The Blunt Edge

By LELAND BOYD

Radio listeners have heard quite a lot of stereo radio lately if they have tuned to KGNC Amarillo. The station claims to be only a step or two away from a change-over to the new kind of listening.

It may be the best thing that has happened to the radio industry since the exit of the crystal ball. Whatever it is and whatever it does for the radio industry, they'd have a lot of trouble convincing us that our old set is outdated.

The set we have is a cabinet model. It was made at least 15 years ago, and in anyone's living room would be the dominant piece of furniture. But it has a number of features that make it particularly quaint.

It has a selector for three wave lengths. One for everyday radio programs, a second for police broadcasts and ham operators, and a third for hams and short wave broadcasts.

We are in for a surprise every time we monkey around with the set. Imagine twisting the dial around, catching a few blaring squeals, roars, etc., and finally settling on a program in English, Spanish, Italian, French, etc.

The other night we twisted the dial and stopped the indicator on a newscast in English. We listened for several minutes, and the announcer told us who we were listening to. "This is Radio Moscow bringing you a summary of the day's events. We pause briefly for a musical interlude with bla-bla-bla."

On many occasions we had wished to listen to the Moscow Radio. Some people we knew had told us about listening to it, and described the broadcasts as "outlandish."

We found out why. There are several noted radio commentators of the United States that have proven themselves capable of "slanting" the news to fit the particular views of themselves or their sponsors. This day and time, such commentators are accepted, and many are respected.

But the poor unlearned employees of the commentators in the U. S. could really get an education in their field by listening to Radio Moscow.

I would not believe that the truth could be perverted to such an extreme unless I had heard the thing happening.

One of the topics of the Russian's newscast was the Quemoy fracas between the Nationalist Chinese and the Red Chinese, with the United States caught in the middle and barely able to turn around.

Red China was pictured as a peaceful democracy. Nationalist China was pictured as a country composed of a lot of captives. The United States had a monstrous description applied to her, with words such as capitalist, warmer, colonialist being the ones we recall at the moment.

We had heard the happenings of the day reported on a U. S. newscast a few hours before. There was almost as much difference in the two versions of the happenings as daylight and dark. At least the Russian reports were clouded, in this writer's opinion.

However, we wouldn't try to decide for you which was wrong. And we won't call them liars as could easily be done.

If we had a radio transmitter and could talk back at them, one thing we would call to their attention is that we can listen to their perverted broadcast, write about it in the Blunt Edge, and tell anybody we want to without being shipped off to Siberian salt mines or without fear of liquidation.

A few minutes after the newscast the foreign power staged a question and answer period similar to "Meet the Press" program on U. S. radio.

The main purpose of the question and answer period was to extoll the virtues of the communistic society. It is the "coming thing" was the answers twirled by the panelists, and of course tried to pic-

Sounds Program Feature

An assembly program was presented to Bovina School students Monday morning through the cooperation of the local Student Council and the Southern School Assembly association.

The program was given by Charles Ramsdon, a sound technician, who, through the use of electronic devices, made a guitar sound like a pipe organ, and through the use of a geiger counter, reproduced sounds that are rarely heard, such as the scientific explosion of molecules, etc.

Following the assembly, Ramsdon complimented the faculty on the behavior of Bovina students, reports Roy Whisler, high school principal.

The next assembly program will be December 5, and will feature a magician, reports Whisler. Parents or others interested are invited to attend, he says. The admission is 15 cents for grade school students and 25 cents for high school students and adults. The assembly programs are sponsored as a non-profit project by the Bovina Student Council. Ramey Brandon is president.

Mustangs Sad After Happy

Friday night at Mustang Field in Bovina, it is the Mustangs versus the Lazbuddie Longhorns at 8 p. m. The game is the Mustangs' homecoming, and the third district tilt for the Bovina team. A win over the Longhorns would mean a good chance for the Mustangs to finish second in their district.

A last half stand by the Mustangs of Bovina failed to overcome the 30-0 lead of the Happy Cowboys Friday of last week in a tilt that was the first district loss for the Mustangs.

The loss squelched the Mustangs' hope for a district championship this year as the Cowboys were rated the number one team of District 2B in which Bovina competes.

The final score of the Bovina-Happy game was 30-0.

The Mustangs were caught off guard on the fourth play from scrimmage. A side-stepping Cowboy ball carrier ran a 42-yard touchdown and started the first half miseries of the Mustangs.

A pass for the point after for the Cowboys was flung down and the score after four plays was 6-0.

The Mustangs ran a series of plays that netted them 25 yards and two first downs, and it appeared that the Mustangs would be able to get an offense going. However, a Mustang pass was intercepted on the 45-yard line, and stopped the Mustangs' first offensive playing.

The Cowboys were denied ground, and with a charging defense, the Mustangs thrust the Cowboys back five yards in three plays, and the Happy lads punted.

A fumble on their own 25 yard line ended Bovina's next drive, and set up the second touchdown for Happy. Again the Cowboys were unable to add extra points.

Shortly before the first quarter ended, Happy did add points to outdistance the Mustangs 18-0. The third TD came on a 64 yard sprint with the TD coming on the Mustangs' weak left side of the line.

The Mustangs mustered a drive that reached the Cowboy 33 yard line and fumbled. Happy then took a four yard gain, and fumbled.

Another Mustang fumble followed. Happy ran the ball back to the midfield stripe, and punted, and left the Mustangs on the 10 yard line.

Another fumble on the 11 yard line lent the Cowboys another easy TD and netted them 24 points.

The last play of the first half saw Bovina's pass intercepted and the Mustangs were scored on again, to give Happy their total of 30 points.

A. E. "Bud" Crump and Harry Charles are co-chairmen of the drive, and are securing other men to aid in the finance raising campaign.

Funds raised are used to promote and maintain the scouting program of eight counties, including Parmer.

Some of the projects maintained by the Scouts are the Aquatic Camp at Carlsbad, a camp in the Sacramento Mountains, Camp Wehinhay, the council office, and personnel, service, training, and organization for the local community Cub packs, Scout troops and Explorer posts.

Select Four Queen Hopefuls

Four girls from Bovina High School were nominated for the honor of Football Queen Monday. The four girls, Avis Williams, Joan Kay Ezell and Arlene Clayton, all seniors, and Penny Lloyd, a sophomore, were chosen by the boys on the football squad and the queen will be voted on by the boys Friday night at the game.

Friday evening, Bovina's Mustangs will play Lazbuddie here and also a feature of the evening will be the annual homecoming. Following the game, a "midnight movie" will be shown at the Mustang Theater. The movie is being sponsored by the PTA and regular admission prices will be charged.

FINED FOR DWI

A Lockney man was convicted on a driving-while-intoxicated charge in Parmer County Court Monday morning.

Jesse Orville Roberson was arrested by Sheriff Chas. Lovelace in Farwell Sunday afternoon. He was fined $100 and court costs by Judge A. D. Smith.

CROP Drive To Be Thursday

Tomorrow (Thursday) at 6:30 p.m. members of the Methodist Youth Fellowship will canvass Bovina for donations to the Christian Rural Overseas Program milk fund.

The young people will visit the homes in Bovina, asking for donations to the CROP fund. They will be under the direction of Mrs. Dean Hastings and other adult MYF sponsors.

Money given to the fund will be sent to CROP headquarters and will be matched by the government, 20 to 1, for the purchase of dry milk, wheat flour, canned meat and dried cheese which will be sent to underprivileged children in other parts of the world.

This is the fourth year that the MYF has sponsored the campaign. People of Bovina are urged to cooperate with the young people who are spending their trick or treating for a worthy cause, Mrs. Hastings says.

MOTEL OWNERS—Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Blackstone are the new owners of Bovina Sands Motel. They took over the management of the tourist facility Monday of last week. The Blackstones had farmed near Friona for the past three years, and had formerly managed motels in Brady, and Hot Springs, N. M.

No Rough Stuff Warns Lawmen

As Bovina area youth and others prepare for Halloween night, so are local law enforcement officers preparing to keep order and protect property.

Deputy Henry Minter says that he and possibly two other officers are planning to be on duty all night long to prevent property damage and unnecessary pranks on Halloween night, Friday.

As last year's Halloween was described as the quietest ever in Bovina, Minter says that this year is intended to be the same.

He rules out all kinds of property damage that has happened in past years, and warns parents and children that breakers-of-the-law will be taken care of.

PTA to "Trick or Treat"

Mrs. Leon Grissom, a member of the Parent Teacher Association of Bovina, announced Monday morning that plans had been completed for a children's "Trick or Treat party Friday."

Mrs. Grissom reports that the children should be at the school by 5:30 p.m., Friday and they are to be in costume. She also stresses that there will be a number of parents present to go with the children and sponsor their activities. They will be back at the school by 6:30, she says.

The party, the first such tried in Bovina, is definitely only for children of the lower grades. They will have transportation for their "trick or treat" jaunts around town, Mrs. Grissom further reports.

He says that another deputy will be on duty for that night, and possibly an area highway patrolman to keep watch over the town.

200 At Baptist Dinner

About 200 members of the First Baptist Church were on hand Thursday night of last week for the church's loyalty dinner, a special occasion for the Bovina Baptists.

The program of activities included an evening meal, and a promotional speech by Jack Jeter, pastor of the church.

The meeting was in the Bovina School cafeteria.

Also shown at the meeting was a 10-foot-tall poster showing the proposed budget for the coming year. The budget is about triple of past year's budgets, and the supper was one of the activities of the church to encourage each member to share in the church's financial burden to sponsor the local and foreign activities of the church, according to Jeter.

Mrs. Jack Jeter provided dinner music with an organ and accompanied the group during songs for the occasion.

Roy Whisler introduced the members of the church who were on committees of the church's forward program of finance. The supper was an activity of the forward program.

Dr. Freeman PTA Speaker

Dr. John A. Freeman, assistant professor of psychology at Wayland Baptist College in Plainview will speak in Bovina Thursday evening on mental hygiene. His talk will be at the monthly meeting of the Parent Teacher Association, in the auditorium of the Bovina Public Schools.

Starting time for the meeting will be 8 p. m. and members of the PTA and all others interested are urged to attend.

Dr. Freeman is a graduate of Ouchita Baptist College and holds the Th. M. degree from Southern Baptist Seminary, Louisville, Ky. In addition, he has been granted the D. Ed. degree by Oklahoma A&M College with an emphasis on psychology and counseling. He also heads Wayland's new laboratory for research in the field of extra-sensory perception.

Dr. Freeman and his wife are authors, and frequently contribute articles to many Southern Baptist publications. Dr. Freeman is writing a regular column for the "Ambassador Life," magazine for boys.

BASKETBALL RETURNS—Janice Richards, who sparked the Bovina Fillies to Regional Championship last year, makes a shot from near the goal against the Amherst Bulldogs Tuesday night. She was high scorer with 27 points.

Ketch-all Korner

By Sally Whitesides

There are times when living is just one big joy. And that time came to me the other day when Bill, the mathematical superior of the Whitesides family, was stumped by the puzzle which Editor Leland ran last week in his column.

Incidentally, since that one was introduced on "our side" of the bank building, a number of others have sprouted up and, I fear, more time has been spent placing pennies and dimes along side one another and trying to figure out hotel bills than has been spent on actual real estate, insurance and newspaper work.

A person's handwriting, it is well known, carries definite characteristics that are interesting. It is also well known that all who have gone to school in these United States write, sometimes with a scrawl, but still they write so the rest of us can read it.

us about two and a half years ago, she couldn't understand why no windows in the Whitesides' house got a direct sun. It's simple; because the houses, almost all houses in Bovina, are setting 'katty-korned' with the directions and every window is thus shaded almost all day.

My best windows are in the "west" bedroom and there my flowers will stay until Jack Frost starts to really mean business. Then, and only then, will I retreat to the living room with my flowers.

What is the proper way in which to prepare mushrooms? So far, I like them, like oysters, straight from the can, cool and so clean-flavored. However, I've eaten mushroom sauce and, although it is delicious, I haven't the faintest idea as to how it is made.

Mrs. Warren Embree called my bluff the other day. It was her opinion that, although the KAK was filled with recipes, notes for better cooking, etc., she, for one, had never seen any of my own handiwork.

CREAM PUFFS STEP ONE: Heat one cup of water in a saucepan to the boiling point. Then add 1/2 cup Mazola oil and 1/2 teaspoon salt. Stir to mix and then beat in, all at once, 1 cup sifted flour.

STEP TWO: Drop by tablespoonfuls onto an ungreased baking sheet; about two inches apart. Bake in a hot (450) oven for 20 minutes and then reduce heat to 350 and bake for another 20 to 25 minutes.

STEP THREE: When thoroughly cool, cut off the tops and fill the cavity of each puff with ice cream, whipped cream, a custard or the lemon cheese filling. This recipe yields about 18 medium sized puffs.

Charles, I know just how you feel. Ann, by the way, was born and reared in Europe.

Now is the time, writes Mother from Wisconsin, to bring in the houseplants that have been outside all summer. And that brings up the old question of which window is the best for them to get the most sunlight all winter.

Debbie Hawkins Has Hobo Party

A number of friends gathered Tuesday afternoon in the home of Debbie Hawkins to help her celebrate her sixth birthday. Debbie is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hawkins and the party was along the "hobo" theme.

Taking place in the garage of the Hawkins' home, the partygoers were greeted by a lantern hanging on the door, and a sign, inviting them into the "Hobo Jungle." Each child was in costume.

Games were played inside the garage including tossing balls through the mouth of a giant witch. They also made their own Halloween masks from paper plates before playing games out-of-doors.

Refreshments were also along the hobo theme, with hot chocolate being served to them by Mrs. Hawkins, before a campfire. The chocolate was brewed in a typical hobo coffee pot. The cake was a replica of the engine, box car and caboose of a train.

For favors each guest was presented a hobo's pouch, made of a bright bandana, tied to a short stick. Inside each pouch was a number of favors, including tiny dolls, cigars that made into fans, and several other articles. The boys received firemen's hats.

Charleses Return From Vacation

New York City, Niagara Falls, Gettysburg and Manhattan Island were points of interest visited on a recent tour taken by Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Charles. The local couple returned Monday, October 20, after a month's visit to 15 different states and the Province of Ontario, Canada.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles first visited relatives in Woodward, Okla. From there, they drove through Kansas, Missouri, Illinois, Indiana, Michigan and Canada.

They returned to the United States via the Niagara Falls route, stopping there for a good view of the falls. Then they visited Charles' cousin, John W. Charles, in Englewood, N.J., and took an extensive tour of New York City, Manhattan Island, the United Nations Building and other sites of interest.

Through Pennsylvania, North Carolina, Tennessee, Georgia, Virginia and West Virginia their trip continued. A highlight of this section of the trip was the Gettysburg battlefield, and going on south, the foliage tours through the mountains left a

Fall's First Frosts Arrive on Time

Jack Frost is right on schedule this year. The signs of his first visit were evident in the Parmer County area early Wednesday morning, October 22. As is usually the case, Jack hit with a ride with a cold front from the north to make his first appearance. He was somewhat timid Wednesday morning, however, and didn't treat any green growth too severely.

This is also typical of his behavior. A killing frost usually occurs along about October 25 in the Parmer County area. Much earlier freezes have been recorded, and, as you might expect, some later. However, that's about the average killing frost date.

Before the first "killer" though, usually light and spotted frost visits two or three times, causing light to no damage to vegetation. That is the kind that was here last week.

The first frost date had no particular significance to grain sorghum this year, but it did affect the growth of cotton plants. The freeze was of not long enough duration or severe enough to kill the plants outright, but most farmers report their crop "nipped" in low-lying areas, and further plant development at a standstill.

Here again the freeze has been of no particular consequence so far as the lint itself is concerned. More than the cold weather, the drizzle and high humidity readings that have come in with the cold front have been the main hindrance.

Hand boll pullers are still in short supply and most farmers have been figuring on finishing their harvest with mechanical strippers. In fact, stripping of the crop would have moved right along toward the end of last week if the weather hadn't intervened.

Moisture itself has been very light. What areas did receive what could be classified as showers have reported no more than a quarter of an inch. The rain and drizzle has come very calmly with no whipping winds. Consequently, farmers and ginners feel that the cotton quality has not been too adversely affected.

The weatherman has been promising the return of sunny skies since Monday, but as late as Tuesday night the weather continued very cool and the sky overcast, threatening rain or even snow.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

There are many factors that enter into soil fertility. One of the most important factors is the organic matter content of the soil. Virgin soils of Parmer County contain approximately three to five per cent of organic matter. Under cultivation this percentage is reduced. The average dryland farm has about one per cent. The average content of the irrigated land is about 0.7 per cent. These figures are considerably lower than the figures for the virgin pastureland.

Organic matter present in the soil directly affects the water-holding capacity of the soil. The small fragments of organic matter have the ability to hold up to ten times as much water as a soil particle the same size. Therefore any increase in the organic matter content will increase the amount of water a soil can store. This is extremely valuable to the dryland farmer who depends on water stored in the fall and winter to produce the next crop and to the irrigation farmer who pre-irrigates. Crop production depends on the water stored in the soil.

Organic matter increases the water intake rate of the soil. During the process of decomposition of the organic, there is given off a glue-like substance. This substance tends to stick the soil particles together in small clumps called aggregates. A soil that is well aggregated will take water more rapidly than will a soil in poor condition. This is especially true in tighter soils.

To increase the permeability of a soil is helpful in this area where many of the rains fall in a short period of time. A well aggregated soil tends to resist both wind and water erosion. This resistance is due to the fact that several of the smaller particles are stuck together creating a larger aggregate which is not easily moved.

Another important function of organic matter is the increase in bacterial activity. An abundant supply of microscopic bacteria is necessary for plants to be able to use the nitrogen plant foods. The bacteria use decaying organic matter for food to supply the energy required to change the nitrogen to a form that plants can use.

Bacteria are also helpful in the plant utilization of phosphates by storing the phosphorus in their bodies to be released all during the growing season. The number of bacteria in the soil is amazing. One gram of soil contains from 100,000 to several billion. This means that there are approximately 5,000 pounds per acre on dryland and 20,000 pounds or more per acre on irrigated land of these bacteria in our soils.

Without these bacteria working for us our soils would be infertile. Any way that we can increase the food supply of these bacteria will increase our soil fertility.

The most economical way to supply this needed organic matter is by the efficient use of crop residues and green manure crops. The addition of organic matter increases the amount of plant food available to the plant by speeding the breakdown of the rocks and minerals of the soil. Acids are given off in the decomposition of organic matter. These acids help eat away these minerals leaving the plant foods.

The organic matter content of a soil is related to the ease of tillage. Soils that are low in organic matter tend to pack and form clay pans or plow pans much more rapidly than soils high in organic matter. A packed soil reduces the infiltration of the rain and restricts the development of plant roots.

The addition of organic matter will not solve all of your fertility problems; however, it is a step in the right direction.

Motor vehicle accidents take the lives of a person every 14 minutes, according to the National Safety Council. One person is injured in a motor vehicle mishap every 23 seconds.

NO TRICK PHOTO--Nope, the plow is really that big. It's a disc-type breaking plow from New Haven Farms northwest of Bovina, used to really roll back the tight High Plains soil of the area. Bonnah Boyd proves it's a big 'un.

Early Start on Next Year

Not since the fall of 1956 have Parmer County area farmers set themselves to the task of preparing for another crop with such vigor as they have been doing in the past two weeks.

Shredders have chewed their way along through the grain sorghum stubble almost before the dust produced by the combines had settled. Some farmers have even completed their fall land plowing in early-harvested grain sorghum fields.

Many are using or are contemplating the use of commercial fertilizers to speed decomposition of stubble that has been returned to the soil, thus increasing the organic matter content of their land. Organic matter plays a vital role in farming--especially under irrigation.

Urges All Eligible To Vote in Election

"Vote for whom you please for governor in the coming general election, but please vote," Gilbert Kaltwasser, president of the Parmer County Farm Bureau, urges.

The reason a person's vote is important, he says, is because the number of votes cast for governor in the general election in a precinct determines the number of delegates that precinct will have in the party's county convention in 1960. In turn, it also determines how many delegates a county will be able to send to the state convention.

"It is in the interest of good government that the individual should participate in his political party's activities," Kaltwasser says. "For if the majority does not exercise its citizenship responsibilities, there is a real danger that a minority faction can take over the party machinery. And, if we are to keep our democratic form of government the majority must always rule."

Farm Bureau has been carrying on a "good citizenship" program on local, state and national levels this year. In addition to get-out-the-vote campaigns, the organization has made available to high schools recordings of the National Anthem and is sponsoring a nationwide essay contest.

All of this is in strong contrast to conditions on the farm just a season ago. Beset with one of the most dreary falls in history for harvesting, area farmers soon fell far behind in their after-harvesting chores.

In the belief that it is not always necessary to shred, disc, plow, or otherwise work land without ever missing a year, many chose to hold this type work to a minimum or even omit the practice altogether. As a general rule, area farmers still believe that breaking land regularly in the fall is a part of good irrigation farming, but records indicate that there were a lot of them that didn't get around to it, just the same.

1957, then, lent itself well as a "leave out" year, but 1958 is already seeing many farmers return to intense land work practices that have paid off so well since the advent of large scale irrigation on the High Plains.

Interestingly enough, land breaking is the only farm operation on the High Plains that has ever been proved wholly adaptable to all-automatic techniques.

Because of the large acreage and uniform lay of the land on the typical High Plains farm, many dreams of "push button" farming have been enjoyed, but none has come as close to reality as the guide-operated tractor pulling a land-breaking plow.

In this work, a farm tractor of conventional design is fitted with a special attachment which "feels" its way along the furrow just plowed, guiding the tractor in order that another two, three, or four rows may be plowed out.

Safety devices are usually installed on the equipment to shut it off if for any reason it should leave its pre-determined course and take off across the country.

FARMERS CAN RECEIVE "DOUBLE DEDUCTION" ON GIFTS TO CROP

Farmers who choose to support charitable organizations such as CROP (Christian Rural Overseas Program) are in the unique position of being able to obtain a "double deduction"--and it all is quite within the law.

For income tax purposes, gifts of agricultural products such as grain sorghum or cotton may be deducted on the basis of their market value, and farmers may also choose not to report this value as taxable income on their reports.

Therefore, point out county CROP officials, farmers should not count the value of donated commodities as income, should not count the costs of producing this commodity as an operating expense, but can deduct the cost of the feed or fiber as a charitable contribution. All elevators and Gins in Parmer County are cooperating with the CROP movement this year. Forms are available there.

NEWS FROM THE FARM BUREAU

By RAYMOND EULER

Rat poison sold like hot cakes. We will have some more in about Friday if we can get it to sell at the same price. We hope everyone who has rats will take measures to get rid of them right now. We are told that the Friona city dump grounds are infested with them, and this is probably true in other city dumps. It seems that this would be a good place to do some work before they all come to town or to your house. Besides the damage they do to feed and other things, rats carry diseases.

Mose Glasscock was among Parmer County men who attended the Amarillo meeting on livestock sanitation and disease prevention Monday morning. According to a report we received that same morning, not a single county in the state of Texas is certified brucellosis-free.

To livestock producers and dealers, this is an important thing. It is doubtful if Texans can eat all the livestock products they produce, if it becomes impossible to ship livestock out of the state because of disease, it will work a great hardship on a great industry.

We received a letter from Mrs. Elmer Teel of Texico giving us part of the history of The Woman's Society of Christian Service. We had complimented the Oklahoma Lane Society for a letter to the editor expressing concern for the activities of their youth when they were not at home or engaged in scheduled activities. But we referred to them as a club. Mrs. Teel tells us the society is definitely not a "club." Anyway, we are for the organization.

Five or six couples will leave Parmer County as delegates to the Texas Farm Bureau Convention in Corpus Christi. This is where policies of the state organization will be developed and adopted. Officials of the organization will spend the next year carrying out these policies. They will not change any of them unless the membership says to next year.

It is important that you vote November 4.

Cotton Quota, Allotment, Referendum Date Set

A national marketing quota of 12,167,000 bales, a national acreage allotment of 16 million acres and a date, December 15, for a farmer referendum on marketing quotas for upland cotton have been set by Secretary of Agriculture Benson. All are in accordance with present legislation covering cotton. In setting the national marketing quota figure the Secretary found that the total supply of upland cotton exceeds the normal supply needed by 4, 379,000 bales. The national acreage allotment for 1959 will be apportioned to the states, state allotment to the counties and the county allotments to farms according to the provisions of the law.

If marketing quotas for 1959 are approved—it takes a two-thirds favorable vote—in the December 15 referendum, the cotton grower will have a choice between two allotment-price support programs known as choice A and B. Under A, growers who comply with their regular acreage allotment will have available price support at not less than 80 per cent of parity. Growers under choice B receive larger farm allotments—40 per cent above the regular allotment—but with a reduction of 15 per cent of parity in the support price as compared with choice A.

Under the 1959 quota program and in accordance with controlling legislation, growers who exceed their chosen farm acreage allotments will be subject to penalties of 50 per cent of the cotton parity price as of June 15, 1959 on the farm's excess production. Too, all cotton produced on the farm will be ineligible for price support. According to J. E. Montgomery, program specialist, Texas ASC office, notice of individual farm allotments under both choice A and B will be made available to producers prior to the December 15 referendum.

If marketing quotas are not approved for the 1959 upland cotton crop, only the regular allotment program will be in effect. Price support will be

by W. H. Graham Jr.

Ever since the 1930's America has had more than its share of farm planners. Most of these planners have been in or associated closely with the federal government. There are still a lot of people in the nation today who have ideas that they think could help shape agriculture into a more profitable pattern. However, they all don't come from the government. A "new twist" in this department is the farm planning being done by the Doane Agricultural Service of St. Louis. Doane is an old and respected name in farm counseling--private enterprise style.

Up in Sherman County folks got together and hired the Doane people to put them down on the balance sheet for an unbiased appraisal of what their county agriculture has and what it needs. The service agency is coming through with some interesting recommendations.

Sherman County farmers, like those of this area, were bothered by a declining farm income due to declining prices, rising costs, and acreage restrictions.

The purpose of farm programming was to determine the most profitable combination of enterprises for selected representative farms in the county. Guides were developed to adapt those plans for the individual farms.

It required six months to make the study. Factors taken into consideration included the climate, soils, topography, markets, water, size of farming operations, availability of labor, capital, experience of farmers, and the attitudes of farmers.

The Doane people raised some eyebrows when they brought into use an electronic "brain" to figure out the best possible solutions to the problems of the Sherman County farmers.

Now, don't get excited. Of course, the brain cannot really "think." What it does do, though, is to carry out "linear programming" which is a mathematical means of determining the combinations of enterprises that can return the greatest net profit to a farm operator, depending on the amount of land, labor, and capital available. (The same thing can be done with pencil and paper--it just takes longer, that's all.)

The number of enterprise combinations fed into the electronic brain was 2604. The electronic computer used was an IBM 650.

Combinations that came from the brain will furnish the basis for decisions that Sherman County farmers may make to shape a new agricultural future for them. Possible markets for the enterprises studied were a basis in their recommendation or elimination. Over 20 potentially good market outlets were located by Doane's for the products from different enterprises recommended.

Here is what we think is important about all of this over in Sherman County: Doane's prophecies that "Future prosperity of many counties in the nation will depend on how well they adjust to changing trends in agriculture."

We don't necessarily believe that it takes an organization such as Doane's to point that out, but we certainly believe that it is true. We further feel that although independent surveys such as the one we are discussing here are very valuable in special situations, the greatest protection we can have against the time when such services will be needed on an EMERGENCY basis is simply good farm education and an alert, well-informed farm public.

A young man today is certainly not wasting his time to go to college and get a degree if he intends to farm when he obtains it. Of course not. A college education will sharpen him and help him prepare for and adjust to the resolutions that are now taking place in our production, marketing, and consuming of food and fiber.

Agriculture is still basic to the American economy. The farmer is not about to be pushed out of business by synthetics or any new tool of science. For the farmer who is really intelligent, things are going to get better, not worse.

But there's one thing for sure in today's agriculture, and that is that it's no longer a static, take-it-easy life. Agriculture is as dynamic and full of change as any industry, and for those who can not see and adjust to change things are going to be rough ahead.

Most fatal auto accidents involve only one car, according to the National Safety Council.

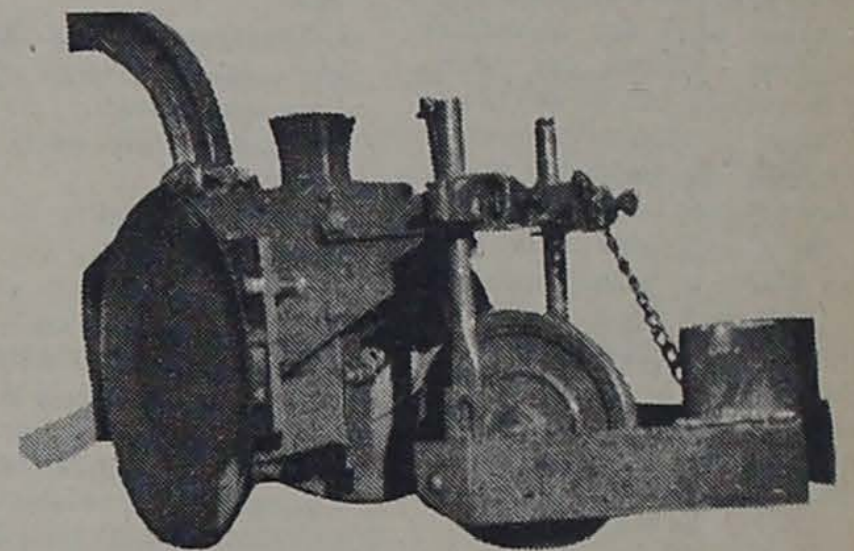

Amarillo Hearing May Affect Location

Friday, October 31, will be the day that a hearing will be held in Amarillo which will help determine if the Bushland Experiment Station will become the site of a large USDA-backed research center. The meeting, which will be in the Herring Hotel at 9:30 a.m., is called "vital" to those who want to see such a center located on the Plains.

THE HAPPY HOMEMAKER

BY JUNE FLOYD

For a long time we have been hoping someone would come up with a solution to the ironing problem. It seems that with each season the manufacturers of materials approach a solution to the problem.

Every homemaker should read the instructions on each garment and use the suggested method for washing and ironing.

Of course, it takes longer to drip dry cottons, but the time you will spend saves time at the ironing board, so is really worthwhile in the long run. If we shop carefully for materials that require a minimum of ironing, we will be well rewarded in time saved.

One of the new magazines shows patchwork blocks used in different ways for decorative purposes. Almost any patchwork pattern can be worked up to make attractive covers for floor pillows, chair cushions, or other articles used in the house.

For a long time it has been our desire to piece a quilt out of the new cotton scraps. Wouldn't a Flower Garden, Rocky Road to Jerusalem, or Dutch Mill pattern be pretty worked up in print and plain colored scraps?

Long winter evenings always call for hot drinks and cookies are always welcomed by members of your family as well as guests. For spicy cookies that are a little different, try MINCEMEAT COOKIES

 1 cup moist mincemeat
 1 cup butter
 1 1/2 cups sugar
 2 eggs
 3 1/4 cups flour
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1 teaspoon soda
 1 cup nuts
 If using dry mincemeat, first break into pieces, add water, heat and stir until lumps are thoroughly broken up. Bring to brisk boil and cook about three minutes.

Cream shortening; add sugar and continue to cream. Add slightly beaten eggs and blend into sugar mixture. Add sifted dry ingredients. Add nuts and mincemeat. Drop by spoonfuls onto greased cookie sheet. Bake at 425 degrees for ten minutes.

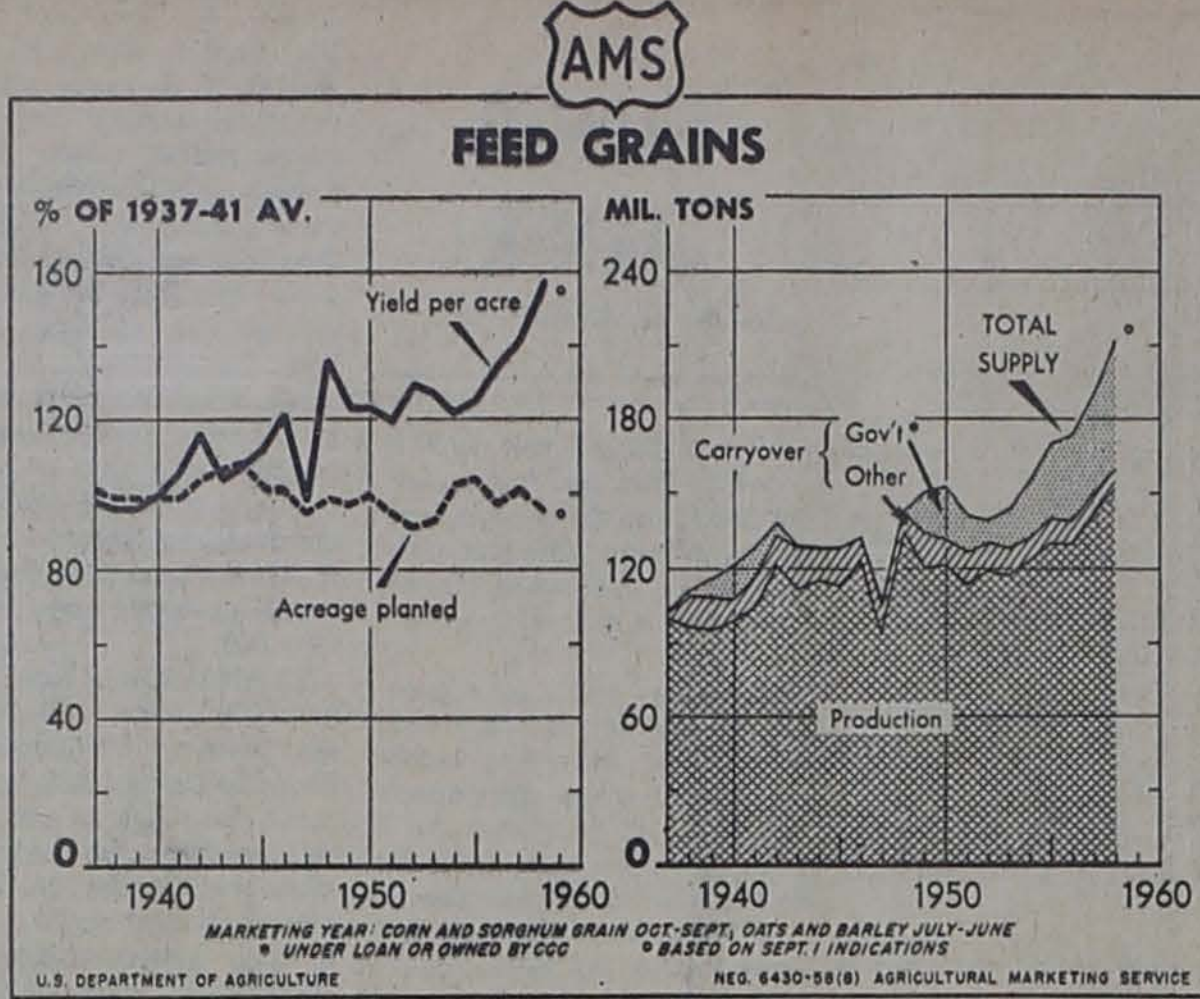

Another cookie recipe that any homemaker should have in her file for use any time she desires to make spice cookies is:

MOLASSES COOKIES
 3 cups sifted all purpose flour
 1/2 teaspoon baking soda
 3/4 teaspoon salt
 1 teaspoon ground ginger
 1/2 teaspoon ground cinnamon
 1/4 teaspoon ground nutmeg
 1/4 teaspoon ground cloves
 1 cup shortening
 1/2 cup firmly packed dark brown sugar
 1/3 cup molasses
 1 egg
 1 tablespoon vinegar
 Sift together flour, soda, salt and spices. Cream shortening and sugar until fluffy. Add molasses, egg, and vinegar and beat until smooth and light. Add dry ingredients in several portions, stirring until smooth after each addition.
 Chill dough in refrigerator 1 or 2 hours. Divide dough in 3 portions and shape each into a roll about 2 inches in diameter. Wrap each roll in waxed paper and chill in refrigerator overnight. Slice 1/8 to 1/4 inch thick and place on cookie sheet. Bake in moderate oven 10 minutes.

If you are one of the homemakers who say, "My family just doesn't care for cook-cake," you might like to try this recipe for Skillet Cabbage:

1 medium onion
 1 green pepper
 3 stalks celery
 2 large tomatoes (drained canned tomatoes may be used.)
 1 small cabbage
 2 tablespoons bacon fat
 3/4 teaspoon salt
 1 teaspoon sugar
 1/4 teaspoon pepper
 Chop onion, celery, pepper, tomatoes and cabbage. Heat bacon fat in skillet with cover. Toss in vegetable and seasoning. Mix well. Cover, cook over moderate heat for 8 minutes or until cabbage is tender, but still on the crisp side.

One of the cleverest household gadgets we have seen advertised recently was a Wet 'n Dry measuring cup. It would certainly be a welcome addition to the utensils in any kitchen. When you change from liquid to dry measure, there's no need to wipe the cup dry.
 All you need do is turn the cup over and use the other end. This item comes in two cup and one cup capacity with graduations clearly marked. It also has a pouring lip for filling steam irons and baby bottles.

Rise in per acre yield of feed grains is the major influence in the upward trend in production. National average yields of each of the four feed grains in recent years have trended upward. The average yield of the four feed grains reached a new high point this year of over 1 ton per acre. More acreage has been seeded to oats, barley and sorghum grains in recent years than before World War II, but this was about offset by a steady decline in corn acreage. The domestic feed grain supply for 1958-59 totals 211 million tons, 100 million more than just prior to World War II. Mounting stocks under the Government price support program has accounted for about half of this increase.

As we have said before, a true sponge cake is made with the whites and yolks of the eggs. The recipe we especially like is for a HOT MILK SPONGE CAKE
 2 eggs
 1 cup sugar
 1 cup cake flour
 1 teaspoon baking powder
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1/2 cup milk
 1 heaping tablespoon shortening
 Beat whole eggs until double in bulk. Gradually add sugar beating until all the sugar is dissolved. Heat milk and shortening almost to boiling point. Sift flour and measure one cup. Sift again with baking powder and salt and fold into egg and sugar mixture.
 Fold in hot milk mixture a little at a time. Pour in 8x8x2 inch square tin which has been greased on bottom but not on sides. Bake in 350 degree oven for about half an hour.

When cool, cover with White Syrup Frosting
 1/2 cup white syrup
 1 egg white
 Heat the white syrup almost to a boil. Beat egg white until stiff. Gradually pour in the hot syrup, beating all the while. Continue beating until it holds its shape. It becomes consistency of marshmallows and will hold up well for days.

Farmers Union Report

We don't know whether you've ever heard of Parkinson's law or not, but a year or so back an English history teacher wrote in Reader's Digest that government bureaus had a tendency to expand regardless of the amount of work to be performed.

This fact was again brought to light by Sen. Murry (D-Mon.) when he cited in a recent Washington speech the tremendous growth of the U. S. Department of Agriculture under Benson's management. While net farm income was falling from $16 billion annually to the $12 billion mark or less, the number of USDA employees went from 62,000 up to more than 80,000.

Included in this number are men with attitudes such as that held by Mr. Don Paarlberg, who in 1955 told farmers they were living in a dream world and that they shouldn't have expected such prosperity to last, anyway. Now he has been promoted to Mr. Eisenhower's personal economic adviser.
 Nebraska farmers were advised by Mr. Benson not to increase the number of hogs now on hand, even if feed is cheap and plentiful. He said "The only way favorable hog prices can be maintained is to hold production to the quantity and quality that the nation's consumers will buy at a price profitable to farmers." But later when asked by a farmer, "What are we going to do with all this corn?" he replied, "Feed it. We can't keep storing it in government warehouses."

 No doubt the farmer went off talking to himself, wondering just how he was going to do that without increasing his hogs.

No Cadillacs in Nixon's campaign tours. The reason given was that the Cadillac is a symbol of affluence which conflicts with the "regular fellow" image which is being created for the vice-president.

The Lazbuddie Local held a box supper in the school cafeteria last Tuesday night in which a considerable amount of money was raised. This could be a hint to other county locals as a means of sweetening the wampum bag. Doesn't cost anybody much and everybody enjoys it. If you happen to be interested see T. O. Lesly. He knows a good auctioneer.

Another Good Start On The Wheat Crop

It's just like old times. The Parmer County area is behaving like the wheat-growing country that it used to be. Back in the dryland days, that is. In 1954, in 1955, and in 1956 wheat farmers about threw up their hands at the thought of getting a crop up and started off with enough moisture. They had to turn to irrigation wells to provide the water.
 In 1957 it was different, though. The wheat went into the ground with an abundant supply of moisture, and very little supplemental irrigation was required to produce a crop. The same appears to be the case this year. Pre-irrigation (before planting) has been the exception rather than the rule. And the crop--somewhere around 90,000 acres--is off and going strong. In fact, it's seldom looked better.

 County Agent Joe Jones has warned farmers against judging a book by its cover, though. He says that farmers should not make the mistake of letting their wheat go into a hard winter without enough water to see the crop through. In other words, he advocates using the irrigation well before the need becomes painfully apparent.

 Some cattle are being put on the lush pasture that the booming wheat has produced. However, there is still lots and lots of grazing going ungrazed. Favorable livestock prices will doubtless push more cows into the fields but it is unlikely that their numbers will approach the grazing capacity of the wheat.
 When area wheat is good it more than meets the requirements for grazing.

CHOOSE ACCESSORIES CAREFULLY
 Accessories should accent or compliment a costume--not call or hold attention to themselves, according to extension clothing specialists.

Choose them to add spice to a simple solid color dress or suit, or to supply the unifying note with a striking print dress or plaid suit.
 Plan your accessories carefully before you buy--remembering the color and design of your basic dresses or suits. Avoid bargains with which you have nothing to wear.

Avoid too many colors in one costume. The eye jumps from one spot to another, and you lose the effect of unity. A general rule for the use of contrasting color, texture or pattern in accessories is never to repeat more than three times--generally two are smarter; for example, shoes, bag and gloves, or shoes, bag and hat, or bag and hat.

Intensity of the color is important. Don't overdo it. The more brilliant or intense the color, the smaller the area in should cover. Unusual colors draw the eye just because they are complex in makeup. Use them with care.

Basic colors in accessories, namely black, brown or navy, are always in good taste and easy to use.

Color in shoes is a fashion to be used with caution. It calls attention to the feet and ankles. Be certain yours can stand the spotlight.

A final suggestion: Look smart but not extreme. Don't overdress. The best dressed women are often the most simply dressed.

Always look for the word "enriched" on the bread wrapper or the sacks of flour you buy. It means that specified amounts of good iron and three important B vitamins have been added. It assures extra food value at no added cost.

Quick loaf breads add extra energy and interest to meals--delicious served hot, in sandwiches, or as toast for breakfast.

To make tasty banana nut, prune, orange nut, or peanut butter bread, get a copy of Extension Bulletin, "Quick Breads" from your local home demonstration agent or write the Agricultural Information Office.

Try new garnishes for soup--Everyday food items which make unusual soup garnishes are thin strips of pimiento, paper thin slices of lemon, orange or lime, slices of stuffed olive, and grated or crumbled cheese. Whipped cream with a dash of horseradish is good with some types of soup. With tomato soup try popped corn.

Eating tossed green salads is an easy way to "take" vitamins and minerals. Dark green and yellow vegetables are excellent sources of vitamins A and C. High on this list of vegetables are fresh cabbage and other salad greens, carrots, asparagus, broccoli and green peppers. All vegetables will give a greater return on your investment when they are served fresh and raw.

Leftover cooked vegetables can be put to good use by adding them to salads. Green beans, beets, cauliflower, broccoli, English peas and other cooked vegetables taste better in salads than they do warmed over. For extra flavor marinate cooked vegetables in French dressing.

One person in 40 is injured each year in a home accident, according to the National Safety Council.

sure their country as a land of people's paradise. One part of the Radio Moscow's programming we particularly enjoyed. At the end of each program they announced what program would be next. Telling what would follow would not make that much difference, but nothing was put between the broadcast to the effect that teeth would last 20 years longer if you brushed with striped toothpaste, or anything their car can do ours can do better. But we would point out that the commercials of our radio and TV, and the advertisements of a newspaper in some cases are just as good news as the lead story, and maybe better. It is another American privilege to advertise goods made for capitalists under the capitalist system.

An example of the benefits the Russians receive because they use the communistic economy was given using a hat shop worker's salary and fringe benefits. In the worker's own voice we learned that she got paid 1,300 rubles a year, got a week paid vacation, and would get a month vacation when she had worked at the same place for 15 years.

"The vacation was so wonderful," she said, at a government maintained resort somewhere close to Siberia, I guess. The speakers went on to say that more than five million USSR persons got to take a vacation last year.

Yes, this old radio at my house can really spit the tales when tuned to Radio Moscow. But the best part about the programs are the musical interludes. You sure don't hear rock 'n' roll, be-bop etc. They use classical music, of Russian composition, I suppose.

Another time I was trying to tune in Radio Moscow, I heard something that I guess couldn't happen in Russia. Strains of "God of Our Fathers" being transmitted from the far away land reached our ears, and we listened in disbelief that Russia would care to broadcast a hymn that is loved by nearly all God-fearing people.

We were not surprised too much when the hymn was finished and an announcer told us that we were listening to a church-sponsored broadcast originated in the United States. Just as the U. S. station was stronger than the Moscow radio, and cut into the same frequency, so we see the truth as stronger than all the perverted nonsense and half truths that the Russians put out.

Lebanon was the subject of Mrs. W. E. Williams. She told of the geographical locations, major industries, the church affiliations of the countries and recent strife that has kept the country in the world's headlines.

Following the talks, Mrs. Caldwell summed up the things discussed and a brief discussion among those present was held.

The hostess, Miss Grace Paul, served apple pie, coffee and tea, with the assistance of Mrs. W. Wayne Stevens. Those attending were Mesdames Bedford Caldwell, Thornton, Terry, Gene Rea, Stevens, G. A. Whitesides, Margaret Caldwell, Dean Hastings, Edens, Williams and M. H. Laney, and Misses Paul and Rita Caldwell.

The next meeting will be Monday evening, November 10, in the church parlor. The study of the Middle East will be continued. Anyone interested in the Middle East is invited to attend.

Quickels-Ellisons Return From Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Buck Ellison and Mr. and Mrs. Ike Quickel returned home Friday of last week from an extensive tour of the northern states. Leaving here about a month ago, the local families visited a total of 20 states, the Province of Ontario, Canada, and Washington, D. C. They drove a total of 5115 miles.

Although the trip was primarily a sight-seeing tour, the two couples also visited relatives. In York, Pa., Mrs. Quickel reports, they visited a number of Ike's relatives. In fact, she says, one Sunday they attended church where over 100 of the 600 attendants were of the Quickel family.

The Ellisons took their turn of visiting relatives, too. In Atlanta, Ga., they visited his relatives.

Outstanding points of interest for Mrs. Ellison and Mrs. Quickel, they said, were Niagara Falls, Washington, D. C. and the Gettysburg Battlefield. The men, it is reported, were primarily interested in the rich farmland of the Midwest; the numerous stock farms and hog fattening yards. They all enjoyed the Cyclarama, which is a reproduction of the Battle of Atlanta, Ga.

The two families also heartily recommend the tours through the Blue Ridge Mountains of Virginia and the Great Smokey Mountains.

When asked when and where the next trip was going to take them, Mrs. Quickel reports that another, at least for Mr. and Mrs. Ellison and Ike, is coming up the first week of November. Then, they are planning a short jaunt down to the Capitan Mountains of New Mexico for an annual hunting trip.

"It was a wonderful trip--we had a wonderful time, but oh, did Bovina and home ever look good," were Mrs. Quickel's sentiments on their arrival back home.

Thrifty Club Meets Wednesday

Members of the Bovina Thrifty Club met last Wednesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. E. M. Ware for a regular meeting. The women spent the afternoon visiting and completing a quilt for the hostess. She served refreshments of applesauce cake, whipped cream and spiced tea.

Those attending were Mrs. Elmer Lowrie, Mrs. Clarence Gaunt, Mrs. J. T. Jones, Mrs. G. A. Bandy, Mrs. George Turner, Mrs. H. D. Bradshaw, Mrs. L. M. Grissom, Miss Lola Grissom and Mrs. Wilbur Charles.

The next meeting will be Wednesday, November 12, in the home of Mrs. Dollie Williams.

Cub Scouts Have Folklore Study

Members of Den Three of the Bovina Cub Scouts met Thursday afternoon of last week with their leader, Mrs. Charles Corn. The subject of their meetings for October has been "American Folklore." The meeting was opened with the Cub Scout Promise and the youngsters discussed different brands and each tried to make a brand using his initials. The old folksong, "She'll be Coming Around the Mountain," was sung.

Mickey Don Ellison provided refreshments and games were played outside. Rex Cumpton was a visitor for the day.

Present were Allan Dale Carson, Eddi Corn, Stephen Blake, Lynn Murphy, Mickey Don Ellison and Rex Cumpton. The Den meets each Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Anna Paetch of Detroit, Mich., suffered a broken pelvic bone about two weeks ago at her home in Detroit, and has been hospitalized in Detroit. She is the mother of Ed Paetch of Bovina.

THIRTY STUDENTS AT COLLEGE

By Sally Whitesides

Each year more and more Bovina young people leave and turn to higher educational facilities of the area. This year, almost 30 of them are now attending classes in colleges and universities throughout Texas. They have been in school for about a month and this past weekend, a number of them returned to Bovina for a weekend of visiting.

Each year, with the rise of numbers going off to college, the popularity of one college or another rises and falls. Last year, there were as many, if not more, attending West Texas State College in Canyon than anywhere else. This year, it seems that Texas Tech at Lubbock has the majority of students from Bovina.

Among those who are attending Tech from Bovina are French Crook, James Early Stevens, Reggie Jones, Margaret Verner, Gerald Hardin, Tommy Laney, Dickie Steelman, Leon Richards, Danny Morton, Helen Hartzog, Phil Caldwell, Donald Ray Barron, Larry Ezell, Donnie Spring, and Donald Lloyd. Many of these are freshmen this year, but a number of others are two, three and even four years ahead of them.

Eight young people from Bovina are attending W. T. in Canyon this year. They include Dyalthia Bradshaw, Julius Bradshaw, Glendon and Janie Sudderth, Billy Richards, Ted Walling, Sue Hoffer, and Sandra Jefferson.

Wayland Baptist College of Plainview, a favorite college for many people of this area, has two Bovina representatives this year. They are Keith Lamb, a freshman, and Marvin Young, a sophomore.

Dick Horn is spending his freshman year at Tarleton State in Stephenville; Charles Williams, North Texas State at Denton; and Darrell Read is a junior this year at Texas Christian University in Fort Worth.

Also attending college for the second year are Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Sudderth. They are preparing for a life dedicated to religion at McMurry College in Abilene.

Actually, these are but a few of the many students who through the halls of colleges in Texas, but the people of Bovina may be sure that wherever the college, what ever the vocation being trained for, Bovina's students will make us proud of them.

Considering its age this is a mighty fast old world.

Guild Continues Study Of Asia

Mrs. Bedford Caldwell continued the study of "Middle East Pilgrimage" Monday evening at the regular meeting of the Wesleyan Service Guild. The meeting was in the parlor of the Methodist Church and Mrs. Davis Edens gave a devotional on prayer.

By the use of the Lord's Prayer, Mrs. Edens brought out the full meaning of it, phrase by phrase. Her devotional was concluded by the group saying the prayer in unison.

Mrs. Caldwell gave a short introductory talk about the diversity of countries, their people, religions, and economic conditions throughout the Middle East. She then introduced Mrs. Hilton Terry who gave a talk on the Moslem religion. In her talk, Mrs. Terry spoke of the background of the religion, of its originator, Mohammed, and its growth throughout the centuries. The beliefs of Moslems, where they are found at the present, and the number of followers today were also discussed by Mrs. Terry.

The country of Turkey was spoke of in detail by Mrs. W. E. Thornton. She gave the geographical location, exports and crops of the country. She also told of the people and the historical background of invasions and counter-invasions through the centuries.
