GAME LAWS OF THIS TERRITORY

There has been considerable inquiry of late in regard to the game laws of the territory, and at the request of several subscribers, we publish the following synopsis of these laws, hoping they may be a benefit to those wishing to take a fall trip into the mountains:

It is unlawful to kill any elk, mountain sheep, beaver or ptarmigan within the confines of New Mexico.

It is unlawful to kill any antelope, pheasant, bob-white quail or wild pigeon within the territory of New Mexico for a period of five years after passage of this act (passed in 1905.)

It is unlawful to kill, trap, ensnare, or in any manner to injure or destroy any deer within the territory of New Mexico, except that deer with horns may be killed with a gun only during the period commencing October 15 and ending November 31 of each year. Provided that no person shall kill or have in his possession more than one such deer during said period in each year. (Section 1, Chapter 105, '09.)

It shall be unlawful to kill, trap, ensnare or in any manner kill or destroy any native or crested quail within the territory of New Mexico, except that such birds may be killed with a gun only, during the months of October, November, December and January of each year. Provided, upon representation to the board of county commissioners of any county, if a petition signed by twenty-five householders of any precinct in such county, praying for the suspension of the restrictions of this section as to the killing of quail in any such precinct, it shall be the duty of such board to make and enter in the official record of the proceedings of such board, an order extending the time within which quail may be killed in any such precinct for a period of two months from and after the time hereinbefore limited, within which time quail may be killed. (Section 1, Chapter 105, '07.)

It shall be unlawful to kill, trap, ensnare or in any manner injure or destroy any wild turkey, mountain grouse or prairie chicken within the territory of New Mexico, except that such birds may be killed with a gun only during the month of October, November and December of each year. (Section 2, Chapter 51, '07.)

OSCURO HAPPENINGS

S. C. Hall transacted business in Carrizozo one day the first of the week.

Miles I. Jackson transacted business in Alamogordo a few days the first of the week.

E. F. Jones has commenced work on a residence on his homestead claim adjoining the town-site.

A number of our new settlers are having their claims surveyed this week ready for fencing and other improvements.

A big party of eastern people arrived Thursday noon and are busily looking the country over for choice homestead claims.

Manager E. G. Raffety is kept busy these days selling lots and looking after the many improvements which are being made by the town company.

Fred Olsen, the manager of the hotel at this point is kept quite busy these days looking for the comfort of the strangers who come in on nearly every train.

Among the new enterprises which are to start in our town during the next few weeks is a lumber yard. The Foxworth-Galbraith company is considering the question of starting one at once.

A party of stockholders in the Independence Mining company, operating in the San Andreas, some 25 miles west of here, came in from Larned, Kansas, Wednesday morning and went out to the mine. J. B. Leasure was acting as pilot for the company, which was composed of the following: Judge Labdel, Harry Eckert and Edward Lindas. They expect to remain about a week looking over conditions in the camp and seeing the sights in that region.

A BUSINESS DEAL

A deal has recently been closed at Tularosa by which the Tularosa Mercantile Company have acquired the business of W. D. Tipton of that town, consisting of his entire stock of general merchandise, store building, warehouse, dwelling, livery stable, etc.

The new corporation is composed of W. C. McDonald, E. L. Ulrich and J. H. Canning, of this city, and Watt Gilmore of Tularosa. Mr. Gilmore will have charge of the business, and it is the intention of the new corporation to go into the wholesale handling of baled alfalfa on a large scale, also to be large shippers of fruit and canteloupes in season. They will increase the stock carried by Mr. Tipton and expect to do a thriving business in that little city.

The woman's home mission of the first M. E. church south met at the home of Mrs. H. B. Tompkins yesterday afternoon and had a very interesting meeting. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. C. E. Patterson the first Thursday in October.

MELON RAISING IN KANSAS SAND

What New Mexico Farmers May do With Barren Land

For the first twenty years of the settlement of the central Kansas counties the territories lying in the west part of the county north of the Smoky hill river and known as the sand hills was considered worthless. It was for years unfenced and the owners did not get enough from the pasturage to pay the small taxes. The hills are thinly covered with grass, wild plum trees and the scraggly weeds that infest the open prairies in places where soil is light.

A half dozen years ago some settlers who had lived there and worked by the day elsewhere in order to earn a livelihood began raising watermelons and canteloupes and bringing them to town for sale on the street. That was the beginning of the usefulness of the sand hills.

The melon selling of the street developed until every year in late August and September a dozen wagons are lined up along the sidewalk opposite the postoffice and the citizens of the town buy their supplies there. Passing tourists stop for their share and one or two wagons are at the station when the through trains come in and they sale many melons to the passengers.

But that is merely the local trade. In the last few years there has been developed a shipping trade as well. The melon raisers are getting their cantaloupe seed from Rocky Ford. They are raising great watermelons that are equal to those of Georgia, from which state comes the seed. Whole car-loads in which every melon weighs over thirty pounds are common. It is becoming a science with the dwellers in the sand hills who are becoming the most prosperous of the country's settlers.

The buyers pay sixty-five to seventy-five cents a hundred pounds of melons as they are delivered to the car. One of the farmers took from an acre and a half $190 worth of melons and is not yet done picking. Over 200 acres of melons are yet to be harvested and will bring high prices, for this is a good melon year. Even the canteloupes are excellent and one can scarcely tell them from the Rocky Fords, so luscious are they. One of these days the sand hill melons will be crated and shipped to the east as are those from the upper Arkansas valley.

SCHOOL BONDS SOLD.

The school board have recently negotiated a sale of the school bonds of this district to a St. Louis firm at 96 cents, and the work of erecting the big school house will be started at once, and before long Carrizozo will have a school building worthy of the town.

TO MEND SILK STOCKINGS.

Method Only Requires a Little Care and Patience.

Silk stockings are among the expensive luxuries of a girl's wardrobe. The first cost is considerable, and they do not stand wear.

When the first stitch breaks their beauty is much impaired, if not actually destroyed. That one tiny break rapidly runs down the length of the stocking, and if not quickly mended the open strip speedily widens and the case is hopeless.

The usual way of mending is to sew the raveled edges together with over-and-over stitch, says Harper's Bazar. This may stop further raveling, but even with the greatest care there will be a fuzzy seam very conspicuous on the plain part of the stocking, and most unsightly on any part. A better way, which only requires patience, is to pick up the stitches and crochet the edges together with a fine needle and fine silk of the same color.

The seam then will never be noticed by anyone but the wearer.

USES FOR OLD WAISTS.

In Many Ways They Can Be Utilized for Other Garments.

Discarded white shirtwaists are not the useless articles they first appear. One with a pretty front may be cut out in neck and arms for a corset cover.

A child's guimpe or a lady's chemisette may also be cut from the portions of handsome waists, while turn-over collars are easily obtained from embroidered fronts. The edges are bound around with bias folds of narrow braid, says an exchange.

A plain shirt waist forms a good foundation for a chemisette of sheer material, as it aids in holding that decidedly-inclined-to-wander article in place. The sleeves and neck are cut out, the armholes bound and the chemisette stitched into position.

If desired the tall portion may be cut away with extra bulk at that point. A narrow hem will answer as a finish.

Plums with Cream.

Have you tried eating plums with cream? Some persons like good sweet plums, peeled and stoned and sliced with sugar and cream, like other fruits, or only with cream.

Make plum jelly by scalding the plums and throwing away the first oily butter water, more than one if it comes off greenish and strong. Cover the fruit with fresh water and cook until the juice is red and strongly flavored with the fruit. Pour this off and use for jelly, with the usual amount of sugar, straining it before using for jelly. The plums left in the kettle will be nearly whole. These will make good plum pies or sauce when sifted, because they have not been pressed at all.

Scald plums in this way for sauce; it is the bitter oil in the skins that makes the fruit less palatable. Stewed plums are delicious when rightly cooked and are also choice when poured over a batter, or cottage pudding.

Another Honey Cake.

Two pounds of honey, two pounds of flour, one-half pound of butter, six ounces of almonds chopped fine, one-eighth of an ounce of ground cardamom, one-quarter ounce of ground cloves, one ounce of pure carbonate of potash, dissolved in a little water. Let the honey and butter come to a boil, and, when cool, add the spices, almonds and flour, and lastly the potash. Let the dough stand over night. Roll out into a sheet a quarter inch thick and bake in a moderate oven. Cover with white frosting.

Chocolate Fig Cake.

One and one-half cups sugar; one-half cup butter; one-half cup milk; three eggs; two teaspoonfuls baking powder; two and one-half cups flour; eight teaspoonfuls of unsweetened chocolate cooked in one-half cup of milk until it thickens. Filling—Pound of figs, chopped fine; one-half cup of sugar; boil until it thickens, stir in one cup of English walnuts, chopped fine, and spread between layers and on top.

French Pudding.

Whites of six eggs, three-fourths cup prunes cooked and chopped fine, ten cents' worth English walnuts, cup sugar; put sugar through sieve three or four times; cup nuts and prunes, beat egg, stir together in bowl; put in pan and bake in slow oven for 40 minutes.

Potato Biscuit.

One and one-half cups of flour, one teaspoonful of baking powder, one-half teaspoonful salt, one cup of mashed potato. Mix all with a little milk to moisten to the thickness of baking powder biscuit, roll out, cut in rounds, and bake 20 minutes in a quick oven.

Paraffin as a Cleaner.

Shabby black bedsteads will not only be cleaned, but greatly improved in appearance, if rubbed over with a cloth dipped in paraffin.

MCKINLEY MONUMENT

To Be Dedicated in Buffalo Sept. 5, Former Residents Invited.

The beautiful white marble shaft erected by the state of New York in Niagara Square, Buffalo, N. Y., to the memory of President McKinley, is to be formally dedicated Thursday, Sept. 5, and the event will be the central feature of Buffalo's Old Home Week, Sept. 1 to 7. Former residents of Buffalo and the public at large are cordially invited to attend the dedication.

The McKinley monument was planned and executed under the direction of a commission of prominent men, at a cost of $150,000. Gov. Charles E. Hughes, with his military staff, will take part in the ceremonies and President Roosevelt and former President Grover Cleveland have been invited to attend and speak. Military parades will be a feature of the occasion.

SPAIN FAR BEHIND NATIONS.

Illiteracy Prevails There to a Most Amazing Extent.

Of the 20,000,000 people inhabiting Spain, only about 35 per cent. can read and write; another two and one-half per cent. of the population can read without being able to write, but the remaining 62½ per cent. are absolute illiterates. In the south of Spain it is impossible to get a servant who can read and write, and many of the postmen are unable to tell to whom the letters they carry are addressed. They bring a bundle of letters to a house and the owner looks through them and takes those which are (or which he thinks are) addressed to him. The Spanish postmen are not paid by the state; the recipient of the letters have to remunerate them according to the amount of their correspondence, and each letter costs the addressee at least one cent. It is a joke among the easy-going Spaniards that he who treats the postmen best receives the most letters—whether they are intended for him or not.

FEARFUL BURNING SORES.

Boy in Misery 12 Years—Eczema in Rough Scales, Itching and Inflamed—Cured by Cuticura.

"Cuticura has put a stop to twelve years of misery I passed with my son. As an infant I noticed on his body a red spot and treated same with different remedies for about five years, but when the spot began to get larger I put him under the care of doctors. Under their treatment the disease spread to four different parts of his body. During the day it would get rough and form like scales. At night it would be cracked, inflamed and badly swollen, with terrible burning and itching. One doctor told me that my son's eczema was incurable, and gave it up. I decided to give Cuticura a trial. When I had used the first box of Cuticura Ointment there was a great improvement, and by the time I had used the second set of Cuticura Remedies my child was cured. He is now twelve years old, and his skin is as fine and smooth as silk. Michael Steinman, 7 Sumner Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y., April 16, 1905."

Peace Dove Evidently Needed.

During the session of the house of representatives a dove, purple in color, flew gracefully into the hall and hovered high over the heads of the legislators. Naturally the question arose as to whether it was the dove of peace. Some of the members earnestly hoped that it was.—Hartford Times.

The biggest trap-shooting event of the year, known as the Grand American Handicap, held at Chicago in June last, resulted in an overwhelming victory for Winchester Shells. With these the Professional Championship was won by W. R. Crosby, of O'Fallon, Ill., and the Amateur Championship by Hugh M. Clark, of Urbana, Ill.

District Densely Populated.

The District of Columbia has the greatest population a square mile of any section of this country. The figures are slightly more than 3,839. In Alaska there is only one person to ten square miles. Rhode Island is second to Washington, with 407 persons a square mile.

If a man occasionally tells a woman how pretty she looks she will forgive most of the other lies he tells her.

For Better or Worse.

A census-taker made his rounds in an isolated village. He gave one of his official papers to a woman that she might fill in the required answers. One of the questions, instead of reading "Married or single," had it "Condition as to marriage." The woman filled in the answer thus: "Awful hard up before. Wuss after."

WARM DAY DAINTIES

EXCELLENT FOR SUMMER AFTER-NOON TEAS.

Departure from the Old-Fashioned Meat and Bread Sandwich—Beverages to Take the Place of Iced Tea.

Everyone has tired of the old-fashioned meat and bread sandwiches and something new that will please the palate on hot and sultry afternoons will surely be welcomed. A very economical way of using up fish, and one of the most popular of the new sandwiches is made as follows:

Take the yolks of six hard-boiled eggs and rub them to a paste, and mix it with the same quantity of cold fish that has chilled in the ice box. Spread this mixture on crisp lettuce leaves, add a dash of mayonnaise dressing and spread between thin slices of white bread.

Another sandwich that can be made in a few moments' notice is by chopping two large crisp cucumbers very fine, and add to this a little onion juice, just enough to give it a flavor, and a little bit of cayenne pepper. Mix this with a little mayonnaise dressing and spread on thin slices of white bread.

Instead of the peanut butter that comes prepared in cans and has stood in the shops for months, try this: Take a quart of peanuts, shell and blanch them, and then put them through the coffee mill or very fine chopping machine. Salt this to suit your taste, and add to it enough port wine, sherry, or any home-made wine to make it a soft paste. Spread on buttered white bread.

By now, you may have become tired of the ice tea, and it is too warm for chocolate, and nothing is more refreshing than the following punch served to a friend on a hot afternoon: Put a heaping tablespoonful of good tea in a pitcher, pour over it a quart of boiling water and let it stand for a few moments—covered. Strain this into a bowl or large pitcher, add one pound of sugar, juice of six lemons and two oranges, and a quart of apolinaris. Be liberal with your ice, and it will also add to the flavor to put in a few strawberries or raspberries, and a cucumber peel. This recipe will make ample punch for a dozen people.

Fruit Punches.—Take a pint of fresh raspberries and a quart of currants, wash and then bruise them. Pour over these two quarts of water and a half-pound of sugar (preferably brown). Let this come to a boil very slowly, then remove and strain through a jelly bag. This should be allowed to cool, then set on the ice. It should be served in individual glasses with a large piece of ice.

Another fruit punch is made by first boiling one pint of sugar with one quart of water and the juice of two lemons. Into this grate the rind of three oranges. Let it boil several minutes, then set it aside to cool. Into your punch bowl or extremely large pitcher put plenty of ice, and slice three oranges very thin, cutting the pieces in half. Take six oranges and squeeze only the juice into the pitcher or bowl, and a pineapple cut in very thin, small pieces. Over this pour the syrup that has cooled, and then add any berries you may have.

Lamb and Green Peas Salad.

What to Eat gives us a picture and recipe of lamb and green peas salad that looks and sounds very attractive and not difficult.

Materials—One pint green peas (cooked), half a cup of boiling water, one pint cooking lamb cut in cubes, three tablespoons of sugar, half a cup of celery cut in cubes, five tablespoons of vinegar, one bunch (two dozen sprigs) mint, a quarter of a teaspoon of red pepper, half teaspoon of salt, one-half cup strong stock, two tablespoons of granulated gelatine, mayonnaise, lettuce leaves.

Cress Sandwiches.

Wash watercress and dry it, rejecting the tougher stems and all withered leaves. Dip each spray in a French dressing made by mixing a tablespoonful of vinegar with four tablespoonfuls of olive oil, a teaspoonful of salt and a salt spoonful of white pepper. Stir until the mixture is thick and smooth before putting in the cress. Have ready white bread buttered and cut thin, and lay the cress between two slices of bread.

Eggless Cake.

Two cups brown sugar, one-half cup butter, two cups sour milk, two teaspoons soda, two cups chopped raisins, one-half teaspoon cloves, one teaspoon cinnamon, flour to make quite stiff. A nice addition to this cheap cake is some chopped hickory nut meats.

Popcorn with Soup.

Instead of serving crackers with soup use popcorn. It gives the soup a delicate flavor and does not get pasty like crackers. This looks attractive, which makes it more appetizing.

In a recent issue of Mines and Mining appears the following merited tribute to the prospector: It takes a prospector to find a mine and a capitalist to make one. The prospector is a mountain navigator—an explorer suffering manifold hardships, persistent and skillful in reading the rocks he toils by day and sleeps exposed at night. At last after years of hard work, perhaps, he makes his strike and tells about it. Capital steps in and investigates. The prospect looks good and receives a favorable report, and he sells, often for a song comparatively. The power of the almighty dollar now moves machinery to the spot, railroads follow, and soon the world reads of another bonanza. The prospector is hunting for another mine and does seem satisfied unless he is "in the hills." Yet, after all, is he not far happier than the millionaire with his bad stomach and head aches?

We are in receipt of the programs for the Big Territorial Fair which opens on the 7th of next month at Albuquerque, and it proves the fact that this is to be the grandest of all the grand exhibitions which have been held in the territory. More than $20,000 are being spent on this year's fair, and the program covers the best in the way of sports, such as horse races, ball games, bronco breaking contests, etc., and also a large number of special attractions, many of which have never before been seen in the southwest. Without doubt the Territorial fair this year will be a record breaker.

Prominent men from both parties in the territory are coming out in favor of the early calling of a constitutional convention. Very few of our citizens were in favor of joint statehood at the time it was put to a vote, but they were willing to take any thing the administration would give for the sake of getting statehood. That measure was killed and now we seem to be in a better position than ever to secure single and separate statehood. Our people should leave no stone unturned that will aid in securing it.

The Standard Oil Company is holding back on paying the fine of $29,000,000 imposed upon it by Judge Landis, in the United States court in Chicago, for violations of the interstate commerce law. All joking aside, no one can seriously blame the company for this stand. People generally kick at paying small fines, and why not the Standard oil company at large ones.—New Mexican.

Thousands of dollars are sent out of New Mexico every year for butter and eggs, yet there is no place in the world where these things can be produced to as good advantage as in the fertile valleys of this territory. A fortune awaits the person who gets in on the ground floor in the poultry or creamery business.

Speaking of trusts, a meteor trust is the latest thing out. The Tucumcari Trust company has secured the only piece of the meteor which created so much interest in this part of the territory which has not been discovered as yet, so it may be said to have a corner on that particular article.

There may be a slight fall in stock markets where gambling is carried on, but as long as business throughout the west is taking as much of the manufactured products of our mines, the stocks of reliable concerns are good property to invest in.

Automobile lines are becoming quite common over western Texas and New Mexico. They are necessary and profitable, and it will not be strange if in many cases they act as advance couriers for new railroads.

The mercantile business of the United States has reached such proportions that it now looks as if the coal supply would all be used up by it and the navy will have to do without.

The fact that last Saturday, the sixth anniversary of the death of Minley, passed unnoticed, is mute testimony to the old saying that heroes are soon forgotten.

UNDER THE ROSE

Is the title of the serial story now running in the columns of The El Paso Herald. It is a story of the French court, when Francis I. was king—a clean, wholesome story that may be read with profit by every member of the family. The title of the story is significant.

When, in the year 447 B. C. Pausanias and Xerxes, were plotting for the subjugation of Greece to Persian rule, the intrigue was carried on in a building whose roof was a bower and a garden of roses. Xerxes, in cautioning silence, haphazardly referred to the roses above them, so that between these men the significance of the flower came to be secrecy. It afterward became the custom of the Athenians to wear roses in their hair whenever they wished the communications among themselves to be kept inviolate. Then an ancient myth was that Cupid gave Harpocrates, the god of Silence, a rose for a bribe not to betray the amours of Venus. Thus rose has become the emblem of silence; and things said and done "Under the Rose" are secret and confidential.

CORONA CHRONICLES

A. J. Atkinson has nearly completed his fine new residence building.

N. B. Brown made a large shipment of fine cattle from the shipping yards here last week.

J. B. Perry, of the firm of Slack
& Perry, was down to Carrizozo on business a few days last week.

The large hotel and rooming house of Mr. Beason is completed and will soon be opened for business.

The construction of a fine new building for Mr. Stepp has begun and will be pushed as rapidly as possible.

A fine large boy came and took up his residence with Mr. and Mrs. Zeb Brooks last week. All are reported as doing fine.

A large number of stockmen and ranchers from out in the country districts are coming to Corona and buying lots for the purpose of building homes in order to take advantage of the good schools for their children.

The people of our town have completed the required amount of money for the erection of an addition to the public school and the work of building began Monday. This addition will give Corona abundant accommodations for the present necessities of the district, and the management of our school has secured the best teachers to be had in this region with a view of having one of the best schools in the territory.

"Fighting the Flames"

The most sensational attraction ever offered in the west and one which has never before been seen outside the large cities, is coming to Albuquerque for the New Mexico Territorial Fair, October 7-12.

This is the tremendous scenic production 'Fighting the Flames,' which in two seasons at Coney Is-lan, New York, received more than $2,000,000 of paid admissions and created a tremendous sensation all over the east.

'Fighting the Flames' remained at Coney Island for two years. It then went to White City, Chicago, where it proved even more popular. The attraction has since been in Omaha, Kansas City and Denver, and comes from Denver directly to Albuquerque for the week of the Fair.

Some idea of the magnitude of this attraction can be gained from the fact that it requires more than two weeks to set up the paraphernalia which covers almost an entire city block.

'Fighting the Flames' is realism personified. It is a reproduction of a city in flames, and the struggles of the firemen to check them.

With the company are some of the most famous fire fighters of the United States. Man like Fire Chief Roberts, of Denver, who can command large salaries from any municipality in the country.

'Fighting the Flames' will be in Albuquerque during the entire week of the Fair.

The announcement is made to the public that Jas. Legie, who for several years has been the business manager of the International American, at Douglass, Arizona, has recently become interested in

THE OUTLOOK

CARRIZOZO, NEW MEXICO.

Individual Tastes.

Some parents want to choose the future calling of their child themselves, without regard to his or her likes or dislikes. A man often wants his boy to acquire his own particular trade or profession, when it often happens that the child positively dislikes the work, and possesses talent for something else, if he is only given a chance to cultivate it. This opposition, however, is sometimes more of a help than a hindrance, for the boy is filled with ambition, and is determined to succeed, to show father that he can make his way in the world, notwithstanding the parent's objections, and he goes to work with a courage and resolution that nothing can daunt. He overcomes objections after a time, and generally gains the help and approbation of his father after he has shown that he possesses the grit, perseverance and independence essential to success. This diversity of tastes is often strikingly illustrated in a family of girls. There is usually one girl that always helps mother with the cooking, and at an early age is skilled in all the mysteries of bread and cake-making, putting up fruit in various ways, converting it into jelly, jam, preserves and pickles. She can wash, iron and scrub and is spoken of among her acquaintances as a model girl. Her sister never has "good luck" with her biscuit, and her cakes always fail to meet expectations; but she is equally useful in her way, for she is the dress-maker for the family, and saves many a big bill by her taste and readiness in using the needle. But there is another who is at the same time the pride and shame of the household. She will not sew, and, if forced to do so, the work has to be ripped out and sewed over by some one else. She despises the kitchen work, and if sent to wash the dishes is found perched in an apple tree with a book in her hand, but she always stands at the head of her class, and steps off with the first prizes. She is snubbed in the family circle on account of her uselessness, but is always brought forward when company comes, to astonish them with her learning. Parents should make a study of each child's disposition, says New York Weekly, and endeavor to discover in what direction their respective talents point, if they have any, and give them all the help in their power to improve their natural abilities. Many a promising future has been wrecked for lack of a little assistance and encouragement at the right moment.

New York's East side figures in the minds of many persons, not only inside, but outside of that metropolis, as a region of slums, inhabited by overworked and underpaid toilers in sweat shops and an otherwise oppressed and half-starved population. But a recent statistical report of banking business in the state shows one savings institution, whose patrons are mainly from the supposed poverty-stricken quarter, whose deposits are in excess of $100,000,000, belonging to about 150,000 persons. From which it will be seen that too much importance should not be placed on the illustrated stories of East side misery in the yellow magazines.

A physician writes to a New York paper urging the value of the Turkish bath as a remedy for blood poisoning, and, in fact, for many other bodily ills. He would have public Turkish baths established so that every citizen might take one once a week or oftener. It is so hard to keep up with these medical men. After having been told by them many years that the Turkish bath must be used by most people with caution and at infrequent intervals this transformation of it into a daily necessity, says the Indianapolis Star, is surprising, not to say disconcerting.

Canadian justice now has a chance to deal with the unwritten law. The jealous wife in the case became a storm-brain or otherwise—and took the law into her own hand, also a rawhide. She laid chastening stripes upon a girl in blue, the color of the suit being immaterial in the eyes of the law. The irate wife also attacked under the hair-pulling rules, used her fists and had the humiliation of bringing up second in a foot race. Justice is stone blind across the border, but not deaf. Will it acquit this wife under the unwritten law?

NO GAIN AND SOME LOSS.

Neighbor's Comment in Which There Seems a Strain of Sarcasm.

"Yes," the leader of the amateur brass band was saying, "it's curious to see what an effect learning to play a horn has on some persons. I used to be a pretty good bass singer, but I can't sing worth a cent now."

"Does learning to play a horn spoil the voice?" asked his next-door neighbor.

"It did mine."
"How do you account for it?"
"I don't know how to account for it. Strains the vocal chords, perhaps. All I know is that I blew my voice out through the mouthpiece of my cornet."

"Did you have a good voice?"
"Everybody said so."
"Then it's a great pity you ever learned to play a horn," rejoined his neighbor, shaking his head sadly. "I—er—think I should have enjoyed hearing you sing."—Youth's Companion.

THE NEW YORK LIFE'S PROGRAM.

Economy, Publicity and the Paramount Interest of Policyholders.

President Kingsley, of the New York Life Insurance Company, says, in an address to the policyholders, that his plan of administration involves these points:

"First: Strict economy; second, the widest, fairest and fullest publicity; third, the continuance of the New York Life as a world-wide institution; fourth, such an amount of new business under the law as we can secure while practicing intelligent economy, and enforcing the idea that the interest of the policy-holder is paramount."

The Advantage of Reading.

"Beg pardon, sir," said the weary hobo as he stood at the farmhouse door, "but might I sleep in your barn to-night? I haven't had a roof over my head for ten days."

"I congratulate you," said the kindly farmer. "That is a splendid thing. I have just read in one of my ten-cent magazines that it is not too much to say that to the delicate, highly-strung, easily-knocked-up individual the advantages of sleeping in the open air are enormous. Pallid cheeks take on a ruddy hue, colds are unknown, nerves are forgotten, and irritability becomes a phase of the past. A small plot and a little perseverance are the only necessities and the result is assured. You are very welcome to the use of my potato patch, and my sky is at your disposal."—Judge.

Long Time to Sweep.

Everything, even a magnificent church, must be regarded from the point of view of the beholder. A London paper says that two country girls, who acted as if they might be enjoying a holiday from domestic service were observed walking down the aisles of St. Paul's Cathedral. Under the great dome one of them stood and gazed around her with an air of such wonder that a spectator might well suppose that she was awestruck by her solemn surroundings. But when she spoke, the idea was dissipated. "Oh, Sarah," she exclaimed, "wouldn't this place take a long time to sweep?"

SOAKED IN COFFEE

Until Too Stiff to Bend Over.

"When I drank coffee I often had sick headaches, nervousness and biliousness much of the time, but when I went to visit a friend I got in the habit of drinking Postum.

"I gave up coffee entirely and the result has been that I have been entirely relieved of all my stomach and nervous trouble.

"My mother was just the same way. We all drink Postum now, and without coffee in the house for 2 years, we are all well.

"A neighbor of mine, a great coffee drinker, was troubled with pains in her side for years and was an invalid. She was not able to do her work and could not even mend clothes or do anything at all where she would have to bend forward. If she tried to do a little hard work she would get such pains that she would have to lie down for the rest of the day.

"At last I persuaded her to stop drinking coffee and try Postum Food Coffee and she did so and has used Postum ever since; the result has been that she can now do her work, can sit for a whole day and mend and can sew on the machine and she never feels the least bit of pain in her side, in fact, she has got well and it shows coffee was the cause of the whole trouble.

"I could also tell you about several other neighbors who have been cured by quitting coffee and using Postum in its place." "There's a Reason." Look in pkg. for the famous little book, "The Road to Wellville."

SHADE FOR THE CANDLE.

Pretty and Novel Affair by No Means Hard to Make.

So many persons find the light from a candle or lamp trying on the eyes that they always insist on shades of some sort.

A pretty and novel affair for a candle may be made of strong wire bent into a rectangular shape, six inches wide at the bottom, with the inner side 12 inches tall and the outer seven and one half. This will give a decided slope to each top.

Make two of these frames and cover them neatly with silk muslin of a very thin liberty silk.

This cover may then be painted or it can be studded in conventional design in sequins. Tie the backs together with bows of narrow ribbon for hinges, and around the top and two shorter sides sew a box-plate of narrow lace.

The candle is, of course, placed between the two leaves when they are opened wide. Extreme care must be taken to observe this precaution, as a fire might easily result from such inflammable materials in close proximity to flame.

KEEPING SHOES IN ORDER.

Ways by Which Best Results Can Be Obtained.

White buckskin should be cleaned with the best pipe clay, which must be dampened before using.

Patent leather shoes should first be wiped dry with a soft cloth before placing them on the shoe tree, then wiped with a soft cloth dipped in warm soapy water.

A little vaseline should be applied from time to time, especially after a wetting. The shine may be restored by rubbing with a piece of soft silk or black velvet.

Leather nowadays is rendered independent of the ill effect of dampness. Shoes can, therefore, generally be washed with tepid water when soiled, a piece of soft linen being dampened and applied all over the shoe.

Spanish Pigs' Feet.

Take eight clean, fresh "trotters," cut each into four pieces; then boil until nearly done. Take the pigs' feet out and lay to one side. Boil in the liquid one pint of tomatoes and one pound of parboiled tripe, cut fine; one small garlic, mashed fine; six potatoes sliced diamond shape, half cupful of rice, half a cupful of Indian curry. When almost done put the pigs' feet back, taking care that they are well covered with the liquid, and let it all boil until the pigs' feet are done. Be sure not to let the pigs' feet fall apart or have the sauce too thin. This is a favorite Spanish recipe.

Beef Tenderloin and Bananas.

Cut beef tenderloin into pieces, two and one-half inches thick, broil and season. Have gravy ready made as follows: One tablespoonful of butter, two tablespoonfuls of flour, one cup of milk, one-half teaspoonful of salt, one-quarter teaspoonful of pepper, one heaping tablespoonful of horseradish; boil and strain. Fry in two table-spoons of olive oil two large firm bananas cut lengthwise; be careful not to break. Pour one-quarter of a cup of sherry in and baste over bananas. Place two halves over each piece of meat on platter and pour gravy around.

Care for Soft Corns.

Each morning before putting on the stocking, tear off a strip of the margin of a newspaper, and wrap it around the toe next to the one that has the soft corn on. Get it exactly opposite, so that the corn will rest against the paper. This will keep perspiration from irritating the corn and the natural friction of the toes in walking will grind the corn down until it will entirely disappear. In the meantime you will enjoy life, for you will get the benefit as soon as the paper is adjusted.

Prepare Pineapple.

Cut off top and bottom, first with a large sharp butcher knife, then slice any thickness desired. Lay each slice flat on the table and trim off the edge with a small, sharp and pointed paring knife. Then take up in the fingers and remove what is left of the eyes. This method saves time, trouble, waste and the cutting of one's fingers.

Rhubarb Jelly.

Wash and cook rhubarb until tender, adding enough water to keep from burning. Strain through cheese cloth; add one cup of sugar to every cup of juice; add the juice of one lemon to every quart; boil 20 minutes.

Sardine Sandwiches.

Take one can of sardines put up in oil, mix well with fork, adding enough catsup to make bright red. Mix thoroughly and spread on thin buttered slices of bread. The mixture provides enough for one loaf of bread.

Beware of Greed for Gold.
