company with Elliott Barker, game warden, John Gatlin, agent for the biological sur-vey and C. McElroy, district warden of Texas, Boone re-ported a survey of the moun-tain sheep.

He said that few sheep were seen that indicated the presence of a considerable number. He said that a bull elk was found and human tracks were seen, Boone said, that some-thing is going on.

He said he expected the other to join him in recommend-ation of a qualified man and a year or more on the job to make an investigation of the numbers, movements, habits and losses, and other pertinent information regarding the herd.

THE ADVENTURES OF OZZIE

Kernels From An Old Nut

Among more than 300 manufacturing industries listed in the last census, petroleum refining holds fourth place. Petroleum pipe lines rate four stars in any transportation report. They carry a billion barrels of oil annually. Ranking first among shippers of manufactured products by rail, the industry contributes more than $250,000,000 to rail freight revenue every year. Also it holds first place as a producer of tax revenue for the government!

Salvaging of Human Lives

Tons of snow fell in the national capital on January 28, 1922. Hour by hour the powdery flakes mounted steadily on the buildings until they were draped with a deep, white mantle and Washington had recorded one of the worst snowstorms in its history.

The heavy blanket of snow, which had been falling for twenty-four hours, finally bore with crushing weight on the roof of the Knickerbocker theater, where hundreds of women and children patrons were gathered early in the evening. Suddenly the roof collapsed in a tangled mass of plaster, concrete and steel. Nearly a hundred persons were killed or succumbed later to their injuries.

There had been no warning, and there was no means of escape when the white avalanche descended. Police and citizens were attempting a rescue when someone sent a call for the U. S. Marines, who responded instantly. All night long the marines worked. They formed a bucket line, passing out the debris into the street. Squads moved about locating the dead or injured, digging them out, and rushing those who still lived to improvised first-aid stations. Overhead lay the menace of a gnarled and twisted wire screen, huge blocks of concrete, steel beams and tottering masses of plaster, heavy enough to crush out the lives of the rescuers. Swaying walls threatened to topple any moment and engulf the living and dead. But the marines worked on, never ceasing their efforts until at 8:00 o'clock the next morning they received a brief respite through the arrival of some army men. Later they returned to the task and remained until they were no longer needed, willing, as always, to come to the aid of their fellow citizens in any emergency.

SOUTH AMERICAN COLONY PROPOSED FOR REFUGEES

WASHINGTON—Representative Dies of Texas proposed Saturday the political refugees from Germany and Austria be colonized in Paraguay, South American republic which he said has thousands of unpopulated acres.

N. A. Olson of Roswell was a caller in Hagerman Friday.

fore congress, Webster "borrowed" $32,000 from the bank and many, many other smaller amounts, few of them good or ever repaid. In addition, Webster was retained by the bank as its counsel. At least one senator within my memory went to jail for a similar retainer.

Since their time the amount of business before congress has multiplied many times and in the very nature of things the method of handling it has had to change. Oratory, even in the law, is a much less patent factor than it was twenty-five years ago. Finally there are those of us who recall the men in public life who were reviled most bitterly, a half century ago, are now spoken of with reverence. Don't let anybody fool you by any cry about the decadence of leadership in any sphere of our public life.

ALAMOGORDO TRIAL FLOW

Official figures on the trial flow of water from Alamogordo dam will be available within a few days, L. E. Foster, project superintendent, said Monday at Carlsbad.

Frank Irby, reclamation bureau engineer, is working on the check, Foster said, and will make final calculations in a day or two.

Foster explained many things must be taken into consideration in making the check, requiring much measuring and many figures. Project officials believe the check will show a minimum loss of water on the long trip down the Pecos from the new reservoir, but will not hazard a guess until official figures are available.

BOSTON YANKEE GOES TO COURT

'Joe' Kennedy, Red-Headed Irishman, Will Be New Type Ambassador to England's Austere Court of St. James

By JOSEPH W. LaBINE

A red-headed American business man, the blood of old Erin coursing through his veins, is creating a sensation at Great Britain's austere Court of St. James.

His name is Joe Kennedy, the son of a one-time Boston politician and saloon keeper, new United States ambassador to England.

Joe Kennedy is placing his sturdy business shoes in the footsteps where formerly walked philosophers, poets, historians and members of the social elect. He is not America's first business man ambassador, but he is the first business man to get the job without first showing his listing in society's "Who's Who."

Joe Kennedy, who made a million dollars before he was 35, who organized the successful Securities Exchange commission and served as chairman of the Maritime commission, may be ushering in a new type of diplomacy. Others claim this right-hand man of the Roosevelt administration is being exiled by his appointment to St. James. Still others say the ambassadorship is a springboard to the Presidency.

More likely is the answer that President Roosevelt recognizes the need for a British ambassador of exceptional business ability, a man who can maneuver the proposed reciprocal trade treaty to a successful conclusion. Joe Kennedy, more than any other New Dealer, is the man who can do it.

Red Tape Bothers Him.

This dynamic American is apt to shock St. James. As SEC chairman and head of the Maritime commission he showed his distaste for official red tape and soft-couched procedure. In diplomacy as nowhere else, he will find just such conditions.

The Kennedy career reads like an unbroken success story, in which love and family life have played an important part. At forty-nine he is the father of nine good looking children. His wife, the former Rose Fitzgerald of Boston, is so attractive and slim at forty-seven that John Boettiger, Roosevelt son-in-law, blurted out when he first met her:

"At last I believe in the stork!" Kennedy started as a Boston newsboy in a career that stretches from New England to Hollywood and back again. At Harvard, where he finished in 1912, he was a star baseball player and made $5,000 driving a sight-seeing bus during summer vacations. By the time he graduated he decided on a banking career, became a state examiner for 18 months and—when only twenty-five—was actually a bank president!

He Fought With Roosevelt.

Kennedy's first meeting with President Roosevelt came during the war when the Irish Bostonian was assistant general manager of the Fore River shipyards and the President was assistant secretary of the navy. It is recalled that the angry navy official dispatched troops to take over a ship which Kennedy refused to release.

Next came three years as manager of the stock department at Hayden, Stone company, a Boston banking house. It was there that Kennedy got the bright idea of buying American option rights on foreign motion pictures. That started his movie career.

Kennedy was new blood in Hollywood, one of the first young business men to approach the movie industry from the banking end. From 1926 to 1930 he was in the center of mammoth mergers and shifts in the big companies. By 1929, just before the crash, he decided to get out of the movie business. But during his brief Hollywood career he had been president shipping interests as he had handled film companies in need of overhauling. He settled $73,000,000 of small contract claims of 23 shipping companies against the government for $750,000 and laid down the rule that future government subsidies to shipping should be made only where there was a chance of accomplishing something by it.

Then last November, he released a sensational report listing the needs of American shipping, a report that will probably go down in history as another example of Kennedy foresight and common sense. When every other nation was building huge liners, Joe Kennedy predicted the day when fast aircraft would make liners impractical. Therefore he recommended emphasis on trans-Atlantic airplanes, together with construction of small and sensible ocean vessels.

He's "Pop" Personified.

To staid Britishers Joe Kennedy may be the perfect example of American "pop." Big and tall, he likes to work in his shirt sleeves, make instantaneous decisions and ride airplanes instead of trains. He is a go-getter, equally at home with any kind of an audience.

It is significant that Joe Kennedy is one of the few New Dealers who still retain the respect of business at large. President Roosevelt is sacrificing an important window dresser on the home front when he

of the Film Booking Offices of America, chairman of the board for Keith-Albee-Orpheum, special adviser for First National pictures and special adviser for Paramount pictures.

When depression was at its depth Joe Kennedy was living happily in his spacious homes at Hyannisport, Palm Beach or Bronxville. But the social consciousness which had evidently eluded him during the dizzy 1920's apparently awakened at this time. He was one of the first to board President Roosevelt's bandwagon, while the present Chief Executive was still governor of New York and Jim Farley was still a small time politician.

Reformed Wall Street.

Kennedy money backed the 1932 campaign and the dynamic Kennedy personality gladdened many a vote-getting tour. When it was all over he spent two and a half months reorganizing Radio Corporation of America and hobnobbing with his Wall street friends, trying to convince them that the world was changed. They wouldn't listen.

Few people have forgotten the turbulent days when the Securities Exchange commission was established with Kennedy at its head. Almost to a man, Wall street brokers protested it would wreck their profession. But the measure went through and today you'll find that a majority of SEC's old opponents are its staunchest supporters.

After SEC was established he left the government and returned to making money again, only to be recalled when President Roosevelt needed leadership for the Maritime commission. He handled American sends this Irishman to St. James. That is the best indication of the importance the President attached to the British post.

An equally interesting sidelight will be the Kennedy family's "invasion" of London. Never before has the United States sent an Irishman to London, storm center of English-Irish dissension. Boston blue bloods, social registerites from New York, Philadelphia and Washington will be presented next June to Queen Elizabeth at Buckingham palace by Rose Kennedy, a woman who was never invited to join the exclusive Junior League. American debutantes cannot appear before the queen of England unless Rose Kennedy sanctions it.

If Joe Kennedy engineers the Anglo-American trade agreement he will return to the United States more thoroughly in the spotlight than ever. Though some may consider him an "exile" in London, he can recall that five former ambassadors to St. James later became President. Who knows but that this "typical" American business man may follow their example? Hard headed business men also make good Presidents! © Western Newspaper Union.

Hollywood's Singing Starlet

On December 6, 1936, a fourteen-year-old youngster sang Mimi in "La Boheme" opposite the great Martinelli at Chicago's Civic Opera House. On December 7 all America acclaimed young Betty Jaynes as a singing sensation. Betty Jaynes is now in Hollywood where M-G-M executives predict big things after the release of her first picture. Betty is taking the role of Kathie in a screen version of "The Student Prince."

Now sixteen, Betty lives like any other youngster off-stage, putting her feet on the family overstuffed chairs and doing her homework on the parlor rug. Her father died shortly before the "La Boheme" debut; now her mother, two sisters and a brother live with her in Hollywood.

The mailman who calls at her Beverly Hills English cottage likes Betty Jaynes' blonde hair and blue eyes. Southern California sunshine is tanning the complexion which has known a lifetime of Chicago atmosphere. But this young lady will not be turned away from her rightful place on the screen and opera stage by Hollywood's glamour.

The cameraman who visits Betty's home on Thursday night (maid's night off) will probably find this versatile youngster scrambling eggs for dinner. Next day he'll find her working in the family garden, a treat for the city youngster. More than one publicity wise opera official feels that Betty Jaynes' success may open new American vistas for their art.

Thus does Betty Jaynes Hollywood's new "singing starlet," contemplate a rosy future. The screen has already recognized her as a box office attraction... will the opera stage be equally receptive?

HOW TO SEW

by Ruth Wyeth Spears

THIS pink and white chintz apron with pink gingham frills should inspire anyone to make long strides towards the kitchen. It is easy to cut. The material required is 1 1/2 yards of 36-inch-wide chintz or cotton print and one yard of plain material.

For the skirt of the apron, cut a piece of paper or cloth 27 inches wide and 23 inches deep. Fold this lengthwise through the center, as at A, then measure down from the top of the fold and in from the corners the distances indicated in the diagram and mark the dots. Using the dots as a guide, mark the outline of the apron skirt as you see it in the diagram. The dimensions for shaping the bib are given in the diagram at B. The pocket is a 5-inch square with lower corners rounded as shown here at C. The apron ties are cut 6 inches wide and 36 inches long. The strip for the belt should be cut 2 1/2 inches wide and a facing strip the same width should be cut for it. The shoulder straps are cut 4 inches wide and then creased lengthwise through the center.

The strips of the plain material for the ruffles are cut 6 inches wide. The ruffle material before it is gathered should be 2 1/2 times the length of the space it is to fill after gathering. Use the machine hemmer foot shown here at the lower left for hemming the ruffles and the machine ruffler for gathering them.

NOTE: Mrs. Spears' latest book is now ready. Ninety embroidery stitches are illustrated; also settings; crochet; embroidery; signing; fabric repairing; new gifts and dress accessories. For eight pages of step-by-step directions. Available to readers who will send name and address and enclose 25 cents (coin preferred). Just address Mrs. Spears, 231 Desplaines St., Chicago.

Sambo Became Sure Debt Was Outlawed

Sambo got a job as a bill collector for a restaurant. By his lenient attitude, he forced five patrons to pay their debts. The one day his boss noticed a colored chap across the street who owed him money.

Sambo raced over and grabbed the other man's arm, demanding why the money hadn't been paid. "Cause," replied the man harshly, "Ah been in jail for murder Ah committed. Now, was you stoppin' me for?"

Sambo gulped. He wet his lips. "De reason Ah stopped you," he returned nervously, "was to tell you not to worry about payin' dat money."

Strange Facts

Curtain of Fire Stops Radio

A CURTAIN of fire is one of nature's great electrical mysteries. In northern latitudes at certain times beams and flashes of dazzling brilliance play across the sky. Sometimes it is like giant searchlights from beyond the rim of the world. The discharge of light is 50 to 100 miles above the earth. With it comes a noise, a low crackling sound like the rustle of silk, believed to be made by the aurora borealis.

On January 25, 1938, the people of London came running from their houses believing that the whole city was afire. All over Europe fire engines rushed to put out non-existent fires. Even Windsor castle was thought to be burning to the ground as the fire department raced to the scene. On that night from 6:30 to 8:30 p. m. the most brilliant display of aurora borealis in 50 years was seen over a wide area of northern Europe, extending even to Italy and Portugal. Between New York and Europe short-wave radio went dead.

The cause of nature's most beautiful, mysterious and at times most terrifying phenomenon is unknown. Scientists believe the rays are due to discharges of electricity in the upper atmosphere, and are in some unknown way related to sun spots. Sun spots are dark spots on the face of the sun, seen only through a telescope. They look like cavities and from the rim of these cavities rise whirling flames. Some scientists believe the sun spots are giant fiery whirlpools that move across the face of the sun. They seem to cause magnetic storms which in turn disrupt radio communication and also, some scientists believe, affect the weather on the earth.

Lesson for April 3

SERVING OTHER RACES

LESSON TEXT—Mark 7:24-37. GOLDEN TEXT—God is no respecter of persons. Acts 10:34. PRIMARY TOPIC—The Lord of All. JUNIOR TOPIC—The Lord of All. INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Showing Good Will to Other Races. YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Practicing Christian Brotherhood Toward All Races.

"God is no respecter of persons" (Acts 10:34). He who by reason of His infinite knowledge might well draw lines of distinction between them is loving and gracious toward all, not willing that any should perish, extending His mercy to men of all conditions and all races. But men, whose knowledge is so limited that they cannot even rightly judge the thoughts of their own hearts, are quick to discriminate against their fellow man because he is of a different race, color, or social position.

A leader in the Southern Baptist church recently pointed out that the number of heathen in the world has increased about two and a half times as rapidly as the number of Christians, which means that at the rate of progress of missions during the last generation the world has become more heathen at the rate of six million a year, and now we are retarding the process still further. Because of financial depression we are recalling missionaries. When the world is ablaze with sin and God-denying political theories we withhold the gospel it needs. It has well been said that such strategy is like closing the hospital because an epidemic is in progress.

Jesus had gone into Syrophenicia and the region of Decapolis (look them up on the map) to rest. But the need of the Gentile people (to whom He was not at that time called to minister) impelled Him to help them also. Note how they were stimulated to believe, how their faith was tried, but triumphant.

I. Faith Encouraged.

The Greek woman and the man of Decapolis were led to believe in Christ in two different ways. 1. By hearing about Jesus. The woman "heard of him" (v. 25). Paul says, "Faith cometh by hearing, and hearing by the word of God" (Rom. 10:17). Are we diligent in season and out of season, telling the story of Jesus and His love? If so, men and women of our acquaintance will hear of Him and be ready to call on Him in the day of their trouble.

2. By a personal meeting with Jesus. The man was deaf; he could not hear about Jesus, but he could see Him. To him the Lord came in person, and by the sign language, related in verse 33, He stirred his heart to believe. There are some of our friends and neighbors to whom we cannot speak, but we can live Christ before them, and we can bring them to Him so that they may meet Him personally.

II. Faith Tested.

1. By obstacles. The woman met what seemed to be a sharp rebuke (v. 27), although it was no doubt much tempered by the tender voice of Jesus, and by the fact that He did not use the word "dogs" as the Jews did in speaking of the Gentiles. He spoke kindly, and He talked of the "little dogs" which were the pets of the household. But her faith was greatly tried, just as ours often is, not that it should fail, but that its strength might be demonstrated. "That the trial of your faith, being much more precious than of gold that perisheth, though it be tried with fire, might be found unto praise and honor and glory at the appearing of Jesus Christ" (1 Pet. 1:7).

2. By natural handicaps. Jesus put no impediment in the way of the man, for he was already hindered by nature. How often do we not feel that in our very personalities and bodies are those things which hinder our full apprehension of the grace of God. Shall we then give up in discouragement? No. The man believed right through the barrier of unhearing ears and a speechless tongue. We can do likewise by the grace of God.

III. Faith Rewarded.

1. By deliverance from the devil. The woman's daughter was set free because of her faith. Men and women around us need to be delivered from the devil. Perhaps you who read these lines are in need of such deliverance. "Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, and thou shalt be saved, and thy house" (Acts 16:31).

2. By deliverance from personal limitations. The man's "ears were opened . . . and he spake plain" (v. 35). What is the unfortunate trait of personality, the handicap of body or mind that holds you back from accepting Christ as Saviour, or, having done so, from the full and free development of your spiritual life? Faith in Christ cuts right through the hindering inability. He said to Paul, "My grace is sufficient for thee: for my strength is made perfect in weakness." Shall we not say with Paul, "Most gladly therefore will I rather glory in my infirmities, that the power of Christ may rest upon me." (II Cor. 12:8, 9.)

A General Quiz

1. Which of our states has only three counties?
2. What is the record made in the major baseball leagues for circling the bases?
3. When was paper money first issued in this country?
4. Why is the stage referred to as the legitimate stage?
5. Were any decisive battles fought on German soil during the World war?
6. Is the new San Francisco-Oakland bridge high enough to permit all boats to pass under it?
7. In the expression, "Poor as Job's turkey," is the Job of the Old Testament meant?
8. Was Edward Everett Hale related to Nathan Hale, the patriot of the Revolution?
9. How many parts of speech are there?
10. What part of what state is farther north than any other in the Union?

The Answers

1. The state of Delaware has only three counties. It has only one city (Wilmington) with a population of over 100,000.
2. The recognized record for circling the bases is 13.4 seconds, made by Evar Swanson of the Cincinnati Reds, September 15, 1929.
3. In 1690 by the Massachusetts Bay colony. It was gradually issued by other colonies until in general use by all.
4. It is so called in the sense of its being normal, regular, conformable to a recognized standard type.

TIPS to Gardeners

Young Garden Care

THE value of a garden plant, vegetable or flower, depends greatly upon the start it gets; so give the seedlings ample care. Begin cultivation as soon as rows are visible, if the soil is not wet. Work close to the small plants, cultivating shallower as they grow to avoid injury to root growth.

Cultivate at least once a week. Watering should not be necessary the first week or ten days after seeds have sprouted. Later, young plants may be watered one of two ways: Mark a shallow trench about four inches from the row and run it full of water. Or, using a fine spray, apply water from directly above plants. Watering is most effective when it closely follows cultivation.

Small plants should be thinned, as directed on packets, to allow proper development. Certain vegetables may be used as thinned. For instance, onions thinned may be used as green onions, and lettuce may be picked for immediate use, leaving smaller leaves to develop.

Very Smart New Fashions

A HOUSE dress with long slender lines, a dress and apron for little girls, and a popular bolero frock for slim young figures! You will certainly want one of these, and more likely will want all three. With each pattern, you receive a complete and detailed sew chart specially planned to help beginners, so that the making will be easy, and save you money besides.

Popular Bolero Frock. Make it up of silk crepe or a pretty print, and see how expensive, how flattering, it looks! The short bolero and wide shoulders make the slim lines of the frock even more graceful. Notice how cleverly the dress is shirred into the front panel at the waistline. This is one of the prettiest afternoon dresses you could choose for this spring.

Dress and Apron for Tots. Your little girl will be so proud of having this heart-shaped apron to put on over her best dress when she plays house! And the puffed, square-necked dress is adorable. You can make the two of them in no time. For the dress, choose dimity or organdy for dress-up; gingham or percale for every day. Dimity or lawn for the apron.

House Dress for Large Figures. This is such a becoming, comfortable, good-looking dress to work in, round the house. The lines are so straight and unhampering, and pleats in the short sleeves give plenty of room for stretching and reaching. It takes inches off the figure, too. Make it up in seersucker, gingham, linen or percale printed in small designs.

The Patterns. 1478 is designed for sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 40 and 42. Size 16 requires 6 1/2 yards of 39-inch material. 1476 is designed for sizes 2, 4, 6, 8 years. Size 4 requires 1 1/2 yards of 35-inch material for the dress, with 6 yards of narrow ribbon to trim and 1 yard wider ribbon for the belt. Size 4 requires 3/4 yard of 35-inch material for the apron, and 2 1/2 yards of ruffling. 1476 is designed for sizes 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48, 50 and 52. Size 38 requires 5 yards of 35-inch material without nap.

Uncle Phil Says:

The Slaughter Goes On

Always the same ends are accomplished though by different methods. Indians and wild animals killed the pioneers. Now 40,000 a year perish by automobiles.

If you talked to your enemy instead of about him, you might grow to tolerate him—even see his good points.

In the old days whole families traveled together in a covered wagon; and did not make such a to-do about it as those who now go in trailers.

Inventors Deserve Credit Civilization advances as if on stepping stones, stepping from one inventive brain to another. It is a happy land where the people can find something to celebrate every few weeks. If every event is a sequence, there can be no such thing as an accident.

WHEN a tobacconist praises a brand, it means a lot to "makin'" smokers. But when he smokes that brand himself, well—read what dealer C. E. M. Johnston (in circle) says of his favorite tobacco: "I smoke P. A. and I've introduced it to a lot of men. They get excited over how fast P. A. rolls up—the grand way it draws—how mild, mellow, and cool it smokes. This sign on my counter says Prince Albert is the National Joy Smoke. Well, you can bank on that!" (So can pipe-smokers!)

Tested Recipe

A GOOD cake from the Good Book

—that's the old-time Scripture Cake. Almost every American family treasures their own version, and here is ours—a recipe that's like a colorful pageant—with butter in a lordly dish—that's from the Song of Deborah—sweet sugar brought from a far country, and the brethren going down into Egypt with spicy myrrh and almonds. I can't think of a nicer Christmas gift than a Scripture Cake and a copy of the recipe.

Scripture Cake

4 cups sifted cake flour; 1/2 teaspoon salt; 1 teaspoon cinnamon; 1/2 teaspoon cloves; 1/2 teaspoon mace; 1 cup butter or other shortening; 2 1/2 cups sugar; 6 eggs, un-beaten; 4 tablespoons honey; 1 cup finely cut almonds; 2 cups finely cut raisins; 2 cups finely cut figs; 1/2 cup water.

Sift flour once, measure, add salt and spices, and sift together three times. Cream butter thoroughly, add sugar gradually, and cream together until light and fluffy. Add eggs, one at a time, beating thoroughly after each. Add honey; then add almonds, raisins, and figs, and mix well. Add flour, alternately with water, a small amount at a time, beating well after each addition. Turn into two greased 9x2 1/4-inch loaf pans, which have been greased, lined with paper, and again greased. Bake in moderate oven (325° F.) 2 1/2 to 3 hours. Makes 2 loaf cakes. For 1 loaf, use 1/2 recipe.

EXILES from the Southland grow lyrical at the mention of fried pies.

A novelist friend from Texas gave me the recipe and told me the story of her first lonely days in New York City, when she was immured in the traditional hall bedroom. Things weren't going too well and she was desperately homesick so she made herself a plate of half-moon pies. Then she sat by the window munching them, with the tears streaming down her cheeks—yet strangely comforted. Of course, you know that a cupful of jam or other stewed fruit may be used instead of apples in this recipe.

Fried Half-Moon Pies

3 cups sifted cake flour; 2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder; 1/4 teaspoon salt; 6 tablespoons butter or other shortening; 2/3 cup milk.

1 1/2 cups stewed apples (5 medium apples); 1/4 cup brown sugar, firmly packed; 1/4 cup white all-spice; dash of salt; 1 tablespoon melted butter.

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift again. Cut in shortening. Add milk and stir carefully until all flour is dampened. Then stir vigorously until mixture forms a soft dough and follows spoon around bowl. Turn out immediately on a slightly floured board and knead 20 seconds. Roll 1/4 inch thick and cut in 4-inch circles. Combine apples with remaining ingredients. Place about 2 teaspoons on half of each circle, 1/2 inch from edge. Fold other half over filling and press edges together with floured fork. Fry pies in deep fat (385° F.) 2 to 3 minutes, or until golden brown. Drain on unglazed paper. Dust with powdered sugar. Serve hot. Makes 16 small pies.
