REDS AND RAF DEALING BIG BLOWS AT AXIS

Great Britain and Soviet Russia struck at the Axis war machine from Italy to the blazing Eastern Front today and there were indications that Japan might be clamping down on extremists in the Far East.

Royal Air Force bombers struck 800 miles away at Northern Italy to bomb Turin, Genoa and the Milan war factories and arsenals and other targets where scores of fires were started and extensive damage done. Four British bombers were lost in the attack.

The Red Army reported smashing Nazi assaults on Kiev with 30,000 enemy casualties, gains of 12 miles and recapture of 12 towns on the vital Central Front around Smolensk, defeat of enemy attempts to cross the Dvina River and defeat of Axis forces on the mid-Finland front.

London reported that the Germans seemed to be starting a new offensive of importance on the Russian Arctic coast toward Murmansk, in an effort to cut off war supplies from Britain, but that the Germans had suffered heavy reverses there.

Prime Minister Winston Churchill said that hundreds of British fighter planes had arrived and were en route to Russia. Berlin threatened Leningrad with the "fate of Warsaw" if the civilians failed to surrender, but the city was still holding out against the German onslaughts.

Drivers Of School Busses Are Warned By State Police

AUSTIN.—With traffic fatalities on the increase and travel heavier than ever before, school bus drivers will feel the weight of tremendous responsibility in the coming school year, State Police director Homer Garrison warned today.

Urging bus drivers to be sure their vehicles are in tip-top shape, Garrison said that a recent inspection revealed mechanical defects in every one of twenty-six busses tested. Twenty-three had defective brakes, thirteen defective lights, thirteen no fire extinguishers, sixteen no first aid kits. Most of them were defective in at least three important items.

Although the safety lane for inspection of private vehicles has been temporarily discontinued, Garrison said the Safety Division will continue to assist school authorities in inspecting busses.

"Gift Shows" May Bring Big Orders

DALLAS, Texas.—At least a million dollars worth of orders are expected to result from two annual "gift shows" in leading Dallas hotels.

From 18,000 items on display, 2,000 buyers were asked to choose their fall and winter merchandise.

Far larger than any held in Dallas previously, the shows were designed, officials said, "to bring the southwest to the foreground as a merchandise-producing center of America."

The abundance of foreign labels usually seen were missing because of the war, and in their place were the imprints of southwestern manufacturers.

East Texans Are Urged To Join In "Battle Of Food"

LONGVIEW, Tex.—Citizens of East Texas were urged to make three specific and important contributions to the national defense program in the "Battle of Food," in a bulletin issued to affiliated Chambers by the East Texas Chamber of Commerce agricultural department here today. Winning the "Battle of Food," in which the United States seeks to aid in proper nourishment of the civil and military populations of England and her democratic allies, as well as keeping our own people fed, is the primary objective, the bulletin declared.

East Texans were urged to: 1. Plant legume cover crops now, such as hairy vetch, bur clover and winter peas, to prevent winter soil erosion and increase productivity of the soil.

2. Improve pasture lands by increasing their carrying capacity, through sowing additional clovers and grasses, fertilization, when practical, and effective tillage and mowing.

3. Inauguration of a home garden movement, not only on farms but in towns and cities, to increase the total food supply and help to meet rising food costs.

The bulletin declares many East Texas pastures need lime and super-phosphate, and county agents have been advised where supplies of these fertilizer products may be obtained by farmers.

"Fall gardens should be planted before September 15," says the bulletin, "but have been known to do well even when planted later depending on moisture and climatic conditions. This fall would seem a good time to encourage townpeople to start National Defense Gardens. Although their luck might not be the best this fall, they would then have equipment for spring gardens and be somewhat accustomed to the task. By spring, no doubt, it may be a patriotic requirement that every able-bodied person take part in tilling a food garden."

No Oil Shortage Says a Committee After a Hearing

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—The United States Senate oil investigating committee unanimously reported today that there was no oil shortage on the east coast.

The committee reported that the federal petroleum officials had created the reported oil shortage and had created an "unnecessary alarm."

Court Shares Big Business Boom

DALLAS, Texas.—The nationwide business boom has been shared by Dallas' corporation court.

During the last two years, the court handled 104,000 cases and collected more than $488,000 fines. Figures for the previous 24 months were 52,000 cases and $268,000 in fines.

Despite the greater volume of business, the number of appeals to higher courts dropped 75 per cent.

Dr. G. C. Boswell, superintendent of the Ranger schools, although he has not seen the Bulldogs in action yet, is a big booster for the team and has promise of becoming one of the leading fans.

Burro Mascot Is Quite A Nuisance To Flying Cadets

FORT WORTH, Texas.—Rosie, the burro, is in high cotton at Hicks Field again.

The capricious mascot who drinks soft drinks and chews lighted cigarettes for the fliers, first came into the news when she jumped the post's fence and landed in a farm woman's petunia bed. The woman held the burro for ransom until the animal—like Red Ransom—became more bothersome than she was worth.

The woman gave Rosie back to the cadets and even threw in a generous helping of fresh peach preserves to the flier who vouchsafed to come get the burro.

Each night after dinner, a curvy detail made up of four dodos (beginning students) goes out to groom Rosie's coat. A crew of upperclassmen stands by to see that the rookies make her coat shine like the wings of a P-19.

The curvy detail finds the job a picnic. It takes two to catch Rosie, two to hold her, one to brush and one to comb her. Another is detailed to whisper honeyed words in her ample but generally unresponsive ear.

"She's sure sleek and fat now," said Cadet Jimmy Allen. "The curvy detail isn't so bad. But wait 'till spring rolls around and sheddin' time comes."

"Boy, she'll give 'em a fit then," he reckoned.

Training for the Ranger-Gorman football game was due to be completed today by Coach H. G. Jennings, who, though pleased with the progress made during the unusually short training period, admits that his team is yet far from the polished product he expects to make of it before the season opens.

The Bulldogs have been working hard to get into condition, and though they have high hopes of winning from Gorman there is no cockiness on the team, and they are not overconfident. Their attitude, however, is the best in several years, and if Gorman wins the game it will just be because they are better than the Bulldogs, and not because the locals have not tried.

Dr. G. C. Boswell, who is just beginning his first year as superintendent of the Ranger Public School System, and who is a die-in-the-wool football fan, today urged that everyone who is interested in football in any way, be present to see the game and to encourage the Bulldogs on to victory, not only in this game, but in all their contests this season.

"I believe that we have the makings of a good football team," Dr. Boswell stated today, "and I certainly hope that the fans will turn out in large numbers to encourage these fine boys. They have been working hard to achieve victory, and I know that every local fan wants them to win as much as I do."

The entire coaching staff, composed of Jennings, head coach; Cecil Townsend, assistant coach and H. C. Scruggs, freshman coach, all believe that the squad is in as good condition as it can be for such an early season game, and are hopeful that the boys will make the best showing a Ranger team has made in many years.

Neither coach has listed his starters as yet, but it is expected that each team will have about the same weight, with the Gorman line being a little heavier, and each will have about an equal break in the matter of lettermen.

Coach Jennings has outlined the plays that will be used against Gorman, and while they will not use all the plays he has planned to use throughout the year, there will be enough variety to assure enough to keep the Bulldogs in the running, provided they carry out the assignments given them. Officials of the game will be D. Broome, HPC, referee; Howard Gracey, TWC, umpire and Maurice Orr, SMU, head linesman.

BANK ENJOYS BIG BUSINESS FOR THE YEAR

Directors of the Commercial State Bank held their monthly meeting September 10, and the directors were very optimistic about the fall business.

Business has been good all during the year in the bank, and individual deposits this September have reached the highest amount the bank has ever had. The records show the bank is receiving new accounts each week, which has continually built the deposits up.

This shows that Ranger and Ranger's territory is progressing in a most satisfactory manner. The directors are well pleased with the success of the bank for the first two-thirds of the year, and expect the last one-third to be as good, if not better, than the past eight months.

The work has increased to such extent that the bank employed permanently Robert Riggs, who has previously worked at the Paramount Hotel, and who was a student of Ranger Junior College. Paul Farrow was promoted to Bobbie Powell's window; Powell was promoted to Jess Haney's window, and in the future Haney will work in the front office.

Farmers To Be Contracted On a Housing Survey

COLLEGE STATION.—Every farmer in Texas will be contacted before December 1 in a house-to-house survey on food production and a sign-up of pledges to increase the production of foods needed in this nation and in those nations resisting aggression. B. F. Vance, chairman of the Texas USDA Defense Board, has announced here.

In response to the Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard's setting of national food production goals, the Texas USDA Defense Board is laying plans for an intensive campaign to increase food production, Vance said. The board, working through the 254 county USDA Defense Boards in the State, probably will use the farm plan sign-up of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration during November as a means of reaching all the farmers in the state.

On September 8, Secretary Wickard proclaimed national production goals on milk, eggs, hogs, and other food products in order to meet the increased demand in this country and to feed the nations resisting aggression. Under authority granted by Congress, the Department of Agriculture will support prices of the needed foods at not less than 85 per cent of parity until December 31, 1942.

Detailed plans for the campaign have not been made, Vance declared, and probably will not be announced until after the meeting in Memphis, September 29 and 30 of all USDA defense boards from the Southern states. All Texas board members will attend the meeting, he said.

It was expected, however, that the farm plan, which has been used in the past to inform farmers as to their allotments and probable payments and to encourage soil-building work, will be revised to include a complete survey of food production on the individual farm and a pledge of greater production of the foods needed for defense, Vance declared.

Greatest emphasis in the campaign will be on milk production. Secretary Wickard has asked for the production of 125,000,000, 000 pounds of milk in 1942 as compared with an estimated 1941 production of 116,809,000,000 pounds.

Other important production goals include the following: eggs, 4,000,000,000 dozen as compared with 3,676,000,000 in 1941; hogs, 79,300,000 animals slaughtered as compared with 71,000,000; beef and veal animals slaughtered 28,000,000 as compared with 25,10,000; chickens, 750,000,000 as compared with 680,000,000.

JURY COMMISSION

WTC of C To Take Part In Hearing On Freight Rates

ABILENE, Texas.—The West Texas chamber of commerce has announced its appearance and that of its affiliate, the Freight Rate Equality Federation, in a hearing for oral arguments called by the Texas Railroad commission for Wednesday, September 24, on intrastate freight rates in Texas.

The arguments will be on an order issued May 15, 1940 by the commission prescribing rate reductions averaging approximately 15 per cent on all goods moving under class rates. In June, 1940 the order was suspended on petition of motor carriers for additional testimony, and rehearing was held March 12 this year. The rail and motor carriers asked for privilege of oral arguments, and these have been set for the 24th. The West Texas chamber of commerce and Freight Rate Equality federation will appear again as complainants against the present class rate level in Texas, and for restoration of the May, 1940 reduction order.

The two organizations will also join the railroad commission in fighting out the case on freight rate differentials in Texas under which, for 50 years, carriers have assessed surcharges over and above common point mileage scale on goods moving into, out of and within the differential territory of far West Texas, the upper Panhandle and deep Southwestern Texas. The rail commission issued an order in June, 1939, knocking out these surcharges and abolishing all Texas differential territory. It was accepted by the motor carriers, but the railroads carried it to court and obtained a restraining order. It has rested in court for nearly two years. On Sept. 2 the rail commission, in a hearing with attorneys for the Texas railroads, offered to grant some rate revisions and deny others, providing the carriers would call off their suit and agree to abolishing all Texas differential territory.

The railroads refused the offer, meaning that the court struggle will go on. Commissioners Jerry Sadler and Olin Culberson in strong statements said they would push for early determination of the litigation.

The Texas rail commission has also entered the Interstate Commerce Commission's national freight rate investigation as a complainant against the present rate structure and present levels which are declared to be discriminatory against Texas producers, shippers and consumers. The West Texas chamber of commerce and its federation are also in the case as petitioners against a pleading by Class 1 railroads of the United States to the ICC to indefinitely postpone the national inquiry.

Probe of Sub Action Is Asked in Senate

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—United States Senator Gerald P. Nye introduced a resolution in the senate today calling upon the Senate Naval Affairs Committee to investigate action between the U. S. S. Greer and an unidentified submarine, which occurred last week.

Floating Forts

Two types of barrage balloons float above Camp Davis, N. C., where Army tests are underway to determine efficiency of big gas bags as defenders against bombers.

SPEECH MIGHT TAKE A STAND ON SEA RIGHTS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—Unusually trustworthy sources said today that President Roosevelt's worldwide address tonight will declare that the United States will take whatever action is necessary to protect shipments to England.

The president is also expected to express American resentment over the German submarine attack last week upon the United States Destroyer Greer, enroute to Iceland, and over the sinking of the United States Freighter Steel Seafarer in the Red Sea.

The Greer was carrying mail to Iceland for United States forces stationed there. The Steel Seafarer was carrying lend-lease supplies to the British in the Near East.

These indications came after a White House conference where President Roosevelt went over with congressional leaders of both parties the pronouncement on foreign affairs which he will deliver tonight at 8 o'clock.

Funeral Services For Mrs. Whiting To Be On Friday

Funeral services for Mrs. Evelyn Rose Whiting, 24, who died Thursday morning at 5:00 o'clock at her home in Eastland, will be conducted at 3:00 o'clock Friday afternoon from the Eastland Church of God by Rev. L. B. Morrison, pastor, and Rev. Melvin E. Drake pastor of the Ranger Church of God. Burial will be in the Eastland cemetery.

Mrs. Whiting was born Evelyn Rose Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Smith of Eastland. She spent all her life in Eastland where she attended the public schools and where she was married to Charles Whiting.

The deceased is survived by her husband, who is employed at Brownwood, and two small daughters, Christine, 3 years, and Barbara Ann, 4 months. She is also survived by her parents, one sister, Mrs. Harvey Basham, and three brothers: Barney, Ray Lee and Leo Charles, all of Eastland.

Mrs. Whiting had been ill for a long time.

House Recalcitrant On Road Bond Bill

AUSTIN, Sept. 11.—A recalcitrant State House of Representatives today ordered printing of a substitute for the "compromise" road bond bill, which was endorsed by Gov. Coke R. Stevenson. Gov. Stevenson, who had convinced the legislature in a special session Monday, said today that he "guessed the honeymoon was over."

The lawmakers are restricted to one task—providing means to assume the county highway indebtedness. Because of a wrangle over distribution of the surplus over the regular session did not act upon the measure.

Order Closing Public Road Is Passed By Court

On an order of the County Commissioners court on September 8 the public road beginning at the N. W. corner of the E. one-half of section No. 35, John Sayers survey of Eastland county lands certificate 446 and located in the Long Branch community, was closed.

The court passed the order after reviewing a petition asking that it be closed, presented by T. H. Harris and 19 other freeholders residing in that immediate community.

Missing Bomber Not Found In Mountains

TACOMA, Wash., Sept. 11.—Army officials received a report at McChord Field today that a missing bomber had been found in the foothills of the Cascade mountains, but a thorough search of the area where the plane was believed to have been sighted proved futile.

The plane, with six men aboard it, has been missing several days.

War Profits?
Not This Time!

It would be taking in too much territory, obviously, to suggest that no "war profits" are going to be made out of the war itself or the defense drive in the United States. Probably some men will make a lot of money out of it in one way or another, and some few of those may even keep some of it after the tax collector gets through. Some men have that knack, and one hears an occasional rumor suggesting that even in Germany, Italy, and Russia a few shrewd ones manage occasionally to rake in a few marks, lire, or kopecks.

It is probably inevitable that this will happen in a few instances. It is not going to be the rule this time, as it was in 1914-1916, the first two years of World War I.

Best evidence is the rather remarkable performance of New York Stock Exchange stocks during the past two years.

This has happened, and it is almost unbelievable: The New York Herald-Tribune's composite stock index stood at 101.18 on Aug. 31, 1939. Two years later, on Aug. 31, 1941, it stood at 101.12. In other words, except for a rising flurry at the start of the war, and an almost exactly equal drop in May, 1940, when France collapsed, the stock market simply hasn't shown any reaction to the war at all. It stands after two years of war exactly where it stood when the war started.

To anyone who recalls the feverish market speculation of the first two years of the World War, when there were no restrictions on neutral trade, and the munitions industry fattened on war orders from the allies, this seems incredible. In 1914 the stock exchange had to be closed, lest the rush of speculative trade overwhelm it. Today the problem is to keep the exchange open, so light is trading.

If it means anything, it means that nobody believes that the large companies whose stock is listed on the exchange are going to make any startling profits. While practically every one of them is working at capacity, and most of them showed increases in profits of some 20 per cent over 1939, even with that increase the profits are not impressive, and not spectacular enough to encourage speculation.

It would be too much to claim that defense is being achieved without "war profits." There may be, and probably will be some. But not on anything like the World War I scale and not as a general thing. The "take the profits out of war" campaign may not have yet achieved 100 per cent success, but if the people who buy and sell stocks are right, it's evidently gone a long way.

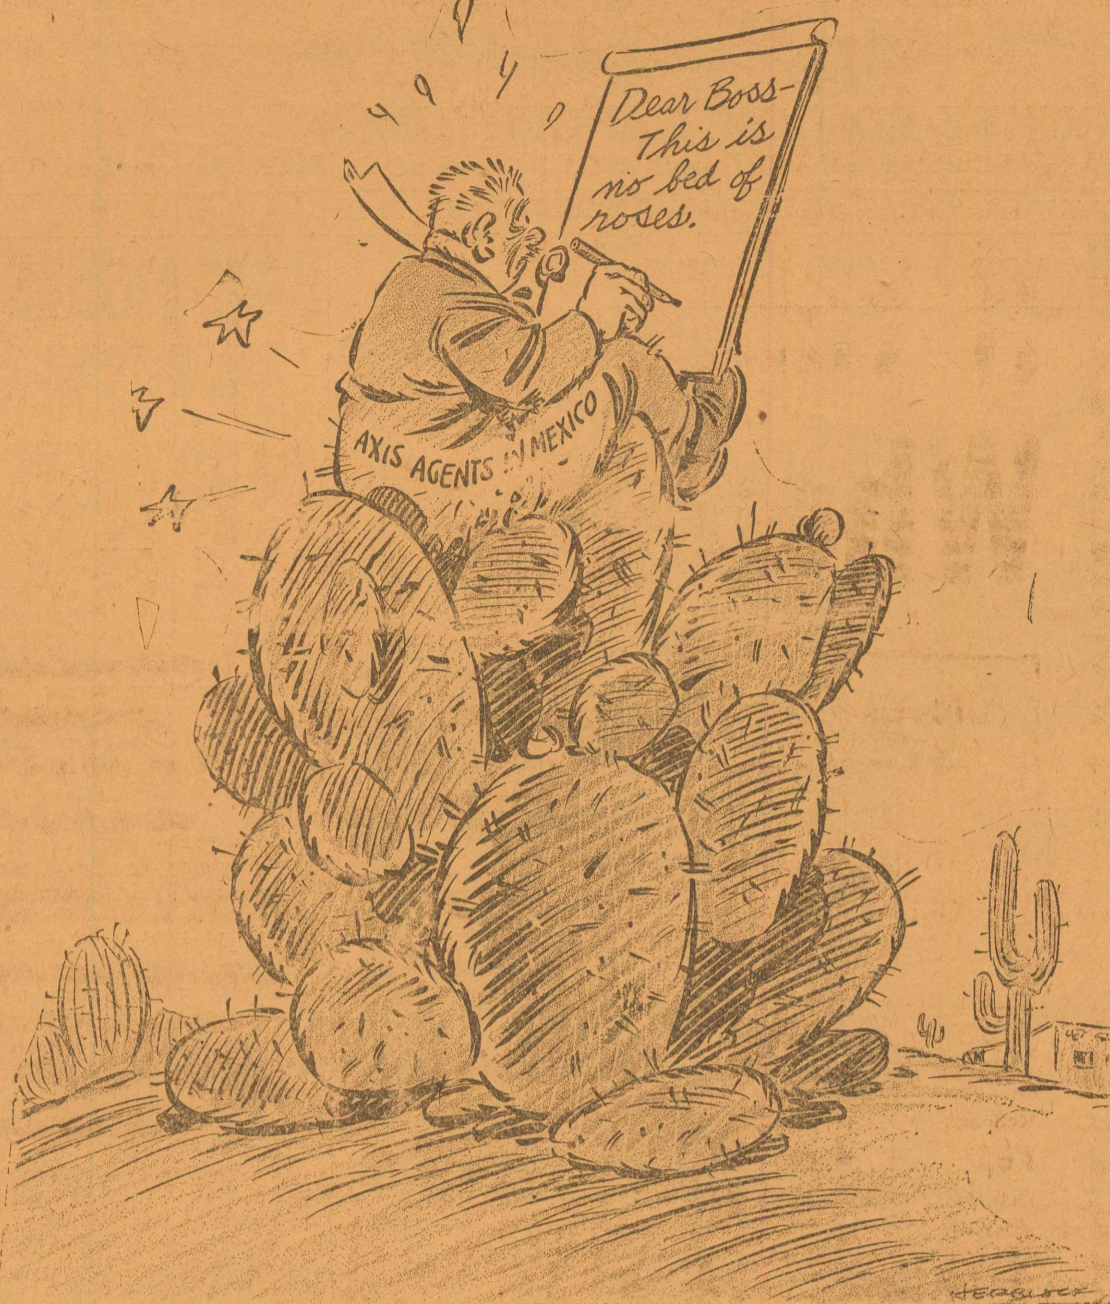

Just in case you don't think safety pays—the inventor of safety pins made $2,000,000.

At the same time, the farmers supplying A & P with fresh fruits and vegetables got 53 cents of the consumer's dollar spent at retail compared to 46.8 per cent they received four years ago.

Movies Arouse The Ire Of Bushman

DARWIN, Australia.—Twenty Arnhem natives walked 400 miles to see their first moving picture at Darwin, but they became so disgusted at the love scenes that they left the show before it was finished. Darwin police said none of the natives wanted to see another movie. They didn't like the kissing. News of the white man's new flickers was brought to the tribe by a young man named Jacala. Jacala had served a sentence in a Darwin jail for the fatal spearing of a tribal chief. He could see the movie's neon signs from his cell. He wanted to see why so many persons went into the theatre. He planned to go to a movie when he was released, but police hurried him out of town.

SERIAL STORY

BRIDE FROM THE SKY

BY HELEN WELSHIMER

COPYRIGHT, 1941, NEA SERVICE, INC.

THIS STORY: Associate magazine editor Judy Allen is not sure who loves her. Sandy American, who has disappeared on a test flight, is not sure who he loves. New York to the west coast, he may have crashed, and she tries to carry on at her office, finally asks attorney to find "Sandy," another suitor, if he will go somewhere with her. "And if I do?" Phil asks.

NEWS ABOUT SANDY

CHAPTER III

FOR a fraction of an instant, Judy hesitated at Philip Rogers' calm and steady words. "And if I do?" he had asked, knowing that her quest, whatever it was, would concern Sandy.

"I want you to charter a plane and help me hunt for Sandy," she whispered. "When we find him . . . when we find him, Phil, won't there be time enough to say what we will do? I have some money . . . I'll give the office boy my bank book and pay for anything I can. I'll pay the rest of my debt later. I promise I will." Her eyes sparkled.

Phil came closer, took the slim hands in his, held them. His eyes were warm and sympathetic. His eyes were kinder than Judy had known they could be. His lips did not laugh.

"Never mind the bank book," he said. "Skyways Incorporated is one of our clients. I'll get a plane and we'll leave as soon as possible. Better get a cab and run down home to dress and be ready. Wait for me at your apartment."

It seemed to Judy that the cab stopped for a red light or a traffic jam at every intersection. Was life forever to be like that? Would one obstacle after another keep her from the Promised Land?

Maybe no one ever knew how close it had been until its spires disappeared. She was turning the key in the wide door of the old red brick house where she lived before she remembered that she had not told her secretary where she was going. Nor had she notified her editor. It was funny how the amenities of life went on when you didn't know if life had hurt you or merely frightened you.

Two telephone calls straightened out the tangled web of the day. She had a week's vacation due her from the previous summer. The managing editor said, "Judy honey, if someone close to you is missing, of course you must get Luck go with you, child, and it will do Sara good to work a little harder."

Sara Fuller, the secretary, assistant to Judy, tall, graceful, slim, with black hair and cool green eyes, waited patiently on the line until Judy gave a brief explanation of her work.

"There is no need to explain anything really, Miss Allen," her rich, amused voice said. "I quite understand it all, perhaps some of it a little better than you do."

"For instance, just what?" Judy's husky voice asked. Then she remembered, "Oh, the layout on summer shoes! You were sweet to pick out the ones we wanted. But, Sara, I do have another job for you. My notes on the sketch about a stylist personality are in order, top drawer, left hand, in my desk. Will you make a copy, two carbons, and turn them over to Miss Barnard?"

The American Ship of State will never be sunk if we have enough battleships for defense. You can help build them by making a habit of buying Defense Savings Bonds and Stamps.

Her telephone rang softly, gently, and she flew to answer. Phil answered her eager greeting. "Good news?" She fingered the cord nervously.

Later she was to remember the instant's silence before the girl's voice came back, keyed to a happier key. "Yes, I shall be glad to do that."

THE morning sunshine gleamed through the casement windows, and half a dozen bronze bowls of yellow daisies danced in the shimmering light. Usually Judy paused appreciatively when she looked at her living room.

She liked the tall windows with their warm yellow drapes, the deep chairs, some in brown with a tangle of yellow roses in their coverings, one that let yellow be the background for brown flowers. There were small tables, many lamps, a wide studio couch on which cushions were piled in vagrant luxury. In a far corner was a maple cupboard that she had picked up for a couple of silver pieces at an auction one day. Now colored glass goblets, deep blue, dark red, and purple, made a rainbow on its shelves. Crowded book shelves, here as in her office, were everywhere.

This morning she did not notice the room. Nothing but the great fireplace that covered one wall. There was a fresh log on it, and the brass andirons had been newly polished. Sandy had sent that log two weeks ago, because she had had nothing but canal coal when he knocked at her door one night. Appleswood was sweeter, he had said. Its fragrance and its colors were lovelier.

For a moment, dark stricken eyes saw the log glow—saw a tall figure standing by, a bright head stooping to watch the fire take hold.

Then she was in the dressing room, selecting a coat to wear over the dark dress. She remembered her rose hat for a moment, but that was all. She was so tired, so warm, so happy, so full of life, that she asked at last in low, quiet tones.

Peepin' Thru The Knothole

With Bill Mayes

There should be plenty of "color" in the Ranger-Gorman football game Friday night, if names mean anything.

Due to see action in the Ranger backfield are Brown and White, while the Gorman backfield also boasts a Brown. Then, in the Ranger line is a Gray, and another Brown can be substituted in the backfield. There is also one Blackwell. But Gorman has a Fiter, who is a guard.

Or, to make a play on names, which is probably the lowest form of wit, one might say:

Rival fans Arterburn and their hair turn Gray when the Elder Brown Dabbs at the Lee side of the line and is able to Horn his way through and Gets going at White hot speed, with players from all the Townzen the oil belt Hardin pursuit, trying to lay him out Cole.

Silly, isn't it?

When everything goes along smoothly and no mistakes are made, not a word is said, and we sometimes wonder if anyone is reading the paper. Then, for no excuse at all, a blunder comes out and nearly everyone we meet says something about it. Yesterday the heading on a picture, right on page one, read "Neither Rain Nor Tight Skirts Stops First Lady," and underneath was a picture of some jitterbugs dancing while soldiers looked on. Now we are being accused of disrespect for the first lady of the land, which just ain't so. Mistakes of that kind are awfully easy to make, especially as the deadline nears and we are trying desperately to get the paper out on time. All of which has nothing to do with football, but we had to offer excuses and an alibi somewhere and this is as good a place as any. Maybe fewer people will see it here.

Yesterday the Bulldogs didn't have as hard a workout as usual, tapering off for the Gorman game, no doubt, with practice on offense taking up most of the time. The Bulldogs already have received all the plays they will use in the Gorman game, and more will be added each week, and the defense changed slightly in an attempt to stop the other teams. And conditioning will continue right up to the last game of the season.

And, yesterday, the lights had not been changed over from the rodeo grounds to the football stadium, and several of the lights are at queer angles, blown that way by the hard winds and some changed so they would give more light for the rodeo grounds. They will likely be changed before gametime, because we have worried about that several times in the past only to show up the night of the game and find them ready. However it will have to be done today in order that they can be focused properly tonight to be ready for Friday.

Too, there are a number of nails that have worked up in the stands that should be driven down. Some have worked up as much as half an inch, and it will take nearly half a day for someone with a hammer to drive them all back down. And they should be driven down, because they are so uncomfortable.

P. S.—After writing the above column, and before it got into print, electricians put up and focused the lights, so we can quit worrying about that.

B. E. Garner, manager of the Arcadia Theatre, has announced that the speech of President Roosevelt, in which the entire world is interested, will be broadcast from the stage of the Arcadia Theatre tonight, beginning promptly at 8 o'clock.

The latest model Airline radio has been obtained from the local Montgomery Ward Store, which will pick up the broadcast and it will then be re-broadcast through the theatre sound equipment so everyone can hear, Garner stated.

The picture will be stopped three minutes before the broadcast begins and everything made ready for the speech, which all theatre patrons may hear from their seats.

Old Razor Blades to Be Collected Here For Defense Uses

A barrel, painted red, white and blue, is to be placed on the streets of Ranger, with a sign reading "Drop Blades Here" painted on its side, for the purpose of saving old razor blades, it was announced today by Mrs. Ethel Brooks Gilmore, sponsor of the idea in Ranger. Mrs. Gilmore says this will be the first barrel of its kind in Texas, though other states have already begun the collection of old blades.

Steel collected in this manner will be turned over to the Office of Production Management, for making defense equipment, according to the plans. Shippers' forecasts by the Weather Bureau, Department of Commerce, enables the movement of perishables with a minimum of loss.
