THE FACTS IN THE CASE.

When you read a thing you like to read it's the truth. THE DALLAS WEEKLY NEWS gives the facts in the case.

SPECIALY EDITED.

You'll read The News awhile you'll read it. It holds the attention. It is fully edited, that's why. Brains don't hap-hazzard go into the making of The News.

TWO PAPERS YOU NEED.

You need the Advertiser, because it's the local paper. It gives a class of news you can't get elsewhere. You need the News because it gives you all the late news. The Advertiser and the Semi-Weekly News one year for $5.00, cash in advance.

San Antonio Express or Semi-Weekly

For pleasure and profit. It gives all the news in a condensed form. It is a clean family newspaper. The market reports give special attention to the stock and agricultural interests of southwest Texas. Daily, $10 a year; Semi-Weekly, $1 a year. Subscribe for the new year.

Mr. Pace, from Bronte, Coke county, spent Christmas with his daughter, Mrs. Yardley.

Happy go lucky C. Jones, sharpshooter and trapper, at present playing havoc with the pesky wolf and his allies in the Ingrem and JM pastures, took Christmas dinner, as has been his custom for a number of years, with Austin Spencer and family, San Angelo.

Rome Shield, so we heard in San Angelo, will open a store in west Tom Green.

Alf Smith returned Sunday from a visit in Coleman county.

F. O. Perry was in town Saturday night. He was on his way to his ranch on the Pecos near Pontoon crossing.

J. H. Fitzpatrick, serving sentence for the killing of Frank Allen, about seven years ago, was pardoned by the governor on Christmas. He arrived in San Angelo yesterday.—Standard.

Governor Shaw of Iowa has consented to accept the portfolio of Secretary of the Treasury.

Walter Smith and Jeff Mills bought one day last week upwards of 100 head of eastern stock cattle from a party at the old Bill Elliott ranch at about $8 per head. Jim Yardley and Lester Thorp went out to receive the cattle, which they will take beyond the Pecos.

—Prize in every package of Union Oats, at Sam Posey's.

Sam Clarke has left to take a complete business course in the Droughton Business College at Fort Worth.

Jonah Stinebaugh is getting ready to reopen his barber shop.

'Phone messages announce the serious illness of Maj. A. A. DeBerry, cashier of the San Angelo National Bank.

Columbus ranch buggies are the best and easiest riding on the market, at C. & G. Hagelstein's, San Angelo.

Born, Tuesday, December 31st, to Mr. and Mrs. Creed Thorp, a daughter.

Fayette Tankersley went in to Angelo yesterday. Mr. Tankersley's eight thoroughbred Hereford bulls recently purchased in east Texas have reached Sherwood and will probably be taken out to Teepe today. They are pronounced by the knowing ones as "beauties."

Mr. F. Rose, a brother-in-law of Mr. Wash Tankersley, and living in the headquarter Bar S ranch house, died last Friday morning, December 27th, at 9:30 o'clock, and was buried Saturday. His death was caused from apoplexy, due to a fall received about a month ago while branding. He was taken sick on Christmas night and Dr. Deal was sent for and did everything possible to save him, but to no avail. Deceased leaves a wife and four children; one daughter was attending school in San Angelo, but was phoned for and came out to the funeral. The Advertiser extends sympathy to relatives.

—Coming for T. T. Hamblen, Waldorf Club whisky; something that will please the thirsty.

In the tournament riding in Moore's pasture on Thursday the following young men entered: Will Bentley, Creed Thorp, Will Boney, Brooking Campbell, John Stanford, Walter Peck, John Noelke and Walter Beaty. Brooking Campbell and John Stanford having tied—eight rings apiece—they made a single run for first money. In this run Campbell captured two rings and Stanford but one. Brooking Campbell, first prize, $24; Jno. Stanford, second prize, $8. The "consolation" went to Walter Peck, he being low man. Albert Kincaid, Henry Lindley, judges; John Crump flagged the contestants off. The boys will try their skill at this martial sport again this afternoon.

Sheriff Wood, Bill Carr, Will McGuire, Frank Kester, Frank McGuire and Albert Kincaid left Saturday for Angelo, where they were joined by a strong delegation and the whole party proceeded to Miles to assist in organizing an Odd Fellows lodge in that growing young city. The Sherwood party are unanimous in pronouncing the charter members—five in number—of Cordova Lodge as good material. More initiations will speedily follow. They found a hospitable people at Miles and an enjoyable time is reported.

The Advertiser learns that Mark Benton has about decided to leave for New Mexico early in the spring to engage in the horse business.

Stop blowing that old tin pan of a thing—go to Gus Dressler, San Angelo, and buy you a harp that will make sweet music. Best line of Harps in West Texas. Lowest prices.

One morning recently Mr. W. S. Chapman started out on one of his tri-weekly journeys to Stiles. He had reached a point but a couple miles from town when he came suddenly upon the scene of an unequal combat. Within thirty or, perhaps, forty paces of the buggy five lobo wolves were so busily engaged in a first fierce onslaught on one of Capt. Sugg's calves that they were unaware of the near approach of the United States mail—and Scott with his trusty gun safe at home. It was a timely rescue.

For Sale,

An irrigated farm adjoining Sherwood. Thirty-two acres under irrigation; forty acres in pasture; thirty-four hours' water every nine days; ditch running through corral; good peach orchard; a large two story barn; a new eight room house, well finished; two good wells of water; good milk house. Mowing machines and all farm implements go with it. For further information address: W. P. MOORE, Sherwood, Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Campbell, accompanied by Bob Campbell, went in to Angelo late last night to spend Christmas with their mother, Mrs. Betty Campbell.

Santa Claus is coming

We Are Headquarters for His Presents.

We are aware from experience that people appreciate

USEFUL THINGS AS PRESENTS

men as well as women and children. Toys are well enough for the little ones, but you know as well as we do that the American boys are today little grown up men, and the girls little grown up women. They think like grown people and there is not one of them that would not appreciate

NEW HATS. NEW SUITS, NEW SHOES,
NEW JACKETS or CLOAKS, NEW HANDKERCHIEFS

a great deal more than anything else you could give them. The small boy of today will certainly write to Santa Claus for a new suit of clothes, the small girl for one of those new red cloaks. The big girl, if she were to write, would want a new fur collarette, and mother wouldn't object to a nice silk waist or a tailor made suit. Dear old papa, who pays the bills for his own Christmas presents as well as those of the family, hopes that Santa Claus will give him a new overcoat, some underwear, or something else ready to wear that he is just in need of.

We are daily receiving by express from New York additions to our stock of Ready to wear Garments, and are in position to supply you with anything you may wish. We call special attention to our excellent line of Ladies', Misses' and Children's Cloaks and Jackets, Ladies' tailor made Suits and Skirts, Ladies' and Misses' Fur Collarettes, Handkerchiefs, Kid Gloves, Belts, Fascinators, Ladies' Silk and Flannel Waists. Our lines of Men's Suits and Overcoats, Youths' and Children's Clothing is the Largest and Best Assorted in town. We have just opened entire new lines of Holiday Neckwear, Holiday Silk Handkerchiefs, Mufflers, Suspenders and Underwear.

We have omitted to give any prices here, as after all prices convey but very little idea, unless you can see the goods. But our rule to sell the same goods for less money, or better goods for the same money than any other store in town, will be strictly adhered to during the holiday season, the same as any other time during the year, and as usual, we guarantee satisfaction, or are ready to refund money.

It will be to your interest to call and see our stock before you make any purchases. Very likely we can come nearer filling the bill and incidentally

SAVE YOU MONEY,

L. SCHWARTZ & CO

The High School class will give their entertainment Monday night, December 30th. Judging from an impromptu effort on 15th ult., standing room is going to be at a premium. Proceeds to be used in purchasing books for school library.

—Bisque figures, at half price at Winkler & Hudson Co.'s, San Angelo.

In Sherwood on the 23d inst. M. Benton filed on section 70, block 7, H. & T. C. Ry.; in San Angelo the same day he also filed on the adjoining section No. 56, block 7, H. & T. C. Ry., both sections being in the Jones pasture.

—Go to Frank Roberts' and buy a gold pen, watch, or beautiful set ring as a Christmas present for that pretty little girl.

C. O. Fokes yesterday filed a Chattel Mortgage for the benefit of creditors. The entire stock of goods, etc., was transferred to Spencer C. Frost, who was named as trustee.

Carload of Ammunition for the Boers.

That is what an Englishman remarked when he saw the immense shipment of fire works that Gus Dressler received this week and, while we are on that subject, I wish to state that I have the largest and best assortment of fire works ever seen in San Angelo and respectfully ask the good people of this section to call and examine same, and let me price them to you. Special prices to merchants.

In addition to the goods mentioned I carry one of the nicest lines of...

Fancy Groceries,
Confectionery, Fruits,
Tobaccos, Bakery products

to be found in West Texas, at prices that will tickle you to your knee caps.

Remember the place,

GUS DRESSLER,

Union Christmas tree in the Court House as we go to press. It is the laudable attempt of the committee in charge to contribute to the happiness of every child.

—Bring your hides to headquarters for high prices, J. D. Rawls, San Angelo.

Mr. Hiler, an old timer of this section, is visiting with Mr. Joe Funk. Mr. Hiler was in Clayton at the time of the execution of Tom Ketchum and confirms newspaper accounts of same.

—The celebrated Metropolitan Club is sold by T. T. Hamblen of Sherwood, Texas.

Dock Davis went in to Angelo Saturday with B. C. Jackson and returned next day with the Smith boys.

Thorp-Stedham.

On last Sunday, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Stonehouse, two happy people, Mr. D. S. (Sim) Thorp and Miss Elvira Stedham were united in the holy bonds of matrimony. A few favored guests were present. The bride was beautifully arrayed in a dress of pale blue. Everything was peaceful and quiet, making one of the prettiest weddings that has occurred in Sherwood for a long time. Rev. Hodge performed the ceremony in his usual impressive manner.

Mr. Thorp is a gentleman of integrity, good moral character and, in fact, an "all around man." Miss Elvira is well known in Sherwood, as she has lived here most all her life and every one knew her and spoke of her as a pure, sweet, industrious girl. May good luck and happiness ever attend their pathway.

Following is a list of presents:

Cake stand, Mr. and Mrs. Markland; lamp mat, Miss M. E. Stedham; pair pillows, pair pillow cases, quilt, sheet, pair linen towels, two gallons preserves, Mr. and Mrs. Stonehouse; pair linen towels, Mrs. Wm. Funk; pair Turkish towels and ten yards domestic, Miss Lizzie Lackey; pair linen towels, Miss Katie Lackey; sheet and pair pillow cases, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Stedham; set silver knives and forks, Mrs. Stonehouse, Mrs. Beatty, Mrs. Clibourne and Mrs. Carson; carving set, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Roberts; cow and calf, Frank Emerick; set smoothing irons, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Carson; linen table cloth, Mr. S. C. Frost; cow and calf, Mother Thorp.

--Say, Pard, where'did you get that bottle of Top of The Morning whisky? At Hamblen's.

Messrs. Harry and Geo. Drennan of San Angelo, spent Xmas day in Sherwood, the guests of their sister, Mrs. A. Kincaid.

--Just received, a line of horse collars and pads, saddle pads, bridles, saddle strings, buggy washers, at Sam Posey's.

Dr. Deal's 8-year-old boy has been ill this week with Bright's disease.

--What makes prices so high in San Angelo on hides and pecans? They all blame J. D. Rawls.

In the roping contest at Ozona 26th ult. John Murrah won first prize of $100, time 42 seconds; Mitch Owen and Adison Day tied for second money, $50, time 50 1/2; James Howard won third money, $25, time 57.

Guy Wood accompanied his sister, Mrs. Maud Branch, in to Angelo this week, where she took the train for her home in Bertram, after a pleasant visit, which we all wish could have been prolonged.

A Happy New Year

The Bad Girl's Reminiscences.

Sister's favorite beau was to call that night. I, Hagar, the Bad Girl, decided to have a little enjoyment at the beau's expense.

All honor to the beau, but a bad girl's desire for fun is no respecter of persons.

Between sunset and dark I got my younger brother out to the veranda and showed him how nicely I could stretch and tie a rope from one post to the other at a height that would trip Mr. Purcell as he stepped upon the veranda. (It does not sound so funny from the view point of later developments as it looked in perspective).

We (rather I) completed arrangements. As a finishing touch, I walked briskly from the gate to the veranda, in imitation of Mr. Purcell's best style when out calling, to see how the rope would work.

It worked all right, as a bump on my forehead could testify. I had not correctly calculated the distance, or the momentum of my briskness carried me on when I vainly would have stopped, and I saw stars. My fall generated no sympathy for "next on programme," so the rope remained.

When sister had gone to the door the dozenth time, to list for coming footsteps, I knew to slip out and around to the front, where I took up my station behind the arbor vitae nearest the veranda steps. I had just gotten comfortably settled when I heard mother calling: "Hagar! Hagar! Where can the child be? Into some mischief I know."

I lost no time getting to the kitchen door and answering meekly, "Here I am, Mother."

"It is bed time, Hagar," said she; "Get on to bed before Mollie's company comes."

There was no getting out of it. To bed I must go; but there is a difference in sending Hagar to bed and keeping her there.

Why! oh, why! did they ever give me such a name?

If I had been called Violet, mayhap I would have been sweet and lovable as my modest name flower, instead of having such a propensity for getting into "scrapes."

However, I lost no time then in moralizing. I was determined to see the fun if it was a moonless night and John would not go with me. Just as sister closed the door the fourteenth time I slipped around the corner and made for my station.

In passing, I saw my rope was down, so stopped and hastily retied the loose cord. I had barely got behind the arbor vitae when a form showed up in the starlight. As the figure came through the gate I thought it looked rather tall for Mr. Purcell, but things always look larger to me at night—if I am alone. I had no time for second thought ere the inevitable happened, just as sister opened the door the fifteenth time.

"Oh, Mr. Hartsell," she cried, "are you hurt?"

"I am so sorry," she continued as the figure picked himself up.

"This is Hagar's work; I took that rope down once tonight, and she has come and put it up again."

"No, no, Miss Manson," I heard him answer, "that thick mat raved my head."

"Hagar did not calculate on your height when she tied that rope there," said sister. "She prepared it for Mr. Purcell, whom she knew was coming tonight and whom she dislikes."

During this time they were untying and removing the rope, while I was undergoing an agony of remorse. Mr. Hartsell was my favorite among all sister's beaux.

I was glad when the parlor door closed and I could creep unseen to my room and to bed, wishing I had staid there a while ago.

I intended to stay awake all night and weep over my misdeed, so Avenging Justice (in the form of Mother) seeing my "pale and sunken cheek and hollow eye" next day would say: "She has been punished enough; I cannot, will not add to her misery."

I do not know how long I kept awake trying to coax out a few penitent tears. At any rate I did not know when Mr. Purcell came.

But I knew when morning came and Avenging Justice drew near.

In all kindness we will draw the curtain of Charity over the proceedings of that day in the life of

"THE BAD GIRL."

"Do you think that is all her own hair?"

"Of course. She told me only the other day that she never gets trusted for anything."

Break in Cabinet.

Postmaster General Smith resigns and Henry C. Payne of Wisconsin, succeeds him.

—If you will drink or need whisky or wine for medical purposes it is not necessary to send out of town for it, as you can find just as pure goods in your own town as can be found anywhere.
