NUMBER 41

Court Notes.

The grand jury made its final report Monday evening and was discharged. Forty-four true bills were returned, thirty-three no bills and four sent back to the justices of the peace from whence they came. This appears to be a large number of bills, but when it is remembered that this is the first session of the grand jury since July, 1908, the proportion remains about as usual. The grand jury was in session for two weeks and one day, the longest session, in this county, for many years.

Judge Cooley returned Sunday night, and court was called the next morning. A jury had been secured in the case of C. B. Dyer, charged with assault, but the hearing was interrupted by the reception of a telegram which called the judge to Alamogordo, as was stated last week. This case was again taken up and went to the jury Tuesday. The jury reported Wednesday morning that it couldn't agree and was discharged.

The next case was that of Harry Roy, charged with larceny. The trial occupied most of Wednesday, and the jury, at its close, returned a verdict of acquittal. Wednesday evening a jury was secured to try Juan B. Blea on a charge of assault. Court was in session until a late hour that night, and yesterday was consumed in taking evidence. The case went to the jury about 6 o'clock yesterday evening and in a short time a verdict of acquittal was returned. This was the graver charge, assault with intent to kill. The lighter charge of assault was nollied.

A jury has been secured in the Edwin Darling case, the defendant being charged with unlawfully disposing of mortgaged property, and the evidence is now being taken.

The Sunday closing cases and the Adams case of assault will probably be taken up tomorrow and be disposed of and will wind up the present term of court.

Two pleas of guilty have been entered as follows:

Benino Gallegos, larceny; sentence one year and one day; suspended during good behavior.

John W. Owen, unlawfully carrying a deadly weapon; fine of $50.00 and costs; both fine and costs suspended.

A Special Term, if Necessary.

Carrizozo, N. M.

John A. Haley, Esq.,
Editor Carrizozo News.

My Dear Sir:—

I should like, if I may, to avail myself of the privilege of using your columns for a brief statement to the people of Lincoln county.

The present term of court is the first one that has been held here for a year and a half and I had been much in hopes that it would be possible to transact a large amount of business so as to practically clean up the docket. Circumstances over which I had no control necessitated my absence from Carrizozo for practically an entire week. That has made it impossible to try anything like the number of cases I had anticipated disposing of. I feel that I owe an apology to the people of the county and I will, if necessary, set things right by holding an additional special term of court next summer, if at the May term I find it impossible to dispose of the business that has accumulated.

Very respectfully,
ALFORD W. COOLEY.

Octogenarian Dead.

Richmond Hust, an old and respected citizen of this county, died at the home of his son, Clark Hust, in this town Monday morning. Heart failure, superinduced by old age, was the cause of death. Shortly before his death he was on the streets, but feeling the attack, from which he had suffered the past year, coming on, he went to his son's home and breathed his last.

The deceased was born in Kentucky, March, 1829, and moved to Missouri in his youth. He joined the Union army in Missouri and fought throughout the civil war. In 1876 he went to Colorado, and nine years thereafter moved to this county, and has all these years been regarded as one of our most upright and substantial citizens.

He leaves a widow who is eighty-one years old and quite feeble; one son, Clark Hust, and a daughter, Mrs. J. F. Dalton. The remains were conveyed to Angus, the family burying plot, and there interred Tuesday. The sympathy of the community is extended the bereaved family.

MODEST MORGAN, JR.

Finance's Crown Prince Keeps Out of Limelight.

Business and Family Absorb Interest of J. Pierpont's Son, on Whose Shoulders Father's Responsibilities Are Being Placed.

New York.—J. Pierpont Morgan, Jr., who came into national prominence recently by being elected a director of the National City bank, the greatest financial institution in America, is known to his intimates as "Jack" Morgan, and does not fancy the limelight. In many respects this crown prince of finance is, as James J. Hill recently said of him, "a chip off the old block." In appearance he is the image of his father 20 years ago.

"I have never been interviewed about myself, and I do not ever intend to be." Mr. Morgan said the other day. The emphasis he placed upon his words bore a close resemblance to a prominent characteristic of another Morgan.

For five years young Morgan has been in training for the industrial branch of his father's great enterprises under the tutelage of no less an authority than James J. Hill. The young man, who is a director in the Northern Pacific Railway Company, has studied railway finance with the same system that he went about the study of banking upon his graduation from Harvard University in 1899.

Young Morgan was born in 1867 in New York city. Since his graduation from Harvard he has kept up a personal interest in the institution and he is now one of the overseers of the university. He began his business career in Boston, where for two years he worked as clerk in the banking house of Peabody & Company. He then came to New York, and after a short time spent in his father's office he was admitted to a partnership in the firm of J. Pierpont Morgan & Company. He worked for six or seven years, and so diligently did he keep his nose to the grindstone that little or nothing was heard of him by the outside world.

Young Morgan next went to London, where he was given a membership in the firm established by his grandfather, as Morgan & Company. He remained there for five years, alternating between London and Paris in the latter city in the affairs of the house of Morgan, Harris & Company. In 1904 he was permitted by his father to return to New York city and prepare for the responsibilities which would be his when his father shall decide he is capable of bearing the burden. Mr. Morgan, Sr., has planned to retire from the activities of business life just as rapidly as he can unload the responsibility upon a younger and sturdier pair of Morgan shoulders. Young Morgan is a family man.

With his wife, formerly Miss Jane Norton Grew, and their four children, he lives in modest style at 231 Madison avenue, occupying a house adjoining that of his father.

His chief recreation is sailing a boat week-ends on Long Island Sound. His 30-footer, the Ibis, is one of the swiftest craft of the New York Yacht club fleet and is all the young man has to offer in the way of ostentatious display on the water.

His father's love for literature and art the son has inherited, but so far he has been so absorbed in fitting himself for the responsibilities the father is about to unload upon him that he has had no chance to gratify these tastes and longings.

LEARN RIDING ON A HOBBY

The Puissant British Soldier Gets His Training on Ingeniously Devised Dummy.

New York.—A new method has just been devised by officers of the British army for teaching the raw cavalry recruit how to ride. This is neither more nor less than a collapsible horse, through which all the real motions of the real horse in galloping, hurdling and trotting, as well as neck motion, can be well imitated.

The device has been established at the army riding school at Woolwich, and has been found of great service in practice. There are six principal parts of instruction on the hobby horse, with and without using the reins.

The first directions include instruction in how to rise to the hurdle, the position to be retained as the horse takes the hurdle, and that to be held in landing after the horse has taken the hurdle, all three with use of the reins. Then there is instruction, in all three, without the use of the reins.

The hobby horse's throat works on a hinge, and is connected with the nose by pulleys and weights, so that when the dummy is in motion the action of the bending and stretching of a horse's neck is represented.

Feeding Farm Hands.

Every farmer's wife knows what tremendous appetites farm hands usually have; but while they eat well they work well, too.

Here's a good suggestion about feeding farm hands. Give them plenty of Quaker Scotch Oats. I big dish of Quaker Scotch Oats porridge with sugar and cream or milk is the greatest breakfast in the world for a man who needs vigor and strength for a long day's work. The man that eats Quaker Scotch Oats plentifully and often is the man who does good work without excessive fatigue. There is a sustaining quality in Quaker Scotch Oats not found in other foods, and for economy it is at the head of the list. Besides the regular size packages Quaker Scotch Oats is packed in large size family packages, with and without china.

On a Time Limitation.

In spite of the reputation for latitudinarianism he gained from his early trial for heresy, the late Prof. Jowett of Oxford was intolerant of pretentiousness and shallow conceit. One self-satisfied undergraduate met the master one day. "Master," he said, "I have searched everywhere in all philosophies, ancient and modern, and nowhere do I find the evidence of a God." "Mr. —," replied the master, after a shorter pause than usual, "if you don't find a God by five o'clock this afternoon you must leave this college."

Come Home, Mother.

Mother, dear mother, come home from the club, and rustle some supper for me; 'tis time you were here working over the grub and getting things ready for tea. The table's not set nor the teakettle boiled, the vegetables are not prepared; no wonder my temper and feelings are roiled, though 'tis doubtful, indeed, if you cared. Come home, come home, come ho-ho-home! Yes, cut your symposium down a wee bit, dear mother, and hustle right home!—Los Angeles Express.

Overcoming Tuberculosis.

Statistics published by the Imperial Gazette show that in recent years there has been a steady decrease in the number of deaths in Germany from tuberculosis, and especially from tuberculosis of the lungs. In urban centers the death rate per 100,000 fell from 226.6 in 1903 to 192.15 in 1908.

CHILDREN SHOWED IT Effect of Their Warm Drink in the Morning.

A year ago I was a wreck from coffee drinking and was on the point of giving up my position in the school room because of nervousness.

"I was telling a friend about it and she said, 'We drink nothing at meal time but Postum, and it is such a comfort to have something we can enjoy drinking with the children.'

"I was astonished that she would allow the children to drink any kind of coffee, but she said Postum was the most healthful drink in the world for children as well as for older ones, and that the condition of both the children and adults showed that to be a fact.

"My first trial was a failure. The cook boiled it four or five minutes and it tasted so flat that I was in despair but determined to give it one more trial. This time we followed the directions and boiled it fifteen minutes after the boiling began. It was a decided success and I was completely won by its rich delicious flavour. In a short time I noticed a decided improvement in my condition and kept growing better month after month, until now I am perfectly healthy, and do my work in the school room with ease and pleasure. I would not return to the nerve-destroying regular coffee for any money."

Read the famous little "Health Classic," "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs. "There's a Reason."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

Compelled to It.

"I notice that there are not so many efforts made to induce us to live the simple life, nowadays," observes the man with the peeled nose.

"You do, do you?" scoffs the man with the unmanageable ears. "How about the new tariff?"

To Correspond.

"I notice that since Clerkleigh got into dissipated habits he doesn't use the perpendicular style in his handwriting."

"No and he doesn't use it in his walk, either."

AMOSQUITO EXTERMINATOR

THE ANATOMY OF A MOSQUITO

THE scientists in the service of the United States and the states which are waging war on the mosquito have discovered a new method of exterminating the pest. This method consists in propagating and distributing a parasitic worm which lodges in the body of the mosquito and kills it or checks its egg-laying powers.

It has for several years been recognized that the mosquito is one of the worst public enemies of the American people. Upward of 15,000 deaths occur from malaria, which is spread by the mosquito alone. This figure does not count the vast number of people whose systems are weakened by malaria and thus easily succumb to other diseases. The discomfort caused by the mosquito in many parts of the country is also a grave injury to prosperity. Therefore, anything which tends to exterminate the mosquito is of immense public benefit.

How greatly some regions are in need of relief from mosquitoes has just been shown by the dispatches from Chenter au Tigre, a large and fertile island in the Gulf, off New Orleans. The mosquitoes there have bred in such quantities that the inhabitants have been forced to keep indoors altogether, while the cattle have been killed by the mosquitoes filling up their nostrils and throats and choking them.

The new worm which kill the mosquito is known to science as agomeris culicis—meaning "roundworm of the mosquito"—and is recognized as a destructive parasite of the wicked insect. It is also called the "hairworm" in many places on account of its resemblance to a small hair. It spends at least part of its life in the belly of the mosquito, and, in the case of the female, when it does not kill her, it prevents her from reproducing her species—a result equally satisfactory.

Very little is known of the life history of the worm, or how it spends the early stages of its existence. It is a new discovery. It was first found and identified, only a short time ago, by Dr. John B. Smith, who, as entomologist attached to the New Jersey agricultural experiment station, at New Brunswick, has charge of the mosquito survey of his state, which has a wide-spread reputation for producing a remarkable crop of mosquitoes.

There are, as is well known, many species of mosquitoes in New Jersey. But the worst of them all, so far as ability to annoy goes, is the brute with striped legs. This is the real and original "Jersey mosquito." It breeds in marshes, though it flies thence for great distances, and scientific men know it as "Culex sollicitans."

Necessarily, this species cuts a very large figure in the problem which Dr. Smith is engaged in tackling. With a view to studying its life history in detail, he has built on a marsh a cage of wire net, with a framework of scantling, big enough for himself to occupy. In this cage he has reared the marsh mosquitoes, watching them through all the stages of their development, in the midst of their natural surroundings. Incidentally, he has subjected many specimens to microscopic examination, to find out how the egg-sacs of the females developed, and other such points.

On a number of occasions, while thus studying the female insects, he noticed that their abdomens seemed abnormally enlarged. Finally, his curiosity being aroused by this phenomenon, he tore open the belly of one of the insects, and found inside of it two-hair-like worms about a third of an inch long, and nothing else. They were something new to him, and so he sent the worms to the government helminthologist—signifying "worm man"—in Washington.

The worm man, Dr. Charles Wardell Stiles, promptly identified them as "round worms" of the kind popularly known as "hair worms" or "wire worms." He also gave them the long Latin name already mentioned, and said that they were undoubtedly parasites of the mosquito. But in the meantime Dr. Smith had started in to examine large numbers of marsh mosquitoes for worms. In a lot that was sent in from Barnegat bay he found many infested. In fact, every collection received at the experiment station from Raritan river to Cape May yielded numerous worms.

He thinks it beyond doubt that the parasite shortens the life of the mosquito it infects—though this, of course, is a matter unimportant compared to the prevention of reproduction. Apparently, the worm does not diminish the insect's appetite at all. One afternoon, at Anglesea, Dr. Smith occupied himself for an hour in capturing marsh mosquitoes that came to bite him, and found that fully half of them were infected.

On the other hand the infected insects were noticeably sluggish and easily recognized by their actions and appearances as diseased. Investigation showed that they were least numerous in places where the worms were most common. Evidently, then, the worms are agents of nature for keeping mosquitoes in check to a certain extent. They do the work with great effectiveness. It only remains to be ascertained whether their efficiency in this line can be importantly increased by artificial means.

In other words, is it practicable to breed the worms artificially and introduce them into mosquito-cursed places? The first thing to be done, obviously, in making such an attempt is to obtain definite and exact knowledge of the life history of the parasite. Fortunately, although almost nothing is known as yet on this subject, there is a good deal that can be inferred with reasonable certainty. For example, there is hardly any question of the fact that the worms breed in marsh mud.

Dr. Smith has found them not only in the adult mosquitoes, but also in the abdominal cavities of the larvae and pupae—the two forms of mosquito life following the egg, both of which are water-dwellers. It seems evident, then, that infection takes place in the water and nowhere else. That is to say, the worms (themselves water-dwellers) attack the "wrigglers" and the pupae into which these larvae transform themselves, and bore into their bellies

DISSERTATION ON THE DAWN

Humorous Writer in Lippincott's Makes a Few Remarks of More or Less Value.

The most difficult, exasperating and rantankerous pessimist with which the smiling, festive and irrepressible optimist has to deal is the fellow who takes some stock in the old saying that it is always darkest just before dawn. There is, of course, no argument over the fact that dawn is a joyous occasion, even if it is more pleasant to stay up for it, under proper conditions, than to get up for it, but, says the pessimist, admitting the truth of the adage, one cannot tell when it is darkest, until he actually sees the dawn. He is likely to say, furthermore, that if it's going to bring dawn any sooner, let it get dark as—almost anything, and the sooner and darker, the better.

One positively cannot argue against such logic, for, as aforesaid, dawn is a joyous occasion except to the man who is asleep, and he doesn't count. As for the man who is intoxicated, it is also a question whether many of the beauties of dawn are not lost, because he is already so busy with his own responsibilities that he cannot take on any new joy.

Then there is the man who would stay up all night in a brilliantly lighted room, practicing auto-suggestion by repeating the word "good." Under the glare of artificiality such a man would be prone to claim that there was no darkness outside, but that it was all inside. But, if after settling up, he went out at the first faint blush of dawn, it would look to him like about 30 cents' worth of adulterated tallow candles, and it might require several subsequent sittings with the cards running better to dispel the hallucination.

All these, of course, are exceptions which cannot be considered. Normally, darkness and dawn have to be taken just as they come, and they continue to come with regularity, pessimists and optimists to the contrary notwithstanding.—Lippincott's.

Perilous Ecclesiastical Croquet.

Deputy sheriffs are looking for Rev. Chandler A. Herzog of the United Church of Anthrax, O., to serve a summons on him in a damage suit for $2,500 which has been filed here by Christian K. Mentor of Anabel avenue, who alleges that the eastern divine fractured his skull with a croquet mallet.

In his complaint the smitten one states that the two engaged in a game of croquet. "When Herzog brought his ball on the ground through the wrong wicket," said Mentor, "I resented his action, and when I insisted he lifted his mallet and bounced it off my head. I remember no more until the hired girl told me I was better now."—Seattle Correspondent Los Angeles Times.

One of the worst coal mine disasters in the history of this country occurred at Cherry, Ill., this week. Over three hundred men lost their lives as the result of an explosion and one thousand children were rendered fatherless.

We are not an Anglo-Maniac—in fact, we have often been chided for our anti-English proclivities—but we do believe most sincerely that if a catastrophe like that that befell the coal miners in Illinois this week were to happen in England, somebody would be held responsible. Human life is held at too low a figure in this country.

President Taft has named Thursday, November 25th., as a general day of Thanksgiving. We are told to quit work—an easy job—and, by inference, eat something good—to all of which Barkis ascribes. We are quite willing to render thanks to the Almighty for his bounteous gifts, but we do not feel particularly grateful to his partner, who, by legislation, has attempted to clog the wheels of progress.

The term of court that closes tomorrow is the first that Judge Cooley has held in this county, and during that time, notwithstanding the difficulties under which he has labored, he has won the respect of all who have come in contact with him. On the attorneys who met him for the first time he made a strong impression by the quickness and accuracy of his judgment when legal points were in question. His decisions have been firm, and he has uniformly tempered justice with mercy. The sessions have been long and tedious, throughout which he proceeded in his usual smooth and pleasant way, despite the dark shadow that fell across his path during the first week of the term. He has shown in his entire conduct a desire to push business in such a way that the best interests of the county might be safe-guarded. For the many courtesies that Judge Cooley has extended the NEWS, we wish to tender him our sincere thanks. To all of the court officers, Clerk Downs, Stenographer Ungles, District Attorney Llewellyn and Sheriff Stevens, we also tender our hearty thanks for the many courtesies shown us.

Women Suffer Agonies
from Diseased Kidneys
And Most Women Do This Not Knowing the Real Cause of their Condition

These poor, suffering women have been led to believe that their misery of mind and body is entirely due to "ills of their sex." Usually the kidneys and bladder are responsible—or largely so. And in such cases, the kidneys and bladder are the organs, that need and must have attention.

Those torturing, enervating sick headaches, dragging pains in back, groin and limbs, bloating and swelling of the extremities, extreme nervousness or hysteria, listlessness and constant tired, worn-out feeling—are almost certain symptoms of disordered and diseased kidneys, bladder and liver.

DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder Pills have, in thousands of cases, been demonstrated as remarkably beneficial in all such conditions of female organism—affording the most prompt relief and permanent benefit.

As an illustration of what these Pills will do, Mrs. P. M. Bray of Columbus, Ga., writes that she was very ill with kidney trouble, and that she is now well—and that these Pills are what cured her.

They are very pleasant to take, and can in no case, produce any deleterious effects upon the system—as syrupy, alcoholic, liquid preparations are apt to do.

E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago, Ill., want every man and woman who have the least suspicion that they are afflicted with kidney and bladder diseases to at once write them, and a trial box of these Pills will be sent free by return mail post-paid. Do it to-day.

Mining Application No. 020698.

United States Land Office,
Roswell, New Mexico.

November 11, 1909.

Notice is hereby given that Chicago and Santa Fe Smelting and Mining Company, by John Y. Hewitt, its attorney-in-fact, whose postoffice is White Oaks, Lincoln county, New Mexico, has this day filed its application for a patent for the Hawkeye Group of mining claims, consisting of the Hawkeye Lode for 1270.90 feet, and the Red Rose Lode for 1255.15 feet of said veins, bearing gold, together with surface ground as shown on the plat on file in this office, situated in Jicarilla Mining District, Lincoln county, New Mexico, and described by the field notes on file in this office as Survey No. 1388, in unsurveyed township No. 5 S, range 12 E, New Mexico Principal Meridian. Said Survey No. 1388 being described as follows:

HAWKEYE LODGE.

Beginning at corner No. 1, whence the standard quarter section corner on the south side of section 34, township 5 S, range 12 E of New Mexico Principal Meridian, bears south 27° 53' west 5573.95 feet.

Thence north 16° 24' west 1289.7 feet to corner No. 2.

Thence north 58° 16' east, var. 13° 10' east, 477.55 feet to corner No. 3.

Thence south 22° 36' east, var. 14° east, 1259.81 feet to corner No. 4.

Thence south 58° 16' west 618.50 feet to corner No. 1, the place of beginning.
Area of this the Hawkeye Lode claim, 15,690 acres.

RED ROSE CLAIM.

Beginning at corner No. 1, whence the quarter section corner on the south side of section 34, township 5 S, range 12 E, New Mexican Principal Meridian bears south 15° 50' west 6730.11 feet.

Thence N, 10° 53' E, 383.30 feet to corner No. 2.

Thence S. 65° 21' E., 1254.15 feet to corner No. 3.

Thence S. 10° 53' W., var. 14° E., 385.30 feet to corner No. 4.

Thence N. 65° 21' W. 1254.15 feet to corner No. 1, the place of beginning.

Saving and excepting from this claim all that portion thereof in conflict with the Hawkeye Lode of this survey. Net area of this the Red Rose Lode 9,112 acres. Total area of this group, 24,802 acres.

Each of said mining claims is of record in the office of the Recorder of said Lincoln county, New Mexico.

The adjoining claims, so far as known, are on the east, Meadow Lark Lode, Zig Zag Lode, and public lands; on the north, Hard Luck Lode and public lands; on the west, Belle of New Mexico Lode, Hard Luck Lode and public lands; on the south, Belle of New Mexico Lode, Ready Cash and public lands.

Any and all persons claiming adversely the mining ground, veins, lodes, premises or any portion thereof so described, surveyed, platted and applied for, are hereby notified that unless their adverse claims are duly filed according to law and the regulations thereunder, with the Register of the United States Land Office at Roswell, New Mexico, during the sixty-days period of the publication hereof, they will be barred by reason of the statutes.

An Old Citizen Gone.

Colonel D. J. M. A. Jewett died at his home in Capitan on Tuesday night. His death was the result of general debility and old age. He was about seventy-eight years old. The remains were interred in the Capitan cemetery Wednesday evening, a number of old friends from here and Lincoln attending the funeral.

Col. Jewett was a native of Massachusetts, but spent a portion of his early life in England. He came to Lincoln county almost thirty years ago from Louisiana, to which state he moved soon after the civil war. His profession was law, but the past few years he had practically dropped out of active work.

The deceased had been failing for the past year, and even as far back as the first of the present year he seemed to have a premonition that he would not live to see another. He sent us at that time some verses that might indicate his belief in an early dissolution. The following selection is taken:

In the silent hours of the dying year
I turn my treasury o'er,
And lovingly linger with what remains
Of the loves of days of yore.

Childish letters stained with tears,
Relics of the buried years;
A tattered, scented glove;
Lace that curtained baby beds,
Curls once shed from baby heads,
Last legacies of love.

These be not dreams—These silent hours
Are peopled by other forms than ours:
On our earthly senses stealing,
Half their heavenly forms revealing,
Glimmering shadows—airy gnomes,
Fragrant of their heavenly homes.

A Box Car Robbery.

A box car was rifled in the yards on the morning of the 16th between 4 and 5 o'clock and two suit cases and three pairs of shoes taken therefrom. W. S. Kirby caught one of the men, John Williams by name, who had peddled some of the articles around town. Williams was given a preliminary hearing and he was remanded to jail in default of $300.00 bond. His other confederate had expressed a portion of the stolen goods to El Paso, and Q. Saddler is watching there for him.

Church Services.

Regular services of the Methodist church will be held in the court room next Sunday morning and evening.

The morning service at 11 o'clock and night service at 7:30 o'clock. Rev. Henry G. Miller, the recently appointed pastor, will preach both services. His theme for the peoples' service at night will be "What We All Want to See." Everybody is cordially invited to attend these services.

Sunday school at 10 o'clock in the same room.

"The House of Good Taste."

This has not been a very fat term of court for attorneys, because many of the defendants had no means of securing attorneys and they were appointed by the court. Two of the hardest fought cases were of this kind, and that the attorneys that were named by the court to defend did their duty, is attested by the fact that the defendants were acquitted. The first case was Harry Roy, charged with larceny, who was defended by Attorney Hall; the second, Juan B. Blea, on a charge of assault to murder, who was defended by Attorney Whorton. These attorneys certainly fought nobly, and their actions and success somewhat dispels the belief that a lawyer is only out for the money.

Attorney Dan Jackson of El Paso is attending the Lincoln court this week, and is defending Edwin Darling, accused of taking mortgaged property out of the territory, whose trial is in progress to-day.

CAPITAN.

C. M. Estes returned the early part of the week from El Paso.

Miss Margaret Gallacher was a visitor from White Oaks Tuesday.

J. B. Baird was over from Fort Stanton this week, visiting his parents.

W. H. Lumbley and wife came up Tuesday from Alamogordo, on their monthly rounds.

Lin Branum, a rancher of the Coyote Canyon, north of White Oaks, was in town yesterday.

Messrs. Taylor and Lafferty, block men from Richardson, were in town two or three days this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Hurt, of Capitan, mourn the loss of their infant of a week old, death occurring Tuesday.

Alfidelo Gonzales, formerly sheriff of this county, was in Carrizozo this week from his home at San Patricio.

The grand jury adjourned on Monday evening and most outside members left for their respective homes the following day.

Clement Hightower, of Capitan, has received an appointment as clerk in the census office at Santa Fe, and left Wednesday night to assume his duties.

Percival Brooks Coffin, a Chicago attorney, who represents a bond buying firm in the Windy City, was in Carrizozo Sunday. Mr. Coffin's firm already holds some Lincoln county bonds, and are willing to take more.

Mrs. Hattie Pons has been confined to her room with a severe cold this week, and has been unable to perform her duties in the postoffice.

Drs. J. Odd Hamilton and P. C. Smith, the Rosewell dentists, have been at the Lincoln Hotel for the past week in the exercise of their profession.

The many friends of S. T. Gray, of Capitan, will be glad to learn that he has about recovered from an attack of paralysis, from which he suffered some time ago, and is able to attend to his personal affairs.

Julio Miranda and Miss Paulita Montoya, two prominent young people of San Patricio were united in marriage at the local Catholic church early Monday morning, Rev. J. H. Girman, the parish priest, officiating.

Salome Bros. of Lincoln have sold out their stock of merchandise to W. P. Blevins. While we are very sorry to see the Salome Bros. leave us, yet, we hope that the new proprietor will be as successful as his predecessors.

Probate Clerk J. G. Riggle announces that while attending the meeting of County Commissioners at Carrizozo on the 23rd of November, Tuesday, he will also be prepared to transact other business for the convenience of the public.

Prof. O. T. Nye, principal of of the Lincoln schools, pleasantly entertained a party of friends Sunday night at the Lincoln hotel. Those present were: Misses Margaret Janes Harrison and Postmistress Mary Walters and Messrs. O. T. Nye, S. T. Gray, Jr., Drs. J. Odd Hamilton and P. C. Smith and Wm. F. A. Gierke.

W. H. Gleason, of Alamogordo died Wednesday morning at 1 o'clock in a hospital in El Paso, where he had been taken the day before. The direct cause of his death, we understand, was erysipelas, which developed from an abscess on the ear. The deceased was interested in business here and at Capitan, as well as in Alamogordo, his home.

Dr. Henry G. Miller arrived Saturday from San Diego, Cal., and preached Sunday at 11 a. m. Dr. Miller will fill the regular pulpit in the Methodist church the coming year. The minister is well and favorably known in this section, particularly in White Oaks, where he preached a number of years ago. Dr. Miller is one of the ablest divines in the southwest and is also a very entertaining lecturer. His many friends are delighted to see him assume the pastorate at this place and earnestly hope that he may be induced to deliver a series of lectures during the winter.

RURAL POSTAL SERVICE.

Seldom has a sapling grown to a tree in the time in which that young off-shoot of the postoffice department, the rural delivery system, has attained its full dimensions, says the Baltimore American. The development of the system that found its inception in Carroll county in this state, has been a marvel of public convenience. Up to the present time the service has cost the government $170,000,000, and the third year has not yet expired of the time of its full adoption. It now numbers daily 20,000,000 patrons and covers 40,919 routes. The advantage of the service and the extensions it has made to the postal facilities have done more than any other one thing, aside from modern methods of transportation and the telephone and telegraph, to promote intelligence in the country and to break the isolation of country districts. Yet when the service was started it was bitterly opposed for interested motives and the people whom it was designed to serve lamented the innovation.

Hazing will receive a severe check in the dismissal of the Pest Point cadets convicted of hazing Cadet Sutton. The punishment of ruined careers is a hard one for the folly in which the young men indulged, but they had the choice, with open eyes, between folly and a career, and if they chose the former they must, if the army service is to be maintained at a high standard of discipline, take the consequences. A young man thinks it of importance that "cocky" newcomers should have "the nonsense taken out of them." Public opinion and all experience show that it is far more important that the first lesson a soldier must learn is the great one of obedience, says the Baltimore American. If the two standards conflict, not even the most ardent excusers of youthful folly will contend that that of military obedience must go. If it is understood that punishment in this case is irrevocable, the persistence of hazing is apt to give way to determined authority.

Hon. Martin A. Knapp, chairman of the interstate commerce commission, believes there will be a tremendous increase in railroad tonnage this fall and he doubts the ability of the carriers to handle the goods. The great crops and the general revival of business mean a big demand for freight cars, with the likelihood of scarcity and congestion similar to the conditions of two and three years ago. Prudence would dictate, as the Wall Street Summary suggests, that the railroad companies make immediate provision for an increase of equipment. Indeed, that journal maintains that there should be always a reserve of 20 per cent. of the number of cars in common use, for the periods of emergency and pressure. The car builders should get a move on, and thus keep the track clear for the procession of reviving business.

Cupid goes a little too far when he makes a sailor desert from the navy to get married. Love may laugh at locksmiths, but it cannot make faces at Uncle Sam's rules and regulations without paying the penalty for so doing.

No law ever framed is worth the paper it is written on when a majority considers it unwise or unjust.

WOMAN DRESSED LIKE GIRL OF 14

WORE KNEE SKIRTS, KEPT HAIR "BOBBED" AND PLAYED WITH CHILDREN.

HAS TWICE BEEN MARRIED

Strange Fancy Alienates Her from Husband and Father—Arrested on a Charge of Swindling.

Philadelphia.—Acknowledging that she had lived a quarter of a century, but not looking more than 14 years old in the childish costume which she wears, Mrs. Elizabeth Stone the other day was held under $500 bail for a further hearing by Magistrate Rau, charged with obtaining goods valued at $3.25 from Fluck Brothers, druggists, on Ridge avenue, on bogus orders signed with the name of Dr. Irving Gilbert.

Her strange pleasure in wearing clothes suitable for a child of 12 or 14 years has not only caused the woman to be refused recognition by her father, but has caused her separation from her husband, who has refused to live with her because of her fancy for short dresses. According to the story she tells, she has been married twice, having divorced her first husband.

With her skirts to her knees and her hair "bobbed" in childish fashion, Mrs. Stone created a lot of surprise in police headquarters, where those who saw her took her for a child until they learned that she was 25 years old.

Mrs. Stone, or "Lizzie," as she was called by the children who played with her in the neighborhood of Twenty-third and Sharswood streets, called at the home of Mrs. Mary Krushyk, on Sharswood street, about three weeks ago, and asked if she could not have shelter for the night. Her father, she said, had been called to Baltimore to attend a sick brother, and she was afraid to stay alone in the house until his return.

"Lizzie" had been known to Mrs. Krushyk's children about a year previously, when she had endeavored to persuade them to go on the stage with her. At that time she gave her "stage" name as Lillian Hinton. It later developed that the woman is a clever child actress and well known in vaudeville.

Deceived by the childish appearance of the woman, Mrs. Krushyk admitted her, and allowed her to sleep with her own children for the night. The next day "Lizzie" requested that she be allowed to remain in the house as a boarder, and, while Mrs. Krushyk, who declared that she had enough to do to attend to her own six children, demurred, she finally agreed to admit the seeming child.

Until she was arrested she played with the children in Sharswood street, entered into their games, and otherwise acted as a child of her supposed years would be expected to act.

"Lizzie" was always ready for a game of tag.

"She completely fooled me," said Mrs. Krushyk. "She acted just like a child of 14, and was as small, and I didn't think she was anything else, although she lived here for almost three weeks, and I had lots of time to watch her. She acted just like a child would act and was fond of every childish game."

Finding that the children in the Krushyk household all wore their hair in braids, "Lizzie" tried to get them to have their hair "bobbed," like her own. "I wouldn't stand for that," said Mrs. Krushyk.

BATS CAUSE BOARDERS' PANIC

Scare Dozen Girls, and One Bites Only Male Boarder—Crowd Watches the Combat.

Philadelphia.—A swarm of bats invaded the boarding house of Mrs. John Bellam and threw 12 girl boarders into a panic, several of them having fainted before the bats were driven off or killed. William Leyhe, the only male boarder, in his fight against the winged intruders, was bitten on the hand, the bat's teeth sinking into the bone. He was treated at the Pennsylvania hospital.

Miss Agnes New, who occupies the third-floor front, was first to discover the bats. They swarmed through her window, flapping their wings and extinguishing the gas. Screaming with terror, the girl tried to reach the door, but was unable to find it. Her cries aroused the other occupants, who ran to her room and opened the door. The bats burst through the opening and flew in the faces of the other 11 girls, who were gathered in the corridor.

The dozen girls' shrieks aroused the entire neighborhood. A crowd gathered about the house, while Leyhe, who had come to the rescue, attempted to fight off the intruders. He succeeded in killing two and driving off all the others but one particularly ferocious animal, which darted about him and finally succeeded in biting him. Leyhe disregarded his wound, and after a chase killed the animal, which measured 16 inches from one wing tip to the other.

Hid for Month in Clock.

Paris.—A court-martial at Clermont-Ferrand has sentenced to three months' imprisonment, with the benefit of the first offenders' act, a young soldier named Bruno, who for 37 days disappeared from his regiment.

Bruno had been jilted by a young woman, and he wrote to the fickle girl that he intended to commit suicide. Then he disappeared, hiding in the great box containing the works of the large barracks clock. He only came out at night to go to the kitchen to steal food.

For 37 days he lived this life, and the officer really thought he had committed suicide. The court-martial consequently took a lenient view of the case.

Pet Snake Nips Charmer.

Los Angeles, Cal.—After walking the streets all night in the hope of finding some druggist who would sell him enough morphine to free him from terrible pain, C. A. Farar, a snake charmer, applied at the receiving hospital for treatment for a bite of a Mexican rattler. He may die.

HEALTH TOO PRECIOUS

"What do you mean by refusing to chop some wood after the good dinner I have give you!"

"Well, lady, de highest medical authorities gree dat workin' on a full stomach is injurious, an' I don't want to run any chances of ruinin' me superb health!"

CHILD ATE CUTICURA OINTMENT.

Spread Whole Box of It on Crackers—Not the Least Injury Resulted.

Cuticura Thus Proven Pure and Sweet.

A New York friend of Cuticura writes:

"My three year old son and heir, after being put to bed on a trip across the Atlantic, investigated the state-room and located a box of graham crackers and a box of Cuticura Ointment. When a search was made for the box, it was found empty and the kid admitted that he had eaten the contents of the entire box spread on the crackers. It cured him of a bad cold and I don't know what else."

No more conclusive evidence could be offered that every ingredient of Cuticura Ointment is absolutely pure, sweet and harmless. If it may be safely eaten by a young child, none but the most beneficial results can be expected to attend its application to even the tenderest skin or youngest infant. Potter Drug & Chem. Repatee in the Bright Family.

"The newspapers are making a great stir about men's disinclination to marry," remarked Mrs. Bright.

"The Bible says there are no marriages in heaven," commented Mr. B.

"And what has that to do with us?" Bright laughed.

"Perhaps they are figuring on having a little heaven on earth."

Constipation causes and seriously aggravates many diseases. It is thoroughly cured by Dr. Pierce's Pellets. Tiny sugar-coated granules.

Habitual Constipation

May be permanently overcome by proper personal efforts with the assistance of the one truly beneficial laxative remedy, Syrup of Figs & Elixir of Senna, which enables one to form regular habits daily so that assistance to nature may be gradually dispensed with when no longer needed, as the best of remedies when required are to assist nature, and not to supplant the natural functions, which must depend ultimately upon proper nourishment, proper efforts, and right living generally. IDEAS FOR THE CONSIDERATION OF THE HOUSEWIFE.

New Model of Stove Should Be of Value—Plain Sort of Inexpensive Bed Linen the Best—Novelty for Baby.

Many a housekeeper is beginning to look about for a new range for the kitchen, to have it in by the time the cold weather comes. There is a new model which has a special kind of draft that is guaranteed to save 60 per cent. of one's fuel bill. Rather a consideration, in these days of high coal bills, is it not?

Gay Japanese dishes are pretty on the breakfast table.

When buying very inexpensive table or bed linen or towels, it is best to get the plainest sort, as any extra fancy work put into them means that the difference is made up to the manufacturers by using a poorer grade of cotton.

The Heppelwhite pattern is very lovely on silver dressing table sets.

Pineapple crystals is a dainty dish, made of one slice of preserved pineapple inside a round of transparent lemon jelly.

A novelty for baby is a hammock with sides, so that he may swing out under the trees on fine days, with no danger of his falling out and bumping his nose.

A useful new kitchen accessory is a frying pan of gray enamel ware, which far surpasses the old-fashioned sheet iron variety.

A dainty color scheme for a small bedroom is gray and white, with wistaria hangings.

There is a very convenient, well-fitted dressing table which may be packed for traveling.

There are little silver rings to set a tumbler in so that it will not leave a mark on the tablecloth.

An excellent new invention is a glass ice cream freezer. It is perfectly sanitary, as there is no tin or germ-absorbing wood next the ice cream. It greatly simplifies the preparation of frozen dainties, as the busy housekeeper does not have to stop or turn a crank. The glass is merely packed in ice and the cream when hard pushed out in a firm roll.

Silver and white dishes are indescribably dainty and cool looking.

The Home.

A few shreds of candied orange peel will give a delicious flavor to a bread pudding.

Always use lard to grease your cake pans, as the salt in the butter causes it to stick to the pans.

A sponging with a solution of one part ammonia to ten parts of water is said to brighten the color of a faded carpet.

Don't light the kitchen fire unless there is water in the boiler. If not the rush of cold water is liable to crack the boiler.

If you want to keep your desserts on the top of the ice place a newspaper over the ice and your dishes never slip off or tip over.

Don't fill an oil or any other kind of stove or lamp when it is lighted. This seems superfluous advice, but with the coming of cool weather cannot be too often repeated.

Baked Lettuce.

Cut the roots off a head of lettuce, wash it thoroughly without separating the leaves, tie the tops together and lay in a baking dish with about two inches of meat stock. Cover and bake for half an hour. Remove the head with a fork and place on a hot dish. Season the stock with salt and pepper and a small lump of butter, beat in an egg and pour over the lettuce.

A NURSE'S EXPERIENCE.

Backache, Pains in the Kidneys, Bloating, Etc., Overcome.

A nurse is expected to know what to do for common ailments, and women who suffer backache, constant languor, and other common symptoms of kidney complaint, should be grateful to Mrs. Minnie Turner, of E. B. St., Anadarko, Okla., for pointing out the way to find quick relief. Mrs. Turner used Doan's Kidney Pills for a run-down condition, backache, pains in the sides and kidneys, bloated limbs, etc. "The way they have built me up is simply marvelous," says Mrs. Turner, who is a nurse. "My health improved rapidly. Five boxes did so much for me I am telling everybody about it."

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury, as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free. Sold by Druggists. Price, 75c. per bottle. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

The Way of It.

"But I don't love you," objected the young woman.

"Then why," howled the indignant youth, referring hastily to divers memoranda in his pocket diary, "did you eat up a total of 65 boxes of chocolates I bought you during the past year if you didn't love me?"

"Because," she said, with a rapt expression on her lovely features, "I do love chocolate."

Afraid of Ghosts

Many people are afraid of ghosts. Few people are afraid of germs. Yet the ghost is a fancy and the germ is a fact. If the germ could be magnified to a size equal to its terrors it would appear more terrible than any fire-breathing dragon. Germs can't be avoided. They are in the air we breathe, the water we drink.

The germ can only prosper when the condition of the system gives it free scope to establish itself and develop. When there is a deficiency of vital force, languor, restlessness, a sallow cheek, a hollow eye, when the appetite is poor and the sleep is broken, it is time to guard against the germ. You can fortify the body against all germs by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It increases the vital power, cleanses the system of clogging impurities, enriches the blood, puts the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition in working condition, so that the germ finds no weak or tainted spot in which to breed. "Golden Medical Discovery" contains no alcohol, whisky or habit-forming drugs. All its ingredients printed on its outside wrapper. It is not a secret nostrum but a medicine of known composition and with a record of 40 years of cures. Accept no substitute—there is nothing "just as good." Ask your neighbors.

Ours and Theirs.

"A play on names unconsciously perpetrated by my youngest son was very funny," said a Flatbush man the other day. "We live next door to a family named Feitenour, and the other night while my family was busy reading in the library we heard a racket on the back porch. My son went out to investigate, and on his return my wife, always inquisitive, asked what had caused the noise.

"'Nothin' but a couple of cats,' Jim told her, and then I heard her ask: 'Did you see whose they were?'"

"'Yes; one was ours and the other was Feitenour's.'"

Report of the Grand Jury.

To the Honorable Alfred W. Cooley, Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of the Territory of New Mexico and Presiding Judge of the Sixth Judicial Courts thereof:

Your Grand Jury having completed its work, begs leave to submit the following report:

We have investigated 81 cases of alleged criminal wrongdoing, in 44 of which we have returned true bills, in 33 cases no bills, and there were four cases that should not have been submitted to the grand jury.

The great amount of work and large number of cases coming before us was on account of there having been no term of court for Lincoln Co. since July, 1908. The failure to hold court when the county had ample funds we consider not only detrimental to our citizens generally, but also unfair to those who were accused of crime, some of whom have been in jail awaiting a hearing longer than justice should permit.

The knife and gun, encouraged by the liberal use of strong drink, have been responsible for much crime and disorder during the period covered by our investigations. The practice of selling liquor to habitual drunkards and those already half drunk, who are a menace or a nuisance in the community, cannot be too strongly condemned. The man behind the crime is often almost as guilty as the miserable wretch who suffers the penalty of the law for his vicious weakness. We are of opinion that if the law had been enforced by the county and precinct officers two homicides would have been averted, and the county spared the expense of investigating and prosecuting the offenders. One of these cases occurred on a Sunday.

The Sunday-closing law seems to have been quite generally observed, although there have been a few exceptions in which proof has been rather difficult. There seems to be an inclination in some directions to shield that sort of law violation and make investigation difficult and unpopular.

The so-called gambling law is not much better, if any, than open gambling. It should be made more effective by amendment or repealed.

Why Sunday in New Mexico should begin at sunrise is not very clear to us, unless it is for the purpose of enabling the man who works six days to spend his money Saturday night and before breakfast Sunday morning.

More diligence on the part of the officers might put a stop to some gambling, and keep every saloon closed on Sunday from sunrise to midnight. A more healthy and vigorous public sentiment, expressed in a frank and courageous manner, would do much good for Lincoln county, and possibly cause our officers to be more diligent in the discharge of their duties. We recommend that the honorable court instruct the sheriff to see that the Sunday law is enforced in the future.

We believe that when a felony is charged the committing magistrate should recognize all important witnesses for appearance before the grand jury. This would save time to the jury and expense to the county. We have found several cases where there was no evidence, or where what we found was too trivial to justify criminal complaint, and in some cases we believe the complaining witness has wilfully absented himself from the jurisdiction of this court.

We also recommend that your Honor direct the attention of the county officials to the 1909 statutes, as we are of opinion that some county and precinct officers may have been allowed fees more in conformity with custom than with law.

Your grand jury, owing to the distance from Lincoln, from whence the records of the county officers have not yet been moved to Carrizozo, and the many cases to be considered, deemed it not advisable to send a committee so far to make such a superficial examination of the books of the various officials as was possible at this time. Most of our people know enough of the old jail at Lincoln; and since a new one will probably be built somewhere soon a look at the old one now would do no good as far as we can see.

We wish to thank your Honor for the courteous consideration shown us, and to assure you of our great confidence and high respect.

We also tender our thanks to the court officers, all of whom have given us prompt attendance and careful attention, and we wish to call particular attention to the valuable services of our deputy district attorney, our stenographer and interpreter, who have been untiring in their assistance in the investigation of all matters coming before the grand jury.

And now, having completed our labors, we respectfully ask to be discharged.
