GUARD INSPECTORS LAUD TROOP AT NACOGDOCHES

Captain John R. Bannister, Texas National Guard, headquarters at Houston, and Captain Ben H. Chastain, infantry, United States army, on duty with the Texas National Guard, were here Monday on a trip of inspection and instruction for local company C, 143d infantry, of which Captain J. C. Blake and Lieutenant Culberson Denman are the local officers.

Captain Bannister commanded company A, 360th infantry, 90th division, A. E. F. This company was made up of boys from Nacogdoches, Shelby and San Augustine counties. While here Monday Captain Bannister arranged for a reunion of the boys of his old command to be held in Nacogdoches, Sunday, November 11th. At that time a drive will be made for new members of the American Legion and also for recruits for company C of the National Guard unit.

Speaking of the National Guard and its place in the military forces of the country, Captain Chastain said: "The National Guard occupies a position of responsibility in the defense of the nation not heretofore placed on this branch of the service. The federal government and the war department is therefore demanding a higher degree of efficiency than has been the case with local guard units. Each unit must be maintained in a condition that will enable it to take the field within a few hours' notice. The emergency may come from devastating fire, floods, cyclones as well as riots."

"We are very glad to report that your local unit, company C, officered by Captain J. C. Blake and Lieutenant Culberson Denman, compares very favorably with any similar units in the state."

SPECIAL NOTICE

The Sentinel understands that all the stores will be closed Monday, November 12th, in honor of Armistice Day, which happens to fall on Sunday, the 11th.

With a total of $82,690,435, Texas contributed materially to the new high level of trust company resources of the country according to "Trust Companies of the United States," just issued by the United States Mortgage & Trust Company of New York.

The Southwestern States registered a total of $172,623,437 again of $28,795,455 over the previous year. Nearly fourteen and one-half billions of dollars is the impressive total of resources held by the Trust Companies of the country. The actual figures for the year ending June 30, 1923, are $14,441,460,650, as compared with $12,739,620,733 in 1922, representing a gain of $1,701,839,917. Deposits increased from $10,470,477,813 to $11,828,983,410.

Commenting on the excellent showing of Trust Companies as above set forth, John W. Platten, president of the United States Mortgage & Trust Company, says:

"These figures speak for themselves. They also testify in no uncertain manner to the growing popularity and added appreciation of the helpful service being rendered by the Trust Companies to their respective communities throughout the United States. Such concrete evidence of confidence can only lead to an ever-widening and deepening influence on the part of these institutions."

MAY GET TOGETHER ON GERMAN REPARATIONS

Paris, Nov. 7.—The reparation commission has decided to comply immediately with the German request for a hearing of the reparations question as proposed by the government's note of October 24, if the several governments, including the United States, are unable to agree regarding the setting up of an advisory investigating committee. Prospects for an agreement between France and Great Britain on the text of an invitation to the United States to join the conference of experts for examination of the reparations question is regarded in diplomatic and French official circles today as brighter, said to be due to the tendency of the British government to accept in attenuated form Premier Poincare's reservation restricting the estimate of Germany's capacity to pay to the present.

WALTON SEEKS TO HALT IMPEACHMENT PROCEEDINGS

Oklahoma City, Okla., Nov. 6.—Governor Walton announced that he had taken his fight against the impeachment charges to the United States District Court. He said he filed today at Lawton an application for a writ of subpoena asking all persons concerned in the trial be "restrained from proceeding with any pretended trial and pretended articles of impeachment."

STATE DESIGNATES 125 DEPOSITORIES

Austin, Texas, Nov. 6.—One hundred and twenty-five state and national banks in Texas were designated yesterday as state depositories for the next two years beginning December 1, by the state depository board. State funds to the amount of $5,000,000 will be placed in these banks. State Treasurer C. V. Terrell, secretary of the board, yesterday sent out blank bonds to be executed by these banks not later than November 25.

THREE AUSTIN GIRLS INJURED IN ACCIDENT

Austin, Texas, Nov. 6.—Miss Mary Louise Stanberry, 15, Miss Ina Del Fiegel, 16, and Miss Helen Philbert, 17, are in a local hospital with fractured skulls as a result of an automobile accident Sunday on the Manor Road, five miles from Austin. The car struck a pole and was overturned.

There were three other young ladies in the car, but they escaped serious injury. Miss Stanberry and Miss Philbert were reported to be in a serious condition Monday.

Miss Stanberry is the daughter of the chief clerk of the oil and gas division of the railroad commission. The girls are high school students.

Rev. C. D. Atwell and Mrs. Atwell left on the T. & N. O. Wednesday for points in Illinois. They go from here to St. Louis, where they will join their son, Donald, and from there will go to Lerna, Ill., where, on the 10th, Donald will be married to Miss Mildred Grey. The two young people graduated in the same class at the University of Illinois at Urbana. Donald has been with Evans & Howard, a large manufacturing concern, since graduation. They will make their home in St. Louis. Before returning to Texas, Rev. and Mrs. C. D. Atwell will visit their daughter in Chicago. But Mr. Atwell says if he finds it uncomfortably cold he will be right back to Texas.

ODD-SIZED ENVELOPES

There is a reason in the postoffice department's effort to secure co-operation of manufacturers, dealers and the public generally against "odd-sized" cards and envelopes in Christmas mail. Such sizes increase the burden on postal agencies at a time when it is heavy enough at best. Their elimination would expedite the movement of the mail. This should appeal to all as an excellent reason for complying with the postoffice department's request for co-operation to eliminate "odd sizes."

Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Perritte, who have been making their home with the former's parents, County Clerk and Mrs. J. F. Perritte, since their marriage, have taken light housekeeping rooms with Mr. and Mrs. G. H. King, South Fredonia street.

ARKANSAS GOVERNOR COMMUTES SENTENCES

Little Rock, Ark., Nov. 6.—Governor T. C. McRae yesterday commuted to 12 years' imprisonment, death sentence imposed on six negroes convicted of murder four years ago and sentenced to be electrocuted in connection with the outbreak at Elaine, Ark., in 1919, in which several white men and an undetermined number of negroes were killed.

Action of the governor was taken on a petition by a number of residents of Phillips County, in which Elaine is located, and members of a commission named by the governor to investigate the outbreak.

The above list of names compiled by John Burrows, commander of Henry Raguet Camp, No. 620, United Confederate Veterans, Nacogdoches, Texas, assisted by Jesse H. Summers, Sr., Captain of Henry Raguet Camp.

Great pains have been taken to make these lists accurate and complete. It is possible, of course, that some one or more has been overlooked. If there is an old Confederate, or the widow of an old Confederate, whose name does not appear, it is earnestly requested that it be reported at once to Commander Burrows, Captain Summers or to Secretary McKnight of the Chamber of Commerce. Please do this without delay.

RAILWAY STRIKERS RIOT

Warsaw, Nov. 7.—Twenty-two persons have been killed and three scores wounded in riots and bombings growing out of the strike of railway workers.

It is interesting to come to the forks of a strange road and make a decision on which way to go.

FOUR ARE FOUND GUILTY IN FIRST MER ROUGE CASES

Bastrop, La., Nov. 5.—Four alleged members of the Morehouse Parish Klu Klux Klan, including Captain J. K. Skipwith, exalted cyclops, today were found guilty of "carrying firearms on the premises of another" in connection with hooded band activities in Morehouse parish last year.

Sentences will be pronounced later. Others found guilty were Benton Pratt, Marvin Pickett and W. G. McIntosh.

Three alleged klansmen tried jointly with the four were found not guilty. They were Sam Eldridge, Sam Cox and "Cud" Pickett.

The seven were tried jointly before Judge Fred C. Odum in Sixth district court. They were charged with a raid on the home of Alonso Braddock, farmer.

New Trial Refused

Bastrop, La., Nov. 6.—Motion for a new trial for Captain J. K. Skipwith, Benton Pratt, Marvin Pickett and W. G. McIntosh, alleged klansmen convicted yesterday for carrying firearms on the premises of another, was offered today by counsel for the defendants when court opened for the trial of other misdemeanor cases growing out of mob operations in Morehouse parish last year. Judge Odum denied the motion for a retrial.

BLAKE BOX SUPPER DATE HAS BEEN POSTPONED

The date of the box supper at Blake school house, advertised for Saturday, the 10th inst., has been changed to Saturday, the 24th inst., on account of the first date conflicting with several other entertainments. Please remember the new date—Saturday, November 24th.

FUNERAL OF MRS. MILLARD

In the presence of one of the largest gatherings that ever assembled in the county on a similar occasion, Mrs. Celia Millard, wife of the late J. J. Millard, was laid to rest at 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon in North Church cemetery. There were evidences on every side of genuine grief at the passing of this saintly woman, who was known and loved as "Aunt Celia" wherever the beneficence of her presence fell. We really should not sorrow when the life-work of such a woman is ended. She has simply "gone home". The more than 77 years she was with us were filled with generous, kindly, Christian deeds, and upon more lives than probably will ever be known here, the beautiful example of her blameless life and Godly walk have wrought for eternal good, and when the busy hands were finally folded in that peace which passeth all understanding, we are sure the glad welcome was hers, "Well done."

Before her marriage Mrs. Millard was Miss Celia Burrows. She was born and reared in the community where she died. She is survived by four sons and one daughter, Messrs. Jesse Millard, with whom she made her home; Henry, Robert and Arch Millard, and Mrs. A. H. Fears of Roosevelt, Okla. One brother, John Burrows, also survives.

The last rites were conducted by Rev. A. T. Garrard of the Baptist church and Rev. E. G. Cooke of the Nacogdoches Methodist church. The active pallbearers were C. E. Richardson, G. E. Stripling, J. D. Elington, R. S. Jordan, T. E. Baker and O. L. Forsgard.

The honorary pallbearers were W. I. Baker, D. F. Stoddard, T. M. Hooks and I. L. Sturdevant.

ARMISTICE DAY

Armistice Day falling this year on Sunday, I hereby proclaim Monday, November 12, 1923, as a holiday that our people may fittingly observe this anniversary of our victory in the greatest war in the world's history, and recommend that steps be taken by all to celebrate this day in a becoming manner, returning thanks to the Divine Providence which has watched over us in the past and petitioning that these mercies be continued. I ask all business houses to close for the day, so that no one may be deprived of the privilege of paying honor to our soldiers, living and dead, whose sacrifices and courage made our liberties safe.

W. I. BAKER, Mayor, City of Nacogdoches, Texas.

ATLANTA KLAN ATTORNEY SLAIN BY KLAN EDITOR

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 5.—W. S. Coburn of Atlanta, attorney for the Emperor Simmons-faction of the Ku Klux Klan, was shot and killed in his office here late this afternoon.

Philip Fox, said to be editor of the Imperial Klighthawk, a publication of the imperial palace, was arrested.

Coburn was shot five times and toppled over in his chair. The bullets were said to have been fired from the doorway of Coburn's office.

Claims Tried to "Ruin Him"

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 6.—While Solicitor Boykin asked the Fulton county grand jury today to indict Philip E. Fox, editor of the Klighthawk, the official organ of the Ku Klux Klan, the prisoner refused to add anything to his statement that Captain W. S. Coburn had threatened to "ruin him," in explanation why he shot and killed Coburn yesterday. Mrs. Fox, wife of the man who killed the attorney for the Simmons faction, is prostrated, according to the man who answered the door bell at her apartment. A 7-year-old boy who came to the door said he was Philip Fox, Jr., son of the slayer.

MOHLER GIVEN DEATH PENALTY ON MURDER

Eastland, Texas, Nov. 6.—R. L. Mohler was found guilty on a charge of murder by a jury here Sunday morning and given the death penalty. Mohler was tried in connection with the death of Hugh Maples in Eastland county.

The verdict was returned shortly after midnight. The jury deliberated three hours.

THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION

Washington, Nov. 6.—President Coolidge's Thanksgiving Day proclamation, issued today, calls to mind that the year brought to the American people two tragic experiences—the death of President Harding and Japanese earthquake—but says such experiences serve to test and refine men and nations. During the year also, it says, the nation was blessed with much material prosperity, and asked the people to gather in their homes and places of worship November 29th to express gratitude and "seek the guidance of Almighty God that they may deserve a continuance of His favors."

INDIANA BANKS ROBBED

Spencer, Ind., Nov. 6.—A band of robbers estimated at between 14 and 20, robbed two banks here early today of approximately $15,000 and wounded two citizens. They first isolated the town by cutting telephone and telegraph wires, and posted guards to prevent interruption while they blew open the bank vaults.

TOY PISTOL SENT WALTON

Oklahoma City, Okla., Nov. 6.—The death threat which Governor Walton said he received, causing him to leave the courtroom suddenly last Friday during the impeachment trial, was a toy pistol, sent him apparently by a practical joker. This was established by the senate committee which investigated the affair while awaiting resumption of the trial next Thursday.

MINERS ENTOMBED

Beckley, W. Va., Nov. 6.—Between 35 and 50 miners are reported entombed in the Glen Rogers mine of the Raleigh Wyoming Coal Company, in Wyoming county, by an explosion this morning. Details are lacking, but it is said more than 60 were in the mine, 23 being brought out uninjured. In official reports it is estimated that five to ten are dead.

OKLAHOMA MINERS KILLED

Miami, Okla., Nov. 6.—Three men were killed and a fourth was probably fatally injured when a hoist can in the Lucky Bill lead and zinc mine near here dropped 200 feet when the brake failed to work this morning. The dead are Emmett Gilliam, Picher Joe Laws of Lincolnville and Walter Wallace of Joplin, Mo. Albert Marney, of Monarch, Kansas, was hurt.

SMALL BUSINESS

Houston Chronicle.

The public was advised by Chronicle press dispatches of Wednesday, October 31, that certain commercial waste paper dealers in New York have brought action or are seeking to have one brought, to vacate the charter of the Salvation Army.

They sought a hearing before a deputy attorney general for the purpose of having such action brought, and they charge that "the Salvation Army by using cheap labor recruited from the ranks of the unfortunates for whom it cares, was overbidding them in buying waste paper, and underbidding them in selling it."

The press dispatch stated that the nature of the relief sought is to vacate, or forfeit, the charter of the Salvation Army because "in conducting a waste paper business it violated the provisions of the law under which it was created and abused the privileges conferred upon it as a religious and charitable agency."

It strikes the Chronicle that the men who propose to institute such action are engaging in very small business.

They concede that the army is a "religious and charitable agency," yet would curb an activity by which it provides honest labor for unfortunates whom it rescues from the gutter, and raises funds to help other unfortunates, with no thought of gain or greed.

The Chronicle knows of no legal obstacle to the Salvation Army organizing a waste paper firm or company of its own, and if it should do so, it would be on an equal footing with those who seek its legal life.

It could blend benevolence in business just as it is now doing and those who now complain of it would have no course of action.

Whatever may be the technical legal rights of the complaining firms or companies it may be safely assumed that they will receive but scant sympathy from the people.

JOBS FOR ALL

There will be a job for every man who wants to work next winter, is the confident assertion of the director of the employment service of the United States department of labor. More than that, he believes that the next few months will be the best in years of peace so far as ready employment is concerned.

Such prophesy is gratifying and will refute the calamity howlers who are always particularly active in seasons of presidential campaigns.

In the readjustments through which we are now passing it has been unavoidable that there should be certain disarrangements of industry. But with continuance of a pronounced world shortage of many materials and manufactured articles it is inconceivable that stagnation could be either general or prolonged.

Undoubtedly one of the most disturbing factors in the situation is the problem of the price level. Until uncertainty is largely removed, business men will avoid large commitments, and as long as they feel inclined to pronounced conservatism, resumption and expansion are certain to be somewhat retarded.

In discussing the commercial and industrial situation the man who dares to prophesy from day to day or from week to week flirts with discomfiture. But the man who prophesies for the "long pull" will, if he is a booster for America, not go far wrong. What must be remembered is that the United States is becoming more and more the center of the world's dependence, that our prosperity is just beginning, and that the achievements of the future are certain to outstrip those of the past.

The man who puts his faith in America for "the long pull" can endure passing fluctuations with equanimity and confidence. America has a golden future so much greater than opportunities which have confronted nations in the past as to be beyond comparison. Whether it shall be grasped depends on American business men—and upon every American. Be an American—boost for America!

GAMBLING

Gambling, says Sir Walter Scott, in the introduction to "St. Roman's Well," is "a vice which the devil has contrived to render all his own, since it is deprived of whatever pleads an apology for other vices, and is founded entirely on the cold-blooded calculation of the most exclusive selfishness."

The prevalence of the vice calls for some straight thinking concerning its iniquity. Too many persons, including both the "society" women who play bridge and the street urchins who roll dice in back alleys, do not consider gambling inherently wrong.

They ignore the fundamental fact that gambling at dice and cards is immoral because it is an attempt to win money by making somebody else lose it. There is no way for the gambler to profit except by causing his opponent to suffer. This is the crux of the matter and must be emphasized if people are to be made to believe that gambling is an evil in itself, independently of whether one can afford to lose. Can one afford to win, or try to win, at the expense of another, should rather be asked.

NEW ORDER NOT DESIRABLES

The doctrine of the "new economic order" is being preached far and wide these days, but it is doubtful if any two of the persons who are engaged in the propaganda of radicalism can agree on what they mean by the "new order."

There never has been a time in the history of the world when conditions were ideal, and it is doubtful if that time will ever come. There are undesirable conditions to be overcome, but experience shows that enduring progress comes through evolution, not revolution.

Teachers of communism praise a great deal about the benefits that will come to the common people through adoption of their creed, but they are careful to avoid mention of Russia, which is the one great country in which the Bolshevik system is in control. The results do not speak well for it.

There are morals in economics, and any system that includes the confiscation, or appropriation without compensation, of the property of others it is so opposed to a sense of right that it cannot be entertained by persons who have the least spark of honesty in their makeup.

Either ignorance or rank dishonesty is back of the movement of communism, or the holding of property in common, and it is probable that both are involved. The system was abandoned 2,000 years ago by a body of men and women in the first Christian church, and it is not changed in character when advocated by groups of unscrupulous men today.

Mankind has made a great progress in the last century, and there is reason to believe that greater achievements lie just ahead. They will not come about by destroying what has already been built and substituting an uncertain and vague thing called the "new order."

DEER NEED PROTECTION

The mountains of the Pacific coast from Mexico to Canada have long been noted as a deer country. But good roads, autos and high-power rifles are causing deer to grow scarcer each year. In a short time the Pacific coast deer will be as scarce as the red deer of England.

The deer deserves protection because it is one of the most interesting animals in natural history.

Perhaps the strangest process in the life of animals—and one which science has been unable to solve—is the shedding of the deer's antlers. It is done through peculiar, automatic arrangements that cut off the blood supply and form a soft tissue at the base of the horns which loosens them. This dying away at the base would be disease in other animals, but in deer it is natural. A deer hardly grows a set of antlers before operations begin for shedding them.

Only male deers have antlers, with the single exception of the reindeer, where they occur in both sexes.

ABOUT THE BOOTLEGGER

Nearly everybody has it in for the bootlegger. He is regarded as a criminal too far beneath contempt for slander. Yet, in spite of what can be said of him, he has his patrons and his customers. They sustain him, maintain him, succor him, protect him, defend him, and become particeps with him. They stand by him even to perjury. He gets them into trouble by the stuff he sells them. They get sick for him, they pay fines for him, they die for him. No king ever had subjects with the aggregate of loyalty displayed by those who come under the spell of the bootlegger, the blind-pigger. Except for them he could not exist a week. Except for them he would have to work for a living. Except for them their government would save a million a year it now spends trying to catch him. Who, then, is the worst sinner against law, government and society, the bootlegger, or he who buys from him?—Ex.

If she lives in the country and looks humbled and broken, the neighbors call her a dutiful wife.

Another amusing thing in the movies is the prompt way the maid answers when her mistress rings.

Houston Chronicle.

Mr. Kellogg, our new ambassador to England, is not only a lawyer of the first order of ability, but a man of concededly high character. He is also financially able to afford to hold the position.

Despite the fact that the absolutely necessary expenses of our minister to England exceed his salary, it seems impossible to induce congress to increase it. No man has ever held the position except at great financial sacrifice.

Mr. Kellogg will, in all likelihood, be called upon to deal with many grave diplomatic questions, but there is every reason to believe he will meet every demand of the very responsible position.

Reference to the position of minister to England recalls the memory that about 80 or 82 years ago Texas, as a republic, had a minister at the court of St. James who was a citizen of Harris county, and who died in the comparatively recent past and sleeps under Harris county sod—Dr. Ashbel Smith.

He represented a new-born republic which, as national greatness, is measured, was weak and insignificant, but thousands yet living can bear witness that never since he was there has this, or any other nation, been represented at that court by any man who was the superior in culture and scholarship of the doctor who represented there the Republic of Texas.

He was "a gentleman of the old school," who had sounded all the depths and shoals of learning, and who at 55 years of age led to bloody battle a regiment of Texas Confederates and was wounded in the very forefront of the fighting.

INCOME TAX INFORMATION

The following statement is issued by Collector of Internal Revenue Geo. C. Hopkins of the Second District of Texas.

Forms 1099 and 1096 for filing returns of information are available today at the office of Collector of Internal Revenue at Dallas, Texas, and the following branch offices, Abilene, Dallas, Fort Worth, Tyler and Wichita Falls, Texas.

The early release will be of aid to firms, corporations and businesses employing large forces, which annually are required to report to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue at Washington payments of $1,000 or more made during the preceding calendar year.

A separate return of information for each employee whose salary for 1923 was $1,000 or more is required of employers on Form 1099, Form 1096 on which must be shown the number of separate returns, serves as a letter of transmittal.

Banks and similar organizations are required to report interest paid or credited to a depositor if the total during the year equaled or exceeded $1,000. Information returns are carefully checked. If in a taxpayer's individual return a payment reported on an information return is omitted, action by the Bureau of Internal Revenue follows.

Copies of the forms will be sent to those who filed similar returns for 1922. The filing period is from January 1 to March 15, 1924.

THE TEST

Soon we shall be celebrating Armistice Day, expressing pride in our part in the winning of the world war. That we have much to celebrate in that respect was attested by former Premier Lloyd George of England in his address in Minneapolis.

Speaking of our sending millions of our best to Europe to fight for a holy ideal, he said: "You came for naught but at the call of a great purpose and a great ideal. It ought to be your pride. The part you took in it is one which is worthy of your greatest traditions. And my last word is that, so far from forgetting that part, I trust that the United States of America will once more, in due time, in its own way, cast its great might into the scales of peace."

Are we as proud of our attitude toward the peace as we are of our part in the winning of the war?

That is the test!

It is often said in the defense of indecency in theatrical and picture shows that the public wants "realism". The public wants nothing of the kind. What the public does want is something that will relieve the mind, even if only for a few hours, from the stark oppression of the realism under which they suffer day by day. They want idealism, they want beauty and they want cleanliness. Instead of this they are too often getting dirt.

There is no such thing as second thought. The first one was just an impulse.

Do You Find Shopping a Pleasure?

Some folks do. They're the modern shoppers--the ones who know just what they want--how much to pay--exactly where they will find the right goods at the right prices.

They're the ones who realize the value--to them--of advertising. They make a practice of reading the advertisements in the newspapers. Sitting at ease in their homes, they formulate their shopping programs. They note the things that interests them particularly and plan to cut out waste motion, unnecessary steps and lost time.

Planned in this fashion, shopping loses its terror. It no longer leaves you jazzy and jaded. It starts you off with a definite objective and brings you home with a feeling of something accomplished.

If you haven't been reading the advertisements, try out the method. It's a good one.

The advertisements are your good friends. Cultivate them!

ARCHIBALD'S LEG BROKEN

Jacksonville Progress, 3d. Archibald Adams, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Adams of this city, sustained a broken leg in the football game at Crockett Friday afternoon, between the high school teams of Jacksonville and Crockett. The left leg was fractured somewhere about or just above the knee joint.

Mr. Adams was notified late Friday afternoon of the accident and intended leaving for Crockett on the early morning train today, but on account of it being late, he and F. E. Churchill made the trip in a car. The boys are all expected back on the Sunshine this afternoon, and will bring Archibald with them. The accident is very much regretted by all.

The Halloween crowd was out in force Wednesday night and the customary pranks were played. The editor's gate found lodgment in a tree in the yard of a next-door neighbor, but otherwise was let off. Some rough stuff was pulled, however, and this is to be condemned. We like to see the boys have fun, but a man fails to yield to the humor of the thing when his property is wantonly destroyed. Traffic Officer Robert Burk rather put it over on one crowd he caught at their mischief on East Main street. The youngsters had emptied trash cans and barrels, rolling them into the street and dumping out their contents, making no end of a mess. When they were about through Officer Burk stepped in and courteously but firmly invited the young gentlemen to replace everything they had moved, including the trash. The boys hadn't figured on this as part of the game, but under the officer's persuasive direction they obeyed orders and left everything spick and span.

Don't be afraid to speculate. Those who bought German marks now have money to burn.

Nothing is perfect in this hard world, and where Sambo finds high wages he finds few 'possums.

How did the tired business man dress on Sunday before pajamas were invented?

A diamond that costs the importer $200 frequently retails for $1,000. Aren't the freight rates awful?

NACOGDOCHES TRADITIONS

The death of Holloway B. Power cause sadness to many hearts. He was so generally known and tenderly esteemed by all his neighbors and acquaintances that he was called "Uncle Holloway." He has departed this life, and though he is gone to a better abode, we nevertheless mourn his absence. There was a special personal endearment between him and this writer, and I might add the same sentiment for all the Power family, and his lamented angel wife and all of her Burrows family.

I was a comrade with Holloway Power in the army, was his family physician and his neighbor, and I came to Texas about the same time that the Power and Burrows families came, when everybody knew every body, and loved and helped each other.

Holloway Power, true to the blood, was always at his post of duty. He was seriously wounded in battle by a minie ball which carried away a large fragment of his skull. I never knew a question of honor against a Power, and I extend to the family and his relatives by sincere condolence. I place him in the line of honor in Nacogdoches Traditions. J.E.M.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

This is to remind you that I have a full line of Ladies' and Misses' trimmed and tailored hats to be sold during this and next week at real bargains. MISS N. L. JACKSON. 1-2w.

THE BIG DIFFERENCE AND WHERE DOES IT GO?

Most everyone will admit that $1.10 a month, $13.20 a year; 10 years $132.00; 20 years $264.00; 40 years $528.00 is cheap insurance for men and women from 16 to 50 years of age, and nowhere can you get it for such a small amount. Still if we had been collecting $1.10 a month, whether any deaths or not, after paying all death claims and expenses, 64 deaths in 14 years in the Mutual Benefit, we would now have on hand a surplus of $88,000.00, and for 6 years in the Brotherhood, a total of 24 deaths, we would have a surplus of $39,600.00, a total surplus in the two orders of $127,600.00, and could stop assessing until 127 members died before it would be necessary to begin assessing again. And remember, there have only been 88 deaths in the two orders and all death claims and all expenses have been paid. Is not this vast saving by the Dorsey Way worth something to the people of the county?

Talk about Life Insurance the Dorsey Way is head and shoulders above any other Life Insurance and grows more in favor of the insuring public and grows stronger and stronger as time goes by. Life is uncertain and death is sure. See Dorsey today. We have openings all along in Orders that are worth $1,000.00 the day you get it should you die.

CAR PLUNGES INTO RIVER; GIRL DROWNS

Austin, Texas, Nov. 3.—Leona Brice of Corsicana was drowned when an automobile in which she was riding went off a bridge and dropped into a swollen creek about two miles north of here yesterday.

Mrs. J. W. Servatius, aunt of Miss Brice, and her companion in the automobile, was rescued from the stream by means of ropes.

Miss Brice's body has not been recovered.

MORE THAN MAIL CARRIER

Nocona, Texas, Nov. 3.—Ask the fake stock peddlers, the oil stock boomers, and others of the blue-sky ilk, whose motto is "find 'em, fool 'em, frisk 'em and forget 'em," what luck they have with the people who live on the long stretch of country road in Montague county, better known as Route No. 5 of the Nocona postoffice, and they mournfully repeat the opening words of "Old Black Joe"—"gone are days."

Norris R. Beal, rural mail carrier for Route 5, has charged or prevented all of that. His route is not the happy hunting ground for the "come on" man. When he took over the job of correctly distributing United States mail to the people dwelling on that stretch of road he took for his motto "My patrons are my people."

Knowing that men and women living in the rural sections have been victimized often because of misplaced confidence, because of misinformation or because of lack of safe and convenient investment outlets, Beal commenced to inform his people about government securities—treasury savings certificates, the government's loss-proof, compound interest-bearing security. The result speaks for itself. Now patrons dwelling in rural route No. 5 out of Nocona have safely salted away to their credit in Uncle Sam's treasury saving certificates close to $100,000.

Beal is the sort of man who believes in giving his government the best possible service he can render—the sort of man who makes the interest his patrons his interest.

The Nocona carrier has the distinction of having sold more treasury savings certificates per capita than any rural carrier in the United States, so far as it is known. He has made it possible for the patron's farthest removed from Nocona to invest with safety and assurance in a security which is guaranteed against any and all forms of loss and which, should its owner have need of his money, may be converted into cash on short notice without loss or depreciation.

Time after time Carrier Beal has been commended from Washington by Captain Wallace, national director of savings, and by District Director Hume at Dallas, for the way he takes care of and safeguards the financial interests of his people.

MOB INFLECTS PUNISHMENT

Tampa, Fla., Nov. 1.—Unmasked men last night took three residents of Tampa to the Woods about six miles east of here, whipped them and left them wounded and bleeding to make their way back to the city, according to reports to the chief of police today. The victims were Leo Isaacs, restaurant proprietor; Enrique Rosa, a waiter in a safe; Andrew Williams, negro restaurant proprietor. Isaacs has been arrested many times charged with liquor law violations, the authorities said.

ANTI-KLAN BILL IS INTRODUCED IN OKLAHOMA

Oklahoma City, Okla., Nov. 1.—A bill prohibiting the wearing of hoods or other masquerade, except in lodges or private homes, declaring an emergency and forbidding assembly of one or more persons for the purpose of violating its provisions, was introduced in the Oklahoma senate yesterday.

This is the first vital legislation in Oklahoma aimed directly at the Ku Klux Klan and follows the chaotic situation which was attended, according to enemies of the clan, by flogging and whipping parties by masked mobs.

One section provides penitentiary terms of one to fifty years for persons convicted of assembling in bodies of 10 or more for the purpose of "whipping, coercing, threatening or intimidating persons," or for committing these acts. Such an offense is termed riot.

It shall be unlawful for any person to wear apparel of any kind or character which will hide his identity or obstruct the view of his face, except that any secret organization is authorized to wear any kind of regalia in lodges or assembly halls, according to the provisions of the bill.

THE PRESBYTERIANS

Chattanooga, Tenn., Nov. 1.—The church-wide program for the Southern Presbyterian church indicates that the month of November with the more than half million southerners of this constituency will be one of unusual activity. Chief among the events that will engage their attention are "Church Paper Week," November 4th to 11th; "Home Mission Week," Nov. 11 to 18th; "Father and Son Week," Nov. 11th to 18th; and "Orphanage Day," Nov. 25th or 29th.

Church paper week will largely be conducted by the woman's auxiliary, the women's organization for this church. Their success in this work in former years has been both notable and remarkably successful. Their aim is to put the church paper in every home in the church. A recent bulletin on church paper week sent out by the general assembly's stewardship committee says of the church paper, "A medium for the education, counsel and information of the membership of our church on the program, activities, ideals and world vision of the church, the value of the church paper cannot be questioned nor the importance of placing it in every home overestimated." Pastors and church leaders are giving the women hearty support in this undertaking.

A most interesting program "Heirs of the Kingdom" prepared by the executive committee on home missions has been sent out to all churches for their guidance in observing home mission week, November 11th to 18th, and a children's day program, "Citizens of Tomorrow" has been sent to all Sunday-school superintendents. Interesting letters from Dr. Homer McMillan, secretary, and Miss Nancy White, educational secretary, have been sent out with these programs to pastors, superintendents and secretaries of home missions in their local woman's auxiliary. A pageant by Miss Julia Lake Skinner has been prepared for free distribution to the churches that desire to use it. The following statement from the educational secretary of this committee indicates the importance of home missions week to Southern Presbyterians: "All indications point to the fact that the hour has struck for a great advance in home missions. To be ready to play our part we must face the task squarely, study it thoroughly and give to its accomplishment largely. Never has the need for interest in and funds for assembly's home missions been greater, and never has the treasury been so depleted at this time of the year. Unless the conditions improve greatly, this committee, which until a short time ago has never been in debt, will have to face the largest deficit in its history."

Thanksgiving day is orphanage day with the members of the majority of the churches of this denomination, a day on which liberal offerings are made to the support of these wonderful institutions scattered throughout the church. Practically every synod in the fifteen southern states in which this church operates has one or more such institutions. Many of the Sunday schools take their offering on the Sunday nearest Thanksgiving which this year will be November 25th.

TEXAS HIGH SCHOOL PRESS ASSOCIATION MEETS SOON

Belton, Texas, Nov. 1.—The second convention of the Texas High School Press Association will be held at the Baylor College for Women, Belton, December 7 and 8, according to an announcement made here today by Prof. Guion Griffis Johnson, organizer of the association and head of the Baylor School of Journalism. A large attendance from high schools all over the state is expected.

Two additional prizes are being offered this year, making a total of six. These prizes are for the best edited high school newspaper, annual, magazine, news story, editorial and short story. All entries must reach the Baylor College office by November 23. The Houston Post Trophy, given last year to the Brackenridge Times of Brackenridge High School, San Antonio, will be offered for the best edited school newspaper. Four consecutive issues of the fall term paper must be entered by those trying for the prize.

The A. Zeese Loving Cup is the prize of the best edited high school annual. This cup was won last year by "The Oak," of Oak Cliff High School, Dallas. The 1923 annual will be judged this year.

The Magazine trophy was won last year by "The Gobbler" of Cuero High School. Two consecutive issues of the magazine must be submitted when entering the contest.

A literary scholarship of $100 is offered for the best written news story and for the best written editorial. The news story must be based on an actual happening and must not be more than 500 words nor less than 100 words in length. Miss Adelle St. Clair of Martindale was winner last year.

This year is the first time that the editorial contest has been offered. The editorial must have been published in some issue of the high school paper or magazine this fall.

In each of the two contests if the winner is a girl the scholarship will be to Baylor College, if a boy to an co-educational institution offering courses in journalism.

Ten dollars in gold is being offered for the best written short story. This is the first time that this prize has been offered.

Enthusiasm over the state is high and indications are that the contests will be hotly contested. Judges will be prominent newspaper men of the state. Last year the convention was attended by 78 delegates from 23 high schools. Sonora, 75 miles from a railroad, was represented.

The association has adopted for its insignia a scroll unrolling the map of Texas. This insignia may be found under the editorial flag of many school newspapers in the state. In each instance it is an indication of an attempt at earnest journalism. The association has adopted certain standards that all must live up to who are members.

Membership is open to all high schools editing a newspaper or annual. Each school is entitled to send delegates and a faculty sponsor to the convention. All will be given entertainment by Baylor College.

OVERRULES COMMISSION

Austin, Texas, Nov. 1.—Regulations of the oil and gas division of the State Railroad Commission prohibiting the drilling of oil wells within 150 feet of each other are unconstitutional, District Judge Calhoun held in an opinion here today. The commission, the opinion held, cannot enact legislation, but may enforce it. The opinion was rendered in the case of J. C. Bass of Corsicana and associates.

The propagandists appear to have overlooked an opportunity. This seems to be only an ordinary week when we do not have to save something, eat something or do something special.

When a Greek ruler (way back in remote times) asked Hippocrates, the "Father of Medicine," what to take to be strong, he answered, "Take Nature's remedies—herbs!" Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery would have pleased the great physician, for it is composed of herbs skilfully blended by competent chemists, and is one of the best tonics and blood purifiers.

MONGOLIA HOLDS SECRET OF LIFE, SCIENTIST SAYS

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 3.—Ray Chapman Andrews, leader of a party of American scientists which obtained in the Valley of Jewels, Tshotu, Mongolia, remains of eggs of the dinosaur, predicted here last night that evidences of the beginnings of human life would be found in the same valley.

Mr. Andrews, with Prof. Henry Fairfield Osborne, who was a member of the party and who is associated with the American Museum of Natural History, New York, arrived last night on the steamer President Jackson from the Orient.

"There is no doubt that American Indians and Eskimos migrated across two land bridges which probably connected America with Asia," Andrews stated. "One of these bridges was along the Aleutian Islands and the other was probably across Bering Sea."

"It will take more than a year to check up on the results of our discoveries. After that, a fourth expedition probably will be started by the American Museum of Natural History."

"We have discovered nearly all sources of life, insect, reptilian and mammalian. There remain only the primitive man and the primitive horse. These are the two objects we intend to find on the next expedition."

"In the 256 crates of specimens brought back are included 25 dinosaur eggs, approximately 10,000,000 years old; the skeleton of a baluchitherium, a browsing rhinoceros, 24 feet long, 12 feet high at its shoulders and holding its head on a neck like a giraffe 22 feet high; the skull of the largest carnivorous animal ever discovered, a dog with a head three feet long and a mouth that opens 18 inches; 70 skulls and 12 skeletons of the protoceratops, a previously unknown ancestral form of the great horned dinosaurs of this continent; skulls and skeletons of the titanotheres, found in the lower cretaceous rocks of the Tshotu Plateau; 500 specimens of great anthropological interest and 1000 specimens of unique value to the research world."

THE WALTON CASE

Oklahoma City, Okla., Nov. 1.—J. C. Walton, suspended governor, was given until 1:30 this afternoon to enter a plea to the impeachment charges preferred by the house when his counsel asked ten days' extension of time for the preparation of an answer. The senate court of impeachment then recessed until 1:30.

Governor Walton appeared personally, accompanied by five attorneys. The house board of managers urged an immediate plea. Counsel for the executive said an effort would be made to disqualify some of the members of the court of impeachment and quash some of the articles of the impeachment bill. William Joseph Simmons, emperor of the Ku Klux Klan, had conferred a life membership in the clan upon Walton, "in just recognition of your constant loyalty," according to a letter to Walton dated September 10, 1923, the governor declared today. The governor said he requested that a certificate of membership be not mailed to him, as he was not in sympathy with klan ideals.

POISONED HER STEPCHILDREN

Fresno, Cal., Nov. 1.—Her desire to come into the complete possession of a fortune willed her stepchildren is believed to have prompted Mrs. Louise Potigian to poison them, according to the authorities. It was announced she confessed administering a lethal drug which caused the death of her stepdaughter, Margaret, 18. The other children recovered after Mrs. Potigian relented and called a doctor, according to the police. She is held on a charge of murder.

CORNERSTONE LAID FOR GREATEST MASONIC TEMPLE

Alexandria, Va., Nov. 1.—A plea for the nation's rededication to the principles of unselfish devotion to liberty and human brotherhood, of which he called Washington "the great exemplar" was voiced by Right Rev. BROTHER CHANCELLOR INJURED

Lufkin News, 2d.

It was not W. M. Futch, grand chancellor of the Knights of Pythias of Texas, who was injured by an automobile at Henderson but his brother, it now develops. A letter addressed by the head of the Pythian order in Texas to D. P. Harrell, district deputy grand chancellor for this district, brings news of the error in the state news dispatch published in the News yesterday. The News lifted the item with credit to the proper paper presuming the report to be correct. Grand Chancellor Futch has many personal friends in Lufkin who will be interested to learn of the true facts in the case.

FLOGGED BY A MOB

Dallas, Texas, Nov. 2.—City and county authorities today began a sweeping investigation of the flogging of Joe Westbrook, 23, by a band of unmasked men last night. After kidnaping Westbrook and Lon Johnson, also 23, the men overpowered Westbrook and Johnson at a rooming house, according to a story to the police today, and took them in an automobile to the Trinity river bottoms, where the captives were separated. Westbrook said he believed Johnson was not flogged. The latter's whereabouts was unknown early today. Westbrook said his captors accused him of beating a woman, which he said he denied, and then questioned him concerning his family, from whom he was separated.

COTTON ESTIMATE LOWERED

Washington, Nov. 2.—A decrease of 767,000 bales in the prospective cotton crop as compared with a month ago was shown in the Department of Agriculture's forecast of 10,248,000 bales, based on the condition of the crop on October 25, which was 47 percent normal, indicating a yield of about 128.9 pound per acre. The report, the first of its kind issued in November, has been awaited with interest by the cotton world in view of the scarcity of cotton and a divergence of opinion as to the exact size of the year's crop.

The condition in Texas was 57 percent, with a forecast of 4,300,000 bales.

LYNCHING IN OKLAHOMA

Muskogee, Okla., Nov. 3.—Dallas Sowell, accused of attacking a white woman, was lynched by a band of 11 masked men at Eufaula, the seat of McIntosh county, early this morning, according to word received here. Sowell recently was returned to the county jail after a break for liberty across Oklahoma into Texas. The band appeared suddenly at the jail, overpowered two deputies, took the keys and made away with the prisoner. They had already cut the telephone wires from the jail. Following the band officers found Sowell's body hanging in a barn in the outskirts of town. The lynchers had dispersed. Sowell was described as a Mexican or halfbreed negro.

CHEAP MONEY

Berlin, Nov. 3.—New York's appraisal of the mark on a basis of one and two-thirds trillion to the dollar moved Chancellor Stresemann to convene a midnight session of the rump cabinet. Several ordinances were proclaimed to forestall a similar collapse of the mark in Berlin. They will permit payments to be made in foreign currencies, although it is prohibited to specify gold exchange as the sole medium of payment.

The government also decreed that foreign currencies must be reckoned on a basis of official rates specified by the Reichsbank. It was fixed today on a dollar rate at 420 billion marks.

It is easier to live than it was in the time of our fathers, and correspondingly easier to be bored.

MAN CAUGHT IN BOG DIES OF EXPOSURE

Chippewa Falls, Wis., Nov. 3.—Caught in a bog and held fast until he died from exposure and exhaustion, after a desperate struggle of hours, Arthur Schnoor, 26 years old, was found in the Twin Lakes Swamp, near Chetek, Wis., yesterday. He had lost his way while returning late Wednesday from making the rounds of his trap line in the swamp.

Beyond the hearing of passersby on the road at the fringe of the marsh it was evident from the condition of the body that Schnoor had made a desperate attempt to extricate himself before the ice water numbed his muscles and he fell back into the water to die.

HOUSTON MAN REPORTED SLAIN IN LOS ANGELES

Houston, Texas, Nov. 3.—Relatives of Harry Wyly, 22, of Houston are trying to obtain information today from Los Angeles authorities regarding the death there yesterday of Wyly. A message received by the family states the man was slain.

WANT DICTATORSHIP

Paris, Nov. 3.—Myron T. Herrick, the American ambassador, called on Premier Poincare this morning and had a long conference. The strictest secrecy regarding the subject is maintained at the French office and the American embassy.

A Havas dispatch from Berlin says it was learned authoritatively that the Bavarian government has sent an ultimatum to Chancellor Stresemann demanding the establishment of a nationalist dictatorship. The Bavarian government, it adds, intends moving forward troops now assembled at frontiers unless such dictatorship is created with the briefest delay.

PROTECTING A GUEST

New York, Nov. 3.—Police today were prepared for another skirmish with Irish republican sympathizers who have made two demonstrations against David Lloyd George since his arrival here a month ago. Heavy details of uniformed police and plain clothes men were under orders to escort him from the Waldorf Astoria hotel to the pier of the Majestic, on which he leaves for home.

The former British premier sailed for home today after a triumphant tour of American cities with his wife and daughter.

DERER CONVICTED

New York, Nov. 3.—Eulogia Lozano, Filipino, charged with slaying a man, Martin, a nurse, last June, was found guilty of murder in the second degree this morning. He was sentenced to having strangled the nurse. He was arrested as he was about to throw the body from a ferryboat.

Berlin, Nov. 3.—Minister of Defense Gessler has ordered the dissolution of the imperial council of working men's soviets, an organization chiefly dominated by radical labor leaders.

COTTON GOES HIGHER

New York, Nov. 3.—Cotton today advanced 65 points at the opening of the market, representing a total jump of 265 points or $13 per bale in the sensational trading of the last two days. Realization that a great shortage of cotton is threatened this year brought in further heavy commission house and mill buying and carried all prices to new high levels for the season.

LIMIT OF SPEED REACHED

Washington, Nov. 5.—Further speed contests between the naval air service fliers such as those yesterday at Mitchel Field, New York, have been prohibited for an indefinite period, under an order today by Admiral Moffitt, chief of the Bureau of Naval Aeronautics, who based his decision on an opinion by the technical staff that naval fliers have achieved the maximum of speed possible without grave risk of human life. Lieutenant Alford Williams yesterday set a new world's record by flying at an average speed of 266.6 miles an hour.

JURORS GIVE LIFE HISTORY

Houston, Texas, Nov. 5.—Every member of the grand jury panel called for the new term of district court was asked by Judge C. W. Robinson today to tell his life history. The judge set the example with a brief summary of his own life. The jurors were asked to tell their church affiliations and lodge memberships. The judge said he had been attacked on the ground that he did not choose the jury commissioners and grand jurors from the great mass of the people and selected only certain groups.

FORGET-ME-NOT DAY

Shreveport Journal.

An extraordinary effort to have National Forget-Me-Not Day observed on an active scale in more cities and towns in the United States than ever before in the history of the nation will be put forth by the members and friends of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War on Saturday, November 10, according to National Adjutant Raymond A. Lasance, of the disabled men's organization, who is assisting in preparations for the observance.

Pointing out that last year's Forget-Me-Not Day received the hearty endorsement and active support of high government officials, the late President and Mrs. Warren G. Harding being among the extensive purchasers of forget-me-nots on the occasion, Adjutant Lasance asserts that the same efforts will be put forth this year to have general observance of the day. He predicts that governors of practically all the states, and the greater number of mayors throughout the country, will issue proclamations urging general observance of Forget-Me-Not Day, and will also assist citizens' committees in its successful conduct.

Women's clubs, school children's societies and young ladies' organizations are engaged in the making of the little paper and cloth forget-me-nots in a great number of cities, Adjutant Lasance reports. Disabled American World War veterans in hospitals are also making the little flowers to be sold on Forget-Me-Not day for their particular benefit. Proceeds of the day's sale will go toward the relief, welfare and rehabilitation activities for the nation's wounded and disabled veterans of the recent great war. In every community the active work of preparing for Forget-Me-Not Day will be headed by a prominent citizen, according to the plans for the observance. Banks will serve as treasurers of the fund all over the United States.

Shreveport may be expected to do its part in this national movement in behalf of discharged veterans.

SECRECY IN MEDICINE

One of the statements, that mark a new era in the practice of medicine is that of Dr. Charles H. Mayo, who declared at the Clinical Congress of Surgeons at Chicago that "the day of medical secrecy is over and the physician or surgeon who hides the facts from his patient is out of date."

The custom a generation ago was different. Doctors of the old school looked upon themselves as experts in knowledge of the human machine and any inclination on the part of their patients to interfere with its running was regarded as the meddling of amateurs. A little knowledge, from their point of view, was a dangerous thing. All desire of the laity to drink at the font of medical knowledge was discouraged.

In keeping with this theory the physician himself assumed a dignity and reserve on all professional matters. He would sometimes inform the family of the patient's condition, but mostly avoided answering questions and now and then he felt justified in deceiving the patient. The shock, if the news was bad, would retard his recovery, was the doctor's argument.

Within late years the attitude of the physician has changed. He has taken the public into his confidence. Now that he has so many things to say about health and sanitation and exercise he rather enjoys being of service to the entire community. What has been the result? "The boy of today," says Dr. Mayo, "will live 12 more years, on an average, than his grandfather did."

But progress need not stop there. The relation of doctor and patient has become a partnership, which emphasizes the need of co-operation. The "patient" has also his duties to perform, if it only be that of keeping well. "And death could be delayed," Dr. Mayo continues, "five years more if every man and woman would undergo a rigid examination when 40 years old and abide conscientiously by the rules laid down by the examiner."

The showing made in years added to life by the new methods of medicine is remarkable. The future promises still more wonderful results, but no ventures carried on for the good of the public can get the best results without the co-operation of the public.

Profiteers have a lot of fun with the ultimate consumer, and what's worse, they make him pay the amusement tax.

When the milliner says, "It has such a youthful effect," she means that the price is something over twenty-five dollars.

HUSBANDS AND WIVES

A New York woman has just brought suit for divorce on the ground that her "husband is so annoying she finds it impossible to live with him without becoming a nervous wreck," and one of the faults she finds with him is that he "requires her to pick up his garments and to gather up his soiled collars," to which hubby replies that he deems "personal services of a wife to be a part of the duties imposed by the marriage contract," thereby raising in public an issue that has been fought to a frazzle privately in about half the households of the land.

One of the privileges which the American husbands regards as his by divine dispensation is to drop his clothing where it pleases him to discard it, and to let his collars lie on the bureau in sublime faith that a careful housewife will remove them to the laundry bag in ample time to have them restored to him in ample season, spotless and stiff from the tub and iron. And it is likewise the complaint of the average housewife that she has "the most careless and slovenly husband in the world." Doubtless, fellow benefactors, you have some first hand information of your own on that score. Maybe, at rare intervals, you have a guilty pang as you hustle down to breakfast, over the wreck and ruin that you have left for your life to clean up, but was it strong enough to induce you to turn about and do the "dirty work" yourself? It was not. Perhaps you virtuously resolved to be more careful in the future, but down in your heart you knew you would do the same thing again next day.

That's the kind of husbands most of us are, but at that wives are to blame, bless 'em. As soon as a man enters his home he is treated as though the entire interior of the domestic establishment were a mystery to him and he is given the impression that if it were not for the woman of the house he would probably starve to death or go about with so few clothes that he would be arrested by the first policeman he passed. Women like to feel that men are helpless without them. They love to mother them, to do for them and to scold them for their careless habits. They would be lost if there were no collars to be put away, no garments to gather up. And at all events, we have always had sympathy for those wives who have husbands who pride themselves on being effeminately neat. Mostly they are of the "careful dresser" type, run to lavender ties and pink underwear and have a penchant for ogling foolish young girls.

We suspect there is something back of the New York woman's divorce suit she has not made public, or she is utterly hopeless her husband would be foolish to contest her suit. Her complaints are natural enough, but they are not of the divorce court variety.

Mrs. W. I. Baker underwent a surgical operation at the Mound Street Hospital shortly after noon Wednesday and is said to be getting along nicely.

The heaviest frost of the season was visible here Wednesday morning. The earth was white—almost like a light snow.

The reason a widow has better luck that a novice is because she has learned to look thrilled while the man brags.

This snappy football weather ought to liven up the faculty.

Another good way to destroy insect pests is to provide a nice comfortable jail cell for the man who likes to kill birds.

GOAT BELOVED BY CHILDREN

Writer Endeavors to Explain Reasons for Animal's Popularity, and May Have Hit It.

What is there about the goat that fascinates children? The animal is not particularly intelligent, performs no tricks, admits of no close companionship and yet neither dog nor cat, nor monkey, nor donkey, nor feathered fowl nor finned fish can compete with it for popularity among the very young.

The goat gives milk, but this is scarcely a consideration to the juvenile mind; and, besides, the billygoat is notoriously preferred to the nanny-goat.

The answer appears to lurk in the whiskers. Whiskers are potent accoutrements. Many a sage would never have been known as such had he been clean shaven.

The goat is indisputably one of the funniest looking animals this earth supports. No one can look at a goat in the eyes and refrain from vibrant cachinations. Those eyes are so serious—so cynical—they blend profound wisdom with profound ignorance, and the mixture is utterly ridiculous. You never know whether a goat is laughing at you or gaping in bewildered awe.

Perhaps this mystery is part of the enchantment the goat exercises over children. But the whiskers appear to be the better explanation.

EXPECT DEITY TO COME BACK

Why Pueblo Indians Place Great Importance on the Perpetuation of the Holy Fire.

Among many of the religious forms of the Pueblo Indians, perhaps the most interesting was the perpetuation of the holy fire, by the side of which the Aztecs kept a continual watch for the return to earth of Quetzalcoatl—the god of Air—who, according to their tradition, visited the earth and instructed the inhabitants in agriculture and other useful arts. During his sojourn he caused the earth to yield ten-fold productions, without the necessity of human labor. Everywhere corn, fruit and flowers delighted the eye; the cotton-plant produced its wool already dyed by nature with various hues, aromatic odors pervaded the air, and on all sides resounded the melodious notes of singing birds.

Quetzalcoatl embarked in his boat of rattle skins, on the Gulf of Mexico, and as he was seen to steer to the eastward, his arrival was consequently looked for from that quarter. When the Spaniards arrived from the east, as they resembled the god in the color of their skin, they were at first generally supposed to be the messengers from, or descendants of, the god of the air.

Short Story of the Almond.

Almonds come from Morocco and the Mediterranean countries generally, although Spain makes a considerable contribution. They are gathered at various minor points through the African country and brought by camel to Mogador, which is the export center. Here they are weighed and a record made of the quantity and quality for reference when the settlement is made. They are tested for the percentage of bitter almonds by an inspector who bites the end off and ejects the piece, for the bitter almond contains a certain amount of poison. The next operation is sifting, which is done by a native squatting beside a pile of the nuts and performing the operation by hand, at which he becomes very deft, great speed being acquired by practice. The sacks destined for export are "blessed" by the natives with a sort of a chant.

Believe Spot Center of Earth.

Near the town of Zuni, in New Mexico, there is a stone shrine, erected on the plain, which in the Zuni conception, marks the center of the world, for the unreconstructed Zuni believes, naturally enough, that the earth is flat. Either in the days of long ago a guardian divinity of the Zunis brought them as to the safest place in the world—the farthest from the edge—preceding them in the form of a water strider. The double-barred cross, which one sees sometimes on Zuni pottery or fashioned in silver, is the symbol of that divine guide.

Odd Experience.

One evening while entertaining company, our automobile was parked in front of the house, during which time our blanket was taken from the car. We were much grieved at the loss and you may imagine our surprise when, a few days later, the blanket was found on our front porch, neatly folded, with a note attached: "Dear folks," it read, "I took your blanket from the car one evening because it was very cold and I was forced to sleep out in the open. I am an honest man and do not steal, and trust you will pardon me under the circumstances."—Chicago Journal

A Native.

In Homer's time and long thereafter cities had a habit of claiming that illustrious persons were born in them. Possibly it is a more modern tendency for persons to claim that they were born in illustrious localities. Two youths were reading the society news in the daily paper, wherein Southampton, L. I., figured prominently. One of them observed casually that he had been born in Southampton. The other looked up quickly, "I bet it was out of season," said he.—New York Evening Post.

TEMPLE, TEXAS, TO STAGE LIFE-SAVING CONTEST

Three-Day School of Instruction to Precede Championship Meet.

Two important life-saving events are scheduled for mid-winter in Temple, Texas, as a result of the life-saving campaign conducted by the Southwestern Division, American Red Cross, in Texas during the summer just ended. This will be a school of instruction for physical directors of high schools, Young Men's and Young Women's Christian Associations, and state normal schools. Between 75 and 100 will be in attendance from all parts of the state and the school will last three days, December 27, 28 and 29.

The second event is the state Red Cross Life Saving Championship meet in February or March. A trophy, to be known as the Campbell trophy, will be presented to the Red Cross chapter in the state meet to which the winning team belongs.

The Life Saving Instruction course will be conducted by Captain Joseph S. Law, Assistant Director of Life Saving in the Southwestern Division, American Red Cross. Law also is busy organizing life saving teams and working in conjunction with the physical departments of the various colleges and universities in the division. He reports enthusiastic co-operation on the part of all the universities which he has had an opportunity to approach on the subject thus far.

TEXAS PHYSICIANS ENDORSE RED CROSS HEALTH DRIVE

The Medical Societies of Eastland and Comanche Counties, Texas, in a joint session at Cisco, Texas, passed a resolution pledging the moral and professional support of the members of these two organizations to the health service covered by the American Red Cross among the youths and school children of Eastland County. Twenty-eight physicians were present and voted unanimously for the resolution, which is here given:

"Be it resolved by Eastland and Comanche Counties Medical Societies, held in joint session, that we, the members of the above named organizations, do hereby endorse and promise our moral and professional support to the Health Service Campaign now being planned by the Executive Officers of the American Red Cross of Eastland County among the youths and school children of the county as described by Mrs. J. B. Nunn of Eastland City, Texas, and Mrs. Philip Pettit of Cisco, Texas, and that we pledge the above named officers of the American Red Cross and the Nutritional Expert Nurse to soon come into the county our very best efforts and service gratis in the furtherance of the work of solving health problems among the school children of the county.

Joseph W. Gregory, M. D., Cisco Secretary.

JUNIOR RED CROSSER SEVENTY YEARS 'YOUNG'

The oldest "Junior" Red Crosser in the United States is Dr. Elliott Smith of Kansas City, Missouri, who is 70 years young. Dr. Smith is post scout master of the Kansas City, Missouri Boy Scouts and has been active in Scout work for several years. He took the original Red Cross Life Saving test in 1919 at the Kansas City Y. M. C. A. and is an expert swimmer, canoeist and life saver. He is Chairman of the First Aid Committee of the Kansas City, Missouri, Red Cross Chapter.

RED CROSS NURSE GETS QUILT FROM INDIAN.

A red, white and blue quilt was the unique present which has been given to Miss Mary D. Beyer, Public Health Nurse for the Okfuskee County Chapter of the Red Cross with headquarters at Okemah, Oklahoma, by several full-blooded Creek Indians. Miss Beyer comes constantly in touch with the members of this tribe in her work throughout the county.

It is not easy to establish friendly relations with the Indians for they are suspicious. On one of her visits to a rural school, the nurse discovered a small boy of 11 who was not doing well in school. His parents came to the school to interview the nurse. The father thought the boy had stomach trouble because he would not eat regularly. A diet of oatmeal, eggs and milk was outlined. The father, not quite sure of the plan, said, "When Lee, he not want to eat breakfast, make him." And the nurse replied that that was the proper thing to do. "Hm-hm, I see," said the father. Now Lee is eating regularly and making vast improvement in his scholarship. Miss Beyer has under observation an Indian squaw who is worth $3,000,000, but the squaw seems to have no idea how important her fortune might make her.

MAKE $293.00 PER DAY

An article appearing in this paper last week told of the work being done among young people by a great business training university in Texas—The Tyler Commercial College.

A few interesting figures serve to convince any ambitious young man or woman of the advantages of a course of training in this great school. The average educated man gets a salary of $2,000 a year. He works forty years, earning a total of $40,000 in this period. The average day laborer gets $3.00 per day, three hundred days in the year, or $900 a year. In forty years he earns $36,000. The difference, $4,000, equals the value of an education.

It is amazing to think that to obtain this earning capacity requires only five months time, or one hundred and fifty days in Tyler Commercial College. Now, divide this $44,000 by 150—the number of days required to get an education—and you will see that each day spent at Tyler Commercial College will bring you $293.00, as well as the satisfaction and pleasure of being able to live a successful and comfortable life.

Life insurance companies have compiled the following astounding figures taken from the actual history of one hundred men starting out in life: At the age of sixty-five, thirty-five have died, one is rich, four are wealthy, six are self-supporting but must work for a living, fifty-four (more than half the number,) are dependent on relatives or charity. If you could talk to any of these fifty-four men they would tell you to avoid their condition by getting an education now.

You expect to live to the age of sixty-five at least. Then, to avoid being dependent on others at that age, arrange for your business education in youth. To get out of the POOR PAY CLASS and be independent in later years send your name and address on the coupon below, and you'll receive a large free catalogue of Tyler Commercial College by return mail. The editor of this paper will be glad to arrange for your scholarship. Address your coupon to Tyler Commercial College, Tyler, Texas.

NOTICE SHERIFF'S SALE

The State of Texas, County of Nacogdoches

By virtue of an Order of Sale, issued out of the Honorable District Court of Nacogdoches County, Texas, in cause No. 6210, wherein said judgment the Appley State Bank recovered a judgment against J. B. Matlock for $805.44, besides interest and costs, with a foreclosure of its first lien on 140 acres of land, more or less, on the D. Cervantes grant, in said county, near the town of Linn Flat, and fully described in the deed of trust lien given by W. R. Brown in favor of A. D. Brewer, of record in Vol. 9 at pages 365 et seq., Deed of Trust Records of said County, and to which reference is made for all purposes, and known as the Brown place; and a second lien on the second tract described, subject to the judgment therein named.

And in said judgment W. U. Perkins recovered judgment against J. E. Matlock for $3,165.30, with 10 percent interest and costs, and a foreclosure of the first vendor's lien as against all parties to the suit to secure his judgment upon 151.44 acres of land about 10 miles east of the City of Nacogdoches, in said county, a part of the John Hall and B. M. Hall surveys near the town of Melrose, and known as the A. D. Brewer place, which is fully described in deed to J. B. Matlock from A. D. Brewer and wife, of record in Vol. 103 page 571, Deed Records of said county, and to which reference is made for all purposes. The proceeds from the sale of the 151.44 acres shall first satisfy W. U. Perkins' judgment in full, and from the proceeds of the sale of the other tract the officer shall first satisfy judgment in favor of the Appley State Bank, if insufficient, and if there is any surplus from the sale of the 151.44 acres tract after paying the judgment in full due W. U. Perkins, then enough of such surplus shall be applied to the judgment in favor of the Appley State Bank, and after both judgments have been satisfied, any surplus shall be paid to the defendant, S. M. Adams, as a credit on the $1,405.40 due him by Matlock, who has a lien on both tracts subject to the liens and judgment in favor of W. U. Perkins and Appley State Bank, as fully shown in the judgment and order of sale, to each of which reference is now made for all purposes.

poses; and both tracts of land have been levied upon as to the property of J. B. Matlock as to the 151.44 acres and the other tract of W. R. Brown, to satisfy the two judgments first named and in the manner named, besides interest and costs, and the officer selling is directed to first sell the 151.44 acre tract and apply sufficient proceeds therefrom to satisfy W. U. Perkins' judgment in full; and, second, to sell the other tract from which proceeds judgment in full due the Appley State Bank is to be paid in full, if the proceeds from the sale of the last tract is not sufficient to satisfy the Appley State Bank judgment and if there is any surplus left after the payment of the judgment in favor of W. U. Perkins, then such surplus shall be applied first to the Appley State Bank judgment, and if any remain to be paid to S. M. Adams.

WITH THE SCHOOLS

Stephen F. Austin State Teachers' College, Nacogdoches, Texas
The Demonstration School

The Demonstration School is one of the divisions of instructional service of the Teachers College. Its purpose is: first, to instruct children, and second, to afford college students the opportunity of observing the organization, conduct, and control of a model public school, and to provide for them actual practice and experience in teaching under expert direction.

Each room is handled directly by a critic teacher, that is, there is an experienced and efficient teacher who is responsible for the children and devotes all her time to them. She teaches them except for the few minutes each day they are taught by practice teachers. The students who do practice teaching are: first, students of at least one sophomore standing; second, students who have had at least four theory courses in education; third students who have made some definite study of children and who have had careful training in the making of acceptable plans. All practice teaching is done in the presence of the critic teacher who is responsible for the instruction of her children and the criticism and training of the students.

The first unit of the Demonstration School is now in operation. The room in charge of Miss Grace Bailey, who comes to us from the Waco city schools. In addition to graduation from the Sam Houston State Teachers College, Miss Bailey has had special training in Columbia University, and the University of Texas. Last summer she was in charge of the first grade of the University Demonstration School. Her work there received the highest commendation of the School of Education and of many competent critics.

Miss Hazel Floyd has charge of the courses in education which are prerequisite to practice teaching. Miss Floyd is a specialist in Elementary Education.

Her undergraduate work in the North Texas State Teachers College emphasized this phase of school work. Her graduate work in the University of Chicago brought her into touch with the best thought and the best teachers in Elementary Education.

addition to her training, Miss Floyd has a winning personality and is, therefore, a splendidly efficient teacher.

THE PLODDER

In those bright young days when, speaking collectively, we knew all there was worth knowing, many of us entertained the ambition to conquer the world in a brilliant manner and set the universe afire with our successes. But how many of us attained that ambition?

It is the boy who was the plodder in the school room who is holding an executive position and now bosses the rest of us. He is the fellow who kept continually hammering at his lessons. He made haste slowly and remembered what he learned. It is not by a single stroke that he expected success to reward his efforts. It was inch by inch, step by step, round by round, that he expected to scale the ladder of attainment, and he has not been disappointed.

It is the plodder who is doing the big things in the world today. Let us learn from his example.

TIME FOR PRAYER

A preacher at the close of one of his sermons said, "Let all in the house who are paying their debts stand up." Presently every man, woman and child with one exception rose to their feet.

The preacher seated them and said: "Now every man not paying his debts stand up." The exception, a careworn, hungry-looking individual, clothed in his last summer's suit, assumed a perpendicular position.

"How is it, my friend," asked the minister, "you are the only man not able to meet his obligations?"

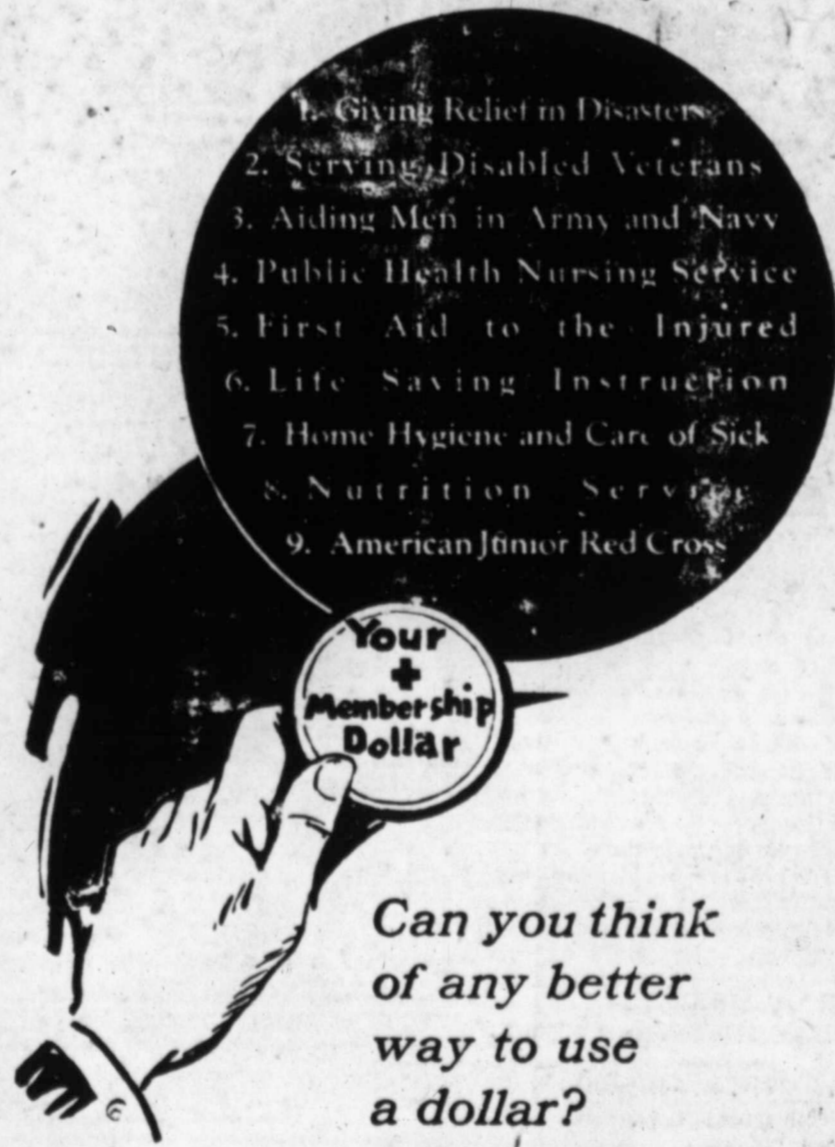

"I run a newspaper," he answered, "and the brethren who stood up are my subscribers, and—"

"Let us pray," exclaimed the minister.

THRIFT

The man who put something aside for a rainy day has nothing on the fellow who did likewise for a dry one.—Life.

Admirer who says President Coolidge has an extensive vocabulary is not telling anything strange. We all know how he acquired it, and from the knowledge that he hasn't used much of it we deduce that he still must have it.

Can you think of any better way to use a dollar?

RED CROSS ROLL CALL

November 11th to 29th

Join or Renew Your Membership

Mr. and Mrs. Willie Dean Burk left Wednesday for San Antonio, where Mr. Burk has taken a position with the San Antonio Public Service Department. For years he has been superintendent of the Nacogdoches Light & Water Department, in which service he has given a splendid account of himself, discharging the duties of the onerous position with satisfaction and demonstrating a high degree of ability. The very best wishes of all our people go with him. His successor here has not yet been selected.

A marriage license was issued Tuesday to Marvin Partin and Miss Lillie Vanover of the Nat community. The groom is well known here, being a member of the famous Partin Bros. cornet band, and has many friends who join in good wishes. The bride is also a member of one of the prominent families of the county. The Sentinel joins in hearty congratulations.

SPENDS 40 YEARS IN A RADIUS OF 300 YARDS

Lufkin News.

Forty years in a radius of 300 yards! Staying rather close in, is it? That is the story of a terrapin told in Lufkin this morning by W. L. Murphy, superintendent of field forces for the Lufkin eastern division of the Fort Worth Mutual Benevolent Association.

Henry Priest, substantial farmer and land owner of Chester, Tyler county, was out hunting on April 23, 1882. Becoming fatigued, he sat down to rest. A terrapin came along. Mr. Priest picked up the turtle and carved his initials on its back. The following day he was out hunting again and he found the terrapin. He was surprised to find his initials on its back. The slow moving animal was again planted on earth and permitted to start his journey, seemingly a circular one.

Mr. Priest has seen the terrapin from time to time, has carried it to his house and permitted it to wander out to see how far it would go. The last time the terrapin was seen was in the summer of 1922, last year, over forty long years from date that the initialed letters were carved on his back. Never has the terrapin been over 300 yards from the place of discovery, it was said. That is staying rather close.

FARM CENSUS

About one-half of the states of the union have laws which provide for an annual agricultural survey made by county assessors at the time when property is assessed. In some of these states, no additional remuneration is allowed the assessor for the extra work involved, but in others an allowance of five cents is made for every farm listed.

An assessor's survey provides an agricultural census of each county; it is an annual inventory of farm business. Texas leads in crop and livestock production and should be in the fore-front in accurately recording its agricultural wealth. Ellis county has finished its first survey and the first in the state. The county commissioners recognized the benefit that would accrue if the farmers and others interested from a detailed record of the county's agricultural status and authorized the survey.

Farmers are preparing the usual placards to be placed on cows during the winter season: "This is not a deer!"

THANKSGIVING AT S. M. U.

Home-Coming at S. M. U. on Thanksgiving Day

Lubbock, Texas, Nov. 7.—Several former students of Southern Methodist University are expected in Dallas on Thanksgiving Day when there will be an informal home-coming. Bruce Knickerbocker, secretary of the Alumni and Ex-Students' Association, announces that a section of seats at the Baylor-S. M. U. football game will be reserved for the home-coming. A five-mile cross country run is among the sports on the program for the day.

THE TIME TO CUT TAXES

There is an infinite amount of common sense in Senator Borah's contention that the time to take on a tax reduction program, based on the Smoot estimate that half a billion dollars may be chopped easily from next year's levy, is before various schemes for spending a potential surplus are launched by congress. It is Senator Smoot's own premise that taxes can be reduced, but he asserts reduction will open a Pandora's box of trouble. The Borah retort is "Let 'er open."

The nation's biggest industrial figure has long employed in his business the course advocated by Mr. Borah. The industrialist regularly anticipates a surplus, cutting down factory appropriations sometimes below present selling prices and forcing his lieutenants to operate within the curtailed appropriation. There is no real reason why such a philosophy can not operate as effectively in Washington, particularly since the amount available after the proposed tax reduction is entirely adequate for governmental needs.

If the past is any accurate omen of the future, Borah is right in another assertion that if no real effort is made to reduce taxes congress inevitably will drift into a program of increasing them. A prospective surplus, he declares, will constitute a red flag to every vote-jobber in the land.

Every consideration of sense favors a tax reduction before any other task of the incoming congress is undertaken. No surplus will remain sacred throughout the session unless it is decided in advance that it will be dissipated by lightening the tax burden. The time to settle that proposition is at once before the opportunity to effect a reduction disappears beneath the pressure of fast problems.

U. OF T. STUDENTS MAY BORROW NECESSARY MONEY

Austin, Texas, Nov. 5.—"No capable student need to resign from the University of Texas because of lack of money, if he is willing to borrow from the Students' Memorial Loan Fund," says Alfred Ellison of Austin, treasurer of the Ex-Students' Association, who has just submitted a report of the fund to the trustees.

"The Students' Memorial Fund has now been in operation four years, beginning with the session of 1919-20, and during that time a total of $45,423.25 has been loaned to 276 individual students. A loan of $11,651.27 has been repaid by borrowers. Repayments for the last year have totaled $6,750.03, an increase of approximately $2,000 over the previous year. During the last year, loans amounting to $9,877.25 have been made to 65 students. For the previous year, loans amounted to $9,166.28. The rate of interest charged is 6 percent.

Many of these students have won the highest scholastic distinction possible in the University," asserts Mr. Ellison, "and with surprisingly few exceptions all the students helped have made excellent records. In each case it has been the aim of the trustees to restrict loans to those whose need of financial assistance was imperative, and at least half of the loans are granted to relieve emergencies that arise during the year, where, unless financial aid was offered, the students would be forced to leave college."

MOREHOUSE TRIALS BEGIN

Bastrop, La., Nov. 5.—Trials of alleged klansmen charged with hooded mob operations in Morehouse parish last year opened today before District Judge Odum. Bastrop is crowded with citizens from all parts of the parish, here for the trials. The first called was that of W. G. McIntosh, charged with carrying firearms on the premises of another. Both sides agreed that all defendants charged with this offense be tried jointly to save time. Other defendants are Captain J. W. Skipworth, Marvin Pickett, Sam Eldridge and Sam Cox. The charge grew out of a raid upon the home of Alonzo Braddock, an alleged bootlegger, who was delivered to the sheriff.

TO ENTER WEST POINT

Center, Texas, Nov. 3.—Roy Monk, son of J. S. Monk, and a student of the Center high school, has received word from Congressman John C. Box of his appointment to United States Military Academy at West Point. Monk will graduate from the high school in June and will leave immediately for West Point to take the entrance examination.

TRIAL MAY BE BRIEF

Oklahoma City, Okla., Nov. 5.—Possibility that the trial of Governor Walton before the senate court of impeachment might end this week was indicated in expressions today of several senate members, anxious to avoid a lengthy hearing. A vote upon one of the 22 articles of impeachment after the presentation of evidence would make possible a brief session if the court were to rule against the governor.

RUN OVER BY A FORD

Mt. Enterprise Progress, 1st. Sunday evening about 7 o'clock Mr. G. P. Futch of Henderson was struck down and run over by a speeding Ford car in front of Mr. Ash Griffin's residence on the highway three miles north of Mt. Enterprise.

Mr. Futch and family had driven their car out to Mr. Griffin's and the car went dead. Arrangements had been made to have the dead car carried to Henderson Monday morning. Mr. Futch then was waiting along the highway to flag a car and return home. A Ford came along running at a high rate of speed and struck Mr. Futch, breaking his leg in several places and inflicting severe bruises to his body. The Ford did not stop, but kept going. The cries of Mr. Futch soon were answered by the folks in Mr. Griffin's and a hurry-up call put in for a physician and conveyance to Henderson.

The wounded man was taken to Henderson and then sent to a sanitarium at Shreveport.

Officers were immediately notified at Mt. Enterprise to look out for the flying Ford. Constable Roy Hargis was soon on the job and in a short time had followed the car to the Stein place on the Laneville road, near Angelina creek. Townsend Stein and another negro were taken in charge and carried to jail for safekeeping.

Ellington secretary.

The membership fee is $5 payable now and a like amount payable next year before the national election, the dues being made out to the Democratic National Committee and forwarded direct to the Chairman, Mr. Hull, at Washington, D. C.

MAN HURT, BUT HOW?

Lufkin News, 1st.

W. L. Sullivan, age about 60, who operates a peanut and pop corn stand on North First street near the city hall, was knocked down last night at the intersection of North First and Paul avenue, and rather badly injured, but by what force he does not know.

Mr. Sullivan was crossing on Paul, it seems, to get on the sidewalk at the corner of the two streets across the avenue from the Central Grammar school, when his memory lapsed and he found himself in a nearby house receiving attention from his injuries. It is presumed that an automobile hit him, for Mr. Sullivan's glasses were later found in the middle of the street. When he was found Mr. Sullivan was unconscious on the sidewalk or nearby. He must have crawled to that place, reason his friends. He was unconscious most of the night but was able to sit up around his room today. He says he looked for cars when he started to cross, but saw none. His memory lapsed right there and then followed the impact with some strong force. His face is bruised up considerably.

RED CROSS ADVANCING IN HEALTH CAMPAIGN

Extends Service to New Fields and Brings Healing Hope to Remote Sections.

"The supreme opportunity for leadership" for the American Red Cross is its health service. Thus a committee made up of prominent physicians, sanitarians and public health experts, after months of exhaustive study, reported and urged that not only should the Red Cross continue its present service, but should undertake a comprehensive educational campaign along public health lines. The annual report of the American Red Cross, just issued, discloses that it has grasped this opportunity in the fields of public health nursing, instruction in home hygiene and care of the sick, nutrition work, first aid to the injured and in water life-saving.

Health service is fundamentally, historically and practically an important function of the Red Cross, and each year marks its extension into new fields and along broader lines. In the Red Cross Nursing Service there are enrolled nearly 40,000 nurses, 20,000 of whom served during the World War. The past year Red Cross nurses were assigned to duty in isolated sections of Alaska and North Carolina and to work among the fishermen of Newfoundland Bay, Me.

The Public Health Nursing Service, inaugurated by the American Red Cross in 1912, which operates chiefly in rural sections untouched by other public health agencies, has 1,635 Red Cross nurses working under the direction of Chapters. This work has now so high a regard that many of the nurses are taken over by the local authorities to maintain health services for their communities. Instruction in Home Hygiene and Care of the Sick is not a steady advance. Since 1914 certificates of proficiency have been given 304,427 women who completed the Red Cross course. In the last year 26,591 certificates were awarded and 65,991 students were under the instruction of 1,954 Red Cross nurses.

The benefits derived from meals balanced to meet each person's peculiar needs is winning widespread recognition through the work of the Red Cross Nutrition Service, particularly in the schools. During the school year 2,688 carried on regular instruction in nutrition, reached more than 150,000 children and adults. More than 2,250 volunteers assisted in this work. Throughout the country 35,283 health meetings were held under Red Cross auspices, attended by approximately 254,500 persons.

COLLAPSE OF MARK HITS AMERICAN INVESTORS HARD

New York, Nov. 5.—Between five hundred million and seven hundred and fifty million dollars have been lost by American investors through the collapse of the German marks, the New York Tribune stated today. It was declared Germany not only had repudiated its national debt, but had been gaining to the extent of about two billion dollars. The loss includes the funds of thousands of small investors, it was said; also money invested in German bonds payable in paper money.

GERMANY'S CIVIL WAR

Berlin, Nov. 5.—Separatists have begun a movement to control the Bavarian palatinate. Large bands entered Kaiserslautern last night and attacked the town hall. They were repulsed, but they occupied one of the government buildings and a newspaper office. French soldiers are clearing the streets today.

CONNALLY WILL REPRESENT U. OF T. AT CEREMONIES

Austin, Texas, Nov. 5.—At the inauguration of the President of George Washington University to be held in Washington, D. C., on November 7, the University of Texas will be represented by Tom Connally, the alumnus of the University and congressman from the eleventh Texas district. He was graduate from Baylor University with the bachelor of arts degree and from the University of Texas with the bachelor of laws degree.

KLAN CLASHES CONTINUE

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 5.—Emperor J. W. Simmons today filed a petition in the Fulton County Superior Court here asking for a permanent injunction against the formation of any woman's association under the name of "Ku Klux Klan or any colorable imitation thereof." No injunction was issued, but November 10 was set for the hearing. The petition names as defendants Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, Imperial Wizard Evans and women of the Ku Klux Klan, a corporation alleged to be incorporated under the laws of Arkansas.

AGREE WITH U. S.

Washington, Nov. 5.—State Department advices today indicated that Great Britain, Italy and Belgium have reached an accord favoring a free and full reparations inquiry by an expert committee. In effect, the position of the three governments, it is understood here, coincides with that taken by the United States, which opposes the stand for a restrictive inquiry only taken by France. This development, indicating an entirely new alignment of the European Allies over the reparations question, appeared to stimulate the hope here that eventually France, too, would accept an unrestricted program of inquiry rather than risk diplomatic isolation.

ARMISTICE DAY

Armistice Day will be observed next Sunday, the 11th inst., at the high school auditorium, fitting arrangements being planned to do honor and homage to the occasion.

Captain Banister of Houston, assistant chief of staff of the 36th Division Texas National Guard, will be the chief speaker.

An elaborate program is being prepared, members of all the church choirs and other singers of the city being busy rehearsing for the event, and other appropriate features will be provided.

MORE CIVIC IMPROVEMENT

Among others realizing the beauty and attractiveness already added to their homes, and property by the recent completion of the paving on Hospital street, and desiring to show their willingness to co-operate in the civic beauty of our town and the street on which they live, we take especial pride in mentioning the beauty added to the homes and yards of our fellow townsmen, Messrs. Joe Wolsiefer and H. F. Wilson, located on Hospital street from Pecan to North Fredonia, by the recent removal of their old front yard fences. The removal of these front fences from their property located on this beautifully paved street is indeed an added attraction to their homes and it is the desire of these two good citizens to have a beautiful well-trimmed hedge growing along the front line of their property within the next few months, and the Boosters wish to compliment them most highly on this piece of civic improvement.

The Boosters.

Dr. Jas. C. Falvey had his right thumb amputated yesterday forenoon. The News is informed. The thumb was badly infected and it was deemed necessary to have the member removed. Dr. Falvey has three or four sons who are physicians, practically all of whom were with him when the operation was performed.—Lufkin News, 2d.

WITH THE SCHOOLS

The Literary Club of the S. F. A. S. T. C. Meet Nov. 1, 1923.

This was the first real meeting of the club and there were many interesting things to be discussed.

Miss Gladys Houston acted as chairman of the club before the president was elected.

The first thing to come before the house was the name of the club. The name "Ann Birdwell Club" was suggested and was unanimously voted on as the name of the club.

The next business to come before the house was the selection of the president. Miss Clara Schenks was elected as president of the Ann Birdwell Club.

Vice president, Miss Oree Brown was elected.

For secretary and treasurer Willie Clain Deckert was elected.

Sergeant at arms, Miss Reva Kingham and Lela Cayton were elected.

As reporter of the club, Miss Loyal Metteauer was elected.

On the committee to form the by-laws and constitution were: Rosa Bell McLendon, Effie Hill, Bertha Tredway, Oree Brown and Lela Cayton.

There was a temporary program committee selected, on this was appointed Louise Moore, Rena Kingham and Effie Hill.

We selected Miss Gladys Hairston and Miss Hazel Floyd as the sponsors of the Ann Birdwell Club.

The next meeting is to be next Thursday at 10 o'clock in room 37 of the high school building. We are going to have a live wire program and want every college girl to be present.

Literary Society Organized for College Boys.

The boys of the Stephen F. Austin Teachers' College met Thursday morning, November 1, for the purpose of organizing a literary society. After debating the subject we decided to call it the "Thomas J. Rusk Literary Society" in honor of the old settler and pioneer, Thomas J. Rusk, on whose land the new college building is located. The purpose of the society is to give practical training in public speaking to any one who wishes to join the society. Besides this practical experience, there will be much fun and many good times enjoyed by the members of the society.

Officers were elected as follows: President, Kirk Willingham; vice president, Gail McClain; secretary-treasurer, Ourea Bates; sergeant at arms, Featd Wilson; reporter, Joe Miller. There was a program committee, entertainment committee and committee to draw up a constitution and by-laws of the society appointed.

There will be another meeting of the society next Thursday in room five of the grammar school building from ten to eleven o'clock. All boys be there! Let's put it over big.

Saturday morning, November 3, the Sophomore Class of the S. F. A. S. T. C. met at the high school building.

Vice President Miss Willie Claire Dickert was in charge.

The colors chosen for our class were yellow and white, the motto and flower have not been decided.

After business we had the "Gossip Chat" for fifteen minutes.

Our president, Miss Rose Belle McLendon, was absent, having gone home to spend the week-end.

The Second-Year Subject College Meets

On Wednesday evening, October 31, at 5 o'clock, the students of the Second Year Class, in the Teachers' College, met for the purpose of discussing a party for the week-end. President Mongo Edmondson called the house to order, presided throughout meeting. We had a great discussion of the party by the idol of the class, Miss Jessie Ruth Gooldy, after which we decided to have a hike to Reid's Lake Saturday evening, where we would have a marshmallow toast. The following committee: Misses Clara Martin and Jessie Bone, and Mr. John S. Richards was appointed to arrange for the refreshments. There was also a committee, consisting of Misses Dalpha Erwinne and Druetta Nand and Mr. Clifford Needham, appointed to see Miss Mays about the restriction under which the hike would be governed.

The class also elected a sponsor, Miss Jessie Ruth Gooldy, who was not an unwise selection.

As there was no other business to attend to, Mr. James (Jim) Koonce made a motion for adjournment.

"Strong and Well"

"I WISH you could know how much I am improved since taking the Cardui," writes Mrs. Nannie Brown, of Black Rock, Ark. "You wouldn't know me for the same weak invalid I was before I took it. At my . . . I had to keep off my feet or I would fall. I couldn't do my housework, and just got where I'd most as lief be dead as living. Some one told me of Cardui. He got it for me and I took three bottles before I stopped—then off and on for the last three years just as a tonic. I saw a decided improvement after my first bottle. I used the three, and was able to do my work with ease, and now I sew for my family and for others. I am feeling fine, and strong and well." Take Cardui! It may be just the medicine you need.

COUNTY WOMEN'S CLUB FORMED AT NACOGDOCHES

Under the direction of Miss Margie Neal of Carthage, the women of Nacogdoches county have organized the County Women's Club with Miss Lum Shipe of Nacogdoches, president; Mrs. Gus Irwin of Garrison, first vice president; Mrs. Abb Cariker of Cushing, second vice president; Mrs. V. E. Simpson of Oak Ridge, third vice president; Mrs. C. B. Watkins of Douglass, fourth vice president; Mrs. Gilbert Pack of Chireno fifth vice president; Mrs. George Fewell of Nacogdoches, secretary; Mrs. A. W. Birdwell of Nacogdoches, parliamentarian; Mrs. W. S. Davis of Nacogdoches, chairman publicity committee.

The object of the County Women's clubs is to promote the organization of community clubs in every section of the county, through which the women of the county can be reached in any worthy movement for economic, social or educational betterment.

Community clubs have already been set up at Douglass, Melrose and Garrison, where the local women are taking a lively interest in the movement.

The county organization will meet at Nacogdoches on the first Monday in each month. Representatives from all organized communities will be present.

LAYMEN HOLD GOOD SERVICE

Several cars of Laymen went to Melrose Sunday afternoon and conducted a service. The house was full of eager listeners. Mr. Bob Lindsey, president of the local Baptist Laymen's union presided. Bro. Brown went along with his harp and played several numbers. Dr. A. W. Birdwell brought an informing message on the Baptist 75 Million Campaign. Prof. Garner of the college faculty discussed in a most interesting way the budget system of church finances. Mr. H. L. McKnight concluded the program with an explanation of the Laymen's Union.

Many complimentary remarks were made on the program by the people of the community. Hope was expressed that the Laymen come again soon.

The local Laymen's Union stands ready to visit other churches upon invitation. Pastors and churches desiring their services will let them know.

FAIRVIEW BOX SUPPER

On account of the rain the Fairview box supper was postponed until Friday night, November 9th. Everybody is invited to attend.

In October, just past, County Clerk Perritte issued 52 marriage licenses, the largest number during any one month except December, 1921, when he issued 55. He considers he has reason to feel gratified at the business his office has done in this particular department, and expresses a willingness to always act as first aid to Cupid.

J. J. Greve and sister, Mrs. Cates Ford, have returned from New Orleans, where they were called last week on account of the illness and death of their mother. She had been ill for some time and her death was not unexpected. They had made several trips to New Orleans to see her during her illness.

Mrs. Roy Coon returned Friday night from Shreveport, where she had been under treatment in the Shriners' Hospital, and her many friends will rejoice to learn that she is far on the road to permanent recovery and will soon be able to resume her position as teacher of the Campbell school.

Mrs. John Windsor, one of the old and much-loved residents of our city, left Wednesday for Ennis, where she will make her home with relatives. There are many here who regret the departure of this good and kindly woman, but all wish that she may find contentment in her new home.

In the county clerk's office at the courthouse at 10:30 Wednesday night Mr. L. M. Reaves of Trinity community and Miss Gerline Taylor of Martinsville were united in marriage. Rev. E. G. Cooke of the Methodist church officiating.

John S. Jenkins went to Shreveport Wednesday and brought home little John S. Jr., who has been in the Shriners' Hospital for several weeks. The little fellow has been suffering with tuberculosis of the hip and under treatment in the hospital has much improved.

ROBS CALOMEL OF NAUSEA AND DANGER

Medicinal Virtues Retained and Improved—Dangerous and Sickening Qualities Removed. Perfected Tablet Called "Calotabs."

The last triumph of modern science is a "de-nauseated" calomel tablet known to the drug trade as "Calotabs." Calomel, the most generally useful of all medicines, thus enters upon a wider field of popularity—purified and refined from those objectionable qualities which have heretofore limited its use.

In biliousness, constipation, headaches and indigestion, and in a great variety of liver, stomach and kidney troubles calomel was the most successful remedy, but its use was often neglected on account of its sickening qualities. Now it is the easiest and most pleasant of medicines to take. One Calotab at bedtime with a swallow of water—that's all. No taste, no griping, no nausea, no salts. A good night's sleep and the next morning you are feeling fine, with a clean liver, a purified system and a big appetite. Eat what you please. No danger.

Calotabs are sold only in original, sealed packages, price 35 cents for the large family size; ten cents for the small, trial size. Your druggist is authorized to refund the price as a guarantee that you will be thoroughly delighted with Calotabs.—(Adv.)

DUCKS IN EAST TEXAS

Nacogdoches, Texas, Nov. 2.—Hunters of Nacogdoches and vicinity were made happy Thursday by the coming of quite a sprinkling of wild ducks that were to be found along the river courses and in the many artificial lakes near the city. Worth Whited, W. S. Davis, W. E. Thomason, Guy Blount, Mert Blackburn, Arthur Seale and Ford Simpson were among those who reported having bagged the limit.

The above item from today's Chronicle has provoked quite a bit of local comment. When his attention was called to this story, Will Reid remarked, "It does look like a fellow's hunting pals would remember him with at least one bird when they have been lucky enough to bag the limit the first day out. Really, I hadn't heard the boys say one word about the big kill. Somehow, they seem to be mighty quiet about it."

French Murphey disposed of the whole matter with one brief question. "Do you know what the limit is for that bunch? It's one duck each. It easy to get a limit like that." Hiram Buchanan said that he understood some of the hunters named in the story were seen coming in town late Thursday evening with one small "puldoo" each. When asked for the source of his information, the Chronicle reporter replied, "News items were a bit scarce Thursday."

LEAVING FOR AUSTIN

The books and equipment of Harris & Harris' law office have been packed ready for shipment to Austin, where the firm will locate and make their future home. Mrs. Harris and son, Audley Harris, are the only members of the family remaining here, and they have arranged to leave about the 15th inst.

Our people generally will regret to lose these good residents, who are regarded, both professionally and socially, as among our best citizens. They will certainly be missed, but they carry with them the best wishes and warmest good-will of those who have known and esteemed them so long.

M. R. Devereux of the Bureau of Soils arrived in our city a few days ago. Mr. Devereux will have charge of the soil survey to be made of Nacogdoches county by the Federal Bureau of Soils and the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station. This survey will be of great benefit to the agricultural interests of the county, as it will show the various types of soil, their fertilizer requirements and crops best adapted to each type of soil. Mr. Devereux will be assisted by Mr. Hendricks of the same bureau, who will arrive in Nacogdoches come time next week.

Miss Pansy Nichols, child secretary for the Texas Public Health Association, Austin, was in the city Wednesday to arrange for the handling of Tuberculosis Christmas Seals in the coming campaign for funds to fight for health measures which finally will eradicate the dreaded disease. The services of Attorney Asa Moore were enlisted for the prosecution of the Christmas Seal work in this county, and it is hoped none will refuse to aid when he presents the matter for consideration. A few cents contributed to this fund may be the means of helping save your own or your friend's child from the ravages of tuberculosis.

EFFORT ACKNOWLEDGED

To the Editor of the Daily Sentinel: My Dear Sir—I want to compliment you on the article appearing in Tuesday's issue headed "Aiding Growth," which interested me, principally because my store is the latest to open in your bustling town and it gives me pleasure in feeling that my coming has created a feeling of loyalty in some who send their money out of town for merchandise, when it could very easily be kept at home, by encouraging the merchants to carry the quality, style and class of merchandise that would fit any occasion. My investigation before deciding upon a location carried me to many of the smaller towns in Texas and in selecting Nacogdoches I looked into the future as well as the present, and feel sure that I have not made a mistake in predicting a wonderful future for this city, having as it does all the facilities of advancement, its high type of citizens and its broad-minded business men, who seem eager to grasp every opportunity to join their fellow merchants in promoting features that will tend to increase the population, and attract out-of-town buyers, as well as decreasing the catalogue houses' business from this section. Of the trade that patronize the larger nearby cities for high quality merchandise, I feel sure can be overcome if the merchants will make a study of this angle, which, with the co-operation of their patrons who have the interest of the town at heart, we can very soon increase our sales, which naturally, means an increase in sales forces, more money in circulation in our own town, invested and re-invested, will tend to do everything to build a city.

I stand ready at all times to give my time, energy and pep in working for the betterment and advancement of the town. I cordially invite future encouragement.

Yours very truly,
M. K. Jessel, of Jessel's Ready-to-Wear.

ROTARY MEETING

With practically a 100 percent attendance, the Rotarians were entertained at their regular weekly luncheon on Wednesday noon with a very interesting program, Mat Tucker and Red Muller being in charge.

Guests: Misses Edna Matthews and Joy Turner, and Mr. O. R. Estes of this city, Rotarian Tom Cleveland of Beaumont. Miss Matthews very artistically rendered two beautiful violin solos.

Miss Turner very delightfully entertained the club with two of her readings.

A. W. made a short talk on the good he thought could be accomplished by Rotarians visiting in the rural districts. Hye McKnight made a brief report on the Palestine Inter-City meet Tuesday night which was attended by a delegation from this club composed of himself and four other members.

Roscoe Perry and Jack Waste will be in charge of the program for the next meeting, Wednesday, Nov. 7.

TYLER LADIES COMING

A number of Tyler ladies had planned to be here last Saturday to work in the interest of the "Forget-Me-Not" campaign for funds for disabled veterans of the late war, but the trip was necessarily abandoned on account of the weather and other causes. These ladies will be in Nacogdoches on next Saturday, the 10th, and it is to be expected they will receive a hearty welcome and a generous response to their appeal for means to relieve the soldier boys who sacrificed so much for us. Many of them are crippled or ill, and they must be taken care of. Helping them should not only be considered a sacred duty, but a privilege and a pleasure. Let's give the visitors the glad hand.

None of us is so impecunious that we cannot buy a few bunches of forget-me-nots.

Rim knob door locks, 45, stump saw sets, 45. Four-pound keg soda, 25. Lumbermen's crayon, 40c dozen. Hank of waxed thread for shoes and harness, 75 feet for 15. Twist tobacco, usually sold 3 for 25, we give you 6 for 25. Silk socks, all colors, only 35. Percolator glass tops, 7 for 25, 10 quart galvanized sprinklers, worth $1.25, we sell for 90. Two-quart sprinklers, 30. Snow King Baking Powder, 20c bucket for 15c. Butter paper, 2 rolls for 15.

Do not forget to see our shoe offerings. These goods must go, and if you will just come in, we can convince you that the shoes and prices are right. We are sold out on many lines, but still have a lot of goods, that you can get way under prices.

BROADENS SCOPE OF SCHOOL WORK

School Children of America Establish Correspondence With Schools in Other Countries.

An opportunity to greatly broaden and enlarge the scope of work of the school children of America which was opened by the action of the last annual convention of the National Educational Association in San Francisco is being developed by the Junior Red Cross of America. A resolution endorsing in very positive terms the international school correspondence of the Junior American Red Cross and urging schools in this country to develop this correspondence as far as and as thoroughly as possible, was passed by the Association, and editors of American newspapers are co-operating in the work.

A number of schools in America on their own initiative already have organized chapters of the Junior Red Cross and established correspondence with schools in Albania, Austria, Belgium, Bulgaria, Czechoslovakia, France, Holland, Hungary, Italy, Jugoslavia, Poland, Rumania, Scotland, Switzerland, South Africa and New Zealand. In some cases, they are getting most interesting replies. In a few instances such as Alaska, Hawaii, the Philippines, Porto Rico and the Virgin Islands, all of which are American dependencies, there is an exchange of correspondence material which is very helpful in working up the letters going to the foreign children.

This work, so far, has been carried on chiefly in the primary and intermediate grades of the public, parochial and private schools where Junior Red Cross chapters have been organized, but all grades may participate in the preparation of the material, according to the instructions sent out by the Junior Red Cross Service in Washington, and they include class letters, illustrated or not, snapshots and postcards; maps, drawings, photographs, descriptions of interiors of homes and schools, types of dress, games, industries and industrial processes, cutouts, hand work—in fact, almost anything that one set of children is interested in, because it is regarded as a certainty that if children of one nation find something interesting, children of another nation, because they are children, will be interested in that same thing.

Portfolios are a good part of the correspondence and such portfolios give motive for study and description of America and American life on the part of the senders while they stimulate the recipients to a like interest in the affairs and happenings in their own country. The benefit thereof is manifold. Children who have geography find their interest in this dry study awakened by wanting to know just where their letters are going. History, also distasteful to many, is made a pleasant pastime for the same reason, and languages become absorbingly interesting because the American children want to know something about the difference in the words which they use and those which their correspondents across the sea use to mean the same thing.

Educationally, all this is of high value. In the opinion of American educators, internationally, it is of still greater value. In the opinion of those who are promoting the undertaking, because it definitely promotes international understanding and friendship and leads, therefore, into international peace. To the school, the teacher and the community, it presents a new line of endeavor and a new opportunity for broadening the viewpoint. On the whole, educators are over the country believe that it is the longest step forward for international understanding which has been taken in many years.

BABIES GET $2.00 PRIZE WHILE PIGS BRING $40

Babies amount to little in some parts of the United States according to the following report of a Red Cross public health nurse which has been presented to the Director of Nursing Service of the Southwestern Division:

"I was invited to be a judge at a baby show held at one of the county fairs. My chairman went with me and I think we both got the surprise of our lives, something I shall never forget. We arrived at noon. After dinner we were taken to the fair grounds, and eventually introduced to an elderly gentleman (probation officer) who directed us to what was called Floral Hall. Then we discovered that our booth was in an annex. We were invited into a room, which was dusty and full of cobwebs, had a broken window, one long bench with its legs directed east and west, an old scale with the glass broken off, a shopping basket about a foot and a half long which caught every baby in the nape of the neck, and one tiny teddy bear blanket. That was the equipment for the baby show. I sent in a hurry call to a doctor's office for some sheets, which helped a little. We weighed 38 children and awarded ribbons, and after looking through the catalogue, discovered that $2.00 was to be the first prize for the babies, while $40.00 was the first prize for the pigs."

STOVES

Have you examined the old stove lately? What is the condition?

Better come in and select one of the old stand-bys, Bridge Beach, the standard of quality for over sixty years.

Come in and select one, carry it home, use it thirty days and if not the best stove and the most satisfactory in every respect, bring it back and get your money. We pay you for the trouble.

New Perfection oil stove, the old standard, the "30" line, the newest thing out, the double wall blue enameled chimney, giving you more heat and heavier built. Then the Superflex, which is by far the latest and most up-to-date oil stove made.

We are always glad to show you. Come in at any time.

The names of at least two widows of Confederate Veterans were inadvertently omitted from the list published in Tuesday's Sentinel—Mrs. Geo. F. Ingraham and Mrs. B. J. Smith, both of Nacogdoches. If there are others we would be glad to add their names to the list. Mesdames Ingraham and Smith expressed themselves as very proud of the distinction of being known as the widow of an ex-Confederate soldier, viewing it as a title of honor—which it is.

DR. BROWNE TO SPEAK TO MARSHALL ROTARIANS

Rev. A. Oscar Browne, pastor of the Main Street Presbyterian church, has accepted an invitation from the Marshall Rotary Club to deliver an address to the Marshall Rotarians Thursday night. The occasion is Father and Son Night, and the title of Mr. Browne's address will be "Building Manhood Out of Boyhood." Mr. Browne delivered this address before the County Y. M. C. A. organizations at Lufkin recently. Before coming to Nacogdoches, Mr. Browne was serving as secretary of the New Orleans Y. M. C. A., in which position he made a careful study of boys' needs.

MRS. ED CHRISTOPHER

Mrs. Ed Christopher was born at Melrose March 24, 1843, and died October 10, 1923. At the age of 7 she moved with her parents, Mr. Jacob and Mrs. Nettie Lewis, to Lola, where she lived with them until 1866, when she was married to J. D. Christopher. To that union were born seven children, four boys and three girls. Their names are Mrs. M. F. Johnson, who preceded her to the great beyond 13 years ago; the others are G. A., W. J., and J. B. Christopher, Mrs. Nettie Pitts and Mrs. Bettie Hodges. The youngest died in infancy. She has 50 grandchildren, all living except two, and 37 great-grandchildren, all living except four. She made her home with her youngest daughter, Mrs. Hodges. She was living close to her old home where she was left a widow 43 years ago. She was a member of the Baptist church and spent her life in the service of God, her children and friends. She was blessed with health and was never idle. Her last well hour was spent with the needle. She taken with fever and was sick one week, and the Lord said "Thy work is done; come up higher." Charity was her great theme. She believed in dividing with the needy to the last mouthful. She was of a cheerful disposition and made all who knew her happy; therefore, there is laid up for her a crown of righteousness.

The Lord's will be done, and not ours, but oh, how we miss her!

Her Daughter.
