At a review of regular troops and district national guard' recently held at Washington for the especial benefit of the delegates to the Pan-American conference, President Harrison was reviewing officer. This is the first time since the war that the President has officially reviewed troops by virtue of his office as commander-in-chief.

Each delegate to the Pan-American conference was the recipient last week of a beautiful silk American flag, the gift of the Woman's Silk Culture Association of the United States. A short presentation address was made by Mrs. Lucas of Philadelphia, in which she explained that the silk from which the flags were made was grown and spun by American women.

United States Treasurer Huston recently made a practical test of the safety of the vaults in the Treasury building. He armed a trusted man with one of the drills used by the pupils of Jimmy Pope to open safes, and just for an experiment put him at work upon the wall of the vault in the upper part of the Treasury building containing over $200,000,000 in paper money which could easily be stuffed in a bag and carried away on a man's back. The man with the drill went promptly to work. Treasurer Huston held a stop watch and noted the time when the operation began, In just seventeen seconds the drill had pierced every obstruction and in sixteen minutes and a half the man had made a hole in the wall large enough to crawl through. Congress will be asked to provide a more secure vault.

PAN-AMERICAN RECIPROCITY.

The Congress of Delegates at Washington Makes Important Recommendations.

Washington, D. C., April 10.-At its session to-day the Pan-American conference took up and disposed of the reports of the committee on customs union, adopting the report of the majority with but three dissenting votes-those of the Argentine Republic, Chili and Paraguay. The report adopted recommends that reindicting people of that town for playing ciprocity treaties be negotiated between the several republics of the American hemisphere, each making tariff concessions so that the peculiar products of each may be introduced free into the others.

The committee on port dues reported that, owing to special conditions prevailing in the ports of several nations in respect to the services for which the charges are made, it is impracticable to completely abolish the charges now imposed upon vessels in the shape of dues. The committee recommends:

1. That all port dues be merged into a single one, to be known as tonnage dues.
2. That this one charge shall be assessed upon the total carrying capacity of

5. That the following shall be exempt from tonnage dues: 1. Transports and vessels of war. 2. Vessels of less than twenty-five tons. 3. Vessels which shall have been compelled to put into port by reason of damages suffered at sea. 4. achts and other pleasure boats.

The report was adopted.

The conference, at the time of adjournment, had under consideration the report of the committee on banking. In this the ommittee says that the future development of the commercial relations between North, South and Central America will depend as largely upon the complete and prompt development of international panking facilities as upon any other single condition. There does not exist to-day among the countries represented in the conference, says the committee, any organized system of bank exchanges or credit, all the business between the countries of this contiment being done through European banks, which are interested in the extension of trade between Europe and the Americas and not between the Americas themselves. The total foreign commerce of the West Indies, Mexico. South and Cen 545,000, in United States gold. The total exchange of commodities between the United States and countries to the south aggregated $282,903,403. Death of Sam. Randall.

WASHINGTON, April 13 .- It was a sad and touching scene at the Randall residence on Capitol Hill when Congressman Samuel J. Randall expired at five o'clock this morning. Around the bedside were gathered his family, his physician, and Postmaster General Wanamaker, who had all kept constant watch during the night. A few moments before death he opened his eyes, and looking tenderly at his wife, who knelt over him, said in a low tone, "Mother," a word freighted with all the fondest recollections of their long and happy married life, and by which he always called his wife when none but the family were near. He looked into her eyes as if about to say something more, but seemed to have no strength left, and in a few moments he passed away. The watchers saw that all was over, and the brave wife and daughter, who nursed and cared for him during his long illness, could restrain their feelings no longer, but gave way to their grief.

Mr. Randall's death had been expected any time during the past three days, and the family and friends knew he could not last much longer. Friday night had been a bad one for the sick man and he had several sinking spells, from which he rallied to the astonishment of the physicians. These, however, left him weaker and when morning came, it was evident his extraordinary vitality had almost left 4. That there be excepted from the provisions of article 1 the dues charged or to be charged under unexpired contracts with him. He rested easily and comfortably doctors encouraged the hope that he might live for several days yet. Shortly after three o'clock, however, a marked change was noticed and he seemed almost to sink away. This spell was worse than any of the preceding ones, and it was thought the end was at hand. At six o'clock he rallied somewhat, but it left him with very little strength and the doctors became convinced he could hardly live through the night. About 3:30 he had another sinking spell, and afterwards his mind became more clear and bright. The sick man lay in the front room and daylight was just beginning to shed its rays into the sick room when Mr. Randall opened his eyes and, after speaking to his wife once, gradually sank away. At 10 c'clock to-night Mr. Wanamaker said the funeral had been fixed for Thursday morning. The arrangements will be in charge of a congressional committee, to be appointed to-morrow. Mrs. Randall prefers that the services be held in the Metropolitan Presbyterian church, of which Mr. Randall was a member, and not in the House of Representatives. After the ceremonies the funeral party will take a special train to Philadelphia, where the inerment takes place in the Randall family vault in Laurel Hill cemetery. A friend of Mr. Randall said this evening, when he oined the church two months ago, had he lived, from what he had said he would unuestionably have taken a decided stand in church matters. His conversion was the result of his having leisure time and he thoroughly studied the questions. He became thoroughly convinced of his reed of religion, and after that his mind being at rest, he became happier than he had been at any other time. All the family noticed it.

Major McKinley said: "The death of Samuel J. Randall takes out of public life one of the ablest and purest of our states men. He was a natural leader of men. No man could have been a greater one. As Speaker he seemed fitted for the post, was always firm and resolute in party contests. yet fair and courteous to his opponents. In the great contest of 1876 no man can tell what might have happened but for his strong and clear head. I feel his death a personal loss."

SENATE .- Among the bills reported from committees and placed on the calendar were the following: A bill to provide an American register for a steamer to be named the Australia, owned in California; A Senate bill to provide and equip two steam launches to be used in the collection district of Puget Sound.

Consideration of the Montana case was resumed, and Mr. Evarts addressed the Senate. After further debate Mr. Hear gave notice that on Monday he should ask the Senate to remain in session until the Montana case was disposed of.

House—The contested election case of Waddell vs. West, Third District of Virginia, was taken up, and Mr. Lacy made an argument in favor of contestant. After considerable debate, and without disposing of the matter, the House took a recess until evening.

The House at the evening session did no business. Mr. Enloe (Tennessee) gave notice that until the House allowed private bills to be considered on Fridays, he would allow no pension bills to be passed on Friday nights. He then made a long speech in favor of payment of Southern war claims.

After considerable talk on this subject, and pensions the House adjourned.

SATURDAY, APRIL 12.

SENATE.—Mr. Dawes presented the petition of the Boston Board of Trade endorsing the resolutions by the Chamber of Commerce remonstrating against the proposed legislation for driving the Chinese out of the country. out of the country.

The calendar was taken up under the five-minute rule and the following bills

To provide for the disposal of old Fort Lyon and Fort Lyon military reservation, Colorado to settlers. Senate bill to in-crease the rate of pensions in certain cases of deafness to $40 a month. Senate bill appropriating $450,000 for a public building at Pueblo, Colorado. Senate bill to in-crease the efficiency and reduce the expense of the signal corps of the army.
The bill transfers to the Department of Agriculture the weather bureau, leaving the signal corps of the army to remain in the War Department.

MONDAY, APRIL 14. SENATE-Mr. Plumb presented a bill to increase the amount of currency in circu It provides that money required to be deposited for the redemption o national bank circulation be carried into the treasury and treated as funds availa ble for the reduction of the public deb and for current expenses of the government; that all funds held for the paymen of the matured debt and interest, due and unpaid, be similarly treated, and here no funds available above the sum of $10. 000,000 shall be retained in the treasury. Notice was received from the House of the death of Mr. Randall, and a committee was appointed to act with the House committee to take charge of the funeral.

House—An air of sadness prevaded the House when the Speaker's gavel called that body to order. Draped in black and ornamented with a handsome floral design the seat long occupied by Mr. Randall re-called to the members the fact that their old colleague had passed away forever The crayon portrait of the ex-speaker hung in the lobby was also tastefully draped with emblems of mourning. In his prayer the chaplain made a touching allusion to the dead congressman, and when he had concluded Mr. O'Neill of Pennsylvania de livered a brief eulogy and then offered a resolution of regret at Mr. Randall's death and providing for a committee of nine es of the House to attend the fun eral. The house then adjourned.

WORK OF AN ENGLISH COMPANY IN SOUTH AMERICA.

Burrowing 2,000 Feet Through the Solid Rock to Get Gold.

South America, from the earliest ourneys of the Spanish adventurers, has been pictured as a land of wonderful wealth, and the history of its settlement is scarlet with the blood of those who died because they could not or would not reveal the whereabouts of mines or of hidden treasures. Frank Vincent in his entertaining book, "Around and About South America," gives this interesting description of the greatest gold mine on the southern continent, and of the most remarkable in the world:

Passing through Congonbas, you ascend a sharp ridge, and find just beyond it the village and mine of Morro

Vellio. A very remarkable and interesting experience was my descent into the mine. At one of the neighboring offices some miners' clothes were given to me. Especially useful as a shield against falling stones was a hat made of very stout felt. To the front of this a candle stuck into a small lump of clay. Two iron cages, or cars, were run with wire ropes by water power, and filled a vertical shaft, bored, after the first hundred feet or so, in the solid rock, to a depth of 1,450 feet.

In reaching the bottom we descended innumerable ladders of interminable length. The roofs and the sides of the mine were everywhere supported by the hardest woods of Brazil. Two feet square was the average thickness of these timbers, though I occationally saw them as much as three feet square. At the bottom, such of the roof as I could see seemed to be supported by great wooden columns, between which was a solid backing of heavy planking.

All through the mine the visitor is startled and alarmed by a variety of continuous rumblings and reverberations. The calls of the men to each other and the commands of the bosses have also an ominous sound. These goblin noises, penetrating through the murky darkness, combine with the miners' lights, which dart about like so many vicious Jack o' Lanterns, to surround one with a pandemonium. The air, however, is everywhere re- knows his door tumbles down or he markably pure, a pleasantly disilludiscovers that his roof rafters are sionary fact, rather unusual, as fresh air is forced from above.

While watching the men and standing on the next higher platform, noises like distant but heavy thunder would occasionally be heard. These, they told me, were blasts in remote and smaller galleries. Dynamite is used for these blasts, seventy-five pounds a day being required. The men at the end of our gallery next fired seventeen charges, as we all stood under what is regarded as the strongest wall, for fear of horrible stone flakes falling, though the drifts are blasted and cleared so effectually that there is but very little danger. The various reports of the exploding charges were appalling. The successive waves of air struck us with powerful force. After the sharp crash, as of the heaviest artillery, the ground would shake violently beneath our fert, while the whole mine appeared to be rocking and tumbling for some seconds. The reverberating echoes were especially sonorous. The clatter of the mills is heard night and day, Sundays and holidays, week in and week out. The mining works were all shown me by the obliging superintendent, Mr. Chalmers. A general view of the place brings into prominence a huge water course and iron siphon coming down a hill to the extreme left or west. The driving power is water, introduced in flumes, and this one is seven miles in length. Then you see, at the north, the quarter where the married slaves reside, and, some distance above it on the hillside, the abode of the bachelor miners, appropriately styled "Timbuctoo." The stamping mills, with their rock-crushers and the strakes, are in the centre, tucked into a little valley; nearer are the huge mill wheels, sixty feet in diameter, one of which furnishes power for working the pumps. The great store-house of the company covers the hill-side to the south of the casa granda. Here are collections of everything likely to be needed in the | what is undoubtedly the smallest baby works or mine, from candles to now living. When born it weighed machinery. By the by, eight gross of candles are

Its face has a peculiarly amused purpose very well. I followed all the various processes of the works, from where the rough ore leaves the shaft's ties embracing English, Brazilians, are flocking into the Curtis house to The bill defining the jurisdiction of United States courts, and providing for ans, Spanish and Chinese. seventy-five English and nearly 1,000 natives.

Many native women are occupied with the lighter work, as at the strakes and in the amalgamation rooms. Six times a year what is termed the "gold troop" carries the bars of gold in one of the ordinary country carts, attended by only two or three natives, down to the Dom Pedro II. Railway, whence the precious freight is quickly carried to Rio. It is a remarkable fact that no escort is deemed necessary with this shipment. The bars weigh, on an average, about eight pounds troy, and contain about one-half per cent. silver. They have to be remelted in England, for purification, before being marketable, and are then worth about $3.060. The present company, which has been working the mine for nearly sixty years, have taken out as much as 3,000 pounds troy in what they term a "good year."

Inedible Furniture.

E. H. Strykie, a business man of Queensland, was at the Leland Hotel vesterday. He has just returned from England.

"I went to England," he said, "to try to make arrangements for the manufacture of a large quantity of metal furniture, and I sto ped in New York for the same purpose. The company I represent wishes to get chairs, tables, lounges and other articles of furniture made of some metal which will not need to be painted, and can be sold at reasonable prices. It is a hard matter to get any met I furniture light enough to ship long distances, cheap enough to sell in a frontier country and strong enough to be durable. But there is a great demand in Northern Australia for that sor, of goods, and undoubtedly some manufacturer will meet it. "Most of Queensland, all of northern Australia, and a large part of west Australia, are within the tropics. The three countries are infested with those terrible pests, the white ants. A person who has never lived in tropical Australia cannot imagine what that means. White ants eat wood, and nothing but wood. They gnaw out the inside of a block of wood without once piercing the outside; consequently there is no way to tell where they are at work. I have known them to destroy a log twenty feet long and two feet thick in a single night. They go everywhere, and nothing made of wood can be kept from them. "The first thing the householder merely shells. The white ants cat up wood furniture as they do houses. The people of Queensland have tried all sorts of schemes, but have never found anything ant-proof except metal. They cover their houses with sheet iron, and their chairs and tables with tin. I believe that if light metal furniture can be made there will be a tremendous sale for it all over the North-

A Clever Bishop.

A good story is told of Bishop Grafton (Protestant Episcopal) of the diocese of Fond du Lac. One of his first visitations was at Waupun, where there has been much church dissension in the past, and while there he was the guest of Mrs. Webster. After the prelate retired he was annoyed by a mouse in the room. He did not lie awake and wonder what could be done to abate it. He quietly arose, took the remains of a luncheon which he had been enjoying, placed it on the top of a glass in the center of a washbowl, filled the bowl half full of water. leaned a photograph from the table to the edge of the bowl so as to give the mouse a runway, then calmly went back to bed. In a few moments he heard the pattering of the mouse's feet on the photograph, a splash, a few struggles and all was quiet. Then the worthy bishop turned over and slept the sleep of the just. As Mrs. Webster remarked the next morning: "Bishop Grafton will find no difficulty in governing the diocese if he can so easily handle a mouse."

The criticisms by Stanton correspondent, in Lincoln Independent, of our rothography, was a little severe but true. We thank thee. That he may be more considerate in future we submit a brief outline of our life: We first saw the light in Texas. Our palatial residence a "Studebaker wagon," at the age of 4 we moved into a "Bain." When ten years of age we lost our grandfather and our family inherited all the ancestral manor, which consisted of a "Shutler," in which we lived till 19 years old, when a slight misunderstanding with the officers of the law, induced us to change our name and emigrate to New Mexico. We now occupy a "Fish Bros," and live in comfort if not in affluence. Our early education was necessarily neglected owing to lack of select schools in our immediate neighborhood, therefore we are to be pitied more than blamed.

ARE THEY TRUE.

Rumors of New Railroads for Ros-· well.

A gentleman of this town is in receipt of a letter from a prominent real estate firm of El Paso stating that rumors are afloat, and which seem to be backed by good authority, that a road is to be built to Albuquerque, from some point in Texas by way of Roswell, and a branch from the latter place to El Paso. Another project is to be built from Tascosa, Texas, via Roswell direct to El Paso. The writer has faith in the reports at least, for instructions to his correspondent was to look out for several good corner lots for him here, as he says "Roswell is bound to make a grand town if either of the roads are built." We do not know the facts in regard to the above but of Pecos valley will spur others to enter this field in order to secure the trade which this country will gain, and which is considerable. So we say to our El Paso friend secure the cornor lots, they will come in all right for several thousand each before long.

ritory's advancement. The attention is this territory are in many respects ider-tical, and when statehood honors shall have come to us our people will the better be able to work with those of the Centennial state in making the effete easterners realize what the Rocky mountainers are here for.

No More Timber Culture Claims. From the Denver Field and Farm.

The timber-culture law of the land has been repealed. We had expected it would be so. Its intentions were a failure from the very start. It was hoped by this means the treeless plains would be re-forested; that a vast area, distitute of timber, would be planted, and that on ever quarter-section taken under this act by private parties, forests would spring up on some part. The timber-planting shows no adequate relations to the vast amount of land taken up under the act. Thus, up to June 1888, there had been entered under this law no less than 38,088,560 acres. The propotion of planted area, if the law had been strictly enforced, would have been 2,380,030 acres. The claimants had ten years to prove up their claims, but when the proofs were in hardly more than fifty thousand acres were shown to have been covered with trees. On this subject remarks the San Francisco Bulletin: "Probably a much greater area had been actually planted, but the trees having been neglected, died. Moreover, it was a much more expensive matter to cultivate these timber tracts on these dry lands than many had sup-posed. There was no water for irriga-tion. The occupants were too poor to lead the water on to the land, even if it had been within easy distance. A great deal of the land thus taken up passed into the hands of speculators. The title the facts in regard to the above but of was perfected in some other way." But one thing we feel quite certain, and that this re-foresting, which turned out to be is, Roswell is bound to get a rail road in the near future, the building of the some good. The only act concerning the occupa tion and sale of public lands that seems to abide all reasonable tests is the homestead act, which requires ever claimant of 160 acres of public land to The Colorado newspapers are displaying a great deal of interest in New Mexico's welfare, and scarcely a day passes but that something elever appears on the editorial page of one or the other of the Denver Journals relative to this terminate of 160 acres of public land to live on it and cultivate it a certain number of years before his title can be perfected. He is forbidden to sell his claim or agree to sell it before his title has been gained. Now that the timber-culture act has gone overboard, about all that the government is expected to do full appreciated by the people of New Mexico, for the interests of Colorado and timber lands from being denuded by

D. M. OSBURNE MOWERS AND MOLINE PLOWS.

To those who use Machinery, and especially to the farmers of this country, we take this method of bringing to your notice that we are handling machinery, and the kind that you need, and guarantee any machine that we propose to sell, to give entire satisfaction, or no sale.

We have on hand the best Mower that was ever introduced in this country, and for many reasons: 1st.-It is the lightest draft machine made, no side draft, no weight on your horses necks, the draft comes direct from the main bar underneath the tongue. 2d.—It has the loose and flexible cutting bar, the outer end will drop 21/2 ft. into a ditch; the very thing you farmers need in this country to cut over your ditches. Other mowers can't do this, as they are stiff in the heel. 3d-The pittman runs in a straight line from a direct powerful stroke. In fact we are willing to give the D. M. Osburne a field test, and put up ($50.00) fifty dollars that with two 800 lb. ponnies we can cut as much grass as any other machine with any size horses or mules, and we can cut over ground they can't, and do good work. All we want is to sell our machine, if you want one, is to give us a trial and we will willingly go and let you see it Hot And Cold Baths work and satisfy you it is all we represent it to be and that is, the best mower made. The Stevens arched all spring tooth harrows needs no recommendation from us, for some of your best farmers has it and don't hesitate to say it is the best they ever saw, and the very thing the country needs. Will have on hand binding twine and extras for all machines we handle. Will have in a few days the Moline Plows of ever discription and Rakes, the flying Dutchman J. R., the best three wheel plow that is made, as some of your farmers can testify to. The Moline cultivators with there 11/2 plows (bull tongue's) the very thing to go down in the ground and cultivate your corn, corn planters, and in fact everything that is needed in farming will be here in a few days. We handle the K. C. Hay press, full circle all steel, and a No. 1 press; there is one now being used by Mr. P. F. Garrett, and gives satisfaction. Bailing wire we order for any one wishing it, and if we should not have on hand what you want will take pleasure in ordering it for you and will sell as low as goods can be sold by any one to be of first-class quality,

The new foot bridge over North Spring river is quite an improvement over the old fashion of wading the river. -We understand that our J. P. has tendered his resignation. It seems to be quite difficult to keep the office filled. -Sam Joyner, our young druggist, 18 investing some of his surplus cash in furniture. The REGISTER extends congratulations. -Phœnix has been cast and will be rendered as soon as the hotel is ready. The proceeds will be donated to the new school house funds.

—Dick Chamberlain returned from the plains last week. Dick is a No. 1 solo cornet player, and a marked improve-ment is noticeable in the band. -Mr. R. C. Stewart, the genial and rustling salesman for the well known firm of Browne, Manzanares & Co. Las Vegas, came in Saturday. -Mr. Maule informs us that Miss

Althase Gamble has been chosen as the one to be crowned May queen at the Farms school house on May 1st. -Mr. R. H. Stanford, hydraulic engineer of St. Louis, is in the city on busi ness connected with the First New Mexico Reservoir and Irrigation company. The dance at the school house on Friday evening, was well attended, and a general good time was had. Roswell certainly has the most social and fun loving young people in the territory. -E. P. Rowe, of "L" troop, Fort Stanton, was here with Sergt. Kimball and party last week. His happy, genial face is an addition to any society-come often "Paddy" and stay with us longer.

-Walter Booth returned from Las Vegas Saturday. We are very sorry to learn that Mr. Booth will make Las Vegas his permanent home, and will return there as soon as he can close up his business here.

J. J. Cockrell passed through town Friday morning enroute to his Lincoln home. He will tarry a day or two at Stanton where he will revive acquaintance with the postmaster therehis wife.—Leader.

-W. A. Hawkins, attorney at law, from our fair rival Eddy, is in town on his well earned vacation. He contemplates spending a month with us in fishing-looking over the country, and having a good time generally.

-Geo. Donaldson has returned from the mountains, where he has been for sometime making pickets for his woven wire fence. Any one in need of a good substantial fence should consult with him. See advertisement in this issue.

-Dr. Van Norman, the Eddy druggist, came to town last week, to pass his pharmaceutical examination, before Jno. L. Zimmerman, examiner for this district, which was successfully done. The Doctor adds one more to the great majority, and is enthusiastic over our valley.

-Sergeant Kimball of "L" troop, Fort Stanton, with his wife and sisterin-law, spent the Sergeants leave of absence in our city, and expressed them-selves delighted with the climate, fishing, and last, but not least, with the Roswell people. Come often Sergt., we are glad to see you. -It is going the rounds of the press that Roswell, this county, is more remote from a railroad than any other town in the U.S., the distance being 216 miles. But Roswell is sanguine that ere long she will be as close to a R. R., as any other town. So mote it be.—Lincoln County Leader.

-Peter McCourt and Dan Diehl left for Roswell on Wednesday. Peter has the contract to put on the new tin roof on the Chaves County Court House, and other work which he is investigating. Dan Diehl will associate himself with Peter McCourt if the outlook proves favorable.—Interpreter.

-The election the other day on the marshal question was a dandy, and we now know that Chaves county will have a lively political life. This election although an informal affair was a pretty good pointer for this fall. We have an idea that people will take a tumble ere long. Roswell is without a special police and from present appearances is likely to remain so for a while, from the simple fact that the citizens can not agree upon

-Mr. T. G. Hawkins, a hardware merchant of Hillsborough, Texas, is visiting our fair city with an eye to establish-ing himself in this section. Mr. Haw-kins expresses himself in the highest terms about our valley, and seems de lighted with the location. A good hard-ware house is greatly needed here, and we feel that we only voice the sentiments of the entire community, when we extend to Mr. H. a cordial welcome, and a pressing inirtation to settle in our

—On Wednesday W. C. Bradbury & Co, silently folded their tents and left Eddy. Part of the outfit left for Colorado and a part went up to Rock Dam camp, where it will stay until the great dam is completed, which will be in about two months. Capt. H. V. Clark, the manager for the firm, has gone to Denver, where he will stay during the summer. Jim Warren has gone to the Rock Dam camp, where he will have charge until the work is finished, when he will join Capt. Clark in Denver. Capt Mann will remain permanently in Eddy. -Eddy Argus.

The Pecos Valley as Seen by Others. From the Denver News.

The attention of the public has been frequently called to the Pecos valley, New Mexico, during the past few months Enormous irrigating ditches are being constructed with inexhaustible water supplies. It is estimated that nearly one million of acres will be brought under cultivation within the next two years. The peculiar nature of the sources of water, the unusually favorable lay of the land, the low altitude and the distance to the south of us furnish con-ditions for fruit raising unequalled by anything outside of California. The few farms devoted to fruit raising during the past five years, have given abundant proof of the enormous profit to be reap ed from the culture of fruit in this their characteristic push, pluck and energy. The town of Roswell is located very near to the largest copper, silver and gold mines of the Territory, and there is an abundant supply of the best of coal within the distance of thirty miles. With these and other conditions, it would seem that the most productive valley east of the Rocky mountains is now being developed and offers great advantages for men of enterprise and for future commerce. It is not surprising that two railroads are making for the valley, one from Fort Worth and the other from the Texas Pacific on the south. It is very surprising that Denver capitalist and railroad men have been so slow to see the advantages of direct connection with this valley to our own city and state. It would be but a small matter for the Fort Worth road to run a spur across the prairie from Amarillo down to Roswell and thence further south. This road could easily have a monopoly of the trade in that country and it would be of great advantage to Denver to have direct connection with it. Why should not the chamber of commerce take this matter up? Why, in developing the internal resources of Denver and its immediate surroundings, forget that it is to be the great market and distributing point for the whole Rocky mountain region?

"No Insects on Us."

Below will be found a copy of the challenge sent to the Eddy B. B. C. by W. S. Prager on last Thursday. It is the genuine article and the money will be deposited immediately upon its acceptation. The boys mean business and it remains to be seen whether Eddy will come to time or show the "white feather." We would like very much to see a game between the two clubs, and the sooner the better. The grounds here are being put in good shape, and if a game is secured, seats will be erected on the grounds with ample accommodations for all patrons. We hope to be able to announce by next week the acceptance of the challenge and give the date of the game. Either put up or shut up.

Roswell N. M., April 17th, 1890.
To the Manager Eddy B. B. C.
I herewith challenge the Eddy base ball club to play a game of base ball for $100 a side, the game to take place in Roswell the latter part of May or first part June, the exact date to be left to None but actual residents of Roswell and Eddy to play on either side. The Roswell club will play a return game at Eddy later on.

The "town" itself consisted of a general store, two dwellings, a blacksmith shop, and a railroad depot, and the Post Office was in the back end of the store. Three or four of us had ordered our mail directed there, supposing it to be a place of some importance. Therefore, after the train had departed, we went over to the store to make inqury. The Postmaster sat on his counter smoking a clay pipe, and nothing indicated that he was in a hurry.

"After mail, eh?" as he looked us "Yes."

"Did any of you ever think what a responsible position a Postmaster occu-

None of us replied, and he crossed his legs, looked into vacancy, and con-

"He is a part of the Government. He represents the Government. He is, to a certain extent, the Government. As the Government, he should command respect. Gentlemen, remove your hats."
"Who to?" demanded the wire-fence

"To me, sir—to the Government."
"Not by a blanked sight! If you are the Postmaster of this jack-rabbit Post Office, then you hump yourself and hand out our mail!'

"Gentlemen, is them your sentiments, also?" queried the old man as he turned

'They are." "Then you don't git a cussed letter out of this Post Office! You have as-sumed the attitude of treasonists toward this Government, and you git no favors

"See here, you old lop-shouldered, gander-shanked idiot, do you mean to say you won't pass out our mail!" exclaimed the fence man as his hair be gan to stand up like the barbs in his

'That's jist what I mean to say. This Government don't bluff.' "Well, if you won't, then I will!" He started for the back room, but the Postmaster hopped off the counter and obstructed him and said:

'This is high treason for sure. This Government warns you not to enter that

"Will you get our mail?"
"No, sir."

"Then stand aside." The fence man pushed ahead, and the Postmaster took hold of him. Then there came a biff-bang! and the Government was knocked over among a pile of rope and axe handles. The Chicago man got him by the leg, drew him outdoors, stood him up and "lifted" him, and as the old man started up the road on a run we went back to the Post Office and wire fence looked over the box of letters and passed out half a dozen. We were reading them in the shade of the depot building when the Postmaster returned. One eye was nearly shut, and he had his jaw in a sling.

"Get your mail?" he asked, as he came sliding up.

"Want anything more?"

Gents, I want to explain my conduct. I got my commission as P. M. only three days ago. It didn't swell my head at all until the old woman began to say as how we now stood at the head of society here, and that the State of Nebraska and most of the Union rested on my shoulders, and she put it so strong that I got rattled and made an ass of Gentlemen, the swelling has disappeared. Come over and take sun-

Capital Punishment.

When the idea of revenge is eliminated from our habits of thought with regard to criminals capital punishment will be esteemed an act of brutality which no community would think of permitting, says Hugh Pente-cost in the Arena. When we come to clearly understand that the worst criminal a man is the more it is our duty to deluge him with moral sympathy and help, the more clearly we shall see that the main motive for capital punishment is revenge; because, as I have already said, an execution is neither a warning to possible criminals nor a protection to society. On the contrary, it unquestionably tends to brutalize the minds of the peoole and familiarize them with the thought of killing. As long as the state employs persons for the express purpose of murdering men, those who are not officially employed and paid for it will also engage in the business.

A Necessity of Health.

It is a prime necessity of health that the action of the bowels should be kept regular. But the way to overcome a temporary fit of constipation, or to remedy chronic costiveness, is not to deluge the stomach and drench the bowels with purgatives of violent and painful action. The happy medium between an inoperative and violent cathartic is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which acts just sufficient by upon the bowels to relax them, without pain, and which being a wholesome tonic, as well as aperient, has the effect of strengthening both them and the stomach, and promoting the well being of the whole internal economy. The removal of bile from the blood, increased activity of the liver, usually dormant in cases of costiveness, and sound digestion follows the use of this beneficent medicine, as thorough and genial in its effects as it is safe and pure in composition. Rheumatism, fever and ague, kidney troubles and debility are also remedied by it.

GOOD LUCK CAME AT LAST.

Thought He Was Born Under an Unlucky Star, but Changed His Mind.

Soston (Mass.) Herald, March 27. Charles H. Johnson, a driver for William Richardson, 102 Sudbury street, has suddenly become a comparatively rich man. In the last drawing of the Louisiana State Lottery he was the happy holder of onewentieth of ticket 8,132, which drew the First Capital Prize of $300,000; and received as his share the neat little fortune of $15,000. He said to a Herald man regarding the fortunate circumstance that he thought up to the present time that he had been born under an unlucky star, but it seemed good luck had come to him at last. He would not, he said, stop buying lottery tickets because he had made a winning, out would continue to invest as before buying one or two tickets when the notion seized him. Mr. Johnson said that he knew a man in East Boston by the name of George M. Green, who had also drawn another one-twentieth of the capital prize.

WEBSTER'S UNABRIDGED ANCIENT EDITION.

A so-called "Webster's Unabridged Dictionary" is being offered to the public at a very low price. The body of the book, from A to Z, is a cheap reprint, page for page, of the edition of 1847, which was in its day, a valuable book, but in the progress of language for over FORTY YEARS, has been completely superseded. It is now reproduced, broken type, errors and all, by photo-lithograph precess, is printed on cheap paper and flimstly bound. A brief comparison, page by page, between the reprint and the latest and enlarged edition, will show the great superiority edition, will show the great superiority of the latter. These reprints are as out of date as a last year's almanac. No hon-orable dealer will allow the buyer of such to suppose that he is getting the Webster which to-day is accepted as the Standard and THE BEST,—every copy of which bears our imprint as given below.

If persons who have been induced to purchase the "Ancient Edition" by any misrepresentations will advise us of the facts, we will undertake to see that the seller is punished as he deserves.

PISO'S REALEDY FOR CATARRH.—Best. Easiest to use. Cheapest. Relief is immediate. A cure is certain. For Cold in the Head it has no equal.

Harry—"That's ma calling me; she's going to lick me, 'cause I didn't hurry from the druggist's with this medicine. Jimmy, you can take my gum till I get back; I've got to squall like I was being half-killed, or pa'll lick me; ma can't hurt any, 'cause she's sick most of the time."

Jimmy—"Let's see that medicine. That's the same Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription that cured my mom. Why, she couldn't spank the baby, and now—the other day she shook pop so he doesn't drink any more. In about two weeks you'll get belted so you'll wish you'd been born good."

Please remember, that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the only positive cure for the numerous diseases that destroy a woman's influence in her family.

A Book of 160 pages, treating of Woman and her peculiar diseases, and their Self-cure, illustrated with wood-cuts and colored plates, mailed in plain, sealed envelope, on receipt of ten cents in stamps.
