BRADY GETS FIRST BALE

Raised on the Henry Bradley Farm Near Fife, by Dario Rangel.

The first bale of cotton for Brady and McCulloch county was brought in late Tuesday evening by Dario Rangel, a Mexican renter on the Henry Bradley farm near Fife, and was ginned Wednesday morning by the Embry Gin Co.

Louis Valdez brought in a bale Thursday from the Anderson and McCall farm near Melvin, while still another was brought in Thursday evening by O. P. Deering of Lohn. Rangel, who had the first bale in the gin says that he picked over 25 acres in order to get his bale, which weighed 1610 pounds in the seed and when ginned weighed 525 pounds, while Valdez picked 1420 pounds of seed and got a 500 pound bale. ACCIDENTALLY SHOOTS SELF Accident Happens Near Home on Brownwood Road—About 11 o'Clock Today.

Shortly after 11:00 o'clock today, Sheriff Wall received a phone message that Luther Ince, 16-year old son of Walter Ince, who lives about 17 miles on the Brady-Brownwood road, had been killed. Mr. Ince was in town at the time and was told of the sad news. Justice of Peace T. J. King, accompanied by Mr. Ince and Deputy Sheriff Ed Lindeman, in the latter's car, went to the scene of the accident, and were followed shortly by Dr. Anderson in his car. The following was told to a Standard representative when the party arrived back into town:

The young man had taken a single barrel shotgun with him down to the tank, a distance of about 75 yards from the house

MAY SECURE EMPLOYMENT

Chance for Laborers and Tenant Farmers of McCulloch County to Obtain Work.

Judge J. E. Shropshire points out a way to relieve the laborers and tenant farmers of McCulloch county whose crops have been ruined, and gives timely advice for securing employment to relieve the situation. His letter is as follows:

"The United States Government, through its State Representative, has appointed E. L. White, Deputy Labor Commissioner for this county, without pay. His duties in this respect require him to find employment for those desiring it. Mr. White has the necessary blanks and can obtain employment for men and their families to assist in gathering the crops in North, Northeast, and East Texas, Oklahoma, and Arkansas, where the crops are good and labor is scarce.

"Now we urge the laborers, especially tenant farmers whose crops have been ruined, to seize upon this opportunity to be furnished remunerative employment. A man and his family, by going to that section of the state where crops exist can make enough money this fall and early winter to get his grain and feed to enable him to make a crop the coming year. The government is seriously considering sending to Porto Rico for cotton pickers, and we certainly feel that the people of this section of the State should have the first chance at this opportunity. Transportation will be provided through the Austin office for those who may be unable to go a considerable distance provided they are the right kind of people who will return the funds advanced.

"Now come in at once and apply to E. L. White at Brady so he can send in his lists to the Austin office and you will be notified as soon as possible, without one cent of cost to you."

and sat down to await the appearance of a hawk which had been disturbing the chickens and which was often seen near the tank. Later on the two young sisters of Luther went down to the tank after water and noticed Luther lying over a bush apparently asleep. They sent a smaller brother over to awaken him when it was discovered that he had accidentally shot himself with the gun which he had carried to the tank with him. They gave the alarm and Sheriff Wall was notified to tell Mr. Ince who was in the city on business.

An inquest revealed that the young man was sitting down with the gun across his lap and that he had his knife out probably whittling when the hammer slipped off his lap, the hammer showing where it had chipped a piece of rock when it fell, the charge of shot striking him in the heart. No one at the house heard the report of the gun, and it was not until the other children went to the tank the deplorable accident was discovered.

Mr. and Mrs. Ince and family have the deepest sympathy of all in their misfortune, for it is made doubly hard by the fact this is the third one of their

HIGHWAY MEET AT BIG SPRINGS

Annual Meeting Puget Sound to the Gulf Highway Aug. 23rd at Big Springs.

The following is a copy of a letter received from Mr. O. L. Sims, Secretary of the Puget Sound to the Gulf Highway. This Highway, as you all know, is the first one which Mr. Grant managed to put through Brady: "Paint Rock, Texas, Aug. 3

"Office Secretary Puget Sound to Gulf Highway

"Dear Sir: "You are hereby notified that President O. M. Unger has called the annual meeting of the Puget Sound to the Gulf Highway for 10:00 a. m. Thursday, August 23rd, at Big Springs, Texas.

"There will be important business to come before the meeting and we expect to have some notable addresses by some of the leaders of the Highway movement in Texas. There has been a lack of interest displayed throughout the year by most of the towns along the route, yours being about as bad as any of the rest. If the people along the route think that they have the thing 'grabbed' and don't have to work, they had better wake up and get busy. It has reached me unofficially that some live towns off our route will be there to try to have the road changed.

"Enthusiasm is what counts. Just the other day I saw a longer route designated as a Highway because two counties along the shorter one did not take enough interest. If you want to hold the highway, be there with a big delegation. Please give this call prominence in your local papers and advise me at the earliest possible moment how many we can expect from your county.

"Yours very truly, "O. L. SIMMS,

"Secretary Puget Sound to Gulf Highway."

The meeting spoken of is of vital importance to everyone who can go to attend the meeting at Big Springs on the 23rd.

All who can go please notify F. R. Wulff and state whether you expect to take your own car or want a seat with some one. This is the only notice I will send out, so I trust you will respond promptly.

20,790 EMPTIES SENT TO SOUTH

Empty Cars Being Sent Out to Handle South's Great Freight Business.

Immediate distribution of 20,790 additional empty freight cars in the South, the Middle West and Southwest has been ordered by the Car Service Commission of the Railroad's War Board.

During the past two months, counting the freight cars just ordered moved, there has been a total of 106,033 empty cars ordered moved from one railroad to another regardless of ownership. This has been in order to mobilize sufficient numbers of cars in various parts of the country to handle the government and commercial traffic which has assumed abnormal proportions, due to the war.

Of the latest number of cars ordered to be distributed where they will be most needed, 7,300 are to go into the grain producing country, and 1,000 to the Southern Pacific and 500 to the Western Pacific to insure speedy movement of a huge shipment of barley.

More than a thousand stock cars have been rushed into Texas to enable the cattle raisers to get their herds into the Western pasture country.

More than two-thirds of the supply of "empties" are to be furnished by the Pennsylvania System. Others are to come from various Eastern and Northern roads.

STATISTICS SHOW WAR DEATHS FALL

The following was prepared by Roger W. Babson of Babson's statistical organization, Wellesley Hills, Mass.:

"Clients whose sons and friends have been called under the recent draft should get considerable comfort from a study of the mortality statistics of the armies in Europe. Of course it is very difficult to secure reliable figures but we understand that about 69 men per 1,000 are being killed, and about 150 men out of each thousand are wounded, although most of these wounded return again to the trenches. This percentage of casualties is not high. Of course, it cannot be compared with the normal death rate in peace times which is about eight per thousand for the ages of the men at the front. The great loss of previous wars has been from disease. This has been very largely eliminated. Some claim that a man at the front today is less liable to disease than if at home working in a city.

"The mortality is very much less today than it was at the beginning of the war. The gas and other hideous forms of attack are being well handled at the present time. Men who are sensible and careful can well protect themselves against these things. Experience, both in the protection of the soldier and the care of the wounded, is constantly reducing the death rate as the war progresses. With the exception of wounds obtained during charges, which of course are very dangerous, most wounds are in the arm and shoulder, which can be easily healed, or in the skull. The skull wounds are naturally serious. Amputation of limbs is very much less than in previous wars.

"The mortality varies considerably with the different branches of service. A man who is connected with the heavy field artillery is no more likely to be killed than if in the employ of our railroads, but the fellows engaged in certain other branches are in much more danger. It is also said that the mortality among certain classes of officers, such as lieutenants, sergeants and corporals is proportionally very much greater than among privates. It is very interesting to see how much greater the mortality is among volunteer corps than among drafted men. If the Roosevelt volunteers had gone to the front, the mortality among such a body would doubtless have been very high.

"We believe that the drafted man who goes as an ordinary soldier, taking his judgment with him and leaving his enthusiasm at home, is not only most effective, but is fairly sure to return in better physical condition than when he left. Of course, during the one or more days a month that it is his turn to charge he is subject to great danger, but the rest of the time, with reasonable precautions, he is, statistically, almost as well off as in the streets of New York. Most of the drafted men may see France, which, by the way, will be beneficial to many of them. Since, however, the aeroplane appropriation has passed, there is a good chance that but few of them ever will be engaged in serious fighting.

"We believe that the war will continue until we have several hundred thousand troops and 10,000 or more aeroplanes in France, which should be some time next spring or summer. We however, feel that by the time these men and aeroplanes are over there ready to do something worth while Germany will have come to her senses. We see no reason for Germany to stop until we are actually in Europe with self-supporting bases, prepared to strike hard; but we see every reason why Germany should be anxious to settle with us at that time, before we do strike. Our regular army, and perhaps the militia, may get into action at any time, but the chances are four to one that the men who are now being drafted will see very little actual fighting in Europe. Even if they are required to do hard fighting, statistics are very much in their favor, and conditions are improving."

CALF CREEK NEWS.

Calf Creek, Texas, Aug. 14.
Editor Brady Standard:

Mrs. G. E. Bridges' brother, Mr. T. E. Whippel is down from Corban visiting this week and all of the relatives have had quite a family reunion. All went fishing yesterday and the crowd consisted of Mr. and Mrs. Williams and Miss Clara and Oliver and Jack Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Peny Floid and Alvin and Ervin and Herman, Lora and Homer Perry, Mr. and Mrs. Bridge, Miss Bula, Gladys and Bernice Bridge and Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Whippel, Mrs. Maggie Mason and two children, Mr. and Mrs. Will Duncan and two children, Miss Maud Mason, Mrs. Lois Williams and little Ona Perry, Claud and Mary Night. They report a real nice time and plenty of fish and plenty of good water to drink. It is the first time in about twenty years that the three sisters and brother had gone on a fishing trip and they were surely happy.

The Baptist meeting had fine success. There were six baptized and four joined by letter; the six that were baptized were Oliver Williams, Edna Duncan, Celia Wright, Gladys Brodige, Hattie Duncan and Mrs. Howard. The four by letter were Mr. and Mrs. Perry and two sons, Floid and Alvin Perry.

Miss Alma Tucker came and spent last Sunday afternoon with Miss Bula Bridge.

Mr. Jack Woods and Miss Nola Rogers of Nine were down to the baptizing last Sunday afternoon at the creek.

John Wright undertook to ride the same mule last Sunday evening that Mr. Frank Walker had tried to ride the Sunday before. It wasn't the rider this time that got hurt. Ross Cavin was standing in front of the mule and was holding it and as he started to pull the bridal off, the mule pawed Mr. Cavin in the head and cut a great gash just below the left eye and they got him to the doctor as quickly as possible and the doctor had to take three stitches in his head. We hope it is not cut as badly as we think for and hope he will soon be well.

Mrs. Annie Tucker and husband are rejoicing over a new boy at their home.

TAKES THE PLACE OF DANGEROUS CALOMEL

New Discovery! Dodson's Liver Tone Acts Like Calomel But Doesn't Gripe, Salivate or Make You Sick—Don't Lose a Day's Work—Harmless Liver Medicine for Men, Women, Children—Read Guarantee!

Ugh! Calomel makes you sick. It's horrible! Take a dose of the dangerous drug tonight and tomorrow you may lose a day's work.

Calomel is mercury or quicksilver which causes necrosis of the bones. Calomel, when it comes in contact with sour bile crashes into it, breaking it up. This is when you feel that awful nausea and cramping. If you are sluggish and "all knocked out," if your liver is torpid and bowels constipated, or you have headache, dizziness, coated tongue, if breath is bad or stomach sour, just try a spoonful of harmless Dodson's Liver Tone tonight.

Here's my guarantee—Go to any drug store and get a 50 cent bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't straighten you right up and make you feel fine and vigorous I want you to go back to the store and get your money. Dodson's Liver Tone is destroying the sale of calomel because it is real liver medicine; entirely vegetable, therefore it can not salivate or make you sick.

I guarantee that one spoonful of Dodson's Liver Tone will put your sluggish liver to work and clean your bowels of that sour bile and constipated waste which is clogging your system and making you feel miserable. I guarantee that a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone will keep your entire family feeling fine for months. Give it to your children. It is harmless; doesn't gripe and they like its pleasant taste.

Editor Brady Standard:

The weather is still dry up here with good indication of continuing for a few days longer.

Cotton is opening fast and if it stays dry will be picked out in a hurry.

B. E. Cain was at Brady Monday on business.

W. P. Burleson was a visitor here from Mercury Tuesday.

C. C. House, Alvice Stowe, Henry Lawson and Robt. Finlay left Tuesday to work in the mines in Arizona. They expect to stay until spring.

A. M. Finlay and family were at Santa Anna Tuesday sight seeing.

Miss Bessie Rice returned to her home at Brady Monday after a months visit at the home of H. D. Bradley.

Fire Friday night destroyed the brush arbor and all the seats belonging to the Lower Cove Creek school. About $150 worth of seats were burned. It is not known how it caught.

The conscript law hit this place pretty hard. Chas Mitchell, Dair Baldrige and Henry Baker were selected from here to serve in the army out of 6 called. These boys did not offer any excuse whatever. If the rest of the county had done as well there would be no danger of the married men of having to go for a while.

Little Miss Myrtle Farmer is in bed with a case of typhoid fever. We hope she may make an early recovery.

Prof. J. L. Francis left Monday for his home at Brownwood. Prof. Francis has been superintending the improvements being done on the school property here for the past three weeks. The building is now nearly completed and we think we have one of the best and neatest school buildings in the country.

Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Bradley and family visited relatives at Brady Monday and Tuesday of this week.

Dario Rangel, a Mexican on H. D. Bradley's place took a bale of cotton to Brady Tuesday which we suppose will be the first in the county. This Mexican is a good farmer and will make 10 or 12 bales this year.

J. D. Knight returned last week from San Antonio where he has been at work on the new government buildings. John has been making about $7 per day for the past month at that place and likes the work fine. Sickness in his family here caused his return.

J. J. Wright, P. C. Clifton and Chas. Smith were visitors at Brady Monday.

We are sorry to hear of our editor's illness but hope it is not serious and that he is able to be out again soon.

There has been a great deal of interest in the Apostolic meeting that is going on at the arbor. There was certainly a large crowd Sunday night. It was equal to the times when the Apostles of old preached to such enormous crowds. There were nineteen autos and a large number of buggies, wagons, hacks horsemen and people a foot. REAL DIPLOMACY

By A. M. BROWN.

I had never realized what a different nature I possessed until I tried to bring myself to propose to Millicent.

I was pretty sure she would accept me if I could but screw up my courage to the sticking point.

Two or three times, indeed, I had very nearly taken the plunge. One afternoon Millicent and I grew confidential over the tea table, and my lips were actually framing the fatal question, when I shot the muffin dish into her lap.

A brilliant strategist would have risen to the occasion with a remark wittily appropriate and complimentary. Millicent would have blushing said that it did not matter, and the inevitable tableau would have resulted. As it was, seeing the havoc caused by the melting butter on her new silver-gray gown, I seized my hat and fled.

Again, one Sunday evening on the river, I let the oars trail in the water as we drifted under the bank. "Millicent," I began, hoarsely, leaning forward. "Will you—" A cough interrupted me, and I found two elderly dowagers on the towing path eyeing me with stern disapproval. I concluded lamely: "—pull your left, please."

The strain at last began to wear me thin, and I determined to resort to desperate measures. With this end in view, I invaded Regent street.

"I want an engagement ring," I said, curving inwardly at the fine acoustic properties of the shop. Half a dozen people turned round to smile broadly in my direction.

"It's for a friend of mine," I added loudly.

"Yes, sir, I quite understand. What stone does the lady prefer, sir?"

"My friend didn't say," I told him.

The shop door swung open again. I turned round and found myself face to face with Millicent.

"Fancy meeting you here!" I stammered.

"Fancy meeting you!" she replied.

"Um—er—yes, ha! ha! Isn't it funny? The fact is—I dropped my voice to a confidential whisper—"I am buying an engagement ring—for Tommy Hasler. He is confoundedly shy about those things, you know."

"How sweet of you. Who is the girl?"

"Don't you know?"

"I can guess."

"You mustn't," I said. "Tommy wants it to be a dead secret."

"What is the size of the lady's finger, sir?" asked the shopman, returning with a tray of rings.

"I don't know," I said, glancing at Millicent's gloved hand.

"If it's Ella Burnaby," said Millicent softly, "she's got rather fat fingers, and will want a large ring."

"Tommy told me to be careful to get a small ring. I like this one, do you?" Millicent nodded.

"I'll take it," I said, "and chance it being the right size."

"Thank you, sir."

"I want a solid silver cigarette case," said Millicent to another salesman.

"You see, Ella Burnaby asked me to buy this for her, as she's rather a shy girl, you know. I think it is for a Christmas present."

"Can I help you?" I said. "I am a bit of a connoisseur on cigarette cases. Is the fellow Tommy Hasler?"

"I mustn't tell," said Millicent.

"Because if it is, Tommy does not smoke."

"Oh!" she exclaimed blankly.

"Ella must be playing a double game," I insinuated.

"I am sure she isn't. Yes, that one will do."

"You'll have the initials engraved on the case, ma'am?" asked the salesman.

"Yes," said Millicent.

"T. L. H.," I told him.

"No," broke in Millicent quickly, "these are the initials." She scribbled something on a card and pushed it across the counter without letting me see. "Of course, the initials must be engraved on Tommy's ring. They are—"

"They are not," I said quickly. "Here they are." I wrote something on another card.

"Is that right?" I asked recklessly, and handed the card to Millicent.

"I think so," she said, after a pause; dropping her eyes and handing the card to the salesman. "And—I hope you'll like your cigarette case."

Quite a Difference.

Reference at a recent dinner was made to the perplexities of the English language, when this story was fittingly related by Zane Gray, the author of many charming stories of the great Southwest.

Some time since a young girl who had gone through a fashionable college was having a highly intellectual talk with a young man acquaintance when the words "vision" and "sight" were used by the fair one.

"I think I catch the drift of our argument, Miss Smith," said the young man in answer to the girl's last remark, "but please don't make the mistake of saying 'vision' when 'sight' is what you mean."

"I don't quite understand you, Mr. Green," loftily returned the young woman. "There is absolutely no difference between 'vision' and 'sight.'"

"Oh, yes, there is," cheerfully declared Mr. Green. "Walking along the street you occasionally met a girl who is a vision, and the next minute you may meet one who is a sight."—Philadelphia Evening Telegraph.

FOOD TRAINING CAMP AT STATE FAIR URGED

R. E. L. Knight Tenders Use of Grounds to Government During the War.

The State Fair of Texas, to be held Oct. 13-28, has tendered its services to President Wilson as a food training camp, to assist the Government in its efforts to increase crop production and reduce the waste of food, which is known to be enormous.

"Our directors offer the services of our fair as a food training camp," wrote President R. E. L. Knight of the State Fair of Texas, in part, to President Wilson. "Military training camps are being established everywhere in the country, where men in increments of half a million each are to be taught the principles of military tactics. However, as you have pointed out many times, there is just as much responsibility for the successful prosecution of the war resting upon the shoulders of the 100,000,000 persons in private life as there is upon the men who are called to the colors, for it is essential that working American laborers hard to furnish our allies with food and clothing.

"The men whom you are calling into service are being concentrated in central military training camps, because it is found to be much more efficient to train them in that way than by establishing camps in every little town or village. It appeals to the directors of our fair that there is just as much necessity for calling the great rank and file of food producers and food users into central food training camps for a short course in the more efficient methods of food production and food conservation. It could hardly be done now, for the Nation is working hard to care for the crop already planted, but if we could hold such a food training camp during the fall following the harvest season wonderfully efficient instruction in food production and conservation could be given.

To Raise More Live Stock.

"To make this food training camp unusually instructive, an effort is being made to induce breeders of purebred live stock to exhibit in larger numbers of such type and breeds as will assist the Nation in meeting the demand for more meat, milk, butter, cheese, leather, wool and horse power. Manufacturers of farm machinery are being urged to exhibit all of their latest models and improvements, that farmers may learn how to produce a maximum crop at a minimum effort. All the territory tributary to our fair is being scoured to find superior specimens of the varieties of grain, vegetables, fruits, forage crops and corn best suited to our soil and climate, that encouragement may be given to the production of as much of these crops as possible.

"Since the economical use of food is of just as much importance as the production of food, our woman's department is to offer a series of demonstrations and lectures by food specialists of national and local reputation, to instruct wives and mothers how to prepare and conserve food, and check the extravagant waste of food, for which our country is condemned in every other country in the world. In an effort to enlist the children in the cause of food production, the work of children in the schools and fields is to be exhibited, as demonstrations of interest to children are to be conducted.

"Our board of directors sincerely trusts that the National Government, mindful of the good which can be done at such a food training school, will operate to the fullest extent in furnishing lecturers, demonstration and exhibits, to assist the fair in accomplishing the mission it has undertaken. There could be no better way of reaching the people in this territory with Government propaganda for the increased production and conservation of food."

Dallas, Texas—The Farm Boys and Girls Encampment to be held during the State Fair of Texas, Oct. 13-28, will attract 750 youngsters from the farms of Texas to an exposition that will have untold value for them along educational and entertaining lines. The boys encampment is to be held Oct. 15-20, inclusive, and the girls encampment will be held Oct. 22-27, inclusive. Comfortable quarters, wholesome meals and other necessities will be furnished free to boys and girls who win scholarships in competitive contests in their own counties. Special educational tours of the Fair and special amusement programs will be arranged for these guests of the management. Competent instructors will be in charge of the camps at all times and every care will be given to the boys and girls who attend.

Dallas, Texas—Athletics will have a large part in the program of the State Fair of Texas, Oct. 13-28. Football teams of the first line will meet in gridiron contests that will give lovers of this strenuous game the greatest program of games ever arranged in Texas. Arrangements are being made to furnish more seating facilities and to take care of larger crowds even than attended last year's games when all records for Texas were broken.

Dallas, Texas—Farm exhibits in greater numbers and larger in scope of individual showing than ever before has been known will be shown at the State Fair of Texas, Oct. 13-28. Free exhibit space and a commodious, handsome building will enable producers to make a great showing of the bountiful crops which are being raised in Texas this season. Already more than fifty counties have signed up for space and letters are reaching the office of President R. E. L. Knight, daily asking for reservations. To assist in taking care of the livestock show this year, handsome new horse and sheep barns have been erected at a cost of approximately $40,000. The Dairy Building has been given a new entrance and remodelled inside.

HOW TO SAVE YOUR MONEY

Some Valuable Hints for the Man Who is Penurious in His Home.

When your wife asks you for cents make such a fuss about it that she will think you are the injured party and will beg your forgiveness with tears in her eyes. Then put on your hat, says the Brooklyn Eagle, and go downtown and buy yourself four or five 15-cent drinks, asking the bartender to have one with you every time, and smoke several expensive cigars.

When you buy an automobile get a $7 one and then spend $97 a week on it for repairs at the garage.

Always buy 37-cent shirts, two or three of them every week, wear them once and throw them away.

Rent a house on the outskirts of the city because it is cheap and then spend the difference and some more in car fare for yourself and family.

Go without overshoes and save $1, and then have pneumonia and spend $197 in doctor's bills.

Hire a $7 man to fill a $70 job and then spend your time correcting his mistakes.

WINS GRATITUDE OF SOLDIERS

How an American Girl Made Life Less Lonely for Men in Trenches.

The idea of the war godmother and godson in France, meant to benefit soldiers at the front who were without kin or friends at home, through his "adoption" for the time being by some kind woman willing to write to him, has struck the sympathetic fancy of the American girl, and many a "poilu" now rejoices in a pretty "Americaine" for a correspondent and protectress. Miss Gladys Hollingsworth, chairman of the American Girls' Aid for War Relief in France, has secured hundreds of godmothers for lonely soldiers through her acquaintance with officers in charge of various regiments who wrote to her recommending soldiers who could be helped and cheered in this way.

DEAF HEAR BY VIBRATION.

M. Bigourdan told the French Academy of Sciences at its October meeting of a man who had been for 50 years so deaf that he could not hear the whistle of a locomotive close beside him, yet who heard distinctly the sound of heavy guns 75 miles away. It reached him in the form of a vibration of the earth, and was synchronous with the noise as heard by normal ears. Which led M. Bigourdan to suggest that sound may reach great distances through the earth rather than through the air.

AN IMPROMPTU SHADE.

When the side electric bulb is just a trifle too glaring for the work which you are doing, or if it shines too brightly in a bedroom where a softer glow is desired, just try slipping a plain manila envelope of business size over the bulb. The fact that you have to press the envelope at the ends to make it gap enough to be slipped over the bulb gives it enough resistance to keep it in place. Of course this is not a slightly shade, but it answers the purpose when a soft light is required in a hurry.

NEW ANTI-TYPHOID VACCINE.

Doctor Chantemesse has introduced into the French army a new form of vaccination against typhoid. It is a complete dose of typhoid and paratyphoid bacilli in a solution composed of sesame oil, a little oleate of cholesterol and purified neutral lanolin. Only one injection is necessary; this is painless; the resulting immunity lasts two years.

SILENCED.

Agent—Sir, it will pay you to look over this wonderfully comprehensive encyclopedia. It has something about everything you can possibly want to know about. It will pay you to buy it.

Business Man—No, it wouldn't. I've a son just come home from college.

PERFECT.

Stella—The ostrich doesn't see much and digests everything.

Bela—What an ideal husband!

BOTH WAYS.

"When money talks, what does it say?"

"Generally 'buy buy.'"

Summer Complaint.

During the hot weather of the summer months some member of almost every family is likely to be troubled with an unnatural looseness of the bowels, and it is of the greatest importance that this be treated promptly, which can only be done when the medicine is kept at hand. Mrs. F. F. Scott, Scottsville, N. Y., states, "I first used Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy as much as five years ago. At that time I had a severe attack of summer complaint and was suffering intense pain. One dose relieved me. Other members of my family have since used it with like results."

I think sometimes that our common definition of dissipation is far too narrow. We confine it to crude excesses in the use of intoxicating liquor or the crude gratification of the passions; but often these are only the outward symbol of a more subtle disorder. The things of the world—a thousand clamoring interests, desires, possessions—have got the better of us. Men become drunken with the inordinate desire for owning things, and dissolve with ambition for political office. I knew a man once, a farmer, who debauched himself upon land; fed his appetite upon the happiness of his home, cheated his children of education, and himself went shabby, bookless, joyless, comfortless, that he might buy more land. I call that dissipation, too!—From "Hempfield," by David Grayson, in the American Magazine.

Best Hour for Work.

It is a curious fact in psychology that nobody can stay at the same mental and physical level for twenty-four hours together. In the morning you are more matter of fact, for instance, than later in the day. It is in the evening that the best brain work is done, too—brain work of the sort that requires industry and clear thinking. And it is about eleven in the morning that our body reaches its highest point of energy. In other words, you are stronger, though almost imperceptibly, at eleven in the morning than at three in the afternoon. You reach the highest point twice in the day, for about five in the afternoon the muscular energy has risen again. But from five onward it declines steadily all through the evening, and on till between two and three a. m.

Biblical Tribute.

Exceptions in the cases of such Semitic nations as the Jews, Bedouins and Edomites it is difficult if not impossible to trace any connection between the world nations of today and those mentioned in the Scriptures. The Bible is in great part a history of the family of Abraham and of one rather contracted corner of the earth, and nowhere professes to instruct in details of ethnological or any other science except that of theology. The world has generally agreed to derive the black races from Noah's son Ham, the Mongolians from Shem, and Caucasians from Japheth, and beyond that (even in that all are not agreed) it is not wise nor is it helpful to push serious investigation.

In the District Court, McCulloch County, Texas. To the September Term, 1917. Comes now M. A. Tyler, Receiver, a resident of Bexar County, Texas, hereinafter called plaintiff, and duly appointed in case No. B-10663, styled Alma K. Mitchell, et al. vs. Ophelia Kollman, et al. in the 73rd Judicial District Court in and for Bexar County, Texas, by decree entered therein on the 2nd day of December 1916, and duly filed in the Minutes of said Court, Vol. 5, pages 35, 36, 37, 38 and 39 and, also, filed in the Deed Records of McCulloch County, Texas, Vol. 37 page 345, a certified copy thereof being attached thereto and marked Exhibit "A" hereby referred to and prayed to be taken as a part hereof as though fully copied herein in full, wherein said decree the plaintiff herein, M. A. Tyler, was duly appointed and is now the acting Receiver to sell the lands therein said decree described of which the land hereinafter more fully described is a part, and being tract No. 1, described in said Decree.

Plaintiff would show unto the Court that heretofore, to-wit, on the 29th day of June 1917, he made his report to the said Honorable 73rd Judicial District Court of Bexar County, Texas, in said case No. B-10663, styled Alma K. Mitchell, et al. vs. Ophelia Kollman, et al., a certified copy of said report being attached hereto and marked Exhibit "B," and hereby referred to and prayed to be taken as a part hereof as though fully copied herein; and upon said report and application being considered by the Court that on a hearing of the evidence in being the Court duly made and entered upon order in said case wherein saforesaid the plaintiff herein M. A. Tyler, Receiver, was and is authorized, do order and ordered to file suit in the name of and for all the parties to the said No. B-10663 to clear the cloud on the title to the said hereinafter described 640 acre tract of land, in a certified copy of said order being attached hereto and marked Exhibit "C" and hereby referred to and made a part hereof and prayed to be considered as though copied in full herein;

Now by virtue of the premises herein set forth, comes the plaintiff, M. A. Tyler, and by virtue of the authority as hereinabove set forth and described and for and in behalf of and in the name of all the parties to said suit No. B-10663, styled Alma K. Mitchell, et al. vs. Ophelia Kollman, et al., pending in the 73rd Judicial District Court of Bexar County, Texas, as follows, to-wit, Mrs. Alma K. Mitchell, joined by her husband, F. T. Mitchell, Ophelia Kollman, a feme sole, F. G. Hillje, Mrs. Ida Wangemann, a feme sole, by Leon Mechel her guardian ad litem, Edwin Kollman, Mrs. Anna L. Keister, joined by her husband, H. E. Keister, E. G. Kollman, Mrs. Emma Buescher, joined by her husband, L. E. Buescher, L. E. Kollman, Mrs. Lena Barron, joined by her husband, L. H. Barron and F. G. Kollman, complaining of J. N. Brown and wife, Annie Brown, or sometimes called Anna Brown, residents of Bexar County, Texas, and of Henry F. Fisher and his unknown heirs, whose residence and whereabouts are to plaintiff unknown, and of their legal representatives, and of Carrie Chew, a feme sole, non compos mentis, duly appointed and acting guardian is H. F. Fisher, who resides in Harris County, Texas, upon whom service of citation may be had herein, and H. F. Fisher of Harris County, Texas, and also, of the unknown heirs of J. J. Giddings and Matilda Giddings, deceased, and their legal representatives, and all the unknown owners of the hereinafter described 640 acre tract of land, all of whose residence and whereabouts are to plaintiff unknown, hereinafter called defendants and for cause of action and for complaint, plaintiff represents and would show unto the Court the following named parties to-wit, Mrs. Alma K. Mitchell, Miss Ophelia Kollman, Mrs. Ida Wangemann, F. G. Hillje, L. E. Kollman, Mrs. E. G. Kollman, Edwin Kollman, Mrs. Lena Barron, Mrs. Emma Buescher, Mrs. Anna Keister and E. G. Kollman, are the joint owners, tenants in common, to the hereinafter described 640 acres of land and that all the said named parties except the said F. G. Hillje, own and possess said described land as an inheritance from their mother, Mrs. Margaret Kollman, now deceased, who acquired title and possession to said hereinafter described 640 acres of land by virtue of the last will and testament of E. Kollman, deceased; and that the said

F. G. Hillje owns and is entitled to a 1-11 interest in said 640 acres by Deed of Conveyance from R. W. Kollman, deceased, one of the heirs of the said Mrs. Margaret Kollman and that all of the said named parties are the children and only heirs of the said E. Kollman, deceased, and Mrs. Margaret Kollman, deceased, and the heirs of the said Mrs. Margaret Kollman, deceased, except the said F. G. Hillje.

Plaintiff further shows that by virtue of the last will and testament of the said E. Kollman, deceased, duly probated in the Probate Court of Colorado County, Texas, recorded in Vol. _____, page _____ of the Minutes of Colorado County, Texas, said Mrs. Margaret Kollman acquired title to and possession of said hereinafter described 640 acres, and also, filed in the Deed Records of McCulloch County, Texas, Vol. _____, page _____. And the said Mrs. Margaret Kollman is now deceased having departed this life on the _____ day of _____, intestate; that there has been no administration on her said estate and no necessity existed for such said administration.

Plaintiff further shows that the said named heirs of Mrs. Margaret Kollman, deceased, and F. G. Hillje, except R. W. Kollman, deceased, were on the 1st day of July 1917, seized and possessed of the following described land situate in McCulloch County, Texas, and described as follows: First, Reinhard-Stolje Survey 1264, Abstract 1207, Certificate 650, patented to Reinhard-Stolje by patent 803, Vol. 17; Second, Reinhard-Stolje Survey 1262, Abstract 1208, Certificate 650, patented to Reinhard-Stolje by patent 804, Vol. 17; Third, Reinhard-Stolje Survey 1263, Abstract 1209, Certificate 650, patented to Reinhard-Stolje by patent 805, Vol. 17; Fourth, Reinhard-Stolje Survey 1265, Abstract 1210, Certificate 650, patented to Reinhard-Stolje by patent 860, Vol. 17, containing in the aggregate 640 acres of land, and also, being more particularly described among other lands in Deed of Conveyance dated the 19th day of July 1913, by R. W. Kollman to Fred G. Hillje recorded in the Deed Records of McCulloch County, Texas, Vol. 35, page 422, said Deed and the record thereof being hereby referred to and that on or about said day and date of July 1st, 1917, the defendants, herein, to-wit, J. N. Brown and wife Annie Brown, sometimes called Anna Brown, Carrie Chew, H. F. Fisher and Henry F. Fisher, the unknown heirs of Henry Fisher and the unknown heirs of J. J. and Matilda Giddings, and the unknown owners of the said 640 acre tract of land unlawfully entered into said premises and dispossessed this plaintiff and the said named parties whom he represents in this action and with-holds possession thereof to their very great damage, to-wit, the sum of $1000.00.

And plaintiff further says upon information and belief, that the defendants, J. N. Brown and wife, Annie Brown, and the unknown heirs of J. J. Giddings, deceased, are asserting some character of pretended claim or right in and to said described 640 acres of land by virtue of and through some character of deed or instrument of writing dated February 4th, 1854, which was filed for record in the Deed Records of McCulloch County, Texas, on December 29th, 1887, but plaintiff would show that the right and title of the parties whom he represents in this suit are superior to any and all of the pretended claims of said last named defendants in this, that E. Kollman by and through whom plaintiff (the parties) plaintiff whom plaintiff represents) acquired the title and possession from Reinhard-Stolje patentee by warranty deed dated October 11, 1884, and duly recorded in the Deed Records of McCulloch County, Texas, on the 22nd day of December 1884, in Vol. G, page 568, and by warranty deed dated October 11, 1884 from patentee Reinhard-Stolje recorded Deed Records McCulloch County, Texas, on December 22, 1884, Vol. G, page 569, and long prior to the recording of the said deed or instrument of writing by and through which the said last named defendants are pretending to assert some character of right or interest in and to said described 640 acres of land; and that the said E. Kollman, deceased, was an innocent purchaser for value of said 640 acres without notice of their (the last named defendants) pretended claims; and Plaintiff further upon information and belief, that the defendants, Carrie Chew, Henry F. Fisher, H. F. Fisher, and the unknown heirs of Henry F. Fisher, are asserting some character of pretended claim or right in and to the said described 640 acres of land by virtue of some character of deed or instrument of writing dated December 8, 1854, and recorded in Deed Records of McCulloch County, Texas, on February 18, 1881, Vol. D, page 207, by one G. H. Sherwood, a stranger to said title to Henry F. Fisher, pretending to convey to the said Fisher a one-half undivided interest in and to said described 640 acres of land; wherefore, plaintiff says that the title of the parties plaintiff, whom he represents in this case is superior to any and all pretended claims of any and all of the last named defendants in this, that the aforesaid E. Kollman, deceased, acquired title from patentee, to-wit, Reinhard-Stolje, whereas the last named defendants are pretending to assert title and claim title from and through one G. H. Sherwood, a stranger to said title and in no way connected therewith as disclosed by the Record.

And plaintiff further shows that by virtue of the said pretended claims asserted by the defendants herein named, the same casts a cloud on the title to the said described 640 acres of land of the said named parties whom this plaintiff represents and on account of which the plaintiff and the parties whom he represents herein are unable to and cannot sell or dispose of said property to their very great damage, to-wit, the sum of $1000.00.

Plaintiff would further show that the said named parties to this suit, whom he represents, have held open, notorious, peaceable, continuous and adverse possession of said described 640 acres of land under title and color of title emanating from the sovereignty of the soil, to-wit, the State of Texas, for more than three years before the commencement of this suit and the filing of this petition and that any pretended claim or cause of action any and all of the defendants herein may have therein or thereto is now barred by the three years statute of Limitation, which plaintiff here and now pleads and says that any and all of said defendants should not be heard to assert any claim of right, title or interest therein said lands.

Plaintiff further shows that the parties whom he represents in this case and those whose title they hold have had and held open, notorious, peaceable and adverse possession of said described 640 acres of land for more than five years before the commencement of this suit and the filing of this petition under deeds duly recorded, and having paid all taxes due and accruing thereon and that any and all pretended claims or rights of any and all the defendants herein, are barred by the five years Statute of Limitation which the plaintiff here and now pleads and says that any and all the defendants should not now be heard to assert any character or pretended right, claim or interest in and to said described 640 acres of land.

Plaintiff would further show that the parties whom he represents in this case and those whose title they hold, have had and held open, notorious, peaceable, adverse and continuous possession of said described 640 acres of land for more than ten years next preceding and before the filing of this petition and the commencement of this suit and that any and all pretended claims and rights of any and all the defendants herein are barred by the ten years Statute of Limitation which the plaintiff here and now pleads and says that any and all the defendants herein should not now be heard to assert any pretended right, title or interest in and to said described 640 acres of land.

WHEREFORE premises considered, plaintiff prays that citation issue in terms of law to the defendants, J. N. Brown and wife, Annie Brown, sometimes called Anna Brown, and to the defendant Carrie Chew by serving her duly appointed and acting guardian, to-wit, H. F. Fisher, and H. F. Fisher, and that the other named defendants herein, to-wit, Henry F. Fisher and the unknown heirs of Henry F. Fisher and their legal representatives, and the unknown heirs of J. J. Giddings, deceased, and their legal representatives, and all the unknown owners of said described 640 acre tract of land, be cited by publication according to law to answer herein and that upon a hearing hereof, judgment be rendered, decreeing title in the said named parties whom this plaintiff represents, to-wit, Alma K. Mitchell, Ophelia Kollman, F. G. Hillje, L. E. Kollman, E. G. Kollman, Mrs. Ida Wangemann, Mrs. Emma Buescher, Mrs. Anna Keister, Mrs. Lena Barron and Edwin Kollman, and that they be quieted in their title and possession of said described 640 acre tract of land and that the cloud of said title cast by any and all pretended and asserted claims of any and all of the defendants herein named be removed and plaintiff further prays for such other and further relief and decrees and orders, both special and general, in law and in equity, to which he may be justly entitled under the facts and the law.

Herein Fail Not, but have before said Court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given Under My Hand and Seal of said Court, at office in Brady, Texas, this the 25th day of July A. D. 1917. P. A. CAMPBELL, Clerk District Court, McCulloch County.

I told my husband I thought Cardui would help me, as a lady who lived next door to me had taken a great deal, and told me to try it. This was when we were living in Kentucky.

My husband got me a bottle and I took it according to directions. It helped me so much that he went back and got me another bottle. I got a whole lot better and just quit taking it. I got over the dizzy spells... I took no other medicine at that time nor since for this trouble. No, I've never regretted taking Cardui.

I felt just fine when I finished the second bottle."

GIVES AIMS OF THE FOOD LAW

Seeks Co-Operation in Fair Distribution of Supply and Elimination of Waste.

Washington.—The American Government has just assumed control of the country's food supply with the signing by President Wilson of the administration food survey and regulatory bills.

Formal announcement of Herbert C. Hoover's appointment as food administrator was made at the White House soon after the measures were approved, and tonight Mr. Hoover set forth the aims of the food administration in a statement declaring its purpose will be to stabilize and not to disturb conditions.

Every effort will be made to correct price abuses made possible by abnormal times, Mr. Hoover said, but drastic measures will not be attempted until it is seen the purpose of the administration can not be accomplished through constructive co-operation with food-producing and distributing industries.

The two measures signed today give the Government sweeping war-time powers. The regulatory bill designed to put food distribution under direct Government supervision and a provision added as an amendment extends an even more drastic Government control over coal and fuels, including the power to fix prices, and authorizing Government operation of mines. The survey bill is intended to encourage production and gives the Government authority to keep up a continuous census of the amount of foodstuffs in the United States. It will be administered by the Department of Agriculture.

Both the food administration and the Agricultural Department have been ready since long before the bills were passed, to go ahead with the work. The food administration has assembled a staff and already is enlisting the country's men in a household saving campaign. Meanwhile the Federal Trade Commission authorized some time ago to conduct an investigation into food prices with special reference to rice, and information which it will pass over to the two agencies and to the Department of Justice.

The first move of the food administration will be to bring about changes in the system of distributing wheat and in the manufacture and sale of flour and bread. It will take up next the production of meat and dairy foods.

The Trade Commission has investigators now in the flour mills and in the meat packing-houses.

Herbert Hoover's statement outlining the Government's purpose in food legislation follows:

"The hopes of the food administration are threefold: First so to guide the trade in the fundamental food commodities as to eliminate vicious speculation, extortion and wasteful practices and to stabilize prices in the essential staples; second, to guard our exports so that against the world's shortage we retain sufficient supplies for our own people and to co-operate with the allies to prevent inflation of prices and third, that we stimulate in every manner within our power the saving of our food in order that we may increase exports to our allies to a point which will enable them properly to provision their armies and feed their peoples the coming winter.

"The food administration is called into being to stabilize, not to disturb conditions, and to defend honest enterprise against illegitimate competition. It has been devised to correct abnormalities and abuses that have crept into trade by reason of the world disturbance and to restore business as far as may be to a reasonable basis.

"The business men of this country, I am convinced as a result of many hundreds of conferences with representatives of the great forces of food supply, realize their own patriotic obligation and the solemnity of the situation and will fairly and generously co-operate in meeting the national emergency. I do not believe drastic forces need be applied to maintain economic distribution and sane use of supplies by the great majority of the American people, and I have learned a deep and abiding faith in the intelligence of the average American business man, whose aid we demand upon to remedy evils developed by the war, which he admits and deplores as deeply as ourselves. But if there be those who expect to exploit this hour of sacrifice; if there are men or organizations scheming to increase the trials of this country, we shall not hesitate to apply fully the drastic, coercive powers Congress has conferred on us.

"In enforcing the measures of the act it is not our intention to proceed with a host of punitive measures, but rather by co-ordination with various trades, effect such constructive regulations as will render gambling, extortion and other wasteful practices impossible and will stabilize prices. Indulgence in profiteering in this hour of national danger is far from the wish or the will of the vast majority of our business people and I am convinced that while we must have ready in reserve the corrective powers given us, we shall by these powers free the great majority from necessity to compete with operators whose sole effort is to inflate prices and bring into disrepute the majority of honest traders. We propose to proceed as rapidly as possible with constructive regulation in various commodities and to announce each program as quickly as it is properly formulated. We hope within the next few days to announce the method of wheat and flour control.

"The deep obligation is upon us to feed the armies and the peoples associated with us in this struggle. The diversion of 40,000,000 of their men to war or war work; the additional millions of women drafted to the places of their husbands and brothers; the toll of the submarine, all have conspired to reduce production so that their harvests this autumn will fall 500,000,000 bushels of grain below normal production. Always dependent upon import from other countries for a substantial part of their food needs, our Western European allies, because of the destruction of shipping by submarine and the isolation from the normal markets by boundary lines, are forced to a large degree upon our markets, not only as the nearest, but as the only market capable of relieving their bitter necessities.

"Therefore, whereas we exported before the war but 80,000,000 bushels of wheat per annum, this year, by one means or another we must find for them 225,000,000 bushels, and this in the face of a short crop. Our best will but partly meet their needs, for even then they must reduce their great consumption 25 per cent and it will be war bread they must eat—war bread of which a large portion consists of other cereals.

"Already the greater call for meat and animal products due to the stress of war on the millions of men on the fighting line and the enhanced physical labor of populations ordinarily subsisting on lighter diets, coupled with the inadequate world supply, have compelled our allies to kill upward of 33,000,000 head of their stock animals. This is burning the candle at both ends, for they thus are stifling their annual production. Therefore, not only must we increase their supply of meat and dairy products, but must prepare, as war goes on to meet an even greater demand for these necessary commodities.

"France and Italy formerly produced their own sugar, while England and Ireland imported largely from Germany. Owing to inability of the first named to produce more than one-third of their needs and necessity for the others to import from other markets, they must come to the West Indies for very large supplies and therefore deplete our own resources.

"Because of the shortage of shipping, only the most concentrated of foods—wheat, grain, beef, pork, dairy products and sugar—can be sent across the seas. Fortunately we have for our own use a superabundance of foodstuffs of other kinds—the perishables, fish, corn and other cereals—and surely our first manifest duty is to substitute these for those other products which are of greater use to our fellow-fighters.

"Our second duty is to eliminate waste to the last degree. Seventy per cent of our people are well known to be thrifty and careful as any in the world and they consume but little or no more than necessary to maintain physical strength. They can, however, substitute foods as above. It is not too much to ask the other 30 per cent, by simpler living, to reduce their consumption.

"Every ounce of waste is a contribution toward starvation. Our allies have reduced consumption by most drastic measures, but it is impossible to reduce consumption to those in war work and engaged in other physical labor.

"Therefore the incidents of this drastic reduction among our allies falls on the old people and the women and children. Any shortage in the supply we may send them will fall on this class to starvation they will insist on only, for until they are reduced every sacrifice in order that their fighters in the trenches and the men and women in the munition factories may be maintained.

"This war is a struggle to assure dominance of democracy. Every flag that flies against the central powers is by proxy the American flag. Every man in the ranks of the allies, every woman and child in Europe sacrificing in the the maintenance of men, are fighting in our defense.

"We have in our abundance and in our waste an ample supply to carry them and ourselves over this next winter without suffering. If we fail it is because individual American citizens have failed to see and do this loyal national duty. This is a service in which every man, woman and child in this country may enter. We shall invite all classes and all trades to sign a volunteer pledge to co-operate with us in the undertaking and so become as much members of the food administration as we are.

"There is no royal road to food conservation. It can be achieved only through sincere and earnest daily co-operation in the 20,000,000 kitchens and at the 20,000,000 dinner tables of the United States. If we can reduce our consumption of wheat flour by one pound, our meat by seven ounces, our sugar by seven ounces per person per week, these quantities multiplied by one hundred million will immeasurably aid and encourage our allies, help our own growing armies and so effectively serve the great and noble cause of humanity in which our Nation has embarked.

"This co-operation and service I ask of all, in full confidence that America will render more for flag and freedom than king-ridden peoples surrender under compulsion."

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Catarrh being greatly influenced by constitutional conditions requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally and acts thru the Blood on the Mucous Surfaces of the System thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in the curative powers of Hall's Catarrh Cure that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.
