PRESBYTERIAN ENCAMPMENT NOTES

THIRTEENTH ANNUAL PROGRAM WILL COMMENCE SUNDAY, JULY 21ST.

Sunday, July 21st, will mark the opening of the thirteenth annual program of the Westminister Presbyterian Encampment. Since the Encampment opened its first meeting thirteen years ago with a few tents under the shade of the trees on the forty-acre plot of ground on the banks of the Guadalupe, one mile southeast of Kerrville, each year has noted improvements, but possibly this year of 1918 has witnessed the greater number of comforts added. Since the opening of the dining hall on June 10th by Manager Owen, campers have arrived each day and nearly two hundred have already registered.

Seven new cottages have been erected, additional lights, walks, shower baths, and other improvements have been added. The most outstanding improvement of the thirteen years is the commodious new auditorium that has just been completed. This will be a joy and pleasure to every camper as well as the people of Kerrville, for the building will seat six hundred and a thousand or more people can easily hear any speaker on the platform for parking room for autos has been arranged.

It was expected to dedicate the auditorium Sunday morning and Dr. R. L. Vinson, president of the University and of the Board of Trustees of the Encampment, was to preach the dedicatory sermon. However, Dr. Vinson has been called to Washington on important war work and will not reach camp until Tuesday. The dedication will be postponed until Sunday, July 28th, for Dr. Vinson is one of the pioneers of the Encampment and has put much of his life, interest and money into its advancement, having missed only one session of the thirteen.

Dr. Homer McMillan of Atlanta, Ga., will preach both Sunday morning and evening, and will deliver inspirational addresses Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights.

Mr. Roy W. Breg of Dallas, secretary of the State Christian Endeavor Union, will conduct a conference on Young People's Work at 10 to 11:30 Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

All the young people of Kerrville and vicinity are welcome at these conferences. Delegates will be present from all over Texas and the conferences will be very inspirational. Beginning Thursday, July 25th, Rev. Henry H. Sweets of Richmond will deliver a number of lectures on Christian Education.

The Encampment Sunday School will be organized Sunday morning at 9:30 o'clock with Mr. Garland H. Lang as superintendent, and this will be conducted as a model Sunday School.

The young people of the Camp will render an interesting program at 7:30 o'clock Sunday evening and this Camp Westminister League will head the social activities of the Encampment.

Manager C. P. Owen and President of the Board Dr. W. P. Dickey have worked untiringly to make the Camp attractive, recreational and inspirational, and the people of Kerrville are invited and urged to attend all the services and make themselves a part of the Camp.

Reply to Mr. Stevenson.

Editor Kerrville Mountain Sun, Kerrville, Texas.—Dear Sir: Our good friend, Mr. Coke Stevenson, seems to have gotten slightly hot in the collar over the race for Representative, and, if you have no objection, I would like to make a few remarks on his highly entertaining letter which appeared in your columns last week.

He first states it is not his purpose to influence any of the voters of Kerr County in behalf of Mr. Blackburn, but I think the average reader would gather from his versatile epistle that he would at least prefer us to vote for Mr. Blackburn and Jim Ferguson; in my opinion, he has a perfect right to use his influence for these men, if he considers them the best men for the positions to which they aspire; just, my dear editor, as you and I and every other citizen has a right may I think a duty, to use our influence to obtain the best men possible to serve us in governing the State.

Next, I think he is a little cruel in his judgment on my very good friend, Mr. T. A. Buckner, who in his paper stated the fact that the Hon. M. E. Blackburn was a supporter of Mr. Ferguson in his administration, and I judge from Mr. Stevenson's letter still is. Now as I understand Mr. Buckner's attitude, he has not assailed Mr. Blackburn's right to support Jim Ferguson and his policies, but he wishes his readers to know how Mr. Blackburn stands on these questions: Ferguson's right to a seat in the legislative halls, if by some unbelievable mischance he should be elected; also his position on the prohibition question.

As a Democrat, opposed to autocracy, my idea is, that just because a man is at present holding an office in the State is no reason for his being re-elected, if he does not represent the views and wishes of a majority of his constituents.

Personally, I consider Ferguson the most lurid example of autocracy that has ever appeared in Texas; I myself, heard him make the statement that the Governor or Texas did not have to account for his actions to anyone, and as a man sitting near me remarked: "A King of England lost his head for a remark like that," and later on, to the honor of our State, he it said King Jim Ferguson was dismissed from His office.

Now I think so highly of the citizenship of this district that I, for one, do not believe Mr. Blackburn represents the views and policy of the majority, and I feel assured that Mr. Henry C. Geddie whose many friends have decided to vote for him as Representative of this district and who I know would not feel at all abashed by having the votes of the good women of our district, will be elected by a good majority. He has declared himself as an out and out Hobby man and also is a prohibitionist of long and proved ability.

Lastly I am surprised and disappointed to know that anyone in this district would make such an unjust and ignorant criticism of the Ladies' Hobby Club, comparing them in any form to the poor ignorant, unfortunate peasantry is really insulting and then to crown it all, he makes the Kaiser-like threat, that if they do not do as he wishes he may have the ballot taken from them. My dear Brother Stevenson, how could you forget yourself to talk so of our noble woman-kind?

Trusting that every voter in the district will let his or her highest ideals govern them in their decision as to whom to vote for, I am

Yours sincerely,

E. GALBRAITH

Public Speaking at Harper.

Hon. Coke R. Stevenson of Junction will address the citizens of Harper, Saturday night, July 20th, at 9 o'clock, in behalf of Senator Claude B. Hudspeth's candidacy for Congress.

Arrangements are being made at Harper for a rousing meeting, and especially the women are expected to turn out for the occasion.

Soldier and Sailor Insurance.

Secretary McArdoo has received the following cablegram from General Pershing:

"All ranks of the American Expeditionary Forces appreciate deeply the generous measure the Government has taken to provide insurance for their families, in proof of which more than 90 per cent of men have taken out insurance. To wisely provision for their loved ones heartens our men and strengthens the bonds that unite the Army and people in our strong determination to triumph in our most righteous cause."

The Bureau of War-Risk Insurance up to June 28 has written $21,566,000,000 insurance, representing 2,570,455 applications. The average amount of insurance applied for is $8,387, and in some battalions and regiments, some in France and some here, every man has taken out insurance. In some units every man is insured for the maximum $10,000.

One of the American generals says that this Government insurance is an element of victory. All Liberty Bond holders and all purchasers of war Savings Stamps may feel that they had a part in this insurance—the most just and humane provision ever made by any nation for its fighting men.

KERR COUNTY BOYS LEAVE FOR SERVICE

FIFTEEN MORE YOUNG MEN ARE GIVEN A HEARTY FAREWELL MONDAY MORNING.

Notwithstanding that Kerr County has furnished more than her quota of men for service in the different branches of the army, there were fifteen more left here last Monday to report for duty.

The young men were given a hearty farewell by that branch of the Red Cross composed of the young ladies, and were accompanied by a very appetizing lunch.

The names of the young men who left Monday were:

Randolph Davis, Harvey V. Moore, Louis Bundick, Joseph T. Stone, Levy Lock, Frank Massey, Henrich A. G. Ehlers Jr., Gregoria S. Arriolas, Harvey J. Merritt, Charlie Knox, Walter Wm. Feller, Arthur Moses Terry, Jos. B. Johannesson, Hubert Beaver and Charlie Eckstein.

Local Red Cross Canteen Organized.

The Canteen Service of the Kerr County Chapter, American Red Cross, was organized this week with W. A. Favett as chairman. The other members of the committee are: Ally Geitel, P. W. Berry, Mrs. Lee Wallace and Mrs. W. A. Favett.

The organization of this branch of the service adds another note of efficiency to the local Chapter and all credit is due H. Remschel, chairman of the Chapter, whose heart and soul are in the Red Cross work and whose zeal knows no bounds.

Coffee and lunch were served to the boys who left for the training camp last Monday. A roomy booth has been erected near the station at the end of Remschel lumber shed. Thanks are due Messrs. Joan Barney, Ally Geitel, John Ayalla, John Heimann Jr., Bud Harvey and Bill for quick and efficient work in erecting the booth.

Hereafter the Canteen Committee and their assistants will be on hand to serve the boys as they are called into training. It will be the pleasure and the privilege of the committee to serve, not only the boys, but the mothers, wives, sisters and sweethearts, who come here with tears in their eyes and courage in their hearts, to bid the boys farewell and to wish them God-speed.

It is a beautiful thought to remember that the American Red Cross, the greatest "mother" in the world, the most tender, the most gentle, the most yearning "mother," will always be on hand to minister to the wants and the needs of the thousands of boys who have answered their country's call. Whether these jewels of our country be in remote little hamlets like our own, whether they be in towns or cities, on land or on sea, in our blessed home-land or in a foreign clime, "our boys," as they go forth will meet the same gentle, smiling, sympathetic faces, the same tender, ministering hands and will see everywhere the marvelous symbol of mercy and service—the sacred Red Cross.

How to Recognize Boy Scouts.

The Boy Scouts of America have their own insignia of rank the same as the Army does. If you ever notice a badge on the front of it. On the right side of the collar will be noticed a B. S. A. monogram. This enables one to tell whether the boy in uniform is a soldier or a Scout. On the left side of the collar is a number which is the number of the troop to which the Scout belongs. Numerals are also worn on the left sleeve close to the shoulder.

Privates wear gilt badges. A badge in the shape of a fleur de lis means that the wearer is a Tenderfoot. A scroll with a knotted line on the bottom indicates a second class Scout. The scroll and trefoil; i. e., the tenderfoot and the second class badges combined, indicates a first class Scout. A silver badge indicates that the wearer is a patrol leader of tenderfoot, second or first class, according to the badge he wears.

A single green bar on the left sleeve between the elbow and shoulder indicates that the wearer is an assistant patrol-leader. Five green bars in the same place is the insignia of a patrol-leader. Three green bars means that the wearer is a senior patrol-leader.

A red first class badge embroidered on the left sleeve is the insignia of an assistant scout-master, while a green embroidered first class badge is the scout-master's insignia.

All members of Troop No. 1 of Kerrville wear one of these insignias and if you will notice the next Scout you pass you can tell his rank at a glance. When not in uniform Scout can be identified by the badge on his hat.

Boy Scouts on Summer Hike.

On last Saturday Scout-master George Doyle and a large number of Boy Scouts from troops 1 and 2 left for their annual summer hike.

They are camping several miles above Sherman's Mill and it is reported that the boys are having the time of their lives.

Scout-master Doyle should be thanked for the great step that the boys have taken since being under his leadership. One of the main reasons that there are so many boys on the hike this summer is because the parents know what fine care he takes of the boys while they are away from home.

Woman Speaker for Hudspeth.

Mrs. Alma J. Bartlett of El Paso, a life-long suffragist and prohibitionist, addressed the citizens of Kerrville Tuesday night at the Court House in the interest of Senator Claude B. Hudspeth's candidacy for Congress in this district.

In a pleasing manner and with a few well directed shots at the opposition, Mrs. Bartlett reviewed Senator Hudspeth's record of sixteen years of service to the people of Southwest Texas.

In speaking of the personality of the two candidates the speaker cautioned the women voters not to be carried away by Mr. Cobb's oratory and appeal to their emotions. She laid special stress upon the fact that he had never been for either suffrage or prohibition until he entered the race for Congress after endorsing Mr. Hudspeth for that office.

In reviewing Mr. Cobb's plank of Americanism, Mrs. Bartlett stated that there were no records at any of the El Paso banks to show that he had lived up to that plank by the purchase of a single Liberty Bond.

"When I first heard of Mr. Cobb's plank of Americanism, I thought it rather high-sounding, for we all answer that description," exclaimed the speaker. "There is no middle ground in patriotism. If you are only ninety-eight per cent an American, you must be two per cent pro-German. Every loyal citizen is in support of the war and Mr. Cobb's Americanism is no issue."

Mrs. Bartlett's speech lasted not more than fifty minutes, but during that time she made an excellent impression upon her audience.

Cobb Camouflage.

For more than a month now, Cobb, the 100 per cent candidate for Congress, has been challenged to make a statement of the amount of Liberty Bonds he had purchased, and when and where. He has evaded this important query, but last Monday night, in the City of El Paso, he admitted that in June, 1917, he subscribed for $200 worth of the first issue and in November, 1917, he asked his bank to buy for him $500 worth of bonds. The bank has these bonds on hand, but Mr. Cobb has not been patriotic enough to pay for them.

This is the extent of Mr. Cobb's investment in Liberty Bonds, the extent of his helping finance the Government for the great work of winning the war—of licking the Kaiser!

Voter, just figure it up and place your own estimate on this self-made and self-professor 100 per center who is preaching patriotism and standing behind the President. How long would we be able to conduct the war were all 100 per centers like Mr. Cobb?

Mr. Cobb, as Collector of Customs at El Paso received an annual salary of $5,000.00 per annum. During his term of office he received about $22,500.00 from the Government and has only his wife and self to support out of this munificent salary; and when the Government, in the stress of a world war, called upon him for a small loan, he was unable to accommodate the Nation, which had been so generous with him, to the extent of a single dollar.

Mr. Cobb may be a poor man, but if he is, he ought to have sufficient credit at home to borrow from some bank or friend the necessary money so that he could buy some Liberty Bonds with which the Government could buy food and clothing for our soldiers and sailors; build ships and furnish ammunition and guns to hold back the ruthless hordes of the Kaiser. A man who has no financial and personal standing at home, as the record shows concerning Mr. Cobb, is not a fit man to fill any political office, and especially that of Congressman.

This is Mr. Cobb's record and by it he is bound and on it you must judge whether he is the best man to send to Congress from this district.

To the Election Judges.

We desire to call your attention to an amendment to the primary election law concerning the right of the election judges to assist voters in preparing their ballots. You can assist the voter under the following circumstances:

First. When the voter is unable to prepare the same himself because of bodily infirmity, such as renders him physically unable to write.

Second. When the voter is over 60 years of age.

Third. When the voter has been a citizen of the United States for 21 years and is unable to read and write.

In either of these cases two judges of the election shall assist him, they having first been sworn that they will not suggest by word or sign or gesture how such voter shall vote; that they will confine their assistance to answering his questions, to naming candidates and the political parties to which they belong, and that they will prepare his ballot as such voter himself shall direct.

We also call your attention to the fact that in Kerr County the women are not required to register in order to vote. If any woman should desire to vote and is otherwise qualified under the law, you should permit her to vote.

Please be guided by the above instructions.

Yours truly,
WM. NIMITZ, Chairman.

Mass Meeting of Hobby Club.

On last Saturday a meeting of the Kerrville Hobby Club was held at the Court House. The purpose of the meeting was to consider the candidates for election in the coming primaries. Several interesting talks were made for several candidates which the club is supporting.

A very important meeting is to be held next Saturday and it is desired that the entire membership of the club be present.

JUDGE R. A. DUNBAR

Condemned to Death Without a Trial. Shame, shame, shame! At least allow the evidence of my physician who says that in his professional opinion I would thrive on the usual duties of the County Judge's office.

Don't call in the coroner and the undertaker until you have more evidence of my demise. I don't want to be buried alive and I insist that I am too busy 8 to 10 hours daily with duties more onerous than those of the County Judge's office to act as principal at an unauthorized funeral.

Very truly,

R. A. DUNBAR.

Germany After Texas.

Rochester Herald: Germany once tried to acquire Texas, but the average Texan doesn't know it, as the attempt was a failure. The German agents met with the Texas land agents and were "cleaned," as a latter day expression would have it. Dr. Eby of the University of Texas has dug up the interesting facts from the university library as to how Texas was to have been made a province of Germany, with the German language and Kultur preserved on western soil.

In the year 1842 Germany became alarmed because of the large number of its people who were emigrating, and in that year a company consisting of twenty-one of the nobles and the Crown Prince of Prussia formed a company for the purpose of founding a "new fatherland." After searching the earth over, they selected Texas, then a young republic that had lately broken away from Mexico. It is estimated that more than ten thousand Germans were sent to Texas by this company. The company was to exercise a paternalistic supervision, to furnish tools for the farmers, to build schools, churches and hospitals and to supply physicians. Everything of a public nature was to be carried on in the German language. What their ultimate designs may have been, may be gathered from the following paragraph in their prospectus: "The nobles in forming this society wish to do their part in contributing to the glory and welfare of Germany." Thus it appears that the conquest of the world by Kultur did not originate in the brain of Wilhelm II.

The agents of the concern ran afoul of Texas land sharks. The company went on the financial rocks. The entrance of Texas into the United States in 1845 spoiled the company's dream of reorganizing. It is an odd fact that there is now no racial trace of the colonists in Texas, so thoroughly have those who stayed been assimilated.

Texans smiled last year when they read that the German Emperor had promised Texas to the Mexicans as a reward if they would espouse the cause of Germany. But they didn't know that German had once before planned to dispose of Texas soil to German profit and glory.

+ LOCAL RED CROSS NEWS +
+ Edited by Mrs. J. W. BURNEY, +
The Red Cross work rooms will hereafter be open only in the mornings. The Secretary will be on duty from 9 to 11 o'clock each morning.

Private A. C. McLeod, the first American soldier to be wounded in France, was hurt when the Germans bombed a Red Cross Hospital. He owes his life, he believes, to the Red Cross nurse who stuck by him in the shattered ward, and saw that he had prompt surgical attention. Two of the nurses were wounded by the same bomb that hurt Mr. McLeod, but the rest of the women, it was stated, were as cool as the men. Here is his own story, in which it will be noticed the Red Cross nurse is given the principal place: "Our hospital, a British-American one, in Flanders, was bombed at night. I was working in this hospital, at which I had been assigned to the transportation department. The patients who could do so went to the bomb-proof cellar when the air raid opened, but there were a number of soldiers so badly wounded that they could not be moved. A number of nurses stayed with the soldiers, and I remained to help. Suddenly a bomb made a direct hit and exploded nearby. It pretty nearly cleaned out the hospital. My legs were smashed to a pulp and I was raving with pain. I won't describe the scene about me, for that would be too horrible. A nurse stayed by my side. She stuck to me and saw that I had prompt surgical attention, and I probably owe my life to the immediate amputation which was ordered. The bombing of this hospital cost one nurse an eye, and another a foot. The rest of the nurses were as cool as the men. I can't say too much for the work of the American Red Cross in France."

Mrs. Burns' Letter.

Here is a letter that is certain to prove of interest to people in this vicinity, as cases of this sort occur in almost every neighborhood, and people should know what to do in like circumstances:

Savannah, Mo., Oct. 12, 1916.

"I used a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy about nine years ago and it cured me of this (dysentery). I had another attack of the same complaint some three or four years ago and a few doses of this remedy cured me. I have recommended Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy to dozens of people since I first used it."

Rehabilitation of Our Soldiers.

The United States Government is not going to be content with merely re-educating and rehabilitating its soldiers who have been disabled by wounds, and fitting them for useful and gainful occupations; it is not going to leave them to shift for themselves, but will exert an active continuing interest in their welfare.

This does not mean that the Government is to coddle them or treat them as weaklings, but it is going to take an active interest in securing them work, and in other ways endeavor to make up to them the opportunities and advantages they lost by reason of wounds received in fighting their country's battles.

Every Liberty Loan Bond and every War Savings Stamp purchased aids in this work.

CHARLES H. HURDLESTON
A Practical Man
for Railroad Commissioner
Charles H. Hurdleston, member of the Texas Railroad Commission, who is a candidate for re-election at the State Primary on July 27th, occupies the unique position of being the only experienced railroad man on that body. In fact, he is the only practical railroad man who has ever held membership on the Commission.
This in itself should commend him to the Democracy of Texas at the coming election. When the Commission was created it was the intention of the framers of the Act to have at least one practical railroad man on the Board. Mr. Hurdleston has been engaged in railroad work most of his life. In 1907, due to his efficiency, he was detailed by the Federal Government to Panama to assist in the construction of a railroad across the isthmus. During the two years that he has been on the Commission he has gained considerable knowledge of the intricate duties of the office which makes him a valuable man for the position to which he is aspiring for re-election.
In appreciation of his work on the Commission he is endorsed by the shipping public, cattlemen and lignite mine owners of Texas.

FIRST FLYING MAIL

Growth of the Government's Transportation of the Mails.

The airplanes that recently carried the mail over the world's first air line mail route—a three-cornered route, with Washington, Philadelphia and New York as the corners—were not the first "flying machines" to carry mail between New York and Philadelphia. As early as 1766 the first "flying machines" had this distinction. Needless to say, writes Josephine Lee in the Pittsburg Dispatch, it did not fly with the speed of the modern air craft. Instead of covering the 228-mile distance from New York to Washington in three hours and twenty minutes, it flew from New York to Philadelphia, a distance of ninety-one miles, in two days. Yet it was advertised as the "flying machine." It was a lumbering covered wagon, drawn by four horses.

Instead of meeting with such mishaps as having to descend to repair a broken propeller, the passengers were frequently called on to get out and pry the wagon out of the mud with fence rails. There is one striking similarity between the two "fliers," however. The letter rate of postage was almost identical. The charge on a single letter carried by the "flyer of 1776" was commonly 25 cents, while the rate has been fixed at 24 cents for a letter carried on the "fliers of 1918."

The tracing of the growth of the mail service from the ancient to the modern is of very great interest.

Placed at intervals along the roads of the Roman Empire were couriers or runners, kept in readiness to bear dispatches, but the posts of ancient times were never used for the conveyance of private correspondence. The first letter post seems to have been established in Northern Europe in the early part of the thirteenth century. Lines of letter posts were then, rapidly established, connecting the most distant parts of the continent.

In England in early times both private and public letters were sent by messengers who wore the royal livery. They carried the mail on horses, providing themselves where horse were to be had for hire. A messenger would hire a horse at one post, ride it to the next post, leave it, and continue his journey on a fresh horse obtained at the last post.

These posts, however, were meant for the conveyance of government dispatches alone, and it was only by degrees that permission was extended to private individuals to make use of them.

In the fifteenth century through the influence of foreign merchants, a foreign post for the conveyance of letters between London and European countries was established, but it was not until a hundred years later that the first proper postal communication for private letters in England came into operation. The rates of postage were twopence for a single letter for a distance less than 80 miles; fourpence up to 140 miles, and sixpence for any longer distance in England. The modern parcel post rates are obviously based on the same principle.

The robberies committed on the post were responsible for the next improvement in the mail service. During the eighteenth century coaches were originated. Protected by armed guards they were substituted for the boys on horseback who till then carried the mail. The "Flying Machine of 1766" was the outgrowth of this means of conveyance.

Less than a hundred years ago, about 1840, the postal service was placed upon its modern basis. Its principal features were the adoption of a uniform and low rate of postage, a charge by weight rather than by distance, and prepayment, which was made possible by the introduction of postage stamps. The result was an enormous increase in correspondence.

About this time the next great step in the carriage of letters came. The railway mail car took the place of the mail coach when trains began to be used. These traveling post offices were able eventually to receive and drop the mail bags while going at full speed.

The establishing recently of the world's first real air line mail is the last step in the growth of the postal service, which has grown from the system of Roman runners who carried only public dispatches to the great system which exists today for the benefit of all peoples of all countries.

This first regular airplane mail service, though the first in the world, is expected to be permanent, and the airplane will, no doubt, become a universal means of conveyance of mail, as did the runner, the post horse, the mail coach and the railway car.

LET HIM LIVE

The following bit of verse originally appeared in The Silent Partner. So many requests were received for permission to reproduce this poem that Mr. Van Amburg decided to waive the copyright. Any one, anywhere, can use this poem in any way. In nearly every American city the lines have been read and recited.

As long as flowers their perfume give,
So long I'd let the Kaiser live—
Live and live for a million years,
With nothing to drink but Belgian tears,
With nothing to quench his awful thirst
But the salty brine—o Scatchman's curse.

I would let him live on a dinner each day,
Served from silver on a golden tray—
Served with things both dainty and sweet—
Served with everything but things to eat.

And I'd make him a bed of silken sheen,
With costly linens to lie between,
With covers of down and fillets of lace,
And downy pillows piled in place;
Yet when to its comfort he would yield,
It should stink with the rot of the battlefield,
And blood and bones and brains of men
Should cover him, smother him—and then
His pillows should cling with the rotten cloy—
Cloy of the grave of a soldier boy.
And while God's stars their vigils keep,
And while the waves the white sands sweep,
He should never, never, never sleep.

And through all the days, through all the years,
There should be an anthem in his ears,
Ringing and singing and never done
From the edge of the light to the set of sun,
Moaning and moaning and moaning wild—
A ravaged French girl's bastard child!

And I would build a castle by the sea,
As lovely a castle as ever could be;
Then I'd show him a ship from over the sea,
As fine a ship as ever could be,
Laden with water cold and sweet,
Laden with everything good to eat;
Yet scarce does she touch the silvered sands,
Scarce may he reach his eager hands,
Than a hot and hellish molten shell
Should change his heaven into hell,
And though he'd watch on the wave-swept shore,
Our Lusitania would rise no more!

In "No Man's Land," where the Irish fell,
I'd start the Kaiser a private hell;
I'd jab him, stab him, give him gas;
In every wound I'd pour ground glass;
I'd march him out where the brave boys died—
Out past the lands they crucified.

In the fearful gloom of his living tomb,
There is one thing I'd do before I'm through;
I'd make him sing, in a stirring manner,
The wonderful words of "The Star Spangled Banner."

CALOMEL SALIVATES AND MAKES YOU SICK

Acts Like Dynamite on a Sluggish Liver and You Lose a Day's Work.

There's no reason why a person should take sickening, salivating calomel when a few cents buys a large bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone—a perfect substitute for calomel.

It is a pleasant, vegetable liquid which will start your liver just as surely as calomel, but it doesn't make you sick and can't salivate.

Children and grown folks can take Dodson's Liver Tone, because it is perfectly harmless.

Calomel is a dangerous drug. It is mercury and attacks your bones. Take a dose of nasty calomel today and you will feel weak, sick and nauseated tomorrow. Don't lose a day's work. Take a spoonful of Dodson's Liver Tone instead and you will wake up feeling great. No more miliousness, constipation, sluggishness, headache, coated tongue or sour stomach. Your druggist says if you don't find Dodson's Liver Tone acts better than horrible calomel your money is waiting for you.

Cotton Pest Is Doomed.

Washington, D. C., July 6.—The boll weevil is doomed. The hand of science at last has a death grip on the insidious insect which has spread havoc over the vast cotton fields of the South.

Discovery of a practical method of driving out the pest was announced tonight by the Department of Agriculture. Credit for the discovery goes to B. E. Goad, a department entomologist, who has devoted the last decade to a ceaseless fight against the most dreaded of all enemies of the Southern farmer.

Mr. Goad has not finally perfected his "weapon," but has developed it to a point where the department feels fully warranted in making the official assertion that:

"Control of the bottom boll weevil seems to be in a fair way of accomplishment by the work of an entomologist of the Department of Agriculture."

The weevil is to go by the poison route. Henceforth when he stops his work of puncturing cotton squares and bolls and ambles forth to quench his thirst from a dewdrop or rain-drop on the cotton plant, he is likely to encounter a draught that will be as effective as a knockout drop. No doubt as to the effectiveness of war.

this method of execution is entertained by the department experts.

Although not hard drinkers, the weevils regularly quench their thirst by sipping the rain or dewdrops on the leaves of the cotton plants. The exact composition of the fatal dose is the only detail remaining to be worked out.

Various formulas has been tried out with entirely satisfactory results. Mr. Goad now is devoting his attention to the preparation of a mixture that will be the most practical from an economical point of view.

The Goad method calls for spraying the plants with poison in powdered form.

The cost of this treatment in the experiments averaged about $1.00 an acre for each application.

HOW THE WAR LOOKS TO A MATHEMATICIAN

The following mathematical problem has been studied and solved by C. L. Delbridge of St. Louis, Mo., the noted mathematical calculator:

If the German military autocracy can take 80 million docile, gentle people and in two generations turn them into 80 million robbers, thieves and hospital-bombing murderers and send them out to loot and rob the world merely to gratify the insane vanity of a criminal monarch, then even the hinges of hell would be opened and the gates of hell would be flung wide open to the clutches of these murderous monsters of infamy. Their acts say to every person on earth, inside and outside of Germany—you must destroy Hohenzollernism in order to keep from being destroyed by Hohenzollernism.

Wise as we have taken up the challenge and are now busy on the job, it is my sincere belief that $1,000,000 reward to every German soldier who deserts, surrenders or contrives to be captured would destroy the German army, from top to bottom in 60 days.

In April, 1918, the associated press printed a dispatch saying that Germany had sought an agreement among the nations with which she is at war, to the effect that no country should lend any encouragement to the soldiers of other nations to do anything for which they could be convicted in the courts of their own country. This proves beyond all doubt that Germany dreads that $1,000,000 reward idea and is trying to keep it from ever being brought into effect, knowing full well that 60 days of a would destroy the last vestige of military autocracy and Hohenzollernism in that accursed country.

It costs $37,000 to kill a soldier in the world's first air line mail. They only cost a quarter.

YES! LIFT A CORN OFF WITHOUT PAIN!

Cincinnati Authority Tells How to Dry Up a Corn or Callus So It Lifts Off With Fingers.

You corn-pestered men and women need suffer no longer. Wear the shoes that nearly killed you before, says this Cincinnati authority, because a few drops of freezone applied directly on a tender, aching corn or callus, stops soreness at once and loosens so it can be lifted out, root and all, without pain.

A small bottle of freezone costs very little at any drug store, but will positively take off every hard or soft corn or callus. This should be tried, as it is inexpensive and is said not to irritate the surrounding skin.

If your druggist hasn't any freezone, tell him to get a small bottle for you from his wholesale drug house. It is fine stuff and acts like a charm every time.

BETTER SHIP LOADING HELPS OUR ALLIES

Economies of approximately 20 per cent in shipping weight and 50 per cent in shipping space have resulted from improved methods of packing merchandise for overseas practiced by the Army Quartermaster Corps. This is equivalent to about 2,500 tons space per month.

For the shipment of clothing and equipment, including such items as blankets, barrack bags, towels, shelter tent halves, bedding and other dry goods, in addition to wearing apparel, baling has been substituted for boxing, and the weight of the lumber has been saved. The bales average 30 by 15 by 15 inches and weigh 90 pounds. They are bound with not less than four cold-rolled unannealed steel bands. Burlap over waterproofed heavy paper is used to cover the bales, and there are two "ears" on either end of the bale for handling.

Women are stevedores on the docks in France. There is a law they shall not be required to carry packages weighing more than 70 pounds. Packages shipped to the American Expeditionary Forces are standardized so they shall not weigh more than 70 pounds for handling by one woman carrier or more than 140 pounds by two women carriers. Men handle the heavier packages and the boxes that must be used instead of bales.

The Quartermaster Corps recommends to manufacturers supplying the Army many similar economies in packing and shipping which will result in even more pronounced space and weight saving. Round cans and containers entail a waste in space of 23 per cent. Square containers are urged. It is estimated that every inch saved through bale compression is worth 65 cents in ship space.

The division on women's war work of the Committee on Public Information announces that the trustees of Pratt Institute, Brooklyn, N. Y., offer to wives and daughters of Army officers these scholarships, including tuition and laboratory fees, for 1918-19 covering household science, household arts, and preparation for institutional work.

Department of Agriculture specialists, appealing for increased production of poultry and eggs, make these suggestions: Keep better poultry; select healthy vigorous breeders; hatch early; preserve eggs; cull the flocks; grow as much poultry feed as possible; supply the family table; eat more poultry and eggs and conserve the most supply.

PHOTOGRAPHS OF NAVY HEROES ARE WANTED

The Navy Department is collecting photographs of enlisted men who lose their lives in the war that their memory may be perpetuated. Secretary Daniels asks relatives or others having such photographs to lend them to the Navy that copies may be made for the Navy's records. Originals will be returned to the owners as fast as copies can be made.

A photograph of each man is to be forwarded by the Navy Department to the training station where he began his career in the service. At each of such stations a memorial gallery of honor or a hero's corner is to be established so that for all time the face of the man of the Navy who has made the supreme sacrifice may be honored by the youth of the future sent to the station for training.

All pictures, loaned or contributed, should be securely wrapped for mailing after they have been marked with the name, branch of service, and training station the young man entered after enlistment. They should be addressed to the Recruiting Division, Bureau of Navigation, Navy Department, Washington, D. C. Care will be taken to return safely the photograph to the sender, when desired, together with one of the copies made of it.

INFORMATION SERVICE BUREAU EXPANDS RAPIDLY

The Service Bureau of the Committee on Public Information has taken over various departmental independent information bureaus at the Union Station, Washington, will consolidate and reorganize them and be prepared to give all visitors accurate information on Government business and the names and location of those clothed with authority to speak and act for the Government.

Since the Service Bureau opened offices May 1 it has built up a card-index system with 50,000 entries, many of the cards being subject to daily revision and correction. In a recent week the bureau handled 1,630 visitors seeking special information and answered an average of 150 query letters daily.

Southern farm boy-club members produced in 1917 food and feed valued at $4,019,121, the Department of Agriculture reports. A total of 115,745 boys were enrolled in regular clubs in fourteen States.

WORDS OF CHEER.

When a man can take the office of State Comptroller and collect enough money, justly due the State and unjustly withheld, in the first two years of his administration to pay his salary for the next hundred years and over the people ought to keep him in office just as long as he will consent to hold one. Such a man is State Comptroller Henry B. Terrell, who is asking re-election at the hands of the people. The readers of the News-Record are too keenly alive to the State's interests to fail to appreciate the services of such a State officer, and we predict they will be voting him into an office for years to come.—Sterling City News-Record.

Hon. H. B. Terrell, who is a candidate for the office of State Comptroller, a position that he has held for the past four years, is pleased with the prospects of a large majority over the other two candidates. Mr. Terrell has conducted the office in such a manner since he has been the incumbent, that he has given the people an account of his stewardship since the first day he was inducted into office. His record is clean and his fine corps of workmen who are assisting him make you feel at home when you are in his office in any branch of his department. He seeks re-election on the grounds that he has fulfilled his promise; that he has made good; that he is better fitted to serve the people than ever before. His re-election is a cinch, with a big majority, is the way it looks to his many supporters over the State.—Temple Mirror.

The price of cotton is climbing again, nearly thirty cents. At present, not more than half a crop is visible to the naked eye in Texas, and very few other States claim a much better prospect.

Bud Hornish of San Angelo, through his Monthly, tells us: "We have observed that it is a good thing to carry your religion into your daily life, but very few men allow it to interfere with their business." No; not the way some men do business. If they did, their religion or their business, or both, would surely suffer—and those who did business with them, too.

"In the world's past," observes Editor Robinson in the Waco Times-Herald, "it has often turned out that the apparently moral side of a question was highly immoral." We suppose you refer to political questions; in which instance the morality was decided by a majority vote. Majorities are frequently unable to tell the difference between morality and expediency, and still more frequently prefer the latter. History, George, if you will study closely, shows expediency to be wonderfully expert in beating morality to it. Lay a proposition before any given number of people, and place their interest at stake, and see how many will conclude that the end justifies the means. However, there are enough truly honest people in the world to keep her reasonably straight, and morality (just another name for truth) will always come out on top, no matter how often downed.

AS OTHERS SEE IT

We have observed that it is a good thing to carry your religion into your daily life, but mighty few men allow it to interfere with business.—Hornish's Monthly.

What was the French Revolution? What was the American Revolution? What was the Texas Revolution? Inalienable rights asserting themselves.—Waco Times-Herald.

The women of Texas are registering in a way that threatens to make trouble for some of the candidates. There is much uneasiness in certain quarters, but there can be little doubt that all State officials now in office will be re-elected.—Kosse Cyclone.

There's going to be a nice dish of crow for one side or the other after the 27th. According to the Democratic pledge, if Ferguson is nominated, the Ferguson men will have to rally to his support.—Bartlett Tribune.

Well, it is reported that a test case will be made of the bone dry law. What is the use to try to get it back into Texas? If it goes in the other dry States as it went in Texas the day before the law went into effect, there won't be any of it left, and we know that the Government has stopped the manufacture of it.—Temple Mirror.

Farm labor is getting to be something to worry about.

Well, the Government says we newspapers must pay more postage, and we gotter pay it, that's all.

Politics has been known to hurt some otherwise honest men, but an honest man never yet hurt politics.

In our wildest pitch of political excitement we would do well to pause long enough to remember that no matter who is elected to fill an office (President to constable) he becomes our officer as well as the other fellow's. That is democracy.

Editor Kellis of the Sterling City News-Record has undergone a change of heart and is determined to live a different life, so far as Italians are concerned. He says he can lick the fellow who will call an Italian a dago since the Italians licked the stuffing out of the Austrians recently along the Piave. Bill says they should be called what they really are—Romans. And so they are—modern Romans, and doing as good fighting today as two thousand years ago.

Going to political extremes never yet gave to any country a good and wise government; going to religious extremes never yet saved a soul nor advanced the cause of Christ. The extremist's portion is to sooner or later pay a penalty of regret; the conservative person, even though he or she miss the object sought, have the consolation of knowing they did not violate their conscience and have nothing to regret. True, even an extremist may be conscientious; but heal, allowed to go to extremes, destroys judgment—and judgment is the most essential of all things to the success of any undertaking. In the things we do in haste, anger or bias, we may expect failure. Jesus Christ says something about the beam in our neighbor's eye and the mote in our own (or vice versa); look it up in the New Testament—an unfailing source of correct advice, and we all know that He was never known to go to an extreme. If He had, His religion today would be a failure—supposing it had lasted this long. Vote as you pray, conscientiously, and you will have nothing to regret, no matter who is elected.

The Medical Department, United States Army, needs women as reconstruction aids. The office of the Surgeon General announces: "The work of reconstruction aids is divided into two sections (1) those women who are well trained in massage and the other forms of physiotherapy, and (2) those who are trained in simple handicrafts." Foreign service pay $250, home service pay $50 per month and quarters allowances.

The taking over by the United States of the title and possession of the docks, piers, wharves and other shipping property on the Hudson River, owned by the German steamship companies, the North German Lloyd and the Hamburg corporations, is greeted with universal approval by the American people. The property is to be retained by the Government and not turned back to its former owners at the close of the war. Purchasers of Liberty Loan Bonds may feel especial gratification. These docks and piers and wharves are strategic points of great importance and value, and it is intolerable that they should remain in enemy hands, or that they should ever revert to German ownership. German commerce has been shown to have been so indissolubly bound up with, and so much a part of German militarism, that it is just and right that it should suffer all the penalties of war.

Hudspeth and Cobb "The Difference" Hudspeth works—Cobb talks. Hudspeth accomplishes results—Cobb attempts paths. Hudspeth has a record of constructive work in behalf of education—assistance to a university—and to normal schools—liberality towards common schools—assistance to special branches of education like mining, agriculture, compulsory education and more compensation for teachers. Cobb's record is barren of such results, and apparently his mind has been devoid of such ideas. Hudspeth has a record in humanitarian legislation—measures for the protection of child labor—measures for the comfort of female workers—workmen's compensation legislation—reasonable hours for railroad workers—reduction in the hours of women workers and other similar legislation. Mr. Cobb's record is a blank as to these matters. Hudspeth has a record as to obtaining institutions for his home and district—a School of Mines and a Court of Civil Appeals at El Paso—an experiment farm for Pecos—a normal school for Alpine—a tubercular sanatorium for Carlsbad. Cobb has no such record. Hudspeth in Congress means results for his constituents and his country. (Political Advertisement)

PRESIDENT APPROVES STATE FAIR OF TEXAS

"WIN THE WAR" SESSION TO BE HELD IN DALLAS OCTOBER 15 TO 27 INCLUSIVE

President Wilson has approved the idea of holding the State Fair of Texas as usual this year. He has done so because he believes strongly in its inspirational value to stimulate patriotism. He considers it a splendid medium for this, the results to be accomplished through education.

The people also demand relaxation. Just as the Government provides plenty of diversion for the men of our armed forces, so the State Fair of Texas provides diversions for the Texas farmer, stockman, banker, manufacturer, merchant, laboring man, and other civilian workers. They can get both instruction and amusement of the very highest class this year. And it will have a special "win the war" flavor.

The Federal Authorities, as well as the State Fair management, are confident the Fair will be of great value to the cause of world freedom during the present momentous struggle. It will be a splendid medium for instructing the people in essential war facts, to stimulate production of food and feeds, and to encourage conservation and thrift.

To this end President R. E. L. Knight announces the Army, Navy, Food, Commerce, Public Information, Agriculture and Labor Departments at Washington will send extensive displays that will far surpass anything of the kind formerly shown at Dallas. A number of our faithful Allies are also co-operating to make the Fair this year bigger and better than ever.

The furrows on the farms are equally as important as the firing lines at the front. Culinary skill must back up military skill. Money and machinery must support our fighting men. New ideas for raising food go hand in hand with new ideas for buying Fritz. All are essential. All will be visualized this year at the State Fair of Texas.

NEW ATTRACTIONS WILL BE IN EVIDENCE OCT. 15-27

Amusements at State Fair of Texas Will be First-Class and Varied.

The Coliseum attractions at the 1918 "Win the War" session of the State Fair of Texas will be of greater variety and even higher grade than ever before. Instruction as well as amusement will be the keynotes of this department.

The headliner offering will be the Karasokoff Ballet. It is the most pretentious terpsichorean presentation ever seen in the Southwest. It is a "whirlwind top-notcher" and no mistake. There are numerous other beautiful and entrancing acts, about which a lot of curiosity is being shown by many enquirers, but the management only smiles and looks mysterious when further questioned. But Secretary Stratton has secured and announced one of the most wonderful pyrotechnic attractions ever produced. This will be presented before the Grand Stand. The spectacle is staged by the Theatre Duffield Pyrotechnic company, and is known as "The World War." It portrays the battle fields of the western front in a most astonishingly realistic manner. Three hundred people present it on a 450 foot stage.

CATTLE PREMIUMS LARGEST YET AT THE STATE FAIR

Premiums larger than any heretofore offered for live stock will be given at the 1918 "Win the War" session of the State Fair of Texas. Secretary W. H. Stratton announces.

Prize of $25,000.00 will be offered for Beef Cattle, $10,000.00 for Heifers, $7,500.00 for Short-horns, $4,000.00 for Aberdeen Angus, besides smaller amounts for other breeds.

Then the sheep premiums will aggregate $4,500.00; while $5,500.00, including numerous specials, will be offered for Swine. Poultry will come in for $2,250.00 in prizes, while Percheron Horses will compete for amounts aggregating $1,400.00.

The hundreds of cattle raisers of the north and east, as well as of Texas, who are planning to send their choice stock to the Fair, will insure the greatest exhibition of thoroughbreds ever assembled in the South. Expressions of appreciation for the greatly increased awards are coming in from everywhere.

The restocking of the drought-stricken districts of the Plains country has been kept well in mind by the Fair management this year for they desire to be of service in that direction. President R. E. L. Knight, Col. Jno. N. Simpson, director in charge of Live Stock, and Secretary W. H. Stratton are working hard to carry out these ideas and make the 1918 cattle show the best ever.

CATHOLIC CHURCH NOTES

BY FATHER KEMPER

Services next Sunday will be held in St. Mary's Church at 7 o'clock, owing to the monthly engagement in Comfort at 9 a. m. There will be no morning functions during the week on account of the pastor's absence.

Another cross has been added to our service flag since the enlistment of Rev. Dr. Frederick McKeon, C. S. C., who assisted Father Kemper with the Mexican congregation last year. Dr. McKeon is a noted physicist of the Catholic University and comes from a millionaire family. He left Kerrville in order to recuperate at Santa Rosa Infirmary.

A farewell picnic was tendered to some of our latest recruits last Sunday at the Dietert ranch. Alex Dietert will himself leave for Camp Travis on Monday. With him will go Benny Mosel and Millard Stephens, the Notre Dame janitor, both of whom successfully passed their examinations for the navy. Benny and "Steve" motored to Fredericksburg after the Dietert picnic. Mrs. August Mosel brought Benny back the following day after witnessing the departure of her son, Edgar. She came with her daughter, Bertha, her son, Hilmar, and Miss Olga Keller. Word has been received that her other son, Walter, landed safely in France.

Erwin and Helmut Klein, cousins of Benny Mosel, went to Camp Travis a couple of weeks ago.

Mr. Stephens is enjoying the company of his brothers-in-law, Max and August Lott, and also Mr. Rouse of Llano.

On account of the many young ladies from France boarding at Notre Dame Institute this summer, it was thought doubly appropriate to celebrate the French Independence Day, the Fall of the Bastille. The young country-women of Joan of Arc decorated the Convent parlor very patriotically in our Stars and Stripes interwoven with the blue, white and red of Lafayette's fatherland. A delicious banquet of real French cuisine was served, during which some martial airs, like the "Marsellais," were played on the piano.

This banquet was followed on Monday by a basket picnic at Lakeside. Some of the Commercial students also attended this outing, and enjoyed the boating and kodaking.

Father Becker of St. Gerard's Church in San Antonio passed through Kerrville on his way to Bander. Due to the courtesy of Mr. Taylor he took with him some of the boarders and two of the Sisters.

Five new pupils entered the Summer School last week. Three of these are married women, and one is a boarder from San Antonio. On the faculty this year we have one of our former students who has since received her M. A. degree and the religious habit.

Mr. Ed. Kaiser has sold his ranch above Ingram and will remove to town in order that his children be nearer to Notre Dame. Misses Irene and Verna Bulver spent Sunday with Yoakum relatives at Kaiser's ranch.

After more than five weeks of traveling through the attractive sites of New Mexico, Arizona and California, Miss Angeline Kemper and her twin nephews, Henry and William Voiss, arrived safely at the Pacific port in Oregon where Mrs. Wm. Kemper has her summer home. They embarked on the Pacific Ocean from San Francisco on the Fourth of July and experienced a rather stormy voyage. They will remain at Seaside for another interval of five weeks and then return to Kerrville via Yellowstone Park, Salt Lake City and Denver, at each of which places they will stop over for several days.

Father Kemper motored with Mrs. Arthur Mosel and her children, Benny, Hilda and Wilhelmina, all last week around a loop of over four hundred miles, which extended to San Antonio, Georgetown and Mason. On Monday they camped at Selma, Landa's Park, New Braunfels, and Scroggen's ranch near San Marcos. On Tuesday they visited Mr. Carpenter's mother at Manchaca, and many personal friends in Austin, spending the night at Barton Springs. The next day they camped at Deep Eddy, near the Dam, and at Askew's farm close to Georgetown. Thursday they spread their tent at Liberty Hill (Chamnis' farm), Bertram, Burnet, and Lone Grove (Warden's ranch). During Friday they toured through Llano, Castell and Mason, putting up for the night at Gasoway's Hill in

MAMMA! DON'T YOU SEE YOUR CHILD IS SICK, CONSTIPATED?

Look at Tongue! Move Poisons From Liver and Bowels at Once.

Mother! Your child isn't naturally cross and peevish. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign his little stomach, liver and bowels need a cleansing at once.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, remember, a gentle liver and bowel cleansing should always be the first treatment given.

Nothing equals "California Syrup of Figs" for children's ills: give a teaspoonful, and in a few hours all the foul waste, sour bile and fermenting food which is clogged in the bowels passes out of the system, and you have a well and playful child again. All children love this harmless, delicious "fruit laxative," and it never fails to effect a good "inside" cleansing. Directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are plainly on the bottle.

Keep it handy in your home. A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs" then look and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."

The Most Amazing Revelation of National Depravity in Human History

(Manufacturers Record)

For its own aggrandizement Germany, after years of preparation, deliberately entered upon a war to conquer the world. Its leading business men were repeatedly called into consultation with the Kaiser, and in consideration of the promises made by him and the military leaders of Germany that they would be able to loot the world and enormously enrich themselves if they would uphold the Kaiser's proposed war, these men literally sold their souls to the devil, and for personal profit pledged their hearty co-operation in a war which they knew would mean the death of millions of soldiers, in a war which would mean sorrow and woe such as the world had never known. They entered into this unholy compact with a distinct promise from the Kaiser and the military clique that within one year from the beginning of the war they would be able to reap the enormous profits which were promised to them, and dominate the trade of the world, as Germany proposed to dominate the nations of the earth.

In all human history there is no record so damning and damnable of a nation which definitely committed itself to murder, to outraging, to pillaging, to all the horrors of a world war, for the individual profit of its business men and the aggrandizement of its military power.

This is the blackest story in human history. It indicates a degree of moral depravity of the whole nation which found a fitting expression in the fearful crimes in Belgium and France upon women and children, upon churches and cathedrals, and upon all civilization wherever the accursed army of these freebooters and looters and outragers and would-be world conquerors have marched.

And now that these murderers and outragers and world robbers and looters find themselves balked, and realize that civilization is greater than barbarism, that honor is greater than dishonor, that an enraged and outraged world is making impossible the carrying out of their plans for highway robbery and murder, plans deliberately entered upon after years of study, efforts are being made in many directions, through pro-German activities, and in other disguised ways, to raise the cry of peace; and here and there suggestions are seen that the Kaiser was forced into this war by Prussian militarism, hoping in this way to create a sentiment in favor of saving him from the gallows or the firing squad.

It behooves every honest-hearted man and every good woman on the face of the earth to set their faces against this peace propaganda, and to vow before man and heaven that there shall be no talk of peace until the armies of the Allies—and this, of course, means our armies with the other Allies—have marched through Germany and Austria and by their presence have proved to these nations that right is greater than might; that righteousness is greater than unrighteousness; that the heaven of prosperity based on integrity and honor is better than the hell created by the baseness and the vileness of Germany in which all of its people, from the Kaiser to the lowest of its peasants, united for the purpose of looting the world, for their individual enrichment, and the domination and the damnation of the world under German rule.

Any man in this country, or in that of our Allies, who thinks peace on any other terms than the unconditional surrender of Germany and its allies, who thinks peace except on the basis of death to those who have brought this fearful war upon the world, who thinks peace upon any other basis than a penalty through the indemnities imposed upon Germany and its allies which will tax to the utmost of their ability for generations to come, will be a curse to civilization and prove himself to be without moral backbone, without honesty and integrity of character. It matters not where the suggestion of peace without penalty may appear, it matters not in what devious ways it may crop out in church circles, in political circles, in newspapers or in public life—he who yields to the thought of peace, except a peace based upon the righteous destruction of Germany's power, and the righteous punishment of the criminals who have blackened the earth with their crimes, is a weakling, a coward in thought and in act, and is indeed a pro-German, and should be spurned by every man who regards honor and integrity and womanhood.

Should we yield to suggestion for peace which Germany will soon be putting forth in many directions, as it seeks peace without penalty, we would be putting a premium upon crime, upon barbarism and upon outraging, a premium upon the work of the highwayman and the looter, a premium upon the moral degradations of the German business men who deliberately, after years of study, pledged their co-operation to a war for world conquest, bribed thereto by the promise of great individual profits.

This country needs now to drive home into every mind in America the conviction that there should be no peace except a peace dictated by America and its Allies in Berlin and Vienna and Constantinople; and that this peace shall only be considered when these countries have been beaten to their knees, when they sue for peace on our terms, of the death penalty for the leading criminals and an indemnity in money which to the extent that money can be made to do so will repay Belgium and France and Servia and Roumania and Italy, all of the wreck and ruin which has been wrought; and which shall repay England and America the full amount of money expended in putting down these highwaymen, these freebooters, these pirates, these outragers, these would-be world looters, these thieves and scoundrels who have murdered millions, who have sorrowed hundreds of millions merely for their own individual financial profit. By the side of what they have done Germany seems infinitely superior to hell itself in devilry and to have usurped Satan's power.

Has Heaven made peace with Hell? If not, then let us not for one moment think of making peace with unpunished, unrepentant and undestroyed Germany.

NOTE—The Manufacturers Record is probably one of the greatest "Exponents of Americanism" in the United States, and many of the leading daily newspapers which at first criticised its utterances are now saying that it did not make its articles strong enough. Next week, in the above space, will be published another of the Record's editorials—"The German Nation's Brutality a Natural Product of German 'Kultur.'"

Work of the Mints.

714,139,119 new coins, with a value of $43,596,895, were made during the fiscal year ending June 30 last, which breaks all previous records. The mints worked on a 24-hour a day basis most of the year. Over 500,000,000 cent pieces, nearly 83,000,000 nickels, 24,000,000 half dollars, 45,000,000 quarters, and 116,000,000 dimes were coined.

All Banks to Help.

The report that only banking institutions qualified as United States Government depositories would be allowed to take subscriptions for the Fourth Liberty Loan has been emphatically denied.

"The Treasury Department," says Secretary McAdoo, "desires that all banking institutions shall continue in the future as they have in the past patriotically to assist and co-operate during the various campaigns for the sale of Government securities."

Secretary McAdoo's often expressed gratitude and appreciation of the patriotism and the wonderful effectiveness of the work of the banks of the country in the past Liberty Loan campaigns would seem absolutely to negate any idea that he would refuse to avail himself of their assistance in future campaigns.

GRAND OPERA SINGERS COMING TO DALLAS

METROPOLITAN GRAND OPERA QUARTETTE TO SING AT THE STATE FAIR OCTOBER 18TH

President R. E. L. Knight announces the engagement of the world famous Metropolitan Grand Opera Quartette, direct from the Metropolitan Opera House, New York City, for the State Fair of Texas this year. The date of their appearance will be Friday, October 18th.

The quartette consists of Mme. Frances Alda, soprano; Carolina Lazari, contralto; Giovanni Martinelli, tenor; and Giuseppe De Luca, baritone.

The leading roles of Faust, Rigoletto, Carmen and other well known and ever beautiful operas are among the vehicles for the expression of the God-given talents of these wonderfully charming singers.

A tenor soloist of international reputation will also be heard—one who is extremely popular in Texas—John McCormack. He will appear on Friday, Oct. 25th.

Mr. McCormack and Edwin Schneider, his accompanist, have raised $100,000.00 for the American Red Cross, in a transcontinental tour at their own expense. They have also raised a large sum for the Knights of Columbus.

On the last Saturday and Sunday of the exposition the French Symphony Orchestra, with two added soloists, will appear. This is one of the most famous orchestras in the world, and this will be its first American tour. It will come direct from the Paris Conservatory of Music and consist of nearly 100 talented musicians each one of whom is a past master of his instrument.

The announcement of the engagement of these celebrated musical artists is creating a perfect furore of interest in musical circles of the entire Southwest.

SAYS SIXTY COUNTIES WILL EXHIBIT PRODUCTS

At the State Fair of Texas, Dallas, October 15-27.

The Texas County Exhibitor's Association, according to a recent announcement of its President, O. H. Loyd, of Vega, expects to have sixty county exhibits in the Agricultural department this year.

An exhibit at the State Fair of Texas is a profitable investment. It is also a patriotic privilege that our agriculturalists and horticulturists are going to take advantage of in greatly increased numbers this year according to Mr. Loyd.

To win the war, men armed with hoes and rakes, and driving plows and tractors are as important as men with rifles and grenades, or operating tanks. Foods, as well as fighting men and funds, must be produced in increased quantities in order to win this great struggle for world freedom.

The State Fair of Texas offers wonderful opportunity for instruction, for the exchange of ideas, for the spread of new methods and better ways of doing things on the farm. It is the greatest two weeks course of intensive training obtainable anywhere.

BOYS AND GIRLS CLUBS AT STATE FAIR OF TEXAS

Every year the members of the boys and girls clubs of Texas show more and better work at the State Fair of Texas. There are now nearly 26,000 Young Americans enrolled in these clubs. They are striving for better farming methods, better livestock, home economics, better poultry, and other things of first value on the farm.

Really worthwhile prizes will be offered this year by the State Fair management for corn growing, canning, preserving, poultry raising, etc. These contests are open only to the boys and girls who are members of the clubs regularly organized by the extension department of the A. & M. College in cooperation with the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

The State Fair of Texas is the best place in the world to see the evidences of their success in these lines.

The wonderful accomplishments of Miss Agnes Mary Conway, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Conway, Route 6, Bryan, Texas, illustrate what can be done by a bright girl, or boy, who is willing to follow instructions. She was the champion State prize winner last year—won more prizes at the State Fair of Texas for canning club products than any other girl. This very winning young lady is just sixteen and in her fourth year of club membership.

Don't Forget to Plant a War Garden!

Last year our people got a late start in raising war gardens but in many places a success was made in that enterprise. This year our President is asking us to do even better. He wants the war gardens to be worth Five Hundred Millions of Dollars. We realize that the dreadful drouth that we are suffering is a big drawback to the people of this section, yet let's do our part. We are ready to serve in any of the lines we sell.
