By DOLPH MOTEN

Democrats of the Texas Panhandle should be ashamed.

With the sweep of Democratic candidates in the November 3 general election, said Panhandle Democrats weren't playing a good game of politics or they would have a candidate in the race against Congressman Bob Price of Pampa.

Results of the election indicated that about all a candidate had to do to win this year's voting was to have his name in the Democratic column.

And the Demo space was blank under the 18th Congressional District heading!

Many successful politicians are lucky --- and we have nothing against that --- and Price surely must consider himself in that category.

There's no cinch that he would have been defeated in his bid for re-election had he had an opponent. However, had he won, his case would have certainly been the exception rather than the rule.

We're speaking from hindsight now, we'll admit, and probably the area is filled with Demos who realize that they let opportunity with a capital 'O' slip by without answering the knock at the door.

Price has the reputation of being a strong candidate. He lost a close race to Walter Rogers, the one-time incumbent, the first time he ran and then defeated Amarillo's Dee Miller and Hartley's Dick Brown in other races.

While he hasn't been considered unbeatable, Price has been strong enough to discourage opposition which wasn't flush with time, money and an outstandingly strong candidate.

That opposition might not have had to be so outstandingly strong this time, though, had the Demos had the foresight to read the mind of the voting public some eight or 10 months in advance.

What the future holds two years from now is anybody's guess, of course, but we dare say the Demos of Texas' 18th Congressional District won't give Congressman Price another "free ride" to an additional two-year term.

Republicans in this district are better politicians than are the Democrats. They made life so uncomfortable for the aforementioned Congressman Rogers --- and he was a great one --- that he decided on a better-paying and more-secure position in Washington rather than to constantly battle for his political life against the best candidates and most of the money in the Panhandle every two years.

And with Rogers out of the way, the Republicans moved in and took over, leaving the Demos stunned, disorganized and without even a candidate in the 1970 election.

If the Democrats of the Texas Panhandle aren't any tougher than that, probably they deserve Republican representation in the United States House of Representatives.

At any rate, that's what they have.

Another football season was folded back into the pages of Bovina High history Thursday night at Hart.

The Mustangs finished with a 5-5 mark, which isn't a whole lot to write home about, but which could have been worse.

Bright spots in the season, we think, were upset wins over Springlake-Earth in the second game on the District 3-A schedule and against Vega in the next to last game. Those were two wins which the Ponies weren't supposed to have, according to people who calculate such things.

On the other side of the ledger was the one-sided, highly-disappointing loss to Lazbuddie in the final non-district tilt. Lazbuddie can, and did, beat a lot of good teams, but the lopsided score made the game tough to take for the Mustangs and their fans.

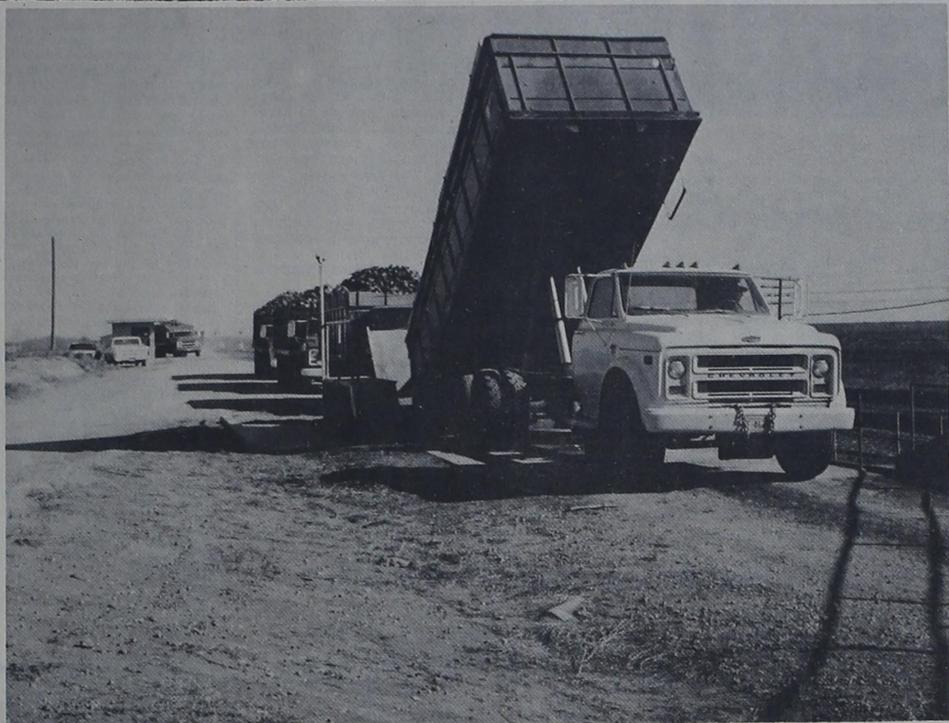

Overall, for the season, possibly the good points outweigh the bad and, even more important, prospects for the future appear reasonably good. At least, somebody said, the rest of the 3-A teams know we're one of 'em now.

Wait'll next year!

From the standpoint of football predictions, we have a mediocre .670 percentage with 67 right out of 100 chances. We got seven last week --- counting Friona, which we predicted, and can prove it, long before we knew the game would be played on Thursday night.

The contest is getting rougher now and we're giving up on our goal of batting .700 for the 13-week season and hoping to stay above the .600 mark.

BET BUSINESS BOOMING --- An increase in the quota of sugar beets which can be harvested per day has resulted in about twice as many beets being delivered here daily, Holly Sugar Corp. increased the quota to 290 per cent of the previous rate. A total of 148 truckloads were delivered here Monday with the daily amount expected to be in that neighborhood for the next 10 days or two weeks.

He was taken by ambulance to the hospital in Muleshoe and then transported to Lubbock by a Department of Public Safety helicopter. The helicopter landed in a street near Lubbock Methodist Hospital.

Increase Quotas --

Sugar Beet Harvest In 'Accelerated' Stage

"Accelerated harvest" went into effect in the area sugar beet business Monday. That means that more beets than had been --- about twice as many --- are being harvested and delivered to the Holly Sugar station in Bovina.

The quota for the amount of beets to be delivered by individual farmers was raised to 290 per cent of the previous limit Monday, according to Christine Mann, who operates the Holly station office here. She said this "about doubled" the amount of beets which are being delivered here.

A total of 148 truck loads of beets were delivered to Bovina Monday. This made for 30 railroad gondola loads of beets to be transported by rail to the Hereford plant of Holly Sugar.

The quota increases came about because Holly officials think the weather is now cool enough for the beets to be stockpiled at Hereford until they can be processed.

Prior to the quota raise, some 12 to 15 gondolas of beets were shipped from here to Hereford daily.

The beet harvest is expected to continue for some three

Reunion Next Week At Oklahoma Lane

Friday, Nov. 27 --- the day after Thanksgiving --- is the time for Oklahoma Lane's reunion, which will be in the Community Building and will begin at 7 p.m.

Local residents and former students of Oklahoma Lane School will furnish pie and coffee to be served at the evening of visiting and fellowship.

This will be the second such reunion for Oklahoma Lane residents and former residents. The first was held five years ago and the decision to have the function every fifth year was made at that time.

Several former residents and students who now live elsewhere have indicated they will be present for the reunion, according to Harold Carpenter, president of the Oklahoma Lane organization.

Other officers are A. L. Hartzog, vice president, and Mrs. Ponce Billingsley, secretary-treasurer.

The officers may be contacted for additional information about the get-together.

Women of the community are reminded that they are to help furnish pies for the occasion.

In City Court --

Postpone Junk Car Hearing

The appearance of Ben Finch in City Court of Judge Wilbur Charles Thursday was postponed.

Finch had earlier been issued a warrant for failure to comply with a new city ordinance in regard to "junk" automobiles in the city limits.

Judge Charles said the hearing was postponed indefinitely at the advice of City Attorney Hurshel Harding. Charles said the case would possibly be settled out of court.

Finch had posted a $50 appearance bond with Charles. According to the city ordinance, passed back in the summer, a "junk" automobile is one which does not have the current year's license plates or a current inspection sticker.

Finch has several automobiles located on his property on the east side of town.

Rundell Wins 10th Contest

Three people had perfect entries in Bovina Businesses Cotton Bowl Football Contest last week.

Due to the Friona-Lockney game being played on Thursday night, that game was disregarded, making nine the possible high for the week.

Kim Rundell took first place money of $5 by having nine correct and missing the tie-breaker by 31 points. A. L. Berry named nine winners also to take second place prize money. He was 41 away from the actual score. Taking third place money was Mack McFarland of Farwell who had nine correct, but was 50 away on the tie-breaker.

After 10 weeks in the contest, Donna Criswell holds a three point lead for the grand prize with 79 points out of a possible 100 for a percentage of .790. Six people are tied for second with 76 points. They are George Baca, Berry, Bob Fillpot, Erith Hawkins, Rush Loomer, and Larry Wardlaw.

Words on America

Ring Clearly 100 Years After English Protester's Gone

Wrote an English tourist in America: "See what is passing now. Look at the exhausted Treasury, the paralyzed government . . . the desperate contests between North and South? The iron curb and brazen muzzle fastened upon every man who speaks his mind . . . The stabbings and shootings . . . the intrusion of the most pitiful, mean, malicious, creeping, crawling, sneaking party spirit into all transactions of life. . . The nation is a body without a head, and arms and legs are occupied in quarreling with the trunk and each other, and exchanging bruises at random."

That letter was written 128 years ago, by Charles Dickens, during the tour that resulted in his "American Notes". Until recently, the letter was hardly known, and its first publication will be in a book of Dickens' letters to be brought out later this year.

Although Mr. Dickens has been dead exactly one hundred years, it is a good time to remind today's young protesters they are not the first to complain about the ills of industrialized society.

It would be well for present generations — young and old — to read and reread some of Dickens' classics for the ring of his words still, a century later, could shatter glass.

His observations, descriptions and evocations are like hammer on steel. The young people of today who honor some of the current writers of protest literature, would do themselves a favor to look up Dickens, for he still ranks as the master.

Dickens came to America, as he had told his publisher, convinced that he could understand "a democratic kingless country freed from the shackles of class rule." Perhaps he understood it, but he was disappointed. In his letter he wrote of "his secret opinion of this country: its follies, vices, grievous disappointments. . . I believe the heaviest blow ever dealt at Liberty's Head will be dealt by this nation in its ultimate failure of its example to the Earth."

Dickens was more moderate in his "American Notes," however, and he concluded his letter with a postscript: "I need not say that I have many pleasant things to say of America. God forbid that it should be otherwise. I speak to you (Americans) as I would to Freedom, disappointed — that's all."

His later trip to the U. S. was more rewarding and one of the characters of a Dickens novel said Americans have "Such a passion for liberty they can't help taking liberties with her."

And this seems to be the same love-hate relationship modern Americans have with their beloved democracy.

It appears, however, that Dickens had a healthy respect for Benjamin Franklin, the American statesman and scientist and concurred with him wholeheartedly in his proposal that the Wild Turkey be adopted as our national symbol, instead of the Bald Eagle.

Dickens, like Franklin, agreed that the Wild Turkey should have been on the country's official great seal to signify independence and liberty. Franklin described the Wild Turkey as the one bird indigenous to America. He wrote:

"The Wild Turkey is a fabulous bird." It can outrun a galloping horse for a distance long enough to get out of gunshot. Despite its weight, it is agile and swift in flight as well as aloft. It was almost extinct not too many years ago. Its survival and propagation in our country is a tribute to American conservation.

The fact remains that whether or not Ben Franklin's wild turkey became the official symbol of America is of no significance now. This intelligent, freedom loving bird has earned an honored niche of its own in modern Americana as well as in early American history.

It might be of interest, too, that during a Wild Turkey shoot in South Carolina another honored American product was born—the Wild Turkey bourbon, which was developed as a tribute to that party. Its proof, 101, just happened that way.

In retrospect, John Tyler was President 128 years ago at the time Dickens wrote on America. Slavery still had two more decades remaining. There were only 26 states in the Union. The population was 17 million, and Wild Turkey Bourbon had not yet made its debut. Perhaps if it had, Dickens would have written on a happier note.

FLOWERS UNLIMITED

Floral Thanksgiving Decorations

When the autumn weather is flowing and reddening the leaves outside, when the grass is turning brown and the nip of cold is brightening the air, it's time to bring the natural beauty of the outdoors inside the home.

Chill winds have brought everyone in from backyard activities and fun is once more centered in the home. Formal and informal parties, holiday family gatherings, and after-the-football-game celebrations bring the activity focus back to indoor living.

The height of the fall season is Thanksgiving, a time when we pay tribute to the gifts of nature, and a natural time for flowers. With renewed attention to the home comes renewed interest in decorative accents, such as flowers, to enhance all holiday festivities.

For most effective seasonal accents, one may turn to the idea of combining floral artistry with fall motifs. Florists' Transworld Delivery designers note that the natural dramatic beauty of autumn flowers and colors makes elaborate vases and containers unnecessary. At this time, some of the most beautiful arrangements are done in baskets. Perhaps because they are made of nature's own products, baskets are lovely foils for flowers.

For example, imagine daisies in a split willow basket, or roses arranged in oriental fashion in a handled basket of bamboo. Lacy wicker baskets, filled with many types of autumn blooms, may be as simple or as elaborate as one desires. The old-fashioned Williamsburg bouquet looks particularly entrancing in a basket of this type.

Even as the autumn weather grows colder, florists can provide a variety of brightly colored flowers, all eminently suitable to the fall season. And, for the Thanksgiving hostess, or as a special holiday remembrance for friends or relatives out of town, FTD florists have designed a striking seasonal arrangement appropriately called "The Thanksgiving," which will be offered throughout the week preceding Thanksgiving.

This colorful arrangement, set in a lined wicker basket, features a pyramid design composed of bronze and yellow pompons, yellow daisy mums, and clusters of dried star flowers. For a touch of the autumn fields, the design will also include cattails, oak leaves, stems of leatherleaf, and tassels of wheat to complete a perfect holiday centerpiece. —M.M.

13 Accidents In October

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated 13 accidents on rural highways in Parmer County during the month of October, according to Sergeant W. E. Wells, Highway Patrol supervisor of this area.

These crashes resulted in three persons injured and an estimated property damage of $18,140.

The rural accident summary for this county during the first 10 months of 1970 shows a total of 117 accidents resulting in three persons killed, 61 persons injured, and an estimated property damage of $108,935.

"Traffic-wise, November and December are noted as dangerous months for pedestrians. During November and December of 1969 in Texas, there were 86 pedestrians killed and 885 injured in collisions with motor vehicles. Some of the attributing factors are early hours of darkness, bad weather, drinking intoxicating beverages, holidays, and lack of drivers' and pedestrians' attention," Sgt. Wells says.

Sgt. Wells listed tips to aid both pedestrians and drivers: Always wear something light colored when walking after dark. If possible, carry some kind of light and walk on the left side of the road facing traffic. If you have a dark colored raincoat or overcoat, put a strip or two of reflectorized material across the back and front when walking on the street or highway.

CHILD'S PLAY

BY BARBARA ALLEN

SIMPLE GAMES ARE BEST

Have you ever seen children sitting around trying to decipher rules for a game? Not for long, you haven't. If they can't grasp the idea quickly, they will almost surely lose interest.

The guideline to remember in selecting a game for your children is—make sure it provides instant involvement.

Many parents have learned the hard way. They search for the biggest, most complex game with the greatest number of pieces. When they bring it home they are treated to the unhappy sight of watching their puzzled children spend two minutes trying to determine what it takes to win—then giving up. Rather than lose by default, mom or dad may be tempted to spend time supervising play until the rules are understood. That's not a good idea. It would be better to allow the children to make up their own rules. The game will be just as enjoyable. Better still—get a game that is easily understood, provides for at least two to four players, and can be completed in a few minutes.

Ideal Toys this year has introduced a series of games that fit all these criteria. Buckaroo, a weight balancing game with exciting action. Sure Shot basketball, baseball and hockey games, which even a sport novice can enjoy, and Wrestle Around are part of the broad line that can be found in almost any toy department. These games can be played and enjoyed by children in a wide age range. Which brings up another parental pitfall.

Many manufacturers put recommended age ranges on their products. Remember, that's a guide, not a rule. Parents are the best judges of their child's mental age and play interest. Buy accordingly.

Join Ideal's new S.T.A.R. TEAM Club and get official membership card, ring, jacket patch, space map and map case, by sending $1 to S.T.A.R. TEAM Command, P.O. Box 612, Rosemont, Minn. 55068, or pick up membership blanks at your local toy dealer.

MRS. BUCK ELLISON

Mrs. Buck (Mable) Ellison said she didn't know any fancy recipes, just plain old everyday recipes. Her "plain" cooking has earned her the reputation of being one of the best cooks in this area.

Mable has been living in this area for 54 years moving to Oklahoma Lane in 1916 and to Bovina in 1921.

She rode a horse five miles to school everyday. She attended school in a small two-story red brick school house in Bovina. After it burned in 1953, the present structure was built at the same location.

The Ellisons have been married 43 years this December and are parents of three children, Howard, who is a Church of Christ minister in Lovelady, Mrs. C. W. Grissom of Talban and Mrs. Robert Read, Bovina. They also have eight grandchildren.

They are members of the Church of Christ, where Mrs. Ellison has taught Sunday School for many years up until about five years ago. Her father, F. W. Ayres, started the first Church of Christ in Bovina 49 years ago.

Hunting and fishing are her main interests. Her husband says they have gone deer hunting every year for 21 consecutive years. Mable likes to garden or do any type of outside work. Buck remarked that she was his "right hand woman."

Here are a few of Mrs. Ellison's old family recipes, some of which were handed down to her by her mother.

People who cook with pride cook with GAS. Mrs. Alex Zotos does.

Some of the world's best cooks are found in the kitchens of America, and they give themselves every cooking advantage, like gas range cooking. Good cooks like Mrs. Zotos and nine out of 10 professional chefs agree that precise temperature control makes the difference in good cooking, and with gas you get exactly that. Gas also gives immediate response and constant temperature, so important in oven cooking.

So, give yourself every advantage and cook with gas. Remember, people who cook with pride cook with gas.

Here's one of Mrs. Zotos' favorite recipes.

CHICKEN OREGANO

Mrs. Alex Zotos, 3622 Maple, Odessa

Quarter 2 fryers. Wash and dry; and squeeze juice of one lemon over pieces. Salt, pepper and paprika chicken on both sides. In large skillet melt 1 stick butter and quickly brown chicken pieces. Place in oblong pan. In butter left in pan add 1/2 cup red wine, 1/2 can tomato paste (3 oz.), 2 cups water, 1 tablespoon celery flakes, 2 cloves garlic. Bring to boil. Pour over chicken. Sprinkle about 2 1/2 teaspoons oregano over chicken. Bake covered for one hour at 350 degrees; uncover last 10 minutes for browning.

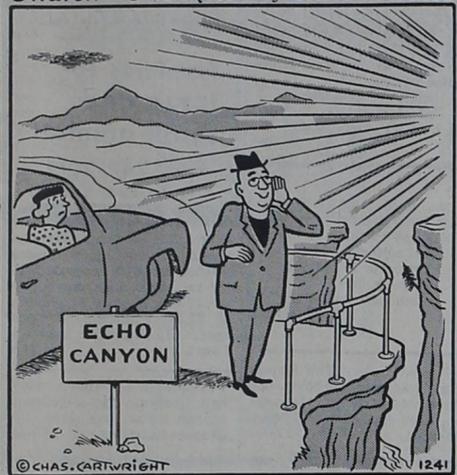

Meat and Rice Dressing

Saute 2 onions, chopped, in 1/2 stick butter; add 1 cup uncooked rice; saute together until golden. Add 1 1/2 lbs. ground round and brown. Add 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon, 1 teaspoon comino, pepper to taste, 2 1/2 teaspoons salt, add 1/2 cup sliced mushrooms, 2 1/2 cups water and 1/2 cup red wine. Cook until done about 20 minutes. When cooked toss in toasted pecans and almonds, if desired. Serve sauce from chicken over all.

WHAT AM I DOING TO BUILD A BETTER WORLD?

Hardened and calloused indeed is the man who, in a world grown secular and materialistic, refuses to frankly face the above question, and earnestly seek a satisfactory reply. Such wilful neglect is a distinct threat to our great Heritage. There is an insistent call upon us to contribute as individuals in this respect, and as parents a double responsibility is laid upon us. The HOPE OF THE NATION rests squarely upon our shoulders demanding that we do our part. We are to train and guide the children entrusted to our care that even greater accomplishments can be had through them. One potent factor to a better world must be a right attitude toward marriage and the home. Both should be basic realities in our thinking and living. Marriage is to be permanent and enduring, by which two, acting as one, might accomplish God's purposes by far more than the sum of individual efforts. We ought to have a burning desire to make our homes holy; and see that our children understand both their responsibility toward God, and their duty to their fellowman. We need to put Christian morality to work. Our common objective should be Justice and Charity, rather than naked force employed at the expense of others. Our hope should be to build and produce, rather than wrest advantage from our fellowmen by compulsion or violence. Our well-being is assured only when established on sound basis of religion and morality. They alone are the foundation on which just laws may be erected. When we, individually, decide to get the Bible back into our hearts, and our homes, will this be a better world.

On The Farm In Palmer County

By R. MACK HEALD
County Agent

The South Plains cotton harvest was at a peak until halted by the unfavorable weather, according to W. K. Palmer, in charge of the Lubbock Cotton Classing office of the U.S.D.A. Samples received at the four area U.S.D.A. classing offices had reached a seasonal high of 40 to 45 thousand daily when the rain and snow interrupted the harvest.

However, this interruption will enable gins and the area classing offices to catch up on their backlogs of cotton to be ginned and classed.

The U.S.D.A. classing offices at Lubbock, Brownfield, Lamesa and Levelland classed 215,000 samples during the week ending Friday, Nov. 13. Total classed so far this season now stands at 336,000. This is far ahead of the volume at this date last year when only 29,000 samples of the 1969 crop had been classed.

Estimates indicate that approximately one-half of this season's crop is now out of the fields.

Strict Low Middling was the predominant grade at Lubbock last week with 34 per cent of all cotton classed. Low Middling made up eight per cent, Middling Light Spotted 18 per cent and Strict Low Middling Light Spotted 21 per cent.

Staple length improved slightly and averaged approximately 31/32. Sixty per cent stapled 31/32 and longer compared to 43 per cent the previous week.

Micronaire continued very good. Eighty-four per cent of all cotton classed at the Lubbock office last week had micronaire readings in the premium range of 3.5 to 4.9 and 7 per cent "miked" 5.0 and higher.

Ninety-three per cent of the cotton classed at Lubbock last week had Pressley readings of 80,000 pounds and higher, compared to 88 per cent the previous week. Pressley is an indication of fiber strength and the most desirable Pressley reading is 80,000 pounds and above.

Trading increased on the Lubbock market but prices were $2.50 to $5.00 per bale lower. Prices ranged from the low for high grade, long staple cotton up to $27.50 per bale over the low for low grade, low micronaire cotton.

Prices quoted by the Lubbock Cotton Exchange for the most predominant qualities in the 3/5 to 4.9 micronaire range were: Strict Low Middling 15/16 - 20.25, Strict Low Middling 31/32 - 20.50, Middling Light Spotted 31/32 - 20.85, Middling Light Spotted 15/16 - 19.80, Strict Low Middling Light Spotted 31/32 - 20.10 and Strict Low Middling Light Spotted 1-Inch - 20.40.

Prices paid farmers for cotton seed were steady and ranged from $55.00 to $66.00 per ton.

Advisory Board Meet Slated

Wild, warm fake fur is the target for big sewing ventures this winter.

To hit the bull's eye in style when sewing fake fur, follow these tips:

-Choose a design with few styling details. Eased seams are difficult to handle.

-Since fake fur is a pile fabric with a nap, check the pattern envelope under "withnap" for yardage requirements. If not listed, add three-eighths to three-fourths yard for cutting pattern pieces one way.

-When cutting the fur fabric, eliminate seams wherever possible. For example, if there is front opening, cut the facing and front center together. Lay pattern pieces on the wrong side of the fabric and have the nap running downward. Cut one layer at a time in deep pile, cutting only the backing to avoid cutting the pile. Mark the fur fabric with chalk or tailor's tacks.

-Baste seams of the fake fur garment to prevent shifting, and stitch in the direction of the pile whenever possible. Long pile yarns may get caught in the seams but can be released by pulling them gently with a pin or needle. If stitching on the pile side of the fabric, keep the pile flat by stitching through transparent cellophane tape.

-Buttonholes are difficult to handle on fake fur garments, so another type closure is usually preferred.

-Check the label on the end of the fake fur fabric bolt for information about ironing. Some fur fabrics cannot be pressed with heat or steam; finger pressing may then be used. If a velvet ironing board is not available, try a turkish towel or self-fabric placed face up on board with pile side of garment on top. Press lightly with steam iron in direction of the nap. Remaining fur fabric pieces may be used as trim detail on other garments.

USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service reports plentiful supplies of broilers during November.

To help celebrate abundance, try this tempting recipe: CHICKEN FIESTA
1 ready-to-cook broiler-fryer
1 box instant Spanish rice
1 8-ounce can tomato sauce
1 fresh lemon, cut into quarters
Salad oil

To prepare the stuffing, cook the Spanish rice according to package directions, using the can of tomato sauce for the liquid. Rub the chicken with the lemon, stuff the bird with the rice mixture and place on a rack in an open baking pan.

Baste well with salad oil, then bake at 350 degrees, allowing about 30 minutes per pound of chicken.

If you prefer to make the dressing from white rice, then proceed as follows: Cook enough white rice to measure 2 cups, following package instructions, then add 1 cup tomato sauce (1-8 oz. can), 1/4 cup each chopped green pepper, onions and pimiento. Season to taste with salt and pepper.

4245 Years of it!!

You can talk about integrity or loyalty or service and not prove a thing. Talk's cheap. On the other hand, you can live integrity and loyalty and service and that means something. 282 Southwesterners are going to receive Awards of Merit this year for periods of service ranging from 5 to 45 years. As a group, they have worked and lived with integrity, loyalty and service for 4245 years. That's important. To you--To this company--To the communities in which we all live.

Mustangs Close 5-5 Season With Easy Victory Over Hart

The Bovina Mustangs closed the 1970 football season on a successful note Thursday night as they scored the first four times they had the ball against the hapless Hart Longhorns there and went on to take a 38-0 win. Second and third stringers logged most of the playing time in the season ender.

The win left the Mustangs with a 5-5 season mark, one notch better than their 4-6 of a year ago. In District 3-A play, they finished 4-3 which put them in a tie for fourth and fifth places in the eight-team conference with Farwell.

While the Bovinians were favored in the Hart game, which was moved up to Thursday night from Friday night, the win came surprisingly easy.

Jim Harris returned the opening kickoff 85 yards for the first six points and the initial quarter was little more than half over before the Ponties had run the score to 25-0. Then, Coach Gib Hough put the Mustang regulars on the sidelines or shifted them around position-wise for the remainder of the game.

After the score on the kickoff, the Mustangs stopped the young, light, inexperienced Longhorns each time they had the ball and then for three consecutive times scored on the second play from scrimmage.

For the second teepee, Halfback Mike Beauchamp went in from 15 yards away. For the third touchdown, Quarterback Mike Hough and End Gary McCormick combined for a 60-yard pass play and six points.

For the fourth one, Hugh Rogers blocked a Hart punt and covered it at the Longhorns' 14 yard line. After an incomplete pass, Fullback Leroy Pearson went in for the score. After that one, Sophomore Quarterback Kim Rundell kicked the extra point to boost the score to 25-0. The first three extra points were missed -- two by Harris and one by Royce Sisk.

For the next two quarters, the second and third, the Mustangs kept the scoreboard unchanged as the substitutes battled with the Harters.

In the final stanza, the Mustangs tacked on a couple more touchdowns.

One came on a one-yard blast by converted tackle-linebacker Shannon Davis, who was running from the fullback position, and the last one was on a 10-yard aerial from Freshman Quarterback Billy Shelby to End Bobby McMeans. Rundell kicked the point after Davis' score.

Hart's deepest penetration into Mustang territory came in the second period when they drove from their own 35 to the Mustang 10 before losing possession on a pass interception. Bovina's defense held Hart to total yardage of only 83 and just 38 of those came on the ground.

The loss to the Mustangs completed a winless year for the 'Horns who were competing for the first time in 3-A after being promoted from a Class B district.

For the second time this season, the Mustangs participated in a game called by substitute officials. Hart school officials failed to notify the scheduled game officials that the game was moved to Thursday night from Friday. Thus two representatives from Bovina, Assistant Coach Dalton Morrison, and Texas Tech freshman footballer Stuart McMeans, and two sub officials from Hart called the one-sided game.

The non-district game with Friona early in the season was also played without the services of regular game officials.

The 10 seniors on the Mustang squad served as captains in their final high school game. They were Beauchamp, Sisk, Hough, Walter Martinez, Pearson, Randy Chisum, Mike Dixon, McCormick, Greg Bell and Doyle Merrill.

Veteran's Day Program Presented At School

A special Veterans' Day program was presented Wednesday of last week at Bovina High School.

Sisk presented the colors, followed by the playing of the National Anthem by the Mustang Band.

The First Baptist Church, gave the invocation. Meloney Marshall, student council president, gave a short talk on why American citizens should whole-heartedly honor veterans on this day.

Roy Ramirez introduced the guest speaker, Lieutenant Colonel John W. Gordon from Cannon Air Force Base.

Colonel Gordon has been in the Air Force 18 years and has received numerous awards and decorations. He stressed the importance of young people staying in school and learning as much as possible, so when they get out they can take their place as responsible citizens. Colonel Gordon said, "We must have patriotism, without it our country cannot survive."

In closing, he said, "It is truly fitting that we should honor these men who have made this the great nation it is."
