WHITTLIN'

BY DOLPH MOTEN

Probably some civic organization should have had a community-wide Easter egg hunt here last weekend.

This department is greatly pleased that the story regarding weight tampering at area livestock auction sales has made the news media.

We've been hearing the cowboys talk about the cheating going on in regard to the scales for weeks. The story was getting "bigger and better" each time we heard it . . . and it was pretty good the first time.

Still, we had no proof of the unfair antics except for coffeshop conversations all this time.

We're proud its out in the open so at least the rumors connected with the case will be stopped.

Vernon Estes says we turned down a chance to be a hero by not being first to break the story. The information we had would have made a filmsy foundation for a story with the seriousness that that one carried with it.

Until we get all the facts--or at least enough facts--we'd rather let the big boys play the hero's role. Then, after they do, we'll make mention of it here. That's especially true if the story isn't directly connected with Bovina.

If it is a Bovina story, then we want to break it, of course.

Monday was the first day for policy of being closed on Mondays to go into effect by Bovina barber shops.

We notified Emmett Tabor and Jerry Rogers both downtown during the day acting as if they almost didn't know what to do with themselves.

Emmett says he's been barbering for 38 years and Monday is the first day he hadn't worked without a better excuse. He admits that he's taken a short vacation a few times down through the years.

Jerry says he believes a man who has barbered for that long is entitled to two days off a week.

Spring is all but here . . . and it may be here by the time you're reading this. We mean actually, not according to the calendar.

We made a whirlwind trip to Central Texas during the weekend. Evidence that Spring had arrived there was everywhere.

Bluebonnets were in full bloom as were Redbud trees. Accented by the greenness of the grass and the blueness of the sky they make a beautiful picture of this season of the year.

Worst feature we know about an earlier Spring is that grass-mowing starts sooner . . . and continues later on the other end of summer, too.

Spring, you'll remember, is when a young man's fancy turns to . . . baseball!

Lions Club members are making plans for the summer baseball program here. Looks like the various leagues for boys will be set to kick off about the first week in June.

Needless to say, we think the Lion's Club's sponsorship of this program is a wonderful thing. What may be an even more important contribution to it is the work of mothers of boys who participate in the program.

Mothers of players are having a meeting Friday night so they may become even better organized to aid the program.

Mention of Spring sports brings track and field events to mind.

Bovina High tracksters have one of the best one-two punches in their class in the area in Ronnie Taylor and Richard Carson. Taylor, a senior, and Carson, a sophomore, have taken turns winning their specialty at Hale Center and Springlake meets the past two Saturdays. They finished first and sec-

MAYOR UNOPPOSED --

Seven Running For Council Posts

A mayor and three new councilmen will be elected by voters in City of Bovina election which is scheduled for Tuesday.

Polls will be in American Legion Hall and will be open from 8 a.m. until 7 p.m.

Boyd Gilreath, who has served as mayor for past two years, is running unopposed for a second term.

Seven candidates are in the race for the three council posts. They are Mrs. Lady Armstrong, Tom Bonds, Lloyd Gober, Jerry Rogers, J. W. Wright, Mario Trevino and Dolph Moten. All were petitioned as candidates as was Gilreath.

The three who receive the highest total of votes will be elected to two-year terms on the council.

They will replace J. E. Sherrill, A. L. Glasscock and A. R. McCutchan.

Holdover members of the council, who were elected a year ago, are Harry J. Charles and Jim Russell.

Election judge will be Hodge

Rigdon. He will be assisted by Mrs. Pat Kunselman, A. B. Wilkinson and possibly others.

A total of 94 voters went to the polls in last year's election. Increased interest in city politics this year will probably cause a greater number to mark ballots Tuesday.

All of the candidates are in business in Bovina except Gober, who is a farmer. The outgoing councilmen have each served one two-year term in those positions and are not seeking re-election.

FOR TWO POSITIONS --

Four Candidates In Trustee Race

Four candidates are seeking two positions on board of trustees of Bovina Independent School District.

Election for the school officials will be Saturday with the polls to be located in the school building. Voters should enter the main entrance of the building to get to the polls.

Candidates in the race are Travis Dyer, Durward Bell, Jack Patterson and Robert Read.

All are farmers except Read who is assistant manager of Cicero Smith Lumber Co. here. The two candidates who receive the highest total of votes will be elected to three-year terms on the board.

The incumbents, Jack Clayton and J. D. Kirkpatrick, are not seeking re-election. They have each served two three-year terms. Clayton is president of the board and Kirkpatrick is a past president.

Election officials will be Wilbur Charles, judge; Hodge Rigdon and Mrs. Pat Kunselman. Charles was appointed by the board to replace A. B. Wilkinson as judge. Wilkinson, who had previously been named, will be out of town the day of the election.

Only 113 voters went to the polls in last year's election. A larger number than this is expected to turn out this year.

Holdover members of the board are Johnnie Horn, Vernon Estes and J. W. Harris, who each have one-year remaining on their terms, and Grady Sorley and Don Murphy, who have two years remaining.

The polls will be open from 8 a.m. until 7 p.m.

People eligible to vote in the election are those who have a paid poll tax receipt or an exemption and who have lived in the school district for six months or more.

Also on the ballot will be the name of Wendol Christian who is seeking election to the county school board as trustee-at-large.

Bill Shirley of Lazbuddie has held this post for the past several years but is not running for re-election.

MOTHERS MEET FRIDAY --

Plan Concession Stand At Ballpark

Plans are underway to construct a permanent concession stand at the lighted baseball field in Bovina.

A Lions Club committee was appointed to investigate the possibilities last week. Members of the committee are Tom Caldwell, Vernon Estes and Jim Russell.

They have made arrangement to borrow the money for the structure from First National Bank and construction is slated to begin soon, according to a report from the committee. Concession profits will be used to pay the indebtedness on the new building.

A meeting of mothers of boys who participate in the program has been called for Friday night at 7:30.

The meeting, at which an organization of the mothers will be formed, will be in the banquet room of Bovina Restaurant.

Mothers of boys participating in the program have operated the concession stand for past two years and the profits from their work have been sufficient to pay indebtedness on the ballpark and leave a reserve.

All mothers of players as well as others are urged to attend the Friday night meeting, announces Mrs. J. W. Harris, who has been in charge of the concession stand for the last two years.

NEWSLETTER
 From U. S. Senator
RALPH W. YARBOROUGH

Dear Fellow Texan:
 Because this country's livestock industry has been severely damaged by unfair competition from abroad, I am co-sponsoring a measure in the U. S. Senate to cut back and regulate meat imports.
 Too much beef, veal and mutton have been brought into this country. I am co-sponsoring with Majority Leader Mike Mansfield a measure to limit annual imports of beef, veal and mutton to an amount equal to the average of such imports between 1959-1963.
 This would be a sharp cutback from amounts now allowed into this country, mostly from Australia and New Zealand. More than 1.7 billion pounds of beef and veal were imported into this country in 1963, a 16 per cent increase over 1962 and nearly a 50 per cent increase over 1959.
 Imports have taken over almost 11 per cent of our domestic market. Meanwhile, prices of choice steers in Chicago were down 12 per cent below a year ago and 20 per cent below February 1962.
 In 1963 in Texas, cash receipts to Texas farmers from the sale of livestock and livestock products was nearly $1.1 billion -- 44 per cent of total cash receipts. Of this $1.1 billion, more than 60 per cent -- nearly $660 million -- came from the sale of cattle and calves. Texas farmers in 1962 and 1963 marketed an average 3.6 million beef cattle -- 13 per cent of the nation's total. Apply this percentage to the $170 million which Secretary Freeman estimates was lost by American farmers in the past two years due to the drop in beef prices, and the loss to Texas livestock producers exceeds $22 million.
 I am also a member of the Senate Committee investigating the reason for the unconscionable spread between the price paid to the producer of livestock, and the price the housewife pays at the marketplace.
 The testimony before our committee shows that in the past year, retail store prices on meat have held fairly steady but less and less has been paid to the producer, which means that the family buyer and the producer are losing.

 ond in district competition last year and will be heavily favored to do the same thing again April 11 at Lazbuddie. If they can repeat, they'll both earn the right to represent the district and their school at the regional meet in Lubbock.
 A first place in the mile-run pays 10 points and second eight points.
 Certainly, it helps a team's chances in a meet to be reasonably assured of 18 points in one event.
 Running the mile takes just a little more than natural ability, which some athletes are able to get by successfully on.
 It takes ability coupled with hours of training and hard work plus a lot of guts to be a good miler.
 Taylor and Carson are evidently putting all those things together in a neat package again this year.

Jim Russell, first vice president; Tom Caldwell, second vice president; Carl Rea, third vice president; Jerry Rogers, secretary; Ed Dendy, treasurer; Bedford Caldwell, Lion tamer; and Mario Trevino, taltwister.
 Named to the board of directors were Don Sides, Johnnie Horn, Vernon Estes and Bob Estes.
 Rogers, Dendy and Bedford Caldwell were re-elected to positions they've held during the past year.
 The new officers are slated to take over their duties July 1.
 In other business, the club voted to sponsor its sweetheart, Elaine Fuller, in District 27-1 queen contest.
 Also, members voted in favor of sending two children to Lions Club Crippled Children's Camp in Kerrville this summer.

By Sue Moten

There is an adage, "Flattery will get you nowhere." Now for one believe this is a false statement. Have you ever noticed that after someone tells you all the nice and flattering things about some particular accomplishment it is usually followed by the words "will you?" Now this leads me to believe flattery does get one somewhere for the most part the where is usually a job someone else doesn't want to do. Nearly always this plan of actions works or so it seems to us.

The whole course of action wouldn't be so bad to us if we weren't so gullible. One hates to turn a person down after he has just built your fallen ego up tremendously.

Wouldn't it be nice if one's job was as easy to do as it is for the fellow in another job to tell you how to do yours.

We recently viewed some of the latest hats. These chapeaux don't really resemble what we have always thought of as an enhancement to beauty. The ones we were particularly interested in looked like a hair dryer with a roller plastered on the outside. Some resembled a milk bucket with the handle on one side and one even looked like an extra large hubcap. The one benefit we could see from these hats was the fact that none of the hair showed. Believe it would be possible to wear your hair rolled in pin curls or perhaps even in rollers and one wouldn't be able to tell the difference.

It seems the local elections have gotten so big this year that one candidate has a campaign manager. We realize that it is too late to apply for such a position this year but maybe in the near future we will apply for the job of campaign manager. Perhaps another aspect of the elections could be debates between candidates as well as news conferences and the like.

We heard one fellow comment the other day on the wind. He pointed out the fact that he would hate to be in the real estate business during the month of March due to the fact that everyone swapped real estate because of the wind. We heartily agree, our back yard has a generous supply of New Mexico in it right now.

Conservation, Elimination Of Tailwater Are The Same

Conservation and the elimination of "tailwater" is one and the same, according to a recently given report by officials of the Farmer County Soil Conservation District.

"Of course you wouldn't say that an irrigation well isn't worth money, but the apparent disregard of some of the farmers for the tailwater problem would indicate that these same farmers had no regard for their irrigation wells," said the conservationist.

Certainly, all tailwater cannot be eliminated, but with proper soil and water conservation practices the problem can be controlled, according to Jimmy Smith, Work Unit conservationist, of the Soil Conservation Service.

"It would be well for all those who have tailwater to drive to the south or southwest parts of the Plains or even, just to the east in the southeast part of Deaf Smith and east parts of Castro counties and look at some of the "old" good 8" wells," said Smith, pointing out that some of these wells are now down to a 3" stream and that can only be pumped at night.

"We don't see much tailwater in this area. As we all know, the less water we have, the more it is worth," said Smith.

Reduction of tailwater to a minimum can be accomplished by consideration and use of the following points.

1. The greatest cause of tailwater is MAN. If we are going to turn the water on and then go to town, then we are asking for tailwater and not trying to prevent it. True it may cost money to prevent it, but it also cost money to run water out the end of the row. It is probably costing us more than we will ever know until it is too late.

2. Consider the soil type, slope of the land, length of the run, the time we run water, and what condition the soil is in before you ever turn the water on. These have a great effect on the amount of water we need to apply.

The soils in the northern half of the county are going to take all the water they are going to in the first two to four hours of the irrigation, but by length of run you can still have a 12 to 24 hour set; however a man is needed in the field.

The south half of Farmer County will take water rapidly for some two to four hours and continue to take water as long as we put water on it. This soil should be watered with what is known as a "cut back head," or use a large stream to get your water almost out and then cut the amount of water in about half until the desired amount of irrigation water is applied.

Your time of irrigation should be from eight to 12 hours; however in all cases a man is needed with the irrigation at all times.

All rows will not get out at the same time. If adjustment is made continually, these rows can be made to get out at the same time.

"If we will follow these rules there would be less reason to construct structures to "re-use" tailwater, because there is no reason to have that tailwater in the first place."

Why pump extra water out, into a pit, and back on the field when it is just as easy to pump from the well the amount you need to irrigate?

"Reuse structures for the tailwater are profitable only when it is your neighbor and not you who is furnishing the

THE HIGH PLAINS FARM AND HOME

This muddy, silt-laden overflow is a waste of irreplaceable natural resources, water and soil, and also of money, Farmer County farmer, with an abundance of the first two, sometimes farm like they have plenty of the third. Scenes such as this are commonplace in the area and demonstrate that although the county is technically in a "controlled" irrigation district, great waste is commonplace.

Grain Sorghum Layout 32 Pct.

The 1964 Feed Grain sign-up is now over. The tabulations are in and the result is that farmers have signed up to divert (lay-out) more acreage in this county than last year, by approximately 25,000 acres, according to Prentice Mills, ASC office manager.

This year's diverted acreage figure as signed up will be 86,596 acres. Of 1290 farms, 1171 signed up to divert acreage. Broken down into percentage of diverted for each Feed Grain Crop we have: 79% of all corn acreage has been pledged for diverted, 32% of all grain sorghum acreage, 84% of all barley acreage. These figures when averaged give 33% of the feed grain acreage in Farmer County to be diverted from production for the 1964 crop.

These diverted acres will pay the farmers of this county $3,-237,857 this year. Of the above figure, $1,295,000 has been added to the Farmer County economy at this time.

The diverted acre payment as averaged amounts to $37 per acre.

Conservation--

water to fill them," pointed out Smith. "From whatever angle you view the situation there is just no reason for excessive tailwater," he says.

Smith urged farmers in the area to work diligently to stamp out waste, and to preserve our precious water supply.

Those interested in doing something about this problem should contact the Soil Conservation Service office in Friona.

It has become a regular practice for some farmers to cut a ditch across the end of their furrows at the lower end of the field to catch any overflow that might occur when irrigating. This farmer in the Oklahoma Lane area is doing a good job of keeping things on an even keel. He isn't even letting any water get into his overflow ditch.

With signs of spring just around the corner, thoughts of homeowners turn to improving the landscape, setting new shrubs, trees, planting beds of annuals and perennials to add a dash of beauty to the surroundings.

A well landscaped home can very well add value to the property, dollar wise, that is, but the greatest benefits are in the beauty that it adds to the home. Good design in landscape principles is something that is well worth the trouble it takes to study and learn because like other things, it requires knowledge or some very sad effects are the result. Unless one has a lot of time to care for the landscape, shrubs or ornamentals that are set in the middle of a lawn or along the curb can look mighty ragged when grass and weeds grow around their base. Planning an easy-care landscape calls for a wide open lawn that may be mowed without having to give special attention to trimming around shrubs or plants—that time and energy does not permit.

Do you know that any plant may be grown from cuttings? A cutting bed properly prepared can give you many lovely evergreen shrubs with only a small amount of effort. A leaflet just received in my office "Growing Shrubs and Trees from Cuttings" is available at no cost to those who would like to come by for a copy. My office is on the second floor of the courthouse in Farwell.

Some other publications on landscaping are also available. "Modern Pruning Methods" is suggested for those who need to prune. Ask for the material on landscaping principles too. A demonstration on "Planting Trees & Shrubs" was recently reported by the Rhea 4-H Club leaders.

This is a very worthwhile project for a 4-H girl or boy and one that the whole family can share in too. These girls and boys are learning to make cutting beds, plan landscape and many other things in this project.

Powdered grapefruit juice, which dissolves easily in water and has a good fresh flavor, is about to be market tested although it is still in the experimental stages. Developed at Winter Haven, Florida, by scientists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Agricultural Research Service and the Florida Citrus Commission, the scientist used the foam-mat drying process developed at USDA's Western Utilization Research Laboratory. Already on the market is a dried grapefruit juice powder made by a vacuum drying process, also developed by USDA scientists.

FOOTSAVING EDUCATION

by James E. Edwards

Is foot trouble inherited?

Medical science is very definite about the fact that bunions, hammer toes, corns, and calluses are not hereditary. Some folks get awfully red in the face protesting that they inherited bunions because they have had them from birth and their parents had bunions.

I wasn't there, when they were born and I don't doubt that the parents had bunions. A generation ago you almost had to have bunions to qualify for citizenship. The reason people cling to the idea that they inherited the malformations is simply they can't remember the tight shoes, sox or pajamas that caused them. There are still many parents who believe that it is alright to wear short shoes and sox on babies who are not yet walking. That is the age when the bones are not boney. They are cartilage as soft as the gristle of well-cooked chicken.

I never get loud, but I wish that I could about the fact that there should never be any doubt about babies' footwear. If there is even a remote possibility that shoes, sox, or pajama feet will bend the toes, the baby should be kept barefoot. Remember, short shoes are POISON applied externally.

Quality Beef Supplies Available

The fed cattle market continues to be a depressed one, with large supplies of high quality beef available in retail stores.

Food shoppers can find many beef cuts at reasonable prices. Now is a good time to enjoy steaks and replenish freezer or locker space with beef, says Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, Extension Service consumer marketing specialist.

Extra care is needed to maintain quality and flavor of meat. As soon as the shopper arrives home with the meat, she should remove the store wrapper from fresh meat and wrap it loosely in wax paper. Keep fresh meat in the coldest part of the refrigerator and use within a few days. Freshly ground beef should be used within a day or two, advises the specialist.

Freezer storage provides a means for keeping meat for longer periods of time. Meat to be frozen should be packaged in moisture-vapor proof material. Freeze not more than three to four pounds of warm food per cubic foot of freezer space in a 24-hour period, the specialist says. To maintain frozen meat quality, make certain the temperature is held at 0 degrees Fahrenheit or below.

There are reasonable price tags on steak cuts, rib, rump and chuck roasts, as well as ground beef and stew meat. Fresh asparagus is on the market in limited supply. Lettuce quality is improved and there's a good choice of other salad greens. Carrots, cabbage, potatoes and turnips are available at reasonable prices. Fresh strawberry quality varies this week. Good fruit selections are bananas, avocados and pineapple. Shipments of apples from storage keep good supplies available.

Milk and milk products, dark green and deep yellow vegetables and citrus fruits are foods most often neglected in a diet. The U. S. Department of Agriculture suggests that family menu-planners include these foods in the daily diet.

AMMO NOTES

By Bill Bennett, Agronomist

THE TRUE VALUE OF FERTILIZER

What determines the "true value" of fertilizer? It's true value is determined by the extra yield and extra profits you obtain. Results, not price, determine your best fertilizer buy. This was recently pointed out in Farm Chemicals Magazine by Dr. Malcolm McVicker, agronomist with the California Chemical Company.

He also points out that the secret of fertilizer payoff is closely associated with fertilizer know-how. This is just another way of saying that for maximum return, the right rate of the right kind of fertilizer must be used in the right way and applied at the right time. The crop must make maximum use of the nutrients applied.

In my early work in soil fertility, I used to make the statement that "A pound of plant food is a pound of plant food." This is far from the truth. Differences do exist in fertilizers. For example, ammonium forms of nitrogen are good nitrogen sources when applied preplant or early side-dress. However, for late top-dressing of wheat or late side-dressing of maize, a nitrate form might give better results.

Know-how in fertilizer use can mean extra profit. A simple example shows how a small increase in yield makes a vast difference in the true value of fertilizer. Take a look at grain sorghum. At the rate of 100 pounds of ammonia per acre and a grain sorghum selling at $1.75 per hundred, it would take only 15 pounds of grain sorghum per acre to make up a $5.00 per ten differential in the price of fertilizer. A grower cannot afford to gamble away his crop profits by not using the right fertilizer or the right fertilization practices.

It all boils down to this... know-how is a must in making the right decision on fertilizer dollar. A penny saved may mean a dollar lost. Or, if you think only in terms of price per ton, huge profits may be slipping through your fingers.

Six of every 10 teenage girls and 4 of every 10 teenage boys have poor diets, according to a national study, and the facts also apply to Texas, according to Extension Service foods and nutrition specialists at Texas A&M University. In an effort to improve diets of teenagers, the Extension specialists are working with county home demonstration agents and County Program Building Committees in many Texas areas where youth diets do not meet recommendations of the National Research Council.

What's Purpose Of TDA?

The Texas Department of Agriculture achieved a record number of public service inspections during the past 12 months, according to Commissioner John C. White.

A total of more than 1.4 million separate acts of inspection and assistance were rendered in the channels of trade, ranging from crop examinations to retail sales checks.

"Work of the TDA involves direct services to Texans at every point in the marketing chain from the soil to the supermarket," White explained. "A major part of our duties is assuring the consumer of getting full value for money spent. On the other hand, technical assistance and production aids are offered to growers."

Commissioner White pointed out that the state farm agency issues over 11 million licenses, certificates of authority, permits or registrations in trade channels each year. In addition, supervisory work is conducted on over four million acres of crop and range land and at 878,433 points within the channels of trade.

"The Texas Department of Agriculture is a watchdog agency for the benefit of producers and consumers, alike," said White.

"A great deal of confusion exists in the mind of the public between the Texas and United States Department of Agriculture," the Commissioner said. "Very briefly, the state agency supervises and enforces the laws passed by the Texas Legislature. The regulations concerning crop allotments, land retirement, and production controls are products of the federal department."

White emphasized that all requests for information or assistance will be acted upon by the state agency or forwarded to the proper authorities if it is outside the jurisdiction of the Texas Department of Agriculture.

Six district offices are located at Lubbock, Stephenville, Tyler, Houston, San Marcos and Pharr or a person may contact the state headquarters in the John Reagan Building in Austin.

visited her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Richards at Reserve, N. M., over the Easter holidays.

croft, N.M.

Lilvis Rhodes of California,
former resident of Bovina, visited recently in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Buck Ellison.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Ellison and family of Lubbock and Mr.
and Mrs. C. W. Grissom and in the home of Mr. and Mrs.

Buck Ellison Sunday.

son Neil of Lazbuddie visited in the home of his mother, Mrs. Pearl Moore, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Odus White visited friends and relatives in Meredian over the week end.

A sheep rancher suddenly struck rich. His first purchase was a Cadillac limousine. On his next trip into town, the dealer meeting him on the street required how he liked the car.
"Say, fella," said the sheepman, "that there is a real nice automobile. Sure do like that winder back of the front seat."
"How's that?" said the salesman. "You don't have a chaffeur!"
"Don't need no chaffeur, sonny," said the sheepman, "but that winder keeps the sheep from licking my neck when I'm taking 'em to market."

The worth of money is not in its possession but in its use.

TEXAN HELPS FIGHT HEALTH FRAUDS

Senator Ralph Yarborough of Texas, right, registers concern during testimony by Food and Drug Administration witnesses that no federal control now applies to metal parts now used in bone surgery, even though improperly tested metals can sometimes injure the patient. The testimony came at hearings of the Subcommittee on Frauds and the Elderly of the U. S. Senate Special Committee on Aging. The testimony was only one of several facts already disclosed in the subcommittee investigation. "Health frauds and quackery endanger health, and testimony indicates they cost the American consumer a billion dollars a year. This cannot go unchecked," Senator Yarborough said. At Senator Yarborough's right is Senator Neuberger and a committee staff member.

The sergeant was instructing the young paratrooper before his first jump. "Count ten and pull the first ripcord, if that doesn't work, pull the second ripcord for the auxiliary chute. After you land, a truck will pick you up."

The paratrooper jumped, counted ten and pulled the ripcord. Nothing happened. He pulled the second cord, and nothing happened. He muttered angrily as he fell, then said to himself, "I'll bet that damn truck won't be there either."

NEW STOP SIGNS -- Wyndol Davies, city employee, is shown erecting one of several new stop signs which have been installed at intersections of Bovina streets in past few days. A total of 58 signs have been put up to aid in solving traffic problems here.

Success is due to backbone, not wishbone.

The drunk sitting at the bar was adjacent to a man and his wife. Suddenly the drunk came forth with a resounding burp.

"How dare you belch before my wife," thundered the husband.

With that the drunk unsteadily got off the bar stool and making a sweeping bow said, "A thousand pardons, sir . . . I did not know it was the madam's turn."
