

to obey the order. He arrived just within an arm's length of Mrs. Lane. She had closed her mouth with a wicked snap and her eyes seemed to shoot green fire. Robertson reached out his hand to take her by the shoulder, when her right arm shot out, straight from the shoulder, and a big, red fist caught the policeman squarely on the nose. Robertson was shot back as if kicked by a dyspeptic mule. His nose began to bleed freely, City Attorney Hall took a hand, but Mrs. Lane's invincible right found his jaw and floored him with such violence that the clock stopped.

The Mayor, feeling that the decorum of the court must be preserved, left his seat and jumped into the arena. Then happened an event that, linked in the history of Gainesville, must go down into the dim future along with the building of the town and the first hanging. The Mayor was knocked down! Mrs. Lane's fist caught him on the side of the head and he went down flat upon his back, just after the same fashion that any other man would under like circumstances. But the good wife was not appalled. Her blood was up and she started in to complete her work in the most approved fashion. All three of the men were "good ones" and in earlier days had each been known to hold his own in more than one lively "scrap;" but this experience was entirely new. The way Mrs. Lane waded in has no parallel in local history. The battle was quick, sharp and heated, and in two minutes three badly disfigured men piled out into the hallway, breathless and astonished. Mrs. Lane victoriously held the court room. In the battle she had been deprived of nearly all her clothing.

A council of war was held in the hallway and it was decided to adopt more pacificatory measures for the removal of the virago. This move met with little success, for Mrs. Lane was still full of battle. She held the room for more than three long hours, and was only induced by her husband, for whom the routed officers had despatched a messenger. Then she left saying that she had not done so until she was "good and ready." She was satisfied. The dignity of the Lane household had been upheld. It is probable, however, Mrs. Lane will again soon visit the court, when the occasion will have a far different termination. But she will go down with Gainesville's history just the same.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From our regular correspondent)
WASHINGTON, D. C., March 17, '90.

There is a pretty fair prospect that one of the most notorious brutes in the Navy will receive an installment of his just dues in a few weeks. Commander McCalla, of the Enterprise, arrived in Washington this week, and immediately, to use his own language, "demanded" investigation. Inasmuch as the department was only waiting his arrival to order a court of inquiry, the "demand" was complied with in a surprisingly short time. The court, with Rear Admiral Kimberly as presiding officer, meets next Tuesday at the Brooklyn navy yard. Mr. McCalla is a well known local personality. His short squat figure, malicious expression, eye glasses and bald head are well known in Washington. On shore and in the presence of his superior officers he is a cringing cur; at sea he is a mad dog. He is one of those described by Thackeray, who are on a ladder and as willing to lick the boots of those above them as they are to kick the heads of those beneath them.

His defence, that he has been simply a strict disciplinarian, will not wash. If he was such a strict disciplinarian why did not he place under arrest the lieutenant who refused to cut down with his sword the sailor Walker? There was a direct act of insubordination. The truth is that McCalla should be only too thankful that he is home again: It is surprising that he was not killed on the trip. And if he is not broken, as he so notoriously deserves, he would do well to remain on shore duty, and to give men who have sailed with him a wide berth. Even a crazy man should have a little caution, and not dare fate too often.

A bill increasing the pension of Maj. Gen. G. K. Warren's widow was reached in the Senate Wednesday and Senator Reagan spoke against it with unusual force. He said that the wide distinction made in the pension lists between the widows of privates and those of officers is a crying injustice. The widow of the poorly paid private is left with a pension of $12 per month. The widow of a general who spent half a lifetime as a high-paid government servant asks for and receives $100 per month. In nine cases out of ten these widows of generals are not suffering from poverty as their petitioners say. They have snug bank stock and decent houses, but are perfectly willing to accept anything they can pull or haul out of the Treasury. The tendency, Mr. Reagan, said was not to a government of the people, for the people and by the people, so much as a government of the classes, for the classes and by the classes.

STATEHOOD.

While the prospect of New Mexico becoming a state is daily diminishing, the knights of the Santa Fe ring and its subordinate rings, insist that the chances of statehood are growing brighter each day. Those of the land-grabbing gang, who last winter strangled good legislation for the purpose of accomplishing personal gains, are the most ardent promoters of statehood, and if we mistake not, as far as immediate statehood is concerned, they will find that to defeat needed legislation and establish corrupt laws instead will result in the exclusion of New Mexico as a state for some time to come. In other words, they will be smothered in their own corruption.

There is no denying the fact that Mr. Catron, the so-called accepted leader of the republican party, and his henchmen, defeated the public school bill. Mr. Catron is not the accepted leader of the republican party of New Mexico; by his cunning devices he has crowded himself into the foremost rank of the republican party of New Mexico, therefore he is not an accepted leader of the republican party proper. Mr. Catron is a strong grant man and the "joker" of the Santa Fe ring and is surrounded by many political peons composed of rotten politicians from both political parties. It is true that Mr. Catron, through his cunning, manipulated the last legislature pretty much to his own liking, much to the utter disgust of the people of New Mexico as well as many members of the 28th legislature. Mr. J. Franco Chavez, who has been suggested as a possible candidate for representative to congress, was identified with Mr. Catron's manipulations last winter that has left a blemish on the good name of New Mexico which can never be removed and will be henceforth carried at the expense of the republican party, we are sorry to say, but not too egotistic to admit.—Black Range.

LOVE FEAST.

The Citizen is asking no favors of the generals and colonels along the Atlantic seaboard who use this territory as the dumping ground for their progeny as federal officials. It is weary palliating the outrage on the bona-fide citizens of New Mexico, and it proposes to denounce the injustice though the heavens fall. Better that the people of this territory should forever remain in vassalage as a territory than to quietly submit to insult and injustice and carpet-bag importations of degenerate sons of the fossils of the rebellion. Give us home rule or cease to expect that a republican party can exist in this territory. The republicans of New Mexico have made a grand fight the past decade for existence. They have rallied on every line of battle, and against great odds have built up a party deserving of recognition. At least, they are made of that stuff not discouraged by the assaults of the opposition, and will not submit to insult by any foreign republican broker of federal patronage. Home rule is the cry! No non-resident son of his father can feather his nest at the expense of the republicans of this territory without a vigorous protest on the part of the Citizen.

NEW POSTMASTER.

Mr. H. J. Williamson, of Washington, has received the appointment of post-master of this city. He is a son of General J. A. Williamson, and owes his appointment to the influence of his father with the administration. He is said to be a young man of fair ability, and no doubt will run the office for the salary attached. His selection is an outrage to the republicans of this city, which they are free to express in the plainest English. There were four applicants for the position from this city. They are true and tried republicans, grown gray in fighting the battles of the republican party; they are above reproach as men, and honored as private citizens. One of the number suffered the horrors of Andersonville, and on many battle-field bared his breast to the shot and shell of the armies of the rebellion. Another participated in the campaigns of the army of the Potomac, and in his old age expected that his claims would be recognized by a grateful country, and his declining years cheered by a position of secured income. The other two applicants are business men of this city, either of whom would have filled the position with credit to himself and honor to the party. These four men had, one or the other, the support of every republican in this city and county, the republican territorial officials, and many prominent republicans from various parts of the territory. All these men are insulted because the beardless son of General Williamson must have a place. The Citizen can scarce find words sufficient to denounce this infamous act of carpet bag rule.—Citizen.

The Harrison administration gives just such postmasters as they see fit at Washington, the people of Albuquerque are no worse off than the rest of the towns in the territory.

The New Mexican is a straight Republican paper, year in and year out and all the year around, and has been so since 1863, and don't you forget it.—New Mexican.

This sounds well to the ears of republicans, and there is no question that the paper is one of the vilest partizan sheets in the Territory, in a late issue the "School Report" was given at length and every republican locality in the Territory was lauded to the skies and the various County Superintendents who were republicans received mention, but not one word for a democrat. In our county of Lincoln, Superintendent of Schools Byers, made an able report and some very good suggestions, but he was ignored entirely. The New Mexican is certainly nothing if it is not a republican paper, and a narrow one at that.

There seems to be a chance for the passage of Delegate Joseph's bill granting an enabling act for the territory. All right, as long as we get the enabling act. But the apportionment in Mr. Joseph's bill needs some revision, and New Mexico's friends in Washington must look out for this, and that sharply and promptly.—New Mexican.

The bluster made by the republicans has simmered down to the above, about statehood. They will endeavor to get in their work on an unfair apportionment and if they succeed, the enabling act, when it comes before the people will certainly be defeated. If the act finally succeeds we must have fair play, and this is what democrats have insisted upon and will have.

"Yes," said Representative Bou-telle of Marue, "I shall get up in the middle of the night during the next campaign so as to keep my appointments on the stump for Harrison. He's so grateful for everything I have done for him. After all my work in Indiana two years ago and in previous campaigns, he appointed the bitterest enemy I have in the world as supervisor of the census in my district, although I protested again and again, and the man is now searching in every town for people who hate me or have grievances against me to make them enumerators. Thus the entire power of the government in my district is engaged in trying to prevent my renomination. Of course I am an administration man."

The following shows what the Farmers' Alliance are contending for, in a measure. The democrats are with them every time in these propositions:

Topeka, Kan., March 17.—The Farmers' Alliance, which has within six months become the most powerful organization that Kansas has ever known, has, through its president, addressed an open letter to the Kansas delegation in Congress calling their attention to the alarming condition of the agricultural interests of this State and demanding legislation for their relief. The letter says:

"We call attention to the fact that a single law firm in one city in Southern Kansas now has the contract for the foreclosure of 1,800 mortgages. This means 1,800 homesteads transferred from the hands of so many industrious families to the hands of capitalists, either domestic or foreign. The foreclosure of these mortgages is in accordance with a preconceived purpose to gain possession of their farms and people them with a more servile tenantry imported from foreign lands for the especial purpose. Foreclosure and evictions are taking place in very many parts of our State, and we need not go all the way to Europe to witness scenes of cruelty in matters of this kind."

The letter then goes on to say: "The distress of the people is crying aloud for relief. They believe that very many of the questions that are receiving the attention of Congress are far less urgent than those upon which the safety of their homes and the welfare of their families depend. They believe that the white citizens have some rights as well as the colored citizens of the south. They believe that fallen heroes, both white and black, in past struggles for liberty and the perpetuity of our institutions, can afford to wait for one moment until the rights of living heroes in the present struggle for American homes receive some recognition by the men who have been chosen to represent them in Congress. Behind these demands are more than 100,000 ballots in the state of Kansas, and the time is coming, and is not far distant, when legislators will heed the voice of their constituents."

Col. Max Frost is not the only Max Frost in existence. There is an Indian lad on the Mescalera reservation who bears the cognomen of Max Frost. If there is anything in a name this little Apache will no doubt become a prominent politician among his kind of people.—Black Range.

The World's Fair will be held as follows: Fair building to be dedicated Oct. 12, 1892, Exposition to open not later than May 1, 1893, and run to October 30, 1893.

The presidency of the United States is the highest gift in the power of the people, but the president has the power to make a still higher one. He can appoint the postmaster at Mineral Point, Colo., 12,000 feet above the sea.

WHITE OAKS BARBER SHOP W. L. Hughes PROPRIETOR.

Haircutting and Shaving done in the neatest manner.

Opposite Pearman's Hardware Store.

In connection with the new barber shop Mrs. Hughes will clean and repair clothing neatly and cheap.

Mr. LEX: "Why, Addie, you needn't cry about it! I only said Mrs. Allen was a very well-informed woman, and I wished you would follow her example."

Mrs. LEX: "Yes, and last week you said you wished I could manage to look as stylish as Mrs. Allen—and she makes all her own clothes. But she has what I haven't."

Mr. LEX: "What is that?"

Mrs. LEX: "Well, she gets all her information from the Magazine they take. I admit that she knows all that is going on, and is bright and entertaining in conversation—but I could do as well as she does if I had the same source of information. She lent me the last number of her Magazine lately, and I learned more in one hour's reading, about various social matters and the topics of the day, than I would pick up in a month by my occasional chats with friends. It certainly covers every topic of interest, from the news of the day down to the details of housekeeping; and everything is so beautifully illustrated, too. Every time Mamma goes over to the Allens' she comes back and teases me to let you take Demorest's Family Magazine, as the stories are so good. Even the boys watch for it every month, as a place is found for them also in its pages; and Mr. Allen swears by it. It is really wonderful how it suits every member of the family!"

Mr. LEX: "Well, perhaps I had better send for a Specimen Copy; for, if it is anything like what you say it is, it will amuse and instruct the whole of us."

Mrs. LEX: "I see that W. Jennings Demorest, the publisher, 15 East 14th Street, New York, is offering to send a Specimen Copy for 10 cents, so we can't lose anything, as each number contains a 'Pattern Or' or' entitling the holder to any Pattern she may choose, and in any size—which alone makes each copy worth 50 cents; and I just want a jacket pattern like Mrs. Allen's. The subscription price is only $2.00 a year; and I must say I can't see how they can publish so elegant a Magazine for so little money."

When the bill came to a vote, there was no quorum, only thirty-six voting. In a few minutes Mr. Ingalls informed the Senate that there were twenty-two Senators in the restaurant, busy laying in supplies. The sergeant-at-arms had notified them to attend, but they had only stopped eating long enough to refuse. Mr. Hawley remarked that there were some more Senators over in the Supreme Court room listening to the Neagle case, of so much interest to lawyers. Finally, at 2 o'clock, a quorum was secured, the obnoxious pension bill left on the calendar, and the discussion of the Blair education bill resumed as unfinished business. Being now well filled up with the viands and liquids dispensed in the Senate restaurant several Senators composed themselves to slumber while Mr. Barbour told that both political parties of Virginia favored the bill.

The committee to investigate the violation of the sanctity of Senate secret sessions is having a sad time of it. Thus far the newspaper correspondents have refused to reveal their sources of information and the committee have appealed to the Senate for some means to open their lips. Whatever is done whatever strong oath of secrecy is agreed upon, whatever threats are indulged in, there will never be any secrecy in secret sessions. Poor Riddl-berger had a good deal of sense when he so told the Senate, and it is only a pity that he isn't there now to repeat his statement. The last novel proposition is that the press gallery be abolished as a movement of revenge. It makes little difference to correspondents. A few minutes a day is enough in the Senate gallery, and nearly all who do their afternoon work at the Capitol do it in the House press gallery. If the Senate wants to show spite let it go ahead.

The House bill raising all district judges' salaries to $4,500 and all circuit judges' to $5,000 has been favorably reported. The Senate bill to give their district judges $5,000 and upward passed that body Wednesday. One of these measures, properly the latter, should be enacted. The country should have first-class lawyers on the bench, and to have them must give at least good salaries. To-day the judiciary from the Chief Justice to the district judge is the poorest paid in the world.

A "coal palace," one hundred and fifty feet by three hundred feet and three stories high is to be erected in East St. Louis. This palace will be a novel structure. The coal companies will furnish the material for the superstructure—black coal of every kind, and wrought out by saw, by mason's hammer and into artistic forms by the carver's chisel. The first floor will be of polished coal, and pillars of coal will support the floor—coal, coal everywhere. The purpose of the building will be to continually exhibit the agricultural and mineral products of Southern Illinois.

Then he clasped her with emotion,
Drew the maiden to his breast,
Whispered vows of true devotion,
The old, old tale,—you know the rest.
From his circled arms upspringing,
With a tear she turned away,
And her voice with sorrow ringing,
"I shall not see my bridal day."

This dramatic speech broke him up badly; but when she explained that her apprehensions were founded on the fact of an inherited predisposition to consumption in her family, he calmed her fears, bought a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for her, and she is now the incarnation of health. Consumption fastens its hold upon its victims while they are unconscious of its approach. The "Golden Medical Discovery" has cured thousands of cases of this most fatal of maladies. But it must be taken before the disease is too far advanced in order to be effective. If taken in time, and given a fair trial, it will cure, or money paid for it will be refunded.

Well and Happy.

I take pleasure in submitting the following statement of facts that you may know the great benefit that has resulted from the use of your Specific in case of my little daughter, now ten years of age. The child, when two years of age, had a severe attack of scarlet fever, which left her with a shattered constitution. Among other evidences of impaired nutrition was what the doctors called softening of the bones. In her fifth year she happened to a slight accident which resulted in the dislocation of the hip joint, and from the irritation thus set up, terrible abscesses of the hip ensued. The abscesses, despite the best medical treatment that could be obtained, remained for three years, discharging continuously. At this time, through the influence of friends, I put her on your S. S. S. When this treatment was commenced the abscess was very large, having six perforations, pus discharging through them all. During this treatment several spiculae of bone came out, and by the time she had finished her fifth bottle the abscess had entirely healed, her appetite and general health had been restored; in short, she was well and happy, and so continues.
