, George Meisenheimer, Greer Orton and W. G. Reid.

On motion of Ben T. Wilson, D. K. Cason was made chairman of the meeting and T. E. Baker secretary. Mr. Cason then briefly outlined the object of the meeting and called on T. E. Baker to report some of the findings of the Lufkin committee. Mr. Baker submitted facts and figures covering two years operation of each of these two Lufkin associations. The figures proved very interesting and instructive to all present. Following Mr. Baker's talk, Messrs. Lindsey, Gray and Mast each discussed some vital points brought out by the data secured. Many questions were asked concerning the type or kind of building and loan association needed in Nacogdoches. Among those who discussed this phase of the subject was Mr. John Schmidt, Prof. Birdwell, Sam Hayter, Ben T. Wilson, Robert Lindsey, Captain Sturdevant and others.

After the whole subject matter had been discussed from every business angle, Ben T. Wilson moved that a committee of seven be named to draft a plan of organization for a building and loan association for Nacogdoches and to report back to another meeting to be called later. At the suggestion of T. E. Baker, seconded by Captain Sturdevant, a substitute motion was passed, naming D. K. Cason, L. B. Mast and Robert Lindsey as a committee to secure subscription to a $50,000 Building & Loan Association. In another motion this committee was instructed to accept no subscriptions for less than $1,000.

GOOSE CREEK IN MIDST OF KLAN TROUBLES

Houston Chronicle, 23d.

All is not happy in the inner realm of the Goose Creek Klan.

Members are in disagreement as to plans for the future and as to special dues assessed against them.

When the annual dues were collected on January 1 quite a large sum of money was realized, but $3,500 of it had to go to the Invisible Empire headquarters in Atlanta. This left very little for the home organization, and on top of all that an assessment of $7.50 on each member has been declared necessary, due to expense in connection with recent trials of members in Houston.

Some of the faithful are complaining about the second assessment and are entering protests against other matters that have recently developed.

A Teacher's Protest

One serious complaint is in regard to an attempt to remove Mrs. Allie Blackwell from the public schools of Goose Creek. Mrs. Blackwell has taught in that thriving little town for the past six years.

Last week at a meeting of the school board a well known klanman presented a complaint against Mrs. Blackwell, charging that she had befriended Mrs. Harrison, who was recently flogged by a band of disguised and masked men.

Mrs. Blackwell explained that she called upon Mrs. Harrison when the latter joined her church and she thought it her Christian duty to extend her every aid and comfort.

The superintendent of schools informed the klanman that the complaint made was not worthy of consideration and censured those who were trying to injure Mrs. Blackwell. Charles Goode, father of Mrs. Blackwell, also called upon those making charges and stated he would hold every man personally responsible for any reflection upon his daughter.

Goode is an old resident of Goose Creek, and his daughter is active in church as well as school work. She is superintendent of the Sunday-school of the First Methodist church at Pelly.

Postmaster Slaughter's Job

Another matter that is causing considerable discussion at Goose Creek is the report that E. C. Slaughter, postmaster, will soon tender his resignation. It is stated that Mr. Slaughter is rather dissatisfied with conditions that have already developed since the recent trial in Houston of those charged with having attempted to waylay and assault him.

His resignation has not yet been tendered, but he has asked for an extended leave of absence.

WEATHER MADE TO ORDER

Professional rainmakers, hitherto regarded as in the class of harmless cranks, having achieved the seemingly impossible with the assistance of army aviators, some interesting questions arise as the effect of the new state of things. The experimenters have made rain fall by dropping electrically charged grains of sand on the clouds, causing them to give up their moisture. They cannot occasion a rainfall from a clear sky, but given the clouds to work on, they have shown that they can end a drought.

There are times when rain is most desirable and others when it is the reverse of welcome. Its capacity to interfere not only with human enjoyment but with financial prospects is so great that companies have been formed to insure policyholders against rain on certain dates. It is becoming quite common for promoters of athletic meets and similar events to take out such policies. This business of insuring against rain threatens to become even more hazardous than at present after the professional rainmakers perfect their methods. Obviously the way might be opened to some very crooked dealings. A crafty individual could take out a policy against rain and then hire the professionals to come around and cause a downpour. One man might wish rain for his garden and be willing to pay for it, while his neighbor wanted to have a fine day in order to play tennis on his new court.

If aviators can tinker with the clouds to make rain, they may yet devise a scheme whereby they can waft the clouds away and let through the sunshine. They may be able to prevent rain as well as make it pour. With man in control of the weather, living would lose half its present charm of uncertainty and the need for a combination snow shovel and lawn mower in this climate would no longer exist.

JOY AND JAZZ

Joy and jazz sit facing each other at the table. It is a February day. Joy is living her life richly. Jazz is living her life wastefully.

Joy remarks upon the beauty of the day, and sees in the winter glory a hint of the Creator.

Jazz tries to voice her appreciation, but all that comes forth from painted lips is a rattle of words well sprinkled with "wonderfuls." More adjectives than necessary and most of them used regardless of their value.

Joy radiates a serenity that makes others look her way and sigh in their souls for the peace that seems to be hers.

Jazz merely radiates the superficial. Her gown and hat are the latest freakish mode. Hysteria possesses her and exhibits its mastery in giggles, restless eyes and insane talk with no respect for language. She uses "lovely" six times in three sentences. Imagine Jazz trying to describe a sunset.

Jazz is not only extravagant of words. She whips them into frenzy. The books, the plays, the movies that interest her, all lash the jaded steed. If Jazz goes on this way, what will she be like and what will the world be like when she has burned herself out in early life?

Joy endures and lights the pathway all through the years, adding beauty to beauty as the days shorten and life's shadows close.

Joy and Jazz sit facing one another over the table of the present generations.

HE CAN TALK TWENTY-SIX HOURS

From the Dallas News.

Senator McKellar believe that it is beneath his dignity deliberately to thwart ship subsidy legislation by so use a line of conduct as might lay him open to the charge of filibustering. Such a charge would come, of course, from the republicans. Senator McKellar, however, proposes to reach to the senate a nineteen-hour speech by the Hon. Reed Smoot. Senator Smoot is a republican, and therefore his remarks should be edifying to his republican brethren in the senate who now desire to give a subsidy to American shipping. Senator McKellar is against the subsidy, but is willing that the republican advocates should refresh their memory by having read in their presence the Smoot deliverance which that gentleman released in 1915 against the Wilson shipping bill.

Mr. McKellar hopes to be as brief in his explanatory remarks as possible, but for fear that the Smoot speech will need a few footnotes and interpolations, he has agreed to furnish a running fire comment so as to make it perfectly clear to his friends, the republicans, that one of their own number spent a good nineteen hours in opposing a shipping bill. In the process of clearing up this important point in the history of shipping legislation Mr. McKellar estimates that, in all, about twenty-six hours may be consumed. By means of roll calls to develop whether or not there is a quorum on hand and by other expedients which are well known to both Mr. McKellar and to Mr. Smoot, the speaker will be able to catch his breath from time to time and continue the enlightenment of his slumbering colleagues.

McCUMBER'S BELATED CONFESSION

Not infrequently Senator McCumber, republican, North Dakota, in discussing the ills of agriculture is accurate as well as eloquent. For example, describing one of the inequities of the farmer's position, Senator McCumber made this statement in the senate:

"... The farmer is suffering from a combination which has gradually increased the cost of producing everything that the farmer must purchase, while as a rule he is getting no additional price for the thing which he produces."

The Fordney-McCumber profiteers' tariff law has helped to "increase the cost of everything that the farmer must purchase"—and that was its purpose. This tariff act has had little or no effect in enhancing the prices of the things the farmer has to sell. The farmers of the country consume about half the production. The McCumber law has increased the cost of living by about $3,000,000,000. The farmers pay half that enormous total. They get next to nothing by way of offset.

Senator McCumber is right; but it is too bad that he didn't put as much good sense and justice into his tariff law as he occasionally puts into his speeches in the senate.

Mr. Harding's experience with the ship subsidy probably has convinced him that pinning a bad bill to necessary legislation doesn't change it into a sweet william.

THE RECORD OF THIS CONGRESS

Numerous unkind persons have said many unkind things about the incumbent congress, some of which they will doubtless regret when it is gone, never to return. And it must be confessed that it is next to impossible to recollect on the spur of the moment anything the sixty-seventh congress did successfully. True, both houses passed the soldiers' bonus, but it didn't take. And both houses passed some kind of rural credits measure, which added rural credits to the list of the world's unsolved mysteries. And besides that—well, there must have been something else but it just escapes us.

Congress may have had its shortcomings. But the retiring congress also has had its long-goings, if there is such a thing. Say what you will about the sixty-seventh congress, it is establishing an American record, which public-spirited men will never desire to take from it. On adjournment, March 4, it will have been in session 224 days, which will top the previous record, that of the fortieth congress, by five days.

The country is proud that its present congress has established a record. Long may it stand.

LOAN FUND FOR THE BLIND

Texas newspapermen in convention at Austin on the 9th inst., signified their willingness to co-operate in a movement launched by the alumni of the Texas School for the Blind to raise a fund of $100,000 through the churches and schools of the state for the purpose of creating a loan fund for worthy blind students of Texas in order to further their education similar to loan funds now financing other students through college.

The proposition of carrying on a campaign for this purpose was explained to the members of the Texas association by W. S. Stepter of Palmer, Texas, field director of the campaign. Mr. Stepter, who is himself blind, stated that the manner of conducting the campaign was to ask the churches of Texas each to contribute one Sunday's collection to the fund and also to ask the school children of the state each to contribute 10 cents to the fund. The Citizens Bank of Palmer, Texas, has been designated as the treasurer of the fund.

The idea of the campaign to assist the blind students was approved in talks by Jess Chambliss of the Waxahatchie Light and Henry Edwards of the Troup Banner. President S. D. Chestnut of the Kennedy Advocate assured Mr. Stepter that newspapers would co-operate in the movement if it is placed on a uniform working basis in each community.

A MISTAKE

We made a mistake in one issue of our paper, admits an exchange and 18 of our good subscribers told us about it. The same day there was a letter in our postoffice box that didn't belong to us. We called for 98 over the phone and got 198. We asked for a spool of No. 50 thread and when we got home we found it was No. 60. The train was reported 30 minutes late. We arrived at the depot 20 minutes after the train had gone. We got our milk bill and there was a mistake of 10 cents in our favor. We felt sick and the doctor said we were eating too much meat. We hadn't tasted meat for two months. The garage man said the jitney was missing because it needed a new timer. We cleaned a spark plug and it run fine ever since. Yes, we made a mistake in last week's issue of the paper, and so do others.—Ex.

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish through the Sentinel to express our thanks and appreciation for the many acts of kindness bestowed upon us by our friends and neighbors and the devoted attention of the physicians during the illness and at the time of the death of our dear wife and mother. May God's richest blessings fall upon everyone of them.

Jack Reavley, who is the only licensed radio engineer in the city, reported at the Sentinel office Friday morning that messages from his transmission station (that also being the only transmission station here) had been heard at Parkesburg, Pennsylvania, distant 1,100 miles from Nacogdoches. A postal card to Mr. Reavley from parties in Parkesburg brought the above information, and he is very much gratified at the "long distance" work of his instruments.

BUSINESS MANAGER

FOR SCHOOL

Garison News, 23d.

The post of business manager of the schools for the Lufkin Independent District has been created by the trustees of the district. George W. Largent has accepted the new post and will establish an office in one of the city schools.

The newly created position involves the duties of assessing and collecting school tax rolls, taking the school census, keeping books, buying materials needed in the different grades and for general school use and in looking after property in general.

The office will pay a salary of $125 per month. It was explained by one member of the school board Wednesday that the fees expended in having the census taken, property assessed and taxes collected amounted to about what the salary will be. The additional advantage of having a man full time is deemed ample cause for the creation of the new office.

"Your Dollars"

Your dollars perhaps come slowly to you and depart almost as quickly as the morning dew. Where are those dollars you paid for Industrial Transportation Stock and where are those guys who sold it to you? And where are the dollars you paid for a three percent Loan Contract and where are the "slick guys" who sold it to you? And where are your dollars you paid for a Policy in the Hundred and One Club and where are those "whangdoodles" who sold it to you? Haven't they all gone where the Packerwood twinst and all the Jay Blue Jays? And those "whangdoodles," they mourneth not. A hint to the wise should be sufficient.

Your dollars will not be lost dollars if you take out Life Insurance in Orders that have passed the experimental stage. The "Dorsey Plan" and "Dorsey Management," for more than a decade, have proved a marked success. All County Life Insurance is not the same. It is management that makes success in every business enterprise. Beware of imitations, who try to deceive you by telling you it is the same thing as the Dorsey County Insurance. That is what those "whangdoodles" told you about the Hundred and One Club.

See or write us—we have a place for you in Orders that are worth $1,000.00 the day you get it should you die.

Now, if you get stung, blame yourself.

IF BILIOUS, SICK! TAKE NO CALOMEL

"Dodson's Liver Tone" Straightens You Up Better Than Salivating, Dangerous Calomel and Doesn't Upset You—Don't Lose a Day's Work—Read Guarantee

You're bilious! Your liver is sluggish! You feel lazy, dizzy and all knocked out. Your head is dull, your tongue is coated; breath bad; stomach sour and bowels constipated. But don't take salivating calomel. It makes you sick, you may lose a day's work.

Calomel is mercury or quicksilver which causes necrosis of the bones. Calomel crashes into sour bile like dynamite, breaking it up. That's when you feel that awful nausea and cramping.

If you want to enjoy the nicest, gentlest liver and bowel cleansing you ever experienced just take a spoonful of harmless Dodson's Liver Tone tonight. Your druggist or dealer sells you a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone for a few cents under my personal money-back guarantee that each spoonful will clean your sluggish liver better than a dose of nasty calomel and that it won't make you sick.

Dodson's Liver Tone is a real liver medicine. You'll know it next morning because you will wake up feeling fine, your liver will be working, your headache and dizziness gone, your stomach will be sweet and your bowels regular. You will feel like working; you'll be cheerful; full of vigor and ambition.

Dodson's Liver Tone is entirely vegetable, therefore harmless and can not salivate. Give it to your children.

RIOT FOLLOWS HEAVY CUT IN SUGAR PRICE

Oklahoma City, Okla., Feb. 26.—A squad of policemen was rushed into service here Saturday to quell what was believed to be Oklahoma's first "sugar riot."

Several women fainted and more than a dozen sustained minor injuries and bruises as a result of the "rioting."

It all happened when a local storekeeper declared he would sell refined cane sugar at 5 cents a pound. The usual price is 10 cents a pound.

When time came for the store to open a seething mass of humanity rocked the doors of the grocery. Women with children, women without, thousands of women, all clamoring for sugar, was more than the manager and his limited supply of clerks could handle.

Police were called out and after two hours of rioting succeeded in dispersing the crowd.

YOUNG BRIDE FOUND DEAD AT ELGIN HOME

Elgin, Texas, Feb. 22.—Mrs. Amy Prokschl, 25, bride of 11 days of Bert Lanfear, was found dead of bullet wounds in the home of her mother-in-law, Mrs. F. E. Lanfear, Tuesday. Death resulted from self-inflicted wounds, according to a verdict of a coroner. Notes addressed to her husband and her mother were found.

Mrs. Lanfear was the youngest daughter of M. Prokschl, wealthy planter.

ELIMINATION OF WEEVIL BY ZONING PROGRAM

Birmingham, Ala., Feb. 24.—Elimination of the boll weevil by zoning cotton growing areas for a period of five years can be accomplished with an expenditure of $500,000,000, Dr. Hudson Maxim, noted scientist, declared in an address here today. The plan provides for creating zones beginning on the Atlantic coast. Each year no cotton will be raised in one zone until the cotton growing section is covered. He said if the boll weevil subsists only on the cotton plant, it would be starved out of existence. He proposed to let the government pay for the zoning and reimburse farmers for their losses.

Future generations will at least have no difficulty in determining what induced song composed to pick out this particular period to start writing blues.

CHURCH BANQUET

Thursday night at the Lockey Tea Room the Ladies' Aid Society entertained the members of the First Christian church with a banquet. The guests found their places at the tables by miniature hatchets, tied with yellow ribbon, carrying out the yellow color scheme. The tables were centered with crystal vases of yellow jonquils. The following delicious menu was served:

MENU
Pressed Chicken Baked Ham Sandwiches
Crackers Sweet Sandwiches Pickles
Angel Food Cake Coffee
After the banquet a program was given in which the various members of the church participated.

Mr. W. D. Ambrose was the genial toastmaster of the occasion, keeping the crowd in gay spirits throughout the evening. He also made a splendid address.

Miss Mabel Urey gave a delightful reading and graciously responded with an encore.

This was followed by an address by Judge Angus Russell, who outlined some of the trials and tribulations of the treasurer—which office he held.

Mrs. W. D. Ambrose then sang "Smilin' Thru" and responded with an encore, "Carry Me Back to Ole Virginia."

Mrs. Percy Blount, in a charming manner, told of the work done by the Ladies Aid Society during the past year. This was a most commendable report and was enthusiastically received.

Rev. George Parks then gave a splendid address, outlining the hopes and policies of the church for the future.

The toastmaster then established a "Kick Hour," in which he invited everyone present to make any "kicks" they felt like making or to express their frank opinion about the way the church is being run. Practically every member present took advantage of this opportunity, and a general and enthusiastic discussion followed.

At the close of this the following ladies were elected to serve on the church board: Mrs. Percy Blount, Mrs. Allen Martin, Mrs. Ella Swift, Mrs. A. H. Meador and Mrs. W. D. Ambrose.

A vote of thanks to the Ladies Aid was given by a rising ballot.

A low moral aim will oft hit the dollar mark.

TRIAL FOR WIFE MURDERER

Waxahachie, Texas, Feb. 26.—N. B. Freeman of Midlothian is scheduled to go to trial here today charged with murder in connection with the death of his wife on September 4. She was shot when she went with her husband to their poultry yards to kill a chicken, according to officers. Freeman told the officers he was carrying a shotgun and stumbled, causing the accidental discharge of the weapon.

GEORGE F. OLIVER DIES IN ACCIDENT

Center, Texas, Feb. 26.—George F. Oliver was instantly killed here Saturday when he was thrown from a wagon when the team ran away.

He served Shelby county for many years as tax collector and was state representative from this district for two terms.

He was a candidate for congress against John C. Box in the last election.

MISSING BOY FOUND.

Chicago, Feb. 27.—While police were digging up the cellar under his home today, on the theory that he had been murdered and buried, Anton Mitchell, Jr., 6, was found safe in the home of his grandmother. The search began when the child's mother complained last night that she feared he had been kidnapped. How Anton got there he could not explain.

IF STOMACH IS TROUBLING YOU

Instantly End Indigestion or Stomach Misery with "Pape's Diapepsin"

As soon as you eat a tablet or two of "Pape's Diapepsin" your indigestion is gone! Heavy pain, heartburn, flatulence, gasses, palpitation or any misery from a sour, acid stomach ends. Correct your stomach and digestion for a few cents. Each package contains 10 tablets.

There are quite a number of paving contractors in the city submitting their plans and offering bids for the paving with their various materials. Paving is rather a new thing in this city and what little has been done has not been as satisfactory as could be wished and with the small experience we have had it is well to be careful and investigate the various materials being offered thoroughly before any contracts are entered into. All of the contractors certainly have some of their work within easy reach of Nacogdoches that might be viewed by the members of the city council and citizens' committee. A thorough investigation should, by all means, be made before a contract is entered into. The Sentinel is sure this will be done and when the city authorities finally enter into a contract for the contemplated paving they will get the best results.

PEDDY-MAYFIELD DISPUTE IS LAID BEFORE SENATE

Washington, Feb. 23.—The controversy over the Ku Klux Klan was brought into the United States senate yesterday with the filing of proceedings contesting the right of Earle B. Mayfield to become a senator from Texas.

The contest was brought by George E. B. Peady, republican and "independent democratic" candidate for senator in the election last November, who declared himself elected despite the majority credited by election officials to Mayfield, the regular democratic nominee. A scathing indictment of the Klan, of which it was charged that Mayfield was a member, was included in the petition and was placed on file with Mayfield's credentials to be considered when the new congress meets next fall.

Klan officers were charged with "illegal and fraudulent" acts in the petition, which also alleged fraud in counting the ballots, illegal expenditures of more than $150,000 in Mayfield's behalf, and numerous other irregularities. Among the charges laid at the door of the Klan were that it had attempted to erect a super-government, to "seduce and defile the public conscience" to gain commercial and other dominion, to accomplish "prostitution of the Christian religion," to exercise "brutal and tyrannical control and discipline," and to engage in "illegal and immoral practices."

The senate was asked to preserve and recount the Texas ballots, to investigate the Texas primary and election and to prohibit Mayfield from taking the oath when the next congress convenes. His credentials having been received, however, the whole matter, under usual senate procedure, would be referred to the privileges and elections committee when congress reassembles, and, pending the committee's investigation, the oath would be administered.

The contestant's petition declared that Mayfield was "not honestly or lawfully elected" by virtue of the fact that Peady's name was kept off the printed ballot, because of the alleged "conspiracy" of the Klan and for other reasons. The document comprised about 25,000 words and was accompanied by many exhibits, including alleged letters between Klan officers, naming Mayfield as a Klansman and urging Klansmen to support him.

In support of a charge that Mayfield abused his power as State railroad commissioner to further his campaign one of the papers accompanying the case quoted him as threatening oil and other interests in seeking campaign contributions.

"You tell those d— that if I am not elected to the senate I will be railroad commissioner four years more and they had better kick in or they will be sorry," Mayfield was quoted as having informed Mike McNamara, deputy oil commissioner. It was also charged that McNamara was told to get $30,000 in contributions and did turn over some of the receipts.

JUDGE JAMES I. PERKINS

As announced briefly in yesterday's Sentinel, Judge James I. Perkins of Rusk, died at his home last Sunday morning.

The passing away of Judge Perkins is a serious and distinct loss to the state and especially to East Texas, where his life had been spent. Judge Perkins was born in San Augustine county in 1847, and there spent the first 40 years of his life, then moving to Rusk, where he has since resided.

His father was one of the earliest of the Texas pioneers, having settled in San Augustine county in 1830.

Judge Perkins entered the Confederate army in 1864 when seventeen years of age, and served until the close in Lattie's Regiment. He studied law at the University of Virginia in 1870 and at once on his return from college entered into the active practice of law at Center and San Augustine. In a few years thereafter he married Miss Blake, a daughter of Judge Bennett Blake of this county.

He served first as district attorney of this district when Richard S. Walker was judge and afterwards served twelve years as judge of this district, in the meantime practicing law with eminent success.

Judge Perkins also served one term as state senator and two terms in the house of representatives, and in every position was universally esteemed as an able officer and man of exalted character.

While he never resided at Nacogdoches, yet he had been officially and personally associated so long with the people here that in his death we have sustained a personal loss.

A paladin has fallen. Such are few. The country's loss is great.

AND THE FIREMEN LAUGHED!

But Perhaps All of Them Didn't, Although Mrs. Blank Undoubtedly Meant Well.

Lawson Purdy, secretary of the Charity Organization society, said at a reception in New York:

"Some people run down the charity expert—the man or woman who studies charity and makes it his or her profession, but why shouldn't we have charity experts as well as medical experts, law experts or military experts?"

"Take collecting, for instance—collecting for charity. The expert knows how to do it, and the greenhorn, beside him, is like Mrs. Blank.

"Mrs. Blank was the chief pillar of a home for stray cats. The home was in a very bad way. In fact, its creditors said they'd foreclose on it if it didn't settle up at once.

"Late one night, tossing sleepless in her bed, heartbroken over the home's coming ruin, Mrs. Blank had a sudden brilliant idea. She rose, ran to the telephone and sent in a fire alarm.

"When the firemen, breathless and wild-eyed, dashed up with their engines and hose and ladders, Mrs. Blank met them at her door.

"Boys," she said, with a gay laugh, "there isn't any fire really. I've just brought you here because you've simply got to subscribe 50 cents apiece to my stray cats' home."

FOR ALDERMEN

It affords the Sentinel genuine pleasure to publish today the announcements of Messrs. Ford Simpson, R. C. Monk and Sam Stripling as candidates for re-election for city aldermen. These gentlemen have given their time to the city's interests in a manner and with willingness which deserves the utmost commendation, and that they have done their duty admirably well will not be gainsaid by anyone who has given the matter a moment's thought. The job of alderman is usually a thankless one, its only reward generally being the sense of public duty well done, and sometimes it requires a good deal of courage to persist in the gratuitous work in the face of thoughtless and unmerited criticism, but the gentlemen above named have moved serenely along and given the city the benefit of their fine judgment in the administration of its affairs regardless of the poor return made therefor. It would be a mistake to replace them with others less qualified and willing.

ONE MINUTE A DAY

One minute a day isn't much time for you to spare from your daily occupations or your personal pleasures. But one minute a day, properly applied, will work wonders for this town if each citizen will become a party to the working.

One minute is all of the time required to study up some improvement we need. If each citizen devotes that one minute each day to this study, it will be but a short time before our defects are so well known to us we will be insistently demanding their correction.

When this is done we have started something.

And people never get anywhere without first making a start. Try it for better results.

VIOLATED PACKERS ACT

Washington, Feb. 26.—Armour & Company and Morris & Company, Chicago meat packers, have been served by the secretary of agriculture with a complaint charging them with violation of the packers stockyards act in connection with the tentative acquisition of the plants and business of the Morris Company by the Armour interests. Secretary Wallace set the hearing at Washington on April 2.

FIVE KILLED, SEVEN HURT IN TRAIN WRECK

Birmingham, Ala., Feb. 27.—Three persons were killed when a Frisco train was wrecked at Pratt City, near here this afternoon.

Another Bad Wreck

Calhoun, Ga., Feb. 27.—T. H. Gurely of St. Louis and D. K. Doak were killed and several injured shortly after 1 o'clock yesterday when the second section of the Dixie Flyer, northbound on the Nashville, Chattanooga, and St. Louis Railroad, jumped the track about one and one-half miles north of here.

Eight of the 14 Pullmans were derailed, several of them being overturned. The train was running as the second section of No. 94, northbound from Jacksonville to Chicago and was being hauled by two locomotives. Relief trains are en route to the scene.

The wrecked train passed through Calhoun at a rate which spectators said was approximately 60 miles an hour. The wreck is at McDaniel's Crossing, and the nearest telephone is said to be about a half mile away.

REDCROSS SYMBOL

The Red Cross symbol is exclusively reserved for sanitary formations conveying wounded soldiers or sailors and for the institutions engaged in the treatment of such cases by a law passed in France in 1913 and strict enforcement of this law is being carried out. The directors of French Red Cross societies, noticing that various pharmacists and laborers' first aid stations had put up the Red Cross sign, decided to demand the removal of all such emblems where unauthorized. As a result the courts are busy prosecuting the various drug stores, which refuse to take down the sign, alleging that it is perfectly justified because in reality they are first-aid stations. However, a decree has been issued stating that the law of 1913 must be observed.

COLUMBUS WITH A SPY-GLASS

The medieval painter who in a picture of the crucifixion of Christ represented a Roman soldier armed with a blunderbuss must have a descendant in the British post office department. According to an indignant writer in the "Bulletin de la Societe Astronomique de France," the English government for its possession of Saint Kitts or Saint Christopher, one of the West India Islands, has provided a stamp showing Christopher Columbus surveying in the horizon through a spy-glass.

But Christopher Columbus discovered America in 1492, while the spy-glass was not invented until 118 years afterward. But what a joy that stamp must be to collectors!

TO DETERMINE DISPLACEMENT

An apparatus by which the amount of water displaced by a vessel can be found at any time by means of a water tube or gauge installed in the center of a vessel has been invented by the French shipping engineer M. Augereau, and was on exhibition at the French national colonial exposition at Marseilles. It is said to be simple, practical and comparatively inexpensive as to installation. By this means an accurate indication of the weight of cargo aboard ship can be secured at any given moment.

SOUTH AFRICA'S CORN CROP

The estimated production of corn in South Africa, as announced by the Department of Agriculture of the government, has been revised to approximately 34,135,714 bushels, instead of 35,454,300 bushels as formerly reported. With an estimated domestic consumption of 85,000,000 bushels, based on a five-year average between 1914 and 1919, the present season's output, together with the small carry-over stocks of last year, will just about meet the domestic demand, leaving no surplus for export.

NO GETTING AWAY FROM IT

Washington Man's Name, in Some Way, Intimated That He Was an Easy Mark.

Before Frederick W. Steckman became the Washington representative of certain financial interests in New York, he occupied just a simple office of his own, with his name painted on the glass door. Steckman had always marked, a sympathetic fellow who was susceptible to more than his share of hard-luck tales.

One night as Fred Steckman sat in his office alone a wayfarer came in the door, related a sorrowful tale and touched Steckman for the price of a meal. As Steckman handed over the money and exhibited just a bit of impatience he asked:

"Say, I wish you'd tell me one thing: Out of all the men and offices in this big building why did you select me and this office to make a touch?"

"Well," said the panhandler, "I dunno exactly, except that your name sorter looked easy. I looked 'em all over all down the corridor, and when I came to Steckman it somehow suggested to me that here was a kindly fellow who'd fall for my yarn. And you did. I don't know why it struck me that way, but it did."

"Well, I'll be d—d," said Steckman, as he turned back to his desk; "even my name costs me money."—Washington Post.

NEW BILL OF RIGHTS IS NOW BEING SOUGHT

Chicago, Feb. 24.—A current era of "increased congressional demagoguery in utterance, flaunting of radical doctrines, pardoning of men convicted of treason and inciting of lawless action by the wieldy power of certain labor leaders," was Mr. Average Citizen's panoramic, as pictured by Charles G. Wawes, former director of the national budget, in an address before the Union League Club Thursday night.

Mentioning no names, save a tribute to "our great, strong and determined President Harding," Mr. Dawes said:

Scores Mob Tragedies

"The average American citizen has witnessed the pardoning of men convicted of treason against our government in time of war, done with the apparent purpose of currying political favor with the disreputable elements of our population.

"Here in Chicago he has seen a mayor elected upon a republican ticket announce a platform which would do credit to soviet Russia and seek to force it through a republican state convention.

"In congress he has witnessed in the last few years more demagoguery in utterance than ever before has characterized it.

"He has witnessed a newly elected senator rush into the senate debates with radical, inflammatory and untrue statements.

"He was shocked at the human beasts at Herrin and the lawless acts at Harrison, Ark.

"Some Progress Made"

"We have seen tremendous power wielded by certain labor leaders who understand mob psychology and the influence of radicals who lead masses of people to lawless action."

Mr. Average Citizen is demanding a new bill of rights, Dawes declared, "because the power of organized minorities has become as dangerous to the liberty of the individuals as ever was the power of a prince."

"He who reasons that a halt to weakness in law enforcement and demagoguery is not about to be called and that conditions will become worse, little understands the American people. Some progress has been made—that from the Adamson law to the Daugherty injunction, which in my judgment, future generations will regard as the beginning of a new era of law and order. Through it our government announces the right of a man to work is as sacred as the right of a man to stop work."

MOTHER! MOVE CHILD'S BOWELS

"California Fig Syrup" is Child's Best Laxative

Even a sick child loves the "fruity" taste of "California Fig Syrup." If the little stomach is upset, tongue coated, or if the child is cross, feverish, full of cold, or has colic, a teaspoonful will never fail to open the bowels. In a few hours you can see for yourself how thoroughly it works all the constipation poison, sour bile and waste from the tender, little bowels, and you'll see a well, cheerful child again.

Millions of mothers keep "California Fig Syrup" handy. They know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has directions for the babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother! You must say "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup.

TICK ERADICATION

Fort Worth Texas, Feb 27.—Federal authorities are prepared to co-operate in tick eradication work in Texas in 1923 to the same extent as in the record year of 1922.

These preparations are made, of course, in the belief that the tick eradication work of the state will continue to be such that the federal government could co-operate with the Livestock Sanitary Commission of Texas to advantage.

Statement to this effect was made Tuesday by Dr. W. M. McKellar of Washington, assistant chief, Tick Eradication Division, U. S. Bureau of Animal Industry.

"Last year, with more than 50,000,000 dippings in Texas, exceeded our expectations by 3,000,000," Dr. McKellar said. "Federal appropriations on an equally good basis are in prospect for this year, and we plan work on the same scale."

Dr. McKellar declined to comment on the Texas legislation aimed against tick eradication work, further than to say that the federal government would certainly not maintain the co-operative work unless they felt that state regulations would permit it to be carried on to advantage.

He also pointed to the official statement of the bureau, which predicted quarantine measures against Texas cattle if certain pending legislation became a law.

Withdrawal of tick eradication work, should that come, would mean the end of "official movements" of cattle in any state where that action was taken, Dr. McKellar said.

This would mean the tending of the cattle to Southern yards, for immediate slaughter only, and where prices are about half of those in the native yards, he said, or it would mean expensive holding of the cattle in the stockyards while they were going through the necessary dippings in order to get them on the native side.

JOYS OF LIVING

Who has not wished that he had lived in some remote happy time? The magnificence of Rome, the glory of Greece, the golden chariots, the alabaster vases and the ivory chairs of Tutankhamen fascinate and enthral. Looking about upon a sick and weary world, nerve shattered and hungry, it is not difficult to imagine how pleasant life must have been in an easier, golden day.

Yet, if we had been living in the days of the pampered Pharaohs, the vast majority of us would have been digging the irrigation ditches, sweating over the great stones that went to the pyramids, or—if we had been particularly clever—perhaps hammering the gold that went into the obelisks and statues of the king. The comforts of life were only at the top in 1,500 B. C., and even the hope of improvement had not percolated to the bottom. There may be some consolation for the dissatisfied man of today in this thought—that his lot would have been infinitely worse 3,000 or more years ago.

It's easier to live today than ever before. If the world is in a sorry plight, if there is hunger in Central Europe, desperation in France, unemployment in Great Britain, a fuel shortage in the United States, that is man's fault. Nearly all the woes from which the world suffers might have been prevented. But when an ancient civilization was overrun by a savage horde, or when plague or famine decimated the population of the fairest cities, the wisest of those people could not help themselves.

Migratory tribes have since been pretty well billeted and tickled, railroads and steamships have conquered famine, and intelligent sanitation and magnificently brave and curious medicine is less respectful of disease with each passing year.

WOMEN TAXPAYERS

Thousands of women are required to file an income tax return and pay a tax on their net income for the year 1922. No official estimate can be given of the number of such women, but statistics of income for the year 1922 recently issued show that approximately 503,000 women filed returns for that year, claiming the $1,000 exemption allowed a single person. The amount of net income reported by those women was $1,264,955,727. In addition there were filed 132,181 returns by women claiming an exemption of $2,000 as the head of a family, "a person who supports and maintains in one household one or more individuals closely related to him (or her) by blood, marriage or adoption." Net income reported by these women for the year 1922 amounted to $388,364,530. Under the revenue act now in force the personal exemption allowed the head of a family is $2,500 if the net income for 1922 was $5,000 or less, and $2,000 if the net income exceeded $5,000.

The number of wives making separate returns from husbands for the year 1922, was 77,588 reporting net incomes of $534,840,405. These figures show the income reported in returns filed by women forms an important part in the aggregate income of the people of the United States.

A woman who was widowed during the year 1922, unless the head of a family, or remarried on or before December 31, 1922, may claim a personal exemption of only $1,000. A divorcee, or wife who continuously and without necessity makes her home apart from her husband is classed as a single person, and entitled to only the $1,000 personal exemption.

Whether a man and wife are "living apart" for the purpose of the income tax law depends upon individual circumstances. A wife who supports an invalid husband in a sanitarium may claim the exemption allowed a married couple. The separation is one of necessity.

The revenue act does not prescribe the amount of the exemption allowed a married woman living with her husband. Married couples living together are granted an exemption of $2,500 or $2,000, depending upon whether their combined income is $5,000 or less, or more than $5,000. Husband and wife may make separate returns, or they may make a joint return. In the event separate returns are made, either husband or wife may claim the exemption allowed married persons, or they may divide it between them in such proportion as they choose.

The period for filing income tax returns ends at midnight March 15.

MAY WANT TO LAUGH

On the opening of the British Parliament the king makes a speech. Naturally it would be assumed that it is his speech which he delivers. Concerning the latest deliverance a dispatch from London says that "not for generations has the cabinet had so much difficulty in drafting that portion of the speech pertaining to 'my relations with foreign powers'." Marquis Curzon is credited with the original draft; then it was "altered, softened, reinforced, rewritten, and blue-penciled until it was acceptable to the other cabinet ministers." When everybody except the king, apparently, had been consulted and has agreed the king was given his speech.

It's a nice job of being king of England. He only has to rule. Others attend to the matter of writing his speeches. Perhaps the British are so wedded to the perpetuation of old forms and esteem them so essential to the maintenance of the realm that most of them do not discover the absurdity of "my relations with foreign powers," though some certainly possess a sufficiently keen sense of humor to appreciate the grotesqueness of it. However, they may suppress their mirth when the King "mys" things dreadfully. Yet, we must give George credit for being something of an actor if he carries through his part as though it were not a play. He must want to laugh when it occurs to him that some may think his speech he is delivering is one he thought out himself.

WORKING FOR A GREAT CAUSE

Leon Burgeois, who recently was re-elected president of the French senate has resigned to devote the remainder of his life to the League of Nations. His action follows somewhat closely that of John H. Clarke, of Ohio, who gave up his seat in the United States supreme court that he might dedicate his whole life to this ideal of world peace and justice.

These are impressive manifestations of the hold this great humanitarian project has on the hearts and minds of men. Great causes have always been marked by similar dedications of zealous men and women. The vital issue of slavery, of free government of liberty has summoned in like manner to its help its crusaders.

Let those who regard the League of Nations as a transitory whim, a fetish, or an ephemeral international topic, pause a moment to observe that its followers are growing amazingly fast and that it is creating those evidences of devotion that have ever marked the progress of an ideal that was founded in the everlasting principle of Right.

Many persons are willing to give and take, but the shrewd ones take a little more than they give.

It hasn't occurred to Harding, just possibly, that there is good material for appointive positions outside the ranks of the lame ducks.

NEW YORKERS BURNING WOOD

Builders, It is Said, Are Being Besieged by Householders Asking for Old Lumber.

Householders in all parts of New York, according to the observations of firewood this fall. This is taken to indicate that many of them are anticipating a coal shortage during the coming winter.

In backyard sections everywhere it is a common sight to see the male members of the family busily engaged in splitting boards and lumber into kindling wood. This firewood, as a householder expressed it, is not intended to supplant coal, but to help save it.

"At this time last year," a builder said, "I used to give wood away occasionally when I was tearing down or repairing old buildings. I used to hang out a sign reading, 'Wood given away free for the asking.' My only stipulation was that persons applying for it should cart it away for themselves. It may surprise you when I tell you that my wood often went begging. It is quite different this year. I do not have to hang out a sign; every day I am besieged by men, women and children soliciting old lumber for firewood. There are so many of these applicants that I have to turn most of them away."

"I am sure that this demand for firewood means that much more wood is going to be burned in fires this winter than in the past."

PUTTING IT UP TO TINSMITH

Mr. Fijit Wants to Know Why Stovepipe Is Always Adjusted to Such Small Dimensions.

One of the unsolved mysteries of everyday life is why a stovepipe man will always make a stovepipe too small. Give him the old pipe as a pattern and he will send a new piece that can't be put on even with a shoe horn, remarks a New York Sun writer. Fijit had a bandage around his finger when he got to the office the other morning and explained that he had vainly tried to adjust a piece of stovepipe that was too small.

"If it had been an inch too large it would have been all right," he said. "For it rested on the stove and could not come off. But that tinsmith, believed in a snug fit, and he made the pipe so small that I had to send it back after working with it for half an hour and cutting my finger."

Two other men in the office said they had similar experiences the last week and no one could offer an explanation of the thinness of the stovepipe.

Remarkable Family.

Marcus Aurelius has just celebrated his eighty-second birthday and the seventy-third year of his notable career as fisherman on Lake Huron. All of the brothers and sisters of Marcus have not survived to join in the celebration, but if they had all been there the list of those present would include Julius Caesar Hitchcock, Benjamin Franklin Hitchcock, Cyrenus Denmark Hitchcock, Theodore Wellington Hitchcock, Euphemia Ophelia Hitchcock, Diadema Rosetta Hitchcock, Melissa Hitchcock, James Alexander Hitchcock, Apollus Napoleon Hitchcock and Samuel Lake Hitchcock. "Old Marc," as he is familiarly termed by those who choose to ignore his share in the family roll of fame, has never missed a season on the lake since he was nine years old; has saved 14 people from drowning; was a champion figure skater, and states that he will be on the ice again this winter.

Damage by Floods in Bengal.

The floods in north Bengal have affected 1,500 square miles and 1,500,000 people. The loss of life appears to be relatively small but many cattle have perished, crops have been destroyed as well as many villages. Thousands of half-starved persons have taken refuge on railway embankments and other high ground and are being maintained by relief funds and government grants. The floods have begun to subside, but an immense area is still inundated. An outbreak of disease, especially of cholera, is feared as the waters abate, owing to putrefaction of carcasses of cattle.

Devotion.

The Woman took her small visiting niece to church with her. The city service was much more ritualistic than that of the village church which the little girl had been in the habit of attending, but the woman was pleased to notice that she seemed very interested and very devout. After church, on the way home, the woman asked:

"And did you like the service, dear?"

"Oh, yes, auntie, it was very interesting," the little girl answered politely. "Course I was sort of confused at first, but I just watched you, and every time you lame-ducked I did, too!"—Chicago Journal.

An Enduring Heel.

Aluminum heels for boots and shoes are the invention of a designer of Northampton, the center of England's boot and shoemaking industry. It is colored to match the shoe. To the base of the heel is screwed a piece of leather, which, when worn out, can be replaced at a cost not exceeding 12 cents a pair. The heel itself will not wear down, even when the leather has

PROVERBS WHICH ONE QUOTES

People Naturally Are Apt to Use Those Which Relate to Their Businesses.

Did you ever notice how provincial and self-centered the world is? Why, we can't hold an ordinary conversation without some hint of our petty business affairs entering in. The very proverbs which we affect, the very bromides of speech to which we are subject, are all directly traceable to our particular every-day pursuits.

Having always suspected this to be true, I one day set about to prove it. In my daily search for Judgelets, I made the rounds of all my friends, engaging them in pleasant colloquy. Here's the result:

"I'm pleased to meet you," smiled the butcher.

"Suit yourself," said the tailor.

"That's right," agreed the traffic cop.

"And so forth," said the dressmaker.

"That's a dirty shame," observed the washwoman.

"Every little bit helps," philosophized the carpenter.

"That's the long and short of it," retorted the rural telegraph operator.

"Try to keep a stiff upper lip," admonished the barber.

"Yes, I need it," protested the baker.

"I'm not very well posted on that," faltered the bookkeeper.

"These words shall be my last," averred the cobbler.—Alfa Eugene Hye, in Judge.

OBJECTS TO TERM 'MASSACRE'

Author Insists That Custer's Last Fight Must Properly Be Described as a Battle.

Cyrus Townsend Brady, LL.D., in the preface of a volume on "Indian Fights and Fighters," makes a marked distinction between the terms "massacre" and "battle." He says that every time a body of troops engaged in a fight with Indians and the troops were outnumbered or caught at a disadvantage, and the battle was continued until the troops were slaughtered, such an affair was popularly called a "massacre," as, for instance, "The Custer Massacre."

Mr. Brady believes this to be an unwarranted use of the term. Custer, the author points out, attacked the Indians and fought desperately until he and his men were all killed. He calls it a "battle" and not a "massacre." When an Indian war party raided a settlement or overwhelmed a train, or murdered women and children, that, he thinks, was a "massacre." The author says:

"I would like to ask if anyone ever heard of the 'Massacre of Thermopylae'?" The Greeks fought there until all save one were killed. The results there were exactly the same as those of the battle of the Little Big Horn, but I have yet to read in history that the Persians "massacred" the Greeks in that famous pass."

Rush to Diamond Fields.

The biggest rush in the history of the Transvaal alluvial diamond diggings has taken place at Kaaipants, 50 miles from Johannesburg. Three thousand would-be diggers formed a line 2,100 yards long. A proclamation having been read, a Union Jack was lowered, and the long line of seekers after fortune moved off at the double over a thousand yards of green, undulating country. Young men and old, both British and Dutch, boys and women and girls, surged forward brandishing pegs. There was great excitement around the richest spot, but so vast was the diamond field that there were claims for all and to spare. Within a little while a thousand diggers had begun work with pick and shovel, and some excellent finds were made. So far, diamonds weighing 1,450 carats and valued at $68,000 have been found at Kaaipants.

Made it Personal.

A little girl had been taken to church by her Aunt Helen. On returning home her mother began to cross-examine her as to what she had heard.

"What hymn did you have, dear?" she asked.

The little girl's memory failing her for the moment, she turned inquiringly to her aunt who whispered in her ear: "Sun of My Soul, dear."

"Well, what was it?" her mother asked, a trifle impatiently.

"Sun of Aunt Helen's Soul" was the reply that astonished her parent.

Windmills in Place of Sails.

Windmills to drive ships are the product of the French inventions department, an official war agency that has been continued. These windmills are intended to enable countries without coal or oil fields to sail the seas without coal or petroleum. The power of the windmill is transmitted below decks, where it later appears at the propellers.—The Nation's Business.

Dog's Bark Proved Expensive.

The barking of a dog so frightened a flock of 2,000 sheep returning in the dark from the mountain pastures at Freney d'Oisans, near Grenoble, France, that they rushed over a ravine. The shepherd, in attempting to stop them, was dragged over with them, but was rescued, though his condition was grave. Numbers of the sheep were killed.

WOMEN IN MEN'S PLACES

The extent to which women are taking men's places in industry and business; that is, the places formerly considered exclusively men's is strikingly shown in a report of the women's bureau of the department of labor, dealing with the occupational returns in the last census. Women were then employed in 537 of the 572 occupations listed, revealing how small a sphere man can yet consider his own.

Women real estate dealers increased over 214 percent, while the men gained not quite 14. There was almost a doubling of the women employed in transportation. Some 12,000 women entered automobile factories. Others are reported as coal mine operators, technical engineers, architects, and even longshoremen, stevedores and laborers on streets and repairs. At the same time there was a 65 percent increase in the number of men engaged as cleaners, against but a seven percent gain in charwomen. In fact, there has been a notable decrease in women workers in and for the homes and in personal service occupations, with a marked increase in clerical and similar occupations.

WHEN DO ELEPHANTS DIE?

One of the greatest mysteries of the natural history world is when elephants go when they die. Curiously enough the body of an elephant that has died from natural causes has never been discovered in India or Africa. Among native races there is a widespread belief that, when the great beasts feel the end approaching they make their way to some secret hiding place in which to die. The whole question is just as big a mystery as ever, in spite of the fact that many attempts have been made to solve the problem. The districts where elephants live in a wild state have been scoured in all directions in the hope of discovering the last resting place of the huge animals, but without any result. Quite recently another determined attempt has been made to penetrate the mystery, but up to the present nothing of any value has been discovered. As a matter of fact the problem has more than a scientific interest to it. Any individual who is so fortunate as to find the elephant's graveyard will certainly have made a fortune. On this spot, there must be a huge accumulation of ivory, a commodity which is continually increasing in value.—Scientific American.

IMPORTANT MEASURES BEFORE LEGISLATURE

Austin, Texas, Feb. 24.—Governor Neff's 32 new appointments sent to the senate this week were reported favorably by the nominations committee yesterday afternoon with the exception of Mrs. Charles DeGoff of El Paso as member of the board of regents of the newly created West Texas Technological College.

The list approved included Adjutant General Thomas D. Barton, whose appointment has been protested by a number of members.

Compromise Expected

Austin, Texas, Feb. 24.—A compromise with the house on the Pope textbook bill, which seeks to annul recent awards of the state textbook commission was under way in the senate yesterday.

The plan suggested would extend contracts in force on December 1 to 1925, and leave the matter of letting new contracts entirely in the hands of the textbook commission.

Uphold Constitutionality

Austin, Texas, Feb. 24.—Constitutionality of the Wood senate bill, which appropriates approximately $450,000 to meet deficiencies occurring during the last two years in the state funds, was upheld in an opinion by the attorney general's department yesterday to Representative Quaid, chairman of the house appropriations committee. The bill has passed the senate and was attacked in the house.

Take Up Labor Problem

Austin, Texas, Feb. 24.—The farm "bloc" of the legislature yesterday voted to undertake a statewide system of co-operating with the state labor department in handling the distribution of labor in Texas during the coming season. The plan was placed before the group of Labor Commissioner Joseph S. Myers. A committee of the "bloc" was appointed to work out details.

The plan of distribution is based on reports to the state department from farmers in each section when a demand for or surplus of labor occurs, Commissioner Myers said.

Crawford Bill

Austin, Texas, Feb. 24.—The house committee on commerce and manufacturing yesterday reported favorably the Crawford bill permitting the manufacture of carbon black from natural gas produced within 25 miles of the boundary line of an adjoining state in which the manufacture of carbon is not prohibited. An unfavorable minority report was filed.

MAYFIELD RESIGNS

Austin, Texas, Feb. 26.—Earle B. Mayfield has tendered his resignation as railroad commissioner, effective March 1, and announced that he will leave for Washington tomorrow.

Appointed on Commission

Austin, Texas, Feb. 26.—Governor Neff has announced the appointment of Wm. W. Splawn, dean of the Department of Economics of the University of Texas, and W. A. Nabors of Winnsboro as members of the railroad commission succeeding Earle B. Mayfield and the late Allison Mayfield.

Roads Not Liable

By a vote of 14 to 17, the senate refused to pass the Bowers-Strong bill making railroads liable for property depreciation when shops and offices are removed from a town. A motion to reconsider the bill was lost, killing the bill.

MASKED BAND PROBE OPENS IN FLORIDA

Tampa, Fla., Feb. 22.—The United States department of justice has momentarily turned its investigation of "hooded mobs" from Louisiana to Florida, it became known yesterday when it became revealed that residents of Kissimmee and Osceola counties are coming to Tampa in groups to tell government investigators what they know about recent depredations of masked bands.

EL PASO PUTS SKIDS
UNDER KLAN CANDIDATE

El Paso, Texas, Feb. 26.—The Ku Klux Klan met a political setback of importance in Texas Saturday as shown by official returns of the El Paso City election.

R. M. Dudley, anti-klan candidate for nomination for mayor, decisively defeated P. E. Gardner, candidate who was said to have had the klan endorsement.

With 32 out of 37 precincts accounted for, Dudley had 5855 votes to Gardner's 3849. The remaining precincts can not change the result.

In conceding his defeat, Gardner and C. L. Sirmans, admitted spokesman for the local klan, announced they would start a daily newspaper here within a few days. All of the three dailies here opposed Gardner's ticket.

Dudley, successful candidate, is president pro tem of the Texas state senate.

Claim Clean Sweet

El Paso, Texas, Feb. 26.—State Senator R. M. Dudley, known as "Dick" Dudley to thousands of West Texans and a prominent figure in state politics for years, has been nominated for mayor of El Paso, on the face of returns which gave his entire electoral ticket a substantial lead. Nomination is equivalent to election.

The election was the climax of one of the hottest mayoralty fights El Paso has ever had, and for a time during the day the authorities were closely on the alert anticipating local outbreaks. Special police were on duty at every precinct.

Dudley's fight was pitched mainly on open opposition to the Ku Klux Klan. His opponent, Gardner, is said to have had the El Paso klan's endorsement.

Dudley, as a member of the state senate, has been especially active in sponsoring legislation in the interest of Texas cattlemen, and he has regularly attended meetings of the various stock raisers' organizations in Texas for years.

His ticket follows: For city council: H. P. Jackson, owner of an automobile house; W. Ramsey, real estate agent; M. C. Trach, railroad conductor; A. B. Poe, owner of a cemetery. For police judge, Charles Kroegel, lawyer. For city treasurer, Dave Sullivan, insurance man, incumbent.

PECULIAR ACCIDENT

Fort Worth, Texas, Feb. 24.—The efforts of 25 men in a hard rain were required to rescue J. T. Lewelyn, an oil operator, from a burning gas well in the Putnam field last night. He was standing on the floor of the derrick when the well came in and was set on fire. The flaming gas was thrown over Lewelyn and the drilling crew went to the rescue. He was badly burned about the face and head, but will recover.

MILLIONS ARE INVOLVED IN COUNTERFEIT SWINDLE

New York, Feb. 22.—Secret service operatives today had 64 persons under arrest in New York in connection with an international counterfeiting plot said to involve from $1,000,000 to $10,000,000 spurious money.

The federal agents said they were now extending their net to Detroit, Chicago, San Francisco and other large cities, and that approximately 1,000 persons will be taken into custody as soon as the evidence against them is complete.

Wholesale Distributors

Nine large wholesale distributors of counterfeit money, with a central plant located on Cornelia street in Greenwich Village, have been located, Mr. Palma said. These plants were in Manhattan, Brooklyn, Long Island and New Jersey.

Counterfeit bills in denominations of $2, $5, $10 and $20 were sent in great numbers all over the United States, Cuba, West Indies and the European ports, he said. In addition the country was flooded with gold and silver counterfeit pieces. Millions of counterfeit United States revenue stamps and liquor labels were also sent out.

Promise Further Raids

Although as far as could be learned arrests were being made at present only in this federal district, it was said that before the raids ended secret service men would descend on the foreign colony in virtually all the large cities of the country tomorrow.

It was learned from police sources that the government agents had seized more than $100,000 in spurious 10 and 20-dollar bills, as well as the equipment for their manufacture. Also in federal hands was paraphernalia for printing bogus whiskey, beer and champagne labels, as well as fake Italian and Austrian notes.

Devices for manufacturing bogus coin from alloy also were said to have been found. The counterfeiters were believed to have worked principally among foreigners.

Several of the prisoners arrested in Brooklyn showed indications of having put up a stiff fight. Federal agents would neither confirm nor deny a report that in the case of an arrest made at Long Island City a pistol battle had occurred that one man was arrested after he leaped from a second story window.

Purchase of Whiskey

Purchase of narcotics and whiskey from rum-runners off the New Jersey coast, which was paid for in counterfeit bills, constituted an important ramification of the ring's operations, Joseph A. Palma, chief of a special squad of operatives revealed.

Smugglers disposed of the money in Canada, the West Indies and other points.

The counterfeit plant raided in Cornelia street had been partially dismantled, but bogus certificates of a face value exceeding $100,000 were found. Additional evidence was uncovered in another raid on a plant in Long Island City, where hundreds of thousands of liquor commission stamps and revenue stamps and large quantities of water-marked prohibition paper was found.

LAFOLLETTE HOLDS RECORD FOR "DISTANCE" TALKING

Washington, Feb. 22.—The present filibuster being staged against the filibuster being staged in the senate against the ship subsidy bill bids fair to equal if not to surpass any long talking records in congress.

Predictions are made by opponents of the bill that the continuous session record of 54 hours and 10 minutes hung up in 1915 in the closing days of the Sixty-Third congress will be surpassed. That record was made by republicans in a filibuster against President Wilson's democratic shipping bill to organize a stock company to take over vessels engaged in foreign trade.

During that debate Senator Smoot of Utah spoke 11 hours and 25 minutes. He failed, however, to equal the speaking record of Senator LaFollette who in 1908 spoke 18 hours and 23 minutes.

SCHOOL FUND INCREASED

A few days ago the Sentinel published a statement that the school appropriation then available would be about $2 per scholastic.

Saturday morning Miss Exler Lewis, county superintendent, informed the reporter that this amount had been increased to $3 per scholastic, her information having come officially from State Superintendent Marrs.

This increase certainly will be welcome, as it will enable quite a number of the rural schools to prolong their terms.

France will apparently never be satisfied until the Germans are convinced they lost the war.

ROBBED AND BOUND,
TYLER MAN REPORTS

Tyler, Texas, Feb. 22.—A. C. Roll, an employee of the Cotton Belt Railroad shops here, missing since February 16, was found wandering in the Sabine river bottoms late Tuesday night in a weakened and delirious condition.

Wolf disappeared Friday. He had gone to cash his own pay check and the checks of many other employees of his department.

In a statement to County Attorney Goens and Sheriff Strange today, he declared that after he had cashed the checks and was paying a bill near a church on West Common Street, two men wearing long black overcoats appeared and, drawing guns, forced him into an automobile. The men drove for about two hours, or until the river bottoms were reached, he declared, and he then was blindfolded and forced to walk for fully two hours more.

Wolf said he was robbed and bound and then left on the ground, with the promise that aid would come in a few days. He said he was released by two negroes Saturday afternoon and wandered around until he was found, and the sheriff notified late Tuesday.

HOURLY BATTLE IS FOUGHT IN IRISH CAPITAL

Dublin, Feb. 22.—A battle of one hour's duration between republican irregulars and Free State troops was fought in the heart of Dublin yesterday. Fighting began when the irregulars attacked the Bank of Ireland. Free State troops were rushed to the scene. Meantime, the irregulars had taken shelter behind barricades.

The violent volley of shots that followed threw the entire center of the city into panic.

Irregulars took up positions on roof tops and fired at passing Free State soldiers. The latter rushed into the buildings, firing as they ran.

Rebels entered government buildings and started fires, but they were extinguished by firemen before they did serious damage.

A cordon of Free State troops was thrown about that section of the city where the fighting was most severe.

DISCRIMINATORY RATES ORDERED ABANDONED

Washington, Feb. 23.—The present freight rates on cotton compressed in transit or prior shipments between Oklahoma and Arkansas producing territory and Galveston, Houston and Texas City are discriminatory against those ports, the Interstate Commerce Commission has decided. This was said to constitute an undue preference to New Orleans and Mobile and a general revision of schedules was ordered, to take effect May 31.

COLORED TEACHER KILLED WHEN AUTO OVERTURNS

Susie Bonaparte, colored, teacher of the colored school at Live Oak, near Melrose, was instantly killed about 1 o'clock Saturday morning when the car in which she was riding was overturned in a ditch at the Tom Burrows place, three miles east of the city. The woman's school gave a closing entertainment Friday night, and she decided to return home to Nacogdoches. One of the wheels of the car had lost a tire and the driver, Anderson Lewis, was trying to make the trip on the rim. The jolting caused by lack of a tire broke one of the radius rods and the car became unmanageable. The machine ran off the road and turned over in a ditch, pinning the occupants underneath. The woman was on the front seat with the driver. Her husband, Will Bonaparte, and another party were on the rear seat. Susie was whirled around with her face to the seat and her face against the windshield, the side of the car falling across her breast. Will Bonaparte managed to get out his knife and cut a hole through the top of the car, thus emerging from the wreck, and soon had found assistance to lift the machine from those still under it. The body was brought to town by Cason, Monk & Company's ambulance and prepared for burial.

It is claimed the car was moving at a speed not exceeding 15 miles an hour, and this probably is true, as it would have been unusual to go faster when traveling on a rim. The road at the point of the disaster is said to be rather rough, and being unable to steel properly, it is not strange the driver let the machine get out of control.

The dead woman was about 45 years old, and was accounted one of the most efficient of the county's colored teachers.

MRS. R. B. PARKER

Mrs. R. B. Parker of the Smith's Chapel community, died Thursday, and interment was made at 10 o'clock Friday morning in the Fairview cemetery, Rev. A. T. Garrard conducting the service in the presence of a large concourse of sorrowing relatives and friends of the family.

Deceased was 67 years old, and is survived by her husband and nine children, three boys and six girls, and these have the warmest sympathy of all who knew the good woman. She had been in frail health for more than four years, and for the two months preceding her death had been confined to her bed. She will be sadly missed in the community where she lived so long and where she had accomplished so much good by precept and example.

JOAQUIN WINNER

The contest for the bi-district basketball championship was played on the Nacogdoches court Saturday morning between Joaquin and Groveton, the former winning by a score of 50 to 18. This places Joaquin in the state championship contest, which is to be played at Austin next Friday.

At Timpson on the 17th Joaquin defeated Nacogdoches by a score of 35 to 15 and Lufkin by a score of 42 to 16.

Joaquin has the best team in the district, and here's hoping the boys walk away with the state championship. If they are defeated, their opponents will know they have been in a large-sized scrap.

PARKER SAYS KLAN
WORSE THAN WEEVIL

Atlanta, Ga., Feb. 22.—Governor John M. Parker of Louisiana said he considers the Ku Klux Klan a greater menace to the Southern farmer than the boll weevil, and for the present will continue his fight to eradicate that organization, in replying to Governor Hardwick's invitation to a conference of Southern governors.

The Louisiana executive also said that for the present he would let others look after the extermination of the South's cotton pest, but would appoint a representative to attend the meeting.

GREAT FRENCHMAN DEAD

Paris, Feb. 22.—Theophile Delcasse, former minister for foreign affairs, died suddenly at Nice last night.

TRIBUTE TO WASHINGTON

Washington, Feb. 22.—Federal Prohibition Commissioner Haynes issued a statement declaring that from the character of George Washington the American people should draw a lesson of patience and confidence in overcoming the forces at work against the wellbeing of the nation, particularly regarding prohibition enforcement. The official celebration of Washington's birthday centered in ceremonies around the Washington monument.

COMB HAIR AND IT STAYS COMBED, GLOSSY

Grassless Combing Cream Costs Only
Few Cents a Jar at any Drug Store

Even obstinate, unruly or shampooed hair stays combed all day in any style you like. "Hair-Groom" is a dignified combing cream which gives that natural gloss and well-groomed effect to your hair—that final touch to good dress both in business and on social occasions. Millions use grassless, stainless "Hair-Groom" because it does not show on the hair. It is absorbed by the scalp, therefore the hair remains so soft and pliable and so natural that no one can possibly tell you used it. Not sticky or smelly.

BILL FOR SURVEY OF INTRACOASTAL CANAL

Washington, Feb. 22.—Favorable report was ordered yesterday by the house rivers and harbors committee on the bill directing the secretary of war to make a survey of the Intracoastal Canal to extend from the mouth of the Mississippi river to Corpus Christi, Texas.

While the greater part of this canal is already under improvement by the government, some of the important links have been left out.

Sections which have been completed have different depths, ranging from five to nine feet. It is proposed that the connecting links be completed and the entire length of the canal be given a depth of nine feet.

The survey will bring out the work needed to complete the canal and will bring all the data before the next congress.

HOUSE REPORTS TWO AMENDMENT BILLS

Washington, Feb. 23.—Two proposed amendments to the constitution were ordered reported to the house. One by Senator Norris, republican, Nebraska, would change from March to January the date of inaugurating presidents, and from December to January the time for the convening of the regular session of congress.

The other by Representative Foster, republican, Ohio, would give congress power concurrent with that of the several states to limit and prohibit the labor of persons under the age of 18. A similar amendment has been reported by a senate committee.

MORE FIRE VICTIMS

Kansas City, Mo., Feb. 23.—Three persons were burned to death and nine others were missing in a fire here early today which destroyed a rooming house. The dead are Mrs. Elisha Colston, Violet Colston, 5, and Vernon Colston, 2. The missing are Lee Brown, his wife and four children; Mrs. Sargent, Donald Sargent and Mrs. Munyon. The property damage was estimated at $20,000. The origin of the fire was undetermined.

Twelve persons were burned to death and five are missing, according to a later report. The list includes Alonzo Bardwell, wife and infant; Chester S. Layton and Edgar Munyon. The only bodies identified were the Colstons.

CORNS

Lift Off with Fingers

Doesn't hurt a bit! Drop a little "Freezone" on an aching corn, instantly that corn stops hurting, then shortly you lift it right off with fingers. Truly! Your druggist sells a tiny bottle of "Freezone" for a few cents, sufficient to remove every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the calluses, without surgery or treatment.

"Slimy Taste"

"When I feel stupid, get constipated, or bilious, I take a good dose or two of Black-Draught and it sets me straight," writes Mr. George B. Halsey, of R. F. D. 2, Columbia, S. C. "It cleanses the liver and I feel all right, and have not used any other medicine as I do not see the need of it. I am a guard at the State Reformatory, and have been for three or more years. When I first heard of

BLACK-DRAUGHT

and the good medicine it was, I had been having a tired feeling when I'd get up in the morning. I would be stiff and sore, and had a slimy, bad taste in my mouth, but didn't think so much of it till I began to feel stupid and didn't feel like eating—then I knew I needed medicine. It was then I began Black-Draught, and I felt all made over, ready for any kind of work, ready to eat and sleep. So, for any return of this trouble, I take Black-Draught, and for 25 years it has been my medicine, and I wouldn't be without it at all. My work is constant. I am on my feet a lot. I am out of doors, and fresh air and Black-Draught are all the medicines I need. I recommend it to others for I know it is good."

SPECIAL VENIRE CASES

Following are the cases for which special juries have been ordered have been set by the court for the dates named. The attorneys for the defendants are also given. District Attorney F. P. Marshall will, of course, be the prosecutor:

State vs. Arlington Caldwell, colored, murder, set for Monday, March 12. Special venire of 75. Harris & Harris and S. M. Adams, attorneys.

Ethan Shannon and Henry Tut, colored, murder, Thursday, March 5. Venire of 60. S. M. Adams, attorney.

Louis Watts, colored, murder, Friday, March 16. Venire of 40. S. M. Adams, attorney.

Janie Blount, colored, murder, Thursday, March 22. Venire of 50. S. M. Adams, attorney.

The jurors for these special venires are warned to be on hand promptly when they are needed.

ROTARIANS MEET

Regular meeting February 21, Vice President Flat Fork Davis, presiding.

Absentees—Guy Blount, Little Joe Langston, Hy McKnight, Red Muller, Lake Orton, Tom Summers and Lucky Thomas.

Guests—Rotarian J. C. Pridmore and Messrs. Buchanan and Williams.

Minutes of last meeting were read, corrected and approved.

Andy Walter, A. W. and Past President Albert talked on the necessity of at least 60 to 75 percent of our members attending the Thirteenth District Rotary Conference to be held in Beaumont on March 20th and 21st.

Vice President Flat Fork appointed Past President Albert, Guy, Roscoe, Pat and Orland a committee to call upon every member and persuade them to attend said conference.

Rotarian Pridmore, whose headquarters is in Shreveport, made an instructive talk on Soil Improvement and in addition to soil improvement he stated to attend a District Conference of Rotary improves a Rotarian as much as proper terracing and fertilizing improves the soil.

But recommended that as many of us as could should arrange to go out and hear Rotarian Pridmore's talk on Soil Improvement.

Mrs. Locky did more than her share at yesterday's luncheon towards celebrating the 18th birthday of Rotary by furnishing us a luncheon fit for the kings and in addition placed a heart-shaped cake with 18 lighted candles in the center of the table; but as our sergeant-at-arms, Andy, said "hands off," we did not get to eat said cake. The writer thinks Andy carried it to his home in Northwest Lufkin. Those present rendered two songs. Meeting adjourned.

INDEPENDENT DISTRICTS

The independent school districts of the county were inadvertently omitted from the list of the schools entitled to state aid, printed a few days ago. Following are the names of districts and the sums allotted them:

Garrison district, $1,014; Chireno, $618; Woden, $502; Cushing, $720; Appleby, $384; Sacul, $288, and Nacogdoches, $3,850.

SPECIAL VENIRE CASES

Special venire cases have been set as follows for trial in district court:

A. D. Halton, murder, set for Tuesday, March 13. Venire of 50 jurors ordered. Seale & Denman, attorneys for defense.

Elwood Hall, murder, set for Wednesday, March 21. Venire of 100 ordered. Seale & Denman, attorneys for defense.

V. E. Simpson, one of our most progressive farmers, residing six miles out on the Chireno road, is having the E. M. Roberts Electrical Company install a Western Electric light and power plant at his home. Philmore Sanders of the Ferndale Farms is also improving his facilities for work and comfort by having a Fairbanks-Morse light and power plant installed by the Roberts Company. Many other rural dwellers might have advantage of private electrical plants at moderate costs, and the added convenience of these certainly would justify the expenditure.

Mr. J. S. Williams, representative of the Gulf Bitulithic Company, Houston, a subsidiary of the Texas Bitulithic Company, was in the city Monday in conference with our city authorities in regard to paving material.

TEACHERS EXAMINATION

There will be an examination of teachers in this city Friday and Saturday, March 2d and 3d, and all interested are requested to note the date.

Mr. G. C. Gribble and daughter, Daisy Mary, returned Thursday afternoon from Houston, where the little lady's eyes were examined by a specialist. Mr. Gribble also attended the laymen's meeting of the Presbyterian church.

Mrs. G. N. Cunningham arrived on the 2:30 E. & W. train Saturday afternoon from Houston for a visit with Mrs. S. E. Kelley.

As it stands, the dumb attitude of the administration has given Germany the idea that in American opinion she is Little Eva and France is the heavy villain.

ENGINEER PREPARED TO START ON STREET WORK

Engineer O. L. Forsgard, who will have charge of the street work program, has arrived and established neatly equipped offices in the City Hall. His force will comprise William Boyd, of Palestine, two assistants from the street engineering department of Houston and Messrs. C. B. Davis and M. C. Stone of this city. That sounds mighty good.

Work on the preliminary survey will begin tomorrow (Saturday) morning, and under fairly favorable weather conditions should be completed within six weeks. Then the actual construction work of street paving will be pushed to completion as rapidly as the job can be handled.

At last Nacogdoches appear to be on the eve of coming into her own in the matter of good streets.

Is a Prescription for Colds, Fever and LaGrippe. It's the most speedy remedy we know, Preventing Pneumonia.

In the case of Maples vs. Nacogdoches county, the jury yesterday returned an instructed verdict for $4,000 in favor of the plaintiff for the cost of road superintendent. It seems Mr. Maples had been regularly appointed to the position, had made his bond and otherwise qualified, when the commissioners' court entered an order discharging him. It was held by the district court that the commissioners exceeded their authority in thus cancelling a contract, Judge Guinn holding that the proper procedure should have been by impeachment. Mr. Maples gets his salary and holds his job.

Miss Exier Lewis, county superintendent of schools, and Dr. A. W. Birdwell, president of the Stephen F. Austin Normal College, attended a meeting at Mahl Thursday night where the school patrons of that district met with a like representation from Hickory Flat school district for the purpose of discussing the feasibility and advisability of consolidating the two districts, and the question now is of arranging details which will meet with the approval of those mostly concerned. There appears to be no doubt as to the advisability of the measure.

Sam Walling, who went to Nashville, Tenn., a few days ago to seek entrance in the pharmaceutical department of Vanderbilt University, returned home Sunday, being unable to matriculate on account of the lateness of his application. He will take a position in a drugstore at Oakdale, La., where he formerly was employed, until the beginning of the next term of Vanderbilt.

In speaking yesterday of the installation of a Fairbanks-Morse lighting and power plant at the Ferndale Farms we neglected to state that this equipment is handled exclusively here by Cason, Monk & Company. The one at the above place was sold by that firm.

JUDGE JAMES I. PERKINS

It is with sadness that we chronicle the death of Judge James I. Perkins, who passed away at 4:30 Sunday morning at his home at Rusk. We are unable today to procure the data necessary if an adequate mention of this good man's passing, but will try to give it tomorrow.

There was no session of district court Monday, Judge Guinn ordering a recess in honor of his death and remaining at Rusk for the funeral.

At 10:30 Monday morning the bar met and took steps to properly memorialize the passing of deceased. Attorney G. H. Matthews was made chairman and Audley Harris secretary.

Attorneys S. W. Blount, J. C. Harris, V. E. Middlebrook and G. H. Matthews were appointed a committee to formulate resolutions of respect and report at a meeting to be held in the district court room at 3:30 next Sunday afternoon, when memorial services will be held. This will be an open meeting, and the public is cordially invited to attend and assist in paying honor to this good citizen.

A CHARMING AFFAIR

On Wednesday, Feb. 21st, Mrs. Austin Baxley entertained most charmingly with a miscellaneous shower in honor of Miss Marian Eason, bride-to-be of March the 3d. The "shower" was a complete surprise to the honoree as the hostess invited her for "just a little chat and cup o' tea." After the guests had arrived and exchanged greetings and good wishes for the bride, Mrs. Baxley announced "we would have a few toasts," and called on Mrs. Barnett to toast the bride, Mrs. Price the mother and Mrs. Adams the groom. Their toasts were splendid and thoroughly enjoyed. Then came the sweetest signal anyone ever saw—Little Emily, baby daughter of the hostess, appeared in her "walkee" with a great big hat box attached, in opening the hat box found it filled with gifts of every kind for the bride. The "walkee" was all bedecked in pink crepe paper and fluffs of pink maline, making it look like a Martha Washington costume and the way little Emily looked was too cute for she in her baby innocence did not know that she was the center of attraction.

The reception hall and living room were all in pink—were of that shade being used in profusion. Mrs. Robert Cason assisted the hostess in serving delicious refreshments of pressed chicken, olives, wafers and an ice. Cuddling little Cupids dressed in pink were given as favors.

BIRD FEASTS ON LIVE SHEEP

Species of Parrot is the Most Formidable Enemy of the New Zealand Farmer.

There is no other parrot like the kea. The power centered in its neck, beak and talons is so great that the kea is the most formidable pest with which the New Zealand sheep farmer has to contend. While soaring overhead it selects its prey, and, swooping downwards, settles on the sheep's back and proceeds to tear away the wool with its beak, then, digging deep into the flesh, holds on to the wool with its talons until thoroughly gorged.

When the first settlers came to New Zealand the kea was mainly a vegetarian, the animal part of its diet being confined to insects and grubs. It has been suggested that it acquired its taste for sheep flesh from the offal which the farmers left exposed after slaughtering a sheep.

And speaking of sheep in New Zealand, in the mountain districts there flourishes a plant known as the Raoulla, or vegetable sheep—a mass of closely packed twigs thickly covered with white, woolly leaves. Seen from a distance the Raoulla so closely resembles a sheep, or a group of sheep, resting on the hillsides that shepherds are often led to make a long trek in its direction, mistaking it for lost members of their flock.

WERE BARBER AND SURGEON

Centuries Ago, Members of the Present-Day Guild Embraced the Two Avocations.

A reminder of the survival of the ancient trade guilds in London, long after their members have ceased to have any connection with trades they ostensibly represent, is provided by the recent election of a chairman of the Company of Barbers.

The new chairman never was a barber, and if any of his ancestors were he has forgotten it. And the same is true of all the members of the company. But they are very proud of the old traditions of the company and get together on stated occasions to eat a generous dinner, washed down with good wine, and listen to speeches about the good old times.

The company was incorporated in 1461 and fifty years later an act was passed which prevented any persons not members of the company from practicing surgery within seven miles of the city of London, unless they had been licensed by the bishop of London.

Barbers were versatile folk in those times, combining the avocations of surgeon and dentist with the work of trimming hair and beards.—From a London Letter to the New York Evening Post.

Owl Preys by Night

The habits of animals are developed and regulated chiefly by their surroundings and by the sort of prey on which they live. Sea-gulls, for example, can dive a considerable distance under water and catch the fish which form their principal article of diet, while a chicken would starve to death if forced to depend upon this method of securing food. So it is with owls, which generally make their appearance only after dark. This species of birds feeds mainly upon mice and other small creatures which are active at night. Therefore, the owl, which has developed a soft plumage that makes its flight almost noiseless, comes out after sunset in search of its food. It is also because of this habit that the owl's eyes, like the cat's, are so made that the pupil can be dilated until the bird is able to make use of every particle of light available and, while owls cannot see in absolute darkness, they are able to utilize the faintest of light rays to such an extent that they can spot and catch their prey unerringly.

Wholesale Human Mutilation

Forty thousand pairs of ears and 40,000 noses, the war trophies of that famous and painfully thorough Japanese General Hideoyoshi, lie beneath the plain stone marker and grass-grown mound of the "Mimi-Zuka," or Ear tomb, a short distance from one of Kioto's main streets.

They were deposited there as evidence of the valor and success of Hideoyoshi's expert carvers, and also to serve as emphatic warning of the fate all who crossed that determined warrior might expect.

The ears and noses are not, however, the bounty of any recent exploit. Hideoyoshi was the strong man of Japan more than three centuries ago, and his gruesome trophies were once the valued property of 40,000 Koreans who had foolishly resisted the Japanese general's invasion of their native land.

His Name

A Washington man, visiting Richmond, took a great fancy to a bright-eyed little dandy who polished his shoes. Shortly after he became interested in the little chap, the Washington man asked his name.

"Gen, sub," was the reply. After a few moments of silence the Washingtonian continued, "I suppose that is an abbreviation for General?" The word "abbreviation" stumped the little fellow for a while, but he recovered himself. "No, sub," he said, "it ain't exactly that. My shore-enough name is Genesis xxx, 83. So shall my righteousness answer for me in time to come. Washington Jones, but they best calls me Gen fo' sho't."—Philadelphia Ledger.

"Hobson's Choice"

LONG ago Toby Hobson kept the only horses for hire in Cambridge. It was his rule that customers had to take the horse nearest to the door, whether they liked it or not. So "Hobson's choice" came to mean—"Take this or none."

Don't be satisfied with "Hobson's choice." Through the advertisements you have a chance to compare and select almost anything you want or need. They offer you the world to choose from.

Advertisements are an accurate index of what other people are buying, selling, wearing, eating, doing, learning; of what the world of industry is accomplishing for you and how, where and by whom it is being accomplished.

It's a good habit to read the advertisements.
It's a profitable habit, too.

AN ENJOYABLE FUNCTION

The Women's Missionary Society of the Methodist church met on Monday afternoon, February 26th, for their monthly social meeting at the home of Mrs. Hollis Mast. The following program was rendered:

Hymn.—Mrs. E. G. Cooke.
Piano Solo—Miss Ardath Ellington.
Violin Solo—Mrs. Ormand, accompanied by Mr. Holland Smith.
Vocal Solo—Miss Marian Eason.
Piano Solo—Mrs. Ormand.
Planologue—Carolyn Sturdevant.
Devotional—Mrs. Fenley.
Prayer—Mrs. Arch Millard.

Many compliments were tendered this program, every musical number of which was encored. Besides the excellent numbers by local talent, Mrs. Ormand delighted all with her musical numbers. The devotional by Mrs. Fenley was very impressive in which the comparison was made between an earthly bride and the church of Christ. His bride, by references from various Scriptures and by her illuminating comments.

As a conclusion to the program, Miss Ellington, accompanied by Mrs. Ormand, played Lohengrin's Wedding March, during which a quaint procession entered, consisting of a wagon decorated in green and white and borne on its way by Moes Adams, Jr. Among the noble gifts in the wagon was a hamper out of which suddenly appeared Travis Mast, representing a Jack in the Box, and suddenly saying in front of the bride-to-be

"Boo, Mary, Mary, quite contrary
How does your garden grow?
With wedding bells and one sweet William—
All in a row!"

The esteem in which Miss Eason was held was attested by the number of useful gifts she received. To the honoree this excellent shower came as a glad and complete surprise.

Mrs. K. P. Branch is to be complimented on this fine program for which she was responsible.

The color scheme of green and white was carried out in the delicious refreshments that were served by the gracious and entertaining hostess and her loyal helpers, Mesdames Reavley and Fenley.
