A NATIONAL CATHEDRAL FOR WASHINGTON, D. C.

Washington, Aug. 14.—Preparations are being made here today for the completion of the National Cathedral of the Protestant Episcopal Church. Although four million dollars has already been contributed only the apex of the great edifice on Mount St. Alban has been completed. It stands today higher than the Washington monument and overlooks the whole city. Recently, however, the Washington chapter of the church decided to push the work on the whole cathedral so that it may be completed within five years.

The National Cathedral, although started during the administration of President McKinley, is really a fulfillment of President Washington's dream of a "church for national purposes" which was provided for in the original plans of L'Enfant for the national capital. From the time that President McKinley attended the first open air services at the Cathedral every President, scores of cabinet officers and foreign diplomats and thousands of members of the senate and house have been present on historic occasions at the Cathedral from the ceremonies following the conclusion of the Spanish-American war to the religious services in connection with the conference on the Limitation of Armaments.

When the last stone has been placed and the Cathedral opened it will be one of the largest and finest church buildings in the world. Surrounding the foundation and apse which are now complete, are the National Cathedral School for Girls and a similar school for boys, a bishop's house, a library which is to be the most complete religious library in America and an amphitheatre which today accommodates 25,000 persons.

The next mammoth ceremony to be held at the Cathedral will be a public service on September 29, in connection with the consecration of the bishop-elect of Washington, the Rev. Dr. James E. Freeman.

COOLIDGE PRAISES KNIGHTS COLUMBUS

Pays Tribute to Devotion to American Principles and Ideals
Montreal, Aug. 14.—A message from President Coolidge, hailing the Knights of Columbus as "a patriotic order steadfastly devoted to American principles and ideals," was read at the forty-first international convention of that organization, in session here.

In the message, presented by William C. Prout, state deputy of the Massachusetts Knights of Columbus, President Coolidge said: "The Knights of Columbus is in every sense a patriotic order. You have established great war charities, you have helped to fill the National Treasury with your contributions to the various Liberty loans, and you have sent your dearest and best to bear the heat and brunt of battle.

"Your order has ever shown its steadfast devotion to American principles and American ideals. You are Knights of Columbus, a name of great significance, representing not only a great discovery, but the eternal principle of all discovery and progress. When all the world doubted, when his own followers sought to turn back, he sailed on, daring to follow the truth. "There is no finer knighthood. In your noble order stands resisting all evil counsel, supporting every patriotic cause, following the eternal principle that 'the truth shall make you free.'"

BURGLARS WERE ACTIVE
Tuesday night was a busy time in Nacogdoches for burglars. Dock Farmley's market Swift Bros. & Smith's drug store and the Baker-Williams dry goods store were entered. From the first-ramed place a small sum of money was taken, but the other two report nothing missing. The drug store and the Baker-Williams establishment were entered through rear windows, the thieves taking off the screens and forcing up the sash. "H me talent" is suspected.

Will You Listen?

We will not burden you with long, dry stories. We don't want to preach. Leave that to the preacher. We don't want to scold. You probably know where to get all the scolding you need.

LIFE OF TEXAS SCHOOLS IS NOW IN JEOPARDY

Austin, Texas, Aug. 14.—The life of Texas free schools again is in jeopardy, and the public schools of the state will be able to operate for only four months during the coming year on the $12 per capita apportionment made Saturday morning by the board of education, Superintendent S. M. N. Marrs said Saturday afternoon.

Superintendent Marrs said that the situation looks unusually bad, due to the fact that the schools can not expect further financial assistance from the state for the year unless emergency appropriations are made by the legislature.

The $12 apportionment includes the $2,000,000 supplemental appropriation made by the last legislature in the final called session, but does not include the $1,500,000 appropriated for the fiscal year for rural aid.

A total of $1,500,000 was set aside by the board to meet the textbook contracts let last fall, which is in accordance with the former decision of the board that the book contracts are legal. This leaves the balance in the book fund at $600,000. The new contracts call for approximately $2,000,000.

Only $449,000 will be required out of the new year's school funds for buying books in case the old textbook contracts are upheld and the new ones ruled out, Superintendent Marrs said. At present the textbook funds set aside can not be used for other school purposes, it is stated.

Another possible source of revenue for schools has turned out to be a false hope, as the attorney general's department will rule that the state motor vehicle tax is not an occupation tax, and hence one-fourth of it should not go to the school fund.

This question was placed before the attorney general a short time ago for a ruling. The schools of the state would have received approximately $2,500,000 annually in case the ruling was that the license fee constitutes an occupation tax. The ruling on this question will be issued early next week, it was said.

It is probable that tax suits will be brought to test the question, as attorneys are urging Superintendent Marrs to take this step.

GASOLINE WAR SPREADS

New York, Aug. 15.—The gasoline price-cutting war that has been under way for several days in the Middle West and Southern States spread today to the entire Atlantic seaboard led by the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, four large oil companies announced cuts of one to two cents a gallon in the tank and wagon price of gasoline. The cuts announced today are effective in New England, New York, New Jersey, North and South Carolina, Virginia, Maryland, the District of Columbia and West Virginia. The cuts do not bring prices in the seaboard states to the pre-war level of 15 cents per gallon, as has been the case in the Western and Southern states, but further reductions are expected.

NINETY-ONE BODIES RECOVERED FROM MINE

Kemmerer, Wyo., Aug. 15.—Ninety-one bodies of miners who met death yesterday in mine No. 1 of the Kemmerer Coal Company have been brought to the surface today. The cause of the explosion which wrecked the mine has not been determined. The mine is located a mile northwest of Kemmerer. Eleven men known to be in the mine are given up for dead. Thirty-four of the miners entombed by the blast have emerged from the mine alive and one lies in a hospital in a serious condition. It is believed he will recover. Car No. 2 of the United States Bureau of Mines reached here yesterday and immediately took charge of the work of reaching the entombed men.

PREPARING TO ORDER TEXTBOOK SUPPLEMENTS

Austin, Texas, Aug. 15.—Steps were taken today by the textbook division of the State Department of Education for ordering supplements to textbook readers, for the public schools as the result of the decision of Federal Judge West here yesterday dissolving the temporary injunction, which upheld the book order. ### RUIN AND DESOLATION IN UTAH STORM'S WAKE

St. Lake, Utah, Aug. 15.—Ruin and desolation today marked the path of the flood which swept over thousands of acres of land in the fertile valleys of Northern Utah Monday. Ten persons are known to have perished and the towns of Farmington and Willard were partially devastated. The total property damage will exceed $1,500,000, according to estimates.

MAY DENY INJUNCTION

Austin, Texas, Aug. 14.—Application of the American Book Company for a permanent injunction against State Superintendent Marrs, restraining him from recognizing book contracts other than those alleged to have been made last December, will be denied unless it can be shown that the textbook commission gave the final approval, and not the governor. Federal Judge West stated in an opinion at the textbook hearing today.

Captain J. C. Blake returned Saturday from Camp Mabry, being called by important business here. He left the military company in charge of Lieutenant Culbertson Denman, which means the boys are in good hands. In this connection it may be well to correct a false rumor prevailing here in regard to the appearance of smallpox in the camp. Captain Blake desires us to state that there is not a case of illness of any description in the entire camp—not a single patient in the hospital. Mothers who have been rendered anxious for the safety of their boys in the camp may rest assured they are in no danger whatever from smallpox or any other malady.

NOTICES WERE POSTED TUESDAY CALLING FOR AN ELECTION ON SEPTEMBER 4

Notices were posted Tuesday calling for an election on September 4 to determine whether the Mahl and Hickory Flat schools shall be consolidated. It is learned that sentiment in the two districts is very favorable to the project, and consolidation would certainly tend to improve the educational situation.

A pamphlet just issued by the U. S. Department of Agriculture is entitled "Timber, Miner or Crop?" The table of contents refers to every kind of timber except presidential.

OFFICIAL SPANKER FOR SAN FRANCISCO CHINESE

San Francisco, Aug. 14.—"Spanking neatly done," might be the sign on the door of the headquarters of the Chinatown squad at the Hall of Justice here. Police Corporal Jack Floyd is the official spanker, and rarely a day passes that he does not imprint his trademark on some incorrigible Chinese youth.

Corporal Floyd, who, because of the fierce aspect he assumes on punitive occasions, is also known as the "Mandarin of Chinatown," first entered his profession about three months ago when a worried Oriental parent confided to him:

"My boy, Sam, he no likee go school. All-time lun away. Take him juv-nile court—no good. No like juv-nile court. Sam jus' lun away some more. You spankee him, Mistah Floyd." And Floyd did.

So appreciative was the parent of Floyd's handiwork that he presented him a canary bird in a picturesque cage. Today a dozen canary birds at the Hall of Justice testify that Floyd's business is expanding.

SHIP OFF GALVESTON WILL RESCUE THIRSTY

Galveston, Texas, Aug. 14.—Announcement was made yesterday by Captain N. S. Copeland and Tom Turner that thirsty Galvestonians will be served with genuine Pilsner beer, wines and whiskeys from a rum ship off Galveston harbor, just outside the three mile limit.

The boat will be ready for business in three weeks. Already three carloads of beer are en route from Germany, according to Copeland, and stocks of champagnes, whiskeys and wines will be kept on board at all times.

The four-masted schooner Atlantico has been converted into the rum ship. Machine guns will be mounted fore and aft to keep off "pirates" and the early morning "moochers" looking for an eye opener, or their morning's morning.

Special excursion boats from Galveston and Houston will convey customers to the Atlantico, at regular intervals.

GASOLINE WAR BRINGS CHEAPER ENGINE FUEL

Omaha, Neb., Aug. 14.—Reduced prices for gasoline are in effect today, following the recently announced price-cutting war, which had its beginning in South Dakota. The Standard Company of Nebraska is selling at 16 1/2 cents per gallon at its filling stations, the price having been cut from 22 1/2 cents. Independent dealers met the cut.

DE VALERA ARRESTED

A stampede occurred and several arrests were made. The troops then surrounded the platform and took De Valera into custody.

Four persons are known to be dead at Farmington, Utah, north of here, and two men and a woman are reported dead at Willard. Five boy scouts are reported drowned in a canyon east of Farmington. A cloudburst, preceded by a severe electrical storm, tore down telegraph poles, hence communication is crippled.

Woman's Body Recovered

Ogden, Utah, Aug. 14.—The body of Mrs. John Ward of Willard was found by searchers in the cloudburst debris here this morning, according to information received here. Paris, Aug. 14.—Premier Poincare, who will return to Paris tonight, has informed his collaborators at the Foreign Office that he intends in the most courteous manner possible to reply, point by point, to Lord Curzon, the British secretary for foreign affairs, on the reparations question. Although the reply will be courteous, it was assured in Foreign Office circles that it will be a stout reaffirmation of the French viewpoint and a flat rejection of the British suggestions.

THE COOLIDGE TEMPERAMENT.

Much is written of the reticence of President Coolidge. While this trait has been marked in him from young manhood, not too much is to be made of the fact that he is saying little now and that he has kept himself so much in the background while vice president that few in Washington came to know him.

It was in keeping with the tradition of the vice presidency that Mr. Coolidge, while holding that office, should not attempt to take an active part in the political life of the capital.

After making allowance for these considerations, however, it remains that Mr. Coolidge, while approachable and having a proved capacity for making friends of those who come into intimate association with him, is not of the jovial type of a Roosevelt, a Harding or a Vice President Marshall. But, in view of the death of President Harding due to the over-exertion his warm-heartedness led him into his efforts to meet the extraordinary demands of the people to see and to converse with him—in view of the recognition that the chief executiveship has been steadily becoming harder—the so-called reticence of the new president may serve him well in the conservation of his energy.

While President Wilson was warm-hearted, loved a joke and could take the heartiest laugh, the tremendous burden laid upon him by the war leadership compelled him to conserve his energies for those imperative duties to such extent that he could not meet the people popularly as much as he liked, and then came his physical breakdown that caused the White House grounds largely to be closed. What he may have lost in popularity by this forced exclusiveness, however, he gained in the preservation of his strength sufficiently to complete eight years of service in the presidency in one of the most trying times.

With the coming of the genial President Harding, the picture of health, and the people rejoiced in being able to meet freely with their chief executive. Now they must realize with sadness that they imposed upon their good-natured president in taking up with him anything or other social exercises so much of his time and energy.

It has come to this, that no matter how much the president may yearn for intimate touch with the people and they for meeting him, both must recognize the heavy and exacting character of his office and limitations of his strength.

THE MESSAGE OF RADIO

David Sarnoff, vice president and general manager of the Radio Corporation of America, says, "No electrical development of our time, or at any time, has been more rapid in its scientific advance and its commercial growth than 'Radio.' This new art is already engaging the world's thought, and has opened up vast new vistas of electrical and social progress."

He conveniently catalogs Radio under three general heads. Marine Communication, with its huge net work of ship-to-ship and ship-to-shore service and what it means to the safety of present-day ocean travel; Trans-oceanic Communication, the new international facility now centralized and directed from America instead of abroad as of former days; and Broadcasting, which brings into our very homes the great thoughts of the nation's leaders, music and other forms of entertainment.

He prophesied that in the very near future it would be possible for any person in the country to pick up his ordinary land telephone and ask for connection with a passenger liner on the Atlantic of Pacific ocean, with as great ease as accompanies an ordinary call between two houses today.

A TRUE MAN

That a man should first and last be a true man and leave it to God to make him great is the lesson taught by the life and works of Warren G. Harding. Throughout his course his twin guiding stars were loyalty and truth—loyalty to Him he worshiped, to friends, to the nation and truth to self, to others and his people.

He was a great and a good president. He was also a great and good man. It may have required knowledge of public affairs, of political and economic conditions, to judge him in the former role. But in the latter all could, and did, recognize his merit. The nation reveres his memory as chief magistrate, and because they loved Harding, the man, the people mourn his death as a personal loss.

LET 'EM SHOW WHAT THEY CAN DO.

If Hiram Johnson is 100 per cent sincere in his determination to tear the Eastern hemisphere out of his atlas and govern himself and the rest of us hereafter on the basis of Us and Nobody Else, his duty is plain. Hiram ought to pick out one good big domestic problem for himself and proceed to untangle it for the benefit of those American people whom he would estrange from the world.

Since Mr. Moses of New Hampshire has been to Europe and back and picked up nothing new except a few more labels on his baggage he is likewise entitled to the charge of a national perplexity and solve it for his nation. Also Mr. Lodge, who is somewhat overdue in the matter of constructive legislation, should have been a peculiarly important problem to handle all by himself.

If we intend to abolish Europe, naturally our domestic problems must be our sole concern, and who are so well qualified to wrestle with them as the gentles who made this splendid isolation a reality? Just as a starter it is suggested that Hiram grapple for a bit with the business of insuring a decent price for bread to the consumer and an adequate return to the farmer for his wheat. That Mr. Moses take over the railroad problem entire for a while and see what he can make of it; and that Mr. Lodge devise a scheme by which a steady flow of coal at a reasonable price may be guaranteed the public.

This will confuse these gentlemen momentarily, because they have been so busy shutting doors that for some years they have lost track of what has been going on in the house. But they learn easily—these three; they are smart fellows, look how they've kept us from getting tangled up with Europe, where we sold so much grain a few years ago.

CONCERNING TAXES

Evansville, Ind., Courier. Those who have the say about the expenditure of tax moneys frequently speak of the wastefulness of armies and navies. They wish, as does everyone else, that such national safeguards were unnecessary and that the funds needed for their maintenance might be diverted to serve other purposes.

But as a rule they have very little to say about our standing army of tax collectors and spenders, which is more than five times the size of our army and navy combined. In this connection the recent report of the taxation committee of the Michigan Bankers' Association is particularly interesting.

The committee asserts that in the past fifteen years in the cauldron of tax laws have been passed in the country to control the lives and business activities of our people, and that one individual in twelve of our population is supported by the taxpaying public in one way or another. In the state of Michigan, 50 per cent of the wealth newly created every year goes to pay for government—state, local or national.

The United States government pays salaries to 700,000 civilians and the several states have more than twice that number on their payrolls. Add their families and dependents and you will understand the surprising totals and the cost of our governmental housekeeping.

Is it any wonder that tax-free securities are popular, and that so many supposedly upright citizens are to be suspected of forgetfulness in the matter of their tax return? Is it any wonder that most business men hold up their hands in horror at the thought of government ownership or operation of utilities?

As we remember it, the beginning of modern sanitation was the moustache cup.

Girls admire the man with a "heart of gold," but prefer the man with mines of it.

It is more blessed to give than to think up a speech of acceptance and thanks.

Gambling and games of chance will continue in our cities as long as pedestrians must get across the streets.

An ambassador interprets America to foreigners, but there is nobody to interpret the ambassador to home folks.

Correct this sentence: "I would have your good will," said Colonel Harvey, "but not at the price of flattering you."

A girl may be said to be in love with a young man if she is willing to accept a porch swing as a substitute for an automobile.

TELL THE PUBLIC

"Tell the public!" That is what Dr. Mustard, health officer of Preston county, W. Va., wants to do. Recently the Preston County Department of Health announced that the children of the county were short on six-year molars; and the editor of the Preston County Journal dropped around to find out what a six-year molar was. This is how he tells the story:

When we asked the doctor about molars he plunged into a corner and emerged with a diagram of the teeth of a six-year old child.

"The six-year molars," he said, "are the first permanent teeth a child gets. You, like most parents and some dentists think that 'first' applies only to the first milk teeth. This is incorrect.

"Look at this diagram. Start at the space between the middle teeth and count backward. The first five teeth are temporary; the sixth is the first of the permanent teeth; it is called the six-year molar because it comes at about six years of age. Note that there are four of these, one on either side of the lower jaw and two just above them in the upper jaw.

"Didn't know that tooth was permanent, did you? Lots of people don't. Persons who don't know, think it is a temporary tooth and let it decay. But it isn't temporary! It doesn't take the place of any temporary tooth, nor does any other tooth ever take its place. When it goes it goes forever."

"Well," we asked, "won't it be stronger than the temporary teeth and last longer?"

"It may or it may not," answered the doctor. "It's a large tooth, but its upper surface has a lot of pockets which invite decay unless the tooth is kept clean and unless the child is properly fed."

"Properly fed?" we asked. "Exactly," replied the doctor. Children can't grow as they should unless they are properly fed. Their bones, including their teeth, will be chalky and chalky teeth decay quickly. Moreover, six-year molars come just when the temporary teeth are decaying. Rot in teeth spreads like rot in a barrel of apples; and the molars, particularly if they are chalky, stand no more chance in a mouth full of rotting teeth than a snowball in July.

"Some of them are allowed to decay along with the temporary teeth and others are pulled by parents or by officious neighbors because they are only milk teeth." Dr. Mustard was waxing indignant.

We were indignant too! "How can we help?" we asked. "The public ought to know about this; and we want to do our share."

"Use your paper," cried the doctor, enthusiastically. "Tell 'em once, tell 'em twice, tell 'em over and over again. Tell each mother to examine her child's mouth and count back to the sixth tooth. Tell 'em if it's decayed to hurry that child to the dentist. Tell 'em that once gone a six-year-old molar is gone forever; and that these molars are all as important to the mouth as a key stone is to an arch. Tell 'em not to allow six-year molars to be pulled even if they are decayed, unless the dentist insists—and to be mighty sure that he is a real dentist!"

So we're tellin' them—that is, YOU!

THE PEOPLE PAY, AS USUAL

The people of Seattle bought the street car lines about four years ago for $15,000,000. Within a year the city found it necessary to increase the fares from five cents to ten cents of three rides for a quarter, to prevent bankruptcy.

The next set of officials secured votes by promising to reduce the fares to five cents, which they did, with a loss to the city running nearly $5,000 a day.

Now comes the latest chapter in Seattle's municipal ownership experiment. The city council by a vote of seven to two passed over the mayor's veto an ordinance again increasing the fare from five cents to ten cents or three rides for a quarter.

Seattle has no better car service but is paying more for a ride than the private company asked. It is loaded with a debt of $15,000,000 on which it is paying interest. To top off the whole bill, it loses several thousand dollars a year in taxes which the private company formerly paid and which are now loaded upon remaining Seattle property.

Seattle citizens are paying a fancy price for their street car rides.

Eason, Trustee in Bankruptcy, to S. W. Blount and J. T. Garrison; that on said date they executed to L. L. Mikels, one of the defendants, certain contract in writing leasing said land to the said Mikels for oil and mineral development purposes, by the terms of which the said Mikels was within five days from date to begin the baling or pumping of oil from wells then existing on said land, and to care for and store the same in proper tanks; and that the said Mikels also was within twenty days of said date to begin drilling for oil other wells on said land, and was to continue drilling wells on same within thirty days after the completion of each well until he had drilled as many as ten wells on said land to the depth of the shallow producing oil wells generally in that oil field and after so drilling such wells said Mikels by the terms of said lease and as a matter of material inducement thereof was to operate all the wells then existing on said land and the ten or more additional wells to be drilled thereon by baling or pumping each well with due diligence and regularity as calculated to produce the full amount of oil said wells were capable of producing, and to deliver the same by pipe line or otherwise into storage tanks on the N. & S. E. railway; and the plaintiffs were to receive as royalty from said lease one-fourth of the oil so produced until the completion of the said ten wells, after which plaintiff should receive one-eighth.

Plaintiffs allege that said Mikels has breached his said contract and obligation, and has forfeited all rights thereunder because he has not filled the ten additional wells as provided in said contract, has not baled or pumped the oil from the wells existing on said land at the time of the lease, nor from any additional wells drilled by him; but has left the oil to stand and stagnate and destroy the productive capacity of said wells to produce oil at all; that he has absolutely abandoned the wells drilled by him and has not baled or pumped any oil therefrom within the last twelve months, though some of said wells, if baled and pumped according to said contract, are capable of producing oil in commercial and paying quantities; and further, by reason of such abandonment he has permitted a number of said wells to be overflowed and filled with mud and water, and further, that he has failed to perform his contract by failure to clean cut and operate at all some of the wells existing on said land at the time of the execution of said lease, all of which matters were material considerations in the execution thereof; that by reason of said failure of the said Mikels in the several respects set out the plaintiffs' tract of land which should pay them a royalty of one hundred dollars per month has not paid as much as two dollars per month. Wherefore, plaintiffs pray citation by publication issue to the said Mikels; and that they have judgment cancelling said contract and lease and declaring the same as of no effect and null and void.

Plaintiffs allege that the other defendants named above are asserting some claim or interest in said lease under the said Mikels, wherefore they pray that they be duly cited by publication, and that any rights or interest in said lease asserted by them under the said Mikels be adjudged as of no effect and null and void, by reason of the facts above set out.

Herein Fail Not, but have before said Court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and the seal of said Court, at office in Nacogdoches, Texas, this 3d day of August, A. D. 1923.

I. R. PRINCE, Clerk, District Court, Nacogdoches County, Texas.

Bosen H. Wells, Deputy.

EDISON'S INVENTIONS

Edison's discoveries now have over 15 billion dollars of capital invested in them industrially. Finding it another way, that much money is being employed keeping his ideas at work, applying them for the good of Americans. Further big investment in other countries.

In view of this, how much money should Edison have as reward? It's rather a "poser" for the man who believes that a million dollars is too much for any one. As is true with all of us, however, Edison's ideas are not really his, they come from somewhere out in the invisible, he's merely the radio receiver, also the amplifier and loud speaker.

GOOD-WILL BOOSTERS MEET AND ENJOY LUNCHEON

The Good-Will Boosters who made trips over the county Tuesday and Wednesday met at the Redland Hotel Friday night for the purpose of hearing the opinions of those taking part in the tours as to what had been accomplished.

When the tours were decided upon the week previous, Messrs. Horace Wilson, Marvin Echols, Holloway Muller and Jonah Bailey were appointed a committee to organize the party and prepare for the trip. As a result of their good work, the tours were a complete success. The first day saw 26 automobiles in line and this number has been increased to 30 the next day.

At 8 o'clock the doors of the Redland Hotel's spacious dining room were thrown open and 98 tourists and guests were seated at the long tables, upon which a toothsome luncheon had been placed for their delectation.

The Partin Cornet Band of Nat was engaged to furnish music for the occasion, and everybody was satisfied with their performance. They rendered a number of airs at various intervals throughout the evening.

Horace Wilson was first called upon, and told of his impressions of the trips. He was convinced that a great deal of good had been accomplished in bringing the members of the Chamber of Commerce and, through them, the people of the city and county closer together in a personal and social way, even though the return in dollars and cents might be nil.

Secretary McKnight, master of ceremonies, told the names of the members of the Partin band, as follows: Marvin Partin, conductor; Clarence Partin, John Partin, Clyde Partin, Charlie Partin, Floyd Partin, all sons of C. A. Partin of Nat; and Marlin Mayfield. There are ten children in the Partin family, eight boys and two girls, and the father was present at the luncheon. Mr. McKnight paid a deserved tribute to the enterprise and worth of the Partin brothers, who are self-educated musicians and splendid young men. The father was roundly cheered when Mr. McKnight introduced him to the diners.

Jonah Bailey and Marvin Echols spoke briefly of their experience in getting things in shape for the Good-Will Tour, and the latter, especially, thought it would be an easier matter next year to swing the business men of the city into line.

Holloway Muller, one of the hardest workers on the committee, was unavoidably absent.

Mr. McKnight told of the kindness and courtesy which had met them at every point on the trips, making special mention of Mrs. James Brown of Martinsville, who had prepared a plentiful supply of lemonade and a two and a half story cake for the band boys.

He also told of the enterprise of the five merchants of Caro, who at their own expense had invitations printed and distributed throughout their trade territory in an effort to have a big crowd to meet the trippers, in which they were successful.

Rev. H. T. Perritte, presiding elder of this district of the Methodist church, spoke earnestly of what might be accomplished by such trips as had just been completed and predicted closer and warmer relations between the town and country people. There was considerable rare humor interspersed among Mr. Perritte's remarks, and his talk was greatly enjoyed.

The band boys then favored with the song, "It's All Gone Now," which evoked much merriment. As an encore they sang "Lovesick Blues," which was also hilariously greeted.

"Admiral" Eugene Blount spoke and said the trips had made the people feel closer together, especially the members of the touring parties, even if trade relations were not improved to the extent of a dollar. He spoke of the enterprise of the people of the Alazan community, who, in the absence of county aid, had taken the matter of improving their roads into their own hands, furnishing labor and materials, and, with the assistance of Commissioner Matt Muckleroy, making splendid headway in road improvement.

Carl Monk responded briefly when called upon.

Right here Mr. McKnight took occasion to acknowledge the services of A. H. Goodson and Jonah Bailey in furnishing the big autos to transport the band boys on the trips.

The question of how far Nacogdoches' trade territory extended was answered by the statement that it was as far as our friendships extended.

Dr. A. W. Birdwell was next called, with the statement that he had two big problems to lay before the meeting and the people of Nacogdoches. One of these was the matter of taking care of the 700 teachers expected here at the district teachers meeting in August and the other was finding living quarters for the pupils who will attend the normal school when it opens in September. He declared the success of the school depended upon the co-operation of the citizens in placing these pupils in homes during the term. He refused to hazard a guess as to the number expected, but whatever that may be, quarters must be provided for them.

He also spoke of the number of letters he had received from students who wished to find homes where they might work for their maintenance (board and room) while attending the school.

The band boys sang "I'm a Rollin'," and again brought down the house. Then Charlie Partin expressed the appreciation of the boys for the donation which had been made by those present.

John Schmidt told of his career in Nacogdoches, where he had been in business for more than 40 years, of the fat years and the lean, and of his unswerving affection for the people of the town and county. He also touched lightly upon incidents of his recent trip to the Pacific coast, declaring if he wasn't already in Nacogdoches, he would want to locate in Salt Lake, Utah.

Robert Lindsey, committee member in charge for the entertainment of the teachers soon to assemble here, made a strong plea for teamwork in furthering the work and solving the problem. Without earnest co-operation of all our people, he could do but little, no matter how hard he labored. He called upon all who would lend their aid in this matter to raise a hand, and instantly every arm shot up without an exception. "That's all right," Mr. Lindsey said. "That settles it. I'm not afraid now."

Walter Gintz moved that this meeting express its appreciation and return its thanks to Mrs. E. A. Blount for the beautiful park site she had donated to the city, and, a rising vote being suggested, every man in the room sprang to his feet.

Mr. McKnight paid a warm tribute to Rev. H. T. Perritte and congratulated the people of Nacogdoches upon their good fortune in being able to claim such a man as a citizen of the town. This was received with vociferous cheers.

Mr. Perritte responded briefly, expressing his appreciation of the kind things said of him, and telling of his gratitude for the help our people had rendered in providing such an attractive building for the district parsonage. He said he was glad to be one of us—and that made it unanimous.

The hour being late, the meeting dispersed. And it was a good meeting—an inspiring and inspiring gathering of men who are determined to do their best for the advancement and upbuilding of Nacogdoches in every conceivable way. And when the residents of a city get that notion in their heads, it will take a mighty big and mighty high obstruction to circumvent them.

NATION PAYS TRIBUTE TO DEAD PRESIDENT

Washington, Aug. 10.—The nation paid the tribute of silence to Warren G. Harding as the body was entombed today at Marion. From coast to coast and from border to border, every wheel of the federal government and practically every industry and commerce stood still. Theaters and other places of amusement were closed. Baseball games were postponed and other events of sport were deferred. As recommended by President Coolidge in a proclamation officially announcing the death of the late president, the day was one of mourning and prayer. Thousands upon thousands gathered in places of worship for services. Services were not confined to America, but at sea on passenger liners flying American and other flags. Prayers were said and memorial services were held in a number of foreign lands.

Take Last Look

Marion, Ohio, Aug. 10.—The Harding home was opened to the public at 8 o'clock this morning. Two hours before the time set for the public review to begin, the long line began to move, a detachment of military troops on duty at the house directing the line. By the time the line started to move it was lengthened to more than 15 blocks. Thousands despairing of an opportunity to see the dead president, made the solemn pilgrimage to the home where the body lay. The long line was broken for a few minutes at 8:30 to permit the employees of the Merion Star, with whom the late president labored for years, to take a farewell look at their old employer at the special request of Mrs. Harding.

Small Military Display

Marion, Ohio, Aug. 10.—The only military display at the funeral services at the cemetery, other than the guard of honor, will be the firing of the presidential salute of 21 guns as the hearse bearing the president's body enters the cemetery, and three salvos as the coffin enters the tomb. A battery of the Ohio National Guard artillery, which will perform the military rite, will be stationed on a hill near the cemetery.

Mexico Pays Tribute

Matamoros, Mexico, Aug. 10.—The municipal offices are closed today in honor of the dead American president, Warren Harding.

Lavish Floral Offerings

Marion, Ohio, Aug. 10.—Fresh floral tokens kept pouring into the Harding home today until it became necessary to remove many pieces which had withered to make room for the new ones. Early today six large army trucks were heaped with flowers and taken to the cemetery.

Desk Light Burning

Marion, Ohio, Aug. 10.—The light over the editorial desk of Warren G. Harding in the Star office is still burning today, as it has been since the news of his death was received from San Francisco more than a week ago. Since that time it has been the shrine for newspaper men. Nearly all members of the fourth estate visiting Marion want the privilege of sitting in Mr. Harding's editorial chair.

RAILROADS TO SUSPEND BUSINESS FOR FUNERAL

Chicago, Aug. 9.—All train service will be suspended for five minutes, from 2 to 2:05 p. m. central standard time, Friday in tribute to the late President Harding, whose private funeral services will be held in Marion, Ohio, that day, the Western Railways General Managers' Association announced today. Railroad offices generally will be closed except for emergency business.

MURDER IN COURTHOUSE, SLAYER SLAIN BY OFFICER

New York, Aug. 9.—The Washington Heights court was thrown into an uproar today when Norman Roberts, negro, who had been summoned to court on complaint of his wife, shot her dead in a corridor and fired on a patrolman who attempted to capture him and was himself shot dead by a policeman.

A GOOD MEXICAN BANDIT

Florence, Ariz., Aug. 10.—Manuel Martinez was hanged at the state penitentiary here today for the murder of Frank Pearson at Ruby, Ariz., in a border bandit rail in August, 1921. The trap was sprung at 5:24 o'clock and Martinez was pronounced dead 11 minutes later.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR PRESIDENT HARDING

At the Methodist church Friday afternoon beautiful and solemn funeral services were held for President Harding from 3 to 4 o'clock.

Sorrow was visible in every face of the audience which filled the large church, and the import of the fateful occasion was brought home to every heart.

Rev. Bonnie Grimes, pastor of the first Baptist church, pronounced a feeling invocation, and then Mrs. W. D. Ambrose and her sister, Miss Sallie Belle Matthews, of Fort Worth sang "Lead, Kindly Light," the late president's favorite hymn, as a duet. Their sweet voices gave added force to the beautiful, soul-inspiring words of the great hymn, which was sung at the same hour by millions of grief-stricken Americans in countless houses of worship throughout the land.

Following this song, Judge S. W. Blount made a talk which was thought-compelling in its splendid sentiment, paying a beautiful tribute to the dead president as a man and as the leader of the American people.

The audience, led by the choir, joined in singing that heart-touching hymn of faith and promise, "Nearer, My God, to Thee," and Rev. E. G. Cooke of the Methodist church pronounced a benediction.

Nacogdoches had joined in paying the last tribute of love to the late president, and the audience with sad hearts departed.

At Sacred Heart Church

At 9 o'clock in the morning the members of Sacred Heart Catholic church met to lay a flower upon the dead president's grave.

The United States flag was suspended at half-mast above the altar, and the Rev. Father Daly paid a glowing tribute to the memory of our dead chieftain, and as a patriotic utterance the address could hardly be surpassed. He told of coming to this country from Ireland and taking out naturalization papers as soon as legally possible, of his devotion to his adopted country, and denied that any man in it was more of a "100 percent American" than he had always been since becoming a citizen.

The music was of high order and appropriate to the occasion.

STOP, LOOK AND LISTEN

Galveston News. Sunday's crop of railway crossing fatalities appears a record breaker. From all over the country reports of automobiles struck by trains have poured in over the wire. The appalling total of 27 deaths from this type of accidents caused even newspapermen to sit up and take notice and wonder how many more. And by press time Monday afternoon the total had mounted to 35 dead and nine hurt—a 1 at railway crossings.

If railway crossing accidents were new there might be an excuse for a dozen or more accidents that cost so heavily. But this sort of accident is as old as the railroad crossing itself, and its kind has been written about and preached against at every opportunity, especially since the automobile's advent made it more dangerous. No automobile driver is there who has not heard the strict warning.

There is no cure for the motorist who tries to beat the train except that severe remedy meted out Sunday to nearly two-score people—in innocent and guilty alike. If memory serves us correct, some nine thousand people have been killed in the last five years because they did not heed the warning to "stop, look and listen" before negotiating a railroad crossing.

The tenth commandment of safety for motorists reads "Cross Crossing Cautiously." Warning bells may be out of order, watchmen or gate operators may be off duty. Trains cannot stop as quickly as you can shift into second to avoid stalling on the tracks. Help the locomotive engineer—as well as yourself—live longer by just sticking to the tenets of that rule.

MADISON COUNTY FATHERS DISCUSS ROAD BOND ISSUE

Madisonville, Texas, Aug. 13.—When the commissioners' court convened Monday, a petition signed by 600 taxpayers of Precincts 1, 2 and 4 will be presented requesting the court to order an election for the issuance of road bonds in the sum of $150,000 for the construction of highway No. 21.

This highway is a link in the old San Antonio road, enters Madison county at Clapp's Ferry on the Trinity river, passes through Midway, Madisonville and North Zulch and across the Navasota river at the Democrat crossing and continues to Bryan and other county seat towns, terminating at Karnes City. Toward the east it passes through Crockett and Nacogdoches.

Upon reading the above special dispatch to the Houston Post of Monday, Secretary H. L. McKnight, realizing the importance of filling in the gap which prevents this important road from becoming a continuous highway, drafted the following telegram to the commissioners of Madison county, in session at Madisonville, the county seat, and submitted it to the Nacogdoches County Commissioners' Court, in session here, and it was at once approved and ordered transmitted. The linking-up of this highway means a great deal to East Texas, and it is hoped the Madison county authorities will take early action to secure its completion. The telegram follows:

Nacogdoches, Texas, Aug. 13, 1923. Madison County Commissioners Court, Madisonville, Texas:

Nacogdoches and all East Texas as well as Louisiana deeply interested in the final completion of the old San Antonio Road. We earnestly hope you will order election for sufficient bonds to build this road through Madison county. We spent three hundred thousand dollars extending this road through Nacogdoches county. In our judgment there is no more important highway in Texas than this connecting link between the East and West. Thousands of tourists will visit your county each season if you build this road.

Nacogdoches County Commissioners Court.

NACOGDOCHES TOURISTS SEND PHOTOS OF WESTERN SCENES

Our fellow-townsmen, Joe Kennedy, is in receipt of some interesting photos of the Aikman-Kennedy touring party who left here some six weeks ago for a trip over the Pacific Coast country. The photos in question show Mrs. J. W. Kennedy, Miss Mary Ann McKinney and Edgar McKinney in a party of sixteen making a snow slide of 450 yards down the slope of Mt. Rainier, Washington. The party all wear heavy khaki trousers with leather seats and make this famous slide while seated one behind the other and holding to the feet of the fellow in the rear. It required a day to make the climb up the mountain side to reach the snow line. The photo does not explain the time necessary to make the descent, but from appearances it probably is done about the time it takes to say "Jack Robinson." On the way up the party crossed an ice floe 450 feet thick.

The Sentinel man scrutinized the photos very carefully for the likeness of Uncle Frank Aikman. If Uncle Frank was in the sliding party, he was evidently of the complexion of the snow and was therefore invisible in the lens of the camera. A six-weeks outing in the Pacific Coast country ought to and usually does give one the famous nut-brown complexion. Maybe it didn't affect Uncle Frank this way. Or maybe he wasn't in the snow sliding party. Anyway he doesn't appear in the picture.

But Uncle Frank is a good scout whether he can slide or not. The party will be home about September 1st.

MISTRIAL IN BOOZER CASE

BRITISH NOTE MAY HAVE SERIOUS DEVELOPMENT

London, Aug. 13.—The British note to France and Belgium, made public last night, in which the Baldwin government says it regards the Ruhr occupation as illegal under the Versailles treaty but is willing to submit the point of arbitration, has made a deep impression here. For the most part it is regarded as creating a new situation which may have serious development. Among those who oppose the line the government has taken there is excitement, anger and even alarm, and the position is considered to be one of grave crisis.

Don't Like British Note

Paris, Aug. 13.—The British note is regarded in French official circles as a positive disavowal of Great Britain's war allies and a frank espousal of the German cause. It is thought Premier Poincare will reply in due time, although at the Quai d'Orsay it is held the document smacks so much of propaganda that it might properly be ignored.

SEVEN KILLED IN WRECK

Pueblo, Colo., Aug. 13.—Seven railroad trainmen were killed in a head-on collision between a Colorado Southern passenger train No. 609, from Pueblo, and Santa Fe No. 6, through train for the East, at the west switch in Fowler, Colo., early this morning. No. 609 was derailed over the Santa Fe tracks via La Junta because of washouts on the Colorado Southern tracks. A partial list of those killed, all trainmen, shows A. Henson, engineer, La Junta; J. T. Pearson, engineer, La Junta; A. T. Schmanke, engineer, Pueblo; G. H. Gray, engineer, Denver; G. L. Chewning, fireman, Denver.

This decision was reached after the coal commission officials had conferred with President Coolidge.

Rev. Cooke closed a week's revival service at the Methodist church here last Saturday night. The preaching was good and highly enjoyed by those attending the service.—Mt. Enterprise Progress, 9th.

ANOTHER TAX CONSUMER PAYS

Panama Canal tolls during July reached $2,000,000. This surpasses previous records and Washington authorities make the announcement the a "profit" which they figure is equivalent to 6 percent on the investment.

But the American consumer will scan the figures with different feelings. He is likely to translate the word "profit" to loss.

It would be interesting to know what part of the $2,000,000 represents tolls collected by the United States government on purely domestic commerce; in other words, taxes levied on the American consumer who buys American goods.

American history records no more extraordinary renunciation than the action of congress on the Panama Canal tolls. Reversing its own action, congress imposed tolls on trade between the states. The effect remains. New York and Michigan buyers of California oranges pay tolls. Gulf states cotton and New England textiles bear an added cost to the consumer, if shipped to the coast.

The government, in reporting proudly of the "profit" of the Panama Canal, merely emphasizes the loss which the consumer suffers, through the surrender by his representatives of his constitutional right. The right to buy American goods can not be impaired because those goods must pass from one state to another. But it is.

UP THEY WOULD GO

If at first a tariff does not succeed, our senators to the extreme left believe in trying again with more and higher tariffs.

Senators Brookhart, Frazier, Shipstead and Magnus Johnson have been in caucus in Minneapolis. After agreeing to affiliate with the LaFollette faction, the four senators decided that an immediate special session of congress is the only means whereby the country's ills may be cured.

Senators Brookhart and Frazier, who still carry the republican label, declared that congress must provide for the government's purchase and storage of 200,000,000 bushels of wheat. Thereafter, congress must immediately fix the tariff on agricultural products so high that not a bushel may be imported from any country.

This latter decision is astounding indeed. In the Minnesota campaign just concluded, Governor Preus rejected the entire tariff idea in the last days of the campaign. Magnus Johnson has all along insisted that high tariffs are created for the benefit of special manufacturing interests and that the duties on agricultural products are useless sons thrown out to get the votes of farmer congressmen. Throughout the campaign it was admitted on all sides that the tariff could not be defended.

Minneapolis advices do not state the views of Senators Shipstead and Johnson on the Brookhart-Frazier prohibitive tariff idea. Mr. Shipstead did not discuss the subject, and the radical senators established a mild censorship on Magnus Johnson. The letter arrived late at the conference. On his arrival the other senators put the reporters out of the room.

The Brookhart-Frazier idea of curbing a high tariff with a higher one will doubtless tickle Senators Smoot and Lodge. Instead of being viewed as lost to the republican cause, they may be looked upon as likely to out-tariff the most reactionary in the lot.

THE WORTHLESS MARK

An exceptionally striking illustration of German currency debasement is afforded by the statement that the imperial republic's income in June was only 2 percent of its expenses for the same period. With the mark depreciated to the point that approximately four millions are worth only one American dollar, as reported in the financial news, we know that something has happened over there but gain but an imperfect idea of what it is from the bald statement. The comparison of government receipts and expenditures last month is more illuminating.

The public budget, drafted months ago, was based on the then prevailing exchange rate of the mark. Revenue schedules have not been altered since, while it has been necessary to revise upward the estimates of wages, salaries and price of goods the government must buy. Crafty taxpayers have postponed as long as they could the settlement of their accounts with the government. With every day that passes they could discharge their

to the state with marks worth less than they were 24 hours previously. The number of marks that was equivalent to a day's work last January can be earned now in a few minutes. The surprising thing is not that the government's receipts were only 2 percent of its expenditures in June but that they were so much.

In view of this fiscal condition rumors of the impending collapse of the German state seem natural. But when we consider that in ordinary transactions between the people of Germany the purchasing power of the mark at the moment governs, it appears that the exchange value of this token is of relatively little importance. Bartter in kind must be the actual condition prevailing. In reality the paper mark is rubbish. When the time comes to reconstruct the state it will have to be treated as such. An entirely new beginning will have to be made of the German currency, as an American banker declared on his return to this country the other day.

DALLYING WITH DEATH

The revelations made by the federal prohibition commissioner this week regarding the quality of the liquor forming the staple trade of the bootleg industry confirm, officially and emphatically, the previously generally held opinion as to the dangerous nature of the stuff which finds so ready a market at fancy prices. The risks run by the consumer of illicitly vended intoxicants may be inferred from the commissioner's statement that only 1 percent of the liquor in 80,000 samples seized in raids and analyzed by the industrial alcohol and chemical division during the fiscal year ending June 30 was found to be genuine. The remaining 99 percent was either moonshine whiskey, or redistilled denatured alcohol or, in the best case, goods smuggled in or illegally withdrawn from bonded warehouses and in both instances stretched and doctored and sold in fake containers.

To read of the conditions under which the modern moonshine whiskey has sprung into being to meet the demand is produced must give any one who has been indulging in that sort of stimulant cold shivers up and down the spine. The filth of the wash boilers and other vessels, the insect, animal and metal deposits which the liquor itself contains and the fusel oil, aldehydes and furfural which are invariably present are eloquent proofs of the poisoning process to which the user of this compound for deleterious impurities subjects itself.

A still greater menace to health and to life itself is denatured alcohol which has been redistilled, diluted, flavored and colored and then put in bottles with forged caps, labels and stamps and sold as one or other of the well-known brands. The drinking of this stuff results sometimes in instant death, and often in atrophy of the optic nerve, with consequent total blindness, and in various diseases of the kidneys and bladder.

To have anything to do with these concoctions is a demonstration of the lengths to which the human hand can go in its depravity and on the other human folly will go. The official revelations now made may not perhaps inspire any greater respect for the law, but at least they ought to act as a deterrent against a continuance of that self-destruction to which so many citizens have been deliberately subjecting themselves.

HIRAM, ALWAYS AGAINST

Hiram Johnson has returned from Europe. He seems to have been able to coin on the scene new commendatory adjectives stronger than those he developed at long range. Hiram hates, fears, distrusts Europe the more for having seen her. Of course, he does. Hiram went over to supply a new stock of the old mental furniture. He is not to be denied his holiday.

Although the Californian was met at the dock by the New York street cleaners' band, kindly loaned for the occasion by a friendly city administration, it is generally conceded that Hiram is through, insofar as the presidency is concerned. Astute political writers from Washington are commenting upon that fact. They say that Hiram's actions are not taken seriously any more. They ascribe definite reasons, chief of which is that the senator strayed from the Progressive fold in the height of conservative ascendancy of the last congress.

Another reason for Hiram Johnson's inability to warm men's hearts to him in recent years is that he has spent so much time telling men what he is against that they have forgotten what he stands for.

IN EUROPE

Denison Herald: About the only thing that prevents war in Europe now is the fact that the nations cannot afford it. Nine years of blood and gunpowder, though, does not seem to be enough to extract the greed and selfishness from the continent's people.

Let us be gentle with the Europeans. Let us in our security not forget that the people of Europe are semi-hysterical. Their nerves are unstrung, they are assailed by a thousand nameless dreads and fears. The great war unsettled their mental habits as well as their economic foundations. Texas is a great and self-reliant commonwealth, but if our state were surrounded by states whose people spoke a different language from ours, whose interests seemed antagonistic to ours, whose soldiers had invaded our soil, or whose soils had been invaded by our soldiers, many times in years past—if we believed our state surrounded by actual or potential enemies, would we be as secure in our minds as we happen to be as things are? It is certain that no European nation wants war, but when trade, industry and geography are in flux, when no man knows what startling development a day may bring forth, it is not unreasonable that doubts and suspicions and misgivings should be the rule. What our mighty country, our secure and self-contained country, has failed lamentably in is in having declined to assume a responsibility toward Europe which our position and prestige made morally obligatory. By helping others we might have helped ourselves. By isolating ourselves we have seen our best outlet for surplus crops shrivel gradually until we now begin to see, despite the assurances of misinformed politicians, we cannot prosperously live to our selves alone.—Dallas News.

NEGRO HOUSING FACILITIES IN THE NORTH

No little anxiety already is being experienced in the Northern industrial centers to which thousands of Southern negroes have migrated concern in the fate of the negroes when the cold weather sets in. While the summer lasts, the newcomers are able to put up with most any sort of quarters. The high temperatures that have prevailed in some of the Northern cities have not discommoded the negroes greatly. They are accustomed to enduring much heat.

It requires only a very little cold, however, to freeze out the average negro. He is not built to endure cold. Here in the South during the occasional cool spells that blow in during the winter season, many negroes abandon their regular tasks and hug the fires in their homes. A stiff northerly paralyzes the average negro almost as quickly as an overdose of "white mule."

The housing facilities in many of the industrial centers which are available to the negro newcomers are declared by investigators to be very inadequate. Such quarters as many of the negroes are being compelled to accept lack so many comforts that the health of the occupants is sure to be imperiled when the cold blasts sweep down from the North. If the usual shortage of coal comes and the usual "cold flat" results, the negro population will undergo intense suffering, and the mortality rate is certain to rise. And it goes without saying that employers are not likely to get much work out of the negroes when the mercury drops below zero.

If the negroes are going to stay in the North, it will be necessary for the public authorities to look into the negro housing situation and to initiate some measure for relief. In the interest of humanity and the public health, the congestion in inadequate, insanitary and uncomfortable quarters will have to be abated.

Before this is done, however, in all probability many of the negroes will turn their faces homeward. Winter in the North will revive fond memories of the salubrious climate of the South. The North is warned that if it desires to keep the negroes, it must prepare to keep them warm.

DENTISTS AND HEALTH

Dentistry is the latest profession to clean house, sweep out the cobwebs and apply ethical standards very practically in raising them. The Dental Educational council announces that the course of study for a degree in dentistry will be lengthened from four to five years. Dental schools are to be brought to a larger measure of excellence, especially in medicodental subjects. Recent discoveries of many new relations of teeth to general health demand closer co-operation between the physician and the dentist more dental knowledge in physicians and more medical knowledge in dentists. It is all expected to be rewarded by better dentists, better teeth, better health.

Incidentally the sterner requirements will probably result in a scarcity of dentists. Elevating standards of medical education has already caused a serious shortage of physicians. Many progressive dentists are already predicting a like situation in their profession. The rise of a number of new "schools" of healing and physical correction is aided in no small degree by the present-day shortage of trained physicians. Dentistry may expect comparable experience.

The cure of these and other unpleasant experiences that are likely to accompany raising of standards of dental education is the expansion of facilities for instruction. It is not enough that dental schools be made better. The best schools must be made bigger. The shortage of physicians is in no small measure due to the inability of existing schools to accommodate a sufficiently large number of applicants.

BLASPHEMOUS REDS

Russian communism condemns itself with the outside world when it denies the compatibility of religion with its social system. This is an admission of the criminality of communism, as well as its blasphemy. The leaders of Russian communism have arrogantly attempted to assume to themselves the powers of divinity. Religious belief makes men independent, brave and honorable. Hence the reds would stamp out religion. They can not thrive when the people obey divine laws.

THINGS YOU SHOULD KNOW ABOUT THE U. S. MAILS

Mail containing money and valuables should always be registered.

A special delivery stamp does not give better protection to your mail. Mail can be sent both special delivery and registered. To send money unregistered invites stealing, and there is no reimbursement for the sender.

The money order system affords a safe way to send money. If money orders are lost, a duplicate will be issued.

An unclaimed letter bearing no return address is sent to the dead letter office. If it contains nothing of value it is destroyed.

Patrons should use envelopes bearing their return cards for social correspondence as well as for business. Your postmaster will supply them, or your local printer will furnish them for you.

If your carrier delivery is too late for your requirements, you can rent a post office box at a reasonable rate. In sending a forwarding order to a postmaster, always give the complete address. Otherwise it may be impossible to give the forwarding orders to the proper employees.

If you put a message in a parcel post package you make the whole bunch first class.

You may enclose an invoice with your merchandise sent by parcel post.

The postmaster in his discretion may decline to allow you to receive your mail at the general delivery window unless you are a bonafide transient visitor.

You may not have part of your mail sent by carrier and the remainder placed in a box.

The limit of insurance on a parcel post bundle is $100 and the fee is 25 cents.

Only first-class mail may be forwarded to you free. If you desire your magazines and papers sent to you you should leave postage stamps with the forwarding clerk.

If you drop a letter without a stamp on it the clerk must write the addressee and ask for stamps to cover. He may not forward it "postage due."

Either half of a two-cent reply postal card may be used separately.

If you spoil a quantity of stamped envelopes the government will redeem the stamps but not the envelopes. The complete envelope must be surrendered.

Daily newspapers travel first-class as the department is very particular to have daily papers dispatched and delivered promptly. You may refuse to take a publication from the office or you may return it marked "Refused," after you have taken it.

The dividing lines between second-third and fourth class matter can not be stated in a thumb-nail sketch.

If your business is not large enough to warrant a subscription to the U. S. Postal Guide, ring up your postmaster on the telephone when in doubt.

You must not use postal cards to request the payment of a bill. This is a criminal offense.

A special delivery stamp on parcel post packages expedites its dispatch. It entitles it to travel in a first-class pouch if not too bulky.

If you are a regular subscriber to a daily paper your carrier will not leave the office on his trip until he assures himself that your copy has not arrived.

If you are on a rural route put your pennies for postage in an envelope or wrap in paper.

It is a pleasure trip, of course, and Donald M. knows how to twist time and opportunity into a full realization of that which he seeks. Vigilant and resourceful in business, Bangs will prove himself aggressive and adaptable when Miss Los Angeles places the fair hand of hospitality in his. ## TWO WEEKS MADE BIG DIFFERENCE

TWO WEEKS MADE BIG DIFFERENCE Mrs. Johnson Gives Stella Vitae Credit for Building Her Up From Weakness to Strength.

"Two weeks made such a difference in my feeling, after starting on Stella Vitae that I was actually surprised at my improvement," said Mrs. Essie Johnson, 813 Saulnier street, Houston, Texas.

"My kidneys troubled me something awful and I was terrible bilious. I suffered from pains around my stomach and my back hurt like it would kill me. Headaches were constant, and blind, dizzy spells would come on me. Even my legs hurt so it was painful for me to walk and my nerves were all on edge.

"In a couple of weeks after I started taking Stella Vitae I noticed an improvement and in a little while I was feeling about as good as I could expect or want. This is the best tonic for ailing women I have taken and I gladly add my name to others who praise it."

Stella Vitae may be obtained from any druggist and the purchase price will be refunded if it fails to bring relief.

HUNTER-CLEVENGER NUPTIALS

The wedding of Miss Naydeen Clevenger, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Clevenger, to Harry Arthur Hunter was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents Sunday morning, August 12th, at 10:45, with Rev. Bonnie Grimes, pastor of the Baptist church, officiating.

The home was attractively decorated with ferns mingled with baskets of pink crepe myrtle.

The ceremony was read in the spacious living room where an improvised altar had been arranged of beautiful ferns and tall floor baskets of pink crepe myrtle, forming a pretty background for the ceremony. The shades were drawn and the room lighted with candles.

With Miss Willie Gramling at the piano, Mrs. Greer Orton sang "Until." Miss Gramling played the wedding march and the bride came in on the arm of the groom.

The bride wore an exquisite gown of white crepe metre and her beautiful tulle veil was held in place by a wreath of orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of white California asters. The dress, veil and slippers were worn by the bride's sister, Rebecca, when she married.

The bride's going away costume was a handsome coat suit of blue poret twill trimmed in grey squirrel with accessories of grey to match.

Miss Naydeen is a graduate of Baylor University and has spent much time in studying voice, piano and art along with her literary studies. She was instructor of Spanish and sponsor of the senior class of Portales, New Mexico, high school last year.

Mr. Hunter is a graduate of Oklahoma University and Columbia University, New York. He is the principal of the Portales, N. M., school.

Mr. and Mrs. Hunter left on the 11:45 train for Athens, where they will get Mr. Hunter's car and go by the way of Colorado to Portales, where they will teach this fall.

OUR PAVEMENT

The paving work of our streets is progressing with every degree of rapidity, as is evidenced by the progress that has been made in the past few weeks. The entire portion of Main street from the court house to the store of Cason, Monk & Company, including the entire post office square, having been completed and open for traffic, and within only a few more days the entire business section will be completed and what was once old Humpty Bumpy Main Street, which when driving a car over would easily make one feel towards this street as Sherman felt when he expressed himself with reference to war, is now more, and in only a few short weeks this entire street will be finished with a nice smooth brick pavement from the Union Station to the LaNana Bayou.

The paving of Pilar street which is being done with the concrete pavement, is also progressing nicely, practically an entire block having been completed and in only a few days this entire street from the Southwest corner of the square to Banita Bayou will be finished with a nice, smooth Granited Concrete pavement after the completion of which street this contractor will proceed in other sections of the city.

Our Honorable City Council is to be congratulated most highly on the expediency in this work and one of the attractive features of the entire paving program is that practically everyone is heartily in favor of same, as is evidenced by absolutely no skips or gaps in any that has yet been put down, and where there were once gaps on Main street when previously paved, are now all paved and nice and solid, and the Boosters hope to see all the streets to be included in the paving program of our city paved completely as the work progresses and let the slogan of our citizens and town in general be "Yes, we'll have no gaps in our pavement," and when the entire paving program of our town is completed it can then be easily heard from all sides that Nacogdoches is the best paved town of its size in this section of the state.

On with the paving program and a greater Nacogdoches.

The Boosters.

The insurance key rate for Nacogdoches has just been reduced 3 cents, making it now 41 cents, which is a reduction from 52 cents in effect when Fire Marshal L. I. Muller took over his job two years ago last April. There will be another reduction of 5 percent in November and still another when the paving project now under way is completed. All of which sounds mighty good.

Recent Municipal Improvements Prove Profitable to Premium Payers.

Those keeping in touch with the civic progress and recent improvements in the city, note that on May 15, 1922, our city's fire insurance key rate was 54 cents and recently it was reduced to 41 cents, which is a decrease of 13 cents during the past 14 months.

The State Fire Insurance Commission has given our city this 13 cent reduction by virtue of the municipal improvements made recently, which are as follows:

Installation of duplicate air compressor at water plant, reduction of 2 cents given.

Installation of duplicate water pump of the required capacity, reduction of 2 cents given.

Replacement of 7 percent of water main distribution with 6-inch and 12-inch castiron pipe, reduction of 1 cent given.

Erection of brick pump and boiler room building, reduction of 3 cents given.

Securing the required reserve water hose supply, reduction of 1 cent given.

Inaugurating the punch clock night watch service, 5 percent; teaching of fire drills in the public schools, 3 percent; reduction of 4 cents given for the two latter.

On a basis of $600,000 value of insured property this means something not less than $6,000 per year saving to the premium payers.

With the completion of the paving and the laying of the castiron water mains as now outlined by the city officials we will be able to secure a further decrease in the key rate, which will not mean a saving in premiums, but with a 40 percent key rate or less, all mercantile establishments will be able to increase their insured values above 75 percent of the actual values.

This alone is a material saving to our city, not to mention the saving made in the way of decreasing depreciation, maintenance and better service that permanent improvements afford us.

We believe that few cities the size of Nacogdoches can show greater improvements and rewards therefrom than that of ours during so short a time. We are proud of our city, and let us hope that each and every one will continue with the same spirit of co-operation and progressiveness as has been shown in the past. On for a greater Nacogdoches.

Attendance will be checked up and the student-teacher will be expected to observe the practices usually found in good college classes. Within about ten days, however, he must be operated upon for appendicitis, and it is hoped he will rally from that ordeal in an equally satisfactory manner. Mr. Seale appears to be having rather more than his share of hard knocks, but here's hoping he may "come out on top."

South Fredonia and South North streets, designated to be paved with concrete, are rapidly being put in shape for actual paving, and Contractor McDonald will push his work as fast as men can do it. Nacogdoches will soon be out of the mud-or sand.

A glance at the fall fashion plates indicates that our girls will continue to be on the square.

It looks as if we are to be lucky this time if we manage to get by with only three parties.

NORTH STREET
PAVING ORDERED

A contract was let late Tuesday by the city council for the paving of North street. This contract went to the Panhandle Construction Company, which will put down the same class of paving which is being laid in the business district and on East Main street.

The council received two petitions for paving, one from the people on North street and one from residents along Walker Avenue. Both specified the kind of paving wanted. That for North Street was prepared by the paving company and the council voted to table both petitions. This was done to avoid complications which might arise in the future by having various paving concerns circulating petitions.

The residents of Walker Avenue asked that their street be paved with concrete. It is likely that this petition will be amended immediately so as not to specify the kind of paving of the company to put it down.

NEW LOCATION FOR THREE BUSINESS FIRMS

Sam Hayter is building a new brick building on one of his lots on West Main street. This building will be occupied by the J. M. Weeks Bottling Works when completed which will be about the first of the month. Mr. Weeks will move just as soon as the building is ready.

The building which Mr. Weeks now occupies is owned by the Summers Furniture Company which will move in just as soon as the building can be prepared for the furniture stock. The Orton Furniture Store will move into the building which the Summers company will vacate and it is understood that a new business will open in the building which will be vacated by the Orton company.

Thus there will be considerable moving of business establishments as soon as quarters can be prepared for them. This, together with other changes and programs which are taking place here will alter the appearance of Nacogdoches quite a bit.

David James was arrested by Sheriff Vaught about three miles out on the Alazan road Wednesday night and brought to town charged with carrying a pistol. Several empty kegs found in his conveyance were taken in charge by the sheriff and are at the courthouse. The prisoner was released early Thursday morning on bond.

WILL PEARSON MARRIED

Former Postmaster A. Y. Donegan is in receipt of a postal card from Will Pearson, a former clerk in the post office here, under a Chicago date, which says:

"At Chicago en route to New York, my future headquarters. I got married Sunday to Alma Ford and she is with me. We've looked the town over on foot, and you know what new shoes will do to the feet."

The bride appears to be unknown to his friends here, but Mr. Pearson's former associates and many friends wish him a lifetime of happiness.

Floyd Ramos and Alex Rodriguez, his brother-in-law, who reside near the bridge on the Lufkin-Nacogdoches Highway, were in jail Saturday morning as the result of a raid by the sheriff's department. The Sentinel is informed that a completely equipped still and a quantity of mash were captured. The officers had reason to suspect that a still was in operation in the Ramos neighborhood and secreted themselves nearby, expecting the men to begin work during the night. It seems, however, that Ramos and Rodriguez were rendered cautious by the appearance of an airplane which hovered over that section Friday, and did not appear at the still until well up in the day Saturday, when they showed up and began operations. The officers had them surrounded and experienced no trouble in effecting the arrest.

Messrs. Harris & Harris, attorneys at law, state that the appointment of Mr. June C. Harris as a member of the commission created by the 38th legislature to revise the civil and criminal laws of Texas, will not in any manner affect the business of this firm, or Mr. Harris' residence as a citizen of Nacogdoches. He will necessarily spend considerable time at Austin in the discharge of his duties as a member of this commission, but will make frequent visits to Nacogdoches in connection with his business here and will attend all of the terms of the county and district courts. Mr. Audley Harris, junior member of the firm, will always be found at the offices of the firm ready to serve the public.

THEY CAME, THEY SAW,
AND THEY CONQUERED

Garrison News, 10th. Peace time has its thrills as well as has war. And music has its charms that are just as potent when heralding the coming of a jolly bunch of builders and boosters as when leading an army "over the top."

These facts were amply and agreeably exemplified Wednesday morning when the Nacogdoches boosters 100 strong, with flags flying and bells ringing, struck Garrison, just about a minute behind their schedule time. (Of course, it was Levy of the Palace Theatre, who rang the bell.)

The cars parked at the public square the boosters swarmed out and trekked through town, two, four, time, distributing souvenirs and giving the glad hand and the gladder grin to the assembled citizens.

The Partin Band, whose home town, Nat, was said by Secretary H. L. McKnight, master of ceremonies, to embrace 175 square miles (no mention of the population) played several selections while the crowd gathered about the square.

The speakers of the brief program were: H. L. McKnight, secretary of the Nacogdoches Chamber of Commerce (informally and truly known as the "Boosters"); R. F. Davis, for 30 years superintendent of the Nacogdoches Public Schools; Presiding Elder H. T. Perrotte of the Methodist church in this district; and Eugene H. Blount, representative of our district.

A lot of good natured hurrah of everyone concerned, including our own Big Frank Garrison, was a feature of the wroth whirlwind proceeding. They told it, confidentially, of course, to the listening crowd that upon beginning the plans for the trip that Prof. R. F. Davis had privately requested Mr. McKnight to let him be designated for the occasion as "Dr." Davis, saying that all noted educators were so designated, whereupon it developed that Representative Blount had insisted that if this distinction were accorded to the professor then he must be addressed by the title of "Admiral." Needless to remark that Mr. McKnight humored both to their heart's content. Elder Perrotte came in for his share of chaffing. They insisted that he had made full use of the traditional Methodist privilege of "backsliding" and he defended himself that no mortal man could run with that bunch of boosters and not backslide.

But, for all their chaffing and bandinage, the speakers managed to get in some strong, solid talk for the help and the co-operation of the people of Garrison, the "Trade Center of Three Counties," in making of Nacogdoches the most progressive and prosperous county in Texas. They spoke, briefly, but convincingly of the fact that the town's interest and trade was solicited, not as a rival but as an ally.

Mr. Blount let his talk rest chiefly upon the offer made, through the medium of the A. & M. College, by the U. S. Government, to give a free expert soil test to two Texas counties. He also tarried briefly behind the other cars had gone to explain more fully as to the offer and to leave a petition to be circulated among those interested, asking that this be selected as one of the counties.

He advised, further, that our farmers and business men who realize what it would mean to our farming interests to have scientific advice upon the uses of fertilizers, to write personal letters urging our claims.

Personally, we feel that too much cannot be said about this live crowd of public-spirited business men who can and do get up enough pep these hot dusty days, to get out and tour their trade territory in the interest of their town. And, with the spirit in which they "staged" the affair, it was more fun than a fishing trip—and more useful.

It's important to know that a man has come from a good family, but it is more important to know how far he has come.

NACOGDOCHES PUPILS AT U. OF T. WIN HONORS

Austin, Texas, Aug. 11.—9 completion has been made of the winners of first, second and third places in the state meets of the University of Texas Interscholastic League for the past thirteen years of its existence, and it is found that the Nacogdoches schools have won a fair share of the awards of that organization.

In 1917 Alton Thomason of the Nacogdoches High School won first place in junior boys' high school declamation contest; and in 1919 representing the same school, Alton Thomason won second place in senior boys' high school declamation contest.

In 1921 Charlotte Baker, of the Thomas J. Rusk School, Nacogdoches, won second place in essay writing, ward school division.

These honors have been won in competition with nearly 4,000 other schools in Texas which are members of the league. County winners in the various events are first decided. These county winners then participate in a district meet where district winners are selected for competition in the state meet which is held at the University of Texas each year on the first Thursday, Friday and Saturday in May. The league thus maintains 223 county organizations and 32 district organizations. The constitutions and rules for 1923, containing in the appendix all of the records made at the 13 state meets, will be issued from the press the latter part of this month.

BUTTER SHIPMENTS

Austin, Texas, Aug. 11.—During 1922 Texas shipped Chicago 35,000 pounds of butter, 28,000 pounds of which arrived in that market during the month of May, according to reports of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, Wisconsin, which delivered 74,773,000 pounds, and Iowa, with 40,735,000 pounds, heads the list for that market, which received a total of 213,099,000 pounds of butter, including imports from New Zealand of 29,000 pounds and from Canada of 47,000 pounds.

THE LAST HONORS

Dallas News, 10th.

Today Dallas does honor to him who was the nation's chief. He served us with all his strength and all his mind and all his heart, and for that we respect him and his memory. The grief of his good wife touches even the least emotional of us. Few indeed are there of us whom death has not taught at some time or other the fellowship of sorrow. And as that frail, brave little woman lays away her comrade, friend and sweetheart, thousands upon thousands will wince with the keen hurt of that tender fellowship. For her the anguish of the journey across the continent is now over, with its hours of suffering borne in the unselfish will to withstand all that the dead might receive its due and the country express its deference and regard. Tomorrow the rest of us will turn again to our several paths of business and of duty. But for her tomorrow must be ever the mirror of yesterdays whose fond outlines are thrown back cruelly robed of their hearty substance. Tomorrow? For her there remains no tomorrow until in golden-throated solemnity the final reveille shall restore her to endless day with her own. A thousand cities and hamlets stand hushed today for words of low-spoken empathy. But if ear could catch the sympathetic overtone of hearts attuned to compassion, there would surely come the prayer, "God bless Mrs. Harding!"

It is impossible for the average author to pick what he considers the ten best books. The average author hasn't written that many.

EAST TEXAS ODD FELLOWS AT WORK HERE TODAY

One hundred and seventy-five Odd Fellows had reached the city at noon Thursday to take part in the meeting of the East Texas Odd Fellows Association and 100 more are expected tonight.

President J. F. Perritte called the meeting to order in the Palace Theatre at 10:30 a. m., a musical number was rendered, an invocation pronounced by Rev. H. T. Perritte, presiding elder of this district, an address of welcome on behalf of the city was given by H. L. McKnight, secretary of the Nacogdoches Chamber of Commerce; Judge S. W. Blount extended a welcome on behalf of the Odd Fellows, which was responded to by Judge Charles L. Branchfield, past grand master; an address of welcome to the Rebekahs was given by Miss Thelma James, to which Mrs. W. L. Garrard of Tyler responded; Miss Jenny Lacy of Lufkin gave a splendid reading and Mrs. J. N. Hall charmed her hearers with a beautifully rendered solo. Then Lieutenant Governor T. W. Davidson of Marshall made a talk on "Odd Fellowship," which was pronounced one of the finest efforts of the kind ever heard in Nacogdoches; and Rev. E. G. Cooke pronounced the benediction. This was the program arranged, and it was carried out to the entire satisfaction of all present.

First degree work is to be demonstrated and amplified tonight by the Tyler team, said to be one of the best in the jurisdiction, and Rebekah teams from Lufkin, Jacksonville and Tyler will contest this afternoon for supremacy in the work of that branch of the order.

On behalf of all the people, the Sentinel extends a hearty welcome and cordial greeting to our distinguished visitors. We hope they will enjoy their stay with us.

AMERICANISM IN TARIFF

When one attempts to discuss the tariff question immediately lays himself open to the charge of arguing partisan politics. The tariff question is a business proposition and not a political issue. Wage and working conditions are the biggest factors in establishing the price of practically all commodities. A publisher knows from experience that if he pays union wages and works on an eight-hour day he has to get a certain price for his advertising which twenty years ago would have been considered outrageously high, and yet the present wage which he pays and the price he charges for his advertising are reflections of increases all along the line in every commodity. If a foreign newspaper produced with labor paid from one-half to one-third of what the American publisher pays and working much longer hours, could be shipped in here at half the price for advertising and subscription rates, it would leave the American publisher in a bad fix unless the advantages the foreigner thus had were equalized in some form of tax assessed against him when he entered this field. Many industries find themselves in just such a position as the publisher would be under such conditions.

The result has been the tariff. There have undoubtedly been unjust tariff laws enacted and abused just as there are mistakes and abuses in every walk of life, but the exception does not prove the rule wrong. The American people must learn to consider certain basic principles vital to the prosperity of the nation. They must know the facts in regard to such questions as the tariff and realize that business principles instead of political log-rolling should guide in the solution of these problems.

EAST TEXAS ODD FELLOWS

The tenth annual session of the East Texas I. O. O. F. Association came to a close at 12 o'clock Thursday night. The program was carried out to a "T." The local lodges of Odd Fellows and Rebekahs served a chicken pie dinner to 170 visitors in addition to their own members. This lunch consisted of chicken pie, potato salad, tomatoes, lettuce, ice tea and watermelon dessert.

Grand Masters address to the members of the order was said to have gone straight to the hearts of those who heard it, as did Mrs. J. C. Monigold's address to the Rebekahs.

Longview was selected as the next meeting place.

Officers were elected as follows: Judge W. A. Ray, president, Longview; I. Z. Winn, vice president, Marshall; Mrs. N. B. Thompson, secretary-treasurer, Jacksonville.

Medals were awarded as follows to subordinate lodges: Unwritten work; conductor's charge, A. O. Sage, Palestine; chaplain's charge, V. G. Irving, Tyler.

For the Rebekahs: Noble Grand's charge, Miss Maggie Fluharty, Jacksonville; Vice Grand's charge, Mrs. Maude Harry, Jacksonville; Past Noble Grand's charge, Mrs. Ora McAnnally, Jacksonville. Mrs. Ora Ford of Jacksonville and Mrs. L. H. Parker of Tyler each made 98 percent on the delivery of the Chaplain's charge and it was decided to give each a medal.

In the contest for the prize of the best drilled Rebekah degree team was awarded to the Lufkin Degree Staff, in a very close contest over Jacksonville, Jacksonville having won at the two preceding associations. Tyler subordinate lodge conferred the first degree.

BEAUTIFUL PARK IS GIVEN TO THE CITY

A gift of a park was made to the city of Nacogdoches Tuesday and accepted by the city council in a meeting held in the afternoon. The gift came from Mrs. E. A. Blount, who deeded the city the beautifully wooded ground on the east side of Mound street just north of the Hill place.

This plat of ground extends across to Tucker street and fronts several hundred feet on Mound and Tucker. This ground is covered with large natural forest trees and can be converted into one of the prettiest little parks to be found anywhere.

Several years ago when the late Mr. E. A. Blount came into possession of the property he said he expected some day to turn it over to the city for a park and in transferring it to the city now Mrs. Blount is carrying out the wishes of her husband.

GOOD-WILLERS AT MT. ENTERPRISE

Mt. Enterprise Progress, 9th. The Nacogdoches party of Good-Will boosters were in the city Wednesday per schedule and the time this paper was going to press.

These gentlemen are on a two-days' trip surrounding Nacogdoches and are spreading good-fellowship and an earnest invitation to us all to come to Nacogdoches.

The party left over the Stone Fort Highway for Beech Creek, Caro, Trawick and other points, which will finish the tour.

Mt. Enterprise is glad to have them visit our town and our country and pleased to be able to show them a first-class highway to the Rusk county line.

We feel sure these gentlemen will see clearly the need of a graveled road from Nacogdoches to the Rusk county line and that this will be forthcoming immediately to Mt. Enterprise people so they can accept the invitation to come to Nacogdoches.

Nervous Break-Down

MRS. ANNIE LANGE, of R. F. D. 1, Burlington, Tex., writes as follows regarding her experience with Cardui: "Some time ago I had a nervous break-down of some kind. . . I was very weak and so nervous. I had fainting spells and suffered a great deal, but more from the weak, tremble, no-account feeling than anything else. I knew I needed a tonic, and needed it badly. I began the use of Cardui to see if I couldn't get some strength, as I knew of other cases that had been helped by its use. I soon saw a great improvement, so I kept it up. I used seven bottles of Cardui, and can say the money was well spent, for I grew well and strong. Am now able to do all my housework and a great deal of work besides."

If you are weak, run-down, nervous and suffer from the ailments peculiar to women, it is very likely that Cardui will help you, in the way it helped Mrs. Lange and has helped thousands of others, during the past 40 years. Ask for, and insist on, Cardui.

ROBS CALOMEL OF NAUSEA AND DANGER

Medicinal Virtues Retained and Improved—Dangerous and Sickening Qualities Removed. Perfected Tablet Called "Calotabs."

The last triumph of modern science is a "de-nauseated" calomel tablet known to the drug trade as "Calotabs." Calomel, the most generally useful of all medicines, thus enters upon a wider field of popularity—purified and refined from those objectionable qualities which have heretofore limited its use.

In biliousness, constipation, headaches and indigestion, and in a great variety of liver, stomach and kidney troubles calomel was the most successful remedy, but its use was often neglected on account of its sickening qualities. Now it is the easiest and most pleasant of medicines to take. One Calotab at bedtime with a swallow of water—that's all. No taste, no griping, no nausea, no salts. A good night's sleep and the next morning you are feeling fine, with a clean liver, a purified system and a big appetite. Eat what you please. No danger.

Calotabs are sold only in original, sealed packages, price 35 cents for the large family size; ten cents for the small, trial size. Your druggist is authorized to refund the price as a guarantee that you will be thoroughly delighted with Calotabs.—(Adv.)

A marriage license was issued Saturday by County Clerk Perritt to Joe Smith of Melrose and Miss Louella Bell of Mahl.

To the Sheriff or Any Constable of Nacogdoches County—Greeting:

You are hereby commanded to summon Edwin G. Cobelli and wife, Mrs. Emily Cobelli, whose residence is unknown, by making publication of this Citation once in each week for four successive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your county, to appear at the next regular term of the District Court of Nacogdoches County, to be holden at the Court House thereof, in Nacogdoches, on the 1st Monday in September, A. D. 1923, the same being the 3rd day of September, A. D. 1923, then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 3rd day of August, A. D. 1923, in a suit numbered on the docket of said Court No. 6180, wherein S. W. Blount, Mrs. Itasca P. Blount, Mrs. Mary Eason and husband, G. W. Eason, and John T. Garrison, are plaintiffs, and Edwin G. Cobelli and Mrs. Emily Cobelli, his wife, are defendants, and said petition alleging

To-wit: Plaintiffs sue for the cancellation of a lease contract made by the plaintiffs herein to Edwin G. Cobelli and W. E. Skinner on the 13th day of July, 1920, the said lease being made by the plaintiffs to the said Cobelli and Skinner of 98 14-27 acres of land in Nacogdoches county, Texas, as part of the J. M. Mora grant, and on the west bank of the Visitador Creek, as recorded in Lease Record Book 10, page 614, of Nacogdoches County; and that by the terms of said lease the lessees were to drill for oil on said land, and if oil was found in the shallow sand usually drilled to in that immediate territory, and in paying quantities, they were on continue drilling with diligence until they had drilled on said tract of land as many as one well to each five acres thereof, and were to diligently pump the oil from the well so drilled and deliver one-fourth thereof in tanks as property of these plaintiffs, their royalty and the consideration for the execution of said lease, and the said contract distinctly providing that a failure to drill said wells to the number above stated should cancel and annul the said lease contract as to said defendants; and plaintiffs alleging that the defendants have drilled only five wells on said land of a shallow depth, all producing oil in commercial quantities, and that for many months defendants have ceased to operate or pump the oil from said wells and in addition thereto have not drilled the number of wells on said land required by their said contract, and have not used diligence in endeavoring to do so, but have deliberately ceased drilling after drilling said wells, and have for many months ceased to operate or pump the wells so drilled, and have abandoned said premises, and the said wells thereon, thus failing to comply with their obligation and contract, which said obligation to so perform and do the things mentioned was the sole and only consideration moving these plaintiffs to enter into said contract and they pray judgment declaring the rights of said defendants under said lease contract forfeited and that the same is no longer operative and effective against these plaintiffs, and they pray for general relief.

Herein Fail Not, but have before said court at its next regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and the Seal of said Court, at office in Nacogdoches, this, the 3d day of August, A. D. 1923.

You are hereby commanded to summon Buster Johnson by making publication of this Citation once in each week for four successive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your county, to appear at the next regular term of the District Court of Nacogdoches County, to be holden at the Court House thereof, in Nacogdoches, on the first Monday in September, A. One reason for the high cost of living is that there's too much of it.

DELIGHTFUL HOMECOMING

Just beyond the city limits among tall oaks and bays stands the lovely country home of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Thrash.

Their four sons have gone out into the world with a parent's counsel and love to help them on their way. All have made good, and our town delights to claim them for her own. All four boys, some now married, returned to the "nest" spending the day frolicking about the lawn, devouring ice cold watermelons and mother's old-time farm dinner.

Those present were Fred E. Thrash and wife, Alvah J. Thrash, Dwight L. (Red) Thrash and wife, Charles L. Thrash and wife. Alvah J. has for a long time held an important position with the Anderson Drug Company of Houston, to which place he returned Sunday night. A Guest.
