NOTICES OF PREACHING

Rev. Mr. Mills will preach in the Methodist church next Sabbath as usual Sunday, 22nd. Services in St. Peter's church at 11 a.m. Weather permitting. Partle creek at 3:30 p.m. - R. GALBRAITH, Rector.

Look out for Hell for Screw Worms!

Mr. Geo. T. Lincoln, druggist, of Bandera, was here this week on business.

Capt. Schreiner was in attendance at the stockmen's convention in Galveston this week.

Mr. E. G. Liebold was in attendance on the Stockmen's convention at Galveston this week.

Messrs. Street Gilmer and Dale Compette returned Thursday from a business trip to Rock Springs.

One can get an idea of the size of Albert Rosenthal's mouth, now that he has shaved off his schnurbart.

Our enterprising dairyman, W. L. Robinson is having quite an addition made to his residence across the river.

Mr. Jules Renschel is again at his office at the lumber yard, after a visit to his old home, Gonzales.

This week a team ran away with James Beckmann, resulting in one of his feet being badly hurt.

There was a pleasant gathering of friends of Miss Madeline Muller at Vettis cottage on Friday evening of last week.

Mr. J. A. Smith, from Austin, has accepted a position in the bank.

Mr. Chas. Schreiner Jr. having been transferred to the Beehive.

During the past week considerable pruning of shade trees has been done in Kerrville. The reward of this work will be seen later.

The regular meeting of the Lodge of Knights of Honor will be held this Saturday night. Matters of interest to members will be transacted.

Henry Welge, left here Tuesday with a carload of horses, which he will take to market in Alabama. He will be absent about six weeks.

Last week some one entered the home of Mrs. W. E. Stewart and stole a ten dollar bill from her port-monie. The thief is unknown.

Messrs. Eckstein and J. L. Pampell left Sunday for a week's trip to Mason. Business and pleasure - Mr. Eckstein for business, Mr. Pampell for pleasure.

There is not much danger of starvation in Kerrville as long as bread remains at three cents a loaf, butter ten cents a pound and eggs at eight cents a dozen.

The Paper regrets to learn of the serious illness of that hustling young merchant, Mr. G. D. Anderson. The latest bulletin states that the worst is past and that he is recovering.

The lumber has been purchased for a home for Jesse Coleman and his fair bride. Ere long Jesse will sit on his own front porch and smoke the pipe of peace.

Dr. Domingues returned Saturday from Louisiana, whither he had gone for business and pleasure. He was accompanied home by his wife's sister, Miss Bessie Bowman.

On Tuesday Mr. E. F. Jones found a pretty light blue snubonnet on the street. If the reader knows who lost it, tell the loser to call at Mr. Jones' home and get it.

Mattress Renovating

You are invited to leave orders for Bed or Mattress renovating, at Marshall's old shop, next to Grona & Grider's. Old beds made good as new. We are here only for a short time.

Dr. A. W. Irving, Dentist
 Announces his return to this city, and may be found at his office over the drug store.

All in need of dental treatment should call and see him.

Look out for Hell for Screw Worms!

There is no reason in calling the medical boarders at the St. Charles hotel "quacks," because the proprietor served good roast duck for dinner last Monday.

Last Sunday, while Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Thomas were out for a drive, some child entered their home and stole a purse containing six dollars from a trunk.

Wm. Porter, a machinist and contractor of Ciudad Porferio Diaz, was here this week, visiting Dan Crider. Both gentlemen were boys together in Blanco county.

Our friend Dr. Rawson is just as friendly and serves his customers with the same urbanity as he did before a man from Greenville had been elected speaker of the house.

Mr. J. W. Johnston, editor and business manager of the Times-Clarion, published at Longview, paid our city a flying visit last Saturday. The Paper is indebted to him for a brief fraternal call.

"Fairer among ten thousand, altogether lovely," we involuntarily exclaimed, when we beheld Pat Finnigan's helper at finance headquarters last Monday. And we were right in our judgment.

T. H. McFADIN,
 Furniture Dealer and Funeral Director

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Taylor came in from the ranch last Monday. Mrs. Taylor will visit her sister, Mrs. King, at Cuero. We wait interesting developments that occasion the visit to that city.

Mr. J. A. Schreiner now drives a large black horse to his rubber tire rig that can climb over more road in less time than any other animal in the county. It has been named "Shiner." Its a spinner and a winner.

We are happy in saying that the fair Miss Mand Muller, who has spent a portion of her time for the past three years in Uvalde county, returned home for the holidays and has concluded to remain here.

Early Friday morning near the wool ware house one of Capt. Schreiner's mules was so badly crushed between two cars that Marshal Thomas shot it to relieve it of its misery. A defective brake the cause.

Do you want to know why Mr. A. Brautigam looks so blue? It is because his estimable wife has left him. She is away on a six weeks visit to relatives in California, and the ex-arderman's only consolation until Mrs. B's return is his grandsoa.

Mr. J. D. Ramsay was in town last Wednesday. There being an air of self-importance about our friend, we inquired the cause. He said he was now a grandfather, a fine son having been born to Mr. and Mrs. Warren Barton that day.

NOTICE!

All persons indebted to W. E. Stewart will please come forward and settle up their accounts at once, as we wish to close up all old accounts.

MORRIS & GILMER.

Big Suit for Damages.

Mr. J. D. Hardin, who had his collar bone broken and was otherwise bruised and battered up while a passenger on the San Antonio & Aransas Pass Railway, has brought suit against the railway company through his attorneys, Burney & Garrett, for $15,000 damages.

He seeks to recover $10,000 as actual damages for the injuries received and the suffering he has undergone by reason thereof. He also claims punitive damages in the sum of $5,000 by reason of the gross negligence of the railroad company in the manner of operating its train at the time he was injured. It also has in this connection a new plea wherein he sets up and charges that the passenger travel over said road between San Antonio and Kerrville, including the intermediate towns of Boerne, Comfort and Centre Point, is amply sufficient to demand of the company the operation of a regular passenger train, and that the running of a mixed train made up of all kinds of freight cars with the passenger cars attached, is gross and wanton negligence on the part of the company, and evidences a total disregard on its part for the safety and welfare of its passengers.

Mr. Hardin received the injuries complained of on the 15th of last month and is still confined to his bed a greater part of the time.

Only Out for the Night.

Mr. Drew, sexton of Glen Rest cemetery, says that parties to his unknown recently entered that place at night and made an interment in one of the lots in Stranger's Row. That was an unlawful act. This way of putting away a body without official cognizance and investigation, often practiced it is said in former times in the old graveyard, ought not to be allowed in the future.

Mr. Drew related the following little story. Near his old home in Ireland lived an elderly gentleman who had a son. Once in a while the son would go to the neighboring village, always returning home at about the hour of midnight well tanked up on the best ale the village inn could afford. A short cut through the graveyard was his shortest way home. The old man thought he would frighten the young fellow, in the hope of breaking off his evil habits. One night he left home with a white sheet under his arm. Stationing himself behind a large tombstone in the graveyard he waited the coming of his son. About midnight the young fellow came swaggering along, his hat on the back of his head, and whistling a merry air. Suddenly the old man, enveloped from head to foot in his white sheet, stood before him, looking very ghostly in the moonlight. His son stopped, and regarding the apparition with interest he said, "Hello! are you only out for the night, or is it the general resurrection?"

W. W. Bird, of Kankakee, Illinois, arrived here Monday, and is at the St. Charles. Mr. Bird has visited our city several times, and the friends he has won here welcome his coming. He was accompanied here by Mr. E. Powell, a prominent citizen of Kankakee, who will remain a month, after which both gentlemen will visit the coast country and fish for tarpon.

Last Saturday Mr. D. A. Rees returned home after a trip to Brenham, where he had gone for treatment of a chronic trouble by his son, Dr. H. C. Rees. Mr. Rees has been ailing for some time. His friends will rejoice to learn that he is now quite well.

Earl Baskin Phillips, the little son of W. A. Phillips, on the 12th instant at the home of his uncle J. R. Wagner, in this city. Rev. Mr. Day, pastor of the Presbyterian church, held services at the house. Interment took place at Nichols' cemetery up the river.

of Morris Ranch have kindly consented to give an entertainment in Parsons hall on the 31st inst. in behalf of the Episcopal church. Further particulars in our next issue.

There is going to be big races at Junction City on the 31st of this month. The Kerrville brass and orchestral band, composed of Garrett brothers, Milford Pharr, Eugene Williams and others, will furnish the music.

His Honor Mayor Rawson and the full board of alderman, acting as the board of school trustees, visited the city school last Wednesday. We are informed that they found everything moving satisfactorily. The attendance is below the average, caused by the late prevalence of measles in this place. Prof. Toland and his assistants are doing good work.

Miss Mollie Parrott, an estimable young lady of Centre Point, died at her home in that place, of heart failure, on last Sunday. Her funeral occurred Monday, services being conducted by Rev. J. M. Mizell pastor of the Baptist church of this city. Miss Mollie was a sister of Mr. J. E. Parrott. She was a devout Christian and beloved by a large circle of friends.

A committee of ladies of the cemetery association, accompanied by Mr. Henry Renschel, visited Glen Rest cemetery last Wednesday. They found the place in good condition. It was decided to erect a cottage for the use of Mr. Drew, the sexton. It will be built on an elevated spot, from which the sexton can overlook the entire grounds. Work on the cottage commenced Thursday.

Burleson, the little son of Rev. J. M. Mizell, was hurt last Friday by his pony running away with him. After running several blocks the pony jumped a ditch and Burleson was thrown. He was struck slightly in the forehead by the horse's hoof, and one of his fingers was crushed so badly as to necessitate amputation at the first joint. Burleson had just recovered from a sick spell, otherwise an old Texas cow pony could have thrown him.

EXTRA SESSION NOT WANTED.

The Administration is Exceedingly Anxious That Congress Will Expedite Business and Obviate Same.

Not Wanted. Washington, Jan. 9.—The administration is fighting hard to prevent necessity for an extra session of the fifty-sixth congress.

1. It must ratify the treaty of peace between Spain and the United States, discussion of which will not begin before next Wednesday.

2. Ten big appropriation bills, six of which have not yet passed the house, must be enacted.

3. The bill granting a territorial form of government to Hawaii must be passed because delay until next December would create inextricable confusion.

4. The bill authorizing the payment of $20,000,000 indemnity to Spain for loss of the Philippines must be passed because the peace treaty provides that payment shall be made within three months of ratification.

5. The bill appropriating $1,000,000 for the twelfth census will have to be passed, because it will take at least nine months to prepare for the inauguration of the work on January 1, 1900.

6. Failure to enact a law authorizing the beginning of work on the Nicaragua canal will cause complications which its advocates say may delay matters indefinitely.

SOUTHERN NEWS. The whisky trade is booming in Kentucky. A fire at Amory, Miss., destroyed three business houses.

Nearly 22,000 Confederate dead are buried in northern cemeteries. An unnamed disease resembling chicken-pox has been epidemic at Lone-oke, Ark.

In a rainfall at Vicksburg, Miss., 7.26 inches of rain fell, the greatest ever known there, in thirty-six years. It caused much damage and delayed trains.

The falling in of the roof from fire awakened J. J. Gray and family at Hinesleytown, Ky., and they escaped by a narrow margin.

Joe Newhall, while repairing a smoke-stack at Paris, Ky., fell forty feet to a tin roof. His only injury was a slight scratch.

A desperado named Joe Knight shot and fatally wounded a waiter in a Memphis restaurant for bringing him tough steak. The waiter died.

The new Continental Tobacco company, the trust recently formed, has been admitted to membership in the Louisville, Ky., Leaf Tobacco Exchange.

Sid Wilkins shot and instantly killed J. R. Stevens, five miles south of Wynne, Ark., using a shotgun. Wilkins shot four loads into Stevens' body, tearing him nearly in two and blowing out his heart and vitals.

J. M. Lillard, 92 years old, of Harrodsburg, Ky., has been a Mason for seventy years and claims to be the oldest member of that order in the United States.

INDIAN BOOKKEEPING

PICTORIAL STATEMENTS ACCEPTED IN IMPLICIT FAITH.

And the Merchants Never Lie—Foolishly Because He Has Not Yet Succeeded to the "Evangelizing" of the Missionary—A Unique Ledger.

(Special Letter.) Keeping a ledger together beyond an ordinary Indian's power. An Indian buys one dollar's worth, or two dollars' worth or five dollars' worth; he does not bother with the odd cents. If he wants 25 cents' worth of chewing tobacco rather than 30 cents' worth, he changes, which simplifies matters both for customer and storekeeper. But there are a few Indian storekeepers.

On the Crow reservation, near Pryor, Mont., there is one. Some 70 miles from the agency a store is kept by Plenty-Coups, principal chief of the Crows. Now, Plenty-Coups can print and cipher about as well as a 7-year-old boy. The three Rs are unfamiliar ground to him, as to the majority of his customers. Some of them pay cash; they take their purchases, Plenty-Coups drops the money into his box, and both parties are satisfied, without any written record of the transaction. For the accommodation of people who do not pay cash he keeps account in the most primitive way. On a sheet of common brown wrapping paper he draws a picture of the customer, or rather of the customer's name. There is no misreading the rude sketch which stands for Walking-Bear or Crazy-Crane, while the amount of the gentleman's debt is plainly marked over his effigy and hitched to it by a wriggly pencil line. Suppose Mr. Elk or Mrs. Plenty-Shells—for, as in most civilized communities, women do a large part of the shopping—having spent $5 at the store spends three more, or pays two on account, Plenty-Coups rubs the original figure out and writes a new one. At the end of the year all accounts are squared and all ledgers—brown papers—burned. There is nothing in the world to prevent the storekeeper from tampering with his balance sheet. He can erase figures at will and alter them to his own advantage. The whole Crow nation, however much they might suspect him, could prove nothing. The simple fact is that he does not betray his trust. And they know he does not.

His store is not a government agency, but a private enterprise. Plenty-Coups bought his own stock and fixtures, such as they are. He has his squaw and one other Indian deal out the supplies and pocket the profits or losses with true Indian stolidity. His squaw, by the way, is his second wife and might be called the third. He had two when he came to the reservation, was honestly attached to both, and, when obliged to give up one, went through a long period of painful indecision. After a month of hesitation he finally conformed with the white man's custom—kept the one who was consumptive and reluctantly let the other go. For five years he supported the discarded wife and she took no other husband. By and by Mrs. Plenty-Coups fell ill. Then did the cast-off squaw return to tend her sick rival and faithfully wait upon her former lord. The sick woman died. One would now expect the long separated pair to come together again. Strange to say, Plenty-Coups took up to himself a new wife and the old one still lives by herself. Here is a whole end-of-the-century Indian romance.

How Did it Happen? Sister—How you could ever have got engaged to that Smith girl, I can't imagine. She's a couple of years older than you. I know she was 25 her last birthday. Brother (Indignantly)—She isn't 25. Doing Well. "Mudge is doing well. He came in and asked me for change for a ten bill half an hour ago." "Him. A little longer ago than that he came into my place and got a ten bill changed into a twenty."

No Friction. "The relations between the passenger departments of the Pennsylvania and the Baltimore and Ohio railroads," said B. B. Martin, manager passenger traffic of the B. and O., "are not strained nor is there a rate war in progress, as has been stated in several recent newspaper paragraphs. While, of course, we do not like the new feature introduced by the Pennsylvania railroad, considering the aggressive action of our own line and all other circumstances in connection with the passenger situation at this time, we are not in a position to find much fault."

A MILLIONAIRE LIFE PRISONER.

Queer Story of Thomas E. Tinsley—He Preferred to Go to Jail.

Think of the great commonwealth of Texas, says the New York Herald, being held up by six feet of clay, named Thomas E. Tinsley! He defies the power of the largest state in the Union to make him show his books to the courts. It is all about a cemetery, and the amount involved is so small as to make it seem ridiculous for a millionaire to spend his life in jail on account of it. For the part of this story that Tinsley could be released in an hour if he would show his books. But he won't.

Tinsley is a millionaire. He was formerly a New York business man. It is claimed that he is a miser of ability with the brain of a Philadelphia lawyer. Years ago he heard that one could get "twice his wish" in Texas. He looked at the map and found that a journey from Florida to Lake Erie would barely reach across Texas the longest way. And it was true. The state is larger than England, Ireland, Scotland and Wales, with the Isle of Man thrown in. All this magnitude, the vast stretches of prairie and upland, the undeveloped resources, the lovely climate and howling cry for capital were a dynamo magnet to Tinsley. He could not resist the attraction. So one day, with an eye to hundred per cent investments, Tinsley set sail of habeas corpus. The case was referred to the Court of Appeals and the imprisonment sustained. But this did not dismay the miserly millionaire. While he care for Southwestern law what did he care for money in reach to sink a Rio-Grande ferryboat? He carried the case to the Supreme Court of the state, though again his lacks did not fly, and the appeal was dismissed for want of jurisdiction.

Still, he again tightened his cinch, took it up another row of holes and applied to the Federal District Court for release on the ground that he was not a citizen of Texas, but a resident of New York.

Beaten again was the verdict. However, the millionaire kept the lawyers busy. He appealed to the United States Supreme Court, the highest tribunal under McKinley, yet still again the case went against him.

This was in the autumn of 1897. For once he threw his duets around freely, giving the jailer and his experts, sending messenger boys for lawyers and keeping the old jail warm twenty-four hours a day with his law business. And this was not all. He managed to secure a writing table and enough paraphernalia to run his affairs as completely as if he were at home beside his big office safe.

His next coup was a claim that he was a subject of Great Britain. He said he had not been naturalized, and as a British subject he called on the British consul, it is alleged, for justice, and his property, he averred, had been confiscated and he illegally restrained of his liberty. He fled again. Later another claim was set up that he should be released, as his contempt for the flourishing city of Houston. On his arrival he heard that the municipal bonds had defaulted and could be bought at low figures. As a fever he bought $100,000 worth at a nominal price, and later forced a settlement, it is alleged, at par. Every time he shook the tree of his plans, the golden chickens fell in showers into his vaults. He soon became owner of large blocks of railroad stock and other securities which he considered gilt-edged.

But nothing so completely captivated his fancy as an offer of stock in the prosperous Glenwood cemetery. As they say in England, it was a "going concern." There was hardly an hour when the cemetery bell was not tolling. The best dressed doctors and the highest priced drug stores did not seem to turn the death tide to an ebb. Every day funerals chattering for admission into his vaults. He soon became owner of large blocks of railroad stock and other securities which he considered gilt-edged.

Again the millionaire felt justified in preparing for old age and leaving his family well provided for. He bought a controlling interest in the Houston cemetery. It is the largest in the state. For years it had been run on an old-fashioned cheap basis. The annual payment of $5 by each lot-holder enabled the superintendent to keep the grounds in apple pie order. He walks beautifully graveled, the weeds exterminated, lovely flowers of every description and color calculated to make the place an inviting retreat for the living as well as the dead, blooming in clusters and tiers, with profuse shades of trest, cypress, magnolias and weeping willows, to make it the bon misericord. Public indignation finally culminated in mass meetings. Resolutions were passed and petitions sent to Tinsley, protesting against this mercenary insults to the cemetery and the friends of the dead. But the Texas people received no response to their protests.

Exasperated to desperation, the lot owners, with some of the minority stockholders, then applied to Judge Sam H. Brashear, of the Circuit bench, for a receivership. The judge appointed Captain William Christian receiver and ordered Tinsley to turn over to him all the books and documents of the property. Tinsley's answer was immediate departure for New York, where, it is alleged, he remained until the following year.

A warrant was issued for his arrest, but he was not captured. In November, 1896, Judge Tod, successor to Judge Brashear, learning that Tinsley had finally returned, cited him to appear in court and show cause why he should not turn over the books of the corporation, or be held in contempt of court.

Again the millionaire was stubborn, and he was fined $50 and sent to jail until he should purge himself of contempt. The grim prison, the strod countenance of the keeper, the babel of the prisoners, who made the night hideous with their blasphemy, had no effect on the delicately reared New York millionaire. He took to jail life as young ducks are said to take to Coney Island surf. He was a second edition of that other millionaire, White, who recently languished in the Brooklyn (N. Y.) dungeon and defied magistrates and courts when ordered to produce his books in the case where he had been appointed administrator, but did not "admitistrate" or render an accounting.

The Texas miser was equally contemptuous, stubborn and mulish. As soon as he had eaten his first meal of Mexican stapacks he sued out a writ

They Want to Tell

These Grateful Women Who Have Been Helped by Mrs. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Women who have suffered and been relieved of their ills by Mrs. Pinkham's advice and medicine are constantly urging publication of their statements for the benefit of other women. Here are two such letters:

Mrs. LIZZIE BEVERLY, 238 Merrimac St., Lowell, Mass., writes:

"It affords me great pleasure to tell all suffering women of the benefit I have received from taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I can hardly find words to express my gratitude for what she has done for me. My trouble was ulceration of the womb. I was under the doctor's care. Upon examination he found fifteen very large ulcers, but he failed to do me good. I took several bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, also used the Sennative Wash, and am cured. Mrs. Pinkham's medicine saved my life, and I would recommend it to all suffering women."

Mrs. AMOS THOMBLEY, Ellenburgh Ctr., N. Y., writes:

"I took cold at the time my baby was born, causing me to have milk legs, and was sick in bed for eight weeks. Doctors did me no good. I was so troubled with falling of the womb. I could not eat, had faint spells as often as ten times a day. One day a lady came to see me and told me of the Lydia E. Pinkham's medicine, and advised me to try it. I did so, and had taken only half a bottle before I was able to sit in a chair. After taking three bottles I could do my own work. I am now in perfect health."

Wished to be Noticed.

A lady calling in a North side home, recently naturally devoted much of her time, at first, to the little boy of the house, who appeared in the drawing room. Just as naturally he was neglected when the stream of general conversation began to flow. He stood it for a while with more or less "tense patience." Then he plucked the lady by the sleeve and said: "Let's talk some mere about me."

Lucky Man.

"What will she say when you get home?" "Not a word." "Eh?" "That's right. She's wearing one of these rigid beauty masks. But you can bet your life I don't light up anything." "Why not?" "I wouldn't want to see the expression of her eyes."

Costly Carpet.

In the treasure room of the Maharajah of Baroda is said to repose a carpet which cost close upon $1,000,000. It is only ten feet by six feet in size, but is woven from strings of pure pearls, with center and corner circles of diamonds. It required three years to manufacture this jewel of a carpet, which was intended as a gift to a beautiful Mohammedan belle.

Certain Lines.

In the chief cities of Japan, several of the streets are devoted to the sale of certain lines of merchandise. In one street nothing is on sale but wooden shoes; another is devoted exclusively to wooden and willow ware; another to paper lanterns, and so on.

A Double Crop of Apples.

On a Long Island farm is an apple tree which bore two crops of fruit the past year, and the farmers are taking unusual interest in this peculiarity of nature. So much interest is being shown in the tree's stomach bitters, which cures dyspepsia, indigestion, constipation and blood disorders when other remedies fail to benefit.

Woman Controlled.

In London there is a woman, Miss Penman, who has control over more than 500 conductors in the employ of the London Tramway company. Miss Penman is the only woman in England who occupies the very unique position of superintendent of street railway conductors—500 all told—and the inspectors, receives their reports from day to day, and superintends the numerous details appertaining to the distribution of tickets, the checking of the men's daily returns, and the dismissal of men when occasion arises.

After Dinner Callers.

Mabel—Mrs. Hobbit is a regular after-dinner caller. Nettie—Indeed! She invariably comes just before dinner. Mabel—That's what I say. Dinner is what she is after.

Eczema! The Only Cure.

Eczema is more than a skin disease, and no skin remedies can cure it. The doctors are unable to effect a cure, and their mineral mixtures are damaging to the most powerful constitution. The whole trouble is in the blood, and Swift's Specific is the only remedy which can reach such deep-seated blood diseases.

Deafness Cannot be Cured. By local application as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed, it swells and shuts out the sound, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and the tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. It is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous membrane.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness caused by catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

Guadalupe Valley Live Stock and Agricultural Association.

ANNUAL MEETING OF STOCKHOLDERS. The stockholders of the G. V. L. S. & A. Ass'n met in Centre Point last Friday. A good number of them were present. Indeed the crowd was composed of the most substantial citizens in the three counties. After approving the secretary's accounts, a discussion arose which was of great interest to the welfare of the Association in the future. The question was, whether to hold a fair every year or every other year, which resulted in a unanimous vote for holding one every year. The following directors were elected: Capt. W. E. Jones and C. H. Thallman for Bandera county, Dan Holkamp for Kendall county, J. M. Hamilton and Julius Deal for Kerrville, Jas. Sellers and Chas. Reaf for Centre Point. The newly elected board of directors will meet February 3, 1899, to elect their officers for the ensuing year. The following statement read by the secretary shows that the Association is in a thrifty condition: STATEMENT G. V. L. & A. ASS'N, 1898. Money on hand... 53 40 Profit and loss... 844 13 Bills payable... 675 00 Real Estate... 4718 09 Bills receivable... 165 74 Capital stock... 3435 00 Suspense account... 15 60 Outstanding accts. 32 50 $4969 73-4969 73

RAISING A RACKET

Only Racket Store in Kerrville. New goods coming in daily. My motto is "BUY LOW and SELL HIGH." Main street, between Hy. Coles and Book Store.

Business men in the various parts of the state are complaining of the high freight rates put into operation by the various railroads since Judge McCormick of the Federal court has enjoined the state of Texas from enforcing the rate fixed by the railroad commission.

Where is our state sovereignty, and what a shadow it is, when any little Federal Judge can by his little ipse dixit, (in name a writ of injunction) tie the hands of a great State and loose the railroads from all restraint so that they can prey upon the people without limit. Since Judge McCormick fulminated his injunction the freight rates at this point have been advanced in many instances from 20 to 50 per cent, as we have been reliably informed. Who pays it? We can now get salt from Liverpool as cheap as we can from Saline, Texas. How is this for freight rates?

Bro. Dunlop, of the Texas Coaster, published at Richmond, reports the sudden death of a prominent citizen in that county. Of course, nearly all who die there go off suddenly if they remain in that region, its a way they have in that part of the country of sending a fellow to his long home—bang—bang! is heard on the street, and the Coaster runs out a funeral notice.

Just now the gripe is prevalent over the north and east, and not to be outdone in all good things a going, every man, woman and child in the south who catches a slight cold quickly proclaims they have a sure-enough case of the gripe. The regular gripe of the north is different from the so-called gripe of the south, as far as localities are apart, is proved by the mortality reports. Hundreds die from the disease in the north while nearly all quickly recover in the south.

Teachers' Institute.

The Kerr County Teachers' Institute met at the Tivy High School January 3, 1899. Mr. J. G. Toland presiding. The institute was organized and the following officers were elected to serve at the next meeting: Chairman, Mr. J. G. Toland; secretary, Miss Kate Griggs; committee on program, Miss Nettie Kellam, Miss Susan Moore and Mr. A. Woods. On Saturday, the 7th, the following subjects were discussed: "Reading," discussed by Miss Griggs; Mrs. Knox, Miss Kellam, Miss Hedges and others. "Should pupils be sent to principal for punishment," discussed by Mr. J. R. Ross, Miss Susan Moore, Mr. J. G. Toland, Miss Etta-Boss, Mrs. Ridgeway, Mrs. Johnston and others. "My chief difficulty in school work," discussed by Mrs. Griggs. "The best method of teaching," discussed by Mrs. Knox. "The best method of using practically what is learned," discussed by Mrs. Moore. "Keeping one grade from listening while teaching another," Mrs. Johnston. The various difficulties were discussed at length, and while a panacea was not given in every case, the burdens were probably lightened, by learning that they were in a measure shared by all.

The next institute will be held on the 17th and 18th of March. Prof. Sutton of the State University has promised to be present, and deliver a lecture on Education at that time. In view of this fact, the teachers of the adjoining counties are cordially invited to attend. While in session the institute was informed of the death of Mrs. Outman, wife of Mr. S. H. Outman, of Jasper, and the following resolutions were adopted by the teachers present: Whereas, It has pleased our Heavenly Father, in his infinite wisdom, to remove by death the wife of Mr. S. H. Outman. Resolved, That we the members of the Teachers' Institute of Kerr county extend to the bereaved husband our most sincere sympathy in his affliction, and desire that he may be consoled by the thought that her sad demise will be another of those beautiful becomings hands to draw us toward that bright Land Above. Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to our bereaved friend, and co-workers, and also that each of our county papers be requested to publish the same. Mrs. ALPHEA C. JOHNSTON, Secretary Kerr Co. Teachers' Institute.

A Russian has constructed an apparatus which is to enable people buried alive to communicate with the outer world should they awake from their trance in the grave. The invention consists in the main of a button on the inside of the coffin, situated immediately over the breast of the apparent dead person. If the unfortunate person comes to life, and begins to breathe the first action of the body is the expansion of the chest; this presses the button upward, and an alarm bell is set going in the office of the superintendent of the cemetery.—Boston Traveler.
