LAND OF OPPORTUNITY

Not half of the Truth is Yet Known about New Mexico and Arizona

LAWS TO PROTECT INVESTORS

If they were located in some less favored section, less rich in resources; less promising in possibilities, it would be a matter of somewhat less importance and less moment what Arizona and New Mexico might incorporate into their constitutions. But as both are destined to become the richest and most important states of the Union at an early day, it is properly a matter of serious concern not alone to the citizens of the territories themselves, but to the whole country that the organic law of both shall be wise and safe.

Few people outside the territories, and not many within their boundaries, realize what a wonderful land with more wonderful possibilities is embraced in what are about to become states of the Union.

New Mexico has the finest coal field, containing the best quality of coal in the largest veins of any state in the Union and in is practically untouched. It is rich in gold, silver, lead and copper. It has the greatest deposits of soda, saltpetre alum and other salines of any state. It has millions of acres of fertile lands and the streams from which to obtain water for irrigation which would make bountiful crops of every kind as certain as fate. It has vast ranges covered with sheep, horses and cattle. It has some of the most beautiful forest reserves in the country, and a delightful, healthful and health restoring climate.

And in both territories are the very finest type of manhood on the continent. Every state in the Union has contributed to the population and the environment has made of the residents courageous, sturdy, self reliant, honest men. The boy is a man from the time he can walk and ride. They love their locale, and naturally strike out to overcome the obstacles the undeveloped land presents. There are no molly-coddles. There are some sections where the laws has not the force and the authority that it has in the older communities, because sparsely settled sections make it necessary for the man to be a law unto himself in the protection of his life and property. This, however, is passing rapidly. The gun men, with the rustler, are fast becoming traditions in the face of growth in population and the multiplication of schools.

When in either territory the population becomes large enough and public improvements become necessary, no makeshift is provided, but the very best that money can buy are installed. Villages with $40,000 school buildings are not rare. This to show the public spirit and the indomitable ambitions of the people of the two territories.

The opportunities which both offer to the young man, imbued with the spirit of enterprise, with self reliance, grit and the other qualities that make a man and a valuable citizen, are unsurpassed.

As soon as half the truth becomes known about this rich section, and as soon as wise, sane organic laws have been adopted by Arizona and New Mexico and the people find that their fullest rights are guaranteed, their capital and investments and the results of enterprise and industry are safeguarded and all are on an equal footing under the law, and the citizen holds the power to direct and control officials and their acts, there will be a wonderful inflow of capital and brains and brawn that will place the new states in the van of all others.

Therefore and wherefore the necessity of care and wisdom in the framing of the constitution and the apparently officious interest of the outsiders in urging and pleading for non-partisan conventions to formulate those instruments which must for all time remain, in their essence, the highest law of the commonwealths and the Magna Charta of the people.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

—School will commence in Carrizozo on September 12th.

—Sheriff Charley Stevens was down Wednesday distributing ballot boxes for the election Tuesday.

—Johnson Brothers drove Ira O. Wetmore and wife in from Roswell in their Buick car Tuesday.

—Frank Sager and family have returned from their camping trip on the Bonito.

—Doc Lacey has accepted a position with the Eagle Mining Company at Parsons.

—Thomas Davis has returned here to take charge of the railroad store, after being at Tecolote thirty days.

—Dr. Guido Ranniger came in Wednesday from Capitan where he had been called on professional business and left that night for his home in Osuro.

—George Spence has rented an office in the Bank building and will practice law exclusively from now on, having disposed of his furniture business to Kelley & Sons.

—Probate Clerk J. G. Riggie will be in Carrizozo to attend the meeting of the Board of County Commissioners September 3rd and will be glad to transact any business that the people have with the Probate Clerk while here.

—Work this week started on the building of the new $6000 addition to the present school house. The new annex will be exactly like the older building, being joined to it on the north and the one stairway and hall will be used for the entire building as completed.

—Albert Ziegler of the firm of Ziegler Brothers returned from New York Tuesday morning. Mr. Ziegler has been in New York buying a large stock of fall and winter goods for his firm, who appreciate that there is no market like New York City for close and careful buying. The stock was selected in view of a successful winter season in Carrizozo. Ziegler Brothers was the only local firm sending a buyer to New York City this season

WILL ELECT ON TUESDAY

Delegates To Constitutional Convention Will be named September Sixth

NO CONTEST IN THIS COUNTY

On next Tuesday the sixth day of September the people will have their first opportunity as a whole to take part in the coming statehood for New Mexico. Elections throughout the Territory will take place on that day to name the one hundred delegates to the Constitutional conventions from the twenty-six counties of the new state.

Lincoln county has eliminated politics from the selection of their representatives and decided on a Non-Partisan ticket consisting of two Republicans and one democrat and all of the candidates, namely John H. Canning, Jacob J. Aragon and Andrew H. Hudspeth, believe in framing a fundamental Constitution whereby the People will have a direct voice in the government of themselves.

The Non-Partisan spirit is not alone in this county but has manifested quite generally throughout the Territory, and the convention will undoubtedly be composed of men who have the peoples interests at heart as their first principal.

The Initiative and Referendum has become the main issue of the campaign and from present indications it is not improbable that some sort of a provision for direct legislation will be included in the constitution.

While there is no contest in this county every voter should feel that it is his duty to go the polls and endorse this county's delegates next Tuesday and show the world that the people of New Mexico are really sincerely interested in their government.

PENSION RAISED BY ANDREWS

John A. Orr this week received notice that his pension had been raised from eight dollars to seventeen through the efforts of Delegate to Congress Andrews. Mr. Orr is a Spanish war veteran and has been sick for sometime.

CATHOLIC MASS DATES

Rev. Father Gierma announces that he will be at Corona Saturday evening September 10th and Sunday morning the 11th. At the Rock crusher, Tecolote Sunday evening Sept. 11th, and Monday morning September 12th; and at Carrizozo, Saturday September 17th and Sunday Sept. 18th

VOTE!!

Next Tuesday Sept. 6th., is Election Day
Go to the Polls and Vote for three Constitutional Delegates.

The Polls are Open from 9 A.M. to 6 P.M.

LABOR DAY PROCLAMATION BY THE GOVERNOR

Some years since in order that labor might be properly recognized there was set aside in the United States by Act of Congress one day in each year to be known as Labor Day, and the first Monday of each September was designated as the day to be observed. The custom of observing this holiday has grown with the growth of our country, most of us are still laborers, and the recognition of the great work done by laboring men in the upbuilding of our country intellectually, morally and materially is recognized by all. It is fitting to pay a tribute to the enormous armies of labor:

Now therefore, I, William J. Mills, Governor of the Territory of New Mexico, do proclaim and declare Monday the 5th day of September, A. D. 1910, a legal holiday and earnestly recommend that all business of whatever nature, except such as the necessity of the people require to be carried on, be suspended on that day, so that all who desire to do so may have an opportunity of observing the day in such manner as may to them seem best fitting to the occasion.

Done at the Executive Office this the 25th day of August, A. D. 1910. Witness my hand and the Great Seal of the Territory of New Mexico.

WILLIAM J. MILLS.

INDIAN MARATHON RACE

An Indian Marathon Race is now being arranged as one of the most exciting spectacles of the sport program of the 30th Annual Fair and First State Exposition in Albuquerque, in October. Many Pueblo and Navajo Indians have been writing to inquire about being entered, and the Fair Management has accordingly decided to hold a big fifteen mile race solely for the hardy and enduring red men. Some of the best long distance men in the country are found among the New Mexico and Arizona Indians. This will be a new stunt in Fair programs, and will enlist the keen interest of racing fans.

—Mart Goodin and Joe Ashford were up from Osuro yesterday.

CARRIZOZO WINS CASE

Supreme Court Affirms Decision of the Lower Court in County Seat Case

CONTROVERSY IS NOW OVER

The Supreme Court of the New Mexico, in session at the city of Santa Fe yesterday handed down a decision "affirming the decision of Judge Meritt C. Meechem" of the District Court, in the Lincoln County seat controversy.

Lincoln had carried the case to the highest tribunal outside of the United States Supreme Court and it is not settled for all times to come that Carrizozo holds the county seat of Lincoln county by every legal title and right.

The county seat matter has been a long drawn out affair, composed of injunctions, appeals, hard feeling in some cases, and other disagreeable ingredients but now the question seems to be settled for all time.

Hewitt and Hudspeth very ably represented Carrizozo before the Supreme Court as they had in the lower courts.

The contractors are pushing work on the court house and by the first of January the building will surely be ready for occupying by the county officers.

JOHN Z. WHITE LECTURE.

John Z. White arrived according to schedule last Friday and spoke for two hours on the subject of Direct Legislation. Mr. White handled his subject well and held the audiences attention; converting a number of his hearers to the cause.

KELLEYS OPEN STORE.

Kelley and Sons, who recently purchased the furniture stock of George Spence have rented one of the stores in the Postoffice block and will open up a furniture sample room. The firm will retain their old quarters as a second hand store and warehouse

JICARILLA JOTTINGS

A. H. Norton and Bivian Brook-in were in Carrizozo to the John Z White Lecture.

Paul Bentley of Carrizozo visited J. E. Wilson Sunday and preached while here

Pearl Taylor and C. L. Kennedy have returned from the Carrizozo Normal and Miss Taylor has taken up her school work again.

Hedges and Weishar have made another strike on their placer claims. It is reported as a valuable find.

Mr. Dixon, who was recently hurt in an accident in the Old Abe mine is reported as improving.

Jas. A. Copper Jr. and Mr. Hightower made a trip to Roswell this week.

—J. N. Reeder and Ted. Reiter are down from Alto.

—Mrs. A. H. Bagg and daughter Helen of Chicago passed through here enroute for Parsons Thursday.

—Do not buy oxfords and low cut shoes until you see the great values that are offered at People Bros Cash Store. adv.

GUARANTEE OF THE REPUBLICAN PARTY TO THE PEOPLE OF NEW MEXICO

The pledging of all delegates to the Constitutional Convention, elected from the ranks of the Republican Party, to the adoption of a safe, sound and fundamentally simple constitution which will guarantee and preserve to all the people of the proposed new State all of their civil, political and religious rights, and which shall be sufficiently broad, expansive and flexible to authorize and insure legislation necessary to secure the best welfare of the people of all classes and conditions.

THE ACTION of the Democrats of Nebraska in throwing Mr. Bryan overboard seems to be accepted by the country at large as the final elimination of his national and state leadership of the Democratic party.

Mr. Bryan has been remarkable in sustaining his prestige in his party in the face of repeated and overwhelming defeats. In looking back over his remarkable career there are a number of instances which show that personally he has quite selfish. In 1896 in his first campaign, when wealthy friends and supporters were scarce, Mr. W. R. Hearst made a tremendous fight for Bryans election. Not only that, but Mr Hearst made a proposition to the Democratic Committee that he would duplicate every dollar that was raised by the National Committee Mr Hearsts contribution on this proposition amounted to a very large sum. Mr. Hearst not only did this but he gave Bryan earnest and loyal support in 1900. In 1904, when Mr Hearst aspired for the Democratic nomination Mr. Bryan in utter forgetfulness of the great favors he had received from Mr. Hearst in the past, refused to throw the Nebraska delegation to him in the convention and got up in the convention and nominated Senator Cockrell, of Missouri, who has been too old to be considered as a presidential possibility. This act on Mr. Bryans part was certainly one of the basest ingratitude. There are other instances that might be mentioned but this is sufficient. A man who forgets his friends and favors they bestow is sooner or later bound to reach his bitter end, and this seems to be the case with Mr. Bryan.

JONATHAN BOURNE was a Senator from Oregon, about three years before he undertook a speech. Then he got excited and carefully prepared some remarks on Oregon's great movement to restore government to the people through the initiative, referendum, recall, absolutely popular primaries, popular election of Senators, and so on.

He committed the speech to memory, but when it came to the scratch he lost his nerve and didn't make an oration. He read it instead, and sat down, feeling sure that he had perpetrated a sad fiasco.

Which shows how much Senator Bourne doesn't know about a fiasco. That speech has now been sent out in greater numbers than any other address ever delivered in Congress. It has been sent almost entirely to people who asked for it. Thousands of letters have reached the Senator, enclosing anything from a postage stamp to a comfortable check, asking 'as many copies as the enclosure will pay for.' Bourne has in every case sent the copies and returned the money; thus far over 800,000 copies have been sent out.

TEXAS is for Bailey for President. Texas is the lone star state and we shall not be surprised if it proves to be the lone Bailey State.

AN IRRIGATION Project is what Carrizozo most needs at this time. The uncertainty of the rains has demonstrated this.

IMPROVED HORSE FEED BAG

Is Attached to Collar and Gives Animal Perfect Freedom of Its Head.

An improved type of feed bag for horses has been designed by an Illinois man. Instead of being hung over the head, as the old style bag, it is attached to the collar and held in place under the horse's nose. A bar, hinged

Horse's Feed Bag.

In two parts, has one part adaptable to fastening to the collar and the other part with an attachment for the canvas bag. When this is adjusted the horse has perfect freedom to move his head and does not have to go through contortions to get the feed which remains in the bottom of the bag after that within easy reach has been eaten. In the old style bag, after the horse had eaten the top feed, he was obliged to press the bottom of the receptacle against something to get his nose down to the remainder. Or, as was more often the case, he would toss his head to fling up the oats and the result would be that a large portion of his lunch would be spilled. On the saving of wasted feed alone the invention here shown is entitled to respect.

GOOD CURRYCOMB AND BRUSH

Combination That Makes an Excellent Device for Caring for Faithful Horse.

The automobile threatens to put the horse out of business, but improvements in the methods of caring for the faithful animal are still being made, says Popular Mechanics. The illustration shows a device recently

The upper view shows it opened so that the brush may follow the comb over the horse. The lower sketch shows the brush folded back to allow the use of either currycomb or brush separately.

Sheep Suffer in Sun.

Sheep suffer much in hot weather when compelled to pasture in the hot sun all day. If there are no shade trees in the pasture, make temporary shades at different points in the pasture, covering them with straw, weeds, brush, or any rough material that will protect from the hot sun.

LIVE STOCK NOTES

Armed with alfalfa and corn, the stockman can simply do anything.

A sheep must produce a variety of products if it is to be most profitable. The essential requisites for a working horse are good size, quick action and strength.

Keep a pair of nippers handy to snip off the sharp points of a sucking pig's teeth.

In proportion to its size, the horse has a smaller stomach than any other quadruped.

Every effort should be made to have the stock enter the winter in good flesh and heart.

It does not pay to give water in dirty vessels to any farm animal. Hogs are no exception.

Pasture is the cheapest pork producer and the longer the season of pasturage may be provided, the better. It is not the quantity of food taken

WEAN PIGS AT PROPER TIME

Much Depends Upon Their Thrift, Season of Year, Accommodation and Their Feed.

BY W. H. UNDERWOOD.

The age at which pigs can be weaned is indefinite. The time depends largely upon their thrift, the season of the year, the accommodation and the feed one has for them. I do not consider it advisable to wean pigs before they are two months old, I prefer more, to less age.

I generally wean my early pigs in May, as I like to raise fall litters from a portion of the sows. Sows can ordinarily be bred within a week after the pigs are taken away.

Sows that farrow in June will be too late to breed for fall farrow. It has been my custom to let these run with the sows until they wean themselves.

I prefer to have my sows with litters in as small bunches as possible prefer a house and small yard with plenty of grass for each sow. If they are thus divided, and any of the pigs get out of order, you at once know what litter it is, and feed accordingly.

Watch the little pigs closely and if they look thin and hungry see that their mother is better fed and swilled. As it is next to impossible to raise a litter of pigs without some of them getting the scours at one time or another, I will give my treatment for this ailment, which has proven successful to me.

I watch them closely, and if any of them are too loose at the next feeding I dissolve a teaspoonful of copperas, in a little warm water and feed it to the sow in her swill. If the first dose does not prove effective, I give another the following day.

When the pigs get from two to four weeks old I fence off a corner in the yard, where the dam cannot go, and give the pigs all the shelled corn they will eat.

As soon as they are accustomed to coming for the corn I begin by feeding a little fresh milk diluted one-half with water. I begin with one cupful and increase the amount as they learn to drink.

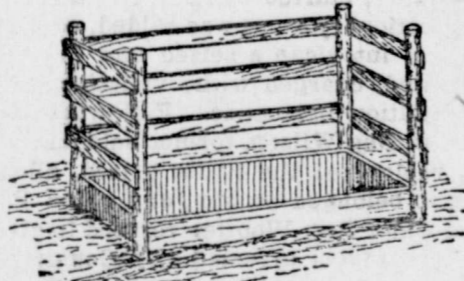

As the stomach of a little pig is as sensitive and delicate as that of a child it is very important that no milk is left in the trough from the previous feed as it tends to sour the trough and the new milk.

After I have the pigs eating and drinking, so they will come when called and their stomach thoroughly accustomed to the feed they are ready to wean.

SECURES WATER FROM DRAIN

Farmer Didn't Want to Bear Expense of Drilling Well, So Constructed Cement Trough.

I have a large pasture in which there is no natural water, writes Scott Adams in Farm and Home. I did not want to go to the expense of drilling a well, so I dug a hole over the drain that runs through the field. I constructed a little trough with a cement bottom and sides of wood. The water of the drain runs through this. I built a fence around it to keep stock from falling in, and once a day I dip water out of this into the tank nearby.

Feeding Hogs.

Fattening hogs should not be made to wait for their feed. Regularity in feeding is essential.

into the stomach, but the amount absorbed by it, which benefits the system.

It weakens the horses to keep them shut up in a close stable during the hot nights. Turn them out.

Grubb flies worry the sheep in hot weather. Provide a dark, cool shed or let them run in thick underbrush.

Hog pasture is getting dry and short? Cut a little green corn and toss it over, stalks and all, to the hogs. It will help them out wonderfully.

Be considerate of your horses' comfort on these torrid summer days and offer them water frequently. They suffer with thirst as badly as you do and work harder.

Give Animals Shade.

All animals should be protected by shade during the hot weather. Temporary rough shelters may be made of poles and brush or straw and placed on poor spots in the field, and the extra droppings from the animals will make these poor places rich. Manure left under shade trees is nearly all wasted.

WESTERN MINING NEWS IN BRIEF

Colorado.

The new Primos mill, Boulder county, has been completed and has double the capacity of the old plant.

A company has been organized to drill for oil east of Mosca. The well will be sunk to a depth of 3,000 feet if necessary.

A rich shipment from the Dante mine, on Bull Hill, mined by Sub-Lessee Alstrum and Lundrum in the No. 2 shaft, returned $180 per ton.

Oil drillers are at work in the southeastern part of El Paso county and also in Prowers county and it is claimed that indications are good in both places.

Samples of vanadium ores from the Magnolia mine, Boulder county, are being sent abroad for test to ascertain the values in vanadium as well as the most practical method of extracting the mineral.

A new strike in the eleventh level, (east) of the Gem mine at Idaho Springs shows two to four feet of ore that will average over $20 gold per ton, besides enough silver and copper to pay cost of treatment.

Two bids have been made for the construction of the aerial tramway the Golden Cycle Company proposes to build from Colorado Springs to the Cripple Creek district. The contract will probably be let in a few days.

The new mill for Frontenac and Aduddell ores, the contract for which has been let to a Central City firm, will have a capacity of 250 tons per day and will be modern in every detail. The ore will be handled automatically.

The lessees on the famous War Dance mine, Gilpin county, made a shipment of ore to the sampling works at Black Hawk that was settled for at the rate of 10.08 ounces gold and 4.55 ounces of silver to the ton. It came from the 200-foot level, west of the shaft.

J. W. Emerson of Shavano believes he will make a profit of $11 a ton on 20,000 tons of silver and zinc ore which he has blocked out when he gets his new mill in commission, which is now under construction. The mill will be operated by water from the north fork of the Arkansas river.

A dispatch from Aspen says: "The rich strike recently made in the Montezuma mine improves with development. Recent assays give 30 per cent. lead and seventy-five ounces silver per ton. The tramway being constructed from the mine to the mill will probably be completed by October 1st, when the mill will resume operations."

The big power plant of the Central Colorado Power Company at Nederland which was placed in commission the other day has already arranged to supply current to about thirty mining companies operating at Crisman, Sugar Loaf, Boulder Falls, Nederland, Eldora, Caribou, Sunnyside, Ward, Rowena, Glendale, Sunshine, Magnolia and Gold Hill.

At the head of Georgie gulch, four miles northwest of Silverton, a strike has been made on the Kansas City group, owned and operated by Paul B. Walker and Ed Rose, old-timers. Three feet of solid stromeyerite Freibergite and gray copper is exposed in the slope and the breast of the drift, eighty-five feet in on the vein. This ore carries from 500 to 2,000 ounces in silver.

New Mexico.

It is proposed to build a mill at the Mistletoe mine located on top of the mountain 8,500 feet above the sea level at Kelly. The Mistletoe vein slopes down the hillside with only a few feet of lime over the top of it, and in some places it is fourteen feet wide, running about 15 per cent. lead and thirty ounces silver per ton.

The Vanadium Mines Company, the successor to the Southwestern Lead and Coal Company, is conducting active operations on its properties in the Caballos near Engle. A force of forty men has been installed and new mechanical equipment will be added. Tests for this company show the ore to contain 7 per cent. vanadium and it is believed that a Pittsburg steel company is represented by the new incorporation.

Wyoming.

A Sheridan company will develop a mineral property on the Big Goose, which is said to show an extremely large body of ore near the surface.

The Mining and Scientific Press of San Francisco, discussing rare metals, says: "Ore at the Rambler mine in Wyoming has been known for some years to carry small amounts of platinum, but concentrates recently made have been found to carry several ounces to the ton of that metal accompanied by notable amounts of the others (palladium, iridium, osmium, rhodium). It now seems likely that a really important American supply of these metals has been found."

NATURE'S SIGNALS.

The first indication of kidney disorder is often backache. Then comes pain in the hips and sides, lameness, soreness and urinary troubles. These are the warnings—nature's signals for help. Doan's Kidney Pills should be used at the first sign.

Mrs. W. R. Cody, 402 15th St., Lewiston, Idaho, says: "I had a bad case of dropsy and bloated 40 lbs. in weight. My ankles swelled and I had to wear shoes two sizes larger than usual. I was nervous, restless and much run down. After using Doan's Kidney Pills I came down to natural weight and my kidneys became normal." Remember the name—Doan's. ### On Some Ministers.

The worst of these here shepherds is, my boy, that they regularly turns the heads of all the young ladies about here. Lord bless their little hearts, they think it's all right, and don't know no better; but they're the victims o' gammon, Samivel, they're the victims o' gammon. Nothin' else, and wot aggregates me, Samivel, is to see 'em awastin' all their time and labor in making clothes for copper-colored people as don't want 'em and taking no notice of flesh-colored Christians as do. If I'd my way, Samivel, I'd just stick some o' these here lazy shepherds behind a heavy wheelbarrow, and run 'em up and down a 14-inch plank all day. That 'ud shake the nonsense out of 'em, if anythin' would.—Mr. Weller, Quoted by Charles Dickens.

ROOSEVELT HAS DECLARED WAR

SAYS HE WILL FIGHT FOR CLEAN,
DECENT, HONEST
POLITICS.

ISSUE IS CLEAN CUT

FRIENDS ARE DOUBTFUL IF HE WILL RECEIVE HEARTY SUPPORT.

Utica, N. Y.—Theodore Roosevelt served notice Wednesday that he would wage war without quarter on the "old guard" of the Republican party in New York state.

Having been drawn into the fight, as he says, against his will, he has determined to pursue it to the end, win or lose.

Mr. Roosevelt's intention was indicated more clearly than at any time before by a statement which he issued Wednesday.

The colonel said he was going into the fight with his eyes open and with full realization of the fact that he might not be successful.

He said that he felt that, owing to the attitude of the members of the organization, he was at perfect liberty to carry on uncompromising warfare.

When a statement by William Barnes, Jr., the Albany leader, to the effect that there would be a fight in the convention against its domination by Mr. Roosevelt, was read to him Mr. Roosevelt said:

"They will have all the fight they want. I am only going to the convention because I feel that the interests of the people of New York demand that the Republican party be given a chance to stand squarely and uncompromisingly for clean, decent, honest politics.

"I go to that convention to make the speech exactly as it had been planned originally and while I hope there will be enough good sense to prevent anyone opposing the principles for which I shall stand, yet if they do oppose them, then it is their own affair and, so far as I am concerned (the issue shall be absolutely clean cut."

Some of Colonel Roosevelt's closest friends in the state have told him that they were doubtful as to the outcome and he has replied that he himself felt that even though he should be successful in the state convention at Saratoga, and such a platform as he desired should be adopted, the result of the election would be in grave doubt.

The colonel has told his friends that he did not feel sure the Roosevelt-Hughes forces would receive unqualified support from the organization at the polls.

Colonel Roosevelt's announcement of State Senator Frederick Davenport, was the first step in the fight which he expects to carry on from now until election time.

Garfield-Roosevelt-Pinchot Tour.

Cleveland, O.—James R. Garfield, secretary of the interior under Roosevelt, left his Mentor, Ohio, home, Wednesday night for a speaking tour of the West, during which he will ally himself with Roosevelt and Pinchot in the discussion of Progressive Republicanism and conservation of the national resources. He will join the Roosevelt party at Cheyenne, Wyoming. On the evening of August 29th he will speak before the Round Table Club of Denver on conservation, his address being a reply to the declaration of Secretary Ballinger that the Roosevelt conservation policy is obstructive.

Garfield expects to enter the fall campaign in many states, notably Indiana, where he will champion the cause of Senator Beveridge.

Vermont May Lose a Congressman!

Burlington, Vt. — The forthcoming census announcement will show a startling decrease in the population of Vermont, sufficient, it is said, to jeopardize the size of the Green Mountain delegation in the lower branch of Congress. The reduction would be in effect a permanent loss of one Republican representative. Democrats are manifesting unconcealed joy.

Eighteen Killed in Michigan.

Durand, Mich. — Eighteen bodies have been recovered from the wreck of Grand Trunk train No. 4, Chicago to Montreal, which was wrecked three miles east of this city. The wreck immediately caught fire and many of the bodies were burned almost beyond recognition.

Cheyenne is now en fete for what promises to be the most successful celebration of Frontier days ever.

One hundred and twenty-nine carloads of peaches were shipped from Palsade, Colo., Monday and Tuesday.

After a visit to the northern Colorado coal fields Secretary of State Pearce said there was no need for state troops there.

The Wyoming Liquor Dealers' Association was organized at Cheyenne Tuesday to combat the effects of the work being done by the Wyoming Anti-Saloon League.

Thirty-three soldiers were prostrated by heat during the practice marches at Fort Riley, Kas., Monday. The temperature was 102 in the shade, marking the hottest day since the army maneuvers began.

Presidential proclamation has eliminated nearly half a million acres from five national forests in Colorado, as follows: Leadville, 42,430 acres; Pike, 51,024; Montezuma, 348,681; San Juan, 18,810, and Rio Grande, 64,849.

Archie Roosevelt has completed his visit in the Black Hills and left with Capt. Bullock for the Rosebud Indian reservation near Valentine, Neb., where he will be shown Indian life as it now is. Capt. Bullock will then take him to join his father.

Charles Dunbar Bishop and Joseph C. Brown, the two young men who confessed to holding up the China-Japan mail near Goodyear, Calif., last April, pleaded guilty to the charge of robbery Monday at Vallejo, Calif., and were sentenced to forty-five years each in the penitentiary.

Interest in the Idaho forest fires is centered upon the fate of Forest Ranger H. F. Kottkey and 200 men, who until Tuesday night had not been heard from since Friday night, when they were fighting the flames in the country between Wallace and the St. Joe river.

With every steam siren and whistle in the city shrieking a welcome, with the business houses and schools closed and the streets lined with thousands of people, Oakland, Calif., greeted the first continental train to reach the Pacific coast over the Western Pacific Railroad Company's tracks late Monday afternoon.

Rumors that large eastern spinning mills were shipping wool from Europe at a higher price than paid for the American product in order to lower the price of the same grades of home wool, has caused sheepmen of the Arkansas valley in Colorado to hold their product for higher prices. Eastern representatives who hoped to obtain wool at 17 cents are returning disappointed.

The conference of Rocky mountain and Pacific coast states governors at Salt Lake City adopted a resolution reciting that inasmuch as assurances had been given that a full and free discussion of the subject of conservation could be had, the Pacific coast and Rocky mountain states would cordially take part in the convention and delegates would be appointed of such force as would impress on the convention the sincerity and justice of the demands to be presented by the western states, which were most affected by the national conservation policies and laws.

CENSUS.

Toledo, Ohio, 168,497, an increase of 36,675, or 27.8 per cent.

St. Louis, Mo., 47,828, an increase of 14,717, or 44.4 per cent.

Flint, Mich., 38,560, an increase of 25,447, or 194.2 per cent.

Jackson, Mich., 31,433, an increase of 6,253, or 24.8 per cent.

Detroit, Mich., 465,766, an increase of 189,062, or 63 per cent.

Battle Creek, Mich., 25,267, an increase of 6,704, or 26.1 per cent.

Oklahoma's increase is 100 per cent; Rhode Island's 26.6 per cent. Latest estimate for U. S., 90,000,000.

Census figures indicate that the East is holding its own with the West in the increase of population, and that the cities are running ahead of all proportion to the country districts.

WASHINGTON.

Headquarters for the compilation of data concerning the irrigation survey will be established at Salt Lake. Its object will be to obtain complete information concerning irrigation projects.

General Estrada Monday cabled Secretary Knox an assurance to the American people of his warm regard and offered to make amends for the execution of the Americans, Cannon and Groce, and other unfriendly acts toward the United States.

POLITICAL.

Senator La Follette will not enter the primary campaign in the contest for renomination unless he has to, is reported.

Senator William Warner of Missouri has announced that he would not be a candidate for re-election to the United States Senate.

The support of the negro electorate of the United States for a possible third term was pledged in behalf of Col. Roosevelt by the 1,100 delegates of the National Negro Business Men's League in convention in New York.

President Taft and ex-President Roosevelt are fellow workers in the same political field. The threat that they might pull apart has been forefeared by a full explanation on one side and an unreserved acceptance on the other.

SPORT.

The next meeting of the American Bowling Congress will be held in the Coliseum, St. Louis, Jan. 11th to February 7th. Sixteen alleys will be put down.

The football rules committee has given out the rules for the 1910 season. One of the most important changes is the elimination of the flying tackle.

In the fastest race ever trotted by 3-year-olds, the Western colt, Colorado E., owned by George H. Estabrook of Denver, driven by "Gus" Macey, at the opening of the New York Grand Circuit meeting at Empire City park, Tuesday, won the $15,000 matron futurity stakes in 2:07 3/4 and 2:07 3/4, easing up at the finish of each heat.

Scott Clark of Colorado, apparently about 19, lay down with fifty others on the firing line facing the 1,000-yard targets at Camp Perry, O., to shoot for place in the individual trio match, an unknown youth among 339 others who had not distinguished themselves at the rifle range. He arose with a name which will be spoken everywhere by men who know and love the sport. He drove nineteen consecutive bullets through the morning mist to a three-foot bull's eye eight city blocks away.

GENERAL.

Mayor Gaynor of New York was up about three hours Tuesday.

The name of United States Senator Robert L. Owen entered into the Oklahoma Indian land investigation Monday.

The Rev. Dudley Foster of Chicago has given up the pastorate of the Rider Memorial Universalist church to go on the stage.

When her grocer repeated the offense of delivering to her "tanned" and antiquated eggs, Mrs. Allon Kilfosky of Granite City, Ill., made him sit down and dine with her; but he couldn't cut the steak nor swallow the eggs, so he refused to finish the meal and promised to furnish better eatables.

Knocked down, trampled upon and finally gored to death by a steer was the fate of Michael Burns, 40 years old, 403 West Forty-third street, a yardman in the employ of Clay, Robinson & Co. at the Chicago stock yards. The beast lunged one of its horns entirely through the body of the man and hurled him over a fence 20 feet away.

President Taft's keynote speech for the congressional campaign became known Tuesday. The President will favor further revision of the tariff. While he is still convinced that the Payne-Aldrich law is the best tariff law the country has had up to this time he has at last reached the conclusion that there is decided room for improvement.

Consideration of the proposed uniform fraternal bill is the most important matter to come before the annual session of the Associated Fraternities of America, in session at Atlantic City. The meeting will decide whether the form of state regulation proposed by the insurance commissioners' convention and endorsed last week by the National Fraternal Congress, shall promptly be adopted.

Tumult and disorder marked Saturday's session of the special convention of the United Mine Workers at Indianapolis. The long delayed show of strength between the Lewis and anti-Lewis factions proved disastrous to President Lewis. Forced from the chair for the first time by an appeal from his ruling, he surrendered the gavel to John Mitchell and saw himself overruled by a vote of 637 to 445 on a rising vote.

Fatal Lightning Stroke.

Grady.—Struck by a bolt of lightning as he stood upright in a wagon, on his claim near here, I. Bowman, a rancher, was instantly killed, every bone in his body being broken and his body being literally cooked to a crisp.

To Protect Kit Carson's Monument.

Taos.—C. W. Baird has been moving the Kit Carson monument which he has now in place. The monument was too near the fence and was being chipped to pieces by souvenir seekers, so a change of location became necessary.

Fireman Dead from Injuries.

Espanola.—News has been received here that F. B. Good, the fireman on the Denver and Rio Grande train wrecked near here Sunday night, died while on his way to Salida, Colorado, to undergo treatment at a hospital there.

Holdup Suspect Apprehended.

Globe, Ariz.—William Day was arrested at Miami, near here, accused of being one of the men who held up the Mogollon-Silver City stage two weeks ago; when Stage Driver Dominguez was killed and a large quantity of silver bullion stolen. The arrest was made on a telegraphic advice from the New Mexico mounted police, telling of Day's presence here. Day admits he is the man sought but denies any connection with the crime.

Killed By Papa's Train.

San Marcial.—Cecelia, the 2-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Zimmerman of this place, was killed at 5 o'clock last Tuesday evening when struck by a Santa Fe passenger train. Zimmerman is a conductor and his wife and baby are spending the summer on a ranch near Sabinal. It was customary for the baby to stand near the right of way and wave at her papa as he passed by on the train. On this occasion she got on the track and was hit by the train and thrown lifeless on the right of way, the engineer being unable to stop in time to prevent the fatality.

Rapid Action in Liquor War.

Roswell.—After being arrested twice Saturday, the chief of police of this town is at liberty on bail. The mayor, a deputy sheriff, a constable, an attorney and two citizens were arrested once each, and all but one are out on bond.

Trouble started when D. R. Patrick's confectionary store was raided, a quantity of intoxicants seized and Patrick arrested, charged with violating the prohibition ordinance. Following the arrest, Dug Wilson, former saloonkeeper, replenished the liquor seized, alleging it belonged to him, and when Police Chief Roy Woofler refused to give it up, he was arrested by Constable Fred Behringer. Behringer in turn was arrested on charge of interfering with an officer in discharge of his duty, and Behringer's attorney, Charles Gilberts, also was arrested. Chief Woofler thereupon was again arrested on charge of malicious prosecution and Mayor G. T. Veale and Deputy Sheriff Johnson were taken into custody on the same charge. The next move was the arrest of Frank Myerscough, a sheepman, alleged to have bought whisky from Patrick. He is still locked up. Intense bitterness prevails.

Judge Eugene Fiske Dead.

Santa Fe.—Judge Eugene A. Fiske, former United States district attorney, a cousin of the late Gen. Lew Wallace, dropped dead Saturday afternoon as he entered his house. He was a native of New Hampshire, where he was born in 1848. He was mustered out as a lieutenant from the Union army after the Civil war. He graduated from the Columbian Law university at Washington; was appointed chief of private lands by President Grant and later assistant secretary to the President. He has held various offices in New Mexico and was a prominent Mason and Knight Templar. His second wife and five children survive him.

Secretary Hitchcock to See Moquis Dance.

Gallup.—Postmaster General Frank Hitchcock was met at Gallup by Delegate Ralph Cameron of Arizona and J. L. Hubbell, and the party left for the Maqui Indian villages to witness the snake dance. They will return to the Grand canon, where they will be joined by Acting Secretary of War Oliver.

MEAN.

Willie—We were playing insurance company at school today and the boys treated me mean.

Mama—How?

Willie—I was the president of the company, and before I could resign they fired me.

KEEP BABY'S SKIN CLEAR

Few parents realize how many estimable lives have been embittered and social and business success prevented by serious skin affections which so often result from the neglect of minor eruptions in infancy and childhood. With but a little care and the use of the proper emollients, baby's skin and hair may be preserved, purified and beautified, minor eruptions prevented from becoming chronic and torturing, disfiguring rashes, itchings, irritations and chafings dispelled.

To this end, nothing is so pure, so sweet, so speedily effective as the constant use of Cuticura Soap, assisted, when necessary, by Cuticura Ointment. Send to Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., sole proprietors, Boston, for their free 32-page Cuticura Book, telling all about the care and treatment of the skin.

Selfish Youth.

"Youth is apt to be selfish," said Mrs. Mary E. Wilkins-Freeman, the distinguished novelist, at a Matuchen picnic.

"Woman in her youth," she went on, "is especially apt to be selfish. I'll never forget the story of the young man from Boston who stood in the center of Boston common in a down-pour of torrential rain.

"As he stood there, soaked to the skin, a little boy in a mackintosh accosted him.

"Excuse me, sir," said the boy, "but are you the gentleman who is waiting for Miss Endicott?"

"Yes," the young man answered.
"Well," said the boy, "she asked me to tell you she'd be here just as soon as it clears up."

Mrs. Wiggin's Idea of London.

During the recent visit of Mrs. Wiggin, the American author, in London, an interviewer called on her. With pencil poised, the interviewer asked:

"And what do you think of London, Mrs. Wiggin?"

"You remind me," answered the author cheerfully, "of the young lady who sat beside Dr. Gibbon at dinner. She turned to him after the soup.

"Do, dear Dr. Gibbon," she said, 'tell me about the decline and fall of the Roman empire.'"

Might Do It.

"Do you know anything that will kill potato bugs?" asked the young man with the yellow fingers.

"Yes," said the old lady with the gingham apron, crustily, "get 'em to smoke cigarettes!"—Yonkers Statesman.

The WORLD'S CONCERT HALL

ONE of the sweetest, most elevating and consoling gifts of heaven to man is music. Who has not rejoiced at the singing of fresh children's voices! With music the young man wooes the maiden of his choice. With song the bride or young wife expresses her longing for the absent one. Our meetings in the house of God are accompanied by devotional songs. Sad and somber music ascends in the house of mourning, and yet, what a relief this music is to sorrowing hearts! With the sound of drum and trumpet and the clang of the cymbal the soldier plunges into the smoke and carnage of battle, and even the trained horses dance and curvet in time with the music and strain at the reins which restrain them and learn the meaning of the different bugle calls. Love, anger, sorrow, enthusiasm, pain—all the passions and emotions of the human soul can be, and are, expressed in music.

The progress which has been made in the composition of music and in the building of musical instruments of every kind is enormous. The primitive instruments of the ancients and their monotonous music, or the instruments of barbarous or semi-civilized people and the intolerable noise which they call music cannot be compared with the expressive harmony of our music or with the multitude of beautiful and powerful musical instruments and in the execution of musical pieces our age has doubtless advanced further than any preceding time. In composition, however, in the art of producing musical pieces, the past century undoubtedly had greater masters than the present.

At the opening of the nineteenth century the musical leadership, which Italy had enjoyed for a considerable period, had passed to Germany, and in the twentieth century it appears as if Germany would also lose this exalted position in its turn, for in the field of art no nation can long hold the leadership. Perhaps the industrial and commercial development of Germany may be one of the causes why the number of its great composers is decreasing; for though prosperity is no obstacle to the enjoyment and cultivation of art, yet it does not seem to form a specially favorable soil for the growing masters of this noble art.

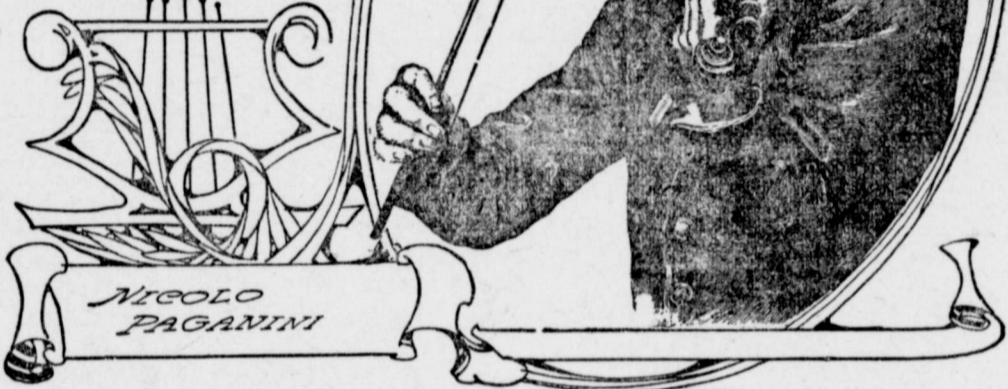

When the nineteenth century dawned Bach, Haendel and Mozart had raised German music to a pinnacle of glory, and Beethoven and Haydn were at the zenith of their splendid powers, while Liszt, Weber, Kreutzer and Schubert had begun their immortal careers. Before Beethoven died, Mendelssohn, Schumann and Wagner had been born. This was therefore a golden age of music with an unexampled array of peerless masters and unequalled musical works. Comparing the present age with that glorious time, we are compelled to admit that today there are no giants in musical composition, for the three greatest composers of the present, Edward Grieg, Anton Dvorak and Richard Strauss, only the last named a German, do not reach up to the standard of the heroic age.

But though there are today no German composers of commanding genius, yet there has never been a time when their works were so highly esteemed and produced with such perfection as the highest stage of development in Germany.

In England also musical education has reached a high degree of perfection, but England never produced many composers and none of commanding genius. Richard Elgar has, however, succeeded in meeting with so much approval that he is being reckoned among the great composers. The majority of British and Irish composers, however, are content to follow in the footsteps of German masters; the later ones, though following their own ideals, love to walk abroad in the mantle of Wagner or Brahms.

France has for three centuries occupied a prominent place on the musical stage and her great masters, Boieldieu, Auber, Herold, Adam and Chopin offer much that is interesting and valuable. Yet it must be admitted that here the tendency was mainly to write for the opera and for the production of light and frivolous music. Of a more serious and nobler character are the modern musical dramatists Berlioz, Gounod and Massenet, and it is with pleasure that the lover of music in its higher forms notes the development of a school under the leadership of Caesar Frank which gives special study to the nobler forms of symphony and to chamber music, and the deep and earnest compositions of Camille, Saint-Saens, who has followed German models, are becoming more popular. Saint-Saens, though 71 years old, lately traveled in this country.

But if France has in modern times furnished few important contributions to musical literature, Italy has done still less, though this country produced an unbroken line of great composers from Monteverde in the sixteenth century to Verdi in the nineteenth. Of the newer Italian composers, who for the most part wrote only superficial, extravagant and sensual works, only Pietro Mascagni achieved a genuine success with his beautiful and fiery "Cavalleria Rusticana." Puccini also, the composer of "Tosca" and "La Boheme," has gained the respect of the music-loving public.

The newest field of musical composition and virtuosity has been opened by Scandinavian and Slavic composers and virtuosos. This field is, like the new Siberian and Manchurian wheat fields, producing immense results. Both the Scandinavians and the Slavs have, greatly to their own advantage, made the folk-song the starting point of their compositions, a full, bubbling, exhaustless spring.

But today even Russia recognizes, as does the whole world, that the great German masters will remain models for all time to all nations.

In Bohemia the greatest representative of the musical art—and perhaps also the greatest of the later composers—is Anton Dvorak. In his music the national element is even more prominent than in that of the Russians, but the tragic melancholy which is so often so noticeable in Russian music is here replaced by lively, fiery melodies. The Bohemians have specially produced great violin and piano players. Who does not know the pianist Paderewski and the violinist Kubelik? What triumphs they and other artists among their countrymen reaped in America! So that today when an artist appears with a Bohemian name, this is almost in itself a sufficient introduction and then it is wonderful to see, how even Americans can spell and even pronounce the most wonderful names.

America has not yet produced a composer of the first rank, and yet American music is more and more making a way for itself. A good deal of this music, it is true, is still composed of "Coon Songs" and "Rag Time" pieces, and very often an insult to an educated musical ear. But good music is also coming to the front. Ten years ago it was not considered possible in Europe that a musical composer could be born in America. American inventive genius, American machinery, American farming methods, American commerce and trade—those were undeniable facts of respectable proportions, but American music? The day of really great and distinctively American musical composition is still in the future. American composers have attempted symphony and oratorio, but their works rest on dusty shelves. As a matter of fact only one American firm has undertaken to publish these works.

The rendering of musical compositions, however, in America also, is on a very high plane. In instrumental music musicians of the Teutonic and Slavic races predominate, though there is no lack of American performers also. Instrumental music has reached such a high degree of perfection that the beginner, striving to reach the pinnacle of fame, finds almost insuperable difficulties. Thus far American performers seem to be most successful in vocal music. The time when Italian singers monopolized the field is past. German and American singers, male and female have of late gained great repute in this field. Orchestral music likewise has reached a high degree of perfection and is liberally patronized by all classes of the people, and as might be expected under the circumstances, the building of musical instruments of all kinds has here reached a stage of perfection exceeded nowhere else. But in the field

What we Americans need and wherein we differ from continental European nations to our disadvantage is the social, school and congregational cultivation of music. At social gatherings of young Americans you seldom hear good part singing in which all, or the majority, join. Bringing a serenade with really good singing is a rare thing. Not so in Europe. There one can, of an evening, often hear good quartet singing and will be surprised to learn that the singers are workmen. Our public schools and

INFECTION IN THE PRISON

Peculiarly Favorable Field There for the Spread of the Scourge of Tuberculosis.

Only twenty-one prisons in fifteen states and territories have provided special places for the treatment of their tuberculosis prisoners. These institutions can accommodate, however, only 800 patients. In three-fourths of the major prisons and in practically all the jails of the country the tuberculous prisoner is allowed freely to infect his fellow prisoners, very few restrictions being placed upon his habits. When the congested mode of prison life is considered, the danger of infection becomes greater than in the general population. New York and Massachusetts are the only states where any systematic attempt has been made to transfer all tuberculous prisoners to one central institution. The largest prison tuberculosis hospital is in Manila, where accommodations for 200 prisoners are provided. The next largest is Clinton prison hospital in New York, which provides for 150.

WELCOME WORDS TO WOMEN

Women who suffer with disorders peculiar to their sex should write to Dr. Pierce and receive free the advice of a physician of over 40 years' experience—a skilled and successful specialist in the diseases of women. Every letter of this sort has the most careful consideration and is regarded as sacredly confidential. Many sensitively modest women write fully to Dr. Pierce what they would shrink from telling to their local physician. The local physician is pretty sure to say that he cannot do anything without "an examination." Dr. Pierce holds that these distasteful examinations are generally needless, and that no woman, except in rare cases, should submit to them.

Dr. Pierce's treatment will cure you right in the privacy of your own home. His "Favorite Prescription" has cured hundreds of thousands, some of them the worst of cases.

It is the only medicine of its kind that is the product of a regularly graduated physician. The only one good enough that its makers dare to print its every ingredient on its outside wrapper. ## SYNOPSIS.

Thomas Ardmore and Henry Maine Griswold stumble upon intrigue when the governors of North and South Carolina are reported to have quarreled. Griswold allies himself with Barbara Osborne, daughter of the governor of South Carolina, while Ardmore espouses the cause of Jerry Dangerfield, daughter of the governor of North Carolina. These two ladies are trying to fill the shoes of their fathers, while the latter are missing. Both states are in a turmoil over one Appleweight, an outlaw with great political influence. Unaware of each other's position, both Griswold and Ardmore set out to make the other prosecute. Both have forces scouting the border. Griswold captures Appleweight, but Jerry finds him and takes him to Ardsley, her own prisoner. Ardmore arrests a man on his property who says he is Gov. Osborne. Meanwhile another man is arrested as Appleweight by the South Carolina militia. The North Carolina militia is called into action. When Col. Gillingswater, Jerry's fiancé, finds that real war is afoot, he flees. Appleweight is taken secretly by Ardmore and lodged in a jail in South Carolina.

CHAPTER XVIII.

The Battle of the Raccoon.

Mrs. Atchison met the returning adventurers at the door.

"Your conduct, Jerry Dangerfield, is beyond words!" she exclaimed, seizing the girl's hands. "And so you really locked that horrid person in a real jail! Well, we shan't miss him! We have been kept up all night by the arrival here of other prisoners—brought in like parcels from the grocer's."

"More prisoners!" shouted Ardmore.

The captain of the battery whose guns frowned upon the terraces came up and saluted.

"Mr. Ardmore," he said, "I have been trying for several hours to see Gov. Dangerfield, but this lady tells me that he has left Ardsley."

"That is quite true; the governor was called away last night on official business, and he will not return for an hour or two. You will kindly state your business to me."

The captain was peevish from loss of sleep, and by no means certain that he cared to transact business with Mr. Ardmore. He glanced at Miss Dangerfield, whom he had met at Raleigh, and the governor's daughter met the situation promptly.

"Capt. Webb, what prisoners have you taken, and why are they not gagged to prevent this hideous noise?" Seemingly from beneath the ample porte-cochere, where this colloquy occurred, rose yells, groans and curses, and the sound of thumps, as of the impact of human bodies against remote subterranean doors.

"They're trying to get loose, Miss Dangerfield, and they refuse to stay tied. The fiercest row is from the fellows we chucked into the coal bins."

"It's excellent anthracite, the best I can buy; they ought to be glad it isn't soft coal," replied Ardmore defensively. "Who are they?"

"They're newspaper men, and they're most terribly enraged," answered Capt. Webb. "We picked them up one at a time in different places on the estate. They say they're down here looking for Gov. Dangerfield."

"You have done well, Capt. Webb," said Jerry with dignity, "and I shall urge your promotion upon papa at the earliest moment possible. Are these newspaper gentlemen your only prisoners?"

"No; we gathered up two other parties, and one of them is in the servant's laundry; the other, a middle-aged person, I locked in the tower, where he can enjoy the scenery. The prisoner up there made an awful rumpus. He declares he will ruin the whole state of North Carolina for this. Here is his card, which, in a comparatively lucid interval, he gave me to hand you at the earliest possible moment," and Capt. Webb placed a visiting card in Ardmore's hands.

A smile struggled for possession of Ardmore's countenance, but he regained control of himself promptly, and his face grew severe.

He gave the card to Jerry, who handed it to Mrs. Atchison, and that lady laughed merrily.

"Your prisoner, Capt. Webb, is George P. Billings, secretary of the Bronx Loan and Trust Company of New York. What was he doing when you seized him?" demanded Ardmore.

"He was chasing the gentleman who's resting on the anthracite. He chased him and chased him, around a teahouse out here somewhere on the place; and finally this person in the coal hole fell, and they both rolled over together. The gentleman in the coal hole declares that he's Foster, the state treasurer of North Carolina, but his face got so scratched on the shrubbery that he doesn't look in the least like Mr. Foster."

"I have sent him witch hazel and court plaster, and we can get a doctor for his wounds, if necessary," said Mrs. Atchison.

A sergeant rushed up in hot haste with a demand from Col. Daubenspeck, of the North Carolina First, to know when Gov. Dangerfield could be seen.

"The South Carolina pickets have been withdrawn, and our officers want orders from the governor in person," said the messenger.

"Then they shall have orders," roared Ardmore. "If our men dare abandon their outposts—"

He turned and rode furiously toward the border, and in his rage he had traversed a thousand yards before he saw that Jerry was close behind him. As they passed the red bungalow the crack of scattering rifle-shots reached them.

"Go back! Go back! The war's begun!" cried Ardmore; but, though he quickened the pace of his horse, Jerry clung to his side.

"If there's war, and I hope there is, I shall not shrink from the firing line, Mr. Ardmore."

As they dashed into their own lines they came upon the regimental officers, seated in comfortable chairs from the red bungalow, calmly engaged in a game of cards.

"Great God, men!" blurted Ardmore, "why do you sit here when the state's honor is threatened? Where was that firing?"

"You seem rather placid, gentlemen, to say the least," added Jerry, coldly bowing to the officers, who had risen men to maintain their pickets this morning. These, you can see, they have withdrawn a considerable distance from the creek."

"Then tell me why they have been firing upon our lines? Why have they been permitted to shoot at our helpless and unresisting men if they are not ready for war?"

"They were not shooting at our men, Mr. Ardmore. Their pickets are very tired from loss of sleep, and they were trying to keep awake by shooting at a buzzard that hung over a field yonder, where there is, our scouts inform us, a dead calf lying in one of your pastures."

"They shall have better meat! Buzzards shall eat the whole state of South Carolina before night! Colonel, I order you to prepare at once to move your troops across that creek."

A moment later the clear notes of the bugle rose above the splash and bubble of the creek. There was no opportunity for a grand onward sweep; it must be a scramble for the southern shore over the rocks and fallen timber in that mad torrent.

Jerry Dangerfield, seated upon her horse on a slight rise under a clump of trees a little way back from the stream, coolly munched a cracker and sipped coffee from a tin cup. Ardmore, again calm, now that Daubenspeck had been spurred to action, smoked his pipe and watched the army prepare to advance.

One gun from the battery was brought down and placed on a slight eminence to support the advance, for which all was now in readiness. The bugle sang again, and the men of one company sprang forward and began leaping from rock to rock, silently, steadily moving upon the farther shore. Here and there some brown khaki-clad figure slipped and splashed into the stream with a wild confusion of brown leggings; but on they went intrepidly. The captain, leading his men through the torrent, was the first to gain the southern shore. He waved his sword, and with a shout his men clambered up the bank and formed in neat alignment. This was hardly accomplished before a uniformed figure soberly, "is for Mr. Thomas Ardmore, and, unless I am mistaken, you are that gentleman."

Ardmore seized a long envelope which the man extended, tore it open, and read:

Thomas Ardmore, Esq.,
Acting Governor of North Carolina,
In the Field:

Sir: As I understand the present unhappy differences between the states of North and South Carolina, they are due to a reluctance on the part of the governor of North Carolina to take steps toward bringing to proper punishment in North Carolina an outlaw named Appleweight. I have the honor to inform you that that person is now in jail at Kildare, Dilwell county, North Carolina, properly guarded by men who will not flinch. If necessary I will support them with every South Carolinian able to bear arms. This being the case, a casus belli no longer exists, and to prevent the effusion of blood I beg you to cease your hostile demonstrations on our frontier.

Our men seized a few prisoners during the night, and I am willing to meet you to arrange an exchange on the terms proper in such cases.

I am, sir, your obedient servant,
HENRY MAINE GRISWOLD,
For the Governor of South Carolina.

"The nerve of it! The sublime cheek of it!" exclaimed Ardmore, though the sight of Griswold's well-known handwriting had shaken him for the moment.

"As a bluffer your little friend is quite a wonder," was Jerry's only comment when she had read the letter.

Ardmore promptly wrote on the back of Griswold's letter this reply:

Henry Maine Griswold, Esq.,
Assistant Professor of Admiralty,
Camp Buzzard, S. C.:

Sir: Appleweight is under strong guard in the jail at Turner court house, Mingo county, South Carolina. I shall take pleasure in meeting you at Ardsley at five o'clock this afternoon for the proposed exchange of prisoners. To satisfy your curiosity the man Appleweight will be produced there for your observation and identification.

I have the honor, sir, to remain with high regard and admiration, your obliged and obedient servant,
THOMAS ARDMORE,
Acting Governor of North Carolina.

The messenger departed, but recrossed the Raccoon shortly with a formal note agreeing to an armistice until after the meeting proposed at Ardsley.

"Col. Daubenspeck, you may withdraw your men and go into camp until further orders," said Jerry, and the notes of the bugle singing the recall rose sweetly upon the air.

"By George," said Ardmore, as he and Jerry rode away, "we'll throw it into old Grissy in a way that will jar the professor. But when it comes to the exchange of prisoners, I must tell the boys to bring up that chap I locked in the corn-crib. I had clean forgotten him!"

American Illustrators.

The American illustrations—the illustrations of our numerous "best sellers" and other stories of shorter length—have noticeably improved in quality in the last few years. The illustrator has slowly but surely forged ahead of his old class and the average work is much higher than formerly. The illustrator is learning that his illustrations have not always illustrated either in their adherence to the printed text or in method of technique used in portraying his conception. He is learning that an illustration of any real value must not only illustrate, but that his work must have artistic value. With neither of these necessary features, it is, of course, worthless to the public, and if it be merely an accurate illustration, merely a line or brush description of a scene or single thing, the educated public wants simplicity of execution and as great a directness as is possible, and in many cases if the illustrator cares not for artistic value he should give way to the mechanical draftsman and photographer.

An Island of Sulphur.

In the Bay of Plenty, New Zealand, is one of the most extraordinary islands in the world. It is called White Island, and consists mainly of sulphur mixed with gypsum and a few other minerals. Over the island, which is about three miles in circumference, and rises between 800 and 900 feet above the sea, floats continually an immense cloud of vapor attaining an elevation of 10,000 feet. In the center is a boiling lake of acid-charged water, covering fifty acres, and surrounded with blow-holes from which steam and sulphurous fumes are emitted with great force and noise. With care a boat can be navigated on the lake. The sulphur from White Island is very pure, but little effort has yet been made to procure it systematically.

Proud of Clubhouse.

The Woman's club of Lynn, Mass., does not put on any airs of exclusiveness, but has become a home for women in the best sense of the word. While there are splendid reception rooms and a large banquet room in the building, besides many rooms for the clubs to hold their meetings in, there are also two floors that are let for business purposes. Already a millinery shop and an art store have been established in the building. The cost of the building was only $50,000, and whilst parties, fairs and other means of making money were resorted at her approach. "Unless I am greatly mistaken, that is the flag of South Carolina I see flaunted in yonder field." And she pointed with a gauntleted hand to a palmetto flag beyond the creek.

"It is, Miss Dangerfield," replied the colonel politely, "and you can see their pickets occasionally, but they have been drawn back from the creek, and I apprehend no immediate advance."

"Advance! Who are we to wait for them to offer battle? Who are we to play bridge and wait upon the pleasure of a cowardly enemy?" and Jerry gazed upon the furious Ardmore with admiration, as he roared at the officers, who stood holding their caps deferentially before the daughter of their commander-in-chief.

"I don't think it would be quite fair," said the colonel mildly, "to force issues to-day."

"Not force issues!" yelled Ardmore. "With your brave sons of our Old North State, not to force battle! In the name of the constitution, I ask you, why not?"

"For the reason," replied the colonel, "that the South Carolina troops ate heavily of green apples last night in an orchard over there by their camp, and they have barely enough dashed from a neighboring blackberry thicket and waved a white handkerchief. He bore something in his hand, which to Ardmore's straining vision seemed to be a small wicker basket.

"It's a flag of truce!" exclaimed Col. Daubenspeck, and a sigh that expressed incontestable relief broke from that officer.

"The cowards!" cried Ardmore. "Does that mean they won't fight?"

"It means that hostilities must cease until we have permitted the bearer of the flag to carry his message into our lines."

The bearer of the basket gained the North Carolina shore and strode rapidly toward Miss Dangerfield, Ardmore and Col. Daubenspeck. He handed the trifle of a basket to the colonel, who gazed upon its contents for a moment with unspeakable rage. The color mounted in his neck almost to the point of apoplexy, and his voice bellowed forth an oath so bleak, so fraught with peril to the human race, that Jerry shuddered and turned away her head as from a blast of flame. The colonel cast the wicker basket from him with a force that nearly tore him from his saddle. It struck against a tree, spilling upon the earth six small, hard, bright green apples.

"My letter," said the emissary

Pale-Faced Women

You ladies, who have pale faces, sallow complexions, dark circles under eyes, drawn features and tired, worn-out expressions, you need a tonic.

The tonic you need is Cardui, the woman's tonic. It is the best tonic for women, because its ingredients specifically adapted for women's needs. They act on the womanly organs and help to give needed strength and vitality to the worn-out womanly frame. Cardui is a vegetable medicine. It contains no minerals, no iron, no potassium, no lime, no glycerin, no dangerous, or habit-forming drugs of any kind. It is perfectly harmless and safe, for young and old to use.

Take CARDUI The Woman's Tonic

"After my doctor had done all he said he could for me," writes Mrs. Wm. Hilliard, of Mountainburg, Ark., "I took Cardui, on the advice of a friend, and it helped me so much. Before taking Cardui, I had suffered from female troubles for five years, but since taking it, I am in good health. I think there is some of the best advice in your book that I ever saw." Your druggist sells Cardui. Try it.

TRISTE DEFUNCION

La tarde del 27 Sabado pasado, dejo de existir en la residencia de sus queridos padres don Andres H. Lueras, la Senora Catarina, esposa de Isidoro Archuleta con quien habia casado hacia solamente un ano y diez meses y en su vida matrimonial fue una amable esposa y senora de indulgencias. Murio a la edad de 19 anos; dejando en existencia un tierno infante de 7 dias, unica herencia querida dejada de su perdida esposa a don Isidoro. La finada murio de una biolenta enfermedad que le acaecio repentinamente y solo duro como 24 horas. El funeral tomo lugar el domingo a donde fueron sepultados sus restos en el cementerio de esta ciudad. Los Senores Lueras, e Archuleta, desean expresar sus mas infinitas cogratulaciones a las personas que acompañaron en la victima.

El entero hogar del Sr. Lueras e del Sr. Archuleta se hallan en el mas profundo duelo y tristeza y la vicindad entera ofrecemos a los mismos nuestra condolencia.

La muerte no viene mas que una sola vez y se hace sentir a cada momento en la vida.

SE VEERAN EN MEXICO

Como una muestra de amistad y cortecia hacia Mexico, los marinos extranjeros desfilaran en las fiestas del centenario; los Gobiernos de Alemania, Italia, los Estados Unidos y la Republica Argentina, enviaron barcos de guerra, extremando su galanteria asta pedir que sus respectivas tripulaciones pasen armadas y formen en gran parada del 16 de Septiembre, juntamente con los distintos Cuerpos de Ejercito.

Seguramente esta sera la primera ocaion (pues no existe precedente alguno) en que Mexico reciba una prueba tan patente de alta estima internacional, por parte de cuatro grandes paises.

SE EDIFICARA EN WASHINGTON

Han sido formados los proyectos relativos a la construccion de un buen edificio costead por Mexico para su Enbajada en Washington.

Asi lo exigia la representacion de aquella republica y la importancia de la representacion diplomatica en los Estados Unidos. Pronto se daran a conocer los planos que se aprueben.
